President's Repeal Proclamation Expected Tomorrow

GASOLINE TAX OF HALF CENT ENDS TUESDAY

LIQUOR TAXES DUE TO MAKE UP FOR LOST REVENUES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—President Roosevelt, on returning from Georgia today, found the imminence of prohibition repeal thrusting tax and other problems forward for action and prepared to do his part toward settlement.

The state department made ready for quick proclamation of repeal when it hears by telegraph from the Utah convention, as the 6th to act, in mid-afternoon tomorrow.

A presidential proclamation is expected simultaneously to assert the fact of repeal, thereby marking the end—effective January 1 of taxes estimated at $212,000,000 a year.

Meanwhile, studies looking toward liquor tax increases will be prosecuted the more vigorously to enable congress to make an early decision after it meets in January.

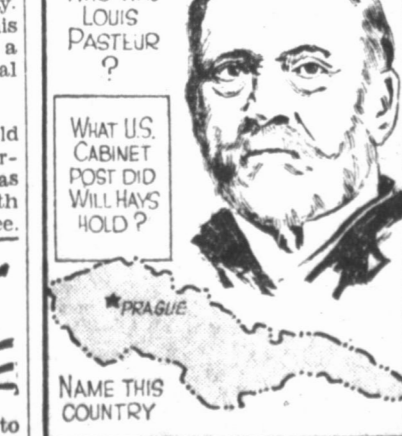

For kiddies under fifteen years of age the La Nora is giving a free toy and shoe matinee Thursday afternoon, December 7, between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Letters To "Uncle" Read In Court Hearing

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—A public prosecutor read letters in Bow street police court today in an attempt to prove that Clarence Guy Gordon Haddon, 43-year-old engineer, sought to blackmail King George.

At the end of the hearing, Haddon, who claims to be the illegitimate son of the late Duke of Clarence and hence a nephew of the King, was remanded to jail until Tuesday.

From one letter the prosecutor read: "It would only have taken a year's income from my late father to have made me the happiest and most contented man in the British empire."

From another letter, dated Nov. 8, the prosecution read: "Within a few days I am having made sandwich boards giving the particulars of my case. I shall personally carry this board about the streets of London in an attempt to secure justice."

In other epistles were mentioned a letter to the president of the United States and the preparation of petitions to the house of commons and the League of Nations.

Another mentioned "my backers" and a promise Haddon made "to get myself into the law courts for the money they have spent on me and are still spending, in return for which I am to come before the eyes of the public."

FIGURES SHOW SCOUTING HERE IS FLOURISHING

ADOBE WALLS COUNCIL ABOVE AVERAGE IN SOUTHWEST

STATISTICS of the Adobe Walls council, compared with figures on the region comprising Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, show that Boy Scout work in this council is well above the average.

In making the figures public, President A. G. Post and Scout Executive C. A. Clark pointed out the only two particulars in this county now below the average. They are in lapsed troops and in the number of Tenderfoot Scouts not advanced.

NEW SESSION 'UNNECESSARY' 'JIM' ASSERTS

JAMES ALLRED HOPED TO SELL BONDS TO GOVERNMENT

AUSTIN, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Texas bond commission today decided to readvertise for sale $2,700,000 worth of state bonds, proceeds of which would be used in relieving distress of the unemployed.

JAMES V. ALLRED, chairman of the commission, charged with details of selling the securities, said the decision was made after a conference with Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Bids for the bonds originally were asked for December 1, but there were no offers.

Allred had expressed a hope the securities could be disposed of to some agency of the federal government.

Some had expressed a belief that non-sale of the bonds might force an extra session of the legislature to make them more attractive as investments, but former Gov. James E. Ferguson, spokesman for the chief executive, and Allred each, said they believed the bonds could be realized on without that necessity.

Missing Trio

Finding of a blood-stained auto near Bristow, Okla., has started a far-flung search for Jack Wisdom, top, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Fritchard, below. Fritchard, wealthy business man of Wichita, Kan., and his wife left their home November 23 with a man believed to be Wisdom, ranch hand, and police fear they were slain.

Wisdom also is wanted for questioning in the death of a fellow worker, whose body was found in a well. Fritchard is a brother of Mrs. W. A. Bratton of Pampa.

DOLLAR SHOWS NEW STRENGTH IN OLD WORLD

Price Of Gold Not Raised For 3rd Straight Day

By WILLIAM L. BEALE WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Government gold buying entered the sixth full week today with its peak price of $34.01 an ounce maintained for the third successive day as the dollar showed new strength on foreign exchanges.

Today's quotation for RFC purchases was announced shortly after Acting Secretary Morgenthau returned to his office from a Thanksgiving holiday and a little before President Roosevelt was due at his White House desk.

Last week the RFC offer for newly mined domestic gold was boosted 25 cents. During this time the dollar showed unusual strength abroad, a trend that continued today.

It opened in London at $5.19 1/2 to the pound. At this level bargold was bringing $32.38 an ounce. From its opening, however, the dollar strengthened rapidly to $5.14.

Before the day is out, Morgenthau promised to announce last week's treasury purchases of government bonds, a policy begun when the federal reserve system halted open market buying. In the preceding week, treasury bond purchases amounted to $6,748,000.

IDENTIFICATION NOT POSITIVE, SAY OFFICERS

ANSWERS DESCRIPTION OF FUGITIVE IN EVERY WAY

FORT SMITH, Ark., Dec. 4. (AP)—Raymond Drake, deputy sheriff from Sallisaw, Okla., said today that a man in a hospital here believed to be Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd, was "an exact double" but that he could not identify him as the notorious Oklahoma outlaw and police guards were withdrawn from the hospital.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Dec. 4. (AP)—Two women, identified by Constable Jack Pace and Deputy Constable Otto Kuykendall as the wife and cousin of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, and a man believed by the officers to be Floyd, were under heavy guard in a hospital here today, following an accident in which the three were injured.

Another man, Fred Stiles, Port Worth, believed by officers to be the driver of the automobile when the crash occurred last night near Charleston, Ark., died at a hospital here early today.

Pace and Kuykendall said the women were Mrs. Ruby Floyd and Stella Collins, both of whom are known to have lived in Fort Smith for some time.

The man believed by officers to be Floyd gave his name to newspaper and hospital attendants as Bob Carney of Fort Smith. He was not questioned by police, but was placed under police guard pending the arrival of Raymond Drake, officer of Sallisaw.

Pace and Kuykendall, in regard to Floyd, said "We request you to announce that a positive identification has not been made yet."

