Breakfast Opens Season for Clubs

SPEAKERS TELL ABOUT TRIPS AT FIRST MEETING

Returning from a summer of travel in various places, members of the Twentieth Century, Twentieth Century Culture, and Twentieth Century Forum started on a year's travel in club work yesterday with a breakfast given at the Schneider hotel with Mrs. Clifford Braly, Tom Collins, and Frank Perry, retiring presidents of the clubs, as hostesses.

Individual corsages were given as plate favors to the guests who were seated at tables centered with cars, trains, globes, sailboats, racers, ships, airplanes, and flags of several countries, suggesting the travel theme. The red and white place cards and menus were in the shape of traveling bags.

Passports were given to each one who entered the door by Mrs. Clarence Barrett and F. A. Howard, who were dressed as red caps. They also presented the speakers with large corsages after they were seated.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher, toastmaster, greeted the members and guests and presented the retiring presidents who introduced the new presidents. Mrs. Braly presented Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, new president of the Twentieth Century club; Mrs. Frank Perry introduced Mrs. Ed Damon, new president of the Twentieth Century Forum; and Mrs. J. M. Collins presented Mrs. Ray Lawrence, new Twentieth Century Culture president. Each of the honorees responded with a few words.

Talks on interesting spots visited during the summer were made by Mrs. C. P. Buckler, Madeline Tarpley Roundtree, Sam Irwin, Tom Rose, and Mr. Irwin.

In her talk on the "Impressions of England," Mrs. Buckler pointed out that the pools in this country were perfect and that there was no dust. Mr. and Mrs. Buckler watched the changing of the guards, saw the crown jewels, and visited many places of interest, she stated.

The beauty of Paris, especially in the music and opera houses was told by Mrs. Roundtree, who studied in Paris this summer and spoke on "Paris in the Summer" at the breakfast.

Most of the churches and cathedrals in Ireland were built on high hills, Mrs. Irwin said as she mentioned several that she and Mr. Irwin visited. Among the castles mentioned in her talk on "Castles and Cathedrals of Ireland" were St. Paul's cathedral in London, Durham castle in northern England, the Christ's church at Oxford, and the Edinburgh castle in Scotland.

Mrs. Rose said in her discussion that Alaska, a country of 60,000 people, was the land of the totem pole. Wings on these poles indicate good families, she added.

In "Ireland After Thirty-Four Years," Mr. Irwin mentioned the progress shown throughout the country since he was there last. Schools have advanced more and churches less than anything in Ireland, he pointed out.

The invocation at the breakfast was given by the club members who repeated the club collect. Mrs. Roger McConnell gave the benediction.

Presidents of the clubs who were introduced as special guests by Mrs. Fisher were Mrs. C. C. Wilson, A. A. U. W.; W. B. Murphy, Civic Culture; S. G. Surratt, El Progresso; J. W. Garman, Council of Clubs; Charles Wooley, Beta Sigma Phi; Joe Gordon, Garden; Alex Schneider, Treble Clef; W. C. Hutchinson, Child Study; Misses Mildred Over-all, Business and Professional Women, and Johnnie Davis, Pampa Daily News.

Committees helping in the arrangements were: Program, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, R. M. Johnson, Geo. Prout; menu, J. B. Massa, Marvin Lewis, E. H. Turner; decoration, Ray Hagan, W. S. Dixon and H. P. Lusby.

Mrs. Thomas Wade entertained the Bide-A-Wee club in her home Monday afternoon with two tables of bridge.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a guest refuse food offered him?
2. Should butter be put on potatoes with a knife?
3. May a person drinking from a bouillon cup hold both handles?
4. When a knife is not being used may the handle rest on the table?
5. May a person say "No" in refusing a second serving offered by a servant?

What would you do if—

- (a) Say that you are sorry, and afterwards see that the rough place on the chair is fixed?
- (b) Buy the guest a new pair of hose?
- (c) Let the guest know how sorry

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

It may be salads that put the "it" in Hollywood. Movie stars watch their diet, seek stream-lined figures and vital energy. They demand salad bowls with every meal. Yes, right through the year. It's getting along toward fall now and they begin to change from summer to fall types of salads.

The recipes given below will take you behind the scenes to many a star's kitchen and reveal how they eat for health and glamor.

A few notes first on salad bowls themselves. Use a wooden one and keep it for green salads and nothing else. Wood is absorbent, so after being rubbed with garlic and anointed with oil over a period of time, your wooden bowl will achieve a delicious personality and play a leading role in making your salads taste better.

To clean the wooden bowl, wipe it out with a damp soft cloth. Let it dry in the air but not in the sun. Never dry it on a radiator or near intense heat. Follow these simple rules and that flavorsome bowl will never warp or crack.

