MACHADO OFFERS TO RESIGN

Johnson Says 'Economic Death' Will Follow Revoking Blue Eagle RIGID CONTROL OVER OIL PRODUCTION, INDICATED BY JOHNSON

TWINKLES
The best pictures "get away" for instance, consider the scene in which Bob Fuller and H. L. Polley "got off" an 800-pound steer at the Jay-see-outing at the Blanscet ranch this week.

Ordinarily astute, Mr. Polley made the mistake of riding not exactly the word) back-saddle. As a matter of many years of observation of such phenomena, this writer could have warned Mr. Polley that some steers buck chiefly in the south half of their anatomy.

Mr. Polley no longer needs our instruction. It is unfortunate that he spent so much time star-fishing the air and so little time astride the steer. . . . That he came down on the ground instead of on the steer is due to the fact that the steer was not where Mr. Polley was, or vice versa.

Mr. Polley and Mr. Fuller were astride the steer in more or less comfort but considerable trepidation when it left the chute. Fuller soon landed with a great awkwardness but little damage while Fuller continued a few more feet. Fuller made the mistake of slipping back toward where Mr. Polley had been. Then he joined Mr. Polley in the dust and fertilizer of the arena. The steer, to its credit, was no respecter of Jaysees.

Mr. Blanscet would not permit the steer to be "ridden" again that night. He doesn't want the steer to become familiar with the ways of tired business men.

Those who rode on the north end of the steers had better luck but more jolting. Barnes Samuel assures us, however, that the horns of the steer he rode looked like needle points at one end and as big as stove pipes at the other. . . . They kidded Bob Knox until he proved he could really ride a steer. Bob had not learned how to get off on his feet. But in such cases an ear serves nearly as well.

AN INTERPRETATION
"A Reader" writes to inquire if the NRA applies, and if so how, to professional men and others having but one office employee, such as an office girl. . . . Unofficially, we would cite that General Johnson says NRA applies to every employer. A relative is an employee by definition. Professional people and bona fide nurses, internes, and laboratory technicians are not included. Office girls who are not trained nurses are included, and are supposed to be used not more than 40 hours a week and be paid not less than $14 per week. These regulations are for professional men who have NRA emblems. It is possible that an exception may be made later, but at this writing we believe we are correct.

FDR AND THE LEGION
Franklin Delano Roosevelt is a man of courage. He is going to attend the American Legion convention in Chicago October 2-5. It is the usual thing to do, but in view of the long bonus fight and the bitter criticism of Mr. Hoover, the hard-bitten, compensation-slashing Mr. Roosevelt could probably avoid a few disquieting bores by being too busy to attend. Yet the fact that he has been invited and will accept is a compliment to himself and to the Legion as well.

AGREE IN PRINCIPLE
Even more than Hoover, Mr. Roosevelt has cut into the appropriations for veterans, especially those who made the most noise about previous cuts. Mr. Roosevelt hit a popular national chord, however, when he said that truly disabled veterans having service-connected disabilities would not be shorn of their just hospitalization and allowances. Not even the most rabid professional appropriation hunters among the veterans can afford to defy that national feeling at this time. . . . Mr. Roosevelt admittedly created some temporary injustices. He cut too deeply in spots. He is attempting to make good his original promise of fairness. That he has largely succeeded is indicated by the attitude of the American Legion

PRODUCTION TO BE ALLOCATED AMONG STATES
AIDES ARE EXPECTED TO FINISH CODE TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—An intimation that the federal government would provide for rigid control over oil production in the petroleum trade practice plan now nearing completion came today from Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, whose aides are writing it.

Pending completion of the revised code, which is a successor to a tentative draft submitted to the oil industry about two weeks ago, and until the new draft has been seen by them, Johnson would not comment on details.

His intimation that rigid production control would be included came about when he said the recovery program did not recognize state lines.

He was asked if the blue eagle would go inside a state in fixing hours of labor and rates of pay in the oil industry but would stop at the state line on production control.

"Let's see if he does," Johnson replied.

It was expected in authoritative sources that the revised code would provide for allocating national production to meet national demand among the oil states and that to prevent shipment out of a state of more than its allowed share the federal government would exercise rigid control over interstate shipments.

Johnson's aides expected to complete their plan some time today and submit it to him tonight and were hopeful that committees representing the various factions in the oil industry could be called together with NRA officials next Tuesday or Wednesday to go over the revised version.

Former Ranger Kills Himself In Dallas Park

DALLAS, Aug. 11. (AP)—J. P. Huddleston, 63, peace officer 35 years until the recent change of state administration, sat down tonight in a tree in Keith park here today and shot himself through the right temple with the 45 caliber pistol he had carried during that long period of law enforcement. He died instantly.

Mr. Huddleston left two identical notes written on envelopes requesting that his son-in-law, Bryce L. Twitty, superintendent of Baylor hospital, Dallas, be notified.

Mr. Twitty, with whom Mr. Huddleston lived, said his father-in-law had been despondent since he was released as a Texas ranger after the inauguration of the present governor.

Mrs. Huddleston is matron of the Eastern Star Home, between Dallas and Fort Worth.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—J. P. Huddleston of Dallas, former Texas ranger, who killed himself today, had been a member of Captain Tom Hickman's company at Fort Worth continuously from July 3, 1928, until January 18, 1933. He was commissioned during the administration of former Governor Dan Moody and went out with the incoming Ferguson regime this year.

150 GO TO WORK
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11. (AP)—The St. Louis-San Francisco railway is putting 150 men in the maintenance of way and equipment departments back to work at various points along the line, effective at once. Receiver J. M. Kurn announced today.

COUNTY JUDGE IN AUSTIN FOR BOND SESSION

Non-Partisan Group Bands To Work for Relief And Save Federal Aid.

COUNTY JUDGE C. E. Cary left yesterday for Austin on invitation of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to attend a meeting called to discuss the relief bond issue amendment on which Texas people will vote August 26.

He also will discuss road matters with the highway commission and the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission. He carried statistics showing the great need for relief projects in Gray county.

Following is reproduced an exact copy of the principal section of the senate resolution submitting the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to issue relief bonds. The most significant clauses are printed in capitals for the information of readers:

"Section 51a. The legislature shall have power to authorize by law the issuance and sale of the bonds of the State of Texas, NOT TO EXCEED the sum of Twenty Million ($20,000,000) Dollars, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed four and a half (4½) per centum per annum, and payable serially or otherwise not more than ten (10) years from their date, and said bonds SHALL BE SOLD FOR NOT LESS THAN PAR and accrued interest, and NO FORM OF COMMISSION SHALL BE ALLOWED in any transaction involving said bonds. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds to be used in furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardships resulting from unemployment, but to be FAIRLY DISTRIBUTED OVER THE STATE and upon such terms and conditions as may be provided by law, and the legislature shall make appropriations as are necessary to pay the interest and principal of such bonds as the same becomes due. The power hereby granted to the legislature to issue bonds hereunder is expressly LIMITED TO THE AMOUNT STATED AND TO TWO YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE ADOPTION of this grant of power by the people. Provided that the legislature shall provide for the payment of the interest and redemption of the bonds issued under the terms hereof. FROM SOME SOURCE OTHER THAN A TAX ON REAL PROPERTY, and the indebtedness as evidenced by such bonds SHALL NEVER BECOME A CHARGE AGAINST OR LIEN UPON ANY PROPERTY, real or personal, within this state."

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—Mavors, county judges and representative citizens from all sections of Texas were arriving in Austin for a meeting called by proclamation of the governor to discuss the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing relief bonds. William Strauss of Houston is chairman of the Texas relief bond issue steering committee.

The politically nonpartisan nature of the gathering is reflected in the selection of Mr. Strauss as

FERGUSON BEGS TEXANS TO VOTE FOR $20,000,000 RELIEF BONDS

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—An appeal to Texas voters to get behind the $20,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue was made today by former Governor James E. Ferguson at a meeting of county and city officials called to discuss campaign plans.

The bond issue will be voted on at a special election August 26.

Ferguson, spokesman for Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, stressed the need for the bond issue, pointing out that unless the state acted to aid itself, the federal government would withdraw emergency relief allotments. He read a telegram from Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, stating the allotment of $3,377,000 to Texas for August relief would be the last received unless the state provided a substantial fund.

"I have always been opposed to 'bond issues,'" Ferguson said. "But

WITH MORE LEISURE, AMERICANS MUST LEARN HOW TO ENJOY THEIR PLAY

What use is to be made of the new hours of "spare time" due to be given American workers as industries sign up under the NRA and its reconstruction program? Will it be a gain or loss? This is the first of a series of articles envisioning the possibilities of this new leisure and suggesting ways to capitalize it for the wisest benefits.

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—The new deal—shorter working hours—more leisure time.

It is a new mode of life for most Americans. Once we were called money-mad. But now it is said we shall learn that too much idle time is as bad as too much money. If the leisure expected to result from operation of the NRA program and other welfare measures is spent unwisely.

Danger Pointed Out.

What are the dangers and how can time be wisely spent? The first answer to this question is from Jesse P. Williams, M. D., professor of physical education at Columbia university.

The first risk, as he sees it, is commercial exploitation of amusements—"dollar fun." Another is blind belief that work is always a virtue, play always childish. A third is being the all-round dub.

"The ability to play," he says, "is largely an attitude of mind. It is psychological rather than physiological. Those who have never experienced the satisfaction that comes through well performed motor play—the dubs or novices—fail generally to appreciate the fun others enjoy and consequently comprise in the main the critics of play and other sports.

'Arm Chair' Attitude Scored.

One reason for the tremendous lag in the use of play in schools and communities is the fact that control of educational policy has been largely in the hands of those who lack a kinesthetic appreciation of play.

TEACHERS' SALARIES CUT FROM 10 TO 20 PER CENT, EFFECTING SAVINGS IN BUDGET OF $15,000

Teaching Force Will Be As Large As Last Session

TEACHERS' salaries for next term were cut from 10 to 20 per cent and the date of opening of school was set for September 4 by trustees of the Pampa independent district yesterday afternoon. A two-week vacation at Christmas suggested by Supt. R. B. Fisher also was adopted.

