"THEY CAN BE BEAT!" Dream: Monroe Owens, Harvester end, dreamed that long Miles Marbaugh, hit Mr. Corbett of Amarillo so hard in Saturday's game that the Pampa boy just would round and round the Saddle. Corbett was unable to continue after Marbaugh was "unground."

Dream: For three consecutive nights, Forrest McSkimming has dreamed that the Harvesters will win 6 to 0. He is the man who dreamed (correctly) the score of the game which Pampa won at Lubbock a few years ago.

Dream: Mrs. Odus Mitchell dreamed that Amarillo put a line of girls in the game, and that the officials wouldn't penalize. Coach Mitchell hasn't dreamed anything because he hasn't slept any lately.

They may be Golden Sandies, but the Harvesters and all the rest of us are off the gold standard.

SOURCE OF WEALTH

Our greatest wealth is our friends, but knowing true friends is a difficult problem. Too often we believe those who flatter us, lay their hand on our shoulder and repeat what others have said, to be our friends.

Sometimes those who criticize, are, in a mild way, expressing enmity, but more often those persons who pass criticism, especially constructive criticism, do so for our own good.

No man can live self-sufficiently, he must have companionship and friends, for living the life of a recluse soon degenerates the human mind. But, false friends are in abundance, as it seems to be a trait in human nature to pretend friendship—people like others, in most cases, for what they have, or for what they can extract from them for their own selfish desire.

Nothing forces a man to seek solitude as false friends and nothing makes a man more lonely than to have friends at a distance.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder and those with whom we have the least contact are often our best friends. Those close at hand become weary of our faults which often results in the breaking of friendship.

The foundation for true friendship is confidence; without confidence friendship can never exist, for confidence is a state of mind with positive assurance that a trust will never be broken.

A trust in friendship is a belief in integrity that the eventual result of every action and expression will be mutual.

Snap judgment on action or expression is violation of a trust and results in the breaking of friendship because time is not taken for analyzing each action and expression.—Aztec (N. M.) Independent-Review.

REBELS

The bombardment was preceded by a scattered rifle fire from the fortress which was replied to by the soldiers in the army of Colonel Fulgencio Batista.

The rebels had smuggled arms and munitions throughout the night into Atares fortress, consolidating their positions on the second day of their uprising.

The strong position of the fortress atop a hill overlooking the capital city led military experts to believe a sanguinary battle was in prospect.

The consolidation in Atares was accomplished before dawn when the rebels fled from Dragones and San Ambrosio fortresses after Batista's men had threatened to bombard those strongholds from the land and the sea.

Loyal troops moved into the abandoned forts immediately. Wild scenes of looting followed the federal capture of Dragones. The populace sacked the barracks, removing all the furniture while the soldiers stood by without interfering.

Scattered shots, fired throughout the city in minor skirmishes, were drowned into oblivion by the artillery bombardment.

Meanwhile, the government still contended it had the situation in hand in the interior of the country although reliable information from the provinces was impossible to obtain because of disrupted communication facilities.

The rebels, however, said the rebellion was under way in Mantanzas, Camaguey, and Oriente provinces.

Texas Baptists Receive 33,000 Members in 1933

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer
FORT WORTH, Nov. 8. (AP)—Twenty thousand persons were baptized into the Baptist church during the year just ended, the Baptist general convention of Texas heard today. In addition, more than 13,000 others joined Texas churches of that denomination by letter and otherwise.

These figures were given to the convention by Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary.

He pointed out that although the year might have been one of adversity financially in some ways, it was successful spiritually.

He said special credit to efforts of evangelists and missionaries, as well as the associational missionaries and pastors.

Evangelists Report
Twenty thousand baptisms were reported by the six state evangelists. The Revs. W. Y. Pond, J. S. Bates, W. H. Joyner, C. Y. Dossey, Charles S. Pierce and George W. McCall. There were more than 13,000 additions through other channels, they reported.

