WOMAN CONFESSES SLAYING

BREVITORIES

This is not scientific corner. We simply delve into things scientific for our edification, and yours. For instance, when someone whose motives we cannot probe tells us to "go Hollywood" by letting ladies and gentlemen expose their ears this winter, we can approach the matter only with your cooperation. Our informant says the Hollywood fad will cause all manner of earaches, mastoid trouble, and kindred ailments. And we know that this is not Hollywood and that our northern have a whistling into exposed ears. Personally, we had not noticed that bare-headed freshmen were less sturdy than seniors with great fur coats which hide the ears, but, as we said, we are not scientific. We think ear-muffs are out-moded but, standing in a cold drizzle at the Canyon Teachers freshmen-Harvester game, found a scarf over the ears welcome. But if the Hollywood fad is forbidden here, we wonder who'll try to make Ed Damon wear a hat?

OUR PET

Random musings: Trucks which use the highways at night ought to have lights that can be lowered. Highway patrolmen ought to work at night, especially in clearing roads of cotton pickers who drive old cars without lights. . . . Courtesy is a great thing, but when somebody "Yes sirs" us every breath we feel like departing in haste. On

TWINKLES

Blunt-nosed vehicles will be seen in future stream-lined models. And next time you see someone with a pug-nose, don't pity him—he will shortly be in style and trimmed for speed.

Bonnie Rose is the self-admitted successor to Ted Kelly. But reports reach us that if the deer had taken another step the other day Bonnie would have missed it entirely.

Many rumors reach us without confirmation. For instance, we hear that J. N. Duncan has disguised himself and attended the last three local football games. (Mr. Duncan has several times expressed the belief that schools ought to do football in cost, time, and attention.)

Pardonable error: One of the kid band members writes us that the "Governor Jim Ferguson" in his office at Austin.

The West Foster grouch says he wishes this Corbett matter would blow over so he could direct attention once more to the real woes of our civilization.

Maybe the Sandies and Arkansas can meet to decide the southern championship of ineligible elevens. Or would the Cherrymen prefer a consolation contest with Notre Dame? We're backing the Sandies in either instance.

On the other hand, a cheerful attitude expressed in a few well chosen words makes one decide to "fill her up" instead of buying only 5 gallons of gasoline. . . . Making life agreeable to youth is the key to social progress. The more years we amass, the less we feel like fomenting a revolution if our neighbor doesn't live up to our code. This leads us to believe that old men who bring about wars for their own profit are acting contrary to the nature and are the meanest of humans.

Thanksgiving, like most of our holidays, has largely lost its original

WELLES TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM HAVANA

BUT NOT UNTIL HE HAS 'TERMINATED HIS MISSION'

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt is changing ambassadors at Cuba in the confidence of the early establishment of government there meeting his conditions for recognition through stability. Apparently satisfied that the provisional government of President Grau San Martin "will reach some peaceful agreement" in the "near future" which "may result in general support of a government," he announced his diplomatic transfer late last night. Ambassador Sumner Wells after a return to Cuba to complete the understanding is returning to the United States as assistant secretary of state and Jefferson Caffery, present assistant secretary of state, is going to Havana. "We earnestly hope," said Mr. Roosevelt in his statement, "that in the near future through a spirit of compromise on all sides, the Cuban people themselves will reach some peaceful agreement which may result in general support of a government and thus avoid continued civil disturbance . . ."

HAVANA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Cuba sees in plans to delay changing the American ambassador a further effort to force the Grau government to make concessions to the oppositionists. President Roosevelt announced last night that Ambassador Sumner Wells would return here until "the termination of his mission," when he would rejoin the state department. Thus, as viewed generally here, President Roosevelt actually supported the off-criticized ambassador, simultaneously making a strong plea for a government representing the real will of the people.

Opposition forces were openly jubilant at the president's statement from Warm Springs—some even seeing a virtual ultimatum in it. Rumor spread during the night that President Grau had actually been given a fortnight in which to put his house in order.

Oppositionists said that President Roosevelt in the statement diplomatically told the Cuban leader his government setup did not meet the requirements of the United States for recognition, inasmuch as it was not supported by the whole Cuban people. They claimed, too, that the statement conveyed a polite threat that the United States would continue to withhold economic aid.

Passenger Air Liner Crashes And Three Die

WEDRON, Ill., Nov. 24 (AP)—Two men and a girl, crew of an eight-passenger air liner bound for Kansas City, were killed today when the plane crashed in pasture land on a farm near here.

The dead were: Miss Hazel Goodwin, Kansas City, stewardess; Pilot R. W. Godall, Chicago; Co-pilot Boyd Grover, Chicago. The plane, a Boeing low wing monoplane, was a United All Line craft "dead heading" for Kansas City, out of Chicago. Only the three members of the regular crew were aboard.

The plane burned after the crash. It is believed the accident occurred shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

Honor Court Is To Be Held Tonight in Hopkins School

Scouts and parents are being urged by Scout Executive C. A. Clark to attend a court of honor at the Hopkins school auditorium this evening at 7:30 o'clock. This is a regularly scheduled court for this district. Parents are requested to attend the ceremony, and scoutmasters are urged to take as many of their boys as possible. A number of Scouts will be advanced in rank.

Flies to Sea

Leaving notes saying that "she intended to fly out into space and find out that it's all about," Mrs. Louise Turk Stanton, above, 32 and socially prominent, rented a plane and flew out over the Atlantic ocean from Jacksonville, Fla. Despondent over the death of her husband, she is believed to have perished in the sea. The plane carried fuel for a four-hour flight.

QUINN GOES TO DEATH, CRYING HIS INNOCENCE

Insists To The Last He Was 'Framed' By State

MALESTER, Okla., Nov. 24 (AP)—A young rum-runner died in the electric chair at the state's prison here today to close Oklahoma's prosecution for the wanton murder of two sisters.

Earl Quinn, insisting to the last he was "framed," was executed just after midnight for what prosecutors at his two trials declared was the act of a drink-maddened ruffian, the killing of Jessie and Zella Griffith, school teachers, on a northern Oklahoma road December 28, 1930.

"I don't hold it against all you folks because you condemned me without a fair trial," said the 29-year-old Quinn, speaking slowly, to the 100 witnesses in the prison death chamber. "You loved them girls. You let your desire for revenge overshadow your sense of justice."

As Quinn's body was removed to a corridor, a negro ax slayer, Tom Morris, nonchalantly tossed away a cigar, murmured, "the game's up," and sat down in the electric chair, fainting as the electrodes were adjusted. He was pronounced dead after a second shock.

Two juries, in different counties, assessed the death sentence for Quinn, the first conviction being reversed. He was pictured as having terrorized motorists near Tonkawa, where the Griffith girls were slain, during the hours that preceded the early morning killings.

