Many football teams are throwing the pigskin around this season as if it were a basketball. So the Harvesters can start their floor training right now.

A fellow keeps asking us: "Did you ever stop to think—?"
Answer: No, we have to do our thinking on the run if at all.

Pampa is becoming entertainment conscious. Any novel idea draws huge crowds when THE NEWS announces it. Truly a novel stage show will be "Gold in the Hills, or the Dead Sister's Secret."

"Fill the poor bachelor," asks the Plainsman in the Lubbock Journal, "when he wants to brag and has no audience." If he were rich, we assume, he would have an audience.

Germany wants us to know her people didn't start the war. And France is wondering who really won the war, anyhow.

Russia wants to buy billions of dollars worth of goods on credit. Following defaults by France and half a dozen other capitalistic nations on war debts, Uncle Sam will probably ponder over whether a communistic nation would do any better.

Do—Buy.
DON'T—cry.

BEVOTRIALS
Not infrequently, judges have sent reporters and cameramen to jail for contempt of court when they sought to make too thorough a coverage of a trial.

It is an innovation of more than ordinary importance, then, when Judge Edgar S. Vaughn, veteran federal judge at Oklahoma City, sets aside one corner of the crowded courtroom for a battery of news and newsreel camera axes. Judge Vaughn spoke as follows:

"At the suggestion of the Attorney General of the United States and with apologies to no one, the court here has permitted facilities for the widest publicity in this case, with the hope that it will have a tendency to deter crime in the future. . . . The pictures of criminals, chained before the bar of justice, will do much to stamp out kidnaping. Those who can't get into this courtroom should know what is going on, through the newspapers. America wants no secret trials, no secret prosecutions of accused persons."

Judge Vaughn teaches a Sunday school class. He differs radically from those who think newspapers give too much space to such trials.

Child Labor Laws.
While Texas has a legitimate use for its children in the cotton picking seasons and makes arrangements for the picking not to interfere with their schooling, it is regrettable that the child labor amendment as it affects sweat-shop child labor cannot be approved by this state. Only the national recovery act has proved effective in limiting harmful child labor, and it must be regarded as temporary. When the loss of the child's job means hardship to the family, the recovery administration has accepted the responsibility of meeting the emergency. The recovery program is seeking to establish a 16-year minimum age for employment. It is a worthy goal, and one that relief programs should make possible.

Relative Values.

THREE GUESSES

ICKES ORDERS PRICE PEGGING FOR INDUSTRY

FORECAST GASOLINE TO BE TWO CENTS HIGHER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—An elaborate schedule for minimum oil prices today launched the government on its first NRA price-fixing effort.

Secretary Ickes, oil administrator, ordered the minimum levels which become effective December 1. Some oil sources immediately forecast gasoline prices one to two cents higher.

In approving the recommendations of the industry's planning and coordination committee, Ickes said "competitive abuses have created an emergency which threatens the stability of the interstate market for petroleum and the products thereof." He added:

"Their continuance and further spread will make it impossible to fulfill the purposes of the NIRA and the code of fair competition for the petroleum industry."
The base level of 36 gravity mid-continent crude petroleum was set at $1.11 a barrel with other prices ranging according to quality. Differences were set throughout the whole field.

Ickes said objectors will be given a hearing.
TULSA, Oct. 17. (AP)—The signal still is "up" for the mid-continent's oil elevator.

Minimum prices promulgated by Secretary Ickes, effective December 1, mean an additional 11 cents a barrel for most of the mid-continent's crude. A marked ascent has been under way for several months.

Gasoline prices, too, are higher. The Washington announcement sets 6 1/2 cents a gallon as the rate for midcontinent 60-64 octane, now selling between 4 1/2 and 4 3/4 cents on a sluggish market.

Merchants Will Visit Tonight at Webb School

With good weather in prospect, it is hoped that many business men will accept the invitation of the Webb community to attend a social gathering there tonight.

The local group will leave from the city hall at 7 p. m. Intercommunity relations committees of the chambers of commerce will be in charge of the trip.

City Hall To Be Closed Saturdays At One O'Clock

Most offices in the city hall will be closed each Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, it was decided by the city commission last night. The step will save expense for lights and heat.

The city commission adjourned early so that members could participate in the delinquent tax mass meeting in the auditorium. They told the crowd that delinquent taxes total $72,000 and that to pay them up to date would make possible a decrease in the tax rate for next year. However, about $15,000 of the taxes is on the list of insolvent firms.

MONEY WILL BE AVAILABLE SOON

Government Sets Up Commodity Credit Corporation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Organization of the commodity credit corporation was completed today and announcement made by its officers that loans of 10 cents per pound to cotton producers on the unsold portion of their crop this year will become available this week.

The corporation, chartered in Delaware, was organized to carry out President Roosevelt's program for making loans to cotton growers.

Lynn P. Talley, assistant to the directors of the reconstruction finance corporation, was named as president; Oscar Johnston, director of finance for the farm administration, vice president, and J. E. Wagoner, Jr., assistant cooperative bank commissioner of the farm credit administration, secretary-treasurer.

Directors in addition to Talley and Johnston are: Secretary Wallace; farm administrator George N. Peek; Governor Henry Morganthau, Jr., of the farm credit administration; Stanley F. Reed, general counsel of the farm credit administration; and E. B. Schwulst, special assistant of the reconstruction corporation.

An explanation of the fiscal set-up and the arrangements for making loans was issued after the organization meeting.

The entire capital stock of $3,000,000 for the corporation was subscribed by the secretary of agriculture and Morganthau with funds allocated by the president under the Bankhead amendment to the National Recovery Act. An initial loan of $250,000,000 from the Reconstruction Corporation was arranged for making loans to cotton producers and additional funds will be available if needed.

More than 1,000,000 note forms and loan agreements, together with regulations governing the loans, went to the government printing office today and the first of these will be distributed before the end of the week to County Agricultural Extension agents and lending agencies of the Reconstruction Corporation located at federal reserve points in the south including cities with federal reserve branch banks.

Tammany Hall Wonders If Al Smith Will Aid

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Tammany hall, fighting the most potent threat to its power in years, will open its formal mayoral campaign tonight with its strategists groping for an answer to the all-important question:

"Will Al Smith come to the rescue of the organization?"
Tammany had no word as to whether former Governor Smith would appear tonight at the opening rally for Mayor John P. O'Brien at "the hall." Some of Smith's intimates were of the opinion that he would not appear.

The campaigns of Tammany's two foes, fusion and the recovery party, continued to get up steam today. Parading in Queens were streams of red fire last night, Flourens LaGuardia, fusion nominee, accused the city government of bilking small home owners to hand tax cuts to big property owners.

