PRICE FIVE CENTS

Wonder Sights Await Pampanians At Great Fair

BY ELIZABETH WALKER
NEA Service Special Writer

CHICAGO, June 7.—Thousands are asking, "How much will it cost to see the world fair?" The answer depends of course on how far the visitor travels, how long he stays in Chicago, and many other things. However, it has been estimated that an individual can spend a week taking in the sights at A Century of Progress, seeing 90 per cent of all there is to see, and stopping at a good hotel, for well under $50, or he can see much and spend a great deal less, of course.

The 1933 Midway

Old World and New

His full budget might include: Room with bath, five days, $12.50. Meals for seven days, $14. Admission to the fair, six days, $6.

Admission to Chinese Temple, Streets of Paris, Belgian and Oriental Villages, South Pole Ship, Fort Dearborn and Lincoln group, $3.10.

Admissions to supplementary exhibits at Art Institute, Field Museum, Shedd Aquarium and Adler Planetarium, $1.

Miscellaneous sideshows, including Spectaculum, 75 cents. Local transportation in Chicago, $1.20.

This totals $38.55. The figures allow for little but essentials and obviously may be contracted or expanded as the visitor wishes. Transportation by train or auto will be added expense.

Many Exhibits Free
Whether a person stays within his budget depends largely on how much he spends on that boulevard of ballyhoo, the Midway, where amusement concessions are located

It derives its name as well as its scale of prices from Chicago's first fair in 1883.

Most of the fair exhibits are free, and among them is the Enchanted Island

Isle for children, where sight-seeing parents may check their offspring while they see the fair.

However, the children themselves must pay sums ranging from a penny to 15 cents to explore the Magic Mountain, or ride on the miniature railroad, or be amused by any one of a score of attractions designed for children only.

Rooms From $1 Up
The visitor may see 12,000 free exhibits. It is estimated that the fair's winding aisles and corridors, if placed together, would extend more than 82 miles. Also there are numerous concessions for which admission is charged, which would total perhaps $75, with the added luxury of a ricksha, a boardwalk chair, or a gondola.

If pennies must be watched, cost can be cut by staying in a private home or apartment. A recent survey showed that the city has 400,000 rooms available, ranging in price from $1 a day in private homes to $25 a day for de luxe suites in Michigan boulevard hotels.

Close by Grant Park, site of the exposition, are several first-class hotels which are offering double rooms without bath for $3 a day, or single rooms for $2. With bath, double rooms are available for $4 and single rooms for $3.50.

Railroad Cut Rates
Those who travel by railroad will have the benefit of 1-10 fare for a round-trip ticket good for 16 days; 30-day tickets are obtainable for 1-3 the usual fare. Railroads have established uniform rates.

Cost of eating will depend largely on taste. Meals at hotels run from 30 cents upwards. Sandwiches may be had on the fair grounds for 5 and 10 cents.

One of the boasts of those responsible for the exposition is that 85 per cent of the $25,000,000 worth of attractions, condensed within its

WORKS BILL DEBATED

INDUSTRIAL MEASURE BEGINS JOURNEY THRU SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—House democratic leaders have decided to postpone action on the independent offices supply bill until the administration submits a concrete compromise proposal as a substitute for the Connally amendment limiting reductions in veterans outlays to 25 per cent.

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—Speaker Rainey told newspapermen today that if congress accepted the Connally amendment, increasing veterans outlays, without raising taxes and adjourned, President Roosevelt would immediately call another extra session.

"The budget has got to be balanced," Rainey said. "If the congress adjourns after accepting the Connally amendment to the independent offices bill, throwing the budget $170,000,000 out of balance, the president would be justified in calling an extra session."

Rainey said that this far the compromise offered by President Roosevelt had not been accepted by proponents of the amendment.

He added that President Roosevelt was ready "to fight it out with congress," saying the country would "back him up in his efforts to maintain a balanced budget."

"He will call a special session and keep us here all summer if necessary," Rainey contended.

The administration's industrial recovery-public works bill—last of the major measures to come before the extra session—began its journey through the senate with democrats confident they could prevent drastic revisions to be proposed by republicans and some members on their own side.

Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), principal author of the bill, opened debate after republican regulars in party conference had decided to press for a sales tax of 1-2 per cent to finance the $3,300,000,000 federal state and local construction program.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) told newspapermen after a conference with President Roosevelt he would renew the drive to give the secretary of interior control over the oil industry in an effort to curb production.

FACT SIGNED

ROME, June 7 (AP)—Premier Mussolini's four-power peace pact, designed to guarantee ten years of peace in Europe, was initiated tonight in Italy, France, Germany and Great Britain.

I HEARD--

That little Bobby Gilchrist returned home from the swimming pool this morning and told his mother that the water where he washed his feet at the pool was "paralyzed" (meaning sterilized). Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, 107 South Wynne street.

Everybody that attended the junior chamber of commerce barbecue at the Lon Blansett ranch last night raved about the big time they had. "An" was that barbecue good and plentiful.

EIGHT TIRES AND RIMS STOLEN FROM 5 PAMPA RESIDENTS; J. B. MASSA IS THE HEAVIEST LOSER

PAMPA was visited by a gang of tire thieves last night, and when a check was made this morning, five local owners had reported the loss of eight tires and rims. Both county and city officers are working on the thefts.

J. B. Massa was the victim of the thieves to the extent of three tires and rims. Two of the tires were on a Chevrolet coupe. The tires were newly new. He also lost a Firestone tire from a Ford car. The

Mr. Roosevelt must have read with a chuckle news item of how England's chancellor Neville Chamberlain was chided for letting Uncle Sam take the initiative in the world economic conference.

Those escaped Kansas prisoners looked fierce enough, but for that matter so do any eleven men you are apt to photograph at one time. Sometimes members of a jury look tougher than the accused, though every member may be a deacon or an elder.

The Childless Index has a column entitled "Ladies First." We need not comment on where that leaves the men of it.

Regardless of what the horses may think of it, Panhandle is going to have another big race meet June 16 to 18. If you are tired of other sports, why not see the high-stepping steeds for a change?

ENCHANTMENT IN DISTANCE
Americans love to worship fairies and Gollaths. President Herbert Hoover was a Goliath of Prosperity until he lost his luck. President Franklin D. Roosevelt is a smarter dictator in whom the people believe just as strongly as they once did in Mr. Hoover.

There is evidence that the principal of representation is losing its oldtime appeal. The Texas legislature was all too representative of the confusion of the minds of the electorate. But distance lends enchantment to dictators. Where is a Texas officer holder who would be trusted with powers over this state comparable to what Mr. Roosevelt has over the nation.

Many observers say a people can be truly the most happy under a monarch—a good one, and that a pure democracy is utterly untenable in practice though beautiful in theory. What do you think?

A NAVY RACE?

At a time when Uncle Sam needs his surplus and then some for unemployment relief, the disarmament question becomes an acute one. We are a billion dollars behind the London naval treaty ratio. Japan is asking "parity on paper" in the place of her old 3-5-3 status, meaning that if we won't spend the billion she can soon catch up with us. If her proposition isn't accepted, and she insists on actual parity, are we going to engage in a battleship construction race with her? We could win the race, but the taxpayers of both nations would lose. We would like to continue to think of Japan's fleet as weaker than ours. And we can appreciate France's desire to have the German army weaker than the French army, at most any cost.

IS POPULAR THE WORD?

The Dallas News assures us that "milk cows" is a popular task for students. We trust we may be forgiven for joining the ranks of the skeptics on this point. Coaxing the foamy fluid from the machinery of old Bossy isn't, to our way of thinking, in keeping with this mechanical age. Sanitation is merely relative in such performances, unless one is surrounded with mechanical devices which make one somewhat reminiscent of spotless hospital operating rooms.

We trust that the Dallas paper means that most any task is popular with students eager to work their way through school, and that opportunities to milk cows are more numerous than those to turn the spigots in the soda fountains. As a West Texan with the cowboy's aversion to cow-milking, we challenge the inference of the Dallas paper, even if said milkers do come from East Texas cotton farms. Our observation is that children of the farms like to get away from farm ways, and that urban youngsters have a lively interest in things farmish, or, as it were, cowish.

