Faith Rewarded in Murder Case

Three years of agonized waiting has brought a double reward to Mrs. Alice Watt, Denver hospital physician—virtual vindication of murder and the hand in marriage of the woman who has kept faith in him. Shepard is shown here with his wife, formerly Mrs. Alice Watt, rich Denver widow, after he had received news that the U. S. supreme court had reversed his 1930 conviction of saying his former wife in 1929. With the reversal, Shepard and his bride revealed they were married secretly in July while he was under life sentence.

POLICE NET IS FOILED

Lindys Lose Way In Rain Over Spain But Land Safely

FINE LANDING MADE ON BAY NEAR VILLAGE

REPORT THAT COUPLE WAS FORCED DOWN, NOT CORRECT

MADRID, Nov. 13 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed safely today near Caldeas de Tuy, province of Pontevedra, on a flight across Spain. Original reports were that the American fliers, who took off from Santon de Portugal, had been forced down near the little village at the foot of the mountains. The Lindberghs descended to a landing because they lost their way in the clouds and rain which enveloped the Spanish coast. The colonel landed the big seaplane expertly on the sheltered bay near the fishing village and he and his wife said they expected to spend the night there before proceeding tomorrow morning to Lisbon, provided the weather clears up sufficiently to permit a flight at that time.

Just Dare!

Gun toting is no fad for Margaret Hise, University of Iowa student. She is in dead earnest, ready for the extortionist who has written several notes to her, one demanding $10,000. Miss Hise, a West Liberty, Ia., co-ed, is shown in her sorority house room, as she loads her revolver before leaving for the classroom.

PRINTER HELD IN CONNECTION WITH OFFENSE

FATHER TO PAY 'ANY REASONABLE DEMAND'

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—Relatives disclosed today that they had received a telegram from Sacramento suggesting the payment of $20,000 as a compromise ransom for the return of Brooke Hart, 22, son of a wealthy San Jose merchant, who disappeared last Thursday and apparently was kidnaped. It was said the new ransom demand was received last night. No comment was forthcoming as to how the missing youth's father, Alexander J. Hart, would deal with it, the only previous word from him being he would pay "any reasonable demand." A few hours after young Hart disappeared last Thursday the Hart home here received a telephone call from San Francisco in which $40,000 was asked. The new demand preceded by several hours the arrest in Oakland, Calif., of Burr W. Poole, a printer suspected of having some connection with a gang which officers said might have been responsible for young Hart's disappearance. One Poole's person was found in a hole saying "contact Hart's mother. Pay Jack Klutas. Do not destroy." Previously officers had been tipped from Chicago that a gang headed by "Handsome Jack" Klutas might have had a hand in Hart's disappearance. Two telephone tips which put police on Poole's trail were traced to the printing establishment where Poole is employed.

He will succeed the Rev. C. A. Long, who was transferred to the Sweetwater district as presiding elder.

For the first time in its history, Bridgeport, industrial capital of Connecticut, elected a Socialist mayor and an entire Socialist city government. The mayor-elect, Jasper McLevy, who tried 10 times to win the office as a Socialist, is shown receiving congratulations after his victory.

HOLD WOMAN FOR PART IN DEPOT CRIME

MRS. CONNER PHONED INFORMATION TO GANG, CLAIM

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 13 (AP)—A woman described by police as Mrs. E. B. Conner, under indictment at Kansas City in connection with the Kansas City union station killings, was captured here today.

Federal operatives said Mrs. Conner is the woman who telephoned from Hot Springs, Ark., to Kansas City to give the gangsters the information that resulted in the shooting in which four officers and Frank Nash were killed in front of the union station on June 17.

Police said they had hoped they would arrest either Wilbur Underhill or Verne Miller, the Kansas City machine gunner, but if either had been in hiding here they were gone when officers staged their raid on a dinner club on the outskirts of the city.

Another woman was taken into custody with Mrs. Conner, but police withheld her name on the theory she was not involved in the case. Will T. Griffin, inspector of police detectives, said he had obtained information some time ago that Mrs. Conner was hiding here, and that J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, The house in which Mrs. Conner was taken has been watched for several days.