TEXAS IN LINE

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad commission, said today the commission was considering steps to bring Texas petroleum production within allocations set by Secretary of the Interior Ickes.

Word is expected daily to give all men who registered at the United States employment office here work on highway projects, but up to this time only men on the relief rolls can be employed on highways and lateral road work. The local employment office has been criticized for not putting more men to work, but the office cannot overrule orders from Washington and Austin.

MRS SHANNON AT TENNESSEE PRISON FARM

"George will see me at Christmas," Mrs. Kelly told officers, "He told me he would break out Christmas and get me out. He always does what he says he will."

The next minute, however, the Auburn-haired wife of the desperado was weeping.

"Mother is so sweet, so innocent," she cried. "I'm worried only about her."
The two women, both facing life sentences for their part in the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, arrived from Oklahoma City shortly before 7 a. m.

"Brutal To Me"
Mrs. Kelly boarded a passenger train and departed for Cincinnati at 7:50 a. m., and her mother was removed to the Shelby county penal farm where she will serve her sentence.

En route to Memphis, Mrs. Kelly was overheard telling Mrs. Shannon:

"Mother, I can really be a good woman when I want to. They think I am a bad woman."
"Kathryn," her mother answered, "I've always been a good woman. I wouldn't know how to be otherwise."

"They were brutal to me in Oklahoma City. That officer who slapped me at the trial, was mean. I was inhuman."
She expressed regret she and her mother could not serve at the same prison.

To Sewing Room
Mrs. Shannon of Paradise, Texas, entered the Shelby county penal farm today to begin a life sentence for her part in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping after placing the blame for her plight upon George "Machine Gun" Kelly, her son-in-law.

Kathryn Kelly, her daughter, she said, "loved George Kelly, and we all believed in him—he brought us to this."
Portending her innocence and asserting that she has been a church member all her life, she said "they couldn't find a thing in my past life that wasn't fair and square."

Told that she would be required to work in the sewing room of the penal farm, Mrs. Shannon protested that "I can't run a machine," and then asked:

"Can I wear my own clothes there? I've never been in prison before."
"They've crucified me," she said. "They are pinning me to the cross for something I don't know anything about."
"The only thing we're guilty of is having too much confidence in other people."

Jailer Offered $15,000

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—County Jailer E. Herron said today that Mrs. Kathryn Kelly, wife of "Machine Gun" Kelly, promised him $15,000 if he would permit her to escape last night just before she was taken from the jail to a train en route to federal prison. Herron promptly rejected the offer.

"Let me call a number, take me a block away and a man will pay you $15,000," he said Mrs. Kelly offered.
After he rejected the offer, the jailer said Kathryn pleaded with him to let her have a saw so she could cut her way through a barred window and take a chance on making her way across a machine-gun guarded courtyard.

ARMISTICE DAY ADVOCATED FOR 'HOME-COMING' Parade

SEVERAL graduates of Pampa high school in other years have conceived the idea of a home-coming for the old grads at the Armistice day game with Amarillo Nov. 1.

The suggestion is to have the "graduates stage a big parade because of the carrying numbers being given the year of their graduation. Such local men as R. C. Wilson, Judge Viry Duncan, D. B. Jameson, and Charlie Duengel are interested.

Anyone else who approves the idea is asked to call Mr. Wilson, who is county auditor.

School officials are eager to gather information concerning old-time graduates. Records prior to the present administration are very incomplete. Blanks for taking information are being prepared.

Radio Cowboys, It's 'Dog-Gie' And Not 'Dog-Gie'

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—Out in the wide open spaces, they're squirming in their saddles, metaphorically speaking, because the singers won't, or can't, pronounce an ordinary range term.

It should be "do-gie," long O not "dog-gie," in the familiar refrain, "Git along little dogie, git along, git along." J. Frank Doble, author of various books on range lore and a member of the University of Texas faculty, is the authority.

TEXAS WARNED TO CUT OIL FLOW BY 615,000 BARRELS

SHARP REPLY GIVEN HITLER BY DALADIER

TALKS BACK TO NAZI LEADER IN TENSE SESSION

PARIS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Premier Daladier, calm but grim, today answered Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany by questioning the Reich's reasons for withdrawing from the disarmament conference.

The premier arose in a tense crowded chamber of deputies and slowly demanded from the rostrum:

"Why, if Germany is ready to destroy all armaments, why do they withdraw from the conference just when we drafted a plan?"

The premier was so pre-occupied that by mistake he took the stairs leading to the president's higher desk. The chamber laughed at this, relieving the strain.

M. Daladier talked back to Hitler in his opening phrase.

He referred to "the grave events of the past days Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations and Germany's withdrawal from the arms conference," and then announced that France again was ready to talk disarmament at Geneva October 26.

The premier told the chamber that the government would make the economic plan a matter of confidence.

Replying to the German chancellor, the premier said:

"We are not deaf to any proposals, but neither are we blind to any act."
"If one seeks an agreement, why begin with rupture? Why not accept an honest disarmament plan?"

"If Germany is ready to destroy her arms down to the last rifle and to the last machine gun, why not accept a plan which could assure an effective disarmament?"

Repeating to the German chancellor, the premier said:

"We are not deaf to any proposals, but neither are we blind to any act."

FEDERAL ACTION IS THREATENED NOVEMBER 1

Ickes Names States Not Conforming To Figures

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today he would take federal action to prevent oil over-production in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, if the states themselves by November 1, do not cut production to the amounts allotted.

By wife, he notified the railroad commission of Texas, and the corporation's commissions of Kansas and Oklahoma of their excess production.

Texas overproduction was placed at 615,000 barrels; the Kansas over-production 300,000 barrels; and Oklahoma overproduction 440,000 barrels.

The period covered was from September 8 to 30.

"Immediate steps will be taken to adjust current crude production to the allowable effective September 8 to October 1." The secretary said.

"Sufficient time has elapsed for the industry to adjust itself to the new rate of operations and full consideration has been given to the difficulties of conforming promptly with the prescribed allocations."

"A proper balance of supply and demand is essential to stabilization of the petroleum industry under the oil code.

"The industry and the public expect production allowances to be rigidly enforced and I shall take every step necessary to that end," Ickes declared.

"I am confident that a vast majority of the units in the industry as well as all state regulatory bodies, will cooperate fully in this effort."

"To prevent a disruption of the program by a small majority, the announcement is made now that on November 1, 1933, the authority vested in me to curtail shipments in interstate commerce will be exercised with respect to such states as have not cut actual production since September 8 down to the permissible quotas."

