CONTRACTS LET FOR PLACING CALICHE ON ROAD AND FOR BUILDING BRIDGE

COUNTY STILL HOPES TO GET FEDERAL AID

COUNTY PLANS TO TOP McLEAN ROAD WITH ASPHALT

Gray county went back into the public works business yesterday after despairing of getting any further help through federal relief agencies.

Contracts for placing caliche on the Pampa-McLean road, from paving to paving, and for the construction of a bridge across McClellan creek were let by county commissioners yesterday.

Oran Spear of Alford was the successful bidder for the road contract. The Austin Bridge company of Dallas received the contract to build the bridge. Mr. Spear's bid for work on the Pampa-McLean road was $218,828.90.

Work on the road is to begin within two weeks. It was specified in the contract that work would begin at both ends of the project at the same time and that 85 per cent of the labor used would be local or Gray county labor.

Approximately 1 1/2 miles of the highway was called during the Civil Works program. It was never topped with asphalt, however. Some of the engineering work and grade was completed on more of the road, but all work ceased when the FERA program became effective April 1.

The bid of the Austin Bridge company for construction of the long bridge across McClellan creek to the new Gray-Wheeler oil field was $13,277.70. Two other bids were received, but they were much higher.

The bid of Glover & Boyington of Pampa was $14,556.12 and that of Oran Spear of Alford $18,595.52.

Some of the right-of-way for the road leading to the bridge still has not been secured, hence starting of construction will be delayed until that item can be completed.

The right-of-way lacking is portions of roads on each end of the new road. The county will construct the road and approach to the new bridge.

County Surveyor Warren T. Fox will be engineer in charge of both projects. He will be paid on a daily basis for engineering work in the road project, since some of the engineering has already been completed.

Civil Suits Are Next on Docket

The first jury week of this term of 31st district court will begin Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The week will be devoted to civil suits. Judge W. R. Ewing in calling the docket set several suits for hearing Monday but the first to be heard will not be known until court convenes.

Criminal cases have been set for next week. The grand jury has already returned eight indictments and will re-convene tomorrow morning. Jail cases will be the first called, Judge Ewing stated yesterday.

CALIFORNIA'S 'SUNNY JIM' ROLPH DIES

Governor Who Defended The Lynching of Accused Kidnapers Dies at San Jose.

SAN JOSE, Calif., June 2 (AP)—California's picturesque and widely known governor, James Rolph, Jr., 64, died here today.

In the quiet of the Santa Clara valley ranch home of Walter Linnforth, a friend, the chief executive succumbed to a combination of diseases which overcame him several months ago and recently caused him to abandon plans for a reelection campaign.

For days the end had been expected. Early in the week physicians abandoned hope. Every time the governor rallied the succeeding relapses left him weaker. The climax came this afternoon when Dr. J. M. Scanlan, superintendent of the State hospital at Agnew announced: "Dead—1:30 p. m."

"Sunny Jim" Rolph, whose personal characteristics and long public career made him known on two continents, died as his son, James Rolph 3rd, held his hand. Mrs. Rolph and the governor's three brothers, Will, Ronald and Tom, were at the bedside.

The duties of governor immediately fell upon Lieut. Gov. Frank P. Merriam of Long Beach, like Rolph a republican. Merriam, a former Iowa state legislator, is 67 years old, a native of Hopkinton, Iowa. He had announced previously for the republican nomination for governor.

Rolph's capacity for making friends, his acts and gestures of generosity and his enormous capacity for work made him one of the outstanding political figures of the west. He held decorations from France, Japan and other countries.

The Rolph smile was famous. He never appeared in public without a gardenia in his buttonhole. He was every ready to crown a beauty queen, throw the first ball at the opening game of the season's national pastime, make a speech, meet an incoming dignitary or a visiting actor.

Governor Rolph usually was outspoken and his stand on the lynchings of Thomas Thurmond and John M. Holmes here last Nov. 26 brought widespread condemnation and acclaim.

The two men were lynched by a mob which broke into the Santa Clara county jail after the slaying of Brooke L. Hart, son of a San Jose merchant, had been found in San Francisco bay. Holmes and Thurmond were accused of killing the youth after they had kidnaped him for ransom.

Governor Rolph was refused to send troops to guard the accused men. "What? Send troops to protect those two boys? Rolph exclaimed. "I will pardon anyone convicted of lynching them. The aroused people of San Jose made a good job of it. We show the nation that this state is not going to tolerate kidnaping."

Taking a keen delight in aviation, Rolph became known as the "flying governor" through his frequent use of airplanes.

Lone Star Gas To Answer Suit In State Court

AUSTIN, June 2 (AP)—The way was cleared in Travis county district court today for immediate trial of the state's suit to compel the Lone Star Gas company, wholesaler of gas to more than 200 Texas cities and towns, to abide by a 20 per cent rate reduction ordered by the Texas railroad commission.

District Judge W. F. Robertson overruled general demurrers, pleas of abatement and general exceptions directed against the suit by gas company attorneys. The legal attacks were based on a contention the gas company's business was interstate, as gas served Texas towns came, in part, from Oklahoma fields. Jurisdiction of a state court in the litigation was challenged.

"The commission will keep" its limitations regarding interstate commerce, Judge Robertson said, "and it could hardly be presumed the commission would purposely violate the law."

HOPKINS PLANS DROUGHT FUND FOR MID-WEST

TEXAN ASKS COUNTIES BE ADDED TO LIST

Congressman Marvin Jones of this district is making a hard fight to have Gray county given emergency drought relief for her hundreds of unemployed men, he stated in telegrams Saturday to George Briggs, B. C. D. manager, and Alex Schneider, county relief board chairman.

Mr. Jones said that he was in communication with Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, and making strong pleas to have more Panhandle counties added to the approved list. Favorable action, however, is somewhat dependent upon department of agriculture reports on crops in this country.

It is noted, also, that the relief appropriations are being sought by an increasing number of states, and that the political pressure on the federal government is becoming terrific.

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—A work program designed to employ thousands of men in the mid-west drought areas was drafted today by Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, with the approval of President Roosevelt.

"The relief administrator said the plan would be launched immediately in the counties that had been certified by the department of agriculture as requiring emergency action. He announced allotments to 11 states for the work.

At the same time the administration had under consideration the advisability of asking congress for an additional appropriation of about $200,000,000 to cope with a situation that, officials say, is growing worse hourly.

Hopkins' statement said that work plan was "specifically designed to conserve food and water" and was developed following a long distance telephone conversation with President Roosevelt at Groton, Mass.

The special allotments for the new program include: Idaho, $250,000; Kansas, $200,000; Minnesota, $1,000,000; Montana, $350,000; Nebraska, $276,000; New Mexico, $100,000; North Dakota, $500,000; South Dakota, $1,050,000; Utah, $600,000; Wisconsin, $2,100,000 and Wyoming, $150,000.

"Work projects," the announcement from the relief administration said, "will be put speedily under way to employ the heads of farm families in need. The projects will include the development of additional water supply thru wells and from rivers and lakes. Projects employing men and women in the canning of meat, fruit and vegetables also will be used to conserve food resources of the area and furnish cash income for the families. Road work, as well, will provide considerable emergency employment."

Hopkins said the state emergency relief administrations, through their work divisions, would approve the projects, although the relief administration in Washington would provide guidance for the type of project best suited.

Panorama of 300 Years of History To Be Presented Monday Night at Park.

If it had rained on April 21, 1836, the battle of San Jacinto might have had a different outcome—for one thing Deaf Smith couldn't have burned Vince's bridge and Santa Anna might have escaped. And if it hadn't rained Friday night, the Pre-Centennial celebration would be over.

But the Jaycees have created a splendid spectacle, showing a panorama of Texas history, and they are determined to produce it tomorrow night at Central park. "God has promised it won't rain," said one of the Jaycees. "The rain" Friday evening was especially vexing. Showers fell intermittently for an hour before the World Pulls for Quintuplets in Fight for Life

With the world tensely watching, the mother and her quintuplets shown above are waging a gallant fight for life in their log cabin home at Corbell, Ont., where the five children were born to Mrs. Olivia Dionne, 24, wife of Ernest Dionne, 31-year-old Canadian farmer. Physicians had declared that it would be a near-miracle if they lived a day, but they have gained steadily under the devoted care of the village doctor and nurses. Combined weight of the quintet at birth was 13 pounds 6 ounces. They have been named Ceville, Yvonne, Emily, Annette, and Marie.

SHIP'S STEWARD LODGED IN JAIL IN TEXAS DEATH

Believe Robert Jones Is Man Accused Of Slaying

Colonial detectives boarded the liner Lady Nelson when she reached port from Georgetown, British Guiana, and escorted Jones down the gangplank. Jones appeared unconcerned.

"See you soon!" he called, waving to shipmates. During close questioning in Georgetown he had steadfastly maintained his innocence of any crime, and claimed he was not Wilson.

He had not been permitted to leave the ship in Georgetown and in detention during the voyage to Trinidad. Officials took him to the police court here, where arrangements were completed for his detention.

Acting on instructions from the state department in Washington, American Vice Consul L. A. Demore requested that Jones be held nine days pending the establishment of extradition proceedings.

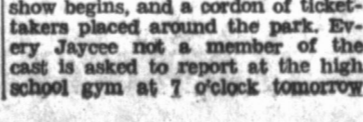

Wilson, a Cleveland man, has been sought throughout the United States since November 7, 1933, when the nude body of Mrs. Irene Debolt, attractive Cleveland widow, was found on the desert near Van Horn, Texas.

Jones' arrest was based chiefly on his alleged close resemblance to the wanted man. Demore said the steward had a scar on his face corresponding to one on Wilson's described in police circulars.