High school salaries will range from $100 to $140 and in the Junior high school and grades will be from $90 to $95, exclusive of principals. Wages of bus drivers and janitors were reduced $10 monthly.

Salaries of the superintendent and principals will be similarly reduced, except that of Supt. Fisher was lowered $500 to $3,500 for the term.

The budget for the year will be about $15,000 less than last year or about $185,000, it was estimated by Joe Smith, business manager of the district. The tax rate and its distribution were left the same as last year, or 68 cents for maintenance and 32 cents for the sinking fund to make up the $1 maximum. Taxable valuations in the district have dropped to 17½ millions from $19,196,000 for the previous year.

The teaching force, expected to be smaller next term, cannot be because of an increase of 86 scholastics. The registration in the district is 2,942, compared to 2,856 for the previous year.

Several resignations have been received, but the board of education will not likely hire any more teachers until after the enrollment is completed.

Supt. Fisher is expected to return from Columbia university in New York City about August 24. The football training camp will open at the Mel Davis ranch August 28.

Press Code Not Wholly Endorsed By Hugh Johnson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, today said there were "proposals which are unsatisfactory" in the proposed code of hours and wages submitted by the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Johnson declined at a press conference to intimate what section he considered objectionable, but said the publishers' representatives were due at his office some time today to talk over the program.

Informed of the acceptance by a number of newspapers of the provisions of the A. N. P. A. program, Johnson said "there can not be a code until it is approved after a hearing."

Those who sign the blanket re-employment agreement will be the only ones immediately entitled to the blue eagle signifying adherence to the recovery program.

It has been intimated in sources close to Johnson that he feels there are too many reservations in the newspaper code and that he objects to its failure to specify short hours for reporters and copy editors.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Another pointed indication that the "open shop" labor provision program by the coal industry in its code upon which hearings are now being held would be removed by the recovery administration if the operators themselves do not agree to withdraw the proposal was given today by Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA chief.

BLUE MOUND CLUB, Milwaukee, Aug. 11 (AP)—As the favorites fell behind, Gene Sarazen took a three up lead over Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Delaware, at the half way mark of their 36-hole quarter-final match in the National Professional Golf championship today at Blue Mound.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—A government crop report gave official confirmation to reports of huge crop losses today—both grains fell precipitously in the face of the bullish news. Wheat closed five cents a bushel lower and oats down three cents, the maximum amounts allowable under emergency trading rules, on the Chicago board of trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Cotton slumped about $2 a bale today, establishing new low levels for the downward movement of the past two weeks.

PREDICTS ONE CASE CERTAIN TO ARISE SOON

LOCAL COMMITTEES TO HANDLE SITUATION 'BRIEF PERIOD'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—A flat prediction that a case of revocation of the "blue eagle" emblematic of compliance with the national recovery administration will arise and that it will mean "economic death" to the offender was made today by Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator.

At his press conference Johnson promised that violators of modified presidential re-employment agreements would be disciplined if they were found that they were not complying with their pledge to raise wages and increase employment by shortening work hours.

He added, however, that he intended to let the situation rest for a brief period in the hands of local committees.

"But the time is coming," Johnson said, "when somebody is going to take one of these blue eagles off someone's window in a clear cut case."

"And that is going to be a sentence of economic death," the administrator added sternly, leveling his finger at the newspaper men gathered before him.

Questioned concerning the status of intrastate utilities and similar businesses, Johnson said that while they might not be within the regulatory power of the national recovery act, the blue eagle would reach them.

He pointed out that the possibility of strictly intrastate operations being beyond federal control is one of the reasons "for this blue eagle business."

"This blue eagle doesn't know anything about intrastate and interstate commerce," the administrator said, "and I think it's working out pretty well."

Commenting on his visit to Baltimore for an address last night, he said that unemployment figures and the number of blue eagles on the windows there did not appear to be in conformity but that the recovery administration's advisors there had expressed satisfaction that the problem was working out all right.

New Codes In Effect

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—operation of four industries under modified presidential re-employment agreements—boot and shoe, drug, cheese, and cotton batting—were authorized today by Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator.

These codes thus will be in effect pending hearings, after which final stipulations are drafted for promulgation by the president.

In the wholesale drug agreement a work week of 45 hours is provided, with the usual exceptions covering administrative employees and 10 per cent leeway of hours allowed in the case of delivery men.

Minimum wages in cities of 100,000 population and over shall not be less than $14 per week and in communities under 100,000 not less than $13 per week, apprentices, who may not exceed 10 per cent of the total number of employees, to receive not less than $2 per week below these minimum wages.

Held in Plot

CUBAN WOULD GIVE POSITION TO SECRETARY

WAR MINISTER WOULD BE APPOINTED PRESIDENT

HAVANA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Troops armed with machine guns and rifles surrounded the presidential palace this afternoon after reports had been received that a mob planned to attack it.

HAVANA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Members of the executive committee of President Gerardo Machado's own liberal party said today that the government had submitted to the United States Ambassador Sumner Welles a counter-proposal by which the president would surrender his office to General Alberto, Herrera, the present secretary of war.

The popular and the conservative parties already have demanded that the president step down, and now his own political organization has come forward with a plan accomplishing this same object.

The action of the liberals in part reversed their decision yesterday when they held that Ambassador Welles was guilty of "intermeddling" and that his mediation activities were prejudicial to the sovereignty of Cuba.

Ramon de Leon and a number of members of the liberal executive committee gave confirmation that the counter-proposal had been submitted.

By this plan the present secretary of state, Orestes Ferrara, would resign and General Herrera would be appointed by President Machado to his post.

Thereafter Gen. Machado would ask congress for a leave of absence, thus opening the way for General Herrera to succeed to the presidency in conformity with the provisions of the Cuban constitution.

Bomb Wrecks Street Car.

As the drive to oust President Gerardo Machado neared its climax a huge bomb was exploded beneath a Havana street car loaded with policemen, seven of whom were injured, one perhaps fatally.

Meanwhile, several cities reported that, as a result of the general strike which has turned into a revolutionary movement, the food shortage was fast becoming acute.

A street car bearing policemen to their beats was bombed at Linea and Sixth streets. In addition to injuring the occupants, the bomb badly damaged the car.

Strike Still On.

Judicial police in charge of setting the labor conflict frankly admitted there was small chance of street car and omnibus workers going back on the job today, as their leaders reportedly promised. It was the transportation workers who started the general strike.

Strikers identified with the ABC organization, which is in opposition to the president, circulated leaflets warning strike-breakers that they would be punished.

Among the towns reporting that the problem of food was becoming acute were Santiago, Cienfuegos, Santa Clara, and Camaguey.

Hey Kids—Free Swim Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be another "free day" for children under 15 years of age at the municipal swimming pool. From 9 to 12 o'clock, the children will be guests of the pool. They will not be required to get tickets at the Boy Scout office, as they did recently, because that office is closed during the Boy Scout encampment.

More than 400 children filled the pool recently when they were admitted free, and a similar crowd is expected Saturday morning.

THOROUGHLY IN TUNE

BUSINESS METHODS of recent years obviously could not support a volume of employment needed to prevent distress. The NRA has been devised to produce buying power and encourage DAY TO DAY PURCHASING. Merchants, with full staffs and in some instances even more personnel than actually is needed, must have full service from those employees "to make ends meet."

Obviously, such full staffs will stand idle much of the time if buying is largely confined to week-end rushes.

The NRA provides separate rules for towns UNDER 2,500 population. These are "Saturday" towns and it is impossible to use city methods of merchandising. Pampa is in the CITY class of NRA. Its business, to support the vital payrolls, must NOT be confined to a few days of each week. As a city, it must use city ways and means.

The Pampa Daily NEWS is Pampa's best symbol as a city. Its advertising, available every day, makes every day a shopping day and gives store employees an even flow of work. The NEWS is THOROUGHLY IN TUNE with NRA and the better business methods which can, under NRA uniformity of practice, be adopted. A city is judged by its city ways—use The NEWS every day.

TROOP 3 WINS LOVING CUP AT COUNCIL CAMP

27 Boys Visit Santa Fe; 99 Badges Awarded

TROOP 3, sponsored by the First Baptist church of Pampa, won the loving cup for having the most active Scouts in what was described as the most successful training camp yet held by the Adobe Wall council at Cima del Mundo, N. M. The boys arrived back home yesterday afternoon in good health and spirits.

While in camp they passed 99 tests for merit badges. A high point in their stay in New Mexico was a trip to Santa Fe conducted by Gilmore N. Nunn, vice-president of the council. The Scouts saw the New Mexico historical museum and went through the state penitentiary.

The second troop prize went to Troop 80 of the Methodist church. Troops 15 and 4, of the Presbyterian and First Christian churches, respectively, tied for third place.

First place in camping was won by Jim Bob Johnson of troop 3 who received a gold medal. The second

PERSONAL STANDARDS AND THE NEW DEAL

If the new deal is to accomplish all it should, it must bring with it changes in our ideas and our standards of individual conduct just about as sweeping as the changes that have already been ordered for the operation of our industrial machine.

One of the changes we need to make is in relation to our attitude toward debt. It might be a very healthful thing for us to regain the point of view which our grandfathers had in regard to it.

In the old days people had, if not a horror of it, a very real distaste for going into debt. The proudest boast of the solvent, successful man was that he owed no man a farthing.

No one needs to be told that we haven't got that viewpoint anymore. In the last decade or so the hallmark of the successful man has not been his ability to keep out of debt but his ability to get into it.

It led, furthermore, to a satisfying of our conception of the morals involved in the use of other people's money. Many an American town can tell a tale precisely like the following:

A bank has folded up in a large manufacturing town. High officers of the bank have been revealed as heavy borrowers from it.

Just what difference is there, essentially, between the bank president who borrows from his own bank to "invest" in stocks, hoping that his profits will enable him to repay the loan, and the little shoe shop cashier who takes money from the till to play the races?

If a too-ready acceptance of debt had not blunted our concepts of right and wrong, we would not have had a society in which such things would have happened.

