Children of the unemployed will get their "break" tomorrow at the Daily News-La Nora Easter egg hunt at Harvester park.

There is much talk of the need for world cooperation. And while not doing much of it himself, the West Foster grouches says that a little more local cooperation wouldn't do any harm.

Truly, normalcy must be on the way—the people are no longer turning the ins out at every occasion.

When it quits blowing, why not paint the street signs which cannot, in many instances, be read?

And whether it quits blowing or not, why not make the Santa Fe crossing on Cuyler street a little more passable for comfort of motorists?

William Russell Clark, editor of the Memphis Democrat, has written his own serial story. How we envy those weekly newspaper men who can turn to fiction when there's no real news.

We conclude that cigars are designed to be smoked, instead of equipped with motors and made to fly.

If beer builds great quartets, will singers quit reaching for Luckies henceforward?

It's a coincidence for the harmony boys that it really soon will be "In the Good Old Summer Time."

THIS GAME OF CHESS Charlie Guy Lubock Avalanche columnist, wrote this week as follows:

"During the past several years, newspapers everywhere have gone in for promotion. Traveling road shows, baseball tournaments, Santa Claus parades, and a number of other events have been sponsored by the press—here and elsewhere.

"But the Pampa News gets the palm; it's setting the pace. The boys up there are going to sponsor a chess tournament!"

AND WHY NOT? Chess is an ancient and honorable game. It requires concentration and patience. In a way, that sounds like fishing, but Cecil P. Buckler rises to point out the difference. You can—allegedly—fish without much thinking (sort of instinctively) but chess requires brain cell reaction. Yessir! and he's right. We read up on it. We went to the public library and browsed through ratty volumes. Quite a game, chess.

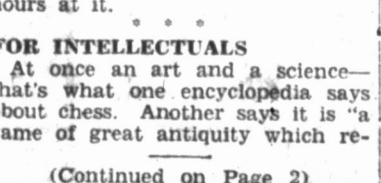

ANCESTORS PLAYED IT Chess is older than recorded history. It probably originated in China. The slant-eyed Honorable Fathers smoked their pipes over it before the time of Christ. Travelers carried the game to India and Persia a few hundred years later.

Arab warriors came across it and liked it. Next, in more modern times, Old England took it up and kings and peasants alike spent hours at it.

FOR INTELLECTUALS At once an art and a science—that's what one encyclopedia says about chess. Another says it is a game of great antiquity which re-

LAST CONTEST OVER HER LIFE STARTS TODAY

'YOU DIRTY COWARD,' SHE SHOUTS AT CAMERAMAN

JURY BEING SELECTED

'I DON'T LIKE THAT COAT,' SHE SNAPS AT MATRONS

FLORENCE, Arizona, April 14.—Winnie Ruth Judd came from her cell in a nervous mood today for the beginning of probably the last legal contest over her life—a hearing in Pinal county court to establish whether she is insane.

If a jury of 12 men, drawing of which started at 10 a. m., finds she is deranged mentally, she will be committed to the Arizona hospital for insane instead of forfeiting her life next Friday on the gallows for killing Agnes Anne Lerol, in the so-called "trunk murder" case.

Having spent a night of unrest, with periods of hysteria, the 28-year-old condemned woman's nerves and temper appeared stretched to the breaking point when she was summoned from the woman's ward of the Arizona state prison.

She resisted efforts of matrons to put on her coat.

"I don't like that coat," she snapped. "I never want to see that coat again."

Finally, she calmed somewhat and the coat was placed about her shoulders.

When she entered the court room after the short drive from the prison in Warden A. G. Walker's automobile, a measure of composure had been restored but her face twitched and she frowned convulsively at frequent intervals.

Because of the terrific sandstorm, the crowds last night were comparatively small, but interest did not lag, and the appearance of

Revival services conducted at three churches, the First Baptist, the Christian, and the Methodist, will be climaxed on Easter Sunday, when large crowds are expected to participate in worship at these and at other local churches.

Methods of bagging and shipping carbon black and the prices of the various types were discussed. Copies of the papers will be available to members of the A. P. I. in a few days. They were of such interest that many extra copies are being prepared. The carbon black industry is one of the largest in the Panhandle.

Wheat damaged by storm, frost. Last night's frost did great damage in the Pampa area. It was reported this morning. Fruit trees in blossom suffered the worst wheat, that was left in the ground after the Panhandle's worst sand storm yesterday, was black and wilted. This morning, farmers said today. Flowers, trees, and shrubs were also badly damaged.

The temperature at Pampa dropped to 28 degrees between 1 p. m. and 1:30 a. m., when a steady rise started. A cold north wind continued to blow across the plains this morning but at noon the bright sun had partially driven away the cold. Wheat was priced at 43 cents a bushel, top price, here this morning. It is expected that the price will rise higher Tuesday, when the market opens again. Local elevator men believe the Panhandle frost will tend to send the price up.

Damage to the wheat crop in this area, from wind and frost, was estimated by some at more than 50 per cent this morning.

RUSSIANS TESTIFY ENGLISHMEN GAVE THEM BRIBES TO DAMAGE MACHINERY IN PLANTS

The last charge was made by A. T. Lobanov, chief of the electrical department of the Ivanovo power station. Lobanov is also a defendant in this trial.

Nordwell's name was brought into the proceedings for the first time when this witness told of the $2,500 bribe. Lobanov said he had entertained anti-Soviet ideas and that he had complained to Nordwell about the low living standards in this country.

"If you want to improve your condition," he said Nordwell told him, "you must act now. You must cause important damage so that Russia will have to spend more gold. Above all you must be sure that this power plant is paralyzed in case of war."

REVIVALS BEING HELD BY THREE CITY CHURCHES

Large Crowds Will Attend Easter Services

Revival services conducted at three churches, the First Baptist, the Christian, and the Methodist, will be climaxed on Easter Sunday, when large crowds are expected to participate in worship at these and at other local churches.

Clothing Stores To Remain Open In City Tonight

Tonight will be "Down Town, Shoppers Night" for Pampa men and women when Pampa's dry goods and ready-to-wear stores will be open.

Plans have been made for the showing when clerks and store owners and managers will be anxious to show what is new for Easter. Many people have said that little opportunity was afforded for a husband and wife to go shopping together, at a time when they could take all the time necessary to decide on purchases. Tonight has been provided for that purpose. Merchants will place emphasis on the leisurely showing of the new clothes for Easter, Spring and Summer wear.

Pampa stores have an even wider variety of selections for this season than in previous years. Buying was done when business in the wholesale markets was at a low ebb, allowing better selections and purchases at the lowest prices. These savings in wholesale cost are being passed on to the Pampa buyers.

Make tonight an evening of shopping pleasure. You will enjoy seeing what is new. The wide selections in Pampa stores will surprise you.

Maladin Jury Is Unable To Agree

The jury which started deliberating the case of Mike Maladin, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock was still out at the same hour this afternoon and appeared hopelessly deadlocked. The jury reported that it was unable to agree this morning but Judge W. R. Ewing sent them back to deliberate some more.

Arguments in the case of Edward "Cowboy" Esham, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale, started at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

It was not known at the time whether another jury could be selected later in the afternoon. Another case was on call.

TEXAS ROADS WATCHED FOR TWO BROTHERS

BELIEVE TEXANS SHOT WAY TO FREEDOM IN MISSOURI

CLYDE BARROW WANTED FOR SLAYING OF DAVIS

DALLAS, April 14.—Heavily armed officers were watching all roads leading into Dallas today for Clyde Barrow and his brother, Buck, wanted for questioning in the slaying of two Joplin, Mo., officers in a gunfight at Joplin yesterday.

The slayers' car was last seen in Missouri heading south and the sheriff's department believed that Clyde Barrow, wanted for several slayings in Texas, was heading for his one-time rendezvous in West Dallas. The officers were certain that the Barrow brothers were the men who shot their way to freedom through a canyon of Joplin police.

Clyde Barrow was known to have made the statement that he never would be taken alive and in the last year frequently had narrowly avoided capture. He visited his West Dallas home several times.

The latest crime for which he was sought was the slaying of Malcolm Davis, deputy sheriff of (Port Worth) Tarrant county, in West Dallas when he and other officers raided a house in search of Odeli Chambless, former companion, with Raymond Hamilton, of Clyde Barrow.

J. W. (Wee) Harryman, 41, constable, fell dead at the first exchange of shots. Harry McGinnis, Joplin detective, died from his wounds. The two men, whom police said they suspected of robbery, and a woman, escaped in a motor car.

Police, searching the house from which the officers were fired on, reported finding a pardon, issued March 20, 1933, by Governor Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson of Texas, and made out to Ivy (Buck) Barrow, Dallas officers, in telephone conversation with local police, said it was their belief the two men were Buck Barrow and his brother, Clyde Barrow.

Clyde Fathere Is New Rexall Chief

After naming and installing Clyde Fathere, Pampa, president, the Texas Rexall club adjourned its two-day convention at the Texas hotel.