Texas was second among southern states in contributions to foreign missions. This state gave more than $97,000 for that church work, the report stated.

The report said there were approximately 764,000 persons enrolled in the training service of the Texas Baptist Sunday school, BYPU's, Womans Missionary Societies, and the Baptist Students' Unions.

There were more than 6,000 students enrolled in Texas Baptist schools the past year, including schools of nursing, the report said.

It was pointed out that Texas Baptists own and operate six hospitals and it was revealed that these institutions admitted 31,527 patients during the past year. The report disclosed that 12,582 charity patients were cared for, the value of this free service having been estimated at about $280,000.

LIFE SPAN OF DRY LAW NEAR 14-YEAR MARK

WAR AND AGITATION OF CENTURY BROUGHT PROHIBITION

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Constitutional prohibition went out as it came in with unexpected swiftness.

Its life span—ending December 5 when the 36th state carries out the doom pronounced yesterday—will have been exactly 13 years, 11 months and 11 days.

Not since the early days of the nation have the states acted with such speed on constitutional amendments. The 18th amendment was ratified within 13 months. The 21st amendment, repealing the 18th, is riding into the constitution in less than 9 months.

Saloons closed their doors "forever" on Jan. 16, 1920. They had been closed before for wartime prohibition.

The wartime act was adopted Nov. 21, 1918, when people still were whooping it up over the signing of the Armistice. It became operative June 30, 1919, to last until the completion of demobilization.

Before the wartime ban had been lifted, the 18th amendment, submitted on December 17, 1917, was ratified. Its terms made it inoperative until a year later.

There are some who say the war put prohibition over. The historians say the war only crystallized sentiment. There was a fear that grain and other foodstuffs used in the manufacture of alcohol might be needed by the American Army or by America's allies.

Behind prohibition lay more than the war. There was almost a century of moral agitation. There were praying bands of women in Hillsboro, O., who marched from church in 1873 and invaded the town's saloons to implore the drinkers to shun the demon rum. They became the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the white ribboners, in 1874. The movement spread. College boys organized the intercollegiate prohibition association in 1882, and then came the Anti-Saloon League of America in 1893.

The prohibition party polled 255,000 votes in 1892. It polled 15,000 in 1932.

Back in 1851 Maine started the legislative history of prohibition with a state law banning the sale of liquor. By the time national prohibition came 43 states were dry, 18 of them with a law written into their constitutions.

The national ban radically affected only 31.7 per cent of the population and only 4.6 per cent of the area of the United States; 90 per cent of the townships and rural precincts, 85 per cent of the counties and over 75 per cent of the villages, or 68.3 per cent of the population and 95.4 per cent of the land already had local option or state prohibition.

Ceased To Saw Wood At Doorn; Still Quotes Motto

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's fifteen years today since Count Hohenzollern, formerly his imperial majesty Wilhelm II, emperor of Germany, went into exile. They have been 15 years of wood sawing, of investigations into archeology and of review of the theological doctrines which have been his life-long intellectual hobby.

WILLIAM HOHENZOLLERN
They have been 15 years, too, of the reiterated comment: "I'll go back if my people call me," modified a few weeks ago by this:

"Chancellor Hitler is engaged with matters other than the restoration of former rulers; that is not a part of the Nazi program."

He walks daily. He holds services in his own chapel and if no pastor is present takes the pulpit himself.

His short and limp left arm is a natural deformity. His right is strong. Until age forced him a year or so ago to give up his end of a crosscut saw, he could tire out younger men who took the opposite handle.

At table he uses a combination knife and fork which has a scimitar-like curved cutting edge.

With that good right arm he learned to shoot a fowling piece skillfully. In youth, leading cavalry drills, he held the reins in his teeth, waved a sabre with his right arm and guided his steed with his knees. He swam, fenced and even rowed a boat.

His private motto has been the Latin "Homo sum; humani nil a me alienum puto." ("I am a human; nothing human can be strange to me.")

