Wallace, In 'Sore Spot Of Nation,' Says Success 'Rests With Farmers'

FARM HOLIDAY MOVE IN WEST IS DENOUNCED

CORN-HOG PROGRAM TO BRING BETTER PRICES

DES MOINES, Nov. 11. (AP)—Secretary Wallace, back in his home city and the area of farm unrest, tonight called upon corn belt farmers to cooperate with the administration's farm program and denounced the holiday movement.

He made a vigorous explanation of the administration's farm policies, asserted that "inflation alone" will not solve the farm problem. "There are at least three paths that farmers may take," he said. "There is the path of immediate price-fixing as advocated by the five midwestern governors. There is the trail already blazed by the cotton and tobacco farmers of the south and the wheat farmers of the west; or, finally, there is the opportunity to join the holiday movement and raise hell."

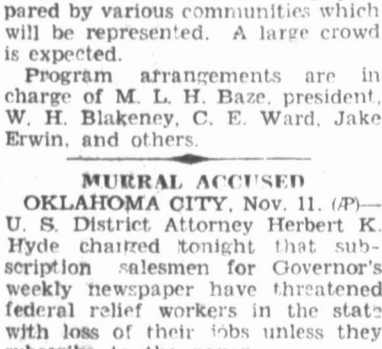

Discussing recent farm disturbances, Wallace said: "I have been neither surprised nor shocked by the revolt of the holiday folks. "It is true that I have never seen eye to eye with the leaders of the movement. But when it has been suggested that the great powers of the federal government might be used in subterranean ways to disrupt the movement, I have insisted that the best way to stop this kind of ruckus is to get more money into the farmers' hands. The holiday movement is like the nerve to an aching tooth. You deaden the nerve only as a last resort. Meanwhile, it tells us just where and how serious the ache is."

Many To Attend Singing Today at Grandview School

Pumpkins who like to sing and to hear singing are invited to attend a sea-son of the Gray County Singing convention today at Grandview. Special numbers are being prepared by various communities which will be represented. A large crowd is expected. Program arrangements are in charge of M. L. H. Baze, president, W. H. Blakeney, C. E. Ward, Jake Erwin, and others.

MURKIN ACCUSED OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 11. (AP)—U. S. District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde charged tonight that subscription salesmen for Governor's weekly newspaper have threatened federal relief workers in the state with loss of their jobs unless they subscribe to the paper.

Woodrow Wilson's Red-white clad kid band singing lustily for the Harvesters in the parade yesterday. The "kids" of Pampa are true fans.

No signs at the park reflecting in any way on Amarillo sportsmanship. A proposed sign, conceived by a Pampa fan in super-enthusiasm, was abandoned. Perhaps this corner should not have noticed it at all, but the reaction of the fans against the proposal was effective in the direction desired.

Ex-Student Association Reality--Judge Duncan Heads Parade to Theatre

PAMPA high school ex-students formed a permanent association at their banquet Friday evening, attended the general pep rally in a body, and then—as of old—went collegiate and stormed the La Nora theater after a serpentine parade down Cuyler street led by Judge Ivy E. Duncan, who was elected president of the exes.

Theater Manager Tom Blair was praised as "a good sport"—he let the exes in free.

Other officers are: Vice-president, Mel B. Davis; secretary, R. C. Wilson; Charlie Duenkel; directors, Mrs. Alex Schneider, Mrs. Mel B. Davis, Weldon Wilson, Alfred Gilliland, Gene Fatheree.

EAST TEXAS FARMER PROTESTS INNOCENCE AFTER 20 HOURS OF QUIZZING IN SLAUGHTER OF FOUR

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (AP)—Protestations of his innocence remained unshaken by 20 hours of continuous quizzing as George Patton, 51, East Texas farmer charged with murder after the disappearance of four members of the J. W. McGehee family, was taken back to Athens, Tex., tonight.

Sheriff Jess Sweeten of Henderson county, who came here to take Patton back to Athens, said an examining trial would be held in Athens Monday. Meanwhile, he said, the accused man will be taken to the farm owned by Patton on which the McGehee family lived. They disappeared the Wednesday night before last Thanksgiving Day.

"I do not know where the family went," Patton insisted today. "I did not kill them. Someone came to the farm that night and they went away in a car. That is all I know." McGehee, 25; his wife, Carrie, 21; a son, 5, and a daughter, 2, disappeared the night before relatives came to the place to invite them to Thanksgiving dinner.

The investigation which had been in progress for a year came to a definite point ten days ago, when Sheriff Sweeten's men digging in loose sand about the farmhouse discovered bits of clothing they believed to be blood-stained and found shingles nailed over a bullet-plattered section of wall in the house.

Patton was arrested and brought to Dallas, officers at Athens fearing mob violence.

Before leaving tonight for Athens, Patton expressed belief the McGehee family had gone to Mexico but said he did not know to what place. "The only motive we have been able to find for the killing is that there was a quarrel between McGehee and whoever killed him. I believe McGehee was shot with a shotgun and the killer then turned the gun on other members of the family to cover up the crime. The bodies could easily have been buried in the loose sand about the house. The section is an isolated one and the family was not well known."

TO HANG NAZIS VIENNA, Nov. 11. (AP)—The thumthump of hammers resounded in the gloomy courtyard of old Vienna's district jail today as carpenters built a gallows for offenders against Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss' new martial law decree.

HINDENBURG APPEALS BERLIN, Nov. 11. (AP)—President Paul von Hindenburg appealed to the German people today "to stand before the world as a united nation, united in the will for peace but also united in the demand for honor, equality and the respect of others."

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair Sunday and Monday, cooler in north portion Monday.

