BITTER FIGHT FOR LEAD WAGED IN BIG AUTOMOBILE RACE

BILL CUMMINGS AND ROSE ARE STRONG RIVALS

"WILD BILL" SETS UP NEW RECORD IN VICTORY

SPEEDWAY, INDIANAPOLIS, May 30. (P)—Wild Bill Cummings, Indianapolis, won the 500-mile automobile race today before 135,000 spectators in record breaking time. Mauri Rose, Dayton, O., finished second. Cummings' time was 4:46:05.21.

SPEEDWAY, INDIANAPOLIS, May 30. (P)—Mauri Rose, Dayton, O., had a lead of 27 seconds over Wild Bill Cummings, Indianapolis, as they started the last hundred miles of the 500-mile automobile race today.

Less than half a lap separated them, with Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles, third, two and a half miles behind. The time was 3:39:45.18, an average of 104.460 miles an hour. With nineteen cars out of the race, because of accidents and engine trouble, 14 out of the 33 original starters remained to battle it out to the finish. The latest driver to surrender was Dusty Fahrnow, of Indianapolis, whose motor quit under the strain of the terrific grin.

Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles, after making a desperate challenge from third place, was forced out of the race at 410 miles due to a broken connecting rod. There was only one former champion in the line-up when the tiny racing cars, in rows of three, got under way and he is a double champion, Louis Meyer of South Gate, California, winner of the race in 1928 and 1933. Meyer, because of his experience, was a favorite to triumph again. He was driving a brand new four-cylinder car, which had never before been raced.

Each car was limited to 45 gallons of gasoline to complete the 800 miles. They started with 15 gallons. At least half of the great throng claimed to know all about the new rules about gas supply, while the other half was a self-proclaimed expert in every third seat. All were speculating on how many cars would finish the race on the meager gas supply and how many times they would be forced to stop.

The low fuel supply was enforced as a safety measure, to keep the drivers from setting such a terrific pace and also as an automotive test for future passenger cars to attain mileage.

Steering Gear Breaks Al Gordon, Riverside, Calif., Pacific Coast racing champion, narrowly missed.

Twinkles

Carlsbad caverns will be placed on a map drawn by Uncle Sam if the Carlsbad chamber has its way. That's o. k. But we'll wish one on the Centennial and another on Palo Duro canyons before long.

Victim of a summer cold at this moment, we're about convinced that the best springs we have in this climate arrive in January.

Clyde Barrow wasn't killed too soon—a number of ambitious young thugs had dreamed dreams of improving on Barrow's record.

Newsreels from the east show that a mustache fad is taking hold. So the shaving next Saturday may not be as extensive as many imagine.

This Pampan has been told that his sideburns are about the neatest in town. And we add that if our razor slips another time there won't be any left at all.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: Some of the youngest—in spirit—people who will attend the Pre-Centennial Celebration and Pioneers Roundup this week will be the oldtimers. They will come with as much eagerness and anticipation as the youngest visitors. It requires enthusiasm and attendance to stage any big celebration. If everyone had the spirit of the oldtimers, the success of the event would be phenomenal.

It is indeed gratifying to learn that there are many rose bushes in bloom in Amarillo this year. When Amarillo took the title of "City of Roses," it must have been more of an intention than a reality. At any rate, the "Hellum City" soon came to give much attention to hellum and to drop emphasis upon roses. The whole Panhandle, rightly or wrongly, blushed for the rose-less city.

Now, according to Weatherman Tack, the roses have decided to bloom and Amarilloans are no longer loathe to use their secondary appellation. Which calls for congratulations, of course. Now all that Amarillo craves is a football victory on Butler field, where the Sandie pep squad can decorate the Harvesters with roses when we win that battle of the decade next fall. Mintime, congratulations Tack, on the rosette.

More English To Be Required In High School

Beginning next year all Pampa high school students will be required to pass four years of English to the eligible for graduation, as recommended by the state department of education. It was announced yesterday following a conference yesterday of Supt. R. B. Fisher, Principal L. L. Sone and Miss Fannie May, head of the English department. Heretofore the requirement has been 3 1-2 years of English.

There may be a few exceptions to this rule next year in the cases of seniors who could not otherwise graduate, but after next year the rule will be rigidly enforced. R. A. Selby, member of the summer school faculty, suggests that students whom this rule might keep from graduating on schedule could clear up their difficulties through summer school work.

Summer school will be closed tomorrow because some of the teachers will be absent and because of the opening of Pampa's Pre-Centennial, but this time will be made up later, according to Selby.

Several parents have called Selby for their children, and beginning Monday strengthening work will be offered in fourth and fifth grade arithmetic and English, providing enough parents call about this work by Saturday.

DORENFELD IS LOSER IN SUIT TO RETAIN JOB

SUPREME COURT SAYS HOLLIDAY OUSTER INVALID

AUSTIN, May 30. (P)—The Texas supreme court held today that Coke Stevenson of Junction, speaker of the house of representatives, did not have the legal right to remove E. L. Holliday of El Paso from membership on the state unemployment relief commission.

Stevenson had removed Holliday for cause and appointed Julius Dorenfeld Jr. of Amarillo to succeed him. The law creating the relief commission, empowered to administer unemployment funds, authorized the speaker to appoint three of the nine members. Stevenson originally named Holliday. He filed a document with the secretary of state in an attempt to remove him after Holliday had been engaged in a controversy with certain labor leaders in El Paso county over the proper method of administering relief there.

Soon after Dorenfeld took his place as a member of the commission it voted to replace Adam R. Johnson of Austin as director with Miss Marie Dresden, formerly a welfare worker with the agency. Miss Dresden had been sent into Texas by the national government at the outset of relief administration here.

Membership of the commission had been divided over a director for a number of weeks. After Lawrence Westover resigned to accept an appointment in Washington in connection with relief work, the commission elected by a one vote margin, Johnson over Jack Reed, acting director. After Holliday was removed voted to oust Johnson, the Dorenfeld vote deciding that proposition.

Holliday had challenged Dorenfeld's votes on the commission. The attorney general attacked Stevenson's right to remove Holliday and Travis county district court upheld him. Dorenfeld appealed to the third court of civil appeals and that tribunal certified the questions at issue to the supreme court.

Fire Insurance Official Coming

J. W. Schwab of Austin, a member of the engineering department of the Texas Fire Insurance department, will be in Pampa Friday to make a thorough inspection of the city in a key rate check-up. Chief Clyde Gold will accompany Mr. Schwab on the inspection trip. The state representative will make a thorough inspection of all fire equipment, water conditions, fire plugs, electric and gas conditions, amount of paving, etc. A member of that department visits every town and city once each year.