Visitors say he still quotes it.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Courson at Worley hospital last night, a son.

RANDALL COUNTY PIONEER FINDS GOODNIGHT DUGOUT IN PALO DURO DURING FIRST VISIT IN 36 YEARS

CANYON, Nov. 9 (AP)—R. E. Baird, Randall county pioneer, riding down into the Palo Duro canyon for the first time since 1897, recently located the dugout which was the first home of the late Col. Charles C. Goodnight, often referred to as "the birthplace of Panhandle civilization."

Until Baird's visit, those who are developing the canyon into a state park believed that the remains of another dugout, about one-half mile away, was the Goodnight location. Baird, however, said the second dugout was built by the T-Anchor outfit and was occupied only a year.

The Goodnight dugout is located on what was formerly an Indian camping ground, about three and one-half miles from the entrance to the park. The site is now accessible over a bridge path built by C. C. C. workers. When Baird last visited it, the location could be reached by horseback only over a circuitous route from several miles down the canyon.

Tepee poles which Goodnight used for ridge poles in his dugout, are found in the ruins. When General Mackenzie drove the red men out, the Indians stripped the hides from the poles, but didn't take time to remove the timbers. The ends of the poles were beveled by friction as the Indians dragged them behind their horses.

Baird recalled that Goodnight also built a cedar pole corral for his small herd of cattle, forruncer of the Panhandle's vast cattle herds.

Park plans call for the restoration of the Goodnight headquarters as a shrine. An historical lodge will be erected on the site. "I was here in the fall of 1886," Baird said, "just before election day. We killed a lot of wild turkeys down there in those cottonwoods and had a big turkey dinner. Deer and bear were plentiful then. There were lots of panthers, too."

The Goodnight site will become the center of park developments, which will be designed to perpetuate early panhandle history.

POLITICS at Random

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.)

From the nature of the data on Russia now reposing on President Roosevelt's desk, it seems safe to assume that trade relations will have first consideration in the forthcoming recognition negotiations.

Russian war debt repudiation, private claims and communist propaganda will be mentioned, but after all, development of reciprocal trade agreements is so much a cardinal policy of the administration that it easily may almost monopolize the discussions.

Russia has a special reason for making some concessions to gain recognition. That reason is worry at Moscow about the operations of Japan along the Manchurian frontier.

Once before, when a somewhat similar situation existed, Russia found a way of making known secretly and indirectly to the Washington government that her feeling was this:

Four great nations—Russia, China, Japan and the United States—were especially interested in the Far East. Japan had recognized Russia, China and the United States had not. So Russia could talk only to Joe Pan, whose activities worried her most.

The overture got nowhere at all, but now sentiment at Washington is somewhat different.

As Germans Reason.

Speaking of foreign viewpoints, an authoritative German version of the long-term considerations of the present European situation has just become available in Washington. It goes like this:

Over a long period German statesmen found that whenever the subject of disarmament came up along with it came the French demand for security.

Germany wanted to get that out of the way. At Locarno she promoted the agreement, which she still regards as guaranteeing the eastern frontier of France. But disarmament did not follow.

Now German statesmen feel they are left no solution except to withdraw from the whole complicated problem and do whatever they can within their own borders to rebuild national spirit and self sufficiency.

That is frankly German viewpoint, which many refuse to accept. It is reproduced here because it throws new light on one side of a very interesting controversy.

London Was Listening

The British delegation in Washington to discuss war debts probably was more interested than anyone else when President Roosevelt, in his Sunday night address to the nation, closed the door to immediate international currency stabilization. Such stabilization is much desired by London, which sees no way to a debt agreement, unless it knows in what kind of dollars payments are to be made.

Incidentally, the president's decision to establish a gold market started some westerners to thinking about doing the same thing for silver. A government-regulated market for silver was discussed in some administration quarters even before the President made his speech, and action in due course is among the possibilities.

