SAN ANGELO SPECIAL TRAIN IS PRACTICALLY ASSURED--LOCAL INTEREST IN PROJECT STRONG

BREVITORIALS

Musings of the moment: We don't mind hot weather in winter, and you can give us some zero temperatures if you like, but it does seem inconsistent to mix up the two so much. . . . Funny it is how so many dudes dress up like princes but have nowhere to go. . . . And some of the best books in print beg for readers at the library while jessers are demanded by hundreds. . . . Random sights: Oil men taking football and seeming never to have much to do. . . . Wheat growers holding conferences to talk about what they will do with their wheat checks. . . . Frequent "flipping" of the Pampa Daily NEWS switchboard to tell fans about the coin tossing in Lubbock. . . . School ma'ams guarding little tots at a street crossing much as a motherly hen guides her brood. . . . Men loaded in trucks for CWA work, shouldering tools, shivering in early morning temperatures.

A new weather theory, if correct, indicates a cold winter for us, with quite a bit of WET WINTER. A Smithsonian investigation says the weather roughly repeats itself every 23 years. The theory is based on sunspots. More than normal snow fell in the Panhandle after Christmas 23 years ago. The southwest was the coldest spot in the country a number of times in that year. Other parts of the country were mild by comparison with other years. We hope the scientist is correct--there were some good wheat years a couple of decades ago.

Gray county wheat farmers eager to get their checks need not despair. It is a tremendous task to BE FIRST write checks for farmers of many states. Some must be first, some last. Wheat adjustment checks have been mailed to more than 50,000 farmers in more than 250 counties of 23 states. More than 250 county units, including Gray, have accepted the contracts and sent them in. Individual contracts must be examined and adjustment payments allowed. Checks have been

The dumbest slogan suggested yet is: "Bob the Bob(ed) cats."

Kilgore To Talk At Banquet Of A. P. I. Tonight

J. L. McMahon, divisional manager of the Texas company, Wichita Falls, will be unable to introduce the chief speaker at the banquet of the American Petroleum Institute in the Schneider hotel tonight because of serious injuries received in an automobile accident near Grapevine Monday morning. The speaker for the occasion will be John Kilgore of Wichita Falls, one of the men who drafted the NRA oil code. He will speak on the relation of the NRA to the oil industry. Other well known speakers will be on the program. They will be introduced by W. J. Smith, local attorney who will act as toastmaster.

Election of officers for the coming year will precede the banquet. The business session will be at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the City hall. John Moyer of the Stanolind Oil company is the retiring chairman.

PAMPA TRAIN IS MADE CERTAIN BY FAN GROUP

A special train to the Pampa-San Angelo football game in Lubbock will leave here at 7:30 a. m. Saturday and arrive in Lubbock at 11:20 a. m. The train was underwritten by a group of citizens this afternoon, guaranteeing its operation.

More than 125 tickets for the Pampa-San Angelo football game at Lubbock Saturday were sold this morning at the office of Joe Smith in the courthouse. A total of 385 reserved seat tickets at $1 each were sold here. Seven boxes of 6 seats each, priced at $1.25 per seat, will be available tomorrow. Students may call at the high school office tomorrow for seats at 25 cents each. All unsold tickets must be sent back to Lubbock Friday afternoon.

MOUNTING interest was obvious today as tickets went on sale for the proposed special train to the Pampa-San Angelo football game in Lubbock Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Lubbock citizens, assuming that Pampans will arrive by special train Saturday, are making extensive preparations to extend a gala welcome. Charlie Whitacre and A. C. Jackson of the chamber of commerce plan to board the special at Abernathy and make announcements. Lubbock's school band and pep squad will be at the station and will lead a parade down the business section to the Hotel Lubbock. There courtesy cars will be stationed to carry the Pampans to Tech field. At 1 o'clock, 150 cars will be at the hotel. Separate parking places for San Angelo and Pampa courtesy cars will be marked. The cars will take Pampans back to the hotel after the game. Lubbock has 30 men on a special welcoming committee. The goal posts and reserved sections for Pampa and San Angelo will be appropriately decorated. All this information was phoned to THE NEWS this morning by Charlie Guy, publisher of the Avalanche-Journal.

The tickets, priced at $3.80 for the round trip, are obtainable at the B. C. D. office and at the office of Joe Smith, business manager of the Pampa independent.

LITTLE GRAY SQUIRRELS TAKING IT ON 'LAM'—HORDES TREK WEST

BY DALE HARRISON. NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—The winter of 1933-34 may go down in the books as the date of the great big trek of the little gray squirrels.

The rodents are up to something. In Massachusetts, Connecticut, and eastern New York they are taking in on the lam.

Not all squirrels; just the gray squirrels. A woman motorist reported seeing hundreds of them scampering across the Bear mountain bridge over the Hudson river.