"We are not sure that it is Floyd. It looks like him. He answers the description in every way."

Max Mahaffey Is Shot In Leg On A Hunting Trip

Max Mahaffey, superintendent of the Empire Gas and Fuel company, is in Pampa hospital for treatment of a pistol-shot wound in a leg just above the ankle. The wound is not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Studer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence drove to the Studer ranch Saturday to hunt. Mr. Mahaffey's injury resulted from accidental dropping of an automatic pistol from his jacket pocket.

A steel-jacketed bullet pierced the leg just above the ankle, but the local man was not aware of the injury until he pulled off his boot "just to see if it hit me."

TRAGEDY IN A LIFE OF VAIN REVOLT

There is a pathetic note in the otherwise amusing announcement of beautiful young Nila Cram Cook that she is through with the life of abnegation she had led as a disciple of the Mahatma Gandhi and that henceforth she will seek the freedom and gaiety of the world.

The discordant note rings out from the fear that Miss Cook will become just as disappointed, just as disillusioned, in the new life as she had become in the old.

This is no sad commentary on life in general. It is based, rather, upon what is known of the Cook temperament and personality, and the rebelliousness that characterized the Cook tradition.

The talented novelist and playwright, George Cram Cook, died a broken-hearted and disillusioned man when he failed in his revolt against the "false" pleasures of the modern world.

Now his daughter, inheriting his emotional traits, would cast off the very mantle of despair that he had left her.

The tragic life of the "Great Soul" of India, the miseries of those millions of untouchables, brought about the same feeling of revolt which previously had caused her to turn from the ways into which she had been born.

Miss Cook's experience is worthy of serious consideration by the thousands of young men and women who today seem to see nothing but despair and frustration before them, in their struggle for the finer things of life.

They may cry out against the selfishness, the greed, and the materialism of the day. They even may simulate the experience of Miss Cook and devote themselves to a regimen of self-denial and protestation against the modern world.

But they will find themselves returning to the very life they abhor, and then they will discover that the true protest, the most effective weapon they have, is one of participation in this world to the end that it may become a better means of existence for all.

In avoiding this roundabout way of making themselves felt in this life, our youth of today also will avoid the tragic disappointments to which Miss Cook seems to have foredoomed herself.

FOUR DIE AS FREIGHT TRAIN STRIKES ROCKS

LOCOMOTIVE PLUNGES INTO SPOKANE RIVER

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 4. (AP)—Four were killed and two injured when a Great Northern freight train crashed into a rock slide at Milan, Wash., 24 miles north of here, last night.

The dead: W. J. Barrett, engineer, William Krueger, fireman, Leonard Hargrove, brakeman, J. T. Towhey, brakeman.

The injured: E. W. Horsall, conductor, F. G. Cook, brakeman.

The dead and injured were all of Hillyard, a suburb of Spokane.

The men killed were riding in the cab of the huge locomotive that was pulling a train of 97 cars. With their weight behind them, the locomotive and tender were derailed and toppled on their sides, the front of the locomotive resting in the Little Spokane river.

Bodies of the men killed were extricated with difficulty, it being necessary to pull them out of the cab with ropes.

The train was stopped on a slight curve and a half dozen cars in the middle of the train were derailed and six more directly behind those first to leave the track piled up on top of the forward box cars. There were cars two stories high at this point. The caboose was derailed, but 70 or more cars remained upright on the track.

CONTINUANCE DENIED
QUANAH, Dec. 4. (AP)—A defense motion for a continuance was overruled today and preparations were made to select a jury in the trial of Geo. R. women identified as Mrs. Floyd and the cousin, Miss Collins, were bruised and cut.

Stiles had lived here about three years. He was formerly a coal miner of Paris, Arkansas.

Face and Kuykendall said they got a tip on the accident early this morning.

"Man said that one of the women hurt in the accident," Kuykendall said, "states when asked her name, 'I am Mrs. Ruby Floyd.' We started to work on it then."

The suspect has dark brown hair, blue eyes and the round features of Floyd. His eyes looked steadily back at persons who entered the room, and he smiled from time to time. He is short and stocky, his weight being about 170 pounds.

Elusive as a wraith, Charles Arthur Floyd, Oklahoma's "Pretty Boy" public enemy, has sneered for three years at frantic man-hunters seeking him for a list of real or reputed crimes staggering enough to awe the most fearsome bad man of the roving days.

Wanted for murder and accused of one bank robbery after another, Floyd repeatedly has wriggled thru the tight lines of the law to gain carefully hidden hideaways in the hills of eastern Oklahoma or western Arkansas, or to find concealment in the far-flung greater Semi-

Final Reports Of Red Cross Workers Asked

Stating that the Red Cross roll call has been closed successfully, Roll Chairman J. E. Cunningham today asked that all canvassers make their final reports at once.

There are "loose ends" of the campaign to be gathered up before the final report can be made by the chairman.

Anyone not seen, who wishes to join the Red Cross, may do so at the Board of City Development offices.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 4. (AP)—Upholding the petition of protesting citizens, Judge George K. Favrot of the East Baton Rouge district court today issued an injunction against the state administration to prevent the printing of ballots for use in tomorrow's sixth district congressional election and in an opinion from the bench exoriated the administration for abolishing the party primary in the district.

Jess Gilmore of Quitaque spent the week-end with friends here.

C. C. Miller of LeFors was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

Miss Virginia Pulling spent Thanksgiving and the week-end visiting in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Malone and family visited in Amarillo yesterday.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—In a market whose principal feature was its dullness, stocks followed an extremely narrow range today and neither the bulls nor the bears ventured very far outside the safety zones. It was one of the slowest sessions since last spring. Transfers approximated only 650,000 shares. The close was fairly steady.

Forbidden Valley

—By WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

SYNOPSIS: Curt Tennyson and Paul St. Clair, trailing the international crook, Igor Karakhan into the Canadian northwest have joined parties with Ralph and Sonya Nichols, presumably entomologists on their way to study the insects of the extremely dangerous Kioshees Indians. Curt is much taken with Sonya, but finds she has lied about being an entomologist. He determines to question her, but she gets the jump on him and asks why a man of his gifts should be a prospector, as Curt has claimed to be.

Chapter 20
SONYA'S SECRET
"You know I'm Russian," Sonya went on. "If it were possible, I'd go back to Russia and try to play some part there, however small. When I flared out at you that evening, it was just my narrow personal feelings. But I can't go back. I'd probably be imprisoned the minutes I landed. And besides I've been in Canada twelve years and feel Canadian, and a person can do something here too."