There was no indication Mr. Roosevelt thought his gold plan would stop the western farm strike, which administration reports forecast would not be really serious on a national scale. What was hoped for was that the inference of dollar revaluation would keep conservative and border line farmers in camp.

FUELS AMONG INDIVIDUAL PLAYERS WILL ADD COLOR TO BATTLE SATURDAY

FANS EXPECT STRUGGLE AT CENTER BERTH

INJURED PLAYERS HAVE RECOVERED FROM HURTS

It will not be long now! Pampa fans are absolutely without knowledge of the defense the Harvesters will use against the Sandies Saturday afternoon in an effort to stop the air attack and also stop Mahuron and Cleghorn from sweeping around the ends and Beale and Corbett from crashing off tackle.

Will it be a 5-man line, a 6-man line, or a 7-man line that will meet the Sandies, and will it be a three-to-one, a two-to-one or some other kind of a backfield arrangement? Only Coach Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox know which order will be given before the whistle.

The boys have been working on many kinds of defenses and will be able to switch as occasion demands.

The Harvesters came through a fiery scrimmage yesterday afternoon without an injury and, with the probable exception of Harold Gregory, fleet halfback and punter, every member of the squad should be in good condition for the game.

Three things are known about the game in advance. The Sandies will take to the air often and also use the ground much and the Harvesters will almost entirely use the ground route.

The Sandies spent yesterday afternoon drilling on defensive play, something the Sandies have had little worry over so far this season. Their defense has been a strong attack, but Saturday may see a defense needed. Sandie coaches are taking no chances.

The two teams have a lot in common. There will be Marbaugh of the Harvesters and Mahuron of the Sandies in a punting duel. Hamilton and Beale will battle with spinners. Pinnell and Bigelow opposing centers, are both line blockers de luxe, and Stevens and Cleghorn are speedsters.

The Harvesters are out-weighed more than four pounds to the man. J. R. Green, Harvester tackle, is the only member of the Harvester squad who will outweigh the biggest Sandie and fans doubt that Brandenberg, Amarillo guard, weighs only 163 pounds.

Start of the game will be at 2:30 o'clock with Del Morgan, freshman coach at Texas Tech, handling the main whistle. Only a few of the 5,000 reserve seats remain and they are in the north section of the east grandstand.

McLean Defeats Wellington 30-0

MCLEAN, Nov. 9.—Starting without their spinner man, C. Christian, the McLean Tigers played the Wellington Skyrockets an interesting game of football Monday night at Wellington. The game had been scheduled for Friday before but was postponed on account of the weather.

The score was 30 to 0. McLean made five touchdowns but failed to make any extra points. Ellison, Wellington linebacker, was forced to quit playing for awhile when he was knocked out, but resumed play later. This was the first time this season that Ellison had been "jerked." The star of the game for McLean was Tolliver, fullback, with Dowell giving him a close second.

21 Sentenced In Slaying of Jap Premier in 1932

YOKOSUKA, Japan, Nov. 9 (AP)—Ten more men were sentenced today in the sensational slaying of Premier Suoyoshi Inukai, May 15, 1932, and companion acts of terrorism.

Eleven cadets already had been given four years each. All were accused of participating in a plot of terrorism directed against what many Japanese considered a too lenient foreign policy.

MIAMI PLAYS CANADIAN IN TITLE FIGHT

Came To Be Friday; Wildcats Have Won Only One Game in Last 15 Years.

CANADIAN, Nov. 9.—Friday the Canadian Wildcats meet the Miami Warriors in a game which if won will establish Canadian as the undefeated conference champions and if lost will give them a tie for the championship. The Wildcats this season have defeated Mobeetie 18-0, LeFors 14-0, and Wheeler 13-0 in conference play.

The Canadian-Miami game is one of long tradition and always hotly contested. Canadian has won only one game, in 1922, from the Warriors in the last fifteen years.

With a snappy team well drilled in fundamentals, Canadian expects to overpower the Miami jinx, win the game, and with it the conference crown.

