Musings of the moment: Those of us who spent part of our early years in small towns will "get over it." Childhood has few greater thrills than rummaging about in houses from which a family has just moved. . . Maybe that is why we like to browse around in second hand stores and pawn shops. . . Bargain driving and hunting is as old as civilization, hence we "come by" our commercial habits through both heredity and environment. . . Maybe you do not believe in heredity. . . But we believe you will admit the influence of aptitudes that develop in certain environments. . . We will not bore you with psychology, which the public overrated and is now under-rating. . . The Christmas spirit is often more obvious in February than in December.

No appraisal of the national significance of Mr. Roosevelt's eventful ten months in the White House would be complete without mention of the "PARD" activities of the government in dealing with business. Uncle Sam has sought to be a "partner," not a dictator, although many fear the first is merely a step toward the last. The government has frankly taken the side of collective bargaining. It has reduced child labor and bettered working conditions both as an end and as a means of furnishing added employment. It has sought to bring production in line with consumption, and the same time seeking to make greater purchasing possible. Price control has been sought to prevent harm to buyers and to firms which raised salaries. Secret rebates, cut-throat prices, and fraudulent claims have been outlawed.

To the farmer, Uncle Sam has been more of a benefactor than a partner. In reducing farm production, the plow has been used in "constructive UNCLE" destruction—if there is such a thing—and the farmers have been paid to destroy part of their crops. Marketing facilities have been adjusted to demand, fair practices in marketing have been modified, attempts have been made to raise standards of farm products, and in increasing parity prices to farmers the government has sought to prevent unfair prices to consumers. In banking, the RFC poured millions into troubled institutions. However, there are still nearly two billions of dollars in frozen deposits in 2,500 banks of the country and the defrosting process has been dragging slowly. Financiers have been forced to adjust their moves in harmony with the government's.

TWINKLES
It is truly remarkable how cold these breezes can be without the accompaniment of ice or snow—except the ice that results from the cold without adding materially to it.

Among the jobs we will not apply for is that of water superintendent in cities where the temperature drops to 50 degrees below zero.

King Winter evidently is yielding to modern competition and has set out to break a few records for the historians. Humans can adjust themselves to droughts without suffering if they will adopt the economies described in the Bible, which is the most radical book ever written and the most liberal likely ever to be written.

Somewhat, we would be a little more confident of next year's football team if the Harvesters had to kick the basketball through the hoops.

Borger is a nice, quiet city—headline-y speaking—but some of her former bad boys are keeping their names well up on Page 1.

BIG SHIPMENT OF CWA GRAIN RECEIVED HERE

CORN AND GRAIN MAY BE USED ONLY TO FEED OR SOW

ARRIVAL of 90,000 pounds of federal wheat and 80,000 pounds of corn was announced this morning at the CWA office. Flour, pork, butter, and beans are in transit. The corn and wheat was stored free by the Farmer's national grain elevator, of which Ernest Gee is manager. The grain will be issued to those on the direct relief or CWA lists who can show their need of it for feeding purposes or to sow for use as feed. It may not be ground. No family may be given more than $20 worth of grain based on the current market price of 57 cents per bushel for corn and 59 cents for wheat.

CWA projects are progressing despite the cold weather, which on Tuesday was too cold for comfort. On most other days, however, full crews of men have reported for duty. The relief office has given out "long-handed" underwear to the men who are warmly clothed in most instances. But handling of tools on cold, windy days is uncomfortable even for those well-garmented.

Red Cross cloth is being steadily made into wearing apparel for women and girls. There is a small supply of ready-made garments for men, though it is not complete.

Many Unclaimed Postal Cards At Postoffice Here

There are hundreds of postcards unclaimed at the postoffice but most of the parcels and letters registered during the Christmas rush have been delivered or called for. Postmaster D. E. Cecil said this morning. Most of the Christmas cards being held are addressed to children with no address on the envelop excepting Pampa. Most of them carry one and one-half cent stamps which is not enough to give directory service, and, as the postmaster says, names of children do not appear in the directory. The cards are being circulated among members of the postoffice staff and many names are being identified in that manner. The staff is in receipt of many presents from patrons and Postmaster Cecil and clerks desire to thank everyone who sent gifts. Work in the office is back to normal after the Christmas rush. Service is again available at the old windows.

Noted Surgeon To Operate On Infant Friday

BALTIMORE, Dec. 28 (AP)—After a second examination today Dr. Walter E. Dandy, noted surgeon, said he probably would attempt a difficult brain operation on five-month-old Sue Trammell, of Houston, Tex., tomorrow. He certainly would not perform the operation before that, Dr. Dandy declared. The child was flown 1,400 miles from Houston to Baltimore arriving here early yesterday.

I HEARD—

Ben Reno telling that Jimmie Wheeler got his tonsils sunburned from gazing at the tall buildings in Dallas over Christmas. Jimmie has a better one than that on Ben, however. That Gene Green has always wanted to travel and that he got a traveling bag for Christmas and then didn't take the hint. B. S. Via, back from Oregon with his family, telling about their registering the rain by feet this fall. It rained more than nine feet in four months. Fish are leaving the rivers and going to creeks and level land.

Prelate Slain

A knife thrust from a pew ended the life of Archbishop Leon Elisei Tournai, 50, head of the Armenian National Apostolic Church in the Americas, above, as he walked down the aisle of his church in New York to open services. Several arrests were made. Police believe the crime climaxed conflict in the church over the archbishop's reported sympathy for the Russian soviet regime.

WILSON'S 77TH BIRTHDAY BEING OBSERVED TODAY

Roosevelt Will Pay Homage To Leader This Evening

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—With President Roosevelt taking a leading part, nationwide commemorations of the 77th birthday anniversary of Woodrow Wilson today were centered in the national capitol. As a prelude to an address tonight by the president, associates and friends of the war-time chief executive arranged to place a wreath upon his tomb in the Bethesda chapel of the Washington cathedral during the afternoon. Meanwhile, throughout the country, other observances were planned by members of the 124 Woodrow Wilson clubs.

Mr. Roosevelt, in an address to be broadcast by the two principal radio chains beginning at 10:30 Eastern standard time tonight, will speak before the Woodrow Wilson birthday dinner as the first democratic president to participate in this observance since Mr. Wilson's administration. He served as assistant secretary of the navy under the war president.

With Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt tonight will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson as guest of honor. Vice-President Garner and members of the cabinet, present also will be the war president's son-in-law, Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary of state. President Roosevelt was one of the original members of the foundation, organized in 1920 to perpetuate the ideas of Mr. Wilson for world amity and preservation of Peace. It has made awards to Viscount Cecil of England, Elihu Root and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh for their contributions to world amity.

INCREASED OIL ALLOWABLE FOR PANHANDLE FIELD IS REQUESTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—No testimony was offered today at a hearing before the Texas Railroad commission on field allocation of the allowable oil production for Texas for January. It was the first time that a regularly scheduled hearing on oil matters failed to produce any testimony. Records of the previous hearings will be considered. The commission announced it was awaiting a communication from the United States bureau of mines relative to the allowable assigned to Texas by the federal oil administration for the first three months of 1934. It was anticipated the communication would show the method by which the Texas allowable of 884,000 barrels daily was calculated. Petitions were offered from operators, royalty owners, and merchants in the Panhandle area asking for an increased allowable in that field. Operators appeared concerned over possible conflicts between the railroad commission's rules regulating development of new fields and those promulgated by Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior and national oil administrator, and their effect on producers. John Boyle of San Antonio asked

ONE OPERATOR PAYS $10,000 IN VIOLATIONS

DETAILS OF SIX CASES MADE PUBLIC BY ICKES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—The interior department, on instructions from Secretary Ickes, the oil administrator, today made public details of six cases in Texas in which it said settlement out of court was made with the federal government as the result of charges of interstate movement of "hot oil."

