TOPSY TURVY SCENES IN NEW YORK APARTMENT OF CAPTAIN PODERJAY DEPICTED BY MAID

Twinkles

Everything you read about now is "hot." Topping the list is "hot" oil. Then the weather. And politics.

Texas will be given $12,291,253 for highway building, providing the state will match these funds. Gray county has learned to dread the inclusion of such words as "providing."

Secretary - to - the - President Howe is said to have telephoned to a certain West Texas newspaper man, saying that he was Howe and would the Texan be able to talk to the president?

"Oh yeah? And I'm the Prince of Wales," said the Texan with much skepticism. It continued on for several minutes and a telegram had to be sent to confirm the arrangement.

Pampa youngsters like their pranks and some of them are worrisome and even destructive. But, thinking back over scenes of campuses teeming with hundreds of children, we conclude that most of them remain quietly at home.

Newspaper men are too often misrepresented. Many are devoted church members. One editor, Robert Raikes of Gloucester, England, founded the first Sunday school in 1783. A good idea perpetuates itself when its sponsor dies.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: We seek in vain for expert opinion on the governor's race. Clint Small is making Edgar Witt is at least making progress downstate. James V. Alfred is dividing his following between Hunter, but has a strong following in most sections. Maury Hughes isn't taken seriously. If you can predict what C. C. McDonald can do in pocketing the Ferguson "vest pocket" vote, you can put Small and Alfred in a hat and likely pick a finalist. With solid support in most of West Texas, Clint Small has what

Lon Smith Says Field Salaries Are Insufficient

MEXIA, June 21. (AP)—Lon A. Smith, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, said today that the main trouble in the East Texas oil fields was the commission's inability to pay sufficient salaries to get trained, technical men to aid in enforcement.

He said he had nominated R. D. Parker, who recently resigned as the commission's chief enforcement officer in East Texas, and refused to sign the order restricting him to East Texas.

"The oil men meeting in Dallas asked that he be given power and I was in favor of giving it to him. He fired four or five of Mr. Terrell's (C. V. Terrell, member of the commission) men out there and Mr. Terrell is sick you know. He got mad about it. Parker fired some of my men, too, but I haven't asked that they be put back.

"Of course, Jim Ferguson is trying to elect Charley McDonald governor and a called session right now might help him if the new oil and gas commission is put over, but it might hurt him if it wasn't. I think most of the legislators would prefer not to be called right now however. They have election campaigns of their own."

'DON JUAN' OF VIENNA ALSO MADE LOVE TO VIOLINIST

NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—A topsy turvy scene, with papers strewn over the floor, met the gaze of a negro maid who entered the apartment of Captain Ivan Poderjay on December 22, last.

This disclosure, from a reliable source, was contrary to earlier, less reliable reports, and it added new facts to the already multi-faceted mystery of the missing Agne Tullerson.

Still another new disclosure, from the same reliable source, was to the effect the dashing, now suspected, Poderjay made love to a widowed concert violinist simultaneously with the courting of Miss Tullerson, the successful woman lawyer.

The police learned the concert violinist repulsed him. They learned also that Poderjay attempted to induce her father, a patent attorney, to join him in business, but dropped the idea when the patent attorney demanded Poderjay provide part of the capital.

The negro maid, detectives said, was Flora Miller. She left the Poderjay apartment at 11 o'clock on December 20, then seeing Miss Tullerson for the last time. She was ordered by Poderjay to return on the 22nd.

When she came back, she told the police, the apartment was awry. Poderjay was pouring over correspondence and papers. Other papers were strewn over the floor. The four trunks—around which the interest of the mystery centers—were packed and ready to be sent to the steamer.

The maid cleaned the apartment and destroyed the papers on the floor in an incinerator. Poderjay, who is reported to have stayed alone in his cabin with one of his trunks through his voyage to England, now is held in Vienna as a bigamist suspect.

Accused Slayer Is Held in Jail

DEL RIO, June 21. (AP)—Rafael Dominguez stood charged today with murder and conspiracy to commit murder as the result of the fatal shooting of L. C. Henry, customs inspector, here Tuesday. He was lodged in the municipal jail of Villa Acuna, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from Del Rio.

A. E. Steinmetz, sheriff, learned that Dominguez was roaming the streets of the Mexican town and as soon as Henry died filed one complaint charging murder with Toribio Robledo and Jose Rayma to kill and murder Henry.

As soon as the complaints were certified, authorities were dispatched across the international border and effected the arrest of Dominguez. The district attorney here then interviewed him and identified him from photographs which Henry had said were those of his slayer.

Under Mexican law he may be held in the Villa Acuna jail 72 hours, during which time the American officers must go into Mexican court to establish by evidence that the necessary right-of-way for extradition is sufficient. If sufficient, an order may be entered in which 40 days will be granted before extradition can be instituted through the republic.

Right-of-Way Is Still Cause For Delay on Bridge
Beginning of construction of the contracted Gray county bridge over McClellan creek to serve the oil territory in the eastern part of the county is still delayed for lack of the necessary right-of-way.

Freak Baby

A baby born with more than 50 bone fractures and who suffered two more in handling after birth is the patient in an amazing case in an Indianapolis, Ind., hospital. The child, Caroline Ruby Mercer, a month old on June 16, is shown here with her mother, Mrs. Haniel Mercer, Indianapolis. Physicians think the infant has a fair chance to live and grow into a normal youngster.

Girl Found In Dazed State

IS UNABLE TO GIVE ACCOUNT OF WANDERING

BELIEVE MISSING GIRL WAS VICTIM OF AMNESIA

LONGVIEW, June 21. (AP)—Juanita Taylor, 17-year-old graduate of the Longview high school, who had been missing two days, was returned to her home on the Gladewater highway today by Tyler friends who recognized her from a broadcast description.

Friends said she appeared to be dazed, leading to the belief she might have been a victim of amnesia. She was unable to give members of her family a coherent account of her absence, how she made her way to Tyler or where she spent the time.

A Tyler woman, whose name was not learned, said she saw a girl fitting Juanita's description here yesterday. The girl disappeared after last being seen on the Gladewater highway, en route to the home of a relative.