NEW PALO DURO PICTURES TO BE SCREENED MONDAY

Explanation of the pantomimed action in "The Land of Friends" Texas historical pageant to be given tomorrow night will be made over the public address system of the Palo Duro Park association. The use of this equipment has been donated by T. H. Elliston, director of publicity for the canyons.

The park association's loudspeaker is the best in the state, and it will be used in the place of the two installed last week in Central park for use in the pageant, which was rained out Friday night. Two more speakers will be furnished by Herman Kreiger. Two of the three speakers will be on the stage and the third nearer the audience.

Elliston will show new motion pictures of the Palo Duro canyon for 20 minutes before the pageant starts.

A great many Pampans have registered at the Palo Duro Park, according to Elliston. Recently when the nude body of Mrs. Irene Debolt, attractive Cleveland widow, was found on the desert near Van Horn, Texas.

ANOTHER STRIKE PREVENTED BY ACTION OF U. S.

Textile Workers Are Held Up In The Agreement

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The government tonight succeeded in holding off another strike in a major industry, the textile business.

It obtained, after days of peace-making efforts, an agreement between the management and the workers to suspend all overt acts until after a detailed study by the NRA of the interlocked questions of production and wages and hours.

A few minutes after Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, and George A. Sloan, chairman of the cotton textile code authority, with associates, had signed the agreement, the workers' representatives telegraphed all locals to rescind the strike order which would have taken an estimated 300,000 out on Monday.

The agreement, however, stipulated that the compact in no way prejudiced the right of labor to strike.

In addition to setting up fact-finding machinery, the agreement brought about Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, gave to labor its request that it have a voice in the labor advisory board and the cotton textile code authority.

A member of the United Textile Workers is to be named to labor advisory board and another designated as labor advisor to government members of the code authority.

Johnson said one of the issues made by the workers was "an increase of 33 1-3 per cent in the labor element of the cost of cotton textiles."

RUMOR IS NOT CONFIRMED BY COMMISSIONER

CLAIM VET EMPLOY IS COMMISSIONER'S MARKED MAN

AUSTIN, June 2 (AP)—C. V. Terrell, only member of the Texas railroad commission in the capital today, refused to confirm widely circulated reports that R. D. Parker, chief enforcer of conservation laws in the East Texas field, had been marked for retirement.

Parker lately had figured in some controversies with the commission. For years he was head of the oil and gas division of the commission. When complaints poured in that the laws governing production were being flagrantly violated, the commission gave Parker a new job. He was made chief enforcement officer for all oil fields in the state.

After he had discharged some employees in East Texas for incompetency and they were allegedly rehired by the commissioners for duties in other fields, a public protest was raised. Parker's authority then was curtailed to embrace only East Texas.

Terrell would not discuss a report that "an order" relieving Parker, already had been issued, but was being held in reserve until June 15, the date it was supposed to be effective.

After the controversy about re-employing discharged oilfield workers arose, there was a movement to induce Parker to resign. He is a candidate in the July democratic primaries for the place held by Lon A. Smith on the commission.

Parker never did indicate that he would aspire for commissioner. W. F. Knode, chief petroleum engineer for the commission, who has been Parker's right hand man in East Texas, announced today he had resigned his state position, effective July 1, to accept a place in Corpus Christi as consulting engineer.

Parker and Knode were sent into East Texas after there had been numerous complaints that oil in excess of the commission's allowance was being surreptitiously removed and a war was declared on "hot oil" runners.

Through efforts of investigators working under Parker, 13 men, including P. A. Smith, son of commissioner Smith were charged with conspiracy in connection with the running of unlawful oil.

CLINT SMALL FOR GOVERNOR

Reports from over the state showing a solid and increasing interest in the candidacy of Clint Small for governor indicate no other than logical development of his campaign four years ago when his sagacity and practical-mindedness drew to him a gratifyingly large support. That was at a time when it was evident that the voters, confused and depressed by the sudden collapse of boom-time prosperity, were giving ear to the table-thumpers and big-talkers of politics. The common sense which would have told citizens that effective and economy in government are not to be brought about through stirring up chaos and confusion in every activity and every department of the government was buried under the individual voter's unhappy realization that hard times were upon us.

The burdened taxpayer forgot his native wit which tells him that the tax burden can not be made lighter by those whose remedy for tax ills is the imposition of new and strange taxes, and that economy in government which alone can reduce taxes was not to be accomplished by stump speeches. In such circumstances, the fact that a candidate who stood steadfastly against the uproar and clamor for radical and dangerous experiments in government, which made men forget the things they knew within themselves, was able to command the support of so many citizens is a tribute both to the people of Texas and to the candidate.

Conditions in the present campaign, after four years, are quite different. The table-thumpers and big-talkers have had their day, and they have done nothing to improve the situation of the people of Texas. It was Senator Small himself, laboring again in the Senate, who brought about the greatest piece of tax reduction that has been accomplished in recent years—the taking over by the state of the highway bonds of counties and road districts. This tax reduction was attained in a constructive manner, without the loss of any profitable public service, and it touched the taxpayer where relief is most needed—in the field of local taxes. The people themselves voted themselves another important tax reduction, through adoption of the homestead exemption amendment. But for the rest we have had turmoil and controversy in the State's affairs, with positions of power in the government pervaded by such a spirit of self-seeking that constructive measures requiring the single-minded devotion of all the servants of the people to the public good was impossible. We have had excursions and alarms, with struggling business threatened by destructive tax proposals and harassed by official activities designed to serve the partisan purpose of some one or the other of the wild-horse crowd. We have seen law and order sink further into the slough of despond, pushed down by disrespect for law pervading the highest circles of our state government. We have seen self-seeking thrust itself into the administration of the funds which the people voted for public relief. We have witnessed, in fact, a sorrowful chapter in the history of our State, and one which high-minded Texans now resolve shall come to an end.

Four years ago Clint Small appealed to thousands of Texans as an upright and intelligent statesman whose code of political honor forbade that special sort of deception which consists of promising everything on the stump that might be calculated to catch a vote. During the four years that have elapsed since Senator Small was last a candidate, he has added to his stature as a public man. He was one of the strong men of the Legislature who enabled that body to act as a safety check upon the government. To his ability, to his knowledge of the state's affairs, to his great qualities of leadership, and to the personal prestige he enjoys in public life is due in large measure the fact that the state has come through a period of disorganization and governmental chaos with little damage that may not be rectified by wisdom on the part of the voters now.

Senator Small's platform has been made public and will be expounded during the coming weeks. It is a document of vital significance to every Texas who has at heart his own welfare and that of his fellow citizens. It promises reform in the government, economy and efficiency, in the calm and reasoned words of a man who is able to differentiate between real and fancied opportunities for betterment, who realizes the difficulties which must be overcome to bring about that betterment, and who, putting the public benefit above his own ambition, refuses to make demagogic appeals to prejudice through any form of campaign deceit. It is a clarion call for a return to sanity and decency in the state's public affairs. He stakes his political advancement upon the theory that the majority of Texans will not mistake wild words for wisdom nor loudness for ability and leadership.

It is these qualities which recommend Senator Small to most Texans who see the need for putting a complete period to an era in this government which has cost the state heavily both in the detriment of business and delay of recovery and in the reputation the state bears abroad. They make him, in the opinion of this newspaper, the logical choice among all the candidates for governor this year. There are other worthy and able men in the race, but it is simply a case of picking the most experienced whose ability is best shown in a public career. In this respect Senator Small stands out above all the others.

The Star-Telegram supported Senator Small four years ago in his campaign for governor, and the conditions which then, in our opinion, made his election advisable, prevail today and in intensified form. We believe Texas would have fared far better in the past four years had Senator Small been elected governor in 1930; we believe the State can best assure return to normal life in all respects and restoration of prosperity now by electing him.—Star-Telegram.

650 PIONEERS OF PANHANDLE REGISTER IN TWO-DAY EVENT

250 CAME TO THIS SECTION BEFORE 1890

LIST OF VISITORS IS BEING PUBLISHED IN NEWS

Approximately 650 old timers of the Panhandle registered at the high school gym, pioneer headquarters, during the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneer Roundup, according to Mrs. De Lea Vicars, registrar.

Of that number, about 250 came to the Panhandle before 1890. In 1890, about 300 who came to the Panhandle before 1890 registered. Those who registered this year as having come to the plains in 1891 and 1892, two years later than 1890, numbered about 100, indicating that death is rapidly thinning the ranks of the pioneers. In the last two months, more than a half dozen pioneers who attended the 1932 Frontier Days celebration have died.

Many of those who wrote that they would attend could not be present. Illness was the most prevalent reason that kept them away. It was estimated that about twice as many out-of-town people attended the celebration this year than in 1932.

Owing to the fact that four registrars were swapped on the preceding day, the NEWS was unable to compile a list of visitors. In this and succeeding issues, a list of old timers who came to the Panhandle before 1890 and who attended the celebration will be published. Several of the visitors brought badges they were given in 1932 here with them.

The first installment, names arranged in alphabetical order, follows:

Famous Jockey Will Be Seen in Amarillo Races

AMARILLO, June 2.—After a brilliant career on the major tracks in the southwest in the last winter and this spring, H. Bridges, the noted jockey, will ride on the Amarillo track here June 15-25, scored his biggest day's success at Sequin on the last day of the spring meeting there.

Bridges booted home four winners at Sequin in the last day's seven races. In the first race, he was atop Jimmy and scooted in ahead of a fast field. He won the third day, and he actually had to rope the aged animal before he could catch it.

local races are assured of as good a man to handle the money as there is in the land.

Of course, owners may bring their own jockeys or hire others after they get here with their stables, but just to be certain that the program will include expert riders, racing secretary, Sidney S. Bender, has signed up a dozen or more to be here ready for the bugle's call.

