That picture of Sam Inzell and his mustache won't make the Jaycees any happier over their own growths.

Mr. Inzell says he has no intention of overriding a single state's right on the oil question.

We have heard a good definition of the treacherous Canadian river. It is a canyon filled up with sand and flowing slightly with water.

Maybe we need more women bandit chasers downstate. We can't imagine Bonnie Parker remaining at large very long with squads of women after her.

Texas are urged to return to homespun habits, but we have forgotten our knitting. But there is no danger of an overproduction of knitting says the West Foster group, who whittles.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: By the way, someone asked us to say something about the Pampa Indians. This young ball club is made up largely of recent Harvesters. They are growing up. They don't wish to be considered mere lads any longer.

CONSIDER the horse. He is back. There are more horses in the United States now than there were in 1880. The number is 13 millions.

WE have been told not to look a gift horse in the mouth. Buying one of the things is something else.

IN countries of dense population, like France, animals of all kinds are prized. But they must be useful. France is 3,237 square miles smaller than Texas.

A PROPOSED code for telegraph companies carries with it the threat that press rates might be discontinued. If this were done, many hundreds of small daily newspapers would be deprived of a telegraphic news service and big papers would be compelled to raise their subscription rates drastically.

Texas Relief Administrator Shifts Pauper Burden To County Court

38 PERSONS IN GRAY REMOVED FROM ROLLS

FERA PROGRAM TO BE RESTRICTED MORE CLOSELY

UNEXPECTEDLY, and after months of activity to the contrary, the Texas Relief commission has shifted to the various counties the responsibility of caring for paupers and lunatics.

It also was pointed out that the FERA program is not one of supporting paupers, but of temporarily aiding jobless and drought-stricken families able to work but without work opportunities.

Anticipating no such order, Gray county officials has set up no fund to care for such a burden, hence commissioners could not say immediately what their action would be.

DOUMERGUE WINS AGAIN PARIS, May 18 (AP)—Premier Doumergue again smashed through his opposition today, winning a heavy vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies on his refusal to enter into an immediate discussion of interpellations on the government's drastic economy decrees.

DEFENSE LOSES IN HAMILTON'S ROBBERY TRIAL

Motion to Continue Case Overruled By Judge

DENTON, May 18 (AP)—The defense lost its first battle in Raymond Hamilton's bank robbery case here today when District Judge Ben Boyd overruled a motion to continue his trial on charges of robbing the First National bank at Lewisville of $500, April 2.

The young outlaw's attorney, Albert Baskett, of Dallas, asked for the postponement on the grounds that the defendant had not been served with a copy of the indictment.

His remarks led her to believe that two other men were with him. G. N. Ellis, night clerk at the Johnson hotel, dashed to the telephone building when he grew suspicious after Miss Faulk told him, while checking PBX board calls, that she believed someone was forcing his way into the building.

TEXAN ATTACKS ICKES' TACTICS TO PASS 'MONOPOLISTIC' OIL ACT

NOT PLEDGED TO 'PRESERVE' CHINA'S UNITY

DECLARES U. S. MUST COOPERATE IN ANY ACTION

BY HAROLD F. BRAMAN, Associated Press Foreign Staff. LONDON, May 18 (AP)—Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, declared today that Great Britain is not pledged to "preserve" the integrity of China and will not participate in direct sanctions against Japan or any other power in other parts of the world unless the United States give its full cooperation.

Reaffirming Great Britain's determination to "respect" China's political integrity, Sir John asserted: "Great Britain has never signed any treaty to preserve the territorial integrity of China."

Simon extensively praised the United States' aid to the League of Nations "which I hereby gratefully and publicly recognize," he said.

Tools Stolen at Phone Building—One Man Seen

Linemen's equipment and other tools were stolen from the store room of the telephone property last night by intruders who broke the glass in a window to enter.

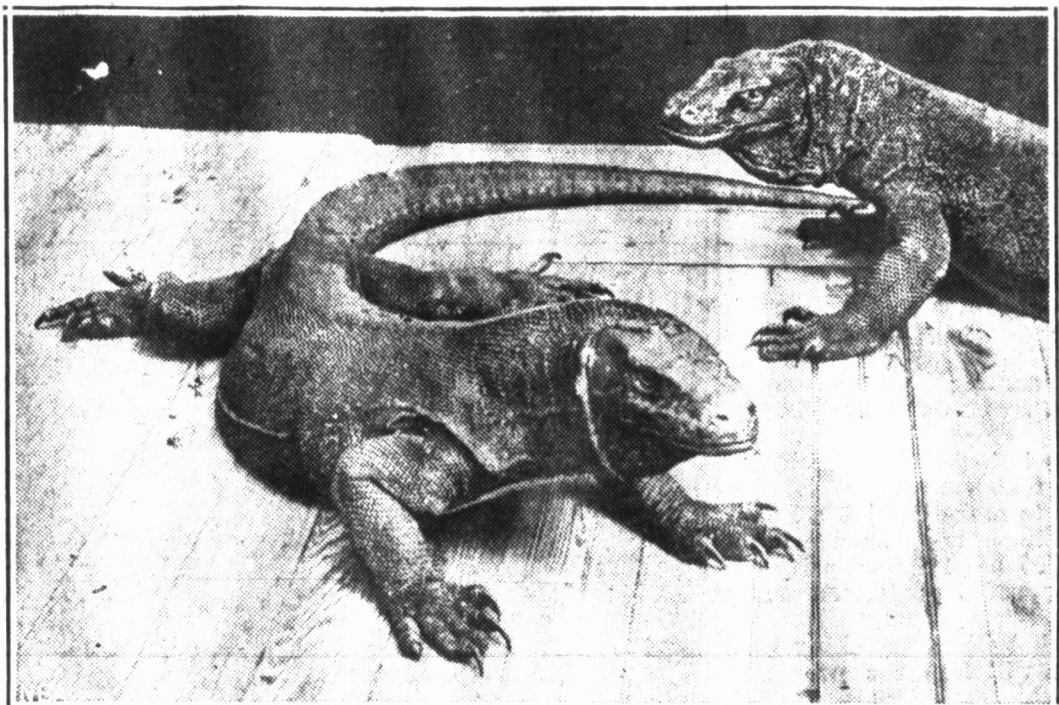

As the robbers fled, Jerry Stammen, manager of the bank, stepped on an alarm button. Police responded immediately, but the bandits had disappeared in two automobiles which headed toward Grand Rapids.

State police and sheriff's officers sped along Highway M-21, which the robbers were believed to have followed, but apparently the fugitives doubled back on their trail.

