TWINKLES We don't know what is the percentage of fishermen at fishing parties, but we are told that it is very, very low.

Borger, with sensations slowing down in recent months, is promoting air circuits to get back into the headlines. That is more legitimate competition, by the way.

Paying income taxes or not seems to be much a matter of luck, but most of us would prefer J. P.'s to our own of recent years.

P. O. Anderson tells us that some children know what to do with their leisure time. He pointed out some cherry trees which had been raided.

Why, in changing times like these, some business men seem afraid of discussions of new ideas is something we cannot fathom.

"MERRY GO ROUND"

Publishers of a paper-backed "revelation" have sent this columnist a copy of TEXAS MERRY GO ROUND, purporting to give the "low down on the antics of such notables as Jesse Jones, Maco Stewart, Rev. J. Frank Norris, Luther Stark, Shearn Moody, Ross Sterling, Jake Woods, Waddy Tate, Dan Moody, Tom Love, Mr. and Pa. the University of Texas, and lawmakers, politicians, lobbyists, and newspaper men. The volume is anonymous from the press of the Sun Publishing company, 606 Fannin Bldg., Houston.

OF LITTLE MOMENT

Enough truth to alarm the easily prejudiced is contained in the Menckenesque book, but little of its material is new. Newspaper men have known virtually all of the facts, not to mention innuendo, in its pages, and have presented them to readers able to read between the lines. That the book itself avoids mention of names when its charges are serious is proof enough that newspaper men are going as far as the laws will allow to tell the public the truth. When anonymous writers avoid names, surely the public should remain unconvinced in the face of the book's charge that newspaper men at Austin and elsewhere are incompetent reporters.

WRONG PERSPECTIVE

The error of Texas Merry Go Round, as of all such "revelations" is that it judges the majority by the minority and leaves a vicious impression as to the moral character and honesty of Texas legislators. It is not news to thousands that there are scoundrels at Austin in public and in private life, not to mention other big Texas cities. Nature has not been sparing in providing smooth-tongued rascals who can fool the people and bank in seeming favor at Austin, meanwhile maintaining mistresses and living off bribes of lobbyists. That in nearly every legislature there are some loose-moraled men who seem to think they are attending a convention is not surprising to warrant the impressions given by Merry Go Round.

PLENTY OF CHARGES

Merry Go Round says, without mentioning names, that certain legislators maintain "girl friends" as stenographers in the public pay, that lobbyists make much use of wine and women to get the kind of song they wish sung in the legislative halls. It ruthlessly satirizes Dan Moody as the wonder boy of Texas politics "whose dragon (Ferguson) got well and returned to power." Those who like satire will be amused if not entertained by the similar treatment of Tom Love, Waddy Tate, Ross Sterling, and other figures in public life.

THE DRINKING DRYS

Politics and political claims are contrasted again by repeating the oft-heard tales of drys who drink and wetts who seldom drink. Here is a typical paragraph of the milder

Whitney Defends Practice 'To Distribute Risk' Of Underwriting.

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—New tales of fabulous profits and famous persons favored were unwound upon today's resumption of the senate investigation of J. P. Morgan and company.

Upon presentation of a third list of persons allowed by the wealthy house to make inside bargain purchases of stock, George Whitney—a partner in the bank—defended the practice as one "to distribute the risk" of underwriting.

Names of celebrities old and new were contained on this latest, the third such compilation, this one dealing with sale of over 300,000 units of United Corporation stock to almost 300 parties at some $7,000,000 below the market price. Included again were William H. Wood, now secretary of the treasury, Senator William G. McAdoo, General John J. Pershing, Norman H. Davis, John W. Davis, John J. Raskob, and Charles A. Lindbergh.

A new name was that of Edgar Rickard, New York mining engineer. "Is this Mr. Rickard the one who is reputed to be a representative of ex-President Hoover?" asked Senator Costigan (D., Colo.).

"I don't know," Whitney replied. "I conferred with associates, but did not amplify his answer. The witness said he did not know Rickard and had never had business relations with him.

"Creation of the special client list," Whitney said, "was on the theory of distributing risks that we didn't consider proper for us to carry as a banking house."

Senator Couzens (R., Mich.) remarked that John J. Raskob was (See MORGAN, Page 6.)

Jaysees Collect 1,000 Garments For Pampa Needy

It is estimated that more than 1,000 garments were added to the supply at the Welfare Board through a drive held by the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce yesterday.

The Jaysees were assisted by Boy Scouts. Clothing of every kind was received, much of it being winter clothing that will be badly needed when cold weather arrives.

Claude Riney headed the committee in charge of the drive and he desires to thank everyone who contributed and those who assisted with cars and time.

Much of the clothing received will be given out but most of it will be kept for the winter when the need is greatest. Members of the Welfare Board were delighted with the donation.

Pampans Invited To Greet Forty And 8 Official

Legionnaires and Forty and Eight members of Pampa have been invited to greet M. A. Radford of Three Rivers, chef de gare of the Forty and Eight in Texas, when he pays an official visit to Amarillo Saturday.

A program for members from Pampa, Amarillo, and Perryton has been arranged. It includes a lunch at the Amarillo Legion home at 7 o'clock, followed by a business session, and a dance at 9:30 for all Legionnaires and Legion Auxiliary members.

Dr. Roy Webb is notifying members here of the invitation. He expects a large representation from Pampa to attend the program.

GLORIS WEARS KIDNAPED BY FLEEING MEN

TRIO TREATED GENTLY

'I'D RATHER DIE THAN SIT ON YOUR LAP', DECLARES GIRL

FEARS of Mrs. James Wears of Pampa for the safety of her daughter, Miss Gloris Wears, 17, who was kidnaped by five fugitive convicts from the Kansas penitentiary, were dissipated this morning when she and two other children, Dale and Edyth, learned from The NEWS that her daughter had been released unharmed.

Gloris attended a Kansas City high school this year. Yesterday, she was accompanying Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wood and her daughter, Louise Wood, 17, to Leavenworth to place a wreath on a soldier's grave.

En route to the city, their car was stopped by the convicts. The husband was left and the three women were taken by the prisoners. An account of their experiences is given in the following story:

PLEASANTON, Kan., May 31 (AP)—Three Kansas City, Kan., women, kidnaped as shields for five fleeing Kansas convicts yesterday, remained captives until 10:30 last night, they said today.

They were released at the farm home of William New, west of Pleasanton, but news of their whereabouts was delayed because of fugitives cut the telephone wires.

