The NRA and You

THIS COLUMN today will "do its bit" or, in the phraseology of the economic war of 1933, "do its part" in the NRA campaign by discussing the president's direct appeal to the people. Shortly Pampans will be hearing 2-minute speeches about the national recovery act. We trust we will be pardoned for using a little more time in this introductory "address."

THEORY OF NRA

At the request of woman readers we will review the origin and plan of action which brought out the NRA-national recovery act, better known as first as the NRA, or national industrial recovery act. Omission of the word industrial is significant as far as this section is concerned because it indicates that we who are not primarily industrialists have a part in the campaign for recovery. The NRA involves women as workers, guaranteeing them a better wage and shorter hours than ever before, and it involves them as the major group of purchasers. During this month, business firms are either conforming to the "blanket code" of wages and hours and new employment or are making plans to do so as soon as possible. Within a few weeks, after all have had time to comply, Mr. Roosevelt will launch the consumer campaign, which is to spend money wisely (but spend) and to patronize NRA firms. The "blanket code" is a voluntary agreement with the president to add new employees without reducing salaries of the old, and is to be in effect until an industry drafts a specific code adapted to its needs and approved by General Hugh Johnson, recovery administrator, and the president.

BACK OF IT ALL

The richest market, the soundest basis for prosperity should be found in a living wage for 125,000,000 Americans, whose wants always surpass their means. But with 12,000,000 or more men out of work with their wives and children and dependents in want, we have both a welfare and an economic problem. Idle men not only affect business because of the necessity for cost-cutting projects, but they remove effective demand from the markets. By effective demand we mean desire with ability to pay. Desire never greater, nor ability less, than at this time. Each new jobless man—and the list of jobless has been growing—lowers the consuming ability of the country and imposes a burden upon society. Mr. Roosevelt in his campaign said nobody was going to starve. That is a promise of far-reaching significance.

DOLE IS UNDESIRABLE

The principle of the dole or gift to jobless men and women is un-American and uneconomic. It involves no return for relief funds handed out. It cannot rebuild lost markets. It is better than starvation and it must be admitted, cheaper than repairing public works programs. Mr. Roosevelt and the business thinkers of the nation wish to rebuild the shaken markets, to give men work, not doles. Men in employment buy products of the farms and factories and start an exchange of money and goods which we depend for our profits and our employment. Without profits, business cannot pay taxes and without taxes we cannot have a government—even a government to help the jobless. It is a vicious cycle of misery, but nationwide work operation can turn it into a cycle of opportunity, of usefulness, of re-employment, of busy factories and fat payrolls.

THE EMERGENCY

Depressions result not merely from a money shortage, although working of credit and confidence is prevalent. Depressions result from maladjustments, a lack of balance between production and distribution, employment and buying ability. We don't know which came first—the hen or the egg, but we do know that a man must have money before he can buy factory and farm products. The emergency to which Mr. Roosevelt and the business and political leaders of the country are giving their intensive thought is that of restoring jobs. Profits, for the present, are not considered.

FULL TERMS FOR SCHOOLS ARE ASSURED

Gray County Funds Are Sufficient For Schools To Last Nine Months.

GRAY county rural schools under the department of County Supt. John B. Hesse will open September 4 and almost without exception continue for a full 9-month term. No school will be less than 8 months. To care for increased enrollment and higher standards at the Webb and Bell schools, one teacher will be added at each. A new fully equipped room will be added at Webb. The contract will be let some time next week. Webb will have 3 teachers and there will be 2 at the Bell school. Gray county schools are fortunate in being financially stable at this time. Teaching positions in this county are greatly prized. The $16 state appropriation, plus rural school aid, will make possible the term of normal length. The buildings are being cleaned and prepared for the opening of school. There will be no attendance at institutes. Under the new state law institutes have been abandoned. Supt. Hesse helped dissolve the Panhandle-Plains Institute. A $50 surplus in the institute treasury was transferred to a Panhandle-Plains Educational conference, which was formed on a tentative basis. Some time after January the conference will be held, with visiting educators on the program, and a permanent conference will be formed. School officials are authorized to hold meetings of their teachers on Saturdays, but no pay will be allowed and the sessions will not be frequent. The need for the oldtime institute is believed removed by modern educational methods.

Two Structures In Lamesa Burn

LAMESA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin, which for a time threatened the entire business district, destroyed two brick buildings on the south side of the square here early today for an estimated loss of $4,000. The fire, which was reported to have followed an explosion, originated in a vacant building and then spread to the second structure occupied by Horne Hanson company. Both buildings were owned by T. F. Vaughn, automobile dealer.

Clifford Jones' Headquarters To Be Fort Worth

SPUR, Aug. 7 (AP)—Clifford B. Jones, regional director for the federal recovery program for the states of Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Texas, today said that his immediate plans would include the establishment of headquarters at Fort Worth and the completion of the executive organization for his territory. Jones returned to his home here from Uvalde and San Antonio where he conferred with Vice President Garner and members of the Texas advisory committee. It is the outlined duties of the federal regional administrators. Jones said, to assist the planning board in Washington to formulate plans for each region. He expected to be called to Washington in the near future for a conference, and pending this meeting he said he would have no definite announcement concerning the nature of public works to be undertaken.