ROOSEVELT HAS EYE ON A MRS. W. B. COCKRAN

Would Own Stevenson Birthday Except For Her

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—This is the anniversary of Robert Louis Stevenson's birthday, the rights and privileges of which would belong to the president of the United States except for Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran. The famous author of "Treasure Island," "Kidnaped," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and a great many other stories, assigned his birthday anniversary to Mrs. Cockran in 1891 in a whimsical document which charged her "to use my birthday with moderation and humanity, et tamquam bona filia familiae, the said birthday not being so young as it once was, and having carried me in a very satisfactory manner since I can remember."

Observance of the birthday, the Stevenson document said, must be "by the sporting of fine raiment, eating of rich meats and receipts of gifts, compliments and copies of verse, according to the manner of our ancestors." If Mrs. Cockran fails to follow the instructions, Stevenson charged, the privileges to his birthday are to go to the president of the United States.

Mrs. Cockran, however, has no intention of permitting such a trust to escape her. She is on a motor tour today, but before departing she left words that wherever November 13 might find her, she would carefully follow out the rules laid down by the poet-author.

Robert Louis Stevenson who assigned the rights of his birthday to Mrs. Cockran upon learning she was born on Christmas, was himself born in Edinburgh, Scotland, Nov. 13, 1850.

Hitler's Next Move Is French Question

PARIS, Nov. 13 (AP)—What will be Chancellor Hitler's next move—now that he has been given ballot-box backing by the German people? That was the question on many lips in France today. For one thing, some feared the Nazi words that wherever November 13 might find her, she would carefully follow out the rules laid down by the poet-author. An expression of the government's attitude toward the German situation is expected Tuesday.

Small Boys May Play a Football Game For Public

Local football fans may get a chance to see a Pampa championship football team perform yet. Today, Principal A. L. Patrick of Sam Houston school and Principal Aaron Meek of Baker school were considering whether to grant a popular demand and stage a football game between the football teams of the two schools for the benefit of the public. The Sam Houston boys won the championship last week for the second consecutive year, but the principals may decide to let the boys play again. Those who did see the game have praised the youngsters so highly that most who have been told about the games now want a chance to see the little fellows in action.

The second team of the Sam Houston school will play the first team of Merton school at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday afternoon at the Houston gridiron. Members of the champion team include the following: Vergil Brown, lb; Robert Stockton, lg; Hubert Russell, lt; Leon Holloway, c; Alvin Wright, rg; Glenn Nichols, rt; Doyle Crabtree, re; Hugh Stennis, qb; Chas. Cunningham, lb; Howard Myers, rfb; Jack Morris, fb; reserves, Billy Winchester, fb; Jack Ward, hb; C. V. Edward, rg; Tabor Rowe, center.

'Last Roundup' Is An Aid To Tourist Business in Texas

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—"Git along little doggie, git along, git along," and other renditions of western songs now popular have attracted travelers to Texas. C. Hawley of New York City, distributor of national road reports, was here today. He said his department had received more applications for information pertaining to automobile travel in Texas in recent weeks than ever before. "Attention of the Big Round-Up," and other western songs, has inspired travelers to want to see Texas, it seems," he said.

BANDAGING WILL BE TOPIC OF FIRST AID COURSE THIS EVENING

Not less than one hundred men are expected to attend the second lesson of the Red Cross-Boy Scout course in first aid at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the red building on the central campus. Dr. R. M. Bellamy, technical director of the course, will make the introductory talk and Dr. R. A. Webb will speak on bandaging, the subject of tonight's lesson. Don Conley will supervise demonstrations of applying splints. The Zimmerman quartet will furnish entertainment.

ROLL CALL IS GOING STRONG IN THIS AREA

Sentiment Behind Organization Is Helpful

ALTHOUGH the annual Red Cross roll call is in reality just getting well under way today, workers reported that more than 150 Pampans became members of the organization Saturday. City wide approval of the work of the Pampa chapter was found by the canvassers. For every dollar that Pampa gives in memberships, the chapter returns many dollars in the form of food and clothing.

