JURY FINDS RUTH JUDD INSANE

President And Briton Agree Currency Problem Must Be Solved

INFLATION IS DEFENDED BY SENATE DEMOS

PROGRAM EXPECTED TO BE PASSED MONDAY IN SENATE

G. O. P. ATTACKS PLAN

ECONOMIC EXPERTS AT WORK ON RELATING PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, April 22. (P)—On both international and domestic fronts President Roosevelt drove forcefully ahead today with his program for world-wide currency stabilization to hoist commodity prices and end depression.

He and his guest, Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's Prime Minister, with a host of advisors studied methods of steadying the world's monies and gradually resuming the 'old standard.'

Meanwhile, the chief executive's principal means of attaining this goal was arousing a storm of disension in congress, but was destined before many days to receive congressional approval.

This was the section of the inflationary legislation pending in the senate under which the president would be empowered to reduce the gold content of the dollar.

With this authority, Mr. Roosevelt could make agreements with other nations whereby all would reduce the gold backing of their monetary units and those out of the gold standard gradually resume it.

The hoped for result would be an upward swing in commodity prices the world over, and the elimination of the huge barrier to international trade that lies in widely fluctuating foreign exchanges.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. MacDonald were in conference for nearly two hours, surrounded by their aides and advisors. They canvassed the main problems of the coming world economic conference with especial emphasis on currency stabilization.

Then they instructed their advisors present to work through the day and tomorrow on relating the multiple problems, so the meeting of statesmen can resume Monday to agree on a course of action.

At the capitol, political lines drew more tightly in debate, with conservative republicans outspoken against advocates of the administration's inflationary plans.

Sharp words were flung in both senate and house, presaging even stiffer conflict before the votes that appear destined next week to give Mr. Roosevelt the wide authority over money that he wants.

That he and Mr. MacDonald found themselves in accord on the crucial nature of the currency question was clear tonight.

Routine consideration of the bill itself in the senate and the vast Tennessee river development project in the house was interrupted repeatedly. Senator Reed (R., Pa.) called for votes to "wake up" and rally against what he termed "this insane scheme," conceding the "controlled inflation" authority for the president probably would be enacted unless some mass move in opposition takes place.

Democratic confidence remained unshaken, however. The senate approved the two billion dollar farm mortgage refinancing section of the bill, the inflation amendment promptly was made the pending business and the senate recessed until Monday to continue the argument.

MARGINAL OIL LAW PASSED

Commission May Curb Flow Of Wells To As Little As Twenty Barrels.

AUSTIN, April 22. (P)—A bill amending the marginal well law to permit the Texas Railroad commission to limit production in that class of oil in East Texas to as little as 20 barrels daily was passed by the Texas senate today.

It already had been acted on by the house, both branches giving it the two-thirds majority vote necessary to place it into effect as soon as the governor signs the bill. It was impossible for the bill to be sent to the chief executive before Monday, the house having adjourned over the week-end. It is necessary for the bill to be signed by the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house in the presence of the respective groups.

An emergency for passage of the bill was created by a decision of the Texas attorney general that under the existing law, which fixed the margin well daily allowable production at forty barrels, it was likely the state railroad commission, administrator of conservation statutes, could not legally reduce the production of any well under the allotment fixed for marginal wells.

The senate also finally passed a bill by Senator E. J. Blackett of Victoria which confers enlarged powers on the Texas railroad commission to regulate rates of gas distributing concerns.

The vote on final passage of the Blackett bill was 15 to 6. Unless that vote is reconsidered and a two-thirds majority affirmative vote mustered for it it would not become effective until 90 days after sine die adjournment of the legislature in event it is passed by the house and signed by the governor.

CONFERENCE IN SWING

MYRTLE ALENE GREGORY, TALL BLOND, IS "MISS PAMPA" OF 1933 AFTER LOCAL CONTEST

School Girl Is Former Mineral Water Baby

A TALL, undeniably beautiful blonde with abundance of long tresses, Myrtle Alene Gregory, is the well-poised "Miss Pampa" of 1933, chosen in the finals of the beauty pageant staged by David Dallas Friday evening at La Nora theater.

Miss Gregory will go to Roswell to compete in the Western Beauty pageant August 17 and 18. She will compete for the title of "Queen of the West," which was won last year by another Pampa girl, Miss Jacouline Downs.

"Miss Pampa" is only 15 years old—won't be 16 until July 7—but she is unusually well developed and proportioned. Her measurements follow: Height 5 feet 9 inches, weight 129 pounds, neck 12 1/2 inches, bust 34 inches, waist 26 inches, hips 38 1/2 inches, calf 14 inches, ankle 8 1/2 inches. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gregory, who came here from Breckenridge. Mrs. Gregory wore the 1916 bathing garment in the La Nora revue of old time costumes.