Forest workers near Highland, N. Y., tell of seeing them swimming the Hudson by the hundreds. "Nobody seems to know how far they go," said George G. Goodwin, assistant to the curator of mammals at the American Museum of Natural History. "The situation is comparable to the movements of the lemmings in Norway where thousands of them go out to sea and are drowned."

The inquirer met a woman and asked her what she knew about squirrels, their habitat, and their habits. "I'm glad you asked me," she gushed. "I've got a book at home and it tells all about squirrels, and it was written by Thompson Ernest Seton, or Seton Thompson Ernest, or maybe by Ernest Seton Thompson. I guess you know he was a very smart man as far as squirrels are concerned, and for all I know he may have been very smart about fish and birds and insects and that sort of thing; and I distinctly remember that he remarked in his book that the gray squirrels, or maybe it was the red squirrels, no I am sure it was gray squirrels, migrated from New England about 1866--yes, that's right, I am very good at remembering figures, my husband always said I had one good trait and that was remembering figures;-- but anyway, the squirrels migrated, and none seemed to know why or where they went, although I heard from my grandfather that it had been a bad year for nuts in New England and the squirrels were probably anxious to get into a good nut-growing country. "Speaking seriously, science has not figured out exactly the reason for the great westward migration, but Goodwin expressed the belief it was probably due to overcrowding and insufficient food.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS TO GET OVER MILLION

WILL IMPORT 5,500,000 GALLONS OF LIQUOR IN 4 MONTHS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt was shown today by his immediate attention on increasing employment, and determined to keep the Civil Works administration going until spring to do so, while in the distance he sees potentially great industrial adjustments in a new order of things.

One of the several involved administration studies under way, it was disclosed, deals with a simplified communications set-up. Tentative conclusions suggest it would be well to merge telephone, telegraph and radio agencies under strict federal regulation and public reaction to such a possibility is awaited.

Monetary policy remained quiet, with the dollar value of gold at $34.01 an ounce for the eleventh time. More at the front was formulation of budget recommendations, with a decision on how much more to spend on public works being deferred.

It was said at the White House that no relaxation of the securities law is contemplated, any changes being limited to clarification rather than an easing of control.

On the foreign trade angle of the recovery program, federal liquor authorities decided to let in slightly over 5,500,000 gallons of foreign spirits in the next four months while negotiations will be under way to have the exporting nations take American farm supplies.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Public Works administration today allotted $4,177,300 for 32 non-federal projects in 15 states including $1,633,000 to the University of Texas for university buildings at Austin. The University of Texas loan and grant of $1,533,000 was for construction of a four-story fireproof addition to house administrative offices and a tower addition to provide book storage space to its library building on the university campus. The total cost of the project is $1,800,000 and the applicant will furnish the difference. Work can start in six months and PWA officials estimated 250 men would be employed 17 months.

Annual Council Meeting Will Be Held at Borger

Borger was selected as the site for the annual council meeting of the Adobe Boy Scout council and January 11 was fixed as a tentative date by the executive board in its session here last night.

A nominating committee composed of A. W. Nelson of Borger, Roger McConnell, and J. O. Gillham was appointed.

President A. G. Post of the council presided, welcomed the visitors, and made extended reports on the last 11 months of activity. Mr. Nelson, Scout commissioner, pointed out that the council had organized 11 new troops since January 1 and that two others are expected to register soon. When the new McLean troop is registered, Gray county will have twelve troops, most of which are solidly supported.

H. H. Beavers of Borger said the council had held four camps this year with a total of 31 troops, 525 Scouts, and 72 Scouters participating. Individual troops held 62 hikes and short camps with 794 boys taking part, along with 189 Scout leaders. A short winter trip to Camp Warner during the holidays is being considered.

The Rev. A. A. Hyde, chairman of the court of honor, said 24 courts had been held, with 151 Tenderfoot Scouts advanced to second class, 74 boys to first class, 38 to Star rank, 14 to Life Scout, and 4 to Eagle rank. Three Eagles were awarded bronze palms and one the silver palm. In addition, 463 merit badges were awarded, ranging from agriculture to zoology.

Enthusiastic talks were made by Gilmore N. Nunn, R. A. Selby, M. K. Brown, J. O. Gillham, and others.

To Washington

Gilmore N. Nunn, above, general manager of the Pampa Daily NEWS, will leave late this month for Washington, where he will be associated with Bascom N. Timmons, syndicate manager and well known journalist, in "covering" activities of Congress and the administration. He will write for THE NEWS and other Panhandle papers during his spare time, and will return to Pampa in about 60 days.