COURT RECORD

District Court
The grand jury has adjourned for the term, which closes this week, after being in session 14 days and returning nine indictments.

His report was very short. It states that he find that and are glad to report that violations of our criminal statutes in Gray county are less than minimum, which we want to attribute largely to our county officers and to the district and county attorneys." W. M. Craven was foreman. Three new indictments were found, but returns have not been made.

The grand jury no-billed Don Tate, named in a complaint for driving while intoxicated. It also no-billed those charged with selling or possessing beer. There is no appropriation for analyzing beer, and trials are impossible without proving that beer contained more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol. For the same reason, the criminal docket was largely cleared of liquor cases.

The judge and district attorney will go to Wheeler county next week for a busy session lasting the remainder of the year. They will return here January 1 for a 10-week term.

PRINCETON AND DARTMOUTH TO BATTLE AGAIN

TEAMS HAVE NOT MET ON GRID SINCE 1916

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Princeton and Dartmouth, strangers on the gridiron since 1916, resume football relations at Princeton Saturday. To many this may be just another big game but it's a bit more to the old grads and to those who have been looking forward to seeing the green join with its old rivals, Yale, Harvard and Princeton in a new "big four."

Talk of such an organization was especially well received at Princeton when the "big three" was in the football foldrums and the Yale-Harvard game should be considered by the Blue and Crimson to be somewhat more important than the traditional battles each played against Princeton.

Some of that feeling died down during the Harvard-Princeton break which has been healed with the scheduling of a game for next year. Yale has awarded the Tigers a more important place in its schedule, and now comes Dartmouth, trying the iron man stunt of taking on Harvard, Yale and Princeton in succession. For all practical purposes the "Big Four" is now a fact if only they agree to continue these old and glorious rivalries.

The Princeton-Dartmouth series is the newest of the group, starting in 1897 as compared to 1882 for Harvard-Dartmouth, 1884 for Yale-Dartmouth. Perhaps the most famous of the Tiger-Indians is games was the 1911 contest which was decided by John Dewitt's drop kick. The ball struck the ground within the playing field, bounced and cleared the cross bar. Officials allowed a field goal and Princeton won 3-0. The rules committee later voted against the decision. In the series Princeton has won nine times, Dartmouth three with one tie.

This week's game promises to carry on the tradition of hard, colorful battles. The Tigers, one of the outstanding teams in the east, have a perfect record of five straight victories. They are the only eastern team not scored on. In three major games, Dartmouth has beaten Penn, tied Harvard and lost by one point to Yale.

NOTRE DAME COACH RECEIVES HUNDREDS OF FAN MESSAGES

Telegrams, Letters From All Over Country Are Read By Anderson.

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 9. (AP)—The man who shouldered one of college football's toughest assignments, when Knute K. Rockne crashed to his tragic death almost three years ago broke his long silence as his wistful eyes peered out of a veritable pile of telegrams and letters on his desk.

"These are trying days for Notre Dame football and for me," Coach Harty "Hunk" Anderson spoke up. "But when I'm through with the game I'll never forget these."

He pointed to the letters and telegrams. "There are telegrams and letters from all over the country in that pile," he continued. "They are proof that the greatest, finest bunch of alumni that ever trod off a campus are those of Notre Dame. Kickers? There isn't one in a thousand! Instead of pointing out faults, these alumni of Notre Dame send messages of cheer and hope. 'Keep your chin up.' 'Don't let 'em get you down.' 'We're all for you.' That's what those letters and telegrams say, and you can just tab it in your hat that they provide the inspiration of a lifetime to a fellow who happens to need some inspiration right now."

The "haunted man" of Notre Dame football leaned back on his chair and a grin spread across his face.

"What do you think? Last midnight I was awakened by a long distance telephone call. It was from a bunch of alumni at Burns, Ore. 'Keep your chin up, we're with you,' was their message. ## RAIL BRIDGE IS DESTROYED IN FARM WAR

HOLIDAY MEMBERS IN VOTE TO SUPPORT ROOSEVELT

STOUX CITY, Ia., Nov. 9 (AP)—Further destruction of property was reported in the farm strike today.

