'MA' ADOPTS A 'VERY LIBERAL POLICY' TOWARD LAW

BEER IN SAN ANTONIO

FLEET OF 12 TRUCKS ENROUTE FOR MORE 3.2 BEVERAGE

TO have beer or not to have beer was the consuming question in Texas Saturday night. While many cities reported an abundance of the amber fluid was being sold openly, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson made it known she had adopted a "very liberal policy" in an interview her husband, ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, granted late in the day.

The state prohibition law, one of the strictest of its kind in the United States, still was in effect, but local officers in several cities announced frankly they would not prosecute sellers of 3.2 per cent beer under its provisions.

San Antonio, among the larger cities, started the remainder of the state with the assertion it would not submit complaints of liquor law violations based on beer sales to the grand jury. The sheriff's office and the police department said they were powerless to bring complaints, in view of the prosecutors' attitude.

A fleet of 12 trucks was racing from San Antonio to Louisiana for cargoes of 3.2 beer, for trade in the beverage in that city continued brisk despite a price of 35 cents a bottle.

At Austin, Ferguson said he was "doing my best to persuade the governor to exhibit an even more liberal policy than she has adopted."

"Ma" Persuaded. He said if he "had his say about it" I would release every prisoner now in the state penitentiary "who had 30 days to his credit" on a sentence for liquor law violation.

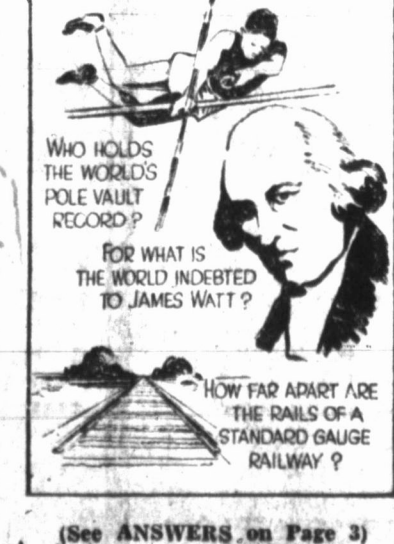

Ferguson pointed out that to release all liquor law violators now in the penitentiary would "save feeding about 500 men over there."

"I think it is a travesty on justice to keep those liquor law violators in prison," the governor said. "They would not prosecute a man for that offense on the outside now. I doubt if there is a convict in Texas where a jury would convict a liquor law violator and send him to the penitentiary. They might be in favor of fining him 30 cents, or something like that."

Cafe Raided. County and city officers in Amarillo raided the first of Amarillo's cafes to openly serve the new 3.2 per cent beer over its counters. The raid came in mid-afternoon, within two hours after Sheriff Bill Adams had declined to state his attitude in the matter, saying the policy of Amarillo officers would be determined at a conference later in the day.

After the raid, Adams and Police Chief W. R. McDowell issued a joint statement saying they would "raid all places we hear of." G. L. Gathwright, manager of the cafe, was released under $750 bond.

Roosevelt Discusses Currency With Bank Of England Adviser

By F. G. VOSBURGH, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—A conference between President Roosevelt and a representative of the Bank of England aroused new talk of early stabilization of currencies tonight as thorny questions of American foreign policy crowded in upon the chief executive for early decision.

Swift developments brought to the attention of the president vital matters involving war debt policy, monetary action and the intimacy of American relations with Europe.

C. M. W. Sprague, financial adviser to the Bank of England, turned up suddenly in the capital, was taken to the White House by Secretary Woodin and was closeted with the president for some time.

With the world monetary and economic conference at London little more than three weeks away, strong efforts are being made to achieve a de facto stabilization of the pound and dollar to provide a working arrangement for attack on the problems of tariffs and trade.

The Sprague visit immediately was connected with this effort, although it was described at the White House as merely to pay respects.

The imminence of a war debt showdown was borne in upon official Washington by word from Paris that quarters close to the government foresee default not only of France but other debtor nations when installments totalling $144,000,000 fall due June 15, three days after the opening of the London conference.

President Roosevelt, however, gave no sign of budging from his expressed stand of expecting the payment to be met as due, nor did he indicate whether he still is considering sending a war debt resolution to congress.

A tax program designed to assure sufficient revenue to back the projected $3,300,000,000 public work program of the administration's industrial control bill is to be drafted in executive session Monday by the house ways and means committee, which today completed hearings on the gigantic measure.

Indications are that the new revenue program will be based on a schedule submitted by Lewis W. Douglas, director of the budget, to the committee, calling for increased income taxes, subjecting corporate dividends to the taxes and either an increase in the gasoline tax or a modified or luxury excise tax.

Senator Borah Says Treaty Is Peace Obstacle

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—Likening Europe to a "smouldering volcano," Senator Borah, in an address tonight, said the Versailles treaty was the "real obstacle" standing in the way of success at the forthcoming disarmament and economic conferences.

Speaking before the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, the former chairman of the senate foreign relations committee said disarmament, and not debts, was the "supreme problem" facing the world.

But he warned that disarmament could not come until there were "radical adjustments" in the peace treaties.

Asserting "there are a million more men in arms in Europe tonight than on August 1, 1914," Borah said the "drift has been distinctly toward war."

Yet, he held the peace meeting, "disarmament is the keystone to the arch of international amity and confidence."

"It will be difficult, if not impossible," he added, "to stabilize currencies, adjust tariffs, open markets and to bring trade and commerce back to normal conditions while nations are piling up armaments, making all preparation apparently for war."

PHILLIPS WINS. WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Milton Phillips of Kansas City tonight was declared the winner of the national oratorical contest, for which sectional trials previously have been held in high schools in various parts of the country. Grace Mary Colliflower of Washington, D. C., was second, and George W. Oliver of Lake Wales, Fla., third.

STANLEY WILL SPEAK THREE DAYS IN CITY

OPENING WILL BE AT 10 O'CLOCK TOMORROW

SUBJECTS ARE TIMELY

STORE MANAGERS ARE TO HELP DECIDE TOPICS

SCHOOL is "out" for the children, but Pampa business men and sales folk will start school at 10 o'clock Monday at the city hall when Henry W. Stanley, nationally known economist and lecturer, opens a three-day course in business administration.

There will be charge for this business institute for those who attend. It is being presented under the auspices of the Pampa Daily News and Board of City Development in cooperation with the trade extension division of the Dallas chamber of commerce.

Mr. Stanley will also lecture at 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. at the city hall, choosing timely subjects relating to sales, promotions, psychology of salesmanship, store management, and the merchandising outlook. A committee of interested business men has made a canvass of most of the business district, hence a large number of "students" is expected at each session.

The lectures will be held three times daily on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Every man and woman in the business world here having a selling or advertising problem will be interested in this series of lectures and will obtain valuable information on business administration and salesmanship. Mr. Stanley will lecture each day on subjects of salesmanship, merchandising and public contacts.

Part of each day will be spent by Mr. Stanley in visiting local merchants and business men where individual store problems will be discussed and analyzed. For the last six years, Mr. Stanley has conducted similar institutes in the larger cities of the south and west and has gained an enviable reputation as an analyst of business conditions in that part of the nation.

Commenting by letter on the course, which is to be presented here, R. L. Thornton, president of the Mercantile Bank and Trust company and chairman of the trade extension committee of the Dallas chamber of commerce, has explained how it is possible for the Dallas Wholesale Market to offer such a comprehensive service without cost to the local merchants. "We realize Dallas, as a manufacturing and jobbing center, can grow only in proportion to its trade territory," said Mr. Thornton.

OIL AID BILL IS REQUESTED BY PRESIDENT

Adoption of Marland Plan Might Delay Action On Public Works Project.

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt must decide whether he is willing for the house ways and means committee to delay his $3,300,000,000 public works-industrial bill long enough to insert in it the administration's new plan for helping the oil industry.

That was the decision announced late today by Chairman Doughton of the committee, before which both bills are pending.

"We are going to decide on the tax features of the public works bill Monday so we couldn't reach the oil bill for hearings before Tuesday or Wednesday," Doughton said. "If the president is willing to delay the public works bill that long, it will be all right with me."

Leaders earlier had decided to add the oil bill as an amendment after the president had suggested such action to "bring order out of chaos" in the oil industry.

