NEW PROGRAM IS ADVOCATED BY PRESIDENT

BILLION-DOLLAR WORKS PROJECT IS PUT FORWARD

TO AID EMPLOYMENT MEANS OF FINANCING PROGRAM ARE NOT DECIDED

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—President Roosevelt forged a one-year billion-or-more-dollars public works program to aid employment today to top off his broad domestic and international program. A tentative draft of the measure which would put administration of the job-giving plan in a coordinator or national board was taken to the White House by a special committee of the cabinet.

Methods of financing the employment project were undecided tonight with both bond issue and new taxation under consideration. The committee considered a proposal for a tax on payrolls but it was indicated this was not favored.

Mr. Roosevelt insisted the public works be devoted to self-liquidating projects and to proposals which provide the best jobs.

No decision was reached on the exact extent of the year's program but White House advisors believed between one billion and two billion dollars would be required.

A three-year billion dollar road construction program was advanced by the cabinet committee. A half billion dollars for the roads in the next year is almost definitely a part of the Roosevelt plan.

Rivers and harbors improvements, naval construction, public buildings, and other internal developments are to be included.

More Time Will Be Sought Here For Crop Loans

GRAY COUNTY farmers, turning to row crops as drought-stricken wheat fields are abandoned, learned too late that the time limit for securing crop production loans was expiring today.

Because of this fact, an extension of 30 days in the time limit is being asked by the local committee, composed of B. E. Finley and Roy Bourland. A telegram, signed also by J. E. Hill of the Potter county committee, was sent to Congressman Marvin Jones yesterday. The message pointed out that "hundreds of your constituents find themselves in alarming predicament due to wheat abandonment coming so gradually. They have not made arrangements for changing to mixed farming, which they must do this year. Spring crop regulations should be extended 30 days."

At the same time, gratification was expressed for a new bill which for the first time provides loans to wheat farmers. To administer this bill in Gray county, the local committee will function in approving applications, assisted by a third member who will be a farmer. The applications will be sent to Dallas County Agent Ralph Thomas had 7 loans for mixed crop farmers yesterday, and was to place them before the county committee at McLean today. A shortage of application forms has handicapped the county committee for several months, despite repeated applications for adequate supplies.

NORMAN DAVIS ASKS TRUCE IN ECONOMIC WAR

ROOSEVELT PLAN FOR RECOVERY IS OUTLINED

CONFERENCE DATE SET

AMERICAN TO PRESENT PLAN ON OPENING DAY OF MEET

LONDON, April 29. (AP)—Proposing an all-embracing economic truce among the nations until the world economic conference can bring about world economic peace, Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's right-hand man in Europe, today achieved his second objective of the week in proclaiming the American program of world recovery.

The Davis proposal, made immediately after the world economic conference organizing committee at a session at the foreign office had agreed upon June 12 for convening the world parley, was in effect an economic armistice which gave to the nations a broad outline of American economic policy.

Similarly at Geneva Wednesday and yesterday, Mr. Davis outlined America's political policy on peace and disarmament.

Speeding from Geneva to Paris by train, the American ambassador-at-large flew to London this morning. With only half an hour of discussion with Chairman Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary, prior to the meeting of the organizing committee, Mr. Davis sprang what was a big surprise on at least some of the delegates.

He announced to the representatives of the eight organizing nations a truce proposal of sweeping character which will be advanced formally by the United States delegation on the opening day of the world economic conference.

Here is an authoritative summary of his proposal:

He notified the delegates that the United States would suggest an agreement, to be carried out in good faith, providing that all governments should refrain during the period of the truce from making any upward modification in tariff rates, and from enhancing existing restrictions or imposing new restrictions which would give domestic producers an advantage over foreign producers.

The agreement will provide further, according to the authoritative summary, that the governments should introduce no direct or indirect subsidies to expand their export industries, or any measures to promote dumping.

FARM RELIEF BILL PASSAGE SPEEDS JUMP

WHEAT RISES 6 CENTS A BUSHEL; COTTON $2 A BALE

STOCK PRICES BOIL UP

SATURDAY SESSION IS BUSIEST IN LAST THREE YEARS

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Stocks, wheat and cotton were whirled up in another frenzied buying movement in the nation's principal speculative markets today.

The overnight news of the senate's acceptance of the farm relief bill with its inflation rider, together with Washington assurances that it would quickly pass the house, prompted another "inflation boom" which swept prices of many securities and commodities to the best levels of the year or longer.

Wheat futures in the Chicago pit surged up 5 to 6 cents a bushel to above 70 cents. Cotton futures in New York swelled $2 a bale, exceeding $20 a bale for the first time since last September.

Prices boomed up $1 to more than $6 a share in the New York stock exchanges in the most feverish trading for a Saturday session in three years. Prices reached the best average level since September.

The smaller commodity markets generally pointed upward. Moody's daily price index of 15 principal commodities reached the highest level since last September, and came within a shade of the 1932 peak.

The inflation bill, giving the president the extraordinary power of reducing the gold content of the dollar by 50 per cent, should be deemed advisable, prompted a fresh flurry of selling of the American dollar.

The fresh reaction in the dollar, which carried it to around the low levels of last week, fanned the speculative flames in stocks and staples, as the indicated depreciation in dollars spelled in theory appreciating prices.

There was a general rush to buy at the stock exchange opening and the movement continued through a very strenuous two hours. Most stocks closed at the top. Turnover of 3,389,470 shares was the largest Saturday volume since May 3, 1930.

TEN SLAIN IN CUBAN FIGHT

Army Forces Suppress Outbreak; Seven Rebels, 2 Soldiers Killed

HAVANA, April 29. (AP)—Seven rebels, two soldiers and the chief of police of the town of San Luis were killed as army forces quickly suppressed a revolutionary outbreak in Oriente province today, said a government announcement tonight.

The largest, most serious outbreak in Oriente province today, said a government announcement tonight. Meanwhile reports from Santiago said rural guard posts at Monito and Songo also had been attacked, with two soldiers wounded at the former place.

A force of approximately 40 men, the announcement said, attacked the rural guard post near San Luis early today, killed two soldiers and seized horses, arms and ammunition.

The rebels were then driven from the town by army forces dispatched from nearby Palma Soriano under command of Lieut. Rodriguez. Two rebels were killed.

In their flight, the communiques continued, the rebels killed the San Luis chief of police whom they had taken prisoner while looting the vaults in the telegraph office and destroying telegraph and telephone facilities.

Hotly pursued by additional troops under Capt. Larrubia sent into three groups.

The largest, comprising about 20 men, was overtaken near Najaguayo by a detachment headed by Sergeant Morejon. In the ensuing brush, four rebels were killed, the remainder of the party dispersed and the arms and horses recovered.

PERRYTON 'DARK AS NIGHT' AND STREET LIGHTS BURN AS WORST SANDSTORM SWEEPS PANHANDLE

Three Pampans Are Accepted in Forestry Work

PAMPA yesterday shared what was, for dust density, the "worst" sandstorm of the spring season with a wind velocity which quickly filled houses with a dusty film and did some damage to buildings.

A section of shed at the Larsh Lumber company was blown down during the worst part of the storm in roof and some of the side timber was blown across the street from the lumber yard.

Oil camps, gasoline plants and residences along the river south of the city suffered more than Pampa when sand from the river bed was whipped into the air along with the dirt blowing in from other parts of the country. Lights had to be burned most of the day in the plants, it was reported here last night.

AMARILLO, April 29. (AP)—The worst sandstorm in years swept the Texas plains and bordering states today, but was losing its intensity tonight.

Darkness descended upon the northeast Panhandle, the Panhandle of Oklahoma and Southern Kansas in midday as the brunt of the storm shifted to that region shortly after noon. Street lights were burned at Perryton, Texas, Guymon, Okla., Liberal and Meade, Kansas, and other cities in that area.