FLYNN INTENDS TO PROTECT FANS FROM FAKE MAT BOUTS

To Pay Particular Attention to Anti-Fame Up Sections of Law.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—Jack Flynn came to Austin to be commissioner of labor in Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's cabinet. It is a job that deeply concerns one interested in organized labor and Flynn was interested. He anticipated his new job with satisfaction and pleasure, he said.

But there was a surprise awaiting him and practically every other person in the state. The public was surprised when the legislature enacted a law legalizing boxing and Flynn received his surprise when the lawmakers made him "czar" of the boxing industry and the big grunt and groan men of the wrestling mat.

Flynn never dreamed the heretofore prosaic office calling for enforcement of labor laws would develop so much fun for him.

It is possible that had the chief executive foreseen the new responsibilities now delegated to the commissioner of labor in the supervision of those sports, she might have picked a labor man who also knew something of boxing and wrestling.

It is doubtful whether she could have made a happier selection than she did for Flynn has taken hold of the boxing and wrestling game with enthusiasm. He has put himself unreservedly to the task of organizing for the licensing of promoters of the two sports. It means additional work but he is having more fun than he could have imagined before he was clothed with the autocratic powers of "czar" of boxers and wrestlers, he explains.

He has made a thorough study of the law which regulates those sports and he means to see it properly applied. He intends to deal fairly with promoters and fans. He will pay particular attention to those sections which were designed to protect the fans from fake matches. He is interested in placing boxing and wrestling on a high plane as sports. It was for that purpose that advocates of legalization and regulation of those sports sought enactment of the law that was passed.

Flynn is giving much of his time drawn on heavily by the duties of his office connected with labor, to the new work placed on him. He has visited the principal cities and

ANOTHER 'PONZI' CHARGED IN LOSS OF $1,000,000 IN SAVINGS

Teacher Tells How He 'Beat Up' Blondell Spouse

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11. (AP)—A motorcar driven by George Barnes, movie cameraman and husband of Joan Blondell, film actress, collided with one driven by Foster W. Gary, unemployed school teacher. Little damage was done. But both Gary and Barnes were dismounted.

Barnes gave Gary his name, but the school teacher peeked at the registration slip, saw Joan Blondell's name and, demanding a right one, jumped on the running board of the Barnes-Blondell car as it moved away.

After a few blocks Barnes got tired of the heckling—this is Gary's account of it—and let fly a fist. Gary hit back, blinding Barnes' eye, bruising his nose and parting him from two teeth.

The two scuffled. Miss Blondell hurried from a nearby beauty shop, saw the fight, rushed in—this is still Gary's account of it—and landed a few blows herself, just as police arrived and called it a draw.

CERTIFICATES OF NO VALUE. SAYS LAWYER

'EVERYONE'S FRIEND' IS 'WORSE THAN A ROBBER'

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Charwomen's cheers echoed in the cars of Lorenz Strack, a real estate broker, as he sat in a cell today, but they brought him no comfort for they were not for him.

They were for a magistrate who, on hearing him denounced as "a Ponzi," held him in $100,000 bail on grand larceny charges.

Strack, a corpulent man who looked straight ahead and said nothing yesterday, is a pillar of Yorkville, New York's "Little Germany." He was everyone's friend; everyone trusted him.

House servants, scabwomen, storekeepers brought him their savings for investment, the magistrate was told yesterday. Many did not even take the legal papers he offered them in return, everything was sailing smoothly until there was a little difficulty about the interest on Maria Blessing's $5,000.

Maria, a chambermaid, went to see Attorney Owen S. M. Tierney, who used to prosecute fraud cases when he was assistant federal attorney. He found, he said, that Miss Blessing's $5,000 was represented by a real estate bond from which all reference to mortgage security had been stricken out so that it was little more than a promissory note.

Tierney had the broker arrested, and terror struck Yorkville. Two hundred of its citizens crowded to court yesterday, some of them weeping; some of them standing on benches to hear better what had become of their savings.

They heard Tierney say that he alone had in his safe claims for $1,000,000 in mortgage participation certificates issued by Strack. Faces went white when Tierney added that these are "not worth a nickel."

They also heard a deputy assistant attorney general say that Strack

ASKS RULING ON RACE LAW

Constitutionality And Tenure of Statute Is Before James V. Allred.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—W. W. Heath, secretary of state, has asked James V. Allred, attorney general, for a ruling on the constitutionality of the proposed law which would legalize the certificate system of wagering on horse races.

Also, U. S. secretary of state wants to know if the law, which would become effective on September 1 next, would be operative longer than two years.

The bill was attached as a rider to the departmental appropriation bill during the closing days of the 43rd regular legislative session.

The appropriation bill is effective only for the biennium beginning on September 1.

Heath propounded his questions after the San Jacinto Downs company made application for a permit under the blue sky laws of Texas to sell 4,250 shares of its proposed capital stock. The company would own and operate a race horse track near Houston.

Allred said he had granted a request of J. H. Barwise of Fort Worth to file a brief and present oral argument on the questions before rulings are handed down.

The law would place regulation of horse racing under a commission "worse than a robber." As the prisoner was led away they rushed hysterically toward him, but police closed around him and escorted him away.

of three members comprised of the commissioner of agriculture, the tax commissioner and a chairman to be appointed by the governor. Frank Scofield of Hillsboro was selected by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to be chairman. The commission held its initial meeting a few days ago and announced as soon as the law is effective it would issue its first permit to W. T. Waggoner, owner of the Arlington Downs racing plant.

Fred Hulbert, Jr., not only made a hole-in-one on a golf course near Aberdeen, Wash., but was the first golfer to accomplish the feat on the Tokeland links.

New and Better Way to Beat Body Odor in This Hard Water

Laboratory tests now show that ordinary soap, with its thick, sluggish lather, will cleanse only the surface of the skin. But body odor is deep-seated, caused by stale perspiration curds. Ordinary soap can't remove these curds in this hard water.

That's why deep pore cleansing is needed—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile, being 100% pure vegetable oil soap, mixed with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely—even in the hardest water. Thus it ends body odor in the only effective way—by removing the cause.

Kirk's Coco Castile is stimulating to the skin—leaves no offensive M.S. (medicine smell)—ends body odor the odorless way. A BIG cake, half an inch larger than the average toilet soap, it is today selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

RIVERSIDE TIRES

LATEX WELDED CORDS

(100% PURE LIQUID RUBBER)

which prevent Cord Separation... the cause of blowouts

Blistering heat develops inside your tire every time you drive your car 35 miles an hour or faster! Heat so terrific that in many tires it causes cords to separate. It weakens the tire from within, causing blisters you can't see. You hit a rock or a bump. Suddenly—BANG—a blowout! It may come today, tomorrow, any minute! A blowout that can send your car hurtling off the road! The lives of your family are at stake!

Riverside tires are built to prevent blowouts! Riversides' Cords—the heart of the tire—are made from extra strong, long staple, premium cotton. Every cord in every ply is dipped in LATEX—100% pure, liquid, virgin rubber. This welds the cords into a super strong unit! It gives Riversides the strongest tire carcass made! It prevents cord separation—the cause of blowouts!

Why We Save You Money

Of course Riversides are made in one of America's largest and best tire factories. BUT—they come direct to us—minus the manufacturer's selling and general overhead expense. That's a saving. The second saving comes from Wards low cost method of distribution. These two reasons explain why we sell high quality tires for less. It's simple to figure out for yourself why Riversides are better in quality, mileage, and safety than any other tire at the same price.

*RIVERSIDE TIRES will not blow out under normal road conditions during the life of the tread if they are kept properly inflated in accordance with the specified air pressures.

Wards Unlimited Guarantee

For your protection every single Riverside tire is guaranteed by Wards to give service that is satisfactory to you. No time limit! No mileage limit! A tire has to be extra good—has to be extra safe to be backed by the strongest tire guarantee ever written!

'MISS PAMPA' TAKES PART IN REVUE EVENTS

An Elaborate Social Program Planned For Beauties

Miss Myrtle Alene Gregory, Pampa entry in the Yucca beauty pageant at Roswell, is enjoying a round of social courtesies with some 25 other young women who will compete for the "Queen of the Southwest" title this evening.

Miss Gregory, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory, left Wednesday for Roswell to engage in the two days of entertainment and reviews.

Today's program for the beauties started with a sight-seeing bus trip in Roswell and vicinity, ending with a swim and a visit to a photographer's studio where pictures were taken.

A tea on the mezzanine floor of the Yucca theater was given at 1 o'clock with Mrs. Fred Morley as hostess, and a theater party followed.

Twenty young men of the city are to be hosts at a dinner this evening, then finals in the beauty parade will begin at 8:30. Contestants will model in bathing suits and evening gowns, the winner to receive a trip to the world's fair.

She will be honored at the "Miss Victory" dance at the Orchard club this evening, the final event of the two days.

This full day of entertainment follows a gay evening yesterday, when the chamber of commerce was host at a banquet, the first showing of the beauty pageant was staged, and a dance on the open air floor of the Orchard club was given by the beauties.

Brownie Aker, formerly of Pampa, is a member of the committee in charge of entertainment for the contestants.

New Attorney General's Aid Is First Woman From South In This Federal Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—The one-time crinolined ladies of the south now have a very modern representative at the austere department of justice.

Stella Akin, one of the newly sworn in special assistants to the attorney general, is the first southern woman to gain admittance to this branch of the federal government.

She is a young Savannah, Ga., lawyer with curly, red hair, sparkling brown eyes and a low voice softly southern in its accent.

Started As Stenographer Miss Akin was just 17 years old during the war when she obtained a stenographer's position in a law office.

No Time For Golf "Just a general practice," she explains, "divorces, claims, even four murder trials. It was so fascinating I had time for nothing else. Don't ask me if I play golf. I just don't have time."

Her activity explains that lack of time. The day she was sworn in she chatted a few moments and then began looking around rather vaguely. Her new chief, the attorney general, asked her if she was looking for anything.

C. Dubbs of Drumright, Okla., is visiting friends here for a few days.

DEMPSEY SLAPPED WRESTLER CLEAR OUT OF DALLAS RING

DUTRA GONE-- FARRELL AND SARAZEN LEAD

FARRELL BEATS CHAMP BY SHOOTING TWO UNDER PAR

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 11. (AP)—Gone was Olin Dutra, the defending titleholder, but surging forward were six powerful contenders and a pair of die hards of the "dark horse" ranks as the long struggle for the National Professional golf championship headed toward the semi-finals today.