The presidential suggestion was in a letter to Speaker Rainey and Vice President Garner, in which Mr. Roosevelt said that it seems "difficult, if not impossible," to achieve desired and beneficial oil regulations by state action alone.

"There is a widespread demand for general legislation," the president continued, requesting that oil be given "immediate attention" and adding "May I further suggest that in order to save the time of the special session it might be possible to incorporate action relating to the oil industry with whatever action the congress takes in regard to other industries—in other words, that consideration could be given at the same time that action is taken on the bills already introduced and now pending in committee."

House leaders at first expected delay in the public works-industrial measure now before the ways and means committee if the administration takes in regard to other industries—in other words, that consideration could be given at the same time that action is taken on the bills already introduced and now pending in committee."

APPROVE 12 CROP LOANS

Bourland Receives Several Hundred Bushels of Cotton Seed for Farmers.

About a dozen crop loans, most of them for summer fallowing and wheat planting, were approved by the local committee composed of Roy Bourland, chairman, B. E. Finley, and C. S. Barrett yesterday.

While dozens of waiver blanks have been taken from the office of County Agent Ralph Thomas or the B. C. D. the formal applications have just begun to arrive. The staff had a very busy day yesterday.

Many questions are required to be answered by the applications—questions which require more bookkeeping than the average farmer does. For this reason, several applications have been returned for further correction. The checks must be cleared through the office of County Clerk Charlie Thut to make sure that there are waivers from all mortgage holders.

Mr. Bourland has several hundred bushels of certified cotton seed ordered for Gray county farmers. Those who asked for it, and others who need cotton seed, are urged to see him at his B. & B. warehouse at once.

All crop loan applications must be completed by next Saturday, May 27.

J. C. Swisher of Kansas City is here for a few days.

WILCOX WELL ON COMBS-WORLEY IS FLOWING 2,040 BARRELS PER HOUR; FIRST OUTPUT DECREASES

Gulf Well Deepened Baptists Will Meet At Fort Worth In 1934

THE Wilcox Oil & Gas company is completing what should be one of the best wells in the county this year. It is the company's No. 19 Combs-Worley in the northeast corner of the northeast quarter of section 35 block 3 H. & G. N. survey.

The test made more than 200 barrels an hour after pay was encountered at 3,029 feet. The flow decreased, however, and yesterday was flowing steadily at 83 barrels an hour or 2,040 barrels a day. The new producer is an offset to the Mazda Oil company's well in the same section.

The Gulf Production company's No. 7A Bowers in section 89, block B-2, was deepened from 3,004 feet to 3,094 feet to increase the pay from 20 barrels a day to 135 barrels on the pump.

One new location was made in the county last week. It was the British-American company's No. 3 Phillips in section 127, block 3 H. & G. N. survey.

TWO TEXAS RANCHERS RELEASED AFTER THEY ARE ACQUITTED ON MEXICAN'S CHARGE OF ROBBERY

Pair Accused of Robbing Store In Mexico; Both On Way Back Home Under Guard Of Group of Mexican Soldiers

BOQUILLAS, Mexico, May 20 (AP)—Two Texas ranchmen, accused by their captors of robbery when they went into Mexico to track down stolen horses, were on their way back home today under guard of Mexican soldiers.

Arthur Hannold and John Rollins, who had ranches in the vicinity of San Vicente for years, left Ocampo, Mexico, several days ago but heavy rains in the northern part of Coahuila, Mexico, delayed their progress toward the Rio Grande, the international boundary which they had crossed several times previously in the hope of retrieving stolen cattle and horses.

Reports gathered from several ranchmen and two Mexicans here indicated that on May 9, the day the Texans headed south, they were captured by Candelario Baeza, a power among the Mexicans in northern Coahuila, and were accused of the $1,000 robbery of a store at Sierra Mojada, Mexico, May 8.

Mexican officers, hunting for the robbers, came upon Baeza and his men and Hannold and Rollins, after Baeza shifted the blame for the robbery on the Americans the officers took them to Ocampo where they were held.

ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE; CONDITION IS NOT SERIOUS

EX-BANKER IN 'DAZE'

BANK FOUNDER STABS HIMSELF AFTER HE IS CAPTURED

By FRANCIS A. JAMIESON, Associated Press Staff Writer. NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Joseph W. Harriman, indicted founder of a Fifth Avenue bank bearing his name, who penned a sheaf of suicide notes and then disappeared from a nursing home 24 hours before, stabbed himself over the heart in an obscure Long Island inn where he was found today.

The 68-year-old man, who was described as being in a "mental daze," stabbed himself while police waited outside his room for him to change his clothes. Officers said they found him on the floor, bleeding from the wound.

At a Mineda hospital, where he was taken in a fire department ambulance, his condition was said to be not serious.

One of the policemen who acted as stretcher bearer said: "He didn't seem to know what it was all about. He was in daze."

Harriman went to the Old Orchard Inn at Roslyn late yesterday and registered under the name of "A. T. Thomas, Louisville."

Inspector Harold King of the Nassau county police identified him, however, by the initials "J. W. H." in his handbag and in several garments.

Another note, described by King as indicating "suicidal intent" was found on the floor when the inspector entered the room earlier in the day. It asked his relatives "be informed."

"Are you Mr. Harriman?" inquired King.

"No," Harriman answered. "I am A. T. Thomas of Louisville."

"You're not Joseph W. Harriman of New York?"

"No."

"Why did you come here?"

"My son died around here some time ago," Harriman replied.

His only son, Allen, was killed in an automobile accident.

"I don't feel like dressing yet," Harriman replied to King's suggestion he arise. "My stomach is upset. That is why I came here."

King learned the banker had arrived at the inn in a taxicab after stopping first in Locust valley. Police had guarded the cemetery there all night because of their knowledge of how deeply Harriman had mourned his son's death. Apparently he did not visit the boy's grave there.

A Wade Wells, proprietor of the inn, told of Harriman's arrival at 7 o'clock last night and of his request for an "expensive room" because he could not "afford to pay much." He rented a $4 room for $2.50, Wade said, and retired early.

AMARILLOAN DIES. AMARILLO, May 20 (AP)—Lewis N. Thomas, 28, died here today. Funeral services will be held here Monday afternoon. Thomas, who was a petroleum company clerk, is survived by his father, his widow, two brothers and three sisters.

I HEARD-- That Charlie Tignor had a flat tire while coming in to the grade commencement exercises Friday night and that after working frantically to get the spare unlocked, walked to E. A. Shackleton's for oil and pliers. The two men used the oil freely without result and Mr. Shackleton finally suggested that it might be the wrong key Mr. Tignor was using—and it was.

It was an even 100 degrees in Pampa at 3:35 o'clock Friday afternoon and at noon yesterday it was 95 degrees. A delighted youngster is Junior Duemel, who found his pup thru efforts of The NEWS.

A MUCH NEEDED PRAYER: Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.—Psalm 51:10.

Work, Useful and Otherwise
About to embark upon a tremendous program of public works, the government will wisely attempt to do more in removing slums in the big cities than has been done in decades. What is done to remove human misery is worthwhile.

Much of the money the government will spend in reforestation will be wasted as to material benefit but will serve as a means of individual and family relief. In a sense, public extravagance is necessary—despite all campaigns to prevent extravagance—to keep thousands and millions from threat of starvation.

When better times return, however, it will likely be noted that little actual benefit was derived from the expenditures for replanting trees and reclaiming washed soils. While forests can be re-planted and some soils can be saved, the amount of money which can be wasted in these projects is tremendous. The country has no shortage of soil. Over-production abounds. There are many substitutes for wood, and when wood becomes scarce it will be profitable for private industry to plant trees.

Work-relief alone justifies many of the federal projects, and the whole public works program is logical only as it applies to the national government, which can extract funds more readily from those who have much to help those who have little.

Facts About Our County

Usually one reads about one's home town or county with some apprehension, since errors are commonly expected. The Texas Almanac does much better than the average. Here's what you read in the 1933 edition of the Almanac:

GRAY—In Panhandle plains. Created in 1876 from Bexar county. Organized in 1902. Named for Peter W. Gray. Area, 899 square miles, population 22,090, population per square mile 24.6, assessed valuation $23,931,100.

