

FDR HITS 'LIBERTY OF INDIVIDUAL'

4 SENTENCED IN CRIMINAL TRIALS HERE

Four pleas of guilty were entered and four persons were sentenced yesterday in the 31st district court.

Truman Cox, 17-year-old youth charged with robbery, was given a five-year sentence.

W. L. McCristian was sentenced to five days in jail, a $50 fine, and suspension of driving rights for six months.

One of the three forgery charges against H. M. Spencer was dismissed. On the other two counts he was sentenced for a five-year and a two-year term, one sentence to apply on the other.

Cox, McCristian, Scheu and Spencer each entered guilty pleas. Not guilty was the plea made by L. F. Gaddis, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Monday evening Judge Ewing said that the only business for the remainder of the week, which is criminal jury, would be whatever cases "happened in."

ORDER PLACES JAPS ON UNLIMITED WAR BASIS

TOKYO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Japan was placed on an unlimited war footing for the Sino-Japanese conflict by a series of decrees affecting virtually every able-bodied man in the empire.

The war ministry issued the long-prepared military finance "No. 41" which indefinitely prolonged military service for all officers and men of both the active and reserve lists.

The streets of Tokyo and the railroad stations, meanwhile, were alive with marching men and patriotic crowds.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 28 (AP)—Japan was estimated by foreign military observers in North China today to be mobilizing 600,000 troops for a possible clash with Russia as her armies claimed advances on all China fronts.

French army authorities at Tientsin, headquarters of the Japanese North China expeditionary force, reported the full strength of Japanese in Korea and Manchoukuo, on the border of Soviet Siberia, was being placed on a war footing in the event Russia becomes embroiled in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war.

COMPROMISE SETTLES SUIT OF CALDWELL

Judgment was entered in district court today in the case of Associated Indemnities corporation vs. William L. Caldwell, following the parties' agreement to settle and compromise.

The decision sets aside the award of the Industrial Accident board, of December 9, 1936. The suit was based on the injuries and resulting death of John B. Caldwell, brother of William, on August 10, 1936, when he was an employee of the Findlay Drilling company.

Simpson, Dorenfield and Fullingim were attorneys for the Associated Indemnities corporation, Smith, Goldsmith and Bagby for W. L. Caldwell.

CITY STUDIES SAVING PLAN

A plan whereby the City of Pampa might save $55,115 on its bonds was presented last night to the city commissioners meeting by a representative of Underwood & Underwood, Dallas brokers.

As explained by this representative, bonds of the city will cost $223,835 as they stand now.

The representative of the bond firm proposed that a plan to issue refunding warrants be adopted, so that the maturity date would be advanced eight years, with consequent savings in interest.

Commissioners asked another week to study the plan. The representative is to appear at the next meeting of the commission for an answer to the suggestion.

Only other business before the commission last night was the employment of Miss Frances Hodge in the tax department, effective Friday.

LEAGUE CONDEMNS JAP BOMBINGS OF CITIES

GENEVA, Sept. 28 (AP)—The League of Nations assembly today unanimously adopted the Sino-Japanese advisory committee's bitter condemnation of Japanese aerial bombardment of non-combatants.

The assembly acted swiftly on the resolution. It had been adopted yesterday by the league advisory group on which the United States is represented in a consultative capacity.

The brief condemnation of Japanese aerial tactics in the undeclared war in China, as approved by the advisory committee, expressed "profound distress at the loss of life caused to innocent civilians, including great numbers of women and children, as the result of such bombardment."

The resolution declared "no excuse can be made for such acts, which have aroused horror and indignation throughout the world, and 'solemnly' condemned such attacks."

LAKE COMMITTEE WILL MEET WITH COMMISSION

Members of the Gray county lake committee, of which C. H. Walker is chairman, will meet with the county commissioners at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The commissioners are having a special meeting today in order to receive bids for the construction of a bridge on the Green Tank road near Lefora.

The 'Raving' Reporter Thinks You, Too, Maybe Will Go to Church, Oct. 17 -- And Like It!

By THE ROVING REPORTER—The Roving Reporter—and thousands of other Pampans—are in the same kaboodle—may think that he will not go to church, Sunday, Oct. 17, but chances are 100 to 1 that he will, along with the aforesaid other thousands.

For a big group of civic leaders who have the reputation of getting things done, and of getting what they go after, are planning a propaganda and publicity campaign to inveigle you by hook or crook into church on that day which has been designated Rally Day.

forces brought into play by the mass of people will make you go to church whether you want to or not.

And here's an ominous warning to the determined non-church goer: that committee wants EVERYBODY to attend church on that date—regardless of whether you belong to a church or not, and furthermore the committee doesn't care a hang which church you go to as long as you go. Likely as not you'll be lucky to get into any church if you plan on being late because the way the committee looks at it, the churches won't be big enough to seat the crowds on that day.

thing about their attitude is that they will probably be right.

Yesterday, a committee selected by the ministers of the city at luncheon in the Schneider. The ministers were there too—at least part of them including John Scott, Gordon Bayless, Will House who presided, Bob Snell, Hubert Bratcher—pardon, reverends, for leaving off the handles of your names. Those ministers brought a bunch of back-slapping go-getters with them.

Ivy Talked Too Much. The first thing the preachers did after all had finished eating, was to unload all responsibility for the rally day onto the shoulders of Ivy Duncan who talked more than any body else and was promptly elected chairman of the publicity committee; Roy Fisher, the Roving Reporter and the NEWS, Carl Schulker, Dick Hughes, Jim Collins, Paul Hill, C. P. Buckler (no kiddin'), he's a big shot on the committee), H. L. Wallace and scores of other men will eventually be roped in and put on the committee.

The way the Roving Reporter looks at it, if you want to grab some free publicity before October 17 just endorse going to church. The NEWS during the week before the Rally Day is going to publish the statements of scores of Pampans

'Rest' For Texas Taxpayer Urged

Cooking School Will End Tomorrow Morning

All attendance marks are expected to fall at the LaNora theater Wednesday morning when the Pampa Daily NEWS cooking school goes into its final session in a climax that will be featured by the presentation of grand attendance awards.

Another record crowd attended the second cooking school session at the LaNora this morning, and again the 1,100 seats were not adequate to meet the demand.

Many were forced to stand to see and hear Mrs. Martha McDonnell, the instructor, as she worked in her model kitchen on the stage.

Tomorrow will be the final day of the school. The Wednesday morning session will begin at 9:30 a. m., and greatest attendance of any of the three days is expected.

In the event of overflow attendance tomorrow, arrangements have been made so that all may hear what is going on on the stage. Speakers will be set up in the lobby.

Daily sessions of the cooking school also are being broadcast by KPDM from 10 to 10:30 a. m.

BAKER POLICE REORGANIZED

Believing that one of the most important problems of today is safety, the B. M. Baker school junior police system has been completely reorganized.

His teachers are cooperating in the safety movement which is being headed by Mrs. Annie Daniels.

It is every person's duty to assist in eliminating all danger for children, the teachers believe, and they are asking parents to cooperate by keeping their children safety-minded to use every care possible while driving.

Each person on the force has been assigned certain duties. Some patrol specified beats; some direct traffic on street intersections; others watch the swings and other playgrounds. The sheriff stated today that he will introduce a resolution at the convention business session asking state authorization for a radio patrol for the Panhandle which can be supported by all the counties which wish to derive benefits from it.

The sheriff stated that under existing plans of government one county cannot contribute maintenance of another county radio project without first obtaining special authorization from the state legislature.

Rep. Max Boyer, of Perryton, already has stated that he will champion the Panhandle counties' proposal on the house floor at Austin, if the peace officers will adopt a resolution making known their wishes in the matter.

The proposed Panhandle-wide radio system was brought into the light several months ago with both Pampa and Amarillo suggested as possible sites, but with nothing definite ever having been accomplished.

At that time it was suggested that upkeep of the system be prorated among some 30 counties throughout the Panhandle area.

DAVIDSON MAKES BOND ON DRIVING CHARGE

Harry Davidson, indicted by the 31st district grand jury on a charge of driving an automobile upon a public highway while intoxicated, was released on $1,500 bond yesterday, following his arrest by county officers. His case has been set for the week beginning October 11.

RADIO PATROL TO BE ASKED

Revival of plans for a Panhandle-wide police radio system will be made here when the North Texas-Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers Association holds its convention in Pampa next month.

Nebraska Gives Up Seaport Hopes

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 28 (AP)—Dr. A. E. Sheldon, secretary of the state historical society, said today Nebraska authorities have "given up any hopes" of claiming a seaport near Galveston, Texas, supposedly decided in 1897 to Alvin Saunders, last territorial governor of Nebraska.

"We just consider it a trail not worthy of pursuing," Dr. Sheldon said. "There is no such land."

About a year ago, the historical society discovered a newspaper clipping which told of the deed of 320 acres of coastal land by the City of Galveston as a gift "in consideration of the natural love and affection for the state of Nebraska" and assistance Nebraska congressmen gave Texas.

Texas meanwhile have expressed the belief that Nebraska's "seaport" is now a part of Galveston bay.

COURT AWARDS EAGLE BADGE

Revista Harvey was awarded the Eagle badge at the Boy Scout Court of Honor held last night in District courtroom. Application for the Eagle badge, to be awarded at the October Court of Honor, was filed by W. Postma, scoutmaster of troop 16.