Ernest Thompson Says Oil Code To Protect Consumer

CLAIMS TEXAS WON POINT ON IMPORTED OIL

AMARILLO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Conferees in Washington the last two weeks have cleared the way for a code of the oil industry that will help the industry and protect the consumer from profiteering on refined products. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, said today. "The conference clearly brought out what must be done to insure 'oil'," Thompson said, "and I believe complete recovery will result." Thompson expressed the belief that the Texas delegation won its point in opposing "the curtailment of Texas production to let imports from Venezuela take the place of our own oil" and that Texas should have some voice in the setting and fixing of the state's own allowable production.

PROFITEERING ON OIL PRODUCTS UNLIKELY, OFFICIAL SAYS

"Most of the curtailment talk was directed at Texas," he said, "but we kept asking, why not cut down on the imports?" We sought successfully to have the suggested quota of production recommended to the state regulatory bodies. In states where no such body exists it could be handled by a committee of producers working with the government. "Both were our point that if the federal government regulates production, the producers and land and royalty owners should not be left at the mercy of big purchasers who could fix a price so low as to force the little fellow out of business."

MR. AND MRS. BERT FITZSIMMONS WERE SERIOUSLY INJURED

MR. AND MRS. BERT FITZSIMMONS were seriously injured about 1 p. m. Sunday when their car collided with one driven by Jim Bodkin about 7 miles southwest of Pampa. Both were brought to Pampa in a Malone ambulance and taken to Pampa hospital, where Mrs. Fitzsimmons was unconscious for several hours. She was suffering from internal injuries but did not have any broken bones. Mr. Fitzsimmons has a shoulder fracture and many cuts and bruises. Both were thrown about 30 feet from their new Oldsmobile sedan as it turned over three times. W. D. Martin, farmer who was riding with Mr. Bodkin, was treated at the hospital for cuts and minor bruises. Bodkin is his son-in-law. Bodkin was driving south and Fitzsimmons west, and each apparently thought the other would pass the intersection of the cross-roads in time to clear the vehicles. Bodkin decided, however, that this could not be done and attempted to stop, but his car skidded into the intersection and collided with the other vehicle. Bodkin's car was whipped around and overturned in a bar-ditch while the Fitzsimmons struck a bank of earth and rolled over three times. From the latter machine emerged two small girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons, almost unhurt. Martin and Bodkin were taken through the top of their car. Mr. Fitzsimmons, a truck to pusher for the Phillips Petroleum company, who lives at the Pampa plant, was en route to Borger with his family. Elmer Hardin, "Smiley" Prock, J. B. Barrett, B. G. Clark, and other farmers living nearby gave their assistance.

All members were urged to attend the meeting. Lewis O. Cox is present commander of the post. He was elected last winter to fill the unexpired term of W. H. Curry who resigned.

Police Seek To Question A Son of Former Attorney General of U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Two disclosures heightened interest in the Henry F. Gannorn murder mystery today as police hunted in the realms of business and romance for light on his last days. Mr. Gannorn, a 44-year-old railroad executive, drew $2,000 from the bank on July 17. That was the day he vanished, never to reappear until his body was found Saturday, bullet means, had never carried much cash torn and buried in a scooped-out grave in a Queens thicket. The name of his fiancée—hitherto kept secret—was made public by police. They said she is Magnihild Almskaar, a Brooklyn interpreter, 27 years old and blonde. Police said they desired to question Mrs. Grant Van Sant, socially prominent sister of the dead man, said she was puzzled by the $2,000 withdrawal. She said that Sanborn, although a man of independent

'Little Earful' Prefers Babies—'Lots of 'Em'

AMARILLO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Hannah Williams, "Dumsey," the former "cheerful little earful," has a new ambition in life—to be the mother of Jack Dempsey's children. "I want it to be known that we are going to have babies," she said. "How many?" a reporter asked. "Lots of 'em" was the reply. "I never had any career," she continued. "All I want is to be a mother to Jack's children, cook his beefsteak and eggs, and be known as Mrs. Dempsey. If that means long train rides and overnight stands such as we are making here, that's what I want to do."

RESIGNATION OF PRESIDENT IS EXPECTED

HAVANA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Cuban political leaders declared this afternoon as they left a conference with United States ambassador Sumner Welles at the embassy that all parties had agreed on the resignation of President Machado. Immediately after the meeting the committee of five of the liberal party—of which the president is a member—visited senior Machado at the palace. Havana also was the scene of violence as police, swinging their sticks, forced many small stores to reopen. The police numerous storekeepers and tried their pistols at the doors and windows of several shops. The belief was freely expressed that the resignation of the government headed by President Machado would result from the strike and the attendant disorders. Eating places closed because a walkout of transportation workers, including United Railway employees, prevented them from getting food. Thousands of food handlers were idle, and housewives were frantic as they saw their supplies diminishing. Street fights and mob demonstrations resulted in the death of one person and injuries to many. The federated physicians organization decided to strike tomorrow, and the National Pharmaceutical association instructed all but a few drug stores to close. Everywhere the paralyzing strike was called "a passive revolution" or a "race between United States Ambassador Sumner Welles' attempts to mediate the troubled political situation and open revolt. In usually reliable circles it was said President Machado would resign, but this was denied at the palace. Dr. Octavio Zubizarreta, secretary of the interior, announced the government would use military force if the federated physicians organization failed to put down lawlessness. The president prepared to call a special congressional session seeking authority to suspend constitutional guarantees and invoke martial law.

