PRICE FIVE CENTS

DEMOCRATS UNITE ON INFLATION

TWINKLES
Future Farmers are fortunate—they can be future farmers—not present-day ones.

Beer is said to be getting plentiful, but it must be working quietly. Some say the other day that golfer addicts should be arrested for driving (off the tee) while intoxicated.

Too much inflation would be bad. Oldtime women liked to carry money in their cloths, but modern ones don't have the number of pocketcoats that formerly were worn.

It's raining, just like we said it would in the last of April. Maybe it hasn't rained right in town, but give me time, folks. My statistical averages are better than rheumatism and instincts of animals.

We devote the rest of this column to contemporary row over sandstorms. Read about it below.

PORTENDS TROUBLE

Herbert Hilburn in the Plainview News: An amber dawn, such as Plains citizen witnessed this morning, portends trouble. Almost invariably when the spring wind is high and the sand is moving overhead, somewhere the elements are rough, somewhere there is disaster or wind and rain cause devastation.

The Herald editor makes no claim for brilliancy, astuteness or ability as a prophet. The only real evidence he can present to prove that he has ever exercised common sense is that while many other West Texas newspapers were engaged in a springtime vitriolic word barrage against that lady of letters who wrote "Wind," he awaited the more moderate fall season. Springtime effusions against those who talk about West Texas sandstorms are highly unseasonable.

On the desk this morning is the amber-toned picture, a charcoal drawing by E. M. Schiweitz, "Sand Storm," which graces the cover of the April issue of "West Texas Today." When Max Bentley asked The Aco Press for permission to use this picture he did West Texas a favor. The picture is wonderfully true to conditions.

Saturday night when the picture was first scanned and later studied under lamp light it appeared of too amber a hue. It was conceded then that the tone might be about right for the red-soled country around Abilene and Sweetwater, but too rosy for the upper plains. This morning the color was perfect, as compared with a real sandstorm, miles high and no one knows how many hundred miles in length, or breadth.

It is no more popular to talk in public about sandstorms in California. But today it is certainly realistic.

(What do you mean—wonderfully true to conditions? Are you going to forget last January, which was spring to golfers and outdoor men? ... At any rate, we are going to turn you over to Brother Estlack of Clarendon. After him, J. C.)

"ANOTHER BONEHEAD"
J. C. Estlack in Donley County Leader: One the front cover of a recent issue of West Texas Today, the publicity organ magazine of the West Texas chamber of commerce, there was pictured a sandstorm scene on a farm. Just why the idea of reminding folks of what they already knew?

On the other hand, this magazine is supposed to circulate back east in a few places. Why hand West Texas a package by insulting the prospective immigrant with a picture that is seldom actually seen in our section.

BUSINESS GAINS GROW EVIDENT AS PRICES KEEP SOARING

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Financial markets rolled up further gains today, carrying such staples as wheat and cotton, and scores of stocks, to new highs for the year or longer.

The stock market ran up about $1 to $3 for many issues in heavy buying during the first hour. It lost roughly half its gain in a wave of profit-taking later, but trading slackened on the recession.

Wheat gained more than a cent a bushel at Chicago, and cotton more than $1 a bale at New York. A wide assortment of commodities advanced. Silver futures again gained up nearly 3 cents an ounce. Crude rubber futures jumped about 1/2 cent a pound. Raw hide futures gained approximately 1-5 of a cent a pound.

Corn, hogs, cocoa, coffee, silk, and others were among raw products participating in the upward movement. Wool top futures, however, fell back a little in profit-taking.

The bond market in the New York stock exchange, in which gilt edged issues were at first adversely affected by the first inflationary flare last week, was generally strong today, with the U. S. government issues registering substantial advances.

While inflation was still apparent, the chief generator of buying power, distinct signs of business gains fanned the speculative flames. "Steel," in its weekly review, said ingot production this week was scheduled to reach 27 per cent of capacity against 20 per cent a fortnight ago, the sharpest advance experienced since the depression started.

The dollar declined in relation to the pound sterling and the French franc in the early dealings here, but they failed to reach their peak levels of last week, in terms of dollars.

NEARLY 3,000 CHINESE DIE IN FIGHT, SAYS COMMANDER

TIENTSIN, China, April 24 (AP)—Apparently authentic Chinese reports said the launching of a Chinese counter-offensive on the upper Lwan river today was the answer to a Japanese proposal that Manchukuan troops be permitted to occupy the cities of Peiping and Tientsin peacefully.

Two towns, Chienan and Lungung, were reported recaptured from the Japanese while heavy fighting continued south of Kupeikow, the Great Wall pass 65 miles northeast of Peiping. The Chinese military command asserted 200 Japanese were killed there since Friday and admitted their own losses were heavy. Japanese reinforcements were reported thrown into the battle last night.

Chinese enthusiasts assert that the Nanking nationalist government and the northern Chinese leaders, have restored a united front against the Japanese and Manchukuan.

TOKYO, April 24 (AP)—Japanese reports estimated nearly 3,000 Chinese were killed in four days of a major battle south of Kupeikow in the great wall of China. The Japanese lines were reported pushed today within 50 miles of Peiping.

BLONDE WHO FLED WITH PASTOR IS NEAR BORGER; WHEREABOUTS OF HER LOVER ARE NOT KNOWN

Girl at Sanford Says She and Minister Soon Parted

AMARILLO, April 24 (AP)—Claude Akers, uncle of Ezia (Pat) Holdridge, said today in a telephone conversation that Miss Holdridge last saw the Rev. Sharon C. Inman, with whom she left Missouri two weeks ago, when they parted in Amarillo on April 15.

He said Miss Holdridge had not communicated with Inman, and did not know his whereabouts.

The minister, former pastor of the Cave Springs, Mo., Presbyterian church, said he was "going west," Akers said. He said Miss Holdridge would spend the summer at his home in Sanford, or with her father, the Rev. Andrew A. Holdridge at Hoyt, Okla.