Partly on high level plains, partly in breaks at altitude of about 2,800 to 3,250 feet. Rainfall 21 inches. Chocolate and gray loams and sandy soils. Production of large quantities of petroleum; covers part of world's greatest gas field.

This county has developed agriculturally in recent years. Cotton 7,500 bales, wheat 2,201,440 bushels, oats 124,043 bushels, corn 67,932 bushels, melon and truck crops grown on sandy lands. Total crop value, $3,136,569. Cattle raising, dairying, poultry and hog raising making rapid progress; much home canning in 1932. Total livestock value, $1,505,307.

Pampa (10,470), county seat, is wheat market and shipping point and distributor to oil and gas producing region. Refineries, casinghead and carbon black plants around the city. New rail outlet completed last year. Highway program under way in 1932 will be completed in spring of 1933, giving Pampa seven paved outlets. McLean (1,521), Alanreed and LeFors are other commercial centers of the county.

OUT OUR WAY..... By WILLIAMS

Better Business Is Here

From Business Week:
"Spring, belated, but all the more welcome, is coaxing green into the most unexpected parts of the business garden and so swiftly as to make the oldtimers in Wall Street a little nervous. . . . The sun seems warmest in the corner where the heavy industries are grouped. Steel is making rapid growth, fed by orders from motor makers and from miscellaneous sources. . . . Employment and payrolls rose in April and undoubtedly will in May. . . . Electric power production has passed the preceding year's level for the first time in more than 2 years; the rise, moreover, is strictly unseasonal. . . . Public construction is still very small, but residential building is rapidly picking up. . . . Carloadings promise this month to pass last May's volume. . . . April department store sales naturally beat the unmentionable month of March. . . . The administration pushes plans to further and to consolidate these gains. Its program of public works and of aid and encouragement to industry is about ready. Preparations for the international conferences proceed on the whole favorably, with a truce to the making of further trade restrictions in the meantime. . . . A bill to give us a better banking system emerges from committee, surprisingly little scarred with compromises. So astute a reader of the public temper as the president can hardly fail to sense that bank reform must be part of this session's work."

Plans Progress For Scout Camp—One Week Away

One week away is the fourth annual camp of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council. The dates are May 26, 27, and 28 near Morse.

The camp director will be C. A. Clark, Scout executive, assisted by Chris B. Martin of Pampa and W. W. Nelson of Hooker. The chief judge will be A. W. Nelson of Berger, with Rex Sanders of Spearman and H. L. Brady of Clarendon as assistants.

President A. G. Post hopes to have a representative from each of the 42 troops of the area. Some troops will attend 100 per cent. Each troop must furnish its own transportation, food, tents, and equipment, and must be in charge of a qualified leader. No troop may have any boy or equipment in the camp before 3 p. m., but all are expected to be present by 7:15 p. m.

Each troop must display troop and patrol flags if it has them. Only registered Scouts may participate in any event. Troops may enter all or any events, but all troops will be graded on attendance, camping, cooking, drill, and sanitary supervision. The reviewing officer will be A. G. Post, and the Rev. A. A. Hyde will be chairman of the court of honor.

Summer Term To Last 12 Weeks

CANYON, May 20.—"There will be a twelve weeks summer session at the West Texas State Teachers college," stated President J. A. Hill upon his return from Austin where he had spent several days.

"We are very glad to have a prospect of a small appropriation for the summer school. However, the faculty of the college here decided several weeks ago that the work must go on during the summer term, and announcement to that effect was made through our bulletin. The summer session will begin June 5, the work will be up to the usual standard, and classes will be taught by the regular faculty."

Dr. Hill said that rumors to the effect that there will be no summer session seem to have been circulated over all Northwest Texas. These rumors are entirely unfounded. In spite of them, inquiries coming to the college offices daily indicate that the attendance will be large this summer. Living expenses are lower than for many years. This fact, coupled with the comfortable climate of Canyon, will bring students from all over the state.

The White Cockatoo

by Mignon G. Eberhart

SYNOPSIS: After the unexpected arrival of Francis Tally in the White Hotel in Southern France where other guests visit the police, for there have been three murders in the hotel, all connected, so Jim Swanson and the detective David Lorn feel with an attempt to secure the token which will prove Sue's right to her share of her father's great fortune. They ask that Sue and Francis may leave the town; the police refuse. On the way back to the hotel Sue tells Jim to Swanson that she has lost the token.

Chapter 33
THE VANISHED BLOT
"WELL—" It was Madame Grethe entering from the lounge. Her green gown caught highlights in its curves, and the white cockatoo clung to her shoulder, looking inquisitively from one to the other of us. "Well," she said again. "Will the police now permit you to leave?"

She heard of their refusal with a face that did not alter a shade in its suavely amiable lines. Watching her, it was difficult to believe—as I certainly had believed, watching her husband's reception of the news—that that refusal affected any plan they might have made. Either it had not, or she was a better actor than her husband. Perhaps the look of secret reflection in her castile eyes deepened, but her face remained smooth and friendly, with only dark lines under her eyes and a certain pinched look about her nostrils showing the strain of the last few days. Grethe was always friendly; usually amiable.

When Lorn, who had explained dryly and briefly, finished, her soft shoulders rippled slightly under the silk, she lifted one squarish but very white hand to caress the cockatoo's neck and said:

"Ah—well—the detectives from Paris will do something. The police here—" She left her sentence unfinished meaningly. "We may have here for several days more, then, Heaven send they be better days."

She said it quite honestly—at least, that was the effect. I heartily agreed with her.

At the same time I'd have thought more of it as a wish if I had been entirely sure it was Heaven and not Madame Grethe herself with whom the responsibility lay. I reminded myself that I hadn't, actually, a shadow of a clue against her, and moved nearer the register which lay open on the tall desk at my side.

Grethe had turned to Sue and was talking of her leaving them in a very frank and pleasant manner—a manner which nevertheless contrived to emphasize Sue's long year with them and, somehow, the friendliness of the Lovschleims toward Sue and her mother—while Francis and Lorn, equally non-committal in expression, waited and perforce listened.

As she talked I was looking with interest at Francis Tally's name scrawled across the open page, and trying to recall the interwoven initials below his typed signature. It was true that he had recognized Lorn; true, which was more important, that Lorn had recognized him.

Still, as Lorn himself had said, it is well to prove things before resting a case on them. I could not recall the exact characteristics of those intricate initials with enough accuracy to compare them with the signature. I must ask Sue to permit me to look at the letter again.

But there was something about that page that was wrong. Some-

ing. Under cover of the conversation I leaned nearer the book, and, luckily, caught a highlight from the window near by on the glimmering surface of the paper.

Then I was sure. My signature was still in my own handwriting; that was true. But it had been traced on that page with a sharp instrument and then followed with pen and ink. And it was not too well done; with police it wouldn't have stood a test one moment. Even I, no policeman and, God knows, no amateur detective, could readily discern the forgery.

But the forgery began and ended with my own name. Lorn's and Tally's signatures were clearly not traced.

Why, then? The explanation was simple and swift. Something had made the removal of that page imperative. It had become imperative after my arrival and before Lorn's. And it was nothing of an innocent nature, such as a bad tear or more spilled ink, for Lovschlem, in such a case, would have merely asked me to register again, and explained the need for it.

No, the very fact of careful and painstaking forgery of my name proved that there was a hidden and probably incriminating reason for it—incriminating to whom, I could not know, although it pointed strongly to Lovschlem, and was thus practically the only material clue I had so far discovered which led to him.

Suddenly I realized that I was looking too long and too closely at the page. There were still voices behind me, but I looked up quickly and met Lovschlem's eyes. I endeavored to look blank and uninterested. I even said in a casual way to Tally, "Your home is in the South, then," as if I'd been only guilty of idle curiosity.

There was no way to know, however, whether my small ruse succeeded with Lovschlem or not. His eyes still followed me when I left the lobby, and as I started upstairs I glanced back from the landing and saw him bending over the register.

(Copyright, 1933, Mignon G. Eberhart.)

Sue tells the story of the token's disappearance, tomorrow.

Now there was no blot.