Work was started in the residential sections and the business district today. All canvassers who have not called for their supplies at the B. C. D. office are requested by J. E. Cunningham, roll call chairman, to do so at once. Work in the oil fields will start soon. Although the drive will officially continue the rest of this month, Mr. Cunningham expects the campaign to close before that time.

Mrs. W. W. Simmons left Pampa hospital this morning, and will go to the home of her father in Dallas.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Murphy in Worley hospital yesterday, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Doe Campbell of Henderson, formerly local residents, were here for a week-end visit.

Raymond Miller is to be dismissed from Pampa hospital today.

FORMER PROFESSOR AT TEXAS UNIVERSITY WRITES ROMANCE

Be sure to start the new serial story in THE NEWS today. Curt Tennyson plunged into the Canadian wilderness to track down Igor Karakhan, an international crook—and found the most alluringly beautiful woman he ever met. Sonya Nichols had no place in the dangerous, rugged country in which Curt sought his quarry. Her fragile beauty was in strange contrast with the impressive savagery of their surroundings. But Curt soon learned that Sonya's Madonna-like face hid a secret that threatened to crash his dreams of love and romance, that she might be an enemy lurking in a trap. Curt discovered with a shock that Sonya, too, was headed for Karakhan's hiding-place on a mission she refused to reveal or explain but that implied all too strongly a romance in which Curt was not to share. William Byron Mowery, author of the serial story, was born in the "backwoods" country. He is a graduate of Ohio State University and the University of Illinois. For a time he was a member of the English faculty of Texas University. He now writes and travels "Forbidden Valley" is the name of his serial for THE NEWS.

Woodin Denies He Is Opposed To Gold Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A vigorous denial that the treasury is opposing President Roosevelt's gold buying policy was made today by Secretary Woodin. Coincident with another hike in the RFC purchase price for newly mined gold to $38.45 an ounce, the secretary of the treasury was a White House visitor.

Lubbock Train Tickets Placed On Sale in City

Tickets for the proposed special train to Lubbock Saturday when the Harvesters meet the Lubbock Westerners were placed on sale at the office of the Board of City Development this afternoon. The tickets are $3.50 and the train will be operated if 150 tickets are sold. Fans who can make the trip are urged to secure their tickets at once because the Santa Fe will have to be notified Thursday if the train is to be operated. Time of departure has not been set, but it should be around 8 a. m.

Supt. R. B. Fisher approved the move of taking a special train to Lubbock. He said that the Harvesters need support more now than ever. The boys have played wonderful ball during the season and deserve all the support possible. Supt. Fisher also said that it might be arranged for the band and pep squad to make the trip if the special train was taken.

STILL IN THE MOOD FOR A NEW DEAL

Whatever else the voters may have on their minds, they at least sent a roll of thunder crackling along the horizon in the recent municipal elections, and no weather prophet worth his salt can fail to read a warning in it.

No one party and no one issue triumphed. Instead, it seems that the electorate arose once more with blood in its eye and swung a heavy club. New York gave Tammany Hall a terrific defeat.

In addition, the 18th amendment got its final blow and within a month it will have ceased to be law.

What does it all mean? Chiefly, it means that the voters still are on the war-path. They still are in the mood that possessed them a year ago—which is to say that they are anxious to vote "against", that they are exceedingly critical of the "ins" everywhere.

It would be impossible to make a worthwhile appraisal of the reconstruction now being attempted in Washington without taking this into consideration.

The profound dissatisfaction which blew the lid off a year ago has not died down. People are tired of empty promises and mediocre performances. They are serving notice anew that no officeholder who fails to take the demand for a new day into account can hope to survive.

It has promised much and it has started much. These promises and these actions must run the gauntlet of a national which is tired of fooling. They have got, in plain English, to be good. The promises must be sincere and the actions must be effective.

For the municipal elections simply reaffirm a temper that was made evident a year ago. There is a grim earnestness to this temper that no one can fail to notice.

ROOSEVELT'S GEORGIA FARM HAS OLD 'TOOLS' IN FENCE CORNERS

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 13 (AP)—A small red farm house with an unimpressive brood of weathered out buildings marks the location of a practical hobby with which President Roosevelt will occupy part of his vacation here this month.

