Shutdown In East Texas Field Indicated At State Oil Hearing

TWINKLES

Judge H. E. Hoover is getting quite enthusiastic about dividing Texas into two states. But we don't know how he can get sufficiently oratorical without reference to the Alamo and Goliad.

If it is true that intoxicants will make us feel prosperous, and we will feel depressed again "the morning after," does it follow that happiness depends upon staying drunk all the time?

Knowing the difficulties of the oil industry as we do, we utter the fervent hope that Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt will not attempt to solve its problems in a few swift orders. We've arrived at the conclusion that there is no bona fide solution for the oil business. And we feel sure that federal dictatorship would be about the hardest medicine to swallow.

Heard: A big crowd "burning" certain local groups which import orchestras and allegedly fail to patronize home musicians.

And speaking of oil, Jim Ferguson lost much of his morning when Ma came out for a stiff, graduated tax of crude oil production. Right or wrong, he made enemies as an "in" politician who can be easily rapped by the "outs."

We hear much talk of tactics and tactics—grid and fishing.

China's great wall, built to keep out invaders, can't stop Japanese infantrymen, much less aviators. Many of our old economic ideas are just as out-dated as that Chinese wall.

THINK ABOUT THIS

Federal relief funds are intended primarily to afford work relief. It is assumed that each community will find work for those who receive the periodical pay checks. It should be a matter of regret that many communities are not providing such work in the form and amount desired. In Pampa, the municipal swimming pool is beyond the stage of requiring a large number of men. It is highly inefficient to place a score of men at a task which five could do as well. Yet this is what is occurring in Pampa and most of the other towns in this section. Dispersing of funds in such a manner even at the low prevailing wage scale amounts virtually to a dole. We recognize that funds to buy materials for new projects are very scarce, yet this fact makes it apparent that there is a need for a community-wide or even county-wide conference of public officials and business men to discuss means of finding more substantial projects on which to spend federal funds than now exist. The problem amounts to an emergency. If you have any suggestions as to how men can be employed in worthwhile tasks, we would like to have them at once. Those in charge of the spending of the funds are not their wits' end for want of assignments.

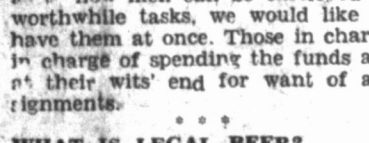

WHAT IS LEGAL BEER?

Beer legislation is placing our Uncle Samuel in a paradoxical position with respect to what is intoxicating and what isn't. Time magazine points out that the new law assumes that 3.2 per cent beer is not intoxicating, yet the federal government stands pledged to protect from importations any state that assumes otherwise. If a brewer

TEXAS AREA MIGHT BE CLOSED UNTIL NEW ORDER IS ISSUED

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—Hints that the East Texas oil field might be shut down for a few days pending the promulgation of a new proration order for that area, were given as the railroad commission continued its statewide proration hearing today.

The first indication came when Ernest O. Thompson, one of the commissioners, asked a witness if the field should not be closed down for five days to permit the equalization of pressures before the taking of potential tests.

The witness, M. Albertson, engineer for the Shell company, replied that he believed a shut down would be necessary to equalize pressures.

Seven Counties Transferred To Wichita Agency

CANADIAN, April 4.—Application of Panhandle citizens for concurrent jurisdiction for seven counties by the regional agricultural credit corporations at Fort Worth and Wichita, Kans., has been granted. The application as originally placed was for transfer of these counties to the zone of the Wichita agency.

The counties affected are Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Hemphill, Gray, Hutchinson, and Roberts. The request was filed with Congressman Marvin Jones February 24, and through his efforts the change was made.

Applications may now be made at either Wichita or Fort Worth as the applicant desires.

Two Important Roles in Play Will Be Cast

Try-outs for the cast of "Holiday" play which will be presented May 2 by the Little Theater at the city auditorium, will be continued at the club room of the city hall, Wednesday night, Mrs. T. F. Morton who directed "Love-In-A-Mist" will direct the comedy.

Two important roles in the cast remain to be filled. One is the "hero" of the play, Johnny Case, and the other is Ned Seton, only son in the money-worshipping Seton family. Ned is intoxicated throughout the entire three acts. The cast will be announced as soon as completed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown of El Reno, Okla., have returned to their home after visiting Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. E. W. Voss and Mr. Voss.

H. T. Wohlgenuth, manager of a variety store here, received an answer to a letter yesterday stating that a glass works that he had ordered a large shipment of glassware from would be unable to fill the order for some time because of the demand for beer bottles. They advised him to place the order somewhere else.

Five of Crew of Seven Are Rescued; Ship Returning From Akron Search.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 4. (AP)—Lieut. Commander David E. Cummins of the non-rigid ship J-3 was pronounced dead at Atlantic City hospital at 3:45 p. m. today. The hospital gave the cause of death as "drowning."

BEACH HAVEN, N. J., April 4. (AP)—The navy blimp, J-3 returning from a search for survivors of the dirigible Akron, dropped into the surf off the boardwalk here today. Five of its crew of seven were rescued.

The blimp was caught by a strong northwest wind as it cleared the sea and flew in over Barnegat inlet. Persons on shore saw that it was making little headway and after a short battle with the wind, saw it blown backward and dip into the surf off the boardwalk. The little craft righted itself and rose into the air, only to drop back into the sea. The impact threw its crew into the water. Five of them managed to cling to the life rafts the craft carried.

A New York seaplane, piloted by Sergeant Joseph W. Forsyth and also here to aid in the Akron search, was taken to the office of a physician and treated for submersion. Some were suffering, also from cuts and bruises, and some had lost their fingernails in their desperate efforts to cling to the rafts. The shoreline was lined with automobiles which had borne hundreds here to watch the search for the Akron and a wave of yelling and screaming went up from the crowd as the little airship plunged into the sea.

Cabot Company Office Looted Of Many Checks

Merchants and bankers were warned today to watch for Cabot Co. checks stolen from the office sometime after 9 o'clock last night. The checks were numbered 4284 to 4500, inclusive. About 25 had been made out in part to employees but they were still in the book and the photostatic had not been used on them.

The intruder took the photostatic and several payroll sheets during his raid, but overlooked or ignored other things in the office. Checks of the company are signed by R. G. Allen, C. L. Wooley, or A. Swanson, but should those names appear on the checks stolen they would be forgeries and the checks should not be honored.

The thief entered the local office of the company by prying open a window with a bar. No tracks were left because the grass is luxuriant outside the window. Officers of the sheriff's department are investigating.

C. M. Broadus was taken to his home in Miami this morning from Pampa hospital.

Ella Mae Feltner underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital this morning.

THREE SURVIVORS OF DISASTER DECLINE TO MAKE STATEMENTS

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—The three survivors of the Akron disaster arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard this afternoon, one having to be removed to the navy hospital on a stretcher. The others walked ashore from the coast guard destroyer Tucker.

Lieut. Commander Herbert V. Wiley and M. E. Erwin, an enlisted man, walked from the Tucker and climbed to the front seat of one of the three ambulances which waited for the arrival of the Tucker.

Richard Deal, another enlisted man and the third survivor, was carried ashore on a stretcher and placed in an ambulance. Face scratches were the only visible injuries and Dr. T. J. Smith of the navy, who made a preliminary examination on the Tucker, said Deal was apparently not "in bad shape."

All three survivors declined to make any statement before completing their official reports. After they left the Tucker the body of Robert Copeland, enlisted man, was brought ashore. Copeland was taken from the sea alive but died shortly after.