LOCAL MAN TO SEE CONGRESS FROM GALLERY

Gilmore Nunn Leaving for 60 Days to Write

Activities of what is expected to be one of the most interesting and crucial sessions of Congress in American history will be viewed at close range by Gilmore N. Nunn, general manager of the Pampa Daily NEWS. Mr. Nunn will be associated with Bascom N. Timmons, nationally known syndicate writer and commentator, for a period of 60 days, beginning in late December. Then he will return to Pampa to resume his duties. Mrs. Nunn will join him at Washington after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Townsend, in Amarillo.

While in the national capital, the local man will work on assignment to various branches of the government, including the Congress, and will write special articles for the newspaper which Mr. Timmons represents. Timmons, president of the National Press club last year, is one of the best known Washington correspondents and newspaper men says Mr. Nunn will have an unusual opportunity in "covering" Washington under his direction.

Mr. Nunn was offered the work during the 60-day period because of his background of experience in writing for Virginia papers while a student at Washington & Lee university. He frequently was in Washington on assignments during that time. He also wrote daily dispatches from the floor of the last National Democratic convention in Chicago.

In addition to his work for Mr. Timmons, Mr. Nunn will write a column of sidelights for the Pampa Daily NEWS and a number of other Panhandle papers. These will be in an informal style and will answer many of the questions which naturally arise in readers' minds as they read the more ponderous Washington dispatches.

RATES TOO HIGH WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Seven livestock shippers and handlers in western states today complained to the interstate commerce commission against rates on cattle, hogs, and sheep charged by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway and 35 other railroads for shipments from Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas to Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, South Dakota, and Wyoming.

'HOLY CITY' TO BE PRESENTED NEXT SUNDAY

CIVIC CHORUS TO SING GREAT RELIGIOUS ORATORIO

A. R. GAUL'S great oratorio, "The Holy City," will be offered the public next Sunday evening at the First Methodist church by the civic chorus, directed by Mrs. May Foreman Carr. The presentation of the oratorio will begin at 7:15 o'clock. The treatment of the subject of the work is almost entirely reflective, the more dramatic parts of the book from which many of the numbers are taken, the Vision of St. John, having already been treated in masterly fashion by the German composer, Louis Spohr, in "The Last Judgment."

The first part of "The Holy City" was suggested by the passages of Scripture, "Here have we no continuing city," and "Thy kingdom come," and set forth the desire for a higher life as expressed in the words, "My soul is athirst for God," which desire is followed by other passages expressive of the perfection of the higher life, such as "Eye hath not seen."

The second part was suggested by the words, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away," thus realizing the desire and promises contained in the first part. With the exception of two hymns, a verse from Milton, and three verses from the Te Deum, the words are entirely Scriptural.

There are a number of beautiful solos and selections by designated parts of the chorus. The oratorio and special parts are divided as follows: 1. Introduction by instruments, with Mrs. Irvin Cole at the organ, Helen Marie Jones and Eloise Lane at the pianos, and Miss Hermine Stover and Roy Wallrabenstein, violins. 2. "No Shadows Yonder," with Emmitt Smith, tenor, and a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Ed Bissett, Miss Mattie Lou Harris, C. M. Gatlin, and M. L. H. Baze. 3. "My Soul Is Athirst for God," by R. E. Fisher, tenor. 4. "Erewhile I Shall Be Light," by a sextet from the Triple Trio, composed of Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. (See HOLY CITY, page 4)

MODERN YOUTH HAS GOOD TIME IN SENIOR PLAY

Jobyna Steps Out Thursday Night at City Hall

"JOBYNA STEPS OUT," a comedy in 3 acts, will be presented by the senior class of Pampa High school in the city auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Dress rehearsal was held last night, and everything looks in fine shape for a good show.

The play centers around a group of seven college girls and boys ranging in age from 18 to 23. The leading role is taken by Fay Compton, who plays the part of Jobyna, the quaint, timid younger sister of John and Gary Loomis, irresponsible college fellows. Odell Walker and Harold Gray take the parts of the brothers and afford much amusement with their brotherly quarrels. Jobyna's parents decide it is time she steps out into society a little and, consent to let her go to the biggest country club dance of the season with her brothers. But she quite innocently maneuvers Nick Cromwell, the catch of the town, into a date for the ball--much to the consternation of Gary's flapper

Oklahoma Bank Robbed; Three Are Kidnaped

COALGATE, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Three well-dressed machine gun bandits robbed the First National bank of Coalgate about noon, kidnaped two bank employes and three customers and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

The kidnaped persons were released a short distance from the city, unharmed. They were Oliver Browning, cashier, and Mrs. O. Connelley, assistant cashier, Frank Collette, and two customers. The bandit car, a new sedan (Ford V-8), sped northwest toward Ada on highway 19 but was believed to have turned off into the hills later on a side road. A posse was in pursuit. Two of the robbers, all young, were rather large men, while the third man was of slight stature and dark complexioned.