FRENCH PAIR NOW IN SYRIA, REPORTS SAY

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Air Orient company received a message this afternoon saying that the French aviators Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, landed at Damascus, Syria, 4:00 p. m. G. M. T. (11:00 a. m. E. S. T.), thus completing their non-stop flight from New York. The message came from Beirut, important Syrian seaport. The fliers still had gasoline but decided none-the-less to come down, estimating that they had beaten the world's distance record of 5,340 miles by approximately 560 miles, giving them a total of 5,900.

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, French aviators who left New York Saturday morning, notified the air ministry that they were flying over La'akia, Syria, at 4:30 p. m. G. M. T. today (11:30 a. m. E. S. T.), and expected to land shortly at Rayak, fifty miles north of Damascus. PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Fighting a gasless line, which threatened to wreck their hopes for an aerial distance record, Lieut. Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos whizzed across Europe today toward the Orient in an effort to set a mark which will stand for a long time. The French aviators pushed their heavy silver monoplane, the Josephine Bix, for its maximum speed, after the leak developed over Germany in a desperate attempt to avoid an 11th hour defeat and reach Aleppo, in northern Syria, by way of Budapest. At Aleppo the present record of 5,340 miles set last February by squadron leader Oswald R. Gayford and flight Lieutenant Gilbert E. Nicholls of the British Royal Air Force, would be surpassed. From the Austrian-German frontier the aviators, who left Brooklyn at 4:41 a. m. E. S. T. Saturday, sent a wireless message here saying that unless the leak increased they believed they had sufficient gasoline to reach Aleppo, and perhaps Bagdad, Iraq. Moving swiftly through the Panhandle after a stay of 2 years at the Gunter hotel in San Antonio, Mack Rogers and his famous orchestra are providing a type of dance music heralded as a treat by those who have heard him. Rogers and his 12-member band will be in Pampa one night—tomorrow—to play for a dance at the Pla-Mor auditorium. Featured in his company are Ann Neely, torch singer; Al Shelleday and Clyde Austin, vocalists; and the Rogers trio. Out-of-town people are expected to join the procession to the Pla-Mor tomorrow night for the Rogers appearance. The band is at The Nat in Amarillo tonight. Tickets were placed on sale today at the Corner drug store.

Strikers Want More Time To Study Agreements

Brownsville Pa. Aug 7 (AP) Shubert a trace effected by President Roosevelt thousands of miners in the vast coal fields of southwestern Pennsylvania refused to go back to work today for two weeks postponed reopening of 10 mines until tomorrow at the request of Governor Pinchot.

The executive said he heard trouble if resumption were attempted today. The strikers, who say they want 10 to 15 days in which to study terms of the agreement had their picket army in the field but most picket lines dwindled after no resumption was attempted. The last mine operating in Fayette county—the Davidson mine of the Purdy-Campbell Coal and Coke company employing 150 men—closed this morning. The miners say they will have several thousand on picket lines if the Frick company tries to reopen its workings tomorrow. A battalion of national guardsmen, sent into the area a week ago by Governor Pinchot, and state police are preparing for any eventuality.

Grocery Store Is Burglarized

The Barrett Grocery store on North Chrysler street was entered Sunday night and a quantity of flour and sugar was removed. City officers are investigating. Entry was made by smashing the glass in the back door and unlocking the padlock which held two iron bars in place. The thieves were unable to lift the bar from where they broke the first glass and had to smash glass in another place to work the bar. The store has been vacant for some time but the stock is still in the building. Marks where the flour and sugar were placed on the floor inside the door gave the officers an idea of what was missing. They do not know the amount, however.

School Men Of Four Counties In City Today

School men of Gray, Roberts, Wheeler, and Hemphill counties were gathering here today for a meeting with representatives of the state department of education at 2 o'clock. Interpretations of the new rural aid bill will be made by the speaker and questions of school officials and trustees will be answered. Among the first arrivals were Judge Jack Mead of Miami and O. E. Miller, superintendent of Wheeler county. From Higgins came Dick McCann, Jim McDonald, and Bill Merrill. The rural aid bill is especially vital to schools at this time because of high percentages of delinquent taxes in many districts.

They will come naturally enough if we can restore the economic balance. The "blanket code" agreements between individual firms and the president may seem fantastic to very conservative people, but it was conceived as the most direct way to speed re-employment.

HOW IT WORKS

Late in July business men received through the postoffice an envelope containing an agreement under which they were to promise to shorten hours, in some cases raise wages, and to employ more men and women. Shorter hours give room for more employes and raise the standard of living—two desirable ends. Mechanical workers, with a few exceptions, are to work no more than 35 hours per week and "white collar" workers not more than 40 hours per week. The time a business remains open, however, is not to be less than 52 hours a week except for a few special exemptions. Executives and professional men per wage brackets are not so rigidly governed, and doctors, nurses, reporters, and other professional people serving a public interest at irregular hours are not affected. Prices, although advancing steadily, are not affected by the "blanket code" except that they are not supposed to be advanced more than re-stocking quotations dictate. Price-fixing agreements are said illegal under Texas' anti-trust laws.