Oscar Griffin of McLean was admitted to Worley hospital yesterday.

TELEGRAM TO FISHER SHOWS CORBITT OUT

LETTER ALSO EXPLAINS RULING AS PAMPA CLAIMS

Pampa's interpretation of the four-year eligibility rule involving Captain J. R. Corbett of the Amrillo Sandies is correct, and facts presented at Austin today by Supt. W. McIntosh of Amarillo changed in no way the statement Roy B. Henderson of the Interscholastic League had previously made to Supt. R. E. Fisher of Pampa. This afternoon by telephone Mr. Henderson told Supt. Fisher that no new facts had been furnished by Supt. McIntosh and that interpretations as outlined in Pampa's protest were correct. The official ruling, however, must come from the district committee meeting tomorrow night in Amarillo.

GREENVILLE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Henry W. Stillwell, superintendent of the Texarkana, Tex., schools and chairman of district nine of the executive committee of the Interscholastic League, today called a meeting of the committee to inquire into the eligibility of Emmett H. Hays, Greenville high school guard. The meeting will be held in Mount Pleasant tomorrow.

ACTING on the principle that the sauce dished out by Pampa high school for Amarillo's goose would also be relished by the Harvesters' gander, Coach Elmer Cherry of the Sandies and Dr. R. P. Parcells, Amarillo gridiron enthusiast, yesterday afternoon delved deeply into

HENDERSON OPINIONS

Roy B. Henderson of Austin, Interscholastic League official, does not declare athletes ineligible—he merely interprets League rules for the district committee whose responsibility it is to make the decisions.

Supt. R. E. Fisher has this telegram from Mr. Henderson: "IF BOY (Corbett) WAS IN HIGH SCHOOL FOR FALL OF 1929 AND PARTICIPATED IN FOOTBALL, HE IS INELIGIBLE NOW ACCORDING TO YOUR STATEMENT." Mr. Fisher's statement was that Corbett participated in basketball in the second or spring semester of 1931 and in football and basketball of all semesters since that time. These facts are not denied in Amarillo.

Supt. Fisher also showed THE NEWS a copy of a letter from Henderson to a member of the district committee in another city. It contained this sentence: "If the boy began his first athletic year in the fall of 1929 (not denied), then his participation in basketball in the season of 1931 must count as his second year. The basketball in a second semester counts as a full athletic YEAR. Only four athletic years are allowed an athlete, and Corbett had completed four before this term."

The scholastic records of Pampa athletes. It is believed that they found nothing on which to base a protest of the eligibility of any Pampa player.

Supt. R. E. Fisher was the courteous subject of an hour's interview.

Flays Wealthy

"Lazy, idle parasites," shouted John McGovern, above, fiery laborite, as King George V finished a state speech before the British Parliament. Then McGovern continued with a scathing denunciation of the treatment of the poor as the king and queen gazed straight ahead and members of the houses of lords and commons sat in stunned silence.

DUKE IS FINED FOR LOTTERIES ACT VIOLATION

Will Appeal Case To Higher Court, Says Lawyer

LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Duke of Atholl, one of the leading figures of the British peerage, was fined £25 (currently about $132) today for contravention of England's 110-year-old lotteries act.

Sir Rollo Graham Campbell, chief metropolitan magistrate, who presided over the hearing on the original summons, handed down his decision in the Bow Street police station.

The 66-year-old Scottish warrior's attorney, Norman Birkett, declared he would appeal the case to a higher court.

In addition to the fine, the Duke also was ordered to pay the costs—amounting to 35 guineas. The accusation was based on "a British helpers association appeal" sponsored by the Duke to "raise funds for the provision of the best medical treatment for people of moderate means."

Some 152,404 pounds (about $74,732) was raised, a third being set aside for charity and about a fifth given to 748 contributors. The remainder went for expenses.

The defense pleaded no offense against the lotteries act was intended.

A novel explanation for the origin of the idea was offered by the Duke.

"It came from heaven," he said.

APPROVAL OF MCLEAN ROAD NEAR REALITY

COUNTY RELIEF BODY ANNOUNCED BY COURT

VIRTUAL approval of the Pampa-McLean road as a civil works project, with work to begin soon, was reported by a Pampa group today on return from a 3-day stay in Austin.

The newly appointed county relief committee, named by the commissioners court, has been tentatively approved and authorized to act, and formal approval will be made by the state board. It is composed of Alex Schneider, C. H. Walker, Hank Breining, C. O. Greene, and F. B. Farley.

The county commissioners will meet at 3 p. m. Monday to consider the Pampa-LeFors road project and other matters. Application for the civil works administration to furnish trucks and labor for placing of caliche will be re-filed in three sections, as requested.

Those who want to Austin on call were Alex Schneider, Judge C. E. Cary, C. H. Walker, and Mrs. W. H. Davis, civil works administrator for Gray county.

Stores Required To Post Notice Of NRA Grouping

Every retail store must post, and keep posted in a conspicuous place, a notice indicating the group under which it is operating, C. P. Buckler, chairman of the Pampa NRA compliance board, said today. The notice should include store hours and the basic work week of its employees.

Non-compliance with this provision is considered a violation of section 2 of the retail code, according to Mr. Buckler. Suggestion has been made that stores should also post a copy of the wage and hour provisions of the code.

The following form, suggested for use by the employers, appeared in the national recovery administration retail bulletin No. 1: "This store is operating under group . . . hours per week. The maximum periods of labor for its employees are . . . per week . . . per day, and six days per week. (These maximum hours do not apply to employees specifically exempted by the retail code.)"

Fred Thompson Elected Kiwanis Club President

Fred Thompson was elected president of the Kiwanis club at the annual election of officers today. He will succeed C. E. "Dan" McGrew, who has directed the activities of the club for the past year.

Reno Stinson was elected first vice president and Dr. R. M. Johnson second vice president. New directors will be Guy E. McTaggart, Chris Martin, Clark Willis, and A. G. Post.

The Rev. Gaston Poote became a member of the Pampa club today. He has been an active member of the Amarillo club before he moved here.

Funeral services will be conducted at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of the Stephenson Mortuary with the Rev. Langdon, pastor of the Assembly of God church of Borger, officiating. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery.

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Texas formally cast her vote today for repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Delegates chosen in a statewide election last August were unanimous in convention here, in directing that this state be certified for the 21st amendment to the federal constitution which takes the prohibition section from the fundamental law.

Queer Death

A bullet in the back ended the struggle of Mrs. Rheta Wynkoop, 23, above, against her assailant, and her body was found on an operating table in the basement office of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Alice Lindsey Wynkoop, prominent Chicago physician. Her husband made a confession this morning, police said.