CROWD CHEERS WHEN FOREMAN READS VERDICT

GIRL'S BROTHER TELLS OF HIS HATE FOR DEFENDANT

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Toy G Woolley, 28-year-old auditor, was acquitted today on a murder charge for the shooting of his wife, Dorothy, 30, in the bedroom of their home here November 5. The jury returned the verdict at 9:50 a. m. after deliberating since 1:32 today. The case began December 4, with the state presenting evidence intended to show that Woolley planned to kill his wife in order that he might return to Miss Mae Cantrell of Austin, whom he had married previously.

The defense insisted that the shooting was accidental. Miss Mina Woolley, sister of Woolley and only eye-witness to the slaying, was the principal defense witness. Despite a warning from Judge Noland Williams, there were cheers and applause when the foreman of the jury read the verdict. Woolley's father and sisters, who had been principal witnesses for him, ran quickly to his side and hugged him.

As soon as deputies could reach him, they tore Woolley away from his relatives and hurried him off to the security of the jail, only to release him within a few minutes. The action was taken to forestall any attempt to take Woolley's life. Ralph Joyner, sister of Dorothy Woolley, and one of the last state witnesses yesterday, testified that he believed Woolley "deliberately killed my sister."

"I want you to know that I hate him with all my heart," Joyner said, addressing the jury. "Now, have you still in your heart to murder him?" an attorney asked. "That all depends," he answered slowly. Woolley and his relatives went at once to the home of Mrs. J. F. Godfrey, another sister, to rest. They planned later in the day to return to the family home in Comanche county.

Miss Rose Fontle of Canadian spent yesterday visiting friends here.

PROBLEMS THAT NOW MUST BE SOLVED

It may seem a long distance from the disappearance of the last of the free land in the west to the complexities of the alphabetical groups by which the present administration is trying to promote recovery and reconstruction.

The connection, however, is very direct and strong. What is happening is simply that we now are tackling the problems from which we ran away when they first were taking shape.

These problems are many and varied, but most of them stem from the fact that it is hard to make a political democracy work smoothly in a land where economic power continually is concentrating itself in the hands of a few.

That development—the tendency of wealth to coalesce—is not a new thing. In its modern form it began to appear directly after the Civil War; and the maladjustments which it brought to American society at that time were profound and disturbing.

But the country at large did little or nothing to remedy matters. The west was open, and any man who felt that the cards were stacked against him could move to the frontier and start over again.

The open west was a safety valve which kept the national pressure down.

As the 20th century dawned, the frontier vanished; and immediately we began to feel the loss of our safety valve. Theodore Roosevelt's fight against the trusts, the rise of the LaFollette group in the Senate, Woodrow Wilson's battle for "the new freedom"—these things all testify to the nation's effort to grapple with the issues it too long had ignored.

Then came certain diversions. The war took our minds off these issues for nearly a decade. Then came the skyrocket growth of mass production industry, symbolized by development of the auto industry, to provide a temporary new safety valve.

Those outlets, too, are gone now. And in the enormous complexities of the New Deal we simply are witnessing our final head-on collision with the problems that should have been attacked two generations ago.

We aren't engaged in a new fight. We are wrestling with changes long overdue.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—Liquidation developed in the grain markets late today, and May wheat dropped to about 4 cents under Monday's high point.

December wheat, which showed independent strength yesterday, was the weakest today, and went to more than 2 cents discount under May, as against 1 cent discount yesterday. Refusal of the wheat market to maintain recent advances was said to have caused many small holders to turn to the selling side today in a market where support was lacking.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents under yesterday's finish, corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 down, oats 1 1/4-1 1/2 off and provisions unchanged to 27 cents lower.

WISDOM GIVEN LIFE TERM IN KANSAS CRIME

TRIAL FOR PRITCHARD SLAYINGS LASTS 20 MINUTES

LANSING, Kan., Dec. 13. (AP)—Jack Wisdom, slayer of two men and a woman in outbursts of anger, was convicted 3946 in the state penitentiary here today, his swift flare of temper matched by the swiftness of Kansas justice.

The 26-year-old cowboy was arrested Sunday near Jay, Okla., after thousands of persons had joined in a search for the bodies of two of his victims, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pritchard of Wichita, Kan. Late yesterday he was rushed from the state reformatory at Hutchinson, where he had been taken for safekeeping, to Wichita, where he pleaded guilty to the murder of Pritchard, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The proceedings required only 20 minutes, and in a few more minutes he was en route to Lansing. Threats of prosecution because he cashed a forged check for $21.40 at a store operated by Pritchard, resulted in the slaying of the couple.

school district, at the courthouse. From San Angelo today came the news that a special train from that city is practically assured. The round trip tickets from San Angelo to Lubbock are $4.30. San Angelo took a special to El Paso last week, staged a big parade downtown, and generally made a strong impression. The fans plan to do the same thing at Lubbock, marching on the train.