The women are Mrs. M. J. Wood, a semi-invalid, her daughter, Miss Louise Wood, 17, and Miss Gloris Wears, 17. They were well-treated by the convicts and their five captors. Unable to telephone and unable to drive the family car because the keys had been stolen, the family and their enforced guests retired shortly after the convicts departed at 10:30 o'clock.

Early today New repaired the telephone line with baling wire, telephoned authorities in Pleasanton, and the girls were taken to Pleasanton for breakfast. Stanley Beatty, Kansas City, Kan., police captain drove to Pleasanton and returned the three women to their homes in Kansas City.

Mrs. Wood, small and dark haired, told of the stoppage of the Wood car north of Victory Junction by the convicts of her father leaving the car when he was ordered out of the convicts entering. There were eight persons in the car. One of the convicts asked Miss Wood to sit on his lap.

Recognize Men The prisoners then introduced themselves as Lewis Bechtel, Alvis Peyton, Kenneth Conn, Billy Wood and Clifford Dopsen.

Shown pictures of the escaped prisoners, the girls identified them. "There's Billie," said one. "There's Kenneth and there's Lewis, too."

The women said they were considerably frightened by the display of weapons in the car and that one of the convicts became excited and discharged a pistol through the car floor.

They said the prisoners had with them three shotguns, a rifle and a pistol. The women were told not to be alarmed because they would not be harmed.

J. A. Wyatt of Skellytown underwent an emergency operation at Pampa hospital this morning.

SLAIN OFFICER, HOLDUPS AND FREED HOSTAGES, FOUND IN ESCAPING CONVICTS' TRAIL

These Texans Foil Mexican Bandit Chieftain

At the right, standing, is Candalaro Beza, Mexican bandit leader, who held the two Americans captive until the Mexican government intervened. Hannold and Rollins were ambushed by Beza when the two Texans, from the Big Bend territory, rode into Mexico after horses that had been stolen from Hannold's ranch.

ASSAILANTS OF POLICEMAN ARE UNIDENTIFIED

OPERATOR OF STATION AT MIAMI ROBBED AND ABDUCTED

WOMEN ARE RELEASED

FUGITIVES TERRORIZING TWO STATES IN FLIGHT

LANSING, Kan., May 31 (AP)—A policeman was slain at Chetopa, Kan. and an Oklahoma filling station operator was kidnaped and robbed today as the 11 convicts who made a daring break from the Kansas penitentiary here yesterday continued to elude a host of officers combing the southwest.

The six hostages taken by the convicts yesterday—Warden Kirk Prather, two prison guards and three women whose automobile was commandeered—were safe, having been released by the two groups of fugitives who went separate ways after the escape.

Otto L. Durkee, 42, night policeman, was shot to death in an alley at Chetopa, Kan., early today in a fight with unidentified assailants.

Authorities expressed the belief he may have encountered some of the six convicts who escaped into the hills of northeast Oklahoma and released Warden Prather and Guards L. A. Laws and John Sherman last night near Welch, Okla., 15 miles from Chetopa.

The hunt for the six fugitives, including Wilbur Underhill and Harvey Bailey, notorious criminals and leaders of the Memorial day prison break, centered today around Picher and Miami, Okla., and spread thru the tri-state mining district of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

Identifies Underhill. Jeff Weatherby, who operates a filling station north of Miami, was robbed of a few dollars by four men, one of whom he identified as Underhill, and forced to accompany them in a car to Narussa, south of Miami, where he was released.

Police expressed the belief Bailey, who was shot in the leg by a prison guard, and a companion might be in some hideout and feared the other four might kidnap a doctor to give medical aid to Bailey.

A sharp lookout was being maintained around Picher, Okla., mining town where Underhill's wife lives.

No trace had been found of the five other convicts who held captive Mrs. M. J. Wood of Kansas City, Kan., her daughter, Louise, 17, and Miss Gloris Wears, 17, and freed them unharmed near Pleasanton, Kansas.

Warden Prather and the two guards returned to the penitentiary this morning. An investigation by the state board of administration got under way at the order of Gov. Alf M. Landon, who directed a thorough inquiry "of the causes, lack of rules or discipline, that might have permitted the trouble and the failure to confine it to the penitentiary once it occurred."

Planned For Days. Prather, a democrat, who has been warden two years, will turn over the office tonight to Lacey Simpson of Canton, republican, recently named by Governor Landon.

Prather said the escape plot had been planned for the first day under Simpson's wardenship but that the convicts decided not to wait when they found a "perfect set up" during the Memorial day baseball game on the prison grounds yesterday. He said the guards were preoccupied by the exciting baseball game between two American Legion teams—the score being tied 2 to 2—and his own appearance in the yard made the time ripe for the break.

Supreme Court In Decision Against Denison

Confirmation of Highway Chairman Might Take Place in Special Session; Solons Adjourn Tomorrow

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Frank L. Denison of Temple, who went to court to try to retain his appointment by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson as chairman of the Texas highway commission, lost his appeal to the supreme court today.

The third court of civil appeals a few days ago affirmed a ruling of the Travis county district court holding Denison was not entitled to the office because the state senate had not confirmed his appointment.

Attorneys for Denison immediately made application to the supreme court for a writ of error. That application was denied. Had it been granted the case would have been reviewed by the state's highest tribunal.

The state senate twice refused to give Denison a two-thirds affirmative majority vote for confirmation. He and the governor claimed, however, only a majority vote was necessary and that he had received that.

Denison took the oath of office, but never did function, agreeing to a friendly court suit to determine his status.

The third court of appeals affirmed the district court in its ruling the court could not go before the senate record, which merely revealed Denison's confirmation had been "rejected."

The supreme court held a two-thirds affirmative vote of the senate was necessary to confirm an appointment.

Scouts To Have A Summer Camp In New Mexico

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council will have their summer training camp in New Mexico on August 1 to 10. It was decided by officers of the council last evening.

Local scoutmasters and troops committee men have arranged to take 90 Pampa boys to the camp in school buses, which are covered by insurance. The first 90 boys who register for the camp will be taken.

No boy will be taken who is not a registered Scout by July 1 so that he may have a month's training under his scoutmaster.

The camp will be at Cima del Mundo near Las Vegas, where it was held last year. Jack Bynum, for several years camp cook on these occasions, will be invited to be with the group again. He lives at Agua Fria, N. M.

A soft ball tournament will be a feature of the camp this year, in addition to the other sports. Three hours of each morning will be spent in Scoutcraft. There will be much hiking and mountain climbing up the easy but steep trails. It is likely that historic spots will be visited in and near Santa Fe, including the old Pecos ruins and the state museum.

Chris B. Martin, camping committeeman, reported that Pampa had 24.5 per cent of the troops and 36 per cent of the boys at the camp near Morse, which closed Sunday.