The secretary had requested the information from a special agent of the department's bureau of investigation in Texas. In five of the cases a double sum was said to have been paid by the alleged violators of "hot oil" state statutes and federal regulations. The payment to the state was described by Louis R. Glavis, chief investigator, as a "fine," while he said that to the federal government was in the nature of "a settlement out of court for violation of regulations."

The alleged violators and the sums paid to the state and federal governments were announced: R. W. Porter, $10,000 and $3,000; R. M. Seisco, $4,000 and $2,000; R. O. Laneve, $2,000 and $1,000; J. Z. Wercoby, $2,000 and $1,000; L. B. Phillips, $2,000 and $1,000. The sixth case was that of J. A. Johnson. Railroad demurrage charges totalling $6,650 had accumulated before the shipment was made and a technical settlement of one dollar was made with Johnson. Glavis explained that the amount of the settlement was gauged with a view to taking any profit which might otherwise have been made in a "hot oil" transaction. The special agent in Texas said in his message to the interior department there were cases in five oil counties of East Texas in which only the state had been involved, and he did not give details.

Three Troops To Get Roosevelt's Scouting Award

Scout Executive C. A. Clark this week is completing reports with which to close the year for the troops of the Adobe Walls council. Three troops have already qualified for President Roosevelt's award and others will do so before Saturday. The troops already at their goal are No. 4 at Borger, No. 75 at Higgins, and No. 20, the Pampa Rotary troop.

To obtain the awards, the troops must have increased their enrollment over last year, must have taken in 50 per cent or more of their new members at 12 years of age, and must have followed the authorized Scouting program. Executive Clark revealed that President Roosevelt will have a special radio announcement to Scouts next month—one that will give them a specific duty. Mobilization of the entire strength of Scouting will be done at that time. The Adobe Walls council will begin at once its plans for assemblies to carry out the president's challenge.

O. G. Worth of Noelette visited here last night. Mrs. W. M. McIntyre of Canadian shopped in Pampa yesterday.

Maybe Drought Has Its Good Points After All

A striking scene of devastation is shown in this aerial view of Woodland, Wash., with the entire town at the mercy of the raging torrent and the neighboring countryside under many feet of water. Floods and avalanches in Washington, Oregon, and Idaho have taken more than a score of lives, with property damage high in millions. Woodland is on the Lewis river, near the point where it flows into the Columbia river.

RESIDENT OF CITY FOR 21 YEARS DIES

Funeral Services For J. C. Barnard To Be Held On Saturday At Brandon

JAMES CALVIN BARNARD, 83, a resident of the Pampa community since 1912, died at his home here this morning. He had been in failing health for some time. Mr. Barnard moved here from Jones county and started farming near Pampa. Later he moved to the city where he made his home until death. He was a life-long member of the Baptist church. Surviving Mr. Barnard are his wife and seven sons, Onan and Ray of Pampa, Dr. Lundy Barnard, Muskogee, Okla.; Abe of Brownsville, Jim of Clarendon, Elbert of Kansas City, and Elzie of White Deer. C. B. Barnard of Pampa and Archie Barnard of Brandon are brothers. Sisters surviving him are Mrs. Climbing Crow, Mrs. Phoenix Crow, and Mrs. Beatrice Gunter, all of Brandon, and Mrs. Dora Maynard of Oklahoma City. The body will lie at rest at the Stephenson Mortuary until tomorrow night when it will be sent to Hillsboro. Funeral services will be conducted at Brandon Saturday afternoon and burial will follow in Brandon cemetery.

Lions Will Hold First Rehearsal Of Show Tonight

Pampa Lions will meet at the City hall tonight to begin rehearsal for the 1934 musical show and minstrel to be presented next month for the benefit of the club's program for the underprivileged. John Sturgeon, producer and director of the show, will outline the production and appoint committees. Today the club reviewed its work in 1933, including talks by Mr. Sturgeon, J. O. Gilman, Roy Bourland, George Briggs, C. H. Walker, John B. Hessey, and L. L. McColm. Clarence Kennedy was program chairman. Visitors today were E. L. Green Jr., C. N. Slokes, Verde Dickey of Sherman, Rev. Halke Gantz of Port Worth, and Ted Ferguson of Amarillo.

GIRLS ARE PAROLED

Two local girls arraigned in Justice W. S. Baxter's court on complaint of taking goods from a Pampa store, were paroled to their parents. In another case, a complaint of driving while intoxicated, involving a Pampa man, was referred to the grand jury which will meet January 2.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS

AMARILLO, Dec. 28 (AP)—Burns suffered early Wednesday when she tumbled into a tub of hot water resulted in the death today of Gene McClenny, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe K. McClenny, who live near Amarillo. Felix Urbancky of White Deer was a visitor in the city this morning. C. N. Ochiltree of Denworth visited in Pampa Wednesday.

NEGRO KIDNAP VICTIM IDENTIFIES WHITEY WALKER AND PARTNER AS ROBBERS OF MARLIN STATE BANK

Three Employees Are Freed After 12 Hours

MARLIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—D. N. Davis, deputy sheriff, said today that Lee Humphrey, negro porter kidnaped with two other employees by the robbers of the First State bank here, had identified from a photograph one of the men as Irvin (Blacky) Thompson, escaped convict and partner of W. J. (Whitey) Walker. Walker's photograph was identified by Peter Bayer, Marlin tailor, as the man he saw in a cafe at 6 a. m. yesterday, about two hours before the robbery and abduction. M. V. Bradshaw, 50, vice-president of the bank, and Miss Andrew Peyton, 28, bookkeeper, whisked away with the porter, said they saw only two robbers but said they told them there were four of them. Walker, his wife, Dolores Walker; Roy A. Johnson, Thompson and Nick Prince recently were indicted for the $4,300 robbery of the Robinson State bank at Palestine Oct. 26. A clean getaway apparently had been made today by two robbers who looted the First State bank here of $41,000 and held three employees of the bank captive for nearly 12 hours.

After sacking the bank vault, the robbers sped by automobile to a wooded pasture about nine miles south of Rogers, in Bell county, carrying with them as hostages Vice-President M. V. Bradshaw; Miss Andrew Peyton, bookkeeper; and Lee Humphries, a negro porter. Shortly after the robbers and the bank employees reached the pasture, two hunters, Jack Davis and Lee Davis, wandered unsuspectingly upon the scene and they, too, were taken prisoner.

At dusk yesterday, the robbers fired the five to trees and after warning them to "keep your eyes shut or we'll punch your eyes out," Drove away with the money. The bank employees and the hunters freed themselves in about an hour and notified officers, but were unable to tell which way the robbers went or to provide more than vague descriptions of them. None of the five was injured.

SPECIALIST FORECASTS WEATHER FOR REST OF PRESENT CENTURY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 28 (AP)—A "warm and dry" weather forecast for the rest of the twentieth century and warning of a coming period of disastrous droughts were issued by a weather specialist today before the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Playing a role much like the Biblical Joseph who warned the Egyptians of "lean years" to come, H. W. Clough of Arcade, N. Y., told the scientists that along about the turn of the century "there are likely to be prolonged and disastrous droughts, possibly causing extensive migrations of people now inhabiting regions that border upon deserts." These great droughts will result, he said, from the fact that four great weather cycles controlled by the sun will synchronize somewhere around the year 2,000. At that pe-

LATE NEWS

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—The governor, bankers from a number of the larger cities and state officials were in conference here today relative to promoting sale of Texas $5,500,000 relief bonds which the legislature authorized. Holed, proceeds to be used in feeding and clothing indigents.