W. E. Goodloe, division freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe, and O. T. Hendrix, local agent, today told The NEWS they would do all possible to make the train excursion pleasurable and speedy. Mr. Goodloe said the running time to Lubbock would be 3 hours, 50 minutes. In other words, the train could leave here at 8 a. m. and be in Lubbock before lunch time. It could leave Lubbock as late as 6 p. m. and be back here before 10 p. m.

Fisher Details Boy Theories at Rotary Meeting

The American boy and his home training was the subject of a program today before the Rotary club when Supt. R. E. Fisher of the local schools told the club members and visitors of some of the problems of teachers.

"The greatest need is for adult education," he said. "When a boy gets into school it is oftentimes too late to correct his activities and his mental attitude." He explained that "bad boys" as they are generally considered are few and that the proper home training will fit most boys for citizenship.

Emmitt Smith and Robert Smel-lage entertained with several vocal numbers to open the program which was arranged by Farris Oden. Visitors today were Rotarians Bill Goodie and J. D. Thompson of Amarillo and W. O. Reardon of Monroe, La.

BOLIVIA SENDS 16-YEAR OLD BOYS TO CHACO WAR TRENCHES

Postoffice Is Burglarized Of Valuable Mail

DETROIT, Dec. 13 (AP)—Drilling a hole through 18 inches of brick and mortar, thieves last night stole registered mail of undetermined value and $19,000 in postage stamps from the Alfred street branch post-office.

Police who investigated the robbery said they could find no evidence of forcible entrance to the building and assumed that one of the robbers concealed himself in the building when it was closed for the night. The theft was discovered by a clerk who opened the office this morning.

The local postoffice authorities said, included 55 pieces of registered mail.

Jack B. Stockpoole, superintendent of mails, said the value of the registered mail could run as high as $38,000, as a maximum of $1,000 might be in each envelope. He did not believe the loss would reach half that amount, however.

The police theory was that several men were admitted to the building some time during the night. A hole large enough to admit a small man was broken through the rear of the office vault. Through this, officials said one of the thieves entered and passed out the loot.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bowers received emergency treatment at Pampa hospital yesterday evening for injuries when their car overturned on the Mobeetie highway. Mrs. Bowers was the more seriously cut and bruised, but both were able to leave the hospital last night.

THOUSANDS OF BOLIVIANS ARE TAKEN CAPTIVE

PARAGUAYANS PLAN TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF VICTORIES

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 13 (AP)—Bolivian labs 16 years old prepared to take front line fighting positions today as the government, hard-pressed by Paraguayan victories in the jungles of the Chago Boreal, called up new reserves.

Dispatches from Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, and from Bolivian army sources, heavily censored, had to be combined to provide a complete picture of developments in the 50-year-old warfare over the rich Chaco region which Paraguay claimed was approaching a victorious conclusion.

Bolivian prisoners taken in the latest great Paraguayan coup, numbering thousands of men were disarmed and forced to march from the front lines by way of Gondra, Nanawa, Isla Poi and Puerto Caso to Asuncion, said a Paraguayan dispatch.

They formed a vast column several miles in length of war-weary and dejected fighters.

A dispatch from La Paz said the war ministry announced that Col. Enrique Penaranda with 3,000 men had broken through Paraguayan lines and joined the main Bolivian army, evading capture.

This information was at variance, however, with a communique from Asuncion which said the Paraguayans surrounded and captured 600 prisoners including 19 officers, commanded by Penaranda, who sought to come to the rescue of the ill-fated fourth and ninth Bolivian divisions.

Paraguay also unofficially announced Port Samalkay had succumbed to Paraguayan attacks.

The reported replacement of the German General Hans Kundt as head of the Bolivian forces created intense interest in Montevideo, site of the Pan-American conference. It was pointed out that removal of General Kundt had been one of the Paraguayan prerequisites of arbitration between the two countries.

The Chaco subcommittee of the Pan-American conference cabled to the secretary of the League of Nations Chaco commission, now at La Paz seeking settlement of the warfare. The subject of the message was not disclosed.

President Ayala of Paraguay returned to Asuncion last night from the Chaco front. Asuncion dispatches indicated intention on the part of the Paraguayans to intensify offensive operations, taking advantage of the inferior position forced upon Bolivia by recent losses.

Details of the coup which forced the surrender of two Bolivian divisions are gradually becoming known. Asuncion advices described an intense Paraguayan attack on Bolivian positions near Rodriguez Francia which caused Bolivians to reinforce the spot heavily.

This drained their positions near Herrera Toledo and Bahia Negra of men, and the Paraguayans with an encircling maneuver, bottled up the two whole divisions.