"I should regret the necessity for taking this step, but I deem it essential to preserve the stability of the industry as a whole, and to safeguard the rights of those states and those producers who have complied with the allocations."

HAVANA, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Grau government today ordered the imprisonment without bond of former President Gerardo Machado and 38 of his associates under the regime which collapsed last August.

The government, facing dissension within its own ranks, turned its attention to the former president, now in exile in Canada, and the others through the recently named "national court of sanctions."

This court ratified charges ranging from homicide to a malversation of funds filed against the former president and his associates last August by Jose Garcilaso, a lawyer.

JONES TO LAY CORNER STONE ON THURSDAY

CEREMONY TO BE HELD AT 2 O'CLOCK— BAND TO PLAY

THE CORNERSTONE of the new Pampa postoffice will be laid with appropriate ceremonies at 2 p. m. Thursday. Congressman Marvin Jones will represent the government and make the principal speech. He is in Amarillo now.

Arrangements for the occasion were completed by Postmaster D. E. Cecil in conversation with Mr. Jones in Amarillo this morning.

A local committee will be named to assist with the ceremony, in which the stone will be laid by Mr. Jones, Mayor W. A. Bratton, and Mr. Cecil, as originally planned. The high school band will play and students of the high school will be allowed to miss their 2 o'clock classes in order to be present.

Boy Scouts will assist the police in handling the big crowd.

The ceremony was postponed when Mr. Jones could not leave Washington early last week. He is credited with speeding up construction by several years under the federal building program.

Pecora Quizzes Albert Wiggin On Chase Bank

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—When Albert H. Wiggin retired early this year as chairman of the Chase National bank, he left behind a job paying $202,000 a year and bonuses; but the bank's executive committee voted to give him $100,000 annually for life.

He told about it today in the senate stock market investigation, in answers to questions by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, and Senator Couzens (R., Mich.).

For a long time in the semi-filled senate caucus room the examination had dwelt on details of the bank affairs and those of its affiliate, the Chase Securities corporation.

Wiggin named John D. Rockefeller Jr. as the largest stockholder of the bank, but did not mention the amount held.

He told of over six billion dollars in securities having been handled by the corporation, with 5.88 per cent in default.

Speaking in a deep voice, he related work handled by him in connection with flotation of German loans; and said he last time he went abroad—It was in 1923—the German debt to all American banks was between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000,000.

Tartars Charged
In Extortion Plot
Admissions that they attempted to extort $125 from Bob Sanford, local man, have been made to federal authorities in Amarillo by J. W. Tarter and J. D. Tarter, brothers.

In a confession here, J. W. Tarter told county officers that he was mostly at fault and that, although his brother knew of the plot, he advised against it.

Charges were prepared by M. B. Johnson, postal inspector, who interviewed the Tarter brothers in the Gray county jail.

AN INQUIRY THAT MAY NOT GO VERY FAR

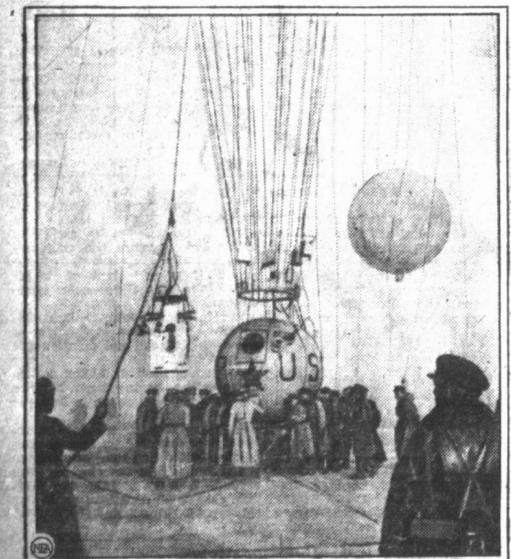

The Legislature has ordered an investigation of reported violations of the anti-nepotism laws in various departments of the State government. The charge has been made that department chiefs make a practice of exchanging courtesies. That is, one chief employs a relative of another chief and in return gets a similar favor in the form of a job for one of his own relations.

It may be regarded as certain that the investigators will find ample evidence to support these charges. They will likely discover instances of entire families on the State payroll. Of course, there will be some injustices in isolated cases, but there is no justification for some practices which have grown up. During prosperous times, little attention was paid to these conditions. Jobs were plentiful and if three or four members of a single family had good State jobs, there was no complaint. Changed conditions in recent years have served to bring into relief a condition that certainly needs correction.

In order to completely correct the condition some changes in the law will be necessary, and even then violations will occur as long as appointments are made on a purely patronage basis. There are objections to a civil service for State employes, but cases of nepotism will occur until an independent agency has charge of the employment of the majority of employes, especially those whose duties are purely clerical.

But when the investigation is completed, corrective legislation is not likely to get beyond a committee. Members of the Legislature have been known to take some interest in the distribution of jobs around Austin. It is not rare to find relatives and close political friends of Representatives and Senators holding appointments in various departments. Hence, the possibility of a thorough airing of this subject of nepotism and near-nepotism is rather remote.—Vernon Record.

that it is not right for one human being to hold another in slavery. A thing so revolting to the conscience of mankind will not stand.

George N. Peck, administrator of the agricultural adjustment act, recently called the food situation in this country about as bad. "We have had storehouses jammed with food and homeless men and women picking stuff to eat out of garbage cans right in the same towns," he said. "We have had farmers dumping milk and children in cities only a few miles away fainting from hunger at their school desks. It has been an economic nightmare of people starving because there was too much of everything. Abraham Lincoln said this nation cannot endure half slave and half free; it is just as true that this nation cannot endure half gored and half starved."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—The stock market, erratic in early transactions, turned sharply upward in the latter part of today's session following a spirited rally in grains as Chicago. While the trading volume was rather restricted on the recovery, leading issues retained gains of 1 to 3 or more points and some spurted around 7. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 2,500,000 shares.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Waves of buying orders rushed wheat, corn and oats prices up late today to the extreme limits allowed for any 24-hour period. Official statements the federal government agencies were purchasing at many cities large wheat supplies for food relief purposes had an electric effect on all the grain pits here. Trade became of enormous volume, with wheat rising 5 cents above yesterday's finish, corn up 4 cents and oats 3 cents. AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—Police Sergeant W. M. Stuart was thrown beneath the truck wheels. He was taken immediately to a hospital and physicians operated in an attempt to save his life. Police said the truck, marked as property of the United States army, stopped a few minutes, then drove off. Late tonight, officers had not been able to locate it. L. G. MOTHER AND SON HELD FOR 19-YEAR OLD KILLING OF FATHER

'Kidnap' Victim Influences Man To Release Him

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—William Walton Hall was reunited with his family today while federal and state authorities investigated his story of having been kidnaped by three men who first demanded ransom of $15,000 and later reduced it to $9,000 only to release him without obtaining anything.