Commander J. Whitbeck of the Tucker at first refused to say anything but later expressed the opinion that "there is no doubt the Akron has sunk."

Commander Whitbeck said the Tucker arrived on the scene at daylight, took the survivors and Copeland's body from a rescue ship, and

GOSSIP WILL FLOW FROM LIPS OF MODELS AS THEY PARADE IN WOMANLESS SHOW HERE TONIGHT

Style Event To Have Plot and Amazing 'Finish'

A CONTINUOUS chatter of gossip concerning local people will flow from the lips of the cast in the womanless style show which will be staged in the city auditorium tonight, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. However, to dispel the anxiety of Pampans, Mrs. J. M. Dodson, chairman of the style show committee, emphasized that the gossip will be entertaining, but not malicious.

For instance, all the prominent eligible bachelors of the community will be the subject of a "gentle kidding." The show will open when a mother, Dr. C. P. Callison, who is frantically anxious for her daughter, Archer Fullingim, to be led to the marriage altar, enters the fashionable "shoppe" of Madame Guyton, I. A. Freeman, with the daughter, to shop for a complete wedding outfit from dainty underthings to a wedding dress.

Flower Garden In Making At School

The court at Baker school will be a spot of real beauty if the plans of teachers and children materialize. In their efforts to raise a flower garden, those in charge are asking that when Pampans thin their daisies, chrysanthemums, and other flowers they notify the school in order that a school representative may call for the surplus flowers. The plot of ground already has been fertilized, and rose bushes are growing.

Big Ship Falls At Sea; 72 Men Probably Lost

Admiral Moffett Missing; Navy Blimp In Search of Dirigible Wreckage Crashes Into Sea With Crew of 11

NEW YORK, APRIL 4 (AP)—The U. S. Akron, largest airship ever flown, crashed at sea off the Jersey coast early this morning with the probable loss of 73 lives.

This afternoon the little navy blimp, J-3, searching for the Akron wreckage, also fell in the sea with its crew of 11.

The members of the Akron crew stuck valiantly to their posts, with perfect discipline, through a violent electrical storm that the great ship could not ride.

Four men were rescued. One of these died. The body of another was found later in the day.

Still missing this afternoon were Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics.

The Akron sighted the storm that doomed it at 8:45 p. m. last night 300 miles south of Philadelphia. It proceeded on an east and northeast course through a light night and over a fog that obscured the ground.

Lieut. Commander H. V. Wiley, rescued, second in command, reported that the ship was at that time in good static condition.

He said the sea was heavy. At 10 p. m. the Akron reached the Jersey shore and at Barnegat Light was surrounded by lightning. It ran an easterly course until 11 p. m. and then turned to the west until midnight.

Sighting a light on the west, the officers changed the course to 130 degrees. The ship began to descend rapidly from its flying altitude of 1,600 feet as lightning enveloped it. Ballast was dropped forward to regain altitude.

Continuing Commander Wiley's report:

"Three minutes later seemed to be in center of storm. Ship began to shift about violently. Called all hands. Ship commenced to descend. Stern inclined downward.

Saw Many Swimmers. "Dropped ballast. Rudder control carried away. Descent continued to water. Ship demolished upon impact.

His report was sent to the navy department by wireless from the coast guard cutter Tucker which carried himself and the other two survivors to Brooklyn navy yard.

A succinct story of navy heroism was contained in the last paragraph: "In lightning flash saw many men swimming. Wreckage drifted rapidly away. Discipline in control car perfect."

Wiley, Richard Deal, M. E. Erwin, and Robert W. Copeland were picked up by the German tanker Phoenix which was attracted to the scene by what it thought to be flares. Copeland died shortly after being taken aboard. Deal was taken to a hospital as soon as the Tucker arrived at Brooklyn. His injuries were slight.

The men were transferred to the Tucker early in the day so that the Phoenix might stand by and search for wreckage or effect further rescues.

Disaster Worst In History. Static hampered the exchange of wireless messages during the storm, and only the coast guard station at Ashbury Park, N. J., heard the S O S of the Akron. Third naval district headquarters in New York reported its receivers "went dead."

The number believed to have been drowned makes the disaster the worst in the history of lighter-than-air craft.

Secretary Swanson, speaking in a low voice, said every effort will be made to recover the bodies of men who lost their lives and to salvage such of the ship as is possible in the fairly shallow water.

Asked by newspapermen about his opinion of the mighty airships as a result of the disaster, the secretary replied that he had "never been as enthusiastic about them" as some of the navy had.

After a conference with navy officials, Chairman Vinson announced that the house naval committee will investigate "the cause and circumstances" of the accident.

In a statement, Vinson said "the nation is stunned by the terrible disaster which has overtaken the Akron."

TRAVELING ALONG NEW PATHS

"The country needs and, unless I mistake its temper, the country demands bold, persistent experimentation. It is common sense to take a method and try it; if it fails, admit it frankly and try another. But above all, try something."

This paragraph comes from President Roosevelt's own book, "Looking Forward," and it is a declaration of principles that is immensely encouraging. It seems to set forth precisely the attitude which a leader must have today.

We are not only struggling to climb out of a very deep depression. We have come, as far as we can tell, to the end of an era in our history. Whatever we are going to do in the future, it is going to be something new, something different.

The old ways have proven their inadequacy, and since we lack perfect wisdom, about the only thing we can do is go ahead by a trial and error method until we have found a new way that will work.

It is a long time since we have had a president who demanded "bold, persistent experimentation." It is a long time since our own temper has been of a kind to support such a president even if we had had one. Ever since the war we have tried to play safe. "Don't rock the boat" has been our national slogan. We have asked our presidents to keep their hands off things and let well enough alone.

That worked all right, or seemed to, as long as things were indeed well enough. But when they went from bad to worse, and from worse to worst, it was a catastrophic policy. That we have at last discarded it, and have a president who has discarded it, is perhaps the most encouraging fact on the horizon.

No one knows just how, having got out, we are going to keep from slipping back in again. We can do nothing less than make some experiments. Some of them, in all probability, will not work, but that does not matter. Our only chance is to keep trying, over and over again, until we have found what we want.

Alcohol companies already are making ethyl alcohol from corn, expecting a federal law to provide inclusion of two per cent of corn alcohol in every gallon of gas. Next time you run the old bus up a tree you can say, "Honest, officer, she was all corned up!"

A banker not only may be down, but these days some of them are out.

Blanton Given Credit For Wet Talk in House

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—Somebody at the government printing office made a mistake last Thursday night and Representative Blanton of Texas was recorded in the congressional record as making a speech in favor of the medicinal liquor bill.

Blanton, a prohibitionist, said today on the floor it was an "inexcusable error" and that there was a feeling of resentment against him at the government printing plant.

The remarks attributed to Blanton actually were delivered by Board of Pennsylvania.

"From his standpoint it was a very splendid speech," said Blanton, "but my name was put on it and 35,000 copies of that record went into every state of the union."

"Someone who didn't like me could take that record and go from one end of my district to another saying this is what Tom Blanton said about a wet bill in the house. It does me a discredit as a dry."

Boylan (D-NY) asked Blanton how many mistakes the printing office had made in handling his remarks in the past year.

"Oh, about 15," Blanton replied, "but they were just minor errors that didn't hurt me much."

"The gentleman uses about 40 per cent of the entire record of the house," Boyland pursued.

"Doesn't the gentleman think that only 15 mistakes a year is a pretty good batting average?"

Blanton didn't like Boyland's attributing to him 40 per cent of the record. They got into such a hot argument about it that Clarke (R-NY) spoke Rainey to "protect that dry from that wet."