TEMPORARY MEASURE

Firms which sign this temporary agreement send the filled-in blank to the department of commerce at Houston. They then proceed to put the promises into effect. When they have effected the changes, indeed employes of shorter hours without reducing pay of other employes, they sign a "certificate of compliance" at the postoffice and receive in return an armful of window placards and stickers bearing the letters NRA, the blue eagle, and the words "DO OUR PART". These serve to notify the public that the business is lined up with the president in his "war" on the unemployment problem. Specific codes especially adapted to needs of each line of business are being drawn up and these will supersede the blanket code as soon as adopted.

LOCAL ADMINISTRATION

To carry out the re-employment campaign in each local community—the bigger towns being organized first—it was necessary for Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Johnson to set up an elaborate, country-wide organization. Postmasters are handling the insignia and honor rolls. A community leader—in Pampa he is C. H. Walker—was appointed in each city to be general chairman of the re-employment campaign. He is assisted by an advisory board (headed locally by W. A. Bratton) consisting of club and organization presidents and one representative from each of all important lines of business. These groups have no power except opinion and influence, but they can do much to inspire and educate the public. They receive no pay. A re-employment council formed at the same time has a different function, relating to the compliance of business men to the agreements. It is "military" in the single sense that the officers bear military titles. The commanding general is R. G. Allen, who has a staff of majors, colonels, captains, and privates. These will have the duties of making canvasses of compliance, making censuses of unemployment, interpreting regulations of the NRA, giving publicity to the program, organizing a speaking bureau, and assisting Chairman C. H. Walker in his campaign. These, also, work without compulsion. There are severe penalties for friendly displays of the blue eagle, but no coercion in the NRA campaign except that of public opinion. The industrial and commercial codes will, however, when adopted take the form of binding laws. With these the NRA organization is not now concerned and probably will never be.

OBIGATIONS

Every employe is obligated to give the very best work of which he is capable. He is obligated to support the NRA campaign, which makes his job and wages more secure. He must realize that employers are making sacrifices for his relief and for the benefit of the country. We must all have faith and patience. We are at war—a war insidious because we cannot see many of the forces which perplex us. Like soldiers, we cannot always know and understand the plans for outwitting the enemy. In this war we seek to build up, not to destroy. We are warring on human misery, soup lines, and poverty instead of on submarines, frowning forts, and other people.

AS TO THE FUTURE

There are other plans for "the long pull" back to normalcy. We read not discuss them here. It is enough to say that we have a re-employment government which is working for the "common people" as the foundation of all stable prosperity. We cannot conceive of a government which would allow 12 millions or more men and their dependents to be fed at public expense indefinitely. The debt-breaker character destroys initiative, brings children up under a false philosophy. St. Paul in his epistle to the Thessalonians said "He that works not, neither shall he eat." We are a long way from that command, but we will some day be able to use it as a text. Right now we must say that every man who wants to work should have the opportunity. Temporarily, it is necessary for the government to force a reforming of our industrial and commercial world to provide employment. The hope is that ultimately the business leaders will be able to do this without governmental interference. The NRA program is not state socialism, nor is it communism. It is an attempt to bridge the forces which have prevented industrial self-government. Business is writing its own formulas. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Johnson are the judges who rule out selfishness. Without the NRA and other enlightened efforts, we were headed for certain economic disaster today we are about-face, beating our way back toward a fair deal for all. It will be a long pull. The economic sins of decades cannot be erased in a few months! You are asked to "do your part," however big or small.

Markets

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—The stock market drifted indifferently today through one of the duller sessions of the year, with traders and investors generally hugging the side lines. Most leading issues followed an extremely narrow range and little enthusiasm was noticeable in any group. The close was moderately irregular. Transfers approximate 700,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Despite announcement of 3,057,000 bushels increase of the United States wheat visible supply total, wheat prices displayed steadiness in the late dealings today at a little under Saturday's finish. There was no pronounced buying or selling, and speculative interest was restricted owing more or less to holidays at Winnipeg and Liverpool. Many operators appeared uncertain as to the immediate trend of the markets, and were disposed to go slow on either side pending fresh developments, especially at Washington. Wheat closed easy, 1/4-1/2 cent off, Saturday's finish, corn 1/2-1 cent off, oats 1/4-1/2 cent down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 15 cents.

Tonight Harley Sadler and his new company will present their opening play, "Don't Rush Me" in the big tent theater just west of the Baptist church. "Don't Rush Me" is said to be one of the funniest of present day comedies and there will be lots of big time vaudeville between the acts of the play. Harley and Billie Sadler will be seen at their best, as well as the new members of the company, and A. C. Hefner, Ethel Snow, and Bud Nairn.

URGES MONEY BE SPENT AT EAGLE STORES

RETAILERS TOLD THEY MAY LOSE EAGLE BY CUTTING HOURS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—The plea to "buy because buying supports your job" started today the recovery administration's attempt to utilize the increased purchasing power it feels is being created by hour-shortening, wage-raising agreements of the government with business and industry. Along with that request from Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, went this boycott threat: "Where should you spend? Can there be any question? You should spend under the blue eagle. If you spend there you are spending for increased employment. If you spend elsewhere you are hurting the chance to end unemployment because you are helping to destroy the business of the men who are paying more for help, you are aiding them who refuse to do so."

