ATHLETES' SHIP CRASHES, 5 DIE

TWINKLES
In our opinion, the new deal ought to be worth a dime a democracy to remove the national party deficit. The country ought to buy the party back from Wall Street while Mr. Roosevelt is in the saddle.

Pampa is becoming a good show town for special attractions of merit. Pampa can serve a big territory by becoming an entertainment center not dependent upon any other city of larger size.

Musings in a minor key: We habitually turn through magazines from back to front. . . . Either movies are declining as sob-jerkers of late or we're becoming calloused to sights of "our gal Nell" being rescued from pursuing villains. . . . Are we dreaming or do we sense the bombing of a new literary and musical era, when empty but hilarious noises will not satisfy the populace? . . . It surely is not too much to expect our costly but eminently vital education to bring about a new deal, or era, in human culture.

We hear rumblings of an impending reduction in a utility rate.

Commendation of Representative John Puryear reaches us from observers who found him working hard at Austin and never missing an important vote. Not a few legislators have been conspicuously missing when controversial votes were taken.

The West Foster grouch isn't excited over local petitions to bring back beer. The reason seems to be that his women folks, and some are enthusiastic over the subject, pro and con.

MOST REMARKABLE
It is a most astonishing period through which the nation is passing. After three years of fact suppression, of hiding ourselves from us and would pass if we quit thinking about it. America has admitted the whole thing, precipitated the long feared and inevitable show-down, and under the leadership of an articulate president is turning toward the dawn of a new day. It was written in the sand that basic reform was necessary to recovery, but the nation's leaders had their heads in the sand and saw nothing, hoped in vain.

ON LOOKING WISE
A republican party campaign predicted on the assumption that all had been done which could be done, that things would right themselves when we had suffered and liquidated enough, was very adequately repudiated, but no more thoroughly than by the events of the last month. Calvin Coolidge may, in prosperous times, say nothing and look wise and have all wisdom attributed to them, but they cannot even with the Hoover reassurances and super-man claims, right the wrongs which have accumulated for years.

AND SAYING LITTLE
Newspapers have been told that, by talking about the depression, they have prolonged it. The theory was that if there was deep silence the people would resume buying and restore prosperity. The absurdity of this was illustrated repeatedly as millions of jobs failed to buy by reason of inability and as public confidence was shaken by recurring bank failures and evidence of criminality in the highest banking circles of the nation and the world.

A PAGAN PARALLEL
Aborigines of New Britain never admit their names in the presence of strangers, lest an enemy learn their names and work a spell upon them. They believe that, if they call their enemies rotten tree trunks, their foes will become weak. Every

CLEAR BERLIN COURTS OF JEWISH JUDGES AND ATTORNEYS

CHIEF JUSTICE OUSTED

PROPAGANDA ISSUED TO AROUSE NATIONAL FEELING

BERLIN, March 31. (P)—A nationwide boycott against the Jews will start as scheduled at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, will continue for one day, and then will be called off until Wednesday, it was announced tonight.

Nazi storm troopers cleared Berlin law courts of Jewish judges and attorneys. Among those ousted was Chief Justice Kurt Soelling.

Reports from the United States that Chancellor Hitler's Nazi party might be persuaded at the last minute to refrain from launching its drastic economy war on Jews tomorrow seemed only to add fuel to the fire.

A new proclamation defined the action as the beginning of a war on the entire Jewish race of the world. A party declaration said it.

Democrats Start Paying Costs Of Getting 'New Deal'

Democrats of Pampa are beginning to heed the call of their national committee for funds to pay off the $750,000 deficit incurred in the recent successful campaign.

County Chairman Siler Faulkner and any of the precinct chairmen will receive contributions. The Gray county quota is 10 cents a voter, or $344.20, but larger contributions are welcomed because not all voters can be seen.

I HEARD--

H. Otto Stueder counting out 10 pennies to give to Siler Faulkner to help pay the democratic party for the new deal.

Roy Brown mumbled to himself in the lobby of the Schneider hotel this morning as he opened a couple of bills. "Can't even wait until the first of the month, huh"

Miss Zenobia McFarlin nearly fainted when W. O. Workman told her how much money it would take to feed the seniors on their "meek" party. Miss McFarlin is Scotch, if you don't know it.

CLEAN-UP TO BEGIN SUNDAY

Mayor Will Place Emphasis On Interior Cleaning And Fire Hazard Removal.

OFFICIAL Spring Clean-Up week, which will start Sunday in Pampa and continue through the following Saturday by proclamation of Mayor W. A. Bratton, will place special emphasis upon interior cleaning and removal of fire hazards.

Pastors will announce the plans in their pulpits Sunday and school teachers will inform their pupils Monday.

The Boy Scout committee on health and sanitation, headed by Dr. R. M. Bellamy, and a Junior chamber of commerce committee are drawing plans for the week. Tonight at 8 o'clock, four representatives of each Boy Scout troop in the city will be sent to the fire station to confer with Fire Chief Clyde Gold. Chief Gold plans to let the boys do house inspection in their home areas. The chief, Dr. Bellamy, John V. Andrews, and Dr.

City Salaries To Be Equalized As Economy Action

Pampa's city commission will announce to employees tomorrow a reduction of salaries which will mean a saving of $295 monthly in the city payroll.

The move was said to be justified to equalize the salary scale with purchasing power of the dollar and financial ability of the taxpayers. Fourteen persons will be affected by the changes. The average reduction in salary per month will be $21.

It was pointed out that this was only one example of a steady application of economies and readjustments under the present administration. The annual audit is expected to show a reduction in operating costs of more than $20,000, besides, suspension of most other expenditures for construction.

Womanless Style Show Tickets Are Selling Rapidly

Tickets for the womanless style show are being sold rapidly, it was announced this morning by those in charge. In order that everyone may have an opportunity to buy tickets, Miss Dorothy Doucette and Miss Jackie Jones will have them for sale Monday afternoon and Tuesday afternoon at Harvester Drug.

The show will take place in the city auditorium Tuesday evening, April 4, under auspices of the Council of Clubs. Men only will do the modeling.

The procedure of the show was planned at a meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dodson. The scene will be the styles salon of "Madame" (I. A.) Freeman and "her" assistant will be "Mile" Reed. The action will start when a mother and daughter, representing a local mother and daughters, enter the fashionable shoppe to buy a wedding trousseau. Good-natured gossip concerning just about everybody in Pampa will be heard. "Madame" has to put up with leakers, shop lifters, a "woman" who has lost a package, and others. Over fifty men will take part.

Dress rehearsal will be held at the city hall Sunday.

Jaycee Dance Is To Be Held Soon

The Junior chamber of commerce will sponsor a pre-Easter dance in the Knights of Pythias Castle hall in the Wynne-Merten building April 15. Music will be furnished by the Thrill Harmony Boys under the direction of R. E. Smith.

Arrangements are being made to decorate the hall in an Easter fashion. Admission will be $1.50 a couple. The club sponsored a dance some time ago that was a success. Bob Fuller and Jack Dunn will be in charge of the dance.

ENTIRE FAMILY WIPED OUT IN LOUISIANA PARISH TOWN

By The Associated Press
At least 33 persons were killed by tornadoes which struck four southern states last night and today, causing property damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Six deaths, two women, three children and a negro boy, were reported from Brookhaven and Greenville, Miss., where the twisters struck after devastating a half dozen East Texas communities and portions of northwestern Louisiana and Southern Arkansas.

BATON ROUGE, La., March 31. (P)—At least seven persons are known to have been injured today when a tornado swept through the town of Zachary, 20 miles north of here, causing extensive damage.

At East, well known planter, and six negroes were hurt. A preliminary check showed, and it was feared the injured list might rise higher.

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes which razed entire communities cut a jagged path across sections of three states yesterday taking the lives of at least 23 persons and destroying property valued at more than $100,000.

Starting in East Texas at the edge of the oil fields, the first twister swept down upon Lindale, killing two negroes. Four garages were razed, telephone lines were blown down and falling trees blocked highways. A highway engineering crew said the tornado narrowly missed their automobile and scattered houses like straw.

Bishop Gerken Will Preach At Church Tonight

This evening at 8 o'clock the Most Rev. R. A. Gerken D. D., bishop of Amarillo, will deliver the regular weekly Lenten sermon at Holy Souls church.