Fond of Spinach. Miss Gregory has that famous school girl complexion, which is appropriate because she is a sophomore in Pampa high. Strangely enough, she likes spinach.

"That's right," she smiled, and her mother nodded assent. "I have always used a large proportion of fruits and vegetables in our family diet," Mrs. Gregory explained. "And milk is perhaps her favorite food—she drinks much of it every day."

Beauty honors are not new to "Miss Pampa." Her mother revealed that Alene, as she is called, is known in Mineral Wells, where she was born, as the famous "mineral water baby." Her very obvious health and clear complexion have been striking from babyhood.

Likes Mary Sports. Miss Gregory is a girl of normal interests—she likes to dance and enjoys all kinds of sports. She says the only going to school and likes English just a little more than her other studies. Drink or smoke—no bit of it, emphasized her mother. Alene is a member and regular attendant of the Church of Christ.

Soap and water are the main beauty aids of "Miss Pampa." She has used a vegetable soap exclusively, but no cleansing creams. She has a favorite face powder and brand of cosmetics. She looks forward to learning to swim well in the new Pampa municipal pool.

Much Competition. Miss Gregory won over nine other beautiful girls. Second place went to Miss Joyce Smith and third to Miss Juanita Flowers.

The revue program opened with tuncful selections by the Thrill Harmony orchestra, followed by modeling of oldtime and modern beach costumes and suits and gowns and street apparel in the current mode.

The bidding suits were from LeVine's. Miss Jacque Downs, "Queen of the West" last year, made a courtesy appearance. Miss Kathryn Vincent, instructor in dancing, presented two of her youngest pupils.

"Miss Pampa" has agreed to assist the Junior chamber of commerce in the big water carnival in connection with Frontier days and formal opening of the municipal swimming pool.

The boys lost in the first round to Miami, a team they had beaten once. The girls will represent the district at the state meet. They have lost only three of 25 debats. Miss Fannie May is debate coach.

WEST WINS ELECTION SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (P)—Representative Milton H. West of Cameron county, democrat, was elected congressman from the 15th Texas district to succeed John N. JAPS 'CANCEL' CHINESE WAR

But Bloody Battle Rages In Peiping Area; Many Slain On Both Sides.

TOKYO, April 22. (P)—The war office announced today that the Japanese offensive in North China had been halted, but shortly after the announcement was made a news dispatch from the front told of a sanguinary battle which has been going on since Friday morning south of the Great Wall.

Major-General Tadashi Kawahara attacked the Chinese southwest of Peikow, one of the Great Wall passes north of Peiping, a Rengo (Japanese) news agency dispatch said.

Friday morning the Rengo correspondent reported, the Chinese attempted to take over the positions held by General Kawahara's brigade, and today an offensive to push them back in the direction of Miyun, which is about 35 miles northeast of Peiping.

The Japanese said there were five Chinese divisions in the Miyun area and that among them were some of the regulars of Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese generalissimo.

The Japanese account admitted there were numerous Japanese casualties and said the Chinese losses were heavy. The invaders claimed some progress despite stubborn resistance.

MISS HIGGINS OF FT. WORTH IS AMONG VISITORS

WELL-ATTENDED, despite the fact that inclement weather prevented the presence of many out-of-town delegates, the conference of district 1 Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, was in full swing last night.

Delegates first were honored at a reception at the Schneider hotel, conference headquarters. At this event, planned by Lillian Jordan and Esther Clark, tea was poured by Mesdames C. T. Hunkapillar, J. M. McDonald, and Katie Vincent. Lighted with candelabra, the tea table was a spot of real beauty in its decorations of sweet peas and fern.

ENGINEER EXPECTED HERE THIS WEEK WITH ORDER TO COMMENCE BUILDING POST OFFICE AT ONCE

Work Preliminary To Construction Is Underway

PAMPA'S new federal building, which up to now has existed only on paper and in indefinite statements will soon begin to take form in steel and stone.

W. R. Walker, representative of the Stubbard Construction company of Detroit, is in Pampa and ready to start actual construction upon receiving orders from the government.

The government construction engineer is expected to arrive in Pampa this week with work orders. The company has until June 14 to begin construction but it is its idea to start immediately.

Preliminary work is well under way. Mr. Walker is interviewing local and other contractors and securing material samples which are being sent to Washington. The samples will be carefully analyzed and the material meeting government requirements will be used in the building.