Prevue Night Lettuce Bowl
(4 to 6 servings)

Two cups canned salmon or cooked halibut, 1-2 cup chopped cucumber, 1-2 cup chopped celery, 1 green pepper, 1 head iceberg head lettuce, broken into pieces, 3-4 cup salad dressing mixed with onion juice, 1-4 cup chopped sweet pickles, 2 hard-cooked eggs chopped, 3 tomatoes.

Combine fish with cucumber, celery, green pepper and tomatoes. Arrange in bowl with lettuce and toss with French dressing.

Malibu Beach Lettuce Bowl
(6 servings)

One small head cauliflower, 6 small stalks broccoli, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup highly seasoned French dressing, 1 head crisp lettuce, broken into pieces, 1 large grapefruit, 2 tomatoes, peeled and quartered.

Cook broccoli with salt until tender, about twenty minutes; drain, marinate broccoli and uncooked cauliflower in French dressing. Place lettuce in a salad bowl and mix with vegetables, grapefruit and tomato sections. Toss lightly with French dressing.

Salad Bowl Toluca
Six peach halves, 2 oranges cut in round slices, 1 avocado, walnut halves, parsley, tart jelly, 2 heads iceberg lettuce.

"A Yawning Chasm" Will Be Sermon Subject Tonight

"The Trial of Jesus" was the sermon subject last night at the First Christian church. The sermon was very unusual in that it was presented as a real trial before a jury and judge. Twelve men were called to serve as jurors and the evangelist, Frank J. Pippin presented the claims of Jesus and the testimony of many witnesses. He gave first the testimony of Jesus' enemies and lastly the testimony of His friends.

"Men have either hated Jesus intensely or they have loved Him to the death," he stated in beginning his case. "We are trying Him tonight because Jesus of Nazareth never had a fair trial. He received the most unfair trial of any person in history. His accusers were liars. Today they would be sent to the penitentiary for perjury. His death was the blackest mockery of justice that has ever been recorded."

At the close of the trial, the jury filed out and the audience sang "The Old Rugged Cross." When the jury returned, the verdict was given by the foreman, "We, the men of this jury, do find that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God."

Howard House presented a picture, "Day is Dying in the West," and R. L. Allston sang "Why Should He Love Me So?"

Tonight the sermon subject will be "A Yawning Chasm."

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

Standards of beauty, like clothes and manners, change rapidly. Fashionable styles change every few years. One has only to compare American ideals of beauty with those of 100, 50, 20, even 10 years ago, to realize this fully.

The carefully made up, more feminine looking, understanding woman replaced the flat-chested little flapper. During depression years, the standard of beauty changed considerably. Now it has changed somewhat again—this is a fall of elegance, of suave grooming, sumptuous furs, more elaborate makeup.

Elaborate makeup, however, does not mean too much makeup, or cosmetics applied unskillfully. It means that more women are buying more cosmetics, spending quantities of time achieving more striking effects.

Manufacturers report that makeup ensembles are selling rapidly. Fashionables are not content with one lipstick, one face powder or one nail lacquer. They like several lipsticks, with rouge to match—one set to wear with each color in a wardrobe. A color does not change the tone of the skin, but it APPEARS to.

For instance, if you are wearing a warm orange sweater which casts a yellowish glow over your face, you probably will like face powder with a hint of ochre in it. When you switch to a red dress, pinkish-beach powder undoubtedly will be more flattering.

Strive for the "not-a-hair-out-of-place" look. Wear dresses which mold your figure but at the same time making you look slim and trim. Have a coiffure which stays put for hours at a time. Learn to set makeup so it will not disappear between the time you leave home and arrive at the office or a luncheon. Don't wear too many gadgets (flowers, buttons, trick belts and such.) If your budget allows for inexpensive dresses only, learn the trick of tucking off sparkling, garish pins or slightly drooping, too bright artificial flowers and substituting your one good clip in their place. Perfectly simple things always look more elegant than be-ribboned, lavishly decorated ones.

Bible Outline Heard by Club

By MRS. W. W. HUGHES. SKELLYTOWN, Sept. 25.—The Ladies' Aid of the Community church met Thursday afternoon at the church.

A song opened the meeting. Mrs. J. C. Jarvis, president, introduced Mrs. W. Purviance of Pampa, who gave a very profitable and interesting outline of the Bible, and how it came to us.

There are three ways to read the Bible," said Mrs. Purviance. "We first read it as any other book for facts, of its origin and destiny, and last but not least we read it devotionally, feeding our souls as we think God's thoughts after Him."

There are only 100 Bibles out of 1,000 that bring a little profit," stated Mrs. Purviance.

A short business meeting was held with the president in the chair, at which time plans were made for a covered dish dinner in honor of the school faculty, which will be held Wednesday, September 29, at 6:30 p. m. at the Community church.

Also definite plans were made to sponsor the "Oil City Colored Harmonizers," of Pampa, who will put on a program at Skellytown Friday evening, October 1, at the school auditorium.