JOB SELLING TESTIMONY TO GO TO JURORS

FORMER CLERK AVERS HE WILL RELATE JARREL STORY

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Jim Barber, former deputy criminal district clerk of Dallas county, today told an investigating committee of the Texas house that he intended to go before grand juries at Fort Worth and Tyler and testify concerning the alleged sale of jobs with the live stock sanitary commission.

Barber told the committee of his activities in obtaining money contributions on representations that the donors would be given positions with the live stock sanitary commission.

He testified concerning a conversation last week with Dr. E. F. Jarrel of Tyler, who resigned as a member of the live stock sanitary commission shortly after the house committee started its investigation.

Barber quoted Dr. Jarrel as saying that he had the Smith county grand jury "fixed" and that if Barber wanted to go before the Tarrant county grand jury to "clear loose."

Barber testified that he had first hand knowledge that Dr. Jarrel received money collected by Barber and two others on the strength of promises of jobs.

He said that recently Dr. Jarrel had denied any liability. "Dr. Jarrel said he had no reason to pay back any of it and that there was no liability on him," Barber testified. He said that Dr. Jarrel told Barber to stick to him and that he would not be in any danger if things broke wrong.

Clubs Plotting Fun For Cabbage Theater Monday

At a "cabbage" theater, heads of the prosaic vegetable are not usually thrown at the actors, but they could be, an announcement from the Little Theater which is sponsoring the attraction, said. The "cabbage" theater will be held at the city auditorium Monday night and destitute people of the city will benefit. Entrance to the auditorium can be gained by presenting cans of vegetables, fruit, fish, fowl, potatoes, beans—even cabbages. All food and game receipts will be handed to Mrs. W. H. Davis of the Welfare board in the hope of furnishing every needy family a basket of groceries for their Thanksgiving dinner. Many clubs of the city will furnish acts of entertainment in rapid-fire order. By Monday night, every club is expected to be represented on the program, it was announced. There will be an orchestra.

SON'S WIFE'S QUEER DEATH IS DESCRIBED

WOMAN DOCTOR FIRST MADE RELATIVE UNCONSCIOUS

CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP)—The confession of Dr. Alice Lindsey Wynkoop that she fired a bullet into the heart of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, while the girl was unconscious was announced today by Capt. John Stege.

Breaking down at last after nearly three days of exhausting examination, the 62-year-old woman physician acknowledged that she had administered chloroform to her son's 23-year-old wife, in examining her for a pelvic pain of which the girl had complained.

She had gone to her surgical office in the basement of her former street house last Tuesday afternoon to find Rheta partly undressed, weighing herself.

Rheta complained of severe pains, Dr. Wynkoop said, and she placed the young woman on her operating table and began to administer chloroform to ease the pain and facilitate examination.

Dr. Wynkoop told Capt. Stege she kept asking Rheta if she could feel the pain and that her daughter-in-law continued to answer affirmatively. Finally, the physician explained, Rheta lost consciousness and for 25 minutes she tried strenuously to revive her.

When she realized she was losing ground, Dr. Alice said, she became panic stricken. "All the events of my life flashed through my mind," Dr. Wynkoop was quoted, "and I thought of a pistol in an adjoining room."

Fearful of blame for killing the girl with the anesthetic, she said she obtained the pistol and, holding it five inches from the bare back of the unconscious girl, fired a single shot. That shot penetrated the shoulder blade and passed through Rheta's heart.

Capt. Stege placed the time of the killing between 2:30 and 3 p. m. Tuesday, at a time when Dr. Wynkoop had said previously she was absent from the 16 room mansion.

The alleged confession was reported to have come from the elderly woman physician after a verbal slip in which she acknowledged that she had been with Rheta when she was undressed. The girl was nearly nude when found shot through the back Tuesday on an operating table. She had previously been chloroformed.

A HORATIO ALGER TALE THAT WENT WRONG

The story about the country lad who went to the city, worked hard to make money, and finally returned, rich, to his old home town to enjoy a peaceful old age is one of the most popular tales that ever gets told.

McKinstry left Ireland for New York years ago to make his fortune. The jobs he got in New York were nothing much, but he worked hard and saved money; and this year, after 50 years of toil, with upward of $25,000 saved, he returned to Ireland to go back to the scenes of his youth and enjoy life.

But things had changed, in those 50 years. The town didn't look the same. His old friends and relatives were gone. Nobody knew him, nobody even remembered his name, nobody could tell him anything about his family.

The shock made him ill. He spent weeks in a hospital, and on recovery he said he was going to head back to New York. His home town meant nothing to him and his money meant nothing. He had scraped and slaved all his life for nothing.

The whole pathetic little story is a sardonic sort of warning for youthful ambition.

All of us, at one time or another, get an idea similar to the one about which McKinstry built his life; the idea that we shall deny ourselves this, that, and the other thing throughout youth and middle age so that, when the end of life approaches, we can take things easy and enjoy the good things we missed when we were younger.

But the man who does it runs the chance of discovering, too late, that putting off enjoyment too long is apt to mean missing it altogether. Save your good times for your old age and you are gambling with time.

Happiness is the most elusive thing anyone can seek. Unless we learn how to get our share of it in day-to-day living, we run the chance of missing it altogether.

questioning by the Amarillo men as they asked questions about every Harvester. Principal L. L. Sone's records were critically examined, as also were those of County Supt. John B. Hesse. The latter's records on Harvesters Mackay and Pinnell of the Hopkins community were especially studied by the visitors.

On the theory that the boys might live inside the LeFors high school zone, instead of that of Pampa, Cherry and Parcells drove from here to the Phillips camp and on to LeFors. Local measurements showed, however, that both riders live within a distance which gives them the choice, under the rules, of whether they attend school at Pampa or LeFors.

representatives of the Amarillo Daily News and the Pampa Daily News "camped" on Roy B. Henderson's Interscholastic League door-step today as Supt. W. A. Mcintosh of the Amarillo schools and district committee chairman sought an interpretation of the four-year rule of eligibility. It is on this rule that Pampa high has protested the right of Captain J. R. Corbit of the Sandies to play football this semester.

Mr. Henderson is already on record in a letter and a telephone conversation to Supt. Fisher and to the superintendent of another Panhandle city to the extent of holding that Captain Corbit is ineligible under the four-year rule if the facts are as presented. The facts in question are not denied by Supt. Mcintosh.

However, the final ruling is to be made by the executive committee, probably Saturday evening. This committee is composed of the school heads of Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Borger, and Pampa.

Amarillo's hope—now admittedly shrunk to a mere thread—is that the eight-semester rule can be interpreted to mean that a boy may play eight semesters of football. It is locally believed that no such construction is possible. If it were, the complications would be such as to invalidate the four-year rule, which is very plain on the point that a player may have only four athletic years and that four years after he first participates in a sport he is ineligible to play more. Participation in any sport during a term constitutes an athletic year, which is independent of failure to enroll in the first semester of that year.