The Rev. John Steinlage of Price Memorial college has been heard in previous sermons of the series, but the change was necessitated by the fact that Rev. Steinlage is directing a cast of students staging a religious play at Nazareth tonight.

Bishop Gerken is a forceful and convincing speaker and will have a lesson of value to both Catholics and non-Catholics.

A. H. Doucette made a business trip to Stinnett today.

ECONOMIC AND GRID SITUATION IN AMARILLO 'DEPLORED' BY 18 PAMPA ROTARIANS AT BANQUET

Pampan Are Guests At Country Club Function

Good-natured jibes at Amarillo as "one of the smaller towns in the Pampa trade territory" and recollections of football games were used by the local Rotary club in an inter-city banquet at the Amarillo Country club last night.

President Tom E. Rose of the Pampa club headed a delegation of 18 members. After exchanging greetings with the Amarillo president, Mr. Rose presented Jack Cunningham, who directed Pampa's part of the program. The local Junior high school quartet, composed of Rex Rose, Howard Buckingham Jr., Mickey Ledrick, and Edgar Myatt, and directed by Miss Helen Martin, sang several numbers.

A fake broadcast of an Amarillo Pampa football game was presented under the direction of Odus Mitchell. Julian Barrett and Mr. Cunningham then engaged in a dialogue of sympathy for Amarillo in her economic and gridiron depression. The Amarillo program included fun by Dr. Rue Parcels and Jack McKnight, followed by a fake popularity contest. A dance followed the program.

In the Pampa delegation were Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cunningham, Dr. and Mrs. A. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Mel B. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gribbon, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Odus Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ross, Glen Ragdale, Joe Smith, DeLea Vears, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Surratt, Mr. and Mrs. Farris Oden, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Keys, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zahn.

Fifteen Dollars Stolen From B. And B. Station

The office of the B. & B. Lubricating company on East Tynng street was entered about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and a tin cash box removed. The box, minus about $15 in cash, was found this morning by officers in an unused portion of the building where the company headquarters is located. More than $200 in checks was left in the box.

A. D. Bourland had stepped out of the office to the warehouse and it was while he was gone that the box was stolen. City officers were notified and an immediate search of the district was made.

A large trunk was found on West Francis avenue about 5 o'clock this morning as city officers were making their rounds. It had been stolen from the E. Bass Clay garage on Purviance street and was not missed by him until officers notified him this morning. It is believed the trunk had been lost from the bumper of a car. It contained pictures, papers, and long-forgotten college books and paraphernalia.

NEWS SELECTED FOR YOU

Especially selected for local readers is the news which is presented daily in this newspaper.

The selection is world-wide, since the international resources of the Associated Press are geared to the needs of individual sections of this country. In New York, Washington, and various state capitals the news is edited and that which is most timely and interesting to the southwest is sent to Kansas City. There it is again edited and items of keenest interest to Texas are relayed immediately to Dallas. At Dallas an editor chooses items from over the nation, the world, and Texas and places them on a special West Texas wire which serves the Pampa Daily NEWS. That's why this newspaper gets letters from readers like the following:

"Dear Editor: I get 3 daily papers and a weekly paper and several magazines, but I am always glad to look at your paper every day. It is always fresh and full of news and I find something in almost every number that I have missed in the other dailies. Yours truly, J. V. VICARS, San Jose, Calif."

West Texas - Eastern New Mexico Ready For The Decentralization of Business

The people of this country learned from their recent experiences which made it necessary to declare a nation-wide bank holiday that it is a waste of time to discuss the merits and demerits of the unit bank, the branch bank, the group bank, the big bank and the little bank. As a result of the events of the past few weeks the public knows that the big bank and the so-called liquid bank is in the same class as the frozen asset bank when the people generally decide to keep their own money and start a run on the banks. Neither the size of the bank nor diversification of investment, nor the two combined, can keep the banks open when millions of depositors decide to keep their own money. The nation-wide bank holiday has made both the banker and the depositor realize that the policy of the bankers in the past with respect to saying to the public that a depositor, who as a rule never deposits anything but checks, could get the amount of his deposit in currency on demand, is all wrong. The bank holiday has made both the banker and the depositor realize that money is intended to be used solely as a medium of exchange and as such must not under any circumstances be hoarded. The public fully realizes today that all banking, like all business transactions, must be bottomed wholly upon the confidence of the public in the soundness of the banking system and business methods.

BANKS SOUND IN THE PLAINS COUNTRY

According to the best information available at this time, out of approximately 6,891 Federal Reserve Member Banks in the United States, 5,342 were re-opened prior to March 25, or about 77 per cent.

In Texas there are approximately 529 Federal Reserve Member Banks, and 516 opened prior to March 25th, or about 95 per cent, which was 18 per cent higher than the general average of the Federal Reserve Member Banks in the United States.

There were approximately 12,432 non-member banks operating in the United States before the bank holiday, and approximately 10,570 re-opened prior to March 25th, or about 85 per cent; although some of the non-member banks were under restrictions. While in Texas there were approximately 535 non-member banks and 534 were re-opened, although some were under restrictions, prior to March 25th, or approximately 100 per cent.

In towns supplied by the Plains Division of the Texas Utilities Company with electric service, one of 18 Federal Reserve Member Banks 18 have reopened, or 100 per cent.

In the Plains Division of the Texas Utilities Company there were 23 non-member banks operating before the bank holiday and 21 re-opened prior to March 21st, 16 without restrictions and 5 under certain restrictions.

The two banks that have not re-opened will, according to reports at this date, be reopened within the next few days.

In the towns supplied with electric service by the Southwestern Public Service Company located in the Panhandle of West Texas, out of 7 Federal Reserve Member Banks 6 have been re-opened. There were 7 non-member banks operated in the territory supplied with electric service by the Southwestern Public Service Company before the bank holiday and 7 have reopened, or 100 per cent.

Out of 6 Federal Reserve Member Banks, and 2 non-member banks operated in towns supplied with electric service by Southwestern Public Service Company in Travis and Eddy Counties, New Mexico, and by New Mexico Utilities Company in Curry and Roosevelt Counties, New Mexico, 7 have been reopened.

According to the most reliable information obtainable the banks operated in the plains country in West Texas and in Eastern New Mexico, above referred to, have all shown substantial increases in deposits since the bank holiday. The average increase in deposits since the holiday in the above banks is conservatively estimated to be approximately 5 per cent.

The above comparison of the banking conditions in the Plains territory supplied with electric service by Southwestern Public Service Company, Texas Utilities Company, and New Mexico Utilities Company, clearly shows that the banking and business conditions in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico are as sound as can be found in any section of the United States.

THE WORLD IS IN THE THROES OF A NEW BIRTH

We hear on every hand the statement that "The world today is in the throes of a new birth." The economist, the statesman, and the business man in every walk of life is occupied in studying and discussing the several factors that can be identified as those most likely to determine the character of the change that is going to take place. It is generally conceded that the trend toward decentralization in our business structure is by far the most important factor.

DECENTRALIZATION MADE POSSIBLE BY DEVELOPMENT AND USE OF ELECTRIC POWER

According to the economist, "The use of electric energy is about to reverse, in certain fundamental respects this whole century of evolution toward centralization and concentration." All congested centers are suffering from the movement, which is now world-wide, to abandon the large city as a manufacturing center. The modern factory, in the opinion of the present day economist, will move as rapidly as possible under existing conditions from the great cities to the smaller communities where an adequate and dependable supply of electric power can be made available for manufacturing purposes at reasonable rates.

EASTERN NEW MEXICO AND WEST TEXAS READY FOR THE CHANGE IN BUSINESS CONDITIONS

West Texas and Eastern New Mexico offer the finest agricultural opportunities, the best transportation facilities, and the most advantageous power service to the modern factory seeking a new location, in order to meet changing conditions, that can be found in the United States. The above analysis of the banking conditions of the country discloses the fact that the banks of the Plains Country are as sound as the banks in any section of the United States and that West Texas and Eastern New Mexico banks are today in a position to provide adequate banking facilities to meet all the requirements necessary to take care of the development of the territory.