"As dark as any night" read a message from Perryton at 3 p. m. when the pall of dust became densest over that city. Breathing was difficult as the stifling dust sifted into business buildings and residences. It was as dark as evening dusk throughout the Panhandle a greater part of the day.

The storm extended from below Sweetwater, Texas, to Central Kansas, and from Albuquerque, N. M., to Oklahoma City. An extreme low pressure area in the vicinity of Denver caused the storm. H. T. Colman, U. S. weather observer here, said.

FIRST CHESS FLIGHT ENDS

Two Winners of 4 Groups To Enter Quarter Finals Of News Tournament

WINNERS of the four "flights" in the Pampa Daily NEWS chess tournament, which has been in progress for the last three weeks, were declared last week but in the first division a tie resulted and as the two men in each group enter the quarter finals this week, the tie will be settled either by play or toss before the quarter final play starts.

Gophers Being Trapped After Demonstration

Henry and Burl Glass, boys living north of Alaneed, caught 25 gophers in two days after County Agent Ralph Thomas demonstrated how to trap the animals.

Twenty-eight persons attended two trapping demonstrations last week. Gophers and moles have been damaging bottom lands, especially alfalfa fields, in the south half of the county.

Mr. Thomas has received a large shipment of state certified seed to sell to farmers, and also some which the Board of City Development obtained for club boys.

The seed included red top cane, milo maize, kafir corn, and hegari.

Ten Farmers Are Arrested in Iowa Foreclosure War

LE MARS, Ia., April 29. (AP)—Ten northwest Iowa farmers tonight were under military arrest and facing prosecution, possibly on charges of criminal syndicalism, for alleged participation in farm riots which brought the national guard and martial law to Plymouth and Crawford counties.

Troops, with fixed bayonets and machine guns, today supervised a sale of goods at the J. F. Shields farm near Denison. It was the attempt to complete the sale yesterday which precipitated the battle between farmers and officers, resulting in declaration of martial law over Crawford county.

A second sale conducted under supervision of Sheriff Ralph E. Rippey of turbulent Plymouth county was without incident today.

Deputy T. C. Parker, disposed of the 155 acre property of Katie Durband for $14,500 to the mortgage holder from the steps of the courthouse from which District Judge C. C. Bradley was dragged by a mob Thursday. Only five farmers attended the sale. The farm is located near the Ed. Burband farm where an attempted sale a few weeks ago resulted in threats to hang the attorney for an insurance company.

Meanwhile, the men in custody, five here and five at Denison, were arrested by militia men and state agents and prosecutors appointed by state authorities to expedite their hearings and trials.

Communists Will Disown Million To Purge Party

MOSCOW, April 29. (AP)—Almost a million members and aspirant members of the communist party are slated to be ousted under drastic "purging" regulations, promulgated today, designed to eradicate all "careerists, hypocrites, and actual enemies."

At the same time, the government greatly extended the recently established passport system, thereby increasing its power to supervise the life and movements of the people.

On June 1 the communist party will launch its "purging" campaign to clean up the party for yesterday. This campaign, orders issued by the party's central control committee made clear, will be pursued not only to get rid of hostile communists but also to eliminate "unstable and undisciplined" members.

The decree calls for ruthless pruning to restore "iron discipline" in the only political party of Soviet Russia. The party authorities admitted that as a result of recent mass admissions "many strange elements have penetrated the ranks, including careerists, hypocrites, and actual enemies."

Relief Agency Pays $1,072.25 To 67 Persons

Two hundred sixty-five men and eleven women were paid $1,072.25 by the local federal relief committee yesterday.

Direct relief for last week totaled $60.91.

The committee, in answer to an inquiry as to whether men could be furnished to beautify church grounds here, requested all churches to submit estimates of work which could be done. Plans for helping the churches will be considered after the reports are made. It was pointed out that churches in Pampa are used as public auditoriums.

Paper Declares Lindbergh Will Testify in Trial

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The Washington Sunday Star said tonight it had received official indications that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh would testify personally here in the ransom conspiracy trial of Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker, describing details of the tragic kidnaping of his first son.

Two conspiracy indictments have been returned against Means and Whitaker. One charged the pair with conspiring to defraud Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, estranged wife of the owner of the Washington Post, of $104,000 for the return of the Lindbergh baby.

The other indictment, returned about two weeks ago, charges them with attempting to defraud Mrs. McLean of $35,000, which she says she was asked to put up to reimburse the kidnapers for a marked money paid by Dr. John F. Condon, described by the pair as "hot money" since the serial numbers of the bills were recorded.

The affray, reported to have followed an argument over the cashing of school warrants held by the teacher, was staged in the main street at Happy.

Crowder, suffering from a severe knife wound in the chest and four deep gashes in the back, is in an Amarillo hospital.

The fishing season will open tomorrow morning and many Pampa enthusiasts planned to leave her today to be on hand for the opening at sunup. Local stores handling fishing equipment were rushed yesterday as shortages were found by the fishermen.

Bass and crappie will be the most popular type sought. The season on them was closed during March and April. Open season on trout will not be until June 1.

GOD'S PLEASANT SURPRISES: Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.—1 Corinthians, 2:9.

Workers' Attitudes
The burden of distributing the necessities of life to those without employment is one that is felt keenly by the citizens who are giving of their time to this work. Dispensing charity to a large number of men and women is unlike that of helping a single individual or a single family. There are more complications, more questions of equitable distribution.

Those being helped can greatly assist by keeping in mind the point of view of welfare as well as their own. Recently a citizen in Dalhart wrote his impressions, which we are asked to reproduce here:

"Federal relief can be catalogued in but one class—charity. Not the charity of our nation, but the charity of millions of taxpayers of the nation. We, who accept federal relief, are as much involved in its bestowal as any other citizen.

"As I understand the spirit of the law the relief work is not done to enable us to receive high wages which would permit us to live as kings, pay our debts, buy autos or start bank accounts. Rather, its intention is to give us relief so that we may in some measure keep our heads above water during the depression. It is an act of charity we do for ourselves, in keeping with the old saying, 'Charity begins at home.'

"There is, and has been always, a certain group of our citizenry—unappreciative, unhelping. In a city of our size this element is more noticeable than in larger communities. They assume the viewpoint that just because we are a democracy, each one being considered equal under the laws, that our citizens, thru their representatives in Washington, owe them a living.

"Far from it. We, individually, owe ourselves a living. It is up to us to exert ourselves—to get down and scratch. If by putting forth an effort we cannot weather the storm, then, and only then, should we take advantage of federal relief, charity, or whatever we may be pleased to name it, to help us obtain the everyday necessities of life.

"No one man has been forced by another to register and work for a dollar a day on relief work. Each one registered has done so of his own free will, presumably knowing what he was doing. Those in charge of the work have been most lenient with the workers, thinking no doubt that everyone at work was there thru the direct necessity, and respecting them for their apparent desire to help themselves.

"We should be ashamed to admit that so many of these workers have assumed an air of injured pride, believing themselves imposed and trampled upon. Such a blot should not exist, existing it should be eradicated. He who does the most for us has always been the one to bear the brunt of our anger and passion. There are many in Dalhart who have an imaginary grievance, who fail to appreciate the opportunity afforded them to receive relief, and who are very bitter against those who have done all any human could do to aid their fellow men. This is to be deeply regretted.

Our Future Farmers.

Future Farmer boys, students of the vocational agriculture department of Pampa high school, recently called the attention of the superintendent to their many activities. The list is illustrative of their work:

Pruned 75 rose bushes and 258 shade trees, planted 99 shade trees, entered 47 birds at the Pampa Poultry show and won many prizes, culled 2,896 chickens, made 19 benches for Sunday school of First Christian church, marked off gymnasium for volley ball, built miniature house, directory stand, paper rack, and flag holder for high school library, pruned trees at Baker school and high school, planted trees at high school, made cubes and triangles for mathematics department, made miniature houses for history department.