Another railroad bridge—the third since the "war" for higher prices started—was destroyed by fire early today. The bridge, the property of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific, was situated a mile south of Portsmouth.

Sheriff George E. Jensen of Shelby county said he found evidence of kerosene and other combustible materials on the burning structure, and blamed farm strikers.

The little pigs, as well as the big ones, continued to move to market, however, as farm strike pickets abandoned the highways.

Backers of the anti-selling movement, sponsored by the National Farmers' Holiday association as a means of getting higher prices for farm produce, pushed the organization of civil committees pledged to uphold efforts of peace officers.

"We're going to back the sheriff up 100 per cent," was the sentiment of a meeting at Le Mars yesterday when Plymouth county farmers gathered to organize a law and order league. Many of the groups said they were members of the Farmers' Holiday association but were opposed to forcible blockading of highways.

They voted to give the administration farm relief program a "fair trial" and adopted a motion of confidence in Sheriff Ralph Rippey. Their session was held in the armory in the heart of the area where a district judge was jerked from his bench and mistreated last spring, during a "farm war."

Other sections of the midwest were quiet as the national non-buying, non-selling campaign carried on in its third week. Making public a list of prices at which it said farm products should be sold during the strike, the executive committee of the North Dakota Holiday group issued a second embargo call. The wheat embargo in that state continued in force.

Mrs. Mary Sollock of Canadian was a Pampa shopper yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Julia Kalka of White Deer was given emergency treatment at Pampa hospital yesterday for a hip injury received in a fall.

Proclamation

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come:

As governor of the state of Texas and as an individual interested in the welfare of every community of this commonwealth, I deem it my privilege and duty to focus the public opinion upon the annual roll call of the American Red Cross, to be conducted throughout the nation between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, November 11 to 30.

The Red Cross is no stranger in Texas. In the last year its sympathetic hand has reached into the homes of thousands of our citizens, lessening distress among those in need, assisting service and ex-servicemen and their dependents, reducing accidental deaths, and promoting good citizenship among youths of the world through its Junior Red Cross. These are among the services to which this humanitarian agency has dedicated itself.

Although the first skirmishes against the war on depression already have been won, there can be no truce for the Red Cross. Disasters in this country will continue, and health education tomorrow will be more vitally necessary than ever as a result of reduced family budgets of today. The Red Cross is an indispensable part of our community life.

Following the disastrous hurricane which struck the southern part of our state on last Labor Day, the Red Cross came promptly to the assistance of the stricken citizens, contributing generously and working harmoniously with other authorized agencies in providing relief. During the Roll Call period from November 11 to 30, this organization has its only opportunity to replenish its funds, a large part of which is used in the relief of suffering caused by many disasters each year. In humanity's name I urge the citizenship of Texas to respond wholeheartedly to the approaching membership campaign of the Red Cross.

I, therefore, Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of November 11 to 30 as Red Cross Week.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be impressed hereon at Austin, this the eighteenth day of October, A. D., 1933.

Miriam A. Ferguson,
Governor of Texas

AUSTRALIA IS SUBJECT OF TALK BY TRAVELER AT ROTARY CLUB

A country where low price automobiles cost from $1800 to $2200 and gasoline costs 56 cents per gallon is still a wonderful country in which to live, according to Mrs. A. E. Stewart, of Melbourne, Australia, who talked before the Rotary club, yesterday. She told of the habits and customs of the people of her country and entertained members of the club after the meeting, showing them products made and used in Australia.

Australia is a country where the lowest temperature is one hundred degrees and the highest is one hundred degrees. Fishing and hunting are good and land is highly productive. The country still needs people and the English government yearly sends many emigrants there, selling them land at low prices on long terms and furnishing seed and implements.