CONFIDENCE AND COURAGE CHIEF ASSETS

Confidence, courage and co-operation are far more important during the troublous period of readjustment through which the country is now passing than all of the gold and other tangible assets in this country. The hope of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico today is the courage of the people to DO, and the willingness to make sacrifices for the general welfare. No outside forces can arrest the development of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico as long as the spirit of the citizens of the Plains to DO lives.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Jesus Ministering to Jews and Gentiles (World Friendship Lesson).

Scripture Lesson: Mark 7:24-37. 24. And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it; and he could not be hid.

25. But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet.

26. Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the demon out of her daughter.

27. And he said unto her. Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs.

28. But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord; even the dogs under the table eat the children's crumbs.

29. And he said unto her, for this saying go thy way; the demon is gone out of thy daughter.

30. And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the demon gone out.

31. And again he went out from the borders of Tyre, and came thru Sidon unto the sea of Galilee, in the midst of the borders of Decapolis.

32. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to lay his hand upon him.

33. And he took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and touched his tongue; and he said, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

34. And his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

35. And he charged them that they should tell no man; but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it.

36. And they were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

37. And he went beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

Golden Text: Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: then also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice: and they shall become one flock, one shepherd.—John 10:16.

Time and Place: The healing of the Syrophenician's daughter in the summer of A. D. 29, in the region of Tyre and Sidon. The healing of the deaf and dumb man, in Decapolis, soon after.

Introduction: This visit of Jesus to the region of Tyre and Sidon, about thirty or forty miles northwest of Capernaum, was the only time of which we have any record that he was outside of the narrow limits of Palestine during his entire ministry.

The ministry in Galilee has been strenuous; and withal discouraging. People still crowd to hear him, but are indifferent to the spiritual and ethical meaning of his gospel. That searching discourse in the synagogue at Capernaum alienated many who had been nominal followers (John 6:30). Official Judaism is, moreover, violently opposing him. He wants to get away from it all for awhile. More specifically, he must have an opportunity further to instruct the

Twelve in his message. Christian Education Needed

Our Lord's insistence upon time and opportunity for "the training of the Twelve," that is repeatedly set forth and hinted at in the gospel narrative, has a bearing upon religious education in the church of our day. The good news that there is a Saviour for sinful men, who is also a precious Companion for these human lives of ours, needs to be forever proclaimed (so-called evangelism), but likewise do men need to be taught the fuller, deeper truths about this Saviour, how better to follow him, and especially how best to qualify as evangelists, heralds, speakers of the word of his salvation.

Borders of Tyre and Sidon "And went away into the borders of Tyre and Sidon." Not necessarily to those cities, but to the region dominated by them. This was Christ's only journey outside the limits of Palestine, except the journey to Egypt when he was an infant. Tyre was an ancient and important city on the sea coast north of Palestine, and Sidon, another great ancient city, was on the sea coast twenty-two miles to the north of Tyre. Hiram, King of Tyre, furnished David with materials for his palace, and Solomon with materials for the temple and other buildings, especially cedar of Lebanon. Tyre now has only a few thousand inhabitants, and the population of modern Sidon is not much greater.

A Distressed Mother She may have heard of Jesus before, for Syrians had listened to him and witnessed his miracles from early in his ministry; but his fame was great, and it would soon be noised about that the great Healer had come among them, and a mother's ears would be quick to catch the hopeful news. "Come and fell down at his feet. Not as an act of worship, but to show the earnestness of her entreaty.

"Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by race." She belonged to that portion of the ancient Phoenician race which had settled along the coast of Syria, while another branch of the race had gone to Libya in northern Africa. Matthew calls her a Canaanitish woman. "And she besought him that he would cast forth the demon out of her daughter." Either she asked Christ to go to her house and lay his hands on the sufferer, or she had faith to believe that Christ would heal from a distance, as he had done more than once in his own country.

"And he said unto her, Let the children first be filled." "The children" Christ meant the children of Israel, the Jews whose age-long, cherished expectation of the Messiah he came to fulfill. We learn from the fuller account in Matthew 15:21-28 that the woman appealed to our Lord by his Hebrew title, "thou son of David," almost as if she were a believer in his Messiahship; also that he tested her faith at the first by maintaining a strict and seemingly forbidding silence. Then she turned to the disciples, and sought their intercession with the Saviour so urgently that they begged him to relieve them of her importunity by granting her request and sending her away.

Gains A Great Blessing Matthew gives us more of Christ's answer, "O woman, great is thy faith."—Matt. 15:28. The aptness and the subdued beauty of her patient reply had charmed him, but it was solely her faith that prevailed with him.—Rev. Theron Brown, "For this saying go thy way; the demon is gone out of thy daughter." Love conquers demons. Faith subdues kingdoms. What importunity could not effect, yielding obtained. The incident is full of lovely lessons for our lives.

Another Journey of Jesus An extended journey through the northern regions is indicated, v. 31. Apparently, he first went northward, and then, passing on his way through Sidon, turned towards the east and south, and came into the more sparsely settled regions of the Decapolis, a region mostly east of the Jordan, dominated by ten independent cities, extending from Damascus on the north to Philadelphia on the south.

A Deaf Man Healed "And they bring unto him one that was deaf." The eager crowd followed the great Healer with their sick, and no matter where he went he was pursued by desperate seekers after health and life. "And his ears were opened." v. 35. His deafness was the principal affliction, and when that was removed, his dumbness would soon go with it. "And the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain." He began to speak in a proper or ordinary manner, implying that in his dumb condition he had been able only to make inarticulate sounds.—Prof. A. B. Bruce.

"The technique of this miracle is interesting. Notice how many things Jesus does—seven distinct acts—and how he employs certain practices of the healing art of his time; also, that he does not neglect the psychology of it as we would say. The divine and the human are so interrelated that the divine Saviour does not disregard human agencies.

"He hath done all things well" at the chapter's close, leads us to believe that he performed many such unrecorded deeds of mercy on the journey back. "And in such praise all may well unite who have been alone with the Master, who have felt his healing touch, who have been permitted to hear the message of his power and grace and love" (Erdman).

Germany Realizes Equality In Mussolini's Peace Plan

ACCORD WOULD BE EFFECT FOR 10 YEARS

REVISION OF TREATIES WOULD BE BASIS OF COVENANT

PARIS, March 31. (AP)—Premier Mussolini's plan to assure peace in Europe was made public here today and was disclosed as a proposal for a six-point pact.

It provided:

1. Four-power collaboration for peace by Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany.
2. Acceptance of the principle of revision of treaties in accordance with the league of nations covenant.
3. Great Britain, France and Italy—in the event of the failure of full disarmament (by which Germany would realize equality)—pledge gradual realization of equality for Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria.
4. The following of a common line of action by the four powers in world affairs.
5. Effectiveness of the accord for ten years, when it will be automatically renewable unless denounced.
6. Registration of the accord with the League of Nations.

The text of the proposed pact follows:

Article 1. The four western powers, Germany, France, Great Britain and Italy undertake to realize among themselves an effective police cooperation with the view of maintaining peace in accordance with the spirit of the Kellogg and no force pacts. (The latter was the agreement last December among the four nations to grant equality in armaments to Germany.) They also undertake to act in the domain of European relations in such a way that this peace policy can be adopted, in case of necessity, by other states as well.

Article 2. The four powers confirm the principle of revision of peace treaties, in accordance with the clauses of the covenant of the League of Nations, in cases where situations arise which are likely to bring conflicts among states. (Article XIX of the covenant contemplated revision when such situations arise.) They declare, at the same time, that this principle of revision cannot be applied except in the framework of the league and in a spirit of mutual understanding and solidarity of reciprocal interests.

Article 3. France, Great Britain and Italy declare that, in case the disarmament conference attains only partial results, the equality rights recognized as due to Germany should have an effective significance and Germany will undertake to realize these equality rights by stages, which will be determined by a successive accord to be concluded by the four powers through the usual diplomatic channels. The four powers will undertake to reach an understanding in the same sense with regard to Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria.

Article 4. The four powers confirm the principle of revision of peace treaties, in accordance with the clauses of the covenant of the League of Nations, in cases where situations arise which are likely to bring conflicts among states. (Article XIX of the covenant contemplated revision when such situations arise.) They declare, at the same time, that this principle of revision cannot be applied except in the framework of the league and in a spirit of mutual understanding and solidarity of reciprocal interests.