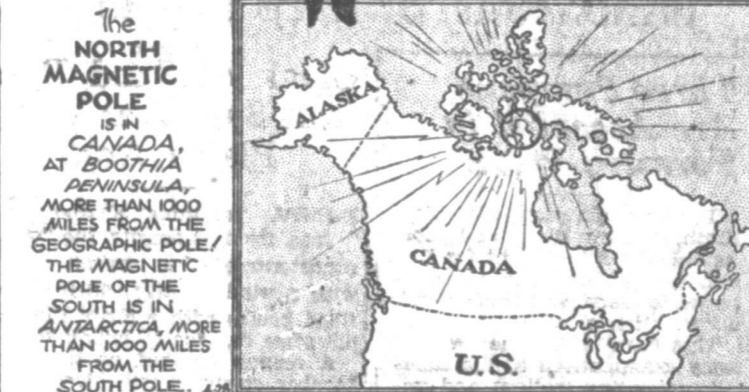

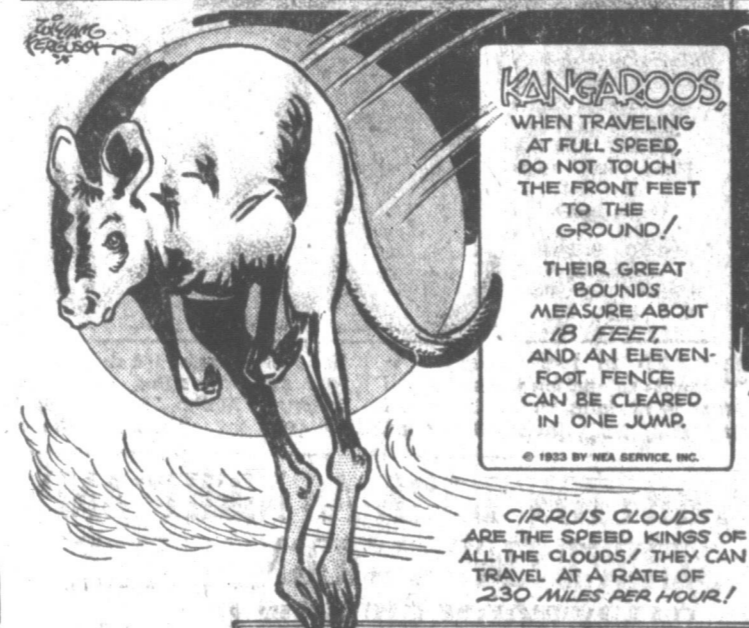

Framed pictures for various departments. In the homes, two boys built hog houses, six built pig troughs, one laid out a tennis court, two built self-feeders, two helped plan home farms, one built work benches for a home shop, 25 boys sowed, six built poultry houses, seven planted grass on home lawns, 30 boys pruned 128 trees, four built chicken coops, two erected combine shed, ten built chicken feeders, three built chicken nests, three built tables, three boys built rabbit hutches.

Eight boys planted 198 trees, five put out a total of 1,200 strawberry plants, six planted flowers in beds, six planned and built a house, two built bathrooms and installed plumbing, two dug and walled a cellar, one built a drive-in culvert, two built music cabinets, 28 culled flocks of chickens, fifteen repaired 39 chairs, two repaired gas heaters, eight made milking stools, one repaired on electric motor, seven boys pruned 568 trees, 3 boys pruned grape vines, twelve repaired fences, many planted gardens, five planned and built a milk barn, three made book-jacks, thirteen repaired cars, many repaired their homes, one built a gas line to and plumbed a poultry house, four built an ice-cream stand, one made a desk lamp, fifteen filed saws and twelve built fences. These are by no means all of the work of the boys.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

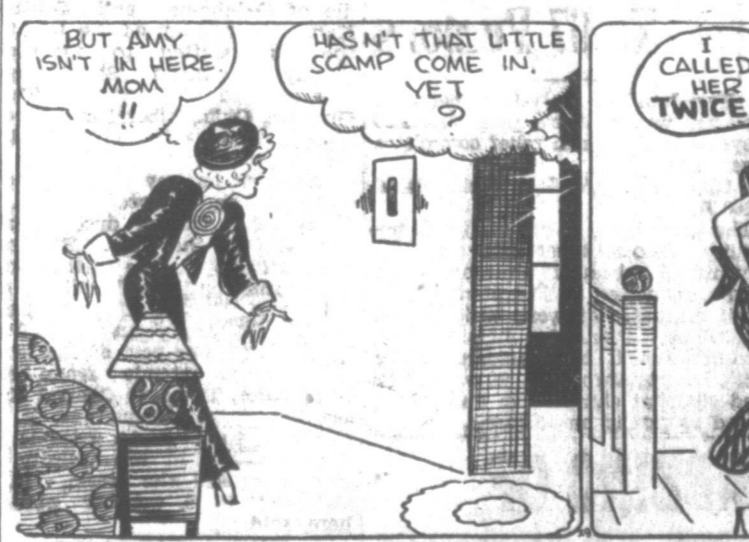

THE MAGNETIC poles of the earth are gradually changing. In 1660, the compass needle of Greenwich, England, pointed directly north, but by the year 1800 it pointed 2 1/2 degrees west of north, and it now points 15 degrees west of north. A straight line connecting the two magnetic poles would miss the center of the earth by some 800 miles.

District Court Upholds Latest Oil Allowable

AUSTIN, April 22. (AP)—An attack against the latest order of the Texas Railroad commission regulating production in the East Texas oil field has been repulsed.

District Judge C. A. Wheeler, at a session of his Travis county district court last night denied the application of three royalty owners in the East Texas field for temporary injunction enjoining the commission from enforcing the order.

O. M. Boren, R. W. Fair and A. S. Jarvin attacked the order on the contention that the commission had willfully and totally disregarded the statute which authorizes limiting of production to market demand in promulgating its order. They alleged that pipeline and storage facilities in the field were wholly inadequate to accommodate the allowable of between 700,000 and 750,000 barrels fixed by the commission and that this was resulting in physical and economic waste.

The state contended that no one, not even the courts, had the right to substitute their views or conclusions for those of the commission, which is vested with discretionary power, in the absence of any allegation of fraud or arbitrary abuse of power. Judge Wheeler upheld this contention and sustained the state's general demurrer. He gave the plaintiffs the right to amend.

The title of the Pampa boy's oration was "Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and the Constitution." He recently delivered the oration before civic clubs. All contestants were required to discuss some phase of the Constitution, since the purpose of the contest is to revive love and respect for that document. He has been preparing his oration since last summer and judges placed his knowledge of all phases of his subject as one of his winning points.

Rules of the contest required a six-minute original oration and a four-minute extemporaneous speech. The six winners were selected from a field of 11 orators who represented all corners of the Panhandle. The finals attracted many listeners.

Crusader Beaten And Bible Forced In Mouth as Gag

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 22. (AP)—Trussed with balling wire to the railing of a small bridge over a creek near Ramona, Ben Vanatta, 52-year-old religious crusader and former deputy sheriff, was found unconscious today by passing motorists.

A small Bible was bound to Vanatta's mouth with a wire. Officers were unable to explain the mysterious attack but advanced the theory the victim was bound by fanatics or by underworld characters seeking revenge because of Vanatta's activities as an officer.

In his pocket was a note warning him against "preaching against modern churches."

The victim regained consciousness in a hospital and was found to be uninjured except for shock from exposure.

Jenny Comyn, irresistible granddaughter of Madam Comyn, is one whose life and loves are traced throughout this excellently portrayed novel picturing vividly the existence in English colonies during the 19th century.

One is introduced to this fascinating beauty as Robert Snow, one of the many convicts sent to Van Diemen's Land, places a picture of Jenny which he had painted in the colonial hall of Clent. Due to an unfortunate misapprehension of the true circumstances, Jenny, the belle of the village, remains unmarried. Brevis Keyes, whom she adores, is a handsome chap, ambitious, and selfish.