SENATE WILL PROBE MORGAN TAX RETURNS

FINANCIER'S INTEREST IN RAIL PROPERTIES IS SOUGHT

VAN SWERINGEN TALKS

SPENT ONLY MILLION IN BUYING GREAT SYSTEM

Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—One million dollars was all the cash that O. P. Van Sweringen, his brother and associates originally put into acquiring railroad interests which have expended to one of the most vast in the country.

This fact was divulged by O. P. Van Sweringen in resuming testimony in the senate investigation of the part played by J. P. Morgan and company in building up the extensive Van Sweringen rail domain.

He had been asked the amount yesterday by Ferdinand Pecora, as counsel for the senate committee, and said he could not then comply.

Agree on Resolution
"I read over your question and am pleased to say I can answer frankly," he said at the start of this morning's examination.

"The amount of dollars was $1,000,000 with which my brother and my associates started back in 1916."

J. P. Morgan and his counsel, John W. Davis, listened intently, as did another crowd that jammed the hearing room.

A moment before, the investigators had agreed unanimously on terms of a resolution to be presented to the senate later in the day seeking wider power to go into income tax returns of Morgan partners and their stock transactions bearing on the payments made.

Chairman Fletcher predicted it would be approved by the senate without delay.

"Are you satisfied with the committee's action?" Pecora was asked.

Not Bored Today

"I think so," he smiled. The matter-of-fact answer by Van Sweringen as to the amount of cash put up to get a start in rail-roading attracted the audience to more close attention than he had been given since he first took the stand.

"You may say that is starting on a shoe-string," Van Sweringen said. "I agree that is so, but we made what we have today out of the shoe-string."

The noted railroad operator listened more intently to Pecora's questions today.

He pointed a finger at the counsel as he replied.

Rock Island In Bankruptcy Plea Under New Act

CHICAGO, June 7 (AP)—The Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific railroad filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in federal court today, proposing to reorganize under the new federal bankruptcy act.

The railroad can proceed under the act to reorganize without actual adjudication as a bankrupt.

The petition stated the company was unable to meet interest payments of $2,259,710 falling due between June 27 and July 1 of this year.

In addition, the petition said, various bond issues totaling $144,303,700 will mature March 1 and April 1 of next year.

INTEREST IN TRIP TO FAIR GROWS DAILY

Indications Are That Many Will Make Reservations For 'Wonder Journey.'

THERE is ample evidence that many Pampanians will make reservations for the proposed Pampa Daily NEWS special train to the Century of Progress at Chicago. The cost is obviously well under any other train offered this section, and is on a non-profit basis.

Moving of the tentative date for departure to July 15 has met with general approval. Nearly five days would be spent in and near Chicago.

The NEWS staff has a new daily task in answering inquiries from other towns in the southwest. Probably not less than twenty towns will be represented on the train, which will be run if there are 100 reservations by June 9.

In the absence of Gilmore N. Nunn, manager of the trip, who with Mrs. Nunn and Olin E. Hinkle are attending the Texas Press association convention in Houston this week, reservations may be made with Philip R. Pond, business manager of THE NEWS.

Those who have returned from the fair praise it as beyond description, and declare that Chicago has positively not hiked prices.

The NEWS will have representatives in various towns to give details of the trip and take reservations. At Miami, Miss Ann Hopkins will be the representative, and the Canadian representative will be Miss Yvonne Hallyes. Other names will be announced soon for Pampa, Borger, White Deer, McLean, and other cities.

Jaysees Consume Barbecue Feast At Ranch Picnic

More than 100 pounds of barbecue beef and pork "disappeared" at the Junior chamber of commerce picnic on the Lon L. Blansett ranch south of Bowers, Okla., last night which closed a successful membership drive headed by Bob Gordon.

The barbecue, cooked under the personal supervision of Mr. Blansett, was tender and juicy, and hot sauce sent the "boys" back for several helpings. Mrs. Blansett arrived on the scene with hot coffee to go along with the cold drinks.

Games of playground ball, races and contests were held and the tired but happy gathering returned to the city before 10 o'clock. It was voted to have another barbecue later in the year.

President W. T. Fraser congratulated the members on their work and predicted a big opening of the swimming pool and a bigger and better Frontier Days celebration.

Ten Killed And Injured in Blast

TOKYO, June 7 (AP)—Three explosions in the powder magazine at the Hamamatsu air corps station tonight resulted in death or injury to more than ten persons.

Several structures were destroyed. Expectations were that the casualties would prove to be much larger.

Hamamatsu is 120 miles southwest of Tokyo.

False Wire Worm Damaging Cotton

The false wire worm beetle is causing havoc to newly planted cotton and row crop, according to reports being received by County Agent Ralph Thomas who has also learned from many farmers that the worms cause about as much damage to wheat as the drought.

The county agent has been asked to prepare a poison mash which will be used as an experiment to try and kill the beetles. If it is successful the county agent will make large quantities.

The pests are nearly as numerous as they were a few years ago when fields were destroyed.

READING OF NEWS ADS IS REALLY YOUR INVESTMENT

READERS OF DAILY NEWS advertising, as well as the advertisers themselves, have an investment. For readers, the investment is in securing style information and learning where and when to effect substantial savings in merchandise.

Groceries, drugs, motoring supplies, clothing, and other merchandise are advertised in THE NEWS in a way that only regular readers of this newspaper can appreciate. The non-reader loses in a year many times the price of a subscription. Often shopping through THE NEWS columns for one week will mean a savings equal to a year's subscription.

Who, then, can say that readers as well as advertising patrons of THE NEWS do not have an investment in their newspaper and the time given to reading it? Are you making the most of your investment? Are you encouraging your merchants to help you through intelligent advertising?

Do not hold your Daily NEWS subscription-investment lightly; use it—it will pay handsome dividends.

FLIER MAY HAVE GONE TO KHABAROVSK, BACKER SAYS

MOSCOW, June 7 (AP)—Fifteen hours after he had passed Novosibirsk, Jimmy Matern, American round-the-world flier, was unreported today so far as Moscow knew, but unless he had encountered difficulties with his plane he should have reached Chita, Siberia, the next stop on his schedule.

Delays in communication, which increased the further eastward the flier progressed, left Moscow without word of his whereabouts.

The Moscow weather bureau said the aviator should encounter good weather and wind conditions as far as Krasnovorsk, after which he probably would meet strong headwinds and cloudy weather on his way to Chita.

NOVOSIBIRSK, Siberia, June 7 (AP)—Jimmy Matern was sighted here at 4:10 a. m. today, Moscow time, at 8:10 p. m. EST. Tuesday he was flying high and east towards Chita, Siberia, his destination in the fifth lap of his round-the-world flight.

This town is about 600 miles due east of Omsk, Siberia, from where he hopped off at 1:10 a. m. Moscow time (5:10 p. m. eastern standard time Tuesday). His average speed was close to 200 miles an hour.

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—With no word received on Jimmy Matern's round-the-world flight since last night, when at 8:10 p. m. his plane was sighted over Novosibirsk, Siberia, the flier's manager today calmly assumed the attitude, "no news, good news."

When the Texas flier took off from Omsk yesterday he announced his next stop would be Chita. Harry B. Jameson, Matern's backer and manager, said he would not be surprised if Matern did not stop at Chita and flew on to Khabarovsk, an additional distance of approximately 1,400 miles.

The total distance from Omsk to Khabarovsk is slightly more than 3,000 miles. Jameson pointed to Matern's first hop from New York to Norway 3,600 miles, which he traveled in a shade more than 23 hours. This he said, lends justification to his belief that Matern might have passed up the stop at Chita.

However, if Matern maintained his average speed of around 130 miles an hour and if he landed at Chita, he should have reached that point about 8:30 a. m., today, Jameson said.

ATTEMPT TO KILL FAMOUS GREEK FAILS

Wife of Former Premier Is Shot by Gunman in Lungs And Stomach.

ATHENS, Greece, June 7 (AP)—An attempt on the life of Eleutherios Venizelos, premier of Greece eight times since 1910, deeply stirred this city here today.

The 69-year-old veteran statesman narrowly escaped death at the hands of a party of gunmen who fired from an automobile at the motorcar in which M. and Mrs. Venizelos were traveling from Amara to Athens last night.

The assassins' shots killed a personal guard accompanying the former premier and struck Mrs. Venizelos, who suffered four serious wounds in the lungs and stomach.