ZOOK RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—Dr. George F. Zook resigned today as United States commissioner of education, effective July 1. John Ward Stuedebaker, superintendent of the schools of Des Moines, Iowa, will succeed him.

You Don't Believe in Dragons Look Here!

Maybe you thought man-eating dragons were something you read about in fairy tales. Well, here are a couple right before your eyes—shown as they appeared on

Blame Dillinger In Robbery

Witness Who Was Stood on By Machine Gunner Sure Of Bandit's Identity.

FLINT, Mich., May 18 (AP)—Machine gun bandits—who may have been led by John Dillinger—carried out a carefully planned raid on the Glenwood Avenue Branch of the Citizens Commercial and Savings bank this morning and made off with a consignment of between $20,000 and $30,000 in currency that had just been delivered in an armored car.

Witnesses said there were six men and a woman in the robber gang and that one of three men who entered the bank "looked like Dillinger." He carried a machine gun.

As the robbers fled, Jerry Stammen, manager of the bank, stepped on an alarm button. Police responded immediately, but the bandits had disappeared in two automobiles which headed toward Grand Rapids.

Kirk Roland, a cigar store proprietor, was the witness who connected Dillinger, fugitive desperado, with the robbery. He said one of the badits had a scar on his face.

FLAG MAN ARRIVES TO DECORATE CITY AND TO HELP WITH FLOATS

SEVERAL days before the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup opens here May 31, the business district will be decorated and draped with flags.

Mr. Haynie plans to decorate the fronts of business places with bunting, flags and welcome signs, and to hang Texas flags across the streets and on light standards.

He will also be available for float-building, and can be interviewed for advice, instruction of hire in building the floats in the basement of the Brunow building next to the new postoffice, where he has established headquarters.

Mr. Haynie agreed to build the floats for as low cost as possible a month ago when he was given a contract to decorate the town. Those who plan to build floats are invited to call upon him.

Members of the Pre-Centennial pageant cast were asked to bear in mind that the first rehearsal will be held tonight in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock as was announced yesterday, instead of the city hall auditorium, instead of the crueting meetings were held.

MOVES TO GET STRONG HOLD ON MUNITION

BOLIVIAN VIGOROUSLY OPPOSES EMBARGO ON ARMS

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked to Senate today to ratify the Geneva arms and ammunition convention in a move to obtain control of the traffic in munitions.

The private and uncontrolled manufacture of arms and munitions, the president said, "and the traffic therein have become a serious source of international discord and strife. It is not possible, however, effectively to control such an evil by the isolated action of any one country."

Mr. Roosevelt also urged that the world disarmament conference be convened on May 29 set up authority for the supervision and control of the traffic in arms which more far reaching than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925" which is now before the Senate.

NO IMMEDIATE BENEFITS DALLAS, May 18 (AP)—Secretary Henry Wallace warned Texas farmers today not to expect immediate benefits of the tariff act before congress, in the event it is enacted into law.

I SAW— A nice letter from Isaac M. Simpson of Canadian and he wrote that he and his wife expect to be here during the Pre-Centennial and mentioned that he hopes to bring his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Simpson who were the first white couple married in the Panhandle. We couldn't throw that Pioneers Roundup without Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson!

Those fine high school boys who arrived at the Pre-Centennial pageant meeting exactly on time, sending glowing looks at the townspeople who arrived late—as usual. It's been suggested we fix a penalty for tardiness or absence and let the Harvesters enforce it, with Mamie Owens and Lloyd Hamilton directing such ceremonies.

Printed separately on coated paper and given to students will be a 2-page sheet with pictures of all the graduates of '34, together with pictures of several teachers and sponsors.

Readers should remove the pictorial pages and save them for future reference. The school staff has worked hard to put out the best edition in local history.

GOOD NEWS FOR COUNTY

It is welcome information that the buyers of Gray county bonds consider them as good as the day the bonds were voted. While the county has been able to buy advantageously some of its own bonds at less than par to interest, the purchases were from persons in financial distress.

It is welcome news that the county now finds itself in a position to go ahead with the Pampa-McLean highway. Although the CWA work was good while it lasted, there is no longer any hope of finishing the road with other funds.

It is to be hoped, of course, that the federal 70-30 plan will be granted for topping the road. The state committee approved this loan. The county's credit is impregnable.

A reasonable deduction is that when something good is done for Gray county you will find the people of Gray county doing it.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, The NEWS: Will you please print the enclosed letter bearing the endorsement of the candidacy of Senator Tom Connally of Texas by the American Federation of Labor.

JOHN W. CROUT, Box 1881, Pampa.

Mrs. George H. Slater, secretary Texas State Federation of Labor, 225 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas.

Dear Brother Slater: It has ever been the policy of labor to stand by those members of the United States senate and the national house of representatives who have shown themselves to be sympathetic with and friendly to legislative recommendations of the American Federation of Labor.

For this reason I am writing you on behalf of Senator Connally, whom we hold in high esteem and whom we regard as fair and just to labor during all his legislative services.

We recall that while he was a member of the house of representatives he supported labor measures exposed and endorsed by the American Federation of Labor.

Since serving in the United States senate he voted for the injunction relief measure and other equally important legislative proposals which labor had asked him to favor and support.

Senator Connally has been for labor, for the farmers and for the masses of the people. He has supported the legislative measures which have been endorsed by all these groups.

In pursuit of its non-partisan, political policy, the American Federation of Labor extends hearty endorsement to the candidacy of Senator Connally for reelection to the United States senate.

I respectfully urge and request that the men and women of labor and all their friends in the state of Texas rally to the support of Senator Connally, so that he may be reelected to the United States senate by a most triumphant and decisive majority.

Very sincerely yours, W. GREEN, President, American Federation of Labor.

BRITON CHARGES JAPS ARE PLOTTING TO GRAB NEW EMPIRE

URGED UNITED STAND AGAINST JAP EXPANSION

ASSERTS BRITAIN AIDS IN HELPING CHINA'S IRON HAND

LONDON, May 18. (AP)—Charges that Japan is planning to carve out of Chinese territory a "Manchukuo number two" were made on the floor of the House of Commons today.

The charges were aired by Sir Stafford Cripps during debate on foreign affairs.

Asserting that Great Britain through "vacillation and weakness of policy" is helping Japan's hand in China, he suggested co-operation of Britain, Russia and the United States in a program aimed at halting Japanese expansion in the Far East.

Sir Stafford added that Britain "will not face realities regarding securities for the integrity of China and Britain either in a league with Japan or turning a benevolent eye on her operations."