The Roosevelt farm, with a modest hundred acres under cultivation, is wholly unlike popular conceptions of hobby agriculture. The cows are not milked in marble halls and the chickens aren't reared by governesses.

It is a working farm where the objective is to make it pay its own way when possible and show improvement at little cost. There's rusting equipment in the barnyard and castoff implements in the fence corners just as there are on anybody else's farm.

To this farm, Mr. Roosevelt comes frequently during his visits here and talks about crops and stock with his manager, Olin Moore. They're looking for him when he comes to Warm Springs Saturday.

The farm, Manager Moore explains, hasn't been particularly profitable but it is being improved steadily. "We haven't made Mr. Roosevelt much money," he said, "but then he haven't cost him a lot."

DAVID E. R. B. HAYNES in Miami Chief: Notwithstanding the failure in crops in many sections, land values have advanced slightly and our local papers report greater activity in real estate than has been noticed in the past two or three years.

WILLIAM RUSSELL CLARK in Memphis Democrat: Another election year is in the offing. Some of the Panhandle newspapers coming to our desk are already carrying the announcements of various candidates, subject to the Democratic primaries next July. It may seem to some that these announcements are somewhat inopportune—but they have been made too early, but we believe it is a good policy to get in the field as early as possible, rather than to wait until the line-up of candidates can be checked.

T. A. LANDERS in McLean News: McLean can be glad that Amarillo is waking up to the highway 66 situation. We have had to do most of our fighting for paving on this highway without Amarillo's help the past few years, but it now looks as if we might get some action.

There is little excuse for this situation at the present time, and whoever is in authority should take some short cuts to get the road paved.

YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH OF CROWD AT PRINCETON-DARTMOUTH GRID GAME

BODY IS FOUND ON CAMPUS BY A WATCHMAN

FAMILY BELIEVES BOY WAS VICTIM OF MOTORIST

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 13. (AP)—County authorities seeking a solution of the strange death of Jay F. Towner, 3rd, still held to be the theory that the 23-year-old youth from Perryman, Mo., was fatally injured in the crush of a dense crowd leaving Palmer stadium after the Princeton-Dartmouth game.

County Coroner Frank Grove and County Detective James Kirkham were hopeful that the day would produce evidence substantiating their explanation of a fatality unique in football history.

Although without tangible clues in the case, and in the face of blunt rejections expressed by Towner's family, the two officials have reconstructed the events leading up to Towner's death as follows:

The youth was leaving Palmer stadium after the game and had almost reached the ground end of ramp 22 when the press of the crowd crushed him against a concrete abutment. In an effort to free himself, he placed both hands on the abutment and sought to push his way out, but the crush was so great that both his wrists were broken and he was jammed back against the abutment, suffering the ruptured liver and spleen which cause the fatal internal hemorrhages.

Towner, a former Johns Hopkins student, then fell to the ground at the ramp entrance, so the theory runs, and lay there until some one noticed his condition and took him up, apparently to take him to the university infirmary 500 yards distant.

Officials believe the person who was taking Towner to the infirmary discovered the youth was dead when half the distance was covered and, panic stricken, abandoned the body on the campus in the rear of Goyol hall, where it was found by watchmen Saturday night.

Teachers Win Fourth Game

The deadlock for first place in the Lone Star conference football race will probably be smashed Friday at Commerce when the Southwest Teachers of San Marcos battles the East Texas Teachers of Commerce. Both are undefeated in the championship chase. The other conference combat Friday will pit the North Texas Teachers of Denton against the Trinity Tigers of Waxahatchie.

The East Texas Teachers won their fourth consecutive conference game last week by trimming their arch rivals, the North Texas Teachers, 6 to 0. The Southwest Teachers and some companions who were separated from him during the football game held the belief that he was the victim of a hit-and-run auto drive, an opinion which Coroner Grove held before starting his investigation of the case.

retained their unmarred record with a 3 to 0 verdict over the Sam Houston Teachers at Huntsville.