J. R. Watson of Lubbock, representative of the Texas Good Roads association, told of the work of that organization and the efforts being made to increase the federal allotment for the improvement of roads in Texas and particularly the Panhandle.

The kid band of Woodrow Wilson school furnished several numbers to open the program. The band appeared for the first time in its new uniforms and is making final preparations to go to Austin next week.

The program was in charge of A. N. Dilley. Visitors yesterday included Mrs. A. N. Dilley, Miss Nell Moore of Union Springs, Ala., Gene Green, John Salwaechter of Lubbock, J. O. Gillham, Mert McGuigan of Wichita Falls, and Rotarian Sol Morgenstern of Borger.

State Baptists May Repeal Rule Made Last Year

By R. W. BARRY Associated Press Staff Writer FORT WORTH, Nov. 9 (AP)—Texas Baptists, in their general convention which opened last night, are prepared to consider an alteration in their constitution which would make it easier for messengers from churches not co-operating with the main body to obtain seats and participate in its deliberations. Dr. William A. Barnes, professor of history in southwestern Baptist theological seminary, gave notice that he would propose to strike from the church's fundamental law a provision that messengers presenting themselves from a church which is not in accord with and does not hold membership in a co-operating association shall not be seated except by a majority vote of the convention after permanent organization.

Overflows Church. Before that section was added to the constitution at the Abilene convention last year, it was possible for the convention to pass on delegates from unaffiliated churches before the assembly had been organized for work.

The convention, attended by hundreds of messengers and Baptist spectators, moved to the coliseum of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show, two and one half miles away, after the Broadway Baptist church could not accommodate the great crowds that sought to participate in and listen to the proceedings.

Dr. J. C. Hardy of Baylor college was re-elected president for his second term. Vice-presidents chosen were Dr. F. S. Groner of Marshall, Dr. Thomas H. Taylor of Brownwood and Rev. Roy S. Holloman of

Confederates Of Texas Hold 49th Reunion

HOUSTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Old blood that was fresh and strong when "Dixie" was sung on the battlefields of the south was brought to life again today by the same strains as the United Confederate veterans of Texas gathered for their forty-ninth and perhaps their last annual reunion.

Meeting with the former soldiers of the south were the sons of confederate veterans, details of the 2-day reunion were arranged by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Tributes to the followers of Lee, Jackson and other confederate generals were paid by representatives of more than a dozen patriotic organizations. Less than fifty veterans, all past 80 years, were able to come to the convention. The total number of former soldiers, widows, and wives present was approximately 125.

Before the morning session began, the old soldiers gathered in the lobby of the hotel which was convention headquarters.

The excitement began when a band started playing "Turkey in the Straw."

Major B. C. Nickelson, 107 years old and one of General Hood's cavalrymen, was on his feet immediately, grabbing the first girl in reach, he began to jig. Other veterans got their partners. In a few moments, five or six couples were dancing.

Two white-haired veterans sat on a bench quietly in the corner of the lobby. Their feet did not tap with the music. They could not hear it.

Then came "Dixie." The rebel yell rang through the lobby. The band held the last high note, then there was a quiet. One by one the old men walked slowly to chairs.

Lon A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, spoke at the morning session.

Chester Lively of Jester, Okla., is spending a few days with friends in the city.

O. D. Perryman of Wheeler spent Tuesday in the city.

Farmer Shepps Pays His Loan And Sings Loud

WELLINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Singing was simply the only way W. D. Shepps could express his feelings! The emotions of Mr. Shepps, who is a Collingsworth county farmer, refused to stay suppressed longer and the strains of "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!" accompanied by shouts rang through the corridors of a local bank.

"For three long years I have been saving, struggling to get along and trying to pay off my note," he exclaimed. "All of the time I have been thinking if I could just pay off that note, I'd break right down and sing."

"Hurray for President Roosevelt; praise the Lord!" Once more the air of the old hymn rang through the building as the farmer lustily intoned his happiness. Smiles crossed the faces of persons who had paused to watch the unusual performance held in the corridor adjoining the office of an amazed bank president.