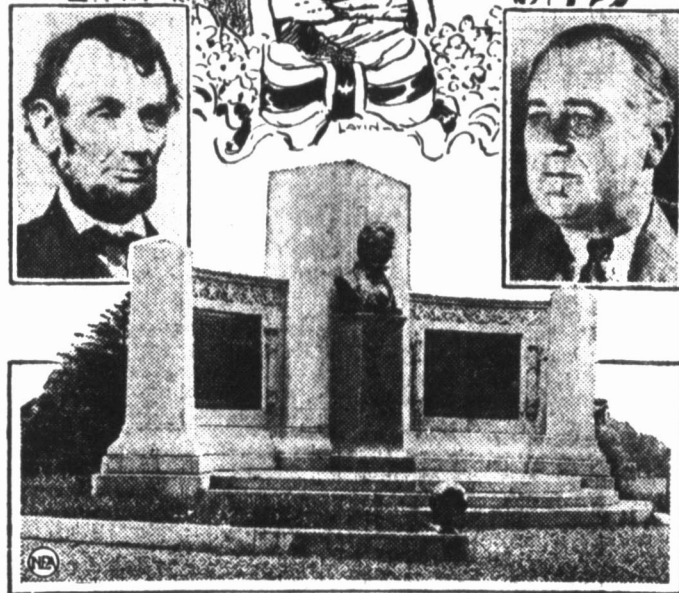

Non-Jury Cases Are Being Heard

Judge W. R. Ewing plans to prevent lawyers having county record books taken to the district courtroom and left there to be lost. The judge informed attorneys this morning that the books must be returned daily to the county clerk or he would make it necessary for them to get an order from the court.

"Gentlemen, please refrain from that practice or it will be necessary for you to get a subpoena duces tecum" which, the NEWS reporter found out later, meant, according to Judge Ewing, "go get it yourself and then return it." Of course, the judge added the latter part of the meaning.

Calling of the docket was completed yesterday and Judge Ewing was ready to hear non-jury cases today and for the rest of the week.

GOVERNOR VERY ILL SAN JOSE, Calif., May 30. (P)—Governor James Rolph Jr. of California was reported sleeping quietly at 6 a. m. (P. S. T.) today at the Linforth ranch near here where he is critically ill.

Under the mellowing influence of time, old enemies are forgotten and the blue and the gray clasp hands again as they hear the Decoration Day message of peace and hope brought by Franklin D. Roosevelt, speaking at the Gettysburg memorial, near the spot where Abraham Lincoln delivered his immortal address in 1863.

PLEA FOR PEACE IS KEYNOTE OF PAMPA MEMORIAL SERVICE AT GRAVE FOLLOWING PARADE

"Peace" was the topic chosen by the Rev. Gaston Poole, pastor of the First Methodist church, for his Memorial day address this morning at Fairview cemetery when the Pampa American Legion post had charge of decorating the graves of ex-service men.

Rev. Poole urged everyone to work for international good will and friendship and the discouragement of war.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church and acting chaplain of the local post, reviewed the Memorial day activities and informed those present that Memorial day was not a Legionnaires' day but was for everyone to honor the dead.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary deposited a wreath at the base of a tree on the city hall lawn. The tree was planted in honor of the unknown soldier. The parade formed at the Legion hut and marched to the gymnasium, where marchers were placed in cars.

PAMPA SCHOOLS ARE PRAISED AS MORE UNITS ARE GRANTED

Pampa's school system is one of the very best in this section, it was declared by E. E. Chamness, deputy state superintendent at Canyon, in granting additional units of affiliation.

Mr. Chamness read with much interest a summary of the activities of the school last year. After Principal L. L. Sone presented exhibits of work done last term, he granted one credit in band work, one in orchestra, a full credit in mechanical drawing, and a credit in commercial arithmetic.

HOPKINS BOY SCOUT TROOP WINS BIG TROPHY, SETTING POINT RECORD AT CAMPORAL

Troop 18 from Hopkins won the large Scout statue, emblematic of the troop gaining the most points at the Adobe Walls council camporal at Near-to-Nature park yesterday. Hopkins Scouts amassed a total of 72.1 points to defeat Troop 59 of Folslet, defending champions, with 69.8 points. Troop 75 of Higgins, a new troop, took third honors with 63.7 points.

The Hopkins boys, under Scoutmaster John Shannon, made six points more than the record set last year by Folslet. The total points possible were 125. Judging was on camping, inspection and drill, first aid, signaling, nature study, fire building, knot tying, archery, tent pitching, and swimming.

More than 300 Boy Scouts from more than 20 troops competed. Scoutmasters and scouters were in charge with C. A. Clark, executive, as commander-in-chief.

ALLRED WILL BE HEARD AS EVENT OPENS

WILL POINT OUT HOW PAMPA IS AIDING CENTENNIAL

James V. Allred, attorney general of Texas, will open the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the city hall auditorium.

In opening the unprecedented celebration, Mr. Allred is expected to mention the Pre-Centennial in connection with the Texas Centennial which will be observed in Pampa and throughout the state in 1936. A high state official was chosen to deliver the principal address at the occasion in order to give it an official flavor.

Mr. Allred will be introduced by Mayor W. A. Bratton, who will be introduced by Gilmore N. Nunn. The opening exercises are expected to continue for an hour. Every person present in the city tomorrow is invited to attend the opening ceremony.

Registration of old timers at the high school gym will continue during the time of the address, and throughout the day. Mrs. De La Vicars is in charge of registration. She will have two assistants.

Mrs. W. R. Ewing announced this morning that all hostesses who were appointed to welcome the visitors at the high school gym had consented to "work their shifts," as they were published in THE NEWS Monday.

Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, chairman of the rooms committee, today made an appeal for rooms for the old timers. Until tomorrow, such residents are asked to call her at her residence. Tomorrow rooms can be listed over a telephone at the gym.

WASHINGTON, May 30. (P)—President Roosevelt today signed a code for the canning industry, providing for creation within 90 days of an agency to study and propose means of establishing quality standards and proper labeling, a chief objective of the proposed Tagwell pure food bill.

Attention Given Ruling on Truck And Car Licenses

Persons from other states now working in Texas are required by law to register their cars and trucks and purchase Texas licenses. R. H. Routh, state highway patrolman, urges all out of state operators to voluntarily comply with the law instead of making it necessary for him to make arrests.

The registration and license law does not apply to visitors in the state but to persons coming here to work. Since the April to April law of licensing became effective, 11,000 licenses were issued. Next month registrations will be for 10 months. The highway officers are finding many overloaded trucks in this section.

Pampa merchants and their employees are urged to use the new parking spaces just marked off through efforts of the business houses of the city. The need of parking space for visitors will be acute tomorrow and Friday during the celebration, and it will be to the advantage of store owners to have parking space available in front of their places of business.

Although the grounds have not been leveled and graveled, wire cable has been stretched to allow uniform parking. Signs have been erected reading "Free Parking Provided by Pampa Business Men."

Parking lots will be available at the rear of the Combe-Worley building, across the street north of the new postoffice, and along the Santa Fe right-of-way between Cuyler and Russell streets.

PARADE TO BE ONE OF BEST SEEN IN YEARS

DONKEY GAME, FIGHTS ON PROGRAM OF THURSDAY

Thousands of Panhandle residents were preparing today to journey to Pampa tomorrow to attend the opening day of the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup.

It was announced in Amarillo that a motordrace of 150 cars bearing Amarillo citizens would travel to Pampa in the morning in the wake of the Amarillo float which, it is said, will depict the Palo Duro canyon. Sponsors of the Potter county float stated frankly today that they expected to carry off the grand prize, but local citizens viewing the colorful creations already constructed by Pampa organizations were confident that the Amarillo float would have stiff competition. Parade at 1:30 p. m.