Other officers elected are Knox Pittard, vice president, Anson, L. H. Irvine, vice president, Marshall Webb Mading, vice president, Houston, and E. T. Renfro, secretary and treasurer. Fort Worth. Renfro was re-elected for his fourteenth term.

Gordon Mackey, temple, retiring president, announced that enrollment figures, which passed the 400 mark, had broken all previous records for a Rexall convention in Texas. He said that he was pleased with that attendance as it indicated that druggists were alert to the need of the times.—Star-Telegram.

BRITONS DENY EVERY CHARGE, LOOKING WITNESSES IN THE EYE AS THEY TESTIFY.

MOSCOW, April 14.—Russian testimony to support charges of bribery and sabotage was presented today at the trial of six British engineers accused of these high crimes against the Soviet state.

One witness told of taking a bribe of $1,500 from L. O. Thornton, one of the defendants. Another said he had been paid $500 by William H. MacDonald, another of the accused, to deliver plans for a power plant in the Urals. A third Russian witness said Charles Nordwell, had paid him $2,500 and given him a fur coat to damage a turbine at the Ivanovo power plant.

Lobanov recounted the conversation in detail, but Nordwell himself denied every word of it. Speaking Russian fluently but with a pronounced accent, the blond Englishman stood shoulder to shoulder with his accuser in front of the judge.

"I never gave him any money, I never said a word to him about damage or about war," Nordwell said. "Now let me tell you about that fur coat."

EGGS COOKED AND DYED IN PREPARATION FOR BIG EASTER EGG HUNT HERE ON SATURDAY

ALL arrangements have been completed and the eggs cooked and dyed for the Pampa Daily NEWS-La Nora theater Easter egg hunt for children of the unemployed at 2 p. m. Saturday at Harvester park.

All the children must do is to obtain their free ticket from the Welfare Board and be at the park promptly at 2 p. m. Saturday. Children of 14 years and under, with proper tickets, will be admitted by the Boy Scouts who will help hold the eggs and handle the traffic.

One hundred plain white eggs will bear the signature of George Lime-rick, manager of La Nora theater and finders will be admitted to the theater Saturday afternoon, Sunday or Monday on presentation of the autographed eggs.

The eggs were cooked and dyed through cooperation of the Baker Parent-Teacher association, home economics classes and Miss Angela Strnad of Pampa high school, the Campfire Girls, and many individuals. At Baker school, hundreds of children colored eggs with crayolas and water colors, making many clever designs. Nearly half of the eggs were cooked at the De Luxe cleaners plant, and as many were received already cooked at the La Nora egg matinee Wednesday afternoon.

In order that tiny tots may not be pushed aside by older children, a special section will be set aside for them at the park. Holding of the egg hunt for children of the unemployed was launched with the encouragement of the Kiwanis club which was not able to hold its annual hunt for the entire community. The clubmen expect to resume their community-wide hunt in 1934.

BLEEDING PENITENTS MARCHING TO OWN CALVARY IN NEW MEXICO TODAY—ONE CARRIES A CROSS

ALBUQUERQUE, April 14.—Hidden away in the mountain fastnesses of New Mexico, Los Hermanos Penitente (the Brothers of the Penitents) today enacted with earnest realism the drama of Christ's crucifixion.

The Penitents Brothers are supposed to have degenerated from a pioneer Franciscan order into blood-thirstiness. The penitents spent Holy Week fasting, chanting Spanish dirges, marching repeatedly over cactus and flinging each other with jagged whips of yucca. This afternoon, blood streaming down their baked backs, they will proceed to their Calvary. One of their number carries a cross. He is gashed in the side, then crucified—but with ropes, not nails, as once was done.

While most of the children of the world observed Good Friday with prayer, fasting and church attendance, this strange offshoot of Christianity re-enacted the crucifixion in secret and under heavy guard.

In Taos and Rio Arriba counties in the northern part of the state, in small mountain villages along the

Registration Of Jobless Resumed

Registration of Pampa's unemployed was resumed this morning at the Welfare board office in the basement of the city hall. Registration forms were received yesterday afternoon and all unemployed men who have not registered are urged to do so at once.

Only 115 forms were received originally and more had to be ordered. Registration is a part of the president's relief program so that names and occupations of all unemployed will be available.

Work on the swimming pool was resumed this morning by a full force of men. It was impossible for the men to work yesterday during the sand storm. The bath houses, entrance and life guards stand are being constructed. Most of the concrete walks around the pool have also been laid.

Digging of the ditch for the gas line to the pool was started this morning. Work on the fence and other minor jobs will be carried on next week.

F. F. Kelley of Skellytown underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital last night.

AND A SMILE SHILOH, Ill.—Richard Stauffer, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stauffer, is recovering from injuries received when a 10-year-old rooster knocked him down and pecked him in the face. The rooster has been served for dinner.

SUBMISSION OF AMENDMENT IS TO BE DECIDED

HOUSE FAVORS STATE REFERENDUM ON BEER ISSUE

SENATE IS DEADLOCKED

WETS UNABLE TO GET ENOUGH VOTES TO CONSIDER IT

AUSTIN, April 14.—The Texas house of representatives voted this afternoon to submit to the electorate the proposition of whether the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer should be legalized. The vote was 34 to 6.

AUSTIN, April 14.—An agreement whereby the house of the Texas legislature would submit to the voters a constitutional amendment to permit sale of 3.2 per cent beer and also pass a bill legalizing beer by statute was negotiated by the two factions this afternoon.

AUSTIN, April 14.—The house voted today 90 to 52, to resolve itself into a committee of the whole to consider submission of a proposed constitutional amendment to legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

Kiwanis Official And Amarilloans Visit Here Today

Joyner Cole, lieutenant-governor of the Kiwanis club in this district, visited the Pampa club today and extended an invitation to all the members to attend the international convention in Los Angeles this year. Part of the invitation was given in the form of a phonograph record which told of plans already completed for the convention.

Mr. Cole was accompanied to Pampa by Fred Galle, Bill Wallace, Neal Singleton, Fay Means and L. S. Swan of the Amarillo club. A business meeting was held immediately following the regular luncheon with the club officers, directors and chairman of the various committees, and the lieutenant-governor attending.

The Pampa club was complimented for a good attendance record during the month of March. The Vega club won the attendance prize with 100 per cent attendance for the entire past month.

Fred Thompson gave an interesting and educational talk on "Easter." He told of the origin and observance of Easter by all the Christian nations.

Fred Cullum "cured" a sufferer of many ailments with a bottle containing a liquid representing the new "three-and-two." His subject immediately regained health and began to "swell up" after a few sips of the beverage.

The Pampa club has accepted a challenge from the Amarillo club for a golf match to be played in the near future. All golfers in the club are asked to turn in their names to Edwin Vickers, Max Mahaffey or Bill Lang.

Visitors today besides the ones from Amarillo included C. O. Drew, Wayne Ferris, C. H. Wiker and J. M. Kearns.

I SAW Mrs. Carr chasing her "May Foreman" Carr School of "Music" sign down North Cuyler during a particularly strong gust of wind yesterday morning.

This little ditty: "Three-point-two Lager Brew Oh, but what that brew can do! Here anybody seen my galton?"

And in that connection, Dr. V. E. von Brunow, whose interest in the brew is only curiosity, said the 3.2 beer is flat and too new.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—House leaders and post office officials agreed at a conference with President Roosevelt today on a reduction in local letter postage to two cents, with authority for the president to raise or lower the postal rates generally.

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 14.—The non-rigid dirigible J-3 was about to make a forced landing because one of her motors was about to drop off when she fell into the sea and was not wrecked by the weather while returning from a search for Akron survivors April 4, one of her crew told a naval investigating board today.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A bill to prohibit railroads and pipeline from carrying in interstate commerce oil produced in violation of state laws or regulations was introduced today by Representative Marland (D., Okla.).

MOSCOW, April 14.—A. W. Gregory, a little red-headed Welshman on trial with five other British engineers for sabotage and espionage, startled the capacity audience at the trial tonight when, goaded by the accusations of a Russian witness, he demanded the right to defend himself.

CHURCHES

Old Sol this morning, combined with the clear day and the forecast for fair weather on Sunday, brightened the outlook for highly successful services this evening as well as on Easter day.

Speaks on Confession

The Rev. John S. Mullen spoke in the Christian church last evening on confessing Christ. He said:

"We confess Christ with our mouth by stating our belief that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. We confess Him by our baptism. We confess Him in the hymns we sing. We confess Him in the Lord's supper. We confess Him in the lives we live every day. We confess Him in the prayers we pray and in attendance at the worship of the church."

The subject for tonight will be Obedience to Christ. The motto of the week has been "Hear about Christ," and each sermon has pertained to this subject.

"Life's Truest Beauty"

At the Methodist church the Rev. C. A. Long made an appeal to Christian life on the basis of service. The theme being "The truest beauty of life results when a person gives himself in service for others." Supt. R. B. Fisher sang a solo, the theme of which was "Confidence."

There were four accessions to the church.

