Indian Fighter Tells How He "Got His Man"

Scout With Lieut. Baldwin In Panhandle in 1874 Is Contributor to NEWS.

Editor's note: Last year THE NEWS published an account of a thrilling ride of Lt. Frank D. Baldwin through this Indian-infested country in September of 1874. Three civilian Scouts were with him. One of them was Lemuel T. Wilson, now of Jacksonville, Ore., and through the courtesy of General W. C. Brown of Denver THE NEWS is privileged to print a series of Wilson's accounts of his experiences with the Miles campaign of 1874 in the Panhandle. Readers are advised to clip and retain this never before printed historical material.

By GEN. W. C. BROWN
IN 1874, the Kiowas, Comanches and Cheyennes left their reservations in Indian Territory determined to dispute the right of the white buffalo hunters to kill buffalo for their hides—a practice which bid fair to deprive the Indian of a source of livelihood which he had enjoyed from time immemorial. It was the final struggle of these tribes against the white man.

The scene of these activities was in the Panhandle of Texas. The supply base of the buffalo hunters was at Adobe Walls on the Canadian River in what is now Hutchinson county. It had been originally built by Bent and St. Vrain in 1830, but abandoned in 1840.

General N. A. Miles in August, 1874, was directed to organize at Fort Dodge, Kansas, an expedition to proceed against the hostiles. His command consisted of 8 troops of the 6th cavalry and 4 companies of the 5th Infantry. Later 4 troops of the 8th cavalry from New Mexico were added.

This was a notable campaign of which there are but few survivors, one of whom has turned up—Lemuel T. Wilson of Jacksonville, Oregon—who was carried as a Scout on the rolls of the Quartermaster Department. He was one of a company of 39 Scouts and trailers under command of Lieut. Frank D. Baldwin an account of some of whose exploits have recently been published. Wilson has given some of his experiences from which we extract some of the following data on his services from August 18, 1874 to October 31, 1881.

By LEMUEL T. WILSON
I had hunted buffalo for about two years. So I was familiar with all of that western frontier country. In the spring of 1874, we had considerable trouble with the Indians. Twenty-three of us (buffalo hunters) were corralled by Indians at Adobe Walls for about three months. I helped to build the stockade there for our protection, and was in the battle of Adobe Walls on June 27, 1874. (Described in "Life of Billy Dixon.")

In August, 1874, General Miles heard adverse reports about us, and sent Lieut. Frank Baldwin with a detachment of soldiers down to

After humiliating years, Texas has been admitted to the death registration area of the United States. This means that Texas is now on a par with other states and that causes of deaths can be honestly compared. To be admitted, a state must have a record of registering at least 90 per cent of the deaths within her borders.

Texas is a state of health in normal times. But last year there were many preventable deaths among the 51,260 fatalities. Heart disease claimed 7,251 lives; pneumonia, tuberculosis, cerebral hemorrhage, cancer, and accidents most of the last. Accidents cost 3,300 lives. Texas is not yet in the birth registration area. It's hard to prove, in Texas, that you have been born.

'MA' URGES RELIEF BILL

McKee Announces Candidacy For Mayor of New York

STATEMENT IS MADE AFTER A QUEER DELAY

"HOLY JOE" FINALLY ENDS GUESSING CONTEST

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Joseph V. McKee announced candidacy today for mayor of New York city. His announcement, handed out by Charles Keegan, his associate, set at rest one of the most vigorously played guessing games that has struck New York political circles. McKee will run as an independent democrat against Major Fiorello La Guardia, independent republican running under the fusion banner, and Mayor John P. O'Brien, the candidate of Tammany Hall.

For the past 72 hours some word from McKee has been sought desperately by the big town, and four times the former city aldermanic president set out for announcing his political intentions but each time postponed it.

3,000 Strikers Attack Workers In Steel Plant

CLAIRTON, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP)—A shouting, challenging mob of more than 3,000 striking coal miners swarmed into Clairton today, storming the gates of the Carnegie Steel company's plant and ripping clothing from a number of the workers.

The pickets, hungry after their nocturnal trek from the Fayette county coal fields, seized dinner buckets of men on their way to work and devoured the contents.

A small army of city, state, company and county police, armed with riot guns, rifles, revolvers and tear gas, stood by at vantage points but admitted they were powerless to halt the mob without resorting to violence.

Wheat Control Plan Required Carruth's Time

Sacrifice of time in behalf of wheat farmers is believed to have cost C. L. Carruth several points in the News-Globe contest, in which he placed sixth.

Mr. Carruth, Laketon farmer, majored in dairying in the balanced farming contest. But at a time when he needed to give his attention to his records, he was working day and night on the wheat control plan.

Statistics compiled from elevator records were being tabulated in the office of Ralph Thomas, county agent, today as a basis for an appeal from the domestic allotment of 11.7 bushels an acre for this county. It is believed that the showing will be nearer 14 bushels, which if accepted by the government will bring $45,000 additionally to wheat farmers of the county each of the years in which they participate. Census errors, resulting from absence of many growers when the census was made, will be cited.

Other Gray county winners at the Tri-State fair were Carl Browning, Alameda, third on milo maize; Paul Hugg, Alameda, third on corn; J. L. Wessel, Alameda, third on kaffir; Perry Masterson, McLean, third on yellow milo; Carl Browning, Alameda, third on milo maize; Herbert Castleberry, Alameda, first on 5 pounds of cotton seed; and Paul Hugg, Alameda, second on 20 bolls of cotton.

Fattest Baby

Gerald Reynolds of Ogden, Utah, is all in favor of Mae West's program to doom the flat-like figure. He's so enthusiastic that he has gained 26 pounds 4 ounces in five months. He weighed only six pounds at birth. Now he tips the beam at 26 pounds 4 ounces. Mrs. Cyril Reynolds, his mother, challenges the country to beat his record.