Junior Foster of troop 80 was awarded the life badge, and advanced to the rank of star were Richard Dodson, Bobby Gilchrist, Hugh Moore, all of troop 4, and Jimmie Shofner of troop 80.

The Court of Honor was won by troop 4 which had four boys coming up for advancements and merit badges. Troop 80 was second and troop 16 third. Only three troops participated in the Court which was

MARVIN JONES TO TALK HERE

Farm problems and proposed farm legislation will be discussed tomorrow when Cong. Marvin Jones of Amarillo comes to Pampa to address a meeting of farmers in City hall auditorium.

The congressman will speak at 2:30 p. m. at a meeting arranged by the Gray County Agricultural Association, of which John Turcotte is president. Farmers and their wives from Gray, Carson, and Roberts counties will attend the session.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone who desires may attend, hear the address, and join in the informal discussion to follow, according to Ralph Thomas, Gray county farm agent.

TO TEST STRENGTH OF FAIRGROUND STANDS

Stands at Pampa's fairground park will be given a load test under the supervision of the WPA area engineer from Shattuck, on Thursday, City Manager C. L. Stine said last night.

The stands will be subjected to 150 pounds of weight per square foot. Cement stacks will be used. Less than a score of workers are now employed on the fairgrounds project, as many have been transferred to the Pampa-Laketon-Moebette road project.

A shipment of sand, cement, gravel, and steel, to be used in finishing work on the spillway, is expected to be here Thursday. Plans call for the building of a concrete slab over the spillway to be used as a road.

RED ENVOY TO CHINA LEAVES FOR MOSCOW

NANKING, Sept. 28 (AP)—Dimitri V. Bogomuloff, the Soviet ambassador to China, left suddenly for Moscow today on what was believed to be a vital mission affecting Russia's position in the Sino-Japanese war.

The Russian ambassador left aboard a special Eurasia air liner for a direct flight to Moscow after raising Japanese warplanes had been driven off by Chinese pursuit planes before they could damage their military objectives.

Bogomuloff was flying the northwestern route and was expected to reach the Russian capital in four days for an important conference on the future Soviet course.

Russia has declared Japan's repeated bombardments of Nanking to be "illegal" and warned Japan she would be held fully responsible for any injury to Soviet citizens or property. The Soviet warning was believed to be in response to a Chinese appeal for aid.

HE DEPLORES RUINOUS ABUSE OF PROPERTY

BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore., Sept. 28.—President Roosevelt, reviewing his power objectives at this newly completed federal dam, advocated today the "widest possible" use of electricity and forecast a "geographical greater distribution" of population as a result of such use.

Standing on a decorated platform beside the project's administration building, about a quarter of a mile from the dam, he also told the thousands grouped before him his program would not destroy individual liberties.

"My conception of liberty," he said, "does not permit an individual citizen or group of citizens to commit acts of depredation against nature in such a way as to harm neighbors, and especially harm the future generations of Americans."

The President re-defined his eight "little TVA" proposals and struck at those who claimed it would result in a "totalitarian or authoritarian" form of government.

"Because it starts in the day's busy program, the President switched plans and spoke before driving to inspect the towering $51,000,000 dam on the Columbia river.

On the platform were Gov. Charles H. Martin of Oregon, Senators McNary of Oregon, the Senate Republican leader, Schweikenbach, (D-Wash.), and congressmen from Oregon, Washington and California.

Governor Martin introduced the President.

Scattered applause and laughter came first when the President rebuked those who objected to governmental interference with what they "miscall" the liberty of the individual.

The President said the Bonneville dam fitted in with his long range program of regional and national planning and added its cost would be returned to the people many

MORGENTHAU, ECCLES WOULD BALANCE BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The administration's two chief fiscal officers will urge President Roosevelt to balance the budget in the next fiscal year, informed officials said today, even if it requires new and heavier taxes.

These persons said Secretary Morgenthau and Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board are convinced a balance between income and spending is essential to bolster business confidence and permit a paving down of the $36,864,000,000 public debt.

Although neither has commented on the recent stock market decline, authorities pictured both as believing this drop probably resulted in part from business uncertainty over the government's future fiscal course.

Morgenthau, seeking to eliminate the red-ink entries written on federal account books since 1931, already has started a series of conferences about balancing the budget in 1938-39.

The deficit stands now at $247,000,000, compared with $1,800,000,000 the entire fiscal year. Treasury authorities said they were hopeful the deficit could be held under the President's estimate, but expressed doubt that it could be eliminated entirely.

NEGRO POINTS GUN AT WOMAN AND PAYS FINE

The gun didn't have a magazine and therefore it couldn't be loaded. But the persons it was pointed toward couldn't tell that any more than they could distinguish between a tame lion and a wild one.

Curtis Wood, negro, was the pointer, and the brawl in which he chased some women while brandishing a .32 Colt automatic occurred at 3 p. m. Sunday, in the "flats."

Monday afternoon, Wood was brought before Justice of the Peace E. F. Young and paid a $14.15 fine on a charge of disturbing the peace.

SOLON SHOUTS HIS REPLY TO 'THE THRONE'

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—A Senate committee investigating costs of state government recommended to ay the taxpayer be given a "rest."

Pointing to possibility of larger revenues from existing taxes and a need for "retracting $10,000,000 in excess moneys appropriated for the present biennium," Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman, said the question of economies should come before raising additional revenue, express purpose of the called session.

The group suggested: Abolishing the liquor board and transferring collections to the comptroller and enforcement to local officers at an estimated saving of $900,000.

Eliminating $500,000 from the rural aid appropriation.

PAMPAN BADLY BURNED IN GASOLINE BLAST

First and second degree burns on the lower portion of the body and legs were suffered by George Hughes, Central Rooms, 527 South Cuyler street, when gasoline which he was using for washing purposes ignited. He rushed from the bathroom but was grabbed by another roomer who wrapped him in a blanket smothering the fire.

Rushed to Worley hospital by ambulance, Hughes was found to have suffered several deep burns on his back and legs and lesser burns on his hands and feet. Today his condition was said to be favorable.

Hughes, employed by Danziger Oil & Refineries, Inc., was believed to have been washing oil from his hands and feet when the gasoline ignited. According to Fire Chief Ben White, fire was caused by a lighted hot water heater in the bathroom.

The floor of the bathroom ignited and flames shot through the wall, igniting a mattress in an adjoining room. Firemen extinguished the blaze with little damage to the building.

FIRE PREVENTION TO BE DISCUSSED HERE

Fire prevention plans for Pampa will be discussed tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock when representatives of the Pampa Fire Department, chamber of commerce, schools and insurance companies, meet. Fire prevention week is October 3 to 9 this year.

M. A. Graham, president of the 1936 Fire Prevention board, will preside. Fire Chief Ben White will outline state plans for an extensive campaign of safety.

Missionary Work Discussed Monday

Missionaries, for which the circles are named, were discussed by several of the groups of the First Baptist church when they met yesterday afternoon.

The Elizabeth Ruth Pool circle met in the home of Mrs. R. W. Tucker with Mrs. Ernest Fletcher leading the devotional which was taken from First Corinthians, and Mrs. Wilson Hatcher directing the business session.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. F. O. Gault led the missionary program on the life of Elizabeth Ruth Pool, a missionary in Africa. Mrs. Harry Miner accompanied Mrs. Gault as she closed the program with a musical reading.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Hatcher, Ella Drake, C. L. Stephens, P. O. Anderson, Miner, Gault, Fletcher, N. B. Ellis, a visitor, and the hostess.

Mrs. H. G. Wilkie gave the opening prayer at the meeting of the Blanch Grover circle in her home.

The devotional at this meeting was given by Mrs. W. B. Henry, and "Missions in China and the Need of Money to Bring Them Out of the War Zones" was discussed by Mrs. L. A. Prigmore. The plans for the year's work in the Women's Missionary society was pointed out by Mrs. J. J. Simmons.

Those attending were Mrs. Robert Orr, Frank McFee, J. J. Simmons, G. Gordon Bayless, E. L. Anderson, and the hostess.

Mrs. E. M. Slaton, J. E. Reeves, T. L. Anderson, W. M. Westbrook, Prigmore, and the hostess.

The devotional at the Elsie Chlor circle which met in the home of Mrs. Dee Coffey was led by Mrs. E. M. Slaton. Mrs. Tom Duval presided at the business meeting which was followed with a discussion of the book of John by Mrs. W. A. Breining.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Keller, Duvall, G. C. Durham, Breining, J. S. Henderson, Rupert Orr, Frank McFee, J. J. Simmons, G. Gordon Bayless, E. L. Anderson, and the hostess.

The Mae Deter circle met in the home of Mrs. Frank Johnson with Mrs. C. E. Willingham giving the devotional, and Mrs. T. B. Solomon talking on "Love."

In the business session, Mrs. F. E. Leach was appointed as mission study chairman.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. L. W. Tarkington, Solomon, Leach, N. B. Ellis, Salmon, Willingham, and the hostess.

Mrs. G. H. Covington gave the devotional at the meeting of the Addie Cox circle in the home of Mrs. L. V. Hollar.

Professor Speaks At Luncheon Here

Miss Cleo Sanders, assistant professor of Bible at W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon, was guest speaker at the covered dish luncheon given yesterday by the women of the First Methodist church.

"The Missionary society faces two evils, nationalism and secularism," Miss Sanders said.

"We are trying to keep pace with nationalism in other nations. I am wondering if our nation should not want to be foremost in the worship of the true God. America with her heritage of religious worship surely has every right to lead," she continued.

