There are five distinct creeds represented in the organization, and not one word of criticism passes the lips regarding the beliefs of another.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 31 (AP)—Oklahoma's "No. 1 desperado," Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, was pictured today as a hand-kissing swain.

Mrs. Jack James, who said she went to school with Floyd at Salina, Okla., his one-time home, told officers Floyd entered her lunchstand yesterday, asked for coffee and inquired:

After the long questioning by federal agents and police authorities said the man admitted he told Richard Barthelmess, movie actor, an imaginary tale of the threatened kidnaping of the actor's daughter, Mary Hay Barthelmess...

RECOVERY ACT MEANS WORK TO MANY MEN

EMBLEMS ARE TO BE GIVEN OUT ON TUESDAY

General Recovery Chairman C. H. Walker today announced appointment of R. G. Allen as his "general," with the other officers of the "military organization" to be announced later.

THIS is NRA week in Pampa and other cities of the nation. Voluntary arguments have been mailed to the president by many citizens, and the self-addressed envelopes sent out by General Hugh Johnson of the national recovery staff will continue to find their way into the mails this week.

'Flats' Shooting Might Be Fatal To Local Negro

Five bullets from a 380 caliber automatic found their mark at noon today and Arthur Johnson, negro, is in Wesley hospital in a critical condition following a shooting in the "flats."

The shooting followed an argument between Johnson and a negro, who was shot in the chest. Johnson was first hit in the chest. The second bullet lodged under his arm. Three more bullets hit Johnson's leg and the other two in his back.

The victim was acquitted of murder charges last year in connection with the fatal shooting of Lewis Stewart near the Scherer hotel.

THREE HELD IN ABDUCTION OF ALBANY YOUTH

Free O'Connell After $40,000 Ransom Payment

ALBANY, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Three men were held today for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, 24 national guard lieutenant, and nephew of Ed and Don O'Connell, democratic leaders of Albany as the search for the kidnapers was speeded.

"We are questioning three men," was the curt statement of District Attorney John T. Delaney. "I cannot give you further details."

O'Connell, kidnaped July 7 by several men as he alighted from his automobile, was released Sunday morning after a ransom of $40,000 had been paid.

Two men were picked up last night and early today, a third was taken into Delaney's office. The district attorney, shoulders sagging and eyes blood shot, directed the interrogation of the three.

Thomas F. Cullen, in charge of department of justice agents in the New York district, is returning to Albany to direct the federal officers on duty here.

State Official Will Speak At Jaysee Meeting

Raymond S. Mauk, state fire insurance commissioner of Texas, will be guest speaker of the Junior chamber of commerce luncheon at noon tomorrow in the Schneider hotel.

MERCHANTS OF SMALL TOWNS ARE AFFECTED

WOULD CONTINUE ONLY UNTIL FINAL CODE IS ADOPTED

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Officials of the recovery administration today were whipping together a final draft of a code for the retail industry, under which merchants would operate pending its formal consideration and approval instead of under President Roosevelt's blanket wage and hour agreement.

A premature announcement was given today that all retail stores would be permitted a 48-hour week instead of the 40-hour week specified in the president's agreement.

Later however, A. D. Whiteside, a deputy administrator, said it had not been determined whether this would affect all stores or only those in the smaller cities.

There were numerous requests for details and texts of the retailers code as drafted, but no satisfaction on any such points could be obtained at the industrial administration office, indeed, from retail executives themselves.

There was information forthcoming that work on the draft still was going on, and that even those participating were at a loss to know how the hours, wages and other questions would be settled.

Child of Pampa Couple Drinks Acid and Dies

While playing at his grandparents home in Childress yesterday morning, Frank Lloyd Hood, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hood of this city drank some acid used for soldering purposes and although rushed to a hospital immediately, died at 7 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Hood, assistant manager of the local Montgomery Ward store here, drove to Childress after Mrs. Hood who underwent a major operation a few weeks ago. She was to return home yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Hood have been residents of Pampa for three years.