VAN DER LUBBE ADMITS GUILT IN REICH FIRE

Tells Judge He Set Fire to German Building

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 29 (AP)—Marinus Van Der Lubbe made an unequivocal admission of guilt in the burning of the German reichstag building at today's session of the case in which he and four other men are on trial.

Judge Wilhelm Buenger announced Van Der Lubbe would give his own version of the burning. Thereupon the defendant, standing with drooping shoulders and downcast eyes, replied hesitantly and reluctantly as Buenger on a basis of an earlier confession, drew a confirmation from Van Der Lubbe.

"Do you admit setting fire yourself to the reichstag?" the judge demanded. "Almost inaudibly Van Der Lubbe replied 'Yes.'"

Later, in response to repeated prodding, Van Der Lubbe added "I had no intention of so doing when I awoke that day. The idea came to me as I walked past the reichstag at 2 o'clock. I spent the afternoon in a suburb, returning to the city at 8 o'clock."

The father of Blagoi Popoff, one of the three Bulgarian political refugees among the defendants, attended court today and was permitted to see his son during a recess.

Steel Work On Post Office Is Near Completion

Steel work on the new federal building is nearing completion and brick and stone work should be started early next week. W. R. Walker, construction foreman for the Stibbard Construction company says.

Construction should be more rapid with the laying of brick and stone. However, it will probably be the middle of next month before the corner stone will be laid. An elaborate program is being prepared for that occasion. It will be in charge of the Board of City Development.

The building was started five months ago. The contractors have 12 months in which to complete the structure.

MAJOR BOYERS PAYING TEXAS COMPANY HIKE

EAST TEXAS OIL NOW SELLING FOR $1.00 A BARREL

DALLAS, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company, effective at 7 a. m. today, posted a price of $1 for East Texas oil, an increase of 10 cents over the previous listing.

Other prices announced were: North, North Central, and Central Texas: Below 29 gravity 79 cents, with a 2-cent differential to 40 and above, listed at $1.03, increase 11 cents.

Gray county: Below 35 gravity 69 cents, with a 2-cent differential to 40 and above, posted at 91 cents, increase 10 cents.

Carson and Hutchinson: Below 35 gravity 65 cents, with 2-cent differential to 40 and above, listed at $1, increase 10 cents.

West Texas (Crane, Upton, Howard, Glasscock, and Mitchell counties): 70 cents, increase 10 cents.

TULSA, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Carter Oil company, subsidiary of the Standard of New Jersey, today met the Texas company's new top price of $1.08 a barrel for Kansas and Oklahoma crude oil.

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 29 (AP)—Effective at 7 a. m. today Atlas Pipe Line company of Shreveport announced a hike of 10 cents in the price of East Texas crude bringing the price to $1 per barrel, in line with the boosts announced by the Texas company and Magnolia Petroleum company.

Believe Wrecked Car Was Stolen

A car, bearing a Donley county license plate, was found wrecked on West Francis avenue by city police officers last night. It had two broken front wheels and bent fenders.

Officers believe the car is "hot" and are checking with Donley county officers in the belief the car was stolen, maybe last night. No word had been received from Clarendon early this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Isbell, Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, Mrs. Hugh Isbell, and R. E. Kinzer went to Durham, Okla., yesterday for the funeral of a child of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaw. Mrs. Shaw is a sister of Mrs. Bert Isbell.

DEATH PENALTY FOR KIDNAPERS IS ASKED BY 'MA' FERGUSON; 26 ADDITIONAL LAWS SUBMITTED

Asks Increase In The Texas Ranger Staff of 6

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today submitted an appeal from the NRA to congress to secure a 30-hour work week in recovery codes.

The governor also submitted increasing the personnel of the state Ranger force, saying "the increase of lawlessness and crime makes an appropriation sufficient to employ at least six additional Rangers almost imperative."

Texas now has a strict kidnaping law, but it provides for assessment of the death penalty only in instances where the kidnaped person is harmed.

Federal authorities had considered prosecution of the kidnapers of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil man, in Texas state courts but apparently abandoned the idea because of the exemption from the death penalty allowed where the kidnaper was not harmed.

The governor submitted 26 additional subjects of legislation. The group included bills to: Regulate loan brokers and increase the license fee.

Levy an occupation tax on producers of natural gas for light and fuel.

Prohibit inquiry into the religion or religious affiliation of persons applying for positions in the public school system.

Define common carrier pipe lines engaged in transportation of natural gas.

Safeguard consumers of natural gas against excess charges.

Appropriate funds for an audit of all books and accounts of oil companies to determine bonus and rentals due on public school lands.

Additional appropriation for insurance commission to provide for audit of books of insurance companies in other states.

Investigate and study wages of women and minors.

Permit motion picture theaters to show pictures of prize fights.

Appropriate $25,000 for publication of eight proposed amendments to the constitution.

Amend the county commissioners general salary law.

KOY TO COACH
AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Ernest Koy, who starred at fullback on the University of Texas football team for three years and was regarded as one of the southwest's outstanding grid players, has been chosen as backfield coach of the Texas "B" team. Koy was co-captain of last year's grid machine.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Organized labor today threatened an appeal from the NRA to congress to secure a 30-hour work week in recovery codes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Pushing the administration's plans to reopen banks of the nation and expand purchasing power, the treasury has completed details for reorganization of 375 national banks in 37 states. The banks to be reorganized include: Texas: Belton National, Belton; First National, Dalhart; First National, Santa Anna.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 29 (AP)—It is legal, in the opinion of the county attorney's office to sell 3.2 wine without buying a license.

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—The attorney general's department declined today to give an opinion on the question of whether a person had to purchase a license in order to engage in the sale of 3.2 per cent wine.