Reckless, impulsive Mab, envied, criticized, lovable, has no equal inasmuch as the reader's sympathy, ridicule, and apologies are his for the asking. Madam Comyn is one who desires only the heights for her children, grandchildren, and even her great-grandchildren. "I am the first note where Jenny will be the full chord," describes Madam as she described herself.

Scarcely a trace of boredom is found in the reading of this well-written "pageant." One of the best passages concerns the scene taking place between Jenny and Brevis as the latter was dying. Jenny said, "Don't name all the names. Brevis—I'll like 'em a little wild."

NAPOLÉON IS SUBJECT NAPOLÉON'S MOTHER, by R. McNair Wilson—F. B. Lippincott Co.

"My Lord. The mother of the Emperor Napoleon claims the ashes of her son from his foes," thus the Corsican peasant girl began a letter to Lord Castlereage, a masterpiece of both drama and dignity, 15 years after Napoleon's death.

Letizia Bonaparte, ignorant, brave, loyal and with a fund of common sense was Napoleon's mother. ($3.)

GAMBLER'S WIFE, as told to Jesse Lillenthal—Houghton Mifflin Co.

Malinda Jenkins and her husband drifted from Texas to Alaska, slaving on a farm one day and running a saloon the next. Gambling, he with poker chips, she with real estate, living by their wits and playing "mushroom" towns for all they were worth.

This autobiography is written in Malinda's own words, free from all inhibitions and fairly radiating the personality of the author.

"Charlie Hanks meant business and I reckon I did too. And so did a 23-year-old card-dealing whippersnapper by the name of William Graham Jenkins. You ain't heard of him yet, this Jenkins, but you will."

At 82, Malinda is still alive, living in a little Mexican town near the border—playing the horses every day—and making money at it.

EVE OF REVOLUTION
THE WAITING CITY (Paris 1782-88) by Louis-Sebastien Mercier, translated and edited by Helen Simpson—F. B. Lippincott Co.

Light thrown on the lesser causes of the Revolution. Paris placidly being Paris. Theater-goers, strollers through history, buyers of patent medicines on the eve of the Revolution are displayed by the author in all their activities.

The merciless wit of the author, his passion for liberty, his stinging satire are reflected in this abridgement of what the original appeared in 12 volumes.

Mercier's career is sketched by Miss Simpson in her preface, also an explanation of her selection of chapters. ($3.00.)

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK
REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 29. (AP) S.
Dept. Agr.—Cattle trade around the healthier tone than at any time in several weeks past.

Hogs opened the week at higher prices but trade slowed down on late sessions and early gains were more than erased.

WHEAT SOARS UPWARD

CHEAGO, April 29. (AP)—Wheat speculators buying swept wheat 6 1/2 cents a bushel higher today, with all other grains whirling upward on account of decisive measures for inflation.

Although senate passage of the Roosevelt farm bill, however, had been regarded by most grain traders as a foregone conclusion, the event itself came with such unexpected swiftness that market results proved little short of those at critical junctures of the world war.

Wheat closed buoyant, near the topmost figures attained, 5 1/4 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 2 3/8-3% up, oats 1 1/4-1 1/2 advanced, and provisions showing 7 cents to 42 cents gain.

Swiftly outdoing season high-price records, wheat new steved about momentum after the New York stock market had closed, and in the final hour of grain dealings wheat went to a maximum gain of 6 1/2 cents for September contracts at

The White Cockatoo

SYNOPSIS: Sue Tally confides her strange situation to Jim Sundean, her neighbor in Southern France. She possesses a token which proves her right to share her dead brother's great fortune with Francis, her brother whom she has not seen for years. It is the Duke Francis's token, almost forbidden, she has been accused of abduction; the same night a man was murdered in the hotel, and Sundean is suspected of that crime. Sue tells Sundean she has left papers important to her case in the hotel safe.

Chapter 20
DANGER FOR LORN

WHAT have you told the hotel people?"
"Only that I was waiting for my brother to come," Sue answered.
"I know it seems unusual—that I should tell them nothing and you —so much," she said. "But you—you are—" She stopped as if seeking words, and I said:
"Show me that you must have had some faint distress of them. You haven't wanted to admit it, perhaps,
but it's there."

"No, no," she said. "The Lov-
schisms are my friends."
"You haven't given this token—into the Lovschisms' care?"
"Of, no. They know nothing about it at all. I will show it to no one until I see my brother Francis and match his own with it. He must be convinced."

"And that abduction last night, I don't like dragging up the subject, but it's a very serious matter."
"Of course," she said. "It frightened me awfully. It frightened me to think of it now. You need not tell me it's serious." She paused and looked at me meditatively, her slim fingers across one black velvet knee. "I wonder what you thought of me last night. You must have thought I was quite mad."

"Do you want to know what I thought?" I said slowly. "I thought you were very sweet."
"I had spoken gravely, and she had listened as gravely. For an instant the air between us was alive and trembling and aware, and our glances clung together. Then there was a knock on the door.

It was Lorn, of course. He was un-excited, matter-of-fact; he entered, gave one look at Sue, said, "Good-evening," and took the chair I offered.

"I've been telling Mr. Sundean why I fear that my affairs have had some connection with the murder last night," Sue told him thoughtfully. "I felt it only fair to do so, since he was unfortunate enough to become rather involved in the affair.
I'm sorry to go against my brother's wishes in the matter, but I felt obliged to do so in this case."

Lorn made an inexpressive gesture.
"Your brother merely expressed his wishes, as I understand it, Miss Tally. I don't know that you are obliged to comply with them."

"I prefer to do so," she said rather stiffly.
Lorn went on more pleasantly:
"Well, at any rate, we managed to get Mr. Sundean out of jail."

"What about the poison, Lorn?" I asked.
"Poison!" cried Sue.
"The man there in the corridor
last night actually died of poison," said Lorn.

"But," I interrupted, "how on earth was the man poisoned? And if poisoned why was he also stabbed?"

BAPTIST WOMEN OF DISTRICT ARE TO BE ENTERTAINED IN CITY Study Club Members Protest Discontinuance of County Demonstration Work

AGENT'S WORK HELD VITAL IN COUNTY CLUBS

FACTS AND FIGURES IN PROGRAM BASIS OF CLAIM

REPRESENTING 12 organizations in which women seek to uphold civic and cultural standards of Pampa and surrounding territory, the Council of Clubs Friday afternoon took steps to secure the continuance of home demonstration work in Gray county. Petitions will be presented for signatures of individual club women, and representatives of the clubs will be asked to attend the hearing at a meeting of the county commissioners May 8 at 1:30 o'clock.

The plans were made following an exhibit of work done by the women of the county home demonstration clubs. There was a lovely hooked rug, which is being made by Mrs. J. H. Smith, and a chicken dressed by a new, improved method by Mrs. W. D. Benton. interest of the county club women. Mrs. Smith told what the club work meant to the women of the old territory. "In these days when jobs are so uncertain," she said, "it is worth much to know that we can live several months from our 4-H pantries even in case of illness or loss of jobs." She pointed out that she raised 29 varieties of vegetables in her garden last year, and that the cost of the garden was $14.20 as compared with the $71.50 value of the vegetables she canned from this garden. The total value of her pantry was $353.39. She made numerous improvements about her home, including the building of a cellar at a cost of $2.40.

Belts Are Contrasted With Frocks Both in Novel Fabrics and Colors

By RITA FERRIS (Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS, April 29. (AP)—Belts mark the mode in novel ways this spring. Colors generally contrast with that of the frock; novel fabrics, such as straw, string and raphia are used, and new designs have made their debut.

Raffia and straw make some of the most striking belts seen on the new spring frocks. A dress of dark blue wool has a little two-pointed red straw belt cut like the lower part of a man's waistcoat, and a frock of greige crepe has a red raffia belt, wide on one side and narrow on the other.

String Belts Favored
Knitted string and plaited braids belts are a favorite with sports frocks. A natural colored linen frock has a two inch belt of knitted string—blue, green and red—and a white canvas sports dress is worn with a narrow belt of blue plaited braid.