With over 50 bona fide thoroughbreds already listed among the stall reservations and with inquiries pouring in from all over the country, there is no doubt the races here will attract the classiest field of bangtails outside the major tracks in the entire southwest.

The chief factor in the unprecedented interest in the fair's next meeting is, no doubt, because of the enlistment of nationally known officials. Bender is known throughout the racing world as one of the leading handicappers. His services are in demand in all parts of the globe. He will come to Amarillo direct from Detroit, Mich., where he is secretary of one of the world's largest plants. He has obtained a 10-day leave of absence to aid in the staging of the Amarillo races. Mike F. Mitchell, also an official of the Detroit races will be in charge of the pari-mutuels here. Mitchell is world famous as a certificate expert, and his knowledge of the business is such that the

NURSE SEEN IN FILM HERE ON HOSPITALS

LOVE LIVES IN WORK AROUND SICK SHOWN

"Registered Nurse," First National's glowing romance of hospital life, is billed as the feature attraction on the program of the Rex theater today.

Based on the thrilling drama by Florence Johns and Wilton Lackey, Jr., it deals with the love lives of hospital staff, doctors and nurses, rather than with the more obscure technical side of such an institution.

There is a technical cast of players headed by Bebe Daniels, who portrays a nurse who resumes her profession after her marriage proves a failure. It is over the love of this pretty nurse that the two leading surgeons of the hospital engage in spirited rivalry. The roles of the two physicians are taken by Lyle Talbot and John Halliday.

As far as the story is concerned only two patients play any important part in the picture; a wrestling promoter and his light o' love both of whom have been battered up in a hammer and tongs battle. Enacted by Sidney Toler and Irene Franklin, they give a comedy twist to some of the situations in a picture which is otherwise melodramatic.

Others in the cast include Gordon Westcott, Minna Gombelly, Beulah Bondi, Vince Barnett, Philip Reed, Mayo Methot and Renee Whitney.

JENNY LIND MORE ACTIVE

JENNY LIND, Calif. (AP)—This mining village once known as "Stim-gullion" and later as "Dry Diggins" is sharing in a modest way in the revival of gold mining. Huge dredges are working nearby but the visitors held in 1886 of becoming a city are no longer present. In that year the town was rechristened in honor of the famous Swedish singer, a 70-foot-wide residential thoroughfare was laid out and in a single day 100 lots were sold with each buyer promising to spend $100 in improvements.

BIG ONION CENTER

LAREDO (AP)—The Laredo district, which a few years ago became the largest shipping center in Texas for Bermuda onions, shipped more than half the 1934 Texas crop. Nearly 1,100 carloads were shipped in the first four months of the year.

RELATIVE OF TARRANT

Relics of the career of J. J. Tarrant, famous Indian fighter, which were shown in the window of Mitchell's store, were lent by Mrs. Roy Hallman of Pampa, a direct descendant of the old pioneer.

FORMAL GOWN MADE OF RED, BLACK CREPE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tomato red and black crepe was used to fashion one of the most unusual formal dresses worn here this season. Mrs. C. Mathews Dick wore the gown. It was black in front and tomato red crepe in back with graceful, floating panels. The upper part of the back was simply two crossed "halter" straps of red crepe.

CERISE SLIPPERS WORN WITH SATIN GOWN

PARIS (AP)—Dull cerise satin slippers gave a striking note of color to an ivory satin gown with a rosy cast which the Baronne Harry d'Er-langer wears this season. The gown, designed by Vionnet, is fashioned with a full skirt and a simple decollete from the back of which break two long draperies falling to the hem.

AGED HORSE IN PARADE

Dave Lard rode a 30-year-old horse that belonged to the late Jim Stroop in the parade yesterday. Roy Sewell went out to the Stroop ranch to get the horse the other day, and he actually had to rope the aged animal before he could catch it.

SHEARER HAS GOOD PICTURE FOR COMEBACK

"RIPTIDE" IS STORY OF EUROPEAN LOVE TRIANGLE

Norma Shearer comes to the motion picture screen after an absence of some eighteen months as the glamorous heroine of "Riptide," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle which opens today at the LaNora theater.

Familiar in daring sophistry to her famous characterizations in "Strangers May Kiss" and "Strange Interlude," the new Shearer vehicle brings to the screen a romantic smartly continental in locale and sensational in triangular motivation.

Won Photoplay Award

This is Miss Shearer's first screen offering since "Smiles Through," winner of the 1932 Photoplay gold medal award. During her vacation Miss Shearer accompanied her husband, Irving G. Thalberg, on an extended visit to Europe. Thalberg, returning to his M-G-M executive post, produced "Riptide" as the first picture on his new program.

The story, written especially for Miss Shearer, was authored by Edmond Goulding, who also directed the picturization of his screen play.

Goulding, who has written numerous screen and stage hits, as well as having acted and directed, last served in a directorial capacity in the filming of "Grand Hotel" and "Blonde of the Follies." Robert Montgomery, who has appeared in a number of Miss Shearer's previous screen successes, shares leading man honors with Robert Marshall in the new film. Montgomery last appeared in "Fugitive Lovers" and "Mystery of Mr. X." Marshall was seen recently in "Solitaire Man" and "Four Frightened People."

Included in the impressive cast are such famous stage and screen names as Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Skeets Gallagher, Ralph Forbes, Lilyan Tashman, Arthur Jarrett, Earl Oxford, Helen Jerome Eddy, George K. Arthur, Baby Marilyn Spinnett, Phyllis Cochran, Howard Chaldecott and Halliwell Hobbes.

Mrs. Campbell, hailed as one of England's most distinguished actresses and noted for her great triumph in the theater as "The Second Mrs. Tanglary," makes her film debut in the Shearer picture, playing the comedy role of Aunt Hetty.

Electrical Fence

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—An electrically charged fence is suggested by M. P. Brulig, instructor at the Nebraska agricultural college, as a good thing to try on fractious livestock. Carrying only enough electricity, he said, to shock rather than harm, a strand or two of smooth wire on posts as far as four rods apart will keep man or beast at respectful distance.

PUBLICITY HAS BIG PLACE ON P-TA PROGRAM

CALVERT'S YEAR BOOK WINS NATIONAL ACCLAIM

BY MRS. JOHN M. FOX, Wichita Falls, State Publicity Director.

"In order to meet its civic obligations, the Parent-Teacher association must have publicity," asserts Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson, director of Good Citizenship bureau, Woman's Home Companion, and nationally known writer and lecturer.

In a featured lecture before the publicity classes of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers at its 33rd annual convention recently closed at Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Richardson emphasized the fact that "the parent-teacher associations are no longer a group devised for self-help and self-improvement, and that interests can no longer be confined to family, school and the recreational life of a community, but rather, that this movement is becoming so broad in scope that upon it rests the responsibility for the entire educational system of these United States."

The publicity branch of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers through its director, Mrs. John M. Fox, of Wichita Falls, sent for exhibit at the convention eight publicity record books which were representative of the publicity work being done in the Lone Star state.

Evidence that the state of Texas is publicity conscious comes in a letter from Mrs. Stephen Channess, executive secretary, an abstract from which follows. "The best and most outstanding publicity record book exhibited at this convention is the one from Calvert, Texas."

The statement came from Mrs. C. T. Kirkwood, chairman of publicity books at the convention. She further stated that the story was clearly told with the pictures and commended the book to the attention of everyone attending the convention. In recognition of this paramount achievement, Mrs. A. F. Wood, state president, has recommended that a special feature of the Calvert record book be made at the state convention which is to be held in Corpus Christi, Nov. 19 to 22, and that Mrs. T. F. Criswell, president of the Calvert association, mail the package given to each delegate at the national convention, for use by the progressive members of the Calvert unit. Officials of the Texas branch are congratulating this unit upon attaining such outstanding national recognition.

Another notable honor reported by the returned delegates from Texas is the gold star award given in class B to Texas for its work in the Child Welfare subscription for 1933-34. The award for second place among the 47 states carried with it a handsome bound copy of the 1933 issues of the national official publication, Child Welfare, suitably autographed by Mrs. Frederick Schaff, and Mrs. A. H. Reeve, past editors, and Mrs. E. C. Mason, present editor-in-chief.

Of interest to Texas members is the meeting of the state executive committee in Austin on June 6 and 7 to prepare and consider plans for the coming state convention in Corpus Christi in the fall.

Rehearsals for Band Work Will Begin Tomorrow

Enrollment for work in summer bands began Friday at the Lamar building on the Central campus, and was considered good.

The number of pupils in beginners' work was especially gratifying. Several patrons are taking advantage of the band in connection with purchase of instruments.

Because many have not learned all details of the summer band work, enrollment will be continued tomorrow. Those interested should see Edith Foster at the "red" building Monday from 8 to 9:15 a. m., or from 10:30 to noon. He may be reached at the Junior high school office on Mondays, Tuesdays, or Fridays from 11 to 12 o'clock or at his home by calling 582.

Mr. Foster will be joined within the next two weeks by W. J. Hurst, teacher in B. M. Baker school, who is away on his vacation. He will assist in band work. Rehearsals will start Monday, hence it is important that registration be completed at once.

Walter Sartain's Engagement With Student Learned

Announcement has been made in Oklahoma City of the engagement and approaching marriage of Walter Sartain Jr., Pampa high school graduate and former Harvester, to Miss Elizabeth Gossett, daughter of Dr. J. E. Gossett of Temple.

Miss Gossett is junior in home economics and a member of the Oklahoma fraternity at Oklahoma University. Mr. Sartain is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sartain, 322 Southwest Thirty-fifth street, Oklahoma City, and is a sophomore in the school of petroleum engineering at the University of Oklahoma.

He is associated with the Champion Refining company.