He heatedly continued that Britain's failure to face realities regarding security the world over was damaging all efforts to bring about world disarmament.

Sir Stafford, one of the aspirants to the labor party leadership, recently brought a storm of criticism upon himself when he declared that influences which his party will have to overcome when it attains power may include Buckingham Palace.

In explaining later, he said he did not mean to refer to King George at all, but only to those who advise his majesty.

With characteristic vigor, Sir Stafford told the commons in pursuing his subject that "if Japan next takes a bite out of south China, European powers may be forced out of the east altogether."

Sir Stafford continued: "Following her withdrawal from the league, Japan now is engaged in converting Manchuria and Jehol into a great military base with strategic roads and railways ready for some French adventure.

"Presumably, she is not carrying out that extensive program without some policy behind it which she intends to follow up in the future."

ATZ' GENIUS IN BASEBALL RECOGNIZED

Former Fort Worth Skipper Seems To Be on Return Trail in Tulsa Club.

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The manner in which he is plotting the Tulsa Oilers suggests that Jake Atz is far from through as a pennant winning skipper. Critics who attributed his six consecutive championships at Fort Worth mainly to a strong and well balanced club will have to find another reason if Atz and his Oilers continue their pace.

After leaving Fort Worth several years ago Atz managed Dallas, Shreveport, and New Orleans with no success. Some critics hastened to declare that the once miracle manager of the Texas league probably was not a wizard at any time but just had a fine ball club that Paul LaGrave, the business manager molded and kept intact for several years.

Today Atz is on the comeback trail. He has been through a series of hard knocks the last three years but now is his old self and again proving his worth as a manager. He hasn't a powerful ball club at Tulsa. He has the Oilers hustling and is again employing the tricks of inside baseball he used when steering the Cats. Jake Atz, day by day, probably is the Texas league's most popular character with fans and a majority of sports editors and they are gratified to see his team in the first division battling for the pennant. It means Jake is out of a rut.

A FAILURE

The biggest disappointment of the Texas league season was the inaugural night baseball at Dallas. Plans had been made for a gala night. Club officials were confident the crowd would be 4,000 or more with Houston opposing the Steers. But at game time the crowd was estimated at 400.

Poor attendance at Dallas seriously hampers operation of the entire league because a substantial gate at Dallas has meant help to towns like Beaumont.

Texas league moguls are trying to keep their chips up. They are forcing smiles and looking forward. Vice President Bob Tarleton of the Dallas Steers, believes attendance will increase when races end at the Texas state fair park track but he takes a grain of salt with his optimism.

FAIR HANGED

NEW ORLEANS, May 18. (AP)—George Dallas and John Capaci were hanged in the Gretna Jail shortly after noon today for the murder of Charles Rabito, grocery clerk, in a holdup.

The trap was sprung on Dallas at 12:06 p. m. and he was pronounced dead ten minutes later. Capaci went to his death at 12:23 p. m.

Giants Trying To Hold on Till Pitcher Returns

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—Dissatisfied so far with efforts of the Giants to outpoint the opposition with fancy footwork and a light left jab, Colonel Will Terry passed the work to his men today to "stick and slug," even if it takes all summer.

"We are still alive and kicking," smiled the champions' manager, "but there's no use kidding ourselves that we can win as many low score games with this jack rabbit ball as we did last year or that our pitching defense is going to be as good as we need, until Parmelee returns. For that reason, I have shifted the line-up to get more batting punch. O'Doul will stick as long as he keeps hitting and I'm hoping Johnny Vergez will snap out of his slump in time to deliver his former driving power."

For all that Terry talks about the value of a solid base-hit strategy, however, he clings to the conviction that pitching will decide whether the Giants keep the championship.

Ross Cowan of Miami transacted business here today.

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTS

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

2 OF GREATEST POLO PLAYERS IN WORLD ARE NATIVE TEXANS

Cecil Smith and Rube Williams Return to Long Island for Polo Campaign.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cecil Smith and Rube Williams, world famous polo stars, who were Llano, Tex. cowpunchers before starting careers as malleters, have returned to Long Island for the big polo campaign. They were several weeks in Texas purchasing polo ponies and training them at Miller Field, San Antonio, where they are associated with George Miller who gave Smith and Williams to the polo world. Before leaving, Smith and Williams shipped a string of 45 ponies to Long Island.

Smith rose to the polo pinnacle as a result of this spectacular playing last summer in the east-west series. He is a 10-goal player. Williams, an 8-goal player, is rated one of the world's best backs. It is practically assured both will be members of the west team in this fall's east-west match at Meadowbrook.

Both stars were born and reared in Llano county where they rode the range and punched cattle. Williams started his polo career two years ahead of Smith when he began training polo ponies for George Miller at Austin, more than 12 years ago. When they two ride the eastern polo fields this summer they will be mounted on Texas reared and trained ponies.

Real Stars

There is no doubt about the rating of Smith and Williams as polo aces. When a player is admitted to membership in the polo association he automatically carries a rating of one goal. Until rated officially by the handicapping committee. The highest rating at which a player is registered is 10 goals.

From the total of over twelve hundred registered players, only about 15 rate 7 goals or better and Smith and Williams are among the select few.

Perhaps the greatest polo player of all time was Foxhall Keene, whose rating from 1890 to 1920 was 9-goals for 16 years and 10 goals for 14 years. Thomas Hitchcock, Sr., from 1890 to 1920 was never rated less than 7 goals. His rating follows:

- 21 years 7 goal.
- 4 years 9 goal.
- 2 years 8 goal.
- 3 years 10 goal.

John E. Cowdin from 1890 to 1921 rated as follows:

- 22 years 8 goal.
- 6 years 9 goal.
- 2 years 10 goal.

It is easily seen that Smith and Williams are not only among the best players of all time but promise to shadow the records of such players as Cowdin and Hitchcock because both are young and have years of polo, barring accidents, ahead of them.

Americans Hope To Beat Jinx in British Amateur

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 18. (AP)—By force of numbers as well as by individual skill, America's simon-pures hope to shake the jinx that trails invading players in the British amateur golf championship here next week.

Although only two native Americans, Jess Sweetser and Bobby Jones, ever have won the title, the current United States challenge, consisting of all nine members of the victorious Walker cup team, as well as Jesse Guilford, one-time Boston "sleeze gun," is by no means taken lightly by British critics.