Largest Crowd Attends Funeral

The largest crowd that ever attended a funeral in Pampa, according to many observers, filled the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon when services for Charles C. Cook, attorney and civic leader were held.

Lengthy eulogies were delivered by Judge W. R. Ewing of 31st district court and the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the church. Mr. Cook's civic accomplishments and his success as an attorney were mentioned.

Dr. J. A. Hill, wearing a 10-gallon straw hat of the kind that is popular in Mexico, en route to Canyon from Hemphill where he and three Canyon friends fished successfully yesterday. The college president got a shave while in Pampa.

A NUMBER of Pampa residents will assist the Freiberg players in scenes of the Passion play which the Kiwanis club will sponsor here tonight and tomorrow.

Mrs. M. P. Downs will take a speaking part as Rachel, while others will appear only in acting parts.

A company of angels will be portrayed by Misses Dorothy Deuce, Sue Smaling, Eileen Penney, Virginia Rose, Ruth Reynolds, Myrtle Ethel Harris, Ellen Mason, Alma Pennington, Lavatha Francis, Peggy Arnold, Alene Gregory, and Mrs. Ruba McConnell.

Followers of Mary Magdalene will be played by Misses Marie Reed, Lillian Smart, Georgia Anna Gray, Faye Compton, Irene Irvine, Elsie Troxel, Loyal Palminter, and followers of Mary by Mesdames Wilkx, Carter, Lard, McNut, Snow, Mesdames Lorene Templeton, Lucile Horton, and Mildred Overall.

In addition, a chorus of 50 voices directed by Mrs. May Foreman Carr will add to the musical score. The name of Mrs. J. W. Gorman was not included in the list of singers published yesterday.

Four young girls will be seen as water carriers, and six as dancers, to complete the list of local assistants.

While it is probably a border line case it seems to me that that matter is inappropriate in that particular section of this code, which contains the mandatory provisions of the recovery law.

UNION CLAUSE IS ELIMINATED BY INDUSTRY

ORGANIZED LABOR AND JOHNSON GAIN VICTORY

BY RICHARD L. TURNER, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The "company union," perennial source of conflict between organized labor and the great steel makers, was eliminated today from the code proposed by that industry at the insistence of Hugh S. Johnson, secretary of commerce under President Hoover and now president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, announced that the industry was ready to eliminate the much-disputed section designed for perpetration of the company union.

While it is probably a border line case it seems to me that that matter is inappropriate in that particular section of this code, which contains the mandatory provisions of the recovery law.

Hardly had hearings begun in a hall packed with perspiring spectators, than Robert P. Lamont, secretary of commerce under President Hoover and now president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, announced that the industry was ready to eliminate the much-disputed section designed for perpetration of the company union.

"I believe the section can be omitted from the code without materially altering it," Lamont said. "I am willing to recommend that it be omitted and I believe that the industry will adopt my recommendation."

"It should be distinctly understood, however, that the omission of the section does not imply any change in the attitude of the industry on the two points therein referred to; that the industry believes that the employe representation plans, now in effect at its plants are desired by its employes; that the members of the industry will naturally do everything in their power to preserve the satisfactory relationships now existing with the employes; and that the section will be omitted for the sole purpose of avoiding the necessity of considering at this hearing any questions that are not fundamental to the code."

The move was in the face of determined opposition to the "company union" section which organized labor was opposing. It was welcomed by Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, as a harbinger of more harmony.

STERN REMEDY NEEDED. No society in which kidnaping for ransom becomes as common a racket as it has become in the United States recently is offering its citizens anything very substantial in the way of security.

No crime emphasizes the helplessness of a community as does kidnaping. There will always be human passions that will result in murder, there will always be desperate men who commit robbery, there will always be weak men who commit forgery and defalcation, there will always be gamblers and panders and confidence men.