Refreshments of fruit punch and cookies were served by Meses. J. W. Lee, H. C. Boyd, W. P. McMicken, S. C. Dickey, Jarvis, Chester Strickland and W. W. Hughes to four out-of-town guests, Meses. W. Purviance, John Hessey, Joe Shelton and William Castleberry, of Pampa.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Nine persons were recovering today from injuries received last night when a fire did an estimated $100,000 damage to a building housing an aerial survey concern, an antique shop and a filling station.

Fire fighters said the blaze apparently originated in the rear of the Edgar Tobin Aerial Surveys where several workers, armed with a hose and fire extinguishers, fought their way through the blaze.

District Fire Chief E. B. Ernest suffered severe cuts about the legs, face and hands. Pipeman Frank Monaco suffered burns on both hands and Pipeman W. F. Howard was knocked down by falling timbers and was cut and burned severely.

Workmen who suffered cuts and bruises as well as burns, some of them severe, were Johnny Villegas, Griffin Wooten, John Fernandez, Ferdinand Oviedo and Luis Reyna.

Night Watchman John Carnot, also among the injured, said he had just left the rear of the building where the men were at work when he returned and found a large portion of the rear of the structure in flames.

Bourke Cockran wrote this: "There is but one straight road to success, and that is merit. . . . The man who is successful is the man who is useful. . . . Capacity never lacks opportunity. . . . It cannot remain undiscovered, because it is sought by too many anxious to use it."

And, it was Theodore N. Vail who said that the crying evil of the young man who enters the business world today is the lack of application, preparation, and thoroughness, with ambition but without the willingness to struggle to gain his desired end. . . . Mental and physical strength comes only through the exercise and working of mind and body. . . . There is too little idea of personal responsibility; too much of "the world owes me a living," forgetting that if the world does owe you a living—you yourself must be your own collector.

We often wish we had more time to devote to this column just to find out if we could make it interesting enough for everybody to read. . . . We hear every now and then of somebody who doesn't like the stuff that is printed here. . . . They are not to be blamed for that. . . . Many times we have tried to make it clear that this space merely is a catch all and that anything is likely to find its way into these lines from day to day. . . . We have warned readers time and time again to skip it and turn to things in the paper which are far superior and much more interesting.

There is nothing better than a good critic to put you back in your place now and then. . . . For we all get out of our paces once in awhile, and the man who can't be put back in it without wincing too much should never put his chin out where it is easy to clip. The world is a looking-glass, and gives back to every man the reflection of his own face. . . . Frown at it, and it in turn will look sourly upon you; laugh at it and with it, and it is a jolly, kind companion.

There is plenty of food for thought in the lines of Oliver Goldsmith that say to pursue trifles is the lot of humanity; and whether we bustle in a pantomime, or strut at a coronation, or shout at a bazaar, or harangue in the senate-house—whatever object we follow, it will at last conduct us to fulfillment and disappointment. . . . The wise bustle and laugh as they walk in the pageant, but fools bustle and are important; and that probably is all the difference between them.

And it was Berton Braley who wrote that snobbery is the pride of those who are not sure of their position. . . . And Oscar Wilde's definition of a cynic is one who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing. . . . Charles H. Steinway said: "I cannot commend to a business house any artificial plan for making men producers—any scheme for driving them into business-building. . . . You must lead them through self-interest. . . . It is this alone that will keep them keyed up to the full capacity of their productiveness."

India's white elephants become royal property at birth. In the United States they are passed around and wind up as public property. . . . Research shows that in the 17th century the table knife was used for cutting as well as eating. In the unskilled pea-balancer's hand, it still serves both purposes. Added to the disillusion of cynic's claims that the Constitution is not sacred, someone now has a cruel theory that Cinderella's slippers actually were not glass. . . . A German streamlined train is called the "Flying Hamburger." A schoolchild could guess the names of its Pullman cars—"Onion," "Pickle," and "Lettuce"—both.

Dora wonders why, if Mother Nature is the most beautiful thing in the universe, all these airmen are continually trying to girdle the earth. . . . According to the wishes of a London resident, his ashes were scattered from a golf tee, adding the one slice of life that he had missed. . . . The season for five-headed cabbages finally having passed, we next enter the era of the stove league's 90 horsepower raspberry. . . . Latest product of the inventors is an odorless hamburger, a development that a lot of hungry people won't take with relish.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO

More than 30 enthusiastic Central high school students met with several instructors and decided to launch at once publication of school news of the Pampa district. Bill Robinson was chosen to take charge of the news gathering and Vernon Culverhouse was appointed to assist them.

FIVE YEARS AGO

C. H. Walker was designated by Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to serve as Governor R. S. Sterling's representative in the preparation and submission of Pampa's application for funds out of the $300,000,000 provided by the federal emergency relief and construction act of 1932.

rippe their noses and if there is an inside toilet.