Leading the dwindling field were Gene Sarazen, dead serious in his quest to land a major title after losing the American and British open championships, and Johnny Farrell, famed stylist from New York, who topped Dutra off his throne yesterday in a thrilling match that ended with a conquest over a partial stymie on the thirty-sixth hole.

Both Sarazen and Farrell had lively engagements ahead of them today in the quarter-finals of the lower bracket. Gene meeting Ed Dudley, a noted performer from Wilmington, Del., and Farrell clashing with one of the most stubborn fomenters of golf, Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn.

The other quarter-final matches also promised action. Johnny Hines of New York, co-medalist, matched shots against the deliberate and silent Tom Creavy of Albany, N. Y., 1921 champion, and Paul Ryan-Ryder cup star and big money winner in last winter's campaign, tackling Willie Goggin, 29-year-old long distance marksman from Salada Beach, Calif.

Farrell, stole the show yesterday by turning back a stubborn bid by the champion. He tossed a 68, two under par, at Dutra in the morning to draw away to a three-lead and kept drilling away in the afternoon until he held a five-hole margin at the 28th. The tottering champion then opened up a great rally, winning five of the next seven, until Farrell stopped him.

Magic City Nine Withdraws From Cotton-Oil Loop

The scheduled league game between the Pampa All Stars and the Magic City nine will not be played Sunday afternoon in Magic City, that team having withdrawn from the league. Manager C. V. Lane of the All Stars is trying to match a game to be played at Magnolia park Sunday afternoon.

He was in touch with Skellytown this morning trying to get the Oilers here for a game. Feelers were also out for one or two teams in case Skellytown could not play.

The All Star aggregation has lost only two games this season. The team is composed of several well known players. The boys have made hits wherever they have played. They work well together and stick to baseball, letting their manager do the arguing.

The pitching staff is composed of one youngster Vodie Clemmons, and a number of old timers including Charlie Meeks, Charlie Austin, Stewart, Kirkpatrick, and one or two more. The rest of the team is made up of youngsters and old timers enough to steady the young players.

SECOND BOUT WILL END IN 'YANKEE DRAW'

FIRST PICTURE TO BE SENT TO EUROPE AND ITALY

BY EDWARD J. NEILL
Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Shhh! The biggest scandal of the year has broken wide open in boxing. Max Baer has agreed to be knocked out by Primo Carnera in two rounds.

Authority for that statement comes direct from the manager of Carnera himself, Louis L. Soreli, the little Italian banker who took over the huge Italian's affairs where Leon Seppelt dropped them.

"It is so, yes," admitted Soreli today. "He goes, in two rounds. Boom. But of course it is only for Europe!"

For Europe? "Yes, for Europe," explained Soreli. "For the United States and for over here, you know, we go two fast rounds to a draw. Their everybody happy."

If for Money.
So one of the greatest prize ring naturals, a heavyweight champion who had battled Carnera, the knockout conqueror, and Baer, the man who had beaten Max Schmeling in the first great upset of the present summer season, is going to be shortly released from his rope on this, the match that was to bring back the $1,000,000 gate—the match that promoters from New York to California and the Chicago have been trying to make for weeks.

"You understand it of course?" Soreli questioned about the worried look about him. "It is for the moving pictures in Hollywood."

"Baer, he is making this picture and in it he fights for the championship. Carnera is the champion. So he wants to fight Carnera all right. Carnera signs today to fight Baer in the movies. So it is agreed. Two times we make the movies of the fight part. In one day's fight to a draw. This is for Europe. In the other Carnera knock him out. That is for Italy and all Europe. Ah, how Italy like that."

It sounds all right the way Soreli says it, but the very mention of such a stunt in the old days would have sent Tex Rickard jibbering to a sanatorium, chewing holes in his gray fedora, tearing his cane to matchwood with his finger tips. The old timers will think of Jeffries and Fitzsimmons, Willard and Johnson, Dempsey and Tunney, and shudder at what they'd have done to a movie studio—rehearsing.

Business has been very good with Carnera since he won the title. Soreli says, and it is reported that he is to get $60,000, more than he received for his end of the gate in which he won the title from Sharkey, for his "act" with Baer.

First Doubles Match in Tennis Tournery Played

L. N. Atchinson and Chris Martin opened senior doubles play in the city tennis tournament yesterday afternoon by taking two out of three games from Murray and Cheever. Scores were 6-3, 3-6 and 6-2. Every game was keenly contested and several times throughout the series the games were even.

The last game in the senior singles, first round, was played yesterday afternoon with L. M. Batton defeating Edwin Vicars 6-0, 4-6, and 6-3. Vicars played his first tennis in several years yesterday and showed that he needed practice. He made Batton work thru-out the contest, however.

Only three matches remain in the senior doubles and the same number in the junior doubles. The rest of the players drew byes in the first round in order that the brackets would be even.

Play in second round of the singles will start Monday. The NEWS will carry the pairings Sunday and each player will be given three days to meet his opponent.

BARBER CODE FILED

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—A code for barbers was forwarded to Washington today by officers of the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America. If the code is approved, the minimum cost of a hair cut will be 50 cents and for a shave 25 cents. It provides for a 48-hour week of six days, a minimum wage of $25 and 60 per cent of chair receipts of $37 weekly wage.

Haiti's coffee crop this year may reach a total of 40,000,000 kilograms.

Composition handles have been invented for holding paper forks and spoons.

Of German invention is a tennis ball that can be re-inflated to restore the buoyancy.

NOW HE SLEEPS

BARNHART, Tex.—Bode Owens' sleep was made restless by the "who-o-oot" of an owl outside his window.

The boy's downtown told him a guinea fowl was what he needed to keep the owls away. He bought a lonesome guinea hen.

The next night he found the hen dead. The owls continued to "who-o-oot."

Bode got two steel traps, set them near the spot where the hen was killed and went to bed. The next morning he found an owl in one trap, a rattlesnake in the other. Bode can sleep now.

SHIPPERS WIN DOUBLEHEADER -- 2ND IN WEEK

GALVESTON TAKES 2-1 GAME FROM CATS IN 15 INNINGS

BY BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

It may not be enough to lift them into the first division but such a noble feat should not pass unmentioned—the fact that the Beaumont Exporters have won their second doubleheader within a week.

Winning doubleheaders is one definite way to travel upward. Thursday it was a 3 to 1 and 6 to 2 double triumph for Beaumont over Oklahoma City.

Steady lurching in the pinches and timely wallpopping with eager runners on bases and ready to gallop across home plate won for Beaumont.

By pitching three-hit baseball, Judge Schulz bested Otto Nicholas in the first mound duel. Hugh Williamson's home run accounted for the Redskins' lone run in the opener. Morgan's triple in the first inning that scored Walters and Clifton, followed by Shelby's single that scored Morgan, gave Beaumont three runs in the second game and an opportunity to coast in behind the combined pitching of Ray Fritz and Art Herring.

Ralph Erickson, ransy southpaw, was triple eight for Dallas. He limited the San Antonio Missions to three hits for an 8 to 0 decision. He had the pleasure of holding "Pud" Purdy, the league's leading hitter, to four "horse collars" in four trips to the plate.

Tulsa and the pace-setting Houston Buffaloes held a double war. In the end each had won a victory. Tulsa grabbed the first affair, 5 to 4. The loop leaders got the second, 7 to 6. Tulsa forged to the front in the eighth inning of the first game with a two-run rally after Houston had scored three in the second and one in the fifth to take a 4 to 3 lead.

In the second game, the Buffa-

Indians Selling Tickets For Two Games on Sunday

A drive to sell enough tickets to bring the team out of a financial hole was started this morning by members of the Indian baseball club, junior team. The tickets are 15 cents and will be good for any one of the remaining games on the schedule.

The Indians will play a doubleheader Sunday afternoon on the Talley addition diamond which has been put in good condition. The local nine will play the Huber cartoon team from Borger and Hoover.

Borger's team won a 10-inning battle from the local youngsters two weeks ago in Borger. The Pampa team has tossed out Hoover three times this season, two of the games going extra innings.

Manager C. O. Busby has gathered a bunch of high school boys and graduates of the last year or two and has rounded them into a snappy squad. The youngsters play hard and steady ball that has made them popular everywhere they have been this season. Pampans should support the team because they will be senior players in a very few years. In fact, some of the players are ready for flfter company.

The first game of the doubleheader will be called at 2 o'clock.

PHILLIES ARE BLANKED 2-0 BY PARMELEE

INCREASES GIANT LEAD OVER PIRATES TO 3 1/2 GAMES

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The name of Leroy (Bud) Parmelee, the big "freshman" flinger, already has been placed near the top of the list of reasons why the New York Giants are leading the National League. But the young right-hander who led the American Association with Columbus last season still is seeking the no-hit game he has approached at least twice this season.

In his first start, Parmelee allowed the Phillies only one hit for a 2 to 1 victory. Yesterday he came just about as close to his perfect game as he blanked the same team with two safeties to win 4 to 0. In between he has hurled a couple of four-hit games and established himself as one of the outstanding young hurlers by winning ten games and losing only five in 22 appearances.

For seven innings, Parmelee didn't give a hit, allowed only one walk and hit one batsman as he burned in his fast ball and tricked the batters with effective curves and change of pace. Wes Schulmerich broke the spell with a single to start the eighth and after walking a second man, Parmelee pulled out again with two strikeouts and went on until two were out in the ninth before Chuck Klein smacked a single for the second Philly hit.

The victory increased New York's lead to 3 1/2 games over Pittsburgh as the Pirates' opening battle with the Chicago Cubs, the only other game on the National league schedule, was rained out.

The Chicago White Sox advanced to threaten the fourth place rivals, Detroit and Cleveland, by beating the Tigers 6 to 3 in the other game on the program.