But kidnaping is different. It cannot be an organized racket unless the society in which it thrives has demonstrated its utter inability to protect the lives and persons of its citizens. Its appearance is the gravest symptom that the machinery of law enforcement can display.

Today we have just about reached a point at which we must discuss extremely revolutionary revision of our whole system of law enforcement.

Police methods could not be more disorganized than they are now. From New York down to the smallest hamlet, each police force is entirely independent. There are 48 states, each with a separate jurisdiction. The powers of the federal government to coordinate and direct the war on crime are very limited.

The editor of the Daily Post-Tribune of La Salle, Ill., recently suggested to President Roosevelt that changes be made in the law so that federal agents could take a hand in all kidnaping cases, and not just in those where the victim is transported over a state line.

It may be that we need to follow Attorney General Cummings in his scheme for a nation-wide federal police force. It may be that we need to surrender our old fondness for local independence and make every cop in the land part of a great, centralized organization.

It is perfectly obvious that we have got to do something. The kidnapers could not operate as they have been operating if the existing machinery had not proved its utter inadequacy.

Two Men Charged In Beer Seizures. Possession of beer charges were filed in Justice W. S. Baxter's court yesterday after two raids made by county officers. Cel White waived examining trial and his bond was set at $500. In the other case, Paul O'Dell was arraigned and his bond also set at $500.

Gang Gets James J. Dolan First— With Hot Lead

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—James J. Dolan can't make good that promise now. When Mrs. Alice Shiffer Diamond, widow of the notorious "Legs" Diamond, was murdered a few weeks ago, Jimmy Dolan said:

"I'll get the guys who did this, I'll get 'em." But he never will. They got him first—got him through the back last night in a Brooklyn beer garden and then ran away into the night.

Dolan, mortally wounded, staggered in pursuit, fumbling for his gun. At the curb he fell. When police arrived he was dead. A year ago he was struck down from behind. That time the weapon was a knife. He was in a hospital for weeks.

Dolan didn't do much talking about that. A fellow in his business—he was acting as bodyguard to Mrs. Diamond up to the time of her murder—has got to expect that sort of thing—a knife in the back, hot lead in the spine.

Mrs. Diamond was found murdered in her apartment a short time after she had remarked to friends that she was "getting tired of covering up for a lot of 'lugs," by which she apparently meant that she might start talking to the discomfiture of whatever "lugs" she had in mind.

Chapter 49 THE SUN SHINES. A THOUSAND notes danced in the long rays of sunshine that stretched from the window to the floor of Georgie's room. Georgie lay in bed watching them with dreamy eyes. She had been ill such a long time; sometimes it seemed as if she had never known anything but a darkened room, and hushed voices and a kind, capable arm that seemed to punctuate the days by gently lifting her and making her drink unpleasant things.

Somehow she knew she was all right though for the moment she felt too weak to peer into all the corners of her mind and discover why she was so sure. Presently, she asked "Are you married yet?" "Married!" Edward Bancroft looked as awkward as a schoolboy. "Married!" he repeated scornfully. "I should say not. Not while you've been lying here scaring us all out of our wits. No, I told her she must wait."

Edward would like to have said that sometimes death and marriage were one, and the same thing, but he restrained himself; he was not feeling quite so facetious as usual. He came round to the side of Georgie's bed and patted her hand. "Nothing to worry about," he said, "you'll be all right."

George closed her eyes, and tried not to think, but it was no longer so easy to shut out the things she had known so intimately and suffered with so greatly before she fell ill. One by one, they came creeping back, forcing themselves upon her notice, clamoring for attention.

TEXAS WILL TAKE ELABORATE GRAND OPERA TO WORLD FAIR

HUNDREDS ARE TO BE PRESENT ON STATE DAY

WORLD TO BE SHOWN 'HIGH C' INSTEAD OF LASSO

BY RUTH COWAN. Associated Press Staff Writer. CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—Preparations are being made for an audience of 75,000 to bear a presentation of 'Aida' by the Texas grand opera association, climaxing Texas Day, August 23, at a Century of Progress international exposition.