Inman was scheduled to appear for trial before a church court at Springfield, Mo., today on charges of "gross immorality and conduct unbecoming a minister" as a result of his elopement with the blonde Miss Holdridge. Mrs. Inman, who hauled her husband and the girl in her motor car to the edge of Springfield and set them adrift on their hitch-hiking journey, has since announced that she will file suit for divorce and custody of her two children, Lowell, 12, and Danice, 6.

FLETCHER TO 'STAY BEHIND' THE PRESIDENT

WOULD TRANSFER 200 BILLION TO THE DEBTOR CLASS

THOMAS DEFENDS PLAN

GREATEST ISSUE, SAVE WAR, IN HISTORY, SAYS THOMAS

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Described as capable of transferring $200,000,000 from the creditor to the debtor class, the administration's inflation program started on its way through congress today, certain to encounter searing criticism en route.

Senator Thomas (D., Okla.), who introduced the measure, opened debate. Administration leaders expect to have the plan approved by Wednesday night. As the talking began, Chairman Fletcher of the banking committee announced he would stay by the president despite his previous opposition to the provision to lower the gold content of the dollar.

The committee text disclosed two changes had been made in the original proposal to provide a further check against "undue credit expansion" and exempting reserve bank reserve deficiencies from the graduated tax in the present law. The latter provision is a liberalization of the $3,000,000,000 credit expansion section.

Thomas told the senate that bank deposits had shrunk from $60,000,000,000 in 1930 to $30,000,000,000 today, and unless the pending proposal can take $200,000,000,000 of wealth from those who did not earn it and transfer it to those who have lost it—the debtor class—substantial justice will not have been done.

Thomas said it was the "most important" proposition ever to come before a parliament of any nation in the world.

"Save the single issue of the world war," he added, "there has not been an issue joined in 6,000 years of world history as important as this issue here today."

After outlining the four points of the proposal giving the president broad power to order a controlled inflation of credit and currency, Thomas said, if passed, the proposal involved the possible transfer of funds from those owning bank deposits, and second, those owning bonds and having fixed investments.

"They did not earn it," he said referring to the bondholders. "They did not buy it. But they have it and because they have it the masses of people of this republic are on the verge of starvation, 17,000,000 of them. We must transfer that $200,000,000,000 to those on the farms and those owning real estate and those who owe the vast debts of this nation."

Meanwhile, Rep. Fayman (D., Tex.) an advocate of currency inflation and cash payment of the bonus, sent a statement to the American Legion and other veterans' organizations endorsing President Roosevelt's currency expansion program.

Editor, The NEWS:

Life insurance is the only sure means of carrying out the obligations contracted in life. Life insurance is creating an estate, a legacy, that enables you to "carry on" after death.

The underlying principles of life insurance have been exemplified in the endeavors of man, since time began. It might be said that Adam and Eve had the first policy, but it was a joint policy, and it was the first to lapse.

Life insurance is it offered to-day by the old line legal reserve companies, is the most scientific financial venture in the world. It is investment without the element of risk, it protects without the worry, and it is good judgment for the buyer.

"UNION SQUARE" by Albert Halper, selection of the Literary Guild as book of the month; is an interesting tale with intricate plotting pertaining to the lives of those who know Union Square as a meeting place.

The story has a sociological background with communism as the outstanding topic. Human emotions in a maze of tangled relations form the "nature in the raw" element.

Leon Fisher, "photo-retoucher" by day, an artist at night, and a member of the Communist Party of America at all times, is the easy-going, peace-loving Boy Scout with two overwhelming ambitions: forward the cause of the Reds, and save his best friend, Jason Wheeler, from drink, dope, and the capitalist.

Humor is supplied by a pseudo-Russian couple, tenants in the Glen Cove apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Drollinger, (Vanya and Natasha) each other who tire of the soviet mode of living about the 8th chapter but are forced to continue such an existence because of their great supply of Russian whatnots and their financial inability to buy second-hand American household furniture.

One reads page after page in a vain search for "they lived happily ever after," but suicides, burning tenements, unemployment bring the novel to the ever reliable "Life must go on" finish.

Good shot: "Like a gray wolf, Christian 'Bunk' from town, running frantically down the streets, keeping close to buildings."

"SAMPLE—DELIGHTFUL STATE FAIR—Phil Strong—Literary Guild: Scidmore does a novel delight and refresh so intoxicatingly as does this simple story of which the title is more or less self-explanatory.

Abel Fraker, industrious and wealthy farmer, looks forward eagerly in the anticipation that his boar, Blue Boy, will take the sweepstakes at the fair.

Melissa, his wife, has pickles to enter, and the children, Wayne and Margie, long for fair week as an exciting and pleasant diversion from the hum-drum yet entrancing routine of farm life—seven days of fun-making in De Moines.

The interest of the story hinges largely upon the stock-show manager's daughter, and Pat, the reporter. Wayne and Margie encounter during the fair and the peculiar phenomenon that both experience love-at-first-sight sensations.

No Profits Are Made on Poppies

Steps to protect the public against memorial poppies sold for private profit were being taken today by the poppy committee of the Pampa unit of the American Legion auxiliary, as it completed final plans for the observation of Poppy Day, Saturday, May 27.

To further protect the public, the official American Legion and auxiliary poppies will bear small white labels carrying the names and copyrighted emblems of the two organizations on one side and the words, "veteran made poppy" on the other, explained the chairman of the auxiliary committee.

"Poppies of doubtful origin may be offered on the streets by individuals working for their own profit or by organizations with paid saleswomen," the local unit warned. "That anyone should make private profit from the memorial poppies is contrary to the whole spirit of Poppy Day. The Auxiliary's poppies will be sold only by unpaid volunteers. We hope the people of Pampa will not support efforts to commercialize the flower of our war dead, but will secure their poppies from the official American Legion and Auxiliary workers."

Mrs. H. D. Jones underwent an operation at Pampa hospital Friday night. Her condition last night was satisfactory.