Mrs. John V. Andrews and daughter, Anita, left this afternoon for Henrietta, Texas, to visit Mrs. Andrews' mother, Mrs. Tura Cullers, for two weeks.

ARMISTICE IN CHINESE WAR

Formal Truce Provides For Demilitarization Of North China Area.

SHANGHAI, China, May 31 (AP)—A formal armistice in the North China warfare was signed today by military representatives of China and Japan at Tanuku.

The truce provides first for the demilitarization of the area bounded by the great wall on the north, the Peiping-Mukden railway on the east and the Peiping-Suiyuan railway on the west, second, for the dissolution of the Chinese volunteer corps in this area, third, for the resumption of rail traffic between Peiping and Shanhaikwan.

NANKING, China, May 31 (AP)—The Sino-Japanese agreements signed today at Tanuku, which establishes a zone south of the great wall that Chinese troops may not enter, is designed to give a breathing space to the sorely tired troops and the distressed population of North China. Wang Ching-wei, national government premier, explained.

LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stone and daughter Shirley Mae left early today for California, where they will spend the summer. They were accompanied by Mrs. H. D. Keys, who will visit relatives in California for a time.

Mrs. H. Otto Studer underwent an operation at Pampa hospital yesterday. Her condition was satisfactory this morning.

I HEARD--

Lynn Boyd shot a 79 at the Country club yesterday in his qualifying round for the club annual open tournament. It was the first time in his life that he broke an "80" and was he "reguessed?" That is apt to put me in the first flight and I probably won't shoot that good again in my life," he moaned.

Henry Walker, Dr. R. M. Johnson, and Jack Dunn excitedly counting the names of 21 young ladies who have entered the beauty pageant to be held in connection with the formal opening of the swimming pool June 9 and 10. They make up the Junior chamber of commerce committee in charge of the pageant. They expect at least 50 to enter from the Panhandle.

Community Garden Plants Thriving

Most of the vegetables at the community garden below the swimming pool are doing well. Beets, lettuce, beans, carrots, and other vegetables are up and appear healthy. The tomato plants are not progressing as well as anticipated, but those growing are doing fine.

The garden is being watered from the pool and all the vegetables will be given to families on the Welfare Board list. The garden is being cared for by men on the board list.

JOB—THE BEST CURE FOR NATION'S UNREST

Sherwood Anderson, novelist, has put in most of this year wandering around America, talking to city people, country people, men in breadlines, hitch-hikers and everybody else he could get hold of, trying to find out if there is any sign of a revolution in this country.

He reports now, in The American Spectator, that there is not. And in explaining why there is not he touches on a point that most radical writers miss entirely.

The situation in America, he points out, is entirely different from the situation overseas. The people are different, the country is different, the tradition is different.

Our great age was a building age. We built cities, railroads, factories, machines; we cut down forests, dammed up rivers, tunneled through mountains, dug ore out of the earth. We did not worry about theories of economics; there was a lot of work to do and we went at it feverishly, content to tackle the job at hand.

And today, says Mr. Anderson, the jobless millions are not talking about the "decline of capitalism," about socialism or communism, Marxism or any other ism. Instead, he says, they are simply saying:

"Give us work! Give us work! It is this damned standing still here, doing nothing, that is taking the heart out of us."

Now there is an abundance of work to be done. There is, as Mr. Anderson points out, enough work left in America to keep the nation busy for a thousand years to come. What is needed now, he asserts, is "an end to all the talk of our failure as a people, and new talk of what is to be done."

Both the radical theorist looking hopefully for a spread of Marxism and the die-hard Tory quaking in his boots lest the deluge break over him miss the point completely.

The chief sufferers from the depression are not in the mood to smash things. They aren't looking ahead to riots, military rule, a dictatorship of the proletariat and so on. They simply want to go back to work. The jobs are there, potentially; houses to be built, railroads to be rehabilitated, factories to be overhauled, farms to be put in order, timber to be cut, canals to be dug, water-power to be harnessed.

It ought not to be such an impossible job to get the wheels moving.

Chicago's Mayor Kelly fired a cannon in a celebration incident to business revival. Well, that certainly should have produced a boom.

If J. P. Morgan ever had to retire from the banking business, he doubtless could make a big success as an income tax consultant.

In view of the bicycle-riding craze that now grips Hollywood, we may expect that movie actresses will soon be competing with the farmers in the raising of fat calves.

Nine kinds of water are now known to scientists, reports Dr. David Dietz, science writer. Many more, however, are known to Wall Street stock brokers.

Treasures From Ancient Tombs of Mexico To Be Seen at World Fair

CHICAGO, May 31.—From the ancient tombs of Monte Alban, south of the modern Mexican city of Oaxaca, will come to the world's fair in Chicago—A Century of Progress, what is declared by scientists to be the richest archeological find ever made in America—the famous Monte Alban jewels.

The jewels are the property of the Mexican government and will be seen by visitors to the fair in one of the new cars of the Mexican presidential train, just south of the Travel and Transport building.

They are scheduled to arrive in Chicago on June 20. Three years ago, under the direction of Dr. Alfonso Caso, head of the department of archeology of the national museum of Mexico, an adventurous band of scientists plunged into formless ruins of tombs built by the Mixtecs and Zapotecs.

Centuries ago an entire mountain had been transformed by the natives into a labyrinth of terraces, walls, pyramids, and mounds with a main plaza 1,000 feet long by 650 feet wide. After a series of minor excavations and work of clearing away shrubbery and rubbish, the Mexican expedition uncovered a wealth of material that has brought much information concerning this ancient project, never before disclosed by previous explorations.

Dr. Caso and his associates found what they believe to be the widest stairway on the American continent leading into tombs and a temple in which it was believed, lived a god who performed miraculous cures. The scientist suggests that Monte Alban may at one time have been a sort of Lourdes. In addition to a collection of more than 500 pieces of jewelry which will be seen at a Century of Progress, the explorers found a number of sculptures and paintings in the tombs and mounds. One of the strangest finds at Monte Alban was a series of relief sculptures of human beings all of whom had bodily deformity. Some had heads too flat, others extraordinarily elongated. In some, the extremities, usually the feet, are twisted, and others are bent. This discovery has led archeologists to a belief that there may have been such a shrine comparable to those unearthed from time to time by ex-

Chapter 47 SUE'S HIDING PLACE

I PLUNGED myself toward her, and grasped her arm, and wrenched the pistol from her hand. "You are ill-fitted for this," I said. "I know what your purpose is here, of course. I suppose they promised you a lot of money to impersonate Miss Tally later on."