For from Texas grand opera on an ambitious scale is coming to Chicago, the home of one of the world's foremost opera companies, the Chicago Civic Opera, now silent.

From ranches, oil fields, the gulf coast, the Panhandle, big cities and outposts on the wide sweep of the Lone Star state, 1200 Texans are coming to the world's fair determined to produce Verdi's spectacular opera on the most elaborate scale yet attempted in America.

Garners Invited. Vice President and Mrs. John Nance Garner, whose home is in Uvalde, Texas, have been invited as guests of honor.

Special trains, numbering about forty, long caravans of busses and automobiles, augmented by airplanes will bring many thousand Texans, perhaps headed by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Gov. James E. Ferguson, here for the event.

The Texas grand opera association is an outgrowth of the Houston Civic Opera association, founded and sponsored by Mrs. John Wesley Graham, head of the Texas Music Teachers association.

Mrs. Graham is likewise president of the Texas association organized as a non-profit group for the special purpose of mounting 'Aida' at the world's fair.

Tickets have just been placed on sale, and Mrs. Graham, here now making advance preparations, announced that the first block, 800, was taken by Amarillo.

Efforts have been made to keep the cost Texas as far as possible, but a determination to do the work well has resulted in a few last-minute additions, who are not natives or residents of Texas, to the principals.

The title role of Aida will be sung by Della Samoiloff, young Texas girl, formerly with the Chicago Civic Opera, who also sang the lead in 'Aida' when it opened the Royal Opera House in Rome.

Principals Are Texans. She and Dr. A. J. Dallas, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera, who will sing Amneris, as well as a number of other members of the cast, the chorus and dancers appeared in their respective roles in the presentation of 'Aida' given in Houston last May by the Houston Opera association.

Lucian M. Bryant of LePors was in the city on business Saturday.

OAK CLIFF TORNADO KILLS THREE PERSONS, SCORES INJURED

DOZEN ARE IN SERIOUS STATE IN HOSPITALS

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT OVER A QUARTER MILLION

DALLAS, July 31. (AP)—Three persons were killed, scores were injured and approximately 100 homes were wrecked by a tornado which ripped through Oak Cliff, residence district in the southwestern part of Dallas. Property damage estimates ranged from $250,000 to $500,000.

The dead were: I. G. Searcy, former Dallas high school football star, crushed when the violent winds demolished his home.

Mrs. Mary C. Stewart, died of a skull fracture received when her home collapsed.

Thomas W. Henley, who died of a heart attack resulting from shock experienced as he watched the tornado roar down on him and leap over his house.

Fully a dozen or the injured were in a critical condition, some with broken limbs, others with head injuries and some with serious cuts and bruises.

A torrential rain accompanied the storm, which came out of the southeast and faded into the northwest. It struck Oak Cliff about 3 p. m. yesterday and lasted approximately two minutes.

The tornado cut a strip more than half a block wide and seven blocks long through an area filled with cottages. About fifty cottages were smashed into ruins and as many more were damaged badly, losing roofs, porches and other parts.

Rainfall during the day amounted to 2.23 inches. The downpour ruined much furniture and personal property exposed by the destructive wind.

Weather bureau observers anticipated a sharp rise in the Trinity river as a result of the heavy rain.

National guardsmen were called out to aid police in guarding the devastated area.

Broken electric wires and street railway power lines endangered persons trying to salvage their belongings. Telephone service was disrupted for hours.

Many houses a considerable distance from the stricken zone were damaged by flying pieces of timber, which penetrated their walls and roofs.

The meteorological service at Hensley field, army airport between Fort Worth and Dallas, reported a 40-mile an hour wind at 3 p. m.

Starks Is Last Original Cowboy For Matadors

FLOYDADA, July 29. (AP)—J. D. Starks, 75, postmaster here for more than a quarter of a century, is the last of the original corps of 10 cowboys who punched the first herd of cattle for the Matador ranch in Motley county in the spring of 1880.

