SHOCKLEY JURORS ARE QUIZZED

Ex-Attorney General Pollard Indicted In Use Of Fake Cigaret Tax Stamps

CLAIM TEXAN GAVE CONSENT TO ISSUANCE

DAN MOODY PUTS HIS SIGNATURE ON BOND

AUSTIN, June 18 (AP)—Claude Pollard, former attorney general of Texas, with several others, has been indicted by a Travis county grand jury in connection with the use and circulation of counterfeit cigarette tax stamps.

The charges against Pollard alleged that he consented to the use, issuance and circulation of counterfeit cigarette stamps. There were two counts and Pollard's bond was set at $15,000 in each case. Although the bonds had been filed with Sheriff Lee Allen they had not formally been approved. Sureties were Amos Felts, C. L. Black, R. L. Batts, former Governor Dan Moody, and W. A. Keeling, the sheriff said.

Sheriff Allen at first refused to reveal the indictments, although they said he did not want to give publicity to the matter, until all those indicted had furnished bond. Two of those involved are residents of Dallas, he said.

At present Pollard is counsel for the Railroad General Managers' association.

Pollard issued a statement as follows:

The charge against me in the indictment is preposterous. I have never had the remotest connection, directly or indirectly, with any of the transactions upon which the indictment is based. The charge against me is based solely upon the testimony of a wholesale cigarette dealer who has been using counterfeit stamps to the extent of several thousand dollars. I was indicted because I represented the association with which the party is connected, from whom the wholesale cigarette dealer says he purchased the counterfeit stamps. I had no connection with it other than this and I am as innocent of any legal or moral wrong or even indifference as a person who never heard of a cigarette stamp, and the indictment is an outrage. My employment by the association of wholesale tobacco jobbers of Texas is for the sole and only purpose of cooperating with the comptroller of public accounts in the strict enforcement of the cigarette tax law, and in my employment, have on many occasions upon information furnished by members of the association, brought violations to the attention of the comptroller's office for investigation. In order to fully cooperate with the comptroller's office I had on many occasions demanded of the wholesale cigarette dealer, upon whose sole testimony the indictment was based, that he give to the comptroller of public accounts full detailed information as to where he purchased the stamps and from whom.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT UPHOLDS RIGHT OF OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS TO OPERATE RED RIVER BRIDGE

Reverses Decision of District Court in Oklahoma

DENVER, June 18 (AP)—Right of the states of Oklahoma and Texas to build and operate a free bridge over the Red river in competition with a previously-franchised toll bridge was upheld in a decision by the tenth United States circuit court of appeals here today.

The appellate court reversed the federal court of the eastern district of Oklahoma in awarding $168,000 to the Red River Bridge Co., for damages to the company's toll bridge by creation of a free bridge within a territory previously exclusively awarded to the company.

The case, which once led to the mustering of troops by governor William H. Murray to defend the free bridge from toll-collectors, has been in federal court since Dec. 5, 1929.

66 SQUABBLES WILL BE AIRED AT CONVENTION

New Mexico to Have It Out With Oklahoma

GALLUP, N. M., June 18 (AP)—Parents will be sought here today and tomorrow for "the orphan of the southwest."

U. S. highway 66, center of many disputes, has been called the orphan—and today the national association of that road begins its annual convention here.

Oklahoma and New Mexico are expected to "have it out" over allegations that the former state is diverting traffic from 66 and from New Mexico, and that highway 66 association funds for exploitation of the route are expended for Oklahoma's benefit.

At the same time, there is an internal New Mexico strife over this highway. Insistent demands have been made on the highway commission to complete oil surfacing clear across the state—a meeting a week ago saw several hundred shouting delegates voice their wants before the commission.

Another difficulty that has beset the highway is that Santa Fe is passed up in New Mexico in the contemplated Santa Rosa cutoff. This straightening of the road was fought by the ancient city for a long time, but later Santa Fe said if a lateral was built, it would no longer oppose the cutoff.

Not so much blame is attached to other states for diverting traffic. New Mexicans say, because New Mexico does not have a good road across the state. By bringing the diversion forcefully to attention of the state highway commission, it is hoped to accelerate action and get the road paved. There are only 213 miles of the road unpaved in its entire length, and most of this distance is in New Mexico, association officials said.

Delegates from points along the entire route of 66 are expected to attend the two-day convention.

Chinese Pirates Kidnap 6 Britons

SHANGHAI, June 18 (AP)—Six British citizens, including two British naval officers, were kidnaped together with 20 Chinese pirates today from a British commercial steamer off the mouth of the Yellow river.