I wrenched the pistol from her hand. "Sue," I whispered in the silence. "Sue."

There was a little rustle from inside the wall about the height of my head.

I bent over and rolled up the fire screen. The space seemed very large. I ducked under the mantel breast.

I groped into the darkness, met cold wall—and a ledge. And my groping hand suddenly encountered two feet bound together at the ankles.

It was Sue. She said, when I removed the gag, that she wasn't hurt, but she clung to me, and I could feel her heart beating, and her breath.

All at once I realized that we must get out of the ill-omened room. I took her cautiously into my room next door. I put her in a chair—she was trembling with cold and with the reaction of released terror.

I took my heavy flannel dressing gown and put it around Sue, and I took her wholly into my arms and held her, and I kissed her and kissed her and was never so happy in my life.

SHE told me briefly how the Lovschlems had been there in the corridor beside her room. She'd gone to turn on the light, and Lovschlem had simply clapped his fat hand over her mouth and lifted her into the corridor and some woman flashed inside the room and Gretche whispered sharply that if Sue screamed, the woman who'd gone into Sue's room would kill Sandan.

"I have the token," I said rapidly. "It was hidden in the priest's room." "You have it?" She paused. "But how did you know what it was? It can't be—you don't know."

She watched me unroll the small thin paper. I held it toward her, and she gave a little gasp. "Why—you—" It was a sort of gasp. "This—is this the token—but it is not my half. It is my brother's half."

"Then your brother—" "The priest—was my brother. The priest was Francis!"

CONVICTS' GUNS WERE CONTINUAL THREAT TO WARDEN'S LIFE

Stolen Saddles Carry Rewards

AMARILLO, May 31. (AP)—The age-old tradition of the west that a saddle is worth more than a horse evidently still holds good, as rewards posted with West Texas sheriffs mean anything.

Stolen saddles still bring rewards of $25 to $50, the offer being based usually as much on sentiment as on value. Officers find it as profitable to recover a saddle as a stolen automobile. Not many rewards are offered for horses, and those seldom exceed $5.

Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and other western states contribute to the large file of saddle rewards in every sheriff's office.

EXPERIENCE IS RECOUNTED BY KIDNAPED MAN

PRISON CHIEF LEFT IN SAGINAW HILLS OF OKLAHOMA

KANSAS CITY, May 31. (AP)—Warden Kirk Prather of the Kansas state penitentiary, who with two prison guards was forced to accompany six desperate convicts in a daring escape from the penitentiary at Lansing, Kan., during a Memorial Day baseball game, told his story of the escape to representatives of the Associated Press and the Kansas City Star.

The warden in a telephone conversation after the fleeing convicts had released him and the two guards at Welch, Okla., gave the following account of his experience: "I was watching the baseball game in the prison yard," he said, "when Wilbur Underhill, a life term convict of murder, slipped up behind me and threw a slip-knot noose of wire around my neck. At the same time, another convict, I think it was Harvey Bailey, pressed a revolver against my back. A third convict drew my arms behind me.

"Other guards were taken around me. Several guards, covered by six convicts, joined us and together we marched to watch tower post No. 3 and one-half, where we stopped.

"Underhill spoke up. He was the leader of the gang. Here's what our plan is, he said. 'We'll kill all fourteen guards within range of our guns, then kill you, unless you do what we say. Make that guard up there take down his gun.'

A guard on the wall was covering us. Just then the alarm siren blew to inform the prison that an escape was in progress and Underhill ordered Bailey to kill Sherman, Bailey lifted his revolver, when I shouted to the guard on the wall to lower his gun and not to fire under any circumstances. Then the guard was commanded to throw his keys down to us and we proceeded on to post No. 3, at the southeast corner of the yard. The trap to the tower was opened and we ascended.

"As we entered the tower, Underhill twisted the end of my wire leash around his left wrist. With his right hand he held a revolver against my side.

Meets Police Car

"There were six convicts in the group. W. E. Muselman, in charge of prison recreation, John Laws, John Sherman and I were the only guards taken aloft. A coil of rope in the watch tower used for pulling up fuel and provisions, was thrown down the outside of the wall. Underhill commanded me to slide down. He followed, the wire around my neck still fastened to his wrist.

"You show us how to keep out of the mud," Underhill said to me, "or I'll kill you. Understand?"

"I told him not to fear, that I would direct them to a good road. We drove south on state highway No. 5. Underhill somehow got his revolver tangled up with his clothing or the wire and it was discharged. The shot shattered the back window of our car.

"Somewhere below Ottawa, Kan., the driver said he saw a police car ahead. One of my guards told me afterward it contained uniformed officers and appeared to carry a machine gun. Davis stopped the car and ordered the guards to stand off at the roadside. Two convicts jumped out with pistols, prepared to meet the police car.

"It came almost within fighting range, then went into reverse and backed off. Then it turned around and went speeding away from us.

"Fourteen miles north of Parsons, we encountered a car (identified as that of Ed Clum) and the convicts held it up. Davis had complained the Chevrolet was getting too hot.

Whisky Brings Joy

"Sawyer and Brady took Laws, the guard, and climbed into the Clum car. We went on ahead, the other following. It could not keep up, so we stopped and waited for it.

"One of the convicts produced a pint of whisky. Everybody was jubilant over that.

"At Edna, Kan., we bought more gas. Underhill again paying for it. Then we struck south on a dirt road and the bottle was passed to everybody but me and the guards. When the boys began to loosen up and talk, I said, 'Well, you guys certainly pulled a clever job. You suspected two weeks ago that you were smuggling guns but we couldn't find them. We searched all the sisal bales that came in.'

"Bailey, the wounded man, said we hadn't searched the right one.

"About sundown, just before we drove into Welch, Okla., we had a flat tire. Davis parked at the side of the road and all of us got out of the car. Two of the convicts repaired the puncture, grumbling, and Underhill said he hadn't decided what to do with me and the guards, bump us off, or what.

"As we entered the Saginaw Hills, south of Welch, twilight was descending and the country seemed

Gunmen Line Up Eleven; Kill One And Injure Five

NEW YORK, May 31. (AP)—Gunmen who copied a crimsoned page from Chicago's book of crime fled into hiding today after killing one man and wounding five persons.

Employing the technique of the St. Valentine's day massacre of Chicago, four killers lined ten men and a 15-year-old boy against the wall of the Castle cafe, tiny eating house, late last night.

"Now, you rats," they said, "how do you like this?"

They poured a pistol volley into the group and fled while the teeming East Side neighborhood screamed in panic.

