GIANTS SENSATION

TWINKLES
NRA pledge for today: I pledge myself to bear in mind that the eagle is the American national bird, and at no time to be confused with a nuthatch, a blackbird, a buzzard, or an oversize cootie.

We commend to the people who like to think, and hear experts think out loud, the public address of Texas Tech's president, Dr. Bradford Knapp, to be given at the city hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The talk will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

Public addresses without banquets are rare. Dr. Bradford Knapp of Texas Tech should have a large audience at the city hall Saturday evening.

Seldom have we ever reported a loss by a team away from home. We're going with the Harvesters to Big Spring to try to wire back news of the first victory of the season.

As a matter of NRA compliance, the Senators should demand that Carl Hubbell be given a rest and some other hurler used by the Giants.

BREVITORIES.
Citizens are excusably disappointed because the home loan corporation has been so slow in getting under way. The president is reliably reported to share this disappointment to the fullest measure. Repeated assurances have come to naught. Changes have been made that "Hoover methods" were preventing actual operation of the relief system. By this is meant that so much caution was being placed around every step that the red tape could not be cut. Of the applications which have been sent from Pampa, not one has reached the stage where Judge Newton P. Willis, home loan attorney, has been asked to examine the papers. Action is however, "promised" for early this month by the government.

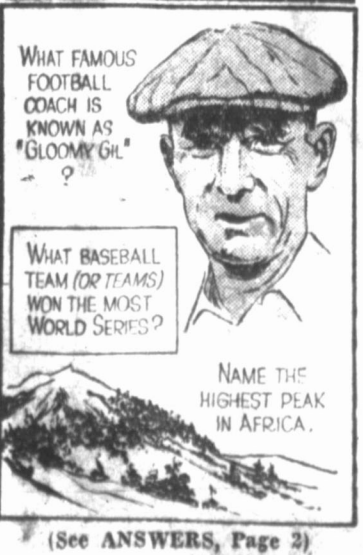

The obvious reasonableness and justice of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's address to the American Legion should appeal to anyone who has studied all the implications, past, present, and future, of our government pension policy. Two great principles were enunciated. They gave the veterans all the insurance they could, in patriotism, demand, and they reassure those who have never worn a uniform but who feared that a "class" was being born on this basis. We quote the president:

"The first principle, following inevitably from the obligation of citizens to bear arms, is that the government has a responsibility for and toward those who suffered injury or contracted disease while serving in its defense.

"The second principle is that no person, because he wore a uniform, must thereafter be placed in a special class of beneficiaries over and above all other citizens. The fact of wearing a uniform does not mean that he can demand and receive from his government a benefit which no other citizen receives. It does not mean that because a person served in the defense of his country, performed a basic obligation to citizenship, he should receive a pension from his government because of a disability incurred after his service had terminated, and not connected

GRAY COUNTY ROAD PAVING IS APPROVED

6.3 MILES AUTHORIZED IN NRA HIGHWAY PROGRAM

APPROVAL of another Gray county emergency road project by the federal bureau of roads was announced at Fort Worth today. It will involve surfacing of 6.3 miles of highway.

The project is believed here to be the first half of the topping of highway 132 east from Pampa toward the county line. This presumably will be handled in the manner of grading highway 33 through South Pampa; that is, the relief office will furnish the men and the highway department will supervise the work and furnish the materials.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 6 (AP)—The largest single letting made by the Texas highway commission under the NRA emergency highway program was in prospect today as district headquarters of the bureau of public roads forwarded seven more approved projects to Austin to be included in the number on which bids will be received October 16.

Already prepared to receive bids on 28 projects totalling $1,700,000, the commission tomorrow will receive the seven other projects which will cost an additional $800,000. If bids are received on the entire group and contracts are awarded at about the same time work will be provided for more than 2,500 men.

The seven additional projects are: Surfacing 6.3 miles of roadway in Gray county, grading 11.3 miles in Jackson county, grading 2.7 miles on one road and 8.3 miles on another in Rusk county, grading 6.4 miles in Upton county, surfacing 1.46 miles in Moore county, and grading 112 miles in Wilson county. C. E. Swain, federal district engineer, also announced that employment had been provided for 1,100 men through the launching of highway work on a direct labor basis since September 11.

Relief Official Quits Under Fire

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission, said today that the resignation of Tex Alsby as Bexar county relief administrator had been "asked and received."

Westbrook said that the state commission would take temporary charge of relief affairs in San Antonio and Bexar county.

Westbrook stated that the resignations of D. P. Bishop, secretary to Alsby, and W. B. Arnold, general manager of the work routing department for the Alsby administration, also had been "asked and received."

Miss Ruth Kolling, social service consultant to the Bexar county administration, will be transferred to another county, he said.

OH, IT SCRATCHES!
COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 6 (AP)—A mass meeting of the student body here last night adopted a proposal that University of Missouri men forego shaving until after the Missouri-Kansas Aggie football game October 14. The motion carried, despite objection from a large number of women students.

Fannie Miller, colored, was dismissed from Pampa hospital today after a recent operation.

I HEARD—

G. M. Holt reading a portion of a letter just received from Mrs. Holt and their son, Bill, who are in New Mexico where Mrs. Holt is painting. The letter said that the first frost had arrived and that the country was beautiful. Mrs. Holt had been painting in the Red river country, but is now in Taos where she will paint some Indian scenes.

Tom Blair and Arlie Crites wondering who they would get to represent King Kong in the Hollywood revue which will be staged here soon. Applicants are wanted.

Public Issues To Be Subject Of Knapp Talk

Lubbock Educator Is To Be Honor Guest of City Saturday; Public Is Invited.

NATIONAL and public questions as they are seen by a veteran educator and orator will be discussed here tomorrow night by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Lubbock's Texas Tech, who will make an address on a patriotic subject at the city hall.

The program, sponsored by the American Association of University Women, will begin at 7:45 p. m. with the high school band playing a short concert.

The program has been outlined as follows: Music, high school band, directed by Roy Wallrabenstein. Invocation, the Rev. C. E. Lancaster. Sing-song, led by Supt. R. B. Fisher. Address, Dr. Bradford Knapp. Reception, women's club rooms, everyone invited.

Members of the local NRA council and compliance board will be seated on the stage with Dr. Knapp, whose remarks will touch upon the national recovery program. C. H. Walker, NRA chairman, and the NEWS to emphasize that both employers and employees were desired at the reception. Women—chief buyers and consumers—are asked to attend.

For the sponsoring A. A. U. W. attendance at the address will count in the attendance contest of the club, and all members are asked to be present. The association's board of managers and their husbands will honor Dr. Knapp at a dinner at the Schneider hotel tomorrow evening. A short public reception will be held for him in the women's club rooms after the program Saturday evening. Everyone is invited to the reception. Dr. Knapp will be a guest in the home of Supt. R. B. Fisher.

The visitor will speak to teachers of the county Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the Methodist church on an educational theme.

Subjects of two addresses to be given tomorrow by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, were announced in a letter to Supt. R. B. Fisher.

His public address Saturday evening will be on "The New Deal and What It Means." He will speak in the city hall auditorium following a short concert by the high school band that will begin at 7:45. All citizens are invited by the American Association of University Women, sponsoring his talk, to hear him.

In the morning Dr. Knapp will address teachers of Gray county, discussing "The Increasing Responsibility of the Teacher." This talk will be given at the Methodist church.

Dr. Knapp will be accompanied to Pampa by Dr. Goodwin, member of Tech faculty. Fisher was informed this morning. They expressed a desire to visit a carbon black plant and a gasoline plant while they are in the county.

A trip through the plants will be arranged, Fisher said. Dr. Knapp will be honored with a dinner Saturday evening by the A. A. U. W. board of managers, and an informal reception for him will be held in the women's club rooms after his talk.

Band Popular In Its Concert At Skellytown

Pampa's high school band was highly complimented by Skellytown people who heard it in a concert there yesterday afternoon.

Residents of the Skellytown community crowded around the band and gave frequent applause. Free soft drinks were furnished the visitors.

George Briggs, B. C. D. manager, made a brief talk, saying that Pampa was proud of its school band and was glad to let others hear it. He invited the Skellytown group to Pampa, especially on November 11 to "help Pampa beat Amarello." This remark drew a big cheer.

Other trips will be made by the band.

J. E. Barlow of Kansas City is a Pampa business visitor for a few days.

DUEL FOUGHT OVER WOMAN IN CAROLINA

'Outlander' Shoots Youth at 20 Paces. But It Is Only a Misdemeanor.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 6 (AP)—Dashing cavaliers, romantic intrigue, and moonlight duels may mean one thing to the chroniclers of the old south's era of lavender and old lace, but in the eyes of the law—prosaic, maybe—it's a misdemeanor to fight over a belle.

Rack Moody, a 22-year-old filling station operator, awaited sentence today for what he called a "scrap over a girl"—only, according to Moody, he didn't fight with his fists in the approved manner of a modern hero; he and an unknown stranger shot it out at twenty paces.

Moody's story is that a gallant young stranger, whose name police have never been able to learn, warned him to stop "courting" a certain mountain lass and then, when a first fight seemed imminent, suggested that they go to a nearby golf course and settle the matter like gentlemen.