DEMAND MOVIE CLEANUP

CINCINNATI, O., June 21. (AP)—Four bishops of the Roman Catholic church met representatives of the motion picture industry here today to demand a cleanup of salacious movies. The league, organized barely six months ago, pledges members to stay away from all movies termed salacious and immoral.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 21. (AP)—The Oklahoma City Times says it has learned that the net allowable oil production for the United States for July has been estimated at 2,530,000 barrels daily, an increase of only 2,000 barrels, while about 50,000 barrels will be taken from storage.

MULHOUSE, France, June 21. (AP)—Six persons were killed and eight injured seriously when a commuting train from Wesseling crashed today against the bumper in the main station here. Faulty brakes were blamed for the accident. The bumper is used to prevent the train from going over the end of the track.

Dr. Cole Dies In City After Long Illness

Dr. Archie Cole, one of the veteran physicians of the Panhandle, died at his home here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Cole suffered a breakdown in his health last November and since that time has been unable to take care of his practice.

Dr. and Mrs. Cole made several trips in an effort to build back Dr. Cole's strength, but he felt better in Pampa and has been here for the last two months.

Dr. Cole had practiced medicine in Pampa since 1914. He moved here from Mobeile where he had a large practice.

Dr. Cole is survived by his wife and two daughters, Janet and Lucille. The body lies at rest at the G. C. Malone funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Today Is Longest Day of Year—And Hottest, Perhaps

DALLAS, June 21. (AP)—Summer will begin officially at 8:48 o'clock tonight but high temperatures of this season already have struck Texas.

Today also was the longest of the year, with the sun rising at 5:18 a. m. and setting at 7:39 p. m. in the northern hemisphere.

The mercury soared above 100 degrees in the Lone Star state yesterday, several records for the year having been set in the western sectors.

E. A. Davis of Skellytown was in the city last night.

BODY DRAGGED BEHIND AUTO-- GIRL JAILED

BLACK SEIZED WHILE BEING MOVED TO ANOTHER JAIL

KIRBYVILLE, June 21. (AP)—Two hundred white men last night took Son Griggs, negro, 30, from officers and hanged him after he had been seen in the company of a 17-year-old white girl.

The mob stopped the automobile of officers as they took the negro to Orange for safe-keeping, threw a rope around his neck, dragged him over the lap of one of the officers and hanged him.

Seventeen shots struck him as he dangled in the air. The crowd cut the body down and dragged it over the country behind an automobile then dumped it, nude and mangled, near the door of a box factory commissary.

Both the negro and the white girl were jailed and when the sheriff's office was warned that a mob was going to break into the jail, officers decided to take him to Orange. The mob met the officers about seven miles from Kirbyville.

The negro had been held a day on charges of vagrancy, keeping a disorderly house and making insulting remarks to a woman. The woman was charged with vagrancy.

Johnson Claims NRA Critics Are 'Out to Get Me'

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 21. (AP)—A sharp warning that the blue eagle "hasn't lost its appeal" was General Hugh S. Johnson's answer today to the critics "who would hang my hide on the fence to dry."

"They are out to get NRA," he told the National Retail Credit association last night, "and some of them think the way to get NRA is to get me."

"NRA," he continued, "is bigger than any man or set of men. Don't kid yourselves, this thing is 'the goods.' Business is for it, labor is for it, the public is for it."

Against NRA, he charged are "only a jabbering, moaning clique or oppositionists."

The blue eagle, Johnson predicted, will "stay put" as an emblem of clean business.

Flour Given Away. He said the flour was sent to the Terrill Laboratories in Amarillo for analysis, but later ordered mailed to E. G. Engledow, then Gray county district attorney, appointed by former governor Dan Moody. Engledow, who now lives at Pilsburg, Texas, testified that he received a small package in the mail without any accompanying explanation, and that he gave it to a negro hotel porter, believing it to be a sample of flour from a new mill.

Arrival of hot weather has brought the necessity of increasing the city health department to be improved, the park maintained, the swimming pool operated, and a general clean-up campaign pushed.

City Manager C. L. Stine outlined the city program this morning in answer to complaints and suggestions being received from various sources. He reported that a full-time man had been placed in Central park and that he will be given assistance when needed. Plans for lighting the park are also being made.

The fire department is painting all fire hydrants and no parking zones around the plugs, and is assisting in a clean-up of city property.

The swimming pool, which has been on the receiving end of several complaints is operated in accordance with state and federal regulations, the city manager declared. The pool is drained whenever the city health department judges it necessary. A filter system has been installed and is operated daily. It returns water to the pool as clean as water from the hydrants, it is claimed.

NEGROES WERE GIVEN FATAL FLOUR SAMPLE

WITNESS TELLS ABOUT ORANGE EATEN BY DEAD WOMAN

Flour in the Shockley case, analyzed by him, contained .79 per cent arsenic, or enough to kill a normal person in every biscuit made from such flour, it was testified this afternoon by W. B. Wardlow, state chemist.

But five buckets of molasses of the sort sent him would have been required for a lethal dose, he added. Witnesses have testified that the molasses made them sick but not seriously so.

BY HARRY MONTGOMERY, Associated Press Staff Writer. Judge W. R. Ewing ruled early today that testimony regarding the disinterment of the body of W. E. Huggins on March 19 and evidence obtained by a subsequent autopsy were admissible, and the state proceeded with its case against the Rev. Louis H. Shockley, who is accused of poisoning Huggins and members of his family.

Testimony in the case was halted late yesterday and the jury withdrawn while Clem Calhoun, of defense counsel, argued that the disinterment was illegal because it was not properly authorized and the defendant was not present, and that the evidence thus obtained therefore was not admissible.

Judge Ewing ruled without comment, merely stating that the defense motion to exclude the testimony was overruled.

The jury was recalled and Special Prosecutor John Sturgeon resumed his questioning of Dr. C. B. Batson, McLean physician, regarding the autopsy on Huggins' body.

Dr. Batson testified to removing the vital organs and turning them over to Roy Stout, the deputy sheriff, to be sent to the state chemist at Austin for analysis. A lock of hair, some of the beard, and scraps of skin also were sent, he said.