HAVANA, Dec. 28 (AP)—A half-dozen bombs boomed a discordant note in Havana early today as government leaders talked new plans for political peace in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—The emergency board of mediation reported today to President Roosevelt that "all substantial causes" for the threatened strike on the Southern Pacific Lines in Texas and Louisiana have been removed.

'MATI HARI' ON DEATH SHE IS SPIES' BRAINS

NOT CONNECTED WITH ESPIONAGE IN FINLAND

PARIS, Dec. 28 (AP)—The mysterious Mme. Lidia Tchekaloff Stahl, middle-aged Russian scholar whom police charge with being the brains of a huge international band of spies, coolly denied to an examining magistrate today that she was connected with espionage activities in Finland. She acknowledged that she lived in Finland in 1915 and in 1920 but insisted that she never was connected with the alleged spies—including two Americans—recently arrested in Helsinki in what the Finnish government claimed to be another espionage plot.

The French police said the case of Mme. Stahl apparently was entirely separate from that involving Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, an American couple held in jail in connection with the alleged espionage. In the course of her examination by the magistrate, Mme. Stahl sketched the story of her life. Apparently she had wandered about much of the world, in the course of her travels picking up a master of arts degree from Columbia university, New York.

She told Magistrate Benon that she had lived in the United States in 1928 and 1932, studying at Columbia. Previously, she said, she had studied chemistry and mathematics at the Sorbonne, later devoting herself to the study of the Chinese language and civilization. A Finnish sculptor, name not made public, who exhibited in Paris in 1928, was the man who denounced Mme. Stahl, according to the police. They said he told them that she possessed a document bearing the letterhead of the French ministry of marine. Louis Martin, former translator in the ministry of marine who also is under arrest, likewise was examined today by Magistrate Benon. The police claim Mme. Stahl received her secret information thru the medium of Martin.

Garner Recalls Years When He Talked Freely

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28 (AP)—John N. Garner, en route from his home in Uvalde, Tex., to Washington for the opening of congress, spoke regretfully today of the old days when as speaker of the house he talked more freely than as vice president. "But, as a shade of regret came over his ruddy face, 'that's all over now. All I do is preside in the senate and vote when there's a tie—and when is there going to be a tie?'" He smiled when a reporter recalled that Garner's prediction here a year ago that prohibition would end within the year, had come true. "It sure has," returned Garner, his bright blue eyes snapping under bristling white brows. "Well, I ought to make good on a prediction once in a while. I've been up there in Washington now for 40 years."

Stolen Car Is Found On Ranch

Gus Irwin's Pontiac coupe, stolen from in front of his home in Pampa two weeks ago, was found in a draw on the Ledrick ranch in Roberts county yesterday afternoon. A cowboy looking for some stray cattle found the car in a thicket of shrubs. Chief of Police Jno. V. Andrews and Traffic Officer Wayne Nicholson went after the car but found three flat tires on the car. The valves were missing from the stems. The officers returned to Pampa and secured stems, going back this morning after the car which was not damaged in any way.

Mercury Stays Above Twenty

Pampa "warmed up" last night as the temperature failed to go below 20 degrees above zero. The cold wind which swept across this section from various directions the last two days, died down somewhat and with it the stinging cold. At noon today the thermometer read at freezing point but the sun had disappeared and there was slight hope of moisture in the air. Farmers report crops suffering and in danger of freezing if a long, cold spell should arrive.

MERCHANT IS BENEVOLENT RULER OF LARGE RANCH AREA IN TEXAS

DEL RIO, Dec. 28 (AP)—A ranchman from the Hinterland clattered his boot heels on the floor of Bracketville's mammoth stone store. He had a fair year. It would have been perfect except for the drought but he was ready to pay at least a part of what he owed. Anyway he had the interest. Bracketville, the county seat of Kinney county, is 30 miles east of Del Rio.

He found N. P. Peterson wiping the candy case with a red rag. The day had just begun and Peterson was about the first man down. He started with this firm in a minor position in 1879 and still refuses to ask anyone to do anything he will not do himself.

The ranchman wanted to pay up. Peterson is worth today more than a half million dollars at current values. The ranchman was prepared to write a check for interest at 7 per cent but old "Pete," as they call him here, staid his hand and said, "I a charging you only 5 per cent interest. That is enough for anyone to pay these days."

The ranchman went out feeling almost as good as if rain had fallen. One reason people in this country like N. P. Peterson is that he takes care of them. Sometimes he talks a little gruffly but he knows how to smile too. A man of 77 perhaps doesn't feel as well as a youth of 25, but old "Pete" suggests a man of 50.

The first month Mr. Peterson worked in this store he was paid nothing, but that was better than working in a hay camp and pulling hay to the fort with ox teams. The next 30 days he got $10 per month. The firm was then Roach & Mason. In 1894, Peterson bought an interest largely on credit and that is the main reason he has been in extending credit to other people. Now he lends money to persons in Kinney, Uvalde, Edwards, and Val Verde counties. Except for the drought the ranchmen would have made plenty of money this year. His firm turned loose $172,000 for 600,000 pounds of wool and mohair sold this fall. Peterson says most ranchmen in this trade territory will have to feed this winter. He does not want to see wool get too high in price, fearing substitutions; neither does he desire top-heavy mohair prices. He sees a continued good outlook for steady and improving prices for these staples. Most of the lambs have been moved out of this territory. He and his partner Deats are operators of a 19,000-acre ranch, feeding some with E. E. Vogts in Lackman, Kan. No frost has struck the country yet. Some of the lambs have been sold to go to California, some shipped to feeders and others have been moved to commercial feed lots.

Mr. Peterson is also president of the First State Bank and when a directors' meeting of the institution is held, often the Peterson store is the meeting place for many of the directors stay at the store which employs 14 persons. R. C. Ballantyne, who has been with the store since 1882, is a partner. Albert Schwander, who ranches on the West Nueces, has been trading with the store since 1879. Mr. Schwander was captured by the Indians when he was five years old, kept captive for many years and finally made his way back to the land of the white men.

Mr. Peterson handles wool and mohair for his customers and others. He has the reputation of one of the best salesmen in the state. He topped the state on mohair this fall and sold his fall wool when the market was at its best.

He and Mrs. Peterson contributed heavily to the building of the Episcopal church here. There are many ranchmen in this section who point to old "Pete" and say "He is the man who made me and kept me from going broke after I had accumulated something."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Stocks swallowed a sizeable portion of year-end sales tax selling today, but still displayed rather lusty appetite for the advance. Gains of 1 to 4 points were in the majority. Last hour profit-taking shaded some peak prices. The close was firm. Transfers were only a little more than half those of yesterday, approximating 1,600,000 shares.

Cary and Small Present Request For Road Funds

County Judge C. E. Cary in Austin yesterday presented Gray county's application for funds to top the Pampa-McLean highway with asphalt, making his appearance briefly before the Texas public works advisory board.

Today Judge Cary at greater length described the purpose of the desired loan, told how that sale of bonds is not advisable and probably is impossible, and why the road bed now being laid with caliche must be topped in the spring to prevent deterioration. He also touched strongly upon the necessity of providing a relief work project at that time.

The judge telegraphed THE NEWS this afternoon that the advisory board was passing favorably upon the application and that prospects for completing the loan were good.

Under the terms of the loan, the government would pay 30 per

Value Of Texas Crops Increased 51.6 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—The farm value of principal Texas crops this year represents an increase of 51.6 per cent over last year and 14.4 per cent over 1931, the December report of the United States Department of Agriculture revealed.