The proposal appealed to Moody's sense of propriety. And the "outlander," as strangers are known in these parts, seemed accommodating enough. He drove Moody to the greens in his car and when he found Moody had only two bullets in his belt he threw away all but two of his.

And then, in the moonlight, they stepped twenty paces, and, without seconds or a physician convenient, each fired twice.

Moody was wounded in the left side—not seriously. But when he appeared next day with bandages and his story of the duel, he was arrested. The mysterious stranger, who has never been seen hereabouts since, is still sought.

Moody did not take the stand when his case came up in police court here yesterday, but his story was related by Captain Fred Jones, chief of detectives, to whom Moody first gave his account of the duel.

But, regardless of how the law looks at affairs of honor, the police and detectives thus far have been gallant enough to refrain from mentioning the girl's name. Ever since Moody's arrest September 11, and during the police court trial was not disclosed either.

After hearing the story of the duel, Judge Sam M. Cathey found Moody guilty of a misdemeanor.

Milk Grades Will Be Run On Monday

Milk grades will be run here starting Monday, Dr. T. J. Worrell, assistant city health officer, said this morning. He runs grades on milk from producers, dairies and distributors twice weekly and the time is at hand for the second run.

Four samples will be graded during the test period. Dr. Worrell will also make inspection trips to all places supplying milk in Pampa during the next few weeks. The last tests were entirely satisfactory. Dr. Worrell reported.

Pampa Will Have Donkey Baseball Game On Tuesday

Pampa is to have a donkey ball game.

Next Tuesday is the day; 3:30 o'clock is the time. The place will be announced later.

Pampa and Wheeler Shriners are sponsoring the game, assisted by local civic clubs. Wheeler started it with a challenge. Pampa Shriners accepted. Wheeler will furnish the donkeys. Local Shriners and civic club men are eligible to represent this city. Half the proceeds will be kept here and given to school cafeterias.

described as a short ruddy man, another as a tall, dark man weighing about 200 pounds, and the third as a stocky, heavily-bearded and "mean-looking."

They fled in a small sedan, carrying two bank employees, Froy Mounis, cashier, and Miss Veta McKinley, bookkeeper, with them to the city limits as protection against gunfire. Mounis and Miss McKinley were released unharmed.

Officers gave chase but were outdistanced. The robbers escaped to the southeast and officers believed they headed for Texas. Two robbers entered the bank and looted the cash tills of small bills and silver while the third man remained

WOULD RETAIN WESTBROOK AS HEAD DIRECTOR

COMMISSIONERS WOULD SELECT COUNTY BOARDS

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—A sub-committee of the Texas senate decided today to recommend that Lawrence Westbrook be retained as director of unemployment relief work in this state but that a new commission be named to supervise relief activities.

The new commission would consist of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and eight other members. One of the commissioners would be appointed by the speaker of the house and another by the lieutenant governor.

The six other members would be John Wood, chairman of the highway commission; T. A. Lower of Brenham, one of the governor's appointees to the present rehabilitation and relief commission; Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control; W. D. Cline of Wichita Falls, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce; E. L. Kurth of Lufkin, president of the East Texas chamber, and F. W. Kirk of Houston, president of the South Texas chamber.

The funds would be distributed within the counties by committees selected by the commissioners and approved by the state commission.

The sub-committee was named after the senate had concluded a searching investigation into the past and present administration of federal unemployment relief funds. It was instructed to write a bill to provide for the issuance of state relief bonds to match federal funds and to prescribe the method for disbursing such funds.

The group decided to recommend the issuance of $7,500,000 of the $20,000,000 in state bonds authorized by the people in the election August 26.

Governor Ferguson would be chairman of the state relief commission. Westbrook's salary would be $4,000 yearly. The bill would permit the commission to employ an auditor at a salary of $2,500 and such other employees as were necessary.

Expenses of disbursement of relief funds within the counties would be borne by the counties or the federal government. The bill proposed to appropriate $75,000 for expenses of the state organization for the next two years.

County committees would consist of five members except in counties containing a city of 150,000 population or larger, in which counties the governing body of the city would be empowered to name two additional committee members. Each county committee would appoint a relief director who would be bonded.

PREVENTION OF FIRES TO HAVE WEEK STRESS

School's Part To Be Very Important To Event

PAMPA has an excellent fire record for the last two years. There have been comparatively few fires and they were small.

Good luck often begets carelessness. And carelessness, statistics reveal, invariably results in fires. In order to prevent loss of the city's good record, citizens are asked to give thoughtful consideration to the Fire Prevention week program opening Sunday.

Pastors of the various churches will take note of the day and make announcements concerning it. Beginning Monday, the schools will play an important part in observance of the week. They will hear business men talk about fire prevention and will also give plays emphasizing the danger of carelessness.

Civic clubs likewise will have a place on their programs for mention of fire hazards.

An important feature of the week will be a questionnaire which children will take to their homes Monday to fill out and return. The parents are asked to assist, both by filling out the answers and by making the corrections indicated as desirable and wise.

MUCH FREE HITTING THOUGH DEFENSES ARE TIGHT—BILL TERRY HITS HOMER IN 4TH

MONTE WEAVER PICKED TO OPPOSE CARL HUBBELL

By ALAN GOULD
GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Despite cloudless skies, much warmer weather and the prospect of seeing Carl Hubbell try to check the Senators' comeback, another below-capacity crowd turned out today for the fourth game of the world series. The softbaw soe of the Giants was opposed by Monte Weaver, young righthander of the American league champions. There were no changes in either lineup although Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, pinch hit hero of the second game, took brisk part in the Giants' batting drill and was prepared to enter the proceedings if and when summoned.

FIRST INNING
Giants—Moore walked. Critz lined to Myer and Moore was doubled off first on a quick throw. Myer to Kuehl. Terry rapped a grounder over second for a single. Myer barely getting his hands on the ball. Ott popped to Bluege who came in on the grass for the catch. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING
Giants—Davis dribbled the first ball to Myer who threw him out at first. Jackson fanned, swinging. Mancuso lifted a high drive that Goslin caught on the run in deep right field. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING
Giants—Ryan lifted a short fly to Mancuso. Hubbell rolled to Bluege who made a nice pickup and threw to first for the putout. Moore rapped a grounder to Cronin and was thrown out. No run, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING
Giants—Critz grounded out. Cronin to Kuehl. Terry smashed a home run into the bleachers in deep center field. Ott walked. Davis grounded to Bluege for a scratch single. Ott stopped at second. Jackson fouled out to Bluege who made the catch a few feet from third base. Mancuso walked on a fourth straight ball. Ryan fanned, swinging. One run, two hits, no errors, three left.

FIFTH INNING
Hubbell lined out to Cronin. Moore slashed a single to left. Critz lifted a Texas leaguer that Myer caught on the run well back of first base. Terry connected with another long drive which Schulte grabbed close to the fence in deep left center. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING
Giants—Ott cracked to right center for a single. Davis bunted and was thrown out. Kuehl to Myer. Jackson popped to Myer. Mancuso was intentionally walked. Ryan rolled out. Weaver to Kuehl. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING
Senators—Myer beat out a sharp grounder to Ryan by a step. Goslin bunted to Jackson and was thrown out at first. Myer ran to third on Manush's sharp grounder that Critz grabbed and threw to Hubbell at first for a putout on a close decision. Cronin struck out, swinging hard at a screw ball. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

EIGHTH INNING
Giants—Ott got a single on a sharp grounder that bounced off Cronin's shoulder. Davis fanned, swinging. Jackson grounded out. Myer to Kuehl. Ott running to second base as Cronin failed to cover the bag in time for a possible double play. Mancuso bunted out. Weaver to Kuehl. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

NINTH INNING
Giants—Ryan cracked the first pitch over Kuehl's head for a single. Hubbell bunted beautifully. Sewell first base line for a sacrifice. He was thrown out. Sewell to Myer as Ryan went to second. Moore went out on a hopper. Weaver to Kuehl. Critz fielded out to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; cooler in the Panhandle tonight.

Kleins Return To Pampa Home

It certainly feels good to get back home again," said Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Klein, who have just returned to Pampa to make their home again after an absence of several months. Mr. Klein was formerly Santa Fe station agent here, but because of ill health had to retire.

Mr. and Mrs. Klein spent considerable time in New Mexico, Arizona, California, and Oregon. Mr. Klein reports conditions on the Pacific coast almost chaotic. He says that soap box "preachers" are becoming a menace and that they are getting huge followings, especially among veterans of that section. The "reds" hold open meetings on street corners and police make no effort to stop them. He says the menace is spreading north to Oregon and Washington.

SEVENTH INNING
Giants—Hubbell grounded out. Cronin to Kuehl. Moore lined a single past Cronin and stretched it to second in a fast spurt of running. Critz grounded to Cronin and was thrown out at first. Moore advancing to third. Terry bounced to Weaver and was tossed out at first. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

EIGHTH INNING
Giants—Ott got a single on a sharp grounder that bounced off Cronin's shoulder. Davis fanned, swinging. Jackson grounded out. Myer to Kuehl. Ott running to second base as Cronin failed to cover the bag in time for a possible double play. Mancuso bunted out. Weaver to Kuehl. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

NINTH INNING
Giants—Ryan cracked the first pitch over Kuehl's head for a single. Hubbell bunted beautifully. Sewell first base line for a sacrifice. He was thrown out. Sewell to Myer as Ryan went to second. Moore went out on a hopper. Weaver to Kuehl. Critz fielded out to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; cooler in the Panhandle tonight.