Under cross-examination by Claude Williams, of the defense, Dr. Batson said he treated Mrs. Nora Erwin, and her three sons—Terrell, who died two months later, Ernest, and Lloyd—before W. T. Hudgins' death, and that he diagnosed their ailment then as arsenic poisoning.

Addie Erwin, the wife, who died the day Hudgins was buried, did not come to him for treatment, Batson testified, although she was the second to die.

Shockley is accused of poisoning all of them.

Dr. Batson said two other McLean physicians had diagnosed the ailment as influenza. He said the Erwins expressed no suspicions then, but stated that they became ill after eating biscuit, and brought him a sample of the flour in a baking powder can.

He said the flour was sent to the Terrill Laboratories in Amarillo for analysis, but later ordered mailed to E. G. Engledow, then Gray county district attorney, appointed by former governor Dan Moody. Engledow, who now lives at Pilsburg, Texas, testified that he received a small package in the mail without any accompanying explanation, and that he gave it to a negro hotel porter, believing it to be a sample of flour from a new mill.

Following Engledow, the stand testimony that he and two other negroes ate gray made from the flour and became ill.

STINE ANSWERS SWIMMING POOL COMPLAINTS Residents To Get Mail At New P. O. Sunday

FORMAL OPENING WILL BE ABOUT MIDDLE OF JULY

Mail will be transferred to the new post office late Sunday afternoon, where it will be available to persons who have paid their box rent and secured keys. Those not having paid rent and obtained keys will not be able to get their mail Sunday evening.

Moving of furniture and equipment which can be used in the new building will begin early Sunday morning, and the post office staff will be ready to serve the public in the beautiful new building Monday morning.

Post office officials urge box holders to call at once, pay their box rent, and secure keys to boxes in the new office. Box holders also are urged to secure change of address slips wherever box changes are necessary. More than 50 per cent of the box holders in Pampa will have to be given new box numbers.

Persons now securing mail through general delivery but who wish to have their mail sent to a box should also call and sign for a box number. Formal opening of the new Pampa post office will likely take place about the middle of July, it was believed today. Actually, the building is virtually ready now.

Swift Decisions on Unfair Practices May Be Meted Out by Business Court.

BY J. R. BRACKETT. (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—The government, an authoritative source disclosed today, has forged a new weapon to strike at monopolistic oppression of the "little fellow" and chiseling.

By a far-reaching change in procedure, this source said, the federal trade commission is to become a business court to mete out swifter decisions on charge of unfair practices.

The new weapon, involving a basic change of the relations between the commission and NRA, is contained in a technical order issued by the commission.

As this order was explained, the emphasis is to be placed on the commission's judicial function. Hitherto its operations have been three-fold. It investigated, made complaints, and then set in judgment on its own complaints.

ONE YEAR OF THE PWA

The nation's greatest effort to create employment through a great program of public works is now just one year old.

A report on what has been accomplished has just been written by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, as public works administrator. It is an admirable report in its candor.

Ickes says frankly that the PWA "has won in many sectors, and lost in others. It has made errors, corrected its mistakes, and doubtless will make more errors, to be corrected in their turn. . . . But it is a wheelhorse in the recovery team . . . and it is pulling its weight."

Much criticism has come to the PWA, centered on two points: First, that it was slow in getting under way, and that increased employment was not quickly felt; second, that many cities which needed PWA money most were denied it. So it is good that Ickes now sums up what has been accomplished.

The whole $3,300,000,000 was allotted by Jan. 1, 1934. More than a billion dollars of the fund has actually been paid in cash. Some 16,000 construction projects have been provided for, most of them now under way.

How many men have been given work? Ickes is careful not to say, because he feels that any estimate on that basis would be misleading. You might say, for instance that two million men had received employment. But if they all worked one week and then were laid off, that wouldn't be much work, after all.

So Ickes makes his estimate on hours of work provided. There were "1,418,000,000 hours of honest work at honest wages on direct construction site employment only to men who otherwise would have passed those hours in the ranks of the idle."

That means 177,250,000 eight-hour days, or 29,541,666 weeks' work. Or it means 20 weeks' work for nearly a million and a half men. Almost as much again is assured in coming months from allotments already made, and it is further estimated that two hours of indirect work is provided in producing the materials for these jobs for every hour actually put in them directly.

So the PWA administration has provided a vast amount of work, and in the heavy and construction industries chiefly, where it was most needed. In the main, the huge fund seems to have been spent for projects of value to the public, and without administrative scandal.

IRATE CLEANERS SCRAP CODE, SCORE JOHNSON, HIT AT N. R. A.

CLAIM RECENT ACTION RUINED COOPERATION

INDUSTRY ABANDONS WAGE AND HOUR REQUIREMENTS

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—NRA, its code abandoned by cleaners and dyers, struck back today with threats of reprisals—removal of the blue eagle and "other steps."

Deputy Administrator Sol Rosenblatt gave this answer to an announcement by the code authority of the cleaning and dyeing trade that it had discarded wage and hour provisions, all that was left of the code.

Accusing Hugh S. Johnson of bad faith, the executive committee of the code authority wrote President Roosevelt a denunciation of NRA's recent action in scrapping price control and other fair trade practices of the code.

"Abandonment of price control," the authority said yesterday, "has resulted in complete demoralization of the trade in large centers."

"Already evidences of vicious racketeering practices which had been eliminated under the code are beginning to appear in different sections of the country, and we cannot hope to maintain stabilized conditions and eliminate the chiseling element without enforcement of this all important feature."

Therefore, said the letter, the establishments would not bind themselves to abide by the clauses designed to keep wages from falling and hours from rising beyond certain levels.

Rosenblatt, in charge of the code, countered with a statement that those provisions were still in force: that the code authority was in reality abolished by NRA's recent action.

The committee's letter, signed by Chairman N. J. Harkness of Silver Spring, Md., and nine others, complained that General Johnson had given assurances that no material changes would be made in the code.

The letter came from the cleaners and dyers authority said fully 97 per cent of the 11,000 plant owners and the 175,000 to 200,000 retail outlets in the trade "are anxious, ready, willing and able to comply with the said trade practice provisions, with reasonable cooperation on the part of the government in enforcing compliance on the other 3 per cent."