The driver of the Venizelos machine was cut by glass from a broken car window today.

The gunmen, whose motive was not determined, escaped.

Mrs. Venizelos, the second wife of the statesman, is the daughter of a wealthy Anglo-Greek resident of Schlitz. They were married in London in 1921.

Premier Panagiotis Tsaldaris expressed regret and horror at the attack and immediately issued orders for a thorough investigation and search for the gunmen.

THE VISION OF A NEW ERA FOR AMERICA

It would take a seer of uncommon ability to tell just where we are going to be when the present time of trial is over; but now and then even the least prophetic of men must feel a thrill of excitement at the enormous possibilities that are inherent in the situation.

In our fight to get out of the depression, start the wheels moving and put men back to work there is more than a chance that we shall take a longer stride along the road toward genuine freedom and happiness than would have seemed possible half a decade ago.

Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, touched on this in a speech before the Girls' Work Section of the New York Welfare Council not long ago.

"As we go about building up the purchasing power of the American people in the next year," she said, "we may find that we have built up a new kind of civilization.

We recognize that our mass production system cannot go on unless we consciously build up the purchasing power of the people who work in this country, and we are recognizing that out of the building up of this purchasing power—by artificial or other means—may come a blessing beyond anything we in our generation have ever dared to dream of."

Words are often deceptive things. That little expression, "building up purchasing power," for instance; we say it glibly, and we think of manufacturers' ledgers and busy salesrooms as we say it, but back of it there are human values which are simply dazzling to contemplate.

Suppose for instance, that we succeed in building up this purchasing power, by one means and another, for one of those large blighted areas in the nation—those areas where people struggle along through year after year of hopeless poverty, existing rather than living, lacking all luxuries and many necessities. What do we do?

We enable these people to house, clothe and feed themselves properly. We enable them to give their children a chance at the good things of life; a chance at health, happiness, leisure, ambition, contentment. We let them lift themselves up to a new level. We replace misery and despair with joy and hope.

It is chances like that which are opening up in our fight with the depression. Winning the fight means more than simply setting the factory chimneys smoking again. It can mean, as Miss Perkins says, building a new kind of civilization.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins is getting a lot of praise for thinking up ways to put men to work, but we believe most wives could give her a few pointers around house-cleaning time.

No, Horace, the government's drive for the elimination of sweatshops will not mean the closing of those Turkish bath emporiums.

Scientists insist that long-range weather forecasts are impossible, but after looking over the repeal returns from the various states we feel entirely safe in predicting that 1934 will be a wet year.

Blanscet Will Direct Canadian Rodeo July 3-5

CANADIAN, June 7.—Preparations are being made to take care of a capacity crowd at the popular Anvil Park ranch rodeo, to be held July 3-5, at Anvil Park ranch, located 5 miles east of Canadian.

It is expected that a sizeable delegation from Pampa and all surrounding towns will attend the show which starts at 2 p. m. daily. Among participants in the calf roping are ranchmen from all over the Panhandle that are now practicing their loops in preparation for this event.

The Anvil Park rodeo at the outset was a local affair. Eleven years ago, it started in a small way with only a few hundred in attendance. Today it is nationally known, and people from adjoining states attend many of them bringing their camping outfits, and taking advantage of the free camping facilities.

It is regarded as fitting that this celebration be held at Canadian. It is a typical ranch country with a number of outfits still in the ranching game. Canadian will always be a ranching country because of the rough terrain and the type of land.

The Rodeo and Cowboy's reunion, originally featured as a local event, has now become a rather large affair. It is drawing from a large area, and people look forward each year to the celebration.

Lon L. Blanscet, ex-shepherd and rodeo contestant of Pampa, Gray county, Texas will act as arena director. He has had a wide and varied experience, and he promises a fast and snappy program. The association's string of bucking horses and Brahma steers will be used. There will be bronc riding, calf roping, Brahma steer riding, and steer bulldozing. A new event introduced this year will be wild cow milking. This will be a feature event on the program. Large cash prizes are offered in all events so as to attract the best of talent.

First Concrete Poured in River

BOULDER CITY, Nevada, June 7. (AP)—Not content with twisting the Colorado's tail until it roared, man today starts hog-tying the mighty river.

For a little less than three years workers in the mile-deep canyon have been preparing for the hour when the dyke which will tame the stream would begin rearing itself from bedrock.

Today the first cubic yard of concrete was to be poured into the great forms whose contours will become an arch 730 feet high and 1,180 feet wide, a concave barrier which will raise the height of the river 582 feet, provide flood control, irrigation and domestic water, and power.

Mayor To Rule City From Jail Cell 'Office'

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., June 7. (AP)—Mayor Lionel Heap, who took office last May 1, was a prisoner in the Ottawa county jail here today under a writ of body execution for failure to pay a judgment.

The mayor, who agreed to accept service of the writ last night and immediately went to jail, said he would conduct the affairs of his office from the jail.

One problem he faces was attending city council meetings but it was likely he will ask the council to meet in the jail. Mayor Heap is serving in jail failure to pay a judgment of nearly $8,000 awarded to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Edna H. Heap, who charged him with dissipation of the assets of her late husband while he was administrator of the estate. He asserted that his trouble was "all political," and said he would not pay the judgment.

Texan Is Sixth Flier To Make 'Atlantic Solo'

NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—Jimmy Mattern's non-stop solo flight from New York to Jomfruland Island, Norway, placed him in a group of six fliers who have spanned the north and south Atlantic oceans alone in a single hop. It was Mattern's second crossing of the North Atlantic, the Texan having flown from Harbor Grace, N. F., to Berlin last year with Bennett Griffin.

Mattern flew across the Atlantic two weeks after the sixth anniversary of Charles A. Lindbergh's epochal flight from New York to Paris on May 21, 1927, when he became the first person to fly across the Atlantic alone.

The record of North Atlantic solo flights, beginning with the Lindbergh flight follows: Lindbergh—May 21, 1927; New York to Paris, 3,610 miles; 33 hours and 29 minutes.

Amerlia Earhart Putnam—May 21, 1932; Harbor Grace, N. F., to Culmore, Ireland, 2,906 miles; 13 hours and 30 minutes.

James Mollison—August 19, 1932; Formarock, Ireland, to St. John, N. B., 2,800 miles; 30 hours and 10 minutes.

Mattern—June 4, 1933; New York to Jomfruland Island, Norway, 3,600 miles; 23 hours and 55 minutes.

The late Bert Hinkler was the first aviator to fly the south Atlantic alone. On November 27, 1931, Hinkler flew from Natal, Brazil, to Bathurst, West Africa, a distance of more than 1,500 miles, in 22 hours.

By the World FORGOT

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: Discarded by the world because his heroic rescue of an extra girl had led to a hopelessly scorned love and an unrequited love, Nicholas Boyd sails gloomily for England in his home, his wife remaining behind in New York. Just after the ship sails a timid, extra girl brings a bunch of roses to the tolling room into the sea, and suddenly turns the girl out.

Chapter Four GEORGIE BANEROFT GEORGIE had been watching Nicholas Boyd all the morning. The long promenade deck was almost deserted. The sky was grey and overcast in spite of the intense heat, and there was an ugly heavy swell that made the great liner lurch from side to side like a drunken man.

George Baneroft, her hands thrust deep into the pockets of her red jacket, and her soft hair flying in the hot breeze, leaned against the rail and looked wistfully across to where Nicholas Boyd lay full length in a deck chair his eyes closed, one hand hanging limply by his side.

They were two days out from New York and it was the first time she had seen him since she had tapped at his cabin door with her offering of roses.

The girl who shared George's cabin in (neither of them could afford to have one to themselves) had spoken to her about Nicholas.

"How awful! A real fallen star, isn't he? I'd rather be dead. No wonder he keeps out of everyone's way. I shouldn't be surprised if he doesn't jump overboard before we get to Southampton."

"She was a cheery little Cockney soul who had been on a visit to a brother in Chicago. "He paid my fare or I couldn't have come," she told George with engaging frankness. "I should like to have stayed with him for ever, but his wife didn't hit it with me. She's from Boston."

She waited hopefully for some comment; she loved talking, but George had no comment to make.

AFTER a moment Nelly Foster tried again. "Where have you been?" "To New York, to see my mother."