Forbidden Valley

By WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

SYNOPSIS: Having beaten off a small band of Kioshoe Indians, Curt flies to Vancouver for information about Ralph and Sonya Nichols, who are bound on a dangerous mission in the Canadian Northwest but will not tell what it is. Curt himself is tracking down Igor Karakhan, wealthy crook who has taken refuge in the Indian country. Curt is reporting to A. K. Marlin, his old chief in the Royal Mounted, when Arlo Baldwin telephones that he has a line on Ralph Nichols.

Chapter 27

SURPRISE FOR CURT

"Had no trouble with Nichols; didn't have to go farther than the telephone book to trace him," boasted Baldwin. "He's lived here in Vancouver most of his life. I find. McGill graduate, staff captain over seas, got a V. C. at Vimy. For the last ten years he's been with a city construction company. Their head architect now, Bachelor quarters at the Fraser Club. Nothing out of the ordinary about him that I could dig up, and I've been digging some."

"What about the other person?"

"I've got you a bang-up lead to work on. Just talked to a couple of Nichols' friends who have met her several times. Her name's Volkov, Sonya Volkov. Lives in Victoria, teaches in a private school, and is secretary of the Emigre Society of Canada. That's all I was able to find out, but I've located a party here who knows her very well, and I think he can give you a lot of details about her. Shall I zip around for you in the staff car? Good, I'll be in there in less than twenty minutes."

Volkov, Sonya Volkov—Curt repeated the name to himself as he went back to the porch. At least he knew her name now, and within an hour he was going to find out something about her life, her background. After that he could never quite vanish from him.

He rejoined Marlin outside. As they waited, A-K remarked casually:

"Did you know that Layden, the head of the Provincial Police, is going to be relieved this coming fall?"

"Is that so? Who's taking his place?"

"You."

Curt's cigarette dropped from his fingers. "If you want it. I've been doing some quiet investigating and I know the lay of the land. A dozen political hangers-on are after the job, but the Premier doesn't want that kind. He phoned me yesterday and asked when you could come to see him for a personal conference. I can tell you positively that if you want the job I've got enough support lined up to swing it for you."

"No—" he waved Curt's interruption aside—"don't thank me. I can't do it because you and I happen to be friends but because I consider you the best available man for that job."

Curt wanted nothing to do with the offer, fine as it was. He saw it as another attempt of duty to keep him from returning to the far North; another of the invisible hands that were being thrown all around him, but still he did not refuse it outright, then said there.

Baldwin came, and they started downtown. Parking in a section of dingy stores, Baldwin took him up a creaky stairway and knocked at an apartment.

A young man a stocky hazel-eyed foreigner, opened the door, saw them, and bowed politely.

"Meester Baldwin? My fader he expect you and your friend, Kumm in, pliz."

He led them into a small sitting room and stepped out to get his father.

Curt glanced about the room. Everything in it breathed of imperial Russia—the ikon of Holy Mary, a sword above a bookcase, a cheap lithograph of Nicholas II, a Kremlin snow scene, a samovair on the table. It was typically the dwelling of an emigre, living in poverty, futilely hoping that some day the old order would be resurrected from its grave and they could return to homeland, estates, ease.

An old man came to the room, followed by the son. His hair was white, his thin nose ravaged with wrinkles, Curt judged him close to eighty. He was astounded later to learn that the man was only fifty-seven.

Baldwin introduced: Peodor Plekhanov, I want you to know my comrade, Mr. Ralston. He is the son of whom I spoke."

The old Russian, bowed graciously and made them welcome. Curt looked him. His hand was bony, his eyes seemed to hold some great fear in their depths—memories, probably of that horror trail out of Siberia.

He bronched his purpose carefully. "Mr. Plekhanov, as my friend here told you, I'm a government agent gathering data about the various foreign associations in this country. Our object is altogether friendly; we're merely making records of their personnel and activities. Miss Volkov is secretary of your society, and I'd like to find out a few facts about her. My friend tells me that you know her quite well."

"Yes, I know Princess Sonya for twelve years, and her father before that."

"Princess Sonya—"

Curt caught his breath sharply. "Princess?" he managed. "A courtesy title?"

Plekhanov smiled, a bit condescendingly. "You know very little about Russian heraldry, friend. The Volkovs are an old Kiev nobility, one of the oldest in the Empire. He told his son, 'bring our guests the picture that Prince Stepan gave us.'"

Curt whistled beneath his breath. Sonya's father a prince! He had suspected she was well-born. But he had never imagined that her blood was quite so blue, and she herself had not once hinted that she was of noble birth.

"You mentioned her father—does he live here in Canada?"

"At Victoria, and her brother Carl."

"What do they do?"

"When Prince Stepan first came over he accepted work in a lumber yard as a grader of timber. Like any common muzhik" Plekhanov made a gesture of shame at his country-man's lack of pride. "He him from returning to the far North; another of the invisible hands that were being thrown all around him, but still he did not refuse it outright, then said there.