A KNOCKOUT

EVANSTON, Ill.—Despite her somewhat frail figure of 110 pounds, Miss Sarah H. Scott, a supervisor of nurses, did this:
When a 210-pound six-foot man allegedly tried to seize her in an "L" station she scratched and kicked. The man staggered away. Three blocks away the police caught him and had to take him to a hospital for medical treatment. They said they identified him as Paul McMahon, a former reformatory inmate.

Markets

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Weakness of wheat apparently brought another pause in stock market operations today and prices of listed equities generally moved dully in an extremely narrow range. The close was irregular, with some of the leaders rallying moderately. The trading volume dropped sharply under that of yesterday, transfers approximating only 1,300,000 shares.

PUBLIC MUST BUY NOW SAYS HUGH JOHNSON

CAMPAIGN WILL PROVE DEFINITE RESULTS OF PROGRAM

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—A presidential order and governmental example pushed along today the national recovery administration's organized campaign to "buy under the blue eagle emblem" of industrial recovery.

Closely following the remark by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, that "it would be curious" if the government dealt with firms not coming in under the recovery program President Roosevelt last night backed the administrator's words with a presidential order virtually fulfilling Johnson's prediction.

Mr. Roosevelt, at the summer White House, issued an executive order that all government contracts would be cancelled if the contractor did not comply with the recovery code. Government contracts eventually will include a big part of the $3,300,000,000 public works fund.

At almost the hour the presidential order was issued, Johnson, in an address at Baltimore, said that "the public must buy now, it must buy under the blue eagle and it must buy to the full of its reasonable and prudent needs." This, said the administrator, was "nothing less than the point of success or failure" in the entire recovery program.

The campaign, Johnson predicted, would intensify during the next three weeks toward "complete saturation of the country" with the spirit of the recovery program.

With its buying campaign definitely launched, the NRA pressed its effort to swing more industries under recovery codes designed to raise pay and create more jobs.

One of the most notable outgrowths of increased employment, agencies found, is the fact that younger high school graduates are being signed for office positions—something unheard of in recent months.

NEWS! EXTRA ANTI-KNOCK VALUE
It is now added to every gallon of Phillips 66
No increase in price!

Phillips 66 is "Running Away" with the Business in 17 States

Before you buy your next tankful of gasoline, think of what the following figures tell you about the quality and value of Phillips 66:

In 1928 we started with 2 service stations. Today we have 10,654. In 5 years, sales of Phillips 66 have skyrocketed from nothing to four hundred and fifty million gallons a year!

Experienced oil men marvel at this spectacular growth, unparalleled in the industry. But they know why Phillips is running away with the business in the 17 states in which it is for sale. They know that Phillips 66 was introduced at a time when most motorists thought all gasolines were alike—except high test gas, which sold for $6 extra per gallon.

To offer sensational, self-demonstrating value, Phillips decided to sell this premium quality without a premium price. We were in a unique position to do this, because Phillips was and is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline.

In addition, we put another extra value into our gas. We pioneered CONTROLLED VOLATILITY which scientifically presuets every gallon of gas you buy to your weather, at the time you buy it. And month by month, we publish our actual gravity (high test) in plain figures.

For example, Phillips 66 gravity this month ranges from 62.1° to 67.9°.

Now, higher anti-knock is added to this high test by a special process hitherto available only in gasolines sold at a premium price.

See if you don't feel the difference Phillips 66 makes in your motor. Its high test and higher anti-knock will add power, pep, and miles. Will give flashier get-away and greater flexibility.

MILITARISTIC JAPS CLAIM U. S. DESIRES NAVAL BASE IN MEXICO

TOKYO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Vernacular newspapers printed what they called "reliable information" today that America was negotiating with Mexico for a naval base in lower California and so statements attributed to navy officers that such a base would seriously menace peace in the Pacific.

These reports reached the foreign office from official sources in the United States, a spokesman said, but he declined to reveal whether they were Japanese or non-Japanese. He added that the government was not perturbed.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi said, however, that the foreign office was studying the matter since such a base would be in violation of the Washington naval treaty.

Newspapers, keeping alive the popular belief about "American naval ambitions" at a time when a forthcoming budget including large appropriations for defenses is being considered, identified the site of the base as Magdalena Bay, on the southwest coast of lower California.

LEISURE

Play can never be evaluated in an arm chair.

"Since play is an attitude and participation relates to proficiency, the business of education in this function is twofold. First, there must be developed the notion that play belongs in any plan for better living in the world and hence that all persons unable to play are badly or partly educated.

Reaching 'Enjoyment Level'

Secondly, every boy and girl must be educated in at least several forms of motor play beyond the novice or dub class and hence into the enjoyment level.

"The essence of good play is its neglect of ulterior ends. Its purpose arises and matures within itself. Thus, playing golf for one's health—a horrible use of such a noble game—is about on a par with dancing for health.

"With the growth of leisure time we will be the victims of commercial exploitation through various forms of amusement if we allow a generation to grow up quite uneducated in wholesome leisure time practices.

Play Education Needed.

"Too much time badly used is bad for both the individual and society. People have always spent their leisure time in the oldest forms of play—gambling, drinking and sex. All are socially undesirable. Therefore education must teach children, young people, and adults how to engage in games, festivals, outdoor sports, camping, musical organizations, amateur dramatics, and the like.

The idea that play belongs in a good life. Education must combat the notion that work is a great virtue. The average person's notion of work is thoroughly degenerate. The doctrines of modern business led not to happiness but to more factories, not to beauty but to more mills, not to health but to more wheat and cotton.

"The achievements of business are lauded as signs of progress and the success of financial enterprise set up as a goal for youth to aim at, while all the time the increase in nervous and mental diseases cries aloud that ability to live as an organism is an essential in education."

FABULOUS 'LOST SAN SABA MINE' BEING WORKED DAILY BY 13 OF CORONADO'S TRUSTING CHILDREN

PRAIRIE DELL, Texas, Aug. 11. (P)—Search for buried treasure, which legend says consists of enough gold and silver bullion and minted coins to fill a room 14 feet square, has set a group of men clearing out an apparently abandoned mine five miles from here in the wooded foothills of Central Texas.

A casual utterance of a wounded Mexican laborer and the instant recognition of a name by an Indian interpreter set the undertaking in motion.

Bowie Started It. History supports the belief that somewhere near here is cached old muskets, swords, saddles, etc. Bowie is known to have come to this section in search of the Spanish-owned mine. Some even believe that remnants of wagons and 2-wheeled carts are relics of Flores' pitched battle with the Indians in Bell county.

The lost San Saba, or Bowie mine, has been "positively" located in several places in Central Texas, but no one as yet has found the treasure. The owners of this mine believe it is the treasure house.

Ricardo Hernandez, working on the J. P. Pope ranch, was bitten by a rattler. He was taken to a physician in Georgetown, where it was decided to leave him at a boarding house to recuperate. As no one could understand him, a graduate of the Haskell Indian school who spoke English and Spanish, offered to interpret.

Telling his employer that he was over by the "Little Blue Spring," the Mexican caught the Indian's attention. At his request the Indian was allowed to go home with them and go to work.

Marker Destroyed. The Indian purported to be the grandson of Chief Red Eagle, who was working for the Mexican government in 1830 when the mine was closed by edict. The Texas revolution was imminent and it was considered unsafe to continue operation.

The old chief, the young Indian said, had told him the story and described identifying marks by which to recognize the land. The "Little Blue Spring" was one, another was a tree which could not be found. When excavating was begun at the Indian's insistence, it was remembered the tree had been looking for was destroyed in a flood in 1921.

After taking away several feet of dirt the men came to a rock wall. As the Indian had told them they found that a large opening had been plastered up. Breaking through, the diggers found a tunnel filled with water, rocks, and dirt, as he had also told them.

Twelve men are working daily under Foreman W. F. Cullen and are going back into the cave about 100 feet a day. They are now over 100 feet into the tunnel and another of the Indian's points is about to be tested. He has told them they would find a sharp turn to the right, another sealed wall and then a short tunnel into the treasure storeroom.

The story sounds fantastic at a distance, but even the most skeptical visitor to the scene gets a thrill out of seeing the points of the Indian's story confirmed one after another. The trip over century-old roads, rough and apparently aimless, also makes one forget the present and live in the days of Mexican supremacy.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer.

Are you puzzled these hot days about what to have for luncheon or dinner or tea? If you are, these easy-to-make recipes may appeal to you. They are specially planned to tempt summertime appetites without over-taxing the pocketbook.

Peanut and Potato Croquettes. These will make an excellent main dish for luncheon or supper. Either sweet or Irish potatoes can be used. Two cups mashed potatoes, 1 1/2 cups finely chopped peanuts, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon white pepper, few drops tabasco sauce, corn or wheat flakes, 1 1/2 cups white sauce, 3 tablespoons chili sauce.

Combine mashed potato, peanuts and seasonings. Shape into small cylinders and roll in cereal flakes, being sure each cylinder is completely covered. Brush over with melted butter and brown in a hot oven. Add chili sauce to white sauce and serve in a separate dish with croquettes.

Chocolate Ice-Box Cake. This cake is not as rich as the cake made with butter and bitter chocolate, but it's very good for hot weather.

Four eggs, 1/2 pound sweet chocolate, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 teaspoon salt, one dozen lady fingers, 1/2 pint whipping cream. Melt chocolate over hot water. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored and add to melted chocolate. Beat well. Add vanilla and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff but not dry. Remove at once from heat. Separate lady fingers and place, flat side up, in a shallow mold lined with heavy wax paper. Cover with half the chocolate mixture. Place another layer of lady fingers on top and cover with remaining filling. Top with another layer of the lady fingers. Put into refrigerator for 12 hours or longer and serve with cream whipped until firm and lightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Cheese Roll. One-half pound Philadelphia cream cheese, 4 tablespoons Roquefort cheese, 2 tablespoons finely minced olives, 1 tablespoon minced sweet green pepper, 1 minced canned parsley, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup nut meats. Mix all ingredients except nuts. Shape in a roll about two inches in diameter and roll in nuts. Chill for several hours and serve on a platter with a garnish of radish roses.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Watermelon cones, cereal, cream, vegetable hash, toast, cheese bread, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Stuffed baked eggplant, lettuce sandwiches, blackberries with sugar and cream, vanilla fruit punch. DINNER: Fried fruit soup, sliced baked ham, potato and peanut croquettes, new peas, jellied fruit salad, chocolate ice-box cake, milk, coffee.