TO DYANNE I who never cared for peace Dreamed of high white towers Lovely in this splendor And their calm

I stood alone and wondered, In this vision, As I gazed in misted valleys Where the touch of man Was as forgotten As the emerald studded khivas And the gardens of Pomona, Whose sylvan arbor smilled With flowers decked and fragrant smells, I wondered why celestial spots

Would wander from the paths that Than Sonatas;— My life of conflict and unrest!

'Twas then I realized that I swayed To rhythms far more ancient It was love! I murmured low, bewildered, joy;— Dyanne slipped softly from the shadows Of the towers of my dreams!

The moon And all her starry rays Cast glory on her hair, and like a Saint, Or some Angel newly dressed, She stood before me. Blended with the Amethyst That sparkled from the silver cross And threw warm gales on Dyanne's pointed breasts Her fragrant bodice loosened by degrees

And she came toward me While her hair blew gently in the breeze. Having dropped her hands, her tilted head Revealed dark eyes that said 'Forget your promise.— Fate has made me cross your path! But not one word was passed.

Ecstatic resignation Drew me to her arms, And as her lips met mine— There was a momentary soaring Of my soul Before it crashed.

Then I discovered that the throbbing In my heart Was the crumbling of the towers.

High, and white, in all their splendor. And the calm Had broken with the fading If the vision,—which was love!

Oh Dyanne,—Why can't I find In life this realization.— This command of yours to give My soul a preference over promise Whenever Fate demands you cross my path! This life's reality Is short enough at best; I'd gladly leave the conflict And go pay Eternal homage at your throne In Cyprus, But your presence in itself Defeats this purpose,— and this calm. Oh Dyanne,—

Why can't I find a realization In my visions,—and my dreams And comprehend the meaning of Fate's many schemes; Especially Since I can see the lines in life's cool palm? Footnotes for "To Dyanne": (Cyprus was the favorite residence of Venus the Goddess of Beauty, and Mother of Love. First married to Vulcan, she nevertheless permitted the attentions of Mars. Later, after leaving Olympus she fell in love with Adonis, who was killed while hunting, then after causing the Trojan war, retiring to Cyprus to hold court, during which time many old suitors plead for her renewed favor, Incense was burned at the Altar of her Court, unless there was a victim to do homage, at which time the occasion was signified by offering a white goat at the altar. Epistrophe is the Greek name signifying the power of Venus (love) to change the hard-hearted.)

Examiner

MRS. MAUDE RIPLEY of Electric, grand examiner of the Order of Eastern Star, will direct the school of instruction for Pampa and Miami chapters at Miami Monday and Tuesday.

CHILD HEALTH ROUNDUP WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Pre-School Children To Be Examined By Nurse

GRAY county's pre-school roundup intended to assure parents that children are physically ready for entering school will start tomorrow in most rural schools.

Corrections deemed necessary will be pointed out during the examinations. Mothers and Parent-Teacher association members will have meetings with nurses and physicians during the week according to an itinerary arranged for Miss Olga Buresh, state health nurse. They will meet at 9 a. m., and doctors will arrive at 10 to conduct the examinations. Introductory meetings of mothers and children have been arranged at each place before examinations start.

Laketon will be the meeting place for parents and children of that district. Farrington and Kelpenger at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Doctors will arrive at 10 o'clock.

Examinations for the Webb and Back schools will be held at Back at 2 o'clock Tuesday, and for Eldridge and Alandred districts at Alandred Wednesday morning at 9. Every child who is ready to enter school for the first time next term is eligible for a free health examination in the roundup. Physical defects will be noted on a record card given to the parents, and the county Parent-Teacher council will sponsor a follow-up campaign in an effort to have all possible defects corrected before school starts next year.

Miss Buresh pointed out yesterday that parents should study their small children to discover social, mental, and emotional habits. Often primary teachers must use time needed for other activities to teach health and social habits which should be learned in the home.

LOVELY DECORATIONS ARE FEATURE OF LUNCHEON

A MUSICAL program recalling its successful public appearances of the past season was heard by members of the Treble Clef club when it ended a busy year with a luncheon at Schneider hotel Saturday.

ANSWERING THE CALL OF THE WATER

SWIMMING is beginning to call, and here's one answer, a backless bathing suit designed to find its place in the sun quite easily—if there's the least bit of sun. Ruby Keeler is wearing it.

NOR is Lona Andre to be outdone in this matter of up-to-date wear for the fashionable resorts. Quite effective is the diagonal use of the striped material for the upper part of the suit, with trunks of navy blue.

RESORT STYLES have in mind the swimmers who really swim and those who loiter the hours away on the sand. For instance, there's the honey-colored, turban-like cap that Jean Parker is wearing. Helen Vincent wears a Turkish towel costume in red and white with a jaunty cap, and Frances Dee displays a wrap-around skirt with a suit of ivory, navy and green stripes and blue trunks. Navy slacks are included.

Education Survey Shows Alarming Cuts in Allotments for Schools

By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, Claude State Publicity Director.

On April 1, school doors were shut to approximately 5,000 pupils in 250 Texas public schools. In the United States 290,000 children were denied school privileges, according to a study of school conditions being carried on by the national education association.

Preliminary reports from only 37 states show that by February 28, there were 1,253 schools closed in nine states involving 43 political subdivisions and completely denying educational opportunity after that date to 119,969 children.

Southern States Hit. Among the states in which schools have received the hardest blows from the depression are Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas, Louisiana, and New Mexico. Approximately 85 per cent of the school children in Alabama were involved in the curtailing of school terms there. In Alabama many schools were forced to shut down before the Christmas holidays.

The inequality of educational opportunity in the United States, increasingly evident for a decade in normal times, is sharply reflected by the depression conditions in Alabama, perhaps the hardest hit of any state. In spite of the fact that the rural children of that state have been almost denied schooling for a year, Birmingham, the metropolis of that state, has been able to carry forward without school retrenchment, meet all its school pay rolls, and at the end of the school year, June 1932, had a million dollar balance in the treasury.

Contrasts General. Silliman contrasts in different degrees may be pointed out in every state, while the situation in Alabama is extreme, so the study made by the national education association shows.

Teachers are personally carrying about the double burden of educating the children in several communities, so many instances are cited. Many teachers are serving without pay or deferred payments with little hope of collection.

In nearly all communities salaries of school teachers had been cut from 10 to 40 per cent. Many thousands are being paid these reduced salaries by warrants which can be cashed at local financial institutions only at a discount. In a few cases local banks will not cash the warrants at all.

Typical Retrenchment. The following excerpts are typical of the retrenchment being made in the nation's schools:

SPOKANE, Wash.—Home-economics and manual arts are discontinued in the fifth grade. Swimming pools are closed. Double period subjects in high schools scheduled on 7 period per week basis instead of 10. Part time school discontinued. Appropriation for library books reduced. Attendance office force cut. Two schools closed.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Eliminated three special classes, one for non-English speaking children, one for crippled children, and one for anemic children. Raised kindergarten entrance age. Eliminated four dental hygiene teachers, and six positions in physical education department with an assistant medical supervisor.

DENVER—Vacancies left unfilled. Some curtailment of curriculum revision. Research staff reduced. Discontinuation of open air schoolroom. Shortening of term in evening school. Supervisors assigned to part time teaching.

Brides Advised On Equipment of Useful Kitchen

This is the first of three articles by Sister Mary giving advice to young brides on how to begin housekeeping.

By SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer.

ITS in the kitchen that the bride is put up on her mettle and must "earn her spurs" so to speak and unless her equipment is adequate and suitable she will be hard pressed to achieve perfect results. If the necessary tools are not at hand she will find it twice as difficult to serve meals that do her credit.

This is as true for the bride who will not do her own cooking as for one who will personally prepare the work-shop of every home and its efficiency is determined by its equipment.

Undoubtedly, most of your cooking will be done for two. Materials are wasted and success cannot be assured if saucepans and casseroles and baking dishes are too large. A cup of sauce made in a two-quart saucepan is lost. Two rashers of bacon and eggs cooked in an eight-inch spider are next to impossible. The same holds true regarding pudding pans and bakine dishes.