Leather holds its own in the new belt mode. A black crepe frock has a belt of white leather cut to resemble a feather, a green wool dress is finished with a deeper green leather belt studded with silver nail heads, and a brown wool sports suit is worn with a waistcoat belt of pigskin.

Two Toned Velvet Smart
Two-toned velvet belts appear with the smartest evening frocks. Patou shows an evening gown of pearl blue crepe with a narrow belt of twisted strands of jade green and purple velvet, and a pale green pebbled crepe gown with a belt of velvet ribbon, half deeper green, half rose.

Silver links and silver leather play their parts in the belted mode. Ardanne finishes a rose red dinner gown with a belt of silver links, and Worth holds a long evening wrap of peach tulle velvet in place with a belt of silver leather.

Judge C. E. Cary Is Main Speaker

Humane education was the subject chosen by County Judge C. E. Cary in an address to Merten Parent-Teacher association Friday evening.

A quartet, in which Supt. R. B. Fisher and Principal A. L. Patrick participated, sang three numbers, Shine on Me, My Anchor Hold, and Oh, Eveline. During a business session, appreciation was expressed for the much needed stage which the school board furnished, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association. Lovely Arts, Mesdames A. N. BEER IS POSSIBLE BY SEPTEMBER IF AMENDMENT IS ADOPTED

HOUSES AGREE ON PROPOSALS FOR BEVERAGE

DRY AREAS MUST HAVE LOCAL OPTION ELECTION

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—The Texas legislature today completed its part toward legalizing the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer in this state. The house concurred in amendments to a resolution and bill it previously had passed submitting the question of legalization to a vote of the electorate on Aug. 26 and regulating its sale in event beer is permitted.

The resolution and bill will be sent to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for her consideration Monday. It could have gone to the executive office today but for the senate being in recess over the week-end.

The house lost no time in accepting amendments placed on its beer legalization proposals by the senate. The house voted 104 to 7 to accept changes made by the senate in its constitutional amendment, but the regulatory bill amendment was defeated by insufficient affirmative votes (86 to 20) to make it effective simultaneously when the constitutional amendment is authorized should the voters approve it.

However, that bill contains a provision that political sub-division that were dry when constitutional prohibition became effective still would be dry unless sale was authorized by a local option vote. The bill provided that these elections could be held any time after July 1, the result to be contingent on adoption of the amendment. Whether failure of the bill to receive the two-thirds majority to put it into effect at once would prevent the holding of these elections until after the expiration of ninety days from the legislature's adjournment was not clear.

Should the constitutional amendment be adopted it was believed the formality of canvassing the vote and declaring the result could be completed in order to make sale of beer legal by September 15.

In the OIL FIELDS

Activities in the Panhandle oil fields were quiet during the last week. The field appeared to be marking time to see what the senate would do on the bill to take the control of oil and gas away from the railroad commission and put it in the hands of a committee appointed by Governor Ferguson. It was also wondered if the price of Panhandle crude would be dropped since East Texas was given a 50,000 barrel allowable and 10-cent oil.

Production in the field jumped 4,664 barrels from the previous week. Gray county production went up more than 2,000 barrels. Hutchinson also increased, due largely to tests, however.

One location was made in the count when Robert Duplap made a location for his No. 1 Priest in the southwest quarter of section 14, J. C. Street survey, three and one-half miles northeast of LeFors. The location is a mile northeast of the Paul Thorp producer on the short which is good for 200 barrels a day.

Production by counties:

Awakened Spirits Will Be Result of Wearing a Poppy

To America, now going forward in a great drive against the economic enemies which have invaded the country, comes a message from the men who fifty years ago were giving their lives in defense of the country against an armed enemy. It comes in the form of the little red poppy that all will be asked to wear on Poppy Day, May 27. It calls all to love and sacrifice for their country now with the same patriotic spirit that those men served and died among the poppies in France in 1917 and 1918.

The poppy is a symbol of remembrance for the World War dead, poppies glowing on every coat on Poppy Day will show that we still remember and honor the supreme sacrifice our war dead made for America. A country which remembers deeds such as theirs cannot be indifferent to present calls for patriotic service. As long as the memory of our heroes is kept bright, America can be confident that heroic service will come from its citizens in every hour of need.

The women of the American Legion auxiliary, who will bring us the poppies on Poppy Day, are carrying out a very valuable work for the country. With their memorial flowers they are helping keep alive a memory more precious than vast material riches—the memory of men who were willing to die that America might live in freedom and happiness. With the poppy contributions they are helping carry on for the disabled veterans and fatherless families. With the poppy they are calling to us all to carry on for America in the spirit of those heroic men the flower commemorates. Every American who is a true American should show his response by wearing a poppy on Poppy Day.

ABILENE CHRISTIAN COLLEGE RELAY TEAM SETS NEW DRAKE MEET RECORD

FAMOUS NEGRO OF MARQUETTE WINS 2 RACES

SEVEN MARKS TOPPLE BUT METCALFE IS SENSATION

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
DRAKE STADIUM, Des Moines, Ia., April 29. (AP)—Two amazing performances by Ralph Metcalfe, national collegiate sprint champion, climaxed finals of the 24th annual Drake relay carnival today in which seven records were broken.

Battling rain, wind, a heavy slow track, and a determined field of opponents, Metcalfe, Marquette university's famous negro flyer, easily captured the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds. He broke the tape four feet ahead of Willis Ward, another negro from the University of Michigan, to defend successfully his Drake century championship.

The Marquette flyer ran the distance one-fifth of a second slower than last year, when he tied the then recognized world's record of 9.5. Metcalfe, just finishing a record-smashing indoor campaign in the short distances, competed with only three days out-door practice. As a result, his showing was considered remarkable. He is determined, before the season ends, to reduce the century record if possible to the amazing time of 9.2 seconds.

After winning the 100, Metcalfe in a brilliant performance triumphed for Marquette in the 800-yard university relay. Running as anchor man for the Milwaukeeans, Metcalfe, coming from behind, picked up ten yards and beat out Heye Lambertus of Nebraska in a thrilling finish.

A Texas entry, Abilene Christian, set up a new meet record in the college and university division sprint medley (440, 220 and 880 yards) with the time of 3 minutes 29 8-10 seconds.

VERNON WILL BOX BRADLEY DURING WEEK

Two middleweights will be the headliners on the American Legion boxing card at the Pla-More auditorium Wednesday night. It is the bout fans have been waiting for. Plenty of action is expected to be crammed into a very few minutes. Joe Vernon, local boy, will meet Jimmie Bradley, Fort Worth sensation, in the 10-round affair.

AMARILLO BOY THINKS HE CAN WALLOP ONE FRANKIE KARR

Bradley has won 22 of his last 24 fights by the kayo route in less than four rounds. He packs a terrific jolt that travels only a few inches. He kayoed Eddie Brock of Amarillo in 10 seconds less than it took Vernon to do the same job. Vernon needs no introduction to a Pampa audience.

The six-round semifinal will bring that scrapping "fool," Frankie Karr of Fort Worth, here to meet Duff Stanley of Amarillo. Both youngsters will weigh 140 pounds and they are expected to put up a great battle.

Little Tuffy Simons, Berger sensation, has been matched with Eddie Daniels of Stinnett at 103 pounds. They are to go four rounds. Lefty Hawkins, local boy, and Ray Phillips, another local product, have also been matched for four rounds at 129 pounds.

Two negroes, Mac Jenkins, 184, representing the Campbell barber shop, and Kid Pollard, 182, from Bowers ranch, will open the card with four rounds.

Admission will be the same popular prices.

Mag Nine Will Hold Practice This Afternoon

The Magnolia baseball team will hold a lengthy workout at Magnolia field, East Foster avenue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Manager J. H. Buckingham announced yesterday. Spectators will be welcomed to see the team in action.