Bookmakers have installed Johnny Goodman, American open champion, as co-favorite with the Scot, Jack McLean, for the title won so unexpectedly a year ago by 56-year-old Michael Scott. Not far behind them in the list of odds are the other eight Walker cup stars.

George Dunlop, who was eliminated by Scott in the semi-finals last year at St. Andrews; Gus Moreland, Jack Westland, Francis Guilmet, Max Marston, Chandler Egan, Johnny Fischer and Lawson Little. So far only Marston and Egan, of Americans, have arrived on the scene to test their shots over the 6,831-yard championship layout.

The biggest obstacle in the path to an American victory lies in the draw. Every Walker cup player except Goodman is in one half of the draw.

Texas Cowboys Off for London

SAN ANGELO, May 18. (AP)—Loops across the sea! A hundred cowboys, masters of the romantic trade of cattle ranching, leave Montreal, Canada, this week for London to give the English a sample of the rodeos famous in Texas.

Most of the rodeo stars are from Texas. Included among those from the San Angelo country are Harold Jackson, Dan Utley, Mrs. Dan Utley, Pete Eyck, C. M. Berry, T. J. M. Berry, T. J. Richards, Allen Holder, E. Parde, Jake McClure, Cleve Jones, Howard Westfall, Tuffy Welch and Bob Crosby.

Canadian cattle will be taken to use in the events. The ropers will fight for a $9,000 purse. Instead of tying a calf down after roping him, a bell will be placed around his neck.

Frank Buck Is Here in New Film

The strangest of all professions has been made the basis for the current hit "Wild Cargo," with the jungles of the Far East its background and Frank Buck the business man. Mr. Buck takes orders from circus, zoo or carnival for almost anything in the zoological field. This time he brings back alive an organ-utan, a rare Indian male rhinoceros, a pair of spotted leopards, a tapir, a black panther and some sixty or seventy other living things from the deepest jungles. And Mr. Buck proves there are no secrets in his line by showing on the screen just how it's all done. "Wild Cargo," will be shown at the La Nora today and Saturday.

FRENCHY McCORMICK IS ONLY PERSON LIVING AT TASCOSA WHO SAW 29 INTERRED ON BOOT HILL

Woman Still Lives in Adobe House Near Cemetery

TASCOSA, May 18 (AP)—Sandstone slabs marking the graves of men who died and were buried with their heads on look down from a bleak hill on the ruins of this little town that once was one of the most colorful in the west.

It was well known to Billy The Kid, Pat Garrett, Mickey McCormick, and other famous frontier characters. Only one person who heard the roar of the guns that put 29 men to sleep on boot hill with their boots on remains in the town. She is Mrs. Mickey McCormick.

It was on the north side of the Canadian river, about 40 miles northwest of Amarillo, that Tascosa sprang up to be a cowboy's paradise of gambling houses and drinking places.

Mrs. McCormick, known as "Frenchy" in the days when she and Mickey were spectators of the history made at Tascosa, perhaps is the only person who knows all that happened and how it occurred in old Tascosa. Born of Creole parents in Baton Rouge, La., at 16 she was on the stage at St. Louis. She went to Dodge City, Kan., the year the railroad was built there and met Mickey McCormick. They journeyed to Tascosa, then the only town in the Texas Panhandle.

Frenchy remembers Boot Hill rearing its first man, its second man and on up to 29. Boot Hill was started in the early 70's, according to Frenchy. One night a strange puncher drifted into Tascosa, dropped his reins over a post in front of a saloon and walked into the building. Something happened. A six-gun spoke and the stranger fell to the floor.

The next morning he was carried to the bleak hill just outside of town and buried as he had fallen. From that Boot Hill took its name and from then on men who died in Tascosa with their boots on found their last rest on Boot Hill.

Frenchy stood in the door of her adobe abode and glanced up at the lonely hill. Mist formed in her eyes. "That's where they all went, those bad men. But Mickey didn't go there."

One by one men were carried to the bleak hill until 28 pairs of boots were buried there. Then the feud between the LIT and the Lone Star ranches flamed into one of the most famous in Texas, bringing a dramatic climax to Boot Hill and Tascosa.

The Lone Star outfit imported gunmen to mix it with the LIT boys and the people of Tascosa looked forward to another solemn occasion on Boot Hill. That happened. One night the Lone Star boys became too cocky. LIT cups roared. The next morning a small group of cowboys climbed Boot Hill. Three pairs of boots dangled from their arms. They were the boots of the imported Lone Star men. They were killed March 21, 1886, and they were the last to be claimed by Boot Hill. Their grave stones, the only three on the hill, bear the Lone Star brand.

The last gun play brought peace officers, law and order, and the slow decay of Tascosa.

Skyscraper's Architectural Father Is Dead

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP)—Cass Gilbert, 74, architectural father of the skyscraper, is dead.

The noted architect, who pioneered for beauty in commercial buildings and was regarded generally as a leader of his profession in America, died of a heart attack yesterday in a hotel room at Brokenhurst, England, while on a pleasure trip.

Gilbert designed the Woolworth building in New York—the world's tallest for many years—and numerous other notable structures, including the state capitol buildings of West Virginia, Minnesota and Arkansas, the New York custom house and the George Washington memorial bridge across the Hudson river.

His designing of the Woolworth building was regarded by many of his profession as an architectural landmark. For Frank W. Woolworth, who had to pay for it, the project was looked upon as a pleasant folly. But when President Wilson touched a button that halted the 60-story skyscraper in electric light the night of April 23, 1913, marking its completion, Gilbert was lauded as a pioneer.

Both in Zanesville, Ohio, he attended public schools at St. Paul and then studied architecture at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

MACON AT HOME
SUNNYVALE, Calif., May 18 (AP)—The naval dirigible Macaron arrived at her home port here early today completing her third transcontinental journey. She came from Miami, Fla., where she was sent to participate in the fleet's Caribbean maneuvers.

TOWN-AND-COUNTRY DOG
STONEY CREEK, Ont.—A dog lives in Stoney Creek—and thereby hangs a tale.
The home of the dog's master is on the township line, half in and half out of the village. So when the dog is in the front of the house he is a township dog and when he is in the back he is a village pup.

DOGS CHASE DOG-CATCHER
CHICAGO—To presume on an old saying—when a dog chases a dog-catcher, that's news.
Ordered to capture a mad dog, Dog-Catcher Richard Ardaech pursued his quarry into a very stable. There he tried five terriers.
At once the pursuer became the pursued; was chased from the stable and set on a route.
After finally catching the mad dog, Ardaech returned to the pound, only to be ordered:
"Get your wounds treated, then go back and catch the dogs that bit you."