Nelly's eyes opened wide. "Your mother! You don't say! Doesn't your mother live with you then?"

"No; she married again—an American, and they don't want me to live with them. I don't want to either. I'm quite happy."

"Do you live alone?" "No, with an uncle. He lets me do as I like."

The two girls looked at one another with mutual interest. "I could have married out there if I'd liked," Nelly volunteered. "I could have married a man in the canning business and have stayed in Chicago, but he was old—" she shrugged her shoulders. "He was fat, too, and his chin was all bristly when he kissed me."

"When he kissed you?" George looked scandalized. "You didn't let him kiss you? You didn't like him?" Nelly laughed. "Of course I did. That was the only way I could and out if I loved him or not. It's a good way, too," she added shrewdly. "You remember that. If you can't stand a man kissing you, you can't stand him at all."

"I've never kissed a man," George said. "Some of them don't know how to kiss," Nelly went on, with the air of one who thoroughly understands now, my lamb. The less you expect, the more you get." George picked up her scarlet coat and dragged it on rather impatiently. "I'm going on deck," she said.

"Hope you'll enjoy it," Nelly retorted, turning over on her pillow. "The boat's rolling like old Harry, and the sight of the sky would make me sick for a week."

So George had gone up on deck alone and found Nicholas Boyd. He looked lonely she decided, as she leaned against the railings a little distance from him and wistfully watched him.

He lay very still, his slouch hat pulled well down over his eyes, one arm hanging limply by his side. George had seen pictures of Bernie Boyd, and hadn't admired her very much, though she had been honest enough to realize that perhaps there had been just a shade of jealousy in her criticism.

Bernie was very blonde, almost like one of the china shepherdesses that stood on the mantelpiece in George's uncle's study; she had a "cold" smile, too, that looked as if it was meant for unseen crowds rather than for any specific person. And she was not with her husband.

George wondered what Boyd was thinking about; he lay so still, his lame leg resting on a cushion. George sighed; those roses Nicholas had thrown away had cost her three dollars which would have been very useful for other things. Not that she grudged the expenditure; she would have paid six gladly if it would have given Nicholas any pleasure—but it did seem rather waste.

The ship gave a sudden tremendous lurch, causing George almost to lose her balance, and when she had recovered it she saw that the book which had been lying face downwards on Boyd's knee had slipped and fallen to the deck.

It was an opportunity and George took it unhesitatingly. (Copyright, 1933, Doubleday Doran) Perforce, Nicholas learns more about George's situation.

Amarillo Bans Posting Signs On Parked Cars

AMARILLO, June 7 (AP)—The Amarillo city commission has introduced an ordinance which would prohibit advertising signs from being posted on parked motor vehicles. The ordinance also would taboo noise devices being mounted on motor vehicles to attract attention to advertising signs.

The commission also revived an old ordinance against radio loudspeakers and phonographs in doorways and on the sidewalks of the business district.

Approximately 700 tons of silt are removed weekly from the water of the Mississippi river to give New Orleans a pure drinking supply.

BEGAN CAREER AS A NEWSBOY AT AGE OF 12

OWNED THREE FAMOUS MAGAZINES AND NEWSPAPERS

PHILADELPHIA, June 7 (AP)—Cyrus H. K. Curtis, noted publisher and philanthropist, who began his career as a newsboy, died today at his home in suburban Wyncoffe after an illness of more than a year. He would have been 83 on June 18.

With him at the last were his only daughter, Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, and other members of his family.

One of the world's foremost publishers, Mr. Curtis was stricken with a heart attack in May last year while on his yacht near New York. Rushed to this city, he entered a hospital. His wife took a room in the same institution to be near him. She died five days later from a heart ailment.

Funeral services are to be held at Mr. Curtis' home Friday afternoon, and burial will be in West Laurel Hill cemetery here.

With a capital of three cents, Curtis started his business career as a newsboy at the age of 12. His subsequent success, and epic of American business, brought him to the chairmanship of the board of the Curtis Publishing Co. which publishes the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, and the Country Gentleman.

He also was president of the Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc., which publishes the Philadelphia Public Ledger and Evening Ledger, and the New York Evening Post, and owns the Philadelphia Inquirer company which publishes the Inquirer.

In addition to his daughter, those at his bedside when death came were his grandsons, William Curtis Bok and Gary W. Bok, his stepdaughters, Mrs. John C. Martin of Philadelphia and Mrs. Pearson Wells of Detroit; John C. Martin, vice-president of Curtis-Martin Newspapers, Inc., and two physicians.

Noted for his philanthropies, Mr. Curtis was a devout believer in the homely axiom "heaven helps those who help themselves."

In his life-time, he gave many millions but his friends assert that not one dollar was given where it would not bear fruit, whether the fruit was increase in human happiness, in learning, civic decency or in advancing the high cause of progress through education.

Allred To Run For Governor Is General Belief

AUSTIN, June 7 (AP)—It is generally conceded that whatever his future plans were, recent events have precipitated James V. Allred, attorney general, into the 1934 gubernatorial race.

His clash with one of the oil factions seems to have brought him to the forefront as a candidate. Allred has begun an investigation of lobbyists and in an aggressive three-hour speech at Wichita Falls recently answered his critics within the oil industry.

Veterans of politics predict Coke Stevenson, speaker of the house, and Allred would make a colorful campaign. Both are young men and each an excellent stump speaker. Allred has an initial advantage because he has been attorney general twice. As speaker of the house, Stevenson has been introduced to Texas as an impressive way. It is generally conceded he has made a good job of the assignment. Jimmie Allred has made a good attorney general, too, most Texans think.

Judge Rules On Car Financing

AMARILLO, June 7 (AP)—Federal Judge James C. Wilson has ruled that the financing of a car sale on the payment plan constitutes the sale of a mortgage from the dealer to the finance company rather than a loan.

Judge Wilson handed down the opinion while instructing a verdict for General Motors Acceptance Corporation in a suit brought by Dyke Cullum, former Berger automobile dealer, who alleged that usurious interest had been charged by the finance company in financing his sales. He asked for the recovery of $21,624, which was double the amount of alleged usurious interest.

Clem Calhoun, attorney for Cullum, said the case would be appealed to the circuit court of appeals, New Orleans, and finally to the United States supreme court, if necessary. He described it as a test case.

Mattern Still Has Chance To Break Record

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—Jimmie Mattern still has a good chance of setting his weather-battered "Century of Progress" down at Floyd Bennett field with the globe-girdling record in his possession.

Flood winds and a little misfortune set him back a bit, so that he was 1 hour, 41 minutes behind the time of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty when he left Omsk, Siberia.

The Post-Gatty team, however, met bad winds and misfortune after passing Omsk, so that a Biele luck should send the Texas flier scooting out of Siberia in his red-white-and-blue craft away head of their timetable.

After passing over Omsk, without stopping, Post and Gatty flew on 400 miles or so to land at Novosibirsk. They stayed there for 9 hours, 13 minutes. They next stopped to accept all subscriptions of $10,000 or less even though they require more than the total of securities offered.

Bids were called for on $500,000, 7-8 per cent treasury notes, whose proceeds will go largely to the public works spending. In addition there was offered $40,000,000 or thereabouts of nine month 3-4 per cent certificates. Customarily issues are oversubscribed and the billion figure is expected to be reached with ease.

Financing to be done with the new funds includes paying off $374,000,000 of maturing certificates, and $104,000,000 interest on the public debt due June 15.

The issues will bring Roosevelt administration securities sales to $2,372,000,000, since in March the treasury sold $800,000,000 worth and in April added $57,200,000. The banking upheaval in March compelled an interest rate of 4 1/4 per cent on the nine month offerings of that month, but the new securities are down to normal interest rates as were those of April.

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—The treasury called on the public today to lend the government a billion dollars to launch the big recovery public works program and meet current financing needs.

The invitation for funds was directed especially at small holders of capital whom Secretary Woodin wants in as "partners" of the government. To favor these he announced he was reserving the right to accept all subscriptions of $10,000 or less even though they require more than the total of securities offered.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

NO NATION has fought with more determination than the little Paraguayan country fought in its five-year struggle against Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay. All boys over 15 years of age were called to the colors, and even boys of 10 years entered the army. At the end of the war, the proportion of men to women was one to seven.