Dr. Yates Heard Twice

Dr. G. L. Yates, pastor of the First Baptist church of Amarillo, spoke yesterday morning on the dependence of the Christian upon the Holy Spirit, and in the evening he discussed the Holy Spirit's work for the sinner.

Yesterday morning Dr. Yates used as his text the following passage: "I tell you the truth, it is expedient for you that I go away. For if I do not go away, the Spirit will not come unto you, but if I depart I will send Him unto you. When He, the Spirit of Truth, is come, He will guide you unto all truth, for He shall not speak of Himself, but whatsoever He hear that shall be spoken, and He will show you things to come. He shall glorify me for He shall receive of my mind and show it unto you." The speaker said: "We are dependent upon the Holy Spirit for the assurance of our salvation, for guidance and direction, to help us understand the Bible, and in the matter of prayer, to help us thru to God."

Discusses Sinner

At the evening hour Dr. Yates used as his text the 16th chapter of John, beginning with the eighth verse. The substance of his message follows: "The Holy Spirit's work is first to convict the sinner of his sin, and no one is really saved until this has taken place. The Spirit will convict the world of its quires more intellectual power than any other game of skill." It can be played by two persons, and by consent can have several counselors each. A checker board of 64 positions is used. There are eight pieces and eight pawns. Chess players talk of rooks, bishops, kings, and knights. It is their purpose to build up such a situation that at the next move they may win by check-mating their opponent with an attack from which there is no escape. It neither does the chess game. Chess cultivates the memory and reason and develops a geometrical "sense." Experts think many moves ahead and can play many matches at one time without hesitation. In informal play, no limit as to amount of concentration in each move is usually made, but in the public play for the Pampa Daily NEWS tournament a 3-minute limit to each move will be made. After the local intellectuals have their chess tournament, they will tackle the mental giant of other towns. And if you think chess is easy and trivial, try it just once. Your great, great, great, great, great, granddaddy was a shark at it, probably; you too might be.

NEW TEXAS ALMANAC

Always welcome is each new Texas Almanac.

Many new features are contained in the Texas Almanac and State Industrial Guide for 1933, which has just been issued by The Dallas News. There are more than 1,000 articles, statistical tables, illustrations and maps, answering between 50,000 and 100,000 questions about Texas. Every phase of Texas' economic, political and civic development is covered, including farming and live stock, manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, population, railroads, aviation, highways and automobiles, motor transportation, inland waterways, minerals and mining, government and names of State, district and county officials, education, conservation and numerous other subjects.

A large folded sheet between the leaves of the volume carries political and railroad map on one side and highway map on the other. These maps were made especially for the Texas Almanac and are up to date and accurate. As one runs through the leaves of the volume one comes across such interesting miscellaneous articles as Historic Landmarks of Texas, Archeological Research in Texas, noteworthy Texas Caves, the Program for State Parks, Health Resorts and Places of Recreation, Arts and Artists, Libraries, Old Cattle Trails, Boundary Disputes, Kinds of Salt and Fresh Water Fish Found in Texas, Home Canning and Farm Terracing and Home Tenantry.

While many new articles have been included, the chapters of information that have become standard in the Texas Almanac are retained, completely revised and enlarged. There are more than 7,000 names of individuals in the book. Especial attention is given to historical features, particularly those of importance in connection with the tentative plans for a centennial celebration. The volume this year fully up to its reputation of being the "Encyclopedia of Texas." Incidentally, a review of its contents reveals a marvelous amount of development in the Lone Star State, even during the last few years of business stagnation.

FLIGHT POSTPONED

AKRON, O., April 14. (AP)—Shifting winds today caused a second postponement of the maiden flight of the navy's newest dreadnaught of the air, the S. S. Macon, twin of the late Akron.

J. E. Drummond of Wichita Falls is a Pampa visitor.

He will conduct for righteousness. He will also need of judgment, because the Prince of this world hath been judged." He convicts the sinner that he is giving his life to the biggest liar and cheat in the world—to the devil. Only the Spirit of God can take the Kingliness of Christ and reveal to the sinner this Kingliness. And what does the sinner do? He turns his back on sin and turns believably to the Lord Jesus, and the great transactions is done."

Frank Mehrtorf of Tulsa was in the city yesterday.

C. B. Hansley of Oklahoma City was a Pampa visitor today.

Miss Garnett Christopher of Laketon underwent a serious operation at Pampa hospital yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. May White was operated on at Pampa hospital this morning.

Mrs. John Hessey was able to leave Pampa hospital yesterday.

Many To Attend Stroope Funeral Here Tomorrow

Long-time residents of the Panhandle from many towns, including Miami, Dalhart, Mobeetie, Wheeler, McLean, Amarillo, and others, were today preparing to attend the funeral of James L. Stroope, pioneer citizen who died yesterday. Last rites will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church under the direction of Malone funeral home with the Rev. C. E. Lancaster in charge. Burial will follow in Pampa cemetery.

Mr. Stroope, cowboy and trail-driver of the old west, had lived in this section 52 years. He had been ill four months. His immediate survivors include his wife and a daughter, Donnie Lee.

Honorary pallbearers announced today include the following: Judge Ewing Siler Faulkner, Ben Talley, A. G. McKay, L. E. Lynch, Stratford, Henry Lovett, Henry Lippold, Dave Pope, Claude Ledrick, Lee Ledrick, Jim Sutton, George Ely, Dalhart; Milo O'Loughlin and N. S. Locke, Miami; Walter Davis, Har-ley Talley, Bill Bender, Jim Short, Sam McCullough, John Champan, T. D. Hobart, Clarence Bowers, Miami; Charlie McMahan, Joe Shelton, John Tate, B. C. Priest, and C. S. Barrett.

BEER BILL

would legalize manufacture and sale by statute, which had been pending since 1907. The proposition would be submitted in the form on an amendment to the state constitution, which would be held for the next election. The proposal will be considered by the house sitting as a committee of the whole. Proponents of outright legalization by statute charged it was a move of opponents of the law to delay the determination of the issue. Texas has both constitutional and statutory prohibition. Some legislators have contended that the constitution would have to be amended before the sale of beer could be effected. They said the courts might take the case across the "intoxicating" thus knocking out a law considered in contravention to the constitution that prohibited the manufacture and sale of "intoxicants."

Mathis and other sponsors of the beer legislation took the lead in pushing for prompt disposal of the amendment resolution. Several of the prohibition faction urged that action be not so speedy, stating the house was going too fast.

Mathis moved that readers of the resolution be required under the rules be dispensed with. The motion carried and Mathis then moved that the resolution be reported favorably to the house without delay. Before his motion could be put, the house recessed for lunch. The resolution originally provided for submission of the 32 percent beer amendment and the ratification of repeal of the eighteenth amendment at the same election, but this part was struck out by agreement of both factions.

Mathis moved early in the morning that the resolution be dispensed with so that the house could start at once to consider the beer bill. His motion was not recognized and the proposal that the house resolve itself into a committee of the whole was made before he could again obtain a recognition of the speaker.

Mrs. May White was operated on at Pampa hospital this morning.

Mrs. John Hessey was able to leave Pampa hospital yesterday.

GOOD FRIDAY

Rio Grande and even in the nearby Santa mountains the penitence procession moved to the appointed place to worship and do penance in their own way.

said a bribe of 3,000 rubles (about $1,500) was given him by L. C. Thornton, one of the British defendants. Dolgov said he considered this a bribe to influence him to conceal a defect in the machinery being installed in Russia by the Metropolitan-Vickers company of England, which employed the defendants. The money was given to him in Thornton's office in June, 1932, Dolgov said.

Thornton then was called upon the stand in the prisoners' box. He admitted giving the money to Dolgov but declared it was given as a loan. He said Dolgov requested it in order to buy an apartment for himself and promised to return the money.

Allen Monkhouse, chief of the Metropolitan-Vickers staff in Russia and one of the defendants, then was called to testify. He insisted Thornton gave the money as a loan. He added: "Dolgov never returned it and we wrote it off finally as a gift."

The White Cockatoo

By Mignon G. Eberhart
SYNOPSIS: Sue Tally, an American girl, is the only guest in a summer hotel in Southern France. He distrusts the manager, Lovschlem, and finds the hotel itself an eerie place filled with disconcerting noises — most of them caused by the mistral, blowing relentlessly out of the north. Then Sue Tally is awakened from a doze by Sue Tally's knocking on his door. She has escaped an abductor; he calms her, and goes to the lobby for the key she had forgotten. The key is gone; returning he stumbles over a bloody corpse. Sue has disappeared; Lovschlem appears and is reluctant to call the police.

SUNDEAN'S DANGER

I KNEW Lovschlem lied when he said he did not know the dead man.

"You'd better call the police then," I said.

Lovschlem, satisfied that I had accepted his word, was leaning over the man again.

"Ho — look here. Someone's robbed him. Pockets emptied, nothing anywhere." His hands no longer shrank; they were instead ghoulishly eager in their search. It was as if Lovschlem expected to find something that had been overlooked. If so, he failed, for presently he looked at me again. This time his eyes were angry and little and vicious. He said: "Who are you?"