You will find a rather bewildering array of materials offered in all kinds of utensils. Glass, iron, steel, enamelware, cast and sheet aluminum, wood, and earthenware all find places in the kitchen. In many articles the materials can be used interchangeably; personal preference being the deciding factor.

Economy in Quality. Standard equipment that will be in daily use will prove most satisfactory and economical if made of a material that will withstand hard and rough usage. Iron, steel and cast aluminum are practically indestructible, and utensils made of these materials will actually "last a lifetime."

Steel does not hold the heat as the other two metals do, but it is quick to heat through and excellent for quick cooking and hurrying dishes. It is also light to handle and easy to care for.

BREAKFAST: Shredded fresh pineapple, cereal, cream, sour cream waffles, sirup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Asparagus cream cream salad, toasted cheese sandwiches, spice cup cakes, milk, tea.

LUNCHEON: Salmon loaf, potato

tee on gratin, new beads, ginger ale salad, strawberry sandwiches, milk, coffee.

Sheet aluminum, enamel ware, glass and the heat-proof pottery are not affected by heat—unless they are abused—but they will not stand hard knocks. Aluminum will dent, glass and pottery will break, and enamelware will crack and chip if carelessly handled. However, these materials are easy to keep clean, light to use and in the case of pottery and glass can be sent straight from the oven to the table.

The copper utensils are durable and make a beautiful kitchen. They are easy to care for and a joy to use.

FORT WORTH WOMAN BEATS CHAMPION FOR GOLF ASSOCIATION CROWN

Members Of Three Civic Clubs To Battle For Points In Golf Meet Today

MISS ANIELA GORGZYCA IS NEW TITLIST

MRS. DAN CHANDLER IS DEFEATED THREE AND ONE

Associated Press Staff Writer. GALVESTON, May 20 (AP)—Miss Anielia Gorgzyca, 20-year-old Fort Worth champion, crowned a six-year golf champion today by winning the 17th annual Women's Texas Golf association state championship with a 3 and 1 victory over Mrs. Dan Chandler, defending champion of Dallas. Miss Gorgzyca is from Fort Worth.

Amazing the gallery with their two hundred yards-and-over drives, the finalist staged one of the greatest matches from the time she went one up at the 11th with a birdie two until she closed out her opponent at the 35th green.

Only one time was Mrs. Chandler up. She won the fourth, lost her lead at the 7th and from the 14th on, the defending champion fought a stout uphill battle.

On the morning round that ended 1 up for Miss Gorgzyca, the new champion shot a 40-40-80 against Mrs. Chandler's 40-41-81. In the afternoon, both blistered the front nine in 38 shots, even par for women, leaving Miss Gorgzyca one up through the tenth.

After the match, Mrs. Chandler simply said she hit her shots, that she scored well but it wasn't her match to win and she didn't win.

SPITS-FRENCH ROUTED—24

PARIS, May 20 (AP)—France's Davis cup ace, including Henri Cochet, were routed today unexpectedly in the first half of the annual Anglo-French tennis matches. The British captured eight out of eleven contests.

Cochet not only suffered a setback in the doubles with Arthur Merin, a youthful partner, in his first appearance of the year on the Roland Garros courts but the former world champion was jeered by some members of the gallery for his erratic shotmaking. Dr. John C. Gregory and H. G. N. Lee took the measure of Cochet and Merin easily, 6-2, 6-3.

The feature match resulted in a victory for the English Davis cup doubles combination of Fred Perry and George Hughes over the veteran French internationalists, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, by scores of 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

H. G. Ellis of Bartlesville was a Pampa visitor last week.

HOOKS and SLIDES
by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Was Ty Cobb Wrong?
Ten years ago the Detroit Tigers had a kid boy named Frank Reiber. The kid loved baseball. He used to hustle to the park early so he could play around the ball before the teams got out on the field.

Frank chased flies in the outfield, practiced in the infield and frequently warmed up pitchers. His enthusiasm was boundless.

Cobb noticed the lad's earnestness. One day he had an ambition to become a big leaguer. But Cobb gave him the shock of his life.

"You have all the makings of a great ball player," said Ty, "except for your feet. They don't track right."

He Kept Right on
The kid almost cried. Then he asked what was the matter with his feet.

"They point the wrong way," replied Cobb, ruthlessly. "You don't point outwards with your feet like that don't get very far in baseball. The best players have feet that point in. They're pigeon-toed."

Frank looked lugubriously at his feet. Then he looked at other feet around him. For weeks he carefully surveyed the league players' feet. Then he came to his own quiet conclusion—Cobb was wrong. And he started out seriously to prove just that, that Cobb was wrong.

STUDER CHOSEN DIRECTOR OF PLAINS HORSE ASSOCIATION

Horse Show Will Be Held in Pampa and Other Towns Of Section This Fall.

H. Otto Studer of Pampa was elected a director of an association of horse enthusiasts from various towns of the Panhandle and New Mexico in Amarillo yesterday.

As a result of this meeting, horse shows will be held in various towns, including Pampa this year. A committee headed by Jimmie Hamilton, instructor in horsemanship, was appointed to plan the shows. Another committee will draw up a constitution and by-laws for presentation next Saturday in Amarillo. Dues in the association was fixed at $2, and ownership of a horse is not prerequisite to membership.

John McKnight of Amarillo was elected president of the association, with J. L. Nunn as secretary-treasurer. The directors include H. Overstreet of Farwell, Hiram Dow of Roswell, N. M., Mr. Roberts of Dalhart, Mrs. Natalie Roberts of Amarillo, Dr. George P. Groat of Panhandle, Mr. Studer of Pampa, Carl Studer of Canadian, and Mr. Hamilton of Amarillo.

Much enthusiasm was shown in horses and horsemanship and the prospect for holding shows in many towns of this section.

Rain Interrupts Amarillo Matches

AMARILLO, May 20 (AP)—Rain this afternoon caused finals and the semi-final matches in the Amarillo high school invitation tennis tournament to be postponed until Monday afternoon.

J. E. Corbett, district one champion from Amarillo, was the only player to obtain a final berth today. He advanced through three rounds with the loss of only seven games.

Players from Pampa, Plainview, Panhandle, and Amarillo remained in the play in both divisions.

Fight Card for Week Cancelled

The fight card for the coming Wednesday evening has been cancelled due to the fact that Matchmaker Andy Andrews was unable to secure a suitable supporting card to the Farrell-Bowers fight.

The following Wednesday which will be May 31st Andrews will present an all star boxing show featuring Farrell and Bowers in a ten round main event. He is arranging other suitable matches to support the fight and among them is Joe Fortenberry of West Texas State Teachers college against a suitable opponent. Fortenberry will be remembered as one of the tallest basketball players in America. He is also heavyweight boxing champion of the T. Y. A. A. conference.

The triumph, the first of the season for the Panthers over the Bucs, was achieved through the impulse of some powerful hitting at the expense of Hank Thormalen, the portly stopper and two other pitchers. Billy Webb trotted to the hill. In all 15 bloopers including two triples and five doubles, were registered off the trio.

Dizzy Dean Wins
ST. LOUIS, May 20 (AP)—Dizzy Dean mixed eleven strikeouts with many New York hits today and managed to keep out of trouble enough for the Cardinals to defeat the Giants 4-1. The victory moved the Cards into fourth place ahead of Cincinnati.

The Cardinals got only nine blows off Hy Bell and George Uhle but they included a homer by Jimmy Collins and three triples, two of which led to runs. The Giant tally came from Mel Ott's pop fly double in the third and George Davis' single.

In "Rally Day"
PITTSBURGH, May 20 (AP)—The Pirates played "rally day" ball today, coming through with the ninth-inning rush to win the second game of a doubleheader from Boston, 7-6, after the Braves with squelched a last-frame stand and won the first clash, 4-2.

In the opener, Cantwell was invincible in the pinches, holding Pittsburgh scoreless until the ninth when they scored two runs. The defeat blasted Meine's winning streak of five straight.

Cubs Beat Dodgers
CHICAGO, May 20 (AP)—Lonnie Warneke batted his way into his fifth victory on the season today as the Cubs downed the Brooklyn Dodgers 3 to 1 in their first meeting of the National league season. Four previous games were postponed.