The "buy now" campaign had been in contemplation for some time. But for a while the recovery administration feared production was increasing too fast for purchasing power—that more goods were being manufactured than could be bought.

Temporary agreements with the president to raise pay and shorten hours, pending development of permanent codes of fair competition with the same objective, were offered business and industry.

Yesterday, Johnson looked over the score sheet. He found five industries—cotton textiles, coats and suits, shipbuilding, electrical manufacturing, and woolen textiles, each employing thousands—operating under permanent codes.

He found 26 other groups working additional thousands, functioning under the temporary agreements. That was enough, he concluded, so he sent his first "buy now" message to a Cleveland mass meeting.

Continuing through the week, speakers will emphasize that same message. Through their pleas will run this line spoken by Johnson: "Turn your money into things because, almost before you can draw a breath, the things you want will be worth more than the money you can save by not buying."

Contracts Adjusted. In today's picture there also was a personal promise by President Roosevelt to business men who have contracts with the government, that the contracts would be adjusted to allow for rising prices. He asked that governors, mayors, and other chiefs of local governments take similar action.

To retailers making local agreements to cut hours of operation, Johnson sent a warning that they must take care or lose the blue eagle. Their temporary code, he reminded, was approved with the understanding that the average hours of retail store operation should be kept around 63.

The proposal to shorten hours is in violation of the president's re-employment agreement, he suggested the Indiana Retail Grocers' association. "Reconsideration of the provisions of the (temporary) retail codes and possible withdrawal of insignia will be necessary immediately if community or concerted action to shorten store operating hours is taken."

Mrs. D. W. Hitt, who sustained injuries in an automobile accident a week ago, was able to leave Worley hospital Sunday.

SALADS OFFER MANY WAYS OF VARYING MEALS

Some Make Luncheon Alone; Easy To Prepare

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women DENTON, Aug. 7.—Salads are appetizing dishes that lend variety or completion to a meal. They can be prepared in the early morning or just before the meal is to be served. However, this depends on the type of salad being prepared.

Cheese is always a welcome addition to the salad bowl, cheese of all kinds. In one of the recipes below American cheese is featured in a delicious salad.

A salad and toasted crackers may be a luncheon in itself, especially if cheese, hardcooked eggs, meat, or fish are used.

Menus With Salads.
The following menus contain salads that are appetizing and attractive: Breakfast: Concord grapes, ready-prepared cereal, toast, butter, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Fresh string beans, potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, corn bread sticks, apricot parfait, iced tea.

Dinner: Fried chicken, gravy, buttered asparagus, creamed potatoes, tomato jelly, salad, rolls, butter, watermelon, iced tea.

Breakfast: Cantaloupe, creamed eggs on toast, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Corn on cob, buttered carrots, dairy salad, granum bread, butter, fresh peaches, iced tea.

Dinner: Baked trout with tartar sauce, mashed potatoes, fried okra, jellied cheese salad, rolls, butter, grapejuice sherbet, iced-tea.

Recipes.
Apricot Parfait: 1 c apricot juice, 3-4 c sugar, 2 egg whites, 1-2 c apricot and pineapple marmalade, 1 1/2 c cream. Boil the juice and sugar until the syrup forms a thread when dropped from a spoon. Pour the hot syrup over the stiffly beaten egg whites and beat until the mixture is cold. Add the marmalade and fold in the stiffly beaten cream. Pour the mixture in refrigerator pans and freeze, or pour into a mold and pack in equal parts of ice and salt about 3 1/2 hours.

Daisy Salad: Place crisp lettuce leaves in a shallow dish. Boil, salted eggs and peel them. Starting from the small end, cut the white to form petals on the lettuce leaves, leaving the yolk in the center to form the heart of the salad. Sprinkle with paprika.

Jellied Cheese Salad: Tomatoes, chopped, 1-2 c chopped green pepper, 1-2 c chopped stuffed olives, 1-2 lb. American cheese, grated, 1 c whipped cream, 1 c mayonnaise, 2 T lemon juice, 1 T gelatine, 1-2 c cold water, 2 T Worcestershire sauce. Mix tomatoes, green pepper, olives, cheese, mayonnaise, and lemon juice. Add gelatine soaked in cold water and dissolved over hot water. Add Worcestershire sauce, fold in whipped cream, season to taste with salt and pepper and pour into a mold. Chill, unacid, slice and serve in lettuce nest.

Tomato Jelly Salad: 1 T gelatine, 2 c canned tomatoes, 1 T onion juice, 1/2 leaf of (desired), stalk celery, few grains cayenne or pepper, 1 mild vinegar or lemon juice, 1-2 T salt. Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Mix remaining ingredients, except onion juice and vinegar, let boil ten minutes. Add soaked gelatine, stir until dissolved. Add vinegar, onion juice (extracted by grating onion). Strain, turn into wet molds, chill. Remove from molds to bed of crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with mayonnaise or cooked dressing.

ready at 5:30 o'clock and those attending are urged to be on hand as soon after that time as possible. There will be playground ball, races, and other attractions for the entertainment of the Jaysees. The barbecue, prepared under the direction of Mr. Blansett, will take the place of the regular luncheon. New members who have not attended any luncheons are especially urged to attend and become acquainted with the old members.