THE SWIFTS are well named, as is shown by a test made in India by E. C. Stuart Baker. His observations, made with the aid of a stop-watch, timed the speed of these birds at something between 171 and 200 miles per hour. The swift's nearest relative is the humming bird, and not the swallow, with which it is often confused.

Billiard Champs To Play For Title Fifty Years Old CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—Willie Hoppe of New York, world 18.1 ball-line champion, and young Jake Schaefer of San Francisco, holder of the 18.2 title, tonight will open their series for the cushion carom billiard crown, which has not been fought over for 50 years.

The series, at 1,500 points in six blocks of 250 points each, will be in the nature of a revival of cushion caroms, a combination of balkline, three cushions and straight rail. Maurice Daly won the last title tournament in 1883.

BEYOND THE HORIZON

There is abroad in the land these days a peculiar kind of excitement. It is an excitement that arises from expectation more than from actual accomplishment. Many things have been done in Washington recently, but even more remains to be done.

Unemployment, low commodity prices, frozen bank assets—these things are still to be remedied, and the job of setting them right is going to be one of almost incalculable difficulty.

Nevertheless, a start has been made, and there is a hopeful expectancy in the air. Perhaps the most important thing that has happened in the last month is the fact that America once more is picking up its old faith in the future.

And it is precisely that fact which puts on the administration and on congress the heaviest responsibility any American government could be asked to face.

There is a faith that can move mountains, and it is a faith that operates in the lives of nations as well as individuals. During the disasters of the last few years we lost that faith. Now we are regaining it; and the main job of the people at Washington is to see that, having regained it, we are henceforth able to keep it. We cannot stand one more disillusionment.

The faith itself is as old as the nation. It crossed the ocean in the holds of a thousand immigrant ships; it struggled over the mountains, filled up the plains, felled forests and settled wilderness; it made the very name, America, shine like a good beacon before the eyes of the people of the world.

Define it? It is that deep and unspoken confidence that in this land we are hitting upon a new way of ordering human society—a way which is to mean a better life for the ordinary man and woman, so that all people may have a chance for freedom, happiness and plenty. That faith is our most valuable possession; if we ever really lose it so that we cannot get it back, we shall have lost everything.

The undercurrent of excitement today signifies a rebirth of that faith. We are looking beyond the horizon again and seeing great things. Once more we are willing to believe that America shall yet live up to the dreams that brought it to birth.

One way out of the depression would be to hire the fellow who gets up the seed catalogues to make out the corporation reports.

Stibbard Firm To Fix Wages For Laborers

The scale of wages to be paid for work on the new federal building will be set by representatives of the Stibbard Construction company of Detroit and the construction engineer from Washington and not by the Pampa Welfare board or any other Pampa organization, Alex Schneider, chairman of the Pampa Welfare board, pointed out this morning.

Several unemployed local men are of the opinion that local organizations will have something to do with the setting of the scale but they are misinformed. Representatives of the construction company said this morning that the highest scale of wages possible would be paid.

Construction work is expected to start soon. The engineer from Washington is expected in Pampa this week. The construction company representative has been in the city for several days.

Chapter 15
MR. LORN'S THEORY

WELL, two people can be in the same country without harm, can't they?"

"Why, don't you see, my friend, that there's an obvious connection? A connection, at least, in the eye of the police. And you can't blame them much; they've had some trouble with Communistic feuds lately."

"Oh, good God! It's— I was futile and raging at my futility. 'Of all the damned, dumb, asinine—why, it's preposterous! It's stark raving crazy! It's—'"

"No doubt," he said, watching me. "But that's what they think."

"You say you think there is something you can do? What is it?"

"I don't know how it's going to come out. Don't expect too much. But I suggested that they hold a post-mortem."

"What do you mean?"

"I'm not sure I mean anything; I'm pinning my faith to the sixth bullet. Why wasn't it fired at you? Had it already been fired?"

"You mean—you think the fellow was killed by stabbing? That he was shot?"

"Perhaps."

"But that's—why, that's out of the question, Lorn! The doctor and the police would see that at once. There'd be no possible way of hiding it."

"Only one. I've looked at the dagger. It's barely possible that it made a jagged wound. One that might conceal—"

"A bullet hole?" My private opinion was that the man was mad. His intentions might be good, but he was undoubtedly poor-witted. "Do you mean to say that it is possible that the murderer first shot the man through the heart and then—that's preposterous!"

"And then inserted the dagger exactly through the bullet hole. You look incredulous, Mr. Sundeen. But we may be dealing with an exceptional criminal. One never knows. The murderer may be one who calculates every chance; one of his advantages would be the fact that he is not in a city. Also all papers of identification were removed from the dead man. Thus, naturally, the pressure of effort to discover the murderer is not as great as it would be if the murdered man were known to be, for instance, a person of importance."

"It's great enough," I said bitterly. "Do you mean that the removal of his passport and papers and all would indicate that he was an important person?"

"That would be impossible to say."

"Are you a lawyer?"

"No," he said flatly, and then continued briefly; "I arrived this afternoon, early. Miss Tally told me of the murder and of the attempt to abduct her last night. She urged me to come to see you and insisted that I put forth every energy to assist you. Otherwise, I should not have thrust myself upon you in this manner."

"It's very good of you," I murmured, rather taken aback by his staidness. "Very good, indeed."

He looked at his watch and picked up his hat and rose.

"The doctor should have arrived by this time, and I think I can manage to see something of the post-mortem. I shall return as soon as I discover the result."

I said some kind of thanks; the man in the corridor outside left Lorn out and locked the door again but left the light on.

ish a situation to endure for long. I hadn't murdered the man, and it was ridiculous to be cooped up in a French jail for something I hadn't done, and it couldn't last long.

And all the time I was arguing thus to myself the words "circumstantial evidence" were repeating themselves coldly in the back of my mind. And I wanted to be out of jail.

In an hour or so the warder brought me a tray with a very sparse meal on it. I was still looking at the stuff and thinking that if I didn't manage to eat it I should be very hungry indeed by morning when there were sudden and many footsteps in the corridor.