His bedraggled appearance and fatigued condition when he appeared at a tavern operated by a friend late last night bore out the truth of his story, relatives said despite earlier assertions by his business partner, Harry de Lisle, that he doubted if the 31-year-old law student had actually been kidnaped.

Later federal agents took Hall and his wife to a $200,000 Freeport, Ill., estate, and his attorney, J. G. Timmer, to headquarters for questioning.

The story told by Hall was that the trio approached him last Friday night as he was driving away in his automobile after attending a class at the Kent College of Law and forced him to accompany them to a house where they held him prisoner until shortly before he appeared last night.

His release, he said, was effected when he spent all day Sunday impressing upon the lone jailer left to guard him, the seriousness of the crime of kidnaping. Last night he said the other two returned, blindfolded him and put him out of their machine after driving around less than an hour.

PAIR ACCUSES EACH OTHER IN RURAL CRIME

ANOTHER SON DEMANDS ARRESTS AFTER DISCLOSURE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 17 (AP)—The bizarre details of a backwoods slaying, kept secret 19 years, were coming to light, the authorities said today, with a mother and her son each accusing the other of killing the son's father, John Novak.

Joseph Novak, about 36, was held for Marinette, Wis., authorities who said a first degree murder warrant naming him would be issued. He was found on a street here last night.

Mrs. Evelyn Novak, his 64-year-old mother, was in custody at Mt. Clemens, Mich. She faces a charge of being an accessory.

Another son, Henry, with whom she lived at Van Dyke, Mich., was responsible for her detention.

He informed Michigan authorities that his mother recently told him for the first time the real fate of his father. Marinette authorities were notified and the warrants asked.

Joseph was arrested here last March on a minor charge. Acting Captain of Detectives Adolph Kraemer said Joseph accused his mother of killing his father 19 years ago on their farm near Dunbar, Wis., 65 miles northwest of Marinette.

Kraemer quoted him as saying he found his father lying on a bench in a shed, a bloody hammer lying nearby. Joseph and his mother hitched a horse to the body, said Kraemer's report, dragged it to a brush pile in a wooded section of the farm and burned it. No substantiating evidence was found and he was released last September 11.

A Van Dyke truck driver however recently learned of Joseph's detention and told Henry, who had left home before his father disappeared. He confronted his mother, now quite feeble, with the story.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

SYNOPSIS: By chance Caroline Leigh has found her cousin, Jim Randall. He tells her a fantastic story: claimed as husband by Nesta Riddell, he is told by Nesta that he stole the famous Van Berg emeralds and shot Eimer Van Berg. The worst is that Jim cannot remember the immediate past, except in flashes—and one of the flashes shown him drinking with Van Berg, and the emeralds in Van Berg's hand! Perhaps he did shoot the man, Jim tells Caroline. Caroline refuses to believe it, and plans to track down Nesta's marriage record. She leaves Jim in Hale Place, his old home, but closed for the last few years.

Chapter 24 TO LONDON

Caroline caught the seven-thirty to London. All the time she and Jim were getting into Hale Place, while he was pulling down the blankets and she was saying someone might see her if she came half by day, she was concocting a secret plan.

In the end she ran away because she was afraid that he would guess what she meant to do. She thought he would have guessed if he hadn't been stupid with fatigue. She thought he was like a man half drugged. That was why he hadn't guessed; and it was lucky for her, because if he had guessed, he would have tried to stop her, and she meant to go.

It was past 9 o'clock when she came back to the cottage. The gate was unfastened and the door stood wide open as she had left it. If Patsy Ann had only known! To Patsy there was always a burglar round the next corner.

Caroline undressed and lay down in her great-grandmother's embroidered quilt, but she did not sleep. She was too flooded with joy to sleep. Her hands still kept the touch of Jim's hands; her ears still rang with all the sounds of his voice. She had no time to fall asleep.

At six she dressed, went tiptoe down the stairs, made tea, and boiled herself an egg. Then she wrote on the slate, "Gone to town," and propped it up against the bowl of fruit in the middle of the gate-leg table; after which she set out to walk four miles across the fields to Hinton, where she caught the train.

She had the compartment to herself as far as Ledington, where it filled up. She wondered what she would do if Nesta Riddell were to get in. How dare she say Jim was her husband? It was the most unbelievable, impudent thing. Caroline tripped up over her own word.

This wasn't unbelievable, because she had done it. The unbelievable thing was that she should claim a stranger. Had she? If it was unbelievable, then Caroline didn't believe it. Then he wasn't a stranger. Where did this take her. She had a terrified sense of having betrayed herself and Jim.

She pushed the word that had tripped her right out of her mind and shut the door on it. She had not got to account for what Nesta Riddell had done. She had only to go to the Grove Road registry office and see James Riddell's name in a stranger's writing. That would prove that Nesta was lying, and that Jim was free. It was the easiest thing in the world, and she felt that she couldn't bear to see Jim again until she had the proof that it was not he who had signed the register as Nesta Riddell's husband.

The train jugged along. It stopped at every station, but after Ledington the compartment was too full to take in any more passengers.

There was an old woman with a string bag full of vegetables and an enormous sheaf of cottage flowers—crimson poppies, red and yellow single, dahlias, full-brown cabbage roses, and clove carnations which scented the whole compartment.

She had a crushed black straw hat on the back of her head, a black Cashmere dress, and a thick black the name Van Berg than everyone had something to say.

"It's a queer thing they don't seem to catch the man that shot Mr. Van Berg," she said, and the schoolboy emerged from his thriller with a jerk.

"They say they've got a clue," he began.

"That doesn't mean vrey much," said the old man. He tapped his pipe. "The sort of thing they say to keep the public quiet—like throwing a bone to a dog."

The girl with the large blue eyes rolled them at the sky young man and giggled.

The stout woman fanned herself. "I was up at the Hall yesterday—" "Packham Hall?" said both Miss Borings together.

The stout woman nodded.

"Cook's my brother's second cousin-in-law, and I took her over a couple of pots of honey. The shop stuff's that watered down she don't relish it, so I took her some of mine—never been before where they didn't keep their own bees, and don't like it."

"And then to have a murder, or next door to it, well, she don't think she'll stay—such an upset, and not what she's used to. Why, when she heard the shot, she come over that queer she couldn't have got out of bed, not if it had been the house on fire."