Texas Beauty and Personality

DENTON, Aug. 6.—The heat of a Texas August dims neither beauty nor personality as evidenced in two representatives of the Texas State College for Women (TSCW) who were chosen most beautiful and most popular of the student body by popular vote.

Miss Willie Mae Jetton was chosen most beautiful and Miss Marianne Millet was chosen most popular. Miss Jetton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jetton of De Leon, is a member of the Chaparral Literary club and the Mary Swartz Rose Home Economics club on the campus.

Miss Millet, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Millet of Dallas, is editor in chief of the 1933-34 Dacadian Quarterly, literary magazine of the college, and last year served as associate editor of the Lass-O, student weekly publication.

A second called business meeting of Twentieth Century Culture club saw its membership list filled for the year, and announcement has been made that its program is ready.

Civic Culture club members planned their program, a travel course through American territories, in another called meeting of the week.

Meanwhile, El Progresso club yearbooks were turned over to the club by the printers, with a season's work outlined.

Parent-Teacher association members of the county launched their most important summer project, the diphtheria immunization campaign in which all pre-school children of needy parents will be given free toxoid. Application for the toxoid must be made by tomorrow, to presidents of the association units.

Smart Novelty

(By NEA Service.)
HOLLYWOOD—Novelty, whether it's a new color combination, a new fabric or a new variation of the mode, always is at premium here.

Tangerine and brown stripings on a white boucle suit that Betty Furness wears is a good example. The sleeves are knit to form the shoulders and back and the stripings cross to make a yoke with the round white neckline above them. Deep cuffs and hipbands of the colors add zest.

Mrs. W. M. Reiger was admitted to Worley hospital for a major operation Sunday.

S. E. Harrell underwent a major operation at Worley hospital yesterday.

The Rev. C. A. Long, Methodist pastor, read the ring ceremony with Dr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Parker as the only witnesses. Mrs. Parker is also a sister of Miss Gillispie.

Miss Gillispie wore a gown of navy triple sheer crepe, with white trimming and accessories.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Burke left for Colorado, where they plan to spend a week before returning to Pampa to make their home. Mr. Burke is employed by the Magnolia company here, and is a member of the Lions club.

MISHAPS BEGIN ON BEACH--END NEAR HOUSTON

WOMAN HURT IN THREE WRECKS; HUSBAND IN TWO

HOUSTON, Aug. 7. (P)—An ambulance driver was killed and eight persons were injured in a strange series of related accidents that began on the beach at Galveston and ended on the highway 25 miles from here early today.

T. Carl Young, driver for Fogle-Walker company of Houston, was killed. The injured were W. D. Lee, another ambulance driver; Mrs. J. E. Hammack, her husband, J. E. Hammack; Miss Evelyn Williams, Harvey Monroe, and L. H. Baldwin of Houston, and J. C. Foard and Alvin V. Eckhart, hotel clerks of Beaumont.

The series of accidents began when Mrs. Hammack was in a collision on the Galveston beach. She was given first aid and Mr. Hammack started for Houston. Between League City and Webster the Hammack machine was in a collision with a car occupied by negroes and parked on the highway. This crash disabled the Hammack car, and slightly injured Mr. Hammack in addition to further bruising Mrs. Hammack.

Baldwin, driving to Houston, passed shortly after the collision and took Mr. and Mrs. Hammack in his machine, telephoning ahead to Houston for an ambulance.

Young Dies In No. 3

Baldwin met the ambulance between Webster and Geneva, and just as Lee and Young were preparing to transfer Mr. and Mrs. Hammack to the ambulance, a sedan, driven by J. C. Foard of Beaumont, crashed into the ambulance, fatally injuring Young and inflicting bruises on both Lee and Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammack were both further bruised in this crash. Foard sustained a laceration on the left side of his head. Eckhart's skull and nose were fractured and his face was cut. Lee sustained bruises to his back.

SBI Brother--No. 4

Hardly had the dust from the collision settled down than the last of the series occurred. Miss Evelyn Williams, accompanied by Monroe and John Duggan, driving toward Houston from Galveston, crashed into the wreckage. Miss Williams sustained a broken rib and bruises to her right arm and leg. Monroe suffered a paralyzed left leg.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: The Mask has killed Reddy Turner in Colin Hewitt's apartment, and wounded Colin, a writer of detective fiction. Reddy had exacted a promise from Colin that should Reddy be "put on the spot" Colin would try to deliver a letter Reddy had left hidden in his room. Reddy had hoped to put the Mask, who was responsible for the death of Reddy's sister. Now the Mask telephone Colin on his first day out of the hospital to say that the writer has nothing to fear, provided he does not meddle. Detective Sergeant Mulvey is in the room at the time.

Chapter Six DANGEROUS QUEST

Detective Sergeant Mulvey jerked his hand toward the telephone instrument.

"Why don't you do what you'd do in a story?" he inquired with a big laugh.

"What's that?"

"Scene of us trying frantically to trace the telephone call."

Colin shook his head.

"I wouldn't do that in a story," he said. "Granting the Mask even a modest degree of intelligence, and I rank him far above that, it would be obviously useless. The call came from some place like the Grand Central where there are a number of public booths—not from a drugstore where there is only a single booth and where he might have been noticed and a description of him obtained."

"Check!" grinned Detective Sergeant Mulvey. "fair enough, well, what did he say?"