The sea wolves took over the ship, the Shuntien, which was on its way from Tientsin to Shanghai, apparently after boarding it in Tientsin and awaiting the opportunity to overpower the crew and passengers. The capture was effected without opposition.

The pirates forced the captives into the fleet of five junks which stood by. Besides the captives, the pirates removed all the most valuable merchandises.

Fred Thompson was to arrive here this afternoon from the Ki-wank convention in Toronto, Can.

Cody Heiress

The entire estate of Lew Cody, motion picture star, valued at more than $100,000, will go to his pretty half-sister, Cecile Cote, 15, shown here in Hollywood where she lives with her mother, Mrs. Lena T. Cote.

FIRST LOAD OF 1934 WHEAT IS SOLD IN PAMPA

73 Bushels Sold by Hudgel for 67 Cents Bushel

The first load of 1934 wheat to be reported to the NEWS was bought by the Great West Milling company this morning by Frank Hudgel, farming the Archer land north of Pampa. The wheat was cut by Mr. Hudgel's two sons, David, 18, and Allen, 17.

Mr. Hudgel delivered 73 1-2 bushels of wheat which tested 59. He received 67 cents a bushel. Top for wheat this morning was 68 cents. No premium was paid on the first load this year. A. A. Tie-man, manager of the elevator announcing that according to the code, no premiums can be given.

The grain was harvested in a 160-acre field and the yield was estimated between 18 and 20 bushels to the acre.

Harvesting in this area will get in full swing sometime this week. The grain has ripened fast during the last two weeks to make harvesting early this year. The crop is encouraging although not considered a bumper crop. The yield is expected to be the heaviest west of Pampa in the White Deer area where more rain fell.

HOUSTON MAN IS SOUGHT IN ILLINOIS PLOT

BODY FOUND IN CLUMP OF WEEDS ON FARM OF VICTIM

ELDORADO, Ill., June 18 (AP)—Dr. H. L. Meyers, 55, wealthy Eldorado dentist, was found shot to death on a farm near here today, apparently the victim of a kidnaping and robbing plot.

The body of the dentist shot through the back was found by Deputy Ila Choisser, and A. M. Mitchell, a photographer, at 10 a. m. (Central Standard time) culminating an all night search after the dentist had failed to return home.

The body was found in a clump of weeds on the farm, authorities said. Mrs. Meyers said the doctor left Eldorado yesterday to look over some real estate.

Mrs. Meyers said she sought to accompany him and Lee Armstrong but that on the insistence of the latter she remained at home. Dr. Meyers' office was ransacked between Saturday night and early today.

Police reported Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong arrived in Eldorado Sunday morning.

County authorities said they had been advised that Deputy Ila Choisser found the body of the dentist on a farm between here and equality and that he had been shot in the back.

Officers immediately launched a widespread search for Armstrong, who was reported to have accompanied the dentist to the farm as a prospective buyer for the land owned by Meyers.

"I first became alarmed," Mrs. Meyers said, "when I saw a pocket in Armstrong's coat pocket at noon yesterday when he came to my home to make arrangements for a trip with my husband to his farm."

Mrs. Armstrong was taken in custody and admitted, officers said, that she was not the wife of Armstrong but refused to give her correct name. She said she met Armstrong in Chicago about two months ago.

She told police that her home was in Corpus Christi, Texas, and that she was married and had one child.

Green Speaks, Stays Steel Strike

"The wise man bides his time and I do not believe that the time is ready at the moment." So said William Green, president of the American Federal of Labor, when he addressed steel union delegates in Pittsburgh as shown here. Following Green's advice, the workers' leaders decided to delay the threatened strike and accept Green's proposal that President Roosevelt appoint a board of three to take complete charge of the labor situation in the industry. Shown seated at Green's side is Michael Tighe, head of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin, and Steel Workers.

CONFESSED BURGLAR OF McLEAN STORE HELD AFTER GUN BATTLE AT MEDICINE PARK, OKLAHOMA

Also Admits He Held Up Station In McLean

LAWTON, Okla., June 18 (AP)—Sheriff Fritz McCarty said today he had obtained a signed confession, admitting participation in a series of robberies in which several of the victims were left bound by the road side, from Clarence Brown, Snyder, Texas, survivor of a gun battle with officers near Medicine Park yesterday.

One of Brown's companions, O. B. Stalkup, 54, a former Lawton carpenter was killed as he grabbed a rifle and attempted to resist Sheriff McCarty and three other officers who drove to a cabin near Medicine Park on a "tip."