Perryton Named Convention City

M'COOK, Neb., June 7 (AP)—Officers of the Great Plains Highway, Canada to Mexico route, were re-elected at the annual meeting today.

They include: J. V. Romigh of North Platte, Neb., president; R. Y. Schindler of Perryton, Tex., first vice president.

State officers: Oklahoma, vice president, Y. W. Gray of Gray.

Texas, directors, W. B. Lamasters, Perryton; Jerry Waggoner, Hamlin, S. E. Allison, Canadian, Gene Bell, Abilene; L. W. Cooper, Coleman, and M. R. Jones, Laredo.

Perryton, Texas, was chosen as the 1934 convention city.

Knute Rockne, Jr. Injured in Wreck

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., June 7 (AP)—Physicians said today that 15-year-old Knute K. Rockne, Jr., son of the late Notre Dame coach, is expected to recover from injuries suffered last night in an automobile accident. His mother is at his bedside.

Edward Velahancy, 16, still is in a serious condition, and Herman N. Newport, 40, is suffering cuts and bruises. Rockne has a fractured elbow and other injuries. The three, all of South Bend, were hurt when their truck struck a tree while they were en route to South Bend from the Rockne summer home near Stevensville, Mich.

Prospects For Big Honey Crop Have Vanished

COLLEMAN, June 7 (AP)—Prospects that existed several days ago for a bumper honey crop in Coleman County have vanished. Mesquite trees, principal source of the yield here, have tried to bloom twice since spring opened and each time have been destroyed by heavy rains.

This is the opinion of J. P. Caldwell, owner of the largest apiaries in the county. Unless something happens to supply a source of honey, many bees will die, in his opinion.

There is yet a chance for a big mesquite bloom in June, but it, too, could be rained out and again blast prospects.

But the bee man's loss is the stockman's and farmer's gain. With-out the rains at the times they fell ranges would not be in the condition they are today. Farmers would have cotton planted and the small amount of corn and grain in shoot would have been burned up. The bee industry is in its infancy in the county and loss of the entire honey crop, it is said, would not be as serious as a prolonged drought that would shorten the cotton yield.

Dizzy Dean and Paul Derringer Resort to Blows

CINCINNATI, June 7 (AP)—Dizzy Dean, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Paul Derringer, of the Cincinnati Reds, rivals on the pitching mound, in today's game resorted to blows in midfield during a personal squabble.

The two started to wrestle after an exchange of blows, and were pinned to the ground by Dewey Vance of the Cardinals. Other members of the team then separated them.

Team mates said differences between the two, started during a recent visit of the Reds to St. Louis, were resumed at a game here Sunday, and continued during batting practice today.

Members of the Reds said Dean had been "riding" the big Red pitcher.

Dean asserted Derringer was the aggressor, swinging at him as they met on the field. After they were separated they were taken to their dugouts.

HOUSTON, June 7 (AP)—W. S. Farish, resigned as president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, will leave for New York the latter part of this month. His successor has not been named.

Gasoline Taxes and Tax Revision Will Be A. P. I. Chapter Subject

"Gasoline tax evasion continues to be a grave problem, not only to the oil industry, but the State of Texas," said Jack Moyer, chairman of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, in announcing that the subject would be discussed at the next chapter session in Amarillo July 13.

"The highway funds, in which Gray county participates, are being robbed and likewise is the school fund."

He added that the guest speaker at the meeting next Tuesday, Jack Dionne, is a forceful and well-informed speaker on the subject. Mr. Dionne is publisher of the Gulf Coast Lumberman.

The Amarillo meeting will be in the Crystal ballroom of the Herring hotel. The oil and gas committee of the Amarillo chamber of commerce is host on this occasion. It is expected that many Gray county oil men and visitors will join the delegations from other counties at the meeting.

Colored Methodist Church Will Start Meetings Tonight

The Methodist church (colored) will begin a ten day meeting tonight with Evangelist H. C. Cook of Fort Worth in charge. He will be assisted by the local pastor, Rev. F. W. Jones.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting each night. The evangelist is known throughout the state for his singing and leadership among the members of the colored Methodist church.

B. P. W. CLUB DELEGATES LEAVING FOR STATE CONVENTION

FOUR PAMPANS SENT BY CLUB TO SAN ANGELO

INSTALLATION OF NEW OFFICERS PLANNED BY BOARD

Four members will represent the Business and Professional Women's club here at the state conference which will open in San Angelo tomorrow. Two club delegates are already in San Angelo, and two others plan to go for later sessions.

Mrs. Mary Lou Downs, president-elect, and Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker, retiring president, were elected official representatives from the Pampa club last month. At an executive meeting yesterday evening Miss Louise Durrenberger was named an additional delegate.

Attend Opening.

Mrs. Downs and Miss Durrenberger are already in San Angelo, and will attend the opening of the conference. Miss Shewmaker and Miss LaVerne Ballard plan to leave Friday.

A program of business and social meetings, with club women of San Angelo and surrounding cities as hostesses, has been announced for the state conference and the Pampa delegates anticipate a pleasant week end. Convention sessions will be in charge of Mary Llyerstrom of Beaumont, state president.

Plans for installing new officers of the Pampa club were made at the meeting last night, the last executive board meeting of the present administration. The installation program will be held at the next social meeting, on June 27.

Mrs. Roberts Is Hostess to Club

Pink and white was stressed in a dainty color scheme when Mrs. Ekret Roberts entertained the Tuesday Afternoon bridge club yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jim White.

Covers for the three tables, tallies and score pads were in those colors and tea roses centered the tables when the pink and white ice course was served after the games.

Mrs. Roger McConnell was a rewarded for high score. Other players were Mesdames S. T. Beauchamp, C. S. Boston, Roy Bourland, F. M. Culbertson, Homer Elliott, F. C. Lettick, F. Stalls, Sherman White, Jim White, and Jim Collins.

A bridge breakfast at the home of Mrs. McConnell was planned for the next club entertainment, on June 15.

Bell-Kingsmill Joint Meeting Well Attended

Brining, a method to save surplus vegetables that cannot be used or readily sold in the fresh state, was demonstrated to women of the Bell and Kingsmill home demonstration clubs in a joint meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. A. Bradbury.

Miss Ruby Adams, county agent, gave the demonstration of steps in making fermented pickles. Systematic brining of vegetables will make a much more attractive pickle, she said, and good pickles are impossible without preliminary curing in a brine solution.

Use of a 40 per cent salt solution was recommended for most vegetables, such as cucumbers, beans, carrots, and plums.

Visitors present at the meeting were Mesdames M. J. Warminski, J. Frank Davis, H. D. Rapetine, F. D. Breedlove, H. A. Layne, Booker McDonon, and L. L. Haldick; Misses Grula Michael and Margaret Skibinski.

Members of the two clubs present were Mesdames Clyde King, Emil Rapetine, M. C. Doss, E. E. Stenkel, A. L. Mosk, Conner O'Neal, N. B. Cude, Felix J. Stalls, G. G. Frashier, Roland Daur, O. G. Smith, V. J. Castka, H. H. Keahey, J. A. Jackson, C. McKnight, E. M. Campbell, J. J. Spangler, John Peacock, T. S. Skibinski, O. B. Schiffman, A. R. Walberg, W. J. Brown, G. P. Bradbury, and Miss Adams.

CIVIC CULTURE CLUB MEMBERS HOLD MEETING

Final Programs Of Season Planned By Group

CLOSING programs for the season were planned by the Civic Culture club, while another in its series of programs on American beauty spots were given in a meeting at the home of Mrs. Irvin Cole yesterday afternoon.

The club will end its meetings for the summer this month. The final program will be given on June 20, with Mrs. Luther Pierson hostess at her home. Following this, a picnic will be the closing social event.

Mrs. Otto Patton was leader of yesterday's program, on Colorado, Nevada and Montana. Roll call was answered with names of western mountain peaks.

The Royal gorge was described by Mrs. Patton, the Black Hills by Mrs. Vernon Dickinson, Pike's Peak by Mrs. Joe Berry, the Garden of the Gods by Mrs. Cole, and Indian reservations of Montana by Mrs. M. J. Noel.

Sherbet, cookies, and iced tea were served to those on program and Mesdames Ralph Thomas, Paul Jensen, B. C. Fahy, Hugh Isbell, Katie Vincent, and Pierson.