SCENES IN CALIFORNIA'S QUAKE IN LA NORA THEATER NEWSREEL

The appalling scenes of disaster in the California earthquake zone, with thousands of refugees stumbling about in the wreckage of their homes or offices, where block after block in town after town is nothing but a pile of bricks and splintered wood; President Roosevelt's stirring message on the banking situation, and a clarion call to all union men by William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, to back up the president of the United States in his plan for financial and economic recovery, are the highlights of the current Pampa Daily NEWS - Universal Newsreel at La Nora theater.

The West Coast catastrophe, centering at Long Beach, Cal., is a never-to-be-forgotten sight. Row after row of homes, apartment buildings and business structures in some of America's most flourishing towns, now present unbelievable scenes of wreckage and confusion. The efficient activities of sailors from the U. S. fleet, and members of various veteran organizations, in policing the stricken district, and the efforts of the Army, National Guard and relief agencies in supplying food and shelter to the thousands of refugees, show impressively the rapidity with which the forces of relief were mobilized while severe shocks still rocked the area.

The tragic scenes are described vividly by Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter.

President Roosevelt's message, delivered in his office in the White House for the newsreel public, is a clear and matter-of-fact explanation of the hectic events of the past few days in the banking situation, and contains a call for further support of his recovery plans. Green's message, directed at all citizens as well as members of the labor unions, is an earnest exhortation to have full faith in Roosevelt and to back him up wholeheartedly in the present crisis.

Illinium Sought By Curie Nephew

PARIS, March 31. (AP)—The search for the chemical element number 61, missing from the atomic chart but identified in 1926 and christened illinium by Dr. B. Smith Hopkins of the University of Illinois, is being pursued by Pierre Curie, grand nephew of Marie Curie.

He and S. Takvorian, an Armenian student, are examining four tons of rare earth in an effort to isolate the element. They have reported to the academy of sciences that they have ascertained the existence of the element but were unable to extract any. They obtained only proof of its radio activity.

Their experiments consisted of an analysis of a mixture containing elements 60 and 62, in the course of which they obtained a radio activity ten times greater than either of those.

Synthetic Camphor Industry Forecast

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—An important new industry for America—manufacturing synthetic camphor from turpentine by a newly-discovered process—was predicted today to the American chemical society.

The new camphor-making process, said Professor John J. Ritter of New York university who reported it, "will doubtlessly aid materially in establishing the camphor industry in the United States, where it logically belongs."

An American camphor industry, Professor Ritter explained, would benefit from the increasing manufacture of laminated safety glass, which he said threatens to create an "unprecedented" demand for camphor, of which ten million pounds annually are imported by this country. Other uses for camphor include explosives, celluloid, lacquers and movie films.

About half the camphor now imported into the United States is produced from American turpentine in foreign chemical factories, which in the past have proved better able to make synthetic camphor. The synthetic product is identical with natural camphor from the camphor tree.

Denmark's only commercial airline carried 4985 passengers last year, 101 more than the year before.

This Banker's Plight Is 'Too Much Money'

CHICAGO, March 31. (AP)—Through ignorance, John Frapaselli, father of 10 children, a city street sweeper with wages long overdue, admitted he unwittingly poisoned his family with meat which he found in an alley.

Two of the children, James, 3, and Anthony, 11, are dead while four others are critically ill. Mrs. Frapaselli is near death. Four other children apparently were unaffected.

In a jail cell, Frapaselli told of the desperate chase he took to provide his family with meat.

"I found a dead pig in an alley and decided I would take a chance," he said. "First I ate some of the meat myself, and it didn't seem to harm me."

James and Anthony were taken ill in a few hours. Frances and Dorothy, twins 3 years old, were not expected to live, and Jennie, 14, and Joseph, 20, also were desperately ill.

Neighbors cared for the other children, Theresa, 2, Philip, 4, Conrad, 16, and Rose, 18.

"Too much money" is the plight of A. J. Wendell, above, president of the First National bank at Lowell, O. When federal authorities examined banks during the national holiday, they found Wendell's had $700,000 deposits and a capitalization of $25,000. Wendell was ordered to raise its capital to $75,000 before the bank could reopen.

School's Glee Club Sings At Lions Meeting

Sweet, soft voices of pupils of the Horace Mann school's glee club were heard Thursday by the Pampa Lions club with much enjoyment.

The white-clad pupils sang unaccompanied and with unusual quality. They were directed by Miss Loma Groom, their instructor. They filed in as Miss Frances McCue in a march. Miss Alma Schulkey also was with the group. Miss Thomas explained the workings of the Horace Mann cafeteria and thanked the club for monthly cash donations. L. L. Stone was program chairman.

The club spent considerable time practicing songs to be sung at a model luncheon it will stage at the district convention in Amarillo April 17 and 18. Roy Bourland was announced as a master key member, having nominated twelve men to serve, in the last year, admitted to the club. He is the only master key member in this district.

Rayburn Burke and John Mullen were introduced as new members of the club. Lion Mullen is the new minister of the First Christian church. Visitors included C. O. Williams of Amarillo, Will and Beryl Glass of Alanreed, Lewis M. Goodrich of Shamrock, and Alfred Gilliland of Pampa.

Local Lions have been invited to attend a zone meeting in Claremont April 4, when a ladies night banquet will be held.

A committee composed of Clyde F. Fatheree, Dr. J. H. Kelley, Jack Dunn, Siler Faulkner, and H. Otto Studer has been appointed to assist in preparing the program for the local club's model luncheon in Amarillo.

Leviathan To Quit Atlantic Sea Lane

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—The New York American understands the liner Leviathan, largest of the passenger craft operating under the American flag, is to quit trans-Atlantic passenger service next month.

A meeting is to be held in Washington soon—perhaps today—the American was informed, at which definite action will be taken by the United States lines to turn the liner back to its owners, the shipping board. Declining business was given as the reason.

Truck Driver Shot In Holdup Attempt

TERRELL, March 30. (AP)—Boone Daniels, 45, a Fort Worth truck driver plying between Gladewater and Fort Worth, was shot and critically wounded early today by one of three men who tried to hold him up near Hawkins, 70 miles east of Terrell.

F. A. Barber, Daniels' companion, who was driving, was unhurt. Three men in a sedan drove up alongside the truck as it was en route to Gladewater, one of them brandished a pistol and commanded Barber to turn to the side of the road. Before he could stop, a shot was fired, entering Daniels' lung. A second shot splintered the steering wheel.

— THIS CURIOUS WORLD —

ALASKA
CARRIES THE SAME DATE AS THE UNITED STATES, BUT UNTIL UNCLE SAM PURCHASED THE TERRITORY FROM RUSSIA, IT CARRIED THE SAME DATE AS RUSSIA, WHICH IS ONE DAY LATER.

ON JEFFERSON CREEK, MONTANA, BEAVERS FELLED A COTTONWOOD TREE, 3 FEET 6 INCHES IN DIAMETER.

UP TO 1917, THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAD PAID OUT CIVIL WAR PENSIONS AMOUNTING TO ONE AND ONE-HALF TIMES THE ACTUAL COST OF THE WAR ITSELF!

WHEN AMERICANS began moving to Alaska, they kept the same date that was in effect in the United States. This made matters very confusing, for the Russians were using the Russian date. Thus, the Sunday of the American settler was the Monday of the Russian. After the purchase of Alaska by the United States, in 1867, the date line was placed out in the ocean, to the west of the Alaskan coast.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 31. (AP)—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd pinned her last hope for life today on two possible moves, one by her attorneys and the other by the warden of the state prison at Florence.

However, neither avenue of escape appeared likely to be available to the blonde murderess whose date for execution was set for April 21 by Governor B. B. Moer after the Arizona board of pardons and paroles denied her clemency.

Attorneys for Mrs. Judd said an appeal to the United States supreme court "seems to be the only possibility" to save the young woman from hanging. They commented they had not sufficient funds to carry the case before that body.

The only other move was for the warden to request a sanity hearing for her before a superior court jury.

"I have no idea what I will do," said Warden A. G. Walker. "I have no definite statement now to make."

The board of pardons and paroles was unanimous in its decision late yesterday in denying Mrs. Judd clemency.