VALIANT DUST

by Percival Christopher Ween Author of "HEAD GASTS"

Chapter 47 A TERRIBLE THREAT WHAT was that? Margaret sprang up. No doubt of it, this time! A cry and then a crash. No, a clatter. Still sounding in her ears.

The cup! Someone had sent it rolling, bumping and clattering across the stone floor.

Merciful Heaven, help! There was a man—standing on the coping of the balcony—clearly silhouetted against the moonlight and the luminous sky.

He was hanging on a rope—or holding to it, as he stood on the balcony ledge—and he had kicked the tin cup into the room as he sought foothold.

Had she not gone and drunk water, and left the cup there in the middle of the coping—he would have got into the room in perfect silence, and found her there asleep.

Well—now he had found her awake. Thank God for the pistol. But she couldn't shoot the man in cold blood, without a word. Yet if she waited much longer, her hand certainly would begin to shake.

Could he see her now? Why didn't he move? Of course, he was listening, peering. Should she fire, or speak?

She would fire. Heavens, no! It might not be Raisul. And if it were Raisul—and she killed him—what would happen to them all, as soon as the Kald knew? Things unthinkable.

The man stooped and stepped down into the balcony.

"Well?" said Margaret quietly, and turned up the lamp.

"Good evening, my dear. One would almost have thought that you were expecting me. Well, you will be expecting me, after tonight, though I shan't have to come down a rope."

"Stop! Stand still," cried Margaret.

"Good Heavens! A real pistol! What a desperate young woman! Now I wonder where on earth you got that thing. And I wonder whether it's loaded. And I wonder whether you can use it."

"Stop!" cried Margaret again. "Stand still. If you cross that mat, I'll shoot you."

Raisul laughed, and spread his arms wide, exposing his breast.

Margaret raised the pistol. "Shoot, Margaret!" he repeated, standing steady as a rock, smiling unflinchingly.

What should she do? He was edging nearer. Why didn't she shoot him as he stood there smiling at her? But how could she kill him—when only too well she knew the terrible consequences.

"Shoot, Margaret!" invited Raisul for the third time. "Let me die! I'm at your feet. For how can man die better?"

And Raisul took another step towards the bed.

"Please don't make me kill you, Raisul," Margaret said. "Have you no decency at all? You shan't die on the praying-carpet. But if I swear to God you shall die if you step off it. If you move another inch I shall be justified in firing in self-defense."

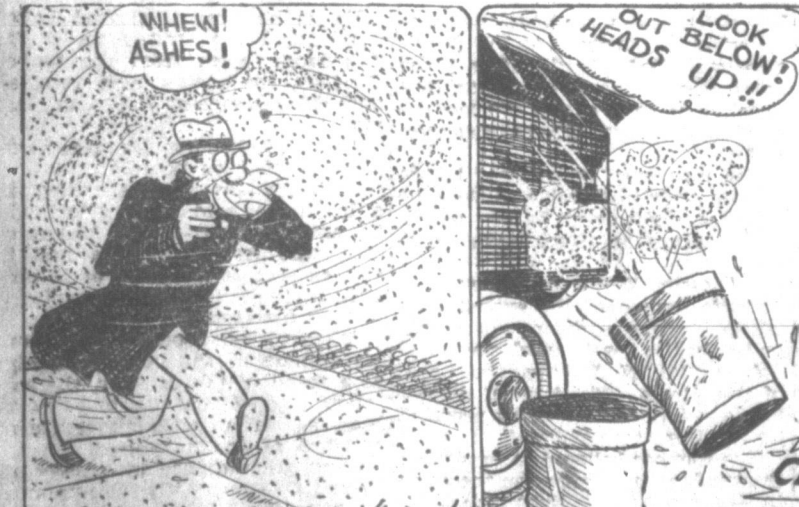

"You won't be kind?" "Go, will you?" "All right, Margaret, all right. I'll go. And when I come back, it will be with his blood on my hands—on my hands and on your head, Margaret."

"What do you mean?" whispered Margaret.

Grain and Livestock Prices Seemed To Be Improving At End of March

Underlying position of cotton and grain seemed to be improving near the end of March. Grain markets appear unsettled but the feed grains continued to be firm during the second half of the month. Livestock retained part of the earlier gains, despite the increasing supplies. Eggs sell near the lowest of March. Month's trend of the dairy markets was upward, but the position became unsettled toward the close. Price of cabbage advanced to new high levels.

Sagging cotton markets near the first of April were partly explained by less activity in cotton goods trade and manufacture, here and in Europe, the smaller exports of raw cotton as compared with last season, and the uncertainty regarding the season's cotton crop acreage.

Rice markets were steady but somewhat less active in late March. Rains further delayed field work. Southern farmers intend to reduce their rice acreage this spring but in California about the same area may be seeded.

Corn markets held the mid-month rise better than most other grains because of small arrivals at central markets, and a fairly active demand from manufacturers. Expected reduction in acreage was a favorable item.

Southern feed markets were unsettled after the middle of March with prices about unchanged. Export demand for cottonseed meal out of the Mississippi Valley is a strengthening feature in the section. The market at Memphis was dull with mills offering sparingly and consumers covering immediate needs. Export and domestic demand was quiet at Port Worth where 43 per cent fort meal was quoted at $19.50 f. o. b. local mills and $12.50 f. o. b. outside mills.

Efforts are being made by Florida celery shippers to limit shipments. Conditions have reached the stage where some of the shippers have threatened to turn over the selling of the celery to the growers, unless shipments are held down to a lower figure, and the growers offer better cooperation by destroying one-fifth of their matured celery. Demand has been slow and prices weaker. Track holdings in terminal markets have increased.

The southern Florida tomato deal is in full swing. The section south of Miami has reached its height, but the Collier county section and the district around Hallandale and Dania have not yet reached their peak. The quality in all sections is reported good.

Most of the pepper crop now being harvested in Florida is made up of "choice" and "reds," with possibly 25 per cent of the total being fancy green peppers. In view of the small percentage of fancy peppers now available, there is a possibility that the markets will soon show some improvement on good quality stock.

Dry weather is having serious effect on Texas crop land, not irrigated, and this may reduce the yield of beans in particular. Rains are predicted, but too much moisture would be injurious to onions ready for harvest.

Best onions in 50-pound sacks and bushel crates were generally quoted in southern Texas during late March at $1.85 for Yellow Bermudas and $1.50 for the Crystal Wax. So far little effort has been made to ship U. S. Commercial grade onions, the loadings so far being mostly field run with culls removed. Present prices of potatoes are no inducement for potato growers to sacrifice yield by digging before the tubers stop growing.

The freeze in February reduced the Texas cabbage crop so much that prices were held at around $20 a ton more than six weeks, then dropped to $15 toward the beginning of April when the continuous heavy shipments from Florida and the increasing movement from South Carolina had practically driven Texas stock out of the Atlantic seaboard markets.

Shipments of Florida string beans at this time are about equally divided between the Lake Okechobee section and the Lower East Coast. The quality from both sections is generally fair to ordinary, and much stock is being consigned. Recent rains in both sections will no doubt help considerably in improving the quality of the beans. The Pompano section will continue to ship beans until well into April if prices justify harvesting. The Lake section is expected to continue shipping at the present rate until April at which time the main spring crop is supposed to start moving.

new beer is non-intoxicating, according to Uncle Sam, yet it probably cannot be sold at army posts in dry states, aboard navy vessels in dry harbors, and in other havens of aridity.