HAVANA, Sept. 29 (AP)—Shooting began along the Prado boulevard today as communists started a march in honor of Julio Antonio Mella, student communist leader killed in Mexico. A company of soldiers stopped communists who were working on an obelisk reared in Cuba's centrally located Fraternity park as a burial place for Mella's ashes. The soldiers confiscated the workers' tools.

WASHER LEGISLATORS
"If this bill is not passed and valuable time is used in the discussion of other plans and bills, then the responsibility is yours. Only the seriousness and gravity of the situation impels me to make these observations for your information and I trust they will be received in the spirit in which they are advanced."

With the federal government refusing to advance any further sums for Texas relief until action is taken by your body, we will then face a very desperate situation. I am sure that some source is provided the message stated. "Even if the legislature should pass a bond relief bill by an emergency vote before the expiration of this thirty day term, it would take 30 days to prepare the issue and sell the bonds and in the meantime we will face the horror of a million hungry people in Texas."

When Kidnaping Ransom Money Was Found

Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce, suggested that the counties bear the administrative cost of relief disbursement within their borders with the state bearing the cost of the central agency only.

Cline admitted that in letters soliciting memberships in the West Texas chamber of commerce he had pointed to the service performed by that organization in the distribution of funds to the indigent. He added, however, that he knew of no threat being made to cut any county off the relief rolls unless their citizens contributed to the maintenance of the West Texas chamber.

JAMESON INJURED
D. B. Jameson, Magnolia employe, is in Worley hospital with severe head injuries received when he fell from a ladder yesterday afternoon. Jameson was painting a water tower at the Magnolia gasoline plant west of LeFors when the accident happened.

SAMPLE OF SOCIETY IN A. D., 1933

Guessing about what the historians of the future are going to put into their text-books is a futile and profitless pastime, ordinarily. But it seems a pretty safe bet that they will find at least a couple of paragraphs for that kidnaping trial now going on in Oklahoma City.

More than any other criminal trial in years, perhaps, this case is symbolic of the present era. Not since Al Capone was sent to prison for failing to pay his income tax has there been a courtroom scene that spoke so eloquently of the kind of society we have put together in modern America.

For the trial does not simply represent an effort by the courts to fix responsibility for a peculiarly insolent crime. It is a test whether the courts can even make such an effort in the first place; whether society's ability to inquire into the acts of the underworld is to be at the mercy of the underworld's own defiance.

Consider the situation for a moment. To begin with, we have a vicious attempt to extort a large sum of money from a wealthy man—a crime whose mere occurrence indicates a crack in the fabric of society.

Then the man suspected of having cooked up this crime is caught. He forces his way out of one of the strongest jails in the land, is caught again, and finally comes to trial.

At his trial the authorities feel it necessary to turn the court into a veritable armed camp. The room is guarded by machine guns, rifleman patrol the corridors, officers in court are ordered to open fire on the chief defendant if anything suspicious happens.

Meanwhile the underworld puts pressure on the state's witness. Written threats of death are received. One witness is bluntly asked, "Are you fool enough to think they can protect you forever?"

The chief defendant makes "sinister asides" whenever the chief prosecutor rises to speak. Now all of this simply means that there are desperadoes in this land whose power is almost as great as that of organized society itself.

The mere task of bringing them to trial taxes society's resources to the utmost. The whole story of the trial will feature student volumes about American life in the year 1933.

INDIANS

Attacked by Indians

Lieut. Baldwin and his command arrived at Adobe Walls in the evening of August 18, and camped about one-half mile west of the stockade. Next morning, the Indians attacked us and one of our hunters, Geo. Huffman, was killed and scalped. As soon as Baldwin heard the shooting, he came to our assistance. He took after the Indians and had a running fight with them for about 10 miles. When he returned, we asked permission to leave there under his escort as we could not go by ourselves on account of the Indians. As he needed more scouts he hired Ira Wing, Tobe Tolson, and myself as scouts. We left Adobe Walls on the morning of August 20.

Water was very scarce and in the afternoon Lieut. Baldwin came back to where we hunters were and asked if any of us knew where there was water. The men and horses were nearly famished. I said, "I know a place where we have always found water." He sent Chas. Morrow and me to look for it. When we reached "Cuyena" or Chickens creek, we found water, also two Indian scouts camped by a small fire with meat roasting on a stick. When they heard us one got away, the other one I killed.

CHILD STUDY CLUB MEMBERS OPEN NEW SEASON

ADDRESS MADE BY PRESIDENT ON CLUB WORK

WELCOME GIVEN NEW MEMBERS AND OFFICERS

NEW officers and members of the Child Study club were welcomed when the first meeting of this season was conducted yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John B. Hessey.

Mrs. R. B. Thompson, president for the year, discussed "The Business of Being a Club Woman" as the program feature. She defined a club woman as "a home woman who has found that she cannot isolate her home from her community."

Through club work women are learning to think, learning to see with broader vision, and to live a wider life through rendering unselfish service to humanity, she said.

Administration of clubs is no longer an amateur occupation, but a business, a science, and an art worthy of study and analysis, she emphasized in urging members to achieve a club efficiency that will mean real service to the community.

Flowers Presented. As Mrs. A. H. Doucette sang, Mrs. Thompson presented each officer and new member with a flower. Mrs. Thompson was in turn presented with a corsage of gladioli and baby breath.

A burlesque talk on parliamentary rules was given by Mrs. H. R. Thompson. The hostess served ice cream and wafers to the following members: Mmes. Doucette, Lee M. Harrah, A. Kelley, Frank McAfee, Roger McConnell, Howard Neath, James H. Patterson, Sherman Roberts, T. C. Shaw, S. D. Stennis, R. B. Thompson, H. R. Thompson, Ralph Thomas, Roy Tinsley, and Sherman White.