Meanwhile, the Harvesters are practicing steadily for their conference game with the Borger Bulldogs here next Wednesday afternoon. The boys had a hard workout Wednesday but rested yesterday.

While imputing no dishonesty to Amarillo school officials, the local protest implied that Amarillo had not cooperated with other district schools to the extent of exchanging transcripts of athletes' records. Sportsman Jerry Mallin of the Amarillo News evidently did not know of his school's delinquency in this respect when he advocated such an exchange. Another point noted was that Corbit played basketball against neighboring school teams while Amarillo claims, he was not enrolled in December of 1930 and early January of 1931. Pampa fans claim that use of Corbit in a matched game did, in fact, constitute enrollment.

Meaning, the Harvesters are practicing steadily for their conference game with the Borger Bulldogs here next Wednesday afternoon. The boys had a hard workout Wednesday but rested yesterday.

LET US GIVE THANKS! The original festival was truly one of things-giving

It was truly one of things-giving—thanks to God for his blessings. Primarily, we are reminded by Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, that Thanksgiving concerned health. Governor Bradford called together the few persons left after that terrible first year of death and disease, and offered thanks for God's mercies.

"We have come a long way since that time in the matter of health," Dr. Brown writes, "but now one gets a thought until sickness makes its appearance."

THINK OF HEALTH In connection with the health that we enjoy. Most persons have been so accustomed to these advantages that they are scarcely given a thought until sickness makes its appearance.

"The state department of health and city and county health organizations have labored for years to secure the measure of health protection that the public now enjoys. They give thanks for the methods that have helped in the saving of thousands of lives each year and look forward to the years to come for greater service."

"Since the first Thanksgiving, the mode of transmission of many diseases has been discovered and in many instances the prevention has become common knowledge. Yellow fever, plague, and cholera have practically ceased to exist. Small pox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever can be eliminated as a cause of death if a person would have himself and many other diseases can be controlled if the public would demand that this protection be a part of the every day activities of the government and practice what is known in regard to prevention."

"During the past fifty years the expectation of life has increased about fifteen years. This means that a baby born now can be expected to live fifteen years longer than if he had been born fifty years ago. We have much more to be thankful for now than our Pilgrim forefathers, so let each in his Thanksgiving, pledge to assist in furthering the work being done to improve health conditions throughout Texas.

CLUB PRESIDENTS ARE GUESTS AT THANKSGIVING LUNCHEON

PRESIDENT OF U. S. HONORED WITH PROGRAM

CHILD STUDY LUNCH HAS PATRIOTIC THEME

The president of the United States and his program was the program subject for a Thanksgiving luncheon at which presidents of all federated clubs were guests of the Child Study club yesterday.

Autumn fruits, leaves, and flowers decorated the dining room of the Schneider hotel. A huge basket formed in pumpkin shape centered the table, filled with fruit. Clusters of grapes were at either end of the rows of red leaves that extended the length of the table.

Oak leaves and balsam apples filled vases on the piano to complete the setting. Guests welcomed. The fine arts committee of the club was in charge of the program. Mrs. Rufe Thompson, president, paid a tribute to the nation's president as she welcomed the club presidents and their representatives who were guests.

Mrs. A. H. Doucette sang the NRA song, "The Road Is Open." Miss Dorothy Dodd sang "Trees," a favorite song of President Roosevelt. A humorous reading, "Setting the Labor Question," was given by Mrs. Robert Gilchrist.

Mrs. Burton Fitzsimmons directed a skit, "An NRA Thanksgiving," in which the characters were Mrs. Democrat, Mrs. Republican, senators and other parodied characters, and which was climaxed when a guest reached for the drumstick and got only the "clause."

PITTSBURGH—People began to wonder what was becoming of Pittsburgh's pigeons, the birds which eat the peanuts visitors shell out in front of the court house. So Ray Sprigle, Allegheny county property and supplies director, looked into the matter and found that somebody was breaking screens and windows in the court house tower. The pigeons flew in through the windows and were captured—and killed—by the window-breaking "lunners."

So Sprigle has declared a "closed season" on pigeons—spending $1,200 for new windows and screens and posting a guard to protect the birds.

Arkansas Will Play Longhorns At Austin Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—The University of Arkansas faced the University of Texas here today in a game that will determine whether the Porkers will finish their Southwest conference season with a percentage better than any other conference team.

The Porkers have won three and lost one conference game. A victory over Texas would give them the best season record and would establish them as conference champions were it not for the cloud cast over Arkansas by an ineligible player who participated in two conference games. Award of the championship will not be made until after the conference officials review the case December 9 and rules on whether the games in which the ineligible man played must be forfeited.

Texas still has a mathematical chance at the title by defeating Arkansas.

LINDY'S ARRIVE

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, Nov. 24 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here at 3:15 p. m. today after a flight from Ponte Delgada, in the Azores Islands.

The flight, during which the Colonel circled over Puncnal, Madeira, at which place he had been expected to alight, was described as without incident.

Borger Coach and Captain

AKER The Borger Bulldogs will invade Pampa Wednesday afternoon for the last conference game of the 1933 season. Coach Aker has a fleet bunch of boys who have been playing a nice brand of football this year. It is the team's first year under the new coach and it has absorbed his system like veterans, although most of the boys are comparatively new to football. Captain Kendrick is recognized as one of the outstanding ends in the district and the game should see a real battle of good ends because Howard on the other end of the Borger line is classed as a great player.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

DALLAS — Rosy Rosales, 170½, Cleveland, and Tuffy Dial, 177, Phoenix, Ariz., drew, (10). Pat Murphy, 140, Terre Haute, Ind., outpointed Chief Paris, 138½, Bartlesville, Okla., (10).

entire distance in its conference race is to organize a committee in each district in the spring before the fall term. This committee would THOROUGHLY investigate every player in the district. The doubtful cases should be separated and re-investigated before the fall season started. Transfers should be followed up and if a student "laid out" for a year, the committee would find where the student was during that year and what he did. Supt. R. B. Fisher has been advocating such a plan for several years. He also advocated the exchange of player lists before each game. Every team that Pampa has met this season has done so EXCEPT AMARRILLO.

Commerce High Team's Captain Found Ineligible

COMMERCE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Commerce high school officials have discovered that Captain Cail Clinton, star blocker and defensive player on the Commerce grid team, is ineligible because of being over age.

The Commerce Tigers, having lost but one game so far this season in District 6, Class B, competition, stands third in the district but it is expected that Clinton's ineligibility will result in the forfeiture of all games won. Forfeiture may throw the district race into a muddle and make a play-off between Clarksville and Bonham necessary.