VERDICT SAVES TRUNK SLAYER FROM HANGING

DEFENDANT SHOWS NO UNDERSTANDING OF PROCEEDINGS

WILL GO TO ASYLUM

MUST HANG IF SANITY IS EVER REGAINED, LAW STATES

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 22. (P)—Winnie Ruth Judd late today won her fight to escape the gallows when a jury of twelve men adjudged her insane.

She had been scheduled to be hanged for the slaying of Agnes Leroi next Friday. Under the verdict, she will be committed to an asylum for the mentally incompetent.

The jury reported its verdict at 7:25 p. m. The verdict was reached in one hour and 57 minutes of deliberation. The verdict was returned by a vote of nine to three, the minimum number of jurors allowed under the law having signed it.

The crowded courtroom broke into cheers when the clerk of Judge E. L. Green's court read the jury's finding.

Mrs. Judd was not present when the verdict was read. She was brought into the court by Warden A. G. Walker of the state prison while the cheering still was in progress.

She sat in her chair and did not indicate any understanding of what had happened, even when her husband, Dr. William C. Judd, sat down beside her, took her hand and explained that she is to go to the state hospital for insane instead of to the gallows.

Claims Briton Was Hypnotized By Soviet OGPU

LONDON, April 22. (P)—A charge that hypnotism was invoked by the OGPU, Russian secret police in examining Allan Monkhouse, one of the six British engineers whose recent trial brought about retaliation embargo proclamations by Great Britain and Russia, was made today in a dispatch from the Polish border by a correspondent for the London Daily Sketch.

Meanwhile, despite Russia's prohibition of all trade with England, the British government remained firm in its intention to launch an 80-per cent anti-Soviet embargo next Wednesday unless W. L. MacDonald and L. C. Thornton, two of the British engineers, are released from prison.

Insubordination Not Tolerated By Welfare Board

Insubordination of men being helped by the federal relief committee will result, as it did in two instances last week in elimination of offenders from the eligibility list, the committee announced yesterday.

The committee paid $1,028.65 to 252 men and 11 women yesterday.

A LOVE FEAST: Better is a dinner of herbs with love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therein.—Proverbs, 15:17.

Woman's New Place
It is pertinent, while the conference of Business & Professional women is being held here, to mention woman's new place in national affairs.

Women in business, both as employers and employes, have been accepted until comment has all but ceased. Women have tried most of the professions. Had the depression not occurred when it did, their experimentation would have been even wider.

Amelia Earhart, in addressing a group of women recently, suggested the ultimate in women's activities—actual participation in warfare. She was speaking to the Daughters of the American Revolution, who long have advocated preparedness. She told them that women, as well as men, should be willing to bear arms in defense of their country. As a woman of tested courage, she would doubtless exemplify women's usefulness in wartime.

Somehow, it is difficult to imagine, much less condone, women fighting in trenches, women mud-covered, blood-spattered, limbs missing, women gassed. Yet war is hell, future wars will likely affect noncombatants as well as those at the "front," if there is a front. Women, in considering war and the possibilities of preparing for war, of war itself, of steps to prevent war, would do well to consider it not only as something which would possibly cost them their sons and husbands, but their own lives as well. Future wars may know no sex.

Supporting Chambers.

It is rather extraordinary that Amarillo, home of the president of the West Texas chamber of commerce, should have been compelled to suspend the local chamber for lack of support. This is not hard to explain, however, inasmuch as politics has entered largely into the problem, with much talk of the large sums spent by the B. C. D. in the boom days.

We predict that Amarillo will ere long replace the chamber of commerce and, eventually, restore its tax support. To a live city, some central, guiding organization is necessary and, moreover, logically expected by the territory to which that city looks for business. A city without a working chamber is, from the standpoint of anyone seeking a favor, a good-will trip, help on a community project, totally disorganized and impotent.

The main problem is in financing. Amarillo business men who have, for several months, been supporting the chamber may well be excused from not wishing to continue paying while their competitors, profiting alike from chamber activities, pay nothing. Tax support is general, diffused as to ability to pay, with the burden relatively small. Any active citizen supporting community activities will pay more to a chamber of commerce in gifts than through taxes to a B. C. D. There are many local business, for example, whose B. C. D. taxes are not over $10 to $20 per year, but who formerly paid from $25 to $100 a year in voluntary assessments.

There is a tremendous amount of work to be done by Pampa for the "trade territory"—our neighbors—and no better means than through chambers of commerce. Pampa is fortunate in having a Junior chamber which is, with the aid of the B. C. D. office, doing very creditable work. These activities must continue.

Not Only What But How

The terms of the new farm credit bill are such as to arouse hope in the breasts of land and property owners who have faced disaster. The bill should not be so bound with red tape that its provisions will be available only to a few persons who need help least.