"A thorough and thoughtful consideration of all the testimony and Ruth Judd's own statements to the board," a formal brief setting forth the board's findings said, "together with a careful review of all the facts and circumstances attendant upon the tragedy, compels the board to believe that Ruth Judd shot Agnes Anne Lerol through the temple while she was in bed, the muzzle of the gun being held at or near the surface of the skin, and that Mrs. Lerol was not killed in self defense."

"I think the board has made an awful mistake," attorneys for Mrs. Judd quoted the condemned woman as saying when she was informed of the decision in her cell at Florence.

Byron Hodges of White Deer was a Pampa visitor this morning.

Beer To Be On Sale at Five Baseball Parks

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Thirsty baseball fans will find beer on sale in at least five major league baseball parks this season, reports to the Associated Press indicated today.

With the season opening April 12, five days after the new 3.2 beer became legal, the two Chicago clubs, White Sox and Cubs, and the three metropolitan New York teams, Giants, Yankees, and Brooklyn Dodgers, have announced it will be available in their parks.

Five other clubs, however, will not permit beer to be sold, for a variety of reasons, while six have made no definite decision. Most of these latter are waiting the necessary state legislation.

Legislature, Leaderless, Thus Far Has Drifted, Accomplishing Little

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—This legislature has been colorless, old-timers will tell you. They base this conclusion in the main, on assertions that it has not produced an outstanding leader among the one hundred and eighty-one members of the two houses. There doesn't appear a legislator to stand above the others in guiding legislation to port.

There are some able men in each house, but they apparently are adverse to taking hold of the legislature as a body and directing its course.

The legislature seems to have drifted more or less, during the first seventy-five days of the session, but a great deal of committee work was done, and things yet might develop in rapid-fire, whirlwind finish.

Those who have watched legislatures work, however, claim they can foresee little or no major legislation being perfected at this session. They believe that the appropriation bills, and little else, will be enacted within the remaining time. The appropriations promise to be reduced to a minimum all around. The judiciary bill, the only one that has passed both houses, was reduced thirty-one per cent below the aggregate voted to support the judiciary for the biennium ending on September 1 this year.

When the legislature opened all observers believed that the ad valorem system of taxation would be replaced by a general sales tax or some other plan put forward as a more equitable system of raising revenue for support of the state government.

With only a few weeks left of the long session there has been little popular sentiment for any substitute for the old, time-tried ad valorem system. There has been much agitation for keeping the existing tax system under present conditions. One does not hear as much criticism of the ad valorem method as was apparent when the legislature opened its session.

FIFTEEN TEAMS WILL ENTER CLARENDON MEET TOMORROW

MITCHELL TO ENTER ENTIRE TRACK SQUAD

AMARILLO COACH WILL TAKE 5 BEST MEN TO LUBBOCK

Harvester thin-clads will go to Clarendon tomorrow to compete against track and field stars from 15 Panhandle and Oklahoma schools. Nearly 300 athletes will take part in the big invitation meet being sponsored by the Clarendon Junior college.

A new cinder track, claimed to be the best in the Panhandle, has just been completed. There are long straight-aways and nicely banked curves. Weather permitting, several records should be shattered on the new track.

Coach Mitchell will take his entire squad to Clarendon, leaving here about 10 o'clock. He has been working the boys hard all week and they are in the best condition of the season. The showing of his track men has been gratifying this week.

Foot Pulling has been practicing long and hard on the low hurdles in hope of beating Garrett of Amarillo, but that worthy will not participate in the Clarendon meet, so Pulling will probably have to wait until the district meet where he is sure to go April 21 and 22. Coach Blair Cherry is taking five of his best men to Lubbock to enter the Texas Tech meet. Cherry wants to test his best men against the Abilene champions, Howard Lynch and the rest of the Sandies will enter.

Some of the best athletes in the country will be represented through Canyon, Dumas, Panhandle, Clarendon, Hollis, Okla., and other schools. The Clarendon team is considered the most dangerous. The team is composed of three and four year veterans.

Valuable prizes will be awarded the winners and will include the chamber of commerce cup, jackets, sweaters, shoes, shirts, and other valuable awards. The meet will start at 1 o'clock.

SEVERAL MAJOR TEAMS ARE EXPECTED TO TRAIN IN TEXAS

Free-Throw Woman Champion Seldom Able to Score in Basketball Contest.

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer If the Detroit Tigers fail to win the American League pennant they believe it can be blamed on their spring training at San Antonio. The Tigers concluded their pre-season workouts at the Alamo city on March 24 without the loss of a day from the baseball field.

For most part the weather was warm and the field in excellent condition, and Manager "Bucky" Harris admits his men really got themselves in playing form. There is an undercurrent of belief among Texas baseball men that several major league clubs will train in Texas next year.

Rookies In the Dallas club house the other day, Manager Happ Morse called six rookies before him and gave them unconditional releases. After 21 years in professional baseball, Happ still has a tender heart and proved it when he asked the rookies how much money they had.

After the counting up there was a dollar between them. "You kids remain at the hotel and eat at the club's expense until you get some money from home or wherever you get money," ordered Morse.

That order removed much of the sting of the releases. A Remarkable Round Denis Lavender, former Texas amateur golf champion, is far from being through as low scoring golfer. In a recent trial over the Dallas Stevens Park course he breezed around in 29-32-61 for a new course record.

Far on the Stevens course, which is situated in the 35-35-70. Lavender had a sensational start or three on the first five holes. He slipped at the sixth green to take a 4, but got right again for 3-3. He missed a shot at the ninth and again required a 4 which netted him a 29. On the back nine he had four 3's and five 4's. Lavender never went over par on any hole.

A summary of his amazing round revealed that he shot ten pars, seven birdies and one eagle. The former Texas amateur champion is majoring in Journalism at Southern Methodist university.

Explain This The free throw championship of the women's national basketball tournament held at Wichita, Kan., went to Mrs. Myrtle Brockert Shivers of the Wichita Thunderstars for the third time in four years.

Mrs. Shivers is one of the world's greatest free-throwers in practice or in a free-throwing contest, but in a game, under the strain of losing or winning, she seldom makes a free shot. She can not explain this nor can any of the better known girl coaches.

CAUSE CATARACTS NEW YORK (INS)—Clouding of the vision by cataract of the eye may be caused by deficiency of vitamin G in the diet. It is shown by experiments on rats reported by Prof. Paul L. Day of the University of Arkansas to the Division of Biological Chemistry of the American Chemical Society.

CLOTHES FOR JOBS TORONTO (INS)—Municipal unemployment relief organizations in the Province of Ontario, Canada, may now purchase new articles of clothing at reduced prices, as the result of an agreement between the government's relief committee and the Canadian Association of Garment Manufacturers.

SENATORS AND A'S ARE BEST YANKEE FOES

NEW YORK STILL HAS MOST POWER AND PITCHING

(NOTE: The following summary of prospects for the American League pennant race is another in a series of stories on big league baseball.)

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, March 31. (P)—Six rival clubs have resorted to extraordinary measures and the seventh has changed hands completely, all in a common purpose to break up the latest monopoly of the New York Yankees, but it remains to be shown whether singly or collectively they can stop the world champions from capturing their eighth American League pennant this season. The betting is they won't.

Since 1921, the only clubs successful in dislodging Babe Ruth & Co. from the top have been the Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics. Once more it appears likely these two clubs, especially the Senators, will furnish the principal challenge to the Yankees' supremacy. Despite the fact that all four of the western clubs, led by Cleveland and Detroit, are considerably strengthened.

Around the circuit presided over by the scholarly Mr. William Harbridge of Chicago, the hope has grown that the 1933 race will be better balanced and that the Yankees will not benefit from all the "breaks" credited to them last season. It seems much more of a hope than a conviction, for the Yankees are buttressed by more combined experience, power and pitching than any other entry.

The New York pitching, on paper, looks no more effective than that of either the Athletics or Senators, who traded off the great right arm of Fippo Marberry and the southpaw cunning of Lloyd Brown in exchange for two of the league's foremost lefties, Walter Stewart and Earl Whitehill. The Yankee slugging may at times be no more pronounced than the fence-busting of the A's or the Cleveland Indians. The champions' defense seems no more air-tight than that of the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Browns or Senators.