The feature of Thursday afternoon attractions will be the parade of the historical float, and character.

Dale Miller, associate editor of The Texas Weekly, will broadcast the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup tonight over WOAI, San Antonio, according to telegram received by Archer Fullington, general chairman, today. Mr. Miller, one of the original boosters of the Pre-Centennial said that he would tell the people of Texas about the greatest celebration Texas will stage this year. He said, "the eyes of Texas are truly upon you." The broadcast will be at 10 o'clock tonight.

The parade will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon far down on South Cuyler at the Phillips service station. It will proceed up Cuyler street to the high school gym and turn west to Browning to Frost, then up First to Kingsmill, thence to Somerville and over to Foster. From Foster the parade will move to the Ballard street intersection at the Methodist church and proceed down Ballard to the Chevrolet Motor company where it will disband.

Local floats entered in the parade will be as follows: Coronado's dream of a golden city of Cibola, the first white man in Texas, Alvarez de Pinedo; the claiming of Texas by the French, the first wedding in Texas with St. Denis and Marie Villasecas as principals; the Alamo, Mission San Francisco de la Espada, the first Catholic church in Texas, the mission San Francisco de los Tejas, Austin in his Mexico city.

ONCE EVERY YEAR - - - By BRUCE CATTON

Once every year the bronzed young ghosts stir from eternal slumber, And in a million graves the dust gives up a nation's sons:

They form in ranks, and sound their drums, and in unending number Come tramping down the golden years with sunlight on their guns.

The wilderness is cool and still, and busy squirrels chatter To emphasize the peace that fills the aisles beneath the trees;

On Alabama's sands the sea-gulls' cries are all that shatter The silence where Fort Morgan's ruins front the southern seas.

And Sharpsburg creek runs clear and clean, and growing grape vines tangle Along the ridge at Fredericksburg, that spouted iron doom;

Thus once a year the dead march out, with ancient banners, flying— Those wistful phantoms in their faded cloaks of blue and gray;

They look upon a land at peace, and find it worth the dying And go to sleep again, contented, on Memorial Day.

OUR STAKE IN STATES RIGHTS

In the face of steady trends toward a federal dictatorship of business, the average person gives too little attention to the likely results in his own affairs.

Scores of Pampa and Gray county residents went to Austin when the Small land bills were up for passage. To many, the trip was made at a financial sacrifice.

These things must be pondered as the federal oil control bill is debated in Congress. The question is immeasurably more than an East Texas problem.

Federal powers in such matters should supplement, not dominate, those of the states. The New Orleans federal court decision seems to indicate that rigid federal control is unnecessary.

There are ways out of the East Texas troubles without turning the problem over to Washington and the alliances which Washington is known to have.

U. S. SEA STRENGTH TO PARADE TOMORROW BEFORE ROOSEVELT

86 SHIPS WILL TAKE PART IN HUGE DISPLAY

FLEET IN ATLANTIC IN FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—The power and pomp of the American Navy will go on parade tomorrow before its high commander, President Roosevelt.

From the deck of the cruiser Indianapolis, stationed outside New York harbor near Ambrose lightship, 14 miles from shore, the president will see the great armada steam past and into its Atlantic home.

It has been four years since the fleet was concentrated on this side of the continent. And not since the post-war review of 1919 has New York seen a complete display of the nation's maritime weapons.

Fresh from war games in the Caribbean, 86 ships will participate. Their full complement is 5,000 officers and 35,000 sailors.

The warships range from the mighty battleship, Pennsylvania, flagship of the fleet, down to comparatively tiny tenders. All will have their role in the pageant.

Here is the program of the review:

The two 10,000-ton treaty cruisers Indianapolis and Louisville will be the review ships.

The former will carry the president, Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson, Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, and other distinguished guests.

On the Louisville will be, among other notables, assistant secretary of the Navy Henry L. Roosevelt.

At 11 o'clock in the morning (Eastern Standard Time), the flagship Pennsylvania, flying the four-star blue flag of Admiral David F. Sellers, commander of the fleet, will steam past the Indianapolis.

The Pennsylvania will then take a position alongside the Louisville.

Next, the aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington will pass, reviewing ships and go to positions favorable for launching their planes.

The United States' newest, most modern craft, seven 10,000 cruisers which are sister ships to the Louisville and Indianapolis, will follow, trailed by several lighter cruisers.

Next a flotilla of destroyers, and then the Bulldogs of the Navy, the battleships. They will be led by the California which will fly the four-star red flag of Admiral J. M. Reeves.

A miscellany of boats, supply, fuel, hospital and repair, will bring up the rear. There will be no submarines in the parade.

The review is expected to last about an hour.

The ships will pass the reviewing cruisers at a distance 500 yards, steaming at 15 knots in column formation.

As they pass the presidential boat, the big ships will fire 21-gun salutes. Their crews will stand at the rail in full dress. Their bands will play.

As a display of potential strength, 174 combat planes will be catapulted from the decks of the airplane carriers and go through maneuvers—formation flying, live bombing, laying of smoke screens. This will be the grand finale to the show.

After that, the fleet will follow the Indianapolis into harbor, the president will disembark and the ships scatter to berths along the Hudson and in the East river.

Mrs. Claude Williams of McLean stopped in Pampa yesterday.

THRIFT ROOM MAIN PROJECT OF BIG GROUP

P. T. A. COUNCIL AIDED BY PRESIDENTS OF ASSOCIATIONS

The thrift room, which has been a project for the city council of Parent-Teacher associations this year, proved successful, according to Mrs. J. H. Hulme, chairman.

More than 2,000 garments have been received, mended, and distributed among children of the city. The room, which was opened in October, was first in charge of a CWA worker and later was operated by a committee from the association.

Supt. R. B. Fisher, principals and teachers gave their cooperation, and patrons helped with contributions of clothing. Chiefly responsible for the success of the enterprise was Mrs. J. H. Hulme, whose hobby is helping the underprivileged children. In addition to the thrift room work, she is helping in several individual cases.

The committee in charge of furnishing the room was composed of Mrs. C. P. Buckler, Mrs. J. D. Lawson, Mrs. J. H. Hulme, and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapiller.

There was a welfare chairman from each school, as follows: High school, Mrs. Hugh Isbell; Junior high, Mrs. Mrs. Hulme; Sam Houston, Mrs. Culbertson; Horace Mann, Mrs. Josephine Thomas; Baker, Mrs. J. M. Miller; Meriden, Mrs. Taylor; Hoover, Mrs. J. M. Daugherty; Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. B. C. Evans.

Lumber for racks was furnished by White House Lumber company, Merrick & Boyd Lumber company, and Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company. Racks were made by Prof. J. L. Lester and his class of boys. The room, lights, gas, and pipe for racks have been provided by the school board.

The following P.-T. A. presidents have contributed to the work:

High school, Mrs. J. M. Dodson; Junior high, Mrs. C. E. Hutchins; Sam Houston, Mrs. L. L. McCole; Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. W. B. Murphy; Horace Mann, Mrs. J. M. Turner; B. M. Baker, Mrs. Roy Holt; Meriden, Mrs. E. N. Hope; Hoover, Mrs. J. M. Daugherty. The associations contributed money each month. With a part of this money, a sewing machine was purchased, and there is a balance with which to begin next year's work.