KING RANCH IN SUIT

HOUSTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The 1,000,000 acre King ranch in South Texas, one of the largest in the world, has been thrown into litigation. Clarence R. Wharton, Houston attorney, disclosed today that certain of the Atwood heirs of Chicago, who are grandchildren of the late Mrs. Henryetta King and beneficiaries under her will, had brought suit involving the trusteeship of the ranch. The suit was filed in federal district court at Corpus Christi.

No action has yet been taken, according to J. L. Long, principal of the school, by district officials, but a meeting has been called for early next week. The case will come up before the meeting.

School officials said Clinton would not be allowed to play in any more games. Commerce has yet to play Cooper and Farmersville.

Georges Bonnet Expected To Be French Premier

PARIS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Official sources said today they expected President Lebrun to ask Georges Bonnet, minister of finance in the cabinet of Albert Sarraut, overthrown last night, to form a new cabinet and serve as premier of France.

Lebrun is known to admire Bonnet and was said to be hopeful of a quick selection of a competent financial cabinet in order to avert danger from the franc.

Friends of Edouard Herriot, former premier, insisted that the time was not ripe for his resumption of power.

Through the lobbies of the chamber of deputies, which has overthrown three cabinets already this year, ran the prediction that Lebrun would offer the premiership to Herriot as a courtesy, that Herriot would refuse, and that then the president would turn to Camille Chautemps, minister of the interior in the Sarraut cabinet.

Herriot was said to be sure to refuse because of his health—he has just recovered from a serious three months' illness—and a dislike for being in the ministry on December 15, the anniversary of France's default on payment of its war debts to the United States when he was premier.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: PAUL IN CORINTH. Scripture Lesson: 1 Cor. 1:10-18; 2:1-5.

10. Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11. For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them that are of the household of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12. Now this I mean, that each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.

13. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul?

14. I thank God that I baptized none of you, said Crispus and Gaius;

15. Lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name.

16. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas; besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel; not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18. For the word of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us who are saved it is the power of God.

1 Cor. 2:1. And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the testimony of God.

2. For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4. And my speech and my preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

5. That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

Golden Text:—I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.—1 Cor. 2:2.

Time and Place—Paul's year and a half in Corinth, A.D. 51, 52.

Paul's Letter to the Corinthians. It may have been from Ephesus about 84 A.D. Paul wrote his first Epistle to the Corinthians. A gloomy situation had arisen because partisan teachers had rent the church into four factions, 1 Cor. 1:12: A Pauline party, overzealous for the founder of the church, an Apollonian party, bewitched by the oratory of Apollos; a Petrine party, which claiming Peter as authority, was bent on mixing up Jewish ideas with Christianity; and a Christ party, which, in antagonizing other elements, became itself a faction. The natural outcome of these dissensions was a loose discipline, abundant irregularities, and rapid decline from original purity. So Paul wrote them a needed epistle.

Paul Goes From Athens to Corinth. Acts 18:1.

From Athens, the center of culture, Paul went 40 miles westward to Corinth, the center of commerce and capital of the proconsular province of Achaia, where he spent 18 months in fruitful ministry. A great field was furnished the Apostle in Corinth, famous for its wealth and power from the time of Homer. It was situated on the narrow isthmus connecting Peloponnesus and northern Greece. With two famous harbors it held the land traffic from north to south, and received by sea rich merchandise from the chief ports of Europe and Asia.

The City of Corinth.

This "most corrupt and effeminate city in Greece" contained a heterogeneous population of 400,000. There were a great many Jews here who had been expelled from Rome by the Emperor Claudius. To this number belonged a native of the district of Pontus in Asia Minor, Aquila and his wife, Priscilla, who followed the vocation of tentmaking. When they were compelled to leave Rome, they came to Corinth and began business. When Paul, who had been trained in the same occupation, reached Corinth, he formed a partnership with Aquila, and for some time supported himself by manual labor.

Paul in Corinth. Acts 18:4, 5.

A good start was made by Paul in the synagogue, where he spent every sabbath and spoke convincingly to both Jews and Greeks on his favorite theme that Jesus is the Messiah. But his work went on under extreme difficulty; he was sick in body, depressed in spirit, confronted with poverty, and lonely in work. When, however, Silas and Timothy rejoined him, bringing good news and a contribution from the churches in Macedonia whither he had sent them on a special mission, he devoted himself wholly and enthusiastically to his ministry. First of all, he energetically addressed the Jews, maintaining that Jesus was the Christ. But they met his earnestness with blasphemy and his argument with abuse.

Paul Turns to the Gentiles.

A growing work was developed by the determined hostility of the Jews. Instead of narrowing, it widened the ministry of the missionaries. Shaking his raiment in token that he was shaking off all responsibility for their conduct, Paul said to them that their blood was upon their own heads, that he was clear of blame, and that he would extend his ministry to the Gentiles. Immediately he left the synagogue and made his preaching headquarters in an adjoining building owned by Justus, who no doubt became a Christian. It was a decisive step to take, and one that drew the line sharply between believers and unbelievers.

A gracious ministry ensued. Even the chief ruler of the synagogue, Crispus, with all his household, believed in the Lord, and he was one of the few baptized by Paul. Besides this remarkable family, Paul, besides the Corinthians also believed and baptized. Paul prolonged his ministry there for eighteen months, building up the church, training workers and writing the two Thessalonian letters.

Paul Before Gallio.

In Corinth, as in most other places evangelized by Paul, the Jews in time rose against him, bringing a charge that Paul was teaching an illegal mode of worship. Fortunately, the apostle was hailed into the court of the proconsul Gallio, a man of just and liberal spirit, the brother of the famous Roman philosopher Seneca, who said of him, "Those who love him to the utmost, do not love him enough." Gallio declared at once that he would not express an opinion or give a decision regarding the case. It was a dispute between Jews about their religion, and was outside his province altogether; so he ordered his lieutenants and other officers to drive the clamorous Jews away from his judgment seat. Thereupon Paul's Gentile friends seized Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue who had probably succeeded Crispus and who was evidently leading the attack against Paul, and gave him a beating before Gallio's judgment throne, which was evidently in the open air. "And Gallio cared for none of these things," Acts 18:17—either for Paul's side or for that of his foes.

Preaching, Not Baptizing—Paul's Primary Business.

"For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel," v. 17. "So little concern have I with baptizing, that it is not properly part of my mission." In the injunction, Matt. 28:19, the principal command is, as here, to "make disciples"; "baptizing" is introduced subordinatedly, as the mode by which the nations are to be made disciples. So also in Mark 16:15, 16, the duty of "proclaiming the gospel," with its subsequent effects of "believing" and of "signs following," corresponds to what the apostle here calls "preaching the gospel"; "baptism" is mentioned once subordinatedly, as an explanation of "believing." Such, too, was the practice of preaching was the mission of the apostles as of our Lord before them; the administration of baptism was performed by inferiors (John 4:2). Compare Acts 8:12, 16, and by implications Acts 9:18; 10:48; 19:3, 5, 6.—Dean Arthur P. Stanley.