Later I was to ponder over that crazy inquiry. Then it enraged me; I was angry, shaken, tired, cold, and I was still in the grip of a nightmarish experience.

"You know very well who I am. If you are innocent of this affair, call the police at once. If you don't, I will. Keep your hands off that man!"

I had spoken too late. He had dragged out the knife and was holding it up into the stream of light so we both could see it. It was

"What is it? For the love of God—"

"Grethe — hush!" Lovschlem's voice smothered the woman's cry. I whirled.

It was a woman, now, kneeling by the murdered man. A woman in a yellow shawl whose fringes dropped from her shoulders. Her red hair was drawn in a great knot at the back of her neck.

Lovschlem, the dagger still held carefully between two fat fingers, left me and advanced quickly to ward her. I followed him and saw her turn her horrified face up to ward him and heard her gasp: "So, you've killed him."

By that time he had bent over her, and I could not see past his bulk. I could, however, hear his voice.

"He was found dead on the landing, here. I do not know who he is. I am just going to call the police. This man with me found him."

He turned to me: "My wife can go and telephone for the police, since you insist."

The red-haired woman, then, was Madame Lovschlem. I could see her now as she rose. She clutched the yellow shawl about her. The tight folds hugged her full breast and narrow waist and curving hips; even at the moment I was conscious, as a man is, of a kind of attraction about her.

In the very act of rising she had caught sight of the dagger with its ominous wet stain. Her shining eyes fastened on it, and widened, and held their gaze so fixedly that both Lovschlem and I looked at it, too. But she did not scream. She did not make any motion of fright. She said finally:

"Lovschlem, you're a fool." (Copyright, 1931, Mignon G. Eberhart)

Madame Lovschlem conceals a hurried scheme of her own, tomorrow.

"Call them at once." He was visibly disconcerted. He stared at me and then took another step toward me peering into my face.

"Who are you?" he said again. Again, somehow, the question touched off my smouldering fury. I stepped quickly nearer.

"I had spoken too late. He had dragged out the knife and was holding it up into the stream of light so we both could see it. It was dark, and a slow drop was forming on it. But it wasn't a knife at all. It was a small dagger like a toy sword. It was a toy sword, and I had seen one like it only a little before.

Lovschlem recognized it, too. He got heavily to his feet. I preceded him, however, into my room, and we both stood at the fireplace staring at the bronze clock. The little bronze soldier's gauntleted hand was empty, and the sword was in Lovschlem's fat hand. Or at least, I thought, a sword just like it.

But Lovschlem dispelled my sprouting hope of that at once. He said with just a gleam of ugly triumph:

"THERE'S only one like it in the house. No, Mr. Sundean, you were very stupid about it. More stupid than I should have believed of you, for you've the face of an intelligent man. But you killed him."

There are things that leave you so stunned that for just a moment you feel numb—as if suspended in a void. The thing that was so unreal and made everything else unreal was his accusation.

"And you want me to call the police," he added, with what approached a smile.

It was still difficult to speak. But all at once things were real enough. A sudden memory had come to me with all the reviving influence of a stream of icy water. Sue Tally had stood there, almost where Lovschlem was now standing, holding that sword and running her pink fingers along its sharp edge and saying that it was like a dagger.

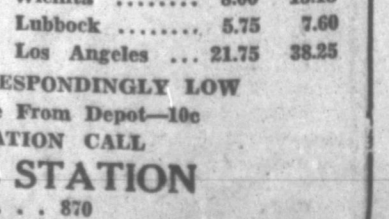

Then I had left her alone in the room. I had gone through the long corridors to the lobby, and from it I had seen her figure cross the light from my door and vanish into the

T. D. Hobart Opens Historical Society Museum At Canyon

HUNDREDS IN COLLEGE CITY FOR PAGEANT

PIONEERS' BANQUET TO BE ATTENDED BY 258 PERSONS

CANYON, April 14.—At twelve o'clock today an ancient cannon, which in earlier days boomed the signal of victory against savage foes, was fired to announce a peacetime victory and the formal opening of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum. President T. D. Hobart of Pampa turned the key and opened the doors of the beautiful building to the public for the first time, and for a few moments officers of the society and members of the building committee will receive the throngs who come.

Hundreds of guests are in Canyon for the first session which began in the College auditorium at 10 o'clock with a pageant depicting the life of the plains from the earliest days to the present. The pageant was a student production, with Miss Hattie M. Anderson, Miss Edna Graham, Miss Angie Debo, Miss Mary Morgan Brown, C. W. Batchelder and S. H. Condon of the faculty of the Canyon college as advisors.

Immediately after the pageant, Judge H. E. Hoover, of Canadian, chairman of the Museum Building Committee delivered an address. The Sweetwater chuck wagon, in charge of Jake Hendricks, will be on the grounds serving coffee from early morning. At noon a chuck wagon dinner will be served all who come at a nominal price, according to Professor L. F. Shetty. The old chuck wagon, which is covered with brands and which saw service on the DZ range in the 80's was one of the interesting sights of the day.

At 2:30 the annual business session was to be held. This is open to the public. The final report of the building committee, election of three directors, and other business will be transacted, with T. D. Hobart, president, in charge of the session. Here the story of the raising of the funds for the building of the museum will be told.

Last day changes in the seating arrangement for the banquet were made necessary by the great numbers who will attend, and 258 guests will assemble in Cousins Hall for the culminating event of the day. Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell will give the principal address which will be in dedication of the Museum.

J. Everett Haley, of Austin, first field secretary of the society, will speak on "The Lure of the Soil." W. H. Patrick, Clarendon, and J. A. Hill, of Canyon, appear in welcome and response, and Hermon Pipkin of Amarillo is toastmaster. The program will be varied by cowboy songs sung by Wallace R. Clark and violin numbers by Herschel Coffey.

Guests from every section of the Plains and the state will be present for the day's programs celebrate the successful completion of a building project which hundreds of people pronounced impossible.

There are ten players in the major leagues this year 40 years of age or over. Jack Quinn of Brooklyn, about 51, is the dean of them all.

FEDERAL SAVINGS SYSTEM AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS ARE URGED

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—Creation of a permanent system of federal savings and loan associations as well as an emergency $2,000,000,000 corporation to refinance home mortgages would be authorized under a bill recommended to congress yesterday by President Roosevelt.

The bill would authorize subscription of $100,000,000 by the government for setting up a permanent system of federal associations "to provide mutual thrift institutions in which people may place their savings and invest their funds, and in order to provide for the financing of homes."

These institutions would be in the nature of building and loan associations, but the bill provides they should not be established in any community unless the home loan bank board feels such community "is insufficiently served by mutual thrift and home-financing institutions."

Emergency provisions of the bill for refinancing existing home mortgages are drafted along the lines of the pending agricultural refinancing measure and are designed to save thousands of city home owners who are burdened with debts. An urban home loan corporation would be created under the federal home loan board with a capitalization of $200,000,000 subscribed by the federal government. Funds would be obtained through the reconstruction corporation.

The home loan corporation would be authorized to issue tax exempt bonds up to $2,000,000,000 at four per cent interest, which would be exchanged for existing mortgages. The government would guarantee the interest but not the principal. Bonds exchanged for mortgages would be limited to 80 per cent of the value of the mortgaged home, as appraised by the corporation. Refinancing would be limited to homes valued at $10,000 or less, occupied by not more than three families.

Any mark down in the face value of the debt accepted by the mortgagee would be credited to the mortgagor.

The home owner would amortize his debt to the corporation within 15 years, with interest at 5 per cent. The board would have authority to grant a three-year extension of time for payment of principal or interest.

Roosevelt To Move Soon To Protect Wages, Make Jobs

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—A double-bladed attack on deflation will be made soon by President Roosevelt, with moves to preserve wage scales and provide new jobs.

The president listened sympathetically last night to proposals of American labor for a huge public works construction program, involving a bond issue of four to six billions, and including a minimum wage clause in the prospective shorter work week legislation.

Besides considering these proposals, Mr. Roosevelt is looking hopefully to his recommendations now before congress to ease the debt burden on agriculture and small home owners as forward steps in the reconstruction program, now aimed more definitely at checking deflation.

The president has virtually completed a plan for a bond issue of several billions to finance new public construction. He was represented last night as ready to consider a federal minimum wage scale in the impending legislation to spread work by shorter hours.

Blanton then quoted Turner's letter pledging 10 per cent of his salary, if appointed, to the democratic campaign. "As I understand our national headquarters are expecting each one appointed to pledge a per cent," and adding that, if he received the appointment, he was going to bestow on Blanton a gift of $500 "in return of your favor."

Blanton replied, "your proposal is an insult to me and the democratic party. It is simply an attempt to bribe. . . in my numerous speeches made in the national campaign last year I denounced the republican practice of selling post-offices. . . I promptly showed your letter to President Roosevelt. It astounded him. He is the head of our democratic organization. He will permit no contributions to be received in return for appointments. He will allow no offices to be bought."