MORE INCONSISTENCY

"Three and two" is by federal definition not intoxicating, but would you want to step into an airplane flown by beer-bloated pilots? Air transport companies have ruled that their pilots can drink no beer on duty and presumably cannot report to work containing beer already drunk in substantial quantities. No, the beer is not intoxicating, but not many people will be willing to place their lives in the hands of men dulled—if not inebriated—by tanking up on several bottles of Bud-

Boxing Bill Given Favorable Report

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—The house state-affairs committee has voted a favorable report on a bill to legalize prize fighting in Texas. Supervision of boxing and wrestling would be placed under the state labor commissioner. The bill had provided for establishment of a state athletic commission, but the commission was eliminated when opposition developed to setting up another board.

Wrestling promoters appeared in opposition to the bill, asserting the tax levies were too high and were prohibitive.

Sex-Lecturer Will Begin Four-Day Engagement at Rex Theater Today

An attraction heralded as of timely importance and interest opened an engagement at the Rex theater today, and will continue for three days, with the appearance of Dr. Eugene E. Voltaire, a noted sexologist and instructor and advocate of knowledge on matters of sex for the masses.

Dr. Voltaire comes from a tour embracing the Pacific Coast states. He was inspection of the Portland Institute of Sexual Psychology, of which he was the active director until his present trans-continental tour. In addition to having been the head of the above organization, the doctor is also the director of the National Bureau of Sex and Moral Hygiene, which is an outgrowth of his original clinic, the Colorado Institute of Health, which he organized and operated in Denver, Colorado.

When interviewed yesterday the doctor stated it was his unalterable belief that "if there is any one phase of human existence and activity that taboo has to a certain extent been overcome, still very little has been accomplished in acquainting the husband and wife, the father and mother or the prospective newweds with just what is meant by either of these subjects in their various ramifications, and their import and effect on our domesticity. To bring such facts to the attention of all concerned, and that should be everyone, is the object of my visit to your city, and my appearance at the Rex theater. Such all absorbing phases of human life must be faced openly with a mind not searching for the lascivious or vulgar and lustful, but rather in search of the burning light of clean, helpful elevating knowledge, which maintains the sexual relation on a high and proper plane of purity and sacredness. This is, I fully believe, my mission, to help thru the medium of proper instruction on all phases of sex, those who are able to realize the real serious need for such competent instruction which is so difficult to obtain."

In conjunction with the doctor on the stage, the screen offering will be a special feature. The Mystery of Life, by and with the internationally famous attorney Clarence Darrow. Here is a picture that is different from anything ever offered to the public. It depicts the ascent of man up thru the ages, and is replete with thrills and wonders that others have attempted, but never attained. Because of the length of the performance there will be two shows only each day. The matinee for ladies only begins at 2:15, and the night show for men only at 8:15, the doors open at 2 o'clock and 7:45 o'clock. There will be no advance in admission convined me that it is an absolute necessity that every one should be told the truth and taught the fact of these important problems, and the object of my present tour is to reach everyone possible and present to them truth and explain the bare facts of sex as they really are. Sex, science and birth control are two subjects which until recently have been more or less taboo, and even though that taboo has to a certain extent been overcome, still very little has been accomplished in acquainting the husband and wife, the father and mother or the prospective newweds with just what is meant by either of these subjects in their various ramifications, and their import and effect on our domesticity. To bring such facts to the attention of all concerned, and that should be everyone, is the object of my visit to your city, and my appearance at the Rex theater. VARIETY OF USES FOUND FOR LEFTOVER PIE DOUGH

Leftover pie dough should be securely wrapped in waxed paper and stored at once in a very cold place. It may then be used any time within a week. Strips of dough 1/2 inch wide and 2 inches long sprinkled with cheese and browned in a moderate oven are tasty to serve with appetizers, soups or salads. Bits of the dough may be rolled out and fitted into shallow patty pans and when baked the cases serve as containers for creamed foods, pie fillings or fresh or canned fruits.

A circle of pie dough fitted over the top of creamed meat, fish or fowl placed in a baking dish develops into a "pot pie."

sends his beer through a dry state, that state presumably could seize the intoxicant and call upon the federal government to prosecute the brewer. But the brewer could also appeal to the government on the ground that he was engaging in interstate commerce with a federally recognized non-intoxicating beverage, and that it was the government's job to prevent state interference.

A POSSIBLE APPEAL

In an appeal to the supreme court of a case of this kind, if the court upheld the brewer it would in effect void the prohibition laws in dry states. If it sustained a dry state, it would be declaring 3.2 per cent beer intoxicating and holding the new act invalid. If 3.2 per cent beer is not intoxicating, it can pass thru the mails as parcel post. But it is presumably non-deliverable the moment it crosses a dry state line. The

Care of Lawn in Early Spring Will Insure Most Attractive Appearance

Spring is a crucial period for the lawn. During this period of growth, the weather conditions are such that grass can make its best growth if other factors so necessary for growth are favorable.

Ten O'Clock Is Deadline For This Page

Church, school, society and women's news—all must be brought or telephoned to the Pampa Daily News not later than 10 o'clock each morning if it is to appear in the afternoon paper.

The early deadline makes for greater efficiency, allows each story to be given a place of sufficient importance, and allows the mechanical department to devote its attention during the later hours to important world news and to emergency stories.

Spade Own Garden For Most Pleasure And Best Results

The first tool an earnest home gardener has need of in the spring is a spade and the first task, after the ground is sufficiently dry to work, is to spade the vegetable garden.

This task may seem appalling to one not accustomed to it, and the temptation to hire a man with a plow is strong.

Spading the garden after a winter of inactivity means sore muscles and a weary back, but nothing more.

The garden need not be spaded in a day or even a week, since the earliest sown crops occupy a small portion only of the entire space.

Good tools are always important, and for this job one needs a spading fork strongly made, a sharp, short handled spade and a steel rake.

Burying debris including the remnants of last year's crop, is said by department of agriculture experts to be as good as burning it.

Congenial Twelve Club Is Honored

Vol. 2. PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL, APRIL 4, 1933. NUMBER 26

HIGH SCHOOL WINS TRACK-FIELD AND LITERARY MEET OF COUNTY, PILING UP 190 POINTS IN BOTH

Pampa high school showed her true metal last Friday and Saturday in the Gray county interscholastic league meet, winning by a large number of points in both the class A literary contests and the senior track and field events. Altogether, P. H. S. made 190 points in literary events and 90 in track.

Of the total score, more points were won in debate than in any other event, each team having made 20 points. The girls' team was composed of Yedda Stein and Opal Denson, and the boys' of Fred Johnson and Reed Clark. The debaters were coached by Miss May.

Three of Miss O'Keefe's declaimers won first place, making 10 points each—Ella Faye O'Keefe, junior girl; J. G. McConnell, junior boy, and Florence Sue Dodson, senior girl. Clinton Evans placed second in extemporaneous speech, also winning 10 points.

Grid Training To Continue 2 Weeks

Spring football training, Coach Fox announces, will probably be continued for two more weeks, at the end of which time next year's material will play the graduating Harvesters.

The grads are getting up a good team, and Coach Fox has had a great deal of comparatively inexperienced material to work with but he is giving the boys a lot of training in fundamentals and putting them through some tough scrimmages and expects to give the lettermen some strong competition.

Prospects for next year are looking better every day and those who have watched the boys practicing are anticipating a successful season.