SON TO ALEXANDERS
Mr. and Mrs. Randall Alexander of Levelland are parents of a 7-1/2 pound son who has been named William Randall, friends here have been informed. Mrs. Alexander is the former Miss Leora May, at one time society editor of the Pampa Daily News. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. May, formerly of Pampa but now residents of Crutcher.

I SAW—
Kiwans slightly taken aback when "Dan McGrew" (Mayor of Kingsmill) gave a report on Sally Band, fan dancer, at the world's fair, when urged to do so by the Kiwanis club at their luncheon today. Dan said all reports about Sally were true and that there wasn't anything the eye couldn't encompass.

Henry Gerhard showing a new cream cheese which will be made hereafter at the Gray County Creamery. It will be demonstrated at the cooking school tomorrow. An expert was brought from Wisconsin to Pampa to make the cheese.

FIXING THE POWER RATE YARDSTICK

Watching the various elements of the new deal take shape these days is a little bit like peering into a test tube in which a chemist is attempting an entirely new, elaborately complicated kind of synthesis—with the added factor that at least a few of the chemists on the outskirts are not dead sure that the whole mess won't presently blow up and wreck the laboratory.

Some of us find one part of the experiment most interesting, and some of us find another; but certainly one of the most striking in its potentialities is that being conducted at Muscle Shoals.

A great many reasons were advanced for the Muscle Shoals program while it was being debated, and one of the chief ones was that it would serve as a yardstick by which electricity rates could be measured; and it is pretty evident now that the authorities are going to do everything they can to make the yardstick a good one.

It has been announced already that consumers of power from Muscle Shoals will be charged, on the average, two cents per kilowatt hour.

The significance of this figure rests upon two facts: First, that this—according to power authorities at Washington—is just a little more than half the average power rate for the nation last year.

Second, that the Muscle Shoals authorities are taking the utmost care to make the return they will receive from their sale of power equal to the return a privately owned utility would have to receive in order to meet fixed charges, taxes, interest and depreciation.

"These rates," says David Lilienthal, director of power development at the Shoals, "have been computed on a conservative basis to cover all the costs of furnishing the service, including operation, maintenance, depreciation and taxes. In addition, we have made provision for interest and retirement although such provision is not required by the Tennessee Valley Authority act."

It is easy to see how far-reaching the effects of this experiment might be. If the plant at Muscle Shoals, operating under precisely the same financial conditions as a private utility might operate, proves able to sell electricity for half the rate the private utilities charge, the general public is likely to get a new attitude toward utility rates in general. It isn't hard to see why the "power trust" fought the Muscle Shoals project so bitterly.

WELL KNOWN LOCAL PERSONS HAVE CLOSE RESEMBLANCE TO FAMOUS STARS OF FILM

Several prominent people of the city have already been selected as cinema star impersonators to appear at the La Nora theater's Hollywood Premiere to be held next Thursday night, October 12.

However, a great many other star impersonators are still needed and all that is necessary to apply is to clip the application coupon appearing in this issue of THE NEWS and leave or mail to the La Nora theater Hollywood Premiere editor.

If you are fortunate enough to resemble or if you can impersonate any one of the many movie stars then don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity since those selected will be driven to the theater in special cars, introduced to the audience in front of the theater under huge Klieg lights, will be given the chance to speak through the microphone, then to appear on the theater stage. In other words, the star impersonators will be presented and introduced in true Hollywood premiere fashion. Three grand prizes are to be awarded to the best of the star impersonators.

Numerous applicants are expected before Saturday evening at 6 p. m. which is set as the deadline for placing the applications.

"It does mean, however, that those who were injured in or as a result of their service, are entitled to receive adequate and generous compensation for their disabilities. It does mean generous care shall be extended to the dependents of those who died in or a result of service to their country."

"To carry out these principles, the people of this country can and will pay in taxes the sums which it is necessary to raise. To carry out these principles will not bankrupt your government nor throw its book-keeping into the red."

Junior Police Work Perfected At 2 Schools

Paul Hill made a report on the progress of the Junior Police work at the Woodrow Wilson school today. W. H. Lang made a report on the Baker school work. Both schools have their organizations perfected for the year's work.

John Studer announced that the Pampa service clubs will play the Wheeler Shrimps a donkey baseball game here next Tuesday. The receipts will be divided between the clubs for their cafeteria funds and the Wheeler Shrimps.

Entertainment today included violin selections by Miss Eleanor Frey, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lorene McClintock, Robert Smelgale and Emmett Smith sang several duets.

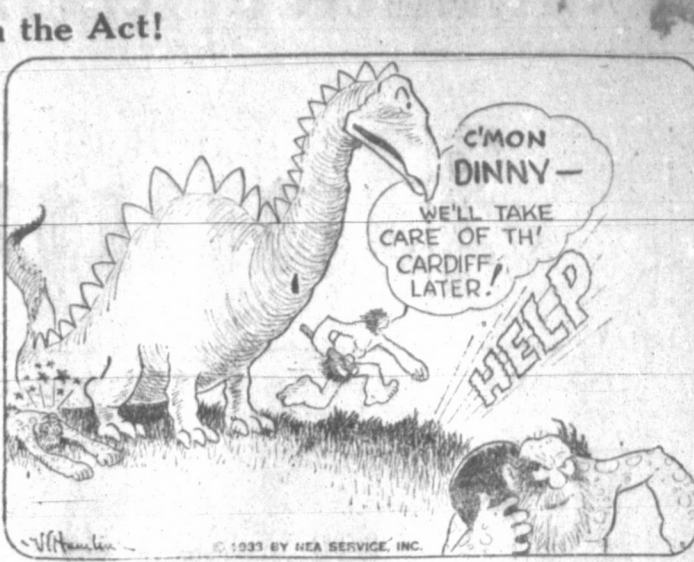

The Kiwanis club will meet with the Rotary and Lions clubs next Thursday when Marvin Jones will make an address. There will be no meeting next Friday.

Visitors today besides the ones on the program were: Miss Josephine

WITH THE— HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

WITH THE HARVESTERS—stk hd Loading doesn't pay, as the Harvesters learned Wednesday afternoon when they topped off an hour of running plays with a scrimmage of two hours. The boys took an easy attitude while running some new plays and when they started to put them into action during the scrimmage, they didn't seem to know much about them. It was then that they learned that loafing is taboo this year.

The team has one of the toughest schedules ahead that has ever faced a Pampa high school football team. They meet Big Spring tomorrow afternoon in Big Spring. Next Friday they go to Shawnee, Okla., for a game. The last non-conference game will see the Cisco Lobos here Oct. 21. The next week opens the conference season with the Harvesters in Plainview.

Coaches Harry Kelley and E. N. Dennard are working wonders with their Gorillas, who will be future Harvesters. Coach Kelley started trying to select a team with about 40 wild youngsters tearing up the north end of the football field. He had to call for assistance and Coach Dennard joined the Gorilla coaching staff. They now have three full teams and one or two boys left over. The first string shows much promise of winning several games. There are a bunch of promising boys on the team that should make valuable Harvesters next season.

And the World series goes rollicking along. The Senators found their batting eye yesterday and behind wonderful pitching took the third game of the series. Earl Whitehill, former Detroit Tiger, fanned Mel Ott twice for the outstanding feat of the game.

David M. Warren, Panhandle editor, was a visitor in the city today.

ANOTHER TRIAL PLANNED DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Joe Jones, assistant United States attorney, announced today that Tom L. Manion and Grover C. Bevil, convicted for aiding in the escape of Harvey Bailey from the Dallas county jail labor day, would be tried on an indictment charging them with bribery and conspiracy to accept a bribe in the same case.

FANS EXPECT PAMPA TO WIN AT BIG SPRING

HARVESTER VICTORY IS NEEDED TO COMPARE WITH AMARILLO

Twenty Pampa Harvesters left by car this morning for Big Spring, where they will play tomorrow afternoon. Coaches expected to reach Big Spring in time for a light workout this afternoon.

The boys will be handicapped tomorrow by the change in altitude and the workout this afternoon was to get the team used to new conditions. It was to consist mostly of running around the field, receiving passes and going over a few plays to give the boys a chance to use their "wind" and see how far it would go.

Coaches failed to name a starting lineup before they left this morning. Yesterday afternoon they put the boys through a two-hour workout. It was not a stiff session, but it was long and important, with blocking.

Fans are backing the team to come through with their first win, despite the fact that they will be playing away from home for the first time this year. The team showed a world of improvement last week and appeared to be really clicking.

The game tomorrow will give the Harvesters a chance to be in the dope bucket along with Amarillo's Sandies. The Amarillo team swamped Austin high of El Paso and that team a couple of weeks later held Big Spring to a 13 to 13 tie. However, the El Paso team has improved wonderfully and was reported to have played away over its head against Big Spring.

