TERRELL ANGRY BECAUSE BAKER TOOK HIS NAME

Declares Dallas Man Purloined Name For Politics

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The name of Terrell has been famous in the annals of Texas political history and more recently has become known in congress by the "nay" votes of Rep. George B. Terrell (D., Texas) to administration measures.

A thumb nail sketch of the Terrell family tree was given today by the retiring Texas representative when he received word that Jefferson T. Baker, Dallas lawyer, recently through court action changed his name to George B. Terrell, for "business reasons" and then announced as candidate for state treasurer.

Terrell, who previously said he did not want to serve in congress any longer because it had been forgotten there was a constitution, read a news item about Baker changing his name to Terrell.

"If they had gone a little further back in the history of the Terrell family," George told the house, "they would have found that my grandfather, George W. Terrell, was attorney general of Tennessee and also of Texas and that he was minister to England, France, and Spain during the days of the Republic of Texas, to try to get those countries to recognize that independent republic."

"My grandfather was at the Court of St. James when Queen Victoria had just ascended the throne and he was compelled to conform to court customs and had to wear knee pants. He brought back a cream-colored, flowered, silk suit with knee pants and I remember that very well. It was very attractive and the people all over the country would assemble to look at this suit of clothes."

"In conclusion, I want to say that I would like to see if there is some way for the Wise Men of the East, including the Great White Chief on the throne, to develop some kind of procedure under this code so that we can stop these lawyers from practicing such legerdemain to purloin a man's name for the purpose of politics."

NRA Complaints Investigated By Official Of NRA

Tulane Smith of Dallas, member of the NRA compliance board, was a visitor in Pampa yesterday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

The visitor made a thorough investigation of several complaints that have been received by the board. He also studied conditions in and around Pampa and immediately made a report to his head office. He made a side trip to Borger while here.

Quintuplets Are Gaining Weight

CORBELL, Ont., June 15 (AP)—Good news came today from the little farm home where five nurses and Dr. A. R. DaFoe are guarding the health of the 18-day-old Dionne quintuplets.

The tiny infants continue to gain weight, and as days go by optimism that they will survive is greatly heightened.

Their 24-year-old mother, Mrs. Ovide Dionne, also has gained strength. She was ordered back to bed two days ago.

The babies weighed a total of 11 pounds, 3 ounces the last time they were placed in the scales, a gain of 3 ounces. Annette, next to Yvonne, the heaviest, was the only one to lose, dropping 1-4 ounce.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight, except partly cloudy and probably showers in the Panhandle tonight and Saturday.

CONTROL BILL IS DEFINITELY DECLARED OUT

WIDESPREAD PROBE IS LIKELY TO BE ORDERED

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The oil control emergency measure was definitely declared off of the legislative calendar for this session today by Representative Disney (D., Okla.) after a talk with President Roosevelt.

The house interstate commerce committee yesterday refused to vote on the bill and Disney, co-author of the measure, stated today that the fight for its enactment would be put off until next session. After his visit with President Roosevelt, Disney simply stated that the bill would not be pressed further at this time.

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The house rules committee today gave privileged status to a resolution for a widespread investigation by a subcommittee into the need for oil production control legislation.

The resolution thus will come quickly to the floor for action, perhaps today.

The inquiry would take up every proposition advanced by the Disney bill, specifically these points:

Whether there is an excessive oil supply.

Whether that supply, if it exists, injuriously affects commerce in petroleum and renders unprofitable operation of wells of small but settled production.

Whether unrestricted, or partially restricted production, is resulting in waste.

Whether restrictions should be placed upon the quantities of petroleum that may move in commerce.

Whether commerce in petroleum is of such a nature that it may be regarded as a unit for the purpose of establishing quotas, irrespective of whether transactions are interstate or intrastate, or whether export and import are involved.

Whether the proposed investigation would serve not only to lay the groundwork for possible legislation at the next congress, but would act as a "deterrent" on the illegal production of oil which the Disney bill proponents claimed will be materially increased due to failure of congress to provide the petroleum administration with new legislation this session.

Texas Press In Annual Session

DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—Economic conditions, the Texas centennial, and ethics held the attention at the annual Texas Press association convention here today.

Jack Dionne of Houston told the visitors that the "depression was never really known in Texas." Geo. Waverly Briggs discussed the centennial, and Carl Estes, Tyler publisher, discussing codes, summed up what he construed as a code of ethics for the association.

After various noon luncheons, daily and weekly vision meetings were scheduled, with Walter Boyd of Mexico in charge of the former and Deskins Wells of Wellington at the head of the latter.

Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville participated in the periodical division discussions, speaking on club women's publications.

'HENRY FORD' OF FRANCE IS AIM OF BOMB

Bomb, Addressed To Noted Automobile Manufacturer Mangles Clerk's Hands.

PARIS, June 15 (AP)—A bomb exploded in the office of Andre Citroen, the "Henry Ford of France," today in a campaign of terror by the "Three Judges of Hell" which has frightened all Paris.

The bomb was addressed to Citroen personally but was opened by the librarian of the motor plant. His hands were badly torn and the office was slightly damaged.

Four other infernal machines which failed to explode were received in the morning mail, bringing to 10 the total of bombs mailed by the terrorists in the last 48 hours. Four persons have been injured.

The fourth bomb was found in the mail distributing office of the Paris suburb of Arcueil. It was addressed to a Paris department store.

One was received by the Venus Pencil company, French branch of an American firm, the second explosive sent to an American concern, "Tokalon," an American beauty products company, received one yesterday.

The other missiles were received at the Pathe film office and at a boarding house.

Packages are being examined with extreme caution by every firm in Paris.

Seven-and-Half Year Term Given In Theft Trial

Bob Johnson was sentenced to seven and one-half years in the penitentiary by Judge W. R. Ewing in 31st district court this morning. Johnson pleaded guilty to three charges of theft of oilfield equipment. He waived a jury.

Travis Chambers was found not guilty of passing forged instruments yesterday afternoon when Judge Ewing instructed the jury to "return a verdict of not guilty."

TO DISPOSE OF CHURCH

The miniature of the mission San Francisco de los Tejas which was part of Holy Souls Catholic church's float, "First Church in Texas," in the Pre-Centennial parade, will be disposed of at the rectory next to the church tomorrow afternoon, according to Father Wonderly. The little church was built out of fine cedar logs and was well set together by a carpenter. The public is invited to attend the unique event. The float won second place in the parade and probably aroused more comment than any entered.

Crowell Youth Still Sought For $1,925 Theft Here

Apparently warned that his accomplice had "told everything," Arthur Bell of Crowell, a spring term freshman at Texas Tech college, Lubbock, this morning kept a jump ahead of officers seeking him in connection with the theft of $1,925 from the Postal Telegraph company here.

Fred Patterson, manager of the office here, is in jail charged with theft in which Bell is named as an accomplice. Patterson's bond was set at $2,000 by Justice of the Peace W. S. Baxter.

Sheriff's officers here learned yesterday afternoon that Bell had gone to Lubbock after leaving Gray county. Patterson reported that he had been robbed but later confessed that the robbery was a hoax, and that Bell took the money and was to split with him. Patterson, next week. The money has not been recovered.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE SILENT ABOUT PLANS

MRS. DALL, 'SISTIE' AND 'BUZZIE' NOW AT LAKE TAHOE

RENO, Nev., June 15 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Curtis Dall, daughter of President Roosevelt, is establishing residence here and it was assumed divorce proceedings were in prospect.

Mrs. Dall has leased a home at Lake Tahoe.

The daughter of the president has been separated from her husband for more than a year.

With her two children, "Sistie" and "Buzzie," she lived at the White House during the past year. Mrs. Dall was not available here today, but it was understood she was en route to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Dall were married in June, 1926.

Mrs. Dall left Washington yesterday with her children.

Shortly after the Roosevelts entered the White House, Elhot Roosevelt, a son, left for the west coast, establishing residence at Las Vegas, and obtained a divorce from Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt, of Philadelphia.

A few days later, in Burlington, Ia., he was married to Miss Ruth Goodwin, of Fort Worth, Texas.

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, the only daughter of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, was married to Curtis B. Dall at the Roosevelts' Hyde Park home.

The first news of their marital rift was in January, when the social register's "Dilatory Domiciles" pamphlet listed separate addresses for the two.