The total farm value of principal crops, exclusive of money received from the government on cotton and wheat acreage reduction contracts was estimated at $383,378,000 for 1933 compared with $253,164,000 for 1932 and $308,910,000 two years ago.

The increases are brought about primarily by higher prices received by farmers, since in most instances production was lower than in the two years just passed, the report stated. "The value of each crop is higher than for last year with the exception of Irish potatoes, apples, pears, oranges, and grapefruit.

"The farm price per unit is higher this year than last for all major crops excepting grapes, oranges, and grapefruit. Grapes are reported at the same price as a year earlier while grapefruit and oranges are slightly lower.

"Yields, generally, were lower than those of the past two years. Although the combined yield per acre of 35 important crops is placed at 128.4 per cent of the ten-year average (1921-1930), the extremely high yield of cotton in a large measure accounts for this high percentage. Rice, Alfalfa seed, peanuts, sweet potatoes, and sugar cane syrup are the only other crops yielding higher than last year.

abandonment of the gold standard, with its control of the currency and its buying of gold and silver. However, despite sharp-shooting by the ultra-conservatives, the nation's credit stands unimpaired.

But depression-scared investors and lenders remained inert so long that the government became almost the sole sponsor of new construction. The public works program, however, slowed to a near standstill because of the unwillingness of local units of government to become a partner in the speeding movement to end unemployment. The CWA was thrown into the breach, giving work to a couple of millions of men or more and placing relief responsibility almost solely on Uncle Sam insofar as unemployment was concerned.

These measures were admittedly temporary in character, based upon the hope that the resumption of buying would gradually move men from the CWA lists to regular employment. Congress will therefore face a nation favorably impressed by the first ten months of the new deal. The Christmas shopping season was a uniform success, reports from all over the country indicate. The future now rests as much upon congress as the president. How far can congress recede from the energetic, lavish program of the president without allowing misery to alarm the lawmakers into action? This year will largely determine whether Uncle Sam will become a more silent partner of business or will further entrench himself as its judge, referee, and prosecutor. We live in interesting days.

Hopkins Praises Texas' Plan Of Cutter Canning

AMARILLO, Tex., Dec. 28 (AP)—The Texas plan under which the unemployed are given work canning meats for the needy has met with enough success that Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins announced from Washington the set-up would be offered to other states.

Texas, according to reports along the line from Hopkins to those who were given work in the state's 18 canneries, has profited more than was at first expected.

The process, which takes cutter cows from the ranges to the can in the form of roast, stew, hash, hamburger and chili meat and soup stock, has extended relief first to the depression-ridden cattlemen, then to the unemployed, and finally to the needy who must be fed.

There was little or no market for cutter cows when the plan was announced. Hopkins decreed that $1.75 a hundred would be the minimum price paid for cows to be processed and the figure has ranged up to $2 or more. As a result, 30,000 or 40,000 cows of this type will be taken off the ranges in Texas and cattlemen say the market already has been stimulated. If other states adopt the plan, they see still better prices ahead.

Just what the canned products are costing the relief organizations has not been determined, but the plants now in operation are meeting specifications. The Amarillo plant, for instance, is turning out 10,000 No. 2 cans daily, from 50 cows. It is furnishing employment for approximately 650 persons, some of whom are being paid $1 an hour. Its efficiency is increased by operating 24 hours daily seven days a week. Officials of the local plant have expressed the opinion that cannery prices are being lowered appreciably.

Cows to be slaughtered are apportioned to the counties on the basis of census figures. The canned products are distributed wherever needed.

SYNOPSIS: By help of Tenn-Og, Klosehe Indian whom he had befriended, Curt Tennyson and Paul, his partner have escaped the Klosehees and are taking a friend Ralph Nichols, badly wounded, to the Canadian lake which they call Curt's plane is hidden. Curt has temporarily abandoned his hunt for Igor Karakhan, wealthy crook, to get Ralph to a hospital. Curt hopes to have news of Sonya Volkov, whom he loves although she has run away from Karakhan from a band of Klosehe Indians his party just has halted. Tenn-Og has talked with them.

Chapter 29 NEWS OF SONYA

The main band, Tenn-Og said, had discovered the escape of the whites had started north, "to Karakhan's place to guard him. The runners had been sent south on the chance that they might catch up with them and ambush them."

Sonya was on her way north; nothing had been heard of her since she left with her tree guides.

"Do you know where this white man is hiding?" Curt asked Tenn-Og.

At the headwaters of the lake, the Indian told him. He himself had once lived at that lake, almost at the very place where the white man's cabin now stood.

A week ago Curt would have considered that information priceless, but now it meant little, and in a general way he did plan to return later and make a second attempt to get Karakhan; but in all probability the Russian would be out of the Liliars and gone by that time.

He was nobody's fool; he certainly had read the handwriting on the wall. He had a plane and plenty of gas for it, as LeNoir's trading account showed. The wearisome job of following his trackless air path would have to be done all over once more.

"How can you go back to your people, Tenn-Og?" he asked. "Those six are going to tell the others that you were with us, helping us."

With a grunt and shrug Tenn-Og stated that he did not care whether he went back or not. He was almost an outcast now, he said, because of Siam-Kiale.

Ever since his talk with Tenn-Og that first night, when the Indian gave him so much information voluntarily, Curt had felt that he stood off somehow from the other Klosehees. His tones now and his reference to the subject implied that there was some bitter personal feud between Siam-Kiale and him.

The stories about the brutality in Siam-Kiale's nature, made Curt sharply uneasy about Sonya. She was up there alone in the country, in the charge of Indians, who were completely under the thumb of the sub-chief.

If he and the main band overtook her party, he might seize her, brush LeNoir aside, and disappear with her somewhere in that unknown country where she reached Karakhan she probably would be safe; but any one of a dozen accidents might intervene to strand her in those wild mountains and keep her from reaching him.

As the afternoon wore along, a perceptible change came over Ralph and at first Curt could not decide what the change boded; but as the signs became more pronounced, he recognized their grim meaning. He could never get Ralph out, or even get to the plane with him.

Just at twilight they reached the Iskitimwah mouth, having covered in twenty-four hours a stretch of river which had taken his party four whole days on the up trip. He called a halt. All need of hurrying had passed, and the buffeting of the waves was causing Ralph intense pain. The most they could do was to ease him for the little time remaining.

Near the tributary mouth they went ashore on a pine island, the island of black lilies, where Curt had spent some dark hours once. He did not recognize the place till they had landed, and when he would not change inland at a mossy spot they spread the sleeping robes and carried Ralph there and laid him down.

All three of them were from exhaustion. On top of the heavy strain of the fight and the long day of imprisonment, they had had no sleep in more than sixty hours, and had just finished a terrific stretch of canoe work—twice around the clock without a pause.

Curt made Paul and Tenn-Og eat a little food, and then took them a couple of rods aside. "You two lie down," he bade, "and get some rest. In our condition we are fit for nothing and we don't know what's ahead of us. I'll stay up with Ralph. I can do everything that needs to be done. God knows it's not much."

In the eastern sky the moon brightened as night shut down. Filtering through the pine branches, it cast illigible shadows on the woods floor and lay in a wan spool-foot and the plot of black lilies. Far away, so far it seemed a mere pinpoint of sound in the night silence, a crescendo wailing arose and was taken up and answered from a dozen mountain peaks.

In the last two hours, since realizing that Ralph was not to be with them, Curt had made up his mind to go back north and try to capture Karakhan. Tenn-Og could take them to that headwater lake. If Simash had kept his rendezvous they would have the plane and then could make the trip in less than three hours.

With any luck at all, he would not only end his long hunt then and there but he could shield Sonya and bring her out. In spite of her association with Karakhan he felt his duty, as a man, to look after her safety. She was a white girl, she had shot square with him and helped him and Paul out of a desperate plight.