We have had too many examples of men developing halos when employed to administer farm loans through federal land banks. There is too much leaning over backward to give every doubt to technical provisions instead of the needs of the people intended to be benefited. The farmer, because of the fact that he is dealing with the government, often has an inferiority complex which prevents his making as forceful a showing as his condition demands. Consequently, he goes away without help and "cussing" the government; whereas, if the representative of the government would help the farmer, he would be a friend, instead of an enemy.

A farm owner who wrote to a land bank asking information about proposed legislation was told, in reply, that "while we have read the bill as shown in some of the New York papers, we cannot reply on this information as being correct." Similar indefiniteness is often exhibited by those in authority.

Another paragraph from that same reply was to the effect that the borrower should not depend upon legislation, but proceed under the old inadequate laws. Such lack of interest in the farmers' problems is all too typical; there are entirely too many federal employes wholly unfit to do the work for which they are responsible.

WHEAT GROWERS OF GRANDVIEW AND GROOM NAME NEW OFFICERS

The wheat growers of Groom and Grandview districts met at the schoolhouse and elected their board of directors for the year. After the election of officers, an outline was given them in regard to the problems to be solved and to existing members.

The signed members to date number 108; this includes the community between Boydston and Groom, which covers an area of approximately 180 square miles. There are several non-members who are becoming interested in this cooperative movement and are expected to join within a short time. The more strength the wheat growers have, the more they can accomplish in gaining a fair price for their wheat and to have better control of marketing. The leaders and directors of this movement have spent years of study and research in controlling the wheat situation of the country. Through this knowledge, they are qualified to enlighten those who are not so familiar with the work of the organization, members pointed out.

Frank Triplett of Amarillo was the principal speaker at this meeting. He gave the farmers an interesting resume of the accomplishments of the organization and also of the future aims and aspirations in further controlling the situation. Mr. Triplett urged that those who might be holding back through possible misunderstanding or lack of knowledge should listen to those who have spent years of study in this movement. He also stressed cooperation with one another and stated that only through united action can there be strength.

All stone and cement used in the building will be home state material. It may be that sand and gravel will be supplied from close to Pampa. Several samples have been sent in for testing.

Erection of the postoffice will be the first job in Texas by the Stubbard company. Mr. Walker said that it was his first trip to this section of the country.

The new postoffice will be one of the most modern and best equipped in the state. The plans were made for efficiency and beauty. Stone and terra cotta will be used.

Mr. Walker will establish an office on the location, which will be at the corner of Foster and Railroad streets. Mr. Walker was accompanied to Pampa by W. T. Smith, also of Detroit.

The White Cockatoo

by Mignon G. Eberhart

SYNOPSIS: There are half a dozen persons who might have murdered the mysterious stranger: Louischen, Madame Greth, Robert, even Marcel, the porter of the hotel in which this strange case took place. All Jim Sundean knows is that he didn't commit the murder himself—yet he has been arrested for it. Sundean also knows that he didn't much like to find Sue and a new arrival talking together just before the police arrived.

Chapter 14

A VISITOR COMES

AND I wanted first of all a lawyer; I felt rather cold as I suddenly recalled that in France there is no writ of habeas corpus. It is true that I was an American citizen, a fact clearly set forth in my passport, but this had not appeared to relieve the situation in the least.

It didn't seem at all legal that they should simply throw me into jail and keep me there, but everything I had ever heard about the remarkable freedom of the French police in such matters returned to my memory, and I began to feel a degree of anxiety which, I was to discover, was quite justifiable.

Night comes early in the winter at Armeane, and the room was quite dark, and no one had appeared to light it, and I was smoking my last cigarette and wishing I had the pompous old commissaire by the head when I heard footsteps and voices and a key turning in the lock. The cold, dark little room was flooded with light, and a visitor, a man, was ushered in to see me.

I got to my feet and was blinking in the unexpected light as he insinuated something that rattled gently into the hand of the man who had opened the door. Then my visitor turned, and I saw the man who had arrived at the hotel during the afternoon.

He said briskly: "I'm sorry to see you here, Mr. Sundean. My name is Lorn—David Lorn." He paused and then added: "Miss Tally asked me to see you."

His words were neither promising nor exactly explanatory; still, things looked suddenly better. I was not, after all, entirely without a friend.

"Sit down?" He drew up the small straight chair, and I sat down on the cot. He put his hat on the floor, opened his coat, and drew out a folded paper. While his chin was no larger than it had been in the afternoon, I'm bound to admit that the sight of his countenance was very welcome. He handed me the paper, and it was a note from Sue Tally. It was brief but nice.