Farm Credit in Last Year Has Grown Greatly

As the Farm Credit administration has rounded the one-year lap on the road to agricultural credit recovery, with a total of $1,273,000,000 loaned to American farmers since its organization, a statement of Governor W. I. Myers indicates that there will be no interruption in the policy of making credit support available to every branch of agricultural financing.

Breakdown figures of the total amount advanced during the first year of the Farm Credit administration show that the federal land banks and the land bank commissioner have closed 316,000 farm mortgage loans aggregating $791,000,000. According to Governor Myers, the performance of the land bank has successfully stemmed the tide of farm mortgage foreclosures which threatened agriculture at this time last year, while the lower interest rates, temporary postponement of principal payments, and longer terms of amortization made possible by land bank and Commissioner's loans have enabled thousands of farmers to resume normal farming operations. Figures released by the Farm Credit Administration also show that farm-land prices have been gradually increasing during the past year, and indicate that the high frequency of forced and voluntary sales of farm-homes by their owners, so prevalent at this time last year, has been definitely arrested.

Considering that approximately 90 per cent of the $791,000,000 predicated in mortgage loans has been used by farmers to pay old debts, owed in large part to local creditors, the large turnover of funds in the agricultural communities resulting from the land bank loans has multiplied the usefulness of the money loaned and given direct support to reviving business activity in agricultural centers. Commercial banks have received $218,230,000 of the money used for refinancing farmers' debts; insurance companies, $82,480,000; tax authorities, $21,900,000; and $381,540,000 went to settle indebtedness owed to private mortgage companies, retired farmers, merchants, dealers and other unclassified types of rural creditors.

In order to reach a satisfactory settlement of claims against heavily indebted farmers, many creditors have made voluntary reductions. The total amount of indebtedness thus voluntarily scaled down during the first year of the refinancing program is placed at $46,000,000.

Further evidence of increasing confidence in the eventual settlement of farm debt problems is attested by the ready reception of the government-guaranteed Federal Farm Mortgage corporation bonds which the land banks and the commissioner have been using in lieu of cash as a basis of making loans since March 26. Shifting the method of payment on the tremendous volume of land bank business was a considerable task, but the bonds have sold consistently above par and, as it turned out, it took only a few weeks to acquaint farmers and their creditors with the method of advancing loan funds in bonds. Since then the refinancing program has again reached the peak of activity of the cash-lending period, the land banks now using government-guaranteed bonds as a basis of making farm mortgage loans at the rate of more than $5,000,000 per day.

ROOKIES HELP CARDINALS IN LEAGUE CLIMB

PEPPER, CLIFT HAVE ACCOUNTED FOR MANY RUNS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

A good crop of rookies can be an asset to the best baseball team and the success of a couple of the St. Louis Browns' newcomers, Raymond Watson Pepper and Harold Benton Clift, is one good reason why Rogers Hornsby's club is up at the head of the American league's second division and threatening to go higher.

Neither was a 300 hitter in the minor leagues last year, Pepper batting .295 with Rochester and Clift .273 with San Antonio, but both have been well above that level against American league pitching so far as the 1934 season has gone.

Between them, this pair of recruits accounted for eight runs yesterday as the Browns slammed out a 12 to 7 decision over the Detroit Tigers yesterday to regain their 300 place in the standings. Pepper had a perfect day at the plate, hitting his fourth and fifth homers of the season and three singles to knock in five tallies. Clift also hit for the circuit and drove in three runs.

The other American league contests were marked by nifty pitching as Cleveland increased its lead over the idle Yankees by shutting out Chicago 5 to 0 and Boston broke a sixth place tie with Philadelphia by taking a 2-1 decision from the Athletics in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. Mel Harder blanked the pale hose with five blows for this first victory of the season while Johnny Welch held the A's to two—a homer by Bob Johnson and a single by Lou Finney.

The idleness of the four western clubs enabled the New York Giants to register an important gain in the National league as they defeated their Brooklyn neighbors, 4 to 3. The other National league contest saw the Boston Braves down the Phillies 6 to 4.

CHINESE WINS GREAT FAVOR IN WORKOUTS

CROWD MAY BREAK ALL RECORDS IN SIZE TOMORROW

Demand for reserve seat tickets to the championship fight between Duke Tramel, middle-weight champion of Texas, and Ralph Chong of Houston, Chinese challenger, at Roadrunner park tomorrow night has been so great that the NEWS, sponsors of the fight, has had to add another row of ringside seats around the four sides of the ring.

The new tickets are on sale at City Drug, Pampa Drug No. 1, Fatheree Drug No. 4, and Harvester Drug, along with a few box seats received from out of town yesterday afternoon. Reserve seats are $1.65 and box seats $1.35. The original 224 ringside seats issued have been sold out.

The fight is causing comments over the entire state. Several of the larger cities tried to match the Tramel-Chong fight after the Chinese contender defeated Don LaRue in Houston. LaRue was doped to be Tramel's next opponent, but Chong stepped in and spoiled the set-up. Ring, boxing magazine, boosted a match between Tramel and LaRue before Chong upset the dope.

Chinese Has Boosters

The Chinese contender has been in Pampa a week preparing for his big chance. He has gathered a large following and rules a slight favorite over the champion, Tramel, however, has been winning decisively over some of the best boys in the state and his stock has been steadily rising. Tramel was to arrive in Pampa this morning. He planned to taper-off training with a light workout at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

Semi-final battlers, Jack Thompson, Pampa, and Herschel Howarth, Houston, are also ready to go the limit. Thompson brused a foot working out with Chong Monday and took things easy yesterday afternoon. Howarth has been working with some of the best boxers in Amarillo and will arrive in Pampa this afternoon in the best condition since his arrival in the Panhandle. Even as to weight.

Thompson will enter the ring at 163 pounds and Howarth will be one pound lighter. Both battlers are more than six feet tall with Thompson having the advantage in built and Howarth the height. Both are hitters and no boppers.

The special six-round bout between Joe Vernon, Pampa ace, and Dick Hedgspeth, Perryton sensation, is scheduled to be a fight from the opening song. The two battlers met last year and neither was satisfied with the decision. The bout was labeled one of the best ever staged in Pampa.

Earl Madden, Spearman, and Bill Gay, Borger, will battle in a four round preliminary that should see leather flying from all angles. The big fight card will open at 8:45 o'clock with Pug Cole, Pampa, meeting Red Davis, Amarillo, in a four round bout.

Weather looks promising and one of the largest, if not the largest crowd ever to attend a boxing match in the Panhandle is expected. Should the weather appear unfavorable tomorrow afternoon, the fight will be transferred to the high school gymnasium.

Loud Speakers Brought

A loud speaking system will be installed by the State Park service and will be in charge of T. H. Ellison, who arrived in Pampa yesterday. Mr. Ellison will be here during the celebration, showing pictures and making addresses at various places.

An excellent lighting system is being installed and the ring will be lighted so that there will be no shadows or dark places.