But Farmer Shepps had paid his loan.

Tech Band to Wear 'Home-Made' Suits

LUBBOCK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The 70 piece Texas Tech band is going to wear uniforms made from cloth woven in the school's own mills. The cloth will be similar to that presented to President Roosevelt which was used in suits recently and Vice-President John N. Garner, but it will be dyed in the school's colors, scarlet and black.

Five hundreds yards of material will be necessary to make the necessary to make the uniforms. Students of textile engineering are weaving the cloth. A local tailor will make the uniforms.

COUNTY AGENTS LEARNING PLANS FOR PROVIDING NEEDY WITH BEEF

County Agent Ralph Thomas, and Miss Ruby Adams, demonstration agent now at College Station, are learning details of a plan for buying, killing and canning six million or more pounds of beef in Texas for relief of the needy in Texas, thru the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and in cooperation with the Texas Relief Commission and the Extension Service of Texas A&M college. Principal features of the plan were agreed upon in a conference of extension officials with C. Z. Crane of the Federal Surplus Relief corporation of Austin.

Texas is the first and only state thus far to try out this plan of supplying its own needy by purchases made wholly within the state, Mr. Crane said. If it succeeds the same plan may be used in the purchase of butter and eggs and possibly other food stuffs, he added.

Federal relief authorities have allocated about $500,000 to Texas for purchases of beef this winter above the regular requisitions, and this money less a relatively small administrative expense will be paid Texas farmers for 20,000 or more catter cows, Mr. Crane explained.

The plan, which is expected to be put in operation very soon, contemplates the assembly of the beefes purchased in 15 to 20 Texas points for slaughter and canning. The location of the processing plants has not been definitely decided, but in general they will be located in the centers of areas where the need for relief is greatest.

Purchases will be allocated to counties, and experienced buyers employed by the relief commission will do the buying. Regular market price will be paid but there will be a saving to farmers in freight and commission due to the fact that the animals will be slaughtered within the area where they are purchased.

All slaughtering is to be done by commercial killers at points where there are slaughtering and refrigeration facilities, and where there are R. F. C. canneries. At some places new canneries will probably be established to save costly transportation.

The unemployed are to be given jobs in these canneries under supervision of persons selected by the Extension Service and directed by home demonstration agents.

The grade of cattle to be bought will be primarily fat cows. Sorry cattle are not wanted in these purchases which are to be as widely distributed over the Texas and between as many farmers as possible.

Join Army And Get Rich, Says Junction Man

JUNCTION, Nov. 9 (AP)—Henry Murr, 89, believed to be the only living soldier to serve in three frontier forts, Mckavett, Coneho, and Davis, laid the basis for his present fortune during his 18 years of service in the army. He was paid off with $10,000 cash in 1882 and bought the ten-section ranch where he still lives twelve miles from Mckavett.

How did a sergeant in the regular army get $10,000 pay days? He saved some of it, but most came from his "banking system."

Today he looks the part of the old-time top sergeant. He is six feet two, weighs 200 pounds and has hands like hams. He delights to tell how he could swing them.

"I never had to hit a man more than once," he said.

There is only one relic of his service days hanging on the wall of his home—a policeman's night stick taken during a fight with an officer in Richmond, Va.

His powerful physique served Mr. Murr well in the early days when he hoofed it all over West Texas chasing Indians. He killed one, he said, at Fort Davis.

"I wish I was just starting over again," he said as he recalled running away from home in Pennsylvania in 1861. He joined the army and served most of the time in Clyde Hodges of Miami spent Tuesday here on business.

T. H. Andrews of McLearn was in the city Wednesday morning.

West Texas. Once he was ordered along with his regiment to meet the Indian chief who later was credited with ambushing and killing Custer and his men. Murr's captain was not eager for the contact and did a lot of camping enroute, saying that he had "lost no Indians."