She had written: "Your being thrust into jail is absurd and intolerable. This is Mr. Lorn. He knows the whole affair and thinks he can do something about it."

She had written hurriedly and, I thought, agitatedly, and her signature was a spirited S. Tally.

"Miss Tally is very good," I said. I put the note in my pocket.

He cleared his throat and looked at the floor by my feet. "She thinks you didn't do this," "She's right," I said with some heat.

"In fact," he went on rather cautiously, "after hearing her story of the whole affair, I am inclined to agree with her. At least," he continued before I could speak, "there appear to be a number of rather interesting points of which she has told me which may—mind, I only say may—prove to be evidence."

"Evidence?" "Evidence in your favor, I mean to say. However, you—er—" I thought he looked directly at me and he said unexpectedly: "It's just as well to start with a clean slate, however. I take it you really didn't murder the man."

"You're damned right, I didn't murder him. I never even saw him before."

"Never mind, never mind. I didn't think so. Sit down, Mr. Sundean, sit down." He looked at me doubtfully. "There, now, that's better, Mr. Sundean. Let's be calm about this. First, however, do you feel like—er—accepting my help?"

"Am I in a position to refuse help?" He smiled faintly. "No," he said as if I had expected a reply: "Not that you can keep your spirits up. You aren't in a very nice position, you know."

I said more graciously: "It's very good of you to offer to help. I need help. But what exactly is there to do?"

"First, Mr. Sundean, you told the police that there were five revolver shots last night while you were in the court with some person whom you did not see?" "Yes, five."

"H'mm. Then I may be right in my surmise. It's a possibility at least."

"What is a possibility?" "That the other revolver shot, the sixth—"

"But there was no sixth; there were only five."

"He fired twice at your flashlight, three times over your head. You still remained in the courtyard—"

"I couldn't get away," I said. "Exactly. Therefore it is reasonable to suppose that if the sixth shot had still remained in his revolver he would have again tried to—er—shoot you."

"I don't see," I said, "that that has anything to do with getting me out of here. The man was murdered by stabbing. Look here, perhaps you can tell me just why I'm here. What's this new evidence Louischen was so afraid he'd tell me about?"

"H'mm. Well, it's rather bad, Mr. Sundean. But still not at all convincing. There's the matter of the clock sword being from your room; they are divided in opinion at the moment regarding your seemingly frank bringing the thing to their attention. At the moment I fear the weight of opinion is that it was only a clever ruse on your part."

"How do you know that?" "I've been talking to the officer in charge. I took the liberty of telling him, Mr. Sundean, that I was your legal representative. And owing to a matter which I brought before him he was inclined to talk to me at some length."

"That's very good of you," I said warmly. "Then there's your shattered flashlight."

"But it was shot out of my hand."

"Yes, of course. But unfortunately it is so completely shattered that it is difficult to tell just what did happen to it. Pieces were found just below the landing on which there was a patch of blood from the murdered man; those pieces might be taken to mean that you simply dropped your flashlight in a struggle with him."

"But that's—why, that's no evidence."

"The police are apt to take a different view from what we expect. But there are two other things, Mr. Sundean. There's a matter of a soiled towel; a towel which bears traces of blood. They say you dried your hands on it."

"Why, of course, I washed my hands! Remember, I stumbled and went down on the body. And then when I discovered what it was I dragged him through the door and into the corridor."

"That's what you say."

"It's the truth."

"Oh, certainly, Mr. Sundean. But there's the other way of looking at it. And the conclusive thing to their mind is this: Letters were found among your things, as well as various articles of clothing and papers, that proved you have been in Russia, near and in Moscow for the last two years. Yet your arrival bulletin, on file here with the police, makes no mention at all of Moscow. In it you claim your home is in New York. Is your home New York?"

"Yes. That is, no. That is—I have no home, exactly. New York does as well as any place. And I've been on a construction job in Russia. I'm an engineer."

"So Miss Tally told me," he said. He was at last looking directly at me, but I could not measure the look in his dull deep-set eyes. He added expressionlessly: "Perhaps I'd better tell you that I cannot possibly help you unless you give me your confidence."

"Hang it, man, I am telling the truth. I've told the truth all along. There was no reason not to. I've been in Moscow, certainly, but what of it? Many people have been in Moscow; the city's full of people."

"Well, you see," said Lorn slowly. "The murdered man—they have reason to think that he's a Russian, too."

Spring-Like Party Given by Mrs. Keys

Pansies, tulips, and lilacs brightened the home of Mrs. H. D. Keys when members of the Queen of Clubs and several guests were entertained Thursday afternoon.