READING TRAVEL BOOKS BEST SUBSTITUTE FOR REAL THING—HERE IS LIST OF GOOD BOOKS

DENTON, June 2.—This is the time of year when one instinctively turns to travel suggestions in newspapers and magazines and even sends for full details about trips to Europe. It is comforting after sober second thoughts have shown the possibility of trip across the ocean to remember that "There is no fitting way to avoid the restless sea, grimy train, and tumultuous motor car."

And since "He who would take knowledge home from a journey needs to take knowledge with him," you should also read "French Ways and Their Meaning," by Edith Wharton, or "French Traits," by Brownell.

By this time you have reached Havre, which is full of memories of Joan of Arc. G. B. Shaw's "Saint Joan" gives a vivid picture of this greatest of French heroes.

Then on to Paris where you will be guided by E. V. Lucas "A Wanderer in Paris" and Clara Laughlin ("So You're Going to Paris"). If you want to be especially gay in "gay Paris," you should read "Paris on Parade," by R. F. Wilson, and "The Paris That's Not in the Guide-Books," by Basil Wilson.

Henry James gives "A Little Tour in France" which takes you to other chateaux country as well as to other charming places. Then down to Gascony where Cyrano de Bergerac lived in the 17th century. Many a Cyrano is still there, and you can get acquainted with the Gascons by reading Brian Hooker's translation of Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac."

And now to the heart of south of France with Daudet's exuberant southern, "Tartarin de Tarascon," a caricature but essentially true. Of the southeastern part of France, Anne Merriman Peck gives charming glimpses both by words and sketches in "A Vagabond's Provence."

If you had a taste for the gay life in Paris and wish to continue that, you should go "From Deauville to Monte Carlo" with Woon. If, on the other hand, the matchless cathedrals attract you, begin in Paris with Victor Hugo's "Notre-Dame" and then continue with "How France Built Her Cathedrals," by E. B. O'Reilly.

You may have time and inclination to go "Along French Byways" with Clifton Johnson or make "An Inland Voyage" with R. L. Stevenson. You can see life in a village in J. W. Hudson's "Abbe Pierre" and in the first sketch in Dorothy Canfield Fisher's "Home Fires in France."

Before leaving France, return to Paris and spend a few days visiting the famous restaurants with Story's "Dining in Paris" and purchase your clothes and souvenirs with Bonney's "A Shopping Guide to Paris." And then as you end your trip, your thoughts will no doubt constantly be on "France and the French" (Sisley Huddleston).

MEMORIAL TO WAR DEAD IS FITTING EVENT

MRS. ROOSEVELT GIVES INTERESTING DATA ON DAY

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT.

Years ago, a little girl stood on the brown stone steps of a house on Fifth Avenue in New York City and from this vantage point on top of the ballustrade could see colored puppets to stars floated in front of her. A parade was coming and, like all children, she was thrilled by the music, the flags and the marching of men. But she knew little of what it was all about except that some grown up in answer to her questions, said, "This is Memorial day, the day on which we honor the soldiers."

Countless children throughout the country in villages, small towns and big cities go through the same thrill and ask the same questions. However, I think the day is coming when, for all of us Memorial day should not be just a day of martial splendor on which we honor the soldiers, but a day when we think of the significance of our history as a whole.

Throughout the greater part of the country, May 30 is recognized as a legal holiday and, even in the states where this particular day is not observed, some have other days on which the same idea is carried out. The idea originated during and after the Civil war in several places and we find record in April, 1863, that James Redpath, the New York Tribune correspondent, who was afterwards superintendent of schools in Charleston, South Carolina, originated a movement amongst his colored pupils to strew flowers on the graves of dead soldiers. But the day that he chose was May 1 in New England, there was no fixed celebration until 1868 when, on May 5, Commander-in-Chief John A. Logan, of the Grand Army of the Republic issued a general order designating May 30 "for the purpose of strewing flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion."

As first, the day was called Decoration day but, in 1888, the officials of the Grand Army of the Republic urged that it be designated as Memorial day. As a rule, the graves of the veterans of the Revolution are decorated on Memorial day as well as those of the veterans of the Mexican, Spanish, Civil and World wars.

The significance of this day is not so much the honor done these men who gave their lives for their country, for they are scarcely in need of any honor which we can bring them, but this day should turn the thoughts of all of us, as we watch the procession pass, to the question which has been shown by American citizens for their country. I know of nothing more touching than the carriages with the old Confederate and Grand Army veterans marching remnants of regiments of other days. I know of nothing that the honor which is paid these men is theirs because they gave, with no thought of their own possible loss, all that they had to give in the way in which their country demanded it of them. More than that no man can do, but make the children of the future feel the urge to a more constant patriotism—a patriotism which will demand of them a daily devotion to their country, to making it a better place to live in for those who are alive and to consider the question which has been shown by American citizens for their country. Rotation Given Denominations in Texas U. Service

AUSTIN, June 2.—Rotation of church offices among the various religious denominations represented in the student body at the University of Texas is one of the considerations of the committee in charge of commencement services at that institution.

This year, the baccalaureate services, to be held Sunday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock in Greedy gymnasium, will be in charge of a member of the Methodist faith, the Rev. C. W. Hall of the Wesley Bible chape at the university. The invocation will be delivered by a Presbyterian, the Rev. Lawrence H. Wharton of the University Presbyterian church. Scripture will be read by the Rev. W. H. McKernie of the University Baptist church, while the benediction ceremony itself will be preached by a Baptist, the Rev. George W. Trust of the First Baptist church, Dallas. The benediction will be pronounced by a Jew, the Rabbi Samuel Halevi Baron, the Congregation Beth Israel.

The same procedure will be followed at commencement exercises Monday morning, June 4, at 9 o'clock. The Rev. William Blakelee of the Catholic faith, of St. Austin's chapel, will deliver the invocation and the Rev. Harris Materson Jr., an Episcopalian, of All Saints' chapel, will pronounce the benediction.

Music for the baccalaureate services will be furnished by the stringed orchestra from the Texas School of Fine Arts, under the direction of Mrs. Anita Gaedcke, and by a chorus composed of chazars from the First Baptist church, the First Methodist church, all the churches in the university community, the Austin Teachers' chorus and the Austin High school chorus, under the direction of J. Campbell Wray. The University Longhorn band will play for the commencement exercises on Monday. Burnett Pharr is director.

Your Table Is Really An International Affair

And Here Are Delectable Dishes Popularized by Mexicans and Spaniards.

The family dinner table is really an international affair. From the French, Italians, Germans, Hungarians, East Indians, Swiss or English, we copy omelets, macaroni, sauerkraut, goulash, curries, cheeses, or plum puddings, as the case may be. Closer home, for chili con carne or tamales, we step across the Rio Grande. We get a good food bargain there. These Mexican dishes are made of two of the cheapest foods in all the world—beans and corn.

In fact, there are two reasons why we may well consider the food of our neighbors on the south, suggests the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. department of agriculture. We shall continue, no doubt, to borrow their food ideas for our own use, for some of the Mexican dishes furnish attractive variations from our regular fare. It is important also that we understand the food needs of the Mexican people, for their are nearly one and a half millions of them living among us. Many of these are now in increasing numbers, for they cannot buy thousands are on the relief rolls in some of our states. How should their needs be met—for their good our own?

Corn An Old Food.

Corn—our Indian corn—is the staple food of the Indians of old Mexico long before the white man appeared on the scene. Tortillas which are pancakes made of ground corn which has been soaked in lime water, are the historic bread of Mexico. Beans, however, or in Spanish, frijoles, are said to be almost the only other food the native Mexican depends upon. For those who can buy them, there are plenty of chickens, turkeys, eggs, vegetables, and luscious fruits—including the avocado, or alligator pear. But the poorer people of Mexico live chiefly on corn and beans, the travelers tell us, and, for that matter, the tables of the rich never lack frijoles and tortillas, whatever else is served.

Use Fat In Cooking.

But there are two other foods in the poorest of Mexican diets. One of these is fat—much fat, used in cooking the food and not on it. The other is chili, very hot, for seasoning. And seasoning in this case happens to have nutritive value, too. The Mexican chilies, according to the botanist, are varieties of capsicum, from some of which cayenne pepper and tabasco sauce are made. But the chilies are little peppers, chopped up or used whole in a great many Mexican dishes. Some of them, "the hottest of hot green ones" according to one traveler, are about the size of an olive and are served the same way. Large peppers are cooked, and often stuffed with cheese.

The hotness of Mexican food has been counted against it as "bad for the digestion," but not all of it is hot besides, the chili peppers commonly used in seasoning chili con carne are a very rich source of vitamin A and when used fresh are a good source of vitamin C. Which means that the chili pepper may serve the Mexicans much as the tomato serves us, and, frijoles hot with chili, folded in corn meal dough, rolled in a corn husk and steamed. Canned salmon and sardines, said to be popular among the well-to-do in Mexico, should be comparatively cheap and excellent foods for Mexicans in the United States. Chocolate and coffee are favorite Mexican drinks, and here is a chance to supply in part the greatest deficiency of the Mexican diet, namely milk. Evaporated milk or dried skim milk should be useful here, both in making chocolate and for the hot milk which is added to Mexican coffee. Relief workers say that the lack of milk is painfully apparent in Mexican children, and they of course need to be taught to like milk as milk.

Suggested Combinations.

Tamale p.e. greens, fruit (add milk for children).
Banana omelet, cotiche, tortillas (add milk for children).
Frijoles (Mexican beans), fried bananas, tortillas (add milk for children).
Caldo (vegetable and meat soup), rice or spaghetti in the soup, tortillas.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Sergeant Harper has found the weapon that killed one of the two men found murdered in Pierre Dufresne's house. It proves that the stranger and the policeman did not kill each other, but if it does not indicate who the murderer was, Harper says the investigation must not overlook the possibility that a servant may have had a hand in the killing.