"Mrs. Rogers," she says—that being my name—Mrs. Rogers, I give you my solemn identical word, I just pulled the clothes over my head and waited to see if I was going to be murdered in my bed. She don't look her right color yet."

"I don't know how I should feel if I was to hear someone being shot in the middle of the night," said the young married woman.

"I know what you'd do," said her husband—"pinch me, same as you're doing now."

The girl giggled, and the Miss Borings coughed.

"Ah!" said Mrs. Rogers. "It isn't everyone that's got someone to pinch. I'm a widow myself, and so's Mrs. Henry that I've been talking you about. Her 'usband was a policeman, so it doesn't put her about having the police in and out and all over the place, as you might say—and maybe she'd got told a thing or two as she wouldn't have got told if it weren't for her 'usband's official position."

Everyone leaned forward a little. The shy young man burst into speech.

"Did she tell you whom they suspected?"

Mrs. Rogers shook her head.

"Were there any finger prints?" said the schoolboy. "They'll get him if there were."

"Ah!" said Mrs. Rogers darkly. "Well, I don't know as I ought to say, but seeing as we're all friends here—" She paused, fanning herself.

Caroline caught the inside of her lip between her teeth. Her hands held each other hard. A general murmur encouraged Mrs. Rogers to proceed.

"Well, it's something as hasn't got into the papers—I can tell you that—and everyone in the house told not to say a word. They'd have kept them from knowing if so be they could, but when there's a tray and glasses took for finger prints, there's going to be talk in the servants' hall whether or no."

"Ah—" said the old man with the beard.

Caroline's grip relaxed a trifle. She knew this already; it was what

Jim had told her. But then it meant—it meant he had remembered right!

Called 'Fatty,' Girl Kills Self

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Mary Jane Dane, 17, weighed 200 pounds, and because she weighed so much the other girls called her "Fatty," and because of that she killed herself.

It took her a week to reach the decision, a week in which she remained away from high school and away from gibes and taunts, her parents unknown.

When a card came from her principal Saturday, asking why Mary Jane was absent, she pocketed it before her mother could see it. Then she engaged a room away from home and called herself Dian Whitman.

They found her body yesterday, a note which told her mother that she was sorry.

30 SOULS AND TWO WOMEN

NEW YORK—The old superstition about women bringing bad luck to sailin' gessels is shattered, says Alan Villiers, author, who took part in this year's grain race from Australia to England on the bark Parma. Seventeen ships made the 15,000 mile passage and the race was the most successful in history. This despite the fact that five women made the race. "We carried two women on the Parma," he said. "The old man said we had thirty souls aboard and two women."

Mrs. C. W. Harris of Colorado Springs is spending this week with friends in Pampa.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO PLAY CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF!

DENSMORE SHUTE—Britons gasped and gaped when he won the 1933 British Open over St. Andrews' dejected fairways and angry bunkers. Golf prophets say Shute will line up with Golf Immortals. Answering a question, Shute recently said: "I have tried all the brands, and long ago found that Camels are milder, and what is even more important to any golfer, they do not jangle the nerves."

TOMMY ARMOUR—Often called "Wizard of the Irons," Armour has won a flock of championships, including the U. S. Open in 1927, the P. G. A. in 1930, the British Open in 1931. Tommy knows his golf and his cigarettes. "What do I think of Camels? They are my brand and have been for years. I smoke a lot but I must be sure that my nerves are healthy and my head's clear—that's why I prefer Camels"

GENE SARAZEN—This great golfer began his winning ways in 1922 when he became U. S. Open Champion. He has been a consistent tournament winner ever since. This year he won his third P. G. A. Championship. On the subject of cigarettes Sarazen says: "I agree with Shute and Armour—I smoke Camels, too. They always taste good—and they never interfere with my nerve control."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

Men and women whose work and play demand healthy nerves and level heads prefer Camels. Active people agree that they can smoke these fine-flavored, milder cigarettes without fear of jangling their nerves.

Another thing about active people—they are pretty generally steady smokers... And, as anyone who smokes Camels will tell you, you can smoke as many of these cigarettes as you want—and never have a "cigarette" aftertaste. The last cigarette at night tastes as good as the first in the morning, if you smoke Camels.

Try a package of Camels today... Enjoy the superior flavor of their costlier tobaccos. If you are a steady smoker you will appreciate the fact that Camels never get on your nerves, never tire your taste.

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. You will find Camels rich in flavor and delightfully mild.

Girl Finds Tech Loom Profitable

LUBBOCK, Oct. 17.—At least one student of Texas Technological college has embarked in business for herself with one of the hand looms being sponsored by the textile department and President Bradford Knapp.

She took a course the past summer in the textile department in the operation of the loom. Now she is manufacturing ties for the trade.

So far she has found a ready market for her products and she hopes to build up a good business, one that will be more remunerative than teaching school.

She operates the loom in her home in Lubbock, and weaves piece goods, novelty bags, and women's hats as sidelines.

I continued taking Cardui for a while. I cannot begin to tell how much good it did me, and how glad I was to be rid of the pain."

Veterans Want Entertainment At C. C. C. Camp

Former soldiers now "digging in" for the winter at the Palo Duro C. C. C. camp would welcome entertainment furnished by this community.

So said T. J. Odell, local man who is at camp. Music, readings, and any other form of entertainment will be welcomed.

Most programs begin at 7:30 and 8 o'clock in the evenings. Transportation from Amarillo to the camp can be provided by the veterans. Many visitors arrive in time to eat with the men. The food is good, the local man said.

CITY FINANCES DISCUSSED AT OPEN MEETING

Business, Professional Women Sponsor Forum

City finances were discussed before an interested audience last evening in an open meeting sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club at the city hall auditorium.

Outstanding items in the city budget were presented by Clyde Fatheree, city commissioner, who explained that operating expenses of the city have been reduced by a large sum since 1931, but that bonded indebtedness accounts for the large part of municipal expenditure.

He spoke of the large tax delinquency, saying that the city expects to collect eventually practically all taxes due on real estate, but will probably lose much assessed against personal property.

J. N. Duncan spoke as a taxpayer. Bond debts voted in times of prosperity are hard to meet at present, he said, but since they were contracted in good faith tax payers must make every effort to meet them.

Mrs. Glen Pool, speaking for the sponsoring club, urged cooperation with city officials in their drive to collect past due taxes.

The meeting was arranged by the public relations committee of the club, of which Mrs. Alex Schneider is chairman.

Members Tell of Plans at Meeting of Laketon Club

"What I enjoyed at the county achievement day, and things I have for our 4-H party achievement day," were told by members of Laketon Home Demonstration club in answer to roll call Monday afternoon. Mrs. E. C. Murrell was hostess.