Class A Teams Coming To Pampa For Track Meet

Class A football teams in this district will compete here next Saturday in an invitation track meet at Harvester park. This meet will bring together some of the favorite teams in the Panhandle, including Plainview, Lubbock, Amarillo, and Pampa. The latter three towns have already had one triangular meet.

Winning the Class A track and field events in the county meet and placing a mighty close record in the Clarendon meet, in which 15 teams were entered, have shown the Harvesters the results of getting into condition in a short time.

In the Clarendon meet Heiskell was defeated only by a boy not in this district. The Amarillo team was scarcely represented, having sent their main speedsters to the Tech relays. The low hurdles were run in which "Hot" Pullingim and Dick Sullins placed third and fourth respectively. Ed Rockwell, in the high jump, and "Tony" Boyington in the mile, showed their old form by making good marks. "Tony" won the mile handily and Ed placed second in the high jump to 5 feet 11 inches. Sullins had a bad day, but Woodward again returned to the heights with first in the pole vault.

Science Classes Make Visits To Plants in City

Students in Mr. Workman's general science classes are making a study of communication in its various aspects and have recently visited several plants in town.

Last Tuesday they visited the Pampa Daily NEWS office and made an examination of the linotype machines, but their chief interest was given to the teletype machines of the (P) service. The workings of the machinery were explained by members of The NEWS' staff.

Thursday a visit was made to the local exchange of the Southwestern P. U. Telephone company and a close study of the telephone service was made. Today the classes visited the office of the Western Union Telegraph company and Mr. Watson explained the system to the students.

Notable Nothings Of P. H. S.

By The Nimble Nit-Wits

Charles Bourland claims the prize for the most embarrassing moment experienced in school last week. For details ask him.

McFarlin says she is not part of the "Seitch" suggested before. She's a "Seitch."

Joan Woodrum failed to see the fun looking in the mirror. To trace lines drawn on paper. Needless to say, she failed utterly in her attempts.

Miss May's students say that if Joyce Smith's fan performances also presented her in the faculty last week last Wednesday, she could attract more attention dancing than teaching English.

Charles Frost wishes to make it clear that if housekeeping includes slicing pickles, he doesn't want the job. George Kenney says the same about dicing onions.

The snoopless snooper was on Senior Sneak yesterday and has been recorded the biggest theft of pork and beans and "sody" pep in the senior class. (Someone also swiped part of his pep.)

started back as soon as convinced that further search would be fruitless. He said the sea was very rough at the time and while numerous pieces of wreckage were seen no bodies were found in the water.

"These are probably the only survivors," he said, indicating Wiley and the two enlisted men.

Commander Wiley arrived wearing his own uniform jacket, shrunken to it barely covered him, and trousers and shoes he had borrowed from a coast guardman.

"I can't talk," he said, and climbed up to the front seat of one of the ambulances.

"How do you feel?" someone in the welcoming crowd shouted.

"Oh, I'm all right," the officer replied and the ambulance drove off.

Commander Whitebeck said that all his crew had been ordered to maintain strict silence concerning all he had seen until a full official report should be made.

Commercial Teams Will Compete In Quannah Tourney

Next Friday and Saturday teams in typing, bookkeeping and shorthand, directed by Miss McFarlin, will compete in the Commercial tournament at Quannah.

Last year the Pampa teams carried off the meet at Childress, winning the high point cup, and cups for first place typing and shorthand teams, besides the first three individual awards in typing and two in shorthand, and third place among bookkeeping teams.

The commercial department has a large number to draw from, and students have worked hard outside of school hours for several weeks under the direction of Miss McFarlin and Miss Houssels in the hope of being chosen to enter the tournament. Nine boys and girls will be selected during the week, five to compose the typing team and two each for shorthand and bookkeeping.

Gorillas Given Grid Sweaters—For Next Fall

After weeks and weeks of anxious waiting, the Gorillas have at last received their sweaters—handsome gold corduroy jackets with green letters. The team, coached by Warren Moore, had quite a successful season and broke in some fine material for next year's Harvesters.

The following boys were lettered: Philip Nolan, Redigiel Brown, J. R. Green, Gaston Harbour, Robert McAuley, Bill Haner, Kelley Kitchens, Alvin Trenary, Harold Gresory, Autrey Holmes, Norman Carr, Herbert Reynolds, Ralph Williams, Clinton Evans, Leon Noblett, R. Elkins.

The sweaters were delayed because of some mistake in ordering them. Mr. Sone has been comforting the boys by telling them that they would be in good condition for next fall. The Gorillas, however, seem determined to prolong cold weather a while now—or at least the semblance of it.

FINED FOR DRUNKENNESS

Three men who allegedly were too noisy about a negro church Sunday were fined in Justice W. S. Baxter's court for drunkenness, although the negro minister suggested that a severe lecture might suffice.

SENIORS CONSUME TREMENDOUS AMOUNT OF FOOD AND EXPLORE CANYONS ON 'SNEAK' DAY JAUNT

Yesterday was Senior Sneak Day and about 125 of the upperclassmen, accompanied by their sponsors, Miss Fannie May, Miss Zenobia McFarlin, and W. O. Workman, and Mrs. Supt. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Mrs. Workman and several of the senior mothers, went on an all-day picnic to Warner Canyon south of Claude. Last night they were guests of Geo. Limerick at the La Nora theater.

The day was spent in exploring the canyon and in playing baseball and other games—but principally in eating. The amount of food devoured was tremendous. Among other things, the seniors at 1100 slices of bread (about 60 pounds), a 28-pound ham, 20 pounds of cheese, 48 cans of pork and beans, 20 heads of lettuce, 3 gallons of pickles, 10 pounds of tomatoes, 30 pounds of potatoes, 10 pounds of potato chips, 2 gallons of mayonnaise, 3 dozen eggs, one box of apples, 40 dozen large assorted cookies, 3 gallons of ice cream, and 10 cases of soda pop.

Yesterday morning early the seniors gathered at the high school, clad in overalls, corduroys, knickers, boots, and what-not, and left in cars for Warner Canyon and the Dripping Springs. They got back in time to clean up for George Limerick's senior theater party and saw Lee Tracy in "Clear All Wires."

The "sneak" day really began Sunday afternoon with the preparation of the "eats." One group met in the home economics department at school and another at Miss May's apartment. The afternoon was spent in making sandwiches, salads, etc., and assembling food stuff. Miss May later served punch and cakes.

Juniors To Give Play April 20

"No Trespassing," the junior play, will be ready for presentation April 20, according to the directors, Miss Durrenberger and Mr. Gordon. The play has an extremely interesting plot and promises a full evening's entertainment. Although composed largely of inexperienced players, the cast expects to follow the precedent set by former casts of junior plays. Tickets will be placed on sale within a few days, Miss Durrenberger announces. The proceeds are to finance the Junior-Senior Banquet, May 12.

CANNES, France, April 4. (AP)—Former Mayor James J. Walker of New York and Betty Compton, the actress, have arranged to be married quietly next week after the expiration of the nine-day period required by law, following the filing of a notice of the city hall yesterday.