The first man through the door was the commissaire of the previous night; he was sitting and not at all pompous and looked, in fact, rather like an outraged billy-goat. After him was Lorn, looking, I thought, a little surprised, but that was all. And after him, the young officer of the night before and several others, all highly excited.

The commissaire, his mustaches and imperial quivering, talked to me for a long time in French, speaking very rapidly. He finally paused with a question, and was suddenly purple and baffled when it became apparent that I hadn't understood a word and his efforts had been wasted.

Lorn stepped quietly into the breach.

"He says they are releasing you for the time being, but that you must remain at hand," he said. "At least, that's the gist of what he said. I'll explain later. At present you'd better leave."

I TOOK a long breath. I believe I picked up my hat. Then I turned to the commissaire.

"See here," I said earnestly. "You were entirely wrong to arrest me. I didn't murder the man. I had nothing at all to do with it. I never saw him before. I am an American citizen traveling through your city. This is preposterous. You are crazy. You've arrested an innocent man and you'll suffer for it." I had started calmly enough but was growing enraged all over again as I proceeded with the injustice that had been done me. "You are a pompous old ass of a billy-goat anyhow, and—"

"Monsieur, monsieur!" The young officer who understood English was shaking my arm. He looked pink and friendly. "You must stop, monsieur. There is danger he will comprehend a word or two."

"Oh, my God!" I said, disgusted.

"How do you say what I want to say in French?"

"Monsieur is not out of danger. He must take care. I will tell for him that he wishes to thank Monsieur le commissaire for his kindness."

"You tell Monsieur le commissaire for me he can go to—" Lorn cleared his throat warningly, and I stopped.

The commissaire shot out several sharp and suspicious questions just then, and I don't know what the young officer said. He did not, however, interpret literally for me, for the commissaire became gradually calmer and soothed and was actually smiling a little when the young officer concluded.

At any rate, I was free. Fifteen minutes later Lorn and I were walking along the dark narrow streets toward the old hotel, bending against the furious wind which hurried any few words out of our mouths and prohibited my eager inquiries.

At the entrance to the courtyard he paused and drew me into a corner that was a little out of the wind.

"It is as well," he said in my ear, "for us not to be seen together. It is not wise at the moment. Will you precede me into the hotel?"

"But I want to see you at once. Why did they let me out? Were you right? There are things—to be done."

"Yes and no; it's a longish story. I'll come to your room tonight," he said. "Go on, I'll come later."

He turned away to let me enter the hotel ahead of him, but I seized his arm.

"Wait," I said. "What do you mean 'yes and no'?"

I was obliged to shriek against a furious gust of wind, and he looked at me in sharp disapproval.

"Wind is tricky," he said. "We may be overheard."

"I don't care who hears. What killed him?"

He jerked his arm away.

"He was poisoned," he said. "If I am to help you, Mr. Sundeen, you must let me do it my own way. I shall come to your room after I've had dinner. We can talk then. Not here. He vanished into the darkness."

BETTER HOMES WEEK PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED BY DR. R. L. WILBUR

NEW YORK, April 24.—National Better Homes Week this year will be observed from April 23 to 30 in every one of our 48 states and by more than 8,000 communities, according to Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university, who succeeded Herbert Hoover as president of Better Homes in America.

VISITOR

MISS CORA ASTLE, Amarillo, chairman of research for district 1, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, was among prominent visitors in Pampa Sunday.

"There has never been a time," Dr. Wilbur continues, "in which home improvements were more needed and more desirable. All American citizens, young and old, can help by keeping up their own premises and by making such repairs or improvements in their homes as are possible through their own labor in their free time."

"In thousands of communities local Better Homes in America committees will hold contests for home improvement and tours will be conducted to homes which have been winners in such contests or will offer the best examples of gardening, landscaping, planning, design, or special improvement. Many communities plan also to open for public demonstration throughout Better Homes Week houses that have been recently remodeled."

"All persons are urged to cooperate in this important civic endeavor by taking advantage of the lectures, contests and demonstrations arranged by the 8,000 local Better Homes committees. For by such cooperation it will be possible to make more rapid strides toward the goal—that every home should be rendered sanitary, safe, convenient, comfortable, attractive and a wholesome environment for the rearing of a new generation of citizens."

'Prudent Inflation' Ahead Robison Tells Associated Press

NECESSARY TO EXPERIMENT IN FIXING COURSE

CORRECT INFORMATION DISSEMINATED BY A. P. SERVICE

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—The great New York financial center and the nation at large were assured by Senator Robinson of Arkansas today in an address prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the Associated Press, that the administration's inflation program would be followed "prudently" and as a weapon to "end the race of depreciated currencies."

"We must not enter into a race to cheapen money or depreciate currencies," said the administration's floor leader in the Senate, who represented President Roosevelt as the principal speaker before publishers from all parts of the country.

"Nevertheless, it may be helpful for the executive to attempt to secure international treaties or agreements designed to end the race to depreciate currencies, for until this is done and currencies are stabilized, our producers and our merchants will be handicapped and suffer loss through the dislocation of exports and the increase of imports on the part of the United States."

"Congress can not carry on the necessary negotiations. It will strengthen the president if he is given the authority, even though it must be used prudently and only as a last recourse to save our people from prolonged depression and complete disaster."

Before entering into detailed arguments to justify the proposed controlled inflation and credit expansion step, the Arkansas senator told the publishers that Washington, with its war-like extra session of congress in full swing, had "become the world's greatest news center."

"The responsibilities of those who sit in the press galleries of the two houses," he asserted, "are scarcely less weighty than those which weigh down upon senators and representatives."

"The Associated Press and its representatives," he continued, "have generally recognized their duty and are continuously devoting their efforts to the dissemination of accurate information essential to a proper understanding of those remote from the scene of the legislative contests now in progress."