PAMPA NRA COMPLIANCE BOARD DISCONTINUED AND WORK SHIFTED TO DALLAS

Local NRA compliance boards, established nine months ago by national recovery administrator, Hugh S. Johnson, in various cities and towns of Texas, including Pampa, to assist in administering the president's reemployment agreement, were relieved of further responsibilities and passed out of existence on Friday, June 15.

The duties which they have been performing, now greatly reduced in volume since permanent codes have replaced the president's agreement, will hereafter be performed by the office of the state NRA compliance director at Houston, Dallas, and El Paso, to whom all complaints concerning NRA violations should in the future be sent.

P. Buckler was chairman of the local board.

Letters have been sent to all compliance boards in the United States by General Johnson, conveying the thanks of the president and of the administration for the almost invaluable services which they have rendered in connection with the organization stage of NRA procedure, which is now yielding place to the second, or administration stage. He pointed out that although the boards were originally set up to serve for a period of only forty-five days, that period had been extended from time to time and that "each time you have willingly and voluntarily continued to devote your time and efforts to aid in the drive for national recovery. The president and this administration fully realize the great amount of work entailed in performing the duties which were assigned to you, and sincerely appreciate the manner in which you have unselfishly donated your services in this emergency. The splendid results obtained through your efforts are to a considerable degree responsible for the success the NRA has achieved thus far in attaining the objectives of the recovery program."

Approximately seventy-five thousand cases have passed through the hands of the local compliance boards during the past nine months. Many of them have been adjusted locally without need for further action. In the state of Texas alone, the local compliance boards, of which there were 339, have successfully adjusted 453 cases, involving the restitution of back wages amounting to $10,598.74. Literally thousands of other cases were adjusted, a record well deserving the appreciation of the president and the administration.

The best protection against tire failures during the summer months is a set of sturdy new tires, such as the new Goodyear "G-3", which was designed to give maximum protection against blowouts under the most adverse conditions.

"Motor traffic is moving faster than ever before and there is considerable congestion on main highways. An unexpected blowout or other tire failure may run your car into the ditch—or into a lane of traffic going the opposite direction.

"If you are not sure about the condition of your tires, any trained service station attendant will gladly make a thorough inspection of them for you."

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 21.—Col. William C. Harlee in charge of replacement activities of the U. Hot Roads and Old Tires Bring Threat of Wrecks

Worn tires and roads made hot by the summer sun are a combination that results in many serious accidents, according to Jack Baker, local Goodyear dealer.

"Heat is the greatest enemy of tire life, and any weakness existing in a tire is likely to result in a blowout when traveling at moderate or high speeds on hot roads. Even when a motorist escapes personal injury and damage to his car from a blowout, such an accident invariably necessitates a tire change—an unpleasant task at best."

Ruth Roosevelt Sleeps and Cries As Mother Knits

CLEVELAND, O., June 21 (AP)—For Ruth Chandler Roosevelt, a trip to see her grandfather, Franklin D. Roosevelt, is just a long, long ride—and not very exciting.

Away from home for the first time in her six weeks of life, Ruth went by train today, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, to the Hyde Park home of the president.

It will be the first meeting with the president for Ruth and her mother.

Despite moments of excitement, the baby has alternately slept and chattered contentedly through most of the journey.

From Fort Worth to Cleveland, the family rode all day yesterday on planes, Ruth taking it like a veteran traveler. She was asleep when her nurse carried her off the ship at the Cleveland airport.

The change from plane to train had its moments. Mrs. Roosevelt, with her knitting on her arm and looking very smart in a red plaid dress, feared one of the traveling bags was missing.

The bag was found and Mrs. Roosevelt, the nurse and the baby boarded one taxicab and the baby's father another for the 15-mile ride to the union terminal. The first cab had a flat tire, but the baby didn't seem to mind being awakened.

At the terminal it was another matter. While her father bustled himself with the bags, Ruth pulled the light blue blanket from her face and cried.

There was a problem of getting sterilized water, but the nurse finally succeeded in quelling the loud wail with a bottle before the train pulled out, bound east.

Flat Air Mail Rate of 6c An Ounce Planned

A flat air mail rate of six cents an ounce after July 1 was announced late yesterday afternoon by the post office department, an associated Press report from Washington revealed. The present rate is eight cents an ounce for the first ounce and 13 cents for each additional ounce.

Local postoffice officials were well pleased with the announcement. It means that air mail postage will be only twice the amount of regular postage and that with the new air-mail service being installed to allow mail from Pampa to make connections to all points, sending of air mail will be greater than at any other time.

New air mail stamps should be received here within the next few days. The first lot will probably be gobbled up by collectors, who will also be purchasing many of the old type air mail stamps.

Connally Will Come to Texas to Launch Campaign

DALLAS, June 21. (Special)—United States Senator Tom Connally will return to Texas immediately after the adjournment of congress, and will take personal charge of his campaign for reelection for a second term in the senate, J. P. Rice, of Dallas, recently appointed state-wide campaign manager for the Texas junior senator announced here today.

Connally will deliver half a dozen or more addresses, one more in each section of the state, in which he will review his record in the senate and give an accounting of his official actions to his constituency in Texas, Rice said.

"In the meanwhile," said Rice, Senator Connally will remain in Washington, doing his duty, representing the people of Texas. Since the Roosevelt administration took office, the senator has been one of the president's close counselors, and one of the leading sponsors entrusted by Mr. Roosevelt with the task of piloting administration legislation through the upper house. In his absence from the state, the senator's interests are being looked after by his friends, and he has asked me to publicly thank the thousands of loyal friends and constituents who are actively campaigning in his behalf from one end of Texas to the other."

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Sergeant Harper just has told Pierre Dufresne and Mrs. Dufresne that one of the other is guilty of the murder of two men in the Dufresne house two days before. And now he is shocked by the fact that Donaghy the Dufresne chauffeur, has been found dead with a note beside him saying he was committing suicide and had been the murderer himself. He tells where a mysterious piece of rope and other articles may be found.

Chapter 48.

METHOD OF ESCAPE

Harper went on digging out the contents of the fire. Out came a worn pair of man's suede gloves, a leather wallet with the gold initials "H. D." stamped inside, a key case holding three keys, a pocket handkerchief with the initial "D" in one corner, a thin gold watch with a link chain, a cigarette lighter, and a man's signet ring with the same initials intertwined.