Lone Star standing:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
East Texas Teachers	4	0	0	1.000
Southwest Teachers	3	0	0	1.000
Sam Houston	1	2	1	.375
Trinity	1	2	1	.375
North Texas Teachers	1	2	0	.333
Stephen F. Austin	0	4	0	.000

(The games count half won and half lost.)

SEVEN TEAMS HAVE CHANCE AT THE TITLE

FOOTBALL RACE IN THE SOUTHWEST IS WIDE OPEN AFFAIR

BY BILL PARKER.

Gridiron fans who crave close championship races and desire to see the eventful outcome continually in the doubtful column have a made-to-order campaign in the Southwest conference where all seven members still have a chance at the title.

Saturday's tremendous upsets, Baylor's 3 to 0 victory over Texas and Rice's 7 to 5 triumph over Arkansas, lifted all conference teams who were sinking fast back into the championship swim. The race may be settled in the Arkansas-Texas game at Austin November 24 since it will be Arkansas' final conference game. Again it may linger until the final game December 7 when Baylor for Arkansas over Texas would clinch the crown for that team, but a defeat and the scramble will go merrily on its way.

There probably will be some eliminating Saturday when Texas Christian plays Texas at Austin and Texas A. and M. battles Rice at Houston. These are the two conference games Non-conference games will pit Southern Methodist against Centenary at Shreveport, Arkansas against Hendrix college at Fayetteville, and Friday at Lubbock the Baylor Bears will play Texas Tech.

A victory for Texas over Texas Christian would rout the Christians from the championship marathon. But a defeat for Texas would freeze Texas Christian's chance and drop the Longhorns to an even percentage with the Christians.

Either Texas A. and M. or Rice will drop by the wayside even though their game should terminate in a tie. The winner will still have a chance but the loser can wave goodbye to the 1933 championship.

The Texas Christian and Texas game promises everything. Texas dropped a heart-breaker to Baylor when Aubrey Stricker booted a field goal from the 29-yard line in the final seconds of play. Texas Christian coasted to a 19 to 7 decision over North Dakota.

Rice flared from out of nowhere to beat Arkansas 7 to 6. The victory was accomplished finally by a 60-yard drive in the fourth period, a touchdown that overhauled Arkansas 6 to 0 lead.

Southern Methodist had little trouble taking the Texas Aggies 19 to 0.

HARVESTERS' NEXT JOB IS TO WHIP WESTERNERS SATURDAY

'Wonder Boys' Emerge From Devastating Ordeal of Saturday Uninjured.

The Harvesters will spend this week in preparation for their game with the Lubbock Westerners in Lubbock Saturday. There will be no hard work on the program, but a scrimmage will be held Wednesday afternoon. Fans will be admitted to the park any afternoon this week.

There will be no more secret practices, "unless Lubbock defeats Amarillo Thanksgiving Day and Pampa wins over Lubbock Saturday." It will be a case of stop Rufus Ryan in Lubbock Saturday. Ryan is the speediest man in the district and when he gets loose, it is "just too bad." Lubbock, like the Harvesters, has a strong defensive club.

On Friday afternoon the Westerners defeated the Plainview Bulldogs 14 to 6, but not until they were badly outplayed. A pass over the goal line and a long run by Ryan accounted for the Westerner touchdowns. The Harvesters are not taking the game lightly. They defeated Plainview by only one touchdown and, after the hard game Saturday, will need to be at their best for the encounter.

The Mitchellmen came through Saturday's terrific ordeal in good condition physically. The boys are a little sore and bruised, but there are no serious injuries. This afternoon was to be spent in limbering up joints and tomorrow in running over plays. The scrimmage Wednesday will be the only hard workout of the week.

"It was a heart-breaking game to lose but it was one of those games where everything happened but a ball carrier running the wrong way," Coach Mitchell said this morning in forgetting the hectic game of Saturday afternoon.

The Amarillo Sandies meet the Borger Bulldogs in Borger Saturday night.

Miss Yvonne Thomas has as guests Saturday Miss Josephine Planken of Vernon, Miss Mildred McMillan of Amarillo, J. C. Lile of Hereford, Hosa Foster and Lewis Shirley of Canyon.