"When I say useful, Curt, I don't mean professional uplifters and fussy reformers who go around prying into other people's way of living and trying to make everybody conform to their own standards. Heavens no! But there are roles where men can do a real good. Men with a conscience. I mean—and you're one of them."

Curt wished he could tell her of that evening in Edmonton, when he had thrown away the Consolidated offer and taken on the Karakhan hunt. She would applaud that, where Rosalie had called him a fool and had utterly failed to understand his motive. He recalled Sonya's words, "Idling around pleasantly," and he knew that that was how she would regard his plans to return north, if she knew about them.

Near five o'clock they came to a little bay, went ashore, gathered a bit of firewood and cleared a place for the two tents. It was the prettiest camp site of their trip.

They sat down under a pine to wait for the other canoes. Curt plucked nervously at the leaf of a maidenhair fern. He could stave off his talk with Sonya no longer.

"There's something I'd like to understand, Sonya. It's none of my business, except that I've got a friend's interest in you and Ralph."

Sonya interrupted: "I know what you're going to say. 'That we're not entomologists. Ralph told me you asked him about that beetle. I knew you were suspicious and would find us out sometime.'"

She pointed at the pass. "And now you want to know why we're going into that country. You're thinking there's just some whim or ratiocinated idea behind our trip, aren't you?"

"On the contrary I told Paul that you must have some pretty substantial motive."

"I'm glad you have that much confidence in us, after finding out how much we lied." She picked a lichen and unrolled it in her small brown fingers. "It is a substantial reason, Curt."

"I don't question that. But I do question your secrecy about the whole thing when the trip is so dangerous. If I knew what you're trying to do, I might be able to give you a hand."

Sonya shook her head. "I don't believe you would. In fact, I know you wouldn't."

"Are you afraid I'd go barging into your plans like a bull in a China shop? I wouldn't."

She still shook her head in refusal. "I'd like to tell you. But I simply can't."

"I can't conceive of any such circumstance."

"Then you'll have to take my word for it, Curt."

He felt provoked at her. It was possible that she or Ralph had heard some wild tale about a rich lode or placer in the Lilluars or that she wanted to make a study of the Kioshees themselves. But he still could not believe either of these guesses.

"There's something else—still less of my business, I suppose; but Sonya, why do you pretend this relationship to Ralph?"

That caught her by surprise. A color flew into her cheeks.

"Pretend—relationship—what do you mean?"

Curt was certain of his ground. He plunged boldly:

"Ralph is no more your brother than I am, girl. He's no relation to you or me."

"Why—why, how can you make an assertion like that?"

He lied: "Paul overheard you at one time. He didn't mean to listen, but he couldn't help it."

"How much else did Paul hear?" Her tones were quick. Frightened.

"When was this?"

"Two evenings ago. He didn't hear anything else." Sonya breathed easier. Curt realized, too late, that he had made a mistake. There was something else and she was afraid for him to know it. If she had pretended that she knew, he could probably have got it out of her.

She admitted reluctantly: "Yes—you're right; we're not related. I'll tell you why we made this arrangement. If I'd been alone, I couldn't have come in here at all. I wouldn't even have a good friend, Ralph's good friend. I knew I could trust Ralph implicitly. He is a gentleman through and through. Under the circumstances our arrangement was entirely sensible. It was the only recourse I had."

But all that told him nothing about her mission in that country. Curt swung the talk back:

"Sonya, I'm not playing cards with you, or trying to meddle in your business, or looking for any advantage to myself. You may be justified in going north. In that case I'll give you all the help in my power."

He paused a moment, then added point-blank: "And you've got to tell me."

"Sonya refused flatly. 'I'm sorry, Curt. I can't do it.'"

There was no use to argue. He was irritated by her stubborn silence and jealous that Ralph should share her confidence while he was barred out.

"I suppose you're going to wash your hands of us now," she said. "You intend to go on above the pass," he demanded. And when she nodded: "You're fumbling with dynamite, if you only knew it!"

"I do know it. But there's chances that we can get on friendly terms with the Kioshees."

"A mighty slim chance from what old John tells me. You can't go on without Paul and me."

"We will."

She said it curtly, but Curt knew she meant it. Her purposiveness was almost grim. Short of tying her up hand and foot and taking her back to Russian Lake he could not stop her.

"If we can make friends with the Kioshees," she said presently "I don't think there would be any danger at all. That's the crux of the whole matter. You've had a good deal of experience with Indians, Curt; I believe you could manage it."

She leaned towards him, a plea crept into her voice. "I know I don't deserve help, after refusing to take you into my confidence, but won't you, anyway, Curt?"

As he saw the situation, he was forced to take his choice of helping her or letting her go into that country without protection. By themselves she and Ralph simply did not stand a chance. That great blue-cleft up river would prove a one-way portal into Kioshees territory.

Perhaps he could work himself into the good graces of the Kioshees. If so, the whole danger will blow over, as she had said. At any rate Paul and he would be guarding her.

They could go cautiously. Keep their eyes open and bring her back to safety if trouble started popping.

He did not like the prospect. She would be exposed to danger, however careful he and Paul might be, and he would be sadly handicapped on the Karakhan hunt. But the alternative was to let her go through that pass unprotected, defenseless; and that was something he could not do.

Sonya was watching him, hanging upon his decision. Curt saw her fingers trembling as she waited. He thought it fine of her that in those moments she made not the slightest attempt to sway him by her charm or her powers as a girl.

"I'll make a bargain with you, Sonya," he said finally. "It is this: 'I'll take you in there and do everything I can with those Kioshees, but if I see that a friendly contact isn't possible you're to let Paul and me bring you back out, and you'll go on south to Russian Lake. Will you agree to that?'"

Sonya clasped his hand. "Curt, that's awfully splendid of you."

"You promise then? You'll turn back when I give the word and you promise you'll go straight south

CAR OWNERS AND DEALERS TO PROFIT MUTUALLY BY CODE OF PRACTICES NOW TAKING EFFECT

The retail automobile dealers' code, approved and signed by President Roosevelt when it becomes fully effective, brings advantages of incalculable benefit to the purchaser and owner of an automobile, Pampa dealers said Saturday. It now makes obligatory upon all dealers operating under the Blue Eagle the adoption of trade policies and practices which have long been recognized by leading dealers and the public as desirable, but which uncontrolled competitive forces have heretofore rendered inactive.