Police found Charles "Buster" Dominico dead and two men seriously wounded. The other two men who were shot escaped with minor hurts, as did Bernard Blaustein, 15. Five lined up were not struck by bullets.

Texas Will Have 22 Forest Camps

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—Eight additional reforestation camps for Texas have been approved by President Roosevelt, bringing the total number of camps so approved up to 22. Each camp will be allotted 200 men from the Texas quota.

The camps will be located on state lands in Cherokee and Montgomery counties and on private lands in San Augustine, Sabine, Tyler, Houston, San Jacinto and Hardin counties. The projects on private lands will be of such a nature that the public will benefit, it was explained.

Besides these camps it is understood that camps have been recommended for Lake Dallas, Lake Worth, and Lake Waco.

Oil Discovered In Colorado County

HOUSTON, May 31. (AP)—Colorado county found itself in the South Texas oil area today for the first time, after the bringing in of the Plymouth Oil company's Beam No. 1 well, a wildcat, 80 miles west of Houston, at Garwood.

The well opened the second new oil field in South Texas since Saturday, when a well was brought in as a producer in the Tomball area, 30 miles north of Houston.

Oil sand was found when the Plymouth drill stem had penetrated to within eight feet of the contract depth of 6,200 feet. The well when it came in last night, was producing 200 barrels of 43 gravity oil.

Lewis M. Goodrich of Shamrock, district attorney, was here today.

He had 65 cents. Sherman said he had 30 cents. Laws 15 or 20 cents.

"All the convicts laughed. Pretty cheap lot, they said. Underhill reached in his pocket. 'Here you are, warden,' he said. 'Take this dollar bill, you may want something to eat and smoke—if you can find a town.'

"We found a town all right. After the convicts had climbed back into their car—Bailey had to be carried—we trudged on back to Welch, more than ten miles away, all muddy, very tired. The convict car went on into the hills.

"At Welch, I reported to the town marshal, who telephoned the prison. Then I sat down to dinner."

Warden Prather said he believed the convicts had an excellent chance of making good their escape. He said Bailey and Underhill appeared to be at home in the Saginaw Hills.

Many Voters of State Failed To Pay Voting Tax

AUSTIN, May 31. (AP)—Many Texans who failed to qualify as voters by paying the state poll tax before last February 1 are facing an unhappy situation right now.

There will be some unusual issues affecting the state government which must be settled by the electorate during the year, principally on August 26.

On that date the question of legalizing beer in Texas will be submitted and an election for delegates to a state convention to give Texas' answer to the national congress' question whether the eighteenth amendment should be repealed will be held. Also, a number of proposed constitutional amendments will be submitted including a proposal to issue $20,000,000 state unemployment relief bonds.

This being an "off year" for election of state, district and county officials, it is estimated thousands of otherwise eligible voters did not qualify by paying the poll tax.

Representative W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi intelligently to have the legislature give the delinquent another chance at qualifying. He had a bill that would have permitted the registration of voters at $1.75 per head up to July 15. He estimated such an arrangement would have brought considerable cash to the state if otherwise will lose.

However, the house members would not give consent to introduction of the bill. It was necessary to receive permission of four fifths of the membership to get it in because the time for introduction of bills had expired.

Major George A. Corbin, infantry D. O. L. contact officer of the 90th division U. S. Army in charge of reserve officers in the Panhandle, has been ordered to Fort Sill, Okla., for duty. Major Corbin is well known in Pampa, having visited at several meetings of the Pampa Reserve Officers' chapter. His headquarters was in Amarillo.

A successor to Major Corbin has not been named but an appointment will probably be announced soon.

New Oil Schedule Is Being Prepared

A new oil schedule for the Panhandle field is being prepared at the local office of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission. It will become effective tomorrow morning.

The field allowable will be increased 1,000 barrels or to 44,000 barrels a day. The increased allowable was set several months ago by the Texas railroad commission, but the outlet for the additional 1,000 barrels was not available at that time.

Field production for several weeks has been hovering around 44,000 barrels.

Huey Long Says Budget Chief Is 'Morgan Man'

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP)—Taking cognizance of published reports Lewis Douglas might succeed William H. Woodin as secretary of the treasury, Senator Long (D., La.) today contended in the senate this would be "going out of the frying pan into the fire."

Lewis now is director of the budget. His family, Long said, was "inextricably interwoven with the Phelps-Dodge corporation," which he identified as one of the J. P. Morgan affiliates.

"If we are going back to the House of Morgan for another secretary of the treasury, we'd better keep the man we've got now."

"In fact, I prefer the man we've got now."

He went on to explain that he had no personal hostility toward Douglas, former democratic representative from Arizona, but criticized his administration of the economy act as director of the budget.

Walter S. Douglas, who Long said was an uncle of Lewis, was named by the senator as a director of the Phelps-Dodge corporation, which owns extensive copper and other properties in Arizona.

A CASE OF NERVES

NEW YORK, May 31. (AP)—A world saved from a nervous breakdown: That's the happy result that Prof. C. U. Ariens Kappers, director of the central institute of brain research of Amsterdam, foresees issuing from the depression. He said that as changed modes of living in the boom years filled hospitals all over the world with neurotic persons he expects the number of nervous patients to decrease now.

Star Chooses Black Striped Linen

LILYAN TASHMAN

By NEA Service
HOLLYWOOD.—Maintaining her reputation as the best dressed woman in Hollywood, Lilyan Tashman wears a black linen dress with white diagonal stripes.

There is much to be said for diagonal stripes and weaves this year. They completely flatter a figure worth flattering. Novelty fabrics are becoming slender figures.

Lilyan's linen frock for street wear has a pique collar and by combining pique and linen she achieved the most modish effect of the season.

Maureen O'Sullivan moving her belongings into her new beach home wore a short sleeved white dress topped with a turquoise blue woolen coat in an intriguing basket weave.

Ginger Rogers at the ping pong tournament at the Biltmore Hotel with Lew Ayres wore a sleeveless black and white dress of a lacy material. Her gray printed scarf was fastened in front with a handsome jeweled pin.

Ann Harding likes novelties, too. Arriving at the studio driving her own car she wore a white boucle cape and hat of the same material. The hat was slit down the front to show Ann's lovely blond hair.

FIDELIS CLASS ENJOYS RAINY DAY LUNCHEON

GIFT IS PRESENTED TO BRIDE-ELECT MEMBER

A gift was presented to Miss Euritha Henry, member who is to be married next week, when the Fidelis class of First Baptist church met for its social yesterday evening.