Dall's address was listed as Panache, an estate in north Tarrytown, N. Y. Mrs. Dall's address was given as the White House.

Previously it was noted that Dall (See PRESIDENT, Page 8)

Germany Will Not Return To Geneva Parley

Conference Between Benito Mussolini And Hitler Is Futile On Arms Question

VENICE, June 15 (AP)—Germany will not return to the Geneva disarmament conference despite conversations between Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini, German correspondents were told at a press conference this afternoon.

The correspondents were told no accord would be signed as a result of the meeting, although the premiers found themselves in agreement on many points.

Nothing was decided with reference to disarmament, it was said, although diplomatic conversations between Germany and Italy on this subject will continue.

With reference to a possible Italian-Germany bloc to offset the French and Russian blocs, correspondents were told no such step is being planned.

The German newspaper men were told that the chief value of the meeting was to establish a personal contact which the chiefs of the two nations believe will be valuable in the future.

Green Submits Strike Plan

477 Million Dollars Due But None Is Collected

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—A mountain of war debts labored today and brought forth a mouse in the form of a payment from Finland.

By a scratch of the pen, the National City Bank in New York transferred $168,535 from the account of the little nation to the big one.

That was all the hard cash the United States received of $477,843,644 due from 13 nations. Hungary put a certificate for $36,971 in pennies in its national bank, crediting it to the United States. But officials could not figure any way to draw against it.

Finland, as always, paid in full. Officials hoped—somewhat facetiously—that the $168,535 would cover the cost of time expended in an attempt to collect the June installments on the total debt of $11,628,000,000.

The dawning of this almost payless payday found the war debt score:

Ten defaults, one payment, two to be heard from.

Yugoslavia ($825,000) and Lithuania ($369,034) planned to deliver notes explaining their expected defaults during the day.

The Italian, Polish, Rumania, and Hungarian envoys called on Secretary Hull yesterday to inform him of the decisions to forego payment. The Latvian and Estonian "so sorry" notes came by mail.

Great Britain, France, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia had previously announced they would not pay.

R. R. Labor Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The Cresser bill to establish a national board of adjustment to hear railway labor grievances was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

The measure, designed to promote peace between carriers and workers and to prevent interruption of rail transportation, was approved shortly after the house had passed another bill by the Ohio democrat to provide pensions for railway employees.

The labor dispute bill prohibits carriers from influencing workers' labor organizations and outlaws contracts forbidding workers from joining labor organizations.

The measure creates a railroad retirement board of three to administer an initial $90,000,000 fund, $30,000,000 of which is to come from the workers and $60,000,000 from the railroads.

LATE NEWS

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today called a statewide oil production hearing for June 26. The commission opened all production questions for discussion at the hearing.

SALLISAW, Okla., June 15 (AP)—Joe Ward, 35, his head battered and wearing bloody clothing, was arrested here today for questioning in connection with the mysterious killing of C. N. Mann, 55-year-old democratic candidate for president of the state board of agriculture.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Curtis B. Dall today said he had no comment to make on the establishment of a residence in Reno, Nev., by his wife, Mrs. Anna Curtis Dall, daughter of President Roosevelt.

Miss Ruth Kretzschmar of Clay Center, Kan., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Chris Baer and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baer back to Pampa where she will visit relatives. (See MISSIONARY, Page 8)

LABOR LEADER WOULD LET 3 DECIDE ISSUE

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WOULD SELECT TRIO UNDER PLAN

PITTSBURGH, June 15 (AP)—A plan for settlement of the dispute in the steel industry was submitted by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today at the steel workers' convention called to take action on the proposed nation-wide strike.

The labor leader suggested that "an impartial board" of three members be appointed by the president to adjust differences over the steel code and mediate other disputes.

The workers shall maintain the right, he said, to organize freely and the board would have authority to hold elections among employees to choose collective bargaining representatives.

If the plan is acceptable to both sides, the strike should be called off he told the 200 delegates attending the meeting of the Amalgamated association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

Under Green's plan, the board would offer its services as arbitrator in any dispute and have the right to determine any matters of discrimination or discharge of any employee.

He pledged the union the "unreserved support" of the labor federation.

The first reaction of the delegates was that the plan submitted by Green differed in "several particulars" from the Roosevelt plan.

New 'Hot Oil' Plan En Route To Texas Field

Howard Bennette, national coordinator of refinery operations, today took to east Texas a new plan, part of a general campaign of the oil industry to curb illegal oil production by buying up gasoline stocks and surplus output of independent refiners.

Officials of the industry's planning and coordination committee, said Bennette was prepared to lay before east Texas independent refiners a plan by which major companies would buy surplus gasoline held in storage by the independents and agree to take their surplus output at fair prices in return for an agreement that the independents would not produce "hot oil" that produced illegally.

By checking the excess gasoline in east Texas the industry hopes to control the illegal oil from which it is produced.

If the east Texas "hot oil" production can be kept in hand, oil circles say the national situation can be controlled since illegal production is encouraged in California, Oklahoma and other areas by that in east Texas.

Bennette expected to arrive in Dallas tomorrow.

Pampa Jaycees Are Banqueted By Amarilloans

A blue ribbon and $25 in cash was presented directors of the Amarillo chamber of commerce by the group of Pampa Jaycees who were guests of the Amarillo organization at a banquet in the Amarillo hotel last night. Amarillo's striking float in the Pre-Centennial parade won first place for out-of-town floats.

The presentation address was made by Jim Collins who outlined the aims of a junior chamber of commerce. The speaker said he hoped to see the day when Amarillo would have a junior chamber of commerce to assist the senior organization in its activities.

Mr. Collins thanked the Amarillo organization and citizens for the part they played in making the celebration a success. He spoke on the need of friendship between cities and that only a united front could bring the Panhandle into its own.

Clarence Kennedy, president of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce, introduced the Pampa delegation and spoke briefly on goodwill and the Pre-Centennial.

Morris Ewing presided and in a brief address thanked the Pampa Jaycees for their visit and told of his interest in a junior organization for Amarillo. He asked Guy Colander, designer of Amarillo's float, to accept the prize on behalf of the Amarillo chamber of commerce.

Others making the trip were E. M. Conley, William T. Fraser, Bob Watson, Sherman White, Bill Houston, George W. Briggs, Archer Pullingm, and Harry E. Hoare.

KILLER GIVEN 'HOT SEAT' IN DALLAS TRIAL

Ex-Convict From New York Sentenced To Die; Police Car Driver Was Slain

DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—Richard Charles Rehm, 28-year-old former convict from New York state, was sentenced to death today for the slaying of Luke J. Bell, police car driver, here May 18.

The jury began deliberating late last night and reached its verdict after working two hours this morning.

Bell was slain as he transferred Rehm from the city to the county jail. He had just reached the county prison and opened the door of the police car when Rehm bolted, ran across a street and hid in a garage. Bell followed him and, as he started to handcuff him, the men scuffled, with Bell being shot and fatally wounded.

Rehm then fled, commandeered several automobiles and roamed about Dallas county. He was caught four hours later when he ran into a trap. His counsel contended he was resisting an illegal arrest at the hands of Bell.

He explained that by "sizzle" he meant the electric chair.

Palmer explained he kidnaped the policeman because he feared the officer, halting him for questioning, would find a pistol he carried in his brief case, take him to headquarters, check his record and return him to Texas.

The three victims returned to their homes a few hours after they were released.

Schultz said he believed Palmer's motive in kidnaping the men was to escape identification. He quoted the abductor as saying he wished to get to St. Joseph for he had "connections" there.

The kidnaping of Schultz and Schleuter took place in front of the Western league baseball park at Danverport.

The patrolman approached Palmer to question him. But Palmer drew a pistol from his pocket and forced the officer to stop. When Schultz approached in his motor car, Palmer forced the policeman into it and ordered Schultz to drive.

Palmer complained about the condition of the machine and near Walcott stopped Dr. Fitch and commanded his coupe. He forced the officer into the rear compartment of the coupe and ordered Dr. Fitch and Schultz to take turns at driving.

When the kidnaper and his victims arrived here, Palmer said he would let the three men have the motor car, if they would promise to go back to Danverport. When Palmer started off walking, the men reported the kidnaping to police. About 15 minutes later the convict was taken prisoner.