Bridge games were played, with Mrs. L. N. McCullough scoring high among members and Mrs. Ralph Wertz, high among guests. Mrs. Carl S. Boston made the fortunate cut.

At the close of the games, attractive refreshment plates were passed to Mesdames Carl S. Boston, O. H. Booth, E. M. Conley, Charles C. Cook, A. B. Goldston, I. E. Hughey, J. H. Kelley, A. M. Martin, L. N. McCullough, and the following special guests: Mesdames Raymond W. Harrah, George Lime- rick, H. C. Charles, E. C. Will, C. T. Hunkapillar, William M. Craven, and Ralph Wertz.

Miss Mary Sneed Honors Her Club

Tulips adorned the entertaining rooms when Miss Mary Sneed was hostess to the Linger Longer club Thursday afternoon.

Tables were covered with pink for playing and cards, tables, and score pads were in pink and lavender. Candles in these colors were served during the games, after which individual angel food cakes iced in lavender with sweet pea designs were served with pineapple parfait and iced punch. MISS SINGLETARY AND MR. JOHNS WED ON SATURDAY

CEREMONY IS LOVELY EVENT IN HOME HERE

REV. C. A. LONG READS SERVICE BEFORE FEW FRIENDS

AN attractive setting of wedding bells, baskets of gladioli, ferns, and lilies of the valley, Miss Wilma Singletary and Willard Johns were married Saturday morning before a floral archway in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry New, 712 North Frost.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. A. Long, minister of the First Methodist church. Mrs. Forrest P. McSkimming played the piano prelude, then, as the bridal party entered, changed to Lohengrin's song from Tannhauser (Wagner). The minister, George Waldad, Jr., as best man, and the bridegroom entered from the dining room as the bride, attended by Mrs. W. O. Christian, came from a hallway. "I Love You Truly" was played during the ceremony.

The bride wore a blue and white ensemble and carried white accessories. Her hat was of the turban type, with a white veil used in connection. She wore a corsage of pink rose buds and an orchid, and carried a prayer book from which were long streamers of ribbon holding shasta daisies and lilies. The groom was attired in a dark suit with a rose bud for a boutonniere. Mrs. Christian wore a corsage of sweet peas and pink rose buds. Mrs. McSkimming and Mrs. Harry New wore similar corsages.

The house was decorated with ether flowers. There was a bouquet of roses in the dining room, and a tall basket with another huge bouquet was before the fire place. On the piano rested candelabra with live tapers, which were lighted just before the prelude. The dining table was covered with lace cloth.

After the wedding, an informal reception was held. Open-faced chicken sandwiches with angel food cake and coffee were served in buffet style in the dining room, while the bride cut and served cake and Mrs. New poured the coffee from a silver service. Guests, other than members of the bridal party, were Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hicks, W. O. Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Roberts, Forrest McSkimming, Miss Lillian Leathers, Miss Ola Nellis, and Dr. W. B. Wild.

For the week-end wedding trip, the bride wore a going-away suit and corsage. The couple will return some time today. Mrs. Johns will continue as Dr. Wild's office assistant, and with Mr. Johns will live at No. 2, Wild apartments.

She is a graduate of Standifer hospital at Elk City. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Singletary, live at Clovis. Mr. Johns is a graduate of Pampa high school and a former student of the University of Texas, where he studied engineering for three years.

PAMPA PLACES THIRD IN DISTRICT TRACK-FIELD MEET

Rifle Club Will Hold Shoot Today

Shooting will be at 300 yards on the Pampa Rifle club range east of the city, starting at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The range has been placed in excellent condition and members and visitors are invited to be present.

The indoor range in the basement of the Brunow building has been closed for the summer. Future shoots will be on the outdoor range.

Mrs. E. L. Bowden and daughter, June, arrived home last night after visiting with relatives in Bellevue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cross and family left today for Arkansas where they will make their home.

Charlie Duenkel made a business trip to Canadian.

Albert Dixon of LeFors was in the city last night.

CLARENDON IN FIRST PLACE; SANDIES NEXT

LEFORS YOUTH TAKES SECOND HONORS IN SCORING

CANYON, April 22. (P)—Clarendon high school today won the district interscholastic league track and field title by scoring 30.2 points. Amarillo was in second place with 27.7 points and Pampa followed with 21.2. Seventeen teams in the district were entered.

Reavis of Clarendon was high scorer with 15 points. Stewart, LeFors' one-man team, scored 13 points.

Fox of Garrison captured the rural pentathlon with 32 points.