In a statement to the Abilene Reporter, Turner said he had acted innocently on the strength of an article published in newspapers six or seven weeks ago, stating "they were expecting each one appointed to a position to pledge a part of their salary to the campaign fund. From this I took it that it was my duty to give ten per cent to this fund; I had no reason at all for making the offer to Blanton, but I did not mean it as a bribe. Blanton is just doing this to try to help himself in future campaigns. The

ROSCOE CITIZEN SAYS REPRESENTATIVE IS PLAYING POLITICS

ABILENE, April 14. (AP)—Thos. L. Blanton, West Texas congressman, released today to newspapers of his district an exchange of letters between himself and Hubert L. Turner, Roscoe, in which Blanton charged Turner with an "attempt to bribe" in connection with the postmastership of that place.

Turner, applicant for the post, today confirmed the correspondence, denied intent to bribe, and charged Blanton with playing politics.

Under date of April 10 the congressman wrote Turner, acknowledging receipt of the Roscoe man's application with 294 endorsements, but adding, "such endorsements would have warranted me in having you appointed, but on account of the letter you wrote, you haven't a chance."

Blanton then quoted Turner's letter pledging 10 per cent of his salary, if appointed, to the democratic campaign. "As I understand our national headquarters are expecting each one appointed to pledge a per cent," and adding that, if he received the appointment, he was going to bestow on Blanton a gift of $500 "in return of your favor."

Rancher Freed In Slaying Of Wif's Friend

ELDORADO, Texas, April 14. (AP)—Tom Henderson, Schleicher county ranchman, has been acquitted of a murder charge for shooting of Alven Armentrout, ranch hand, the night of January 30.

Henderson's attorneys contended that he acted in self defense. Testimony showed that Henderson had learned of intimacy between his wife and Armentrout and had gone to him for an explanation.

The state alleged that Henderson shot Armentrout while the ranch hand was holding up his arms to protect himself from the bullets, six of which struck him. The jury returned the verdict yesterday after deliberating two hours and fifteen minutes.

Go to CHURCH on EASTER SUNDAY

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS SERVICES FOR EASTER ARE EXPECTED TO DRAW LARGE CROWDS SUNDAY

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, and there will be no afternoon or evening devotions.

—Joseph Wonderly, priest.

CATHOLIC SERVICES TO BE HELD SATURDAY AND ON SABBATH

REGARDLESS of the weather, local churches are expected to be filled with worshippers on Sunday, and the Easter hunts and parties and even the lovely new Easter togs will be forgotten in devout worship of the Risen Christ.

And if the weatherman is right in his prediction of fair weather, it is expected that record-breaking crowds will attend. The forecast: DALLAS, April 14. (AP)—Fair and moderately warm weather was forecast for Easter in Texas by the weatherman today.

Indications were that clearing weather, accompanied by rising temperatures tonight, would continue at least until late Sunday.

Following are announcements for this week-end:

HOLY SOULS CHURCH

Closing Lenten and Easter Sunday Services

The closing Lenten services will begin at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. The various ceremonies about the death of Christ by which He redeemed mankind and His glorious resurrection which proved His divinity will take place. The Blessing of the New Fire takes place first because of the complete extinction of all lights, even to the candle flames in the previous days' services, signifying Christ's departure from the earth. From this new fire the large Paschal or Easter candle is lighted, typifying the risen Savior and His grace. The smaller triple candle is also lighted typifying the Trinity. The Twelve Prophecies, that foretold to considerable length and with great detail the life of the Savior, are read. After this the holy water is blessed, and with a special ceremony in which the baptismal water is also blessed. Then follows the Litany of the Saints, petitions for help to God's chosen ones who have fought and struggled to better themselves spiritually as we must do. The mass service is started as soon as the altars are hurriedly prepared and decorated. The "Gloria" which is intoned by the celebrant and sung by the choir designates the resurrection of the Savior which the church anticipates.

The exultant alleluias which signify the joy of the people at this event are carried over in both of the mass services on Sunday, the low mass being read at 8 a. m. and the high mass sung at 10 a. m.

Confessions are being heard this evening as well as Saturday afternoon and evening in preparation for the reception of communion by the congregation on Sunday. And to facilitate matters that this important duty may not interfere with attendance at the high mass for enjoyment of the splendid efforts of the choir, communion will be distributed at 7 a. m. The Easter services will be concluded with Lord's Supper is always observed

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45, Philip Wolfe, supt. Preaching at 11 a. m. by the pastor. The theme will be appropriate for the Easter season.

At 7:45 p. m. the choir will render its Easter cantata. We invite the public generally, and especially guests, in our city for Easter to worship with us.

Young People's meetings will be held at 6:45 p. m. Missionary society, Mrs. Joe Shelton, president, meets Monday afternoon.

—C. A. Long, pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. G. L. Yates will preach at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. at the First Baptist church Sunday. The Sunday school classes will gather as usual at 9:45, and at 10:15 Dr. Yates will preach to this group. Mission Bible school will be held at 2:30 and training service at 6:45. Special Easter music will be provided under the direction of Miss Loma Groom, with Mrs. T. E. Rose playing piano accompaniments.

—C. E. Lancaster, pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Room 2 First Natl. Bank Bldg. "Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 16.

The Golden Text is from I Timothy 2: "There is one God, and one mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus."

Included with other passages to be read from the Bible will be the following from Hebrews 8: "For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people."

The lesson-sermon will also include citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy; among these will be following (p. 497): "We acknowledge Jesus' atonement as the evidence of divine, efficacious Love, unfolding man's unity with God through Christ Jesus the Way-shower; and we acknowledge that man is saved through Christ, thru Truth, Life, and Love as demonstrated by the Galilean Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin and death."

NUMEROUS EASTER HUNTS TO BE HELD THIS WEEK-END AS FUN FOR CHILDREN OF CITY

MOST CHURCHES ARE TO HAVE ONE OR MORE EVENTS

THE EASTER outlook is bright for Pampa's kiddies this year—the promise of fair weather following a most unwelcome sand storm and with plans going forward for numerous Easter hunts.

The largest event, of course, will take place tomorrow afternoon, when the Pampa Daily NEWS and La Nora theater are hosts at an Easter egg hunt for children of the unemployed. But children of the various churches also are to be guests at numerous gatherings.

Two Events Postponed

Boys and girls of the Livingstone B. T. S. and the Judson B. T. S. of the First Baptist church had planned hunts for yesterday afternoon. These events, however, were postponed because of inclement weather. New dates are to be set Sunday.

Two Church of Christ groups are to have hunts tomorrow afternoon. The intermediates, taught by Mrs. T. A. Cox, will leave the church at 3 o'clock, and the primary group, taught by Mrs. J. M. Williams, will leave at the same hour.

Several groups of the Methodist church have planned hunts. The intermediate department will meet at the church this afternoon after school for its event, and the nursery department will have its hunt at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The beginners department of the same church was to meet at the church at 3 o'clock this afternoon for a hunt, and mothers of these youngsters were to be given a party at the same time.

Hopkins Hunt Planned

The beginners department of the Hopkins Sunday school will have an Easter egg hunt next Sunday afternoon.

Beginners of the First Baptist Sunday school, Pampa, were to have their hunt this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the church.

At the Presbyterian church an Easter party will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the beginners and primary departments.

CLUB GIVEN PARTY

MIAMI, April 14. (Sp.)—The Home Progress club enjoyed a lovely party at the C. W. Boyce home Thursday afternoon. Forty-two was played.

Ends Body Odor by Removing Cause

New Way Leaves No Tell-Tale Medicine Smell

All who perspire freely know the bathing is often only temporary relief from body odor. That is because body odor is caused by stale perspiration deep in the pores. The thick, sticky lather of most ordinary toilet soaps is unsuited chemically to mix with the stale perspiration and flush it out. Instead it clogs the pores with curd.

Now research chemists give you 100% pure vegetable oil soap—Kirk's Coco Castle—that breaks into bubbly lather instantly, even in hardest water.

This bubbly lather goes deep into the pores, actually removes stale perspiration, then rinses out completely. This ends body odor at its source—the only effective way. And being odorless, it leaves a pleasant M. S. (medicine smell), to be truly its purpose.

Kirk's Coco Castle is made by the large soap makers in America. And quite amazingly it costs no more than the sweet toilet soap, although it is half again larger. On sale at a new reduced price—the lowest in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Coco by name—at your grocer's.

NEW PITCHER HURLS TWO-HIT MASTERPIECE FOR STEERS

DALLAS WINS FROM INDIANS IN 6-1 GAME

BEAUMONT TAKES 6-0 AFFAIR FROM MISSIONS

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Sal Glatto, diminutive right-hander purchased last winter by Dallas from the New Orleans Pelicans, proved himself a good buy Thursday in his first Texas league game when he limited the Oklahoma City Indians to two hits for a 6 to 1 decision.

Powerful Tom Jenkins, left fielder, whom the Houston Buffaloes looked over in the spring and transferred to Dallas with an option tag attached, endeared himself to Dallas fans when he slapped one of Vernon Kennedy's pitches over the right-center wall for a home run in the first inning with Sam Langford and Zeke Bonura on bases.