Making and scoring butter was demonstrated by Miss Ruby Adams county agent. She said 30 or 40 minutes should be spent churning to have a good quality of butter.

Miss Adams gave a method for storing butter. The cream must be pasteurized—heated to 145 or 155 degrees—then cooled quickly to churning temperature, 62 degrees. Then it is churned and washed, and a tablespoon of salt added for each pound of butter. If this is packed in a brine solution, there is no excuse for the family being without butter, the demonstrator said.

During the social hour Mrs. Murrell was asked to bring in a box of fair products from Miss Adams' car. The box proved to be filled with gifts for Miss Adams from the club.

The hostess served delicious punch and cookies to a new member, Mrs. Faucette Rudolph, and Mesdames Nettie Attaway, Lawton Hoffer, Clyde Gray, Leo Paris, H. I. Gillispie, M. L. Roberts, and Charles V. Talley.

Plans for a Halloween party and chili supper for husbands of club members will be completed at the next meeting, Oct. 19, when Mrs. Attaway will be hostess.

Miss Branford: I am told that some authors spend two years on one paragraph.

Pupil: That's nothin—I have an uncle who spent twenty years on one sentence.
John Meyer went sliding down a tree and tore his pants. By the way, John found the teeth he lost last week.

Miss Cariker told her English class to look in their appendix for a certain verb. Rather a cutting remark, wasn't it, teacher?
Herbert Reynolds: Miss McFarlin, do you know how to make Budweiser? Miss McFarlin: Well, er, ah, I don't think so, Herbert. That's simple; send him to school.

Mrs. Alexander fell for a locust the other day. Explanation: She fell out of a tree while chasing one.
We saw "Pieface" Gull before the premiere Friday defending his derby hat against the withering remarks made by two little freshman boys.

To the girls who were so inquisitive about the handsome young men at the volleyball game Thursday evening: See Hazel and Vivian Baker for full particulars.
Lost or stolen by a bum: Alice Butt's chewing gum.

Miss Durrenberger was observed carrying the best looking chocolate nut cake home to Miss Schultze. We suspect she had evil designs on that cake.
A sideline attraction at Thursday's volleyball game: Melba Williams turning somersaults.

Cotton Plantation Project Completed

A project representing a cotton plantation in the South was made last week by a group of pupils from Miss Durrenberger's second hour American history class.

Surrounded by what represented a split rail fence was a log cabin in the center of a cotton patch filled with small dolls dressed as negroes picking cotton. One little negro was at the well in front of the house, and a negro woman stood in the doorway of the cabin. A rake and hoe were in the yard, but they were not in use.

Dorothy Harris Is Drum Major

Dorothy Harris has been selected as drum major for the band, according to announcements made by Roy Wallrabenstein. The band and its major will perform on the field at the game next Saturday.

Officers were recently elected by the band, one of the busiest organizations in school. Wayne Larsh, who has played in the band four years, was chosen president. Charles Frazier, a new student who has been in the Amarillo band two years, is vice president and librarian. Dorothy Harris is secretary-treasurer. The band has 32 members this year. The band is undertaking a new thing this year, public concerts.

What Every Boy Should Know Is Meeting Subject

Every time the boys are called together to listen to a talk by Suppt. Fisher or Principal Sone they fear that they are in for a "bawling out," and just that many times they are wrong. Last Thursday afternoon the boys were called to such a meeting on the grass behind the high school.

The main point in having the boys meet was to familiarize them with the way in which the school system is carried on. Not only were they told how and who keeps up the school building but also how they themselves might help by refraining from marking on the walls and other such things.

In addition to this Mr. Fisher spent several minutes telling the boys just how much money it takes to run the school a year, which sounded like an enormous sum to most of us. By the time the meeting was over everyone had decided that there was no use being frightened and went back to class smiling.

SPORTS OF P. H. S.

Although the Harvesters lost their game with Shawnee last Friday, the score shows that they made a good game of it. Shawnee had a strong team, and it took a good team to hold them to such a low score.

It seems that there is more competition on the team this year than usual. Fans cannot tell from one week to the next—nor the coaches either—who will be in the starting lineup. Many of the second string men are coming to the front in a hurry, which looks bad for Amarillo.

Saturday we will have a chance, after two weeks, to see how good the Harvesters really are when they play Cisco here.

The Gorillas have been having their share of hard luck lately. In practice one day last week seven boys were injured—several came in with sprained ankles, one with a broken collar bone.

On top of all the injuries came the disappointment of losing to White Deer in their return game. They will meet the Amarillo Yaguans this week and have several hard work ahead of them. Coach Kark says that he is just trying to teach the boys the art of playing football, not how to win games.

Mrs. Horace Hawkins of Slaton left Worley hospital today after a recent operation.

Dean of Canyon College Women Speaks To Girls

Girls of the high school and their mothers were guests at a program presented last Thursday afternoon by the A. A. U. W. in the gymnasium. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women at West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

The program was opened with group singing of "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "The Eyes of Texas." Mrs. J. B. Mason, president of the A. A. U. W., discussed briefly the history and work of the organization. Miss Idelle Cox, the A. A. U. W. senior girl advisor, introduced Mrs. Green, who spoke on the prospects for girls in these times. Mrs. J. M. Dodson brought greetings from the P. T. A. and read "If for Girls." Miss Fannie May explained the conditions on which the annual scholarship is awarded. Girls desiring to work after school and on Saturday were invited to enroll in the A. A. U. W. employment bureau.

Negro School To Give Program At School Assembly

Students from the negro school under the direction of Sam Hayden will furnish the entertainment for assembly tomorrow morning at ten o'clock in the gymnasium.

The program will open with "Dixie," played by the band and sung by the entire school. The main feature will be singing by the negro boys and girls. Mr. Hayden will also give several readings. The public is invited.

The Low Shoulder Is A High Fashion

Paris has plenty of surprises in store for us this season, but the smartest of them all is the new dropped shoulder line with modified sleeve fullness below. Here it is created by a contrasting yoke which frames the face becomingly and crosses in front in a slenderizing line.

Slenderness is the theme, too, of the skirt which boasts diagonal and vertical seaming, back and front, to detract from the width at the hips. It's just the sort of frock that will attract the envious admiration of your friends at the smartest teas and bridges this fall.