The outstanding feature of the district 1 track and field meet in Canyon yesterday afternoon was not the Clarendon Broncho victory or the fact that Reavis of Clarendon was high point man, but Heber Stewart, LeFors' one-man track and field team. The LeFors flash won two first places and a second place to score 13 points and place LeFors fourth in the district, only a few points behind the Pampa Harvesters with a third.

A cold wind blowing across the field caused the distance races to go to the huck; entries and as a result Jack Boyington, Pampa miler, failed to place in the mile and Orville Heiskell had to be satisfied with a fourth in the half-mile. The track was slow.

The Harvesters failed to register a first place but took four second places. Emmitt Lane was in front of the Pampa team by registering for six points. Lane took second in the 100-yard dash, finishing inches behind Heber Stewart of LeFors who made the distance in 10 seconds flat. It was the best time made in the meet. Lane took third in the 200-yard dash, again losing to Stewart of LeFors by inches as he took second place in 21.9 seconds. The Pampa boy took fourth place in the district.

Hoot Fullingim ran a nice race to place third in the low hurdles. Heiskell was fourth in the half-mile. The Pampa relay team took a fourth place. Amarillo won the event under protest.

The Harvesters had better success in the field events. Robert Woodward took second in the pole vault and could have had an easy first place had he not broken his pole.

KID GRANITE TO BOX 'WHIT'

Pampa's Favorite Will Make Last Appearance Here Against 'The Great Kid'

There will be nine main-event boys on the All Star boxing card at the Pla-Mor auditorium Wednesday night. It will also be the last chance for Pampa fans to see Allen Whitlow, Indianapolis lightweight flash, in action. Whitlow leaves this week for Phoenix, Ariz., where he has two matches. From there he will go to Indianapolis for several bouts.

The 10-round main event will see Whitlow boxing Young Kid Granite of Dallas in his farewell appearance. Promoter Andy Andrews had considerable trouble getting Granite to come to Pampa for the big match. The six round semi-final will bring Kayo Kitchens, local boy, into the ring with the great Gyp Zarro of Dallas.

Granite and Zarro have been fighting main events in Dallas, Fort Worth, St. Louis, and other cities. They are top notch boys and they will be meeting fighters of their own caliber when they crawl into the ring here.

Two other four-round bouts will meet in the feature four-round event when Old Kid Granite of Hobart, Okla., meets Lonnie Riegion, champion of Texas Tech. Granite's sparring partner, Joy Christians, will meet Red McGinty of Borger in another four-round feature.

Two other four-round bouts have been scheduled with Sammy Squires, local boy, meeting Kid Stamper of Macon, Ga., in a return engagement and Bill Forbes of Borger and Lewis Smiles of Stinnett going in the other one. They are just little fellows but sling a lot of leather.

Popular prices will prevail.

PIRATES BEAT CINCINNATI IN NINTH 6 TO 5

YANKS TAKE PITCHING DUEL FROM RED SOX IN 2 TO 1 GAME

PITTSBURGH, April 22. (P)—Cracking out a whistling liner in the ninth with the bases full, Tony Ficht gave the Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds today.

Louis Ruchael, 55, a fan, fell dead in the stands during the seventh inning.

Jim Bottomley's homer in the first with Morissey on base, gave the Reds a two-run lead at the outset. Pittsburgh hammered Rixey off the mound in the seventh, scoring two runs, but the invaders again took the lead in the next inning and were not headed until Piet's blow broke up the game.

DETROIT, April 22. (P)—Fred Marberry, now of the Detroit Tigers, whose forte has always been that a relief hurler, went the full route today to defeat St. Louis, 5-1. Marberry took the opening game of the three-game series by holding the Browns to six hits.

NEW YORK, April 22. (P)—The Boston Braves pounded a quartet of Giant pitchers for 16 hits today and took a "comedy" ball game, 7-3. Boston scored five runs in the third inning, clouting Ray Starr and Adolfo Luque for five safeties and having three New York errors tossed in.

BOSTON, April 22. (P)—Earl Combs slashed a triple against the right center field wall in the eighth inning and broke up a neat pitching duel to give the Yankees a 2-1 victory over the Red Sox, their seventh in succession. BROOKLYN, April 22. (P)—The Phillies couldn't hit Owen Carroll when his meat runs today and Brooklyn's Dodgers came through with a 6-2 victory to even their two-game series. Carroll yielded 9 hits and 4 walks, but was so steady with men on the sacks that the Phils earned only one run.

ST. LOUIS, April 22. (P)—Tex Carlton, the slender young right-hander from Texas, pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their second successive shutout victory over the Chicago Cubs today, beating Charley Root, the veteran right-hander, in a brilliant mound duel, 2-0.