Stalkup's son, Virgil, Stalkup, said by officers to be an escaped Texas convict from the Huntsville prison farm, was in a critical condition from loss of blood caused by a shoulder wound he received in the melee.

Sheriff McCarty and Chief of Police D. Moncrief Jr. each received minor gunshot wounds.

Because of points of similarity between the methods used in the robberies described in Brown's confession, officers from Sequoyah county were summoned in an effort to link the prisoners with the mysterious slaying last week of C.

May Move P. O. On Sunday

The postmaster said "I urge as many as possible to pay their box rent and secure keys to boxes this week in order to avoid a rush the first few days we occupy the new building when clerks will be getting acquainted with their new surroundings."

Paying of box rent now will be credited on the next three months. A deposit of 20 cents will be necessary on all keys issued. Three keys will be available to each box holder. If more are needed, a special order must be sent to Washington. Persons losing keys can have a new one made for 20 cents but the order must be placed with the local postoffice.

Deposits on keys will be refunded when they are returned to the postoffice and the box given up.

Some persons and firms must be given new box numbers and when paying their box rent, they should receive change of address cards to be filled in and mailed, especially on magazines and newspapers.

State's Case To Be Based Upon Circumstances

TORSO FOUND IN TRUNK IN R. R. STATION

VIENNA, June 18 (AP)—Police today found a green wardrobe trunk containing clothes of Miss Agnes Tufterson, missing New York and Detroit lawyer, and a brief case marked with her name in the apartment of Capt. Ivan Federjay, the man who married her last December in New York.

BRIGHTON, Eng., June 18 (AP)—The torso of a woman, from which the head, arms, and legs were severed, was found today in a trunk in the luggage office of the Brighton railway station.

The woman was thought by police to have been about 40 years old. Her height possibly was 5 feet, 2 or 3 inches. The body appeared well nourished.

It was wrapped in two kinds of brown paper and bound with a window cord.

The body, which was unclothed, bore no wounds other than those incurred in the severance of the head, arms, and legs.

The paper bore the letters "Ford," which the police thought might be part of the name of a town.

Investigators discovered that the trunk, of "cabin" type, in which the body was found was left at the station on the afternoon of June 6.

Physicians, although unable to determine definitely the date of the woman's death, thought it must have been about three weeks ago.

Brighton records show that no woman is missing in this vicinity.

The preliminary examination showed that the limbs had been removed from the body with a saw. Fingerprint experts went to work at once.

Scotland Yard was not communicative concerning either the discovery of the torso or the strange case of the miss Miss Agnes Tufterson of New York and Detroit, but the police report did not indicate that any connection between the two cases was seen.

Wife Beside Preacher

The minister, appearing in better health than when he was brought here from Missouri in chains after his first indictment, was neatly dressed. He wore a suit of small brown checks, Mrs. Shockey sat near him, alert to the proceedings. Both were courteously grave, but smiled occasionally at the inevitable funny occasions of court procedure arose.

District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich and Special Prosecutor John Sturgeon chose the blanket indictment for the trial. This indictment accuses the minister of mingling poison with flour to cause the three deaths, and the counts cover nearly every phase of the mysterious circumstances which, in late October and early November of 1930, shocked the McLean community. The state will elect, after the evidence is in, which of the counts it will submit to the jury.

Many Witnesses.

A lengthy trial is indicated, inasmuch as there are no fewer than 75 witnesses likely to be heard, and a score of others available on months of investigation by both sides have revealed many circumstances which may or may not be cleared up in the trial. Although the state will attempt to prove that arsenic unmistakably caused the death of W. T. Hudgins and Terry Erwin, through chemical analysis, the defense has hinted that other causes may have been involved.

Several grand juries investigated the strange deaths before the indictments were returned last February. The state expects to have "a good case" while Clem Calhoun has appeared contemptuous of the circumstantial evidence the state is supposed to have collected. It is hinted that there may be times when spectators may wonder who is the defendant. But the state is mentioning "death penalty" to prospective jurors, although inferring that the evidence must necessarily be largely circumstantial.

Opinion Differs.

There is no doubt in the minds of many investigators that murders were committed, and the McLean community, while sharply divided on the probable guilty person or persons, would like to see the mystery solved.

Roosevelt Asks Congress Quit

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Democratic leaders today drew President Roosevelt into the effort to break the legislative log jam and get an adjournment of congress—declaring he favored letting the railroad labor bill go over until the next session of congress.

The measure appeared to be the main impediment to adjournment late today. The senate already had sent to the White House the more than $2,000,000,000 general-relief appropriation, taking it up by a 41 to 39 vote ahead of the bill for a board to mediate rail labor disputes.