Next Friday, the Harvesters will play in Shawnee, Okla., in a non-conference game. Shawnee is the team that took the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City to two games last season before losing. Shawnee has a number of veterans back again this year.

A NEWS representative will be on the sidelines at Big Spring tomorrow afternoon and reports will be received here after each quarter.

Heaton Funeral Will Be Sunday

The funeral of Mrs. R. C. Heaton, Skellytown woman, who died yesterday, will be conducted at First Baptist church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Services will be in charge of the pastor, the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, and the Rev. Douglas Carver of White Deer. Burial will be directed by the Stephenson mortuary.

Mrs. Heaton, who died at the age of 39, is survived by her husband, a daughter and a son.

Lane, J. D. Thomson Jr., C. B. Swanner, and Kiwanian Floyd Stouder of Amarillo.

Fluor Battery Is Popular In Southwest Area

Scientifically developed under widely varying conditions, the Fluor counter-balanced storage battery, distributed in Texas and New Mexico by General Auto Supply company, Amarillo, is yearly enjoying a growing popularity said to be second to none in the automotive accessory field, according to Horace Gooch Jr., general manager.

"It has been our observation and experience that the careful buyer of these 'counter-balanced' storage batteries such as the large truck-fleet owners, bus companies, railroads, police and fire companies, whose owners have designated their choice of storage battery equipment only after conducting many tests, has proved of inestimable benefit to our many dealers in discussing this outstanding, precision-built battery with car owners.

"In the Fluor counter-balanced storage battery two factors, high capacity and long life, are said to reach an acme of perfection heretofore thought impossible of attainment. Because of the 'counter-balancing' principle, exclusive with the Fluor Storage Battery company, Ltd., the manufacturers, whereby a certain and controlled degree of stability is arrived at through precision engineering and careful manufacturing, plus extremely rigid methods of inspection and test, long life and high capacity are counter-balanced with recuperation and quick starting."

The Fluor Storage Battery Co., Ltd., which engineering company has been established in this country since 1890, and distributed locally by Lee Waggoner and C. C. Taylor, and Clifford West of LeFors.

HUGO MAN SHOT

HUGO, Okla., Oct. 6 (AP)—John Hammock of Grant was shot probably fatally last night by an assailant identified by officers as a whiskey runner. Officers said the shooting followed a quarrel over a liquor deal. Hammock was taken to a Paris, Texas, hospital. No arrests had been made.

ELECTRICAL SERVANTS

Ladies who are attending the Cooking School regularly, cannot help noticing the important part which electrical appliances play in the modern scheme of housekeeping. The preservation of food, especially perishables such as milk, meats and vegetables is made possible by the electric refrigerator. The smaller electrical appliances are no less helpful. Cookers, mixers, percolators, toasters, waffle irons, grills and many other small appliances are available in beautiful designs. The vacuum cleaner is probably the best aid to home sanitation.

Pampa dealers who are co-operating with Miss Yates will be glad to have you stop in their stores to see their complete displays of electrical goods.

300 WOMEN ARE PRESENT FOR FIRST COOKING SCHOOL SESSION

Gray County Parent-Teacher Council Outlines Three Programs for Season

TURSDAY WILL BE THE 3-DAY CLASS SERIES

PROGRAM TODAY FEATURES BAKING PROBLEMS

A woman today can become a really good cook, Miss Beulah Mackey Yates declared as she opened the first annual free cooking school yesterday, then demonstrated to 300 women present that her method of teaching is the best.

The school opened in the city auditorium for a three-day session which will continue at 2:30 each afternoon through Saturday. Miss Yates' happy personality and wide knowledge of kitchens kept the audience interested through the first and second sessions.

Wide Attendance
Men from all parts of the county registered to hear the lecture and see the demonstration of the cooking school. Printed recipes, including all recipes of the day distributed, and will be through the school.

Miss Yates added the dishes she prepared to the long list of gifts by the cooperating merchants. The feature will also continue through the school.

Her lecture on the nationally known cooking expert stated that a cook combines some of the best of a prize fighter, an artist, a politician, with the patience of a saint.

Questions Answered
Miss Yates gave hints of the smalls that make an unusual recipe, specialized on recipes that are on the family budget. In her lecture she will give special attention to cakes and loaves. She frequently answers questions from the audience, and discusses problems with her hearers.

Out-of-town women who registered for the first school were Mesdames William A. Mills, Ivan Reed, Miss Hazel Ivy of Kings, Mesdames A. H. Bazell, Charles Robinson, J. W. Lee, T. B. Brant, and M. H. Griffith of town; Mesdames E. A. Vance, W. I. Gilbert, J. T. Man, W. K. Ringgold, S. P. Hall, and Blankenburg of LeFors; Mesdames J. J. Kuehn and P. T. McRoxana; Mesdames M. C. and Conner O'Neal of White Plains in the city who registered.

From a Cooking School Notebook

Grandmothers, brides, and babies turned out yesterday for cooking school, and all seemed to have received some benefit.

The thimbles given by one of the cooperating manufacturers interested most women who registered.

"Do you need a thimble?" one young lady was asked.

"What for?" she laughed as she took a sheet of recipes and admitted that the quilting craze hadn't affected her yet.

"This is the first new thimble I've had since I married," another young woman said.

And Mrs. Earl O'Keefe slipped a slender finger into one and looked at it ruefully as it shook loosely.

"Oh, well," she said as she walked off with it. "I always have to bite my nails in my thimbles to make them fit."

Two blonde little girls in red striped dresses, who must have been twins, were among the younger visitors to the school.

The curly thatched little girl who drew the tickets made a hit with the audience, especially when she took a bottle of milk when her choice of the merchants' gifts was offered her.

Mrs. Nolan Walters, one of the summer's brides, listened attentively through the lecture, and I hope she learned to make the biscuits to go with the pound of butter she received.

Miss Yates says:

Oven control enables you to leave the gingerbread in the oven until the exact time it is done, but I still like to peek and see how it is getting along.

Fingers were made before spatulas, and I like to use mine in cooking. Also, I season by guess.

Buy your vegetables for their colors, and make an appetizing meal.

Don't make the mistake of over-flavoring. Onion can get into the party salad without protest if you use not too much of the juice.

After the recipe is given, there is still one necessary ingredient before the dish is good—common sense.

Bob Fuller left this morning for Big Spring to attend the football game there tomorrow.

Miss Mildred V. Holbrook of Burlingame, Calif.; Mrs. Oscar Poore of Hinton, Okla.; Miss Alice Woods of Lewis, Kan.

CLASS HONORS TEACHER WHO LEAVES SOON

Shower Is Given For Mrs. Tucker By Many Friends

Mrs. R. W. Tucker, who will teach the Fidelis Matrons class of First Baptist the last time Sunday morning before leaving Monday to make her home in Zionsbach, was honored yesterday by the class and friends with a shower.

She has been teacher of the class for 20 months. Only 21 members were enrolled at first, and now membership has grown past the 100 mark. Mrs. D. B. Jameson is the new president, succeeding Mrs. Joe E. Foster.

Mrs. Tucker was called to the church by a message of blessing of class business, but was greeted at the door by Mrs. F. E. Logan, who presented her a basket of flowers.

Gifts Presented
She signed for a telegram, and the messenger boy presented the large number of gifts. Appreciation of the church for her services as a teacher was expressed by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor.

After the gifts were inspected, sandwiches and lemonade were served.

Present were the honoree and Mesdames J. A. Arwood, Dee Campbell, K. T. May, J. T. Morrow, M. D. Deright, M. R. Rutherford, H. P. Grinnell, J. H. Larmbr, Roy Dyson, D. B. Jameson, J. J. Spangler, J. P. Brown, Paul Crossman, H. M. Turner, W. J. Brown, R. L. Moseley, Herman R. Whately, A. L. Prigmore, C. C. Rogers, H. E. Crocker, Hugh Ellis, J. S. Spears, C. A. Howell, Albert Taylor, E. G. Hemphill.

Mesdames Floyd Young, R. Lutz, C. E. Cheatham, J. A. Webb, Clark Tilstrom, L. A. Snodgrass, J. F. Clark, Tom Deval, W. T. Gasaway, Ross Cornelius, A. G. Keith, Fuller Barnett, F. W. Shigar, R. H. Bell, Willie Pickett, Flora G. Cecil, Fred Genett.

RECEIVES INSTRUCTION
Mrs. E. E. Bechtelheimer has returned from Fort Worth, where she has received special instruction in hair dressing and care from Marc Garman of Chicago. New methods of cutting and waving hair were stressed in the course.

FURNISHING OF CLUB ROOM TO BE COMPLETED

COMMITTEE NAMED BY COUNCIL TO FILL IN NEEDS

COMPLETION of furnishing details for the Council of Women's club rooms was planned at the October council meeting yesterday morning, and a committee named to choose the articles that use of the club rooms has revealed necessary.

Miss Margaret Buckler was appointed chairman, with Mesdames Jack Horner, John Hessey, R. B. Fisher, Siler Faulkner, T. F. Morton, C. S. Boston, W. T. Fraser, Earl O'Keefe, and Hugh Isbell as committee members.

Rating Explained
Outfitting the recent ruling concerning use of the club rooms, it was definitely stated that a member of the council of clubs may entertain in the rooms for any activity of her club, without charge. For use at a private party, however, she must pay the same fee as a non-member.