Mr. Starks was born in Marsh county, Ky., and was brought to Texas by his parents when a year old. Later they returned and he came to the state again in 1876.

His first cowpunching job was in Jack county in 1877. Two years later he joined the Matadors.

Mr. Starks moved to Floydada when he quit the ranch and has resided here since. Recently he went to the ranch to attend a round-up, the first in 45 years.

"There is a little more style at the round-up these days than we had," he remarked after returning from the Matador round-up. "They keep the different classes of cattle in separate pastures and it is not as hard work. In our day we had all classes together and it was a job to cut them out from the big herd."

Preparatory to conforming with NRA provisions, the Magnolia Petroleum company will have an election August 7 and 8 to elect employee representatives of each branch.

These representatives will attend a meeting in Dallas August 18, when an equal number of company foremen and superintendents will gather for discussion of working conditions and the NRA.

Decisions of these groups can be carried, on appeal, to the board of directors. Self-government of employees is the aim of the system.

Marriage Code Of Spain Voids Religious Rites

BY H. E. KNOBLAUGH. MADRID (AP)—A new and much stricter marriage code shortly will be set up, says the Spanish government.

The breach between church and state in Spain is cited as the reason for a new code, and while it is about it, the government plans to lay down regulations looking toward a higher eugenic and moral plane among contracting couples.

Church Rites Insufficient. The old code recognized church marriages as sufficient, provided some representative of the civil government was present. Under the proposed new code a church marriage alone will not be regarded as legal. A church wedding may follow a civil ceremony, if desired, but to be legally recognized as married the couple must appear before a municipal judge and be wed in the presence of two witnesses.

Many additional qualifications must be established. For example, the prospective husband must be at least 16 and the bride 14; if he is under 23 and she under 21 (ages of majority in Spain), they must have obtained their parents' or guardian's consent.

Divorce Guilty Penalized. Also they must establish freedom from insanity and must not be related within the second degree of consanguinity. A widow or widower may not remarry within 301 days of her or his mate's death; an adopted may not marry with an adopter, nor can a divorced person wed the correspondent who figured in his or her divorce.

Violations will immediately render the marriage null should it have been performed before the negative factor came to light. Applies to Foreigners. So also shall the practice of deliberate deceit concerning an important factor about one's self, such as failing to advise the other contracting party of a criminal career or hereditary disease. Foreigners will be subject to the same regulations as citizens should they desire to marry in Spain.

UNIONIZATION IN STEEL CODE IS NEW ISSUE

OIL INDUSTRY'S CODE TO BE RELEASED TONIGHT

Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Public hearings on the steel industry's controversial plan for helping itself and thousands of its workers brought another smashing climax today in the national recovery movement for higher wages and shorter hours.

The issue of unionization was upmost as spokesmen for America's premier basic industry finished preliminary necessary for the hearings before Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, on steel's code of fair practice.

As submitted by Robert P. Lamont, head of the Steel Institute and one-time secretary of commerce, this code in effect proposed that worker representation for collective bargaining be limited to company unions. The industrial law gave labor full right to organize as it saw fit.

Johnson already had told the steel men he could not accept this, and labor representatives made ready to assail it in detail.

Even as Johnson concentrated on steel, postmasters and recovery administration offices throughout the nation continued to report mounting totals of volunteer agreements by employers with President Roosevelt to go along with the "blanket" agreement for curtailed working hours and better pay.

Already the signatures accumulated guaranteed that hundreds of

Short Illness Is Fatal to Floridan

Gary Sutton, 34, a resident of Pampa for a month, died yesterday morning following a brief illness. The body is at rest at the Stephenson Mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mr. Sutton was a native of Florida, where other members of his family still reside.

He is survived by his wife and four sons, Lewis, Emory, Troy and Jack, and five stepchildren. Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sutton of Lakewood, Fla., one brother and three sisters, all of Florida.

thousands of workers today were entering upon shorter work weeks in offices and stores, in factories and mechanical establishments.