LYNN FAVORS TAX ON GAS

State Auditor Would Place Tax On Gas Being Piped Out of State

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. —Moore Lynn, state auditor and efficiency expert, has recommended that some plan be formulated to amend the inter-state commerce laws whereby each state could collect a tax on the proportionate part of the business transacted in a state by enterprises engaged in interstate commerce.

Lynn reported that the federal laws regulating interstate commerce play a very important part in determining the amount of taxes due the state. About the only levy the state can place on interstate industries is the ad valorem tax on their tangible property.

An instance cited by Lynn is gas pipeline companies. Such companies transporting gas from Texas to other states are subject to ad valorem taxes only and cannot be required to include the receipts from gas transportation in franchise and gross receipts tax computations.

A large amount of revenue that might be obtained from the cigarette tax is lost because concerns located outside Texas can ship cigarettes to consumers within the state and evade the three cents a package tax on the ground that such transactions constitute interstate commerce.

BOND ISSUE BALLOTTED

STAMFORD, Aug. 11. (P)—Two hundred town directors of the West Texas chamber of commerce are balloting this week, to fix the regional organization's policy as to the proposed $20,000,000 state bond issue for relief. After the ballots are in, a statement of policy will be issued. The majority will control.

business of interstate and intrastate origin, avoiding duplicate taxation on the same property or transaction.

"If the tax is fair to local business concerns dealing in intrastate business, it should apply also to firms engaged in interstate business," Lynn stated.

GEHRIG EXPECTS TO BREAK CONSECUTIVE GAME RECORD

HUSBAND FOLLOWS WIFE. MERKEL, Aug. 11. (P)—J. N. Shelton, 82, pioneer resident here, survived his wife by only five days, succumbing last night in the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. M. Elliott. Mrs. Shelton, 74, died last Friday, and immediately after the funeral her husband went to bed, unconsoled.

Jack Foster has returned from a trip to Galveston, Houston, and New Orleans.

Will Play No. 1,308 Next Week To Surpass Baseball Endurance Mark

By ALAN GOULD. Associated Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (P)—Lou Gehrig hasn't the slightest recollection of the game or circumstances under which he began his "iron man" streak of consecutive games away back in 1925 when he was just an enthusiastic big league "freshman" trying to make good for the Yankees the way he used to do for dear old Columbia.

What's more he hasn't thought much about it since and he has no idea whatever of asking for a day off after he plays consecutive game No. 1,308, probably sometime next week in St. Louis, to surpass the world record for baseball endurance set by Everett Scott, Yankee shortstop, the same year that Gehrig took off on his non-stop flight.

"Why should there be so much fuss about a fellow sticking to a good, steady job?" asked Gehrig after knocking off work yesterday in game No. 1,302. "I can't see that's anything to get excited about. I like to play baseball, the Yankees seem to want me regularly on first base, so why not be in there right along?"

It was called to Lou's attention that perhaps there were times during his long run that he might have liked to "lay off," that in fact he played for several weeks in 1931 with a broken little finger on his throwing hand and at other times with a sprained ankle.

"Well," he admitted, "it may have been tough sometimes but I figured I might as well play if I could, instead of babying myself about little things like that. I played a lot of football when I was in college and nobody was taking time out to ask me how I felt. I think the experience was good for me. At any rate, I can't say I ever had much real excuse for not being in the ball game or that the effort to keep my string intact influenced me to play when I shouldn't. This long run of games didn't mean much to me until I passed the 1,000 mark.

So far as Gehrig is concerned, he will keep on playing daily, adding to his record, unless and until the Yankees decide he should have a rest. Before that happens, the club will have to hire another first baseman. There is no understudy for Lou on hand now. His streak will reach 1,352 games if he completes the present season, and he sees no reason why it should stop there.

They say the strain has told on Gehrig, that his recent batting slump may be blamed in part on his continuous playing but Gehrig disagrees heartily.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Hannah.
Scripture Lesson: 1 Sam. 1:9-11; 2:1-10.

9. So Hannah rose up after they had eaten in Shiloh, and after they had drunk. Now Eli the priest was sitting upon his seat by the doorpost of the temple of Jehovah.

10. And she was in bitterness of soul, and prayed unto Jehovah, and wept sore.

11. And she vowed a vow, and said, O Jehovah, if I should indeed look on the affliction of thy handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thy handmaid, and will give unto thy handmaid a man-child, then I will give him unto Jehovah all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come upon his head.

12. And when she had weaned him, she took him up with her, with three bullocks, and one ephah of meal, and a bottle of wine, and brought him unto the house of Jehovah in Shiloh; and the child was young.

13. And they slew the bullock, and brought the child to Eli. 14. And she said, Oh, my lord, as thy soul liveth, my lord, I am the woman that stood by thee here, praying unto Jehovah.

15. For this child I have prayed, and Jehovah hath made my petition which I asked of him.

16. Therefore also I have granted him to Jehovah; as long as he liveth he is granted to Jehovah. And he worshipped Jehovah there. 17. Hannah prayed, and said, My heart exalted in Jehovah; my horn is enlarged over mine enemies; because I rejoice in thy salvation.

18. There is none holy as Jehovah: for there is none besides thee; neither is there any rock like our God.

19. Golden Text: A woman that feareth Jehovah, shall be praised. Prov. 31:30.

Time: Birth of Samuel, B. C. 1174. Place: Ramah, Shiloh.

Introduction
The Book of Samuel opens upon a polygamist family living in the village of Ramah in Samaria about twelve miles from Shiloh, the seat of the tabernacle. The man of the house, Elkanah, was a member of the tribe of Levi, and an honorable, devout man. His first wife, Hannah, was childless; his second wife, Peninah, was the mother of several sons and daughters. Annually this godly man with his household went to Shiloh to worship and sacrifice unto the Lord. On such occasions Elkanah gave to his second wife and their children proper portions of the sacrifice; but he refused to Hannah her share, for she was barren.

Such a situation must inevitably produce unhappiness and discord. Peninah, jealous of Hannah because of Elkanah's open preference for her, taunted Hannah with her childlessness—not once, but repeatedly did she provoke her, especially at these annual feasts. Elkanah, fumblingly and rather awkwardly, sought to comfort her and commended himself to her in words which were worthless to her.

An Intense Prayer.
In her helplessness Hannah was ready to pray; no one can pray until he realizes his own helplessness. In bitterness of soul, and with much weeping, Hannah poured out her heart to God, calling upon him to remember her, and vowing that if he would give her a baby boy she would give him unto the Lord for service all his days. This is one of the examples of agonizing praying in the Bible; Hannah prayed as though she must have her answer to her prayer, speaking in her heart through moving lips after her voice had ceased to be heard. The aged temple priest bade her to return to her home in peace and added his own petition to her: that God would grant her request.

The Mother.
The important part that good heredity, godly parents and home environment play in forming character is universally recognized. Among these influences mother counts most. When you see greatness and goodness in a man or woman, honor the mother. Yes, the mother of that man or woman! Samuel honors mightily in the Old Testament; the last of the judges, the connecting link between an old order and a new in Israel, leader, reformer, statesman; distinguished by remarkable purity, honor and justice; he is one of the outstanding characters of antiquity. The key to Samuel is, then, in a particular sense, his mother Hannah.

Jesus reminds us that you cannot gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles. No more can you expect godly men and women to come out of homes where there is no prayer, praise, church-going, Bible reading, sacrificial giving and respect for God's holy ordinances.

Hannah's Thanksgiving.
1 Sam. 2:1-10.

"The psalm (2:1-10) in which Hannah gave thanks for the great blessing vouchsafed to her is precious for itself, and also because it was quoted so largely in Mary's Magnificat (Luke 1:46-54). This hymn is an exact transcript of the swelling gratitude of a truly pious heart as her prayer before had breathed its bitterness and grief. Some there are who gladly come to their God in sorrow, but quite forget that the seasons of joy should be devoted to him as well. Hannah was evidently not of these, but one of the most spiritually pious characters of the Bible. She has a high place in its gallery of God Women" (Grace Agallier).

The Birth of Samuel.
In due time, Hannah's prayer was answered. Eli's prophecy was fulfilled and a man-child was born to Elkanah and Hannah. We can only imagine the rejoicings that filled the Levite's house that day and the following days. "What else can one do that is so valuable as to contribute a human life to the world and then to direct it as to make it a blessing to mankind? How insignificant seems the gorgeous tomb

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

Stamps are to have a part in the observance of the tenth anniversary of the constitution of the Soviet Union of Russia.

To be known as the "tenth anniversary constitution stamps," the issue, ready for early release, will consist of eight stamps, ranging in value from 1 kopeck to 40 kopecks. The 1k will bear the state emblem of the U. S. S. R., while each of the others will be devoted to one of the seven republics that make up the Soviet Union, a man of the particular sections of the country being imposed on a flag background. All the stamps are in three colors except the 1k, which is executed in four.

Rumanian Commemorative
Another commemorative issue has just appeared from the Balkan country of Rumania. It comprises four stamps and marks the centenary of the incorporation in Wallachia of the old Roman city of T-Severin. Wallachia became the kingdom of Rumania.

The 25-bani is gray green, the 50-bani dull blue, the 1-leu blue brown, the 2-leu blue black. Each depicts a scene, either modern or historical, of the famous city.

Foreign Price Drops
A generally lower listing of the value of foreign stamps in keeping with the advance proof of the new standard catalog to be issued September 18. Approximately 103,000 stamps are included in the catalog, says its editor, John N. Luft and Hugh M. Clark, an increase of 3,000 over last year.

What's Happening
Those who know say that, while the collecting of stamps having a value of $5 or more, due to their rarity or otherwise, has shown a decrease in the past year or so, there has been a definite increase in the number of collectors. The newer ones seem to pay more attention to packets and to stamps which can be obtained at little outlay.

Both Honduras and San Salvador are preparing issues to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the sailing of Christopher Columbus from Palos.