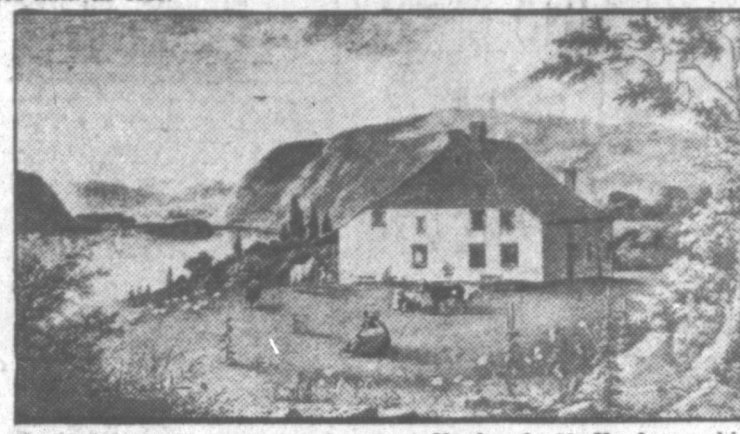

P. E. Stoneham of Dallas is here on business this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Harris, formerly of Pampa but now of Fort Worth, were guests of R. A. Selby during the week-end, as was John Loftus, principal of the George high school. Mrs. Harris is head of the department of education at Texas Woman's college.

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

ALTHOUGH Washington's headquarters at Newburgh, N. Y., are still standing, the design of the Newburgh three-cent stamp will be taken not from a photograph of the old Dutch farmhouse, but from the engraving of it by James Smillie, who emigrated to this country from Scotland in 1829.

HERE IS THE Dutch farmhouse at Newburgh, N. Y., from which Washington issued his proclamation of peace with the British. The picture is reproduced from the engraving on which is based the design for the first stamp to be issued under the new administration.

First to be issued under the new administration, the stamp will commemorate the proclamation of peace with the British issued by Washington from the house on April 19, 1783. It will be placed on sale at Newburgh on April 19 and at the post office philatelic agency in Washington a day later.

The stamp, to be printed in purple ink, will have a narrow double-line border. "U. S. Postage" will be printed in a panel at the top. Underneath, in small Gothic letters will be "Washington Headquarters, Newburgh, N. Y., 1783-1933."

A staff from which flies an American flag with 13 stars will be shown in front of the house.

At the bottom of the design, in the center, will be a shield-shaped panel enclosing a "3." A folded ribbon will bear the word "three" on the left side of the shield and the word

Vatican Series

A complete new series of Vatican stamps will appear soon.

The 5-centimo design contains Pope Pius' coat-of-arms, surrounded by the tiara and surmounted by grain and eggs, the substances used in making the eucharistic wafer.

The 10, 12, 20, and 25 centesimo show in the background the apostolic palace where the pope lives.

and in the foreground the central part of St. Peter's square.

The 30, 50, 75 and 80 centesimo show the Vatican gardens, with the dome of St. Peter's looming in the background.

The 1, 125, and 2 and 2.75 lira reproduce a portrait of the pope with

Akron Survivor Was One of Crew On Shenandoah

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—One member of the Akron's crew has gone through the navy's two major disasters and is still living.

He is R. E. Real, of Lakehurst, N. J., one of the four picked up by the German tanker Phoenix, but from the three other members of the Akron's crew were also survivors of the Shenandoah tragedy in September, 1925, but so far they are among the missing.

They are A. E. Carlson, of Moscow, Idaho; A. S. Juerlein, of St. Louis, Mo., and J. Shevitz, of Brooklyn.

The Shenandoah was caught in a terrific storm while over Ohio in September, 1925. She had been built only two years before and was the latest word in dirigible science.

Swung about by the wind like a straw, the Shenandoah finally split in two and went crashing down.

MAGNOLIA FOUNDERS' MONTH Petroleum Paves the Way for

The March of Transportation

IT is a far cry from the first ox-drawn sledge to the fast, luxurious transportation of today. In between has been a long era of slow horse-drawn land conveyances and wind-blown boats. It remained for petroleum, discovered in 1859, to completely revolutionize transportation within one brief lifetime. Petroleum has made it possible to build small, compact motors of tremendous horsepower. Petroleum has permitted man to overcome the devastating friction of metal parts moving at fearful speeds. Petroleum, in no small way, has been responsible for today's automobile, airplane, street car, railroad and steamship.

When the founders of the Magnolia Petroleum Company purchased the first oil in Texas at Corsicana in 1896, and two years later established the first refinery in the Southwest, they released a source of potential motive power great enough to supply the world's transportation with gasoline, motor oil and grease.

Today, you find Magnolia Stations and Dealers everywhere in the Southwest waiting to smooth your journey with Mobilgas, Mobilgas Ethyl and Mobiloil... the culmination of more than thirty-five years in the refining business. Drive in and enjoy these up-to-the-minute petroleum products.

MEETING TO ORGANIZE BALL LEAGUE SET FOR NEXT MONDAY

SEVEN TEAMS ARE READY TO BEGIN SEASON

TWELVE-TEAM LEAGUE MIGHT BECOME REALITY

A meeting to organize a playground ball league will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall.

Managers and captains are urged to be present. It will be decided by those present whether officers will be elected or whether the meeting will be devoted to discussing ways and means of operating the league this year.

Seven teams are already entered and from one to three more are expected to join before the season gets under way. Teams who have announced ready are Danciger, Phillips, Faculty, Diamond Shoppers, Reese Building, Jitney Jungle, and Lane Brothers. Some of the civic clubs are becoming interested and it may be that a 12 team league will be a reality.

The NEWS has received calls and opinions from most of the team managers and all are agreed that the officers elected will have no connection with any team or any player and that if he becomes affiliated with a firm or person sponsoring a team, his office will be declared vacant.

Managers are urged to either secure home diamonds or make arrangements to double with teams that already have diamonds.

THIS ISN'T MONTE CARLO

JOLIET (P)—Frank D. Whipp, warden of the state prison, was amazed when he came across a request from one prisoner to transfer $149 from his account to another inmate. The prisoner explained he had lost the money in a friendly little game of cards. A debt of honor, he said.

"What," exclaimed the warden, "is this Monte Carlo or the state penitentiary?"

A search for cards and other devices used in gambling was begun.

BONURA RELIEVES MR. HAPP; ROWE ARM TICKLES HARRIS

Cat Manager Holke Thru With Worries; Picks His Infield Players.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

When Zeke Bonura decided to end his holdout and sign a 1933 contract, Manager Happ Morse of the Dallas Steers gave a tremendous sigh of relief.

Morse was said to have really feared big Zeke would not sign. He knew that nowhere could Dallas procure another first baseman the equal of Bonura—without heavy outlay of cash.

Bonura reported and worked out one day before signing a contract. A Dallas sports writer cornered Morse in the playing dugout and said:

"I guess you feel better now that Zeke is here?"

"Sure I do," answered Morse "but he has not yet signed."

"That's tough," warned the sports writer, "because Zeke drove from New Orleans in his automobile. If he fails to agree on terms he can hop in his car and return to New Orleans pronto and even quicker."

"Listen, you," challenged Morse, "I've got to have that big Italian on my ball club. Now that he is in camp don't kid yourself that he is going to fly away. Not even if I have to steal his automobile, and clothes and lock his hotel room door to keep him in."

But as a matter of record—the conference was held, Bonura agreed to terms, signed and the Dallas infield of Jonnard, catcher; Bonura, first base; Stewart or Merchant, second base; Brower, shortstop, and Holman at third is ready for the league inaugural at Oklahoma City on April 11.

Bonura said the best news to greet him when he walked into the Dallas baseball office was a statement from Bob Tarleton that only two cities in the league planned an extensive program of night games.

"I can hit 'em much farther and harder in the daylight," Bonura declared.

Another Set Infield.

The Dallas infield is not the only one with the managerial stamp of approval on it.

Manager Walter Holke of the Ft. Worth Cats is through with his 1933 infield worries. He has picked Alexander Hooks for first base, Joe Norris at second, Charlie Engle for shortstop, and Raymond Ater for third.