Chapter 32 THE ACCUSATION Lafferty lit a cigarette and blew the smoke upward at a sharp angle. "Quit your hemming and hawing, Steve. You can make the pinch any time you please. You might as well make up your mind about it and have it over."

"Sure. If you really want the killer, just march up the stairs, blow the smoke up the hall, and enter the first door on the left." "Mrs. Dufresne?" "Exactly. I know it. You know it. Dufresne knows it, too. He tried to cover up for her by hiding the gun. That's why he's been playing cat and mouse with us, afraid we'd turn up something that would upset the apple-cart. Which is just what happened."

"You're wrong, Jack," Harper said quietly. "This thing is a lot more intricate than that theory of yours allows for. In fact, I'm just beginning to realize what a Gordian knot we have on our hands." "That's a very apt figure of speech. Maybe you remember what happened to the Gordian knot?" "Yes, Alexander couldn't unravel it, as there were no ends showing, so he sliced it with his sword."

"Correct. I'd advise you to take the tip from Alexander. You've got your eight suspects, but if you look them over carefully you'll see how the number dwindles. I take it that you are not trying to pin it on Mrs. Croymen or her pianist husband? Besides, they're really just visitors here." "Dufresne and Andrews were shut up in the Austerlitz under heavy guard at the time. Donaghy was on duty there, too, and it isn't likely he had a chance to leave the place. Anyways, his statements are easily checked. The Whitmores were near the spot, true enough, but they didn't leave their rooms after dark last night. The snow proves that."

"What does that leave us? One person, and only one—Mrs. Dufresne, visiting at Mrs. Creighton Morlock's." "See what we have there. She developed a headache and didn't come down to dinner. Headaches, you know, require seclusion. A standard alibi. Then a mysterious outbreak of fire in the Morlock garage. Wasn't that a perfect opportunity for getting away for a while, unseen, unnoticed?"

"By the luckiest of flukes, we have Howard Doyle's evidence, otherwise we'd be completely in the dark. I make the flat assertion that Mrs. Dufresne left Mrs. Morlock's, walked the mile or so this house to keep her rendezvous and killed the man she came here to meet! And here's my bit of evidence for that." Lafferty paused dramatically, then brought forth a shapless bundle, swathed in crumpled tissue paper, which he stripped away. A stained, warped pair of high-heeled shoes stood revealed. "These are the shoes Mrs. Dufresne wore last night," he explained. "They were on the porch to the trash-bin this morning, via John Whitmore, when I rescued them." Sergeant Harper picked up the once-dainty slippers, their narrow brocaded sides now soiled beyond repair. They were still soggy to the touch.

"I suppose," Lafferty jeered, as Harper thoughtfully set them side by side, "that she got them in that condition just stepping into the car at Mrs. Morlock's with Doyle and coming in here from the curb to the front door, on a shoveled path, too. That lady went for a jaunt through the snow last night and she came here!" Harper paused in the charging of his pipe, the battle-scarred companion of many a lonely vigil over knotty problems. "Does Mrs. Dufresne state you as the sort of woman who would carry on a clandestine affair, let alone stoop to murder?" he demanded. Lafferty snorted. "Stevie, old boy, years and years ago I gave up trying to figure out women by looking at them. Sister Alene and Sister Sylvia may be very sedate and dignified wives, but in their debutante days, as the Bartell girls, they were a pair of pretty high steppers. I can tell you. Old Man Bartell left each of them more money than was good for them and they had a free hand and no one to answer to. I've heard plenty about them." "Been doing some tabloid archeology on the side?" mocked Harper.

In Revival

Professor Raymond Culp, Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth, whose portrait is seen above, is assisting Evangelist A. F. Johnson in the revival campaign now being held at the Central Baptist church. Mr. Culp is popular in Texas as a member of the American Federation of Music. He holds degrees from outstanding universities and is only 21 years of age.

CHURCHES

"What is Wrong With the Home?" is the theme of a special sermon to be delivered at the Central Baptist church today at 3 p. m. by Rev. A. F. Johnson in the revival now in progress. The entire public is invited. Rev. Verne Pipes said in discussing this sermon that Rev. Johnson has done special study in some of our best university libraries in addition to regular study and research over a period of 10 years and knows this subject.

Sunday at 11 a. m. the evangelist will preach on "Adversity," and at 8 p. m. he will discuss "Have You Sold Out?" Special music will be a feature of these services. Crowds at the Central church revival are the best in the history of the church, according to old-timers. Members of other denominations are attending and taking part. Berger, Panhandle, Amarillo and White Deer and other cities have been represented in the revival.

Parties are announcing their plans to come in a body and sit in reserved sections in the church during next week as the meeting continues. Groups here in the city should arrange with Rev. Pipes if they desire to have a section reserved for their class or church. Holy Souls Church. The celebration of Corpus Christi, transferred to today, Thursday, will take place today in Holy Souls church. There will be a Eucharistic procession at the 8 o'clock mass, in which the children will participate. The Blessed Sacrament will be enthroned on the main altar for public adoration in the interval between the two masses. Services for the day will conclude with benediction following the 10 o'clock mass.

These services will officially open the vacation school to be conducted for the benefit of the children during the month of June. After mass, the children will make the acquaintance of the two sisters who will conduct the school. Regular sessions will start Monday morning and will continue daily from 9 to 12 o'clock. Any children unaffiliated with the other churches are extended a cordial invitation to enroll. STUDENT WILL SING Miss Clotilde McCallister, who is home from attending Texas Women's college at Fort Worth, will sing a vocal solo at 8 o'clock this evening at the revival now in progress at the Central Baptist church. Miss McCallister is studying music at T. W. C. and has been prominent in student activities there. She is a graduate of Pampa high school.

Girl Scout News

Troop B from now on throughout the summer will meet on Tuesday afternoons at 8:30 o'clock. The meetings will be held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Will unless announced differently later. The Girl Scouts who are going to Camp Kiwanis will meet at 6 a. m. Wednesday morning, June 7, in the Girl Scout room in Lamar school. Those who are going to camp include Dorothy Jo Moore, Sarah Ellen and Patty Will, Betty Rains, Kathryn Culherson, Betty Curtis, Doris Gee, Frances Koonce, Eleanor Ruth Gilham, Vera Ellen Sackett, and Alberta Taustus. Plan several meals at a time. It saves time and energy and aids in getting better balance and variety. same base. Has that occurred to you?" Harper took a long pull at his pipe. "I'm full of theories," he replied. "With little encouragement I could build up a case against almost any of the eight you picked out. But who is involved in your alternate theory?" "Pierre Dufresne himself. Perhaps he discovered this affair and killed his rival. I'm convinced the elementary motives in my theory are right, whatever the individual moves may have been." The Sergeant's glance sharpened. "I've been toying with some such idea," he stated slowly. (Copyright, 1934, by Walter C. Brown)

Tomorrow Harper works out a fresh theory.

Church Supper Suggestion

Chicken pie, favorite food for many church suppers, can be served easily if the pastry part is made of biscuits. Make biscuits of rather generous proportions and arrange them side by side on the creamed chicken mixture. When baked, a biscuit and what goes under it will constitute a serving. This will aid in making the portions of uniform size and they can be quickly placed on the plates.

Teacher's Illness To Delay Recital Of Pupils Monday

Because of the illness of Mrs. Helen Turner, instructor, the scheduled recital of her pupils will not be held Monday evening at the city club rooms. Mrs. Turner will undergo an appendectomy soon. The recital date will be announced later. Warming a pan before putting in the undercrust of a pie keeps the crust from becoming soft and soggy when it is baking.

THE FORD DRAMA OF PROGRESS

The Ford Motor Company invites you to visit its exposition at A Century of Progress, Chicago, where the absorbing story of Ford men, methods and ideals has been unfolded beneath a single roof.

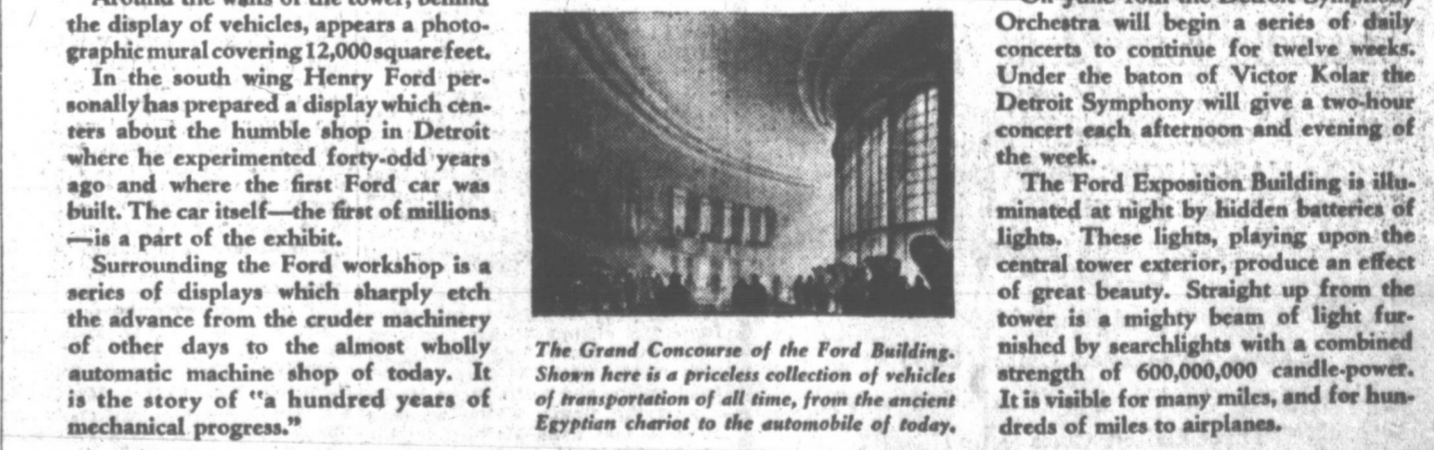

In this story of advancement are imprints of Henry Ford's own career. Many devices in the display came into being through Mr. Ford's efforts, or through engineers created by his insistent drive toward improvement and increased efficiency in every mechanical operation. Beside the Ford Exposition Building stands the gray, weather-beaten barn in which Henry Ford worked and played as a Michigan farmer boy. Its presence is peculiarly significant, because it has been equipped with machinery to illustrate how the farmer may process raw materials for industrial uses and bring about a closer and mutually profitable relationship between industry and the farmer.

ends upon the same two keys—the first that every part of the Ford car comes from the earth. The second is that each part, from the smallest bolt to the heaviest steel part, must pass individual tests to make sure it is up to Ford standards. From Mine to Finished Automobile Parts The sources of iron, steel, copper, aluminum, zinc, lead and other metals are graphically portrayed. Exhibits depicting the processes that are used in manufacturing parts from these metals are actually at work producing the finished parts.