"We are now facing a new age in missions. We are not only to win men and women from Hinduism, but we must go out to win men and women from nationalism and secularism. Primitive Christians were known as a peculiar group because they loved each other. We missionary women must continue this spreading of gospel of good will among men," Miss Sanders concluded.

Mrs. Horace McBeck, president of the society, presided at the meeting and gave the devotional. Announcements were made concerning the zone meeting to be held Thursday at Alanreed with Mrs. W. C. House as reporting delegate. Mrs. W. Purviance gave a report of the church rally held last week in McLean, and Mrs. Joe Parkinson gave flowers from her yard to decorate the luncheon tables.

The association voted to invite the missionary societies of the district to meet in Pampa for the Harvest day program which will be held in December.

Eighty-three members and visitors, including 12 from circle one; 15 from circle two; 21 from circle three; 19 from circle four; and Mmes. H. L. Wallace, O. G. Smith, and E. C. Casey of McCullough-Harrah society were present.

FATHER FILES INJURY SUIT FOR $7,500

Judgment for $7500 is asked against the Cities Service Gas company, in a suit filed in district court Monday, by attorneys representing Life Camp, a minor, by his father, Ira Camp. The petition also names M. W. Hanna, superintendent of the company, with the defendant.

As basis of the action, the plaintiff's petition, alleges that Life Camp, son of Ira, on May 25, 1932, while playing with other children, tripped on a wire extending from a small tree to a steel stake 5-8-inch in diameter and extending 18 inches above the ground, that Life Camp fell on the stake and on the ground, suffering injuries thereby that resulted, it is alleged, in total disability.

The accident is alleged to have occurred on a playground of the company's property at Pampa, Texas. Plaintiff's petition charges the company with carelessness and negligence, alleging that the stakes were not easily seen, that no signals nor warning signs were up, that Ira Camp was at the time an employee of the Cities Service company and resided in a house on their property. The playground referred to is described as being located in front of the houses.

Injuries suffered by the child, at that time 11 years old, are alleged to be severe fracture, compression and dislocation of the vertebrae of back at three places, displacement of sacrum, hernia, severe head and neck bruises, nervous shock, physical pain and mental anguish.

The petition alleges that following the fall, Life's back was taped, that he was in bed for two weeks, was forced to wear a truss for two years, then underwent an operation and was in bed for three weeks, that his back was injured to such an extent that he had to wear a cast for two years.

COMPENSATION ACTION REOPENED BY EMPLOYEE

Seeking a lump payment of compensation and disagreeing with an Industrial Accident board decision that ordered compensation be paid him on a weekly basis, suit has been filed in district court by James H. Bramer, employee, against Magnolia Petroleum company, employer, Safety Casualty company, insurer.

Plaintiff's petition alleges that the weekly payments are so small that they will not permit him to enter any worthwhile business and provide for his family. He asks a lump payment covering 401 weeks at $20 a week, less $1,240 already paid him, according to his petition. Award of the Industrial Accident board was $20 a week for 75 consecutive weeks from June 15, for total disability, and $5.81 for 300 weeks from November 22, 1937 for permanent partial incapacity.

Plaintiff alleges that on September 23 he gave notice that he did not agree to the ruling of the board, which was made on September 15.

DIVORCE HAUNTS
FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Charles M. Ramsburg, 65, went to the courthouse to get a license to remarry the woman from he had been divorced 34 years ago. He was taken aback when he found that he was still on the books for $10, the cost of the divorce. With the help of his attorney he got the matter straightened out without paying the $10 and married his former wife.

Practical Recipes Given At Cooking School Today

For the convenience of cooking school visitors, the Daily NEWS today is publishing a list of the recipes used by Mrs. Martha McDonald, instructor, at the second session of the school in the LaNora theater this morning.

The list follows:

Chicken Croquettes, baked lamb loaf, tomato cheese salad, breaded potatoes, vegetable fritters and vegetable sauce, macaroni and vegetable, pastry biscuit tortoni, coffee whip, sunshine salad, red devil food cake, tutti-frutti pie, sunshine cake, Boston brown bread.

Chicken Croquettes.
One cup chicken stock, celery and onion seasoning, 1/4 cup butter, 1/2 cup Gold Medal flour, 1 egg or two yolks, 1 tspn. lemon juice, 2 cups finely chopped cooked chicken, 1/3 cup cream, salt, paprika, little parsley and stuffed olives, mushrooms.

Melt butter, add flour and blend. Add stock and cream. Cook until thick and smooth, add lemon juice, seasoning and beaten egg while boiling hot but never cook after egg is added. Add chicken and a few mushrooms. Now chill and mold into shape, placing a stuffed olive in the center. Roll in beaten egg and then in crumbs and fry in deep Mrs. Tucker's shortening to a golden brown.

Baked Lamb's Loaf.
Two lbs. ground lamb, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 2 tbsps. minced onion, 2 tbsps. pimiento, 2 tbsps. minced parsley, 2 tspns. salt, pepper as desired, 1 cup bread or cracker crumbs. Mix as given and bake in ring mold or in a loaf in moderate oven about one hour. Serve with any desired vegetables. Delicious sliced cold.

Breaded Potatoes.
Use as many potatoes as needed (1 quart). Pare and brush with butter. Roll in coarse bread crumbs. Place in casserole, add 1/4 cup water, sprinkle with salt, cover and bake one hour.

Tomato Cheese Salad.
Six tomatoes, 1 tbspn. mayonnaise, 1 pkg. cream cheese, 1/2 tspn. grated onion, 1 tbspn. minced green pepper.

Remove skins from tomatoes and slice in half crosswise and chill thoroughly. Mix all other ingredients together and when ready to serve spread over slice of tomato and cover with the other half. A dot of mayonnaise on top with tomato placed on crisp lettuce.

Vegetable Fritters and Cheese Sauce.
One can mixed vegetables, 1 2/3 cups Gold Medal flour, 2 1/2 tspns. KC baking powder, 3/4 tspn. salt, 2 eggs.

Add vegetables to sifted dry ingredients. Stir in beaten eggs. Fry in deep Mrs. Tucker's shortening.

Sauce:
Three tbsps. butter, 3 tbsps. Gold Medal flour, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1 cup grated cheese, salt to taste. Melt butter, add flour and milk. Stir until thick. Add cheese and stir again.

Macaroni and Vegetables.
One pkg. macaroni, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 tbspn. Gold Medal flour, seasoning to taste, 1 1/2 cups cold chopped ham.

Cook macaroni in salted water until tender and drain. Beat eggs, add flour seasoning and milk. Mix with macaroni and pour in ring mold, well greased. Let bake in slow oven about 20 minutes. Turn out on round platter and fry conter with carrots, peas and onions, buttered or creamed.

Pastry.
One cup Gold Medal flour, 1/2 cup Mrs. Tucker's shortening, 1/4 tspn. salt, 5 tbsps. cold water.

Biscuit Tortoni.
One cup almond macaroons crumbled, 2 cups coffee cream, 1/2 cup sugar (confectioners), 1/3 cup sherry, 1 pint whipping cream.

Soak the macaroons in the coffee cream about one hour. Add sugar and sherry and freeze to mush consistency. Fold in whipped cream and freeze.

Coffee Whip.
One tbspn. gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 1/4 cups hot coffee (strong), 3 tbsps. cocoa, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/2 cup nuts.

Soak gelatine in water, add coffee then cocoa that has been mixed with sugar. When almost firm, whip and fold in nuts. Chill and serve with whipped cream.

Sunshine Salad.
1 lb. can apricots, 1 tbspn. gelatine, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 pint whipping cream, 1/2 cup dates (chopped).

Drain juice from apricots, add enough water to make 1 1/2 cups liquid. Take 1/2 cup liquid and soak gelatine in it. Heat other and dissolve gelatine. Skin apricots and press through sieve, add to gelatine and liquid when cool then fold in mayonnaise and let get almost firm. Last add whipped cream and dates.

Red Devil Food Cake.
One-fourth cup Mrs. Tucker's shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 tspn. salt, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup sour milk, 1 1/2 cups Gold Medal flour, 1 tspn. KC baking powder, 1 tspn. vanilla, 2 squares bitter chocolate (melted), 1 tspn. soda, 1/4 cup boiling water.

Mix cake as usual, melt chocolate and add boiling water then soda. Let cool slightly before adding to cake. Bake in two layers in moderate oven and stack with any desired frosting.

Tutti-Frutti Pie.
One large banana, 1 cup orange juice and pulp, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 cup sugar, 2 tbsps. gelatine, 1/2 cup boiling water, 2 cups whipping cream.

times. Beat eggs very light, add sugar slowly, add lemon juice then flour and hot milk alternately. Bake in ungreased tube pan 350 degrees about 45 minutes. Turn out pan to cool and split cake through crosswise and fill and cover with the following:

Filling:
Four tbsps. butter, 1/2 cup shredded pineapple, 2 tbsps. orange juice, 1 box confectioners sugar.

Mix together and spread between cake and on top and sides.

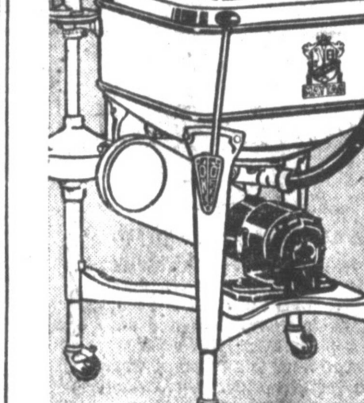

Boston Brown Bread.
Three cups Graham flour, 1 cup corn meal, 2 cups sour milk, 1 cup black molasses, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 tspn. salt, 1 tspn. soda, 1 tspn. KC baking powder.