The code gives absolute and complete protection to the car buyer and owner on these points:

1. Actual facts about the car—There can be no misrepresentation of the automobile either as to specifications, performance, or value, in advertisements, sales solicitations or otherwise, by the dealer, his salesmen or employees.

2. Price and terms—The code absolutely prevents any manipulation of price, and provides that the price of any new car shall be the manufacturer's list price. Additional charges added to f. o. b. cost must be covered by detailed specifications.

3. Transportation charges—The average cost of transportation from factory to dealer figured on all shipments received by dealer during a 60-day period as shown by dealer's sworn statement. Exceptions to this are obsolete models and open cars, which have a seasonal market only.

4. Delivery of car—The code absolutely protects the car buyer against any secret tampering with the car or use of the car, or adjustment of the speedometer before delivery. The purpose and effect of this code provision is to assure to the customer knowledge of the condition of the car and the mileage covered by the motor vehicle which is offered for sale.

5. User car allowances and sales—The code establishes a fair, sound, and simple method of determining trading allowances. The allowance to be given for a car offered as part payment will be established by the average of prices recently paid, in definitely established trading areas.

Thus the trade allowance will be the market price or current value of the vehicle as determined by the natural law of supply and demand, and thus both trade allowance and sale price for used cars are automatically controlled by the natural forces of the local market. Under the retail automobile dealers' code, the public, the dealer and his employees are assured of a fair deal in every detail. There is no need for sharp dealing in purchase, sale or service. The dealer is more than liberally and solidly established, and insured against losses and abuses which in the past have been reflected adversely upon the car buyer and owner. Honesty in workmanship, in merchandising, in salesmanship are assured to the public by the government. The capable, conscientious dealer is protected by the government and enabled to serve the car buyer and owner under conditions that permit him to do his best.

Rosenbloom And Dunn Will Box At Fort Worth

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (P)—Vince Dundee, who won his world's middle weight title at Boston, has elected to make his first defense of it at the same spot.

The Newark, N. J., 160-pounder, recent conqueror of Lou Brouillard at the Hub, will defend his championship against Andy Callahan of Lawrence, Mass., in the Boston garden Friday night. Dundee will be favored but Boston has been a "jinx" town for champions for several years.

Meanwhile one of Dundee's most dangerous rivals, Teddy Farnoz, of Pittsburgh will meet Paul Pirooz of Cleveland in a preliminary of an all-star show at Cleveland tonight. The windup will bring together Tony Casoneri, former lightweight king, and Cecil Payne of Louisville. Kid Chocolate, former Casoneri knockout out in two rounds ten days ago, will face Frankie Wallace of Cleveland, in another match on the same card. The featherweight championship Chocolate holds in the eyes of the New York State Athletic commission will not be at stake. All three bouts are at 10 rounds.

Freddie Miller, of Cincinnati, national boxing association featherweight king, will encounter Paul Dazzo of Chicago in a non-title ten rounder at Chicago Wednesday night while Maxey Rosenbloom, light heavyweight king, engages Wilson Dunn of Oklahoma City in an overnight affair at Fort Worth tonight.

REVIEWS and NEWS OF CURRENT BOOKS

By M. E. C.

(Editor's Note:—This section of THE NEWS is dedicated to the betterment and furthering of literary efforts in Pampa and the North Plains. All bits of poetry, contemporary comment on books, and their authors, and reviews may be submitted for publication, and will be appreciated. The Literary Editor reserves the privilege to reject or edit.)

OFF TO MEXICO: by Leone and Alice Leone Moats; Charles Scribner's Sons: $3.76—Illustrated with decorative maps; Tentative publication date, October.

THE AUTHORS: Both Mrs. Moats and her daughter have spent many years in Mexico. Mrs. Moat's book, "THUNDER IN THE FIRE VEINS," vividly recalled life under Diaz and the old regime. Miss Alice Leone Moats is widely known as the author of the amusing "NO NICE GIRL SWEARS."

The Book: The authors of this book through years of residence and travel know Mexico from end to end. Visitors from the United States so frequently asked about the places to see and how to get around that Mrs. Moats and her daughter decided to boil down their firsthand knowledge of the country into a book that would, once and for all, answer the tourists' many questions. They have omitted nothing, and the information they give is so brightly set down that the general reader as well as the traveler will find the book enjoyable and instructive. The colored maps are a special feature.

The Market: Every year Mexico attracts more tourists from the United States. Here is an up-to-date, accurate guide for them, clearly written, well arranged, and attractively illustrated.

The Dragon Murder Case: "A Philo Vance Story" by S. Van Dine; Charles Scribner's Sons: $2.00; Publication date Friday, Oct. 13, 1933.

The Author: Creator of a new kind of detective story and pretty generally considered responsible for making mystery stories respectable. His most recent book was "THE KENNEL MURDER CASE."

The story: Sanford Montague, on a week-end house party at the century-old Stamm estate in Inwood, dives into a swimming-pool one night, and fails to rise to the surface. The tragedy is reported to the Homicide Bureau. After an investigation Sergeant Heath calls on District-Attorney Markham and Philo Vance to tell them of his grave suspicions. The swimming-pool—known as the Dragon Pool—is drained the next day with the most astounding and blood-chilling results. The Dragon Pool, long regarded as the home of the "Amangemokdom" (the devil monster of the Lenape Indians), more than lives up to its sinister reputation. In the end Philo Vance, with his knowledge of dragon lore and his deep insight into human nature, clears up one of the cleverest and most awe-inspiring murders of modern times.

The story moves swiftly and logically to a denouement as thrilling as it is unexpected. For action, suspense, atmosphere, characterization, and clear-cut development, "THE DRAGON MURDER CASE" stands in the forefront of Mr. Van Dine's Philo Vance mysteries.

Mr. Van Dine opens up a new field of research in this story. There is a fascinating background of tropical fish, deep-sea monsters, and mythological lore, which forms an integral part of the story's solution. The market: All readers of previous Philo Vance yarns, and all mystery fans.

John Selby, New York critic, in scanning new books, comments: "W. R. Burnett's latest is called DARK HAZARD. Dark Hazard being a dog instead of what it sounds like, Mr. Burnett is out to make the conflict between the free and easy way of life and the more restricted attitude seem credible. He does it, not without a struggle here and there. Jim is a gambler at heart, preferring horses and roulette to most other ways of losing money. His wife wants above everything else security and respectability. Jim is forced into the dog racing game, which he cordially detests until he sees Dark Hazard. He loses his heart to the dog, and it is the dog that is a means of bringing the book to a very effective and well thought out close.