The house, meanwhile, had adopted an adjournment resolution and approved a compromise with the senate on the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage relief bill. Senator Robinson (D., Ark.) promised a senate vote on that as a concession to reach adjournment.

Earlier the controverted bill amending banking laws in various respects, a key factor in the Saturday night jam that blocked adjournment then, had been withdrawn.

A MEMORY WE WOULD NOT WANT TO REVIVE

The American home has always been a good deal like the weather. There was a lot of talk about it. Sentimental songs about Getting Back to That Tumbledown Shack, and Shanties in Old Shantytown have been extremely popular, though it's hard to see just what there is that is really attractive about shacks and shanties.

But apparently there was a lot more reality in these songs than there is in most popular songs of the day. A report of the American Public Health Association reveals some startling things about the Great American Home.

Only one-sixth of rural homes have plumbing. Less than one-fourth of the nation's homes have running water; less than half have electricity.

Dr. Haven Emerson, president of the association, points out in addition that many private dwellings are fire-traps, and that the average American home is wasteful of heat because not properly insulated—and very uncomfortable in summer for the same reason.

He adds that many small homes of the south lack the screens in doors and windows that alone will prevent malaria among the occupants. In addition to this, as applied to individual homes, recent revelation in the New York City investigations of tenement conditions have shown horrible conditions of housing that are duplicated to some degree in almost every American city.

Thus the huge housing remodeling program of President Roosevelt gains considerable support. Certainly there can be no better use of federal funds than to loan them for rebuilding the American home into something that will be fit to sing about.

Perhaps, if the housing program is successfully carried through, a future generation of song writers will cease to chant of tumbledown shacks and cabins in the cotton and write some tender lyrics to "That Fire-proof, Insulated, Tile-bathroomed Old Electrical Home of Mine."

At least that would be something worth singing about.

BARROW WANTED TO GIVE UP BUT BONNIE WOULDN'T, SAYS PALMER

DALLAS, June 18 (AP)—Joe Palmer, former Texas convict, told fellow prisoners in the county jail last night that he attended funeral services here late last month for Clyde Barrow, southwest killer, because he was grateful to him.

"Barrow was a friend to me," he said, "if to no one else. And, he wasn't a coward. He tried a dozen times in my presence to get Bonnie to consent to let him give up in a trade for her liberty. He wanted to give up and take the rap, the chair if necessary, to save her. Everything she'd say 'no,' and: 'when you go down, I'll go down with you.'"

SHORTAGE OF PWA MONEY IS NOW IMMINENT

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Many communities counting on public works administration money for construction projects faced disappointment today. Congress has decided to give the work relief agency not more than $500,000,000 to carry on. It can get another $250,000,000 by selling its RFC municipal securities. Of the total, $50,000,000 already is earmarked for projects now under consideration, and federal projects will take another slice. Applications for new non-federal work call for spending $3,300,000,000. Officials estimate that less than one of ten eligible projects can receive any PWA cash. They are going ahead with plans for spending the money they will have, and hope to put more thousands of men employed to work as soon as possible. It was pointed out that the PWA may not get even as much as $500,000,000, since the legislation making it available would permit the president to allocate to public works as little as he saw fit and the RFC money could be used only for loans—not grants. In the federal building schedule, $40,000,000 is to go for naval construction; $85,000,000 for post office and $45,000,000 as second year allotments for large federal projects already under construction. Of the remaining funds, officials said such projects as sewers, schools, water works and others of unquestionable social value would receive preference. A small reserve will be held to take care of any possible increases in construction costs.

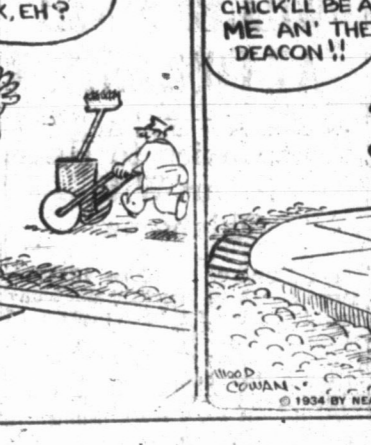

As Maine Goes— Well, Maine Is Balloting Today

PORTLAND, Me., June 18 (AP)—The Maine electorate nominated candidates for national, state and county offices today in a primary election, angling the new deal's fall election test. Leaders of both parties, eagerly awaiting the outcome, looked forward to the election in September which will determine whether the democrats will retain their amazing gains of two years ago in Maine. The democrats stood pat with Gov. Louis J. Brann, the party's first chief executive in this state in 16 years. Four republicans sought the gubernatorial nomination. United States Senator Hale was opposed for the republican nomination by Louis A. Jack. Senator Hale made no active campaign, depending on his solid organization. Three democrats—F. Harold DuBord, Paul C. Thurston and Clinton C. Stevens—sought their party's nomination for United States senators. Candidates for three seats in the house of representatives, as well as for the state legislature and county posts, also were named. "I'm shot!" H. D. AND 4-H CLUBS OF COUNTY TO HAVE CLOTHING CONTEST