Cook in slow oven 300 degrees about 45 minutes. Use ordinary baking powder cans if you do not have regular brown bread molds. When cool, slice thin and use the following sandwich filling:

1 cup cottage cheese, 1/4 cup ground dates, 1/2 cup ground nuts, little mayonnaise to moisten.

HASTE COSTS RACE
BALTIMORE (AP)—A new danger to aerial circus stunts was revealed here—indigestion. In an obstacle race in which pilots took off, landed, ate a cherry pie, took off, landed and blew up a balloon, William E. C. Swope followed the rules carefully. He got through the cherry pie, but when he came to blow up the balloon something stuck in his throat. He had eaten not only the pie but the cardboard plate it came on as well. He lost.

FAIR WILL BE HELD OCT 22 AT ALANREED

ALANREED, Sept. 28 — Sponsored by the Alanreed public school and Board of Trustees, the first community fair to be held in this community will be held Oct. 22 at the high school building and gym.

It is the aim of the community to provide a day of entertainment for all who are interested. There will be agricultural exhibits, school exhibits, and an exhibit of horses, mules, dairy and beef cattle. On the fair grounds will be school carnival attractions and confection stands, as well as places to eat lunch.

The Pampa Guerrillas and the Alanreed Longhorns will engage in a football game, and it has been arranged for the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce to have a softball team present. It is also hoped to have a team from McLean.

A rodeo, under the management of Ed Clifton, will be staged. Entrants should contact Mr. Clifton for details. Further announcements will be made concerning the fair. Alanreed invites you to make your arrangements to visit them on this day.

WE CAN'T QUIT FUELING ORIENT'S WAR ENGINE

The Japanese bombing of 20 Chinese cities represents in its purest form a new and frightening principle of warfare.

These cities were not primarily military strongholds. The raids failed to damage any forts, airports or factories. Most of the victims were humble folk, huddled in pitiful refugee camps. By no stretch of the imagination could they be considered obstacles to Japan's conquest.

The attack could give Japan no conceivable military advantage; its sole aim was to make war so horrible for non-combatants that the nation's willingness to resist invasion would be broken.

And this casual acceptance by the Japanese general staff of the idea that wars can be won by applied frightfulness leads us to a warning sounded by Pearl Buck in the current issue of Asia Magazine.

Mrs. Buck remarks that the orient lacks all of those restraining notions about the value of human life which, through the centuries, we have built up in the west. Life is not sacred, in the Far East; people are crowded together too closely, getting a living is too much a grim struggle, death is too familiar a specter. The oriental simply does not look at death as we look at it.

To this oriental, continues Mrs. Buck, the western world has given the most terrible of weapons. It has armed, and armed to the teeth, a people who have no moral or sentimental restraint whatever against using its weapons to the very limit of their power. And, says Mrs. Buck:

"To have the means of death in one's hands with no fear of death in one's heart is the ultimate of terror, not only for those who are actually engaged in such warfare, but for everybody alive. This combination of orient and occident, spreading worldwide, would be the end not only to all civilization, but to all physical human life."

It may make, then, very little difference—whether Japan or China wins the present war. In either case, the victor will, as Mrs. Buck says, be "flushed with a fresh and horrible confidence in the ruthlessness of his heart and the gun in his hand."

For the world has at last brought itself to this pass; it has put the means of unlimited destruction in the hands of people who can have no qualms whatever about using them.

It is a dark and frightening picture. It may be that it is already too late for us to "do anything about it;" but we might, at the very least, give some thought to the advisability of immediately stopping the sale of munitions to either side in the conflict.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—With its tongue in its cheek this government has joined in a protest against a breach of the peace maintained for two years in the Amazonian jungle between Bolivia and Paraguay.

The United States was one of the American republics which persuaded Paraguay and Bolivia to stop fighting in the Gran Chaco while a neutral commission investigated what they were fighting about and what could be done to stop it.

Under heavy pressure from neighboring nations and the United States, the two countries folded up their war in 1935 by withdrawing their armies from a neutral ground between. Since then, neutral observers have patrolled the "no-man's" between the two armies.

Imagine the indignation of two Uruguayans acting as neutral observers when they were pounced upon by Paraguayan soldiers who took them back to camp and held them several hours as prisoners.

The Paraguayans were not supposed to be in the neutral zone, first of all, and second, they were expected to keep their hands off the neutral observers, whose job of patrolling the bus-tidden spot was bad enough in any event.

Officials here could only smile. Department underlings suspected that a wandering patrol of Paraguayan Indians had piled upon the Uruguayan neutrals in full belief they had captured a pair of Bolivian spies. The Indians were not well posted in international law and cared less about such minor matters as neutral zones.

However, when the news got out of the frightful indignity, Yankee members of the neutral commission joined with the others in a stinging protest to Paraguay.

The Japanese bombing of Nanking probably will suspend for a time the soothing little messages that Admiral Yamell has been sending to headquarters from Shanghai. Day after day while Japanese naval guns and Chinese artillery were thundering around Shanghai, Admiral Yamell, in charge of the U. S. fleet in the Orient, would report:

"All quiet on the Yangtze."

For the first few days, state department

Tex's Topics

Opening cooking schools and trying to tell 1,300 women what a lot of kitchen gadgets are all about in addition to explaining menus and stuff is just a little out of our line, but we thoroughly enjoyed the initial session of the Pampa News cooking school over at the La-Nora theater yesterday morning. . . . Possibly that's because of the splendid turnout for the merchants who made the school possible, and because of the exceptionally fine manner in which the school is being conducted by Mrs. Martha McDonald and her charming daughter, Mary Elizabeth.

What Mrs. McDonald doesn't know about cooking and the kitchen wouldn't cover the bottom of a thimble, and to us the high point of this three-day school is the effort Mrs. McDonald makes to keep her school on practical, common-sense basis with the kitchen-thrift theme running all the way through. . . . Mrs. McDonald is not the la-de-da type of cooking school instructor who shows you how to dish up a fancy mess that would cost a young fortune to produce. . . . Instead she keeps the average woman's pocketbook in mind, tells how to buy, how to select proper foods, and how to make the food dollar go farther and last longer. . . . And, after all, cooking school or anything—that's an idea about which we all are vitally concerned.

Now, if you couldn't get in yesterday or were unable to attend today, you ought to go down there bright and early tomorrow morning and get in on the final session. . . . It is really fine and it doesn't cost you a cent. . . . tomorrow, you know, is the day when they will make those grand prize attendance awards, in addition to the regular daily awards of 25 baskets of groceries. . . . We got so hungry in the midst of all that pleasant kitchen aroma back stage yesterday, that it was really pitiful. . . . And if Mrs. McDonald or Mary Elizabeth doesn't save us a huge piece of Devil's Food cake before this school is over, it's going to make us mighty, mighty unhappy.

And, now—off to more commonplace things than cooking schools. . . . In the spirit of the times, this year's college football is expected to bring a flurry of the open shop game among the lower salaried players. . . . Success of Roosevelt's western trip to feel the nation's pulse seemed to depend on finding public thought in the right vein. . . . As a friend of the working man, the best a retiring congressional lobbyist can claim is that he spent a lifetime railroading. . . . "As quiet as a cemetery" goes the way of other outworn phrases that Philadelphia claims to have unearthed an undertaker's "racket."

A regular feature of the life of the old-fashioned early American home was the making of soap. The settlers boiled the grease left from the kitchen and mixed it with lye that was made by pouring water over wood ashes. . . . Peter Durand, an Englishman, obtained the first patents for the making of tin cans in 1810. . . . He also obtained patents for the preservation of food in metal, glass and pottery containers at that time. . . . Fingerprints are unchanged from childhood to old age, although they are different for every individual. . . . Venice, Italy, was the only city in the world where mirrors were made 300 years ago. A law signified that any person disclosing the secret would be put to death.

Twenty-four died in a Rumanian train wreck, but the French Surete won't be called in for the dramatic touch because it wasn't the midnight express. . . . A critic's suggestion that a bunch of soldier bums are keeping Spain's civil war going is verified by reports that sniping has reached major proportions on Gijon's streets. . . . Theatrical news is that burlesque shows are coming back. A Department of Agriculture bulletin would have enabled city fathers to do a better job of strip-cropping. . . . The criminal who thinks he can win the race with the law usually ends up the loser—in a photo finish.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO

In six weeks, the Pampa hospital took care of 88 patients, the majority of which involved operations. There was not a death in the hospital in that time, although many of the cases were recorded as serious.

Horses and mules were not pass in Gray county in 1927. There were 3,895 of the animals on the county tax rolls and they were valued at $60,000.

FIVE YEARS AGO

City commissioners spent much time discussing the unemployment relief and hospitalization problem facing the city in the winter months. Approval was given on a list of books to be placed on the public library pay shelf.

Several hundred enthusiastic baseball fans watched the world series played in graphic detail on the Pampa Daily News-American Legion electric player board mounted on top of the newspaper building.

employs though the report was carrying the "strictly neutral" business a bit far.

Ultimately a solution appeared, the admiral was not spoofing. He was being seamanly exact. Shanghai, where the fighting was, is not on the Yangtze. It is on the Whangpoo, a dozen or more miles south of where the Yangtze empties into the ocean.