Rain spoiled plans for a picnic, so the event was in the form of a lunch at the church, served at a table decorated with vases of larkspur. Edgar Myatt and Melvin Lancaster were the chefs who served "pigs in blankets" and toasted marshmallows to accompany the salad, rolls, pickles, cookies, and iced punch supplied by the members.

Officers Filled
A group of officers were elected to complete the class official staff. Miss Zenobia McFarlin was elected second vice president, Miss Wilma Chapman reporter, Miss Bertha Lee Hicks chairman of class ministry, Miss Minnie Vernon Haynes chairman of missions, Misses Neva Burgen, Evelyn McDonald, and Leora Kinard group captains.

Officers already filled are: President, Miss Ruth Henry; first vice president, Miss Donnie Lee Stroppe; secretary, Miss Mildred Overall. Mrs. C. E. Lancaster is teacher.

Each member and guest present for the lunch was introduced by the president. They were Mrs. Lancaster, Misses Stroppe, Euritha Henry, Minnie V. Haynes, Mary Lois Barrett, Opal Agan, Kinard, Edith Newman, Miriam Groom, Viola Dodd, Marie Bastin, Overall, Eurgan, Sue Vinson, and Ruth Henry.

London Bridge In Last Meeting at Home Mrs. Miller

Meeting for the last time until the end of vacation season, members of the London Bridge club were entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Leroy Miller.

Mrs. Arthur Swanson received the club prize for high score, and Mrs. John Studer was consoled for low. Mrs. H. H. Hicks scored high for guests.

A salad course followed with strawberry shortcake and iced tea was served after the games. Mrs. Henry Schafer, mother of the hostess, was a guest for tea.

Players were Mrs. Howard Buckingham and Mrs. Hicks, club guests, and Mesdames Clarence Barrett, W. H. Curry, W. T. Fraser, B. C. Low, P. O. Sanders, Roy Wight, John Sturgeon, J. M. Lybrand, William Smith, Henry Charles, Studer, and Swanson; Misses Virginia Faulkner and Margaret Buckler.

PERFORMERS AND PROGRAM GIVE MASCULINE AIR TO RECITAL OF SPRING SERIES HERE TUESDAY

Violin Students Of Roy Tinsley Are Presented

A MASCULINE note was struck in the program of spring recitals yesterday afternoon when Roy W. Tinsley presented a group of his violin pupils in a program at the city hall club rooms.

Customary curls and ruffles of recitals had a part only as assistants. Violin students presented were all boys and men, and the program consisted of melodic numbers of the type that appeal to men.

Quartet and Duets.
A violin quartet composed of Nolan and Donald Cole, George Saunders, and Charles Shelton, a duet played by Laurence McBee and Horace McBee, and one by Charles Shelton and George Saunders were included.

Violin solos were played by Paul Luttrell, George Saunders, and Onis Bradford, Bradford also contributed an oboe solo, and Howard Zimmerman sang a bass solo to vary the program.

Misses Louella Saunders and Marie Tinsley played piano solos. A vocal duet by little Misses Fern and Florine Keehn, and a solo by Florine with piano accompaniment by her older sister, was another feature.

Each number was warmly applauded by an audience that almost filled the club room. Mrs. Irvin Cole was the competent accompanist for the students.

MEMORIAL
The morning of Memorial Day I walked into my garden gay.

I plucked the roses, white and red To deck the graves of my dear dead.

And when within God's acre fair I scattered flowers here and there.

It seemed that spirits spoke to me Like breath of zephyrs blowing free.

Said they, 'Mourn not for this, our dust

'Where all decay and treasures rust,

'But look beyond to that bright dome

'Where immortal spirits have their home.'

"20 miles to the gallon!" "22!" "24!" "Sometimes as high as 25 or 26." Those are Chevrolet owners speaking. And they're indulging in some good old-fashioned boasting over the gasoline habits of their new Chevrolets. Yes—gallons certainly do s-t-r-e-t-c-h a long way in a Chevrolet Six—farther, in fact, than in the tank of any other full-size car. And the same thing holds true of oil. Put five quarts in the Chevrolet crankcase and the chances are those same five quarts will still be there when you change your oil again. For, as millions of miles have proved, the new Chevrolet Six certainly is a world-beater for economy. You'll save on fuel—and on upkeep, too. And on repairs. And on depreciation. And the price you'll pay for the Chevrolet Standard Six Coach is lower than the price of any other 5-passenger 6-cylinder closed car you can buy. $455! What a price—What a car!

LORD DERBY'S HYPERION, 2ND CHOICE, WINS ENGLAND'S EPSOM DOWNS RACE

HORSE OWNED BY AMERICAN PLACES THIRD

WINNER FINISHES FOUR LENGTHS AHEAD OF KING SALMON

EPSOM DOWNS, Eng., May 31. (AP)—Lord Derby's Hyperion, the second choice at 100 to 11, today won the 150th running of the English derby before a crowd of 250,000 including the king and queen.

King Salmon, carrying the silks of Sid H. Cunliffe-Owen was second and the Victor Emanuel's American owned Statesman third. Twenty-four ran.

Hyperion, ridden by Tommy Weston, gave Lord Derby his third victory in the king and queen race on May 17, 1890. The last time he won was in 1924 when Sansovino carried the famous silks to victory. The winner is by Gainsborough out of Silve.

Hyperion finished four lengths in front of King Salmon. Another length separated Statesman from King Salmon. King Salmon was quoted at 7 to 1 in the betting and the American-owned colt at 20 to 1.

The other two American entries, John McCormick's Franz Hals and W. M. G. Singer's Mynosis, both outsiders in the wagering, were unplaced.

Here's Champion Collector of Old Biscuits

M'CORL, Ark., May 31. (AP)—Until some one comes forward with a better claim to the title, Mrs. Alice Torrence might just as well be recognized as the champion antique biscuit collector.

Her prized relic came hot and brown from the oven 43 years ago and two aging companions are veterans of the Spanish-American war.

The exclusive clique of biscuit hoarders began to compare notes last February when J. A. Stanford of Cartersville, Ga., was cited as claimant to the oldest biscuit, a creation of 1909. The mailmen got tired of toting the correspondence the claim started.

Now says Mrs. Torrence, Stanford has written her that of all the biscuits described in stacks of letters to him, hers are the oldest.

Her champion biscuit, she explained, was baked by her mother March 3, 1890. The other two biscuits, baked in 1898, were brought home by Mrs. Torrence's brothers when they returned from the Spanish-American war.

BUFFS PROVE SUPERIORITY IN 9-1 ROUT

MISSIONS LIMITED TO FOUR HITS; RUN IS UNEARNED

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The third place San Antonio Missions tried their luck at taming the Houston Buffaloes Tuesday night. Before the Missions could run for cover the Buffaloes had hooked them for a 9 to 1 victory to prove their right to the league leadership.