Besides, he was vaguely beginning to suspect that there was something in her relations with the Russians which he knew nothing

BURIED GOLD IS HUNTED BY MAN NEAR HOUSTON

Believes $5,000,000 Worth Of Gold Is In Vicinity

HOUSTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—H. C. Barnes, owner of a small cafe three years.

The body to be exhumed is that of Lieut. Col. Fritz Walter Asplund, director of the state munitions works until his sudden death last April. Police physicians will conduct an autopsy to determine whether he really died from inflammation of the lungs, the cause given on his death certificate. Police say the symptoms of death from lung inflammation and from certain kinds of poisons are similar.

It was recalled that at the time of Asplund's death, three other officials were suddenly taken seriously ill.

HOUSTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—H. C. Barnes, owner of a small cafe three years.

The body to be exhumed is that of Lieut. Col. Fritz Walter Asplund, director of the state munitions works until his sudden death last April. Police physicians will conduct an autopsy to determine whether he really died from inflammation of the lungs, the cause given on his death certificate. Police say the symptoms of death from lung inflammation and from certain kinds of poisons are similar.

It was recalled that at the time of Asplund's death, three other officials were suddenly taken seriously ill.

As Barnes told the story, the map which is the key to the supposed buried treasure was given to him by a Mexican in 1899. The Mexican said he received it from his grandfather, a Spanish officer, who hid the gold when his forces encountered danger from the Spaniards from Nacogdoches to San Antonio near what is now Rose Hill.

"This, of course, is not a cinch," Barnes said. "I have no way of knowing definitely that the gold is there."

"It was an orderly in the old Houston infirmary," Barnes began his story, "when a Mexican workman on the railroad was brought in. His leg had been cut off by a train. I felt sorry for the poor fellow and was attentive to him. The doctor told him he could not live and he checked himself. No need to recall that painful fact to Ralph's wandering mind.

"The Mexican spoke perfect English and appeared to be educated. I believe he had run out of money and was here working as a laborer to raise more money for his gold hunting expedition.

"According to the map, the gold was buried near a horseshoe lake. On a peninsula extending into the lake was a big pine tree. The site of the buried treasure was marked on the map as many feet toward the sun from the pine tree.

"For more than a year Dr. Joe Stewart, who treated the fellow and I searched for such a lake but could not find it. A short time ago a friend of mine from the Rose Hill Spanish settlement came and I asked him where I could find some bull frogs. He told me there were plenty of them in a lake near his home. I asked some questions and found from his description that the lake tallied with the one marked on my map. I went out there with him, and sure enough it was the lake I had been looking for.

"The lake covers about fifteen acres. The pine tree was chopped down ten or fifteen years ago but the stump is still there. It was a big pine—about four feet in diameter."

Mrs. Amelia Stark left this morning for her home in McAllister, Okla., after a visit with her daughters, Mrs. Carl Sturgeon and Miss Christine Stark. Miss Stark recently visited in McAllister and her mother accompanied her home.

Ralph sank back, limp and quiet. A tremor passed through him. For a moment Curt thought it was the end. But then came a faint rattle.

The incoherent words he had just listened to bewildered Curt. Now Ralph was distinctly implying that when Sonya reached the headwaters lake she would be exposed to some great danger.

Curt cuts a lobstick, tomorrow.

ANNUAL REVIEW SHOWS WORTH OF EXTENSION WORK TO COUNTY

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS BRING EXPANSION PROGRAM INTO MOST OF FARM HOMES

ARE REACHED IN FOOD, CLOTHING, AND HOME IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS SET FOR THE PAST YEAR

Demonstration club women of the county, reviewing accounts for 1933, can cite that their successful fight a state extension program dividends.

Work was waged early last when members from various counties of the county were convened the commission that the district agent would be false economist Ruby Adams was re-elected that post, and annual review which she recently compiled individual reports show the program's value for the $87,733.11.

and extensive growth in the county was reported in the report. Two new clubs and three girls 4-H club were organized, and another unit worked as a club for girls under the agent's direction.

There are now 12 women's clubs in an enrollment of 122 and nine of 69 members. Of the 81 per cent, have been reached by the program. A large percentage of the families in all camps, as included as farm families, also are included from club work.

county council, composed of president and an elected representative from each woman's club, is the club organization. Mrs. D. Talley of Laketon has been elected as president of this council, the Mrs. G. P. Bradbury of Bell secretary.

Work of Council. Council accomplishments, as listed in the annual report, include the following:

Publication of 1933 yearbook. Council assessment of members. Home improvement committee worked a bill, seeing that provisions how to be set out as planned of 77 perhaps dozen.

as a youth of publication of 1934 suggests a man ready at start of the first year.

worked in this county quota for nothing, but that, $6.10, mainly working in a haughty's record for the year to the cooperation in this.

Awarding of trips to the annual short course for two wardrobe demonstrators. Part of a 4-H club girl's expenses were also paid. Sponsored a successfully county achievement day display with entries by 105 women and 40 girls.

Sponsored city-rural frolic to add to club funds.

Collected a total of $89.95 and disbursed $78.88.

Sponsored eight bedroom achievement days and three food supply achievement days in homes of demonstrators, and one county clothing achievement day at Pampa.

Representatives of the council met on two occasions with the city federation of women's club in Pampa and gave reports of home demonstration work in the county.

Clubs Attain Goals.

The separate clubs worked to develop goals set by the state extension department and the county program. Two programs were planned for each month except August and December. The agent presenting demonstrations at the first meeting of each month, and local program committees were in charge of the other session.

Members gave some demonstrations in each club, and from time to time members reported upon expansion activities.

Major Program Points.

Eight major projects for the year were carried out in the county. They were as follows:

Farm and ranch food supply. Goals stressed the making and filling of a canning budget with standard products, organizing the family pantry, balancing all meals, adding new features to the food supply. A demonstrator from each club and 114 cooperators in the county worked in this project. Incomplete reports show the value of their dairy, poultry, and food products at approximately $51,436.05.

Home improvement. Ten women and four girls conducted bedroom improvement demonstrations, while cooperators each made a hooked rug, refinished a piece of furniture, and discarded unnecessary furnishings from the rooms. A total of 43 women and 10 girls improved their bedrooms in some way.

Clothing. Eleven demonstrators took inventory of their wardrobes and material on hand, planned clothing budgets for the year, kept records for family clothing purchases, provided adequate clothing storage space, and made foundation patterns. Achievement day in clothing was attended by 125.

County encampment with husbands and club boys as guests. This event, set for August 24 and with preparations complete, was rained out.

Achievement day. A hundred club women each made three entries and 26 club girls made five entries each in this display at Pampa.

Tri-State fair, and state fair. The fair committee of the county council functioned more completely than any committee for the entire year.

GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN WASHINGTON — The spirit of the season glowed warmly today in the heart of a 70-year-old Baltimore woman, who walked and hitchhiked the 40 miles to Washington to plead for release of her son from jail.

Mrs. Hope Gregory had fainted from fatigue and hunger on her arrival Friday. But the spirit of the season also imbued Police Judge Ralph Given, who yesterday restored her only means of support, Chas. Gregory, 25, who had been sent to jail for 60 days on a charge of stealing a compact in a downtown store. It was his first offense.

UNCLE SHOOTS NEPHEW NACOGDOCHES, Dec. 28 (AP)—Earl Fowler, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fowler, is near death in a local hospital after having been accidentally shot by his uncle, Glen Fowler, 16, at the latter's home today.

Earl was looking at a 22 caliber gun supposedly unloaded when it discharged, sending a bullet into his stomach.