But no longer is "all quiet on the Yangtze." Nanking is on the Yangtze, up stream, a way, and it was so quiet that the American ambassador, Nelson Johnson, climbed aboard a gunboat to keep out of the way of air raids.

JUST AN EVERYDAY OCCURRENCE

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It was a sad though sunny day in Manhattan. Master Richard Maney, the Francois Villon of Broadway press-agents, sat at his desk shooting bent pins at a row of paper drinking cups which were lined on a rail across the room.

"What in the world are you doing?" this puzzled one inquired.

"See those cups?" he began. "I imagine them to be English press-agents. I am annihilating them!"

With this he drew aim and let fly. The cup on the end toppled to the floor and lay still.

"There," said Maney. "Now I feel better."

"But don't you like British press-agents?"

"My good man," said he. "It is patent that you know little of English press-agents. You are lucky. Let me tell you what a callously inept lot they are."

"Several months ago Mr. John C. Wilson, who is Mr. Noel Coward's manager, decided to bring an English play, 'George and Margaret,' to New York. As is customary I requested certain data and a number of action photographs from the press-agent who handled the London engagement."

"Certainly," he cabled back, 'the pictures will be mailed on the Queen Mary, which sails tomorrow.'

"But when the Queen Mary put in there were no pictures."

"Two days later two other British ships docked, but the pictures were not there."

"A week passed, another week—finally six weeks went by."

"Unless you send pictures immediately," I cabled, 'New York opening will remain deep secret.'

"Oh," he cabled back. "Don't worry. We are mailing them on the Queen Mary, which sails tomorrow."

"This was too much of a good thing. Seizing the telephone, I finally located him at his office in Haymarket."

"Listen, My Good Man, can you give me one good excuse why those pictures haven't been delivered?"

"Certainly, Old Fruit," he cried. "And a jolly good one, too. Remember we told you six weeks ago we were mailing them on the Queen Mary?"

"I certainly do."

"Too bad, what?"

"Too bad! Why, confound you, there have been 50 boats since the Queen Mary! Don't they take mail?"

People You Know

—By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Certain readers who like children in the flesh but not on paper, were promised that this one would not write about boys for at least a week. Well, the week is up, and here is a word of warning to certain ones: If you don't like to read about children, don't read this space for several days. . . .

The next time you go to Harvester field glance over at the vacant lot south of Mayor Bratton's, and likely as not you'll catch sight of at least a half-dozen boys playing. If it's in summer they'll be playing baseball, and any other time they'll be playing football. There's no doubt in those boys' minds but that they'll be playing on the Harvester first team in six or seven years. They're positive of it.

(Privately they hope their band work won't interfere with their football playing. You pull up to the curb and park, and you hear Warren Fatheree, 10, yell "Signals, port formation!" and the "game" is on. Warren who is the best baseball player, is one of the boys who has a helmet. He also has football pants. So do Dale Thut, James Boston, 10 and 11, respectively. Junior Saunders, 9, despite his age, is as good as any of them. He always tackles them low, and he is fast and can side-step, but Warren and Dale are pretty shifty, too, their playmates agree. John McColm is just 9 but he can hold his own. Dale Thut has a helmet just like the Capitol Hill boys. . . . The only thing that can break up a game is when something unusual happens. Like yesterday when Tippy, black and white dog that also chases the punts and passes, ran a cat up a tree.

In the Saunders yard. (Oh, yes, Junior Saunders couldn't play yesterday because he had to water the lawn.) And James Lybrand, those boys think you're a sissy because you're always picking on them.

"Listen, My Good Man, can you give me one good excuse why those pictures haven't been delivered?"

"Certainly, Old Fruit," he cried. "And a jolly good one, too. Remember we told you six weeks ago we were mailing them on the Queen Mary?"

"I certainly do."

"Too bad, what?"

"Too bad! Why, confound you, there have been 50 boats since the Queen Mary! Don't they take mail?"

"Oh, but we couldn't ship them on any other boat—not after promising they would be shipped on the Queen Mary! Don't you see, Old Game Cock, we had to keep our word good. We had to wait till the Queen Mary made another trip!"

Questions on Pain: I

Pain is a warning that something is wrong somewhere.

Its location does not always correspond with the site of the trouble. A diseased tooth may give rise to an ear-ache; gall bladder disease, may simulate an acute appendix; the passing stone in the ureter causes pain in the lower region of the groin; disease of the heart may cause shooting pains in the left arm, and so on.

But the well-trained, experienced physician can interpret pain by its location, intensity, duration and nature. And there is a sort of "master chart" by which "referred pains" can be traced to their related parts. This chart is supplied by neurology and by embryology, the science of pre-birth development of the individual.

Not all abnormalities, however, signal their existence by pain. Notable examples of silent diseases are the early stages of cancer, kidney disease and hypertension (severe mental strain).

As a sign that "something is wrong somewhere," pain is neither clear nor dependable. But even its "muted signal function is valuable, and he who does himself with a pain-adamming drug before a definite diagnosis has been made of the HOLLYWOOD—Frank McHugh would have us know he isn't meek, and his favorite food isn't milk toast, either. It is beef, or at least Frank was beefing, in a mild sort of way, about his milky-toasty roles in comedies.

He was just winding up one called "Larger Than Life," in which, after taking it from all possible sources of abuse, he turns and asserts himself. Frank is becoming a veritable turning worm, and he doesn't care for it.

"I personally don't think fellows like that are funny," he said. "I feel sorry for 'em. And after you've played the worm and turned a few times, what else is there for you to do to make it different? A fellow like that can't have any smart lines because in real life he wouldn't think of 'em. All he can do is listen, and have things happen to him. I'm getting tired of it."

McHugh, as I said, was pretty mild about it. He hadn't reached that burning stage of indignation which leads to "I'll-be-suing-you-Warners. on another stage, behind carefully closed doors, was emitting the studio's latest sner. Kay Francis. She was giving her art to "Return from Limbo," and the bosses, whom she is suing to void her contract because they let Claudette Colbert have "Tovarich," had protected her from the inquisitive and curious.

This is a nice thing about Hollywood. You may fight your legal enemies and have them be solicitous in star and can make money for them. Kay, like a good little girl, was going to work on schedule. Pending decision on her suit, she was not going to be caught refusing to work. Kay, unlike Bette Davis and Ann Dvorak when they sued, didn't walk first.

abnormality underlying the pain is not only foolish but is courting disaster.

But is the function of pain only that of a monitor?

Is pain universally bad?

Is it wise to "kill pain" with drugs quite as frequently and extensively as Americans are in the habit of doing?

Cathartic and pain-deadening drugs are two of the most commonly used medicaments. Literally tons of pain-killing compounds are consumed by the American public every year.

With what effects?

Well, we don't know all the answers, but we do know that many a self-medicating individual buys relief from pain at the cost of his health. Conditions which demand immediate treatment are allowed to go untreated. A pain-killer substitutes for reform in hygienic and dietetic practices.

And, what is perhaps as important as any other item, the individual develops a marked intolerance for pains of every sort, psychic as well as physical.

Douglas, New Head of SEC, Will be Tough On Wall Street Czars

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The so-called federal independent commissions, some of whose independence Congress undertook to preserve when it carved up the presidential government reorganization program, are not always as independent as you might suppose. William O'Neil Douglas has just been elected chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Theoretically he was elected by the three other present members of the commission. Actually, it is very doubtful whether Douglas could have become chairman if the full White House influence had not been thrown behind him. Wall Street influences tried hard to block him, seeking the elevation of a more conservative commissioner.

There was no question about the fitness and ability of Douglas. The question was whether the SEC, under his chairmanship, would be tougher in dealing with Wall Street than under the previous chairmen, Joseph P. Kennedy and James M. Landis. Nearly everyone from Wall Street to Pennsylvania Avenue, guessed that it would.

He Will Be Conservative

Chairman Douglas promptly announced that his would be a "conservative" administration. Possibly it will be recalled that Rex Stewart, once appearing before a Senate committee, insisted that he himself was a "conservative." Liberals and conservatives often insist on calling themselves the other thing.

At any rate, there will be widespread surprise here if Douglas becomes a Wall Street pet.

Nothing that anyone knows about has occurred to make him more conservative than when he addressed New York's Bond Club last spring. Demanding "democratization" of investment bankers from serving in industrial corporations, and insisted that bankers should be confined to one of two functions, underwriting or selling.

He urged more genuine representation in management for ordinary security-holders. He still stresses protection of the investor rather than official cooperation between bankers and brokers.

Press Service Will Survive

It is more or less automatic that human beings like to read about themselves in the newspapers. And New Dealers are only human. That's why the press intelligence section of the National Emergency Council almost certainly will find a roof somewhere else in the administration despite the fact that an executive order has been issued abolishing the NEC.

"Press Intelligence" serves the whole government. With a staff of more than 50, it daily distributes a mimeographed report of what the

NEW COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST EX-WARDEN

RAYMONDVILLE, Sept. 28 (AP)—A new complaint of "illegally carrying a pistol" was on file today against Morgan Miller.

Shortly after County Judge W. E. McCharen granted a defense motion yesterday to quash charges of impersonating an officer and carrying a pistol pending against Miller, Justice Tom Heath of San Perita signed the new complaint.

Heath was presiding judge of the court of inquiry into the disappearance of John and Luther Blanton. Miller has maintained the state game department did not accept his resignation as game warden, while the department has said it did.