ALL-DAY MEET TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

EVERY MEMBER CAN COMPETE IN SOME DIVISION

All H. D. club women and 4-H club girls of Gray county will participate in a clothing contest to be held at the First Christian church next Friday. Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstrator, announced this morning.

The morning will be spent in scoring entries. Miss Ruby Mashburn, district home demonstration agent from College Station, will score the wardrobe demonstrators while Miss Mary Sifton, Potter county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Lane Addison of Canadian will score the cooperators and the club girls.

A program consisting of reading, music, a short play, comments from the scorers, and a talk by Miss Mashburn will be given in the afternoon under the direction of the county council program committee, followed by the awarding of club prizes. The program committee is made up of Mrs. C. D. Hill of Bluebonnet, chairman; Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mertel, and Mrs. O. G. Smith, Kingsmill.

Clubs will be scored on a percentage basis on 5 points: whether or not every member is present, whether or not every member brings a guest, whether or not every member enters the contest, whether or not the clothing demonstrators complete the demonstrations, and the number of places taken by the club.

H. D. clothing demonstrators will compete in two divisions: those who have kept records of individual expenditures and passed on to others all the clothing information given by the demonstrators and extension service, and those who have kept records of each individual in the family throughout a period of years. Winners of the two divisions will represent Gray county at the annual farmers' short course to be held at College Station the fourth week in July.

Cooperators may enter in seven divisions: New cotton sheer dress, new cotton print, made over dress of any material, new cotton dress for girl under 10 years, new cotton suit for boy up to six years, made-over dress of any material for girl, made-over suit of any material for boy.

Girls under 12 years of age will enter coats, aprons, and those over 12 will enter cotton dresses and pajamas.

Every club woman and girl will have an opportunity to enter some contest. Scoring will be done, however, by clubs rather than individuals.

Internes Walk Out On Account of Jew

MONTREAL, June 18 (AP)—Seventy-five internes from five Montreal hospitals were on strike today in protest against the appointment of a Jewish physician, Dr. Samon Rabinovitch, as an interne. Internes from other hospitals were considering whether to walk out in sympathy. Hospitals affected are under French-Canadian control, while those directed by English-speaking authorities are not affected.

The strike began Friday when 31 internes at Notre Dame hospital left because their demand that Dr. Rabinovitch be dismissed was refused. Internes at the other institutions left in sympathy. Nurses decided over the week-end not to strike.

Private practitioners have substituted for the internes and officials said the affected hospitals were functioning normally.

Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs drove to Berger last night and visited their two sons.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Harein and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harein of Manitoba, Minn., arrived Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wheeler.

CULINARY ART IS VALUED AT WHITE HOUSE

ROOSEVELTS FOND OF GOOD FOODS, SAY SERVANTS

BY BESS FURMAN. WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The summer days just ahead don't look so good to the steward and housekeeper at the White House. Artists both, they rue the prospect that the Roosevelts won't be around to appreciate the food.

The steward is H. F. Nesbitt and the housekeeper is his wife, Mrs. Nesbitt looked up today from her desk on which there were 20 cook books.

"They are both connoisseurs, the president and Mrs. Roosevelt," she said. "It is a pleasure to prepare for persons who understand good foods."

Nesbitt (who explains "we're not politicians, just friends of the Roosevelts come down to look after them") displayed the ham closet he built for "the boss" in a century-old milk house.

boards are stocked like a grocery store; refrigerator rooms filled.

"Congress certainly encourages them in it. All during the session, the finest foods, pride of some particular state, pour into the White House."

"We've had mangoes from Florida and persimmons from California," Mrs. Nesbitt said, "frog-legs from Florida, cantaloupes from the middle west, Prize apples, Prize peaches, cherries, pears, prize beef."

"Oysters, clams. A Nova Scotia salmon that weighed 40 pounds—a beautiful fish. Terrapin."

When the fig appeared to please, Mr. Nesbitt winked, "Well—he ate those all right!"

See this French dressing—four generations have been making that. And the labels on this honey: "From Vice President John N. Garner for Mrs. Roosevelt."