A new issue of 8,000 75-cent airmail stamps, surcharged $4.50, was put out by Newfoundland for the carrying of mail back to Italy by the Babao transatlantic expedition that marks the final resting-place of one who has merely absorbed from society—how insignificant, I repeat—in comparison with these monuments of faith and blood, left by creature heroes whose graves are forgotten!—William Jennings Bryan. The name given to the child indicates the pious nature of Hannah as well as the holy life to which the boy was devoted. "Samuel" may mean "Name of God." "Asked of God," "Heard of God," "the gift of God," are other possible significances. At any rate, as verse 20 indicates the name was given as a memorial of Hannah's answered prayer, and would remind her if it whenever she speaks to him, many times a day.

Samuel Taken To Shiloh.
"And when she had weaned him, she took him up with her." Probably at the great annual passover feast. She took him to Shiloh, where the tabernacle was at that time, and where it had been since the days of Joshua. This place was in the territory of Ephraim, in the very heart of the country, on the east side of the highway connecting Bethel with Shechem. It was about fifteen miles from Hannah's home in Ramah. "With three bullocks," "We may conjecture that one was intended for a burnt-offering, one for the sacrifice in performing a vow, and one for a peace-offering. See Num. 15:8"—Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick. "And brought him unto the house of Jehovah in Shiloh." As it was more than three centuries since the construction of the tabernacle, the original tent must have been renewed many times since the days of Moses; but we are still to think of the central portions of the sanctuary, at least, as presenting the same appearance as when the great lawgiver erected it. "And the child was young." Just how young Samuel was at this time we are not told, but he was old enough to help Eli in the care of the tabernacle.

Samuel Devoted to Jehovah.
"Therefore also I have granted him to Jehovah." What God has given us, God has a right to. He gives fully and abundantly; let our giving to him be as free and as full, one for a peace-offering. See Num. 15:8. "Only a mother can understand the depth of Hannah's sacrifice—to give away entirely and forever the dear child who every day had bound himself to her more completely by the cords of love! Yet Hannah did it, and thousands upon thousands of godly mothers throughout the ages since have found grace and strength to do the same thing. "And he worshipped Jehovah there." "He" that is, the boy Samuel, thus putting his own child-seal to his mother's gift of himself to God."—Dean H. D. M. Spence.

Special Lesson.
From this study we catch fresh emphasis upon the proper sphere of woman. No empire will ever be so becoming to woman as that which exercises away over the childhood of the race. To be mothers of men, the teachers of men, the spiritual inspirers of men is a rule in a realm of character-forming, destiny-determining influence. Unwise and unhappy the women who voluntarily surrender such a position for the unsatisfying allotments of fleeting careers.

GALVESTON SOLDIER OF FORTUNE AND HIS WIFE ARE ATTEMPTING HORSEBACK TRIP AROUND WORLD

GALVESTON, Aug. 11.—Robert R. Carr and his wife embarked on a horseback trip around the world, declaring they would cover more than 10,000 miles in two years. Carr has had so many experiences that demand the staunch courage and determination of an adventurer that this trip will merely be another long horseback ride.

The Gypsy spirit has always ruled his actions. When he was only 14 years of age Bob stowed away on a boat that eventually landed him in South Africa where he cast his lot with the citizens of the city in the 123 day siege of Kimberley during the Boer war. His contemplated trip will take him through South Africa, where he will visit many old friends.

Carr holds medals for service during the Boer war and other medals seem to identify him as an international citizen.

Carr has the distinction of being awarded a medal for bravery and a citation by the former Emperor of Germany for service as a soldier of fortune after the Boer war.

Fought For Kaiser.
Carr was one of 80 soldiers of fortune in the service of Germany who chased 500 rebellious Heriatians under command of their chieftain, Marengo, 85 miles into the Kalahari desert, killed the chief and dispersed the native horsemen after a battle of several hours.

It is his love for horses that inspired the four-year circuit of the globe, Carr explained.

Carr's wife, Grace, is also an experienced rider and as fond of their two horses, Franklin and John, as he is.

Carr was born in Honolulu, while his helpmate is a native of Mississippi. Besides soldiering in German, English and United States armies he has served the United States coast guard and as an agent for the United States department of justice.

Out After Record.
His activities also include participation in fulfilling Cecil Rhodes' dream of the Cape to Cairo railway and a bronco-busting in Australia.

The Carrs want to surpass the record of A. F. Tschiffely, the Argentine schoolmaster who rode 10,000 miles from Buenos Aires to New York in two years with a packhorse. The Carrs will not have packhorses and will earn their expenses as they travel.

J. R. Denny and E. T. Roberts of the Fort Worth regional office of the Montgomery Ward stores were visitors at the Pampa store this morning while en route to Amarillo to the opening of a new store there.

Mrs. B. O. Bertrand of White Deer shopped here yesterday.

RUMOR FACTOR WAS LOCATED IN TEXAS RECENTLY COST $5,000

AUSTIN, Aug. 11.—The rumor that John "Jackie the Barber" Factor kidnaped Chicago, and his abductors had been located by state highway patrolmen at Alice cost plenty of money, in the opinion of L. G. Phares, chief of the state highway patrol.

Phares estimated that approximately $5,000 was expended in long distance telephone calls as a result of the false report. The phone in the headquarters of the highway patrol was kept ringing with long distance calls from Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and other northern and middlewestern points.

Texas newspapers also made frequent telephone calls, Phares said, and the state itself spent a considerable sum in tracking down the rumor.

The report started in McAllen, Phares found out, and grew out of facetious remarks between two federal border patrolmen and two state highway patrolmen in front of a restaurant.

"Hear you boys caught Jackie Barber today," one of the federal men was quoted as saying.

"Nope," replied one of the patrolmen, "that was two other guys up at Alice."

The innocent remark was overheard and the report spread swiftly, the aftermath being that newspapermen and officers spent several hours verifying that dame rumor had played them another trick.

One enterprising newspaperman, Phares said, called him at 2 a. m. and asked the patrol chief to "please see if he couldn't arrange" so he would be the first to obtain an interview with the kidnaped man. It took several minutes, at so much per minute, before Phares convinced the long distance reporter that the story was a myth.

Larry Spicer of Kingsmill was in the city last night.

BULLFIGHTING EXPLAINED
MADRID, Aug. 11.—Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., has been initiated into the mysteries of bullfighting by Sydney Franklin, the bullfighter from Brooklyn, and the son of the American president expects to see Spain's national sport soon. Young Roosevelt is a guest of American Ambassador Bowers. He was intensely interested in Franklin's experience.

Henry Latie of Skellytown was here on business yesterday afternoon.

Gliatto-Donnelly Scrap Is Not Terminated Until Negro is Knocked Cold.

By BILL PARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer. The recent fistfight between Ed Connolly, Galveston catcher, and Sal Gliatto, Dallas pitcher stirred up considerable friction between Galveston and Dallas players.

Gliatto's trouble with Galveston players started in the first series game when he hit Dr. Dick Goldberg on the arm with a pitched ball.

Gliatto and Goldberg exchanged words but the good doctor trotted down to first base without showing further resentment toward the diminutive pitcher. After hitting Goldberg, Gliatto proceeded to dust off Tuffy Huff with a couple of pitched balls and again words were exchanged.

No sooner had Galveston arrived for batting practice the next night than the two clubs started "riding" each other. Gliatto was perched on one side of the Dallas dugout while the caustic greetings were going on. Ed Connolly walked over and knocked Gliatto to the ground several times.

A number of players on both teams grabbed bats but allowed the fight to proceed until Manager Fred Brainard tried to separate Gliatto and Connolly. Brainard swung on Connolly and then Huff started toward the mix-up with his bat. The negro ground keeper grabbed the bat and in trying to jerk it loose the negro was hit a glancing blow on the head that laid the dusky fellow cold.

Perseid Meteors Travel 144,000 Miles An Hour

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—If you wish to see what a speed of 144,000 miles an hour really looks like, turn out late tonight to look at the perseid meteors.

Reports of preliminary observations indicate that these annual meteors are on time as usual this year. Between midnight tonight and dawn tomorrow the earth is due to pass through the part of the perseid orbit where the meteors are most densely crowded. Twenty to thirty an hour should be visible.

The perseids travel about 40 miles a second. They are among the fastest meteors belonging to the solar system. If they flew any faster they would escape from the sun's gravitational grip and go wandering off into space, and so would be lost as an annual spectacle to earth.

WASHINGTON TAKING A REST-- BATTING AVERAGE TUMBLES

By BILL PARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer. When George Washington's batting average suddenly dropped from .374 to .344, Manager Jake Atz promptly removed the husky slugger from the Port Worth lineup.

Atz believed Washington needed a rest. In Atz's opinion, when a club possesses a major league prospect like Washington it is always good policy to give him plenty of rest when a hitting slump looms. Batting averages can quickly slump but the route back to a .374 or better average is sometimes slow and uncertain.

What resembled a batting race between "Pid" Purdy of San Antonio and George Washington of Fort Worth may develop into a threesome.

Fred Bennett of the Dallas Steers is clouting hard and timely. Within three days he jumped his average from .324 to .348 to take third place in the race for honors. Bennett, always a noted slugger, is cracking the ball hard and brings back memories of his hard-hitting days with Wichita Falls when he was perhaps the most feared hitter in the league.

There isn't much doubt about this year's Texas league home run ace, Zeke Bonura, giant Dallas first baseman, apparently has honors clinched. Bonura is far ahead with his rivals running short of games. Hitting well-over 300, fielding well and hustling all the time, Bonura looks like one of the league's best bets to land a major league berth.

Bernie Jaffies, former Dallas second baseman now playing with the New York Giants, led the 1932 Texas league race in stolen bases. It is probable "Flea" Clifton, Beaumont infielder, will succeed James as the best little base thief in the league. Clifton has stolen over thirty, and

ROOSEVELT DISCUSSES NRA IN NEWSREEL AT LA NORA THEATER

A dramatic newsreel interview with President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House, as he outlines the government plan to effect an increase in wages and a decrease in working hours throughout the nation; appalling scenes of the wreckage of Captain and Mrs. James Molison's plane at Bridgeport, Conn., where they fell after crossing the Atlantic from Wales, and hectic scenes at Floyd Bennett Field as thousands break through police lines to greet Wiley Post at the end of his globe-circling flight.