THE Ford Exposition is dominated by a tower ten stories high, in the center of which is an open court. Through the top of the rotunda, the sun's rays pour down upon a twenty-foot rotating globe—its surface bearing in relief the myriad units of the Ford industries. Grouped about the Ford globe is a pageant of transportation, from the earliest Egyptian chariot, crude ox-carts and covered wagons to automobiles of varied age, type and design. A "Roads of the World" exhibit faithfully reproduces the roads upon which these vehicles traveled, from the earliest dawn of history.

Suppliers Join Ford in Educational Exhibit Twenty-one of the suppliers who manufacture Ford V-8 parts have joined with the Ford Motor Company in the industrial exhibits to make them complete and informative. Each exhibit begins and

A program of symphony orchestra music has been planned for the Ford Exposition to last throughout the summer months. Opening the musical program will be the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago, directed by Miss Ebba Sundstrom. The Women's Symphony will close a one-week program June 13th. An afternoon and evening concert will be given daily. On June 16th the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will begin a series of daily concerts to continue for twelve weeks. Under the baton of Victor Kolar the Detroit Symphony will give a two-hour concert each afternoon and evening of the week.

CAVALCADE WINS $25,000 AMERICAN DERBY, BREAKING 45-YEAR TRADITION

DISCOVERY IS 2ND--SINGING WOOD IS NEXT

SECOND CLIPPED FROM RECORD SET IN 1933

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—Charging through the stretch like a hurricane, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Soane's Cavalcade, today galloped to impressive victory in the $25,000 added American derby to thrill 30,000 spectators with his unrivaled finish.

The Kentucky derby winner by his victory equaled the achievement of Spokane of winning both Kentucky classic and the American derby in the same year; shattering tradition that spanned 45 years. Spokane won both races back in 1889. Cavalcade, America's outstanding three-year-old, with the 34-year-old Mack Garner on his back smothered the field of nine with the ground-eating charge in the last quarter mile to overcome Discovery and Singing Wood, which finished second and third, respectively.

Cavalcade bounded to victory by a margin of two lengths over Discovery, the entry of Alfred G. Vanderbilt of New York, while Singing Wood, winner of the Withers mile of Discovery. Then came Plight of Discovery. Then came Plight, winner of the Texas derby, with Patch Pocket, fifth, Blen Pale sixth, and Maki Hari, the game little filly which set the blistering pace for nearly a mile, pulling up seventh. Anarchy, coupled with Cavalcade was eighth, and Technocracy, last.

Cavalcade ran the mile and a quarter in 2:04 which clipped a fifth of a second off the derby record, hung up by Mr. Khaynam in 1933.

Going to the post an even money favorite, the Brookmeade stable entry of Cavalcade and Anarchy paid $14 to win, $2.12 to place and $2.70 to show. The place and show prices on Discovery were exactly the same—$2.68, while Singing Wood returned $3.80 to show.

By his victory Cavalcade earned $25,510 for Mrs. Soane, while Alfred G. Vanderbilt, owner of Discovery, received $3,000. The sum of $1,500 went to Mrs. John Hay Whitney of New York, owner of Singing Wood, with $750 going to W. Sachesmanier, owner of Plight.

Over 200 horses will be entered in the races, including many of the southwest's best racers. Many of the horses are now in the stables, with more expected after race meets close June 3 in Laverne, Okla., and Hondo, Texas.

New permanent buildings, and a fast track, on a recently purchased 40-acre site, located southwest of the old site, will greet race fans this year.

A large grandstand, with a seating capacity of over 2,000, with box seats in front; two large stables, housing 60 horses each, strings of smaller stables, paddocks on the east side of the grandstand and a five-eighths mile track, one of the fastest in the state, will be ready for the opening.

Parti-mutuel betting will be featured, with windows under the grandstand. All concession rights were let to I. J. Killion, Borger.

C. H. McMullen of San Saba will be the official starter of the races, and will use his patented starting stall gate, assuring fair getaways, with the least possible chance of injury to the horses.

Many jockeys, horsemen, trainers, owners, and visitors are now in Panhandle, and unanimously they have praised the facilities here and state that they excel those in other towns of this size and in many places much larger.

Admission daily will be: Adults 50 cents; children 25 cents; grandstand 25 cents.

A carnival will appear in Panhandle the coming week, under auspices of the fair association. Officials of the Southwest Race Meet and Fair association are C. E. Dahl, president, Asbery A. Callaghan, vice president, George P. Grout, secretary; M. B. Davidson, presiding judge and secretary of the races; R. L. Crimes, Jim Meecham, Jack Griffith, and J. F. Ellis, directors, in addition to the officers above named.

Geo. P. Grout of Panhandle will be in charge of a horse show to be held in connection with the races Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. There will also have an exhibit of dairy cattle, poultry and agricultural products.

BEARDED NINE WINS GAME BY 32-21 SCORE

BEATS MAJOR LEAGUE RECORD FOR RUNS IN ONE TILT

Baseball also returned to pioneer days in Pampa yesterday afternoon in keeping with the Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Roundup sponsored by the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce. The Danzer Roadrunners and the House of David bearded team battled two hours and 40 minutes at Roadrunner park, and when the dust had cleared away, the bearded nine had won the game 32 to 21.

Nine balls were lost over the fence, three of them being over deep center field. Atwell's House of David shortstop hit three four-base blows and two singles and crossed the plate five times. Wykoff also hit five times, including one home run. Tucker, Cliff, and Atwell each crossed home plate five times during the game. The other home runs by bearded batters went to Nessur and Cliff.

The House of David connected for 34 hits off the deliveries of Bulla, Tate, and Hardin. Bulla went five innings before being yanked. The bearded sluggers had gotten 18 hits and scored 15 runs off Bulla before he left the mound. Tate, relief pitcher, fanned the first man but three singles and three home runs sent him to the showers. Hardin then took up the mound duties. Nine runs were made off Hardin's delivery before the end of the battle.

The field day was not all on the side of the bearded boys, however. They scored four runs in the first inning when Atwell hit one over the center field fence with the bases drunk. The Roadrunners came right back and sent nine runs across the plate, all on four hits. Bergen, bearded hurler, walked four batters in the inning. Two were safe on fielders choices and Ater hit a home run his second time to bat to clean the bases. His four-base wallop went over the fence within a few inches of where Atwell's cleared the top.

Bulla shut the bearded boys out in the second while the Roadrunners added one on consecutive doubles by Ward and Sain. The House of David came within one run of tying the count in the third with a five-run spurge. The Roadrunners went to bat with three in their half but the bearded batters continued to hit and again came within a run of tying the score with three more runs.

Again in the following inning, the Roadrunners went ahead with three runs, but the House of David duplicated the feat. The bearded sixth inning when 70 visiting sluggers crossed home plate. Talley, veteran House of David hurler, went to the mound in the fifth inning and held the Roadrunners to five more runs, although hit hard.

Talley has been with the cut 21 years. He is 37 years old and has been playing ball for the House of David for 16 years. He has pitched more than 300 games, has played more than that in the outfield, and has traveled more than 400,000 miles.

Brickell did his best to win a ball game. He collected four hits on six official trips to the plate and crossed the plate five times. Ray Ater was credited with only two official times at bat, but he scored five runs on one hit. He worked the bearded pitchers for four walks. Brickell, Ward and Ater, hit home runs to help the Roadrunner cause. Bulla walked twice, got a hit and scored three runs before leaving the game.

Freddy Brickell provided the fielding sensation of the day when he went back against the fence to take Talley's long fly one-handed. Brickell also made a great running catch in the first inning. There was a lot of hot baseball mixed in with the good. Sain, Roadrunner catcher, threw a ball over Bulla's head with the bases drunk to let a run score. Cox and Sain got their signals mixed on a pop fly and let it drop between them. Seitz got caught off second and Vaughn got caught napping off third.

The game set some kind of a record, it is believed. It at least beat the major league all-time record for the number of runs scored in one game. Chicago and Philadelphia in the National league played August 26, 1922 and the score was 26 to 23 in favor of Chicago.

The Roadrunners and Coltexo of LeFors will tangle at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bailey of Fortales, N. M., visited friends here yesterday. They were en route to Columbia, Mo., where Mr. Bailey will attend Missouri university for the summer. They will visit with Mrs. Bailey's parents in Cheyenne, Okla., for a few days.