Judge McCharen said a hearing on the new complaint would be set in October.

national press is saying about the federal agencies and departments both in news stories and editorials. It clips articles from 400 newspapers and distributes about 3000 clippings a day to those officials and agencies most concerned.

The United States Information Service, also under NEC, perhaps has less chance to survive. It's the agency that answers questions about the government and steers people around. But most of the people who wanted to know the answers that USIS can supply received them long ago.

Book A Day

—By BRUCE CATTON

When a 29-year-old Polish woman noticed two images on a photographic plate while working in her Paris laboratory, her pique curiously led to the discovery of an ultra-precious substance that amazed science with its wondrous properties, brought exultation to the avaricious and hope to the cancer-ridden.

In understandable, lay terms, Rudolf Brunngraber tells the story of the discovery of radium, describes its wonders, and thereby lays the foundation for an interesting novel—"Random House: $2.50."

The tale of four careers, and how they were molded by the discovery of radium, round out the book. One of the careers was that of the Polish woman, who later married Pierre Curie, physicist professor at the Sorbonne, and devoted her life to the study of the rare element she had chanced upon.

Another was that of a Belgian, Pierre Cynac, whose overweening ambition to be the world's copper king changed, overnight, when he learned that radium-bearing ore had been discovered on the African holding of his firm.

When a physician relieved the mind of an English boy, George Purvis, from fear of infection, the boy determined to become a great doctor. How radium helped him build a great career that drug undermined is another of the plots threaded into the novel.

Perhaps the most colorful character is a Mormon patriarch, Jeroboam Corbin, whose decades of fruitless prospecting finally were crowned with success with the discovery of radium-bearing ores on his properties.

How radium twined together the lives of all these people, and punished greed with tragedy, makes an entertaining, informative story, especially absorbing for those who have a yen for the scientific.

Headliner This Week to Be Sandie-Classen Game

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Texas intercollegiate league's gridiron legions prepared today for the drive down the championship trail. Fifteen conference games dotting the schedule for the turn into October with its traditional battles.

Eight districts are involved in the contests counting in the standing on this week's card, and in addition the most attractive inter-district and inter-sectional program of the season is destined to bring greater havoc among the teams with perfect records.

Only 42 undefeated teams remain of the 107 that started the campaign the second week in September.

Conference Games
The oil belt has five conference games this week, there is one in district 2, one in district 7, one in district 8, one in district 9, one in district 10, one in district 11, one in district 12 and two in district 13.

Two of the undefeated, untied teams clash in the district 11 encounter which brings Cleburne and Waxahachie together.

Amarillo's battle with Classen High of Oklahoma City is a headliner. Classen last week defeated Wichita Falls, one of the teams picked to go into the state championship play-off by a 7-0 count. Amarillo, defending title, has already displayed power aplenty in smashing Clovis, N. M., which last week held the strong El Paso high team to a 13-13 tie.

In other attractive games Woodrow Wilson of Dallas meets Gainesville, a district 5 power; Adamson, an unbeaten Dallas team, engages the Waco Tigers, fresh from a conquest of the Paschal Panthers, Port Worth juggernaut Longview, the district 9 favorite, engages Port Arthur which boasts victories over Hillsboro and Tyler, and the powerful Corpus Christi Bucs play Edinburg, one of the top teams of the Rio Grande valley district.

Woodrow Wilson gave the Highland Park Scotties a terrific battle in a feature game last week. The Highlanders won 7-0, but the contest indicated both teams are to be strongly considered in their respective district races.

Seven conference games were played last week, Eastland beating Big Spring, 18-13; Breckenridge swamping Ranger 87-0 and Stephenville downing San Angelo 8-0 in the oil belt drive; Riverside making an auspicious start in the Fort Worth district 10-Caston—with a 13-0 victory; Bryan opening the district 11 campaign with a 20-2 win over the downtrodden Corsicana Tigers, and Stephen F. Austin and Jeff Davis meeting of the lid in the Houston district by battling to a 6-6 tie.

Waco's inter-district victory over Paschal was noteworthy. It was Paschal that the week previous downed Breckenridge, generally conceded to be the top favorite in the oil belt.

Sherman's power in smashing Greenville 40-0 was another stand-out. Greenville already held a victory over Denison, which has been rated around the top in Sherman's district.

Probably the greatest surprise, however, was the 40-0 drubbing given McKinney by Sunset of Dallas. McKinney had been ranked above Highland Park in the district 6 dope—that is until the Scotties worked Woodrow Wilson over last week.

Schedule This Week
This week's conference schedule: District 2—Electra at Quanah; district 3—Ranger at Abilene; Breckenridge at Sweetwater, Brownwood at Big Spring, Eastland at San Angelo; Cisco at Stephenville; district 7—Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs. Poly (Fort Worth); District 8—North Dallas vs. Sunset (Dallas); district 10—Athens at Canton; District 11—Waxahachie at Cleburne; district 12—San Antonio Tech at Kerrville, Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs. Harlandale (San Antonio); district 13—Stephen F. Austin (Houston) at Conroe, Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Mifflin B. Lamar (Houston).

LOUISIANA STATE HAS TWO POWERFUL FOOTBALL TEAMS

Queen Returns

Helen Willis Moody, former world champion woman tennis player, has begun a comeback on the Pacific coast since her divorce from Frederick J. Moody. She is shown above as she prepared to take the courts in the mixed doubles of the Pacific Southwest tournament at Los Angeles.

By NORMAN WALKER.
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 28 (AP)—Louisiana State University has a versatile football team this fall with the potentiality of a third straight Southeastern conference championship.

A tip-off to what fans might expect from the 1937 Tiger edition came Saturday when L. S. U. licked the University of Florida, 10-0. Coach Bernie Moore put out two classy exhibits. Exhibit "A," or first team, played the first and third quarters with a steam-rolling running attack. Exhibit "B," the lighter and faster "shock troops," took to the air and opened up ground in the second and fourth in a bombardment that brought victory.

The game disclosed that L. S. U. has no such thing as first and second teams, but two powerful weapons for use as Strategist Moore sees fit. This probably will be to wear down Tiger opposition with "A" squad and run up touchdowns with "B."

Out of the galaxy of players here a brilliant sophomore, Young Busby of Houston, Texas, Young's projectile-like passes and swift runs led the Tigers down the field in a 60-yard march for their first touchdown. Alternating with "B" squad Halbert Art Morton, Bussey and the "shock troops" produced the spark that sent squad "A" into scoring section.

"We did many things wrong, naturally," said Moore after the game. "But the Tigers will come along, provided they don't get whipped too badly in the games coming up with Texas and Rice."

Louisiana State must "come along" a great deal in blocking accuracy if it is to keep intact its string of 12 conference victories. The Tigers' loss of nine regulars last year, including the twice all-American Gaynell Tinsley, was most apparent Saturday. In this respect on L. S. U.'s three touchdown drives block-out was improved. But generally during the game it was poor.

Squad "A" lines up this way: J. Gormley, 190, and Dumas, 195, ends; Friend, 246, and Gatto, 205, tackles; Smith, 190, and Clark, 202, guards; D. Gormley, 188, center; Booth, 190, quarterback; Milner, 190, and Staples, 196, half backs, and Rhom, 174, fullback.

This is squad "B": Kavanaugh, 194, and King, 190, ends; Ferguson, 197, and Pittman, 195, tackles; Messina, 176, and Lester, 185, guards; Warmbrod, 184, center; Cajoles, 182, quarterback; Bussey, 185, and Morton, 175, half backs, and Lemak, 175, fullback.

After Texas and Rice, the latter game at Houston, the next Saturday L. S. U. meets the University of Mississippi here Oct. 16; Vanderbilt at Nashville, Oct. 23; Loyola, of New Orleans, here Oct. 30; Mississippi State here Nov. 6; Auburn here Nov. 13; Louisiana State normal here Nov. 20, and Tulane at New Orleans Nov. 27. Games with Texas, Mississippi and Loyola will be night affairs.

messy playoffs with four straight victories. San Diego dusted off the first place Sacramento outfit, and Portland battered Lefty O'Doul's San Francisco Seals.

Portland won the title last year.

SAILOR MORAN AND LIPSCOMB STAR ON MAT

Roughhouse Buck Lipscomb is slipping. He used six wrestling holds and broke two legs last night at the Pampa Athletic Arena in taking two out of three falls from John Nemanic in a wild battle. It is unusual for the wildman to resort to wrestling although once previously he had won a fall with a legitimate hold, a half Japanese known by the Hoosier Hotshot.

Bill Cazell, pride of Amarillo and a real favorite here, went haywire last night and got nasty with Don Rainey. The fans, stunned for a few minutes by Cazell's unusual tactics, then gave him the old-fashioned "razzberry." The bout went to a draw with some pretty wrestling exhibited by both men. The two exchanged holds with lightning rapidity.

Sailor Moran, who admits he's good and wins by keeping ahead of the other fellow, tried to keep ahead of Bob Cummings and Referee Ray Clements in the semi-final but he wasn't fast enough and lost through disqualification after 14 minutes of terrific grappling, slugging and kneeing.

The big fellow should make a good mat-mate for Buck Lipscomb. Although he doesn't resort to the low-down method of mauling such as choking, eye gouging and biting, Moran goes after his opponent with fists, feet and knees. He learned a lot about wrestling from the wily Cummings before the match was stopped.