"He complained about my intimacy with you," replied Colin dryly. "He said the reason he shot me was due to the possibility that Reddy might have given me some inside information which in turn would hand over to the police, but that the police work on the case had been so ridiculous that he was convinced I knew nothing that would be of any value to you."

"I'll remember that when I get my hands on him!" snapped Sergeant Mulvey. "What else?"

"He said I had nothing more to fear from him providing I did not meddle, but that otherwise I will get live twenty-four hours. He suggested that instead of spending my time with you I go away somewhere—for my health."

"Anything more?"

Colin smiled a little provocatively. "Give a personal fling at you," he said. "He seems to be keeping pretty close tabs on what is going on. He knew you were here tonight and he knew where we were and what we were doing this afternoon. He said that even Detective Sergeant Mulvey might have known he had never had his picture taken as Colonel Hargreaves."

Sergeant Mulvey, pricked, bit viciously on the stub of his cigar. "Go yeah," he drawled. "Well, I've known of an identification or two being pulled off that way with less to go on. But forget that! So he wanted you to lay off, did he?"

Colin nodded.

"Yes—and you know what happened to Reddy! Well, it's not going to happen to you if I can help it. Look here, I know how you feel about both Reddy and the sister you knew as a kid, to say nothing on your own account, and that you'd let everything go to hell, yourself included, to get the bird that did it.

"But there isn't anything more you can do. You're done all you can. You've told us all you know. You're out of the picture from now on. It ain't going to be healthy for you to hobnob around with me—and you're not going to get a chance to, anyway, until this case is cleaned up."

"Whatever I think of the Mask swine, I'm not kidding myself on one point. He's a killer. You get away from here—take a good long trip."

"Run away, you mean?" inquired Colin thinly.

"Run away, nothing!" snorted Sergeant Mulvey. "It ain't as though you were shifting anything by going, or could accomplish anything by staying. And, besides anything else, you need a change, and you need it bad. You ain't fit by a long way yet."

Colin was silent for a moment. "It's human nature," he said finally with a queer smile, "to be afraid of appearing to be afraid. And I have now been threatened. As a matter of fact, however, I have been thinking for some time of going away as soon as I got out of the hospital."

"The first part of what you say," declared Sergeant Mulvey forcibly, "is the bunk where you are concerned. What do you care if this Mask guy thinks he's put one over on you—there's nobody else to make part of it. As for the second part, it's the best news I've had since I heard the depression was over. Don't weaken, boy! Where were you thinking of going?"

Colin was thinking of a certain pole.

"I haven't the faintest idea," he said.

"Well, no matter," said Detective Sergeant Mulvey. "Go somewhere! I've got to go home." He picked up his hat. "That's a go, eh?"

Colin walked with the other to the door.

"Well, perhaps," he said.

"Six of the 'perkins' stuff!" shot back Detective Sergeant Mulvey. "I'll run you out of town myself, if I have to!"

Colin laughed.

"Well, see," he said. "You're a good scout, Tim. 'Good night!'"

"So, are you—but don't play the fool!" returned Sergeant Mulvey. "Good night!"

Colin closed the door, and, re-enters the room, pulled out one of the lower drawers of his desk, from which hidden under a pile of odds and ends, he produced a bunch of skeleton keys. He looked at his watch.

It was twenty-seven minutes past twelve.

For a moment, his brows knitted. Colin stood there staring at the keys in his hand. Then, abruptly he thrust them into his pocket, selected a soft felt hat from the stand, switched off the lights, opened the door, stepped out in the warm June night, and locked the door behind him.

DALLAS ROUTS HOUSTON FOR 8-1 VICTORY

GALVESTON IS WITHIN ONE FULL GAME OF BUFFALOES

BY BILL PARKER.

Associated Press Sports Writer. Mike Cvenogros, Oscar Fuhr and Al Fisher, three aces of the Houston hurling corps, were just ordinary cannon fodder for the Dallas Steers at Houston. A bombardment that blasted the air with 12 hits—two of which were Zeke Bonura's twenty-second home this season—gave the Steers an 8 to 1 victory in the initial game of the series.

Cvenogros started badly by issuing two walks. Larry Fisher's double and Lou Brewer's triple gave Dallas four runs in the first chapter—a lead that Houston could not overtake. Cvenogros lasted until the fifth when he was relieved by Fuhr, recently released by Dallas. Oscar's former mates failed to do right by him and he was relieved by Fisher. From out of all this timely hitting and heavy scoring, John Whitehead, young Dallas righthander, proceeded to toss six-hit baseball. On top of this he led his mates in hitting with two singles and a double.

The Tulsa Oilers put on a strong finish with four runs in the eighth to defeat San Antonio, 6 to 4. The Oilers bunched eight of their twelve hits in the seventh and eighth inning: to overtake the Missions lead and send the Alamo City Tribe nearer the second division.

Fert Worth got away to a flying start by winning the first game of a doubleheader from Beaumont, 8 to 7, but the Cats let the Exporters have a 4-all tie in the second game which was called because of darkness. Beaumont scored in the seventh inning of the second game to avert a double defeat.

The Galveston Bucs defeated the Oklahoma City Indians 6 to 1, bringing their percentage within one full game of the league leading Houston Buffaloes. Four Oklahoma City errors helped the Bucs to win, behind the airtight pitching of Hank Thornhamlen.