Glatto's hurling masterpiece and Jenkins' zipping smash over the wall were highlights in the opening game this year at Dallas in which 4186 faithful fans braved cold weather and threatening rain to see.

Only a hit worse than Glatto was Judge Schulz, tall righthander of the Beaumont Exporters, who revealed to an opening day crowd of 2,500 at Beaumont how to tame the San Antonio Missions, 6 to 0.

Judge Schulz limited the Missions to three hits to prove he has merits as a pitcher. His triple and single needs no additional proof of his hitting. Schulz struck out seven and did not issue a pass.

After sweeping a two-game series from the Oilers at Tulsa, the Fort Worth Cats returned to their own backfield Thursday with the Oilers as guests. An estimated crowd of 4,000 turned out for the initial game at Fort Worth and saw the Cats lose, 12 to 0.

The flood lights were turned on to greet the Houston Buffaloes' return from Galveston where they won a two-game series from the Buccaneers. The Buffaloes made it three in a row by winning Thursday night, 4 to 3. The victory allowed them to retain first place and boast the only undefeated team so far.

GARDNER PROUD OF UMPIRING STAFF IN HIS TEXAS LEAGUE

Ziggy Sears Answers Heady Questions Propounded By Fans For Hour.

By BILL PARKER. J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, is proud of his staff of nine umpires which includes Jake Atz, Ziggy Sears, Lee Ballanfant, Steve Basil, Eddie Palmer, Jim Galloway, Clyde DeFate, Robert Kober and Frank Coe.

Gardner said he was willing to compete them against the umpire staff of any league on appearance, conduct on and off the field and knowledge of baseball rules.

On the eve of the Texas league opening, Gardner met with his umpires for a discussion of the rules and then had them as his guests for luncheon.

When they were seated around the table Gardner looked them over and said with a smile: "They are all fine looking fellows and a credit to our league."

"Then Gardner told of a good-ly trip to Chicago. The party included several prominent baseball men and Umpire Ziggy Sears, who is the senior on Gardner's staff.

"I discovered Sears knows the rules thoroughly," said Gardner. "I could not get Ziggy to make a regular speech so I suggested the Globe crowd ask him difficult baseball problems. They started thinking up the hard ones and popping them at Sears. For over an hour he stood before them and answered each question promptly. I know he answered them right for I looked up several of the harder ones when I returned to my office."

Eddie Palmer, former second baseman for the Dallas Steers and Fort Worth Cats, worked most of Oklahoma City's exhibition games before reporting to Gardner for active Texas league duty.

In his opinion, the Indians will make a good race. Palmer is especially sold on Bruce Sloan, the 18-year-old centerfielder for Oklahoma City.

"I think he is one of the best young outfielders in any minor league," Palmer said. "He can field, throw, run and hit. He is not very large, but has plenty of power. Benton, one of Oklahoma City's pitchers, may also prove an outstanding Texas league star. I saw him work against the Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition game and the three innings he pitched the Pirates could hardly get a foul."

HOME RUN BY GEHRIG BEATS RED SOX 4-3

SENATORS AGAIN ROUT ATHLETIC ROOKIES 11 TO 4

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. The major leagues laid aside the opening-day trappings today and settled down to the long march through the 154-game schedule that leads to the world's series while the batters several important sectors wondered just what they would do about the kind of pitching that was being sent at them.

Fine weather, following the dismal start in the east, allowed all the clubs but the Boston Braves and New York Giants to get into action yesterday, adding some 48,000 fans to the attendance list for the inaugurals. A snow covered field at Boston delayed the Giant-Brave contest another day.

The world champion New York Yankees attracted more than 36,000 to their opening triumph over the Boston Red Sox and they treated the customers to a typical Yankee victory as a booming drive by Lou Gehrig in the first inning dropped into the bleachers for a home run with two on base. The final count was only 4-3, however.

The other opener brought out about 12,000 fans who saw the Brooklyn Dodgers turn back the Philadelphia Nationals by a 5 to 4 count. A double steal by Jake Flowers and Al Lopez and the ability of southpaw William Watson Clark to bear down in the pinches stood out among the things that ruined the day for the home fans.

The Pittsburgh Pirates got a four-hit pitching feat on top of their five-hit opener and turned back Cincinnati Reds 5 to 2 to take an early but undisputed lead in the National league.

Bill Hallahan, St. Louis left hander, and Guy Bush, Chicago's noted "Mississippi Mudcat," each granted six blows in a neat duel but Hallahan had the backing of Jim Collins and won 3-1.

The Washington Senators, looking very threatening again, got both pitching and hitting as they trounced the Philadelphia Athletics' collection of rookies for the second time, 11-4. Goose Goslin topped off the triumph with a homer.

Bill Knickerbocker, Cleveland's newest Knickerbocker, Cleveland's newest rookie sensation, helped himself to a home run on his second day in the big league as his contribution of a ninth inning rally that netted the Indians six tallies and a 7-4 victory over Detroit. Up to the last inning the game had been a neat tugging contest between Fred "Frip" Marberry, making his first start for Detroit, and Oral Hildebrand, with the Tigers holding the edge due to Hildebrand's wildness.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis went to the other extreme, pounding the apple vigorously thru eleven innings before a four run rally by the greatly revamped Sox brought them an 11-7 decision.

Pete Regal Will Meet Whitlow On Wednesday Night

Allen Whitlow and Pete Regal will head the American Legion's boxing card at the Pla-Mor auditorium next week. Matchmaker Andy Andrews announced this morning. As a semi-final, Joe Vernon will meet Red Graves of Amarillo. This Regal boy is one of the top-notchers in the lightweight class according to fans who have seen him in action. He has won his last 15 fights. He swings gloves from all angles and packs a terrific punch. Whitlow needs no introduction to a Pampa audience after his win over Pug Grubbs here Wednesday night.

Graves is a tough battler who is expected to give Vernon plenty of misery in the eight round event. Vernon boxed in Wichita last night and won his decision in a tough battle. Other bouts are being prepared. There will be 32 rounds of boxing on the card.

Troops Called To Quell 'Terrorism' As 17 Bombs Explode

SUSPECTS ARE ORDERED HELD BY DICTATOR

OPPOSITION TO STRONG RULE OF MACHADO PROTESTED

HAVANA, Cuba, April 14. (AP)—Troops were called to stamp out terrorism today after 17 bomb explosions killed one person and injured three or four.

The blasts came yesterday on the heels of several anonymous letters to police headquarters warning of a "Red Week in Havana."

Cavalry was called out after police had started a roundup of persons suspected of terrorist tendencies and opposition to the rule of President Machado. The mounted troops patrolled Galiano street, while throughout the city automobiles were stopped at gunpoint and searched.

Police seized a score of youths, including three unidentified students who were taken from the fifth police station to Otates castle. Police patrols armed with machine guns guarded against further outbreaks.

One bomb exploded not far from the new home of Orestes Ferrara, former ambassador to the United States and now secretary of state in the Machado government.

It was hidden in a fruit vendor's wagon and it killed three-year-old Jose Montane. Three men were reported seriously injured in this and other blasts.

Shooting started when police said they found Manuel Garcia, 19, placing a bomb at a street corner. Garcia was probably fatally wounded. The bombings were attributed, by police to political terrorism.

MISS EDNA PLUMMER, above, charming assistant county clerk of Hutchinson county, will represent Sisseton in the annual beauty pageant staged at Roswell, N. M. She will compete with "Miss Pampa," who will be chosen in revues next Thursday and Friday nights at La Nora theater in Beach Fashion shows. Local girls will parade in latest fashions and in suits dating from 1864 to 1912 as an added feature. The winner will be selected on the basis of poise, figure, and grace.

ATHLETIC GROUP TO MEET
AUSTIN, April 14. (Sp.)—Delegates to the convention of the Athletic Conference of American College Women, to be held at the University of Texas, April 17-20, will have the opportunity of hearing the principal speakers two of the most important figures in physical education work in America today, according to Miss Anna Hess, director of physical training for women at the university. Dr. Goodwin Watson, associate professor of education in the teachers college at Columbia university, will deliver an address Wednesday morning, April 19, on the subject, "The Psychology of Physical Activities." Miss Blanche M. Trilling, professor of physical education at the University of Wisconsin, will speak Thursday morning, April 20, on the subject, "New Trends in Physical Education."

Phillips Team To Play Dallas Crew at Borger

Panhandle baseball fans are expected to invade Borger by the hundreds Saturday night and Sunday afternoon when the baseball classic of the season will be played. The Phillips "66" Oilers will meet the Dr. Peppers of Dallas on those dates. The Dallas nine is one of the greatest teams in the state, having won the mythical state championship last year.

Phillips' boys have defeated all the teams in this section of the country and have to go far from home for competition. The Dr. Peppers are expected to furnish opposition. The Dallas boys held the Dallas Steers to a 1 to 0 score in 14 innings two weeks ago. A week later the Peppers defeated the Houston Buffaloes 4 to 3.