The Arno Art club will be in charge of the club rooms during October.

Announcements were made regarding opening of the Parent-Teacher thrift room to clothe needy school children, the exhibit of Texas art to be brought here Feb. 12-18 by the Arno Art club, and the appearance of Dr. Bradford Knapp of Texas Tech in a public address here Saturday evening under auspices of the American Association of University Women.

Council representatives present were Miss Buckler, Mesdames C. T. Hinkapillar, R. B. Fisher, Arthur Swanson, Ralph Thomas, M. P. Downs, Clyde Fathesse, L. L. Sone, Philip Wolfe, T. F. Morton, Ben Ferris, Hugh Isbell, Glenn Pool.

Program Series

Another in their series of programs on the life of Christ was given by women of the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. F. C. Wilson as leader.

She was assisted by Mrs. Hoover in presenting the discussion. Routine business was transacted in a session with Mrs. T. W. Sweatman, vice president, presiding, and served delicious refreshments.

How Black-Draught Stops Bad Feeling

"I have taken Theodor's Black-Draught for about twelve years, when needed, for dizziness, and it is a wonderful medicine," writes Mrs. Elmer Leveatt, of Carver Mills, Ill. "I can usually tell when a headache is coming on by the bad taste in my mouth and a dull feeling. If I begin taking Black-Draught then, I can keep off the headache."

Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

FINAL THRIFT ROOM PLANS ARE MADE IN BUSINESS MEETING OF CITY P-T. COUNCIL YESTERDAY

Enlistment In NRA Drive Reported 100 Percent

Thrift room plans loomed large in the business meeting of the city Parent-Teacher council yesterday afternoon. The room, where clothing will be furnished needy students through the winter, is a new council project.

Clothing has been arranged, and the room will be open each Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 5, and each Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mrs. Nellie Ford is in charge.

Mrs. Paul Hill will replace Mrs. W. F. Curtis on the welfare committee from Woodrow Wilson association, and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson will serve as the representative from Sam Houston in the place of Mrs. Martin. Welfare committees of the various associations are directing the thrift room.

All Sign Pledges
Members of the council have all signed the NRA consumer pledge. It was announced, and the organization will be placed on the club honor roll.

A program followed the brief business session, which was in charge of Mrs. Claude Lard, president. Roy Holt, president of Baker Parent-Teacher association, presented the program numbers.

Ernestine Holmes played a piano solo and Clarence Simmons Jr., a violin solo with accompaniment by Mrs. C. E. Simmons. A reading was given by Louene Cook.

Principal J. A. Meek of Baker school spoke briefly, as did Superintendent R. B. Fisher and Mrs. J. B. Townsend, past council president.

The council meeting was attended by 35 persons.

Two Girl Scout Troops Play And Work With Tests

Membership pins and cards were presented to Girl Scouts of Troop Three, in a formal ceremony at the meeting Wednesday afternoon at high school cafeteria.

After the ceremony the girls played out-of-door games, and were dismissed with the singing of Taps.

Troop Scouts of Troop Four met Wednesday afternoon. The Sunshine patrol worked on soap savings and the tenderfoot tests. Members of the Blue Eagle and Eagle patrols also worked on tests.

This troop is gathering flowers for an exhibit.

Following were the girls present: Margie Coffey, Sylvia Belle Gray, Norma Lee Dickinson, Iris May Williams, Vera Evelyn Sackett, Wanda Cotton, Addie Faye Bridge, Betty Sue Frickey, Frances Helen Coons, Elnor Ruth Gillham, Frances Coffey, Dorothy Burton, Irma Bibens, Mary Jean Hill, Dorothy Dyer, Minelle Baird, Lou Dean Luttrell, Oneita Smith, Wanda Mullin; Dorothy Ann Diller, Audrey Hedgecock, Lois Irene Foster, Dorothy Thomas, Ila Ray Durham.

Mesdames Blankvist and Dille were hostesses for the afternoon.

WELFARE NEED IN SCHOOLS TO BE DISCUSSED

MEETINGS AT WEBB, ALANREED, AND HOPKINS

THREE programs to be given in various sections of the county were planned for the Gray County Council of Parents and Teachers when program committee members met yesterday at the county superintendent's office.

Mrs. W. B. Murphy, council president, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. O. E. Locheridge of McLean, and County Superintendent John Hessey made up the committee.

Welfare problems relating to the school will be stressed in all programs. At each meeting the local school superintendent will discuss the welfare situation in his community, and how the school is meeting it.

The county superintendent will be a speaker on each program, presenting new school facts and problems as they relate to this county.

The first meeting will be in Hopkins on Oct. 14. Music by the Kid band of Woodrow Wilson school will open the program. Mrs. W. H. Davis, of the county welfare board, will speak on "The Community Welfare Problem."

A group of brief talks are planned for the next program, to be given in Alanreed on Jan. 20. Superintendent Rossell Page will present a musical program.

Superintendent Cryer of the McLean schools will introduce a series of talks on "The Challenge of Responsibility." Rudolph Fawcett of Laketon will discuss Independent Judgments; Miss Ila Mae Hastings of LeFors, Reliability; R. A. Selby

Singers Invited To LeFors Meet

Singing will begin at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the Gray county singing convention meets at the Baptist church of LeFors.

Singers and song leaders from over the county are expected to be present, and LeFors residents are preparing to entertain a large crowd. All residents of the county are invited.

A. S. Page of Fort Worth is here on a business visit.

of Pampa, Self-Respect; Rex Reeves of Grandview, The Joy of Achievement.

On March 12 a meeting will be held at Webb school.

E. G. Sanders of LeFors will speak on "Character Traits Developed in Play." Harry Kelley of Pampa will present some of his physical education students in a demonstration of games which develop sportsmanship and self confidence. Mrs. J. L. Lester of Pampa will discuss "New Worlds to Discover Through Creative Play."

Present in addition to those on program, were Mesdames Ramon Wilson, Alice Goodell, O. H. Ingham, Frank Myers, Russell Welton, Wilson, Homer Sprinkle, Ethel Olsen, Dean Ozmun, Rhodes, L. L. Allen.

Groups two met at the home of Mrs. Paul Hill, with Mrs. Tom Eckel as co-hostess. Mrs. Roy McMillan was leader of a study of the Conventions.

Mrs. L. C. McMahan was a guest, and members present were Mesdames S. A. Hurst, J. R. Minnick, Hugh Isbell, H. J. Lippold, George Farley, E. L. Reece, Robert Woodward, Garber, E. A. Records, Claude Lard, S. E. Elkins, G. L. Sheehan, W. L. Walkenhorst.

Mrs. J. G. Gantz was hostess to group three, which spent an hour in Bible study. Group four met with Mrs. H. C. Schoolfield. Mrs. E. R. Sunkel conducted the devotional. The subject was Moments With the Master.

Mrs. I. E. Duncan reported 80 chapters read, and 75 calls made by members last month. Mesdames Emory Nohlett, Clyde Oswald, and G. H. Kruepker discussed the Bible lesson. A vocal solo, "Why Should He Love Me So?" was sung by Mrs. C. F. Bastion, and Mrs. Duncan told a story.

Other members present were Mesdames Harry Marbaugh, O. A. Potts, F. H. Bowers, Dick Rhodes.

A. D. Morton Jr. of Los Angeles visited friends here yesterday. F. A. Wilson of Abilene is visiting friends and relatives here this week.

PIGGLY WIGGLY TO START 7TH BIRTHDAY SALE ON SATURDAY

'EATS' WILL BE SERVED FREE ON THAT DAY

"BIGGER AND BETTER" IS INSTITUTION ON BIRTH DATE

Seven years of dispensing quality groceries in Pampa. That's the record just reached by the Piggly Wiggly store, owned by C. S. (Carl) Boston, which tomorrow will launch a mammoth Seventh Anniversary week sale.

As explained in a page advertisement elsewhere in The NEWS today, a large portion of the advertised specials will be good all week. To inaugurate the sale, free sandwiches, coffee, and cakes will be given on Saturday only. In addition, a free loaf of bread will be given to the first 750 customers who

Piggly Wiggly Is NRA Member

THOSE WHO SAW the NRA parade will remember this Piggly Wiggly delivery truck, with the big banners and—especially—the pretty girls. The truck is kept busy every day.

make purchases amounting to 50 cents or more. Two pretty girls will serve the refreshments.

On its seventh birthday, Piggly Wiggly is bigger and better arranged than ever, with an enlarged store and a number of new fixtures. The store is unique in that, to make shopping easier for its customers, it has free parking space and an entrance at the back.

Piggly Wiggly is making arrangements to make it a headquarters for turkeys on Thanksgiving and Christmas occasions. Looking ahead—that, according to the management, enables the store to offer quality produce. Chickens are dressed "while you wait."

Cooperating with the Pampa Daily NEWS cooking school, Piggly Wiggly expresses its thanks for the cooperation of Miss Yates, the cooking expert, in presenting high grade standard brands such as the store carries on every shelf.