Hooks and Engle are the only holdovers. Ater played shortstop last year for the Tyler team. Norris played under Holke in the Three-Eye league.

of the Detroit Tigers, simply can not refrain from smiling when he is quizzed about the playing possibilities of Pete Fox, outfielder, and "Schoolboy" Rowe, pitcher. These players were with Beaumont last year. In spring exhibitions, Fox has been something of a sensation, and Rowe pitched 5 innings of 5 hits and slammed out a home run against the New York Giants in their first exhibition.

Harris, on a spring training camp story weeks ago, predicted Fox and Rowe would make the grade without trouble. Many fans were skeptical, but from the showing of the two rookies "Bucky" really knew his baseball when he counted them among the regulars about the third day of spring training.

NEW GALVESTON CATCHER HAS PLAYED ON 6 CHAMP TEAMS

Charley Biggs Slated To Be One of Leading Pitchers in Texas League.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Jack Mealey, first string catcher for the Galveston Buccaneers, has a habit of being associated with pennant winning teams. In his ten years of professional baseball, Jack has been a member of six championship teams.

It started back in 1922 when he was catching for Joplin and that club won the pennant. In 1923, Okmulgee won the pennant and Jack was the star catcher. He drifted to the New Orleans Pelicans to assist the Crescent City in the pennant. He was with the Dallas Steers when they beat Wichita Falls for the Texas league pennant. He caught for Wichita, Kan., when that team won the Western league pennant in 1930. In 1931 he was a member of the San Francisco Seals, Pacific Coast league pennant winners.

Manager Billy Webb hopes Mealey's pennant charm will work at Galveston this season.

Pick Biggs.

As manager of the 1932 Shreveport-Tyler teams, Charley Biggs won 14 and lost 16 games. A new deal put Biggs in the Port Worth Cats 1933 spring training camp where he was impressed with his pitching.

Happ Morse at Dallas and Henry Severid at San Antonio, managers in the league last year, agree that Biggs probably will be one of the league's leading pitchers this season.

"Give me that fellow and we'll start preparing for the first division play-off," commented Morse at a discussion of who would be who in this year's Texas league race.

If owner Jack Holland of the Oklahoma City Indians decides to open the season April 11 with a night inaugural, Manager Happ Morse will transport his Dallas Steers to the Oklahoma town at least two days in advance in order to work out in the flood lights at the Indians' park.

Holland has indicated the season opener will be held at night at the request of the Oklahoma City chamber of commerce.

"In case they do make us open at night," warned Ernie Holman, third baseman, "all you fellows take your overcoats for we'll need them to keep from freezing. The umpires might not let us wear them on the playing field, but I'll wager they would be comfortable on the bench between innings."

Coleman Day.

Jack Zeeler, Detroit scout who assists the Beaumont Exporters in their training, is enthusiastic over the Exporters' opening day at San Antonio.

"Boy, we are going to pack 'em," forecasted Zeeler, "because our opening day there will be known as 'Bob Coleman's day' and the Alamo citizens will not only have a chance to honor their home-town product but also our manager this year."

GOLF PRO COMING HERE

Walter Sikes, Amarillo golf professional, wired THE NEWS yesterday that he would be in Pampa today for the purpose of organizing a golf class. The Amarillo "pro" is recognized as one of the best in the country. The first time he played the old Red Deer course here he made it in 33 strokes. He has been professional at the Twin Hills Municipal course in Amarillo for several years.

WHITLOW FOE IS KNOWN AS FINE FIGHTER

WILLIAMS OF WACO TO MEET VERNON IN SEMI-FINAL

When Pampa boxing fans heard that Battling Del Gado, 135, of Port Worth had been matched to meet Allen Whitlow, 134, of Indianapolis in the 10-round main event at the Pla-Mor auditorium tomorrow night, they started "hollering" for reserve seats and as a result several tickets have been placed on sale at the Diamond Shop, phone 295.

Del Gado is known the southwest over as one of the best fighters in his class. Whitlow needs no introduction locally after his bout with Pug Grubbs here last week. Whitlow holds the lightweight championship of Australia and has met some of the best boys in the world. Gado is rated high in his class and the fight should be another night for Pampa sport lovers.

Matchmaker Andy Andrews of the American Legion has also arranged a real supporting card. He has matched Joe Vernon, local 163-pounder, and Red Williams of Waco, for an eight-round semi-final. Sammy Squires, local boy, and Kid Stamper of Macon, Ga., are on the list for six rounds.

Three bouts of four rounds each will open the big card. Tiny Shanahan of Fort Worth is being imported to meet Tuffy Simons of Berger in the 100-pound class. Bill Forbes and Lefty Wright, both of Berger, have been matched at 75 pounds.

A grudge fight between two local negroes, Clyde Bowie and Oscar Hunter will open the card at 8:30 o'clock.

Additional seats will be erected as a larger crowd than last week is expected. Admission will be the same as last week but ringside seats will be 25 cents to all this week.

Billie Tidwell is improving in Pampa hospital following severe burns.

L. R. Forker was a Wheeler county visitor today.

William A. Hall of Nosletette visited in Pampa this morning.

Oklahoma City.

The oil company team hit three Beaumont pitchers for 14 hits while the three Berger hurlers were allowing only six scattered bingles. Next Sunday the Phillips team will meet the WDAQ team of Amarillo.

Kiwanis-Jaysee Bowling Tilt Is Set For Friday

The game between the Kiwanis No. 2 and the Jaysees in the City League bowling race scheduled for last night will be rolled Friday night. The Kiwanians were unable to "field" a team last night. Thursday night the Kiwanis No. 1 and Phillips will roll on alleys 3 and 4. The Texas company and Voss will roll on alleys 1 and 2.

It has been decided by league managers that the season will be cut from 81 to 75 games and that two games will be rolled each Tuesday and Thursday nights until the season ends. Sixty games have been rolled by most of the teams. Phillips has a comfortable lead with the Jaysees and Kiwanis No. 2 fighting for second place.

Outfielder Is Named In Attack Case By Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4. (P)—Henry (Prince) Oana, Hawaiian outfielder of the San Francisco Seals baseball club, was taken into custody here today on a John Doe warrant, and held to answer a complaint of Mrs. Pauline Labarch that she was abducted and attacked by three baseball players Saturday night.

Mrs. Labarch told officers she met the three men in San Francisco and they had several drinks together, after which she requested to be driven home. Instead of complying, she said, the three men took her to a point in San Mateo county, just outside the San Francisco line, and criminally attacked her. The woman was found lying in a vacant lot later and given emergency hospital treatment.

Oana denied any knowledge of the attack and said he was not acquainted with Mrs. Labarch.

Congress Told Akron Was Safe

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—As to the Akron's safety, a year ago last month the house naval committee found: "If there was any poor workmanship of faulty material used in the construction of the Akron, the same was corrected before the ship was completed."

Ten Indicted In Burial Alive Case

Roy Sommerville of Whittensburg visited friends here Monday. Cotton eased on lack of buying support. May dropping to $2.28, July to $6.44, and October to $6.68, or 2 to 3 points down from the earlier highs but still one to two points above yesterday's close.

OIL HEARING

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 4. (AP)—A complete shutdown of the big Oklahoma City oil field, as of 7 a. m., tomorrow, was ordered by the state corporation commission today.

The duration of the shutdown was not specified, but it was expected to cover the taking of potential tests. Only those oil wells making 10 per cent or more water will be exempt. Gas wells will be permitted to flow enough to meet current demands of consumers and plants.

Takeup of the potential tests probably will be delayed, it was indicated, until the legislature passes a new proration law.