PANTHERS WIN 8 TO 1 GAME FROM DALLAS

HOMER HELPS OILERS TAKE 3-0 TILT FROM INDIANS

DALLAS, April 22. (P)—The Fort Panthers won their first game of the season from the Dallas Steers today 8-1. In a previous series, the Steers won three straight.

For six innings today it was a tight mound battle between White of the Cats and Glatto of the Steers with a 1-1 deadlock, but in their half of the 7th, the Cats broke loose with a flock of hits and aided by errors, scored 3 runs to take a 4-1 lead that Dallas could not overtake.

It was the third straight defeat for the Steers, they having dropped a doubleheader yesterday at Dallas. White let them down with 6 hits while his mates pounded Glatto and Fuhr for 9 timely wallops.

TULSA, April 22. (P)—Johnny Baker's home run, the first of the season at the local park, started the Tulsa Oilers toward a 3-0 victory over the Oklahoma City Indians in the first of a two-game series here this afternoon.

Andy Bednar allowed the Indians only five hits, and air tight support gave him a shut out victory.

of Tire Values

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

RACE DRIVERS know tires. It is their business to know tires—it means life or death to them. These men know that a tire that holds all world's records on road and track must be a masterpiece of tire construction. They know it must have superior materials, must be scientifically designed, and must be made by master tire builders. That is why Firestone High Speed Tires are First Choice of race drivers and have been on the winning cars for 13 consecutive years in the 500-mile Indianapolis race—the most gruelling test for any tire.

Road speeds of today are the racing speeds of yesterday. Yet millions of motorists gamble with their lives by using inferior and thin, worn tires on their cars. Guard the safety of yourself and your family with the strongest, safest non-skid tires—made by master tire builders. Have your car completely equipped with a set of these Extra Value tires with the patented construction features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Tread, at prices you may never be able to duplicate. Your dealer will give you a liberal allowance for your old tires. Remember—Your Brakes Can Stop Your Wheels But Your Tires Must Stop Your Car!

INCREASED TIRE MILEAGE with the New Firestone SEALTYTE Leakproof TUBE

The inside of the tube is coated with a special compound which seals against air loss. Constant air pressure is maintained, which increases tire mileage and safety. The tube has a tapered rubber valve which seals the rim valve hole, keeping out moisture and dirt. The rubber valve base is an integral part of the valve stem, built and vulcanized into the tube.

MOTORISTS! Save money NOW! Firestone quality is higher than ever—prices are lower than ever. These tire "war" prices cannot last—equip your car at once and get these great values before prices go up!

There is no reduction in the quality of Firestone Tires. Tremendous savings are made possible by the fact that Firestone owns and controls every step in the building of Firestone Tires and distributes direct to dealers from factories and warehouses—a one-profit, low-expense system.

Firestone Tires are not made by cheap labor—to sell at a price. Every tire is built with the patented Firestone features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under a Scientifically Designed Safety Tread—to give you Added Safety and Longer Mileage. Only Firestone Has These Extra Values—THEY COST YOU NO MORE.

Take advantage of these great savings—you may never again have such an opportunity. Buy Firestone Tires with the confidence that they are built up to a quality—not down to a price.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION SOON WILL BRING MARIONETTE SHOW FOR EVENING

CINDERELLA AT HEAD OF UNIQUE BILL BY COMPANY

"CINDERELLA" with a cast of marionettes, headed by portrait marionette of the lovely Ann Harding as the heroine, will be presented by the Monro Hollywood Marionettes in the auditorium of the city hall on Wednesday under the auspices of the high school Parent-Teacher association. A matinee will take place at 2 o'clock and the evening performance at 8:15.

This lovely and loved fairy tale will be presented in a colorful Spanish setting. Marie Dressler, represented by a portrait marionette, acts the role of the step-mother, and Don Jose Morice's marionette enacts the role of Prince Charming with great romantic appeal.

For the evening show, a whimsical and amusing story of the Forty-Niner days and a lost gold mine, "The Lost Adams' Digging" will be presented by the marionettes. The company carries a cast of very beautiful marionettes, many of them portraits of noted movie stars, modeled by Marco Aurur sculptor, who is the director of the company. And what these little figures can do! and the amusing and delightful illusions that they can create upon their own little stage, a veritable theater in miniature, can hardly be described.

Marionettes have the ability to intrigue adults, especially men, who are fascinated by the mechanics and technique of their manipulation. For children, the little figures become living people right out of the fairy land of their fairy tale books.

The average marionette is controlled by nine strings, although especially tricky marionettes may have an additional number of strings, depending upon the particular action that is required of them. The company carries its own complete stage, lighting effects, amplifiers and music reproducers, so that everyone in every part of the auditorium can hear distinctly.