Foundry Job Is What Golf Champ Is Wanting Now

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7 (AP)—Charles Ferrera was more excited today over the possibility of getting his job back in a San Francisco foundry plant than he was over winning the national public links golf crown for the second time.

"I'm glad to have won the championship again but I'll be a lot happier if the old cup helps me get the job back which I lost a year ago," said the Californian, who scored a 4 to 2 triumph over the defending titlist, Robert Lee Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., in their 36-hole skirmish at the Eastmoreland municipal course here Saturday.

Ferrera is the second golfer to capture the championship more than once, but he still is behind the record of Carl Kaufman of Cleveland who won the trophy three consecutive years beginning in 1927.

A'S SLUGGING JOLTS YANKS AND SENATORS

WASHINGTON MOWED DOWN 12 TO 8 BY ATHLETICS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer. The Athletics' test games or more out of the American league pennant race, have caused some bad moments for the contending New York Yankees and Washington Senators as the leaders moved toward today's opening of another "crucial" series.

After handling the second place Yankees three straight defeats to knock them four games out of first place, the A's swung their bludgeons against Washington yesterday and helped reduce the margin to three games. The A's slammed Ed Chapman, making his first appearance for the Senators, off the hill in less than three rounds as Jimmie Foxx helped with his thirty-first homer.

Then after the Senators had taken advantage of the wildness of "Sugar" Cain and Rube Walberg to tie the score, they moved ahead again on Pinky Higgins' homer in the seventh and finished with another burst for a final score of 12-8.

The Yanks, meanwhile, downed the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, largely because of Boston errors and George Pipgras' lack of control. The victory left the Yanks three games behind Washington and ten ahead of the A's, who in turn increased their third-place margin to 2½ games as Detroit's Tigers captured the remaining first division berth from Cleveland with a double victory.

Afterounding Oral Hildebrand to win the opener 7 to 3, the Tigers took the second game 2-1 on a five-hit pitching job by Fred Marberry. Chicago's White Sox and the St. Louis Browns divided the other American league twin bill. The Sox won the first game, 5 to 1, in the odd run but George Blahodler's four-hit flinging evened the count with a 7-1 St. Louis victory.

The Cincinnati Reds were the day's sensations in the National League as they took a pair of brilliant extra-inning duels from the St. Louis Cardinals. Red Lucas went 11 innings to beat Ted Carleton 2 to 1 in the opener, then Paul Derringer, a former Cardinal, held St. Louis to three hits in 12 frames to win the second clash from Jess Haines, 1-0.

INDIANS ARE BEATEN 12-4

Denworth Takes Advantage Of Dropped Flies; Two Hurlers Hit Freely.

A number of dropped flies in the outfield sent the Pampa Indians "up in the air" yesterday afternoon to lose a 12 to 4 decision to Denworth at Denworth. Trenary started the game without enough warm-up practice due to his late arrival, and when his teammates muffed the flies he faltered and the Denworth boys took advantage.

Miles Marbaugh, elongated left-hander, arrived back in the city yesterday and finished the game but he was hit hard and often in the three innings he pitched. Denworth hit several spid balls with Pitcher Harris getting a home run.

Trenary pitched for three bases for the Indians and Midget Woodward followed with a double. The other Indian hits were singles.

Next Sunday the Indians will play a doubleheader at home. They will tackle the Huber carbon team from Borger and the Hoover nine.

JUST THIRSTY

FRANKLIN, Pa.—A perspiring customer walked into a restaurant before the paste was dry on the N. R. A. poster in the window, demanding "two bottles."

"Two bottles of what?" asked the waiter.

"That new stuff," said the customer, pointing to the blue eagle.

The resourceful waiter handed over two bottles of 3.2 beer.

SECOND TEAM PLAYS AGAINST LEAGUE ENTRY

MEEKES HITS A DOUBLE WITH BASES LOADED TO TIE SCORE

Two fast ball games were played at Magnolia park yesterday afternoon when the Pampa All Stars shut out the fast Canadian Wildcats, 3 to 0, and then lost to Wheeler in a Cotton-Oil fixture, 9 to 6. Meekes, former Milwaukee pitcher, held Canadian to five scattered hits in the opening game and also helped his team with two of their seven hits.

The youthful Tom Riley opposed Meekes and he made an excellent showing. He allowed only seven hits, but they came when most needed.

The Pampans showed a strong line up that made only two miscues and hit the ball hard. However, the Canadian fielders were on their toes throughout the game and made many sensational plays. Caddy and Coturn led the All Star attack while Hoy and C. Riley hit well for Canadian.

Manager C. V. Lane of the All Stars threw his second team against Wheeler and also tried out several new players with disastrous results. He used four pitchers. Mullens started the game but gave way to Kirkpatrick, who in turn was relieved by Pinnell. Charlie Austin finished the game. Lassiter was behind the bat.

Hess went the distance for Wheeler with Puckett receiving. The Wheeler boys hit the four local pitchers for 14 safe bingles while the All Stars made 9 hits, with Hendron leading the parade.

The score became tied in the fourth inning when Meekes went in to pinch hit with the bases loaded and hit a double. The All Stars scored three runs in the ninth but Hess tightened and got the side out.