Make it in black and white satin or in tobacco brown uncut velvet with pinky-beige crepe. Don't hesitate to buy lovely material. This is so easy to make that you are certain to have success. HUGHEY SAYS LAND BANKS ARE MAKING LOANS WITH UNUSUAL SPEED UNDER CREDIT MEASURE

Federal land banks are bending every effort to speed up appraisals and advance farm, necessary relief, in the opinion of I. B. Hughey, local representative.

In this connection, Mr. Hughey cited statements by Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, as follows: "I realize as well as you do that the job is a huge one and the responsibility is great. The land banks never before have been called on to do a job even comparable to this. Applications for loans received since the Emergency Farm Mortgage act was passed last May amount to about three-fourths of all the outstanding loans of the land bank system, which has been doing business since 1917.

"We can take some credit for the speed with which we have built up our organization to deal with this situation, but we can't take time out to pat each other on the back. With a backlog of some 185,000 applications for loans hanging over us and new ones coming in at the rate of 17,000 or more a week we are a long way from having the job licked yet.

"The fact that we have increased the number of appraisers at week from 210 when the law was passed to nearly ten times that number at present means little to the farmer who has been waiting 60 or 90 days to learn whether he can get a loan. He knows there has been delay; he doesn't know why and it wouldn't help him to pay his debts if he did. He wants action; and so do I. So, I believe, do you.

"We have been hiring appraisers and other help as fast as we thought the system could absorb them, but it hasn't absorbed them fast enough. We've got to take on men at an increased rate and train them efficiently. Every appraiser, every chief appraiser, every reviewing appraiser must seek and find ways to increase the output of appraisals—but it must be done without slighting the job of making an accurate and fair appraisal.

"What is a fair appraisal? Our answer to that question will determine how far we can go to help those whom we want to help. Congress has given us one word as a guide, leaving the rest to our experience and judgment. The word is "normal." Appraised value is to be "normal" value. In defining this word we have said that distress sales in these recent bad years do not fix normal and that neither do high sale prices of boom years. Normal value is somewhere between.

The Agricultural Adjustment act, passed by congress as a part of the same bill that included the Farm Mortgage act, indicates that the years 1909 to 1914 inclusive were years of normal price relations as between farm crops and consumers' goods. So we have been using farm commodity prices of 1904-14 as a principal guide in determining normal value of farms.

"A land bank loan has a maximum limit of 50 per cent of the appraised normal value of the land for agricultural purposes, plus 20 per cent of the value of permanent insured improvements. The purpose of that 50 per cent margin is to give protection against declines in value and these may be due either to special causes which affect the particular property or they may be due to price declines and bad business conditions that affect all farm property. In the midst of such a depression period it is illogical to impose the same strict rules as to farm earnings as a detriment to the farmer who would impose in a prosperous period. That would mean exacting a double margin of safety which would block us from lending to many able farmers who deserve credit. That was the reason for the phrase "normal value" in the act. It is the basis for the explanations we have given with respect to appraisals.

"It was to take care of experienced, capable farmers who stood in danger of losing their farms that the commissioner's fund of $200,000-

AGAIN Schlitz IS FIRST

22 Years Ago in Brown Bottles Now...in Enzyme Control

SCHLITZ introduced the famous Brown Bottle 22 years ago—and told the world that beer in white bottles exposed to sunlight for three minutes took on a stinky taste and became undrinkable.

Other brewers hooted and stomped but continued with their white bottles and continued to lose sales to SCHLITZ.

Now, many prominent brewers have adopted the Brown Bottle—thus admitting the scientific truth and compelling force of SCHLITZ statements—which had made such an indelible impression on the public.

BUT—as sensational as the Brown Bottle advertisements were, they are dwarfed by the latest announcement of SCHLITZ that they have solved a problem which has puzzled the industry for years—and that is Enzyme Control in the brewing process.

Enzymes digest malt, hops and yeast into solution. Unless the enzymatic activities are controlled skillfully—the result is a rank, indigestible beer.

SCHLITZ is brewed to a split second under a secret enzyme control—it is fully fermented at the brewery. It cannot ferment in your stomach to cause indigestion, flatulency, or discomfort otherwise. Try it today!

DOLFUSS EXPECTED TO INVOKE MARTIAL LAW IN AUSTRIA SOON

REVOLT PLOT AMONG NAZIS IS UNCOVERED

GOVERNMENT IS FACING MUTINY, PAPERS INTIMATE

VIENNA, Oct. 17 (AP)—The official government gazette "Weinzeitung" today front-paged an intimation that a declaration of martial law was expected soon.

Banner-lining "restoration of the death penalty," the paper indirectly approached the subject of martial law by pointing out that "there is an overwhelming popular demand for the restoration of the death penalty."

As a result of the uncovering of the plot, political police were in the midst of a widespread investigation in all garrisons and branches of the army.

Although the secret instructions of the socialist party for preparations in an Austria strike were not carried in any Vienna paper, they were named in the "Prager Tagblatt" which arrived this morning from Czechoslovakia.

Also from Czechoslovakia arrived an official communication that Foreign Minister Benes was departing from Geneva for Vienna for a conference with Chancellor Engelberg Dulfuss.

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

Well, it is no longer a mystery how the Shawnee Wolves keep their goal line from being crossed. They have not been scored on in 16 games and should send that number skyward before the season closes because most of their games are at home.

Shawnee has a nice ball club and don't let anyone tell you different. However, they are about three touchdowns from being in the class of the Harvesters.

Oh, well, what's the use of talking the game is over and another is coming up. I could go on and on about breaking relations with Oklahoma football teams, etc. Look what the Harvesters have gotten very fine this year.

It sounds as if Amarillo has a one-man football team—Captain Corbett. Texas university apparently has the same kind of a team and Nebraska stopped it.

EXPECT CISCO TO PUT UP A STRONG FIGHT

HARVESTERS WORKING ON PUNTING AND BLOCKING

The Harvesters quietly resumed training yesterday afternoon in preparation for the game with the Cisco Lobos here Saturday afternoon.

We have been meeting some of the greatest teams in the southwest while other teams have been playing setups.

Punting and blocking will be the major work of the Harvesters this week, although "considerable time" will be spent in polishing up a stronger offense.

The Lobos are being taken seriously, just like all other competition this season. Cisco is strong despite the fact that the eleven has lost a couple of early season games.

The Lobos will arrive here Thursday night or early Friday in time for a light workout at Harvester park.

Already the Harvesters are "living" the Amarillo game. Although the Sandies could be well run down by November 11 they probably won't be.

Some strike movements ebbed and others gained momentum in scattered industrial sectors today as mediators worked to compose labor-religion relations.

At Brockton, Mass., 1,300 employees of the W. L. Douglas Shoe company refused to go to work.

Exhorted by Governor Pinchot to cease "roving picketing," miners continued to return to collieries in the Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields.