She was the mother of Arthur Cecil Deits, publisher of the Maracabo Herald, Maracabo, Venezuela, one of the four English-language newspapers in South America. Mrs. Deits came here with her son two weeks ago for medical treatment.

UNITED STATES MOVES TO END 'JUNGLE' WAR

FDR TO ASK PASSAGE OF ARMS EMBARGO MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—The United States moved today on two fronts to silence the guns that for fifty years have boomed between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Under urgent state department instructions, American envoys in Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru are being authorized to seek the support of those governments in a plan for joint action to end the blood-drenched dispute over the jungle area.

At the same time, President Roosevelt began drafting a message in which it is indicated he will ask congress for quick passage of an arms embargo bill.

This would permit the United States to join with 16 other nations manufacturing nations in declaring an international and impartial embargo on all shipments of war supplies to the belligerents.

Bolivia and Paraguay are landlocked nations. All war munitions must be imported through the four countries whose territories surround them.

Officials here are known to believe that an agreement between the United States and those four contiguous republics to prohibit all arms shipments and to prevent all smuggling of munitions across their borders would smother the jungle war for lack of ammunition.

Co-operation with European nations in an international embargo on arms shipments to the belligerents advocated by Great Britain at Geneva would be parallel with and supplementary to the Latin-American embargo and anti-smuggling action.

The president now lacks authority to declare an embargo as desired by the League of Nations, but a senate bill now awaiting house action would grant him the required authority.

Bankers Favor Enforcement of State Oil Laws

DALLAS, May 18 (AP)—The Texas Bankers' association favors federal cooperation with state authorities in enforcement of laws regulating the movement of oil.

A resolution adopted at the closing session of the bankers' convention yesterday said overproduction of oil is contrary to state regulations, "constituting a continuous threat against the petroleum market and vitally affecting one of Texas' most valuable commodities."

"State authorities have had great difficulty in solving this problem and we believe additional authority and power are needed to conserve and stabilize the petroleum industry."

"We favor federal assistance, co-operation with state authorities, in enforcement of laws regulating the movement of oil in commerce."

Other resolutions commended the work of the farm credit administration.

Sam R. Greer, Tyler, was elected to the presidency of the association, and A. B. Childs, Naples, was named treasurer.

Pictures Earned By Schools Being Hung This Week

Beautiful pictures are being hung in Pampa schools this week. Sponsored by the Arno Art league, a Colonial art exhibit was held a few weeks ago. Ticket sales were in charge of the various schools. Pictures up to the value of $85 have been given the schools according to the percentage of tickets sold.

DALHART DAILY PLACES SECOND IN NEA CONTEST

Texas Newspaper Is Cited For Service In Community

ST. LOUIS, May 18 (AP)—The Dalhart Daily, a tabloid daily published by John L. McCarty, was awarded second place in both the community service contest and the most outstanding edition contest, daily newspaper division, of the National Editorial association.

The awards announced at the annual convention here today also included honorable mention for the Texan in the general excellence contest for daily newspapers with a circulation over 3,500. The Texan's showing was one of the best among the several hundred entries, the judges said.

The outstanding edition award was won by the Texan's Rock Island historical edition. One year was spent in gathering the historical data and the reminiscences of pioneers who were connected with the railroad.

"For its editorial treatment of the special edition topic and the reader interest developed for its whole circulation group, its edition was outstanding," the judges said. "It was the best historical edition it has been our privilege to examine in years."

Kenneth E. Olson, of the department of journalism, University of Minnesota, was chairman of the judges committee.

The Texan won its award in community service for aiding "a fine relief program, promoted a comprehensive farm development program, cooperated in solving a difficult bank situation, initiated a city beautification project, and helped schools, the general morale and in the collection of school taxes."

The Texan won first places in community service and outstanding edition contests at the Texas State Fair, Dallas, last fall, at which time it had been a daily less than a year. It also won second place for general excellence for small dailies.

Before going daily, the Texan won the Baylor university award in 1931 for community service, and placed second in the nation the same year.

Thirteen Smith Girls Permitted To Enter France

MADRID, May 18 (AP)—The thirteen American college girls refused permission to enter France without certificates of good conduct, won "battles of wits" today against the French consul without filling a single cablegram.

Twelve of the girls are from Smith college and the other from Bernard college of Columbia university. The consul yesterday had refused to grant them visas, unless they cabled to America for character vouchers.

Today he capitulated.

"The visas are ready for the girls at any time," he announced. He gave profuse explanations, but declined to reserve the right, in the future to demand assurance of good character from any other person desiring to visit France.

A thorough investigation by the American authorities was under way when the controversy ended.

Several of the girls are now undecided whether to visit France or return directly to the United States.

Married Women In Tangle With School Board

ERIE, Pa., May 18 (AP)—When is a married woman not a married woman?

That's the thorn piercing the side of Erie's school board, now that it's barred the hiring of married teachers.

Mrs. Bertha W. Mahoney started the storm by asking the board if a woman teacher, married and separated from her husband but not divorced, was eligible for a contract.

"I know of two or three women," she continued, "who are now living with their husbands and not getting along so well. They could be willing to give up married life if they could be appointed teachers."

Superintendent of Schools John C. Diehl thought that women not living with their husbands are eligible.

But this brought a chorus of "no's" from the board.

"That might open the way for fraud," one director pointed out.

"We might have some married women leaving their husbands to become teachers and then returning to their husbands again. Then we couldn't break the contract. Let them get a legal divorce first."

Exasperated, John McDonald, board president said "let's get a legal opinion."

Whoopee Trips Of Factor Are Irking British

CHICAGO, May 18 (AP)—Whoopee trips of John Factor, the international speculator, is rumored to have taken from the De Kalb county jail at Sycamore, Ill., took on an international aspect today.

Franklin R. Overmyer, counsel for the British Crown, said he would take the matter up with the Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador at Washington.

Factor, held pending his removal to England on stock fraud charges, was rumored to have made several night trips to Chicago as well as to have gone to a beer party at an Aurora, Ill., hotel, while awaiting the issuance of a presidential order to surrender him to the British government.

Both Sheriff Isaac George of Sycamore, who was reported to have gone with Factor to Aurora last Tuesday night, and Factor himself made denials of the reports.

Hall of Fame to Receive Statue Of Robert E. Lee

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—After decades of delay, congress will accept statues of George Washington and Robert E. Lee from the state of Virginia tonight.

Up to now they grey uniform that Lee wore has kept congress from thanking the old dominion for the statues.