Warneke not only shaded Ray Benge in a fine pitching duel but drove in the winning runs himself with a double left center in the fifth inning. He held the Dodgers to five hits and after the first inning he never was in danger.

Fewest Hits Win
CINCINNATI, May 20 (AP)—Philadelphia's "Finesse" did drive them farther to take another game from the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 6 today.

Chuck Klein again was a factor in the victory, hitting a home run and a double.

SINKING 'EM

By GENE SARAZEN
World Golf Champion
(As Told To Alan Gould)

"No matter how big a national championship of a club tournament, you can't win with 'sixes or sevens' on your golf card.

Right away you probably will remind me that Bobby Jones won the 1929 National Open championship despite a couple of sevens on his last round. That is quite true, but it also is true that Jones was lucky to squeeze out a tie with Al Espinosa that day and get a second chance to win the title in a playoff. It's the exception that proves the rule.

Eight-Hour Day To Be Resumed In Relief Work

With more federal relief funds in sight but not yet received, the local committee administering these funds will go back to an 8-hour day Monday.

Two hundred and seven men and nine women worked an average of 5 hours daily during the last week, as the committee conserved its funds pending action of the legislature in submitting the $20,000,000 relief bond issue to the Texas people as demanded by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The committee paid out $641.50 here yesterday. During this week, men will be used at the municipal garden, ten at the cemetery, and about 25 in finishing the major part of the work on the municipal swimming pool.

Sheriff C. E. Pipes, Justice W. S. Baxter, and Deputy R. E. Stout made a business trip to McLean Friday.

MAGS' LINEUP IS ANNOUNCED

Pampa To Play McLean Club, Rated Best in League, This Afternoon.

There will be no change in the lineup of the Magnolia "Mags" when they take their field against McLean this afternoon in McLean. Raeburn Burke will be in the box and "Boss" Wagner behind the bat.

However, big Rodgers will be available for relief duty in the box, Manager Buckingham said yesterday.

It will be the second game of the season for the two teams, entries in the Cotton-Oil league. Last Sunday Pampa won a 11 to 4 game from Shamrock, while McLean was defeating Magic City 9 to 7.

Both games were really close affairs and the two teams are regarded as nearly equal.

The "Mags" will be up against some of the best pitching in the league when they invade McLean. In Clement and McCabe, McLean has two ace hurlers. Clement is only a youngster, but he has terrific speed and a nice breaking curve. He once hurled for LeFors and Pampa butters know his ability.

McCabe is a veteran with a good arm and a head that works at all times. He uses his head to save his wins. It is reported, Huff handles the catching department and he is another oldtimer.

Manager Buckingham's starting will include Odus Mitchell at first, Coburn at second, Baldwin at short, Cahill on third, Newcome, Warren and Shriver in the outfield, and Burke and Wagner as the batteries.

The "Mags" showed hitting strength in their first game by connecting for two home runs, a triple, and two doubles among the 12 hits made against Pez Hainley, Shamrock's veteran hurler last Sunday. They made four miscues but a week of hard practice has worn some of the rough edges off their fielding.

Head Play Badly Beaten in Race

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Falling to slity of the speed that carried him to an easy victory in the Preakness, Mrs. Silas B. Mason's Head Play today was soundly whipped in one of the turf's greatest upsets as Mr. Khayyam, carrying the silks of Mrs. James Austin's Catawba stable of Westbury, Long Island, won the ninth running of the Wood Memorial over a mile and seventy yards at Jamaica.

Quoted at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 3 to defeat three other colts, all of which he had beaten in winning the Preakness or running second in the Kentucky derby, Head Play finished third, seven lengths back of Mr. Khayyam, which was eighth in the derby.

OLLERS BEAT DIPPERS 18-6; FACULTY WINS

TWO POSTPONED GAMES TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK

There were two scheduled games in the City Playground ball league postponed Friday afternoon, but they will be played this week. In the game played, the Danciger Ollers won from the Double Dippers, 18 to 6. Thursday night the Faculty came from behind to win an 11 to 9 postponed game from the Phillips "66".

Friday's game was one of errors, mostly made by the Dippers, who were unable to handle the ball without juggling. Heard pitched nice ball but his support was missing. Carter hurried for Danciger.

Phillips scored 8 runs in the first inning and added one in the second while holding the Faculty scoreless Thursday afternoon. Every member of the Faculty team made an error in the first two innings.

The oil team then settled back while the teachers came to life and before the smoke had cleared away the teachers had slipped into the lead, winning 11 to 9.

The postponed game between the Faculty and Davis Plumbers will be played tomorrow afternoon at the Fort Worth and Denver diamond.

Date of the Diamond Shoppers' Phillips "66" postponed game has not been set.

Games scheduled for Tuesday afternoon are: Davis Plumbers vs Phillips "66" at Fort Worth & Denver. Double Dip vs Faculty at Sam Houston.

Busby's Indians To Play Hoover Today

C. O. Busby's Indians will go to Hoover this afternoon to play the fast Hoover nine. The game will start at 3 o'clock and there will be no admission charge. It will be the first time this season that the teams have met. Last year they were warm rivals.

Ray Acklam will probably be in the box for the Indians with either Wayne Kelley or Lloyd Hamilton behind the bat. Ritchie will pitch for Hoover and Dick Benton catch.

Allen Whitlow To Box Howard Scott at Tulsa

Allen Whitlow, lightweight boxer who made Pampa his home for two months this spring, is scheduled to box Howard Scott in Tulsa Thursday night in a 10-round main event. The Tulsa paper carried a lengthy story about the fight one day last week.

Whitlow and his manager W. J. Rittenhouse are in Rushville, Ill., visiting but were to motor to Tulsa today to begin final training for the fight. Scott is one of the ranking lightweights today. He ranks 208 points in Collier's Year Book. Whitlow ranks 228 points.

According to the story in the Tulsa paper, the winner of the bout will be signed for another battle June 1. Whitlow made a real hit with Pampa fight fans.

Senators Even Series
WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The Washington Senators today evened matters with the Chicago White Sox, pounding out 14 safeties for a 7 to 6 victory behind the five hit pitching of Monte Weaver.

The veteran Sam Rice, stepping into centerfield to replace Schulte, who broke his finger yesterday, led the Washington attack. He lashed out a triple, a double and two singles in five attempts.

Twin on Yankees
NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns turned the tables on the Yankees behind effective hitting and hitting of Wally Hebert and won the second game of the series 4-2 today. Hebert plied six-hit ball and drove in the first 2 runs with a scratchy single in the second inning.

The Yanks got a gift run when Tony Lazzeri doubled and scored on two infield outs in the seventh and Lazzeri walloped his seventh home run of the season after two were out in the ninth. Charley Ruffing yielded nine hits and five walks but added five strikeouts to his total.

Athletics Win Two
PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, aided by two home runs by Jimmy Fox, swept the two-game series with the Cleveland Indians, by capturing today's contest, 7 to 1.

Both Jimmy's clouts sailed over the right field wall, an unusual thing for him. The first began a three-run assault in the second inning and was followed by a similar drive by Cochrane, the latter's third of the season.

Red Sox Win
BOSTON, May 20 (AP)—Henry Johnson, Boston right hander, wobbled all through today's game, but managed to hold Detroit to eight scattered hits, including a homer by Charlie Gehring, and the Red Sox edged out the Tigers 6-5 in the second game of the series.

Cummings Leads Speed Qualifiers

INDIANAPOLIS, May 20 (AP)—"Wild Bill" Cummings, Indianapolis automobile race driver, lived up to his nickname here today when he topped the field of qualifiers for the 500-mile classic to be run May 30 with the sensational speed of 118.821 miles an hour.

It was the fastest 25-mile run ever made on the old 2½-mile brick course of the Indianapolis motor speedway, and betted that made earlier in the day by Frank Brisko, of Milwaukee, by only .63 of a second.

Cummings, piloting a rear drive straight 8, owned by Emmett and Mike Boyle of Chicago, drove so fast he nearly rode out of his seat. The tails of his helmet stood out in the breeze as he whipped his mount into the sharp turn and down the straightaways at 150 miles an hour.

Elton Jones returned Friday from Fort Worth to Central Texas, where he visited for the last week.