"Christian ministers do not always realize that their supreme task is not that of administering finances, or of organizing churches, but of preaching the gospel."—Prof. Charles R. Erdman.

The Return to Antioch.

After completing a ministry of eighteen months at Corinth and having his head shaved at Cenchræ (ten miles from Corinth) in fulfillment of a vow, the nature of which is unknown to us, Paul set sail for Syria. He was accompanied by Aquila and Priscilla as far as Ephesus, which they probably reached in a fortnight. Attending a synagogue service, he spoke with such power and acceptability that the Jews desired him to remain some time with them. Unable to comply with the request because he must hasten on to Jerusalem in time to observe the approaching feast—probably Pentecost—he promised to return later, if providentially permitted. Sailing from Ephesus, he landed at Caesarea, and thence went overland to Jerusalem. After a short stay, during which he attended the feast and paid his respects to the church, he returned to Antioch in Syria, having been absent on his second missionary journey about three years.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 26.
The Golden Text is: "I will deliver thee out of the land of the wicked, and will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible" (Jeremiah 16:21).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Ye shall walk after the Lord your God . . . and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him" (Deuteronomy 10:14).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action.—evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism" (page 104).

Good For Biliousness
"I decided to take Theodor's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

PETE REGAL IS SUSPENDED BY RING OFFICIAL

BANISHED FROM PAMPA CANVAS FOR HITTING LOW REPEATEDLY

Pete Regal, wild man of Borger, was suspended from fighting in a Pampa ring by Commissioner Frank Hunt last night after he had consistently been warned by the referee to refrain from low blows. On top of his suspension, Regal's purse was forfeited. Regal's second and the referee had a "run-in" after Regal had been banished from the ring.
Eddie Zillitis, Collinsville, Ill., Regal's opponent, was given the fight in the fifth round after he had been hit low four times. His metal protector was dented and doctors found three bruises on his groin. The affair was billed as a six-round semi-final and Regal was leading at the time the fight was stopped. He had dropped Zillitis for three counts, two in the first round, but Zillitis came back strong and dropped Regal in the third with a terrific right that almost turned the Borger boy a flip.

The main event between Thurmon Murdock, Borger, and Charlie Ady, Collinsville, Ill., after starting out like a heavyweight battle of hit and clinch, gained speed and ended in a wild and woolly affair with the judges giving their decisions as a draw. Ady weighed 113 pounds and Murdock 111. The little fellows hit hard and often but missed even more because of their great footwork and dodging.

The opening round was a hit and miss affair with both boys feeling out the other. Murdock opened with a little and took the next three rounds by hitting trip-hammer blows when he got ednosai Setaoin blows when he got inside Ady's long left which Ady failed to use to good advantage. The Illinois boy started crowding the fight in the fifth and had the advantage for a couple of rounds.

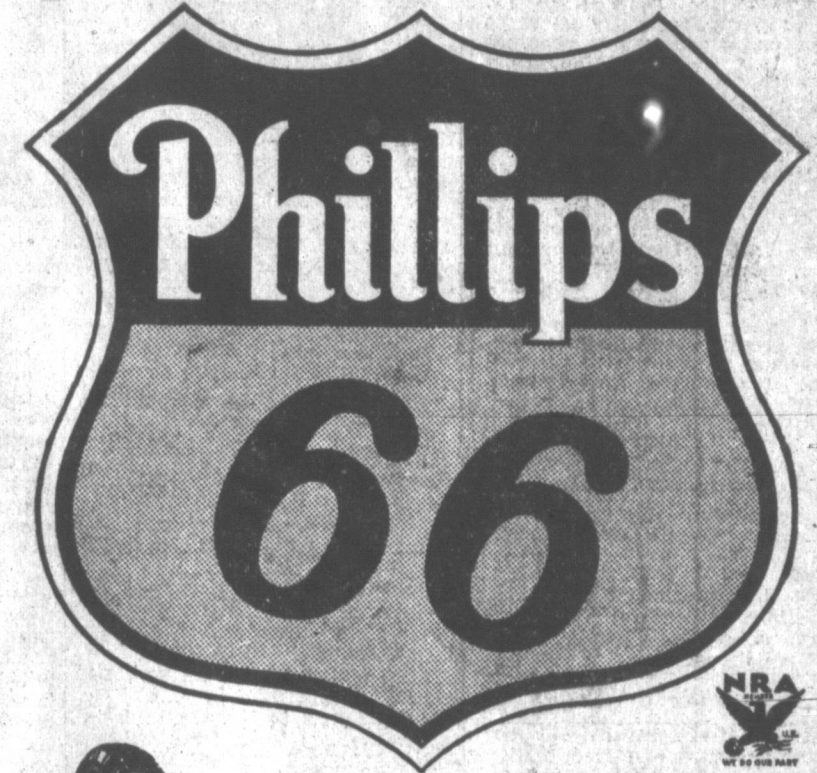

Ady connected hard and often in the eighth and Murdock became sick. Ady displaying fine sportsmanship stepped back, only to have Murdock swarm him. Leather flew in the ninth and also in the tenth with Murdock opening strong but fading when he again became ill. Ady once more stepped aside while Murdock was ill and again the latter surprised him with a shower of blows.

Kid Stamper, local slugger, won a torrid battle from Red Davis, Amarillo, in a four-round preliminary. The two big fellows stood toe to toe and slugged until one backed off. Stamper opened strong but Davis came back with a lo.

500 Fans See Baker Eleven Beat Houston

A point after touchdown was the difference between two teams of ferocious little warriors from B. M. Baker and Sam Houston schools yesterday afternoon at Harvester park. The score ended 7 to 6 with the Sam Houston boys on the short end of the count. The latter were crowned city champions after they had previously defeated the Baker team in a series of games.

The scrapping youngsters played all afternoon on equal terms, each making a touchdown, and the one-point margin was made in an end run. The boys played mainly without helmets or protective gear, but they won't have to next year, because about 500 football fans paid admission to the game, and the $73 netted will be used to buy equipment next season.

The enthusiastic crowd saw the small boys tackle and block savagely, execute line plays with precision, and run interference like veterans.

The Sam Houston marker was made in the first quarter. Baker retaliated with a touchdown in the second quarter.

Rutherford, in and to the following described real estate, levied upon as the property of B. C. Rutherford, to-wit:

The above sale to be made by me to satisfy the above described judgment for Five Hundred Seventy-One Dollars, in favor of Willie Downey, together with the costs of said suit, and the proceeds applied to the satisfaction thereof.