SAYS BATTLE STILL 'HANGS IN BALANCE'

LAVISH PRAISE HEAPED UPON TEXAS FOR COOPERATION

FORT WORTH, Nov. 11. (AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of President's recovery program, told a great audience in the Fort Worth fat stock show coliseum tonight that although this be Armistice day, "the war is not over."

The "dictator" of the U. S. program to put business and industry back on their feet, spent a busy day here. He flew in from Tulsa, Okla., where he appeared last night, to find many groups eager to hear his words.

First, he spoke briefly to the tenth district Federation of Advertising clubs in annual session; then he addressed also several members of the district and county administrative boards who had gathered from all corners of this broad state to hear him. He encouraged each group to stand by the government to the last degree and congratulated Texans generally for their "one hundred per cent cooperation" in the recovery movement.

Amor Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, whose guest General Johnson and his party were, introduced the administrator to the coliseum crowd. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her former governor husband, James E. Ferguson, and other state officials were here to confer with, listen to and see the administrator.

After he traced the history and effect of the world war, he said "last March our defenses were almost destroyed." "We had been pushed back beyond our marble," Johnson said. "The very citadel of our government was flanked. Then like Poch at the first Marne, 'Franklin Roosevelt might have written 'our left is defeated, our right is smashed—we are attacking with our center.' "Since last March the advance of the enemy has been checked. We have thrown them back to the balance and the man who stacks now can be regarded merely as a defeatist or a poor soldier."

Funeral of Texas Guinan Is Quiet—No Noise, Whoopee

NEW YORK, Nov. 11. (AP)—They brought Texas Guinan back to Broadway today—in a silver coffin. There were no bright lights, no bands blaring, no top-hatted men and cravat-wrapped women scurrying home before sunup.

It was the cold gray of the dawn—a dingy dawn. Out of the baggage car at the Pennsylvania station—with a crowd that belongs to Broadway standing around the body of the most famous of all night club queens was placed in a hearse, taken slowly up the "Main Stem" to the funeral home at Sixty-Sixth street where Fatty Arbuckle, Rudolf Valentino and other celebrities have lain in state.

In a plain silver coffin, with a white band of ribbon around it, the crowds during the day had their last view of the girl from Texas who soared brilliantly with prohibition.

Tomorrow afternoon—five days after the land ruled out prohibition the family will hold private services for Texas. Burial probably will be Monday.

Among the first to pass the bier was Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees and the town's largest brewer.

New Chairman WAR DEPLORED IN ARMISTICE CELEBRATIONS

RIOTS AND FEARS OF IMPENDING WAR FEATURE DAY

By The Associated Press. SOLEMN ceremony, riotous disorders, and fears of an impending conflict mingled Saturday as the world remembered those who died in the world war.

At Cambridge university, England, there were demonstrations by a student anti-war group; in Paris warnings of war sounded amid a plea for peace; in a cold grey fog, Londoners paid tribute to the empire's fallen. Americans paid silent tribute at 11 o'clock to the heroes of the conflict that ended 15 years ago.

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt and a distinguished audience stood with bowed heads at the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington to symbolize the respect of the nation for the man who gave his life in France.

Chrysanthemums were placed on the tomb of the president's naval aide by Mrs. Roosevelt, taps was blown, and the brief ceremony was over.

WELLESLEY, Mass.—A group of Wellesley college girls carried anti-war placards at the annual Armistice day services on Wellesley green. American Legion officials expressed indignation.

Commander Frank O'Gilvie of the Wellesley Legion post said that the students violated a town ordinance by parading without a permit and that he and other citizens looked with disapproval upon the appearance of the girls at the ceremony.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass.—Students from Smith and Mount Holyoke girls' colleges, Amherst college and Massachusetts State college, participated in a "peace parade." Police seized and destroyed a placard which bore the inscription, "NRA means nationalism and war."

CAMBRIDGE, England—Police drew their truncheons to deal with a demonstration by the students' "no more war" organization. Men and women carrying banners were pelted with eggs and tomatoes as they paraded.

Colorful Exhibition Witnessed by Congressman Jones and Many Other Notables.

BY OLIN E. HINKLE, Managing Editor, THE NEWS. A colorful gridiron pageant unequaled in Texas high school football was presented in Harvester stadium Saturday for the entertainment of more than 10,000 persons from all parts of the Panhandle and beyond, proving once more that the annual Pampa-Amarillo battles belong not merely to the rival cities but to a fad of astonishing numbers and enthusiasm.

In defeat, suffered again on sudden reversals of the game's trend, the Pampa Harvesters emerged heroic in the eyes of the audience which saw the favorites of doerssters flung back repeatedly and excelled in the latter's specialty—forward passing. In the last four years of Class A competition, Amarillo has made 24 points and Pampa 19. The Sandies won three games and lost only the one played here two years ago.

Colorful Spectacle. Those who like their football well charged with intense rivalry coupled with the pageantry of smartly attired girls' pep squads and uniformed bands, found in this "game of games" all the color and dash which makes the sport the universal favorite that it is. And those who like to expect the unexpected, who prefer to dismiss the dops bucket with an impatient kick, who resist the contagious high spirit of the adults as well as the students, find the traditions of the Pampa-Amarillo exhibition exactly to their liking. Yesterday the weather man added his fullest approval to the event, producing that cool, clear air which adds zest to the sport.

Side Glances AT THE GAME

The first spectator to arrive at Harvester park was Cal Farley, who calls himself the "world's worst announcer," but who, a local woman called up THE NEWS' and said, gave a most dispassionate and impartial account of the game. "It was the best broadcast I ever heard given by a man from 'the other town.' It was fair."

Fans from Vega, Hereford, Plainview, Childress, Lubbock, attended.

A comment Coach Odus Mitchell made to a fan after the battle: "It was just another Amarillo-Pampa football game."