Manager Buckingham hopes to announce his team during the practice unless new material shows up. He has a pretty good idea who his starters will be, but wants to put them through another stiff workout before naming the players he will carry during the season. He will name 15 or 16 players, who will be given uniforms.

The first game of the season will be played next Sunday afternoon at Magnolia park, when the Hoover Coltex nine meets the "Mags." The Hoover nine has been playing for nearly a month and should be strong.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Coltex boys go to meet the Cabot team on the Cabot diamond near Kingsmill. The strength of the teams will be watched.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Chandler of Shamrock were Pampa visitors yesterday.

Mrs. E. J. Lane of Whittenton shopped in Pampa Saturday afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29. (AP)—The Athletics swept the two game series with the Boston Red Sox today in winning the final encounter of their home stand, 8-3.

Shoppers Take 3 to 2 Thriller On Phillips Lot
The Diamond Shoppers playground ball team won a 10-inning 3 to 2 thriller from the Phillips Oilers Friday afternoon on the Phillips diamond. The game was won when Reed Crites dropped Wagner's "humped-back drive" behind the pitcher's box and Cahill scored after being walked and sacrificed to third.

Poe of the Shoppers and Hieronemus of the Oilers engaged in their second pitchers' duel in a week with Poe winning both. The Shoppers won the game here earlier in the week 3 to 1. The Shoppers got only four hits off Hieronemus, while the Oilers made six off Poe. The Jewlers made three errors and the Oilers four. Poe struck out five batters and Hieronemus three.

Cahill and Woodward of the Shoppers made the best fielding plays of the game. Cahill accepted 12 chances on second base without an error. He started two double plays. Woodward took six chances without an error. Newsome was the outstanding player for the Oilers. He made several one-handed stabs and made perfect throws to first. Phillips was without the services of Lard and Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Byers of Miami were Pampa visitors Saturday.

D. W. Burgess of Skellytown was here last night.

THREE MARKS ABANDONED IN PENN RELAYS

RELAY, HIGH JUMP AND VAULT RECORDS SMASHED

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADELPHIA, April 29. (AP)—Altitude and distance were at a premium today as college and schoolboy athletic stars brought the 39th Pennsylvania relay carnival to an exciting close with three record-breaking performances, before a crowd of 30,000 spectators and under the spring's warmest sun.

Two of the east's most renowned individual performers, George Spitz of New York university and Keith Brown of Yale, soared to a new carnival record height. Spitz negotiated 6 feet 5 1/2 inches in the high jump to dislodge a 16-year-old record, while Brown cleared 14 feet, 1/2 inches, in the pole vault and just missed his attempts at 14-3.

In the longest relay of the lot, New York university's brilliant distance quartet, consisting of Mother, Grodman, Nordell and Barker, brought the meet to a climax by capturing the four mile college championship in the new carnival record time of 17 minutes, 46.4 seconds.

All told, seven major carnival records fell during two days of brisk competition bringing together more than 2,000 athletes from the south, middle west and east.

Pennsylvania enjoying a big time at its own athletic party, captured three of the eight varsity relay championships, including the classic one-mile relay for the third successive year.

IDENTICAL SANDIE TWINS AID AMARILLO IN BEATING PAMPA

Untrained Harvesters Are Given 16 to 13 Defeat in Basketball Game.

The Blackwell twins, blond headed and fast, were largely responsible for the Amarillo Sandies' 16 to 13 win over the Pampa Harvesters basketball team at the local gymnasium Friday night, when the two quintets clashed in a spring training game. The twins were so much alike that time after time two Pampa players were guarding the one while the other romped thru to shoot baskets.

Amarillo's boys handled the ball much better than the Harvesters and showed the advantage of a month of training. The Pampa team, with less than two weeks of practice, had few plays and lacked the ball handling ability. The Harvesters' weakness was allowing the fast little Sandies to get in front of them in the offensive, with slow breaking with the ball.

Both teams missed dozens of easy shots, due largely to lack of practice and over-eagerness. Members of the squads showed promise and by the opening of the season next winter, should be ready for action. Amarillo was without the services of J. R. Corbett, Maluron and Patterson, three veterans. Pampa did not have Jess Patton in the lineup.

Promise Is Seen
Although play was erratic, several of the boys showed flashes of speed and ability. J. R. Green, Bill Dunaway, Orville Heskell and Elmer Irving were outstanding for the Harvesters during flashes of team work and guarding. The Blackwell twins, Claude and Clyde, and Thompson were the pick of the Sandies.

The half-time score was tied at 8 points each. Neither team scored for four minutes in the first quarter, then Claude Blackwell slipped through for Amarillo's first markers. Green evened things in the second quarter and Irving sent the Harvesters into a lead with two

Bowling Scores

The City league bowling season closed with Phillips in first place and Jaycee, Kiwanis No. 2 and Voss all tied for second place. Texas followed with Kiwanis No. 1 in last place. Kiwanis No. 1 dropped three straight games to Kiwanis No. 2 Thursday night to allow the No. 2 team to tie the Jaycees who finished the season Tuesday night. Texas dropped a pair to Voss Cleaners for that team also to tie up the standing. Only four games reached more than 800 pins.

Guard Gets Away
Green made a field goal and free throw and Dunaway added a field goal for all the Harvesters points in the second half. Claude Blackwell made one for the Sandies after the half started and Thompson, guard, slipped in two nice long ones. Curry added the last points with a field goal.

Old Kid Granite Whips Regal in Ten-Round Bout

Old Kid Granite, who calls Pampa his home now, won a 10-round decision from Pete Regal, Fort Worth slugger, in Berger Friday night. Although fouled twice, Granite came back both times after a five-minute rest, and won "going away."

The veteran showed bursts of speed that looked like the Granite of old, and in a week or two he should be ready to take the ring with the best boys in his class.

New bodies by Fisher are roomier, more luxurious; seats are wider and deeper and more comfortable. New Fisher No Draft Ventilation, individually controlled, makes summer driving cool and pleasant.

Pontiac's modern Straight Eight incorporates the latest development in engine mounting—the five-point rubber cushioning that removes every trace of vibration! 77 horsepower; 78 real miles an hour. Yet Pontiac's modern Straight Eight engine is so efficient that it costs no more to operate than many smaller cars.

Come in for a demonstration. Then you'll agree that Pontiac is the outstanding car in the low price field.

DERBY HOPE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kerry Patch, the "mystery" colt of 1932, cannot be too lightly regarded in such a wide-open race as this year's Kentucky Derby promises to be.

The chestnut colt, son of Desperate Desmond and Polly Wogles, flared like a meteor during last year's juvenile campaign, running three great races, then dropped as suddenly out of sight.

He started 22 times and won only three races, but those three were enough to stamp him as dangerous. His greatest triumph was in the $88,790 Futurity, in which he finished almost a length ahead of Ladysman, favorite in the approaching classic. He was a 50 to 1 shot in that race.

But, outside of that supreme effort, Kerry Patch won only two other events, was second five times, third three times and unplaced on 11 occasions. He earned $93,440 for his owner, Lee Rosenberg.

In the opinion of students of conformation, Kerry Patch is not a good looking colt. He is of the round, rugged type, but the picture of health and a good trainer. For that reason, he will have plenty of backers when the field goes to the post at the Downs on May 6.

Rosenberg has a sentimental affection for the colt. Both his sire and dam raced under Rosenberg's colors in years past.

Only Brief News Bulletins May Be Broadcast at Place of Publication

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Regulations under which Associated Press newspapers may broadcast brief news bulletins over stations located at the place of publication were prescribed yesterday by the board of directors, in conformity with the resolution passed yesterday at the annual meeting of the news association.

The board's resolution read: "Recognizing that any action at this time must be tentative, the board prescribes the following regulations:

"Resolved, that Associated Press news of major local, national and international importance may be broadcast only by a member over a broadcasting station located at the place of publication, in brief bulletin form of not more than 30 words each, and one bulletin only on any one subject. Sports events need not be subjected to the 30-word or one subject limitations.