The abductor robbed Dr. Fitch of $135, but overlooked a roll of $500 in bills which he carried. When the trio was released, Palmer handed the victim $415 for expenses back to Walcott. Schultz was robbed of $93 and Schleuter of $1.

Palmer talked freely about himself after his arrest. Police Captain J. E. Kelly quoted him as saying he was the man who killed the guard in the break for liberty from the Texas prison farm, a crime for which Raymond Hamilton, one-time partner of the later penalty, Hamilton now faces the death penalty. Hamilton was convicted of murder last Wednesday. During his trial the defense sought to place the blame on Palmer.

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas penitentiary system, said today officers would be sent to Missouri for Joe Palmer, escaped convict, captured near St. Joseph, Mo., as soon as arrangements could be made for the criminal's return.

STATE WANTS FUGITIVE FOR KILLING GUARD

MISSOURIANS TAKE JOE PALMER IN 'SNATCH' AT ST. JOSEPH

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 15 (AP)—Head prisoners for nearly 18 hours by an escaped Texas convict, three Iowa men were released here early today and 15 minutes later the abductor was captured.

Release of the three men, Elmer Schleuter, Davenport, Ia., policeman; Al Schultze, secretary-treasurer of the Davenport baseball club, and Dr. W. H. Fitch, Walcott, Ia., veterinarian, ended a night of anxiety for their safety and terminated a widespread search for them by federal agents and possees.

The abductor was identified by police as Joe Palmer, 32, who with four other men escaped from the Eastham, Texas, prison farm last February 16, after killing a guard.

Palmer readily agreed to return to Iowa to face robbery and kidnap charges in connection with the abduction of the three men, saying:

"If they take me back to Texas, they'll sizzle me."

He explained that by "sizzle" he meant the electric chair.

Palmer explained he kidnaped the policeman because he feared the officer, halting him for questioning, would find a pistol he carried in his brief case, take him to headquarters, check his record and return him to Texas.

PLANNING THE CHILDREN'S DAY

There are plans for everything else; why not one for the children's day? asks a psychologist.

The child out of school "bothers" his parents for a very good and sufficient reason. They should help him plan his day. They should sympathize with his restlessness and seek to interest him in something worthwhile.

There is no reason why fathers and mothers should not take primary interest in the activities of their children over the day, and at least to help the little ones plan their play, if they can't direct it or even participate in it.

The well-organized school systems of the country, nowadays, pay as much attention to the physical activities of the pupils as to their mental development.

This organized activity which the children have learned to accept as part of their school curriculum, and for the direction of which they are dependent on their teachers, however, breaks off suddenly about the middle of June.

It is no light demand to make upon the older people, to be sure, but it is one that must be met. And it must be met along the same lines to which the children have been accustomed—that of organized activity, directed by someone older than themselves.

In other words, the father or the mother, or both, must assume the responsibility of directing the physical development of their boy and girl, a responsibility which they had placed on the shoulders of school teachers for the preceding months.

When youngsters traipse in and out of the house almost incessantly, asking for this or demanding that, it is a sign that father and mother are negligent in their obligations toward their children.

And while school is out, there is no one else to guide the parents. It is a duty that must be attended to.

Coltoto Will Play Amarillo Club On Sunday

The Coltoto team from LeFors will play in Pampa tomorrow afternoon and then go to Amarillo Sunday afternoon for a game with the fast Amalie boys of that city. The game will be played at Metro park at 3 o'clock.

Amalie has hopes of defeating the hard-hitting LeFors aggregation with good fielding and brilliant pitching. The Coltoto pitching corps, however, has been strengthened and the team has been showing some sensational fielding in practice sessions this week.

The Amalie pitching staff includes Smokey Harris, Pat Townsend, Jim Strain and Pete Williams with D. Barron doing the catching. Other members of the team are Joe "Popeye" Smith, Costello "Rabbit" Taylor, Bernie Vaughn, Happy Dalton, L. A. Stowe, Ben Klie, Bus Walker, Stina "Sugar" Cain and Ernie "Power House" Miller.

Coltoto has already entered the Berger baseball tournament which will get under way June 30. It is rumored that the Amalie team will also enter the Berger fiesta. The Pampa Roadrunners are also likely to be in the big middle of things to make the tournament interesting.

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW CHICAGO (AP)—A pair of robins here never heard of that one-time popular song, "Don't Bite the Hand That's Feeding You." They built a nest on the back porch of Policeman K. W. Lynch's home and ate from Mrs. Lynch's hand all the while—the eggs were hatching. The young birds hatched but the other day. Now the robins peck Mrs. Lynch severely every time she tries to go on the porch.

CHEWING LAXATIVE CLEANSSES BETTER

You can't get the laxative ingredients from Feen-a-mint without chewing—and chewing distributes the laxative uniformly throughout the intestines and supplies precious saliva juice that is needed. Clogged, dry waste matter becomes soft. Out it goes—leaving the walls of intestines cleansed of putrid matter. Delicious Feen-a-mint is the chewing gum laxative that enlists the aid of nature. It is a thorough cleansing laxative that acts promptly—naturally—and is free from all discomforts. Feen-a-mint banishes laxative dread. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 10c and 50c at druggists everywhere.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: At last there is a rift in the wall of silence that has surrounded the murder of the stranger and the policeman in the Dufresne house. Ellen Becker, formerly a housemaid for the Dufresnes, has admitted receiving money from both Mr. and Mrs. Dufresne to keep quiet about some notes demanding a rendezvous she had found concealed in the house. Harper accuses her of working with Donaghy, the chauffeur.

Chapter 43
THE AUSTRALITZ
"We have not. I've told you everything I know about it. Joe and I have been going around together and he's worried the truth of me about why I left. But if he's been getting any money out of it, I don't know anything about it. Don't take me back to that house," she pleaded. "Honestly, I've told you all I know."
"You'll have to face the music," Harper declared, "but for the present I'm going to hold you in reserve."

Ends Body Odor in a Twinkling!

Leaves No M. S.

All who perspire freely know that bathing is often only temporary relief from body odor. Because body odor is caused by stale perspiration, deep in the pores. The thick, sticky lather of most ordinary toilet soaps is unsuited chemically to mix with this stale perspiration and flush it out. Instead it clogs the pores with curds. Now research chemists give you a 100% pure vegetable oil soap—Kirk's Castile—that breaks into bubbly lather instantly in hardest water. This bubbly lather goes deep into the pores, actually removes stale perspiration curds, then rinses out completely. Thus it ends body odor at its source—the only effective way. And being odorless, it leaves no unpleasant M. S. (medicine smell), to betray its purpose. Kirk's Coco Castile is made by the largest soap makers in America. And quite amazingly it costs no more than the average toilet soap, although it is half again larger. It is now selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

Comstock asserted warmly, "and a genuine artist."
Miss Summers returned with a wide, flat frown. Harper looked at each diagram, from that of the basement up to the roof. He lingered over the details of the top floor, the twenty-eighth.
"Perhaps you would be interested in seeing this, Sergeant," Mr. Comstock suggested. He brought out a leather-bound book. "These are Mr. Dufresne's original sketches for the building," he explained.
Harper closed Folio B-3 and looked at these original plans, sketched with clean, incisive strokes. Was the artist who could do these things the same man who could be jerked back by primitive emotions to murderous savagery, a puppet to dance so ignobly to the string-pulling of such as Ellen Becker? The artist denied, but the man had lettered and signed each sheet, and there were A's, and G's, and M's, and S's that cried aloud to the detective's trained vision, that recalled those printed crank letters.
Sergeant Harper put the papers back in the case, quietly, almost reluctantly. "Mr. Comstock, I'll have to ask you to let me have these papers."