Mr. Burnett's great gift is in appreciating the drama inherent in the common-place, and DARK HAZARD is a good example of it.

R. Morris of Mobbette spent yesterday with friends in Pampa.

PERIOD AND MODERN STYLE SHOW PLANS ARE PROGRESSING

GYM WILL BE SCENE OF OLD TIME PROGRAM

A. A. U. W. CLASS POSTPONED FOR PTA EVENT

FEATURED in the singing bee which will open the High School Parent-Teacher association period style show at the gymnasium tomorrow evening will be a quartet and a duet that will sing old time numbers.

Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. J. B. Towns, Emmitt Smith, and Roger McConnell will form the quartet, while Mmes. H. H. Heiskell and Katie Vincent will appear in duet selections.

Another musical group on the program will be a girls' trio that has become a favorite with Pampa audiences. Misses Jackie Jones, Virginia Rose, and Dorothy Doucette. In addition to the singing bee, the entertainment will feature old time dances and a display of old and new wedding gowns, with specialty numbers between scenes.

Class Time Changed. Because its meeting time conflicts with the period style show to be presented by High School Parent-Teacher association Tuesday, the A. A. U. W. class in international relations will be postponed until Tuesday of next week. It was announced today by Mrs. Earl O'Keefe.

At that time it will meet in the high school library at 7:30. The discussion will be on relations of the United States with Cuba. All persons interested in the subject are invited to attend.

Parents Compete in Spelling Match at Hoover PTA Meeting

Parents of Hoover pupils displayed their knowledge in a spelling bee and an arithmetic match at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Friday evening at the school building.

After games, the hospitality committee served refreshments of punch and wafers to about 30 persons.

Miss Ellen Mason, nurse at Worley hospital, underwent a major operation this morning.

WEDNESDAY will be the final day to make reservations for the Business and Professional Women's luncheon and dinner style revue, it was announced today. Both the noon and evening events will be in the Schneider hotel dining room and reservations will be 75 cents a plate. Turkey will feature the menu for both. The affairs are non-invitational, but places must be reserved in advance. Some groups of friends are forming parties for the revue, planning to lunch or dine together while they watch the parade of models. Latest mid-winter and advance spring styles for every occasion will be shown by a group of Pampa's most charming young women and children. Merchants here will present models ranging from dainty lingerie to dazzling evening dresses and smart tweeds for street wear.

Football fans motored to Groom to see Dumas win over the Groom Tigers in the afternoon. Among those from McLean who were present were Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Batson, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McHany, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Glass and children, Mrs. Jim Back and daughter, Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lynch and daughter, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fulbright, Mrs. Wood Hindman, Misses Ida-belle Newman and Vera Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Chick Humphreys, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell and family, Dr. and Mrs. W. Bogart, Jr., Christal Christian, June Woods, and Billie Robinson.

Christmas Music Here to Include Cantata by Club

The Christmas cantata "In Bethlehem" by Kounitz, will be the holiday musical offering of the Treble Clef club this year. It is to be presented at First Christian church December 15. Mrs. A. N. Dilley Jr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton are directors of the program, which members have been rehearsing for several weeks. In addition to club members, Misses Essenor Frey, Dorothy Myers, and Willie Reece Taylor, young violinists, will take part in the cantata, playing trio numbers.

Delegates Tell Of B. Y. P. U. Meet

Members of First Baptist church who recently returned from a state B. Y. P. U. convention at Mineral Wells reported on their trip at the service last evening. R. L. Edmondson, Miss Lela Scafe, and Miss Loma Groom were the delegates. First Baptist church reported 754 in Sunday school yesterday and 162 in the training service. Central Baptist church had 152 in Sunday in school, the Presbyterian church 126. First Christian church 410 in Sunday school, and an addition to the church, the Church of Christ had 154 in Sunday school and an addition to the church.

Central Baptist Women Will Hold All-Day Meeting

An all-day meeting at the church will be conducted by the Central Baptist Missionary union Thursday, observing a week of prayer program. The meeting was postponed from the regular day, Wednesday, because of the scheduled Santa parade. All circles of the union will meet together at 10 a. m., for a program of study and devotions and a luncheon at noon.

MACEDONIA BAPTIST CHURCH

Contestants in the Macedonia Baptist church finance drive reported a total of $18.80 for the past week. Reports from the committee which served Thanksgiving dinners showed $20.01 proceeds from the 74 dinners. We thank our many friends and members for helping us in this drive, which will be closed Dec. 8. Rev. J. J. Johnson, pastor.

FIFTH AVENUE FASHIONS

Brand New Tricks Up Your Sleeve

"It's a perfectly good dress, but the neckline is low and the sleeves are so plain!" Every wardrobe has dresses suffering with this complaint, but it's curable. Necklines are easy to alter by means of bibs and collars, and sleeves—I'll show you a cinch to make new ones, and they may contrast with your frock in fabric or color if you wish. The most graceful sleeve of the season is No. 1 in the sketch. Use it for afternoon frocks and sleeveless gowns. No. 2 is puffed at the elbow with a fitted cuff and a shoulder disc. Make it in satin. No. 3 is for wool frocks—a simple sleeve with "flaps." A raglan or drop-shoulder can look very new and chic with sleeve No. 4 attached to it. A pair of sleeves in size 16 will require very little material in any of the four styles. And they're so easy to make, a beginner can use them to transform her old frocks. For other bright ideas for your wardrobe be sure to look in our Fashion Book now ready at 10 cents. Pattern No. 5383 is designed for sizes 16 and 20 years, 34, 36 and 42 bust.

DEAR SANTA

Dear Santa Claus: I am 6 years old and have gone to school every day. Please bring me a doll buggy, piano, laundry set, electric range, and trunk. Santa, don't forget to fill my stocking with candy and nuts. Your little friend, Vernell Bynum.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a good boy, try my best to be good to my mother and little brother. You know what kind of toys all little boys want, I guess, but I'll tell you what I want most. A truck with lights and cowboy boots and a choo-choo train. Your little friend, Arley Lloyd Stafford, Skellytown.

Dearest Santa Claus: I am a little schoolboy 8 years old. I am so glad it's time for Santa again, so I'll just write down what I want. A pair of cowboy boots and a cowboy hat, nuts, and candy. Your friend, Glen Stafford, Skellytown.