JUNE BRIDE IS HONORED WITH PRETTY PARTY

FRIENDS ENTERTAIN FOR MISS FRANKIE BARNHART

MISS FRANKIE BARNHART, bride-elect of Kenneth E. Kurtz of Borger, was complimented yesterday afternoon with one of the pretty small parties of the week, at the home of Mrs. Henry C. Charles.

Roses decorated the rooms where two tables were arranged for bride, Miss Zenobia McFarlin received the high score prize, which she presented to Miss Barnhart, and the honoree was also given a special prize. Both packages were tied with white bride's ribbon and roses.

A salad course and dessert course were served after the games. Players were Miss Barnhart; her sister, Mrs. E. E. Smith of Amarillo; Mrs. Mel Davis, Mrs. Harry Hoare, Mrs. H. L. Polley, Miss Wilma Chapman, Miss McFarlin, and Mrs. Charles.

Mrs. H. F. Barnhart, mother of the honoree, was a guest at the tea hour.

Miss Barnhart's marriage is to be solemnized tomorrow at her home here.

GOES TO STANDARD

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—W. S. Parish of Houston, Texas, has been elected chairman of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. The position had been vacant since the death in November, 1928, of George N. Jones.

Heiress to Wear Royal Names With Two Film Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—The matrimonial spotlight again falls upon the royal Mdivani family as the marriage of Prince Alexis to Barbara Hutton, heiress to the Woolworth millions, is announced for June 20 in Paris.

Pursuing her from Paris to Siam and back, this member of the much-marrying family that once ruled the state of Georgia, on the shores of the Black sea, persuaded the blond-haired, blue-eyed princess of New York's Social Register to become his second bride.

He was first wedded to the socially prominent Louise Astor Van Alen, the great-granddaughter of the late Mrs. William Astor, once the undisputed ruler of the "400." This marriage lasted only a year, ending in a Dutch divorce last year.

The three princes of the Georgian dynasty had occupied the front pages frequently with their matrimonial exploits during the past few years. Prince David married Mae Murray, screen actress, while Prince Serge was formerly wedded to Pola Negri, film star of silent days.

After Serge's and Pola's Paris divorce because, as he said, "Pola is too art and I for business," there came announcement of the engagement of Prince Serge and Mary McCormick, opera singer.

Father Was Ruler.

The prince's father, the late Prince Zerkhai Mdivani, was not only ruler of Georgia but he was also aide-de-camp and general in the court of Czar Nicholas II of Russia. Their one sister is married to Jose Sert, noted Spanish painter of murals.

The prospective bride of Prince Alexis was little known publicly until 1930, when her debut party was the sensation of the winter social season. Joseph Urban was commissioned to design the $60,000 worth of decorations for the party, and there were three arches.

After that the pretty 21-year-old heiress to one-third of the $38,000,000 left by her grandfather, the late F. W. Woolworth, was continually in the public eye.

She is the daughter of Franklin L. Hutton, stock broker, who has given his consent to her marriage.

Her name has been in the society columns continually as she moved with the social season from her hunting estate in South Carolina to her summer mansion at Newport or to the Hutton home on upper Fifth avenue, New York. She is an enthusiastic traveler and has made countless sea voyages before her present round the world cruise.

Reported Engaged Before.

Only a few times has her name been linked romantically with the numerous swains who surrounded her. Once it was rumored she was engaged to Phil Plant, former husband of Constance Bennett, and another time to Count Emmanuel Borromeo-D'Adda of Italy.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Miss Euleta Williams of Dallas and Mrs. R. L. McSpadden of Amarillo are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leech this week. Miss Williams, representative of a travel bureau, is perfecting plans for a trip to Alaska which she will conduct this summer.

Mrs. Lucille Bendet was to undergo a major operation at Pampa hospital this afternoon.

Fresh Foods In Season Now Are Needed in Diets

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women.

DENTON, June 5.—No one should miss the opportunity for including seasonal fresh fruits and vegetables in her daily menus. They are among our best sources of bulk, and keep our bodies in tip-top condition. As this season, the year they should be given a special place in the diet.

The following menus have been selected with this aim in mind. The more substantial foods included also are rich in their mineral content and should be given second place only to vegetables as a source of mineral in the summer time.

Minerals In Menus.

Breakfast: Tomato juice, bran, top milk, roasted ear muffins, maple syrup, coffee, milk.

Lunch: or supper: Salmon a la grammout, cold slaw, toasted brown bread, iced tea, cookies!

Dinner: Veal cutlets, fresh buttered peas on crustades, stuffed baby squash, tomato and cucumber salad, rolls, butter, iced cake with a compote of strawberries.

Breakfast: Cantaloupe, shredded wheat, milk, jelly pancakes, coffee, milk.

Lunch or supper: Deviled eggs served hot with spinach, iced bread, butter, blackberry sponge, iced tea.

Dinner: Chicken in casserole, string bean salad, biscuit, butter, strawberry curis, iced tea.

Recipes.

BLACKBERRY SPONGE: One-half box gelatine, one-half c sugar, one-half pint boiling water, 4 eggs, 1 pint boiling water. Cover gelatine with one-half cup cold water and soak one-half hour. Pour it over boiling water, add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add blackberry juice and strain into a basin. Put basin in a pan of cracked ice and let it stand until it thickens. Stir occasionally. Then beat to a stiff froth. Add well-beaten whites of eggs, and beat until smooth. Turn into a mold to harden. Serve with

HEIR TO SPANISH THRONE ONE OF 3 PRINCES WHO SURPRISE FAMILIES AND MARRY FOR LOVE

By A. D. STEFFERUD

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP)—For three young European royal scions, love has proved stronger than hopes for kingdoms.

In a week or so, the 25-year-old Prince of Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne, will marry a Cuban girl, following precedents of German and Swedish princes who have renounced their royal claims to marry girls of unequal rank.

He who was Prince Lennart of Sweden is now merely Mr. Bernadotte, the father of a month-old daughter and the husband of Karin Niswandt, a commoner for whom he gave up palaces and chose a three-room flat.

German Prince Weds.

Another prince charming was married Saturday. Handsome Prince Wilhelm of Prussia defied centuries-old tradition, scoffed at his father's and grandfather's hopes that he might some day rule Germany, and chose as his bride a girl of Italian descent, of noble, but not royal blood.

They think more of his career as a farmer and a steel helmet leader than of one in glittering courts.

Prince Asturias and Senorita Edelmira Sampedro posted an official notice of "promise of marriage" in Lausanne, the prince asking for "a little happiness in life."

Alonso "Not Happy."

His father, former King Alfonso of Spain, according to his personal representative, "is not happy about the marriage" and will not attend the ceremony, some time after June 12. His mother, the former Queen Victoria, it is understood, will be present.

The prince is said to have applied to the Spanish government for papers to give him the status of "simple citizen." There were days, not so long ago, when the prince anticipated the honored rank of foremost citizen of his country.

"Let Juan have the throne," the young prince is quoted as saying. "I love her and want to marry her. That's where real happiness lies."

"Painful Surprise."

The words of Prince Wilhelm were similar when he and Dorothea von Salviati announced their engagement several months ago, much to the "painful surprise" of the former German crown prince and the former kaiser, his grandfather.

Now they ask nothing better than to live on an estate in Prussia, caring nothing for monarchistic aims, but, as the bride said, caring intensely for "ideals of the new Germany."

Mr. and Mrs. Bernadotte were married in London in March, 1932. They have since been forgiven by King Gustav and Prince William, but they continue to live in their small apartment. The former prince is struggling to make a name for himself in the business and theatrical fields.

Patterns To Be New Daily News Feature

Summer frocks that will dress the busiest woman for every event, and at small cost, are possible for she who makes her own clothes with the smart and popular cottons and correctly styled patterns.

Starting today, The NEWS offers its women readers a daily pattern service that will fit every need for summer. Fifth Avenue Fashions will bring the latest designs in women's and children's clothing.

A new model will be pictured each day on the woman's page, with instructions for ordering the pattern direct from America's style center, New York City.

Four-H Club Girls Of Green Lake Work At All-Day Meeting

All members present for an all-day meeting of the Green Lake 4-H club Monday joined in assisting the hostess, Leona Lewis, to complete her bedroom improvement project. Each girl was assigned a task for the day.