But from the top to the bottom of their batting order, the Yankees are a tough outfit to match, let alone conquer. I may be true they rely on a number of ancient performers, including Sewell, Combs, and the eminent Ruth, but it is equally true that the Yankees have some of the finest young reserve strength in either league. At least a half dozen prospective Yankee bench-warmers would be regulars on a majority of other clubs.

Washington, with Goose Goslin leading in the batting line, and four-star twirling staff consisting of Crowder, Weaver, Whitehill, and Stewart, figures to be very much in the pennant race. But the Senators' reserve strength is questionable and Joe Cronin's ability to handle the triple responsibilities of shortstop, pitcher, and manager must be proved. Bucky Harris, then a young second baseman, pulled one of baseball's "miracles" with Washington nine years ago but this lightning seldom strikes twice in the same place.

The Athletics, Tigers, and Indians all featuring the development of youthful stars, should be in the thick of the scramble for first division places. The A's have a brand new outfield, with no real replacement for Al Simmons' big punch in sight, but Connie Mack relies upon a come-back by his pitching staff, especially George Barnshaw, to keep the club in the race. No team featuring the exploits of stars like Grove, Fox, and Cochrane can be treated lightly.

Cleveland expects much more consistent pitching, plus the development of such new talent as infielder Harry Rose and Bill Knickerbocker, to sustain the team's upward progress. Bucky Harris, too, looks for striking results with his Tigers, grown more formidable thru the acquisition of Marberry, a pitching workhorse, plus the development of a reserve "Schoolboy" Brown, an emotional hurler from Texas, infielder Marvin Owen and outfielder Ervin Fox.

Despite drastic changes, the St. Louis Browns, Chicago White Sox, and Boston Red Sox still look very much like the rear guard, in that order. The Browns, swamping whole sale with Washington, have a fine defensive outfit but lack a decisive punch. The White Sox unquestionably are much better equipped, with Simmons, Dykes, and Haas in the line-up but it is doubtful if either of their increased power will offset their pitching weakness. The Red Sox, making no outstanding changes since Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins took control, face a long, uphill battle for talent and subsequent recapture of any of their old prestige.

Following a major operation, Lowell Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Osborne of Perryton, was dismissed from Worley hospital this morning.

Burnham Briggs' condition was somewhat improved at Pampa hospital this morning. He spent a fairly restful night.

AMERICAN BOWLING CONGRESS UNDERWAY COLUMBUS, O., March 31. (P)—The 527 Columbus "Boosters" teams are here with the American Bowling congress and from now until April 12 nothing but "regulars" will be seen in action. One change popped up on the late shift among the Big Ten leaders last night, scoring games of 824, 897 and 859. The St. Joseph five of Bayonne, N. J., eased into tenth place with a total of 2880. Five new names were added to the leaders during the day in minor events. Ralph Marshall of Richmond, Ind., moved into fifth place in the all-events with a total of 1905 after scoring 680 for sixth berth in the singles. John Spiegel of Springfield, O., totalled 674 for tenth in the solo event and Joe Young, Erie, Pa., Speed King, spilled the setups for a nine-game total of 1899 for sixth in the all-events.

Mrs. C. E. Melton is doing nicely following a major operation performed yesterday morning at Worley hospital.

TEXANS SURPRISED THAT BABE HADEN MISSED ALL-AMERICAN

Durant Cardinal. Ranked As One of Best Girls' Teams Ever Developed.

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer. It was no surprise to Texans that the Oklahoma Presbyterian college girls' basketball team retained the National A. A. U. cage title by beating the Dallas Golden Cyclones, 43 to 39, last week at Wichita, Kansas. It was a surprise, however, that the committee which annually selects the all-American players left off Miss Babe Haden, center for the Fort Worth Lucas team.

In North Texas, where girls' basketball is strong, Miss Haden is ranked as the outstanding center. Critics at Dallas and Fort Worth, where such redoubtable teams as the Golden Cyclones, Lucas, Dallas Shoe Shop and others play most of their games, give Miss Haden the call over Miss Alberta Williams, Cyclone center, who made the all-American.

Miss Haden, twice an all-American, not only possesses an unguarded shot but is ranked by many as the smartest among many smart players in girls' basketball. She is also a fine polo player and probably Fort Worth's outstanding girl athlete.

Cardinals Prove Staff The Oklahoma girls for the sixth consecutive time proved they are superior to the Golden Cyclones in the game of basketball. When the Cyclones held the national championship, the Durant girls played and won two regular season games and then trimmed the Dallas sextet for the national title to make it three consecutive victories.

This year Durant met and defeated the Cyclones twice in regular scheduled games and then beat them in the national last week. S. F. Babbs has coached teams at the Oklahoma Presbyterian college for five years and paid most of the expenses out of his pocket. His teams suffered defeats but he apparently realized it required years of patient work to develop a championship team. His team has won 62 consecutive games and has been undefeated the last two years. It is being ranked on a par with the old Dallas Trezevant and Cochran sextet that won five Southern A. A. U. titles, three national championships and played through five years of undefeated basketball against the strongest competition.

To be ranked with the Trezevant and Cochran sextet that boasted the greatest names of all time in southwest girls' basketball, such as Carrie McElroy, Lura McElreath, Kate Carragher, Bobby Alford, Cathryn Leo, Louise Milam, and Miss Sherman, is accepted as additional glory for the Durant girls who thought enough of their basketball this season to rise each morning at 5 o'clock to practice because it was the only time the Durant gymnasium was available for them.

TEXAS ATHLETE IS ROBBED AND BADLY WOUNDED Captain of Harvard Crew Victim Of 'Clip Joint'

NEW YORK, March 31. (P)—The 1932 captain of the Harvard varsity crew, Thomas E. Armstrong, of Dallas, Texas, was back in bed today to nurse the wounds that came out of a battle between himself and what police called a "clip joint."

The alleged "clip joint" is no more. It's three alleged operators in jail, also nursing wounds. Armstrong got up out of his sick bed only yesterday to head husky detectives, one of them the father of a Harvard student, into the place and to help them subdue and capture the occupants. He got up again, later in the day to identify them in court.

It all began Wednesday night when the athlete started for his day to go to Washington. He had time to spare, so his "friendly" taxi driver suggested he could get some of the new beer at a place near the bus terminal.

He was taken to a basement speakeasy. Then, so he alleges, his troubles began. He said he was robbed of his money, forced to sign a check for $2,000 and finally taken under guard to the St. Regis hotel, where he had been staying with his cousin, and ordered by a guard who stood menacingly at the door to draw $100 against his cousin's account and give no alarm.

Taken back to the speakeasy, he became suddenly spurred by Crimison fighting spirit and decided that things had gone far enough. He struck out at his alleged assailants. With dawn he found himself bound in an alleyway, loosed his bonds and took his story to the police.

Prisoners taken from the place and identified by Armstrong gave their names as Joseph Blum, 32; Jack Mason, 29, and Bernardo Rivora, 31. Blum and Mason were held without bail. Rivora was held in bail of $1,000.

Burnham Briggs' condition was somewhat improved at Pampa hospital this morning. He spent a fairly restful night.

Following a major operation, Lowell Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Osborne of Perryton, was dismissed from Worley hospital this morning.

Cambridge And Oxford Oarsmen Meet Tomorrow

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, England, March 31. (P)—The Thames, over a four and a quarter mile stretch, will belong tomorrow to the shells of Cambridge and Oxford.

Climaxing months of training, the oarsmen will match strokes over the twisting course from Putney Bridge to Mortlake Brewery in the 85th running of the gruelling classic.

On the basis of its showing in practices, the Cantab crew is credited with the power to pull it across the finish line first; the Oxonians, however, have been developing fast and observers anticipate a good race. Meeting for the first time in 1829 and staging their first regular annual race on the tidalway in 1856, the universities have clashed cars 84 times, Cambridge winning 43 races, Oxford 40. One battle ended in a dead heat. Oxford's victory in 1923 was the only one the dark blue has shared since the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan T. McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. White, formerly of Pampa, now are living at 212 West Sixth street, Breckenridge.

Tonsils of Mary Puckett, daughter of Virgil Puckett, were removed at Worley hospital this morning.

Rockne Killed Two Years Ago

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 31. (P)—Notre Dame today honored the memory of Knute Rockne and looked back on a glorious era of athletic achievement that may never return.