PTA PRESENTS McLEAN CHAPEL ENTERTAINMENT

Presbyterian Aid and Baptist W. M. U. Meet

McLEAN, Sept. 29.—A very interesting program was rendered by the Parent-Teacher association before the high school student body Tuesday morning. The program was led by Miss Elizabeth Kennedy. Mrs. Butler, president, made a short talk on "What is the P-T. A.?"

Mrs. Goff favored with two vocal solos, with Miss Dorothy Jean St. Clair at the piano. Mrs. H. W. Finley gave an interesting book report on "What is Worth While" by Anna Browne Lindsay. Robert C. Davidson played a saxophone solo, Miss St. Clair accompanying him. Mrs. W. E. Bogan pleased with two readings. Supt. Coyer presented Mr. Tappan and his agriculture boys who had won honors at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo. Boys receiving the ovation were Arthur Ray Ledbetter, high point man at the fair in poultry judging, and his assistants, Chas. Finley and Cecil Jones, and the stock judging team composed of John Mertel, Elton O'Neal, and Sim Rhoads.

Announcement was made that the Parent-Teacher association would have its second regular meeting of the year next Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock at the high school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woodward of Oklahoma City are in McLean on business. Mr. Woodward is president of the Western Lumber company.

John Haynes and C. C. Bogan left Tuesday for Austin on a business trip.

Mrs. Roy Campbell and Mrs. Ed Landers were Pampa visitors Thursday.

Baptist Prayer Service. Meeting at the church at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, seven members of the Woman's Missionary union of the Baptist church, eleven members of the Y. W. A., and seven members of the G. A. united in observing the annual state Week of Prayer program.

The program presented by the ladies was under the supervision of Mmes. S. A. Cobb, Geo. Colebank, and Resp. Landers. Miss Clara Fay Carpenter led the Y. W. A. division, and Mrs. John Cooper was sponsor of the program presented by the G. A.

Miss Edna Mae Kunkel was taken to Pampa Tuesday for medical examination.

Mmes. Cubine and Glass Hostesses. As joint hostesses, Mrs. Ercy Cubine and Mrs. J. R. Glass entertained members of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon, at the Cubine apartments. An interesting program with Mrs. Arthur Erwin as leader, was rendered.

Those present were Mmes. Ed Dishman, Wood Hindman, Bob Lynch, Joe Rodgers, Vigna Strandberg, W. K. Wharton, Arthur Erwin, E. L. Sitter, C. A. Watkins, J. R. Glass and Ercy Cubine.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cooke and sons, Billy and Joe, accompanied by Mrs. Allan Wilson, attended the fair at Amarillo Tuesday.

Mrs. W. E. Ballard, who has been for some time in Amarillo with Dr. Ballard, who is under medical treatment, was in McLean Monday and Tuesday. She reports Dr. Ballard is improving.

Sam Houston PTA Open House Will Be Held Tonight

Mrs. Neil McCullough is chairman of the hospitality committee for the evening, and Mrs. C. P. Buckler heads the program committee.

Parents of every child enrolled in the school are invited to be present. Each parent will be asked to register for the room where his child

Says Black-Draught "Sure Worth Price"

"I take Theodora's Black-Draught when I get bilious," writes Mr. L. O. Miller, of Henryetta, Okla., "and it keeps me from having headache which usually comes from biliousness. If I don't take it, I feel dull and sluggish. I just have to take Black-Draught once in a while. I haven't found anything more satisfactory. It is sure worth the price."

Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

ALL MUST EAT, AND HOUSEWIFE NEEDS SCIENCE

Easiest Way Will Be Demonstrated In School

More than 35 per cent of the average family income is spent for food, according to Miss Beulah Mackey Yates, who will conduct the 3-day cooking school for the Pampa Daily NEWS at the city auditorium.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Miss Yates will tell her audiences in Pampa just why every housewife should know the scientific principles back of every-day cooking.

"Whether the family income is large or small," she says, "cooking and eating must go on. The kitchen is the heart of the home... and it should be made a place of happiness. Dispositions are made in the kitchen; and why not happy dispositions?"

"The woman who goes to her daily task in the kitchen with boredom, is missing a great enjoyment that can be hers. She can turn her kitchen into a laboratory of creativeness."

"So long as the housewife must cook for the family or must at least plan the meals, why not get some fun out of it?"

In her cooking school, Miss Yates will teach the women of Pampa how to get fun out of the kitchen... how to have a "Happy Kitchen," which is the name she gives her Model Kitchen, used in the demonstration.

Come and see this "Happy Kitchen" and hear this charming woman discuss in the most practical way the science of cooking.

A. A. U. W. Members Reminded of Rule Concerning Dues

Members of the American Association of University Women are reminded of club rules regarding dues and resignations in an announcement from Miss Charlotte Embry, treasurer.

Dues must be paid by October 1, or arrangements made with Miss Embry for payment.

A new amendment, read at the September meeting of the club, provides that resignations must be made in writing and placed in the treasurer's hands. The member who submits her resignation must be in good financial standing.

Membership in the club is open to eligible Pampa women. Anyone who believes she is eligible for membership and is interested in joining the club is asked to call Mrs. C. A. Clark, membership chairman.

The club has entertained about 25 guests at its first meetings of the year, who have indicated that they will become members. Others are invited.

Mrs. J. A. Summers of Skellytown was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for October 1.

General Topic: Saul in Tarsus. Scripture Lesson: Acts 21:39; 22:3; 23:1-11; 24:1-18; 26:1-11; Philippians 3:3-8.

Acts 21:39. But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city; and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people.

22:3. I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God, even as ye all are this day.

7. And the chief captain came and said unto him, Tell me, are thou a Roman? And he said, Yea.

28. And the chief captain wondered. With a great sum obtained this citizenship. And Paul said, but I am a Roman born.

Acts 26:4. My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among mine own nation and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews;

5. Having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, that after the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.