Three resolutions were introduced acknowledging that state's gift to the hall of fame. Twice they were allowed to die because their Virginia authors learned of strong prejudice against national recognition of the southern general who left the United States army to fight for the confederacy.

The third time—in 1932—a resolution by Representative Woodrum (D., Va.), passed, although Representative Stafford (R., Wis.), objected to its wording.

Pleats Make This A Favorite—

Tag and climbing trees require plenty of room for action, and frisks that hamper movement have no place in the wardrobe of the average youngster. This frock hangs straight from the shoulders, with pleats front and back. The double-breasted style makes it easy for a little girl to dress herself, and the brief puff sleeves and ruffled collar make her look like something out of a picture book.

A gaze-but, sturdy cotton is suggested for this Easy-to-Make style. White lawn or organdie is a crisp accent. Size 4 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch print, 3/4 yard plain for ruffle and sleeve bands.

Captain D. E. Hamer of the headquarters company, received a letter recently which was purportedly written by a member of the Clyde Barrow gang. He was told to "lay off" or suffer the consequences.

Hamer got many threatening letters, he said, while the Rangers were investigating recently a theft of government bonds.

While he was in San Antonio working on the case he also received many anonymous telephone calls Tuesday night, and Factor and other violent ends.

One voice over a telephone wire told him not to venture out on the streets if he did not want to die.

"I am going down to my cafe at least as soon as I hang up this receiver and if you want to see me you will find me there," Hamer told the party on the other end of the line.

"I walked leisurely down the street to that cafe where I ate but no one showed up," he said.

Someone suggested he should wear a bullet proof vest but he scoffed at the idea.

"I wouldn't wear one of those things at all," he explained. "In the first place they will not turn just any bullet. Anyway, if a bullet from a powerful gun were to strike one wearing one of those vests he would get a shock that might prove fatal. It would be like hitting him with a sizeable rock. It would be sure to knock him down with great force."

President Might Visit Garner in His Uvalde Home

AUSTIN, May 18 (AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt has expressed a desire to come to Texas "next year." He told a delegation of Texans, who traveled to Washington on the Texas Press "Full House" special, that he hoped to be able to visit Texas and stay with John Garner, meaning Vice-President John N. Garner.

He said he had been listening to Jack Garner's fishing stories, and "I hope next year to go down and try to prove some of those fishing stories," said the president.

It would be a gala occasion for the Lone Star state, to have the nation's leader spend a season with its borders. He should stay with John in the peach-grow home of the vice president, there doubtless would be a wide path cut to Uvalde by admirers and confidants of the president. Not only would Texans face that way but many from all parts of the nation would of necessity visit the chief.

"John Garner compels me to stretch my imagination a bit but he has taught me how to tell fish stories," the president told the Texans. The president is quite a fisherman himself. He returned recently from a pleasant expedition off the coast of Florida.

The president expressed a wish that the Texas "could get around to every state of the union—spending a year on the road selling Texas."

"You don't have to sell Texas to me," he added.

The Texans might have reminded him that he had sold himself to Texas because the Lone Star state was the banner democratic commonwealth in 1932.

It will be the last program of the school year in the Hopkins community auditorium.

No Politics in Relief Shakeup?

AUSTIN, May 18 (AP)—One member of the Texas relief commission has discounted the theory that "politics" is the main factor behind the recent shakeup in the personnel of the commission and in the office of state relief director.

He has expressed the private opinion that a desire to make the relief commission a permanent state agency, and not political maneuvering, caused most of the conflict.

Other close observers of the relief commission's activities, however, are inclined to believe that any move to make the commission a permanent proposition is a long way off and that the shifting was due to personal enmities rather than to deep-seated political con- vention between any factions.

NORMAN, Okla., May 18 (AP)—The wolves are nipping at the heels of Bennie Owen, veteran director of athletics of the University of Oklahoma, and it is rumored he will be removed in June after 19 years of service.

TARIFF BILL TO BE PASSED 'AS IS' SOON

REPUBLICANS ARE TOLD THEIR OBJECTIONS ARE FUTILE

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—Senate democratic leaders marked "doomed" today all republican attempts to limit President Roosevelt's powers under the reciprocal tariff trading bill.

Into the teeth of a gathering gale of projected republican amendments, the new deal legislative chiefs flung their forecasts that the measure will be passed next—as is.

Before Senators Borah (R., Idaho) and Long (D., La.) assailed the measure in the opening debate as an unconstitutional grant of the taxing power to the president, minority leader McNary indicated a farm-exemption amendment would be pressed.

Senator Harrison (D., Miss.), finance committee chairman in charge of the house-approved bill, refused to accept such an amendment on the ground it would be "almost destructive" of the entire purpose of the legislation.

Senator Johnson (R., Calif.), prepared an amendment to limit the presidentially negotiated tariff agreements to industrial products. Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) had one pending to exempt all basic commodities under the agricultural adjustment act.

These are only two of a score of amendments the republicans have ready. One would require senate ratification of the trade pacts. Another would exempt all products under NRA codes.

Despite assertions by Harrison that there were ample constitutional precedents for the power proposed to be granted the president to change duties up or down by fifty per cent, Borah, in what all observers agreed was of his greatest speeches, deployed yesterday the trend toward a "dictatorship."

Mrs. Porter Pennington of Miami was a Pampa shopper yesterday afternoon.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—The stock market closed with its inflationary gains today and prices yielded part of their yesterday's substantial gains under quiet profit taking. While some of the metals were under pressure, most declines were held to a point or less. The close was somewhat heavy. Transfers approximated 950,000 shares.

THE NEW BEAT

GRAVE OF FANNIN AND MEN NEAR GOLIAD IS FINALLY DISCOVERED

GOLIAD, May 18. (AP)—The burial place of Fannin's Texas heroes, which was forgotten more than half a century, has been located again through a two-year investigation directed by County Judge J. A. White of Goliad and Lou W. Kemp, Houston, authority on Texas history.

A mistletoe army order and a local apathy decades ago caused the spot to become lost. Now that it has been found on a hill across a ravine from the old Fort of La Bahia in this county, a movement is being launched to have the state provide a suitable monument and develop a park shrine.

Those familiar with the history of the Texas revolution recall how Col. J. W. Fannin and 330 of his men were marched from La Bahia Fort late in March, 1836, and massacred after they had surrendered to the Mexicans in the belief they would be treated as prisoners of war. The flesh then was burned from their bodies.

More than two months later another Texas army, fresh from the triumph at San Jacinto, which ended the far-marched to the old fort and Thomas J. Rusk, the new commander, ordered a military funeral for Fannin and his men.