If you leave magazines and newspapers strewn about the place and quarrel with the neighbors and the landlord, that will count against you. If you pay your bills promptly and have a little nest egg, that will help. But if you have several thousand dollars laid away you probably could build your own home and not expect the government to take care of you at Greenbelt.

Dr. Lund said most applicants felt "uplifted" after the examinations. He thought it came from a feeling that somebody was about to give them a lift. That may be, but whether or not they feel uplifted, they had better convince the home examiner that they are well washed and tidy—but financially strained.

Man About Manhattan

—BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff:

The new form of burlesque in which the strip-dancers fall to strip isn't going so well. "Not enough zip," a disconsolate drummer confides.

Their own inheritance with reaching boughs; Each solitary tree along the mountain shars The quietness a lonely life allows.

The beauty that is loneliness is theirs. The seasoning of time through "resined wood." The animals crawl off to winter lairs; The firs and pines are where they always stood.

The barren boughs of oak and elm below Will toss and crash and moan upon the storm; The pines above them take the heady blow With little bending from their rigid form.

Through all the flaunting autumn leaves they keep Their needed poise in silence that is theirs. Men have the strength of pines, lonely and deep. Who live in quiet with their own affairs.

Keith Thomas in Christian Science Monitor.

Around Hollywood

—BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—There must be something in the Viennese climate that favors the growing of actresses and beauties. Metro is practically a "little Vienna" with Luise Rainer, Della Lind, Tilly Losch and now Rose Stradner, and Paramount's Francisca Gaal and Columbia's Lull Destane enhance the roster.

The latest to make a picture is Rose Stradner, and after meeting her I can agree with the casting director whose report on her confidentially urged the whole studio to become "Stradner-conscious." She is a young woman of more than ordinary charm, appealing beauty, and a grace when walking that is like smooth dancing. Miss Stradner has an accent still, but it is slight, and she finds it no handicap. Aside from that, or perhaps because of it, her voice has an exciting quality of warmth and richness.

She was happy when I saw her, because she had just won her own name back. For a time the studio rechristened her Andrea Mario. She thought the new name affected and one the public would not like. Too many movie names similar to it: Garbo, Margo, Harlow, etc.

I watched Miss Stradner do a scene with Edward G. Robinson for "The Last Gangster." It is too early to predict, but if she registers on the screen as she does no set, film fans also are due to become "Stradner-conscious."

Military Musical

On the set of "Rosalie" a regiment of West Pointers was being put thru its dancing paces by Dance Director Dave Gould, W. S.

God, in honor of the West Point setting of the musical, has gone very military. He has a bugle sound "fall in" when he wants the chorus boys to work. It is a very nice set, with West Point buildings reproduced exactly, and the drill field—covered with green burlap instead of fake grass, stretching away to surrounding trees that have the sheen of spring, thanks to artful spraying.

In one respect—or two—West Point was never like this, however. The first, obviously, is that West Pointers don't do dance drills. The second is that these chorus boys, who've been rehearsing their number time and again, have a lot to learn about keeping step.

Before the scene is shot for the last time, however, rest assured the real West Point won't be ashamed of its screen representation. If anybody gets out of step, they'll shoot it again.

How Court Voted in Civil Liberty Cases

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Possibility that the Supreme Court might act in one way or another to keep Justice Hugo L. Black from its bench, although not considered a very strong one, calls attention to the court's recent record on cases involving liberties such as were threatened by the Ku Klux Klan.

One idea that the court might consent to hear & rule, contesting Black's right to sit, on the ground that he was in a Senate which voted new emoluments for Supreme Court justices.

Another rumor is that the other justices might decide that Black was ineligible in case he were found to have taken the Klan oath, assuming that oath were found to pledge a taker to continued intolerance toward Jews, Catholics, Negroes and aliens.

Invaluable Georgia law. In case that isn't simply a pipe-dream—and no one is whispering that any justice actually talked to him about it—the position of justices who have taken strong or weak positions as to rights of Negroes, Catholics or Jews in certain cases might be an important factor.

At its last term the court voted five to four to invalidate the old Georgia "insurrection" law under which Angelo Herndon, a young Negro Communist leader, had been sentenced to 20 years for distributing literature.

Book A Day

—BY BRUCE CATTON

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

There is no age limit in the devoted following of Will James, leader of the cowboy artist-writer clan. But his new book, "Cowboy in the Making," just released by Scribners ($1.50), is written definitely for the younger boy.

Actually the material is taken from the first part of "Lone Cowboys," and tells of the writer's early riding, roping and gun practice, and his long period of wandering with the trapper, Boy, from Montana cattle ranches to Canadian fur country.

"Noodle" (Stokes; $1.50) is the latest book by that excellent writer for the very young, Munro Leaf. Noodle is a daschund, very long and very low. Low in spirits, too, because he cannot be some other shape.

"Choo-Choo," by Virginia Lee Burton (Houghton, Mifflin; $1.50), is another of the enchanting and lushly illustrated picture-story books for kids. Choo-Choo is a little engine that runs away. It runs all over the pages until it is finally rescued and taken home to the round-house.