Many people do not know that Captain Corbit of the Sandies is married and has been for two years. He lives with his wife's people, and the footballer and his wife attend Amarillo high school.

Among the visitors who saw the game were members of the Corpus Christi school board, and it was rumored that other coach employers were there to see the Mitchellmen perform.

Pampans were almost unanimous in agreeing that Bufkin is the lad the Harvesters will have to stop next year.

Unlike last year, Harvester fans were satisfied with the work of the officials, and they felt that the Pampa boys got a square deal. Boos issued from the Amarillo stands after one decision.

Supt. R. B. Fisher and other school officials expressed their appreciation of the help of the police, sheriff's department, American Legion, High School P.-T. A., Boy Scouts, Junior chamber of commerce, newspapers of Pampa and Amarillo, and other groups which helped make the occasion a success.

Few arrests were made yesterday. Officers were pleased by the conduct of the crowd as a whole.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK

(By Mrs. James Todd Jr., Librarian)

National Book week this year is to be celebrated from Nov. 12-18th.

The theme this year is, "Growing Up With Books." There is no greater aid to the love of good literature than familiarity with the best that has been written in the course of the world's development.

The situation in which we now find ourselves is quite complicated, everything is rapidly changing. There is one fact we must recognize; that a theory of conduct suited for today may be obsolete tomorrow.

Today, education is no longer looked upon as the summation of course credits, but as a habit of mind which is formed through college years.

One of the chief problems of the twentieth century is the proper utilization of leisure. It is hoped that some part of leisure time in the future will be devoted to educational reading.

Now maybe the time to develop the latent interests that nearly all adults have meant to follow.

It is wonderful what a book can do for you. If it were not for books we would have no way of taking advantage of what the people who have lived before us learned.

Ross Crawford, an advertising man, says, "Books have the power to open the shutters of the mind and set our imagination a winging."

A special table will be set aside in Book week for those wishing to donate books. All types of books are acceptable.

Many new books may be found on the shelves. The public and library patrons are invited to visit the library.

OUR PLANNED ECONOMY

Whatever may be the upshot of Gerard Swope's suggestion for administration of the NRA program by American business men, it at least serves to call attention anew to the fact that being a prophet is a pretty thankless sort of job.

It was several years ago that Mr. Swope first suggested to American business men that they would eventually have to devise some means by which the national economy could be run according to a plan.

At that time Mr. Swope outlined a tentative framework for attaining that end. The leaders of industry read it, remarked that it was very pretty but rather impractical, and went back to their knitting.

And when Mr. Swope remarked that if business men didn't cook up some such plan themselves the government would sooner or later cook up one for them, they looked the other way and began talking about their golf scores, or something.

Now Mr. Swope stands as a prophet whose prediction has been fulfilled; and if he had added an "I told you so" to his most recent proposal, no one could have blamed him.

Our ideas have changed in the last couple of years. When Mr. Swope first suggested his plan, it aroused only a sort of academic interest.

This principle is common to Mr. Swope's plan and to the existing NRA set-up as well. And it is, simply, that some sort of widespread co-operative control has got to be instituted over the nation's business and industrial life, for the sake of the individual business man for the sake of the nation as a whole.

Our present regime vests such control primarily in the federal government; Mr. Swope's plan would vest it primarily in a council of the business men themselves.

But the important thing is that the principle of unified control has been accepted.

MARY ELLEN COOK
NOVEMBER 8, 1933
CROSTOWN, By John Held Jr. Vanguard Press, 1933 $2.

One of the first scenes in Crostown is scanning New York from a roof top, as is one of the last. Maizie was born on the West Side and moves consistently and steadily across town to the East River. Eventually having gained fame and fortune, Maizie encounters all the men through whose arms she has passed. Being human she would like to flaunt her position in their faces, but is unable to partake of this revenge. The story ends neatly if it were not so highly improbable that they all appeared at her party.

Maizie's first sexual experience was that of being raped by her drunken father. She then leaves home, has other disagreeable experiences along with others rather tender, one with a Chinaman. After having drifted into the chorus, she becomes a success as an actress. While living with a press agent, who becomes in the meanwhile a great novelist, he loses his money and she leaves him. Later she meets a young man of good family who really loves her. CROSTOWN would make a good talkie.

MARLBOROUGH, 1650-1700. A Prelude to Destiny. By Winston S. Churchill. Charles Scribner's Sons, $4.

Winston Churchill, direct descendant of John Churchill, first Duke of Marlborough, here writes a story of this famous Marlborough, but this is the first attempt to make "John Churchill intelligible to the present generation." This volume of some two hundred thousand words describes "handsome Jack Churchill's" boyhood, youth and early manhood. It describes the early campaigns in France in which he won his spurs and his part in the exciting court intrigues in the days of Charles II and James II. The second and final volume will follow soon. The book is based on a long and exhaustive study of documents, state and personal, referring to the first Duke. Mr. Churchill's public has long been awaiting this book. No living writer could be better fitted for the task. The first volume is as lively and exciting as a novel by Dumas—after all, it is laid in the same time and almost the same setting as the D'Artagnan romances. It is both authentic biography and history and should appeal to all readers of these two classifications.

The author is a famous English Statesman, soldier and historian. His previous works include: "The World Crisis, The Aftermath, A History Commission, Amid These Storms, The Unknown War and The River War. He is frequently called "the greatest living writer of English narrative prose."