The order read that "the skeletons and bones of our murdered brethren be collected in one place in front of the fort and buried with all the honors of war."

It was this order that confused historians who started out to find the burial place after those who knew its whereabouts had died. They tried to locate it somewhere in front of the fort.

Judge White and Kemp, however, looked into an order issued later by Gen. Rusk. They found in that an instruction to Major George W. Poe to order "a minute gun fired from the fort commencing with the time the procession moves until it arrives at the grave." From that they deduced that the large grave must be some distance from the fort, since a gun was to be fired each minute and it would not take many minutes for a procession to move a considerable distance. They began unearthing links of evidence—a reference in the record of a Goliad ordinance of 1833; an ancient map; a disclosure found in an obscure book published in 1838; affidavits of a resident whose father once marked the grave with a pile of rocks and of Mexicans whose forebears spoke of it; and finally, an excavation made by Dr. J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology at the University of Texas.

In a book published in 1858, J. de Cordova, its publisher, said the grave had been marked with a pile of rocks. That might have been the only remaining clue needed except that no such pile could be found. However, a number of large rocks was found scattered about a once cultivated field on the hill across the ravine from the fort, and the fact that they were strewn along the fence line indicated they had been cleared from the field.

Then a gopher, with the assistance of Edward A. Martin of Goliad, supplied the next aid. Near the center of that field at the peak of the hill, the gopher unearthed some small, partly charred bones and a marble did his part by finding them.

At that Dr. Pearce was called in to make an excavation. After finding traces of charred bones, Dr. Pearce said "I think there is no doubt whatever that we were working in the site on which Fannin's men had been buried."

Commencement Addresses Made By Pampa Men

Two Pampa men gave commencement addresses in nearby towns last night. Supt. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher went to Mobeetie, where Supt. Fisher spoke to high school graduates. The Rev. James Todd Jr., was speaker at the seventh grade commencement exercises at White Deer.

A filled auditorium of pupils and parents heard an address on new changes in education. Seven students are in the graduating class this year. Supt. and Mrs. Fisher praised the friendliness and hospitality of Mobeetie citizens.

The Mobeetie school, unaffiliated for some time, has received 13 affiliated credits under the guidance of Carl Chaudoin and a staff of efficient teachers. Several Pampa teachers and former Mobeetie instructors.

Rev. Todd in speaking to the White Deer class talked on getting the best out of life. He pictured the hardships of high school work and also the result of education in future life. There are 20 in the graduating class this year.

The auditorium at the White Deer school was packed to capacity to heart the address and awarding of diplomas.

Baxter Arrests A Strange Negro

W. H. Baxter, justice of the peace, brought a negro to the county jail yesterday afternoon after the man had been found lying in a ditch south of the Grandview school. Mrs. C. E. Pipes, Gray county sheriff, learned about the negro while attending a celebration at Grandview school and with Mr. Baxter went after him.

Investigation is being conducted as to his identity. He is believed to be insane and has not made any statement to officers. The man had been seen several times during the last week in that community.

Elevator Code Called an Aid By Grain Chief

AMARILLO, May 18. (AP)—Frank A. Theis, chief of the grain division of the AAA, told Panhandle grain dealers in annual convention here today, that the new elevator code would protect 15,000 country elevators in the nation from being forced out of business by unfair competition of larger concerns.

A committee comprised of Harry L. Kearns, Amarillo, K. K. Smith of Fort Worth, and S. E. Con Lubbok, was appointed to draw out a schedule of elevator rates in the Panhandle which must be in each elevator under the code. S. J. Cole, traffic manager of the Amarillo Grain exchange, pointed out the dangers of the Panhandle losing some of its market outlet because of low water rates from the Pacific northwest through the Panama canal, and low barge rates down the Mississippi. "Grain can be hauled down the west coast and through the Panama canal for only 8 cents a hundred pounds more than if the shipment originates at a gulf point," Cole said. The grain dealers will make estimate of the 1934 Panhandle wheat crop tomorrow.

Catechisms Will Be Taught Young Baptist Children

FORT WORTH, May 18. (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention voted today to instruct its Sunday school board to provide catechisms for children of the junior and intermediate departments to teach them "why they are Baptists."

Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, preached a centenary address in memory of the birth of Charles Haddon Spurgeon, famous English preacher and author.

The appearance of Dr. Truett, who has just returned from England, where he participated in a Spurgeon centenary observance, brought an overflow crowd to the convention coliseum, which has a seating capacity of 8,000.

RABBIT DRIVES SEEM FUTILE IN PLAINVIEW AREA

Bunny Population Is Showing Steady Increase

PLAINVIEW, May 18. (P)—Do rabbits—just plain cottontail bunnies and "mule-eared" jackrabbits—migrate?

That question is being asked throughout the central plains country of which Plainview is the center. This area, which is just now the garden spot of the Panhandle-Plains region, is literally overrun with rabbits. Almost every country in Hale and adjacent counties has had its rabbit drive, each resulting in the slaughtering of thousands of the pests, but they scarcely are missed.

From Hereford and Canyon south beyond Lubbock, and from the caprock to the eastern tier of counties in New Mexico, the rabbit population is the largest in history. They move on the green wheat fields and gardens in droves, the farmers report. Many of the farmers have armed themselves against the invasion of the green wheat nibblers, which threaten ruin to crops unless their ranks are thinned.

Although there is no authority for the belief, many have expressed the opinion that the abnormal crop is due to a migration from the drought-stricken northwest Panhandle. Reports indicate the arid region west and northwest of Amarillo has lost many of its rabbits but whether they have died or migrated to "greener pastures" is more or less conjecture.

The mildest winter in half a century might have contributed to the abnormal crop. The theory advanced by Frank Dobie of the University of Texas, that extermination of coyotes will react against the farmers and ranchers by increasing the rodent crop also is accepted. But the fact that the rabbits first increased in numbers in Swisher county a year ago and are gradually moving southward into the region more favored by rain substantiates the migration theory.

The farmers are making every effort to check hordes. "Two thousand rabbits slain in big drive in Lasky sector," "one thousand rabbits killed in Cedar and Liberty drive," are examples of headlines seen frequently in newspapers of the territory. These drives are well-organized and dozens of hunters participate. Sometimes they drive the rabbits toward a given point, closing in on them from all sides until the rabbits can be clubbed to death. In other drives the hunters line up abreast and march in one direction, the nearest marksman shooting any rabbit which "gets up."