6. And now I stand here to be judged for the home of the promise made of God unto our fathers;

7. Unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day; hope to attain. And concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, O king!

Phil. 3:3. For we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh;

4. Though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh; if any other man thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more;

E. Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews; a touching the law, a Pharisee;

6. As touching zeal, persecuting the church; and touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless.

Golden Text: Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth.—2 Tim. 2:15.

Time: Saul born, about A. D. 1. Saul sent to the rabbinical college in Jerusalem A. D. 15.

Place: Tarsus in Cilicia, Jerusalem.

Introduction. The lessons of this quarter will be devoted to a study of the Life and Letters of the apostle Paul as recorded in the Book of Acts.

The Acts of the Apostles, especially the acts of Peter and Paul, was written by Luke, who also wrote the third Gospel which is "the former treatise" referred to in the opening words of the Acts.

Both works were written for a certain nobleman named Theophilus. The Acts carries the story of the Christian church down to near the close of the first Roman imprisonment of Paul, and ends abruptly, so that there is reason for thinking that Luke intended to write a third volume, carrying the account on to the death of Paul, and perhaps further.

Luke, the Writer of Acts. Luke was a physician, probably from Philippi in Macedonia, who travelled much with Paul, cared for his health, which was very poor, and aided him in his evangelism. Luke had ample opportunity to learn about him, his work, and his companions. He was in perfect sympathy with the gospel enterprise, and was a devoted follower of the Lord Jesus. As we trace the life of the chief of the apostles through the Acts, supplemented by extracts from Paul's own writings, we may be sure that we are getting as close as possible to one of the greatest characters in the world's history; the man who, next to the Saviour himself, is the leading figure in the history of the church.

Paul Before a Mob in Jerusalem. Acts 21:30 to 23:10. At the time this address of the apostle Paul was made, Paul was visiting Jerusalem to bring succor from the Gentile Christians of Europe to the persecuted Christians of Jerusalem, when he was attacked by some bigoted Jews who objected to his work among the Gentiles and who charged him falsely with bringing a Gentile into the temple. A fierce mob was instantly raised, and Paul would have been torn to pieces by them if he had not been rescued by Roman troops.

He was speaking to the commander in charge of the regiment there quartered, who had asked him for an account of himself. "I am a Jew," Paul was the apostle to the Gentiles, whose great work was the extension of Christianity among the Greeks and Romans of Asia Minor and Europe; but he was always true to his Jewish ancestry and faith, and wherever he went in his missionary journeys he preached first in the local synagogue, if there was one. "Of Tarsus in Cilicia." Cilicia was the Roman province at the northeast corner of the Mediterranean, the western half of the province of Syria. Antioch was the capital of Syria, and Tarsus was the chief city of Cilicia. Paul never missed a chance to speak for Christ, and he seized this occasion, addressing that wild mob from the staircase leading to the castle, though most men would have been glad enough to insure their safety by getting inside the walls.

Saul's Early Education. Though living in so great a center of Gentile learning, Saul, because he belonged to a pious Jewish family, would not be sent to the famous university of Tarsus. Like all Hebrew boys, he obtained the rudiments of his education at home. It was based on the Bible, and passages of Scripture were learned by heart and carefully explained by the father and mother. Later, the boy went to the synagogue school. Saul was intended for the career of a rabbi, but the work of a rabbi was entirely gratuitous and he was expected to support himself by some trade. All honest work was highly regarded among the Jews. Saul became a maker of tents, which was a thriving industry in Tarsus. All through his missionary labors Paul supported himself and often his assistants by his work at making tents, the business learned during his youth in Tarsus. Thus he set a splendid example before modern boys and girls, for every one is the better for being able to support himself by some useful art.

The School of Gamaliel. "At the feet of Gamaliel." Literally so, as the teacher sat on an elevated platform and his pupils sat at his feet. "Both from his own learning and character, and from his being the grandson of Hillel, Gamaliel held the foremost place among the theologians at Jerusalem. Gamaliel was liberal-minded, large-hearted, and kind. What the youthful Saul had got from his teacher was the knowledge of the law, a minute acquaintance with the traditions of the elders, a thorough knowledge of the Scriptures and of the current methods of interpretation. Paul quotes from all parts of the Scriptures, from the Pentateuch, from the Psalter, and from the Prophets he quotes in such a way as to prove that he had mastered their contents and was at home with them. The quotations also show that the original Hebrew was as familiar to him as the Greek translation."—Prof. James Iverach.

Paul, a Roman Citizen. "And the chief captain (the tribune or colonel of the regiment stationed in the castle) came and said unto him, Tell me, are thou a Roman?" As soon as Paul, in the progress of his speech, made mention of his work among the hated Gentiles, the mob flew into a rage so violent that the Roman soldiers withdrew their prisoner hastily into the castle, and the colonel, according to the barbarous fashion of the day, commanded Paul to be scourged. But Paul instantly protested, "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is Roman, and uncondemned?" One of the privileges of a Roman citizen was this, that he might not be scourged except after due process of law; and the chief captain knew that he would be severely punished himself if he disregarded that law. "And he said, Yea."

Saul's Zeal for Judaism. Paul's first church in Europe was founded in Philippi, an important historical city of Macedonia, and this community of Christians was always dear to his heart. Luke probably was a native of Philippi, or at least made the city his home. Paul's letter to the Philippians was written during his first imprisonment in Rome, gratefully acknowledging a gift which had sent him. It is one of the most joyful and joy-inspiring letters that came from his pen.

"As touching zeal, persecuting the church." Concerning Paul's zeal in persecuting the Christians we are

COURT RECORD

District Court. Many agreed judgments in civil cases have been entered by Judge W. R. Ewing this week in 31st district court. The first jury cases will likely be started Monday.