In California, state and federal officials returned to harvest hands in the cotton and lettuce areas to return to work under temporary "truce" terms.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF GRAY. By virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable 31st district court of Gray County, on the 16th day of October, 1933, by Frank Hill, clerk of said court against E. J. Cobb for the sum of one thousand five hundred and forty dollars ($1,540.00).

DALHART FARM CREDIT AGENCIES WORKING AT TOP SPEED; LARGE NUMBER OF APPRAISALS FINISHED

DALHART, Oct. 17 (AP)—Activity of the combined farm credit administration agencies to speed up relief in the drought stricken area of the Panhandle of Texas is evidenced by the large number of appraisals completed last week of farm properties offered as security for Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commission loans.

According to Lawrence Ashby, secretary-treasurer of the Dalhart National Farm Loan Association, approximately $750,000 in applications are being handled to complete as promptly as humanly possible in order to meet the financial needs of the farmers in Dalhart, Hartley, Sherman and Moore counties.

A staff of appraisers is in the field in this district which has suffered two years of drought, and completed 51 appraisals in the seven days. "This is the largest number of appraisals handled in so short a time," Mr. Ashby said, "and reflects the desire of A. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, to expedite the handling and closing of loans."

Mr. Ashby estimated that approximately $200,000 of the amount applied for will go directly to relieve frozen assets of local banks. It is also estimated that a large amount of the cash will pay taxes which, in turn, will relieve county and school warrants now outstanding, and will also strengthen the financial condition of the local banks and add buying power to the entire drought district.

MRS. STARK ADDS FIRST EDITION OF KING JAMES BIBLE TO RARE BOOK COLLECTION AT UNIVERSITY

Pinchot Urges Strikers To Go Back To Mines

By The Associated Press. Some strike movements ebbed and others gained momentum in scattered industrial sectors today as mediators worked to compose labor-religion relations.

At Brockton, Mass., 1,300 employees of the W. L. Douglas Shoe company refused to go to work.

Exhorted by Governor Pinchot to cease "roving picketing," miners continued to return to collieries in the Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields.

In California, state and federal officials returned to harvest hands in the cotton and lettuce areas to return to work under temporary "truce" terms.

About 600 workers returned to their jobs at the Ford Motor company's Chester, Pa., plant.

It is estimated that 20,000 copies were printed but on account of time and hard usage a perfect copy has long been unobtainable, if indeed, one exists.

On pulpits and lectures of churches they were blown by wind and torn by use until titles and preliminary leaves have disappeared. The Stark copy is an unusually good one being the tallest known.

The present copy, the largest known, measures 16 1/2 x 10 7/8 x 3 1/2 inches. It was bought several weeks ago in England by Mrs. Stark who has added it to her collection already at the University of Texas.

It will be shelved along with her four Shakespeare folios, 1623-1685; Holinshed Chronicles, 1577-1586; North's Translation of Plutarch's Lives, 1579; Hakluyt's Voyages, 1594-1600; and many other priceless works in English literature and history.

Mrs. Stark, the mother of Regent H. J. Litcher Stark, has given to the University of Texas a collection of rare books and manuscripts valued approximately at three million dollars, and a fine arts museum of equal, or greater.

ASSAILANTS OF AMERICANS TO GO TO PRISON

NAZI STORM TROOPERS GIVEN SIX-MONTH SENTENCES

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—The two assailants of Roland Velz, an American who was struck in the face when he failed to salute the Nazi emblem, were sentenced to six months imprisonment on charges of assault and battery in a so-called speed court here today.

Velz, a native of Meriden, Conn., was struck twice in the face by the pair—one a chauffeur, the other a glass blower—at Duesseeldorf, Germany.

State's Attorney Von Haacke of the Prussian ministry of justice, acted as prosecutor. He demanded the six months penalty, and the court agreed.

"Well, that's getting action," happily exclaimed a high American embassy official on learning of the verdict.

The official, who was intimately acquainted with the case, said that is great progress. "I consider this the turning point in the treatment of assailants of foreigners."

"The court acted speedily and sternly, even though one of the assailants was a storm trooper."

However, it developed that both assailants were storm troopers—Paul Eckardt, by profession a glass blower, and Fried Wilbertz, a chauffeur.

Both testified they were greatly excited when according to their ideas Velz acted as though he had contempt for the Swastika, the Nazi flag.

U. S. Gobs Over World Listen In On Navy Games

ANNAPOLIS, Md. Oct. 17 (AP)—Hundreds of naval academy alumni and fans throughout the world know how the navy football team is faring on the gridiron, only a few minutes after the plays have been made.

A navy wireless operator is stationed in the press box for every Middle contest. He sends a 50-word summary after each quarter on ordinary games up to a play-by-play account on the communication office of the navy department in Washington.

The football stories are incorporated in the news reports and sent out over the high power station to all navy wireless stations and ships. From the battle fleet, stationed on the west coast, to the Asiatic fleet, on the China station, the naval academy alumni eagerly await for the bulletins to come down from the wireless room.

The battle fleet recently notified the academy officials that the officers and men were pleased with the service.

Siamese Rebels Take To Air As Many Are Slain

BANGKOK, Siam, Oct. 17 (AP)—Rebel troops were reported on the run today with loyal forces in vigorous pursuit.

As the scene of battle was pressed farther from the city with the attackers' retreat northward, it was announced unofficially that the rebels had lost 500 killed and 1,000 wounded.

Government troops recaptured the airport, but when they took possession they found it stripped of all planes, armaments, and munitions.

Rebel air loyal aviators clashed in the air with heavy casualties after the attackers had taken over the airport yesterday.

While one detachment forced the fighting from the city to the north, others were ordered to proceed southward to quell a new outbreak.

The Penang express resumed service, but business in Bangkok continued disturbed with foreign exchange transactions at a standstill.

The king and queen of Siam, who were at the seaside resort of Hua-hin when the revolutionary movement broke last week, decided to remain there for the present.

"This is GAS AND OIL MONEY —BELIEVE IT OR NOT!" Sally: "Really? Tell me about it, Helen." Helen: "Well, as I use the car most of the time these days and actually buy the oil and gas, Dick thought it a good plan to turn the car budget over to me entirely."

Helen: "To me that choice depended on quick starting—Dick used to choke the car until he was wild. It wasted so much gasoline in cold weather—ran the battery down and the nerves, too. With Conoco Bronze, the motor starts at the first turn and has power galore—goes further on each gallon and is anti-knock also. So you see how I did it?" Sally: "I certainly do, Helen—and I think you're a very clever girl!"