C. E. PIPES, Sheriff, Gray County, Texas.
By F. A. HOLLENBACH, Deputy, Pampa, Texas, November 10, 1933. (Nov. 10-17-24.)

SHERIFF'S SALE
Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued by the clerk of the 31st district court of Gray county, on the 9th day of November, 1933, in a certain cause wherein Willie Downey is plaintiff, and B. C. Rutherford is defendant, in which cause a judgment was rendered on the 16th day of October, 1933, in favor of the said plaintiff, Willie Downey, against said defendant, B. C. Rutherford, for the sum of five hundred seventy-one ($571.00) dollars with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from date of judgment, together with all costs of suit, I have levied upon, and will on the first Tuesday in December, 1933, it being the 5th day of said month, at the court house door of Gray county, Texas, within legal hours, proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder, all the right, title and interest of the defendant, B. C.

Joe Norman's Orchestra To Play in City

Dancers and music lovers of Pampa and the Panhandle will have another opportunity Saturday night at the Pla-Mor auditorium to dance to the music of Joe Norman and his ever popular orchestra. Admission will be 25 cents with 5 cents per dance.

The dances in the Panhandle played by Joe Norman are limited as he is building his orchestra and getting ready for a year's contract in one of the South's leading dance palaces.

This orchestra is well known in Pampa and is one of the few orchestras which is able to repeat continually at the same dance places. The musicians are artists and provide many novelty numbers during a dance.

Come Saturday night and enjoy the good music and a good time.

Mr. Sturgeon has been working on the preliminary plans for the show for several months. He believes that the 1934 show will be bigger and better than ever.

A production committee to assist Mr. Sturgeon is composed of Clyde F. Fatheree, W. A. Bratton, Gilmore N. Nunn, R. C. Wilson, Mack Graham, and Tom Blair.

Major entertainment offerings, each year, proceeds of the event are used to finance the club's work for underprivileged children and adults.

Kidnaping Case Shown in Movie Now at LaNora

Something different in screen entertainment will be provided at the LaNora today and Saturday in "Hot Money," the double length special which is to run in addition to the regular feature.

"Hot Money" is the complete story in picture of the recent Urschel kidnaping in Oklahoma City. It shows every important character in detail who was connected with the kidnaping. Scenes are shown of the Shannon farm where Urschel was held victim of the kidnapers, the farm in Texas where the $70,000 ransom money was hidden. For the first time in the history of any federal case, Judge Vaughn of Oklahoma City allowed sound pictures to be taken in the court room.

Scenes are shown of Judge Vaughn passing sentence on Machine Gun Kelly, Kathryn Kelly, Albert Bates, Harvey Bailey, and the Shannons. The screen flashes from "Hot Money" take you to Colorado, Tennessee, Texas, and Oklahoma presenting actual scenes and facts of the crime.

In the feature program, William Powell returns as Philo Vance in the S. S. Van Dine story that baffled readers of the Cosmopolitan magazine.

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Webb, Mrs. Ralph Dunbar and E. M. Cuberson left this morning for Albuquerque, N. M., where they will visit friends and relatives and transact business.

Nurse Acquitted In Grace Killing

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—Acquitted of a murder charge, Frieda Wilhelmina Wetz was free here today to seek again the health and happiness she claims were shattered by the man she was accused of slaying, Francis J. M. Grace, retired capitalist.

The 43-year-old nurse was acquitted last night by a jury. Grace, 56, was fatally shot in his Santa Cruz summer home September 9. Miss Wetz asserted that Grace, while she was in his employ, criminally attacked her and induced her to take measures to avoid motherhood.

Waggoner Named Race Chairman

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Guy L. Waggoner of Fort Worth is the new chairman of the Texas Racing commission. His appointment was announced yesterday by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson. He succeeds Frank Scofield, of Hillsboro, who resigned to become collector of internal revenue for the southern district of Texas.

Waggoner is a son of W. T. Waggoner, builder of Arlington Downs, this state's premier racing plant. The Waggoners are breeders of fine horses and worked for years to get the legislature to legalize wagering on horse races. The law setting up a racing commission to supervise race meets became effective on September 1.

Gasoline Output For December Is Fixed By Ickes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Secretary Ickes today set gasoline inventories as of December 31, 1933, to be 51,000,000 barrels in an effort to control production there as he is now controlling production of crude petroleum.

The figure set will allow an increase of about 600,000 barrels over existing levels, but will prevent stocks from increasing considerably more, as they normally would between November and December.

The secretary, in a regulation under the oil code, divided the United States into eight refinery districts. He decreed that the gasoline stocks which may be held in each district shall be a certain percentage of the total sales of such district during the 12 months ended September 30, 1933.

The order was characterized officially as equally important to crude control. If a refinery is limited as to stocks of gasoline, officials believe it will not produce excessively.

The refinery districts are as follows: Number 1, East Coast; number 2, Appalachian, refineries in western New York, western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio; number 3, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, western Ohio, and Tennessee; number 4, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Iowa; number 5, Texas, divided into two sub-districts as inland Texas and Texas Gulf Coast; number 6, two sub-districts including Louisiana Gulf Coast and Alabama and northern Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi; number 7, Rocky Mountain, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, western South Dakota and western Nebraska; No. 8, California.

race meets became effective on September 1.

CRASH OF NATIONAL GUARD'S PLANE SEEN IN NEWS MOVIE

Appalling views of the wreck of a national guard airplane that crashed into a house at Shrewsbury, N. J., causing the deaths of seven men, women, and children, are to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily News-Universal Newsreel. Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, describes this and the other important news events in the reel at LaNora theater.

Lieut. George R. Johnson, noted aerial photographer and a sergeant died when the plane side slipped during a steep bank and hit the roof of the house. The ship's gasoline tank exploded setting fire to the building and causing the deaths of five colored persons.

Other important events reported by McNamee include thrilling scenes in New York City as St. Mary's defeats Fordham, 13-6, in an inter-sectional football game; exclusive pictures of a new packing device demonstrated in New York City that permits men to walk on eggs without breaking their shells; exclusive pictures of a fat woman's beauty contest at Ocean Park, Cal.; colorful scenes at Kansas City, Kan., as youngsters perform amazing stunts in a junior rodeo; breathtaking scenes at Fairfield, O., where the nation's leading motorcycle riders compete in an exciting race; a remarkable demonstration of an "iron claw" by police at Dayton, O., which they have adopted to suppress the conventional nightstick and unusual scenes in Rome, Italy, as King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini join a crowd of 200,000 celebrating the anniversary of Il Duce's famous march on Rome.

WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

anyon has his former...
 At the door he flipped the light on the massive rock walls and the broad parapet 25 feet high where soldiers once paced sentry-go at night. A clump of devil's club nearly choked the entrance. He pushed a way through the clump, and they stepped into the gloomy hallway that led down the center.