The jury list for the second week of the fall term of 31st district court opening Monday, follows: Jack A. Crow, R. R. Thomas, J. W. Hornsby, M. R. Landers, Harvey Cobbs, N. H. Brooks, D. A. Davis, Leon Bodine, Carl Carpenter, all to study in our next lesson. It is sufficient here to note that as a member of the Sanhedrin and a zealous Pharisee, Paul was head and foremost among those who haled the followers of Christ to prison and brought about their death. The fact that the most bitter enemy of Christianity should become its most powerful advocate has always been one of the strongest of Christian evidences.

TECH ENROLLMENT 1,814. LUBBOCK, Sept. 29. Up to September 26, 1,814 students had enrolled at Texas Technological college, this being 75 more students than were enrolled on the corresponding date last year. More students have delayed their registration on account of finances than last year, according to President Bradford Knapp. Many students are waiting for cotton checks, and more than the usual number of emergency cases involving some slight delay in order to get funds to pay fees have been handled.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Jordan and son, Ray, visited the fair in Amarillo Wednesday.

Amarillo Pastor To Speak at the Christian Church

As the invitation of members here, Ferrell Fox, minister of West Amarillo Christian church, will speak at the night service of First Christian church Sunday.

John S. Mullen, Pampa minister, will exchange pulpits with the Amarillo minister, preaching at West Amarillo church Sunday night.

The service here will begin at 7:45. Special music will be presented by an orchestra directed by Roy Wall-rabenstein.

Fox is an able speaker who has made a fine record as a minister in Amarillo and has shown ability in many lines of church work. Mr. Mullen says. He is a graduate of Texas Christian university and has had post graduate work at Phillips university, Enid, Okla., and in Louisville, Kentucky.

The public is invited to hear the young minister.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: A man, picked up on the shore after the wreck of the Alice Arden, has been taken from the hospital by Nesta Riddell as her husband, Jimmy Riddell. He is at her brother Tom's house in Ledlington. A few moments after Nesta and the man had left, Caroline Leigh arrives for her distant cousin, Jim Randall. She is leaving, disappointed, when the nurse mentions a scrap of paper she had found in her patient's pocket, with the signature, "Caroline," so Caroline determines to continue her apparently hopeless search. Meanwhile the man awakens, and Nesta tells him he is her husband. He declares he does not know her, nor can he recall other events of the past.

UNCOMPROMISING PAST
He woke in the morning to the sound of Tom Williams clattering down the stairs and being softly hushed by Min. He was out of bed in a minute and at the door.

"I say, lend me a razor—there's a good chap!"
He found Tom embarrassed but friendly. The razor was produced, and Min brought him hot water and asked him timidly if he felt better. When he said "I don't feel better—I feel well," she looked very much pleased; but when he added "I expect I look like a cut-throat," she colored and ran away.
He shaved, dressed himself, and was relieved to find himself no more than just a little shaky. His clothes he discovered in a neat pile upon a shelf screened by a chintz curtain. The suit had been pressed, but it still had a smell of sea-water about it; one or two rents had been neatly mended.
He frowned at the clothes. They fitted him, so he supposed that they were his; but he couldn't remember them—he couldn't remember anything.

When he was dressed, he sat down on the edge of the bed and put his head in his hands. It was just as if a black gulf of nothingness were cutting him off from everything that had happened to him up until now. On this side of the gulf his mind was working in a perfectly normal manner.
Yesterday, for instance, was on this side of the gulf, and he remembered all about yesterday; he could have repeated his conversation with Nesta verbatim. But as to what had happened to him on the other side of the gulf, he had only her statements to go by. He went over them with a sort of puzzled horror. His name was Jim Riddell.
He had married Nesta Williams at the Grove Road registry office on July 25.
He had been on his way to Glasgow when the Alice Arden came to grief.
He had been going to Glasgow to "get off the map."
He had married Nesta Williams at the Grove Road registry office on July 25.

He had been on his way to Glasgow when the Alice Arden came to grief.
He had been going to Glasgow to "get off the map."

was not an object of pity; the Williams were certainly not well-to-do; and mentally and physically she repelled him.
Over and above all this, he had a sense of her strangeness. He could not believe that he had held her in his arms, that they had kissed. She was stranger to him than someone whom he had never met—far more deeply strange than any of the forgotten people on the wrong side of the black gulf which cut him off from his past.
He left that.
Why had he been going to Glasgow?
Nesta had given him the answer to "get off the map."
Why had he got to "get off the map?"
The answer to that was somewhere on the other side of the gulf.
He went over everything that had happened yesterday down to the time when he had fallen asleep to the faint sound of an orchestra through the partition wall. He had slept without waking, but not without dreaming.
He leaned his head on his hands, and knew that those sleeping hours had not been spent in unconsciousness. The shadows of swift flashing events moved in them. They were like the shadows of fierce darting fish seen through waters veiled by mist. Mist—fog. Fog came into it—fog, and a voice.

His voice? Behind the fog, there were strange, violent things, happening at an incredible speed, flashing through his mind too quickly to be grasped... like beads of light, strung on a dark chain... like a kid's green beads.
For an instant he saw a small brightly lighted picture. The light came from above, and swinging to and fro beneath it was a string of square green stones. They swung from a man's hand. There were eight of them—big, square, green stones; a double chain of pearls between every two.
He saw the man's hands, and the square green stones, and the pearls, and the light shining down on them. The voice said, "like a kid's green beads," and everything went dark.
Some time after this Nesta was at the door. He thanked heaven that he was up and dressed. If he had had to lie there whilst she sat on the edge of his bed and talked, he might not be able to hide the violence of his recoil. Women always bullied a man when they had him at a disadvantage.