Add to the list "The Famous Jimmy," by Enid Blyton (Dutton; $1.50). This book is for the next age-group, the 4-to-8 child who can understand humor at its best. Jimmy is an impish duckling who ventures where ducklings never should venture.

Boys and girls 8 to 12 years old have adopted the children in Arthur Ransome's series about the "Swallows and the Amazons" long before now. In the latest volume, "Pigeon Post" (Lippincott; $2), the adventurous eight under Captain Nancy go in for gold mining. Mining, water finding with divining rods, forest fires and bombing pigeons make a story exciting, yet possible.

It is a month for fresh starts, for picking new school courses with a weather-eye to the future. A first-rate book in one field has just come out: "Electricity," by Leo M. Klinefelter (Dutton; $2). Full details of the job and the preparation advisable are given in many lines, from power station operator to radio, telephone, telegraph and army and navy opportunities. Written for boys, and more of its kind would be welcomed.

Although in 1935 it had refused to review an appeal on technical grounds, this year a majority—Chief Justice Hughes, Justice Roberts and the liberal trio of Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo—heard the case and held the Georgia law an unconstitutional interference with free speech and contrary to the "due process" clause. Herndon's conviction, the majority said, was based on no evidence of any clear and present danger to the state.

In 1925 the court ruled against the Klan-supported Oregon parochial school law, which struck at Roman Catholics by barring all private schools. No state, the court said, had power to standardize its children by forcing them to take instruction from public teachers only.

Although the supreme bench had approved refusal of the Democratic party in Texas to allow Negroes to vote in its primaries, it set aside the convictions of two Scottsboro defendants in 1935 on the ground that Negroes had been barred from the jury. Last year it unanimously freed three Mississippi Negroes on the ground that their confessions had been obtained by torture.

These are only a few of the outstanding recent cases. In previous years its record as to civil liberties and minorities has been rather spotty.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. HOILES.

With the European situation and the chaotic condition in labor, finance and unemployment in the United States, the opinions of some very prominent historical thinkers might be of interest.

Ortega y Gasset in his book "The Revolt of the Masses," has some very interesting predictions, in the tenth printing more than a year ago. Mr. Gasset was a historian in Spain and is now in exile. He said, "If that human type (the mass man in revolt) continues to be master of our continent back to barbarism. Legislative and industrial technique will disappear with the same facility with which so many trade secrets have often disappeared. The whole of life will be contracted."

This book was written in 1930 and translated into English in 1932. Spengler, the great German, made similar predictions. Will Durant said of Spengler, "He dictates pages from his home in Munich that all the statesmen of Europe are waiting to read. Hitler trembles when Spengler disapproves." Spengler said in his "Hour of Decision," printed in 1932, "We are passing through a century of anarchy and the world's fate is in our hands. It is doubtful whether by the middle of this century we will be able to recognize any of the governments under the present form."

Nietzsche said, "I see the flood-tide of nihilism rising." Auguste Comte, the great French humanist, said, "Without some new spiritual influence, our age which is a revolutionary age, will produce a catastrophe."

It should be remembered that a historian really is a prophet in reverse, as a historian who does not foresee what will happen in the future is of little value.

WIFE CLINCHES ARGUMENT WITH SCISSORS

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas. (AP)—A husband tips on how to keep your husband in evenings:

An Arkansas City man brought three pairs of trousers into a tailor shop and sadly asked if they could be repaired. He said he and his wife had had an argument over whether he should go out one evening.

She won by taking the scissors and snipping off the legs of all of his dress trousers.

CURRY TO TAKE FIGHTING GUERRILLAS TO GROOM FRIDAY FOR PENER

READERS WILL RECEIVE SUITS ON THURSDAY

The Guerrillas of Coach Bob Curry will get their 1937 baptism under fire on Friday afternoon when they go to Groom for a game with the Groom Tigers, Class B team.

Although outweighed considerably, the Guerrillas stand a good chance of breaking into the win column right off the bat. The Tigers are said to be sluggish as yet and the Raiders' speed might offset weight and experience. The boys are taking the game seriously and are training hard.

The little fellows are showing more pep and fight than any previous Guerrilla team. They work whether Coach Curry is on hand or not and rivalry for starting positions is keen.

Tomorrow afternoon the Guerrillas will receive sweaters and will have their pictures taken.

While the Guerrillas are in Groom, the Junior high Reapers of Coach W. C. Huckeba will be in Amarillo for a conference game with the Central Junior high team. Coach Huckeba's Reapers won their first conference game last week from Berger Bull Pups.

Although Coach Bob Curry has not named a starting lineup for Friday's game in Groom, his stalwarts in scrimmage sessions appear to be set, with the exception of a few positions.