ALL MEN ARE BROTHERS, Translated by Pearl Buck $6.50. Of this Mrs. Buck's latest achievement, she says: "ALL MEN ARE BROTHERS is a great pageant of China. I think it is one of the most magnificent pageants made of any people. Before your eyes, upon the pages of this book march the people of China—all the people; men, women and children; priests, scholars, robbers, courtesans, soldiers, emperors, captains, kings, princes, governors, gaole, venders. They are a host living and vivid beyond belief. Some of them will pass you but once. But others will pass you again and again until you know them and know their names. . . . when you have finished the book to its triumphant end, you will find that, without your knowing it, there will remain in your mind out of the hundreds of people who have passed before your eyes, certain unforgettable men and women, whose lives you have lived with them across the seas and centuries."

BOOK NEWS: Leonard, Nelson has recently left his home in Boston for a winter in New York where he is writing a new novel, a series of short stories, and adapting CHEVRONS and AMONG THE TRUMPETS for radio broadcasting. As if this were not enough, a motion picture of his, RODNEY, is being filmed by RKO at Fort Myer.

Gray County To Receive 4,040 Pounds of Pork

The Gray county board of relief and employment was notified yesterday morning that Gray county would receive 4,040 pounds more pork. Date of arrival is not known, but it is believed it will be soon. The meat will be placed in storage and then given out to needy families in the board list. The board received 3,505 pounds of pork last month but it has all been distributed in Pampa, McLean, and Alanred. The meat will come from the Federal Supply Relief corporation.

DUQUESNE ERASED PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11 (AP)—Split and fight bowed today to experience and power before 58,000 witnesses in the Pitt stadium as the Golden Panthers of Pitt, robed in blue, erased ambitious Duquesne from the ranks of the nation's unbeaten in football. The score was 7 to 0. The Duquesne players' hearts out against the hard-hitting and experienced Panthers, but they failed to stop Izey Weinstein, Pitt's 190-pound fullback.

WORK ANNOUNCED AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—Approximately 100,000 men will be placed at work next Thursday on Texas civil works projects, Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas relief commission announced today.

COYOTES ROUT PLOWBOYS STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Weatherford College Coyotes put the John Tarkenton Plowboys out of the running for the Central Texas Junior college conference title by whipping them 19 to 0 before an Armistice Day crowd of 2,000.

Few can tell Babe Ruth how to wield a bruising bludgeon, but when it comes to swinging an outrigger canoe paddle, the Babe is not so hot. Above you see him, right, with Duke Kahanamoku, center, great Hawaiian swimmer, as he took a lesson in paddling at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu.

Caroline caught him by the arm with both hands.
"Yes—yes! You must remember! Nanna used to call her a tallow-candle piece and a prying good-for-nothing. She didn't like her—none of us did. And oh, Jim, one day when I'd been playing in the Blue Room I wanted something for a game I was playing and I opened the door quickly and there was Emily in the passage, and the door was not quite shut either."

"Nanna always said she pried and listened at doors, so she might have found out about the hitting place and told her brother. She did have a brother, because I remember Nanna saying he was a bad lot." They were intent upon one another.

Then Major Anderson coughed. Caroline's hands dropped from Jim's sleeves.
"That's how he knew!" she said triumphantly. "Emily must have told him."

She looked at Major Anderson, but he avoided her eyes. She turned back to the inspector, and met a chilly stare. During a cold, dragging pause it came home to her that they didn't believe her.
During that dragging pause the impossible became possible. Major Anderson broke the silence.

"Well, Inspector?"
The inspector laid down his pen. "I shall have to ask you to accompany me to the station, Mr. Randall."

Caroline's breath stopped for a moment. All her color died. Her eyes were very wide open. She turned to Jim and slipped her arms through his.

The inspector stood up, and just as he did that the telephone bell began to ring. Major Anderson came to the table and took up the line, Will Benton.
"That's how he knew!" she said triumphantly. "Emily must have told him."

say's he's Jimmy the Bel." Jim took a step forward.
"You didn't believe just now, but that part of my story is corroborated—you'll admit that. And for the rest, I would like the inspector to make a note of the fact that I made a statement of what took place between myself and Elmer Van Berg, after being warned by Major Anderson that he was likely to recover consciousness at any moment!"
The telephone bell rang again. Caroline had the strangest feeling that it was ringing in her head. She closed her eyes and heard Major Anderson say:
"Hullo!"
There was a pause. She knew that the bell had stopped, but for all that, she could hear it still. Major Anderson's voice became a little far away sound—little and far away, but quite distinct. He said, "Yes?" and "you have?" and then, he's doing well?" "Good—good! I'm very glad to hear it."

Jack Foster Gets Honor at College

Bride Formerly Of Panhandle Is Honored There

In a letter from Dean Adams of the University of Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster were informed that their son, Jack, has been voted a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, national honor society for students of business administration, to represent the class of 1934.

Only students of the highest scholastic rank are eligible to this society, and Foster won in competition with several hundred other students who comprise the department of business administration.

He was graduated from Amarillo high school with the highest average of any boy in the school for three consecutive years, and was presented with scholarships from outstanding Texas colleges.

His honor record in high school started in his freshman year, when he was presented with a watch for making the highest average of any high school student. He was a charter member of the Amarillo high school honor society.

After the family moved to Pampa, Foster entered Oklahoma University, where he is to be graduated this year at the age of 19.

Guests included Meses. Mark Williams, John Stone, J. D. Bender, L. W. Bussey, S. G. Bobbitt, W. P. Stepler, George Taylor.

man—Randal isn't going to run away."

The words came to Caroline's ears as small and sharp as pin pricks. And then Jim's arms round her, and he was kissing her blind eyes, and her wet cheeks, and her soft trembling mouth. A warm, golden happiness flowed over her. The tears ran down her cheeks. It didn't make you unhappy to cry when there was someone to kiss the tears away.

"Caroline—my darling! don't cry! It's all right—it's all over—there's nothing to cry for."

"I thought he was going to take you away to prison."

"So did I. But he won't now, so there isn't anything to cry about."

"That's just why I am crying."