Miss Sikes, home demonstration agent, showed how to remove old paint from furniture with a strong lye and starch solution. Furniture in the room was treated with this solution, sandpapered, and given its first coat of new paint.

Three new members, Clara Calvin, Mary Fern Lewis, and Frances Rogers, were received into the club. Visitors were Winnie Bond, Lois Daugherty, Mildred Cole, Harold Lewis, Ralph Colvin, and Mrs. A. Chesher.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at noon by the members and guests.

FIFTH AVENUE FASHIONS

All Eyes Are on the New Eyelet Cottons

Eyelets are a "wholly" successful fashion! From morn till mid-night, you see them on the smartest people. Doubtless they'll lead the fashion parade at the Chicago Fair. There's something alluringly feminine about this season's eyelet cottons, even when they're used in strictly tailored frocks. Dark eyelets have a lot of individuality when set off with a touch of white; that's one way of having a dark summer frock that won't look too dull and sombre.

High necks and big sleeves are "going strong" too, probably because of the way they make your waist look nymph-like. We've sketched a perfect frock for all these fashion points. . . . high neck, big sleeves, eyelets. In addition this model has ruching on the bodice, and the long slim skirt joins the top of the dress in smart points. This is the kind of "little dress" that's young enough for the sub-deb, but not too young for her business-girl sister. For fabric requirements see pattern envelope.

Pattern No. 5241 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 bust.

DALLAS TAKES TWO TILTS ON HOUSTON LOT

BUFFS NOW HOLDING A THREE GAME LEAD IN LEAGUE

By The Associated Press. The Dallas Steers presented their new manager, Fred Brainard, with a pair of victories Tuesday night and, as a result, left the Houston Buffaloes a three-game lead in the Texas league where they had possessed a four-game advantage before the bout began.

In the first game "Spec" Erickson hurled brilliant while Bonura, Dierke, and Vander found powerful support from Ernie Holman.

Port Worth broke a seven-game losing streak by taking the first game of a series 4 to 3 from the Beaumont Shippers, although still locking on the pennant race from a rear seat.

The Tulsa Oilers lost the opening game of a two-day stand at San Antonio 4 to 9 to the Missions, due principally to Larry Dottencourt's error over the left field wall to top off a 14-hit, 9-run attack.

TWITTY WILL BE NEXT FOE

Second Place Team To Play Mags Here Sunday; Twitty Has Strong Team.

The fast Twitty baseball team will come to Pampa Sunday afternoon to play the Magnolia "Mags" at Magnolia park, the game to be called at 7 o'clock and the admission 25 cents. Twitty has a strong club and is in second place in the league race.

Manager Howard Buckingham put his team through a stiff workout yesterday afternoon and has called another full session for Friday afternoon. The "Mags" won a game without a regular pitcher available last Sunday but the next game will see a full line-up ready for action.

Several changes may be made in the Magnolia line-up as the result of non-appearance of players at practice sessions and failure to get into condition. The team has an excellent chance to win the league if they get the support they deserve.

Sunday afternoon C. O. Busby will take his Indians to Pampa in a friendly game. The Indians have been going strong lately and should give Webb a tough afternoon.

Morris B. Simpson, Port Worth attorney, is in Pampa.

Big Show To Open Thursday and Gene Seems Sincerely Mickelson

By PAUL MICKELSON Associated Press Sports Writer GLENVIEW, Ill., June 7. (AP)—Gene Sarazen today was a man of deep mystery, suspected and respected, by his 150 rivals for the national open golf championship as they swung their clubs in practice for the last time over the long expanses of the North Shore battlefield.

Illusive to such a surprising degree that he played but two nine-hole rounds in as many days over the championship course before retiring for the opening of the big show tomorrow, he had the entire field guessing.

Apparently serenely confident, Gene left the course with a pair of 38's, two over par, for his drills, announcing he was satisfied to save his shots for tomorrow. Friday and Saturday and escape the hot blasts that sent the mercury to a record 92.

Guessing the winning total for the 72 hole drive over the 6,972 yard course and trying to pick the winners were the chief pastimes of on-lookers and experts alike. The consensus was about 292 for the championship score and any one of 15 golfers.

Sarazen, of course, was regarded as the man to beat. They all recalled his dramatic 66 finish at Fresh Meadow last year when he beat Bobby Cruikshank, the wee Scot, and T. Philip Perkins, one of the best golfing importations from Great Britain.

Many couldn't see anybody but Walter Hagen, the 40-year-old showman with determination written all over his face.

Other leading contenders included MacDonald Smith, still trying after almost 23 years; Craig Wood, the blond from Deal, N. J., leading money winner of the year with earnings over $7,000; Paul Runyan, freshman of the Ryder cup team and one of the real stars of the year; George Von Elm and Cruikshank, each of whom have seen their championship hopes exploded when they were the highest.

Billy Burke, dying to win to show the Professional Golfers' association they made a mistake by not placing him on the Ryder cup team this year; Olin Dutra, the National Professional champion; former champions Tommy Armour, Cyril Walker and Johnny Farrell; Joe Kirkwood, and a host of rising stars like Johnny Fischer of Omaha, Ky.; Johnny Goodman of Omaha, and Gus Moreland of Dallas.

Mattern Given An Additional Sixty Seconds

NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—Jimmie Mattern was officially given a precious present of 60 seconds today, a morsel of time which might conceivably mean the difference between success and failure in his race around the world.

When Mattern took off from Floyd Bennett field last Saturday morning his time was generally clocked at 4:20 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

But today John Heilmuller, who acted as official timer for the National Aeronautic association, which decides who is a record holder and who isn't, announced that he had recorded the takeoff at 4:21.

Resources of North Carolina state banks were increased about $5,000,000 during the last quarter of 1932, says the state banking department.

BAER BLOCKS GERMAN'S BID TO HOLD TITLE

CALIFORNIA BOXER TO OUTWEIGH MAX SCHMELING

By HERBERT W. PARKER. Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—For the first time since he arrived in this country, perhaps for the first time in his career, Max Schmeling is being asked to give away chunks of weight to a young, tough rival, Max Baer, and on his success in solving that problem to the Yankee stadium tomorrow night rests his chance of becoming the first ex-heavyweight champion in history to regain the title.

For if he whips the brawny Californian decisively in Jack Dempsey's first New York promotional venture, few experts doubt his ability to "take" either the aging Jack Sharkey or the mammoth Primo Carnera, who will meet for the title in Madison Square Garden's outdoor bowl in Long Island City June 29.

Even those ring fans who believe the 2 1/2 to 1 odds or better in Schmeling's favor are justified agree that in Baer the German will be facing his stiffest test. The 210-pound Livermore, Calif., youngster has made tremendous progress in the last two years and his great strength and stamina, coupled with surprising speed in so big a man, make him a formidable foe for any heavyweight.

Schmeling simply cannot afford to lose if he hopes to win back the title he lost to Sharkey last summer on a widely disputed decision. The Teuton is in his fistic prime and a defeat now would ruin his chance of fighting again for the championship, at least for a couple of years. By that time his best fighting days probably would be behind him.

The conviction has become general that whatever the outcome of the 15-round tussle, Baer and Schmeling offer a "natural" that will bring close to 60,000 fans into the big ball park.

Baer's slim-bang style of milling is calculated to give the customers a real show, whatever the consequences either to himself or his rival. It is precisely on that point that expert opinion is divided. Some students of the game believe the Californian's wide-open methods are made to order for a sharp shooter like Schmeling, a damaging puncher with either hand. Others believe that in that lies Baer's only chance of victory. Schmeling, in their opinion, cannot be beaten except by an opponent who carries the fight, refuses to give grounds, sets the pace and gambles with the main bout between 8:30 and 9 p. m. There will be no broadcast.

HAPP MORSE TO OPERATE HIS RECENTLY-BUGHT PIN ALLEY

Bonura Says It Wasn't the Fault of Morse That Team Lost to Weak Clubs.

By BILL PARKER. The signing of Jake Atz to pilot Port Worth and the release of Happy Morse as manager of the Dallas Steers provided baseball fans in the two cities with contrasting emotions.

Morse knew he was on the way out several days before Owner Sol Dreyfuss called him into his office and requested him to resign.

"Sol, if you want to fire me as manager of the team, that's your business," said Morse, "but if you think I will have it in the papers that I resigned, when the team was not winning, you're wrong."