The Guerrillas will likely present a brother act at the end positions where R. Clemans and L. Clemans have been working. The tackles appear to be L. G. Bailey and Wayne Giddens. The second brother act in the line will be filled out by Clifford Bailey at one guard and Carl Ripple, R. G. Candler will likely be the center.

In the backfield the starters will be Grover Heiskell, quarter, A. Miller and Willard Salsbury, halves, and Doyle Aulse, full.

Still in the running for starting call, and several of them may get the nod, are Walter Word, Carl Montgomery, Rex Shearer, Leo Felner, Jack Crout and others.

Coach 'Admits' Elis Will Have Good Grid Team

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 29 (AP)—Three days before the opening game, Head Coach Ducky Pond admits Yale is going to have a good football team this season—but "even so it may lose three or four games."

Two weeks of pre-season training has shown the Yale coach, he said, enough to make him replace the crown on his face with a smile and "wipe away the not so optimistic attitude" he held.

"But," added Pond, "we'll need plenty of luck also to win."

With Captain Clint Frank, all-America back from Evanston, Ill., setting a speedy pace, the brawny, powerful squad which is rich in backfield material but not so fortunate in the line, shows evidence that it has the ability to cope with almost any situation.

The Elis open an eight game schedule in the bowl Saturday against Maine.

Several scrimmages at Gates Ferry and here have given Coach Pond and his assistants a good line on the candidates as well as time to concentrate on patching up the end and tackle weaknesses, the main problem.

Miami Will Play Price Memorial

MIAMI, Sept. 29.—The Warriors have buckled down to hard practice this week in preparing for their game with Price Memorial college of Amarillo here Friday. The Warriors gave their fans a thrill Friday with their offensive and defensive work against the Groom Tigers.

Hubbell and Melton May Hold Down Yank Hitters

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—There being no further serious argument about the winner of the National league pennant, it becomes fashionable once again to start comparing the talents of those two colossal New York hurlers, the "Jints" and the Yankees.

Which will win the second "sub-way series" in as many years, starting a week from today? The dope, all things considered, must favor the Yankees, run-away champions of the American league, to repeat last year's six-game victory over Colonel Bill Terry's Slickers.

Boasting the greatest collection of sluggers in baseball, the Yanks have systematically bludgeoned the life out of the opposition in their league.

Those who swear by the National league's brand of baseball—tight pitching, fast fielding, hard fighting—say it's going to be a different story this time. They think Carl Hubbell and Cliff "Mountain Music" Melton, two of the greatest southpaws ever to pitch for one club at the same time, will slow the Ruppert rough-housers down to a toddle starting next Wednesday.

That is going to be the drama of the series, when Melton and Hubbell, and then Hal Schumacher, (probably in that order) start trying to slip strikes past DiMaggio, Dickey and Gehrig.

Hubbell, up to today, had won 21 games and lost only 8; Melton, a first-year man with a fancied pedigree against the Yankees because they turned him adrift after a trial, had won 19 and dropped 9. Maybe the National league doesn't hit like the American, but that's pitching in any league. Also perhaps, as National league aver, there is less hitting in their circuit because there are more pitchers patterned after Hubbell and Melton.

The ability of the Yankees' two aces, Vernon Gomez and Charles "Red" Ruffing, to hold down the Giants' scoring won't be quite so important. Nobody, including the Giants themselves, expects the Terrymen to go on a batting rampage, though they have been getting runs in surprising clusters lately. They only run and depending on pitching and smart fielding to protect it.

It's a coincidence that Gomez and Ruffing (21-10 and 18-7) have exactly the same combined figures as Hubbell and Melton. The Yanks, though, have had a clutch club behind them, while Carl and Cliff, generally speaking, feel themselves to be singularly blessed if they're given a two-run lead. The general impression is that the Giants have a better top pair.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—If the Giants don't cut him in for at least a half share of the world series tonight, Justice Fluvius ought to holler his head off. The double without yesterday just about sewed up the bunting for the Terrymen. But it hurt the front office's heart. The Giants needed only 8,903 paid admissions to hit the million mark in home attendance. Since there are no more scheduled games at the Polo Grounds, young Horace Stoneham, et al. must wait until next year.

Pitt's 1938 foes are smiling. Doc Sutherland loses 15 seniors off this year's squad. Penn State is maneuvering to get on the Army and Ohio State schedules. Eddie Flynn, who topped off a boxing career at Loyola (New Orleans) by going to the Olympics, has hung on his physician's shingle in Tampa. Vincent Lopez, the rasser, was baptized Daniel Vincente Lopez de Vinaparre, but graduated from Iowa in spite of it. In Newark they are betting the Bears cop the little world series in no more than five games. We're not biting too fast. Spearfish Normal is our early season choice for the Rose Bowl.

Personal nomination for the most valuable player in the National league—Mel Ott of the Giants. They say Major Bob Neyland has a mess of backs down there at Tennessee-see this year.