Sixty entries were made in the Tri-State fair, and nine first places won. Only three entries, all by a club girl, were made in the Dallas fair. She won a second place.

Short courses. Nineteen representatives attended a one-day short course at Canyon. Eight women and a girl attended the annual short course at College Station. Two women entered the state wardrobe contest.

Training schools. Two women from the county attended a rug school at Panhandle April 7 and 8, two attended a poultry school at Panhandle in February, and two reporters school at Panhandle in March.

SERVICE FOR DEAD FORT STOCKTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Forty show folk at daybreak today held an unusual ceremony in their traveling "canvas church"—their annual yuletide remembrance of the dead known as "service of the dawn." Prayers were said for the late Mollie Bailey, whose circus never left Texas, and for Jimmie Rodgers of San Antonio, a cowboy yodler. Only a picked group of citizens was admitted.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lybrand and son, James, have returned from a Christmas visit in Oklahoma City.

William and Henry Wilder, students in Texas Tech, are here from Lubbock spending the vacation with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilder.

Movie Stars Perfect Beauties? No, Says Artist

Despite all the superlatives used in describing film-drama stars, Penryn Stanlaws, portrait painter, is convinced there's not a single perfect beauty among the Hollywood actresses. Of Greta Garbo (left) he said, "She has a sleepy look, attained by deep eye sockets and a peculiar slant of the upper lip which doesn't aid beauty." The figure of Lupe Velez (center), he said, is the "truly maidenly one," and her face so mobile she can look "sophisticated or innocent at will." His critical eye fastened on Katharine Hepburn (right) and he found the lower part of her face projects too far.

New Year Dance To Be Gay Event

The second Terpsichorean club dance of this season will be given Saturday evening at the Schneider hotel ballroom, when Ned Bradley's orchestra will play for a New Year's dance.

Invitations have been sent to friends of the club in Pampa and nearby towns. A large group of dancers who enjoyed this same orchestra at an earlier club ball is expected to be present for the last dance of the old year.

The dance is one of the chief social events scheduled for the New Year week-end.

Special Christmas Program Presented By Intermediates

A Christmas program was presented by the intermediate department of Methodist Sunday school Sunday, occupying the entire meeting hour.

Songs were sung by the assembly during a pageant of the birth of Christ. Afterward, members marched past a large basket and placed in it their gifts to the needy.

Stockings of candy were served to close the hour. Committees that carried out the program follow: Teacher helper, Margaret Carr; program, Mrs. A. L. Patrick and Miss Ila Pool; decorations, Mary Douglas; committee for treats, Helen Francis Draper.

Members present in Mrs. Whittemburg's class totaled 17; in Mr. McDonald's class, 9; in Mrs. Patrick's class, 7; in Mr. McBee's class two; in Mrs. Tinsley's class, 10.

Rainbow Girls Are Called For Meeting

A business meeting of Rainbow Girls has been called for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Seydler, 511 N. West St.

A large number of Chinese girls and women of modern tendencies, whose freshly-shaved heads today were braid and shining as so many eggs, offered evidence of the general old-fashioned ideas on the subject.

Foreign Curled Hair Is Clipped In Chinese City

TSINAN, China, Dec. 28 (AP)—A firm military man is General Han Fu-Chu, a man notably unsusceptible to the blandishments of Shanghai women who wear their hair in foreign-fashion curls.

A large number of Chinese girls and women of modern tendencies, whose freshly-shaved heads today were braid and shining as so many eggs, offered evidence of the general old-fashioned ideas on the subject.

Han Fu-Chu is governor of Shantung province, and he rules with an iron hand. The modern fashion of wearing the hair in curls was especially displeasing to him. Chinese hair is traditionally straight, not curly.

(Now almost any dermatologist will tell you that the hair of a Chinese is not elliptical in shape, like an American's or a European's. It is round, and perfect, and does not curl naturally. Shantung hair is especially faultless in this respect and is in wide demand for hairnets, which are exported at considerable profit.)

Imbued with an intense nationalism, Governor Han Fu-Chu decided that women of Shantung should no longer wear their hair in curls, and he forthwith ordered the arrest of feminine curly-locks.

The wailing protests of the artless were quite in vain. Han's special bodyguard was assigned to the task of teaching femininity a lesson. Armed with sharp razors and following strictly the governor's orders, they shaved off the heads of the prisoners and sent them forth with bald patches.

PLANE SERVICE FROM HERE TO 46 STATES The southwest now has direct airplane service to 46 states, the only two commonwealths not having daily air mail-passenger plane service being Rhode Island and Delaware, each of which, however, is served indirectly through proximity to airports in other states, shows a check made yesterday by United Air Lines.

There is direct airplane service from this area to 178 cities in the 46 states, and over this network the planes of all companies fly approximately 150,000 miles a day, with United's planes flying approximately 45,000 miles daily.

Club Gifts Are Passed at Tree

The No-Trump bridge club had its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. J. C. Crawford, where the hostess acted as Santa Claus and distributed gifts from a beautifully decorated tree.

Christmas candies, fruit, and nuts were served to Misses Bonnie Patton, Mary Patton, Helen Sullins, Ouida Brandon, Claudia Brandon, Mildred Plumlee, Aline Chandler, Georgia Sanders, Mesdames Ray Chastain, Chas. Ford, Custer Lowrey, Don Saulsbury, D. E. Jameson, the hostess, and little D. E. Jameson Jr.

Contest Winners In Class Entertained

Closing a contest, members of the "Gumdrops" team in Mrs. D. E. Whittemburg's class of the Methodist Sunday school were entertained by the "Leapin' Lena" team.

Helen Draper was captain of the winning side, and Betty Bell of the losers. The honorees enjoyed games, as did their guests, members of the boys' class taught by Mr. McDonald.

Cake and hot chocolate were served by the hostess group.

AFTER PRODUCERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Secretary Ickes, the oil administrator, today telegraphed an agent of the interior department's bureau of investigation in Texas to furnish him the name of oil producers who have pleaded guilty to producing "hot oil" and paid fines out of court.

WMO PROGRAM ON FRIENDSHIP IS PRESENTED

FRIENDS ARE PRESENT WITH MEMBERS FOR HOUR

Friendship was the theme of a program at the meeting of Central Baptist Missionary union yesterday afternoon, one of the few regular meetings to be held this week. Several guests were present with members at the church.

Mrs. S. L. Anderson conducted the devotional with "Jesus a Friend to Man" as her topic. A duet, "Jesus is a Friend of Mine," was sung by Mary Helen Gilstrap and Frances Coffee.

Three poems stressed the program subject. Mrs. O. C. Weekly read "The Spring by the Side of the Road." Mrs. D. M. Scafe of the familiar "House by the Side of the Road," and Miss Marjory Coffee "In a Friendly Sort of Way."

A closing song was sung by Mrs. G. C. Stark and Mrs. O. H. Gilstrap. Their selection was "A Friend to Man."

Mrs. Stark was in charge of the brief business session that preceded a social hour. Mrs. L. W. Hardcastle, former member who is visiting here from Plainview, was a special guest.

Announcement was made that circles will meet next week as follows: Bethany group with Mrs. D. M. Coffee, Lotie Moon circle with Mrs. Lane, Anna Bagby circle with Mrs. Holliman.

Miss Louise Humphries has returned to her home in Kirkland after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Humphries.

Leona, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cannon, is much improved after being seriously ill of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dyer and children spent Christmas day with their parents in Vega.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis High and children and Mrs. Joe Randall and daughter, Monty Jo, are visiting their parents in Drumright, Okla., during the holidays.

TEN YEARS! YOUNGER!