SMITH IS NEW CHAMPION OF STATE'S MEET

LELAN HAMMAN LOSES FOUR AND TWO AT DALLAS

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, June 2 (AP)—A new king reigns in the throne room of the Texas Golf association. Reynolds Smith, stocky local Lakewood Country club ace, elevated himself into the state championship today over the Brook Hollow course by defeating Lelan Hamman, Waco champion, 4 and 2. Smith replaces Gus Moreland, who held the title three consecutive years as champion.

In his march to the championship Smith finally arrived at the pinnacle after being a finalist in 1931 and semi-finalist in 1932 and 1933. In addition to his new state title, Smith holds the Dallas city championship and the Corsicana Country club invitation championship.

Today's championship match was typical of most final rounds. It was spotted with a few remarkably well played holes and clouded by many holes that were badly played. Hamman was constantly in traps because of fading tee shots. Smith's usual fine short game was erratic in spots but still good enough to bring him through when Hamman uncovered his most determined challenge for the championship.

For the thirty-four played holes, Smith was ten-over par. Hamman was fifteen over par and over half the surplus shots were penalties for being trapped so often.

The Waco Country club star quickly shot himself into a three-up lead through the first four holes. His one-put at the first for 3, par four won against Smith's two putts for a five. His par four won at the second when Smith three-putted for a five. He clicked off a birdie two at the fourth against Smith's par three, and walked to the fifth tee with a three-up lead.

That one brilliant flash that whirled him into a commanding lead was Hamman's one and only bid for the championship. From the fifth tee on he started slipping. Smith won the sixth with a birdie three, the seventh with a par four and the ninth with a bogey five to turn the first nine all-square.

Smith won the next three holes to go three up. Hamman started pressing his tee shots and found nothing but trap trouble from too

Skelley of Beaumont and Manager Selph Exchange Blows at Second.

BEAUMONT, June 2. (AP)—The Exporters defeated the Buffs 5-4 today for a sweep of the short series and their eighth straight series in a game enlivened by a fist fight between Manager Carey Selph of the Buffs and Hugh Skelley, Beaumont left fielder.

The fistcuffs started when Skelley slid into second. He later said much hooking or fading. Smith went four up by taking the fourteenth with a par four. On the next two holes, Smith played badly. He attempted to use a wood out of the treacherous rough and lost the fifteenth by taking a seven. He crapped his tee shot at the sixteenth to take a four and lost to Hamman's par three. They halved the next two holes to give Smith a two-up advantage through the first eighteen.

Selph stepped on him. Yesterday Skelley upset Selph in preventing a double play.

Oil Field News

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE
Consulting Geologist,
Combs-Worley Bldg.

Wheeler county has brought in five wells during the week. The Mid-Continent number 4, in section 51, block 24, and the Elbar Corporation's number 2, Noel in section 54, block 24, were brought in earlier in the week, while in the last two days the Bell Oil and gas brought in its number 2 D'spain, which looks like about a 250-barrel well. The Alma number 2 Johnson in section 47, block 24, came in Friday and will make about 300 barrels a day.

The Texas company has a good well, making about 75 barrels in its Carville number 1, in section 51, block 24, but it is not completed and still drilling.

The Alma Oil company's number 1 Perkins in section 46, block 24 is scheduled to be the next well to hit the pay. It is reported to be logging favorably. If this is a well, it will mean another extension of the hot spot by about two miles south-east from the present center of activity.

Gray county also shows five wells brought in for the week. Dixon Creek number 1, Barrett in section 127, block 3, I. & G. N. was shot and should be completed for from 250 to 300 barrels.

The Gulf Production company shot its number 1, Barrett in section 127, block 3, I. & G. N., and not better than a 175-barrel well. B. O. Lilly et al shot its number 4, Hughey in section 16, block 3, I. & G. N. It will make 250 to 300 barrels. The Skelly Oil company drilled in and shot its number 5 Heaston in section 164, block 3, I. & G. N., and got a 375-barrel well. The Skelly company also shot its number 13 Vicars in section 127, block 3, I. & G. N., and it will make about 300 barrels.

The Magnolia Petroleum company is trying a new Lee G. Moore derrick on its Heaston number 2, in section 164, block 3, I. & G. N. It is a type K derrick which has greater strength with a fewer number of bolts. Each brace is tied under the legs. The floor is concrete and will be finished so it will drain naturally. The floor of the belt hall is also concrete, as is the belt. It will use an idler in the belt hall to do away with cutting belts.

The Skelly company is having success with band wheel powers and drills most of its leases with this in mind. It uses 18- and 24-foot band wheels, which give an even distribution of power and dirty ten wells with ease. The Texas and Gulf were also pioneers in power pumping in this field. They use this method on several leases. Gulf has used gear powers with more or less success.

In Wheeler county, the plan of the locations now drilling will call for drilling 25 more new wells as districts. It will gather momentum as new locations are made so that it will be pretty well drilled up in a short time.

New locations during the week were far between, with only one filed for Wheeler county. The Elbar Corporation's number 3 Noel was located 330 feet from the south line and 990 feet from the west line of section 54, block 24.

Hutchinson county had the only other new location filed. E. W. Means and M. C. Risher number 1 E. Cooper, 330 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of south west corner of the north half of section 6, block 9, I. & G. N. The daily average production stayed over the 55,000 barrel mark and there were 187 drilling operations in the Panhandle during the last week.

Mexico Matches

BALTIMORE, June 2 (AP)—Frank X. Shields and Sidney B. Wood, tennis Aces from New York, captured both their singles matches with Mexico today to give the United States Davis cup team a five-to-nothing sweep of the series.

Shields took the inexperienced Angel Roldan into camp in easy fashion in the opening contest by 6-2, 6-1, 6-2 scores, but Wood was ousted in the final fray.

Playing against Dr. Richard Tapia, the Mexican team captain, Wood had to use all his tennis tricks and experience to keep the Mexican at bay in the first two sets. He won, 6-4, 9-7, 6-0.

Today's matches gave the United States victory over Mexico without the loss of a set and sent the United States to Europe to meet the winner of the European zone series.

R. Norris Williams was advised by John Van Ryn that he would be unable to accompany the team to Europe.

Van Ryn, one of the world's best doubles players, had been assigned to team with Lott.

MARKET BRIEFS

STOCKS VERY SLOW
NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Rallying tendencies today closed the slowest five-day week on the stock exchange since August, 1923.

After the decline of the past three sessions had extended into early trading, leading shares stiffened and recovered part or all of their early losses before the finish.

Trading increased a little but not sufficiently to alter the week's total much. Turnover on the big board during the two-hour session was 410,110 shares, making the total for the five days the exchange was open 2,466,621. The previous low record for a comparable period was 1,923,500 shares for the week ended Aug. 11, 1923.

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—The cotton market was quite active in today's short week end session and, although prices fluctuated within a range of 11 to 14 points, the general trend, was upward.

The market closed steady at net advances for the day of 7 to 10 points.

Later the market developed a good reaction due to considerable liquidation and realized by weakness which developed in wheat and stocks. DAVIDS BEAT ROADRUNNERS

Pampans Hit 5 Home Runs; Aaron Ward Blasts Two; Game Ends 11 to 9.

Five four-base wallpots that accounted for eight runs failed to win a game for the Danziger Roadrunners Friday afternoon. The House of David team had taken a big early lead, however, and the game ended 11 to 9. Bill Hardin, former House of David hurler, was blasted from the mound in the sixth and Stegman finished.

The Roadrunner home run attack was led by Manager Aaron Ward, who lifted two over the right field fence. Ray Ater got a homer in the same locality and Cox and McLarry duplicated. Atwell, House of David shortstop, hit a homer for the second time.

Three of the House of David team put on a pepper game after the fourth inning that had the packed grandstand on its feet. Anderson, third baseman and one of the better game experts, suffered a badly sprained ankle while he was being hit out of the lineup for several days.

Ward was the only Roadrunner to get more than one hit off the delivery of Nessur, bearded curve ball artist who didn't allow a hit for four innings, and let the Roadrunners get only nine singles. The House of David sluggers got to Hardin and Stegman for 19 hits, several of them were of the scratch variety. Anderson got an infield hit off Hardin's glove in the opening inning. Cox tried to cover the entire infield on the next hit and was hit in the sixth after Nessur hit double and Hutson scored on a single that got through Seitz's legs. Atwell's home run scored one ahead of him to clinch the game in the eighth.

The Roadrunners' first hit came in the fourth when Ward hit a homer to score Ater, who had walked. Cox hit his homer in the fifth and Ward accounted for three runs with another homer in the sixth. Seitz had walked and Vaughn was safe on a fielder's choice when the second baseman that the ball. Ater homered in the seventh and McLarry duplicated in the eighth. Bacrus started a rally in the ninth when he singled sharply to center when batting for Stegman. He scored on Brickell's double to center, his first and only hit of the game. Nessur then tightened and made Ater ground out, short to first, and Seitz and Vaughn hit pop flies.

Hutson led the House of David attack with four hits. Anderson, Wykoff and Nessur followed with three each. Hutson, who was lead-off man, scored three runs. Ater, McLarry and Vaughn made sparkling plays of the game. Ater went deep behind second to get Flemming at first. McLarry made a one-handed stab and nice throw to cut down Atwell at first. Vaughn caught Henson's short fly in right-center only after a long run and stab at the ball.

Anderson robbed McLarry of a double in the prettiest play of the game. The House of David left fielder backed against the fence, let the ball hit his outstretched glove hand and caught it as it dropped to the ground for a third out with two men on base.

Intercollegiate athletics activities were placed in control of a board composed of four members of the executive committee of the athletic council. The regents announced that the new system would be placed on a trial basis.

Owen accepted the arrangement, saying he was "ready to abide by the president's wishes."

The regents retained W. J. Cross as secretary of the athletic council although it had been rumored he, too, was slated to lose his position.