Dreyfuss then handed Morse his release. When his players were advised Happ had been released, big Zeke Bonura, first baseman, said: "He was a grand guy. He was the league's best manager. It wasn't his fault that we lost four straight games to weak clubs, it was our fault."

To Morse it may mean farewell to baseball. He is sure it does for the remainder of this season. He recently invested in a bowling alley at Dallas and will devote his entire time to operating his business.

He took his release with a smile, and plans to make Dallas his permanent home. Only in baseball will he be missing. He will continue to be one of the leading southwest conference basketball officials.

Both fighters have completed training for the match and are waiting for the signal to swing into action. Baer was to leave his Atlantic City camp for a private home in New York today but Schmeling planned to remain at Lake Swinnano, N. J., until tomorrow, arriving in New York just before the weighing-in at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

A steady stream of customers filing past the box office windows strengthened Dempsey's expectations of a crowd of 60,000 and receipts of nearly $300,000, granting favorable weather.

Workmen, operating under Dempsey's supervision, were busily engaged in setting up the ring and arranging the seats today and all was to be in readiness by nightfall. The gates will be thrown open at 3 p. m. (E. S. T.) Thursday afternoon. The first preliminary was scheduled for 7 p. m. (E. S. T.) and the main bout between 8:30 and 9 p. m. There will be no broadcast.

RIOT STAGED BY CINCINNATI AND ST. LOUIS

POP BOTTLES TOSSED AFTER PLAYERS HURL FISTS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer. The stormy scenes of this year's "aggressive" baseball, hitherto monopolized by the New York Yankees and Washington Senators, have reached the National league as an accompaniment to the St. Louis Cardinals' drive toward the top.

Some stiff resistance by the Cincinnati Reds, plus the "riding" of one player by a former teammate, led the Cards into an embroiled yesterday that approached the best of the Senator-Yankee scraps.

The actual fighting was confined to a brief flurry between Jerome Derringer of the Reds and Paul Derringer of the Cards during batting practice but before the game was over, disputed decisions led to the ejection of two men, two pop bottles were tossed from the stands, one hitting Burress Whitehead, guard sub, on the shoulder, and private police provided an escort from the park for the umpires.

The Cards won the game, 6 to 2, pounding out 16 hits. Derringer, traded by the Cards this spring, explained that Dean had been "riding the life" out of him and that the fight started when "Dizzy" said he meant "every word" he had said about Derringer.

The Philadelphia Athletics climbed back into the first division with an 8-4 triumph over Washington as home runs by Ed Coleman and Mickey Cochrane produced three runs in the seventh.

Herb Pennock gave 11 hits but pitched a shutout and Babe Ruth took the major league home run lead with his eleventh as the Yankees strengthened their hold on first place with a double victory over the Boston Red Sox, 4-0 and 8-4.

Chicago's White Sox hammered out another decision over the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, and Cleveland fell into fifth place when the Indians surrendered to "Schoolboy" Rowe and Detroit, 5-2.

MULE RETURNS CHILDREN

CHILDRESEN, June 7 (AP)—H. F. Moseley's mule came back after two and one-half years. Moseley in 1930 drove a bunch of mules to a pasture in Wheeler county, north of McBeete. He returned some time later to claim his mules, but one was missing. Recently the prodigal "came home."

"He is in pretty good condition and seems glad to be back," Moseley said.

TO PLANT SPUDS

MULESHOE, June 7 (AP)—A larger acreage of potatoes than heretofore will be planted in the Blackwater Valley here, according to growers. Seed has been purchased by a large number of irrigation farmers. Several farmers will plant from 5 to 20 acres each. Most of them will plant hills triumph, McClure, brown beauty or Irish cobbler varieties.

depending upon who tells the story. Except for the election of George Watkins of St. Louis over a protested decision in the fifth, things were quiet until the ninth when Jewel Ens, Cincinnati's acting manager was chased for another protest. Then the bottle throwing and noisy objections to the officiating began.

The Giants held their slim lead by battering the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-2, touching Owen Carroll for four runs in the second inning. The Pittsburgh Pirates dropped their sixth decision in seven games when Leon Chagnon gave the Chicago Cubs four runs in the eighth and a 5-3 victory. The Phillies and Boston had an open date.

The Philadelphia Athletics climbed back into the first division with an 8-4 triumph over Washington as home runs by Ed Coleman and Mickey Cochrane produced three runs in the seventh.

Herb Pennock gave 11 hits but pitched a shutout and Babe Ruth took the major league home run lead with his eleventh as the Yankees strengthened their hold on first place with a double victory over the Boston Red Sox, 4-0 and 8-4.

Chicago's White Sox hammered out another decision over the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, and Cleveland fell into fifth place when the Indians surrendered to "Schoolboy" Rowe and Detroit, 5-2.

Play Will Start Sunday; To Last Two Weeks; Finals Begin June 26.

Qualifying for the Country club open golf tournament, which will get under way Sunday, will close at dark tonight when all score cards must be in the hands of Dr. H. H. Hicks and his tournament committee. They will match the players in the various flights.

Play will start Sunday and last two weeks with the finals scheduled for June 26. Finalists in the first flight will play 36 holes while other finalists will go 48 holes. Match play during the tournament will be over 18 holes.

Caretaker Autry has the Country club course in the best condition in years. The greens have been newly re-sanded and carefully worked over daily. The fairways have been dredged with a new wire drag that has left them in wonderful condition. The tee boxes have been filled and leveled.

A list of valuable prizes has been prepared for the winner and runners-up in each flight and also for low scores in qualifying and in match play.

More than 60 golfers had qualified up to last night and that number was expected to be increased today.

KIDNAPER SOUGHT

NACOGDOCHES, June 7 (AP)—A posse was searching a wood near here today for a man who kidnaped a deputy at Gladewater last night and released him here. The man sought was known to officers.

CAT ADOPTS SKUNK

ELECTRA, June 7 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Lofland, who reside south of Electra, have not decided whether their house cat lacks a sense of smell or a sense of humor. She has adopted a baby skunk and is mothering it with her three baby kittens.

INDIAN A VOTES ALMOST 2 TO 1 TO REPEAL 18th. AMENDMENT

HOOSIER STATE BECOMES 10TH TO JOIN WETS

REPEALISTS WILL HAVE 250 DELEGATES DRY 79

INDIANAPOLIS, June 7. (AP)—Indiana, hope of prohibitionists to stop a steady march of states toward repeal of the eighteenth amendment, has joined the wet parade.

In a special election Tuesday it became the tenth consecutive state to decide that prohibition has no part in the federal constitution and should be removed through ratification of the twenty-first amendment.

L. E. York, superintendent of the Indian anti-saloon league, in a statement said he believed the dry forces mailed a fine showing considering "that the wets had the support of both the national and state administrations, along with the election machinery."

States other than Indiana that have voted to repeal the eighteenth amendment are Illinois, Michigan, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Nevada and Wyoming.

Weir Captures Medal Honors In Kiwanis Matches

Golfers of the Pampa Kiwanis club enjoyed a quick lunch at the Schneider hotel last night with the losing players "standing" the treat.

Judge Newton P. Willis acted as toastmaster in the usual manner and he called on most of the players for talks.

Bill Lang defeated E. M. Conley, one up; Jack Goldston defeated J. H. Buckingham, four up; Harry Grove won from Dr. R. M. Johnson by default when Dr. Johnson had to leave to pull a tooth.

'CAVALCADE' EXTOLLED AS BEST CINEMA EVER PRODUCED AND ONE THAT MAY NEVER BE SURPASSED

Movie Is Revelation Of English — And Americans, Too

By ARCHER FULLINGIM. EARLIER in the year while spending an empty and bored Sunday afternoon in a distant city, the writer limped into a theater to rest his "dogs," and perhaps to sleep.

The immediate reaction to the film—that it is the best movie that has ever come out of Hollywood—has not changed. "Cavalcade" will be a gigantic discouragement for producers and directors for years to come, and it is extremely doubtful whether it ever will be surpassed as long as present production technique is used.

Best War Picture. The picture is so much better than anything that has been shown since silent films left the screen, that the movie fan could no more afford to miss it than could the person who has never been to the cinema houses. It would be an ideal first movie to see, and an ideal last one.