Such bulletins shall be broadcast only within the hours of publication of the member, with full credit to the Associated Press and the member newspaper broadcasting. Such broadcast of bulletins shall in no way be connected with commercial programs; that E O S material, which is not subject to limited hours of publication, is excepted, but such matters shall be subject to the 30-word limitation. And be it further resolved, that all resolutions heretofore adopted by the board concerning broadcasting inconsistent with this resolution, be rescinded.

"That concerning the recommendation of the membership that added assessments be imposed upon members broadcasting, this question involving many complications, is deferred for further study.

"In pursuance of its policy to protect the news reports of the Associated Press, the suit now pending in the federal court to prevent the unauthorized use by radio of such news reports will be vigorously prosecuted."

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

The following article was published in The Star-Telegram Sunday, April 16. In order that the public may be fully informed, I reproduce telegram sent to President Roosevelt by R. C. Holmes, president of The Texas Company, and my comments thereon in full

R. C. Holmes wire is as follows:

"As far as I know, and I think I have reasonably accurate information, at least 95 per cent of the legitimate individual producers, producing organizations and producer-buyer and refining units, were represented by the joint committees of industry representatives and of the Governors of 15 of the oil-producing States in the joint recommendation made to Secretary of the Interior Ickes on March 29.

"Facts should be secured and sound policies and corrective measures undertaken.

Joe Danciger's comments:

In view of the scores of articles that have appeared in the newspapers, in oil trade journals and in private oil reports for the past several years by those representing the major oil company interests, it should at least be a novelty for one truly independent oil producer, opposed to monopoly, under obligation to no bank or major oil company, to analyze for the benefit of the public, just one of such public statements.

The statement by R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Company, wired April 2 to President Roosevelt, and reproduced herewith, is typical of the character of propaganda which has been used, practically without opposition, through the public press until the public mind is completely at sea as to the facts and the truth regarding the problems of the oil industry.

For instance, Mr. Holmes states that ninety-five per cent of the legitimate individual producers and other members of the industry were represented at the Governors' Conference in Washington. In truth the Committee of Fifteen represented only the interests of monopoly. So, more than shameful abuse of democratic representation could be imagined.

The committee, through a carefully prepared and premeditated plan, were so carefully hand-picked that not the slightest vestige of independence remained, and the finished product of the committee represented only the will of monopolistic interests. The majority of the names on the committee tell their own story.

Mr. Holmes asks if a part of the press, together with a few misguided politicians, are to be allowed to ruin the oil industry and perpetuate a scandal that would make the oil scandals of the Harding administration look like petty graft and larceny.

Mr. Holmes evidently considers that ninety-five per cent of the industry failed to convince the Washington Administration that they were right, and after the handful of truthful Independent Producers Opposed to Monopoly were able to convince the Administration of the true facts, these high Washington officials are misguided politicians.

The only part of the Major Company program endorsed by the Administration at Washington, which was not carried out, was the violation of state laws by barred from interstate commerce, to which recommendation every honest citizen, including all true independents, cheerfully subscribe. The well-oiled steam roller of the monopoly, which has been gained nothing, but the independents gained their most important recommendation, namely, the divorce of the pipelines from producing and refining units, thereby destroying the monopoly in transportation, enjoyed by the integrated units, which will cure ninety per cent of the ills of the oil industry. It is, therefore, a blessing and should bring comfort to millions to know that if you can convince the present great Administration you are right, you will be given the decision regardless of how powerful your opposition may be.

As to future developments in the way of scandal, I believe Mr. Holmes is correct when he states that the oil scandals of the Harding administration will look like petty larceny and pale into insignificance as compared to the scandals of the present oil monopoly when all the facts are weighed by the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission.

Mr. Holmes speaks of the lawless elements compelling the destruction of petroleum industry here and abroad. The same lawless element he says "will put the last murderous knife thrust into the banking situation." That might be true, Mr. Holmes, if they were in any way related, for greed and avarice will wreck any institution which practices it. They are not being murdered, they are merely practicing harrakari.

While Mr. Holmes offers no detailed explanation of what he means by "lawless" or "sleight of hand" elements, it can safely be presumed that he means that entire branch of the industry which is opposed to monopoly.

When we analyze just what is lawless in the industry, we will find that the refiner who evades payment of the gasoline tax is of course lawless. These taxes are payable monthly, and a bond is placed with the State in advance to cover the tax due for the current month, and a careful check by the collecting officials can eliminate these law violators each month with ease.

Surely Mr. Holmes is not frightened because of these petty thieves, while his company and other import over 4,000,000 barrels of foreign oil on an average per month and have been doing this for years. The petty theft in the evasion of the gasoline tax, as compared to the effect on the industry through importation of oil, would be like comparing the depredations of a dusky chicken purloiner with the operations of big racketeers.

Subsidizing the officials of a state or nation to carry out selfish or oppressive measures is a heinous crime, and I join Mr. Holmes in an appeal to our state and national governments to enact such laws as will make the crime a capital offense.

Another branch of the industry which Mr. Holmes undoubtedly classifies among the lawless are those who produce from their land more oil than the allowable amount set by Commission orders, which orders in Texas have thus far been declared by the courts invalid and unlawful, which orders could scarcely be otherwise as the law itself was only an ill-considered, two-year temporary expedient, and unconstitutional.

It is reasonable to presume that Mr. Holmes would classify such oil as illegal, but since major companies purchase many thousands of barrels of such oil, produced by others, at prices far under the posted price in the field companies are therefore naturally included among the lawless.

JOE DANCIGER, Fort Worth, Texas

tion of oil in Texas and Oklahoma exceeded the entire production of the States of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Kansas, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New York.

The production of these States amounted to about 1,670,000 barrels for the month of March, 1933. The importation of foreign oil into this country for the same period amounted to about 3,690,000 barrels.

As to the excise tax, which Mr. Holmes dubs an import duty, voted as an emergency measure to help balance the budget, everyone who is familiar with the oil business knows that it is inadequate, ineffectual and does not stop the importation of foreign crude, which is one of the outstanding causes of the depression in the oil industry, depressing the price of American crude.

What is termed "illegal" oil in Texas is oil produced in excess of that fixed by the Railroad Commission orders, which orders and not the production, have been held illegal. Besides, this oil has been produced from American soil by American labor, and is what is known as "hot oil."

The imports from foreign countries, over which our Railroad Commission has no control whatever, amounted to about 3,690,000 barrels for the month of March, 1933; naturally the question arises as to the relative efficiency of "hot" oil produced in America as against the oil shipped in here from foreign countries by Mr. Holmes' company, and others produced by foreign labor, while Americans are obliged to keep their oil in the ground. Which is the best oil?

The surprising statement is made by Mr. Holmes that if the Texas Company had obtained all of its crude oil for nothing during the months of January and February, it would still have "failed to make an earning."

With the handicaps of having excessive overhead expenses and high carrying charges, it is evident that legitimate profits are not therefore made by producing and refining oil in competition with other producers and refiners, but that monopoly profits must be made through excessive pipeline transportation charges upon the industry, which offset the losses sustained in producing and refining in which the independent branch of the industry must compete against the transportation and almost complete retail monopoly of these major companies.

Mr. Holmes proudly states that his company has not applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for assistance. It is more than likely that such application would be entirely out of season under our new administration. Mr. Holmes states that the racketeering of this age is a disgrace to the country and will be the ruin of all legitimate industry, if it is not stopped. In this I agree heartily with him, the only difference being, as to who is racketeering—the independent business man of this country or the big investment banking interests and the monopolists in commerce.

A statement is rarely ever made by a big company official without reminding the public how dear to his heart are the resources of this country. So persistently has this propaganda been uttered, over and over again, thousands of times, until the public evidently thinks that there is some basis for the statement, but there is not. It is just plain bunk suggested for the purpose of enshrouding their nefarious designs in a mantle of virtue while planning monopoly, absolute control of the industry, price-fixing, demoralizing trade practices, unification schemes for oil fields, etc. Conservation is the false battle cry with which they hope to befuddle the minds of legislators and the public. It is a smoke screen pure and simple. The octopus, true to form, always emits inky fluid or smoke screen before attacking and strangling its victims.