Dear Santa: I've tried to be a good girl and I want a doll and a ring. My little brother Kenneth wants a wagon. He is 3 years old and my little sister 2 years old wants a rubber doll that won't break. We live on the Melton lease and I go to the Hopkins school. I am 7 years old. Your friend, Alberta Sparks.

Dear Santa: Please bring me a little car that is large enough for me to sit in, also a Bible story book. I am a good little boy and am in the low first. I go to Woodrow Wilson school. Please Santa, come to see me. Dale Williams.

Dear Santa Claus: You jolly old fellow, I want for Christmas a doll with real hair, a cooking set costing 60c and a sewing set with doll, and last a 4-piece cleaning set and a teddy bear for my little brother. We will be expecting you. A little girl with several vocal selections.

Doctors Give Creosoles For Dangerous Cough

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on. Creosolium is with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble. Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs. It is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take. Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (Adv. 1A)

TULSA GUESTS HONORED WITH BRIDGE LUNCHEON

FOUR HOSTESSES AT HOTEL SATURDAY FOR PARTY

COMPLIMENTING two visitors from Tulsa, Mrs. Cady and her daughter, Miss Helen Crenshaw, a bridge luncheon was given at Schneider hotel Saturday with Mesdames G. C. Rainouard, Alex Schneider, H. H. Hicks, and Heistand as hostesses.

A centerpiece of fruit was used at the luncheon table, and autumn colors in the bridge appointments. Miss Mabel Davis scored high in the game; Mrs. T. E. Simmons received the traveling prize, and the honorees were presented favors.

Other guests included Misses Williams Chapman and Lorene McClintock; Mrs. P. O. Saunders, B. O. Lilly, Mack Graham, Della Vicars, C. T. Hunkapillar, Lynn Boyd, and Henry Thut.

Major Corbin Will Be Here Wednesday

Major George A. Corbin, contact officer for reserve officer organizations in this territory, will be a guest of the Pampa Reserve Officers organization Wednesday night. The meeting will be at 8 o'clock in the office of Dr. W. Purviance in the Rose building. A special invitation has been issued to all reserve officers in this area because Major Corbin will have an important message.

The troop school for officers in this territory made an excellent beginning for the winter season last week when Lt. Roy Wallrabenstein spoke on infantry tactics. Reserve officers who are not attending the troop school are overlooking an excellent opportunity for improving their standing with the army and for their chances for promotion.

ABLENE IS WORKING, HOPING TO WIN FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE

BROOKSHIRE IS SCORING STAR OF OIL BELT

QUARTERBACK CHALKED UP 71 POINTS; COGDILL, 37

ABLENE, Dec. 4.—Johnny Brookshire, Abilene quarterback who will play against the Pampa Harvesters Saturday, led the Oil Belt scoring race for 1933, with 71 points. Nine touchdowns, fourteen points by placement kicks, and a field goal constituted his record.

Frank Cogdell follows him on the Abilene team, and was third in the district. The Abilene leaders were:

|---------------|-----------|
| Td. Pat. Pts. | |
| Brookshire | 9 14 1 71 |
| Cogdell | 6 1 0 37 |
| Pennington | 4 0 0 24 |

Abilene high school football teams have been crowned state champions three times and were runners-up twice since 1922. The team was nosed out in 1922 but came back in 1923 to be crowned again. The Eagles were runners-up in 1927 and repeated in 1928 with a state championship. The Eagles were again champs in 1931.

The black and gold clad Eagles will invade Pampa Saturday afternoon for a bi-district game with the Pampa Harvesters. Game time will be 2 o'clock with admission 25 cents for students if tickets are bought at the high school, and 75 cents for adults. Reserve seats will be 25 cents extra.

Coach Dewey Mayhew's boys, green as green could be, started the season slowly but have gathered speed, steam, and experience since Abilene is looking towards another state championship. With only one letterman back, Captain Cogdell, halfback and pass receiver de luxe, Coach Mayhew started his green team early and worked them until they dropped every afternoon, but the boys "stuck." The result is a district championship team.

The Eagles will "light" in Pampa Thursday night or early Friday morning and will work out at Harvester park Friday afternoon to get accustomed to the high altitude. It is not known whether a special train will be run from Abilene, but 500 tickets have been sent to the school board there.

Abilene started the season with a 46 to 0 win from Winters, but dropped a 19 to 0 tilt to the Sweetwater Mustangs. The Eagles looked strong in defeating San Angelo, 29 to 12, then were downed by Lubbock 6 to 0, and by Ranger 7 to 6. Then the team snapped out of its slump and hit mid-season form, defeating Brownwood 14 to 0, Breckenridge 13 to 7, Eastland 31 to 7, and finally Cisco 20 to 0 for the district title.

The Harvesters will spend this week preparing for the invasion of the Eagles, who appear to be as dangerous on the ground as in the air. Bill Dunaway, halfback, who has been unable to practice for nearly two weeks, may be in uniform when the Harvesters arrive.

Coach Odus Mitchell is hoping to see his team will be at nearly full strength for the important tilt. Pampa's first try at state honors. Line Coach Argus Fox returned from Abilene Saturday night with the word that Abilene has a team that is dangerous every minute of play. The Harvesters, besides working on an offense this week, will practice against Abilene's plays.

Scrimmages have been set for Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. There will be no secret practices this week. The team will appear on the field Saturday in new uniforms.

Bowling Scores TO DETERMINE CHAMPIONSHIP ON SATURDAY

ARKANSAS TO BE GIVEN TITLE OR TIE WILL BE DECLARED

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southwest conference fathers, with President D. A. Busick presiding, convene Saturday at Dallas to clear away the mystery surrounding the conference "blind bogey" football championship. The eventual verdict will either give the University of Arkansas Razorbacks the championship or forfeit the Razorbacks title and give it to Texas Christian and Baylor.

The championship race closed Saturday with Arkansas topping the percentage column with four wins and one defeat. Texas Christian and Baylor finished in a tie for second with three wins and two defeats each. Arkansas' status is in doubtful column because of "Heinie" Schluter, an ineligible substitute tackle, who played against Texas Christian, Baylor and Rice. Schluter has been dropped from the University of Arkansas rolls, but Arkansas officials have refused to forfeit their victories over Texas Christian and Baylor.

During the conference campaign, the Rice Institute Owls were the only aggregation to whip Arkansas. The Owls turned the trick 7 to 6. It was Rice's only conference win. Arkansas lost two non-conference games, a 20 to 0 decision to Louisiana State, and a 7 to 0 verdict to Tulsa University.