There is probably one statement we hear around the Crazy Water Hotel more than other. We hear it just as our smiling guests are shaking hands with Mr. Cartwright, and saying goodbye. It usually ends up with: "I feel ten years younger!"

"What do they mean? Well, they might be thinking about the climate. Here in Texas, sunshine is no novelty—but have you ever tried our sunshine here? We don't have any copy-right on fresh air—but have you ever stretched your lungs over our mountain air at sunrise on a nippy winter morning? And there are plenty of ways to enjoy this climate. We're still playing golf in our shirtsleeves. And the bass have been taking flies. And the first few days of the duck season, at daybreak every morning it sounded like a war.

All these things are right at the city's doorstep. It may be our guests after all, however, who are thinking about the wonderful relaxation, stimulation, youth-ification in a course of Crazy Mineral Baths. In giving their bodies a good overhauling, you might say, inside and out, with Crazy Mineral Water, nature's perfect elimination. Come to the home of Crazy Water. Throw off about ten years of unnecessary age. Go home with an appetite like a timber wolf. And what will this cost you in dollars and cents? Listen:

Rates by the week (our "Treatment Plan") include a comfortable outside room, Crazy Mineral Baths, as much Crazy Water as you can drink, your meals (and GOOD cooking)—in fact, all the comforts of a first class modern hotel—for as low as $20 per week single, $35 double.

If that isn't enough to make you drop everything and come, write us for more. Better still, just come and see!

HARVESTERS SMOTHER HAPPY 43-24 BUT EXPECT HARDER BATTLE TONIGHT

GUARDS HOLD STAR SCORER TO 6 POINTS

HARVESTERS TO PLAY JACKS AGAIN THIS EVENING

The Happy Jackrabbits weren't allowed to "get started" last night and the Harvesters won a game they were not expected to take, 43 to 24. Coach Ochs Mitchell set Captain Miles Marbaugh and J. H. Green to watch W. C. Barnard, Happy's sensational center and scorer, while Roscoe Pinnell took care of the two boys working the ball into scoring position.

The same two teams will play again tonight at 7:45 o'clock, but the result is expected to be somewhat different, unless the Harvesters play the type of basketball they displayed last night. Coach Brown of the Jacks changed his style of play fairly successfully in the last half and scored most of his points there. He sent a guard in to shoot while Barnard was being bottled up by two Harvesters.

Green was decidedly "hot" last night, when he looped 10 field goals and one free throw for 21 points. Orrille Heiskell made the prettiest shot of the night when he looped five baskets from "away back." His markers were clean and true, rarely touching the ring as he registered his points. Pinnell accounted for six of the team points on nice individual tries from long passes. Captain Marbaugh was well covered by Captain Barnard and the Jacks and made only four points. Monroe Owens made the other Pampa counter. Bill Dunaway's strong point was working the ball into scoring position.

Vernon, a guard, and Captain Barnard, made six points each for the Jacks. Two of Barnard's counters were from free shots. A Barnard, cousin of the Happy captain, looped two long shots in the last quarters. The other Happy scores went to four players, three of them substitutes. The Happy boys handled the ball well, but the Harvester defense was so strong that they couldn't get through for crisp shots. Whenever they did, however, it usually meant points. A Barnard and Heller made pretty looping shots from back of the free-throw line.

The half ended with the Harvesters leading 24 to 8. The three-quarter mark saw the locals out in front 35 to 14, but the boys from "down country" appeared to be finding their eye for long shots. They proceeded to make several in the last quarter. Coach Mitchell sent his second string into the game for the last four minutes of play.

Bob Fuller was the "eleventh" man on the floor.

WITH THE— HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

Amos Melton of the Fort Worth Star Telegram believes that most of the boys selected for the mythical All State high school football team will come from the "upper bracket" or from districts one to eight, this year. He is of the opinion that most of the strong teams were in "North and West Texas" in 1933, which is unusual. Melton's first choice is Monroe Owens of Pampa for end. "I don't believe anyone who saw Owens play can leave him off the list," the Fort Worth scribe says. "Miles Marbaugh, is another district one player who will get several votes." Melton mentions Harlow of Amarillo as a prospect for gun honors. The Associated Press mythical eleven will be released next week.

We are not trying to take any honor away from the team, but how can Amarillo college be called state junior college champion? There has not really been an elimination in the junior college race this year. Why, Texas Military college at Terrell is undefeated in conference play and defeated only once in season play, yet that school's team has not played for any championship. If there is to be a state championship team declared in any division, why is it that every school in the classification is not included, we ask? Pampa has players on both teams mentioned.

We wonder—On what college rolls will the following names appear after they are erased from the Pampa high school list: Miles Marbaugh, Roscoe Pinnell, Orrille Heiskell, Bucky Mundy, Jess Patton, Ray Eldridge, Bert Stevens, and others? Let us hope Texas colleges will welcome the Pampans.

Here is a warning to Pampa basketball fans: "If you think the referee has made a mistake, don't get riled and boo him, because it will cost the Harvesters. Referees have agreed that they will penalize the home team by calling a technical foul on the captain and giving the captain of the visiting team a free shot. The conduct of Pampa fans was anything but sportsmanlike Friday night when the girls' teams were playing and last night there was one outbreak. It looked from the sidelines as if a foul was called on the wrong player, but it happened that a Pampa player pushed a Happy player into another Pampa player. Basketball is such a fast game that mistakes can be made."

PHILADELPHIA—One Philadelphia magistrate sentences drunks in his court to drink castor oil, but Magistrate Stewart has a new scheme. ANGLIN FOR GOVERNOR
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 28 (AP)—Governor Murray's weekly newspaper today announced the democratic candidacy of Tom Anglin of Holdenville, speaker of the house of the last legislature, for governor. The governor previously had endorsed Anglin as his successor. The state constitution prevents a governor from succeeding himself.

Grace V. NeCase of LeFors visited in Pampa today.

COACHES MAKE PLANS TO HOLD JOBS LONGER

UNFAIR DISMISSAL OF MENTORS WOULD BE ABOLISHED

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 (AP)—Armed with plans and advice for protecting their jobs, members of the American football coaches association headed for the scenes of all-star games or winter quarters today.

The plan for fighting back at criticism characterized as unfair, which has cost many coaches their places, was suggested by D. O. (Tuss) McLaughry of Brown university, chairman of the committee on ways and means of making the association more beneficial to the members. The advice on how to make the coach's position more secure, was dispensed by H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at the University of Georgia.

McLaughry suggested that a committee be appointed by the president of the association to investigate any charges of unfair dismissal and to give the cases nationwide publicity. The committee will be named by Dan X. Bible of the University of Nebraska, who succeeds Daniel E. McGugin of Vanderbilt, as president.

Hugo Bedek, director of physical education and athletics at Pennsylvania State college, declared that simplicity is needed to keep football in its present position in the colleges and universities. He pointed out that many other extra curricular activities are growing in importance, and that football must not be made more complicated, if the student, with less time, is to continue to be interested in the game.

Bible also appointed a committee composed of Noble Kizer of Purdue, Lou Little of Columbia, O. E. Hollingbery of Washington State college, and W. A. Alexander of Georgia Tech, to sit with the rules committee in New York in February. The coaches will present suggestions for changes in the rules, to the committee.

Hours were devoted yesterday to the discussion of proposed changes in the playing code, but no one had anything to say on what suggestions might receive favorable action. The question will get more attention from a committee of 25 coaches, in time to draw up formal recommendations to the rules committee.

Germany's Army Chief Resigns
BERLIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—Baron Curt von Hammerstein-Equord, chief of the German army since November 1, 1930, and close friend of former Chancellor Kurt von Schleicher, has resigned.