The manager's expression revealed his astonishment.
"This is for official purposes, that's all I can tell you," Harper continued. "You will have our receipt against their safe return."
Mr. Comstock nodded, repressing his curiosity.
One of his assistants rode up with them in the elevator and opened the Dufresne suite. It was very quiet up there. The assistant detached a key from his ring, handed it to Harper, and retired to the background from whence he watched the detectives with discreet curiosity.
Harper stood long in Dufresne's bedroom, recalling the sight of Dufresne's body sprawled inertly, the reek of brandy, the gaunt Andrews' panic-stricken eyes from the doorway.
The detective opened a closet door and looked inside. He bent down to examine the double row of shoes on their racks. He brought Lafferty's flashlight and went on hands and knees to scan the floor of the closet under the bright circle of light.
Harper stood up and closed the door. "I'm ready for the test," he announced. "I'll lock myself in these rooms and you stand out there and wait by the elevators, where Markinson and the others kept watch."
Lafferty, grinning, stepped out into the corridor. He saw Harper heard the door from the inside and heard the lock snap. "Tell when you're ready to give up," he called through the door, then went over and sat down beside Mr. Comstock's assistant.
"What's going on?" asked the latter, with pardonable mystification.
"The Sergeant has a Houdini complex," Lafferty answered. "Say, is there an emergency staircase in this place?"
"Right beside the elevators. The door with the red bulb over it."
Lafferty settled back, satisfied. Sitting in silence, the lanky detective finally pulled out his watch.

The Golden Text is: "As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it." (Isaiah 31:5).

Less than five minutes had passed. He kept a wary eye on the corridor and the door to the Dufresne suite. Three more minutes ticked away. Then, with the faintest swishing noise, an elevator shot up to the floor level, the gridded doors slid open, and Sergeant Harper, smiling blandly, stepped out!

Kidnapers Are Captured While Holding Victim

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—A mother, alarmed by her son's sobs when he telephoned a request for ransom, brought about the arrest of two men as the kidnapers who had tortured him.

Mrs. Rose Welch of Toledo, O., promised her son, Harry, last night that she would send him $2,000 to free him, but instead Chicago police were notified of the address where the ransom was to be left. A police squad seized Harry Sigal and Harry Sway at the house.

Welch, 32, meanwhile, had escaped from a third member of the gang who took him to a restaurant while the others awaited the $2,000. The wealthy head of a clothing company shouted to a passing policeman and his guard fled.

Identifying both prisoners, Welch said they had threatened him with a machine gun and, when he refused to hand over the ransom, burned him with a hot hammer head on the chest, feet, and face. Four others were held for questioning.

Non-Habit Forming Type of Morphine May Be Possible

CLEVELAND, June 15 (AP)—Dihydroxyoxycodone, a first step in a search for a non-habit forming type of morphine.

The human experiment was mentioned, without details, in a report made to the American Medical association today by Dr. C. W. Edmunds and Dr. Nathan B. Eddy of the University of Michigan. It is under direction, the report said of the federal public health service.

The report told of the chemical changes which produced this new substance and of its effects on animals. The modified morphine is one of 190 of these compounds made at the University of Virginia over a period of several years and sent to the University of Michigan for investigation of medicinal effects.

The work has been carried on under direction of the National Research Council. The report pointed out that while such ordinary morphine effects as pain killing, depressant qualities, respiration changes, digestive results and emetic action, may be found on animals, only human beings can be used to show whether the new drugs are habit-forming.

BUFFALO WERE EXTERMINATED IN TWO YEARS

Pioneer Saw 20,000 Hides in Angelo In 1876

SAN ANGELO, June 15. (AP)—San Angelo was the converging point for the great commodities of the west, says Jess W. Lewis, who saw 20,000 buffalo hides piled high in a yard here in 1876.

In that winter Lewis estimated that 40,000 buffalo were marketed in San Angelo and the hides and meat hauled to San Antonio and other points in big wagons. The buffalo hunters brought the cash to the west that year and the Concho rivers, which converge here, were lined with camps. Hides brought 25 cents to $3 each, salted and dried tongues 25 cents each while the meat went at 10 to 12 cents a pound, Lewis said.

Lewis has seen 10,000 buffalo in one herd.
"Sometimes they swept down the country with the suddenness and force of a blue norther," he said. But the buffalo did not last long. Eighteen seventy six, was the year of virtual extermination for the animals, he said. More were killed in 1877 and 1878, but the number was smaller.

Lewis, 73 years old and a resident of San Angelo, worked in a buffalo camp in Irion county in 1876, with four other men. Their pay was $20 a month.

"The hunting camps had the territory divided and there were agreement that one outfit should not encroach on preserves of another," Lewis said. "Hunters leaping that a herd was coming prepared, and the shooting began with .44-70 rifles."
It was hard work in the camps. Skinning a big animal occupied the time two men for about an hour. Then came the rendering of the tallow in big iron pots. The meat was hung up and salted. The hunters lived in dugouts, covering themselves with buffalo robes at night.
The Bishop and Sullivan outfit for which Lewis worked got 1,000 that winter and made money as did most of the hunters.
When the buffalo industry ended Lewis became a cow hand. He helped build the famous Lewis and Mayberry fence, first to be erected in Kinney county. It was a 100 mile fence job and there "never was a job more lonesome," Lewis said.
In 1892, Lewis took part in his biggest roundup, 10,000 head of cattle on Puzey creek in Concho county, lasting two days. The big roundups ceased in the early 90's, Lewis recalled.
"Shooting up the town by cowboys when they were in San Angelo in the old days meant a ride of two or three blocks up the street by five or ten of the boys who emptied their guns at signs or stray dogs. Officers were not hard on the boys for they came to town only once or twice a year, usually stayed about two days, spent most of what they earned and went back home with a new pair of boots or a new saddle. Another way of celebrating was to shoot holes in the floors or roofs of saloons," he said.

Lewis still works on ranches in West Texas. He is more than 5 feet tall and wears a full beard. Like many old cow punches, he lives by himself and does his own cooking and washing.

Sirens Welcome James V. Allred

STAMFORD, June 15. (AP)—Fire sirens screamed a welcome to Attorney General James V. Allred during his campaign for governor in West Texas.
Sirens sounded at Lubbock during his speech, again at Abilene, then at Stamford.
The attorney general smiled, and remarked: "I didn't know the people out here were so hot for me they'd call out the fire department every time I spoke."

All but four inches of a 14-inch gopher snake had been swallowed by a large toad when E. J. McIntyre, principal of Oakdale school at Stamford, Calif., arrived on the scene and rescued it.

CYCLONE MACKAY

Whether a man event or a semi-final doesn't make any difference to Cyclone Mackey. Amarillo grappler, who will meet Prince Omar Yochain in the semi-final to the Rod, Fenton-Lou Mueller match at the Pla-Mor auditorium Monday night. Mackey likes to wrestle and it doesn't make any difference to him who the opponent should be. Last week he defeated Sheik Ben Ali Marallah here in a main event. John Rafford, former high school football star, will meet big Bob Rodgers of McAlester in the preliminary. Advance sale of tickets has started off briskly at Pampa Drug No. 1. A new cooling system will be installed at the Pla-Mor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walker left this afternoon for Chickasha, Okla., to spend the week-end with relatives.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day: that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no" (Exodus 16:4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ, Truth, gives mortal, temporary food and clothing until the material, transformed with the ideal, disappears, and man is clothed and fed spiritually" (page 442).

CRIPPLED AND SICK CHILDREN UNDER SURVEY

RELIEF COMMISSION UNDERTAKES STUDY

AUSTIN, June 13.—The first important state-wide relief project designed to benefit the so-called "white-collar class" is to go into effect Friday, June 15th, when enumerators employed on a work-relief basis by the Texas relief commission, will begin a child survey, according to Director Marie Dresden.

An analysis and comparison of findings is to be attempted and the information will be used by the state relief administration and other public agencies for the expansion and improvement of the care of children.

This is the first child census undertaken in Texas.

An effort is to be made to study special groups of children and their families, as for example, the families of ex-service men and women. All families investigated who have blind, crippled or otherwise handicapped members under 55 years of age, will be recorded and studied.

"The ex-service group is an age group that has children within the lines of child welfare activities and is therefore subject to an unusually interesting and informative study," said Director Dresden.

While the survey is primarily directed at the children of Texas, valuable information will be gained respecting adult disabilities and related handicaps, thus enabling the relief commission and other public agencies, to obtain accurate data on which to base rehabilitation work in the future.

The net result of the survey will be an actual count of the number of sick or crippled children in Texas. The condition of children of ex-service parents will be available as well as a record of crippled, blind, mentally handicapped and otherwise disabled persons under 55 years of age.

It is estimated the survey will include about 250,000 cases. In view of this large undertaking, special care has been directed at the introduction of the most modern methods of statistical collection and recording.