Should the conference athletic committee allow the Razorbacks to retain the title they won on the field, it will be the first time in conference history for the championship to leave Texas.

One non-conference game remains on the schedule. The Southern Methodist Mustangs leave Tuesday for the college station, where Saturday they battle St. Mary's.

Closing their schedule Saturday, Texas Christian made sure of a tie for second place and a "committee decision" at the title by unleashing an attack that smothered Southern Methodist, 26 to 6. Charles Casper, picked at left halfback on the Associated Press' all-conference team, scored two touchdowns for the Christians in the third period to give them a lead the Mustangs had little chance of overturning.

The Baylor Bears were forced to stage a last period rush to Rice's goal line to nose out in front, 7 to 6. The Owls got a tough break to lose the game. After scoring a touchdown, the Owls lined up for the placement kick. Sylvester kicked the ball squarely between the goal posts but a Rice player was off-side and Sylvester failed to kick goal on his second try. Baylor scored a touchdown when Hall carried the ball over late in the final period. Stringer made the placement kick that won the game.

On a straight season campaign, Texas Christian finished in front with nine wins, two defeats and one tie. The Christians played one more game than any other conference member. Offensively they scored more points than any other conference team, clocking for 208 points.

Swanson Urges American Navy Second to None

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Secretary Swanson today sought opportunity for conversations with President Roosevelt in furtherance of his annual report for an American navy second to none and an abandonment by the United States of its "lead in disarmament."

The navy secretary also studied reaction from abroad to his frank suggestions. First report from London indicated little stir over his statement, while from Tokyo came word that Japan was dissatisfied with its small end of the 5-5-3 ratio. In submitting his annual activities report to the president, Swanson remarked that this country's disarmament moves since the world war had set an example to the rest of the world, but had impaired America's relative naval strength.

"The time has come, however, when we can no longer afford to lead in disarmament by example," he said. "Other powers have not followed our example. Our weakened position does not serve the cause of peace."

To maintain a navy at full treaty strength, the secretary urged adoption of a progressive building program, providing construction of a specified number of vessels each year and allow for replacement of over-age ships.

THE FAULT OF THE ANGELS, by Paul Hargan. This book is a witty, satiric comedy lead in the American city of Dorchester, where we find a highly sophisticated group of artists and their patrons, with their great ambitious desires and highly emotional temperaments clashing. It is a very spirited and charming novel.

LONG LOST FATHER, by G. B. Stern. Carl Bellairs managed his former wife and mistresses with perfect ease, and all was well until his extremely attractive daughter, Lindsay, contrived to have herself engaged to sing at his club. Then things began to happen. This is one of the most entertaining novels that G. B. Stern has ever written.

KINGDOM COMING, by Roark Bradford. A story of old New Orleans and the river plantations. A forgotten page of the civil war glows again, and the town infested with union troops and one end of a huge concentration camp of "freed negroes." It is a very touching story of the negro during that period—a book all will enjoy reading.

THE GREAT OFFENSIVE, by Maurice Hindus. Maurice Hindus is a Russian, born in a small Russian village of humble parentage. At an early age, he came to America. Hindus sets forth in his book Russia's new social order, the economic and political conditions that have reached the people of China in their physical and social background, and their philosophy and religion, and their modern education. We see Russia's relation with China, and the Chinese. He who would understand the past and present conditions of China should read this book.

THE JOURNEY OF FLAME, by Antonio De Fierro Blanco. This book is an account of a Mexican of the old school written by a Spanish-American. Juan Colorado, having reached the age of 100 years, tells his guests on his birthday what he remembers of his life. He tells of his childhood journey from Lower California to Monterey. The book is full of humor and is a genuine delight to read.

THE PAR HORIZON, by Henry Wepham Lathier. Elmer Johnson's life has always meant flying. He has been an aviator since boyhood, and has done stunt flying for fairs, acrobatics for the movies. He has carried mail in Mexico and China. Some critics have classed this book as a history of aviation. It is a thrilling narrative.

WHITE DEER, Dec. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stubblefield enjoyed a happy family reunion, Sunday, in honor of Mrs. Stubblefield's father, Lawrence Knorr of Amarillo, on his 72nd birthday.

Guy Dugy and Tom Castleberry returned Saturday night from a hunting trip near Kerville, bringing back with them an eleven-point buck. Guy says Tom threw a rock and scared up the deer and that he shot it, while Tom claims he killed it with the rock.

PANHANDLE, Dec. 2.—Elton Beene of Panhandle is an active member of the Horned Frog band at T. C. U., this year. Beene plays the trumpet, and has been featured several times as a soloist.

Asbery A. Callagahan left Thanksgiving day for Houston on business in connection with Federal farm loans and federal commissioner loans. He is secretary-treasurer of the Panhandle National Farm Loan association and has made a record in the past few months in assisting distressed farmers in this section.

COURT IS AGAIN DEFIED IN LONG ELECTION FEUD

Injunction Without Effect—Ballots Printed

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 4. (AP)—The state administration today informed the East Baton Rouge district court, which had issued a restraining order to prevent state authorities from printing ballots for tomorrow's sixth district congressional election, that the restraining order was without effect because the ballots had already been printed.

With the status of the ballots thus in doubt, Judge W. Carruth Jones, presiding in the court, ordered to trial the case of sixth district citizens against the secretary of state challenging the printing of the ballots.

The case was that J. O. Bourachaud and nine other citizens of the district who have attacked the legality of the administration move to send Mrs. Bolivar E. Kemp to the vacant sixth district congress seat in a special election called for tomorrow, without the holding of a party primary.

By order of the administration and the district democratic committee, the ballots at issue contain only the name of Mrs. Kemp. Senator Huey P. Long's selection for the congressional post.

In a series of violent demonstrations during the past few days, citizens in several sections have seized the printed ballots from the parish court house and burned them publicly and a majority of the parishes in the district have declined to share any expenses of the governor's election.

Legge Succumbs To Heart Attack

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Death from a heart attack has ended the career of Alexander Legge, 67-year-old president of the International Harvester company and former chairman of the federal farm board.

Mr. Legge, called "the iron man" because of his seemingly tireless efforts, died suddenly yesterday at his home in suburban Hinsdale, where he had been working in his garden.

During the war he was director of the war industries board. He was the second important figure in the nation's war time affairs to die within two weeks. The other was his close friend, Edward N. Hurley, head of the war time shipping board.

Funeral plans were withheld from announcement until today.