MATCHES WILL GET UNDERWAY IN AFTERNOON

NON-PLAYING MEMBERS TO CADDY FOR THE PLAYERS

The Pampa Country club course will be the scene of the "battle of the century" this afternoon when golfers of Pampa's three civic clubs meet over the 18 holes of match play. Non-players will act as caddies for players on opposing teams.

The match will be played on points, with the player winning the most holes getting two points, the second place player getting one point, and the third man "being left out in the cold."

Play is scheduled to get underway over both nines shortly after 1 o'clock. Golfers who are not members of the club are invited to be on hand and join in play to make up foursomes. The club golfers will play in three sones and will welcome another player to fill out the game.

Dr. H. H. Hicks is captain of the Lions club, C. T. Hunkapillar of the Rotary club, and Edwin Vicars of the Kiwanis club. Each has selected 10 men to play in the match. The lists have already been divided. Those without opponents will be re-matched before play so that there will be no forfeits.

The course is in the best condition of the year. All the greens have been re-sanded and the fairways dragged with a wire drag.

Borger Nine To Play Kingsmill This Afternoon

The Cabot baseball team of Kingsmill will play the Carbon team of Borger on the Cabot diamond at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The game will be the only one played here, and admission will be only 25 cents a car. The Magnolia "Mags" will play in McLean this afternoon.

Cabot has a fast stepping team that has not lost a game this season. In Meeks, former Milwaukee hurler, the carbon nine has a good pitcher. The veteran Caddy handles the receiving. Other members of the team are well known to Pampa fans who have seen them in action before.

The Borger nine has been winning regularly this season, hence a good game is anticipated.

World Fair Displays, From Science Accessories Make Suits Smart To Jewels, of Interest to Women

Famed Army Surgeon Now Practicing In Hospital

The social applications of progress are of vital interest to the modern woman, and many of the implications of scientific advance are to be studied in the hall of social science at the Chicago Century of Progress exposition.

A central exhibit, the American family, on the ground floor of this building, sets the keynote for the stories in education and social work.

This scene appears for a moment. Then a screen descends, on which is a colored map with pictures of the old Spanish type.

On the other side of the exhibit appears the American family of 1933, living in a city apartment.

Anthropology is dramatized in other exhibits of the social science group. There are elaborate educational exhibits, and a display by the National Women's Council showing the advances made in women's organizations.

The growth and development of the American social will be depicted, with special attention to vocational and recreational education, training for citizenship, for the professions and for leisure.

Another group of buildings which will attract many women visitors are the agricultural and dairy group. Here will be food displays of as much interest to the city dweller as to the member of the rural community.

It will be exhibited in a glass case beneath which is a special drill-proof safe. The top of the safe folds back, revealing the diamond resting on a silken cushion.

When the exposition closes in November the mine will become a permanent exhibit in the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago.

Disabled Men To Be Favored Under Latest Orders

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The White House issued the following statement, signed by Steven Early, secretary to President Roosevelt, after a lengthy conference between the president, Louis Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, and Lewis Douglas, the director of the budget with the introduction to the statement that the following conclusions have been reached:

As a result of the application of the Veterans' regulations it now seems the cut in compensation of service-connected world war veterans has been deeper than originally intended. The regulations and schedules in this respect will therefore be reviewed so as to effect more equitable levels of payment. Careful study also will be made of the other regulations and their effects.

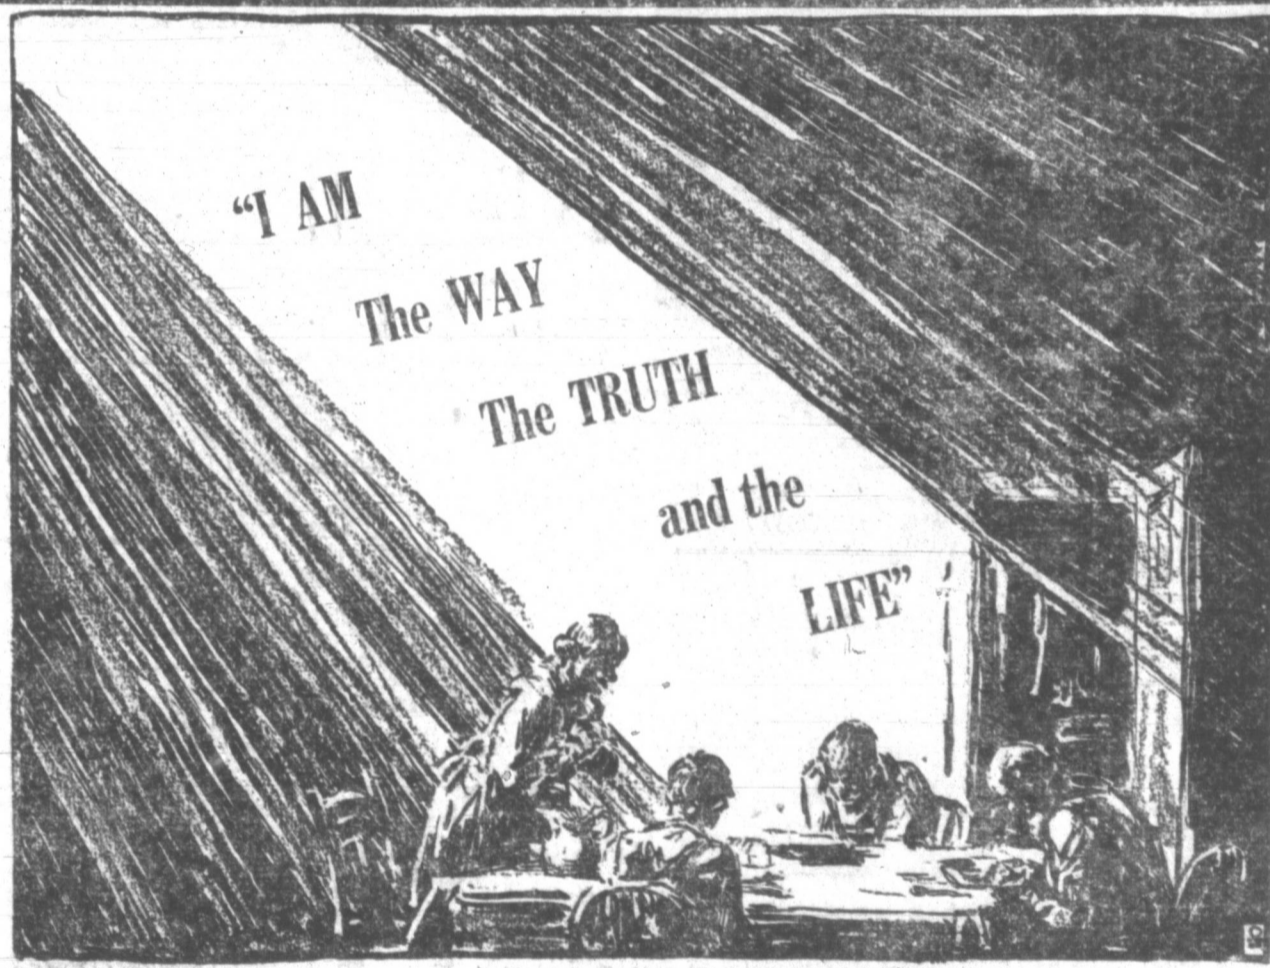

By reason of the burden incident to retreating and in order that undue hardship will not be imposed upon veterans in their application for adjudication of their cases, regional offices of the Veterans' Administration will not be closed as reported, except where it has been clearly demonstrated that regional facilities are not necessary.

It is not contemplated that government hospitals will be closed pending a careful survey of the entire hospital situation. This of necessity will require considerable time. These conclusions are in line with the president's original statement that the regulations and schedules would be drafted so as to effect the most humane possible treatment of veterans truly disabled in war service.

WOULD FIRE COLLECTORS HOUSTON, May 20 (AP)—Immediate removal of two republican hold-over collectors of internal revenue in Texas and the revocation of all federal permits issued by them to sell raw beer in Texas was asked by John Henry Kirby, chairman of the Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition clubs, today in a message to James A. DAVIS CALLED BEST DIPLOMAT SINCE FRANKLIN

Never Got Over Habit Of Patching Up Disputes

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN Associated Press Staff Writer Norman H. Davis bears the title of "American ambassador at large in Europe." By some he is called "the international commuter."