Nemanic, turned wolf since he came to the Pampa Athletic arena, blew some for gouge with Lipscomb but didn't stoop to biting. The two did a little wrestling but mostly were content with wild swings, etc.

Nemanic took the first fall in 14 minutes with a Japanese Arm Breaker which had Lipscomb hollering for mercy. It followed a series of elbows to the Lipscomb jaw and a few other types of torture.

Lipscomb came back strong but wry to take the second fall in 12 minutes with a half Japanese Crab hold, apparently his pet.

Referee Clements was an important figure in the third fall. He had considerable trouble with the two grapplers, getting mixed up in several melees. Just prior to the finish, Nemanic backed Lipscomb into the ropes in his corner and held him on the ropes to get leverage to break Nemanic loose and all three hit the mat. The two maulers slugged as they lay on the big referee.

Another minute was required for Lipscomb to get another of his half Crab holds and Nemanic patted the mat.

Following the battle, a physician's examination revealed that Nemanic had received two broken ribs. Fans noticed him holding his side and having difficulty in breathing.

DIXIE SERIES TO OPEN THIS THURSDAY NIGHT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28 (AP)—Plans for the Dixie series by President Alvin Gardner of the Texas League. Fort Worth's Cats, Texas League champions, will open in the city which wins the southern title on Thursday night of this week. A second game will be played there Friday night, the scene will be either Little Rock or Atlanta.

Saturday will be an off day allowing the teams to get here Sunday. Games will be played here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday next week. Wednesday, Oct. 6, will be an off day and the series will be resumed in the southern league park on Sept. 7 if necessary.

6-Man Football For Panhandle Urged by Coach

TELIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—Adoption of six-man football by the small schools of the Northwest Texas Panhandle and northern New Mexico, and the formation of a league, was urged today by David Lee, principal and coach of Texline High school.

His suggestion is that Texline, Channing, Hatley, Stratford, Conley, Texas, and Susan and Grenville, N. M., form the league.

This new version of the present game calls for the regular center with a man on each side of him in the line, and three men in the backfield.

Play starts by snapping the ball from center to a back, as in the 11-man game, but the back receiving the ball must pass it to someone before it can be advanced. Lee said. Forward passes may be made from any point behind the scrimmage line. The playing field, however, is only 90 feet long compared with the 300-foot present field, and is only 40 feet wide.

Play is necessarily more open so that fans can see and understand it better. Quarters are 10 minutes. The game is popular with players because there is no drudge work. Lee said. "Even the center can take a down-field lateral pass and in many cases can be made eligible for forward passes. The linemen have just as much chance of becoming the day's hero as the boys in the backfield."

Atlanta Beats Little Rock 6-5

ATLANTA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Atlanta's back-to-the-wall Crackers clung grimly today to their slim chance of winning the Southern Association playoffs.

Aged Leo Moon hauled the Georgians through to a 6-5 verdict over Little Rock last night to make the game count 3-2 in favor of the 1936 pennant winners.

The Pebs needed one more game while Atlanta must win today and again tomorrow night to qualify for the Dixie series against Fort Worth of the Texas league.

Moon handed a shivering crowd of only 2,215 its first big bang when he stepped in with two on in the ninth, put another on and then forced Niemic to ground into a double play that killed the rally.

But the big moment of the evening was reserved for the tenth. Two were on, all the pinch hitters had been used so Moon was forced to do his own batting. He did it in payoff style by slashing a vicious single past shotstop to bring Galvin home.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)
NEWTON, Mass.—There'll be no "Ray Ray" when Boston college tackles Kansas State in its first inter-sectional game Saturday. Both Ray Perrault, right end, and Ray Worth, regular center, were hurt in the clash with Northwestern.

MINNEAPOLIS—It apparently takes a lot to satisfy Bernie Bierman, who coaches Minnesota's Golden Gophers. He expressed considerable dissatisfaction with Monday's workout on pass defense after his team routed North Dakota State Saturday. He probably had little chance in the game to see how the defense worked, however, while Nebraska is expected to test it this week.

CHARLESTON, S. C.—The Citadel, which goes against Navy Saturday, seems to be expecting a rough afternoon. The coaches indicated yesterday they considered defense the team's best weapon against the Midshipmen and would concentrate on it all week.

NEW ORLEANS—What is probably the youngest coaching staff on record will escort the Loyola of the South grid team when it moves on Washington to play Catholic university Saturday. Headed by 29-year-old Larry "Moon" Mullins, the staff averages 26 years.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—Here's the result when the college statistician and the football trainer for the Texas Aggies got together: the medical supplies for the season include approximately 9.4 miles of two-inch adhesive tape, 3,000 square feet of gauze bandage, about one fifth of a barrel of liquids to "paint" cuts, scrapes, bruises and the like and a couple of pounds of assorted salves.

Picard Likely Winner In Belmont Golf Tilt

BELTMAN, Mass., Sept. 28 (AP)—Henry Picard's par-smashing parade through the $12,000 Belmont open match play tournament put him in the role of favorite today against his Pennsylvania golfing neighbor, Byron Nelson, in a 36-hole final.

The first three games will be played here. Night contests Thursday and Friday follow the opener tomorrow. The best four-out-of-seven series will resume, if the weather man doesn't interfere, in Columbus Saturday night and continue there until it is decided.

NEBRASKA AND MINNESOTA TO FEATURE CARD

By HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—This is where the football fun really begins.

Last week's appetizer was fair enough, although it hit a modern low for excitement.

This week the entire college contingent, including the Big Ten as a whole, the Big Three, the Big Six and about the rest, don their helmets for a real campaign.

This week's headline attractions include: Middle west: Not even the crackling Big Ten duel between Ohio State and Purdue can take top billing away from the clash of Minnesota and Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb. The Cornhuskers may not be quite so formidable as a year ago, but year in and year out, they are a handful for anybody, especially at Lincoln. Minnesota gave evidence of terrific power last week in burying North Dakota State under a 69-7 score.

Michigan opens against Michigan State, routine 19-0 victory over Wayne last week; Wisconsin, triumphant 32-0 over South Dakota State, plays Marquette.

Northern opens against Iowa State while Notre Dame's inauspicious opponent, Drake, should give the Irish a good workout.

This week Washington invades Los Angeles to face Southern California's Trojans, 40-0 conquerors of Colgate. Stanford meets Oregon, crushed 26-13 by U. C. L. A., and California plays Oregon State, nosed out in a major surprise by Idaho, 7-6.

East: Cornell finds Colgate's Red Raiders just ahead. The Ithacans whipped Penn State, 26-19, by marching 65 yards to a touchdown in the last minute of play.

Pitt, using 56 players in a 59-0 rout of Ohio Wesleyan, faces West Virginia. Fordham opens against Franklin and Marshall.

Yale meets Maine. Harvard plays Springfield and Princeton faces Virginia.

Temple plays Mississippi, George Washington meets Wake Forest, Manhattan tackles Texas A. & M.

Tulane will have to show more power than it did against Clemson if the Green Wave is to turn back Auburn's Plainsmen in the big southeastern conference engagement of the week. Alabama plays improved Sewanee in the other.

Louisiana State, 18-0 victor over Florida, plays Dana Bible's Texas Longhorns who looked strong in a 25-12 triumph over Texas Tech.

BUDGE AND VON GRAMM MEET CALIFORNIANS

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 28 (AP)—Two of the world's greatest amateurs, J. Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., and Germany's Baron Gottfried von Cramm, will play their first-round matches today in the Pacific coast tennis championships.

Budge will oppose Henry Gullette of San Francisco and Von Cramm will play H. W. Bando, Berkeley Japanese.

Chapter XII
Methodically and systematically, Cilly went through Amy's effects. For the second time that day, she looked over the contents of her bureau.

In the lower drawer, Amy kept a fairly large box filled with odd bits of jewelry. There was a locket—an old gold locket—which Cilly picked out particularly. It was the only article she did not remember seeing before. But that was not surprising. Nobody wore lockets this season. There was a tiny diamond chip on one side, on the other the initials "A. M. K." Cilly slipped her thumb-nail between the two sections of gold and opened it. There were the usual sections for pictures which all old lockets contained. One was empty, in the other there was the picture of a young man—an attractive young man, apparently in his late 30s.

Cilly looked more closely at the picture. Where had she seen that face before? It did not resemble Amy particularly; Amy was fair and golden, and her features were aquiline; this man was chubby, almost round, his eyes and hair were dark. It might have been a brother, or even her father; yet there was no definite family resemblance. Was this the man to whom Harry Hutchins referred? She doubted it, merely because she did not believe Harry's story about another man.

Next, she went through Amy's section of the desk. There were, as she had told Sergeant Dolan, nothing but a few unusual recipes—an elderberry chutney, a lemon custard pie, a chocolate frosting guaranteed to remain soft. There was initialed note-paper, but Cilly had never seen Amy write a letter. There were advertisements of fur coats; Amy had been saving up for a squirrel swaggar. No, it looked as if Harry Hutchins' intimation was just so much idle chatter, and Cilly put it out of her mind.

Dinner. That was something to be considered. She could not subsist indefinitely on black coffee. Tonight she had better eat something. Cilly changed the black dress for a thin cotton wrap-around, and began her preparations for dinner.

One by one, she broke four eggs into a mixing bowl. Cooking, she realized suddenly, was a splendid tonic for frayed nerves. The monotonous, mechanical detail of it was soothing and restful. She whirled the egg-beater efficiently. It was easier to this now.