COURT RECORD

DRUNKS ARE PROBLEM

Nearly a score of misdemeanor complaints of drunkenness and disturbing the peace resulted from the Armistice day "celebrations" at local dance halls Saturday night. County officers bore the brunt of efforts to keep order, and several peace officers were hard-pressed to handle some of those arrested. The football crowd was orderly by comparison, although hard liquor flowed freely during the holiday.

Losses of overcoats and hats were reported by a number of local residents and several visitors.

Baseball League Executives Will Meet This Week

Eight of Best Boys in Fight Game SCHEDULED

GALVESTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—The executive committee of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues meets here today to dispose of various matters before the opening Wednesday of the association's annual convention.

The most important business before the committee was an appeal from four former members of the Columbus American Association club, who were fined and banished from the league last June because of a salary limit violation.

The four ex-Red Birds, Art Shires, Gordon Slade, Jim Lindsey and Charley Wilson, were fined by President Thomas J. Hickey of the American Association.

Another issue before the committee was the case of a group of Pine Bluff players who quit the club without applying for a status of free agents. They quit because of failure to receive their salaries last season.

President W. G. Branham of the National Association indicated that the main issues before the convention proper this year would be consideration of amendments to put the "shoes" operator out of business, and for revision of the rule that closes a territory for five years when liens against the franchise are not paid.

Executive committees here for pre-convention business were President Branham; Alvin Gardner.

F. D. R. AND AIDES DECIDE TO STICK BY MONETARY PROGRAM

URGES CAUTION TO MAKE BOND PRICES HIGHER

NO NEW MONEY MOVE IN PROSPECT, IS INDICATED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt today stood by his gold-buying, price-lifting monetary policy with administration sources understanding that he now proposes no considerable change but hopes his aides will particularly careful.

None of the officials who sat at a White House conference last night would talk for publication, but they indicated privately that no new money move was in prospect.

The president was represented as simply wanting to talk over developments with the men who had been watching them. It was understood he asked caution so that bond prices would not be further or materially depressed, as they were last week, and so that other countries would not feel compelled to start a currency depreciation race matching the dollar's fall.

No attention, it was said, was given to the meeting called by Senators Thomas (D., Okla.) and Smith (D., S. C.) for next Friday. Participants in the White House conference indicated they had no advance notice of the senatorial call for a gathering of "all schools of thought on monetary reform."

Thomas, in a statement accompanying the call, said this: "In spite of opposition at home and abroad, the president is making progress in the revaluation of gold. There are many reasons for believing that our price of gold must go to double the statutory figure—that is, it must not stop short of $41.34 an ounce.

Conservative world opinion demands a 25 per cent gold reserve behind all currencies. Doubling the price of gold, if carried through by all nations, would be equivalent to new discoveries of gold which would double the total monetary gold stocks of the world. Only on such a revaluation basis is it feasible to return to the gold standard."

When President Roosevelt initiated his plan of buying gold at a higher figure than the world market price, in order to make the dollar cheaper, some believed that he might be aiming at the $41.34 mark, long advocated by Senator Thomas and others. There has been nothing tangible, however, to confirm that belief.

GERMANY IS NAZI

RUSSIANS WARN JAPANESE AGAINST AGGRESSION IN MANCHUKUO

CHARGE JAPAN WITH BUILDING MILITARY BASE

RUSSIANS FOR PEACE, BUT AIR FLEET IS READY

MOSCOW, Nov. 13 (AP)—Japanese imperialistic are charged with creating an armed base in Manchukuo in a manifesto issued by the far eastern section of the communist party.

Warning that Russia is prepared to act quickly in the event of Japanese attempts of aggression in the far east, the manifesto said: "Our air fleet is prepared to deal decisive blows at enemy centers of population. . . . With such an array of terrible armament, the Soviet union would readily kill any desire to compete against our program of peaceful labor."

Issued Nov. 1—Two days before Russia protested to Tokyo against the alleged flight of Japanese army planes over Soviet territory—the manifesto emphasized Russia's desire for peace.