His duties under President Wilson, Hoover and Roosevelt have kept him shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic, or switching from one European capital to another until his total mileage has become a huge figure.

In one recent stretch of five days he was in the capitals, talking with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, Premier Daladier of France and President Von Hindenburg of Germany.

He is credited with having brought Germany back into the disarmament conference last fall by recognizing France and England to recognize the principle of the Reich's right to equality in arms. Months ago European statesmen said that if the coming world economic conference proves a success, it would be due largely to the preliminary work done by Davis. His most recent feat in that field was managing the acceptance of President Roosevelt's project for a tariff truce.

He is back in Geneva now as spokesman for the president on the proposals for the world-wide non-aggression pact.

Davis used to be a banker and business man in Havana. He quit the Cuban capital when America entered the world war, offered his services, was sent to Europe on confidential missions and has been on the go ever since.

Dr. James T. Shotwell, historian and confidant of statesmen, has described him as "the greatest diplomat since Benjamin Franklin" and Edouard Fauriol, ex-premier of France, says he is "one man who has a clear understanding of Europe."

Those who have worked with him tell of his quietly captivating manner, his display of natural talents for negotiating and his ability to steer disputants around rough spots.

Boyhood friends recall those same qualities. Back in Bedford county, Tennessee, he has always patching up disputes among his playmates. He has never got over the habit.

POOR CHILDREN TO MISS FREE NOON LUNCHES

Closing of School Is Dreaded By Many Unfortunates

School vacation time is here, making some vacation time happy and others sad.

Perhaps the saddest are those children who have been getting free noon meals at the cafeterias through the generosity of members of civic clubs and other individuals. Several teachers said their pupils remarked that the free lunches had made school a delightful place compared to their homes, where food is often no more than potatoes and bread. These children dreaded the closing of school.

Many teachers had left the city last night—some to travel, some to study in order to advance themselves in their professions, some to see the world's fair, a few to work on farms with their parents.

Supt. R. B. Fisher will leave soon for Columbia university in New York to complete work for his master's degree. He is compelled to finish work for his degree this summer because of a time limit on his research. This will be his third summer term in Columbia in the last four years.

Principal and Mrs. L. L. Sone went to Canadian yesterday to lend Canadian high school caps and gowns for the commencement there. They will leave soon for the University of California, where Mr. Sone will study part of the summer.

CRAWFORD AND COOPER COME HERE IN FILM

FIRST TIME TOGETHER NOTABLE EVENT IN MOVIES

THE greatly anticipated co-starring vehicle for Joan Crawford and Gary Cooper, "Today We Live," opens today at the La Nora theater as one of the major products to come from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. Miss Crawford whose work in "Letty Lynton" and "Grand Hotel" definitely placed her as the outstanding emotional player on the screen today, and Cooper, who recently contributed a memorable performance in "A Farewell to Arms," have never appeared together on the screen before.

Their first co-starring appearance is an auspicious event in cinema history, for it takes place in a filmization of a story by the brilliant American writer, William Faulkner, whose novels, "Santaluzary" and "Light in August," have created a literary furor. In "Today We Live" Faulkner has written a story about the dramatic experiences of an English society girl who offers her services to England during the World War in an ambulance unit, and falls in love with an American flyer. The production was directed by Howard Hawks, who produced the successful "Scarface," "Robert Young" the New York stage juvenile Franchot Tone, Roscoe Karns, Louise Closser Hale, Rollo Lloyd and Hilda Vaughn.

In "Today We Live," Miss Crawford finds herself the center of an emotional conflict between three men, two of whom lose their lives in her behalf. The powerful story shifts from the aristocratic country estate of the heroine to dynamic episodes in the battle zones of the war, with what is said to be one of the most terrific climaxes ever devised for the screen occurring when one of the star's lovers gets a "death order" to blow up a ship from which there will be no return. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is said to have placed all the facilities at its disposal to Director Hawks in the filming of this picture, which is reported to be one of the outstanding talkie productions of the year.

In the OIL FIELDS

Oil activities in the Panhandle field rocked along last week, minus any major happenings. However, the Humble Oil & Refining company decided to purchase 100 per cent of its allowable instead of the 60-40 plan. The local office was also instructed to purchase all storage taken under the 60-40 plan at the market price and to pay storage after the first month.

The Wilcox company completed a 2,000 barrel well during the week and Gulf deepened one for a hike of more than 100 barrels. One location was made.

MOTHER-IN-LAW COURT

DETROIT (AP)—Brought into court on a charge of owing his landlady, Mrs. Fannie Sullinger, $40 for board and room, James Grimm stood up with a broad smile on his face. "I put one over on her," he said. "I married her daughter last night." The daughter, Sadie, verified the marriage.

"The fact remains," said Judge Gerald Groat, "that you have not disproved you owe Mrs. Sullinger $40. I now will give your mother-in-law a judgment for that amount."

"We aren't worried," said James and Sadie. A dancer of Tulsa is looking after business here this week.

NO WOMAN can be well groomed unless her fingernails are well kept.

Bathing the fingertips in warm olive oil every night for two weeks is a great tonic for brittle nails. Continue these warm oil baths at least once a week. A manicure, professional or at home, is essential at least once weekly.

Hopkins School Closing Picnic Enjoyed By Many

NAGEL-HYAMS STAGE O'NEILL'S PLAY NOTABLY

ACTOR PROVES TO BE AMPLE IN CHARACTER ROLE

CONRAD NAGEL and Lella Hyams head the cast in "The Constant Woman," the photoplay based on a Eugene O'Neill story which is scheduled for presentation at the Rex theater today.

Advance information regarding the feature stresses the fact that Nagel contributes one of the most impressive characterizations that he has yet furnished to the screen. As a down-and-out theatrical manager who is compelled to take out a tent show troupe on a tour of the country, and learns of the unfaithfulness and death of his wife, Nagel presents a portrayal that cleverly limns the gradual disintegration of a man's character through misfortune—and drink. Becoming a human derelict, he is encouraged to fight his way back to decency through the aid of an actress in his troupe, who believes that the "breaks" have been against him and valiantly fights for him.

Lella Hyams is the "other woman" in this unusual triangle, and Tommy Conlon is the pawn in a game played by the two women—one seeking a career, the other, love. Miss Hyams is said to offer a convincing and sympathetic portrait, and young Conlon a realistic and natural performance. Claire Windsor is seen as the wife.

Fire Chief Gold Attends Convention

Fire Chief Clyde Gold and Mrs. Gold returned Friday night from Fort Worth, where they attended the annual convention of the South-west Fire Chiefs association. Delegates were present from Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico. It was the best convention since the organization was perfected several years ago.

The Pampa chief invited as many as could to attend the Panhandle Firemen's convention to be held in Pampa late in July. He was assured that several Texas officials and some out-of-state officials would attend the Pampa convention. A meeting of the convention of officials will probably be held this week and a definite dates set.

Hobart Street Is Hard-Surfaced

Hobart street has been hard-surfaced with asphalt and crushed stone from the railroad to the paving running east and west.

The work was done in part by the crew which similarly topped highway 33 from Pampa to the Roberts county line. Several weeks of warm weather will bind the asphalt and stone and provide an all-weather surface.

The asphalt applied here was 6 of a gallon per square yard.

CLARK REPORTS STEADY GROWTH IN SCOUT WORK

Camporal Site Near Mile of Swimming Water

Back from a trip which took him to Panhandle, Berger, Spearman, Perryton, Hooker, Guymon, Optima, Gruver, and Morse, Scout Executive C. A. Clark has reports of steady growth of interest in Scouting.

Troops at Guymon and Optima were re-registered. A troop at Stinnett will be registered in time to attend the fourth annual camporal of the Adobe Walls council, which gives promise of being the largest ever held. Parents have already spoken for more of the cottages available at the site.

Mr. Clark said that a dam over the Palo Duro creek had been replaced to give a mile of swimming water near the camp. He said he found troops of the towns in the northern part of the council much interested in archery. Young and old are making bows and arrows in some of the towns and attaining much skill.