Girls Need So Many Slips

By ELLEN WORTH

THE appearance of many a smart frock is ruined by wearing it with an ill-fitting slip, or one of the wrong color. Here is a nicely fitted slip that will go well beneath the sheer laces and organizes your daughter will surely be wearing this summer.

For the younger girls, the built-up shoulder line is best, but Miss Teen will want her slips made with narrow shoulder straps.

Slips are so inexpensive when you make them and so very easy to make, why not have several—of muslin, for every day and lingerie slip for best, in pastel shades to harmonize with the frocks you plan? It is a good idea, once you have made certain of your length and size, to cut several slips at one time.

The New Fashion Book will help you plan your wardrobe. Send 10 cents for book.

Pattern No. 5063 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. (Size 12 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch material or 2 yards 39-inch material.)

Send 15 cents in coin or stamps. Mail your order to New York Fashion Bureau, 222 West 39th St., New York. Print your name and address clearly and print pattern number, size or bust.

To order, address Pampa Daily NEWS, Fashion Center, Times Square P. O. Box 170, New York City. Write name and address plainly, giving number and size of pattern wanted. Your order will be filled the day it is received by our New York pattern bureau.

Memphian Golfer Wins Green Belt Golf Championship

FREDERICK, Okla., June 15 (P)—The title of 1934 champion of the Green Belt Golf association was in the possession today of Thomas Hampton of Memphis, Texas. Hampton defeated Whitney Anderson of Vernon 3 and 2 in the final round of the ninth annual Green Belt tournament here yesterday.

Surviving the drive of a field of 99 entrants, Hampton staged a sensational rally on the final nine holes of the afternoon round after he had been down to Anderson thru the twenty-seventh.

Squaring the match on the twenty-eighth with a birdie 4, the title holder went into the lead on the next hole with a par 4, sunk and an 18-foot putt on No. 31 and went three up with a par on No. 32. BAER VICTORY REMINISCENT OF DEMPSEY'S

PRIMO SUFFERS MOST SEVERE WHIPPING SINCE WILLARD

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Reverberating today from the smashing savagery of the most spectacular battle of big men in nearly eleven years of ring history, the fight world acclaimed a new heavyweight champion of the world—Max Baer of California, a curly-haired wolf of a man who combines a contemptuous grin and the stage mannerisms of a movie actor with a killing right hand punch.

With magnificent gestures, absolute disdain for anything his giant foe could do and a sporadic but vicious onslaught, Baer stopped the huge but helpless Primo Carnera in the eleventh round of a fifteen round match before a roaring crowd of 52,000 in Madison Square Garden's Long Island ball, thereby ending the Italian's one-year rule at the top of the heavyweight heap abruptly and bringing the crown back to the United States.

Carnera was knocked down no less than eleven times from the force of Baer's smashing blows before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the one-sided affair, with only 44 seconds to go in the eleventh round, and awarded the verdict to the broad-shouldered American on a technical knockout.

The giant, 263 pound Italian was still on his feet at the finish, after bravely trying to continue against odds that he knew were overwhelming against him, but he was a bloody, reeling wreck of a fighting man and he was muttering "finito" in utter helplessness when the referee decided finally to halt the slaughter.

Carnera was knocked down three times within the first minute of fighting as Baer landed a succession of long right hands to the head, followed by bruising lefts to the body. The Italian was down three times again in the second round, with Baer rolling on top of him as they waged the wildest kind of a melee. For the seventh time in three rounds, the giant was flopped to his haunches in the third, still too bewildered to take anything like a count and recover his wits. He rallied bravely for the next few rounds but in the eighth he sprawled full-length to the floor from the force of an ineffectual lunge.

Referee Prevents Kayo

Only the bell saved Primo from a knockout in the tenth round, at one stage of which Donovan stepped between them and chanced his mind after giving every indication of his intention to stop the fight. Twice in this round and twice more in the eleventh, the toppling tower of Italy went down under crushing blows.

Absolutely dazed, his face a blotchy red from the terrific pounding he had received and his features distorted in grotesque bewilderment, Carnera was led stumbling from the ring after the most severe beating any heavyweight champion has absorbed since Jack Dempsey pounded Jess Willard into a bloody pulp in three rounds at Toledo in 1919.

History repeated itself in this respect as the 210 pound Baer, spotting his giant foe more than 50 pounds, proved that a devastating punch can wipe out any and all physical barriers or handicaps, and Dempsey, the old "man mauler" was one of the first to rush into the ring to slap the broad back of his Californian prize.

The Californian's lopsided mastery of the giant who has stalked through the heavyweight ranks, his powers still something of a mystery until they were left scattered all over the premises last night, furnished the climax to one of the most extraordinary of all heavyweight title matches. Declared unfit to fight by one of New York's boxing commissioners, Bill Brown, only a week ago, Baer not only enjoyed the last big laugh but convincingly demonstrated that the "wise money" knew where it was going when it betated a flood of watering sent the challenger into the ring a 5 to 6 shot to capture the championship.

Baer Relaxes

Only Carnera's gameness under the heaviest fire of his career, together with Baer's tactics in merely stalking his big opponent until such times as he chose to turn loose his belting fury, kept the fight from ending in short order. Whether because he was somewhat arm-weary from his opening three-round assault or because he decided to take his time and give the crowd a run for its money as he strutted his fanciest stuff, Baer relaxed his attack for the better part of the next four rounds.

Carnera at none of the stages when he was being most severely battered took the advantage of a long count. Only four times out of the eleven occasions when he recoiled and hit the floor from Baer's punches did the time-keeper even have time to swing his mallet. There was a count of two for the first knockdown, another for only one second in the third and two short counts, lasting two and four seconds, in the tenth round. The bell at the end of the tenth interrupted the fourth knockdown, which might have been the last if there had been enough time to count the giant out.

The Associated Press score-sheet of the fight gave Baer only six of the eleven rounds, with four going to Carnera and one rated even but even this didn't mean much on the

BAER CAREER MIXED UP WITH WOMEN, TRAGEDY, COURT SUITS

Champ Now Being Sued By Former Manager; Faces Breach of Promise Suit.

By RUSS NEWLAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Max Baer, world's heavyweight champion five years after he first pulled on a pair of boxing gloves, has been the joy and despair alternately of a procession of managers and handlers since he decided to give up an irksome task of wrestling quarters of beef on his father's farm to try his hand at thumping china.

From the time he knocked out Chief Cariboo, an obscure Indian ringster, the one-time Livermore butcher boy has engaged in the clowning tactics that rankled some fans, made others laugh and caused still others to lay their heads in significant fashion.

"I'm going to get them coming to see me, whether they're for me or against," the big Californian confided to friends early in his career. "I still think it's good box office appeal," he said the night before he stopped Primo Carnera.

His showmanship and ability marched hand in hand from the first. He scored 13 knockouts, won three decisions and lost one fight on a foul in 1929.

He had gone under the guidance of J. Hamilton Lorimer, now engaged in litigation with Ansel Hoffman, his present manager. For a time, who being coached in the art of trying to land punches, Baer worked for Lorimer in the foundry of the latter's father. It was for only a brief period as pugilistic engagements took up more and more of his time.

Ring tragedy cropped up and nearly halt Baer's career in the second year. On the night of August 25 in San Francisco he knocked out Frankie Campbell in five rounds. Campbell died from a brain hemorrhage the following day and Baer, while exonerated, quit boxing until January of the next year.

His fistie rise since then has been steady, mingled with marriage, divorce, more heart affairs, and reluctant breach of promise suits, motion picture acting and night club engagements, all combining to make Max a spectacular figure.

The course of his play-boy activities is as fantastic as that of a free balloon in a storm but all through it he has wisecracked.

Besides the title he now holds, he probably has set some kind of a record for accumulating ring monickers, induced by his flair for burlesque inside the ropes. They include, among others, "The big lip from Livermore," "The Livermore larruper," "California Adonis," "The big mouthpiece," "Nabob of the night clubs," and "The sun dodger." His stock retort is "call me anything you like but come out and see me."

He has earned probably $200,000. About all he has to show for it, according to Manager Hoffman, is plenty of experience, a home in San Leandro, Calif., he purchased for his parents, two pending lawsuits, one of breach of promise status and the other a managerial affair, and the installment receipts of two big automobiles the companies replevined.