"Because you've got nothing to cry about?"

She nodded vehemently against his shoulder.

"If you'd gone to prison, I would not have cried. I'd have told everyone we were engaged, and I would not have cried a single tear. Oh, Jim!"

"Oh, Caroline!"

"You're sure it's all right?"

"Yes, if Elmer's recovered consciousness. It's clear. If he'd died—well, we don't need to think of that, darling."

Major Anderson rattled the handle before he came back into the room. Having opened the door he allowed Dr. Lefroy to precede him.

The inspector followed.

Major Anderson went up to Jim with his hand out.

"My dear Randal, I can't say how pleased I am!" He shook hands with him heartily. "Van Berg's statement corroborates yours in every detail. Now what we want is your statement in writing."

Dr. Lefroy was shaking hands with him.

"Does Van Berg say what happened after I went out?" said Jim.

Kitty Lefroy's father was a big heavy man with a well-preserved brogue.

"Say? He says everything. And you may be thankful he does, my boy, by all accounts. He says you let yourself out, and all of a sudden he heard the window creak and he thought you'd come back. And it's lucky for you he turned round and saw that it wasn't you at all."

"He saw a man with a cap pulled down over his eyes and a revolver in his hand. The man said 'put 'em up!' And Van Berg says he was hanged if he was going to let the emeralds go like that, so he charged him. That's all he knows. The fellow must have shot him down as he came on. Fortunately, he can describe him."

"The description tallies with that of yours," said the inspector. "Now if you'll kindly let us have that statement—"

Half an hour later they drove back to Hazelbury West in Jock Anderson's car. Jim drove. It is to be feared that he had one arm round Caroline. The roads were dark and empty. It would be midnight before they reached the cottage.

"And I expect Patsy Ann will have been ringing up the police," said Caroline.

"Let her!" said Jim. "They're our bosom friends—we love them, and they love us, and only a few hours ago we skulked in lanes and hid behind hedges! I somehow don't think I'll go in for being a crook. It's a dog's life. Besides, you would not marry me if I was a crook."

"M—" said Caroline.

"Does that mean yes or no?" Caroline laughed.

"It doesn't mean either."

"What does it mean?"

"She smuggled up to him."

"If you were a crook, it wouldn't be you—but I'd marry you whatever you were."

They drove into the little garage, locked in the borrowed car, and passed through the dark garden, where the bushes looked like black hammocks.

"Patsy Ann will be wild," said Caroline.

She slipped in her key and opened the door.

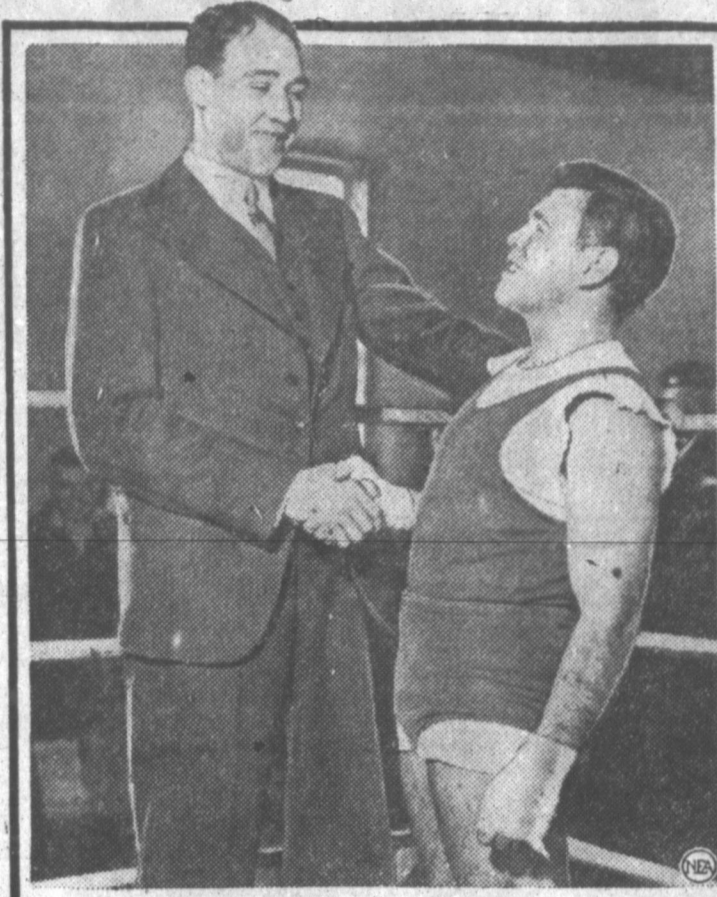

Patsy Arbuthnot was sitting at the table, which was littered with sheets of stiff blue writing paper. They were all covered with Robert's upright, formal writing. As the door opened, Patsy picked up the first sheet again. It began: "My dearest Patsy," it was wonderful to be Robert's dearest. She gazed absently over the top of the sheet at Caroline.

"It's frightfully late," said Caroline, "but—"

"Is it late?" said Patsy Ann.

Scoutmaster Ernest Cabe called the meeting to order with all the Scouts of the troop giving the Scout oath. The roll was called and the business for the evening was discussed.

A meeting was called for the members of the Lone Wolf patrol. The patrol will meet next Wednesday night in the home of the Scoutmaster at 7 p. m.

The troop is working slow on first aid. Scoutmaster Cabe outlined for us the first course that we shall study at the next meeting. As many of the Scouts were in the pep rally, we extended our work in first aid until the next meeting.

A new record in fire building was set by Bear patrol. The former record was 20 seconds with the flint and steel. John King set the new record at 19 seconds. The meeting adjourned, and the Scouts reported on the out side of the church to practice drilling for 30 minutes. There were 20 Scouts and the leaders present.