Dusting off his hands, he took stock of the collection. The use of that thin, tough rope with its ringed ends came readily to his mind. He looked through the snow-trimmed panes toward the big house. That baffling escape from the scene of the crime had been a simple affair after all, once one had a glimpse of the modus operandi. He put down the rope and went over to the fingerprint man. "How does it stack up?" he asked.

"The man looked up. 'They're smelly,' he replied, 'and there's not a perfect print on the gun, but there's no doubt about them checking, if that's what you mean.'"

Harper approached the police surgeon. "Find anything, Doc?"

Harper made a cursory examination of the other rooms, then gathered up the articles retrieved from the old tire, wrapped them in a towel, beckoned to O'Connell, and left the garage.

Sending the policeman ahead with the bundle, Harper made a complete circuit of the walls of the main house, with occasional digressions over the snow-covered grounds. When he had finished he understood exactly the use which had been made of that brownish yellow rope with its ringed ends. He was just about to re-enter the house when he saw Lafferty's spare figure hastening in at the gate. The tall detective was greatly excited over this latest development and plied Harper with questions as they proceeded to the breakfast room, where O'Connell had put the recovered evidence on display.

Lafferty seized on the skein of rope at once. "Hello, what's this?" he queried.

"You are holding in your hands the answer to the great puzzle—how did the murderer get away without leaving any traces in the snow? With five minutes' practice you or I or any one could do it as well."

He pointed through the window. "You know the small porch on this side of the house? Well, there's a sturdy iron hook driven into the wall right by the porch. And do you see that tree, just on the other side of the boundary wall? Another hook was driven into that."

"The rings on each end of the rope hooked on to those, leaving the rope seven or eight feet above the ground. This miraculous escape was made by the murderer going along that rope, hand over hand, with the feet drawn up clear of the snow."

"The big detective plumped down in a chair. 'Well, I'll be damned!' he exclaimed.

"It certainly was a neat stunt," Harper resumed. "Not nearly as hard as it sounds. A man of Donaghy's build and vigor would find it child's play."

"But wait a minute," Lafferty interrupted, "what happened to the rope afterward? It wasn't there when we took charge. When was it put up and who took it down?"

"The hooks could have been driven in any time, but I think it was all done recently. The rope was strung across late that afternoon, after dusk, before the snow was heavy on the ground. After the murders the killer swung over the porch rail, went hand over hand until he reached the boundary wall, then swung himself clear over the top and dropped in the adjoining grounds."

"But how was the rope removed?" Lafferty persisted.

"Oh, that was easy. The end hooked to the tree was taken down, and by sharply twitching the line upward and snaking it at the same time the end at the porch slid off the hook. Then a quick jerk brought it flying back over the wall, much like cracking a long whip."

"However, the jerk wasn't quite quick enough, and the free end of the rope dropped into the snow momentarily. Do you remember that odd gash we found in the snow when we were checking up the footprints? There was our clue, but we couldn't make anything of it."

Lafferty became pensive. "That's all right as far as it goes, but it doesn't clear up everything. What about Mr. Dufresne—and Mrs. Dufresne—the ambush—the crank letters—the phoney alibi?"

Harper put the articles back in the bundle. "Well, clear all that up later," he said. "There must be a fantastic kind of misunderstanding between some of the persons in this house. Bring Andrews and the Whitmores in here, will you?"

In a few moments they all filed in, and Harper invited them to be seated. They looked at Sergeant Harper expectantly.

"You know what has happened," he began; "there's no need to go into that. Now, which one of you was the last to see Joseph Donaghy alive?"

There was a rapid interchange of questioning glances, then Andrews spoke up. "I believe that I was."

Harper looked at them. "We'll consider it settled, then, that Andrews was the last to see Joseph Donaghy alive. He left the house about six o'clock. Did any of you see a light in his room during the night?"

There was no answer. Harper leaned back in his chair. "Tell me about the discovery of the body."

Mrs. Whitmore took up the tale. "We are the first up in the morning," she explained. "I came downstairs a few minutes after seven this morning and John soon after that. There are a number of things that need doing right away, regulating the thermostat and things like that. At a quarter to eight I rang the garage on the house 'phone."

"Was that usual?" Harper interrupted.

"Oh, yes. We always get Joseph up that way. He has to get out of bed to answer the 'phone, and I let it ring till he answers."

"How long did you ring this morning?"

"Quite a while. Then I got angry at him and hung up. When John came up from the cellar I told him to go across and get him up."

Placid John Whitmore nodded sagely to this account. The detective turned to him. "Tell us your part."

"I went out to the garage," Whitmore began, "never dreaming what I was going to run into—"

"Were there any footprints in the snow when you went there?"

"No, sir."

"Was the door locked?"

"Of course. I had taken the key from the rack in the kitchen. I went upstairs and walked right in to Joe's room. When I saw what was on the bed I guess I just stood there dumbfounded."

"Did you move the body? Or touch anything in the room?"

"Oh, no, sir," John answered hastily. "I felt queer all over, sort of faint. I must have run down the steps and back to the house."

It was Mrs. Whitmore's turn to nod confirmation.

"I was there when Whitmore came back, Sergeant," O'Connell broke in. "He looked like he'd just seen a ghost. As soon as I understood what had happened I ran out to the garage. There were only two tracks in the snow. Whitmore's going and coming back. I looked around the room, saw the letter

GEHRIG CLOUTS 18TH HOMER AS YANKS WIN TWO STRAIGHT

Cleveland's Indians Lose Doubleheader — Detroit Beats Washington 13-10

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

With Babe Ruth playing his last big league season—according to his word—Lou Gehrig appears ready to become the Yankee's slugging hero instead of merely the Babe's understudy.

For the last couple of days Gehrig has been playing with a chip-pledge on the big toe of his right foot, but it hasn't interfered with his socking the ball for his iron man streak of over 1400 consecutive games. He clouted his 18th homer of the season yesterday to bring the Yanks the first of two victories over Cleveland that gave them a half-game margin over the Tigers.

With the score tied in the ninth, Lou rode the ball out of the park to gain a 3-2 Yankee victory and give Lefty last couple of days Gehrig his 12th homer.