Robinson declared that to "continue the policies of inflation under which hard times had arisen" "undoubtedly must have perpetuated the overpowering and all-

SCOUT NEWS

Troop 3, Joe Isbell, Scribe.
Tests were passed when the troop met in the basement of the First Baptist church Thursday night. Games followed on the church lawn. The troop baseball team accepted a challenge from Troop 16 for Saturday afternoon at Magnolia park. Junior McKay was accepted as a new member.

Troop 4, Harlan Martin, Scribe.
Arrangements for the election of new officers and reorganization plans were made at the meeting in the Christian church Friday night. Earl Goodwin was in charge. A 30 minute drill followed the business session. Plans for a hike and the camporee were made. Claude Revey was made assistant patrol leader and Roger Townsend senior patrol leader. Twenty-nine scouts and the Rev. John Miller, W. D. Casey and Chris Martin were present. Rev. Miller is a former scoutmaster.

Troop 14.
Troop 14 met at 7 o'clock Friday night at the Sam Houston school for their regular troop meeting. Seven Scouts and three Scouters were present. Four boys passed test for Scout Pace, and two passed second class test for First Aid.

The troop went on a hike to Lon Blaine's ranch last Friday afternoon; April 13 at which time four boys passed second class test in cooking, fire-building, and tracking.

The troop is planning an overnight hike the first week in May. Several are making plans to attend the regional "Troop Assn." to be held at Pampa on May 27 and 28. One boy, Doyle Auais attended the Board of Review last night to be examined for second class requirements, and will be awarded his second class badge Tuesday night at the court of honor.

Troop 18.
Harold Rickard Scout Scribe.

The regular meeting of Troop 18 met in their quarters on April 21 at 7:30 p. m. "Troop Assn." was blown by troop Bugler Ben Stauffer and the first patrol to get in line and "Dress Up" first was awarded 2 points which was won by the "Bear Patrol". Presentation of colors and repeating what the colors stand for by Senior Patrol Leader. All Scouts were required to repeat the 8th Scout law "Cheerful". Checked attendance and collected thrift dues.

The game of "Capture the Flag" was played and was won by the "Bear" patrol. The idea of this game is to capture the other troops flag. Before a patrol is declared winner, it must capture the flags of both the other patrols. When one patrol loses its flag, its members join the patrol whose flag has not been captured as "Wolves". We have three patrols in this troop and two flags had to be captured by the winner which was the "Bear" patrol.

Patrol instruction, under the direction of patrol leaders, included the history and uses of the flag, semaphore signalling and the study of nature.

A contest in semaphore signalling was won by the "Wolf" patrol and they were awarded 10 points.

The meeting closed by Scouts singing "Pack Up Your Troubles," giving patrol yells and Scout benediction followed by "Taps" being played by the bugler.

GOLD FLOWING INTO FRANCE FROM NATIONS

FRANCE IS "FORTRESS" OF WORLD FOR THE GOLD STANDARD

By JOHN EVANS. Copyright, 1933. By The Associated Press.

PARIS, April 24 (AP)—France now is a golden fortress defending the few yellow-backed currency systems remaining in the world.

Gold is coming here by air, land and sea to what the newspapers call the world's "gold refuge," adding to the vast hoard in the Bank of France.

Here, also, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland are starting a fight to remain on the gold standard, while France confidently directs the battle, professing to be without a fear for the franc but realizing the danger if other gold countries follow the United States example.

Seven airplanes arrived at Le Bourget field Sunday from Amsterdam, with more than a ton and a half of gold, a total of $12,000,000. They carried one thousand gold bars which were trucked to the Bank of France.

From Belgium and Switzerland for days trains have been bringing smaller shipments. By sea, kegs of gold came recently from the United States.

The French cabinet's decision to maintain the gold standard and a statement by both the government and the Bank of France that there was no fear for the franc, was a signal for the fight to begin.

The cabinet declared not only a strong resistance, but urged a speedy calling of the world economic conference and appealed to nations to return to the gold standard.

DUNCAN, Okla., April 24 (AP)—Harry Burgard, about 40, shop foreman here, and Gled Reed, 27, a mechanic, were killed yesterday in the crash of a cabin monoplane which they had borrowed without knowledge of the owner, Lawrence Shartle, Santa Fe, Oklahoma.

Three spectators saw the ship go into a nose-dive from an altitude of about 100 feet and crash in an open pasture about a mile northeast of here.

600,000 francs of gold, about $3,250,000,000, or 29 per cent of the world's gold.

The United States has more than one-third, about $4,250,000,000 or 38 per cent. France and the United States together have in their vaults two-thirds of the world's gold.

GALVESTON IS THIRD TEAM TO LEAD IN TEXAS LEAGUE

BUFFS DUSTED BY SHIPPERS IN 5-2 GAME

HOUSTON PUSHED BACK TO SECOND PLACE; DALLAS TO THIRD

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.
The hands-on Texas baseball season, capital of peppermint avenue, is acquiring new occupants fast, but none who gained possession have been able to dwell there permanently.

Saturday the Dallas Steers ruled the race.
Sunday it was the roaming Houston Buffs.

Monday revealed that the Galveston Buccaneers had gained possession. Houston retreated to second place and the Steers were in third place.

The Buccaneers pulled to the front with an impressive 8 to 2 decision over the recently strengthened San Antonio Missions, who could get only three hits off the huriling of Chief Euel Moore.

The big Indian right hander allowed only one clean hit, so baffling was his assortment of stuff under the flood lights. The one hit was a double by Catcher Heath that scored San Antonio's two runs.
Houston was ousted by the Beaumont Exporters who laced them, 5 to 2. Eiden Leroy Auken, former all-round athlete at Kansas State A. & M., limited Houston to five hits.

The slipping Dallas Steers sustained their fourth straight defeat when Fort Worth pounded out a 9 to 8 victory in a free slugging and rapid base running game.

Manager Happ Morse started John Whitehead and for the second straight time the Cats knocked him right out of the box.
Oklahoma City and Tulsa were rained out.