DIES IN BLAST

STRAWN, Tex., Nov. 11. (AP)—An explosion in the Gorden gasoline plant of the Lone Star Gas company today cost the life of J. F. Mayo, plant superintendent. The plant was ruined by fire which broke out immediately after the blast. It was the third time the plant had been destroyed within the past three years.

be you—but I'd marry you whatever you were."

They drove into the little garage, locked in the borrowed car, and passed through the dark garden, where the bushes looked like black hammocks.

"Patsy Ann will be wild," said Caroline.

She slipped in her key and opened the door.

Patsy Arbuthnot was sitting at the table, which was littered with sheets of stiff blue writing paper. They were all covered with Robert's upright, formal writing. As the door opened, Patsy picked up the first sheet again. It began: "My dearest Patsy," it was wonderful to be Robert's dearest. She gazed absently over the top of the sheet at Caroline.

"It's frightfully late," said Caroline, "but—"

"Is it late?" said Patsy Ann.

Girls—Wear a High Collar and Epaulets

Fashions are following the stream-line this year, which means that interest is centered up at the top of your figure. And it's a very flattering idea, for collars that frame your face and trimming that gives you straight broad shoulders do wonders toward making you look tall and graceful.

You've never made a coat before? Then start right in on this one. The front is in two pieces and the back is all one—and there's no mystery at all to those simple sleeves. Choose a soft hairy or flannel wool, and finish it off with thin carriage-shaped buttons. Brown is a good color, or a dull rust. Bright blue is becoming, and Oxford gray is especially smart this year.

HOUSTON BOYS ARE FOOTBALL CHAMPS AGAIN

FINAL GAME LOST BY BAKER YOUNGSTERS 21 TO 6

Sam Houston school for the second consecutive year won the football championship in the elementary school class.

Slightly overshadowed by the approaching Harvester-Sandies classic, but none the less important in their own young lives, an improved Sam Houston eleven took a classy football game from the hard fighting Baker team Friday afternoon on the playing field at Sam Houston school.

Coming into the championship series, Sam Houston invaded Baker territory for a 12 to 6 win.

Friday afternoon Sam Houston entertained Baker for the second game of the series. The future Har-

Capitol Opened to Farm Strike

IN AN UNUSUAL SETTING—the assembly room of Wisconsin's capitol—farm leaders met and voted continuation of their strike, gaining impetus in the Badger State, defying the order of Gov. Alfred Schmedeman to keep highways open. The picture above shows the meeting, attended by 500, in progress. No peace until cost of crop production is assured was their rallying cry.

Lubbock Will Play in Amarillo On Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving Day football game between the Amarillo Sandies and the Lubbock Westerners will be played on Butler field, Amarillo, instead of at Lubbock as scheduled. Texas Tech will be playing at home on Thanksgiving day.

Pampa and Berger will clash at Harvester park the same afternoon. The Lubbock slogan this year has been "win one", and Bergerites think it might as well be Pampa, unless they can down the Amarillo Sandies next Saturday night in Berger. The Harvester are to meet the Westerns in Lubbock next Saturday afternoon.

The real strength of the Lubbock team was not known until Friday afternoon against Pampa, and the outcome made Pampa and Amarillo do some thinking.

Wildcats Crush Miami 18 to 7 For First Time

CANADIAN, Nov. 11.—Canadian Wildcats brushed aside the Miami Jinx and won their first conference championship when they turned back the Miami Warriors 18 to 7 in a game packed with thrills.

Canadian's first score came in the first quarter when a Miami fumble rolled to their 11 yard line and Canadian recovered. Capt. Hines went over on the fourth down. Their second score came in the third quarter when Miami's safety fumbled a Canadian punt on their own three yard line and Hines recovered for Canadian. Lopez went over on the fourth down on a quarter back sneak. The third touchdown came in the last quarter when Hines got loose on the Miami 40 yard line and cut back to out sprint the Miami safety and cross the last stripe unopposed.

Miami scored in the third quarter when they marched for 70 yards on straight football and passed for the extra point. All of Canadian's kicks for extra point went wild.

Brother Ends

Tech Matadors Beat Simmons By Touchdown

LUBBOCK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Emphasizing traditional rivalry and temporary hatred in every punt, pass, plunge, push, Texas Tech and Simmons, university football teams clashed for the eighth straight season here today, the Matadors scoring in the first quarter to win a 7 to 0 victory.

All the pent-up fury and football each team has cultivated against each other during those eight years, and particularly during the last two weeks of concentrated practice, was unleashed before 6,500 holiday and homesick fans. Doped to win by a couple of touchdowns at least, the Matadors found a stubborn Cowboy line and an alert secondary poised for almost every offensive they could launch.

Gwynn Dowell intercepted Carl Pee's forward pass late in the opening chapter and ran it to Tech's 32-yard line. Here a drive originated that resulted in a Matador touchdown after the Cowboys had held steadfastly against three powerful plays from the 1-yard line. A long pass, Dowell, to Butts, and lateral to Butts, brought the ball down on the 1-yard line. On the fourth down, Dowell cut through tackle on a deceptive spin play to go over standing up. Gaines Davis, former Abilene high star, kicked goal.

For the remainder of the game, it was a terrific struggle in mid-field and in Simmons' territory. With Huestis, Spraberry, J. B. Neely, and McLeod piling up plays at the line and Pee and McCollum waiting for sweeping plays, the Tech ground attack was almost null and void. Big Dowell and Butts were the only consistent gainers for Tech. It was via the air that Tech had to go for first downs.

METHODISTS ADOPT EDUCATIONAL REPORT AT CLARENDON MEETING

CLARENDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The educational report of the Texas Methodist educational commission was adopted at today's session of the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, south, after a few amendments had been tacked on.