It was two years ago today that the great master of the "Fighting Irish" was killed in an airplane crash in Kansas and the entire university joined in tribute and prayer. Classes for the day were dismissed and the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of Notre Dame, planned to sing a requiem high mass.

TRAVELING BOXER? STURGEON BAY, Wis. Residents of Sturgeon Bay are wondering whether the prolonged battle of a determined cock robin with his image in a Kansas City, Mo., window has any connection with a similar campaign waged by a robin at the John H. Stewart home here during the last three summers. Members of the Stewart family believe the shadow boxer now winning fame in Kansas City may be the same bird on his way back from winter training quarters.

TO BRING MANY CHANGES

Even more interesting than the legislative measures now pending in Congress, in some ways, are the rumors of legislation to be asked in the near future.

Washington seems to be full of these rumors. The capital, evidently, has decided that the present is a when anything at all can happen and probably will.

Some of the rumors are trial balloons, some are clever deductions and some are outright guesses; but their cumulative effect is tremendous.

Thus we have one correspondent writing Mr. Roosevelt's "little cabinet"—the well-known "brain trust" of professional advisers—is drawing up plans to have the government lease marginal coal lands and retire them from production, just as the pending farm bill would do with marginal farm lands.

Miss Frances Perkins, labor secretary, replies "I most certainly do" when asked by a senator if she favors the compulsory 30-hour week for industry—and leaves one wondering just how long it will be before Congress is asked to transform this expression into law.

Simultaneously, it is reported that the administration's railroad plan, when finally put into shape, will call for something very much resembling outright government operation of the roads.

Add all of these things to the astounding venture of the farm bill, to the reshaping of the nation's banking structure, to the government's implied determination to reduce such titanic figures as J. P. Morgan to the size of ordinary mortals, and it becomes clear that the administration is aiming at the most complete imaginable departure from traditional practices.

And in the face of all this, it is rather important that we refuse to get excited by the prospect of radical changes. A new deal is, after all, a new deal. It ought to be plain to the blindest man that our old ways of handling all of these things no longer work. We need, above all else, to be daring. If we are going to have great changes—well, let's have them, and more power to them.

Philippines turn up with a million-dollar surplus in their treasury. Wonder if they would annex us?

A Man was fined the other day for shooting rabbits. his plea was that he thought he had the right to do it. Surprise to us is that he didn't plead self-defense.

Vice President Garner has received his 126th gavel as a present. One guy that certainly knows how to take the rap.

Bank advertises that it is still a good idea to put something away for a rainy day. We agree. We're saving up for that summer vacation, too.

BARTER DAY PLANNED
MULESHOE, Mar. 31. (AP)—At the instigation of the Muleshoe Kiwanis club and R. L. Brown, real estate man, a barter day has been inaugurated in Muleshoe. For the first Monday in each month. An auctioneer will be provided free and all farmers who cannot strike a bargain between themselves are privileged to put up their commodities for auction. Livestock, farm machinery and even a piano were on hand for the bargainers to consider at the first gathering. It was reported a horse sold for $100 cash.

To remove tea, coffee or cocoa stains from china wash with soda applied on a damp cloth.

BOOST AIR RATES
HAVANA (INS)—The air-mail rate from Cuba to the United States was recently increased from 10 cents for the first ounce and 10 cents for each additional half-ounce, to 10 cents for the first half ounce and 10 cents for each additional half ounce or fraction.

CONFIDENCE HAS DEVELOPED, SAYS REVIEW OF BANKS

DALLAS, March 31. (AP)—"Altho business and industry in the eleventh federal reserve district during February was somewhat quiet and uneven," says the Monthly Business Review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas, "a strong undertone of confidence has developed during the past ten days."

"Late reports indicate that the demand for merchandise has been broadening. The February sales of department stores in principal cities were two per cent larger than in the previous month, but were still 22 per cent below the corresponding month of 1932."

"Wholesale distribution was on a smaller scale than in either January this year or February last year. Retailers have continued to follow the policy of holding stocks to a minimum and buying to cover actual consumer demand, but recently orders have been increasing. Collections were slow during February."

"A further improvement in the business mortality rate in this district occurred during the past month. Both the number of commercial failures and the amount of indebtedness involved were smaller than in either the previous month or the corresponding month last year."

"Financial statistics reflected some rather wide fluctuations during the past month due to the banking disturbances. Member bank borrowings at the federal reserve bank rose from $4,024,000 on February 15 to $7,253,000 on March 15, and the actual circulation of federal reserve notes increased from $35,842,000 to $57,645,000 during the same period."

"There was also a large increase in the reserve deposits of member banks. The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks amounted to $607,612,000 in February, as compared with $611,062,000 in January, and $665,682,000 in February, 1932."

Whistling Girls Chorus Popular Over Panhandle

AMARILLO, Mar. 31. (AP)—There was an old saw that prophesied "no good end" for a "whistling girl and a crowing hen."

Like many other maxims of the ancient wise, it has been disproved by Mrs. T. M. Caldwell of Amarillo.

Farmers are pleased with the fulfillment of a plan of the national party and the South African party to join forces in a national government.

TROUBLES ANEW!
NEW YORK (INS)—William Hahn, 48, unsuccessfully attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself. Police, who found the wounded man, arrested him for failure to have a pistol permit.

TEXAS PEACH CROP IS BADLY DAMAGED

PUTNAM, Mar. 31. (AP)—Damage from the late February freeze will be much greater in this vicinity than at first expected. Several fruit growers report there will be very little fruit this season.

The peach crop, they said, probably would be a complete failure as some of the young limbs were frozen. A few apricots are blooming and a small crop of apples is likely. Some grain was killed and practically all hedges and shrubbery were frozen to the ground.

Farmers are pleased with the fulfillment of a plan of the national party and the South African party to join forces in a national government.

BRITON WILL NOT RETURN TO MOSCOW

MOSCOW, March 31. (AP)—It is understood an excellent authority that Sir Edmund Ovey, British ambassador who had been summoned to London in connection with the Metropolitan-Vickers case, will not return to Moscow.

This probably will add to the complications which resulted from the arrest of several British subjects employed by Metropolitan-Vickers, a British electrical company.

An official announcement said two of the Englishmen and four Russians arrested with them will be tried on charges of sabotage on April 9 or 10, under sections of the penal code which relate to espionage and conspiracy to reveal economic information to foreign states. The maximum penalty for this offense is death.

'The Queen City Of The Plains'

(Note: This is another of a series of articles concerning the early history of Pampa—which George Tyng, who named the town Pampa, called the "Queen City of the Plains.")

These is one city ordinance which will likely never be enforced as long as the machine civilization prevails. It prohibits parking of motor vehicles on "the main streets" of the city of Pampa.

It was passed during the administration of Ed S. Carr in 1918, and was enforced for four months. The "main streets" at that time included Cuyler business district, and portions of Foster and Kingsmill.

Although the ordinance sounds like a freak, there was a sound and vital reason for passing it. The city fathers were moved to vote for it because of the agricultural population in this community. At that time, most of the farmers and ranchmen drove wagons, and when they came to town for supplies of groceries and other commodities all the parking space in front of the stores would be occupied by motor vehicles.

So the farmers would double-park their wagons, and of course when the farmer or ranchman would leave his wagon and team double-parked behind a car, the motorist would have a sudden but intense desire to back out. Then the team would begin to prance and the farmer would run out of the store just in time to avert a runaway. The team-drivers tried to make use for the alleys but they became too crowded. Soon there were many complaints, and the store-keepers were as vociferous as the farmers. They prevailed upon the city to pass the ordinance.

The motorists of the community soon learned about the law and did not park on the "main streets," but it was tough on traveling salesmen. They would come into town, and finding parking space plentiful, consider themselves lucky. Pretty soon, they would be hailed before the police court, but the judge was merciful, and during the four months the ordinance was enforced he did not assess a fine for the offense. The traveling salesmen class furnished the most customers. They would come walking into court with their mouths open with wonderment. Mr. Carr still laughs at the memory of the figures they cut.

"After four months, the automobile census increased among the farmers and ranchmen. Those who had cars or acquired cars during the four months became as annoyed because they could not load their supplies from the store into their cars and trucks as they were when they could not load them into the wagons. They complained to the merchants and to the city officials. Their clamor increased month by month, and finally the city decided to forget about the ordinance.