Baseball observers consider Keller the outstanding find of the 1937 season. His first year in organized baseball, he won the International league batting title with a mark of .351. His 188 hits included 12 home runs, 14 triples and 31 doubles and drove in 88 runs.

The federal government has spent in the neighborhood of $950,000 for these football amphitheatres.

The Roddy Burdine stadium at Miami, Fla., seating 25,000 and nearing completion, will be the scene of the annual New Year's Orange Bowl interscholastic grid game.

Down in Fayetteville, they're building a new stadium for the University of Arkansas. PWA gave more than $36,000 toward the University of Alabama's stadium at Tuscaloosa.

FRANK WOLFF AND LIPSCOMB WILL WRESTLE

Reserve seats will be nailed down and everything else movable in the Pampa Athletic Arena will be taken out Monday night when the battle of battles will be staged. The match for which fans have been howling has been arranged—Buck Lipscomb vs Frank Wolff.

The big, bad Wolff will come all the way from Detroit, Mich., for the battle with Lipscomb. He has been beating the boys around Lake Erie for the past three weeks but when he received Promoter Cliff Chambers' telegram asking him if he wanted Lipscomb in a main event, Wolff replied, "I'll be there to tear him to pieces."

Mr. Lipscomb, resting in Amarillo following a terrific battle with John Nemanic last Monday night, appeared calm. "I can take that big-shouldered, round-headed Dutchman any day in the week," declared the Hoosier hotshot.

The final will be no less spectacular than the preliminary. Promoter Chambers has signed that famous Japanese scholar and wrestler, Prog. Tesuro Higami to meet Sailor Jack Moran. Higami, it will be remembered, appeared here five years ago against Clinman, Rose Watkins, Kopecky and all the big shots.

An opening battle has not been arranged as yet, Promoter Chambers revealed this morning.

Arkansas and Frogs Will Match Aerial Saturday

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Two giant bombing machines, Arkansas' Razorbacks and Texas Christian, play the Southwestern conference's first game for "keeps" up in the Ozarks next Saturday.

One, Texas Christian, was already being stopped by "bad flying weather," but the Razorbacks, about the business of defending their title, took off in sunshine and rained touchdowns in their opener.

Not even a card of classy interscholastic games can touch the conference's opening at Ocho State last Saturday, when they were washed away by a downpour of rain and Ohio State's power drives, 14-0. Never could Dave O'Brien, the successor to Sammy Baugh, open up with his sniping and the Texans failed to come close to scoring. At Fayetteville, where the Razorbacks dropped Central Oklahoma Teachers, 25-0, the story was different.

The Christians, primed for their opener against Ohio State last Saturday, were washed away by a downpour of rain and Ohio State's power drives, 14-0. Never could Dave O'Brien, the successor to Sammy Baugh, open up with his sniping and the Texans failed to come close to scoring. At Fayetteville, where the Razorbacks dropped Central Oklahoma Teachers, 25-0, the story was different.

Jack Robbins, their No. 1 passer, chucked passes that accounted for three touchdowns while Dwight Sloan, driving halfback, punched the line on runs of varying distances, 14-0.

The favored Texas Aggies, who scrimmaged three hours against the frosh Saturday, open in New York City against a Manhattan team they licked, 13-6, last year. Without an injury and in top form, Coach Homer Norton's Farmers are well liked in their Gotham debut.

Coach D. X. Bible, who re-entered the conference with a smashing 20-12 triumph over Texas Tech, takes his sophomore-laden University of Texas team to Baton Rouge, La., to meet the Louisiana State Bengals, ever dangerous and twice winner of the Southeastern conference title.

Coach Paul Tyson at Waco has a barfooted kicker, Frank Hall, and he knows what to do about it. He had special shoes made with zipper slips down the front. When the punting signal is given in the huddle, Frankie merely zips off the shoe, tosses it aside and goes to work. Reynolds Smith, the golfer, made certain that he and his professional partner, would win the P. G. A. amateur pro event at Dallas when he bagged an ace on the seventeenth hole that gave the team a best ball of 65.

Bullet Bill Patterson, the Baylor forward passer, started well enough in the opener against Southwestern. All of his passes but one were snaggled. And that one hit a player the ball and he dropped it. Cool Ralph Sasse, who brings his Mississippi State to Tyler October 9 to meet Texas A. & M., cut down on the amount of water his squad was drinking at practice sessions by dropping dry oatmeal flakes in the buckets. Some of the squad demanded sugar be added.

Puntis and passes: Coach Homer Norton has left in advance of his Aggie griders for New York City and the Manhattan game Saturday. Milton (Crazy Leg) Evans, a broken flier with a rocking-chair lunge, is a halfback at Baylor the railbirds tell you will fit into Bruin schemes. He went 71 yards for a T. D. on his first trip against Southwestern. The Texas Aggies' crop of ends withered considerably when Bill Seagr, veteran letterman, decided not to re-enter school. Two decades ago D. X. Bible tutored Louisiana State University football teams repeating P. G. A. champion, will fly to Argentina Friday to play exhibitions and compete in that nation's open championship.