Baer was born February 11, 1909, at Omaha, Neb., of German-Jewish, Irish extraction. The family moved to the coast with a stopover at Denver.

'Didn't Fight Fair,' Sweetie Of Primo Says

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—Miss Emelia Tersini, the raven haired young waitress who saw to it that Primo Carnera collected none of the proceeds for the battling he took last night, insisted excitedly today that "Baer didn't fight fair."

"He tried to make Primo look foolish," she exclaimed, who didn't exactly see the fight, being some 3,000 miles away. But she stayed up until after 3 a.m. to read the results of a ticker in an express office.

New York lawyers at the instance of Miss Tersini tied up Carnera's share of the proceeds, since the recent heavyweight champion for some months has owed her $15,000 she was awarded in a breach of promise suit.

Hope alternated with despair on her face as the fight progressed and at the end she sank her face in her hands.

CATS DEFEAT DALLAS WITH HOMER IN 6TH

SAN ANTONIO MISSIONS AND TULSA ALSO WIN GAMES

By BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Texas league's two pace-setters, Dallas and San Antonio, were shellacked yesterday but both managed to retain first and second places in the pennant marathon. Rudy York lifted a home run over the wall and chipped in with a triple to aid Fort Worth in beating Dallas, 3 to 2.

York drove his circuit wallop far over the left field fence in the sixth to break a 2-2 deadlock and Tulsa in third place.

Cotton Pippin, who has been out of uniform because of an injured hand, returned to the mound for Houston and pitched the last-place Buffaloes to a 4 to 3 victory over Beaumont. Wildness cost Pippin a couple of runs in the fourth but in all other innings he was unbeatable. Martin, Houston's new second sacker from Columbus, made his bow by driving a home run over the right field wall in the fifth.

It was a disastrous night for the Oklahoma City Indians who dropped a double header to Galveston, 5 to 6 and 5 to 9.

BROAGA WINS FIRST MAJOR LEAGUE GAME

LIMITS BROWNS TO A SINGLE HIT AS YANKS WIN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

In three games 23-year-old John Broaga, who took his degree as master of the art of elbowing under Joe Wood at Yale, has become the reigning sensation of the American league.

Only two hours after he joined the Yankees, Broaga started a game and promptly was shelved off the hill. His confidence was unimpaired, however, and he came back to pitch and lose a three-hit game against the Athletics and then yesterday turned in a one-hit feat against the Browns that brought him his first major league victory by a count of 7 to 0.

Babe Ruth also had his say when he started things off by hitting his tenth homer of the year with two abtard in the first. With the Detroit Tigers kept idle by rain at Boston, the triumph sent the Yanks into first place by the margin of four percentage points. The Browns dropped into a fifth-place tie with the Red Sox.

The pitchers stood out in yesterday's big league records with few exceptions. Cleveland and the Athletics didn't get much in the hurling line as the Indians handed out an 11 to 7 triumph with the aid of two important homers by Hal Trosky.

In the National league St. Louis and Boston shelled each other's hurling line as the Indians handed out an 11 to 7 triumph with the aid of two important homers by Hal Trosky.

But Hal Schumacher turned in a four-hit game, beating the Reds 3 to 0 to keep the Giants on top of the National; Monte Weaver of the Senators granted the same number of blows in defeating the White Sox 5 to 1 and Brooklyn's Van Mungo granted the Pirates only five hits in ten innings and out 3 to 2.

$425,000 GATE

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—The Carnera-Baer fight drew a "gate" of more than $425,000. The official figures, as announced by Madison Square Garden showed gross receipts of $428,392.90 and net receipts of $361,370.29. The paid attendance was 52,268.

As the challenger, Baer received 12 1/2 per cent, or $45,169.66 of the net gate receipts. Carnera's share of the purse, 37 1/2 per cent, was $135,508.98. Jack Dempsey, who received a cut of 7 1/2 per cent for releasing Baer from his contract, pocketed $27,101.38, while the milk fund out of 10 per cent amounted to $36,135.73.

All Italy Irked By Champ's Fall

ROME, June 15 (AP)—Unconcealed disappointment at Primo Carnera's trouncing and the passing of the heavyweight world's championship from Italy was expressed in sport circles today.

News of Carnera's defeat amazed most fight critics and fans for they had come to regard the "man mountain" as invincible.

Some doubt was expressed that Carnera was in proper condition, but the majority of the sports columns were limited to round by round accounts, clearly revealing that the Italian was outclassed.

REPRISALS BY OTHER NATIONS APPEAR LIKELY

BRITISH HAVE ALREADY WARNED GERMANS OF RESULTS

BY ELMER W. PETERSON (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press)

Germany's suspension of payments on all her foreign debts was a significant move to end reparations, and, ultimately, the treaty of Versailles.

Doubt was expressed that the payments would be resumed at the expiration of the moratorium's six month period, reliable sources pointing out that complete abolition of reparations is an essential point in the Nazi program.

Swift reprisals by other nations against the reich appeared likely, dispatches said. Great Britain and France were reported to be considering plans to protect their bond holders, possibly by withholding commercial payments due Germany.

A British note in April warned Berlin any interference with the Dawes and Young loans would be taken most seriously.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, which declared the moratorium yesterday, for years has been conducting a campaign to cut reparations and the Dawes and Young loans, floated to refund German obligations resulting from World War reparations.

That the present moratorium is a mere interlude and that Schacht will next seek to put the problem of Germany's debts on a political basis is the view held in responsible quarters.

German newspapers and financial circles speculated frankly as to whether the government would find half a year too short a time to recuperate her finances.

Chancellor Hitler's newspaper, the Volkischer Beobachter, blamed S. Parker Gilbert Jr., American agent general for reparations, for the moratorium declaration, asserting the Young conference "never looked facts in the face."

A Reichsbank statement said reparations and the decline in foreign trade created the necessity for a moratorium.

Shortly after midnight a band of robbers, carrying pistols and flashlights, entered the house and went into the room where the missionary and his wife were sleeping.

Dr. Ingram then jumped from his bed and grappled with one robber, pinning him against the wall. The intruder wrestled free and shot the missionary in the arm and then in the head.

The robbers then ransacked the house, making repeated demands for money. They succeeded in getting only a small amount of personal property and $5 cash.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—Wheat rallied late today after temporary losses had replaced early gains in prices. Some renewal of speculative buying was responsible for late upturn.

The temporary weakness of wheat was attributed to reports that movement of new wheat from the harvest fields southwest was rapidly increasing. Enid, Okla., noting arrivals of 327 car loads today today and Hutchinson, Kan., 111 cars. Omaha received its first car of new wheat today. It graded No. 1 hard.

Wheat closed firm 1/4-3/4 above yesterday's finish, corn 1/4-3/4 down, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents off.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 15. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow.

The sale of wool has increased very little during the past week. Nevertheless, there is somewhat better feeling on Summer street, since more manufacturers have been checking up on the wools arriving. As yet, this action has not been translated into sales of any moment. Most of the business which has been done has been in bright fleece wools at steady rates.

In the west, the movement of wool eastward is increasing, mostly on consignment. In the territory sections and the southwest wools which are being sold of the fine and fine medium qualities are bringing the equivalent of 65 and 70 cents, clean basis, landed Boston, against early purchases at around 85 cents clean. Prices in the bright wool states are on about the same level as last week.

Foreign markets have been unsettled by the German financial situation and prices are rather irregular.

Mohair continues slow but firm. The Bulletin will publish the following quotations (scoured basis): Texas: Fine 12 months (selected) 83-85; fine short 12 months 80-82; fine 8 months 75-77.

Mohair: Domestic, good original bag, Texas spring, 45-48 cents; Texas kid, 55-58.

Small Club Is Formed By East Texas Citizens

NACOGDOCHES, June 15. (AP)—A local organization to work for Clint Small for governor has been formed in Nacogdoches. F. H. Tucker, Nacogdoches banker, is chairman of the committee which will push Senator Small's candidacy in this city and county. Small posters and literature has been secured and will be distributed from here and personal work lining up the vote for Small is being done.

Senator Small brought his campaign to the Texas "Redland district" last night when he spoke to an audience of 700 people from the steps of the Nacogdoches county court house. He was introduced by former Representative A. T. Russell, who read a telegram from Sam Ross of Kilgore, president of the East Texas Oil Land Owners association, who predicted Small would have a plurality in the oil field counties. Senator Small's address attracted the largest crowd which has turned out to hear any of the candidates to date.