But Mr. Carr and his old-time associates can still laugh about it.

Farm Boys Will Serve Stew To Canyon Students

CANYON, March 31. (AP)—"Stungulion" won in a contest with an "up-town lunch" this week with the result that the T-Anchor farm boys will serve the cowboys' favorite stew to the 1,000 students of the West Texas State Teachers college on April 1, traditional frolic day of that institution. Experts from the home economics department had contested the farm boys for the honor of serving lunch to the hungry students.

A day out of doors in the Palo Duro Canyon is being planned with the Woman's Athletic Association, the Buffalo T club and the men's physical education department in charge of the games. Students will engage for the most part in active sports which are wont to increase the appetite and it is expected that the farm boys will have plenty to do at the noon hour to keep plates filled.

VALIANT DUST

by Percival Christopher Wren

SYNOPSIS: Just before Major Napoleon Riccoli of the Foreign Legion was ready to seize the Citadel of Mekness as the first step in making himself Emperor of Northern Africa, Colonel Le Sage of the French Secret Service captures Riccoli. Le Sage explains to Riccoli how knowledge of Riccoli's double treachery to France and to his supposed ally, the Kaid of Mekness, has reached the ears of the Kaid's heartless son Ralsul.

Chapter 44
RICCOLI "CRACKS"

RICCOLI sat up suddenly. "Le Sage!" he said sharply, "did you talk to me to Pedro Maligni?"

"Oh, quite a lot. Oh yes." "Le Sage, you'd never hand me, a fellow white man, a comrade, a brother officer, you'd never hand me over to this devil, Ralsul, to be tortured."

"You're looking quite pale, Riccoli," Le Sage remarked. "Look here, Le Sage, for God's sake tell me plainly, and let me know the worst."

"The worst, Major Riccoli, is that you, a French officer, are, for your own private gain, a traitor to France."

"Answer my question, Le Sage. Have you betrayed me to Ralsul? And are you going to let him torture me?"

"Betrayed you to Ralsul! No, Major Riccoli, not intentionally. Nor do I propose to hand you over to him, I am going to deal with you myself."

A look of cunning came into the eyes of Riccoli. "The Kaid," he said, "Ralsul may have told him? Warned him?"

"Possibly," agreed Le Sage. "Almost probably, in fact. But Ralsul takes his own line—and it may cross that of the Kaid."

"And you have an appointment with the Kaid?"

"Tonight," agreed Le Sage. "Now, in fact."

Riccoli said nothing, but his face spoke volumes. "Oh no," laughed Le Sage in answer to Riccoli's unuttered thought. "He won't get me, Riccoli—though I'm banking on my belief that he thinks he will. Now I really must go."

Picking up Riccoli's pistol from the table, Le Sage went to the door. "Belléme!" he called.

Otho entered and saluted. "Which of your three is the staunchest, steadiest man?" he asked. "The man with the best head as well as the coolest courage."

"Légionnaire Mummery, Sir," replied Otho.

"Fetch him in."

"You see this officer," said Le Sage to Mummery, as Joe halted, saluted and stood rigidly in attention before him. "He is not to leave this room—alive. Lock the door after me, and do not open it until I knock—three times, then twice, then once, like this. If anyone else knocks in the ordinary way, take no notice whatever. If force is used, and the door is burst open—shoot this officer instantly—and then defend yourself. Understand?"

"Yes, sir."

Le Sage turned to Riccoli. "You'll find this man incorruptible, Major Riccoli," he said. "Also prompt in executing orders. So let's hope none of your friends or followers knocks the door down, in search of you. If all goes well with me, I shall see you again later. If not—I am afraid the door will be burst open by someone or other, eventually."

"Follow me, and move quietly," ordered the Colonel, and led the way to the barrack-room.

"Attention," ordered the senior sergeant, as Le Sage entered, followed by Major Langeac who had joined him at the door.

"Absolutely at right. Loyal, to a man," was the report of the latter. "I don't say that a few of them wouldn't have thrown in their lot with Riccoli, if he had brought it off and then declared himself. Anyhow, they're spilling for a fight—as always."

"Well, I want three more, for my job," said Le Sage. "You, Belléme, pick me the three best men here—for a forlorn hope, or have with you in a tight corner."

"Now, my lady," said Le Sage quietly, "when I shout 'Ride,' jump to it. No shooting. Ride-butts will do our business."

"Good. Fall in outside—the six of you."

"Carry on, Langeac, and good luck to you. The Kaid and Ralsul think Riccoli is not going to double-cross them until the rest of his column arrives. And as they don't connect me with Riccoli's show at all

"I think we shall bring it off without firing a shot."

"Got it all clear? I go and collar the Kaid and Ralsul—before they collar me; and you settle all strategic points meanwhile, main gate, magazine, store-houses, water-tank, barracks, and all exits and entrances—gently relieving all sentries and substituting our own. Unless Maligni is playing a game of his own, the pass-word is 'Sheh-han.' And I doubt if in the absence of the Kaid and Ralsul, you'll meet with any opposition. Everybody will be too flabbergasted—especially as you have the pass-word."

The two officers shook hands. "Good-bye, sir," smiled Langeac. "But I shall meet you again within the hour, at the flag-staff on the Sultan Tower."

Le Sage joined his chosen six. "Now follow me, in single file," he ordered, "and step like—er—hallet-girls."

A few minutes later, at the foot of a flight of winding stairs, Le Sage signalled his men to halt and gather round him.

"Listen," he said, "and make no mistake. There may be some thing, if so, let no man fire a shot until I do. If I use my revolver, then shoot. Or, if we're fired at, fire back. But if possible, I want there to be no noise. Understand, Belléme?"

"We're going to capture the Kaid, and unless we have been betrayed, it will be an easy job. If we have been betrayed, it will be our last job. Come on."

At the top of the winding stairs, the party was met by a short, stout, Moorish-looking man in hooded cloak who held a whispered conference with Le Sage.

"It's all right," whispered the Señor Pedro Maligni. "I sent M'hommé Ali el Amin off to his quarters, with a fair order from the Kaid. Also, the Officer of the Guard, Langeac will find that they'll sleep pretty heavily tonight."

"There will be nobody in the private audience-chamber when I admit you. And no one will come with the Kaid except myself, Abu Talib Zerhoun, and Ibrahim the Lion. Your men can deal with them? Good!"

"And Ralsul?" asked Le Sage. "Ralsul's with Jules. Ralsul, too, is going to sleep soundly tonight! It is about time you got into the audience-room."

"Lead on," said Le Sage. Having climbed another stair, and traversed several passages, the party, guided by the Señor Pedro Maligni, halted at a small and heavy door, set in a thick stone wall. This, the latter unlocked, and with a warning gesture that commanded caution and silence, led the way into a small octagonal room, furnished, as to the walls, with deep cushioned divans and silken hangings.

Opposite a kind of throne was a semi-circle of seats of European origin, arranged so that people having private audiences of the Kaid might be seated face to face with him, and facing him from a lower level.

"Stand here," whispered Maligni to Le Sage, indicating the settee, "as though you were going to take your place on the divan as soon as the Kaid is seated on the throne. Now then, the men must hide."

Señor Pedro Maligni waited by another small door opposite to the one by which they had entered. He took stock of the room.

"That's all right," he said. "I can see no one but you. I'll go for the Kaid, locking the door behind me. The Kaid himself has the only other key. He'll unlock the door, and probably lead the way into the room, followed by Ibrahim the Lion and Abu Talib Zerhoun."

"It will be supposed that I am following—and that the four of us, headed by Ibrahim the Lion, will deal with you when the moment comes. But instead of following, I shall stand aside, and when the three have entered the room, I shall quietly close the door, lock it from without, and leave the key in the lock."

"When you hammer on the door, four double knocks, I shall know that all is well, and will open it."

"Now, my lady," said Le Sage quietly, "when I shout 'Ride,' jump to it. No shooting. Ride-butts will do our business."

"Good. Fall in outside—the six of you."

"Carry on, Langeac, and good luck to you. The Kaid and Ralsul think Riccoli is not going to double-cross them until the rest of his column arrives. And as they don't connect me with Riccoli's show at all