Baldwin came, and they started

Union of Texas Baptist Bodies To Be Proposed

DALLAS, Dec. 13 (AP)—A subcommittee was busy today formulating a statement of proposals to be used as a basis for discussion by the joint committee considering a recommendation for union of the Baptist general convention of Texas with the Baptist missionary association of Texas—two groups which have been separated for 99 years.

The subcommittee, named last night, was composed of the Rev. J. T. Luper, Dallas; the Rev. J. W. Harper, Waxahachie; the Rev. H. A. Roberts, Jacksonville, and the Rev. C. R. Meadows, Dallas, representing the association, and the Rev. J. E. Pace, Beaumont; the Rev. Harlan J. Matthews, Marshall; the Rev. F. M. McConnell, Dallas; and Dr. W. R. Waite, Fort Worth, representing the general convention.

The committee elected the Rev. W. H. McKenzie of Austin and the Rev. A. C. Hinkel of Lockhart as co-chairmen. It was explained that any action taken by the joint committee would have to be ratified by a state-wide mass meeting of the two Baptist groups, which claim a combined membership of 675,000.

The food conservation committee of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce reported gifts of 1645 tons of foodstuffs last year for relief work.

Residents of Meeham, Ore., hid "Old George," a pet elk, during the fall hunting season, to save him from nimrods.

"I met the Volkovs in a woods on Lake Baikal," Plekhanov recounted, his heart full of his subject. "Sonya was but thirteen at that time, and her brother fifteen. It had taken Prince Stepan all winter to bring them across that four hundred miles from Vetensk. They had frozen, starved; had been severely wounded; had fought battles to get through the cordons of their enemies. Once they met a roving party of Terrorists, six of them, and wiped out all six and took their guns, horses, food. They were all three wounded badly when they came to Baikal, and sick with

'WONDER BOOK' OF DEPRESSION IN NEW RECORD

'Anthony,' 4-Pound Novel, Sold To 275,000

BY JOHN SELBY.
NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—"Anthony Adverse," Hervey Allen's 1224-page four-pound novel, has passed into the class of phenomena, the book trade has decided. The book is universally known as "Anthony" and spoken of as a person rather than as a book. "Anthony" is now around the 275,000 mark in sales.
It is, according to book trade figures, the largest sale of recent years for a novel, and the largest depression sale of any book. "Anthony" was published June 26 of this year, and has consistently dominated fiction best sell lists each month since.

Sale of 500,000 copies of an average sized novel nowadays is cause for great joy in publishing circles, although some volumes of yesterday have established tremendous selling records over a long period. Sinclair Lewis' books, most of them, belong to the pre-depression era. "Main Street," including reprints, has sold more than 725,000 and "Babbalanza," next most popular, well over 400,000.

The world sale of Erich Maria Remarque's "All Quiet on the Western Front," is more than three million copies in all editions including reprint; H. G. Wells' "The Outline of History" has passed the million mark in world sale, and Will Durant's "The Story of Philosophy" approaches 525,000.

In fiction, Hull's "The Sheik" has gone, over the years, between 700,000 and 800,000 copies.

Book men say several factors have entered into "Anthony's" success—a possible improvement in public taste, a psychological situation in which there existed a real demand for a rattling good story upon a general philosophical basis, and a personal interest in its physical dimensions.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING OF PUBLIC UTILITY PLANTS IS CALLED UNFAIR PRACTICE

Electric Institute Head Says Fair Competition Issue Is Raised by Industry.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13.—Invoking what he termed the American tradition and ideal of fair play, George B. Cortelyou, president of the Edison Electric Institute and former secretary of the treasury has demanded that the federal government refrain from financing publicly owned utility plants.

Mr. Cortelyou spoke at a meeting here of 400 operating company executives, representing the privately owned section of the electrical industry. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Edison Institute and was called to discuss the industry's permanent code which will be presented in Washington of the coming year.

The federal government should not "repudiate its own Blue Eagle" by fostering "unfair competition" to the private and public utilities, Mr. Cortelyou said.

"The elimination of unfair competition and the prohibition of increase in plant capacity until existing power resources have been fully utilized," he said, "have become basic in the codes of other industries and are the essence of the policy of the Recovery Act."

"May the government, with one hand, impose a code and increased costs on an industry, and with the other, destroy the possibility of compliance through entering the field itself as a competitor, conforming to no standards of fair rivalry and backed with all the resources of the taxing power."

Cites Other Industries Codes

"Various codes of other industries provide that no additional and competing plants or facilities should be built until the productive capacities have been fairly utilized, to the end that duplication and increased burden in carrying charges and operating costs shall not avoidably be placed upon the public."