Jimmie Marshall, one of the best referees in the Panhandle, will be the third man in the ring for the Tramel-Chong fight. The two judges have not been named but they will be experienced and unbiased.

More than 1,500 general admission seats will be available at $1.10. Every one of them will have a direct view of the ring. There will not be a post in the entire arena.

Northwestern Railway company of Texas, the Wichita Falls and Wellington Railway company of Texas and the San Antonio Belt and Terminal Railway company.

GALVESTON IS LEADING LOOP AFTER VICTORY

QUALIFYING IN GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS TODAY

BEAUMONT'S WINNING STREAK HALTED BY BUCS

CARD OF 77 WILL BE REQUIRED TO QUALIFY

By The Associated Press

The Beaumont Exporters, who within two weeks have climbed from the Texas league cellar to challenge for a first division berth, had their upward march repulsed last night when Galveston tumbled them, 6 to 5. By virtue of their victory the Buccaneers remained in the first division.

The veteran Jimmy Walkup, a southpaw with control and a teasing curve, salvaged the final game of the series from the Exporters. Walkup struck out seven Exporters, mixing in the strike outs at crucial spots to retain his lead. Rags for Beaumont and young Buck Fausett for Galveston cracked home runs.

The San Antonio Missions dropped to third place and allowed the idle Tulsa Oilers to take second place by losing a 2 to 1 battle to the Houston Buffaloes. An exhibition of fast fielding plays and classy base running by Lefty Lyons enabled the Buffs to win. The young southpaw, who is playing a relief role in the outfield, scored the winning run in the eighth to give Mays Copeland the hurling edge over Abe Miller in a mound duel that was one of the best this season.

Even though they were defeated by Oklahoma City, 4 to 2, the Dallas Steers retained the league pinacle.

DALLAS, May 30 (AP)—Decorations day was greeted at the Brook Hollow Golf and Country club by a large field of golfers eager to try their skill in the 18-hole quality round of the twenty-eighth annual Texas Golf association championship.

It was the press consensus that it would require a card of 77 or less to be one of the thirty-two that will compose the championship flight. Par over the Brook Hollow course is 35-35-70.

Gus Moreland, three consecutive times champion, is not defending his title. He is en route from Europe where he played as a member of the United States Walker cup team and in the British amateur.

The tournament was officially inaugurated by Gordon Young, a young Dallasite who holds the Mineral Wells Country club invitation; Rube Albaugh, a long hitter, and Felix McKnight, a former ace of the San Antonio links who now lives here. This threesome was first off the tee. They were followed by Nathan Adams of Dallas, J. K. Wadley of Texarkana, and E. E. Shelton of Dallas.

Reynolds Smith, torrid pre-tournament favorite and Dallas City champion, had Leland Hamman of Waco and Jack Fouts of Dallas in his qualifying threesome.

JAYCEE 'POWDER PUFFS' TO OPEN DONKEY BALL GAME WITH BORGER TOMORROW

"Git along little donkey, git along," will be the chant of Junior chamber of commerce members of Pampa and Borger tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Roadrunner park when teams from the two clubs will clash in a donkey baseball game in one of the opening features of the Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Roundup. Holders of combination tickets will be admitted for the section marked "donkey baseball" game. General admission will be 40 cents.

Manager Harold Miller released the names of his Pampa starters. The starting lineup will be composed of "Powderpuffs" or players who have no whiskers. The "starting" starters will be E. M. Conley, pitcher; H. L. Polley, catcher; Gilmore Mann, first base; Arlie Crites, second base; Phillip Pond, shortstop; Jim Collins, third base; Bill Fraser, left field; Fred Burrow, center field; and Bob Watson, right field.

Powderpuff substitutes will include John Sturgeon, Dr. R. M. Johnson, Dr. M. C. Overton, Dr. John Hooper, A. J. Johnson, Roy Quinn, John Casey, Frank Hill, O. K. Gaylor, Jack Dunn, and the rest of the boys without beards.

The "he-men," or whiskered Jaycees, will take over the riding duties after the "powderpuffs" have been waited away. Members of the starting lineup must be at Roadrunner park 30 minutes before game time or the sheriff's department will be called into action. President Clarence Kennedy has made arrangements with Mrs. C. E. Pipes, sheriff, to have deputies on hand to send after the "powderpuffs" who fail to arrive.

Borger's team, whiskers and all, will arrive in Pampa tomorrow morning. The mules, coming from Mobeetie, were expected here this afternoon. (Oh, pardon the mention of Borger Jaycees and mules in the same paragraph.)

This game of Donkey baseball is played thusly: The pitcher, catcher and batter are not mounted, but all other players ride donkeys. After the batter hits the ball, and there is no such thing as striking out, he mounts his donkey and heads for first base. If the donkey is inclined, The fielders have to ride their donkey to at least within one step of the ball, dismount and get the ball and remount before throwing it. In the meantime, the batter is trying to make his donkey round the bases.

Mrs. Furman Williams of Canadian shopped in Pampa Monday.

Jaycees Check On Celebration—'Ready to Go'

Loose ends of the Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Roundup being sponsored Thursday and Friday by the Junior chamber of commerce were gathered up and knitted together at the noon meeting Tuesday. Committees reported their progress and everything is in readiness for the big event.

Fourteen beautiful floats will be entered in the parade. All will be of a historic nature and no individual or firm car or float will be admitted to the parade unless carrying out one of the themes of the pageant. The reason for this is to cause merchants and individuals no expense. The Jaycees in planning the celebration agreed that the event should be self-supporting.

Visitors were Wendal Walton of Oklahoma City, Claude Williams and Thurman Adkins of McLean, Bert Howell and Ralph Chong, Chinese boxer who will meet Duke Tramel here Thursday night.

A. G. Stamper of Panhandle was a Pampa visitor Monday afternoon.

EL PASO, May 30 (P)—Arthur C. Wilson, 28, believed to have been the man detained in Georgetown, British Guiana, today, has been charged with the brutal slaying of Mrs. Irene Debusk, 51, attractive Cleveland, O., widow slain near Van Horn, Texas, last November 5.

He will be returned to El Paso for trial. His arrest climaxed six months of intensive investigation by Chris P. Fox, sheriff, and police of more than 100 cities in the United States and Canada, started when the widow's nude body was found on the desert.

Sheriff Fox obtained information that the whereabouts of Wilson thru a tip from a friend of Mrs. Debusk's family. The sheriff met the man in Chicago three weeks ago.

Murder at Mocking House

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: The man that killed one of the two men found murdered in Pierce Dufresne's house is still about the place, although Sergeant Harper has not been able to find it. He has found a wet piece of string, however, which seems to have a connection with the mystery. Now he has located the customer who sent a "bracket" to one of the murdered men, so that he might resemble Dufresne.

Chapter 28
CRANK LETTERS.

"This man came in with a picture," Pagliotti added, "a clipping from a newspaper, showing a man with a beard. He said it was a friend of his and that he wanted to make himself up like him as a joke. We studied over the picture and I myself trimmed the beard and moustache to match as he wished."

"Was there a name printed under the clipping? Would you recognize the picture again?"

Pagliotti shrugged his regrets. "I do not remember. I would have forgotten all, except for the clipping." Harper pondered a moment. "Can you recall anything else about this man? Was he well-dressed? Did he come in an automobile? Was his manner nervous or secretive?"