But it added, Japan will lay herself open to "immeasurable catastrophe" if her imperialists put their policies into effect.

As this manifesto, newest development in extended differences, was discussed, both Tokyo and Moscow government authorities termed basic reports published abroad that Japanese planes had been shot down over Soviet territory.

Walter Martin, student at Oklahoma university, was here from Norman for a week-end visit.

Miss Ruth Ann Jackson was here over the week-end from Fort Worth, where she attends Texas Woman's college, to see the football game and visit her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fyfe and son, Bruce, of Childress, and Mr. Fyfe's parents of Amarillo attended the football game Saturday and visited with Mrs. Fyfe's sister, Miss Neva Burgan.

Doctors Give Creosote For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, both Tokyo and Moscow effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium, as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (Adv. 1A)

CHAPTER I—ROSALIE AGAIN

The hotel manager glanced up, stared for a moment at the weather-browned man beside the registry desk, then suddenly recognized him.

"Why, how d'you do, Mr. Tennyson! I didn't know you at first, you've changed so. Glad to have you with us again, sir."

His tone implied that a man who had been down in the far North hunting wolves by plane over the snow wastes of the Great Barrens, was lucky to be back in Edmonton alive.

"Mr. Desplains is with you, I suppose. Would you like something nice, a three-room suite?"

"Make it one room," Curt bade, for he had less than fifty dollars and his partner had nothing. He signed for himself and Smash Desplains. "By the way, Uselle, will you ask the desk clerk to phone around to the other hotels and find out where A. K. Marlin is staying?"

Superintendent Marlin of the Mounted Police. He was to get in from Vancouver yesterday.

"He and Miss Rosalie are right here with us, Mr. Tennyson. That reminds me"—Lahelle turned and reached a letter from the mail rack—"the superintendent asked me to hand you this when you registered. If you're having conferences with him, I'll give you a room near his suite."

Curt ripped the envelope and read Marlin's letter. It was brief, puzzling.

As he wired you at Fort Resolution, Rosalie and I'll be in Edmonton for several days, and I'll like to see you as soon as you come in from Great Slave. I hear that the Consolidated Minerals have offered you a job. Don't tie up with them definitely till you get in touch with me; I've got a proposition of the utmost importance to talk over with you.—A. K.

Curt frowned uneasily as he read the note again. Just what was this "proposition"? Hardly a bid for him to rejoin the Mounted Police; A. K. surely knew he would never go back into the Force. "Utmost importance"—when A. K. said that, it meant something extraordinary.

With a slight limp, his relic of a war-time crack-up, he crossed the lobby to the elevator where a bell-hop was waiting with his key and duffle bag.

A number of people, loitering over their morning newspapers, looked up, saw him, followed him with interested curious glances. His rough flying clothes and the goggles helmet in his hand told them he was an aviator. Thirty-two, or -three, he was only medium tall but as hardened as a range wolf, with lean jaw, thin ascetic lips and hawk-sharp gray eyes.

Exposure to summer sun and winter woolly-whipper had weathered his face almost as dark as an Indian's. There was a quiet power about him which set him off from other adventurers of the North who occasionally appeared in the capital for a day or two. They were usually breezy, robust, likable; he was poker-faced and silent, with an air of cold aloofness that repelled people.

Upstairs in his room, Curt glanced out the window into the hotel courtyard where the golden June sun lay like a benediction over the flower beds and promenade, and he marveled at the contrast between his world of today and his world of yesterday.

Today an elite hotel, snowy linen, a gleaming bath, servants at the push of a button; while yesterday at that same hour he and Smash and Paul St. Clair had been trying a whitish sliver of Great Slave lake!

After a year of absence he had looked forward eagerly to visiting the city again, but now that he actually was back he felt disappointed. The city jarred on him.

That savage beautiful land, with its mountains and blue lakes and foot-loose freedom, had become his home, and it drew him back like the arms of a loved one. After his harsh years abroad and his seven unpleasant years in the Mounted, he had come into smug happiness down north. Though he had been in Edmonton only an hour, he already wished he was in his plane again and heading down the Athabasca.