Ed "Caveman" Greer, Houston's tall right-hander, clicked with his eighth win this season by limiting the Missions to four hits. Catcher O'Dea's error gave the Missions their run.

Lou Brewer, shortstop, saved the night for Dallas. He singled over shortstop in the tenth inning with the bases loaded and one down to give the Steers a 4 to 3 decision over Fort Worth. The victory broke a four-game losing streak for Manager Morse's team. Diminutive Sal Glatto outpitched Chambers and Davis by holding the Cats to five hits while his mates collected ten.

Oklahoma City dropped two notches deeper in the cellar by losing a doubleheader to Tulsa, 2 to 1 and 8 to 6. The first game went 11 innings before the Oilers gained a favorable verdict. The double defeat broke a 6-game winning streak for Oklahoma City.

The Galveston Buccaneers will remember Memorial day at Beaumont where they were drubbed, 3 to 1. Elton Auker stopped the Bucs with six hits. The big feature was Morgan's double in the fifth inning with the bases loaded that scored two runs.

FARRELL AND BOWERS FIGHT HERE TONIGHT

REPUTATIONS OF PAIR INDICATE FAST BATTLE

Fight fans of this territory are looking forward to the bouts at the Pla-Mor auditorium tonight when Frankie Farrell, former Pampa boy, meets Dick Bowers of Breckenridge in the 10-round main event and Tiger Al Taylor of Chicago boxes Jimmie Collins of Wichita Falls in the 6-round semi-final.

The boys have never boxed each other before and they are unaware of the style of fighting they will encounter. They are well known in the boxing game and should put on a real exhibition. Farrell and Bowers are junior welterweights and Taylor and Collins middleweights.

Farrell will be making his first appearance in a Pampa ring in four years. He has been in the east boxing and has a string of victories over good boys to his credit. Bowers boxed here about five years ago but since that time has been mostly on the Pacific coast.

The semi-finalists have both defeated good boys in their class and fans who have seen them in action predict good futures for them. They have each had about 75 fights.

Paul Ellis, local boy, will meet Young O'Farrell of Wichita Falls in a 4-round bout that should show plenty of gloves. They are youngsters who like to fight and who hope to make good. They will enter the ring at 126 pounds.

Ray Herrod and Dale Phillips, two local 134-pounders, will be on for four rounds.

A battle royal will open the card at 8:30 o'clock.

WALKER'S TERM AFFIRMED

A 7-year sentence on a robbery conviction was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals today in the case of Berl Walker of Pampa. He is already in the penitentiary serving a 9-year term for hijacking the Danciger refinery.

SMASHUPS IN RACE TAKE THE LIVES OF THREE DARING MEN

Meyer Is Second Driver To Win Race Twice—Jordan, Billman, Spangler Die.

By CHARLES DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31. (AP)—Three daring young men lay dead today, tragic victims of smashups yesterday in the 500-mile automobile race won by Louis Meyer, Huntington Park, Calif., in a record-breaking finish.

By his triumph, Meyer became the second driver to win the race twice. The other was Tommy Milton of St. Paul, who triumphed in 1921 and came back to ride to victory in 1923. Meyer previously had won in 1928.

With three deaths yesterday and two in the qualifying tests Sunday, the race had claimed five lives, the biggest sacrifice to speed since 1919: three were killed. The three victims yesterday were Mark Billman, 27-year-old Indianapolis driver; G. L. Jordan, also 27, Lafayette, Ind., mechanic, and Lester Spangler, 27-year-old driver from Los Angeles.

While the cheers of 100,000 spectators were acclaiming Meyer as the speed king of 1933, Billman and Jordan were dead. Spangler succumbed to his injuries last night, five hours after he had been injured. The bodies of Spangler and Jordan were horribly crushed when their car, traveling at terrific speed, hit a machine driven by Malcolm Fox of Westfield, N. J., on the southwest turn shortly after Billman had wrecked his car on the opposite turn.

Another car, racing in front of Fox, skidded and forced him to shoot towards the outside retaining wall. Fox's machine, and landed on the wall. Fox's car shot to the outside wall where it dangled until pulled off by a wrecking crew. Neither Fox nor his mechanic were seriously injured.

Billman met death on the southeast curve when he skidded into a lower retaining wall and then smashed against the outside wall. His mechanic, Earl Lombard, of Indianapolis, was catapulted out of the car. He landed outside of the track more than 50 feet away but was not seriously injured.

Meyer, $12,000 richer as the result of his victory, intends to go back to California.

The 29-year-old Californian, driving without relief, smashed all records for the race by covering the distance in 4:48:00.75 to average 104.162 miles an hour, shattering the record of 104.144 hung up by Freddy Frame of Los Angeles in winning the 1932 race. Meyer finished nearly three full laps, about

YANKEES BEAT SENS BUT WIN IS PROTESTED

DISPUTE RAGES FOR 10 MINUTES FOLLOWING UMPIRE'S RULING

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

The struggle between the New York Yankees and Washington Senators in the American league may develop into one of baseball's classic rivalries if the teams play a few more close games.

Visiting the capital for the first time since April 25, when the rival teams engaged in a free-for-all on the field, the Yanks came out with a 3-2 victory but it was only after much argument and a bit of pop bottle dodging.

The trouble started when Ben Chapman, one of the leading figures in the April donnybrook, went to bat for the first time against his erstwhile fistic rival, Earl Whitehill. The fans bood; Whitehill rubbed his hand in the dirt and on the ball and an argument arose when Umpire "Brick" Owens tossed the ball out. Then a couple of bottles were heaved towards Chapman as he went into the outfield.

Things settled down to a peaceful duel between Whitehill and Russell Van Atta until the eighth when Lou Gehrig belted one over the fence close to the foul line and Umpire Owens ruled it was a homer that put the Yanks ahead. The dispute raged for ten minutes before Manager Joe Cronin decided to finish the game under protest. And after a ninth inning tally had won for New York, Clark Griffith, owner of the Senators, entered a formal protest on the grounds that Owens refused to consult with Roy Van Grafan, who was stationed along the first base line.

The second game of the holiday double header was rained out, the single defeat left Washington with a precarious hold on second place. The Philadelphia Athletics wound up only half a game behind the Senators after beating the Boston Red Sox 7-3 and 11-8.

The Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox broke even, Cleveland hammering six fingers for 23 hits to win the second 15-8 after the Sox had taken the first, 7-2, behind Eddie Durham's five-hit hurling. Aided by errors, Detroit took the opener from the St. Louis Browns, 8-6, but bowed to Wally Heber, 3-1, in the second although the Tigers had an 8-5 edge in the hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals, threatening Pittsburgh's hold on the National league lead, won two contests from the Cincinnati Reds while the Bucs broke even with Chicago and wound up only a half game behind the pace setters.

Four runs in the first gave the Cards the opener, 5-4, against their old teammate, Paul Derringer, while St. Johnson was the victim of the late rallies that netted them a 3-2 victory in the second game. The Braves won a morning game from Chicago, 2-1, when Paul Waner clouted a home run in the eighth but Bill Jurges led the Cubs to a 6-2 triumph in the afternoon hitting a four-bagger and driving in three runs.

The metropolitan rivals, Brooklyn and New York, decided a pair of mound duels by the home run route. Bill Terry clouted a pinch homer and Byrne James smacked one in the ninth to give the Giants the opener, 2-1. Tony Cucinello reorted by hitting his second four-py wallop of the day to provide Brooklyn's winning runs in a 3-1 victory.

The Phillies broke a five-game losing streak and extended Boston's string to the same length by defeating the Braves 2-1 in a six-inning contest.

WIFE OF STANFORD OFFICIAL KILLED -- HUSBAND IS QUIZZED

BEGS POLICE TO BELIEVE IN HIS INNOCENCE

CONFLICTING THEORIES ADVANCED IN CAMPUS MYSTERY

SAN JOSE, Cal., May 31. (AP)—David A. Lamson, sales manager of the Stanford University Press, was held in the Santa Clara county jail here today pending further investigation of the death of his wife, Mrs. Aliene Thorpe-Lamson, attractive executive secretary of the University Y. W. C. A.

No charge had been placed against Lamson, said by physicians to be suffering from shock and in a semi-hysterical condition.

Holiday calm on the Stanford campus was disturbed with the discovery of Mrs. Lamson's body, the victim of a violent death, in the bathroom of the couple's home. Her head had been crushed by a terrific blow.

Lamson, who had been working in the yard for several hours, chatting meantime with a neighbor, entered the house by a back door to escort prospective summer tenants through it. A moment later he ran to the front door, crying that his wife had been murdered.

Police and deputy sheriffs questioned him for two hours and then brought him to the jail here. Arthur M. Free, former congressman, was retained as his attorney. Dr. Joseph Catton, psychiatrist, called by Free, examined Lamson and reported the young husband was near hysteria. Later, Dr. Catton prescribed a sleeping potion for Lamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamson, both Stanford graduates, were described as a devoted couple by friends. They have a 15-months-old daughter, Aliene, who is with relatives in the country.

Iron Pipe Found
Officials found a piece of iron pipe, glowing-hot, in a rubbish fire in the back yard. Lamson had been tending the fire. In the bathroom were a pair of gardening gloves and one of Lamson's slippers. The mate to the slipper was in an adjoining bedroom.

Free and other friends of the couple expressed belief Mrs. Lamson slipped and fell while stepping into the tub, striking her head on the faucet. The young mother had not been strong recently. Lamson begged officials to believe he had no hand in his wife's death. He told of their happy married life and described how he had prepared his wife's breakfast and drew the "grateful" for being on one of the lists.

As to profits made by the Morgan firm, Whitney recounted to the few senators on hand at that time and to the overflowing audience in the huge and warm hearing hall that a block of stock warrants in connection with United Corporation—entitled holders to purchase common stock in the Morgan (United) utilities stock holding concern—had been sold for prices ranging from $40 to $47. These had been acquired by Morgan for a dollar apiece, and brought $8,490,000.

He said 200,000 of the warrants were sold and the Morgan partners divided 1,500,000 more.

Questioned about executives of utilities firms in which his company holds an interest who are indebted to the Morgan bank, Whitney said there was but one—John Zimmerman, of the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia.

water in the tub before leaving the house.

Officials said Lamson's friends reported Lamson had been acting "peculiarly" for several weeks and said the Lamson's had talked of selling their home on the campus because Mrs. Lamson had discussed returning to her own people in Lamar, Mo., this summer.

description: "Regularly every odd year a hundred and eighty men from all parts of Texas pack their spare shirts, if they possess more than one, take leave of their wives, and go to the city of Austin, where for 120 days they are authorized under the constitution to pool their abilities and foibles, their hatreds and friendships, their wisdom and lack of it in one frantic effort to express the mind of the state in the form of laws."

LOBBYING "BARED"

Merry Go Round repeats again the well known fact that many legislators are on private payrolls frankly or surreptitiously as "counsel" for big interests. By innuendo, the book connects others in a way which is so far meaningless. For example, it says "Clint Small has fought battles for the independent oil operators, but there is reason to believe that Humble may also find his services meritorious." . . . Some of the most bitter things are said

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 31. (AP)—Cotton opened steady with Liverpool fully as good as due and sterling materially higher.

First trades showed gains of 4 to 6 points and prices gained a point additional with October at $9.63 and December at $9.79.

The market continued to ease owing to profit-taking and selling for a reaction by ring traders. July dropped to 9.20, October to 9.46 and down from early highs and 12 to 13 points under yesterday's close.

Later in the morning the market rallied with stocks, recovering a good part of the previous decline. July advancing to 9.31, October to 9.57 and December to 9.73, or 11 to 12 points up from the lows to levels one to two points under the close of yesterday.

about Jesse Jones, after the fashion of one who may or may not have been fired off Jones' Houston Chronicle. . . . Nothing new is said about Frank Norris, his court trials and fires. . . . Merry Go Round might have a mission, but none is served in the present volume, which after causing momentary anger and apprehension in Austin is destined to die the death of all such works of innuendo and rehabing. But it won't make easier the life of any lawmaker of ability and honesty.

. . . West Texans will give no more than a passing sneer at the remark that this is "the most bigoted section of Texas."

Warning Issued Against Driving Lugged Vehicles

Driving of vehicles with lugs on state highways is an offense which will draw convictions unless the practice stops, a highway official said today.

Especially is the new paving east of the city apt to be damaged by lugs of tractors and farm machinery.

Motorists also are warned not to cut in quickly before cars which are passed. The loose gravel on the asphalt topping is thrown with terrific force by car wheels and has been known to break headlight and windshields.

plans to adjourn sine die at noon tomorrow. Should the governor make a recess appointment, that is designate a highway commission chairman while the legislature is not in session, confirmation would not come up until the legislature met again, either in special or regular session. Should there not be a special session the legislature would not meet again until January, 1935, at the end of Governor Ferguson's current two-year term.