She tried to analyze the situation calmly. Amy had kept a secret hidden in her heart. . . someone feared lest that secret become known. He feared it so terribly that he was prepared to kill her to prevent it.

Whose secret was it? Surely Amy had no connection with the type of underworld racketeer who would murder casually. In the few months she had been living in New York, where could he have come in contact with such people. Not at the desparingly respectable residence club. Not at the conservatively correct offices of Ames & Wakefield.

Yet there was Harvey Ames. Cilly reconsidered his startling reaction to the news of Amy's death. How could he have known of the tragic death of a girl in Brooklyn, when he lived in a Park Avenue apartment in Manhattan? Why had he deliberately lied about reading it in the morning papers?

If someone had said to him: "I live in Brooklyn, and last night a girl in the neighborhood was killed by a fall from the roof," that would have been commonplace. He would have said to Cilly then: "Yes, I heard that a girl was killed last night in Brooklyn." But he would not have lost his head and said: "I read it in the morning paper." What was there in the occurrence which had terrified him? Why did he lie?

Cilly poured a little milk into the eggs, and continued beating. Did Amy's secret, she wondered, concern Harvey Ames, or some way? Did he suspect that she was in danger of her life? That would account for his terror-stricken behavior on hearing the news. Yet he had not been surprised at the tragedy. . . He had been surprised to learn that the girl was Amy Kerr, his own secretary. If he had learned about the occurrence through some source other than the morning paper, as he had indicated, why had he not also learned who the girl was?

Cilly buttered the skillet and poured the egg mixture into it. It all came back to the same starting point. What was the secret Amy was hiding? Discover that, and you would discover what a people it concerned, and which ones would benefit by her death. But Amy's lips were closed in death now, and who else was there to throw any light on the matter? None whom Cilly knew.

Cilly gathered the egg shells and put them into a brown paper bag, to throw down the incinerator. She scooped up some cantaloupe seeds also. She picked up the brown paper bag, and went out into the hallway. The incinerator door was stuck. Ordinarily it opened out quite easily, like a mail-box slot. You threw the refuse into the slot, from where it fell into the incinerator shaft. The shaft rose directly through the house, between apartments A and B on each floor, and emptied into a fiery pit in the basement where all refuse was burned. Cilly had never found the door stuck before.

She pulled it firmly. It budged a trifle. She could tell that something was caught in it. Something thrown from above, which had in some way landed on this side-chute. She tugged harder. Gradually the slot widened, and she could look inside and see what caused the sticking. She hoped it would not be garbage. No. . . it was a newspaper. An enormous pile of newspapers, rather, and they had become wedged into this slot as they fell down the shaft. Why did someone have to throw such an enormous bunch at one time? Anyone could realize that it would get stuck.

She tried to dislocate them, one at a time. Finally, she managed to work most of the pack either down the shaft, or out on the floor at her feet. She picked up her own brown paper bag and threw it down. Then she stooped to gather up the remaining sections of newspaper. As she did so, she glanced at the masthead on one of the sheets. She stopped, clutching the paper in her hand.

It was headed: "Bluefields, Utah." Quickly Cilly picked up all of the remaining sections and carried them into her own apartment.

So there was someone in the house who knew about Bluefields. Someone upstairs who had been keeping track of developments there through the out-of-town newspapers, but who feared to keep the papers in his apartment now that the police were checking more thoroughly.

Here was something to interest GAL 2 CHAPT 12 OUT OF THE Sergeant Dolan. Cilly thought. Here was something which would take his mind off the case he was trying to build around Jim Kerrigan. Here was absolute proof that someone in the house had murdered Amy!

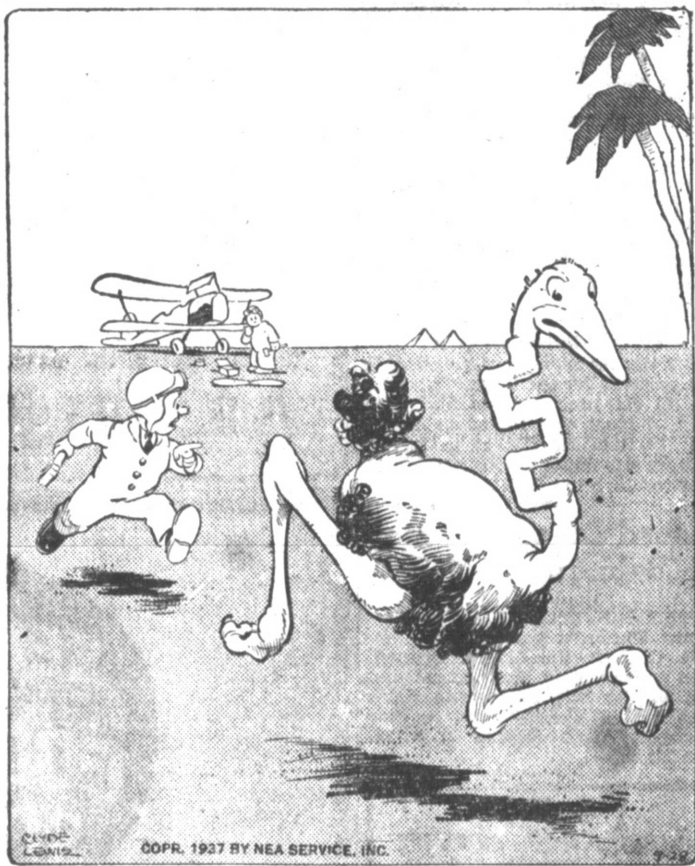

Why had she so impulsively destroyed the piece of newspaper clipping which had fallen from Amy's lifeless finger? Cilly wished she had it now, to mark it "Exhibit A" and tie it up with these newspapers from upstairs. But perhaps the timetable which Dolan had used in Amy's bag, so definitely marked to indicate the same place, would be sufficient. Cilly caught a whiff of burning omelet; she hurried into the kitchen. She could sit down to dinner now with less of the heavy dread which had dulled her digestion all day. She could enjoy the omelet and the cantaloupe. For Jim was free of the encircling web of circumstance and suspicion!

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

LONDON POLICEMEN ARE CALLED "BOBBIES" BECAUSE THE FIRST LONDON POLICE FORCE WAS REORGANIZED BY SIR ROBERT PEEL.

THIS INSECT DOES NOT ENTER PEOPLE'S EARS
 ALTHOUGH IT IS KNOWN IN VARIOUS COUNTRIES AS EAR-WIG, EAR-WORM, EAR-BORER, EAR-ENTERER, EAR-TWISTER AND EAR-PIERCER.

ANCIENT EGYPTIANS, OF WEALTH, PLACED GROUND-UP EMERALDS IN A FIRE, AND INHALED THE SMOKE AS A CURE FOR VARIOUS AILMENTS

THE little ear-wig seems to be the innocent victim of a misunderstanding. It may have come by its ear-entering reputation from its habit of creeping into crevices to escape light, or, according to some authorities, the name is a corruption of ear-wig, which may have been the insect's original name, because of the likeness of its wings to a human ear.

GRAY FAIR AWARDS DOUBLE OVER 1936

Gray county exhibitors at the Amarillo Tri-State fair this year won twice the amount of awards as they did last year. County Agent Ralph M. Thomas, said today. Cash received by exhibitors from this county this year was $21.75 as compared with $10 in 1936.

Mr. Thomas brought back from Amarillo Saturday, the Gray county exhibits.

Alanoed was the home of five of Gray county winners, four were from McLean, one was from Pampa and one from Laketon.

PUBLIC NOTICE

To the Citizens of the City of Pampa:

You are hereby notified that the City Commission of the City of Pampa has heretofore appointed the undersigned Zoning Commission, as required by law, looking to the passage and adoption of a suitable zoning ordinance for the City of Pampa and that said Zoning Commission has prepared a proposed zoning ordinance for said city and that a public hearing will be held in the City Commission room of the City Hall of the City of Pampa at 10 a. m. on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1937, for the purpose of giving all parties in interest and citizens of Pampa an opportunity to be heard with reference to said proposed ordinance, which proposed ordinance divides the City of Pampa into zones or districts and regulates the location, size, height and bulk and use of buildings and property within such zones or districts and establishes building lines within such zones and makes different regulations for different districts and provides for a Board of Adjustment and for methods of amendment thereto, and prescribes penalties for violation thereof. Every citizen of Pampa is hereby notified and is invited to attend this hearing.

Witness our hands at Pampa, Tex., this 28th day of September, A. D. 1937.

J. S. WYNNE,
 MACK GRAHAM,
 JOHN I. BRADLEY,
 Zoning Commission, City of Pampa.

INSANITY CASES NO JAIL PROBLEM HERE

Reports that many Texas jails contain persons adjudged insane and that in some cases this condition brings over-crowding of jails, does not apply to Gray county's jail, County Judge Sherman White said this morning.

There is only one person adjudged insane in the jail now. One other person is to have a hearing for insanity.

Officers of the sheriff's department said that there are now 20 prisoners in the jail. The number of bunks is 27.

ORBA MYATT TAKES JOB AS ASSISTANT MANAGER

New assistant manager of the Ritz theater in Wellington is Orba Myatt, formerly of Pampa. Mr. Myatt began work in Wellington last week, coming to that place from Oklahoma City. He succeeded Bill Hurd, who was transferred to a theater in Berger. Hurd had been in Wellington 18 months.

Mr. Myatt was for four years an employe of a theater in Pampa, before he was transferred to Oklahoma City.