Red Ruffing followed that up with a one-hit hurling job to win the second game 3-0, driving in one run himself and letting only two runners reach first.

The Yanks needed both decisions to stay on top as Mickey Cochrane's Detroit club came through with a 13-10 victory over Washington in an eleven inning battle. Doubles by Charlie Gehringer and Hank Greenberg touched off the winning rally after Heinie Manush had struck two Senators homers.

Boston's Red Sox moved into fourth place ahead of Cleveland by slugging out 18 hits and a 14 to 9 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The St. Louis Browns, hitting almost as hard, rocked the Athletics 11 to 3 despite Bob Johnson's 20th circuit drive of the year.

New York's other pennant contender, the Giants, added a full game to their National league lead by slugging the third-place Cubs 12 to 7. Two homers by Mel Ott, featured an 18-hit assault on four Cub pitchers.

Meanwhile the Brooklyn Dodgers battered out a 9 to 5 decision over the second-place Cardinals as Van Mungo, although touched up freely, won his eleventh game of the year. The loss left the Cards five full games behind New York.

After a day in the second division, Pittsburgh's Pirates returned to fourth place with a 6 to 5 decision over Boston, gained when Manager Pie Traynor scored in the ninth on Pinky Whitney's error. Down toward the cellar, Philadelphia and Cincinnati split a double header. The Reds staved off a late rally to win the opener 6-4 but yielded 15-10 in the second slugging match which produced a total of 34 hits.

Borgan 'Rides' Phillips Team As Bad Sports

Qualifying on Dallas Course Begins Tuesday

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, June 21. (AP)—Pictorial Brook Hollow Golf and Country club with its million-dollar par 35-35-70 course was pronounced perfectly conditioned today for holding the thirty-fourth annual Trans-Mississippi tournament which starts Tuesday with the 36-hole qualifying test.

The recent Texas Golf association championship was played at Brook Hollow and left the greens slightly battered and put-worn. After a series of "shoe" greens have returned to their normal condition, which means Trans-Mississippi participants will have eighteen of the finest greens in Texas challenging their putting accuracy. Brook Hollow fairways are perfect the year-round. Players will find the course exacting because of numerous traps and tree-lined fairways but otherwise they will experience trouble finding fault with the course.

J. Wallace Bostick, tournament chairman, was enthused when he received entry cards from Rodney Ellis, Jr., Omaha and Zell Easton of Oklahoma City. Ellis is a hometown rival of Johnny Goodman. He was runner-up to Walter Emery of Oklahoma for last year's intercollegiate championship. He was also runner-up to Jack Westland of the Big West. Amateur Ellis has defeated Goodman in state amateur competition but Goodman is Omaha's greatest star because he won the 1933 national open and once beat Bobby Jones in the first round of the national amateur.

Coltco Teams To Play McLean, Amarillo Nines

The two Coltco baseball teams of LeFors will be in action Sunday afternoon. The gasoline division team will be at home to the Amalie Oilers of Amarillo and the carbon black nine will invade McLean for a league game.

Amalie took a 6 to 1 contest from the gasoline boys in Amarillo last Sunday and the latter are smarting for revenge. The Coltco boys didn't take the Amarillo threat very seriously until they were behind and then they couldn't catch up.

Warner, new Coltco hurler who comes from Okla. ed, will get a chance to show his stuff. He downed the Miller Pharmacy team of Amarillo 13 to 1 three weeks ago. Poindexter will be behind the bat.

The Coltco nine has entered the Borgan Invitation tournament which opens June 30. One or two players will be added before the team goes to Borgan for the opening game. Manager Cobb has not released the name of his new material.

The game in McLean will see two evenly matched clubs in action. Few points separate the two teams in the league race. McLean will rely on Aycock, former Pampa, to do the hurling with Caddy, another former Pampa star, behind the bat. Coltco will probably start White on the mound with Burgess, new catch, receiving. There is a chance, however, that Vodie Clemmons, youngster of the team, will get the nod to meet his old teammates.

Derby Day for Races to Attract Wide Interest

AMARILLO, June 21.—Derby day at the races in Amarillo next Monday, June 25, will bring together some of the best 3-year-old thoroughbreds in the entire southwest.

American Red, a horse that was once considered for the Kentucky derby this spring, will head the list of great horses entered in this event. American Red will soon go to the major tracks where he is expected to hold his own with most of the present crop of colts.

Plans are being made to make Derby day here one of the year's greatest events and to lay a foundation for the continuance of the running here each spring so loud there is nothing hippodrome about the Tri-State meeting. The pockeys are first class riders, most of the horses are registered thoroughbreds, and the officials in charge are known throughout the world of racing for their ability.

Besides the derby, six other races will be run Monday in a grand ending of the nine-days meeting.

The races have been successful in every way. Thoroughbreds from many states have vied for glory and cash purses. Patrons have kept up steadily to the point where the races will be held every day with the exception of Sunday until Monday night.

Harmony With Legislature Cited As Vital Factor

JASPER, June 21.—The need of electing a governor who can cooperate with the legislative branch of the state government was stressed by Senator Clint Small in a campaign address here Wednesday night.

Senator Small cited his six years in the state senate as giving him the understanding and experience necessary for a successful administration with the legislature.

"No governor can be successful with the cooperation of the legislative branch," said Senator Small. "I have been under three administrations and I have always appreciated the need of legislative cooperation and understanding.

"So many governors fail to appreciate the fact that legislators have their own problems and fail to give them cooperation in local legislative matters. Naturally, the legislator fails to cooperate with the governor.

"I think my six years in the senate enable me to understand the viewpoint of legislators and that I can get along with them. That is one of the substantial reasons why I believe my candidacy should be given consideration.

17-YEAR-OLD HURLER WINS FROM DALLAS

PAUL SULLIVAN WALKS NINE BUT ALLOWS ONLY 3 HITS

By The Associated Press.

Paul Sullivan, 17-year-old Beaumont southpaw, did not need control yesterday to hand the Dallas Steers their sixth straight defeat. Sullivan was sidly lacking in control, walking nine, but he kept Dallas batters foot-loose at the plate and limited them to three hits to give the Exporters a 2 to 1 victory.