Four presiding elders and the pastors under their rendered their reports to the conference. At 11 o'clock the conference stood for a minute in silent prayer in commemoration of the signing of the armistice.

Receipts of the conference on benevolences indicated that approximately one-half of the apportionment had been raised. The Vernon district led with 61 per cent, followed by the Lubbock district with 59 per cent and the Stamford district with 47 per cent. The total raised was $58,000.

Gains in membership throughout the conference were reported in the five districts which reported today. The Plainview district reported 700 additions, 275 on professions of faith, with a net gain of 255.

The Sweetwater district reported 1,046 additions and 48 1-4 per cent of benevolences raised. The Lubbock district reported 1,548 received, with 629 on profession of faith, and 90 per cent of salaries paid and 58 per cent of benevolences. Clarendon reported 970 additions, 530 on profession of faith. Eighty five per cent of the salaries and 64 per cent of the benevolences were reported paid in Clarendon.

For variety add a few hickory nuts, pecans or filberts to the pumpkin pie filling before it is baked.

New Rebellion Is Reported On Coast of Cuba

HAVANA, Nov. 11 (AP)—Despite official assurances that the interior of Cuba was becoming quiet after rebellious movements, reports from Santiago tonight said the entire district around Puerto Padre on the north coast was in a state of rebellion.

Armed bands roamed the area around Fomas Tunas and Mayard. Rebels were reported in the field at Sagua, Tanamo, Chiaparra and Delicias near Puerto Padre. The garrison at Holguin, under the command of a sergeant, reportedly joined rebel bands yesterday and troops were sent from Santiago to Holguin.

FUMBLE

Many Subs Used. A fourth quarter march by the Sandies stopped on the locals' 31-yard line as Bufkin struck in vain at the Pampa forward wall. The ball went over, punts were exchanged, and in a series of smashing, versatile plays the Harvester ploughed and passed to Amarillo's 22-yard line, where the Sandies took the ball on downs. Exchanges were even until the closing minutes of the game, when freshly Sandie substitutes pushed the locals back to their 21-yard line as the game ended.

GAY NINETIES ARE SHOWN IN BOWERY MOVIE

WALLACE BEERY AND JACKIE COOPER IN LEAD ROLES

The Gay Nineties are coming back in "The Bowery."

Hilarious fun, robust romance and naughty nights AR AR OD ARODD naughty nights of Frankie and Johnny times are promised with the arrival of Wallace Beery, George Raft, Jackie Cooper, Fay Wray, Pert Kelton and a host of other celebrities in "The Bowery" at the La Nora theater now through Tuesday.

Of all the decades in American history that from 1890 to 1900 seems to be the most popular in these times with photoplay audiences, it is in tune with the expressed preference, "The Bowery" brings back the music and dances of the '90's burlesque chorus girls bustled young ladies, Mamie O'Grady's with puffed sleeves, Bowery boys with puffed eyes, prize fights that were on the square, beer with a punch and love's young dream along "the liveliest mile on the face of the globe"—New York's world-famous Bowery.

"The Bowery" brings back to life, re-created from faded tintypes and photographs yellowed with age, such famous characters as Church Connors, "Mayor" of Chinatown; Ebenezer Brodie, who did the famous brodie from Brooklyn Bridge and lived to tell about it; John L. Sullivan smacking 'em down for a $25 purse; Carrie Nation with her hatchet battling the beer bottles on the Bowery; as well as many other celebrities of the times.

"The Bowery" reunites the two stars of "Champ"—Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper, who were loaned to 20th Century Pictures by MGM. George Raft was loaned by Paramount, while Fox contributed an ace director, Raoul Walsh.

Feminine interest in "The Bowery" will be intense because of the emphasis placed on the part of the Bowery girls played in the life of the romantic old thoroughfare, Fay Wray and Pert Kelton head the large feminine cast.

Panhandle and arrived 1,000 strong on a 14-coach special train, were met at the station by a huge crowd and the Pampa high school band and pep squad. Transportation arranged by the Junior chamber of commerce quickly transferred the visitors to their east side of the field.

Breeze From North. A roar of applause rose from the Amarillo side as the Sandies, helmeted in gold-colored capes, took the field first. Then the Pampa side burst into vocal approval as the Harvesters, dressed for action, rushed out and began passing and punting to warm up. A slight north wind, which made streamers stand out straight from the goal posts, was blowing exactly parallel to the sides of the field. The green and gold Harvesters presented a much brighter appearance than the black and gold Sandies, whose nearly uniform size was striking.

Two-Ringed Show. By 2:15 p. m., there were few available seats anywhere, fans were lining up behind the fences along the field, and scores were still streaming in from both gates from the acres south of the park covered with automobiles. Pep squads, the rectangle of gold on the southeast side of the field competing with the rectangle of green on the southwest side, shared the honor with the bands seated in front of them inside the field. A cotton-tail rabbit dashed up the field, amusing the crowd and puzzling the superstitious.

The gridiron was a two-ringed circus between halves as Harry Kelley's tumbler performed while the Amarillo pep squad appeared. The Amarillo girls carried cards which formed a big flag on the ground. The visiting girls also carried umbrellas. The Pampa girls marched out in "H" formation and held up letters which said "Harvest the Sandies."

Crill S'oss has returned from Mineral Wells, Texas, where he underwent treatment.

'GOLD DIGGERS' BACK HERE IN REX THEATER

LAVISH PRODUCTION TO BE SEEN THREE DAYS

"Gold Diggers of 1933," Warner Bros. dramatic musical screen special and the most lavishly produced motion picture of the decade, returns today at the Rex Theater for three days.

Hailed as a fitting climax to a season of exceptional entertainment values started by the presentation of the enormously popular "42nd Street," a few months ago, "Gold Diggers of 1933" has been acclaimed by critics and by first audiences as the most spectacular and vital entertainment ever originated in Hollywood.