It is to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily News-Universal Newsreel. Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, describes events in the reel at La Nora Theater.

Speaking clearly and simply, the chief executive is seen to range as he tells millions of Americans of his plan to better their financial condition. Devoid of all technicalities, the inner workings of the National Industrial Relief Administration are explained, and the President in this historical film, says that his hope for the success of the present drive has been considerably heightened by the co-operation he is receiving from business executives throughout the United States.

Other outstanding news events reported by McNamee include unusual views at Burlington, Ia., as President Roosevelt's son Elliott is married to Ruth Googins of Texas; intimate close-ups of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world and his bride, Hannah Williams, at Lake Tahoe, Cal., and exciting scenes at Jones Beach, N. Y., where the outstanding women aquatic stars compete in the National A. A. U. Swimming and Diving Meet, lowering several world records.

Vegetables Used In New Ways to Tempt Appetites. Beef and Ham Gumbo in Rice Ring. One-half pound cured ham, sliced; 3-4 pound of beef, diced; 1 onion, sliced; 1 green pepper, chopped fine; 1 pint water; 1 quart tomatoes, fresh or canned; 1 quart okra, cut crosswise; salt and pepper to taste.

Cook the ham and beef until browned in a large frying pan. Add the onion and green pepper, and cook for a few minutes. Add the water and tomatoes, cover, and simmer until the meat is almost tender. Then add the okra. Season to taste and simmer uncovered until the okra is tender and the stew has thickened. Serve the gumbo in a rice ring made as follows:

One cup rice; 4 cups water; 1 teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons butter; 2 dashes tabasco sauce. Wash the rice well, and sprinkle it into the rapidly boiling salted water. Cook for about 20 minutes, or until the rice is tender and the water absorbed. Add the seasonings, put the rice into a well-greased ring mold, and pat it down. Reheat in the oven, turn onto a round platter, fill the center with the gumbo, and serve at once.

Creamed Ham. 3 tablespoons butter or other fat; 3 1-2 tablespoons flour; 2 cups milk; 3 cups ground cooked ham; 1-2 cup chopped green pepper, salt, pepper. Make a white sauce of the fat, flour, and milk. Add the ham and green pepper and cook the mixture about 10 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve hot on toast, with water, or in a rice ring.

Curry of Pork or Lamb. One cup sliced onion, 2 tablespoons drippings, 4 cups diced green or half-ripe tomatoes, 2 cups chopped lean cooked meat, 1 cup thin gravy, 1 teaspoon curry powder, salt to taste. Cook the onion in the drippings for a few minutes. Add the tomatoes, cover, and cook until tender. Add the meat, gravy, and seasonings, stir, and heat the mixture thoroughly. Serve hot with flaky rice. Apples may be used instead of tomatoes.

Fried Tomatoes. Six or eight firm tomatoes, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon cold water, finely sifted bread crumbs, salt and pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Wash the tomatoes, remove a thin piece from the stem end, and cut the tomatoes into slices about one-half inch thick. Beat the egg slightly, add water, dip the tomatoes in this, and roll in the bread crumbs, which have been seasoned to taste with salt and pepper. Allow the coated tomatoes to dry out somewhat before frying. Heat fat, place the coated tomatoes in the hot fat, brown on one side, then turn carefully, and reduce the temperature so that the tomatoes will have sufficient time to cook before browning. Serve on a hot platter, garnish with chopped parsley, and serve at once.

Two quarts okra, 4 tablespoons fat, salt to taste. Select young okra, wash it well, dry thoroughly, and cut crosswise in pieces about one-half inch thick. Heat the fat, add the okra, cover, cook for 10 minutes, and stir frequently to prevent burning. Remove the cover, continue to cook until the okra is tender and lightly brown. Serve at once.

Baked Cucumbers. Four large cucumbers, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 cup tomato pulp, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper. Wash and pare the cucumbers and cut them in half lengthwise. Scoop out as much of the seed portion as possible without breaking the fleshy part, parboil the cucumber shells in lightly salted water for 10 minutes, and drain. Meanwhile cook the onion and parsley in the fat, add the other ingredients and the cucumber pulp, and cook this mixture for 5 minutes. Fill the cucumber shells with the hot stuffing.

ROMANS WILL REVIVE RITE Balbo To Be Driven Thru Arch of Constantine In Triumph Ceremony

ROME, Aug. 11. (AP)—A Roman triumph, a custom not followed for many centuries, will be revived Saturday to give Gen. Italo Balbo and members of his transatlantic seaplane squadron a rousing welcome home.

It will have another purpose, too—to pay tribute to Premier Mussolini as the inspiration for Italy's renaissance in aviation.

General Balbo advised the air ministry that he plans to bring his armada to Ostia, Rome's new port, from Lisbon, Portugal, 1,300 miles away, without stopping. Their arrival in Italy is set for Saturday evening.

Returning from Ostia, the Premier and General Balbo will be driven triumphally to Rome, past the arch of Constantine, just outside the ancient coliseum, which thousands of Americans have visited.

A new roadbed has been constructed under the arch and a railing around it has been removed. The 1,600-year-old monument, erected after Constantine's victory over Maxentius, will become the momentary center of attraction in the Roman world.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: Colin Hewitt, writer of detective stories, has plunged himself into one of his own plots. Before Reddy Turner was killed by the Mask, underworld czar, in Colin's apartment, Colin promised Reddy to deliver a mysterious letter for him. Colin was trapped by one of the Mask's killers in Reddy's room when he went for the letter but escaped. He reads the note accompanying the letter he is to deliver and learns that the sealed envelope is to be given to Joe Lazarre, who lives on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence near a town called Cap a l'Orage. Lazarre is an employee of the Mask, so the letter must be delivered secretly. Colin decides to leave at once, partly to evade the Mask, who is on his trail.

Chapter Eleven UNDER COVER

The winch clattered. A boxed radio came up from the Bonaventure's hold and was swung out into the snub-nosed, broad-beamed power boat that thumped against the steamer's hull, and that was already loaded, one might imagine, beyond the capacity of even two of her kind.

And yet it seemed, there was always room for something more—another barrel or two of flour, another drum of gasoline or oil, a bale of this or a case of that.

Lastly there would be the mail bag. But the mail bag was not usually either bulky or heavy. It generally seemed to have an emaciated and dejected look about it as though conscious its poverty-stricken state would not even enable it to dole out so much as a letter apiece to that little cluster of houses on the shore there.

Colin, leaning over the coastal steamer's rail, watched the scene as he had watched a similar one many times before, always with unflagging interest. His mind harked back over the four days and a half since he had left Quebec. Not that a great distance in actual mileage had been covered, as the time consumed may imply; but there had been innumerable stops like this one, for the Bonaventure was the liaison between the lone villages on the coast and the source of supplies and necessities which came from Montreal and Quebec.

He nodded thoughtfully to himself. He had gone ashore frequently, walked through the villages, and talked with the people and had come to admire them for their courage, their faith, and their simple philosophy of life under conditions that were so often those of obvious hardship—and in his heart to pity them for what seemed to him, their profound loneliness and isolation. A queer, strange, new country to him, so near to civilization, and yet so immeasurably far away!

The boat alongside, fair down to her gangplanks, cast off. A figure in the bow, nondescript in dress, one arm wrapped around the plunging mast, waved his cap and then shouted in farewell; another figure in the stern, nursing his sputtering engine and half hidden by the heterogeneous pile of cargo that surrounded him, did the same. There came a short, barked order from the bridge. The Bonaventure was on her way again.

And the next port of call was Cap a l'Orage. A few hours from now—this afternoon. Colin swung away from the rail and began to pace up and down the deck. Cap a l'Orage—Storm Cape. He had wondered often enough if there were anything significant in the name—for him?

On the face of it all, it looks simple enough—to deliver a letter to one known as Joe Lazarre at Cap a l'Orage, that was all. But it wasn't all. Granting the delivery of the letter—what then? What was the Mask to do? Go back to New York, take up his normal life once more? It wouldn't last very long. The Mask, as witness Reddy's end, did not delay attentions of that sort unduly. As it stood now, Colin Hewitt, so far as the Mask was concerned, had vanished. He had left no trail to follow; he was confident of that. And to make assurance doubly sure, he was no longer even the "Routh" of the hotel register. His name was now Howard—Donald Howard. He smiled wryly. How many names had the Mask? He was running the Mask a close second!

All very well! But to resume his life as Colin Hewitt in New York as matters now stood? Merely suicide! What to do then? So much depended on Lazarre—on Colin's soul. There was a heavy score to settle. He had seen Reddy shot down as casually as one might swat a fly on a window pane, and his own world was shattered, his own life dependent now on matching his wits to win against the Mask. What a story it would have made! He would have gloried in it. But, damn it, this was no story—it was stark actuality.

Well, his solution, so far as that end of the problem was involved, seemed to have worked out satisfactorily up to now. He was here on a bit of a holiday, that was all—wanted to see something of the north coast, and, later, Labrador, and later still, Newfoundland perhaps. Where the spirit led. Some salmon fishing, too, though he understood that most of the rivers were privately owned—but that could be had anyway in Newfoundland.

He had merely elected to make Cap a l'Orage his first stop because he had been informed that one of the few places, well down on the coast where anything in the way of boarding house or hotel accomodations was to be obtained. A good reason!

And, from what he had seen in his jaunts ashore, he had mentally congratulated himself that Reddy had indicated Cap a l'Orage as a starting point—no matter how primitive the accommodation there might prove to be!

All this was perfectly logical, perfectly natural. He alone at moments had thrown side glances at his own story—simply because of course he alone knew that he had something to conceal. As a matter of fact no one had dreamed of questioning his story. He had unhesitatingly been accepted at his own face value.

His glance traveled up and down the deck—a composite picture—the tourists making a holiday cruise to Newfoundland and back; pulp men and timber cruisers bound for various points; the casual passengers, local inhabitants mostly, and whole families of these sometimes, that kept getting on and off, paying visits or perhaps migrating from one place to another.