Four years ago, when Small ran for governor, he received a very few votes in this section because people thought he had no chance. His showing at that time and his platform and policies this year have won much favor in this section and he will receive a big vote from this section.

Father Is Held On Statutory Charges

HASKELL, June 15. (AP)—J. M. Eads, 50-year-old tenant farmer, was held without bond on statutory charges today after the finding of the remains of a child in a shallow grave in the city dump grounds and the statement of a 25-year-old daughter that she was its mother.

In a statement to the district and county attorneys, she told of having been compelled to submit to her father's advances since she was 13. Eads, in a statement to officers, denied parenthood of the child. He is the father of 11 children.

Floods In South, Drought In West, Worries Hopkins

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Floods in the south were added today to drought in the west as a problem for federal relief workers.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said a serious situation apparently was developing in portions of South Carolina where there have been heavy rains.

In the drought section the agriculture department today notified Hopkins that six more counties had been added to the drought area in New Mexico. The drought was reported to be spreading.

Hopkins also made known the allotment to Arkansas of $400,000 to create a loan fund for moving stranded people back to tillable farms. This fund will be handled by the state relief administration. Land will be obtained from the state, which has taken over many farm for taxes.

MAN SENTENCED

LAREDO, June 15. (AP)—C. R. Williams was convicted and sentenced to two years in prison today on a charge of passing a forged instrument five years ago, growing out of the alleged signing of a payee's name to a traveler's check. Williams was sentenced to three years last November but the appellate court reversed and remanded the case.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 15. (AP)—The market showed moderate activity all during the morning and prices advanced helped by firmer stocks and wheat and by unsettled weather in the cotton belt. July advanced to 12.92, up 17 points from the early lows and 6 points above the previous close. October traded up to 12.24, and December to 12.35, both up 13 points from the lows and 7 to 8 points above yesterday's close. At midsection the market was steady and at the highs.

"SORRY MR. GREGG*, WE CAN'T USE YOUR MILK"

There was nothing "terribly wrong" with the milk Farmer Gregg was sending in to our dairy. It was good and wholesome. You, yourself, would probably have found nothing the matter with it. Our inspector reported healthy animals, sanitary barns, careful handling. BUT MR. GREGG'S COWS HAD BEEN FEEDING IN A PASTURE WHERE THERE WERE A LOT OF WILD WEEDS GROWING. The milk didn't taste "just right."

And so our laboratory staff said "No", and that's all there was to it. Mr. Gregg will turn his cattle into a different pasture. Samples of their milk will be tested at three-day intervals in our laboratory. Not until the taste is right will Gregg farm milk see the inside of our delivery trucks again.

PURITY-From Farm to You

The watchfulness that makes Gray County Milk pure enough for the tiniest sick baby starts on the farm and ends only at your doorstep. Our dairy animals must be healthy and clean. Our milkers' hands are scrubbed. The milk itself is rapidly cooled and transported in sealed containers. Our own laboratory tests it for purity and for richness. We process and pasteurize it in glittering equipment, scalded twice daily by live steam. We deliver it in sterilized, machine-capped bottles.

With us PURITY is no mere advertising catch-word. It is an ever present fact, guarded by thousands of dollars' worth of modern equipment, assured by years of training and experienced, attested by every home that we serve.

STATE PARK IN BOSQUE HILLS WILL BE OPENED ON JUNE 16

MERIDIAN, June 15 (AP)—Tribute to President Franklin D. Roosevelt for creating a branch of the civilian conservation corps for unemployed war veterans will be paid at dedication ceremonies Saturday, June 16, when state park No. 12, unit of Texas' new state parks system, situated in the picturesque Bosque hills near Meridian, will be officially opened.

Built by veterans of COC company 1827, composed mainly of North and Central Texas men, the new park is acclaimed as material evidence that the veterans are as faithful in the war against depression as they were in battles against foreign foes.

In recognition of the veterans' labors, American Legion officials and drum and bugle corps from Waco, Cleburne, and other nearby cities will have prominent parts in the dedication ceremonies, which will be under the direction of D. E. Colp, chairman of the state parks board, assisted by local committees.

State park No. 2 comprises 600 acres deeded to the state by the citizens of Meridian. Construction was under the direction of the national parks service and the state parks board.

The central project is a 100-acre lake created by the erection of a 1500-foot cement and clay dam across Bee creek, a natural basin formed by a mountain stream.

Ten miles of scenic roadway encircle the lake site leading through heavily wooded hills and rock cliffs. A large community house, swimming beach, rustic bridges, stone entrance, observation tower, stone tables and benches, picnic units, and a deer-proof fence are other features. When completed, the project will represent an estimated expenditure of half a million dollars.

A motorcade of Meridian citizens, headed by L. J. Bryan, park superintendent, has completed a tour of five adjoining counties extending welcome to the park opening. Central Texas broom riders were invited to compete for money prizes offered in riding, roping, and steer-bulldogging contests in a rodeo that will be the feature of the celebration.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

DISPUTES WITH MEXICO TO BE STUDIED AGAIN

agreement with the Mexican government several years ago but a change of officials upset the negotiations.

More complicated is the water question. The United States needs a large share of the waters of the lower Rio Grande for irrigation in southern Texas and Mexico must have a considerable in northern Sonora and Baja California.

About seventy per cent of the flow of the lower Rio Grande drains from the mountains of northern Mexico and although there is little agriculture in that section of this country, Mexico is entitled to as much of the water as it wants, according to one interpretation of international law.

The other theory is that a country into which water drains is the owner thereof. On this Texasans base their claim that they should have sufficient to meet their needs for irrigation.

The situation concerning the Colorado river is reversed. The United States has granted Mexico a certain amount of water and at present is giving somewhat more than the agreement stipulates, but farmers in the Imperial valley and Arizona are demanding that a larger share be retained in United States, thus diverting it from Mexico.

A further complication is that under a government project, the United States has appropriated $6,000,000 of public funds to change the course of the all-American irrigation canal and construct an irrigation canal entirely in the United States for the benefit of southern California. The present canal runs through Mexico, where it supplies farms with water, and back into the United States.

It is pointed out that if no agreement is reached Mexico would be in a position to construct dams and water sheds along the tributaries of the lower Rio Grande and deprive the team farmers of water.

SETTLEMENT IS HOPED FOR IN LAND AND WATER TANGLES

By C. G. LEE
Associated Press Foreign Service Writer

MEXICO, D. F., June 15. (AP)—A first-hand study of the physical aspects of the two outstanding unsolved diplomatic questions between the United States and Mexico—the Chamizal dispute and the problem of international water rights—will be made within the next few months by Dr. Joe Manuel Puig Casauranc, Mexican minister of foreign relations, and American Ambassador Joseph Daniels.

No date has been set for the trip but it is believed Daniels will return shortly to this capital from his home in North Carolina, and sometime in early September will accompany Puig on an inspection tour through the Rio Grande and Colorado river valleys and to the El Paso region.

Their joint findings will provide a basis for subsequent negotiations which have been agreed upon.

The question of which country shall have sovereignty over Chamizal, a 400 acre section of land just outside of El Paso, has been in dispute since 1911, when the United States refused to accept the decision of a board of arbitration on the grounds it had exceeded its authority. The land was formerly south the Rio Grande but a change in the course of that river placed it north of the natural boundary between the two countries.

Observers here believe an agreement would probably have been reached long ago except that politicians in both countries have found a good talking point in the question and exaggerated the importance of the section. The general impression of Mexicans who have formed their opinions from listening to or reading campaign speeches in that Chamizal includes the business and chief residential portions of El Paso, whereas official records show that an oil tank and a stockyard are the only important buildings on the property. Development of the section has been retarded because of uncertainty over the eventual ownership.

The dispute is important, however, in that it presents a point of constant aggregation and officials of both countries are anxious to settle it definitely.

Texas Delegation Off to Capitol for Club Encampment

COLLEGE STATION, June 14. (AP)—The Texas delegation to the national 4-H club encampment at Washington, D. C., June 14-20, left Texas by automobile June 8 in charge of E. C. Martin, state boy club agent, and Miss Sadie Hatfield, district home demonstration agent of the Texas A. & M. college extension service. Miss Lorraine Morrison and Miss Lena Wolschlag, home demonstration agents in Galveston and Washington counties, respectively, accompanied the group.