There were six rooms on the ground floor, but the second story was one big room, probably the Cossack's assembly place. The roof had partly fallen in; the floor above had rotted, leaving only the thick beams; the dust of many generations covered everything; but otherwise the ruin lay there as it had been left on the night of the massacre, one hundred and twenty years ago.

Down the dusty hallway led a fresh mezzanine track small and dainty. Curt knew it was Sonya's, on some previous expedition. She certainly had nerve, to visit that place alone!

At the far end of the corridor she pointed to the doorway of the room at their left. In the hushed silence Sonya lowered her voice to a whisper.

"The massacre room, Mr. Ralston. Those last eight Cossacks barricaded themselves here. These blows were from the copper axes of the Kioshees as they broke down the door."

Inside the room Curt played the flash about. A dozen rusty muskets of the flintlock type lay scattered on the floor. He picked one up and clicked the heavy hammer. A spark leaped. A gainst an empty powder canister lay a broken sword with richly chased hilt.

The rubbed away the corrosion till he made out the loping wolf insignia of the old Cossacks, surrounded by the imperial crest of the Romanoffs. Not caring so gruesome a souvenir, he put it down and turned his flash on the walls. Those dark discolorations, blotchy and sinister-looking—were they merely seepage from rain and snow, or bloodstains of the murdered Cossacks?

He took Sonya out of the ghostly place into the clean sweet night air, and they went on toward the post.

"It was plain justice that the Kioshees did wipe out those Cossacks," he remarked grimly. "The Cossack regime allowed torture like this to go on for two thousand miles up and down the Pacific Coast. They knew all about it; they were just as brutal to their own subjects, and they kept it up right down into modern times."

"Thank heaven, that regime got what was coming to it, too!" The Leninists did a good job when they wiped that depravity out, root, stock, and branch. They deserve thanks—"

Sonya stopped suddenly, and her hand dropped from Curt's arm. "Thanks," she whirled on him, her eyes flashing. "To that crew of murderers?"

"Her words came in a torrent, angry ringing words. 'You don't realize what you're saying! You don't know anything about the red wave of bloodshed that swept all over Russia in '17 and '18!'"

"You were here in peaceful Canada, idling around pleasantly on some river or mountain range. You didn't see hundreds and thousands of innocent people killed, to stoop for what a guilty few had done. Thanks—to those killers! Don't you ever say a thing like that to me!"

Curt stepped back as though she had struck him. Her anger was like a blow, so sudden and violent and utterly unexpected. For a moment he hardly knew what to say. Then he became a little angry himself. What he had just said didn't call for any such tirade from her.

"If you please," he said stiffly. "I limited my statements to the Carlistic outfit. And I wasn't idling around pleasantly during that time; I was pushing a plane back and forth across the front in northern France. I don't condone this red wave of bloodshed that you speak about. I said it was a good thing that the Leninists swept the Romanoff regime off the map. I'm sorry if my opinion wounded you, but it's my opinion."

"You're welcome to it!"

"Let's not have any angry feelings about it, please."

"I'm not angry."

"Well, if you're not, I wouldn't want to be close by when you are!"

Sonya struggled to control herself. "Let's drop it."

"All right."

In an awkward silence they walked on out the path. Curt wondered, in a bewildered way, what on earth, his remark had touched off in her, to make her fly all to pieces like that. He had recovered from his own anger, but her fiery words were ringing in his ears yet.

Near the tent she stopped, faced him. "You needn't go on to the post with me; it's only a few steps." She gave him her hand. "I'm really grateful to you and your partner for coming over to the island. It was awfully nice of you, and I won't ever forget it."

Curt tried to detain her. Somehow he had offended her violently, and he did want to part on friendly terms. But she disengaged her hand, turned, left him and vanished up the trail in the dusk.

He was still staring after her when Paul came out of the tent. "I say, Paul," he remarked dryly. "It's a good thing you and I went over to that island and stopped that."

"Why so?"

"Well, if we hadn't, I'm thinking there'd be a dead half-breed over there by now!"

DOUBLE-ACTING BAKING POWDER

— THIS CURIOUS WORLD —

A SUNKEN SHIP GOES DIRECTLY TO THE BOTTOM, NO MATTER HOW DEEP THE OCEAN MAY BE! THE ENORMOUS PRESSURE AT GREAT DEPTHS DOES NOT RETARD THE SINKING VESSEL.

BIRDS CAN CHANGE THE FOCUS OF THEIR EYES INSTANTLY... BECOMING FAR-SIGHTED AND NEAR-SIGHTED AT WILL.

THE HIPPOPOTAMUS DOES NOT SWEAT BLOOD! THIS BELIEF AROSE FROM THE FACT THAT THE ANIMAL EXCRETES A CARBINE-COLORED PIGMENT FROM ITS SKIN.

AFTER the Titanic and Lusitania disasters, frequent discussions arose as to whether or not a sunken ship goes directly to the bottom of the sea. There was a popular idea that the ship might come to a standstill, when it reached the depths of great pressure. Water, however, is nearly incompressible, and its density increases but little under pressure.

—The renewal of this classic finds both teams already beaten and the edge in Southern California's favor. Tied by Oregon State and beaten by Stanford, the Trojans came back with a bang last week to wallop Oregon, 26-0. Notre Dame's first touchdown in five games beat Northwestern last week but the Ramblers still are doing most of their ground-gaining between the 20-yard lines.

Michigan-Northwestern — Michigan's the choice to hurdle the last obstacle in the Wolverines' path to the Big Ten title.

Minnesota-Wisconsin — The Badgers will fight hard but Minnesota should win handily.

Stanford-California — The Far West's "natural" of the day with Stanford slightly favored to win the Oregon for the coast conference title and perhaps receive the Rose Bowl assignment.

Duke-North Carolina State — Duke's perfect record seems safe for at least another week.

Washington State-Washington — Another toss-up with a tie apparently as good a guess as any.

Indiana-Purdue — Purdue the indicated winner.

U. C. L. A.-St. Mary's — A ballot for St. Mary's but by no lopsided count.

Georgia-Georgia Tech — This is one where anything can happen and often does but Georgia's record is better.

Chicago-Dartmouth — Whatever advantage there is in a home field earns Chicago a slight edge.

Nebraska-Iowa — Nebraska's toughest at Lincoln but Iowa's triumph over Purdue inspires a wavering ballot for the Hawkeyes.

Texas-Arkansas — The Southwest conference is the toughest of them all to pick this season, explaining this shaky vote of confidence in Arkansas to win and clinch the title, Southern Methodist-Baylor — Perhaps Baylor will pull another one out of the fire.

Texas Christian-Rice — Maybe the Horned Frogs have really started rolling now. If so, Rice appears in for a bad afternoon.

Centenary-Mississippi — Centenary may continue its unbeaten streak here.