Piggly Wiggly carries a full line of meats, 100 per cent Frigidare-kept, and all vegetables are enclosed in hydrators which keep them firm and fresh. Staple and fancy groceries are stocked in such quantity that the store caters to parties and banquets where special foods are desired. Package foods are in cellophane. Something which visitors especially appreciate is the ice water

Boston Is Known As Booster for Harvester Team

Carl Boston, owner of the Pampa Piggly Wiggly store, knows the grocery business and at least one other thing very well. That other thing is the Harvester football team.

Carl was a griddle himself while a student at West Texas Teachers college. He even taught school and coached 3 years. He has always been keenly interested in the sport, and especially is he a "rabid" Harvester fan. The coaches and the boys know they can depend upon him when they need a friend.

Mr. Boston was auditor and sales representative for the William Cameron lumber firm for nine years. It was the only "job" he ever had. Seven years ago he came to Pampa and established the Piggly Wiggly store. He had been impressed with this city while representing the lumber firm.

Pupils Make Trip Through Creamery

As a reward for selling the most tickets for the recent Parent-Teacher ice cream supper, pupils from Mrs. M. K. Griffith's and Miss Lona Groom's rooms were taken on an inspection trip through the Gray County creamery yesterday afternoon from Horace Mann school.

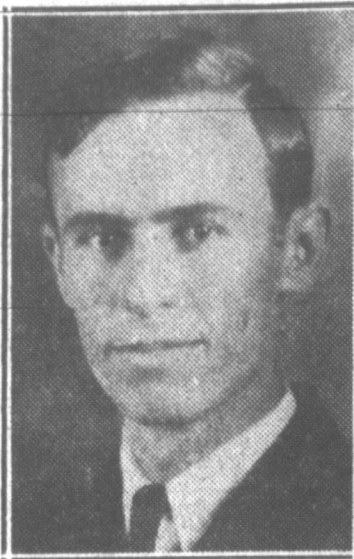

Paul Jensen conducted them thru the plant, showing them the process of separating, and pasteurizing cream. He also displayed the bottle washer, and John Ayers demonstrated the machine that fills bottles without the use of human hands.

A fountain near the front of the store. Piggly Wiggly is a friendly store. A smile greets customers as they enter and meet Byrl Sanders, store manager. Byrl is quick, polite, and has the efficiency of 7 years experience in the grocery business.

Similarly polite and accurate are the pleasing young men—Henry Clay and Ralph Shannon, who are the checkers. Personality? People say they have it. In the meat department, Jess Cockerell gives the type of expert service and advice which can be based only on experience. For a quarter of a century he has been in the business, part of the time as owner of markets and grocery stores. He formerly lived in Breckenridge. Assisting him is the shiek of the store—and every other store of this size has one, it seems—is Travis Haynes. Such hair, such teeth!

And of course you will find this store 100 per cent NRA. For seven years it has enjoyed a patronage from the residents of a very large territory. And now, on its anniversary, it celebrates by inviting its friends to enjoy refreshments Saturday and special prices on that day and all next week.

CLAYTON CITIZENS NOW REGARD BLACK JACK AS HERO—BUT NOT SO AFTER DECAPITATION IN 1902

CLAYTON, N. M., Oct. 6 (AP)—The West's bad men still are looked upon as heroes.

In the romantic Southwest, where legend sometimes means more than history, a reputation for daring and the ability to handle a six-gun live after a man longer than outstanding statesmanship or deeds of philanthropy.

Take the case of Tom Ketchum, better known to pioneers of the West as Black Jack, convicted train robber and accused slayer of many men. When Ketchum was decapitated by the hangman's noose in Clayton in 1902, after his conviction for attempted robbery, single-handed, of a mail train, the citizens refused to permit his burial in the municipal cemetery and his body was dropped into a grave on a windswept knoll a mile away. One other outlaw and a negro were his only "neighbors" on the hill side plot.

Legend, often repeated, however, made the bandit popular with succeeding generations. Fired by the stories of his deeds, the public literally beat a path to his grave. Old-timers, whose hatred for the outlaw had waned, finally asked for authority to exhume the body and remove it to the city cemetery. The plea was granted and markers now direct visitors to the new mound which holds his bones.

Extensive ceremonies attended the removal of the body. Those who had first-hand information of his activities and who witnessed the gruesome execution, told stories of his bravado—how he spurned the priest and asked to "shave the district attorney;" his plea for speed in order that he might be "in hell for dinner;" and his command to the hangman to "let 'er go—I'm ready."

A girl, among the hundreds who attended the ceremonies, grabbed a shoe, containing the remains of one foot, as it rolled from the decaying wooden coffin and kept it for a souvenir.

Jack Potter, an acquaintance of Black Jack, who is now a member of the New Mexico legislature, placed a spray of flowers on the casket. His card bore the inscription: "To a cowboy and trail rider who went astray."

Few are the old-timers in the Southwest who do not claim—with pride—an acquaintance or even a friendship with Black Jack. Billy the Kid, the James boys, the Daltons, and other bad men of their time.

Mrs. G. Taylor Cole of LeFors was a Pampa shopper yesterday. Mrs. A. L. Reamsnyder of Roxana was in the city shopping this morning.

STUDEBAKERS OF 1934

You've seen the forerunners of the style of these new Studebakers, if you've had a glimpse of the latest Boeing or Curtiss transport planes in flight! You've seen the test cars from which these startling Studebakers get their stamina, if you witnessed the record-breaking 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Speedway on May 30, 1933, when seven of the first twelve winners were Studebaker powered!

And you will find the prices of these Studebakers of 1934 as sensational as their speedway stamina and skyway style. In fact, in the remarkable new President, Commander and Dictator, Studebaker has written a new low price tag for fine automobiles—definitely cut away from its long established price ranges without at all penalizing Studebaker quality.

When the last car flashed across the finish line at Indianapolis in the 500-mile classic of 1933, one hundred thousand thrilled spectators realized that they had seen something more than the fastest performance ever registered on that historic course. They knew that Studebaker, Builder of Champions, had written a new and brilliant chapter in its spectacular history.

TEXAS COACH SEES BATTLE IN NEBRASKA

SOUTHWEST INTEREST CENTERED ON FROG-RAZORBACK GAME

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Francis Schmidt and 29 of his Texas Christian university Horned Frogs unloaded Friday at Fayetteville, Ark., in time for a breezy workout on the University of Arkansas gridiron.

Saturday, the Frogs, last year Southwest conference champions and with a trio of non-conference victories this season, will start the defense of their title against the Arkansas Razorbacks. It is the only championship conference game on this week's schedule.

Schmidt has his warriors painted up and ready. He has spent the week polishing up their defense. He knows his cohorts have got a battle on their hands, for the Razorbacks are listed as one of the stronger teams in this year's championship marathon.

Having stopped at Dallas for a punting and passing drill, Coach Clyde Littlefield and his University of Texas Longhorns worked out at Kansas City Friday and then continued en route to Lincoln, Neb., where Saturday they battle the Nebraska Cornhuskers who won last year's Big Six conference crown with an undefeated record.

While at Dallas, Littlefield said he realized his team was being picked to lose but that his boys would make a battle of it. Bohn Hubbard, slippery halfback who has scored five touchdowns in two games, was the center of attraction at the Dallas workout.

Business in the conference really starts Friday night at Huntsville where the Texas A. and M. Aggies will play the Sam Houston Teachers. Brimful of confidence by virtue of their impressive 13 to 6 win last Saturday over Tulane's Green Wave, the Aggies are overwhelming favorites to take the Teachers for a football lesson. Coach Madison Bell plans to start practically

SORE ARM KEPT WHITEHILL FROM HURLING FIRST GAME

Griffith Says Southpaw Was Scheduled To Pitch Opening Game of Series.

By ALAN GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Now that Earl Whitehill has pitched the Senators back into the world series scramble with a shutout contest of the Giants, the "inside story" may be told as to why the American League champions delayed sending their one best pitcher bet to the firing line until the third game.

"Whitehill, as most of you fellows figured, was selected by Manager Joe Cronin to oppose Carl Hubbell in the opening game of the series," revealed Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, "but he developed a sore arm for the first time in his life by bearing down too hard in a workout against the Yankees last week.

"We counted on Whitehill to give Hubbell a great duel, possibly win and put the Giants in a hole at the very outset. It was the logical thing for us to do. But he worked just a bit too long and hard against the Yankees. Afterward his arm failed to respond rapidly to treatment. It was barked and massaged. He worked the same lineup that crushed Tulane.

Other games Saturday will see the Baylor Bears at Shreveport where they are in for a stiff test of football against the Centenary Gentlemen—a collection of gridsters who take special delight in walloping Southwest conference teams. It is Baylor's biggest game this season barring conference battles.

The prancing Southern Methodist Mustangs, roaming greener pasture since last week's 14 to 0 victory over Texas Tech, are ready for Saturday's melee against the Texas School of Mines from El Paso. This game will feature opening day at the Texas State fair. Coach Morrison has his steeds primed for one of their celebrated aerial attacks with all hands on board and in ship-shape for a tough scrap.

Loyola University of New Orleans invades Houston to play the wavering Rice Owls who suffered a setback last week by losing a 13 to 0 game to Louisiana State.

ed carefully the day before the opening game but he wasn't quite right and we switched to Wally Stewart a sbe-next best man likely to stop the Giants.