The thought of yesterday set his teeth on edge. Today they would meet on equal terms, and he would try and remember that the situation was a horrible one for her. For himself it was very nearly intolerable. He hadn't a job, and as far as he knew, he hadn't a penny in the world.
What was he to do? Live on Nesta—borrow from Nesta? The situation was not only nearly, but quite, intolerable.
These thoughts went to and fro in his mind as they sat at breakfast in the small hot kitchen.
Tom Williams bolted a couple of rashers of bacon, gulping down his tea, and was off, saying that he would be late. The chug-chug of his motorcycle came back through the thin walls of the little house.
With recovered confidence Min began to tell him how wonderful Tom was at almost everything—"Why, he can cook as well as I can. And every bit of paper in the house is what he hung himself." It was a great relief to have Min prattle to get them through the meal. She had shy smiles for him now and no longer kept her eye on the door. So much for a shave!

When breakfast was over, he spoke to Nesta directly.
"Is there somewhere where we can talk?"
With no more than a nod she led the way into the parlor, with its saddle-back suite in bright shades of red and blue, its crimson Axminster square, and its silver photograph frames.
Into this room, so new, so gay, so commonplace, there came these two angry, inconspicuous people; and at once its slight emptiness became charged with strain, pressure, resistance.
Nesta waited for him to begin. She stood with her back to the window, leaning forward over one of the red and blue chairs in a would-be easy attitude. He walked to the woolly mat in front of the hearth, and said what he had planned to say.
"This is a rotten deal for you. I want to tell you. I'm awfully sorry about it."
Heaven! How incredibly difficult she made it! His words, his efforts to get her point of view, slipped back from the hard surface she turned towards him. It was like seeing a fly slip on a pane of glass. She was angry, hard, resentful, cold.
But there was something else. He could feel the pressure of her will. Why should she be putting out her will against him like this? It got his back up. It made it too damned difficult to feel or say the decent thing. What was she to him after all, but a stranger whom he disliked?
He said, "I really am sorry," and the room filled again with her scornful silence.
She stood there leaning over the back of the chair with bright, close-set eyes and just a hint of an angry smile breaking the straight line of her lips. There was something secret about that smile, something that said, "Take care—I can be even with you if you like."
He spoke before he knew what he was going to say.
"Why do you look at me like that? What's behind all this?"
"Ah!" said Nesta very softly. "You'd like to know—wouldn't you?"
(Copyright 1933, J. B. Lippincott Co.)
Tomorrow Nesta talks "business" with Jim.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29, (AP)—The stock market ran into difficulties today, following a drive on American Telephone, and many equities which were firm in the early hours more than cancelled their gains in a last-hour selling wave. Some of the metal issues held part of their advances. The close was rather heavy. Transfers, approximated, 1,600,000 shares.

Miami Resident For Thirty-Four Years Succumb
A resident of Miami community for 34 years was taken by death yesterday afternoon when Nathaniel A. Gray, 76, of Miami, died in a local hospital after an illness of several weeks. His wife preceded him in death five years ago.
Mr. and Mrs. Gray moved to a farm south of Miami in 1899. They acquired more land and a few years later moved to Miami where they made their permanent home.
The body is lying at rest at the home of a daughter, Mrs. R. B. Dial at Miami. Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in First Methodist church at Miami, by the Rev. J. R. Jackson, assisted by the Rev. C. B. Meadows. Burial will follow in Miami cemetery in charge of the G. C. Malone Funeral home of Pampa.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

901 North Frost Street.
 "Unreality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 1.
 The golden text is: "The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought; he maketh the devices of the people of none effect" (Psalms 33:10).
 Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it unto the end. . . Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity; and quicken thou me in thy way. . . Let the mercies come also unto me, O Lord, even thy salvation, according to thy word" (Psalms 119:33, 37, 41).
 The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If men would bring to bear upon the study of the Science of Mind half the faith they bestow upon the so-called pains and pleasures of material sense, they would not go on from bad to worse, until disciplined by the prison and the scaffold; but the whole human family would be redeemed through the merits of Christ,—through the perception and acceptance of Truth. For this glorious result Christian Science lights the torch of spiritual understanding" (page 202).
 Sunday, 11 a. m.
 Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.
 Wednesday, 8 p. m.
 Reading room open Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday, 1-4 p. m.
 The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use the reading room.

Tell-Tale Soaps

Shout Body Odor!
 Here's New Odorless Way for This Hard Water

Scientific tests have made clear at last why body odor—after one bath with ordinary soaps—soon bobs up again. Their sticky, sluggish lather, cannot work into the pores, and so cannot remove the embedded stale perspiration. Instead they clog the pores with curds.

The new and positive way to ban body odor is deep-pore cleansing. One soap will do that, Kirk's Coco Castile, made by America's largest soap makers. In the hardest water, it breaks instantly into a searching lather. It cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded perspiration—then rinses out completely and in a flash. Thus it ends body odor at its source—the only effective way.

This 100% pure vegetable oil soap is odorless—leaves no offensive M. S. (medicine smell)—is stimulating to the skin. Available everywhere in a big generous cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is now selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile, by name—at your grocer's.

 Special address by Ferrell Fox, minister of the West Amarillo Christian church, who is coming to speak at the request of the church here.
 The orchestra led by Mr. Roy Wallrabenstein will play some numbers.

JUST A CATFISH FIEND

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, transcontinental air speed record holder, flew in from the east last night and put in a double order for his favorite dish—catfish—at a restaurant. He then asked the waitress: "Would you consider me mad if I asked for catfish for desert?" She would, Turner took apple pie.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—A plea of not guilty was entered today by Frederick B. Campbell, New York attorney and clubman, to an indictment charging him with violation of the president's order of August 28 against the hoarding of gold.