CROP LOANS IN DEMAND

A shortage in blanks has delayed several crop loan applications in Gray county. The inadequacy of the supply is traced to the Dallas loan office.

1934 Cage Team To Play Sandies Here Friday Eve

The probable basketball team that will represent Pampa high school this fall will be seen in action at the high school gymnasium Friday night when the Amarillo Sandies come to Pampa for a pre-season game with the Harvesters.
Coach Odu Mitchell will put his boys through a stiff workout this week in preparation for the game. Coach Davis Hill has been working with his prospects for the last three weeks, while the Harvesters have been out less than a week. Two members of the Harvester squads have been out for track and field and one other has been suffering from a broken jaw. They will be ready to start practice tomorrow afternoon.

The Harvesters should present a strong lineup this season with Miles Marbaugh, Jess Patton, Orville Hetskel, Leslie Sartin, Bert Stevens, and Lloyd Hamilton available from last season and J. R. Green as one of the most promising ex-Gorillas. Bill Dunaway of Pauline is another promising prospect. Several other ex-Gorillas are expected to show world's of promise by the time the season opens next fall.

Amarillo will be thirsting for revenge when they invade Pampa. The Harvesters won three out of four encounters from the Sandies last season.

Three Bowling Teams Working For First Place

The City league bowling race will close this week with three teams battling for first place. Winning honors can go to the Phillips, Jaysees, or Kiwanis No. 2 teams, but the first place team will not be decided until the last game is rolled.

Texas won two out of three games from Phillips, while Voss was taking the same number from Kiwanis No. 1. Friday night, Phillips continued to lead the race by a small margin with the Jaysees in second place and Kiwanis 2 in third place.

On Tuesday night, the Jaysees will meet the Voss Cleaners in their last game of the season. Phillips will meet Kiwanis No. 2 for their last game also. The Thursday night games will see Kiwanis No. 1 meeting Kiwanis No. 2 and Voss Cleaners playing the Texas company.

Voss Cleaners, Texas company, and Kiwanis No. 1 can change positions in the standing.

PLUMBERS AND DIPPERS LOSE TO SHOPPERS

SAM FENBERG PITCHES SHUTOUT GAME FOR 6-0 VICTORY

The Diamond Shop playground ball team continued its winning streak yesterday by taking both ends of a double header. The Shoppers defeated the Davis Plumbers, 6 to 2, and then won from the Double Dippers, 6 to 0.

Foe held the Plumbers to a few scattered hits in the opening game, while Manager Sam Fenberg did the huriling in the second game to score a shutout. His support was nearly airtight. The Shoppers made three errors in the first game.

To Jimmie Coburn of the Shoppers went the honors for the circus catch of the afternoon. He took one on a shoestring in the first game and then fell but held the ball.

The Plumbers went into the lead in the fifth inning by scoring two runs, but the Shoppers came back in the sixth inning and sent three counters across. Drain, brother to Harry, pitched nice ball for the Plumbers but errors cost him several runs. Harris did the reeveiving. Foe went the distance for the Shoppers with Sturgeon behind the bat.

Fenberg and Campbell were the batteries for the Shoppers in the second game while Earl hurled and Ed Moore and Pearson caught for the Dippers. The Dippers, all high school boys, played a nice brand of ball but couldn't get through the big fellows' defense.

The baseball team of Troop 16, sponsored by the Lions club with R. R. Watson as scoutmaster, won a 9 to 7 game from Troop 3 at Magnolia park Saturday afternoon. Both nines played nearly errorless ball and did some real hitting.

Troop 16 hopes to develop a team that will defeat Borger this year at the council camporee. Troop 16, used Edward Haner, Benjamin Horn, A. J. Organ, Leon Plato, Denver Tuckerv, Revista Harvery, Norman Harvery, Edward Mack and Hawkins. Friday night the troop was guests of the Lions club at the Baker school carnival.

TIGER HURLER MISSES NO-HIT GAME BY HAIR

DETROIT WINS DESPITE SINGLE OF BROWNS IN EIGHTH

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.
Tommy Bridges, right hander of the Detroit Tigers, still is looking for his perfect ball game.

Last August, against Washington, Tommy turned in the season's greatest pitching feat but failed by a hair to record a no-hit game. With two out in the ninth, Dave Harris a pinch batsman, smacked a single.

Yesterday Bridges came almost as close. For seven innings he retired the St. Louis Browns without a blow, then Sam West found him for a single in the eighth, the only hit he gave.

The feat was good enough for the Tigers to win 2 to 0 despite flashy pitching by George Blaeholder and Bump Hadley, who gave only three hits and no walks. With two out in the seventh, an error, Charley Geringer's single and Gerald Walker's single brought in the only runs.

Ted Lyons, Chicago White Sox veteran, did some snappy pitching in beating Cleveland's Indians, 4 to 1. Lyons allowed only two singles, crashed a home run with one aboard his first time up and added two more hits for a perfect day at bat.

In contrast, the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics posted each other hard for a total of 23 blows as Boston came from behind to win, 7 to 5.
Washington ended the New York Yankees' seven-game winning streak by slamming over two runs against Wilcy Moore in the ninth, largely through the pinch hitting feats of Heine Manush and Sam Rice, and won 5 to 4.

Pittsburgh's bold Buccaneers dominated the National league scene by taking a doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals to tighten their hold on first place. Helmie Meisner blanked the Cards with three hits in the opener while the Pirates drove Dazzy Vance to cover in one inning and won 4 to 0. Five St. Louis errors and some steady hurling by Waite Hoyt gave the Bucs a 6 to 3 decision in the second clash.

BORGAN FOUND DEAD

HENNESSY, Okla., April 24 (AP).—Mrs. Ethel Moon, 38, of Borger, Texas, was found dead in a pasture three miles north of Hennessy yesterday, her body suspended from a fence post by a wire wrapped around her neck.

Relatives said she had been nervous because of domestic trouble.