"There was nothing out of the way about his manner. The other questions I cannot answer."

The detective took a long pull on his pipe. "One more question, Mr. Pagliotti. You know the man who bought that disguise from you has been killed. It has been suggested that he was crazy—a dangerous maniac. What do you say to that?"

Pagliotti's answer was immediate, explosive. "Oh, no, no, I do not believe it. Not that man."

Harper smiled. "I'm inclined to agree with you. Thank you very much. Your information should be helpful to us."

The Italian bowed politely, shook hands, and departed with the alert Mr. Harris, leaving Harper with a new and puzzling addition to his collection of data concerning this mysterious affair. The detective began to look through the pocket of crank letters which Dufresne had turned over to the police.

There were eight of them in all, the earliest postmarked November 9, a little more than five weeks after the purchase of the disguise. What had the masquerader been doing those five weeks? Why had such a long interval elapsed before his alleged letters began bombarding his intended victim? Dufresne had even been back in the city from his summer vacation when this man had appeared at Pagliotti's.

If this nameless man had really intended to kill Dufresne, why had he not done so without all this fanfare of threats and hard language? His course had certainly been that of the cowardly "crank," not that of the determined killer.

The butler appeared. "Mrs. Croden thought you might like a bite of lunch, sir. It can be served in here, so that it will not interrupt your work. Is there anything special you would like?"

"That's fine, Andrews. Anything you happen to be serving will be quite all right. Thank Mrs. Croden for me, please."

"It will be ready in half an hour, sir."

"Fine. In the meantime, will you ask Mrs. Whitmore to come here?"

Mrs. Whitmore took at least ten minutes to make her appearance. The detective wondered what the servants were saying about the murders, for he knew that in the sanctity of their own quarters every tongue would be wagging unreservedly. A great deal of talk would be mere idle gossip and conjecture, but mixed with this must necessarily be many items of first-hand knowledge that would be invaluable to him, could he but hear them.

When Mrs. Whitmore did make her appearance, her attitude and the expression on her face left no doubt as to her personal state. The belligerent gleam in her eye, the twist of her tightly shut lips promised little aid and no sustenance for the police processes.

"Mrs. Whitmore, I have some questions to ask. As all of you now know, there was a double murder here last night. To withhold information of any kind is a serious matter. In a case like this it can mean—prison. I want you and all the others to understand that clearly."

Harper paused, feeling that this prodigious was wasted on the determined woman. Mrs. Whitmore nodded curtly. "I understand that, but I didn't have anything to do with it and I don't know anything about it," she answered haughtily.

"Of course not. Don't misunderstand my purpose in sending for you. Let us start a little way back. As I understand it, you and Mr. Whitmore were left in sole charge of this house while Mr. and Mrs. Dufresne went to their summer home at Moose Head Lodge?"

"Yes, sir."

"The Dufresnes left early in July and did not return until late October?"

"That's right."

"During all the time of their absence, there were no disturbances, no attempted burglaries, no prowlers at night, nor suspicious characters seen in the grounds?"

"No."

"Did you have any visitors of your own, relatives or friends?"

"We did not."

"The house was never left unoccupied, then, for a day?"

"Never." The housekeeper was rapping out her staccato replies as quickly as the detective fired his questions.

"Which rooms did you occupy?"

"Our usual ones—the double bedroom on the third floor, front."

"Oh, I thought your quarters were over the garage?"

"Those are only temporary."

Harper struck on a new line. "Did you know Officer Hamill, the policeman who was killed?"

"Only by sight. I remember see-

MEAL STYLES CHANGE WITH OTHER MODES

BUFFET SUPPERS ARE MORE POPULAR LATELY

DENTON, May 30.—More than just clothes has been changed by the fashion trends of the past few years. The business of entertaining has also been affected and we note, with pleasure, the increasing popularity of the buffet supper. Everywhere we go we find the buffet table glowing with festivity and hospitality. As convenience and time there is no other kind of party so easy to give. The cost is slight. No service is necessary. Simple inexpensive dishes are the most appropriate for even the simplest buffet party. The secret of a successful buffet party can be summed up in a few words: Not too many courses, but plenty of each dish and a relaxed hostess.

Menu I: Devilled crab, tartar sauce, rolled lettuce sandwiches, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, sliced tongue and cucumbers marinated, strawberry bavarian cream loaf, old English bun drop cookies, nuts, mints, coffee.

Menu II: Chicken salad in peeled tomato cups, hot rolls, tiny potato balls, chilled green asparagus, sweet pickle relish, radishes, lemon meringue pie, mints, celery curls, olives, coffee oriced punch.

Devised Crab: 2 lb. butter, 1 slice onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon mustard, 2-3 cup white stock, 3 tablespoons sherry flavoring, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup onion slices, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley, 1 cup chopped crab meat, 6 finely chopped mushroom caps, salt, cayenne, bread crumbs, yolks of 2 eggs. Cook butter with onion three minutes. Add flour mixed with mustard and pour on, gradually, white stock, and beef extract; then add parsley. Bring to boiling point and add egg yolks and crab meat. When well mixed, add mushroom caps, salt and cayenne. Fill well cleaned crab shells with mixture, sprinkle with stale bread crumbs mixed with small quantity of melted butter. Bake until crumbs are brown.

Curried Shrimp: Parboil shrimp, before removing shells, in water to which has been added lemon rind and celery stems and leaves which can not be used uncooked. After about 15 minutes remove shrimp and clean. Put in pan and pour over them a sauce made as follows: 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 onion sliced, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk. Cook butter with onion until yellow, add flour, mixed with curry powder, salt, pepper and while stirring constantly, pour on milk gradually.

Chicken Pot Pie: Pastry: One qt. flour, salt, sugar (pinch), pt. cold buttermilk, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup butter. Cut chicken up, stew in salt water and minced onion. Remove chicken from broth, make thin gravy, roll pastry, cut, roll and place in individual casserole. Four gravy over each square, keeping some to pour over squares when served.

Spaghetti, New Waldorf: 1 lb. spaghetti cooked to a medium tenderness, 2 fresh tomatoes, skinned and diced, 1 small chopped onion, 8 ounces shredded braised beef, 8 ounces butter, 8 ounces grated Parmesan cheese, 2 ounces chopped minced herbs. Use a sauce pan, put 4 oz. of butter in, melt, cook the chopped onions for about two minutes; add tomatoes and cook for five minutes, then the beef and allow to cook for six minutes. Add the herbs, then the spaghetti which has been well drained. Mix with the remaining butter and Parmesan cheese. Season to taste and place in casserole.

Wells Near to City to Feature News of Week

By GEORGE L. GUTHRIE
Consulting Geologist
Combs-Worley Bldg.

Gray county has the lead over the hot spot in Wheeler county today with the Dixon Creek company bringing in two wells just west of town in an area in which has seen considerable activity during the past month or two. The Dixon Creek wells are number 1 Barrett in section 127, block 3, I&GN, and number 1 Carey in section 114, block 3, I&GN.

The Gulf Production company shot its number 1 Barrett in section 128, block 3, I&GN day before yesterday and the reports are that it will make 400 barrels.