"Any code now established should require that this industry be accorded and assured fair and non-discriminatory treatment in this respect as compared with other industries under the act, and that the installation of additional production and transmission capacity and facilities should be similarly restricted, as has been done through the codes for other industries until the existing capacities and facilities have been fully utilized."

"In all fairness then, we submit these questions: In imposing a code and increased costs on any industry may the government reserve the right to violate its own standards of fair competition? May the government itself fairly continue to do, as a competitor, what it would permit no private concern to do? May even the money which the government takes from this industry and other industries and the government in violating, or financing others to violate, the standards of fair competition declared in the recovery act?"

"These are fair questions which deserve fair answers. If such a thing can be done today, to any industry, it can be done tomorrow, or next year to any other. The answers to these questions may be in Washington. The issue should be faced squarely."

"The federal government should either conform to its own activities."

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, sallow complexions, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action similar to leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, and gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Court Modifies State Truck Law

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—The supreme court today modified its recent action affirming a three-judge court decision sustaining validity of a Texas statute prohibiting motor vehicles from operating over highways of the state in interstate commerce as private carriers without first obtaining a permit from the Texas Railroad commission.

The modification provided that the carriers could reopen the question in federal courts should the state court construe the statute as not authorizing the state commission to enter orders which they sought to challenge.

SCIENTIST DOUBTS LIFE EXISTS ON OTHER PLANETS, BUT VENUS AND MARS MIGHT SUPPORT LIFE

Earth Quite Possibly Only Inhabited Planet

BY F. B. COLTON, Associated Press Science Editor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of Mt. Wilson Observatory, California, says that the earth quite possibly is the only place in the universe where life can exist.

Astronomers are less inclined than formerly to believe that there may be life on other planets of the solar system or on planets elsewhere in the universe, he stated in a lecture at the Carnegie Institution of Washington. There is little evidence, he added, that other systems of planets like ours exist in the universe.

Reporting latest discoveries about the planets in the solar system, Dr. Adams said only two, Venus and Mars, could possibly support life and of the two Venus is much more favorable.

No one has ever seen Venus itself, but only the perpetual clouds that surround it. Above this cloud layer, however, is a layer of carbon dioxide gas half a mile thick. This may indicate that plant life can exist on Venus, since plants live on carbon dioxide.

The surface of Venus probably is warmer than the earth. Dr. Adams said, but above the clouds it has a "stratosphere" resembling our own, with a temperature of 25 degrees below zero.

No sign of oxygen, which would be necessary to life as we know it on earth, has been found in the atmosphere of either Venus or Mars. A visitor from the earth would need to take his own oxygen supply. Venus may, however, have oxygen and water vapor, also essential to life, below the clouds.

The water that is frozen in the polar ice caps of Mars probably is no more than would fill a large lake. Dr. Adams estimated, showing that Mars is mostly a desert.

If there is any vegetation on Mars, he said, it is probably a primitive type that needs little nourishment from the atmosphere and can stand great cold, for even the tropical regions of Mars reach 40 degrees below zero at night. He pictured Mars as a dying world and said there is no evidence that its so-called canals were made by intelligent beings.

Windows Changed At Postoffice

It has been found necessary to change the windows at the postoffice and Postmaster D. E. Cecil has had new signs placed over each window. He urges patrons to read the signs and go to the right window without being instructed. He urges everyone to mail early so that parcels and cards will reach their destinations on time.

Some departments have been doubled to handle the Christmas rush. No stamps will be sold at the old stamp window which will be used for in-coming and out-going parcel post packages. The postal saving window will be where the old general delivery window was located. Stamps will now be available at the second window from the door.

There will be no mail delivery from the local office from the night of December 23 to the morning of December 26.

Commissioners in Session Again as Recess Is Ended

Gray county commissioners were to resume work at 2 p. m. today. Their regular session which began Monday was recessed yesterday after routine matters had been discussed and bills allowed.

The court heard a delegation of precinct 3 residents suggest the need of a work project in that area. A proposal also was made that surplus in other precinct funds be pooled and used in part in precinct 3.

The commissioners, however, had previously agreed to use surpluses in purchasing new machinery, after trading in worn machinery, for use on the heavier projects and especially the McLean-Pampa road. In this way, it was pointed out, the county would avoid payment of interest charges on bonds that otherwise would have to be issued to buy machinery.

The Pampa-McLean highway, it is held, is as equitably situated diagonally across the county as county projects are under the GWA. In many instances, county lines are ignored.

Methodists Are To Have Dinner

All members and friends of the Methodist church are invited to a fellowship dinner in the church dining room this evening at 7, it is announced by the Rev. Gaston Foote, pastor.

Women who attend will serve a covered dish dinner. Entertainment will include a Bible spelling match, and assembly singing with the aid of song slides.