SPEAKS IN 'PANHANDLE'

The Rev. James Todd Jr. was in Panhandle yesterday for sermons at the First Christian church.

All Players Are Invited To Mag Workout Tuesday

The Magnolia baseball team will start workouts at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and Manager J. H. Buckingham has issued a call for all players in this section to report at that time. He is eager to organize a strong team that will be competition for any team in the country.

Plans for organization were made Thursday night at a meeting in the Magnolia office. It was decided to order new uniforms and they will be here for the opening of the season in two or three weeks. Most of the well-known stars of the last few years will be available and several newcomers have arrived.

Manager Buckingham says that there is no law against trying out for positions on the team and that he wants every ball player in Pampa and surrounding territory to report for the first session. If anyone knows of a player having moved to Pampa he is urged to get in touch with Manager Buckingham and tell him all about it.

The date of the opening game and the opposing team has not been selected, but Manager Buckingham says he will bring a strong team to Pampa for the opening game.

A. D. Rockwell of the Cabot company, was dismissed from Worley hospital Saturday night.

Pittsburgh's bold Buccaneers dominated the National league scene by taking a doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals to tighten their hold on first place. Five St. Louis errors and some steady hurling by Waite Hoyt gave the Bucs a 6 to 3 decision in the second clash.

Another sparkling bit of flinging showed Brooklyn out of second place as Ed Brandt of Boston turned the tables on Walter Beck in their second duel of the week, winning 2 to 1. Brandt gave only three blows. The New York Giants passed their rivals from across the river by turning back the Phillies 3 to 1 as Fred Fitzsimmons clouted a homer to clinch his own game in the eighth.

The Cincinnati Reds came to life and upset Chicago's Cubs and Lou Warneke, 4 to 3, in the fourth National league game, scoring two runs in the ninth when Harry Rice clouted a triple with two on base. Bill Jurgis, Cub shortstop, suffered a slightly sprained ankle in a collision with Jim Bottomley at first.

The Hoover nine had been working out regularly. Barnes and Massingale were the Hoover batteries. The Laketon battery was not available, the score book having been mislaid.

Head Play Now Derby Favorite

LOUISVILLE, April 24. (AP)—If workouts are accurate barometers—and they generally are—Head Play, Mrs. Willie Crump's Kentucky Derby candidate, will be the horse to beat when the aristocrats of the turf line up at the barrier at Churchill Downs here May 5.

The big chestnut colt, for which Mrs. Crump paid $550 two years ago and refused $20,000 and half of his potential Derby winnings last week, was the talk of the Derby colony today following a sparkling workout Sunday afternoon in which he went the full Derby route.

In performance seldom equalled by any Derby candidate, the son of My Play-Red Head burned up the fast track to cover the mile and one-quarter in 2:07 4-5 and was well in hand at the finish. He clipped off a mile in 1:39 and was galloping to finish out the extra two furlongs.

The only other Derby nominee to try the full route Sunday was Mrs. A. M. Creech's Interpreter, who turned in a mile in 1:42 and the mile and one-quarter in 2:08 over a cummy track in the morning.

Longer workouts were the order this week for most of the hopefuls training at the Downs.

Old-Time Pitcher Of Giants Is Dead

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 24. (AP)—Those who followed big league baseball back in '23 would remember today by the death of an "old timer"—Timothy J. Keefe.

Keefe, who was star pitcher of the New York Giants in the days before many of today's fans were born, died yesterday at his Cambridge home at the age of 70.

After his retirement from big league ball, Keefe coached baseball at Harvard, Princeton, and Tufts.

Squyres Stays 5 Rounds With Olympic Champ

Sammy Squyres, Pampa boxer, stayed five rounds with Oddie Ludlow, former Olympic boxing champion, in a bout in Woodward, Okla., Friday night, according to a letter received by THE NEWS from Clarence Faden, promoter. The Pampa boy took the bout on 24-hour notice and was not in the best of condition.

"Squyres put up a game fight against the champion despite the fact that he had no time to get in condition for the battle," Faden writes. "The Pampa boy made a real hit with the crowd and the two boys will be matched again when Squyres has had time to get in condition."

The local boy will meet Kid Stamper of Macon, Ga., in a four-round bout at the Pla-Mor auditorium Wednesday night.

CAMP FIRE NEWS

The Camp Fire girls met in the home of Macon, Ga., in a four-round bout at the Pla-Mor auditorium Wednesday night.

The following temporary officers were elected: President, Evelyn Bicknell; vice president, Herma Beckham; secretary, Anna Mae Jones; treasurer, Mary Elizabeth Seeds.

Members made head looms, stretched the warp on them, and are ready to start their head bands. Each girl has selected her Indian name and is working out a symbol to weave into her head band. Mrs. Phelps gave instruction on the Council Fire and parts were given for a ceremonial meeting.

GROWERS WILL MEET AT GRANDVIEW SCHOOL

A general meeting of the wheat growers and farmers of the Grandview community is called for April 28 at 8:30 p. m. and is to be held in the Grandview school house.

John Turcott of Miami is scheduled to be the principal speaker of this meeting. After the speaking, a general business session will be in order with important phases of planned activity arranged. It is therefore of vital importance to every farmer in this community to attend this important meeting and find out for himself just what to expect this year and what can be gained through cooperative effort.

This is an open meeting and all farmers are urged to attend and bring the family. The farmer must know what is taking place and should know the facts in order to act cooperatively.

Florence Jackson of Miami was a Pampa shopper this morning. Mattie E. Galin of Mobeetie spent the week-end in the city.

NOT AN EMBLEM!

Albert Cooper in Shamrock Texan: The cover of West Texas Today, the recent issue, is a striking sketch of a Texas sandstorm. A front of a small house, while the greyish-brown hue surrounds the barn and other parts of the scene are almost invisible. A true artist drew this sketch, for it portrays such a realistic scene that every true West Texan almost feels the grit in his beans and behind his ears.