TEXAS OIL ALLOWABLE CUT 10,000 BARRELS; PRICES ARE RAISED

DOLLAR BEING PAID FOR OIL IN EAST TEXAS

40,000 BARRELS MAY BE TAKEN FROM STORAGE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 29 (AP)—Oklahoma and Texas can average ten cents more per barrel for the oil they produce today, but the government has ordered their output cut.

Increased prices by the Texas company, hiking Oklahoma crude to a top of $1.08 a barrel and East Texas to $1.10 effective today, were announced almost at the same time Secretary Ickes was cutting daily allowables in the two states, as of October 1.

The Texas allowable was reduced from 975,000 barrels to 965,000 daily by the federal administration while the Oklahoma allocation, now 540,000 barrels, was cut to 495,000. However, under the new order Texas may withdraw 40,000 barrels daily from storage and Oklahoma 25,000.

California daily allowable was reduced from 480,000 to 455,000 barrels but Kansas, in the north end of the midcontinent, received an increase from 111,000 to 116,000 barrels.

Tech Plans To Seek Funds For Two Dormitories

LUBBOCK, Sept. 29. Texas Technological college has applied to the Public Works Administration for a loan of $650,000 for the purpose of building two dormitories, one for boys and one for girls, each to house 300 students. The main front of the dormitories is to be 210 feet from one end and four stories high. The dormitories will front toward the extension of Broadway into the campus the boys' units being located in the area north of Broadway extension and the girls' dormitory south, near the home economics building. Each dormitory is estimated to cost $325,000, fully equipped with dining room, kitchen supply room, cold storage, a spacious lounge or parlor, matron's and supervisor's rooms, and other accessories. Both structures will be entirely fire proof, modern in construction and design, and the architecture will be in keeping with that of the other buildings now on the campus.

Under the provisions of the Public Works Administration, the institution will receive an outright donation of 30 per cent of labor and materials and will be compelled to return to the government 70 per cent of the cost of labor and materials and all other costs over a period of 30 years. A careful figuring of the costs shows that in reasonably modest payments the institution can pay

Class Goal For Year Is Reached; Officers Chosen

Achievement of a standard rating, their goal through the summer, was announced at a meeting of the Fidelity class of First Baptist church last evening. Officers for the year beginning Oct. 1 were elected also. Misses Ruth Henry and Donnie Lee Stroupe were hostesses at the home of Miss Henry, at a business and social meeting. Requirements of a standard class were met during the past three months, reports showed, and application for a certificate was mailed to Nashville.

Miss Leora Kinard was elected class president, to succeed Miss Henry. Vice presidents will be: Miss Violet Durrett, in charge of class enlargement; Miss Zenobia McFarlin, in charge of fellowship and publicity; Miss Josephine Cariker, in charge of class ministry; Miss Henry, in charge of missions and stewardship.

Miss Neva Burgan was elected secretary, and Misses Georgia Sanders, Bernice Larsh, and Flora Perry group captains.

Games of "touring" were enjoyed after the business meeting, and the hostesses served pumpkin pie and coffee to 21 guests.

For these structures within the time named. The erection of these two dormitories will furnish work for 200 men for a period of eight or nine months.

I-Double-U Club Meets for Games

WHY Schlitz IS FIRST

In Brown Bottles

THE answer is short. It has a flavor superior to that of other beers.

Why is it better? Because SCHLITZ scientists have solved a problem that puzzled the best minds in the brewing industry for many years. SCHLITZ has worked out a secret control of enzymes in beer.

What are enzymes? They are mysterious substances that exist in all living cells. There are many kinds of enzymes. Each kind has its own particular job.

Some enzymes produce a pure brew and some enzymes produce a brew which is actually injurious to health.

Never mind the details. It is sufficient to state that the enzymes digest the different ingredients until they go into solution — which we know as beer. But — the enzymatic activities must be controlled. How to control them is a SCHLITZ secret.

You know that any brewer can put malt, hops, yeast and water together — but unless the enzymatic action is skillfully controlled the result is a rank, ropy beer that may produce indigestion or be harmful otherwise.

But SCHLITZ in Brown Bottles — The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous — is healthful, uniform, sparkling, brilliant. It is a health giving, predigested food.

Drink SCHLITZ freely. It is good and good for you. It is fully fermented at the brewery — it will not make you bilious because it is brewed under perfect enzymatic control. The Brown Bottle protects its goodness from the brewery to your glass.

By the case or in the attractive SCHLITZ Handy Six. Ask your Dealer.

SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE TEAMS RESUME GRID WARS THIS WEEK-END

MUSTANGS AT LUBBOCK FOR TECH BATTLE

FROGS MAY HAVE HARD TIME WITH NORTH TEXAS TEACHERS

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs, 1932 Southwest conference champions, are at Denton.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, the conference's most celebrated aerial performers, are at Lubbock.

Friday night, the Frogs play the North Texas Teachers, who last week smothered Southern Methodist, 7 to 0.

The Mustangs battle the Texas Tech Matadors, who last year plastered a 6 to 0 defeat on them.

These two melees will start non-conference competition this weekend for Southwest conference grid-iron aggregations.

At Denton, it will be a battle of champions. The Eagles won last year's Lone Star conference championship. In 1931 they won the T. I. A. A. championship.

Coch J. A. A. championship Coach Jack Sisco will send practically the same team on the field that held Texas Christian to a 14 to 2 score last year. It will be the Frogs third game this year.

Coach Ray Morrison and his Mustangs embarked Thursday night for Lubbock where they hope to regain lost prestige by whipping the veteran Texas Tech machine.

The Baylor Bears, who promise plenty in the way of an aerial attack this year, will play St. Edwards at Waco. It will be the Bears first game this season.

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks will battle Oklahoma Baptist at Fayetteville.

Texas A. & M. against Tulane at New Orleans is the spotlight game for Saturday afternoon.

Rue Barfield, senior halfback, and Sid Martin, quarterback, were left behind because of injuries.