Oil Measures Debated

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—Determined efforts to restrict the production of oil in Texas through heavy tax levies were made in the Texas house of representatives today during consideration of a bill to strip the railroad commission of its oil and gas supervisory authority and vest control of oil production in a new natural resource commission.

The house spent the morning arguing over proposals to levy stiff taxes on the per barrel production of oil. A vote was taken only on one amendment and it lost on a tie, 66 to 66. It would have levied a tax of two cents per barrel on production up to 40 barrels, five cents per barrel on the next 50 barrels, and 20 cents per barrel on all production in excess of 90 barrels daily.

Some advocates of the bill to establish a new commission asserted they would vote against the bill if the heavy taxes were imposed, while some opponents of the new commission plan declared that unless the taxes proposed in the amendment were levied they would vote against the proposal.

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—Out of the recent governor's oil conference convened here at his suggestion there came today recommendations from President Roosevelt for stopping interstate shipments of illicitly produced oil and the divorcing from other branches of the industry of oil pipelines engaged in interstate commerce.

German Ship's Captain Tells Of Men Sinking

By CAPTAIN DALLDORF

Master of the German Tanker. (Copyrighted, by Associated Press.) S. S. Phiebus at sea, 20 miles off Barnegat light, April 4.—About 12:30 o'clock this morning, during a thunderstorm and heavy rains, I saw aircraft lights flashing as my ship ploughed its way toward Tampico from New York.

Shortly afterward, I saw lights flashing on the water. I changed my course to approach the lights and soon heard men hailing from the water.

I stopped the ship, turned on all lights, lowered boats and put lifeboats over the side. I saw mattresses and wreckage, and pulled one man over the side of the boat. We got four men. I saw some men sink before we could get them.

After this, no more men were found.

STYLE SHOW

Madame, the mother and the daughter, keep up a stream of chatter while models parade. Last night at dress rehearsal, a small audience, including "spies" from the Business and Professional Women's style show, were given a sample of what they may expect tonight. But Mrs. Dedson said that only a little of the palaver that will be released tonight was spoken last night, and that much said last night will not be uttered tonight. Despite the embryo stage of the performance at the dress rehearsal, the onlookers applauded frequently and laughed all the time.

The rehearsal indicated that Dr. H. H. Hicks will present the surprise of the evening. He wore a "model" which will undoubtedly make everybody shriek with laughter. Dr. Hicks will be only one of the surprise numbers which parade the stage of the city auditorium.

Reed Criles as Marie will be Madame Guyton's assistant. More than 50 prominent men of the city modeled in more or less resplendent regalia. An unusual feature of the show is that it will have a definite plot, and the end of the performance will be as surprising as the climax of an O. Henry story. Among the group of specialty numbers will be a solo by Nell Bean, "Little Gypsy Sweetheart," which will be sung with many a tremolo in a high falsetto voice.

George Limerick will be seen trying on hats. The greatest mystery surrounds the parts to be played by W. O. Workman, D. J. Grubbon, and Paul LeBeuf.

A program of specialty acts will be given by Judge Philip Wolfe, Fred Cullum, R. B. Fisher, Emmitt Smith, Roy McMillen, John Sturgeon, Howard Neath, and perhaps others.

Models have been announced as follows: Evening gowns—A. M. Martini, Dick Hughes, Jack Stern, Howard Buckingham, Mitchell, Frank Carter, Pete Post, Paul Kasishke, Neal Bean, Roy Bourland, Dr. A. B. Gold-

AKRON

Akron, and by the loss of so many of her brave officers and crew. "The navy department," he continued, "will order a court of inquiry and the house naval affairs committee will hold an investigation to determine the cause and the circumstances of the accident. "The durability of the Akron had been thoroughly tested out, and she had just returned from a cruise to Panama."

Roosevelt Grieved

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—The loss of the Akron was termed a "national disaster" today by President Roosevelt in expressing the grief of the nation.

"The loss of the Akron with its crew of gallant officers and men is a national disaster. "I grieve with the nation and especially with the wives and families of the men who were lost. "Ships can be replaced but the nation can ill afford to lose such men as Rear Admiral William A. Moffett and his shipmates who died with him unflinching to the end the finest traditions of the United States navy."

Mrs. Moffett Hopeful

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—A message of steadfast courage was given today by Mrs. William A. Moffett, wife of the rear admiral missing in the Akron disaster.

"I have every belief that Admiral Moffett is all right and I shall hear from him," she said in an interview. "I shall not believe otherwise until definite word from the navy that he is really lost.

"So many little boats not equipped with radio are on those waters that there is every chance that many of the men may have been saved. "The admiral had a way of coming out of things safely and I expect to get word from him."

City Elections Are Being Held Today

By The Associated Press Municipal elections held the interest of voters in various Texas cities Tuesday. At Fort Worth, where it was indicated that around 9,000 votes would be cast, all nine members of the city council were running for reelection. Three factions were participating, the people's, the citizens' and the good government league.

In the first city election at Dallas since adoption of the council-manager form of government two years ago, citizens turned out to vote for nine members of their city council. It was expected that about 15,000 votes would be split among the 37 candidates in the field.

At Beaumont six city councilmen nominated for reelection in a primary ran unopposed.

W. L. Adams of Hutchinson county was dismissed from Pampa hospital this morning.

CONGRESS HEATEDLY ATTACKED THE AIRWORTHINESS OF AKRON

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 4. (AP)—The Akron had not yet reached her second birthday in the service of the navy. Last summer, two of her ground crew lost their lives at San Diego, Calif., when they were lifted into the air at the end of tow ropes. They fell off in midair.

The power plant comprises eight gasoline engines, each carrying a sea-level rating of 560 horsepower. The engines are mounted athwartships and each drives its own propeller.

The normal gasoline supply of about 124,000 pounds is stored in a total of 110 aluminum tanks, located alongside the two-side corridors convenient to the engine rooms.

An electrical plant and system which is substantially a miniature reproduction of similar systems used on destroyers, submarines and other vessels also is included in the Akron equipment. Power is used for radio, lighting, telephones, a portion of the cooking and for certain pumps and the like.

The control car is located near the forward part of the ship and the forward third of the control room is the location for rudder and elevator controls, gas and ballast controls, instruments and other apparatus.

An emergency control station is located in the lower fin. Above the control room are the radio and aerological rooms, quarters for the captain and a part of the officers and an office space and photographic laboratory.

For several months before the Pacific coast journey, the Akron—to be supplanted as "queen of the skies" by the U. S. Macon—underwent extensive repairs and a complete overhauling in its hangar here.

The airworthiness of the ship had been under attack in congress and a committee of congressmen came to the station to board her for a trial cruise. As the ship was being taken from its hangar, a gust of wind bounced the tall 40 feet in the air. No one was injured but the dirigible was damaged.

The Akron took its first trial flight on September 23, 1931. She was constructed on the multi-layer principle. The basic hull structure is a wire braced system composed of transverse frames connected by longitudinal girders.

Fred C. Vertrees of Hutchinson, Kan., is a Pampa visitor this week.

PAMPAN KNEW VICTIM

Lieut. Curus F. Clendenning of Toms River, N. J., one of the victims of the crash, was a classmate of Roy Wight, now with the Texas company at Kingsmill. He was with the class of 1927 at Annapolis. Several other members of the crew were at Annapolis at the time Mr. Wight was there, but none of them was a classmate.

W. J. Bullock of LeFors was a Pampa visitor last night. Dub Williams spent the weekend with friends in Lubbock.