The British American has finished standardizing on number 7 Phillips, is due to start drilling in today and should be in a couple of days if they don't have any bad luck, and are rigging up the rotary on number 8 Phillips. Both wells are in section 127, block 3, I&GN. The Magnolia's number 1-E Haggard is about due to finish standardizing in section 113, block 3, I&GN and should bring in a nice well when they drill in.

In the hot spot in Wheeler county, there are three wells cleaning out and getting ready to go on test. The Elbar number 2 Noel in section 54, block 24, the Alma Oil company's number 2 Johnson in section 47, block 24, and the Mid-Continent number 4, Carville in section 51, block 24.

Rawlings et al have spudded and are drilling to set surface pipe in section 45, block 24 on the Plummer almost a mile west of the Magic Oil and Gas company's number 1 Walker, which extended the Magic City pool a mile when it came in two weeks ago. When this well comes in it will be another joining link between the hot spot and Magic City. I do not doubt that the area between the two pools will very shortly be drilled—in all the way through. The Magic Oil and Gas, Humble, and Magnolia are drilling in the area proven by the Magic's number 1, Walker.

In Hutchinson county, the Ortex Oil company's wildcat is drilling at 1,000 feet, at this rate it won't be long before we all know what the area northwest of Stinnett has to offer in the way of oil. There was one new location filed in that county today, E. W. Means and M. G. Fisher number 1, E. Cooper, 330 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of the north half of section 6, block 9 I&GN. They intend to start work June the second.

Federal Control Of Oil Will Be Tested in Texas

TULSA, May 30 (P)—The question of whether federal control of oil operations is possible without the aid of the administration bill before congress is nearing a test in Texas this week.

There are a number of factors having a distinct bearing on the question while the remainder of the industry was perceptibly marking time awaiting a showdown.

The refining and marketing divisions were holding barely steady, aided by the constant purchase of distress gasoline, as it made its appearance, by the larger companies operating in the midcontinent.

Louis R. Glavis, chief of the petroleum administration's division of investigation, moved into East Texas with his operatives after a "council of war" held in Dallas last week-end.

Remember this About a CHILD'S LAXATIVE

Above all, a child's laxative should be safe and the child should like to take it. That is why Feen-a-mint, the delicious tasting chewing gum laxative, widely prescribed by physicians, has universal approval by mothers. Delicious Feen-a-mint is safe for little digestive organs. It is prompt, thorough and complete-acting, because, by chewing, this laxative is slowly and uniformly distributed throughout the intestines to give "full" but gentle and more natural action. Feen-a-mint contains no richness which might upset a delicate stomach, steal appetite or get stale. Children like Feen-a-mint. Delay is dangerous—give them Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists.

UNION LABOR THREATENS TO GO ON STRIKE

300,000 MAY QUIT IF CURTAINMENT IS EFFECTED

By The Associated Press. Hope grew today that a general strike of steel workers could be averted, but new threats arose of a walk-out of textile workers and a general strike of all union labor in Toledo, Ohio.

The United Textile Workers of America notified the NRA that a general strike of 300,000 members would be called for Monday if a recent order for a 25 per cent curtailment of production is carried out.

Senator Wagner, chairman of the national labor board, expressed belief after conferences in Washington that a way would be found to prevent the threatened walkout of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers.

Strikes settled and averted: MILWAUKEE—Cudahy packing plant recognized unions and staved off strike of 1,000 employees; 200 employees of Crucible Steel Casting company return to work Thursday after winning a one-day strike for recognition of their bargaining committee and overtime wages.

CHICAGO—Employees of two Catholic cemeteries, on strike four weeks, agree to return to work pending arbitration of grievances.

MADISON, Wis.—Employees of Oscar Mayer Packing company vote to strike for union recognition, 20 per cent pay increases and 32-hour week.

JAPAN'S HERO, ADMIRAL TOGO, DIES IN TOKYO

Regarded as National Oracle by People Of Nation

TOKYO, May 29. (AP)—Admiral Marquis Heihachiro Togo, "the Nelson of Japan," whose humble home in Tokyo became a national shrine, died today.

Death came to the valiant old warrior old warrior at the age of 86 after a slow but lasting fight against cancer of the throat.

Admiral Togo was the last of the heroes of the Russo-Japanese war. It was he, standing on the deck of his flagship, who directed the fleet to a decisive victory over the czar's navy and from that triumph Japan emerged as a world power.

Only yesterday Admiral Togo was elevated by his devoted friend and one-time pupil, Emperor Hirohito, to the rank of Marquis.

Joseph G. Crew, ambassador from Washington, delivered to Koki Hiro, foreign minister, a message of condolence from Cordell Hull, secretary of state of the United States.

A national funeral was planned by the cabinet, called into session for the purpose. The super-hero was elevated after his death to the highest rank of admiral.

In his last years Admiral Togo was regarded as a national oracle and his counsel was received with the utmost veneration.

His widow and a son, Lieut.-Commander Minoru Togo, survive.

In all, thirty-five persons had received treatment at the speedway hospital, located within the track, by the time the race was half finished. The most seriously injured patient was George Bailey, Detroit, who sustained a broken wrist when his car hit the wall early in the race. Others were drivers and spectators, some of whom were injured in traffic jams.

Louis Webb, Beverly Hills, Calif., riding mechanic for Al Gordon, whose car was smashed, sustained a seriously burned right hand after he made a heroic attempt to grip a slipping clutch and thus keep the car in the race before the accident occurred.

Robbins' Skill Illustrated Here

"Pampans certainly are ar-minded and I would like to see a real landing field here so that their desires could be satisfied," declared Reg Robbins, well-known flier, who was in Pampa with his Ford trimotored plane Sunday.

Hundreds of Pampa aviation enthusiasts took flights over the city in the large plane. So numerous were the calls for rides that a two-passenger Travelair was pressed into service at times. The smaller plane thrilled the large crowd that thronged the airport, doing stunts at intervals throughout the day.

Because of a south wind, the large plane had to take off and land over the narrow portion of the field and Robbins showed remarkable skill in both landing and taking off.

CHURCHES

REVIVAL INTEREST GOOD

"I rejoice in our unusual interest at the opening of this evangelistic campaign, as is seen in the attendance, visitation work, and sincere praying," said Evangelist A. P. Johnson, Fort Worth, as he opened the second night meeting here Tuesday at the Central Baptist church.

Reading a part of the third chapter of Acts, he gave a message on "The Way Out For Baptists."

The N. R. A. and the national religious awakening will be the theme of the sermon Thursday at 9 p. m. A New Testament will be given tonight to the individual who brings the largest number of friends to the service. The preacher's subject tonight is not disclosed, but Pastor Pipes indicates it will be of great interest to the public.

The agricultural extension department of North Carolina state college is conducting a campaign for better rural homes.

PAMPA TONGUE OF OUR CITY & O.E.N.

WE heard what we think is an excellent idea. Someone noted that the hospitals are filled with patients most all the time now. Many of these patients come from outside the city. Many of them are lonesome. Pampa lawns, yards, and backyards have an unusual profusion of flowers this year. Exchanging and giving of flowers—and even vegetables—is being done generously. Now, would it not be a very fine thing if many of those who have flowers would take them to the hospitals and leave them for the patients whose rooms are not brightened with nature's seasonal hues? It would be fine if many would get acquainted with the out-of-town patients.