"As it turned out, Stewart lacked just enough control to be at his best. A change of pace that he intended to travel low sailed high and in the groove for Mel Ott, who hit the ball out of the park.

"You saw what Whitehill did to Ott as well as Terry, yesterday. He struck them handuffed. Together, they got only one ball out of the infield."

Griffith's disclosure solves one of the things that has been puzzling the experts most since the series started; by what devious process did the Senators arrive at their plan of pitching strategy?

On the basis of today's evidence, it develops that the strategy was all right but that the execution was spoiled by Whitehill's sudden development of a sore arm. "Whitehill has always been known among baseball men as a "rubber arm" pitcher, the kind who could step into a training camp on the first day and cut loose if he wanted to or bear down without worrying of the consequences. He had enjoyed his greatest year, winning 22 games.

Had Whitehill been able to produce on the opening day the kind of pitching he showed the Giants yesterday, the entire complexion of the series would have been changed. In all probability he would have beaten Hubbell, whose shaky defense let in two runs, and the Senators would have enjoyed the stimulating effect of being "on top," instead of being punched back on their heels so quickly that they did not recover until they lost two straight.

So what? So the Senators now have a shutout pitcher who probably won't be ready to pitch again unless the series goes the limit of seven games. Instead of having Whitehill on the same "overtime" basis as Hubbell, who drew his second assignment for this afternoon, the Senators must make an unprecedented rally for the opportunity of playing their ace again.

It isn't an alibi now, for the Senators, spirits revived, have strong faith in Weaver, as well as in the ability of Stewart and Crowder to come back and Whitehill to be ready

Corum Funeral Held at M'Lean

M'LEAN, Oct. 6.—Last rites for Robert H. Corum were held at the Church of Christ Wednesday afternoon. Elder Yeakley read the scripture and led in prayer. He paid a tribute to Mr. Corum in saying that he was truly an elder in the scriptural sense of the word.

Elder W. A. Andrews brought a comforting message to the bereaved and friends, and cited the fact that Mr. Corum died as any true Christian would love to die—at his post of duty. Mr. Corum passed away suddenly at the meeting of the officers of the church, just after having made a plea for the advancement of the work.

Though his aged father was here, he was unable to be at the services. Out-of-town relatives were: His father, B. F. Corum of Ballinger; his brother, Jim Corum of Winters; H. K. Corum of Ballinger; his sisters, Mrs. Frances Stallworth of McCamey, and Mrs. J. H. Thomas of Ballinger.

He is survived by his wife, his two daughters, Mrs. Louis Calloway and Mrs. Madelle, all of whom live in M'Lean and were present at the funeral.

Pallbearers were Rish Phillips, Johnie Back, Claude Williams, Boyd Meador, Huggs, and Barney Fulbright.

Flower bearers were Mesdames Fugate Phillips, Rish Phillips, Barney Fulbright, Langford, Byrd Gull, J. E. Kirby.

Interment was in the Hillcrest cemetery with Thomas Funeral home in charge.

LA GUARDIA, FUSION CANDIDATE FOR NEW YORK MAYOR, IS A MAN OF BATTLE AND SPAGHETTI COOK

BY B. L. LIVINGSTONE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—New York's voters, directed by the bitterest election fight in years, know fusion's candidate for mayor as a man of battle, a spaghetti cook supreme, and a lover of good beer.

Florentio La Guardia, son of an Italian bandmaster and earnest advocate of liberal causes, comes to the November elections as vivid a personality as has flashed across the Gotham mayoral scene since Jimmy Walker first stole the show on Broadway.

Short, stocky and black-haired, he has brought to New York politics the same fire which marked his career in the house of representatives—a career cut short by last year's democratic landslide.

Often he has been accused as a radical, but many of his "radical" ideas he now sees accepted as commonplace.

He attacked Samuel Insull when Insull was king. He made beer on the sidewalks when prohibition was unaffected by three-point-two. He predicted financial woe for New York City when funds seemed unending.

The late Clinton W. Gilbert, with humorous insight into his character, once remarked of him: "The good cook will never lead a revolution."

Some thirteen years ago he sat at city hall as president of the board of aldermen—a single republican in a Tammany stronghold by virtue of an upset election—and he was the exasperating center of a scene of acrimony and disorder.

"Hit the president of the board of aldermen on the head with the gavel, then maybe he'll keep quiet," they pleaded of Mayor John F. Hylan.

They have been trying, periodically, since then to hit La Guardia on the head. It has never had noticeable quieting effect upon one of the scrappiest one-man minorities ever to tread on the sacred toes of a majority.

This year he is back at the throat of his ancient foe, Tammany hall, and what he terms "all bossism, be it republican or democratic." Behind him stands that Tammany nemesis, Samuel Seabury, his staunch friend.

Going to congress for the first time just before the war, he walked out of the house chamber to join up and go to the front as an air-bomber. When he returned later to Washington, he gained the reputation of a front rank progressive.

On the floor, he fought republican and democratic proposals displeasing to him with complete impartiality. Last year, speaking against a republican-sponsored modified sales tax, he declared: "There is no partisanship on anything that goes beyond $1,000,000."

Today, in his office, he gave a glimpse of the ideals of his campaign: "New York is a wonderful city, but it can't go on being that under a systematic looting by party bosses. They must be wiped out and New York made in every respect, a great, wonderful, beautiful city."

He married his secretary because he figured he couldn't get along without her. Their home life is placid and happy.

Gov. James Rolph Jr. of California pitched the first ball to Ty Cobb in the opening of the first annual northern California semi-pro baseball championship.

Legion Frowns On Recognition Of Red Russia

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP)—With loud cheers, the American Legion's national convention went on record as opposing diplomatic recognition of Soviet Russia and calling for deportation of all communist aliens.

The Legion's policy on the soviet was contained in a report brought to the floor by the Americanization committee. The report also called for suppression of the spread of communism in the United States, and for legislation to provide "proper penalties" for campaigning in favor of communism.

Defeated, however, was a section of the report which would place all countries on quota bases for immigration to America. Under such a system, Japanese, Chinese, and other races now excluded would be placed on quota.

for the finishing touches. But it still leaves them "in the hole" today, with Hubbell and Schumacher, the two winning pitchers of the Giants, coming up in succession again.

YOUR KITCHEN TOO, CAN BE DISTINCTIVE

It is not sufficient to have a charming living room, an attractive dining room—to make your home appealing and distinctive. In these days of informality you are quite as apt to find your guests in the kitchen as in the living room. And when your kitchen is modern and inviting, it is truly a pleasure to have them there!

WHITE STAR RANGES AND GRUNOW REFRIGERATORS, besides giving you the utmost in service, are built to add to the appearance of any kitchen. See them at the Cooking School, then see them at our store.

At Last—Offensive Body Odor Ended!

Soaps with Tell-Tale Medicine Smell No Longer Needed!

Laboratory tests now show that ordinary soap, with its thick, sluggish lather, will cleanse only the surface of the skin. But body odor is deep-seated, caused by stale perspiration curds. Ordinary soap can't remove these curds in this hard water.

That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, mixes with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely—even in the hardest water. Thus it ends body odor in the only effective way—by removing the cause.

Kirk's Coco Castile is formulated to the skin—leaves no offensive M. S. (medicine smell)—and body odor the odorless way. A BIG cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is today selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
901 N. Frost St.
"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-lesson which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 8.
The Golden Text is: "The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give" (Matthew 10: 7, 8).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin" (Psalms 32:5).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Lust, malice, and all sorts of evil are diseased beliefs, and you can destroy them only by destroying the wicked motives which produce them. If the evil is over in the repentant mortal mind, while its effects still remain on the individual, you can remove this disorder as God's law is fulfilled and reformation cancels the crime. The healthy sinner is the hardened sinner" (page 404).
Sunday, 11 a. m.
Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.
Wednesday, 8 p. m.
The reading room is open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday from 1-4 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use the reading room.

GRID BATTLE IN ARKANSAS IN SPOTLIGHT

HORNED FROGS MIGHT HAVE TROUBLE AT FAYETTEVILLE
BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—If Football history should happen to repeat itself this Saturday, look for scoring fireworks at Athens, Ga., Fayetteville, Ark. and Portland, Ore.
At these widely-spaced points, there will be a renewal of three of last season's wildest and wooliest touchdown parades so far as major schools are concerned.
At Athens it will be another meeting of Georgia's Bulldogs and the Green Wave of Tulane; Texas Christian and Arkansas will stage their Southwest conference clash at Fayetteville; at Portland, Oregon state of the Pacific conference will take on that sturdy non-conference foe, Gonzaga.
Of these, Georgia and Tulane put on the greatest show last year. Faced by the great back, Don Zimmerman, Tulane finally won a titanic struggle, 34-25. The Green Wave has no Zimmerman this year nor any substitute to replace him and the defeat by Texas A. & M. last week augurs not too well for Tulane's chances against Georgia.
Although Arkansas was a tall-order in the Southwest conference in 1932, the Razorbacks did give Texas Christian, later crowned champion of the circuit, a great battle before surrendering, 34-12.
Gonzaga fought Oregon state to a 19-16 score and probably will cause trouble again although the Spokane outfit already has dropped decisions to Washington and Oregon, both by two-touchdown margins.