In an editorial of the magazine, however, not the picture but the sandstorm seems to be getting the laurels: "The sand storm is an emblem, a token of strength, gust, rapid change. It is as much a part of West Texas life as are the white face, the placid ewe and her gamboling lamb, the furrowed row, the Pecos river, the Davis mountains." And no one disagrees that it is as part of West Texas life, but how much more welcome the lamb, of the sketch and the woman is carrying a bucket—and fighting the wind. The scene brings vivid memories to anyone who has lived in the Panhandle. Memories of hard work, all for nothing after a sandstorm. Women of the Panhandle do not belittle their country because of the sand. Many other things of beauty in West Texas life counteract the discomfort of the sandstorm and the women, as well as the men, are loyal to their country; they will not betray it because of one hardship, but neither will they accept the sandstorm as an "emblem" of West Texas life! (A question of interpretation, eh? Well, we happened to be at Sweetwater when the screen version of the novel, "Wind", was filmed. As a member of the Sweetwater B. C. D., we furnished the movie people authentic costumes, facts for settings, and data on modern West Texas. Did the movie director use any of its? He did not. The movie "required" a terrifying sandstorm and one was duly built—in California with a wind machine! MORE POPALORUM While the hue and cry is going up for an elective highway commission, a big push is on to have the state railroad commission, an elective body, robbed of its authority and an appointive commission named to take control of the natural resources of the state. Thus, while we want high population in the state highway commission, we want low population in the state railroad commission. The truth is we have no assurance that an elective commission in the highway department would do any better than the appointive one we have, and there is no reason to believe that an appointive commission would handle the oil situation any better than it is being handled.

TWO LEADING STARS IN ONE FILM DRAMA

"THE WHITE SISTER" IS VEHICLE FOR CO-STARRING

TWO of the greatest personalities on the American screen are co-starring for the first time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's talking picture adaptation of F. Marion Crawford's classic love story, "The White Sister," which opened Sunday at La Nora theater. They are Helen Hayes, winner of the recent Motion Picture Academy award, and Clark Gable, universally conceded to be the talkies' outstanding matinee idol.

Miss Hayes, last seen as the nurse in "A Farewell to Arms," this time plays the role of an aristocratic Italian girl who on the eve of her wedding to a man of her father's choice, falls in love with a young officer in the Italian air force. A clandestine romance results and the father, in a desperate attempt to call a halt to the proceedings, is involved in an automobile smashup and dies. When the young officer subsequently is called to the front and is reported killed, the girl determines to abandon the world and to shut herself up in a convent as a White Sister.

The intensely dramatic climax of the story occurs when the officer returns from the war and confronts the nun who had believed him to be no longer alive. The situation is said to be the most stirring ever created by the talented Miss Hayes, outshining even her memorable portrayal in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet." The remainder of the drama revolves about the conflict of the girl between her religious vows and the man whom she loves, with the story brought to an end by a sensational denouement.

Owner of Shows To Appear Here With Carnival

JOHN T. WORTHAM whose picture appears with this story, will be in Pampa this week directing the affairs of the carnival bearing his name. Wortham, a native Texan, the last of the Wortham Bros. of carnival fame hails from Paris, in the eastern part of the state. He and his elder brother, Clarence A., earned their first money by selling papers on the streets. Being of frugal nature soon saved enough by the time they graduated from the University of Hard Knocks to embark into the amusement business. First it was a skating rink, later to a small town picture shown owner. In 1912 they purchased a merry-go-round and a baggage car. From that humble beginning, the Worthams have built up a fine reputation. In 1922, Clarence A. Wortham died in Cincinnati as probably the largest individual owner of show property in America, having owned at the time four large carnivals and two circuses employing many thousands of people.

SENATE MUST ACT ON BEER IN FEW DAYS

AMENDMENT PROPOSAL UP TODAY FOR DISCUSSION

By E. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, April 24. (P)—Prohibition is likely to be the main thorn in the side of the legislature from now until it decides to fold its tent after more than a four months' stand. Everybody around the state capitol, just now, is interested in 3.2 per cent beer, and the senate has yet to do something about the proposition of legalizing manufacture and sale of that kind of beverage.

There are just fifteen more days before the legislature comes to the end of its row as it were. The 120-day regular session period will be up on May 9, after which the lawmakers will draw $5 daily instead of the $10 heretofore received, minus the usual discount exacted by banks and others who are interested in holding state warrants that can not be immediately cashed because of a depleted treasury.

There remains much in a prohibitive anti-prohibition way to be done before sine die adjournment. The house sent to the senate more than a week ago a bill proposing to suspend in the w/e's August 26 whether the prohibition section of the state constitution should be amended to permit sale of beer, and a regulatory bill directing how the beer should be sold and imposing a tax on it and licenses on manufacturers and retailers of the foamy fluid.

Triplett Jury Being Selected

IVAR SKOUGARD MR. SKOUGARD, basso cantante, will arrive soon in Pampa to assume charge of the voice department of the May Freeman Carr school of music, according to Mrs. Carr. He was formerly a member of the Baylor University, Waco, faculty, voice department. Press comments of Waco newspapers indicate that Mr. Skougard is a more-than-ordinary singer and teacher. "His was one of the most entertaining programs that has been given in Carroll chapel for some time," the Times-Herald said.

"The pupils of Mr. Skougard at all times show a high quality of expression and interpretation which speaks well for teacher as well as pupils," the News-Tribune said of a student recital. Highly favorable comments from papers in the following cities have been received: Salt Lake City, Utah; Phoenix, Ariz.; Fremont, Neb.; Laramie, Wyo.; Wilmington, O.; Twin Falls, Idaho. His repertoire includes many arias, operas, and especially Schubert's and Mozart's songs.

PRISONER CAPTURED

ARCHER CITY, April 24 (P)—Ed Parrish, escaped prisoner from the Archer county jail charged with robbery of a store near Mesargel, was returned from Granite, Okla., today, by Fred McDaniel, sheriff. Parrish, with another prisoner, freed himself by sawing bars to his cell last December.