The 4-H club girl delegates are Florence Klingsporn of Brenham, Washington county, and Evelyn Silbernagel of Dickinson, Galveston county. These four were selected by the extension service from 35,000 farm boys and girls engaged in demonstrations in better farming, stock raising and home making.

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Mich.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: The Risen Lord and the Great Commission. Scripture Lesson: Matthew 28:1-10, 18-20.

1. Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2. And behold there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it.

3. His appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4. And for fear of him the watchers did quake, and become as dead men.

5. And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, who hath been crucified.

6. He is not here: for he is risen, even as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7. And go quickly, and tell his disciples. He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8. And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word.

9. And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.

10. Then said Jesus unto them, Fear not; go tell my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

16. But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. And when they saw him, they worshipped him; but some doubted.

18. And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth.

19. Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son and of the Holy Spirit:

20. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you, and lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world.

Golden Text: Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world.—Matt. 28:19, 20.

Place: Jerusalem. Some mountain in Galilee.

Time: From the resurrection morning, Sunday, April 9, A. D. 30, to the ascension, Thursday, May 7.

Parallel Passages: Mark 16; Luke 24; John 20 and 21; 1 Cor. 15:5-7; Acts 1:1-12.

Introduction: "The lesson we studied last week by itself would be a dreadful one; that is if it ended the story. But the cross never ends the story of the gospel of the Son of God. This is one of the splendid things about it. Its dark, hopeless, infernal always have a bright, hopeful conclusion. The resurrection throws back upon the crucifixion a radiance that robs it of its horror, that transforms the hateful cross into a symbol of the victory of heaven's King over earth's sinfulness, of life over death."

What has been said of earlier portions of the narrative of the Gospels applies with even greater force to the account of the resurrection. The reports of the four evangelists should be combined, studied together; for they supplement and complement one another. Matthew and Mark are brief and incomplete in comparison to Luke and John.

Jesus Appears to the Women: The first group of women to appear at the empty sepulchre on Sunday morning departed quickly "still terrified but full of great joy" (Waymouth). With all possible speed they ran into the city to bring his disciples word.

It appears as recorded by John, upon hearing the news ran to the tomb only to find it empty and return much perplexed into the city. Mary Magdalene following them appeared again at the sepulchre before the darkness was gone and to her Jesus first appeared as recorded by John. The other women, however, after they went away from the tomb actually met the Master who said to them, "All hail!" They recognized him at once "and took him by the feet and worshipped him."

That is, they "grasped his feet" and "bowed to the ground before him." By allowing them to touch his body he proved his physical reality.

The Women Tell the Good News v. 8 "And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy." A fear-filled awe because of the vision of the angel and their contact with the supernatural; a glorious joy because of the assurance that their dear master and Saviour was alive again. "After we have fully felt the awfulness of his divine power, we should go on to take comfort in the thought that he who is so great and mighty is also our Protector."—Dean R. W. Church.

"If we are even now rising from death—from the death of sin, from the death of our evil hearts, from the death of our uncharity, from the death of our selfishness—if, even now we are beginning to feel and know that Christ is the resurrection and the Life, then, indeed, with angels and arch-angels and all the company of heaven, we may laud and magnify God's glorious name, praising him in the full tide of Easter joys."—Dean F. W. Farrar. "And ran to bring his disciples word." "Angels to the women on Calvary; the women to the Twelve; the Twelve to the world. So the fiery cross was carried from mountain-ridge to mountain-ridge, one bearer laying it down and another taking it up, until it had summoned all the clan to the standard of the chief."

—Rev. William Arnot.

The Ten Appearances of Jesus: "The argument from the ten appearances of the risen Lord is conclusive in favor of the resurrection of Jesus from the dead. These appearances could not in any sense be considered illusions. Indeed they had to be repeated a number of times in order to convince even the Apostles of the fact of Jesus' resurrection. He appeared several times to individuals: To Mary Magdalene; to the other women; to Peter; to the Apostles as a group: Three times in Jerusalem—one on the evening of Resurrection Day, another on the next Sunday evening and the last on Ascension Day; and two times in Galilee—one to the seven disciples by the lakeside after a night of fishing, and again on the mountain to a group numbering nearly six hundred believers. As long as they lived they declared that they had seen the very person of their risen Lord. Can such testimony be doubted for one moment?"

The Great Commission, vs. 18-20 "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth." "What a staggering assertion! We, after nineteen hundred years, hear it without surprise; millions upon millions, since that day when it was first uttered, have accepted it as his bare right. How is it that, after all these centuries of change and advance, men so readily accord Christ the distinction that he claims? Is it not because there was something in the character, teaching, and work of Jesus Christ which corresponded with and justified his assumption of prerogative so unique and startling?"—Rev. George Hanson, D. D. "Whence the Nazarine's influence in every department of human life? Why not such men as Plato, Socrates, Confucius and Buddha dominated the world? Why does this man, when introduced in China and India, displace Confucius and Buddha in the hearts of the people? Why has not one greater than he been produced by the advancing intellect of the centuries?"—Rev. George P. Rutledge.

"Go Ye Therefore," v. 19 "It is significant that the first two letters of "gospel" are "go." Ours is an every-advancing, forward-pushing, missionary religion. And it is so because of Christ's

"Go Ye Therefore," v. 19 "It is significant that the first two letters of "gospel" are "go." Ours is an every-advancing, forward-pushing, missionary religion. And it is so because of Christ's authority; therefore it could not be so with anything less than infinite power and authority back of it. "And make disciples of all nations." "This command is not to civilize; it is not to educate; it is not to heal; it is not to make converts to any special creed, or to propagate any special dogma; it is to make disciples or Christians of all nations."—Rev. Len G. Broughton, D. D. "If we would have the church effective for her simplest work, she must be true to her foremost work. What is called the missionary enterprise must be frankly and enthusiastically avowed to be her primary concern."—Rev. Robert F. Horton, D. D. In this Great Commission our Lord "means not only those who then stood by his side, but those whom he would choose in all ages for the world. I am with you to the end of the world," were not limited to their lives, but embraced them who should be sent to preach the gospel to the end of time. So that, connected with the power and the reign of Christ,

MAN CHANGES NAME TO TERRELL TO RUN FOR TREASURER'S POST

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—The name "Terrell" has been recognized for years as a power in Texas politics but its significance was emphasized recently when a Dallas citizen changed his name to Terrell and filed as a candidate for the democratic nomination for state treasurer.

On only a few occasions has a state democratic ticket failed to carry one or more persons surnamed Terrell. In several instances more than one has been listed for state-wide offices while numerous Terrells have been successful candidates for district and county offices. The man who changed his name we find our commission also to go and preach the gospel."—Bishop Matthew Simpson.

to "George B. Terrell" formerly was Jefferson T. Baker of Dallas. George B. Terrell of Alto, is now serving in congress as a member at large and long has been identified with state political battles.

Congressman George B. Terrell plans to retire from public life upon the completion of his congressional term. The only other Terrell now occupying a public office by popular suffrage is C. V. Terrell of the Texas railroad commission, who was elected for a six-year term at the last election.

At one time three Terrells occupied state-wide offices. They were George B. Terrell (now congressman), who served as commissioner of agriculture; Railroad Commissioner Terrell, and S. H. Terrell, state comptroller. Congressman Terrell also served in the Texas house of representatives and one term had for a colleague his son, J. Turney Terrell of Del Rio.

Another veteran of the political wars has entered the campaign for membership in the state senate. He is Edwin Waller of San Marcos, who will contest the bid of W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales for re-election.

A dispatch from San Marcos said that Waller for the past 25 years had been seeking election to a state office in seven years while in odd years he was a candidate for mayor of San Marcos.

His last state-wide race was for commissioner of agriculture.

Alabama game laws limit the daily catch of a single angler to 25 game fish, black bass, bream, perch and all members of the sunfish-and fresh water trout families composing that classification.

STOVERS RETURN Mrs. Esper Stover and daughter, Miss Hermine, have returned from an extended visit to Kansas. While away, they attended the commencement exercises of the State university at Lawrence, of which both mother and daughter are graduates.