CONTEST CONTINUES
The attendance contest between the Men's Bible class of the First Christian church and the Every Man's Bible class of the First Christian church of Dodge City, Kan., enters its fourth week with the Dodge City class slightly ahead, due to the bad weather of last Sunday in Pampa which cut our attendance down materially.
Every man or boy living in Pampa, who has no Sunday school connections or affiliation is urged to attend this class next Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock and not only help us win our contest, but enjoy the splendid music, as well as benefit from the lesson, which will be delivered by Judge Elmer Cary.
C. E. Hutchins, President of Class.

Einstein Sees A Better World After Upheavals

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein is confident a better world will emerge from the "present upheavals."
The famous physicist said so last night in an address on science and civilization at Albert hall, heavily guarded by police because of rumors there might be trouble.
"Only through perils and upheavals can the nations be brought to further development," he asserted.
"It is in times of economic distress such as we experience everywhere today that one sees very clearly the strength of moral forces that live in a people."
"Without doubt the present economic difficulties will eventually bring us to the point where the balance between the supply and demand of labor and between production and consumption will be enforced by law.

"Shall we worry over the fact that we are living in a time of danger and want? I think not. Man, like every other animal, is by nature indolent. If nothing spurs him on, then he will hardly think and will behave like an automaton."
Dr. Einstein came to England from Belgium after a Nazi organization was alleged to have put a price on his head.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

Synopsis: Caroline Leigh and Nesta Riddell have quarreled over the identity of the man picked up on the shore after the wreck of the Alice Arden. Nesta has identified him as her husband, Jimmy Riddell, a crook, and the man who stole the Van Berg emeralds—but she doesn't mention the latter to Caroline. Caroline thinks the man must be her missing cousin, Jim Randal. Nesta will not let Caroline see the man, and the man cannot help, because he has lost his memory. Nesta just has sent her "husband" to bed.

Chapter 15 TRIAL BY WATER

When the rest of the house had settled into darkness and silence, Nesta Riddell still sat on in the parlor. She sat leaning forward with her cheek propped on her hand and her eyes fixed.

It was being difficult—he was being difficult. Would he be any easier if she waited? Or was her best chance now, before he had got back his strength? Everything in her said now. She hadn't risked so much and come so far to lose everything for the want of a little pluck.

The emeralds were half hers. She had risked as much for them as Jimmy had. If Van Berg died, they'd bring her in accessory after the fact. She'd risked that, and she wasn't going to be done out of her price, not much she wasn't. She'd have her share of those emeralds whatever she had to do to get it.

It was a long time now since the footsteps overhead had ceased. For a little while there had been the faint whisper of voice, but it was a long time since they too had died away.

She wondered if there was anything in that stunt of old Caroline Bussell's. It was whispered in the village that Caroline knew a good many things that she hadn't any right to know. People in Packham said she had a hold over Mr. Entwistle and could do what she liked with him.

Suppose she had tried this stunt of hers on him. Suppose she had gone into his room at the dead hour of the night, the hour between midnight and the first hour of the day, slipping in on her stocking feet with a bowl of water in her hand. You'd have to tread like a cat and keep yourself almost from breathing so as to know by the breathing of the sleeping man whether he were deep enough asleep. Old Caroline always walked quietly.

She gave you the creeps in broad daylight the way she'd come on you without the least sound, with her neat upright figure and her prim starch collar, her face that always put Nesta in mind of a plump flour-cake scone, and her brown front that never had a hair out of place. There—it was all nonsense, and creepy nonsense at that. Only, if a man could be got to talk like that in the dead of night with no power to hold anything back.

She sprang up suddenly and looked at the clock between the china cherubs. The hands stood at half past twelve. Nesta kept her eyes fixed on them for a moment. Then with a jerk of the shoulders she stooped, undid her shoes, and, stepping out of them, went to the door and opened it.

There was no light in the passage or on the upper landing. The linoleum was cold under her feet as she went through into the kitchen and switched on the bulb in the ceiling.

Min's big mixing-bowl would be about the right size. She reached it down off the china shelf and filled it half way at the tap. The water had to be cold—that was what old Caroline said. But how cold would it have to be? You could call anything cold water so long as it came out of the cold water tap.

This wasn't very cold—no bite in it so to speak. Perhaps a drain out of the hot water tap wouldn't do it any harm. She let in a little and tipped her hand into the bowl. Would that wake you up if you were asleep? Not if you were really fast. Was it near enough cold to do the trick? You couldn't tell that till you tried; and it was long odds that it was nothing but a pack of rubbish anyhow.

In her heart of hearts Nesta did not believe that it was rubbish.

At the kitchen door she hesitated, and then put out the light. Now the house was all dark and silent with the warm, breathing silence of sleep. Even the newest and rawest of houses is a haunted house in the dead of night. The bodies of those who live there are unaware, but their thoughts fill the silence.

Nesta was not thinking of this, but as she stood with her hand on the door of the room opposite the kitchen, a little chill just touched her and her heart beat audibly. She had the bowl in her left hand, and she had to keep it steady.

The door swung in and she followed it, taking three or four steps forward and then standing still to listen. The bedroom was on the left—the fireplace straight in front of her, the chest of drawers across the corner, and the window on the right.

She listened, and at first she could hear nothing at all because of the drumming in her ears. Then, after she had stood there for a while, it passed and she could distinguish his slow, deep breathing. The window was open and a light, cool air came in.

Nesta turned and closed the door with a steady hand.

There should be a chair at the foot of the bed. She frowned to find it heaped with his discarded clothes. When she had slid them off on to the floor, she brought the chair to the bedside and set the bowl of water down upon it.

By this time she could see the outline of the window and the black jutting corner of the chest of drawers. The bed was just visible, and when she had looked a little longer she could see that he lay facing the window with his right arm clear of the bed-clothes.

She knelt down by the bed and reached for the bowl. The chair was too high. It hampered her, and she pushed it away. She could hold the bowl in one hand and have the other free. Yes, that was better.

She put out her hand and felt for his, bringing her fingers down upon his wrist by the slowest of degrees. It seemed as if an interminable time passed before her hand lay on his and he had not moved. There was something almost terrifying about this contact.

His hand was heavy, inert, and warm. It was warmer than her own. She began to guide it very slowly towards the edge of the bed, and at the time she listened for a change in his deep, slow breathing.

The change came with an extraordinary suddenness. He cried out and flung over towards her, startling her so much that she jerked sharply back, letting go of his wrist and slopping some of the water over on the floor. Her heart thumped hard, and through its thumping she heard him say in a rapid mutter, "Eight of them—the finest in the world—no one knows—"

After the first recoil she stayed quite still. The mutter died. The bowl of water became heavier and heavier in her hand. He lay now almost on his face, his left arm under him and his right hanging over the edge of the bed. His breathing became slow and deep again. She let the time go by.

At last she put her hand on his and slowly, slowly brought the bowl of water up to it. This time her fingers covered his. Hers touched the water first. And then almost imperceptibly their two hands sank into the bowl. He did not move. He breathed in the same deep, slow way. His hand was heavy and still.

She said in a voice that was just not a whisper:

"Where are the emeralds?"

And at once he stirred in his sleep. His head moved on the pillow; his hand moved in her. He said, as if repeating her words,

"The emeralds?"

"Where are the emeralds?"

There was the same movement again. He said, "No one knows."

"You know."

This time there was no movement and no answer.

"You know where the emeralds are."

He lay still and said, muttering,

"I know."

"Where are they?" She felt a fierce excitement, a fierce demand.

His hand pulled on hers. She forced her will, and felt that he resisted it.

"Where are they?"

He said, "No one knows but me."

"Tell me where they are."

He wrenched his hand from hers. The water ran over the lip of the bowl into her lap. Then, before she could could recover herself, he reached out and caught her by the throat.

Man Acquitted Of Killing Wife Marries Again

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6. (AP)—Word of the secret marriage of A. J. Hardy, former Carter county judge, and Miss Edna Stewart, former deputy in the secretary of state's office, was received here today. In a letter to friends, Mrs. Hardy revealed the marriage took place more than a year ago. The couple is living at Clovis, New Mexico.

Hardy was acquitted at Ardmore in March, 1931, of murder charges growing out of the death of his first wife, who was shot fatally on a hunting trip with her husband. The jury found the shooting was accidental.

Learn HOW to Make It

The Philosopher says:
"To serve fresh coffee is a civilized duty. But stale coffee maketh the heart sad. The careful housewife looks well to the state of her coffee. She buys as she needs... often rather than offhand."

If she buys Admiration Coffee she starts right, for Admiration Coffee is roasted in Texas and rushed by fast motor truck direct to her grocer "oven fresh." He, too, buys as he needs and buys often, so no Admiration can get stale on his shelf.

But the making—the instructress at the Happy Kitchen School of Cookery, this week, will discuss the various methods of making coffee, including the modern drip method.

If you are now using a drip-pot for making coffee, remember, "if it isn't Admiration isn't Dripkut."

Attend the Happy Kitchen School of Cookery, this week. You'll learn something about making good coffee.

Then, too, you may receive one of those cans of Admiration Coffee which will be given away FREE.