Beaumont's home run in the ninth after the seventh, Phillips batted for Sullivan and singled. Parker ran for Phillips and was forced at second by Patchett, who stole second and scored on Shelley's double to left field.

Taking advantage of Galveston's five errors, the Tulsa Oilers won a close 4 to 2 battle from the Buccaneers when Humbert lost a mound duel to Barnes. Humbert stopped the Oilers with 8 hits but could not pitch well enough to equal the hand-cap his mates put on him by the Oilers. Galveston collected nine hits off Frank Barnes who received flawless support. Newsum, Tulsa infielder, handled 12 chances without a miscue.

The San Antonio Missions added 20 to their pennant lead by slugging another game to their pennant lead. It was a free slugging match. The Missions collected 14 hits off Reid, Moncrief, and Evans. Miller and Caldwell were clouted for 17 hits by the Indians.

Scoring 5 runs in the third inning, Houston got a 7 to 3 verdict over Fort Worth.

Phillips Wins From Coltexo

NINE TO 15

Base hits rattled off the boards around the Phillips baseball park in Borgan last night as the Oilers defeated the Coltexo Gasoline division team of LeFors 9 to 15. The lights in the park had not been repaired and it was impossible to see balls in the outfield and sometimes in the infield.

Warner, new Coltexo hurler, started the game but demonstrated that he is not a night ball pitcher. He was relieved by Croft, who finished the game. Poindexter caught.

Borges's starting hurler, Muroney, failed to go the distance and was relieved by "Peewee" Bass, little lefthander, who finished the game. J. Francis was behind the bat.

Grover Seltz and Ben McLarry of the Roadrunners accompanied the team to Borgan. Seltz collected three hits and McLarry his safely twice. Both played good fielding games despite the lights, or lack of lights. Phillips officials said the lights would be repaired today. They were damaged by a recent windstorm.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21. (AP)—The sleepy old port of New London, famed for the part it played in early American seagoing history and the fact that here Harvard and Yale row four miles every year stirred with excitement today such as it hasn't known in decades.

There were but two topics of conversation. The one still foremost in the citizens' minds was the impending visit of President Roosevelt to the regatta, in which his son, Franklin D. Jr., will pull the No. 6 or in the Harvard freshman shell Friday morning. The other was the startling performance of the Harvard varsity on the eve of the 72nd meeting of these ancient rowing rivals, a performance that completely revised a situation that previously had made Yale's sprint champions a solid favorite.

In the dusk of last evening the Harvard varsity that hasn't won a race all year at two miles rode a flooding tide down the placid Thames and was clocked in a surprise four mile workout at 20 minutes, 44 4-5 seconds. This was considerable back of the record of 20:02 made by the 1916 Crimson eight. It wasn't as good as the 20:44 these same Harvard huskies, stroked by Sam Drury, a junior, made last Saturday in an official time trial. But the majesty in which it was done was most impressive.

President Roosevelt's officials yacht, Sequoia was due to anchor off here during the day. The craft was cruising Long Island Sound last night after putting a pretty question of double allegiance up to the chief executive.

First president to visit the regatta since another, Roosevelt, Theodore, sat in the White House, President Roosevelt, a Harvard man, was awarded an honorary degree by Yale yesterday to further complicate the situation. His son is one of the staunchest members of the Harvard freshman eight that rows Yale Friday morning, along with the meeting of the junior varsities, while the varsity classic is scheduled for 6:30 (E. S. T.) in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hankins of Houston, formerly of this city, are visiting Mrs. Hankins' parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. and Tommy Hammonds.

Gorczyca Weds Goldthwaite in Quick Ceremony

DALLAS, June 21 (AP)—The Lakewood Country club telephone rang yesterday and Larry Nabholz, club professional answered.

"Garry, arrange for a preacher. We're happy and ready to test that claim that two can live as cheaply as one."

Larry smiled as he clicked the receiver back in place.

An hour later Nabholz had arranged everything and was attending the wedding of Miss Annela Gorczyca and Frank Goldthwaite, both of Fort Worth. They were married at the home of the Rev. O. F. Samsbaugh.

It was happy dreams come true for Annela, who is twice the Women's Texas Golf association champion, former Southern champion, three times Fort Worth city champion, and champion of the Fort Worth Women's Golf association invitation. Goldthwaite, who first saw Senator Tom Connally, who this week is coming to Texas to press his candidacy for a second term, also may be able to attend the ceremonies here.

NRA

An explanation is contained in a private memorandum, technical in character. This does not discuss the implications of the order, but it was said these three points are important:

1. The small business man may appear before the commission to argue his case if a code authority has complained. He thereby obtains a legal forum not previously in existence.
2. Similarly the code authority must argue its case before the commission.
3. The commission sits as a non-partisan judge.

The order in point was issued in the case of three rubber concerns which NRA accused of violating price fixing provisions of the code.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 21 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—The Kerrville wool in Texas to the amount of about one million pounds was reported to have been turned over to an eastern mill through a Boston house. SHOCKLEY

"I don't care much about the money. My children would squabble over it. My preacher son-in-law already has borrowed $400 and is asking for more."

Account for Shame.

Harvey Huggins, Shamrock jeweler and grandson of the late W. T. Huggins, testified regarding the alleged suicide of his uncle, Terry Huggins, at Erick, Okla., December 26, 1930, and accounted for the mysterious orange which Addie Erwin ate shortly before her death. He said Addie's husband, Terry, took some oranges to the Huggins' home that afternoon. He was the first of several witnesses questioned regarding the orange to claim any knowledge of it.

The witness became somewhat confused regarding the first person to reach his uncle's body during cross-examination and Calhoun pounced on the opening:

"Harvey, did you kill your Uncle Terry? Turn to that jury and tell them," Calhoun shouted.

"I did not," he replied, facing the jury.

"Some of your family still aren't satisfied about your uncle's death, are they?" Calhoun continued.

"My aunt at Canadian (Mrs. Lillie Simpson) isn't," he answered.

He said he didn't know whether any powder burns were found on his uncle's body.

The state introduced 40 personal checks which Howard Huggins identified as checks he had given his mother since she separated from his father in 1911. They totaled $385.