J. D. Haley entered Worley hospital this morning for a minor operation.

Commission Will Meet Wednesday

Pampa's city commission will meet Wednesday night instead of tonight, it was announced this morning.

City Manager C. L. Shine also revealed that in the additional Traffic Safety contest Pampa is tied for first place in cities of 10,000 with Albion, Ill.; Ososow, Mich.; Albert Lea, Min.; Mankato, Mich.; and Bueler, Pa.

A new system of grading for the 1934 contest, which Pampa has entered, includes the following plan: Accident record, 5 points; accident reporting, 5 points; traffic planning, 10 points; traffic law enforcement, 10 points; child safety, 10 points; public education, 10 points.

Japs Dissatisfied With Navy Ratios

TOKYO, Dec. 4. (AP)—A Japanese naval office spokesman, commenting today on Secretary Swanson's approval of existing navy ratios, declared that Japan was dissatisfied with the present 5-5-3 allotment and would demand an upward revision during a reconsideration of the Washington and London naval pacts.

"In a changing world, nations cannot remain bound forever by old agreements," he said. "The Washington treaty is 12 years old, and totally inadequate from Japan's standpoint."

BOLOGNA

NEW YORK (AP)—If it's sausage they're referring to, it's Bologna, not boloney, or baloney, and it's pronounced bo-lon'-ya, not bo-lon'-ee.

Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, the lexicographer, says "boloney" is East Side slang, and he doesn't think it'll get into the dictionary just because Al Smith referred to "baloney dollars."

"The correct word is already in the dictionary," he said.

Bologna is a highly seasoned sausage of mixed meat.

City Collects $552 In Fines In Last Month

City officers made 107 arrests in November, following which fines totaling $620.25 were assessed and $552.00 was collected.

Prisoners worked 27 1/2 days and served 42 days in jail. Five cases were referred to county court. The arrests were for the following offenses:

Vagrancy 9, intoxication 44, speeding 7, other traffic violations 37, involuntary manslaughter 1, assault 1, theft 6. There were several violations of the law requiring dogs to be licensed.

Sooner Cleaner Will Cut Prices

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 4. (AP)—Declaring NRA code prices of 75 cents for cleaning and pressing men's suits and up to $1.50 for women's dresses "are ruinous," J. E. Moore announced today his three shops would go back to the old price schedule of 50 cents for men's suits and correspondingly lower prices for women's dresses.

"We don't want to do anything to impair NRA," he said. "Every employe is under it. However, these new prices are ruinous; they have cut business to nothing and forced the laying off of five employes instead of putting on more as the recovery code contemplated."

City Inspection Fees Total $54

Fees for city inspections totaled $54 in November.

These included: Plumbing $14, electricity $5, building 4, moving $21, gas $10.

Inspector S. F. Thornton also investigated nuisance and burning of auto into sewer mains from auto wash racks. He sent the rest of his time on the police desk.

T. Duncan Stewart and Miss Eleanor Key were guests with Mr. and Mrs. Mason King and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hawk of Amarillo at a week-end hunting party on the Hoover ranch near Canadian.

UPSETS BREAK RECORD DURING PAST SEASON

DEFEAT OF ARMY AND DUKE CLIMAXED HELIX MAX

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—Football uniforms were packed away among the mothballs today as follows of the great fall sport settled down to review perhaps the most spectacular campaign on record.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been a season marked by so many upsets climaxed Saturday by the unexpected defeat of both Army and Duke.

When Saturday's results had been written, the Princeton Tigers, alone among major elevens, could boast an undefeated and untied season. and, on that basis, at least could claim consideration for the mythical national championship. Southern California had held for two years.

As a matter of fact, it appears likely that any attempt to award the title to any one team, whether it be Princeton, Michigan, Minnesota, Stanford or any other outstanding eleven would meet with strenuous protests from other sources. Southern California reigned unchallenged in 1931 and 1932 but the Trojans' defeat by Stanford several weeks ago not only relieved them of the crown but left the fight wide open that it may take another full season to fill the vacancy to everyone's satisfaction.

A study of the campaign reveals that only three sectional champions were able to retain outright their laurels of 1932. Michigan, although the victor and outplayed by Minnesota again captured the Big Ten championship; Nebraska, for the third successive year, was crowned Big Six titleholder, and Oklahoma A. and M. repeated in the Missouri valley conference.

Stanford, Oregon shared the Pacific coast throne occupied last year by Southern California while Utah, after winning the Rocky Mountain title outright for five years in a row, was dethroned this season to share it with Denver and the Colorado Aggies.

The split-up of the old Southern conference left two champions standing where only one stood before, Alabama in the Southeastern loop and Duke in the Southern.

The Southwest conference situation still is hanging in the air, awaiting a conference decision as to whether Arkansas, the actual winner, should forfeit all games in which the Razorbacks used an ineligible tackle.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the year were furnished by Princeton, which, after a conference season, kicked around badly in the 1929-30-31 seasons, had shown some improvement last year, their first under the coaching of H. O. Fritz) Crisler, but few had expected such power and speed as they showed in running through nine successive

Volga is Proud Mother of Rare Baby Vampire

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)—What with repeal just around the corner and Col. Lindbergh flying oceans again, New York's populace was caught completely unaware today by an extremely unusual occurrence at the Bronx residence of Volga the vampire.

Volga is the proud mother of a brand new offspring, a baby vampire bat.

The baby is the image of its mama—a tiny leering bulldog face, protruding lower lip, sharp fangs, a little rat body covered with thick shiny silver-gray fur and claw-wings with a four-inch spread.

Vampire bats are extremely rare, and Raymond L. Ditmars, curator, said that Volga's baby "is worth its weight in gold."

Volga herself was captured by Arthur Greenhall of the University of Michigan, nearly at the cost of life, in the Chilibrillo caves in the valley of Chiriqui, Panama. Almost nothing is known of the Vampire bat's habits, and the baby vampire is considered by Ditmars as of "great scientific importance." Volga is the only one of her kind in a zoo.

games this season, climaxed by Saturday's 27-2 rout of Yale.

Notre Dame gave football two terrific lolls. The first came when the Ramblers scored only 19 points in their first eight games of which they lost five, won two and tied one. The second came on Saturday when they staged a rousing fourth-period rally at the Yankee stadium here to nose out Army's previously unbeaten eleven, 13-12.

Three major games will be played this Saturday, Tennessee playing Louisiana State at Baton Rouge; Southern Methodist battling St. Mary's at San Francisco, and Washington clashing with Southern California at Los Angeles.