Nelson, after being held even by Picard's 71-par morning round, put on a terrific spurt during the afternoon's downpour yesterday and gained the larger share of the first cash prize in the $12,000 tournament with a 5 and 4 victory.

It's Almost Cinch for Giants to Win Pennant

Coach and Captain of Panthers

COACH LEFTY FOWLER.

CAPTAIN NOLAN SPARKS.

By BILL BONI Associate Press Sports Writer Just about the only things left standing today between the Giants and Yankees and their five-cent World Series were seven games in the National league and as many in the American.

For the Bronx bombers, "in" since way back when, those seven games really couldn't be called an obstacle. Exercise, perhaps, with the chance of winning one of today's tests from the Athletics and thus hanging up their 100th scalp of the year. The seven games the Giants have left are a bit more of a hurdle, but not much. And for that the Terrymen, campaigning without their flu-stricken boss, can thank the weather.

It rained in New York yesterday—rained a double-header with the Bees and the Cubs out of the game. Thus, although the Cubs cut their deficit to four games by blanking the Reds, 2-0, the 1936 champions were left needing only two more victories to clinch the flag.

Should they win only two of their final seven and the Cubs win one of their remaining five, the final statistics would show:

Club	W	L	Pct.
Giants	93	59	.612
Cubs	94	60	.610

Instead of stacking up against the Bees and the Cubs, the Terrymen, although the Cubs cut their deficit to four games by blanking the Reds, 2-0, the 1936 champions were left needing only two more victories to clinch the flag.

That Washington bargain bill was the occasion for a good many events. Charley Ruffing pitching a two-hit, 9-0 shutout in the opener, got back on form to win his 19th game after failures. Bill Dickey returned to action after a brief rest to hit his 28th homer, and Joe DiMaggio hit his 45th as well as a triple and double, then added a single in the nightcap.

For Giant fans, on the other hand, there was satisfaction in seeing Krakauskas spike the Ruppert rific, 2-1, in the second game. Since Krakauskas is a left-hander, his triumph was the 18th by a southpaw in the 48 games the Yanks have lost, and the Giants boast two—need we say?—very fine southpaws in Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton.

In yesterday's rain-curtailed program, the outstanding one-man job was delivered by Clay Bryant of the Cubs. Clay pitched two-hit ball, drove in the winning run with a triple and scored the other himself.

The only other National league game saw the Pirates take third place from the Cards by whipping them, 6-2.

In the American league, the Tigers beat the last-place Browns, 6-1, and Julius Solters' tenth-inning homer, plus Bob Fuller's relief pitching, gave the Indians a 7-6 win over the White Sox. The Sox were leading, 10-4, when the second game was called after 3 1/2 innings because of darkness.

PANHANDLE HOPES TO SLIP UP ON HARVESTERS FRIDAY NIGHT

The Standings

Although it is a Class B team the Pampa Harvesters will meet here on Friday night, one would think by the pep and determination of yesterday's practice that the Nov. 11 game with the Sandies was just around the corner. Apparently realizing that slips occur where least expected, the Harvesters are taking the Panhandle Panthers seriously.

If Nolan Sparks is able to play, Panhandle will field an exceptionally strong club. It is expected that his injuries will be healed sufficiently to let him do the passing and punting for the Panthers. Even with Sparks absent, Coach Lefty Fowler can field a potent backfield in Smith and Crawford, running mates from last year, Little Denton Howe, quarter, and Adams, a newcomer with shifty feet.

The Panther line will be small, but not only smaller than the Harvesters forward wall. In fact, the team average would favor the Panthers over the Harvesters lineup. His 214 pounds hike the figure considerably.

Fans are hoping to see the Harvesters subs in action but are not sure that the first stringers can hold the Panthers. There is always the chance of a letdown after a hard game such as the boys had with Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City.

Workouts, however, make Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean feel that their charges will be clicking on Friday night against the invaders who used to be a regular opponent of the Harvesters when they played Class B ball. It is now nine years since the two eleven met on the gridiron. Pampa won the last game 35 to 0 on Thanksgiving day, 1928. The game was played here.

SOUTH AMERICA GOAL OF THREE GOLFERS

BELMONT, Mass., Sept. 29 (AP)—Enriched by $5,000, split on a 3-2 basis after the rain-rattled Belmont open match play final, Byron Nelson and Henry Picard, Pennsylvania professional golfing neighbors, prepared today to seek additional wealth in South America.

They and their Ryder Cup teammate, Denny Shute of Newton, the repeating P. G. A. champion, will fly to Argentina Friday to play exhibitions and compete in that nation's open championship.

Nelson, after being held even by Picard's 71-par morning round, put on a terrific spurt during the afternoon's downpour yesterday and gained the larger share of the first cash prize in the $12,000 tournament with a 5 and 4 victory.