Slave and broad Mackenzie to the musk-ox prairies and white-wolf mountains of the sub-Arctic.

Curious to know what A-K wanted of him so urgently, he bathed and shaved, changed to his "civilized" clothes, and stepped down the corridor to the Marlin suite.

At his knock he heard a quick tripping footstep; the door opened an inch or two; he had a glimpse of Rosalie Marlin, her eyes still heavy with sleep, the candelabra behind her shimmering in her lovely auburn hair. He had caught her in amusing negligence—one cheek rouged, a powder puff in her hand, a dressing robe flung hastily about her shoulders.

The prettiness on her face vanished instantly when she saw who had knocked. "Curt!" she cried, opening the door wide. "You? Five minutes ago I was dreaming about you, and here you are!" She flung her arms about him and stood top-toe for his hug and kiss. "When did you get in? Why didn't you give me a ring just now, so you wouldn't catch me like this?"

"Was mean of me," Curt admitted, patting her disheveled hair. "Smash and I just got in. Our plane is out at Cooking Lake. We left Athabasca at two this morning."

Rosalie whistled. "Six hundred miles, before other people are up! In the old days that same trip used to take Dad from Christmas till February!" She drew him in, shut the door with a deft touch of her toe. "Curt, you're looking so keen. I'm almost afraid of you. You're like a breath right out of the North."

"And you"—he held her off at arm's length and surveyed her—"you're looking sweeter than ever, Rosalie. And still hitting off the old fast pace, I see."

He gestured at the disordered room which spoke of her return from some party late last night—her cape and dancing pumps flung one way, a corsage of red rosebuds on the floor, her silk frock lying where she had stepped out of it. "Where's A-K—still asleep?"

"No. He got up early and went over to visit the detachment here in town. He'll be back any time. Let's sit down. She put ash-tray and matches between them on the divan. "I'm dying for a big talk. Your letters were as stinky as cablegrams from Borneo. Tell me all about everything—your wolf-hunting, prospecting, this job the Consolidated offered you, how long you're going to be in Edmonton, and—just everything."

Curt grinned at her tumbling questions. It was good to be chatting with Rosalie again. She was like Smash Desplains, carefree, pleasant, a good companion for light-hearted hours. He had long since realized that he did not love her very wildly, but he had gone thirty-two years without meeting a girl he liked better than Rosalie Marlin, and he was a bit cynical about finding any "ideal" person.

Rosalie was undeniably pretty, she had the charm of youth and glowing health, she was intensely alive; and the bond between her father and herself was already as strong as a blood relationship. Besides all that, she fitted exquisitely into the new and pleasant way of life which had been his during the past year.

"The wolf hunting," he answered her questions categorically. "Was great; we bagged more than three hundred, and got nine thousand dollars bounty on 'em, but with gas at five to fifteen dollars a gallon down in that country, we just about broke even. The prospecting last summer and this spring was like most prospecting—a lot of hopes but not much luck."

"This Consolidated offer, it's pretty nice. The Consolidated is prospecting that country by air, and their field manager just got killed in a crack-up so they offered me the place. I'd have ten machines and about sixty men in my charge."

"But does it pay anything?"

Curt thought her question rather pointed. "Well, yes—seventy-five hundred a year."

Before he could ask her what his "proposition" of her father's was, the door opened and Superintendent Marlin, a ruddy-faced man of sixty with iron-gray hair and tired, stooped shoulders, came into the room.

Curt learned, tomorrow, the dangerous job A-K has for him

The CREAM OF THE CROP IT'S Crowning Glory

INSURING FINE TOBACCO FOR future Lucky Strikes

Not many smokers have seen a fine tobacco plant in full bloom, so we show you this picture. Only a few of these fine plants are permitted to flower and to produce seed. These carefully selected seeds reproduce the following year the "Cream of the Crop" for your Lucky Strike, for tobacco must be grown from seed each year. This careful breeding of fine tobaccos explains why Luckies maintain the same fine, uniform quality from year to year—so round and firm and fully packed—free from loose ends.

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos

ALWAYS the finest workmanship

ALWAYS Luckies please!