No national total of agreements signed was yet available but district headquarters at San Francisco by last night had reported 19,808; Chicago, 4,289, probably affecting 100,000 workers; Boston 3,388, covering 71,967 employees; St. Louis, 4,153; New Orleans, 1,264; Louisville, 1,002; Jacksonville, 789. Some of these cities had had a late start on distribution of blanks.

Clauses Explained.
 To help business men anxious for explanations of the voluntary agreement's terms before signing, the administration last night issued several new interpretations:

That the "white collar" wage and hour limits apply, among others to: barbers, beauty parlor operators, dishwashers, drivers, deliverymen, elevator operators, janitors, watchmen, porters, restaurant workers and filling station attendants; that there is no maximum limit on the hours of store operation, only a minimum (52 hours unless present practice is below that), and that the minimum may be reduced in accordance to normal seasonal practice such as summertime Saturday closings, so long as pay is not thereby reduced; that all emergency overtime must be paid time and one-third; that apprentices under contract August 1 may be paid less than the minimum but that no one shall be regarded an apprentice who previously has served an apprenticeship in the same industry; part time workers need not be paid the minimum weekly wage prescribed but must be paid at least 40 cents an hour unless their class of work was paid less than that in July, and in no case shall they receive less than 30 cents.

Oil Code Tonight.
 Tonight a brand new code for the oil industry is to be put before the petroleum representatives by Johnson. Because they could not agree among themselves in a suitable agreement, he had his own staff rewrite it. Indicated were stiff provisions to curb practices which have been the source of extended strife.

Still in the mill were final decisions on a number of codes, including one for lumber, while Johnson's deputies made ready to take up during the rest of the week hearings on millinery, cast iron soil pipe, cotton garments and the photographic industry. With steel, the codes to be disclosed this week will affect well over a million workers.

Markets

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Stock market prices slumped today under quiet but steady liquidation and some renewed short selling by bearish contingents that played for the expected "secondary reaction." There was a noticeable scarcity of bids and a number of the leaders dropped 1 to 6 or more points. The close, despite a late rally, was heavy. Transfers approximated only 3,300,000 shares.

RECOVERY

intended to put 6 millions of men and women to work by Labor day, but a number of them added new men this morning. Others will require more time.

The Continental Oil company has announced by air mail its signing to cooperate in the reemployment campaign. The movement is expected to become general during the week, although such a drastic step on a large scale will require considerable time.

About ten meetings of business groups were held last week in the B. C. D. rooms and city hall. This week, on account of the Passion play and the firemen's convention, there will be few meetings. Cafe men and prepared food sellers were to meet this afternoon, and the beauty parlor operators will meet at the Schneider hotel this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

C. H. Walker, local recovery chairman, today was studying campaign instructions just received from Washington. Probably before the end of the week he will form his local organization. The plan calls for appointment of a general and a woman co-general, to be assisted by captains in charge of groups of ten privates. These will have the duty of making surveys of compliance and of unemployment and to endeavor to acquaint merchants and industries with men who can do the work desired.

In time, state and regional organizations will be functioning, together with "machinery" for the enforcement of trade practices codes which are being drawn up. The voluntary agreements will be dropped when codes approved by the president are placed in operation.

So far, the NRA is affecting cities and suburbs of 10,000 population and larger. The codes, however, will include the smaller communities as well.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, July 31 (AP)—For the third successive day, grain prices today fell the maximum amount permitted under new regulations of the leading American exchanges, 3 to 5 cents.

Liquidating sales were strongly in evidence and despite numerous rallies proved persistent enough to dominate over all other factor. During much of the day, business was virtually at a standstill, with brokers holding quantities of selling orders that could not be executed.

Wheat closed almost level, 4 1/2-5 cents under Saturday's finish, corn 4 cents down, oats 3 cents off, and provisions at 12 to 50 cents decline.