Pirates, Cards Split
PITTSBURGH, June 2 (AP)—The Pirates and Cardinals divided today's double-header, St. Louis winning the first game, 13 to 4, and Pittsburgh the second 6 to 3.

Rip Collins was the batting hero of the first game and Wally Roetger of the nightcap.

In the first game, Dizzy Dean, who staged a one-day "strike" by refusing to don a Cardinal uniform yesterday, glided to an easy victory, aided by the heavy hitting of Collins, the Card first sacker, who socked out two home runs, his eighth and ninth of the season, and a triple, to drive in a total of seven runs.

St. Louis 300 113 230—13 18 2
Pittsburgh .. 000 101 020—4 8 0

J. Dean and Halaris; Lucas, Chagnon, Smith, Delaney and Grace.

Second game:

Mooney, Winford and C. Davis; French and Padden.

Bill Can Hit
NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Manager Bill Terry's ability to come thru in a pinch today gave the Giants a 5 to 4 victory over the Phillies that was almost a duplicate of yesterday's triumph.

For the second time in succession the Giants won out in the ninth inning with their pilot providing a single with the bases full to drive in the deciding tally. And for the second time that late rally came after Irvine Jeffries, the Phils' roving second baseman, had put the visitors ahead with a homer. It was his second circuit swing of the season and came in the seventh inning with Mickey Haslin aboard to break a 1-1 tie.

Philadelphia .. 001 000 210—4 11 1
New York .. 001 000 021—5 9 1

Collins, Haxson and Todd; Fitzsimmons, Bell and Mancuso.

Back in Stride
BOSTON, June 2 (AP)—The Braves made short work today of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who carried them to 16 innings yesterday, slamming out a dozen hits and as many runs in the second and third innings to win 16 to 6. It was Boston's seventh straight victory and carried the club into fourth place.

Brooklyn 200 010 300—6 12 3
Boston 057 000 04—16 16 4

Southsiders Nine Will Play Oilers

The old Southsiders baseball team will play this afternoon under its new name, the Consumers Supply company. The team will meet the Hoover team at 3 o'clock on the Pampa diamond in southwest Pampa.

Hoover has been winning from all opponents this season and last Sunday defeated the Oilers in Hoover. The Pampa nine has been strengthened and hopes to break Hoover's winning streak.

Prospects are bright for a number of teams and maybe a league in Pampa. Two or three other teams are in process of organization and if four teams can be sponsored, a league will be organized.

The Oilers roster was released yesterday and includes M. Jacobson, M. D. Oliver, J. P. White, Alvis White, C. Olsen, J. Olsen, P. Olsen, Buck Moore, Jr., Jas. Barrett, Bob Campbell, Geo. Vandover, Ed Bennett, Casey Jones, C. Crane, Walt Randal and Niek Ogie.

Old Timers Meet First Time of Last 30 Years

The most touching scene during the old timers re-union here was the meeting of J. L. "Langthy" Sutton and C. A. "Charlie" Woods who had not seen each other in more than 30 years. The two men, now past four score years, had been inseparable friends for 11 years when cowboys in this section of the Panhandle.

Tears of joy streamed down the creased cheeks of the two old friends as they embraced in the gymnasium where they met face to face, unexpectedly. Mr. Sutton now resides in Sacey, Mont., and Mr. Woods is a resident of Sweetwater, Okla.

The two men were cowboys on the U-Bar ranch in Wheeler county nearly 40 years ago.

Pewee Bass of Berger was a visitor at the baseball game yesterday afternoon.

LONG GETS IN ARGUMENT WITH BOLIVIAN ENVOY

Huey Says Standard Is Promoting War in Gran Chaco

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—With the Chaco war as she subject, Senator Huey Long today crossed words with Enrique Fino, the Bolivian minister to the United States, in an international debate over what was behind the war in the Chaco.

Fino made public a letter addressed to Long, in which Fino absconded all usual diplomatic procedure to tell the senator that his remarks this week in the senate on the Chaco conflict were "offensive, distortion of the truth, hostile and inaccurate."

Long had said in a speech on Latin American affairs that Paraguay was the innocent victim of Bolivian conquest in the Chaco conflict, now in its third year in South America.

"Yes," Long remarked after the letter was made public, "I got his letter, but I'm not paying any attention to little two-by-fours like him."

"He's just a hirling in this matter. The Standard Oil is promoting that war, and I want to deal with the principals. If one of the Standard Oil filling station operators wrote me a letter, I wouldn't pay any attention to it for the same reason. I want to deal with the head man."

This retort brought from Fino the statement that he was not afraid of Huey Long or any man, when the interests of his country were at stake.

PAGEANT

nounced yesterday in all of the state papers, and hand bills advertising the new date and being distributed in towns within a radius of 80 miles of Pampa.

The pageant was meant to end a two-day celebration. If one older-timer said something like this yesterday, 300 did not attend several Pioneer Roustabouts but this was the best of them all." The celebration drew the attention of Texas to the Panhandle. It was "played up" on the front pages of state newspapers, and was praised for 15 minutes by Dr. J. B. H. over station WQAI, San Antonio. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram devoted almost as much space, starting on the front page, as the NEWS.

In celebrations of its kind, naturally drinking fountains and eating places profited most because of the crowd, but stores had business almost equal to the Saturday rush. However, the greatest benefit was the opinion that visitors got of Pampa. Old timers would stop residents on the street to praise the celebration and its sponsors.

A remark of Horace Russell, Amarillo, was typical. He said, "Pampa has made a million dollars in good will during these two days."

Unofficially, it was said additional work allotments would be made and that the number to be employed in the new program would depend upon the extent of drought devastation. Senators from the afflicted area have estimated that unless rain falls soon, a billion dollars may be necessary to meet needs.

Hopkins also said the federal surplus relief corporation had received 27 telegraphic bids from meat packing firms on the processing of cattle and calves from the 134 certified emergency counties in the drought area.

The government has embarked on a cattle purchase program in the parched states.

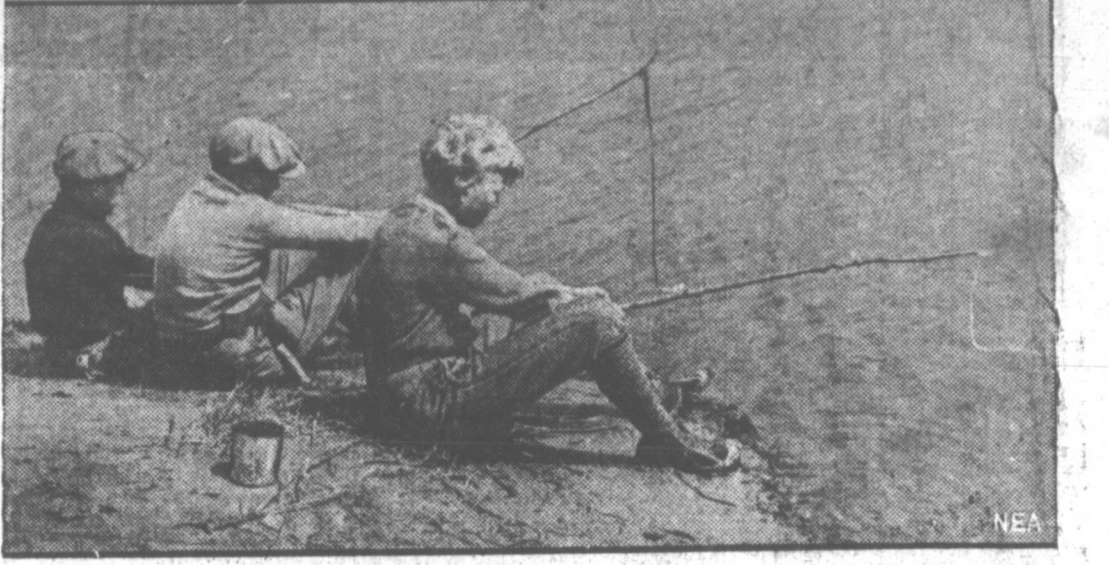

The subject of an additional appropriation for drought needs has been under discussion for several days.

Some leaders said they expected the president to send a message on the situation to congress next week and that by might ask then for a special emergency fund.

The administrator defended the price paid for cattle in the stricken areas and said if the payments were increased there would be demands for similar government purchases in other states that would be hard to withstand.

Vicars Ends 25 Years With Bank

From janitor-bookkeeper to vice-president is the story of DeLea Vicars, vice-president of the First National bank. Mr. Vicars celebrated his 25th anniversary with the bank last week.

Mr. Vicars arrived in Pampa from Virginia with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vicars in 1908. He was graduated from Pampa high school in 1909 and on the 27th day of May, 1909, he became connected with the First National bank which celebrated its first birthday on the day Mr. Vicars joined the staff.

"The staff" at that time was B. E. Finley, now president of the bank. Miss Alice Barbee, now Mrs. Charlie Mullen, had severed her connections with the bank some time before to become the bride of Mr. Mullen. Mr. Finley was cashier, bookkeeper and "everything else" in the bank at that time.

Mr. Vicars usually arrived at the bank about 8 o'clock, swept the floor, dusted the counters, and

Old Timers Meet First Time of Last 30 Years

The most touching scene during the old timers re-union here was the meeting of J. L. "Langthy" Sutton and C. A. "Charlie" Woods who had not seen each other in more than 30 years. The two men, now past four score years, had been inseparable friends for 11 years when cowboys in this section of the Panhandle.

Tears of joy streamed down the creased cheeks of the two old friends as they embraced in the gymnasium where they met face to face, unexpectedly. Mr. Sutton now resides in Sacey, Mont., and Mr. Woods is a resident of Sweetwater, Okla.

The two men were cowboys on the U-Bar ranch in Wheeler county nearly 40 years ago.

Pewee Bass of Berger was a visitor at the baseball game yesterday afternoon.