Eight groups of stellar rank, headed by Warren William, Joan Blondell and Rully Keeler, take important parts in this production. Others include Dick Powell, Aline MacMahon, Guy Kibbe, Ginger Rogers and Ned Sparks. A new Busby Berkeley chorus of 200 beautiful girls, achieves startling importance in the present picture in the most gorgeously staged ensembles ever conceived for stage or screen entertainment.

A vital and dramatic story of the people behind the production of a great Broadway show, "Gold Diggers of 1933" would be a great picture even without the enhancement of the spectacular musical show settings. Combined with these it is said to present the greatest amusement value of this or any other year's productions. Song numbers from the talented team of Harry Warren and Al Dubin, who were responsible for the hits in its predecessor, "42nd Street," will soon be heard and sung the world over.

"Gold Diggers of 1933" was given by Mervyn LeRoy who has directed the entertainment world pictures like "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang" and "Elmer the Great."

Michigan Noses Out Iowa 10-6

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 11 (AP)—Herman Evershardts, the flying Dutchman from Kalamazoo, unlearned a toe as true as a navy sledge gun and Bill Renner displayed uncanny passing aim today as Michigan's powerful football team, playing in snow and ice, swept toward a fourth consecutive Big Ten championship with a hard-earned 10-6 victory over Iowa.

The fighting team from the tall corn state's harvests da well-deserved touchdown early in the third period on a pass from George Teyro, sub I-wa back, that Bernard Page, shifty end, took on Michigan's 13-yard line. Captain Stan Fay of Michigan tackled Page as the pass dropped in his arms, but the elusive Hawkeye slipped from Fay's grasp and raced across the goal line. Ted Peckey smashed through to block Russ Fisher's try for extra point.

Michigan had scored its 10 points when the Hawkeye counter came.

AUSTIN, Minn., Nov. 11 (AP)—Sheriff Ira Syek tonight appealed to Gov. Floyd B. Olson for national guardsmen as striking employees held possession of the George A. Hornel & company packing plant after disorder in which three persons were slightly hurt.

The three suffered bruises and lacerations as officers and strikers clashed during the assault on the plant. THEATER WILL HOLD MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

REHEARSAL UNDERWAY FOR 'HE WHO GETS SLAPPED'

A regular meeting of the Little Theater will be held Monday evening at the city hall club rooms at 8 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present as an interesting meeting has been planned to include a short one act play.

Rehearsals are progressing nicely for the next major production to be presented by the Little Theater, "He Who Gets Slapped" is very different from any play produced by the local Little Theater. The play is not only a tragedy but one that has all characteristics of the Russian dramatist, Leonid Andreyev.

The character, "He" was portrayed by that remarkable and talented actor Lon Chaney in the cinema production "Laugh Clown Laugh." Clyde Riley, director of the play, promises all the tragic elements and atmosphere of the author as far as is possible in an amateur production.

Reginald Farliss is working hard and steadily on the portrayal of He Who Gets Slapped, Clem Followell takes the role of Mancelini, and especially well suited for the part, Mrs. Green as Zanita a lion tamer is putting every effort forth to show the wiles and cunning of a woman of the world who knows what she wants and goes after it.

Carl Goebel, as Jackson the chief of clowns is working hard to portray the role in a realistic manner. Lucella Wade is especially adapted to the part of Consuelo, queen of the circus equestrians. She is acclaimed by local Little Theater members as a "real find."

Everything points to a dramatic production that will be extraordinary both to the nature of the drama and the portrayal of roles. The production is to be staged December 4 and 5.

Johnson Doubts Ruling—He Faces Many Problems

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Although the comptroller general of the United States today held Henry Ford eligible for government contracts, all indications were that he would get none until the question is talked over next week at President Roosevelt's council table.

The ruling was that the automobile code is law; that Ford therefore must comply with it; that no evidence shows he is not complying; and in the absence of such evidence it must be assumed that he is.

Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA executive, from Fort Worth, Texas, expressed disagreement with the comptroller's ruling, voicing a belief that this official, J. R. McCarl, had misinterpreted the president's orders on the subject of giving government contracts only to NRA cooperators, other officials here kept silence.

Johnson will be back Tuesday, and the president's executive council will meet the same day. Directors of the emergency units of the government join cabinet members in the council.

Other troubles will meet Johnson on his return. A virtual tug of war between labor and industry over the construction code must be settled and such is the importance of the business involved and the strength of the contending parties that the problem looms as a critical issue.

Clues Conflict In California Kidnaping Case

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 11 (AP)—Varying theories today complicated the hunt for the supposedly kidnaped Brooke Hart, 22, son of a wealthy San Jose merchant.

A search of the liner Lurline by San Francisco and Los Angeles police failed to develop the clue that turned up in the bay city last night with the finding of young Hart's wallet on the guard rail of an oil tanker that had been alongside the passenger ship a few hours before it sailed for the southern metropolis.

Chief of Police J. N. Black of San Jose, was checking a report that young Hart had incurred debts of which other members of his family did not know. Officers said there was no verification of the report but that it would be run down.

John Sepulveda, rancher, told police he saw young Hart's automobile with a man answering the general description of the missing youth, standing beside it alone and apparently tinkering with a headlight, at the exact spot where the car was found several hours after the disappearance. This, Sepulveda said, was between 7:05 p. m. and 7:20 p. m. Thursdays, ten miles north of here.

RETAILERS INCLINED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Secretary Ickes today announced an order which definitely placed all employers in the oil industry under the minimum wage and maximum hour provisions of the oil code despite the president's executive order exempting retailers who employed fewer than five persons in towns of less than 2,500 population.