Phillips will have Lefty Freshour, former Pampa hurler, Underhill and Ellis ready for mound duty. Pewee Bass is confined to his home by illness. Other well known players who will be ready for service will be Cowboy Francis, Whitey Vaughan, Gib Jackson, Whitey Cliff, Richinson, and others.

Admission will be 35 cents for men and 25 cents for women and children. The Saturday night game will be called at 8:30 o'clock. The Sunday afternoon game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The Borger team will take the field in new uniforms of pea green and burnt orange. A thousand more bleacher seats have been installed to give a seating capacity of more than 3,000.

Bowling Scores

The Junior chamber of commerce bowling team took two out of three games from the Kiwanis No. 1 last night at the Pampa Bowling alley but failed by a half game to tie the Phillips team for first place. Fred Thompson of the Kiwanis rolled high game with 212 pins and high series with 238 pins. Forker of the Jaysees 510 pins for second high series.

Pampa's Tennis Team Playing In Tourney Today

Pampa high school will be represented in the District 1 tennis championship play in Amarillo by three teams, the boys singles and doubles and the girls singles. The McLean girls doubles team will represent the county in that section of play.

Daisy Ann Shields will be the Pampa girl taking part in the tournament. Harold Gregory, star singles player, is a favorite in that division. The boys doubles team will be composed of Roy Webb, Jr., and Weldon Frier.

Coach B. G. Gordon accompanied the team to Amarillo this morning. Play was to start immediately following drawings at 1 o'clock. Play was to be at Ellwood Park, weather permitting. If it was found too cold the girls were to go to Canyon to play and the boys to the old airport.

Grandview Carnival Declared Success

Those in charge of the recent Grandview carnival have submitted the following statement: "The Parent-Teacher association carnival held at the Grandview school Friday, April 7, was indeed a success from various points of view. The carnival spirit prevailed in all details save the riding devices generally found on the midway of the barker's paradise. Also missing was the mechanical music of the merry-go-round, which was replaced by the nasal call of the bally-hoo artists with their various games. Galety, friendship, and good will were the keynote of the whole occasion, to say nothing of financial success. The depression is over or has never existed among the people who were here because there was cleared almost $65. This money will be used by the association during the next school term to buy necessary equipment which the school district is unable to buy.

"The success was due in no small part to a delegation from the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce. This delegation brought a short but enjoyable musical program. This gave the crowd the proper atmosphere for the occasion. The crowning inspiration of the evening came with an address by Roy Bourland.

"The community of Grandview and its Parent-Teacher association are to be congratulated on the way in which it put things over, and to the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce the community of Grandview expresses gratitude for the ready aid on all occasions, extending to you a hearty welcome and invitation to visit us at all times. We shall endeavor to show our gratitude by visiting you in your business places."

Women Still Lead In Bridge Contest

The Jolly 8 Bridge club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins Thursday evening.

The men had total high score for the evening, but in the contest against the women, are still the losers by a large majority. C. O. Drew held high score for the evening, and Chas. L. Woolley second high.

The hostess served hot cookies and home made ice cream with coffee at the close of the games. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yealy on Thursday, April 27. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Woolley were special guests. Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Finis Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yealy, C. O. Drew and the host and hostess.

Savoldi Takes Title Seriously Buys Overcoat

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—"Jumping Joe" Savoldi, the Notre Dame line-buster who suddenly started "taking out" wrestlers and wound up flooring Jimmy Londos, is taking his claim to heavyweight championship laurels very seriously indeed. So seriously, in fact, that he has bought himself an overcoat.

"It was all right," he says, "to go around without a coat or hat when I was just a wrestler. Cold never bothers me. Now it's different. You've got to look like something when you're champion."

This youngster, who would have been an all-America fullback if he hadn't married in his senior year as Knute Rockne's star pupil and thus eliminated himself from South Bend football near the close of the 1930 season, already has a crack in his neck from looking at New York's tall buildings.

Joe has been here before, as a preliminary wrestler in the Londos troupe, but never amid the attention that now surrounds him, and with few free time to take in the sights. He said he accepted yesterday the "100,000 offer" of a Toronto syndicate headed by Percy D. Gardner for a share in his managerial contract. Then, feeling he could afford it, he bought his new overcoat and hat before taking in the ball game.

E. H. McKinney, district supervisors of the Montgomery Ward stores, with headquarters in Lubbock, was a Pampa visitor today.

Mrs. Joe Benefield of LeFors shopped here this morning.

Lee Waggoner is transacting business in Dallas for a few days.

Pearl Blair of Wichita Falls is visiting in the city for a few days.

BILIOUSNESS

"My trouble was biliousness—the whole spring and summer I was almost down, felt so sluggish, tired and dizzy," writes Mr. S. W. Taylor, of Joplin, Mo. "I remembered that at one time Black-Draught had helped me. I went to the drug store and bought a package and began taking it at night. After then, I felt as well as anyone. I am full of pep and get out on the farm and do a real day's work, as I feel that I owe my good health to the use of Black-Draught."

Cox Is Elected Head Of Legion

New Post Commander Hopes to Raise Membership To Quota Size By May 1.

Lewis O. Cox, World War veteran and former county commissioner, was elected commander of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, at a meeting held this week. He succeeds W. H. (Bert) Curry, resigned.

Election of Mr. Cox places a man at the helm of the post who by reason of his long, active service in the front line trenches in France and his participation in American Legion affairs since the World War, is equipped to understand the aims and ideals of the "soldier boys." Mr. Cox was "across" about two years. He engaged in trench warfare as a sharpshooter. He was commander of the Legion in 1928, a year in which the local post accomplished many outstanding results.

One of the first aims which the local post expects to achieve, according to Mr. Cox, is to bring the membership of the post which is now less than 100 up to the quota of 206. A membership drive will continue until the quota is reached. Mr. Cox said the post hopes to enroll the 206 members by May 1. He announced that all members who have paid membership dues but who have no cards should report that fact to him immediately.

Mr. Cox believes that the national American Legion is about to begin a new era of patriotic service to the nation. He is of the opinion that the organization is in better shape than it ever has been. Recent legislation which enabled President Roosevelt to rid the Legion of "leeches and gold bricks" has undoubtedly helped the veterans, he believes. "The Legionnaire is first a patriot, and it is the Legion of undeserved benefits will keep the government from going bankrupt, the Legion should and will stand behind the government—just as it did in 1918," he said. "The Legion is a patriotic and not a political organization. One of its aims is to foster Americanism and the principles of the Constitution. It is the most potent force today that is supporting the government of the United States."

MEXICO WILL COOPERATE IN TRADE PACTS

HOPES TO DISPOSE OF SILVER AS RESULT OF CONFERENCE

Copyright, 1933. By The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, April 14. (AP)—Mexico, as the producer of about 42 per cent of the world's silver supply, can hope for no greater benefit at the forthcoming economic conversations in Washington than international action to rehabilitate silver.

Mexico has long predicted and looked forward hopefully to such conferences as proposed by President Roosevelt, and the principal Mexican statesmen have repeatedly stressed the need to "meet the crisis with physical as well as physical means."

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, dominant figure in Mexico, took the leadership in this matter many months ago when he stressed the need for speed and fearless leadership in facing the real truth.

"I am positively convinced," he told reporters in Feb. 1932, "that this crisis may lead to a catastrophe unless those in charge of the destinies of the nations drop their apathy and lack of courage and get together to work out adequate means of economic cooperation before it is too late."

His words sound almost prophetic in view of the forthcoming Washington and London meetings in which Mexico hopes not only for the rehabilitation of silver but for tariff readjustments materially benefitting Mexico's second source of income, agriculture.

Calles himself is an advocate of "free trade as the desirable form of international economic relations." Mexico's purchasing power, badly hit by depression prices and tariffs, has directly affected her imports, the bulk of which are from the United States. Therefore any means taken to aid mining and agriculture would immediately and effectively be felt in the United States export markets, which feed Mexico with around 70 per cent of her imports.

Although President Rodriguez has not yet stated publicly the position Mexico would adopt in the Washington conferences, Calles in recent declarations pledged "full cooperation."

Rancher Tells Why He Killed Wife's Lover

ELDORADO, Texas, April 14. (AP)—Intimate relations between Mrs. Tom Henderson and Alvert Armentrout that led to the shooting of the latter at Eldorado on the night of January 30 and for which Tom R. Henderson is on trial for murder were related on the witness stand today by Mrs. Henderson. The defense rested at noon and the jury will probably get the case by tonight. Mrs. Henderson admitted flirting with the slain man, realized they were "in pretty deep" and met to talk things over while riding over the Henderson ranch where Armentrout was an employe.

"He hugged and kissed me and it went farther than that," Mrs. Henderson, visibly nervous and weeping, said as she broke down on the stand. On cross examination she said she had not told anyone of the intimacy prior to the shooting. She admitted she was to be confined in August.

Henderson, on the stand in his own behalf, said he had not been physically strong since an operation two years ago, and learning of the intimacy between Armentrout and his wife on the day of the shooting, he came to San Angelo, purchased a revolver and, that night, asked Armentrout about it. He said Armentrout picked up a piece of stove wood and asked "what I intended to do about it. I realized it was him or men and I began shooting," said Henderson.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Easter Lesson.
Scripture Lesson: I Cor. 15:1-8.

Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand. By which also ye are saved, if ye held fast the word which I preached unto you, except ye believe in vain.

For I delivered unto you first that which also I received: that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; and that he appeared to us; then to the twelve; and then he appeared to above hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain unto this day, but some are fallen asleep; then he appeared to James; to all the apostles; and last of all, as to the child newly born, he appeared to me.

But now hath Christ been raised from the dead; the first fruits of them that are asleep.

For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

For as in Adam all die, so in Christ shall all be made alive.

But each in his own order: as the first fruits, then they that are Christ's, at his coming. Then cometh the end, when shall deliver up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished all rule and authority and power.

For he must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under his feet.

The last enemy that shall be abolished is death.

For since by man came death, by man shall come also the resurrection of the dead.

This is the strange, paradoxical fact about Easter, that it is a resurrection from the grave, not a resurrection from the grave without fear. "And why?" answers that question, with selling argument and luminous parables, in this fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians. This chapter is one of the most precious portions of the Bible. "In the gloom of the valley of the shadow of death its majestic, enheartening words never fail to ring in our ears." Sown in corruption, raised in incorruption; sown in dishonor (weakness), raised in glory (power); sown a natural (animal) body, raised a spiritual body. . . . We shall bear the image of the heavenly.

"Death has been swallowed up in victory."
"Thank be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!"

Summary of the Gospel
The fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians has for us an especial value in that it contains a little creed, or simple statement of the gospel as Paul preached it, as he had "received" it (ver.3). A saving Gospel, Paul insists. There are four items in this statement of Paul:

1. The saving death of Christ.
2. The resurrection of Christ.
3. Our resurrection on account of his.
4. The confidence that Christ is a living Lord, manifesting himself to his followers.

"He Appeared to Cephas"
"Cephas," the Aramaic name of Peter, meaning the same, "a stone." An incidental mention of this appearance of the risen Lord to Peter is given in Luke 24:34. It took place on the very day of the resurrection. Paul omits from his catalogue the first appearance of all, most notable because it was made to a woman, to Mary Magdalene, John 20:11-18; and his next appearance, made to the other women who had visited his grave to complete the embalming of his body. "Then to the twelve." Really to the eleven, for Judas had committed suicide; and not to all of these, but only to ten of them, for Thomas was absent. This appearance took place in the upper room on the evening of Easter day, John 20:19, and was the fifth, for it was preceded by an appearance to two disciples on the way to Emmaus, the risen Lord disclosing himself to them as he blessed their evening meal. A week later came a sixth appearance, again in the supper room, where all eleven of the apostles were present, and where Thomas was fully convinced of the reality of Christ's resurrection, John 20:26-29.

Christian Appeared to Five Hundred
"Then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once." Our Lord appointed his rendezvous in Galilee, which was the chief scene of his ministry, where the greater part of his disciples would be found, Matt. 28:10, 16-20 shows how carefully Christ prepared this gathering. "Of whom the greater part remain until now." That is, until about A. D. 56, when this Epistle was written, twenty-six years after the resurrection. Paul had met many of these in his extensive travels, and had kept track of them. "But some are fallen asleep." Christ's beautiful way of speaking of death, as in Mark 8:39; John 11:11-14. So we call our graveyards "cemeteries," which means "sleeping-places."

To Paul, Also
"He appeared to me also." This was the appearance to Paul on the road outside Damascus, as he was about to enter the city to arrest the Christians there and take them to Jerusalem, Acts 9:3-8. This vision was accompanied by a great light which blinded Paul for a time, and left him with permanently impaired vision, but opened the eyes of his soul, and transformed him from a bitter persecutor of the church of the greatest of Christian missionaries. This was five years after the other appearances, and still another, many years later, was that to John on the Isle of Patmos, Rev. 1:9-12.

Risen With Christ
After reciting this impressive list of witnesses to Christ's resurrection, Paul goes on to emphasize the vital importance of the truth of the resurrection in our Christian lives. "If there is no resurrection from death," Paul reminds his readers, "then Christ was not raised; and if he did not rise from the dead, our Christian preaching is vain and your Christian faith is a hollow mockery. Not only that, but in that case we have perished; we shall see them nor more. If our hope in Christ is only for this life, we are of all men most pitiable, our confidence to be exalted so high and then dashed so low!"

"Christ the First Fruits"
"But now hath Christ been raised from the dead." There is no need of boasting the consequences of the resurrection, for it is a fact, a proved fact, the best-proved fact in all history. "The first fruits of them that are asleep."

"But each in his own order," Christ's resurrection first, then the resurrection of believers at Christ's coming again, then Christ's presentation of a purified and perfected kingdom to his Father. "Christ the first fruits; then they that are Christ's, at his coming," the return of our Lord to this earth in glory, to gather up the long results of his labors, receiving his own to himself.

"Then Cometh the End"
"Then cometh the end." The end of the world, and of all human institutions. "When he shall deliver up the kingdom to God, even the Father." Christ in his teaching, and especially in his parables, looked forward to this happy consummation of his great task—a perfected kingdom of heaven. "When he shall have abolished all rule and all authority and power." All powers, whether of demons or of before the perfected kingdom can be handed over to God.

The Meaning of Easter
"To Christians Easter brings feelings of purest joy. It is the memorial of His resurrection who first brought life and immortality to light, and who gave to men the upward look and has enabled him to elevate his vision above the cares and thoughts of earth, and in heart and mind now, as well as in glorified body hereafter, to dwell with him who has ascended into the heavens. To us does Easter day bring these feelings of joy? Do we not only rejoice in the resurrection of Christ on this day, but do we not also wish ourselves to rise with him, to be filled with his spirit, to live in him, to feel as he did, to

THREE EXECUTED
PADUCAH, Ky., April 14. (AP)—John Young, Louisville white man, and Kermit Roosevelt Pope, and Richard Gaines, negroes, were executed at the state penitentiary here early today. All confessed before going to the chair. Young, however, contended he thought the two policemen he killed were gangsters trying to shoot him. Pope killed his wife and Gaines killed another negro in a row over money.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Fatheree will attend the dedication of the museum in Canyon tomorrow.

be one with him and he with us?"
—Rev. T. H. Steel. This is to enter into the true meaning of Christ's resurrection and of Easter Day.

"Soar we now where Christ has led;
Follow our exalted Head:
Made like him, like him we rise;
Ours the cross, the grave, the skies!"
—Charles Wesley.

Miami Seniors Are To Present Play
MIAMI, April 14. (SP)—The senior class will present its annual class play Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The title is Beads on a String, and is one of the most popular as well as most entertaining plays ever produced by the Willis N. Bugbee company. The cast has been well selected and is under the direction of the senior sponsor, E. C. Clark.

CRAWFISH SILENT
WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—Senator Long today refused to comment on the speech in Alexandria, La., by Arch C. Johnson that Long had prohibited his state from sending an exhibit to the world's fair at Chicago because the late Mayor Cermak opposed the seating of his delegation at the democratic convention.

Mrs. G. E. Jocay of LeFors was a Pampa shopper this morning.

'Gabriel Over The White House' Is Due To Be Best Picture of The Year

Those who look for motion picture entertainment permeated with the tense, authentic melodrama of actual headlines in today's news will find "Gabriel Over The White House," new Cosmopolitan-Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production opening today at the La Nora theater one of the outstanding talkie events of the year.

"Gabriel Over The White House" includes Karen Morley, last seen opposite Wallace Beery in "Fish"; the Broadway stage star, Franchot Tone; Arthur Byron, Dickie Moore, C. Henry Gordon, David Landau, Samuel Hinds, William Pawley, Jean Parker and Claire Dubrey.

in an accident and on his return to work following a long period of illness which has given him time to think things over, he becomes a new Judson Hammond, hard instead of soft, decisive instead of vacillating.

GETTING NEWS DAILY A card received by The NEWS from John Oakes, former Pampan but now located at Bristow, Okla., says "Receiving paper every day and enjoy getting it. Hope to be back in Pampa soon."

PAMPA DAILY NEWS REEL SHOWS PROTEST MEETING AGAINST NAZIS

The mammoth demonstration in Madison Square Garden, with 22,000 Jews protesting against the Nazi excesses towards members of their race in Germany; the arguments before a joint Congressional Committee on President Roosevelt's Labor Camp Plan; the strange capsizing of the ocean liner President Madison at a Seattle Dock, and the launching of the U. S. S. San Francisco, Uncle Sam's first "pocket battleship," are among the current highlights of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal Newsreel.

to gain admittance to the vast arena. The viewpoints of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and of Frances Perkins, secretary of labor and the first woman cabinet member are presented in the newsreel in connection with the proposal to regiment 250,000 workers in concentration camps for re-forestation projects.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COMMON CONSTIPATION Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Fortunately, you can avoid this danger by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B.

Biological tests demonstrate that the "bulk" in bran is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.