If there are those who do not have time to go to the hospitals, just leave the flowers at the Pampa Daily NEWS and members of its staff will deliver them. The NEWS is grateful to the many women who remembered its society editor, Miss Sue Vinson, and filled her hospital room with flowers. Raising and giving of flowers is certainly an evidence of a BETTER PAMPA.

FOR the children, school ends that a better term may begin. Summer vacations give parents time to check their youngsters' physical condition and to prepare them for another year of school. In this connection, John W. Brown, state health officer, writes pertinently as follows: "The family physician is expected to vaccinate every baby and young child under his care, and the parents should see that it is done. The earlier it is attended to, the better it is for the child. Until the child enters school, the responsibility for having him or her protected against smallpox rests with the parents. After this it is shared by the teachers."

Children vaccinated in the first year of life and again in the tenth or twelfth year, will be immune to the disease, practically for life. Single vaccinations usually last from seven to ten years. In part, this explains why most of the cases in the past few years are in adults who were vaccinated only once.

"Smallpox is a disease of ignorance and indifference. It attacks the rich and the poor, the healthy and the weak, with no discrimination; but it does not attack the immunized person who safeguards his health by taking advantage of modern preventive medicine. To stop vaccination would be relaxing our vigilance and the result would be rapid infection of non-immunized people. There were 854 cases of the disease last year in Texas, every one of which could have been prevented by recent vaccination."

Roosevelt Will Speak Today at Gettysburg Site

By The Associated Press. The once blood-drenched battlefield of Gettysburg, President Roosevelt leads the nation's homage today to its soldier dead.

The president, arranging to leave his busy desk around mid-day for that Civil War meeting ground, will stand as the first democratic chief executive to speak at the cemetery which marks where the greatest thrust of the Confederacy's stars and stripes wall of Meade's blue-clad ranks.

Throughout the nation—including those states that commemorate their heroes on April 26—banks and public buildings were closed. In Washington, however, although the executive branch observed a holiday, both houses of congress rejected talk of a recess in order to carry on the drive for adjustment. Hundreds of ceremonies of tributes, parades and the placing of wreaths, were arranged throughout the nation.

OIL FIELD NEWS

(Continued from page 5) tion in East Texas, is supplying information with the aid of Glavis on a certain group of operators listed as "chronic violators" of state and national oil regulations.

Their findings were expected to form the basis for new "test" cases to hinge on the ruling of the circuit court of appeals, at New Orleans, which held valid control of production under the oil code.

F. W. Fischer, Tyler attorney who has led the perennial attacks on state and federal authorities seeking to hold back the flow of oil and gasoline in East Texas, has announced that he will contest the New Orleans ruling and ask for a stay of execution to prevent federal activities until the supreme court rules. An alternative would be for him to hold off as long as possible to see if congress will shove the control bill this session; then, if this is done, drive for a reversal of the New Orleans ruling, or at least as much delay as possible before it is made final.

AIRLINER NOSES DOWN IN FOG TO SAVE PASSENGERS WHEN ITS GASOLINE SUPPLY IS EXHAUSTED

BETHEL, Conn. May 30 (AP)—Twelve persons narrowly escaped death when a United Air Lines passenger plane en route from Cleveland, O., to Newark, N. J., lost its way in the heavy fog early today and crashed when making a forced landing.

The nine passengers in addition to the pilot, co-pilot, and stewardess, were treated for their injuries at the Danbury hospital.

Lorenz Letson of Chicago, co-pilot, was the only one whose condition was described as critical. Hospital doctors found him suffering from a fractured left leg, severe head lacerations, and possibly internal injuries.

"The fog was almost impossible to penetrate, and we flew blind for hours," the stewardess, Miss Fugh, said at the hospital. "Pilots Wolf and Letson did a marvelous job in bringing us down so safely."

MUCH WORK PUT INTO FINE FRONTIER EXHIBIT AT STORE

Evidence of painstaking work may be seen in the pioneer exhibit of Mitchell's store, which has one of the most interesting displays of relics in town.

Most of these relics were loaned by H. V. Patterson. Several of the items were owned by J. J. Tarrant, famous Indian fighter for whom Tarrant county was named. These include pictures of Tarrant and his wife, a piece of Tarrant's wedding tie, his list of house furnishings necessary to start housekeeping (total cost only $50.80), and Tarrant's first shoe, 170 years old.

Other exhibits were gloves and a picture of a sister of Jefferson Davis, a footstool brought from Switzerland by Miss Rosa Schaffner as a wedding gift to her mother, a beaded and huge moneybag that once belonged to Geronimo, famous Indian chief, a box-like contraption that is a sewing machine made in 1848, just two years after Howe invented the sewing machine; a book of field notes of Thomas Carter, Batesville, Ark., surveyor back in 1836, a rocking chair made in Italy 280 years ago and for which Mrs. Patterson, the owner, has been offered $200; a lamp stand made of an antiquated English army muzzle-loading rifle, etc.

Another window at Mitchell's contains a miniature desert scene, the centerpiece of which is a small oxen-drawn prairie schooner that belongs to Edgar E. Brown. Sand and several varieties of desert plants, including cacti and yucca, cover the floor of the display window. Miniature coyotes and a chaparral bird (roadrunner) are also shown. A produce map of Texas and a Lone Star flag form part of the background.

COURT HOUSE NOTES

Charges Plane Tampered With At New York

LONDON, May 30 (AP)—Captain George A. Pond charged today that the airplane in which he and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli recently flew the Atlantic had been maliciously tampered with before they left New York.

Claiming that he had definite proof, Pond traced trouble the fliers encountered to the alleged sabotage before the takeoff. He said he would attempt to fasten the guilt on someone when he returns to New York.

"We have evidence of three types of tampering," Pond said. "There were strips of cardboard in the oil tank and a tin 'filler' in the oil line. The main feed line from the rear of the gas tank was definitely shut off and the water cabinets, one of which I filled myself, were emptied."

"Fortunately foreign articles in the oil tank line did not prevent oil from getting through, though they may have restricted the flow somewhat. Tampering with a gas tank is most serious and could not possibly have happened accidentally."

Pond and Sabelli were forced down at Moy, on the west coast of Ireland, May 15. They flew by stages to London after experiencing much difficulty with the motor of the plane, the Leonardo Da Vinci.

Munition Maker Hit by Rotary Speaker Today

That munition manufacturers and munition interests were the contributing causes to past and future wars was brought out in a talk today before the Rotary club and many war veteran guests today by the Rev. Gaston Foote.

The number of lives lost and expenditure of money during the world war was declared an unnecessary loss, profiting only those who were interested financially. He urged the fighting only for an ideal and for international understanding.

The program, to which about 20 war veterans were invited by 20 in bers, was arranged by Dr. W. Purviance.

GREETINGS FRENCH FLIERS

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt today received the two French transatlantic fliers—Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi. Dressed in the French army blue uniforms, the Paris-to-New York fliers were presented to the president by the French ambassador, Andre de Laboulaye.