President von Hindenburg accepted the resignation immediately and promoted von Hammerstein from the rank of general of infantry to colonel-general as an expression of the nation's thanks for services.

The resignation becomes effective February 1, 1934. It did not surprise well-informed circles.

Hammerstein, as an intimate friend of General Kurt von Schleicher, former chancellor of Germany, viewed Adolf Hitler's capture of the state with apprehension and, although he loyally supported the new regime, he never was regarded as extremely warm to it.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fitzgerald and sons, Joe and Billy, have returned to their home at Liberal, Kan., after spending Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Wasson. Mrs. Fitzgerald is a sister of Mr. Wasson.

Stanford Center Will Start Game In Rose Battle
PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 28 (AP)—Stanford will be at full strength when it tackles the Columbia university football team in the Rose Bowl New Year's day.

Coach Claude (Tiny) Thornhill said today that the left string center, will start against the Lions. Suffering from influenza for the past several days, Muller may be regarded for practice tomorrow.

Monk Moscrip, star end of the Indian team, will also be in shape for the start of the game, Thornhill said.

Lion Center Is Developing Toe For Field Goal

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 28 (AP)—Columbia is developing a field goal threat to offset the toe work of All-American Bill Corbus of Stanford in the Tournament of Roses football game New Year's day.

Coach Lou Little drilled Newell Wilder, 200-pound center, in the fine art of place-kicking yesterday and the results were so pleasing he indicated the big pivot man and Ed Brominski would get some more practice on their speciality.

Wilder probably will get the call to start the game over Albert Ciampa, with whom he has alternated all season, because of his superior size and ability to kick.

Coach Little took to worrying again about the condition of his players.

"They didn't look as good yesterday, but then we worked them pretty hard Tuesday," he said. "Any way there won't be any more heavy work. We're coming in on the home stretch now and each day the drill will be a little lighter."

There is some doubt about one or two of the starting positions in the backfield. Al Barabas, promising young sophomore, has been hard pushed for the left half assignment of his 1931 and 1932 showing.

Tommy Tomb, understudy to Cliff Montgomery at quarter, and Sam Manfrot, who substitutes for Brominski at right half, also have been seeing a lot of action.

hill said. Moscrip suffered a pulled leg muscle but the injury is responding to treatment.

A third member of the squad who has been on the bench, Claude Callaway, a tackle, is suffering from a cold but will be ready when the whistle blows, the jovial Stanford coach declared.

"I am well satisfied at last with the metal and physical condition of my squad," said Thornhill. "But we expect a tough game."

The Stanford squad was to begin casing off its training schedule today, limiting its workouts to one a day until January 1. For the last few days there have been both morning and afternoon workouts. Although the big red squad showed some sloppiness in blocking,

Thornhill said it was not the result of physical condition but lack of practice.

C. H. Reynolds, chairman of the Tournament of Roses committee, estimated 60,000 would watch the game.

RULES COMMITTEE FOR FIGHT MANAGERS URGED BY BOXERS

Would Permit Fighters And Managers To Make Rules And Not Commissioners.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Football listens to suggestions from its coaches as to how the game should be run and from all accounts the sport is doing all right. So a couple of members of the boxing game, which is not doing well at all, wonder if an advisory board of fight managers to make suggestions occasionally to boxing commissions, wouldn't help things a little in the sport of mortal mugging.

It's not nearly as far fetched as it sounds at first when explained by Sammy Goldman, manager of the former lightweight champion, Tony Canzoneri, and pilot at odd times in the past of such warriors as Pal Moran, James White, and Basil Galliano, all from his home town of New Orleans. "I'm not for any whistle blowing," says Goldman, which in the language of the ring means you should not call a cop, or tell tales out of school on the other fellow. "But boxing commissions, here and everywhere, are made up of men far away from details of the business. They're politicians who know about boxing in a general way. And that lets them out."

Specifically Goldman suggests a managers' board, consisting of Jimmy Bronson, who was Gene Tunney's chief advisor; Charlie Harvey, the veteran who has handled a host of great fighters; Jack Hurley, of Duluth, manager of Billy Petrolle, and if you insist, Sammy Goldman.

Their duties would consist of acting as liaison officers between commissions here, there and anywhere where acute problems of the ring arose and veteran minds, acquainted with all the dodges but never susceptible to them, could be of assistance.

"For instance," says Goldman, "commissions make a lot of rules thinking they are helping boxing, giving the public a run for their money, that do just the opposite."

"They break up a fighter's training five days before a match by having him in for examination, when any boxing man could tell them it's important then. They make new rules here every time a foreign fighter appears. They okay substitutes and then suspend managers because the substitutes get knocked out."

"They make dozens of rules, yet they have no hard and fast regulations on such an important thing as the size and kind of gloves various sizes of fighters should use. The rules on fouls are all mixed up. Referees are allowed to take up a lot of time when a fighter is nervous before the opening bell telling what he can do and what he can't do, which the fighter has been told practically from birth."

M. D. Stevens of Amarillo spent yesterday in the city.

STALIN VIEWS JAP PLANS AS GRAVE DANGER

HINTS OF RUSSO-JAP RUPTURE IN AN INTERVIEW

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Joseph Stalin, head of the communist party in Russia, says the soviet government desires friendly relations with Japan but he sees a "grave danger, and we cannot but prepare to meet it."

That is what Stalin told Walter Duranty, Moscow correspondent of the New York Times, in an interview today.

Stalin said that if the more "reasonable" elements and more "prudent" counsels prevail in Japan, the two countries can live in amity, but he added that Russia "feared that the militant faction may push the saner policies into the background."

Of Soviet-American trade, the communist leader said the "volume of our trade with America for the time being must be measured by the degree of confidence America puts in us—and this by the volume of credit."

"What Foreign Commissar Litvinoff said in London still holds good. We are the greatest demand market and are ready to order—and pay for—large quantities of goods. But we require satisfactory conditions of credit."

Stalin said Ambassador William C. Bullitt made a "very good impression" in Moscow.

"What I like is that he does not talk like the average diplomat," he said. "He is straightforward and says what he means."

Stalin also had praise for President Roosevelt whom he called a "decided and courageous political leader."

DeLea Vicars left last night on a business trip to Dallas.

Patrolman And Smuggler Slain In Border Fight

EL PASO, Dec. 28 (AP)—A deadly exchange of shots between United States border patrolmen and Mexican smugglers in the slums of south El Paso—near the Rio Grande—brought death today to Patrolman Bert G. Walthall and a smuggler identified as Jose Estrada of El Paso. Another patrolman, Louis A. Smith, was wounded slightly.

In the ensuing search for smugglers who fled the fight late last night, officers captured three other Mexicans—two of them wounded. One was in serious enough condition to require hospitalization. Officers also arrested an elderly man who lives in the house where the other three were hiding.

The shooting broke out when Walthall and Smith, accompanied by Patrolman Curtis D. Mosley, drove up to a car parked at a street intersection near the international boundary. The smugglers in the parked car opened fire at close range. Walthall fell mortally wounded. A bullet grazed Smith's head.

Smith and Mosley cut loose with their pistols, sending bullet after bullet into the Mexicans' car, which was driven rapidly from the scene. Shortly afterward the car was found a few blocks away, riddled with bullets. In it was the body, of Estrada, about 35 years old.

Mrs. Annie Daniels has as holiday guests her mother, Mrs. B. M. Baker, Canadian, and friend, Miss Mary Hull of Commerce. Her son, B. M. Daniels of Amarillo, has returned home after a visit with her.

Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Hankhouse are the parents of a daughter born this morning. She has been named Marie Jo and weighed 8 pounds and 7 ounces. Mr. Hankhouse is construction foreman for the Southwestern Public Service company.