The little merchant and the little oil producer considers his goods and property and his resources just as valuable to him as these great companies consider theirs, and to presume that any of these small owners would waste their product while the large owners saved theirs is, on the face of it, absurd.

Until a sweeping Federal investigation is made of the smoke screening and racketeering going on in the oil and other industries, monopolists will be the masters and the people the slaves.

JOE DANCIGER.

COLLEGE COEDS AND "SOUTHERN BREVITIES" COMING SOON

MUSIC--HUMOR DRAMA MIXED IN THIS WEEK

TAP-DANCE CHORUS IS HERALDED AS VERY POPULAR

PAMPA'S theater program of this week will be exceptional in that stage offerings of wide appeal will be presented on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Jimmie Allard, the "tall boy with the big voice," will bring his "Southern Brevities" on the first two days, and this big, popular company will appear in addition to the film program.

The Panhandle Historical museum built by citizens of the Panhandle directed by T. D. Hobart of Pampa will benefit from a stage entertainment Friday evening. The Plains Dramatics Players of Canyon, with a vaudeville performance featuring an unusually presentable girls' tap dance chorus, will be seen in "The Prince of Liars," a farce comedy.

This college program will last about 2 hours and, if it is well received here as in many other cities of this section, will be very popular. All the players are experienced. Some are ex-students and a few students of the college, and the chorus is made up of coeds from the physical education department.

The theater program on the screens follows:

BOY SLEUTH'S EXPERIENCE IS FILM SUBJECT

Mystery Melodrama One of Junior Sherlock

SHERLOCK HOLMES has a juvenile counterpart in Junior Scott, self-styled Sherlock Jr., who outwits a big-town smart-aleck crook with his small-town clever "detective-titling," providing some thrilling action in the intriguing theme of "Man Hunt." RKO-Radio Picture at the Rex theater with Junior Durkin, Charlotte Virginia Henry, and Mrs. Wallace Reid in the cast. Junior Scott is typical of a realm of American boys who aspire to track down a big criminal and have their names blazed across the nation's newspapers. He always bears a flashlight, manacles, magnifying glass, and the inevitable assistant, this time the colored comical Abraham. Junior sleuths while working plans while eating, prepares while drinking and arrests while dreaming... until he gets himself fired from the last available job in the town.

Into Junior's small town life come a jewel thief, a murderer and a girl. The girl is his sweetheart and the daughter of a jewel thief who is murdered by his accomplice who seeks the entire lot of stolen gems. With only a wig as a clue, which he purloined from the dead man's hand, Junior sets out to capture the murderer. The police scoff his assistance, but he worms his way to disentangle the entire mystery and win the girl and the $10,000 reward. Junior Durkin is a convincing young detective with Charlotte Virginia Henry in support as the girl. Others cast under Irving Cummings' direction include Mrs. Wally Reid, Richard Carle, Arthur Vinton, Edward Le Saint and Arthur Hoyt. "Man Hunt" is a J. G. Bachmann production.

MAY CONTROL DOLLAR NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—International banking circles have been giving serious consideration to the possibility that an equalization fund might have to be established soon to maintain the stability of the dollar in the foreign exchange markets of the world. Great Britain has had an equalization fund for some time. Since that country went off the gold standard, the fund has been utilized to keep the pound sterling at a relatively stable quotation.

MAY REVISE TRUST ACT WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—A measure suspending the anti-trust act insofar as it applies to railroads and creating a federal coordinator to effect economies and rehabilitate the railroad systems is expected to be sent to congress shortly by President Roosevelt.

Little Theater Play Former Convict Is Shot at Houston

HOUSTON, April 28 (AP)—One man was shot and two others were believed to have been wounded here early today, when watchmen at two business places frustrated attempted robberies. A man who gave the name of Harry Williams, 43, of Montgomery, Ala., was picked up with a wound in the neck shortly after Arthur Spalding, drug store watchman, shot at a man in the store. The wounded man admitted the name was fictitious and also declared he had served 17 years in Alabama prison for murder, being pardoned in 1931.

Ticket sales to date indicate that the play will be attended by a capacity house. Plays presented by the Little Theater, which have had a successful run on stage and screen, have been most popular here, and it is expected that "Holiday" will prove to be no exception. Critics have written that a play such as "Holiday" achieves success because of its entertaining qualities, and that it would be successful with a mediocre cast.

However, the cast of "Holiday" has already accomplished much in interpretation, rehearsals work. Never has a Little Theater cast worked so consistently and earnestly. Practice has been held nightly for three weeks. A polished production is in the offing for Tuesday night. The plot deals with the struggle between a young man and a wealthy family. Boiled down, the philosophy of the play might be said to be "money is not everything," but about half of the characters do believe that money is everything. All except Johnny Case (Ben Gull), Linda Seton (Mrs. William T. Fraser), Susan Potter (Mrs. Earl Powell), Nick Potter (Neil Bean), Ned Seton (Earl Hobson). Johnny Case has made $20,000 and he wants to take a holiday, and to take with him his fiancée, Julia Seton (Mrs. Raymond Harrab), but Julia believes a man's place should be before any figurative or literal cash register and that he should never retire or take a holiday. Her father, Edward Seton (Dick Hughes) believes just like his daughter. But Johnny wins in the last act and everything turns out all right. Tickets are on sale at Gordon store and drug stores in the city.

'KING KONG' AT LA NORA NOW IS SENSATION

GREAT APE IS BUILT TO PROPORTION OF STONE AGE

WITH a sensational admixture of the prehistoric and the modern in a story of fantastic imagination, RKO-Radio Pictures makes a bid for an all-time record with its spectacular production, "King Kong," featuring Fay Wray, Robert Armstrong and Bruce Cabot, and in the name role a great animated 50-foot ape, built to a proportion comparable with monsters of the Jurassic and Cretaceous periods.

As a production, "King Kong" was made in a half year in the making. Early in 1929 the first research inquiry was sent to leading paleontologists throughout the world. The studio had a vital interest in the appearance and habits of such primitive monsters as the pterodactyl, the brontosaurus, the tyrannosaurus and the dinosaur.

Did these formidable creatures, now extinct, hop, or fly when in fast pursuit of their prey? What, exactly, were their proportions? Active constructions of such monsters were to enact roles in the motion picture.

It took a year and a half of tremendous work to collect the data, assemble it for practical purposes and construct dozens of reptilian and other monsters in exact scale.

During that time, and before a camera crank was turned, the studio had created the largest and most varied collection of prehistoric colossal in the United States.

Man-Made Monsters. In the early part of 1932, Merian C. Cooper, world traveler, adventurer and associate producer for RKO-Radio Pictures, started filming operations with Director Ernest B. Schoedsack, his old partner on many foreign trails.

It wasn't just a case of pointing a camera at a group of people. Scores of creatures dating back into the dawn of life had to be animated in smooth motion and in relation to the normal movements of human beings opposite to whom they were to perform. The methods employed in constructing them and photographing them are known to no one outside of Cooper, Schoedsack and their scientist assistants.

In Terrific Combats. The magnitude of their year's task at the camera is clearly seen in the results. One scene shows a battle between the mammoth ape and a tyrannosaurus, largest of prehistoric reptiles. Still another is a desperate running fight between this giant ape, "King Kong," and scores of men while a white girl is held tightly clutched in the beast's paw.

The most spectacular scene of all concludes the picture. "King Kong," seeking to escape the torments of man, climbs the tallest structure in New York, and there, with the girl at his feet, wages a losing battle against a squadron of army pursuit bombing planes.

It is said that the prodigious phantasy "King Kong" makes insignificant any film heretofore produced. The picture comes to this city today to the La Nora theater.