On cross-examination the witness admitted that his son, Harvey, now a Shamrock jeweler, lives with "Grandma" Huggins in McLean from the time he entered grade school in 1911 until he graduated about 1923. At the request of Calhoun, Huggins selected the checks which he had given his mother since his son graduated. There were three totaling $35.

"So you paid your old mother $350 to keep your boy in school, feed him and keep him, for 10 or 12 years, and you're up here telling this jury how much money you gave her," Calhoun asked.

Huggins gave her a lot of other things—groceries, on legal advice, but occasionally, and other things," Huggins replied.

A near fistie encounter between Calhoun and Huggins threw the courtroom into all uproar during this heated cross-examination.

Calhoun approached the witness with a check which had been introduced into evidence in his hands, and at the same time belittling a question. Huggins jumped to his feet and the two clinched until Judge Ewing left his seat to intervene.

"You sit down," he commanded Huggins. "I'll see that this man stays in his place."

"I'm not going to do anything, Your Honor," Calhoun said.

"I'm not afraid of him," said Huggins.

Calhoun immediately apologized to the court.

Dr. C. B. Batsou, McLean physician, was the next witness called by the state. He testified to treating Mrs. Nora Erwin and her three sons, Lloyd, Ernest, and Terry.

"Did you treat Terry before his death?" Sturgeon asked him.

"I did."

"What did you diagnose his trouble?"

"Arsenic poisoning."

"Did you treat him for that?"

"I did."

Describes Symptoms

Dr. Batsou described the symptoms of the affliction from which the Erwins suffered as: Cramping, nausea, with occasional vomiting, watery diarrhea, red rash, swelling of the ankles and under the eyes, sneezing, watery discharge from the eyes and nose, and albumen in the urine.

He said they walked with a peculiar gait which could not grip anything in their hands because of muscular paralysis. Lloyd, the youngest son, finally could not walk at all.

The physician testified that Terry brought him a sample of flour, purportedly from the Huggins' bin, shortly after he began treatment. He said the flour, in a baking powder can, was sent to an Amarillo laboratory for analysis.

He also told of addressing a package to the state chemist at Austin which contained a sample of the flour and a bucket of syrup which Shockley allegedly gave to Mrs. Erwin.

When the first question was asked leading up to a recent autopsy on Huggins' body, Calhoun requested that the jury be withdrawn. His objections to the introduction of evidence thus obtained halted testimony for the remainder of the afternoon, and were before the court at adjournment.

Harvard Makes Place For Poor Boy in College

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 21 (AP)—President James Bryant Conant of Harvard university today urged the universities of the country to stand firm by their principle "which insures the right of free inquiry and free debate."

In his address at the annual Harvard alumni association exercises, President Conant announced a change in Harvard's scholarship program whereby the deserving student would receive essentially his entire expense, and a slight letting up of some of the rules concerning the work of undergraduates.

President Conant said that it was not as easy as it once was for men to work their way through college.

"It is questionable whether brilliant scholars," he said, "should have their energies diverted by being forced to do many tasks to increase their income. Or ideal should be to have sufficiently large scholarships for the upper ten or fifteen per cent of the class so that a really poor boy would receive essentially his entire expenses."

Cruelty Charged In Richardson's Trial for Murder

VERNON, June 21 (AP)—Ray Will, first husband of the second wife of Charles S. Richardson, on trial for the slaying of his son, Elga, testified that the defendant was a frequent visitor in his home in California before he and his wife were divorced in September, 1933.

Richardson said yesterday that he married Mrs. Will in November. Will also testified that Elga had come to the Will home several times to see his father and on one occasion tried to persuade him to return home because of his mother (Richardson's first wife who was ill) was worse.

Will came to Texas by airplane last night and arrived here from Fort Worth this morning. He was the last state witness.

The British prisoners were admitted in small boats. Naval aviators spotted them, and brought them to a British airplane carrier, anchored near an American war vessel.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 21 (AP)—President James Bryant Conant of Harvard university today urged the universities of the country to stand firm by their principle "which insures the right of free inquiry and free debate."

In his address at the annual Harvard alumni association exercises, President Conant announced a change in Harvard's scholarship program whereby the deserving student would receive essentially his entire expense, and a slight letting up of some of the rules concerning the work of undergraduates.

President Conant said that it was not as easy as it once was for men to work their way through college.

"It is questionable whether brilliant scholars," he said, "should have their energies diverted by being forced to do many tasks to increase their income. Or ideal should be to have sufficiently large scholarships for the upper ten or fifteen per cent of the class so that a really poor boy would receive essentially his entire expenses."

"There are certain clauses in the contract objectionable to the family," McCaughey said. "These were modified, and we are cooperating in every way."

He admitted that Dionne returned $100 weekly checks mailed him by promoters but said the contract was "iron-clad" and there had been no intervention by the Ontario government.

"We are willing to act on the doctor's advice as to when the children can be moved," he concluded. "No further checks are being forwarded, on legal advice, but this will in no way affect the contract."

Reports from the Dionne farm near here, meanwhile, said the babies and their mother were in good condition. Four of the five gained weight while Annette, the fifth, "held her own."

IT LOOKS SMART AND IT IS SAFE—because of CARRENE

JUST "LOOK INSIDE"
The value speaks for itself

YOU don't need to be an expert to judge the quality—to see the value offered in this beautiful new Grunow. First of all, it and it alone, among household refrigerators has safe Carrene, the refrigerant that you can see, smell, and hold in your hands without danger and without inconvenience. Remember to "look inside" and find out the kind of refrigerant being used.

Next, look for outstanding beauty which the Grunow has outside and inside.

Look for features that you've always wanted, such as automatic tray release to quickly take out ice-cube trays, roomy shelf arrangement for convenient placing of all types of bottles and dishes, cross-hatch shelves to prevent small dishes from tipping over and spilling, foot-pedal door opener which opens the door at a touch of the toe. You'll find them all in the Super DeLuxe Grunow.

Last, but not least, look to the cost of operation, how much you must add to your electric light bill. Because of safe, efficient Carrene the Grunow is most economical in operation, too.

Judge value on most any point you can think of, and you'll not be disappointed when you purchase a Grunow.