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Two men are found dead, in Pierre Dufresne's splendid house. Although the evidence points to the fact that they shot each other, Sergeant Harper does not believe it. Then, from the reporter, Howard Doyle, Harper learns that Mrs. Dufresne was not where she was supposed to be at the time of the murder, and that someone has watched the Dufresne house from across the fence. He refuses to use his new evidence at once, however.

CHAPTER 19 THE ENVELOPES

"Just the same, Sergeant, it would be a mighty handy weapon to swing over their heads," Lafferty said. "Ten to one it was somebody connected with this house who stood out there watching last night."

"Yes, I'll grant all that, but we'd still be aiming in the dark. We are not sure whether the marks on the other side of the wall were left by man or woman. They've been covered up too well by the later snow. On the other hand, their condition proves that they were made about the time Officer Hamill came along, for their condition is approximately the same. It may even be that his arrival caused this watcher to flee."

"The answer might be found in a certain room upstairs. You remember what Doyle told you—"

"You think it was Mrs. Dufresne who was hidden behind the wall?" "How did you guess it?" Lafferty remarked sarcastically. "The weather last night wasn't exactly suitable for a pleasure stroll."

Harper nodded gravely. "Yes, it looks bad, but she has us blocked very nicely there. We can't do much until Dr. Ulrich lifts his embargo and then the lady has to do it in the fire. Evidence that some one was outside the house is not quite the same thing as proving there was some one inside while the crime was being committed, not with an unmarked expanse of snow between the two locations."

"Of course, we'll have to check up everyone's whereabouts for last evening. The real key to the whole question lies in the identity of the man Hamill killed. I'm convinced he's not the absolute unknown they all claim he is. Donaghy threw out a hint of that, but Donaghy's going to be hard to handle."

Harper folded the sketch and put it away in his wallet. "Remember," he cautioned, "not a word about this. Now, let's give science a chance."

They sat down at the table side by side, and Harper spread out the first bundle of papers. There were six photographs in the lot, one of the fingerprints of the unidentified dead man's right hand, one of his left, and separate enlargements of the thumb and forefinger of each hand.

"Jackson cannot identify the fingerprints. They are not in our files. He is sending duplicate prints to other large cities and to the United States Bureau of Investigation." Lafferty nodded approvingly. "That's a good idea."

The next package revealed a series of photographs showing the scene of the crime from various angles and pictures of the dead man in the armchair, both with and without his facial disguise.

Attached to these was Jackson's second report, giving the physical dimensions and characteristics of the victim of Hamill's gun, after the adapted and improved methods arising from the original system of Bertillon. Harper ran his eye down the divisions. "Not much help there for identification," was Harper's comment as he passed the list to Lafferty.

Another envelope yielded the prints made from the fingerprints found on various objects in the room—pieces of furniture, the liquor glass, the decanter, the cigarette package and the gun. Each photograph bore Jackson's identification of the mark as being that of the dead man.

"The fingerprints of Officer Hamill were similarly certified as being correct. They appeared only on the gun which had been found lying under his hand. 'All in order so far,' Harper was forced to admit.

Next came two small cardboard boxes. The detective opened one and from the midst of its packing of cotton wool extracted a scarred twisted lump of metal. There was a tag fastened to it marked with serial numbers.

"Is that one of the bullets?" Lafferty asked. "Yes, this is the one that rubbed out our mystery man," Harper replied, examining the rifling grooves in the twisted bullet. There was a second metal pellet in the box, not quite as mis-shapen, but likewise tagged and bearing a splash of red paint on the bottom. This was the test bullet fired by Carlin from the dead policeman's gun and used in comparison with the lethal bullet to establish the homicide weapon.

Harper had watched this scientific check-up being made on former occasions and knew that the well-defined rifling grooves, so plainly visible to the eye, served only to establish the make of the weapon, the identification of the specific gun being accomplished the table and regarded them thoughtfully. "It's hard to see how our theories of premeditated action are going to hold up against this sort of evidence," he mused.

Still watching the fateful bullets, he ripped open the last two envelopes with his finger. One was a bulky manila affair containing the assortment of crank letters which Mr. Dufresne had turned over to the police at the time he had first taken up the matter with them. Harper put them aside for more detailed study later.

The other envelope contained the autopsy report. They had found no additional mark of violence on the unknown man's body. A moderate amount of alcohol was found to be present, but not sufficient to cause intoxication. An analysis revealed that a cooked meal had been eaten about three hours before death.

Harper put down the coroner's report with a sigh. "Well, according to all the scientific tests and standards these two men, apparently total strangers, suddenly came face to face in this room and killed each other—just like that." The detective banged his fist on the table with sudden vehemence. "I don't believe it!"

BROWNS TAKE FOUR OF LAST FIVE BATTLES

ST. LOUIS BEATS RED SOX AT BOSTON 4 TO 3

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

Stimulated by the influence and example of Manager Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis Browns have begun to assume a threatening attitude toward their American league rivals. After a bad start, the Browns wound up their recent, east-ward five games. Returning home yesterday they averaged two defeats in Boston by trimming the Red Sox 4 to 3. For seven innings the Browns could do a thing with Fritz Graebner, rookie left-hander. Then Hornsby inserted himself as a pinch hitter in the eighth after another pinch batsman, Al Bejma, had doubled, and smashed a homer that tied the score at 2-2. Ray Popper and Earl Clark followed with doubles and Oscar Millili singled for the other St. Louis runs.

Detroit made the only other American league gain as the western club, starting their home stands, swept the program. The Tigers beat out the league-leading Yankees 5 to 4 to give Tommy Bridges his first triumph over New York and moved into third place. The White Sox showed Philadelphia down to fourth by defeating the A's 7 to 2. Cleveland's Indians spotted Washington four runs in the first two innings, then cut loose with a 17-hit attack on four Senator pitchers that produced seven runs in the seventh and a final score of 14 to 6.

The Cubs retained the National League lead as Klipp knocked his tenth and eleventh homers and

DAVID GOLDMAN IS CONTENDER FOR STATE'S GOLFING CROWN

Last Year Goldman Eliminated Gus Moreland to Win Dallas Invitation Meet.

(Editor's note: A new state amateur golf champion will be crowned the week of May 27 at the Brook Hollow Golf club. Gus Moreland, three consecutive times champion, will not defend his title. He is in Europe to compete in the British amateur. This is the fifth of a series of stories on prominent candidates for Moreland's championship.)

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

One of the most accurate putting blades in the country will stroke in flawless rhythm when David Goldman starts his qualifying round in the Texas Golf association championship May 30.

For several years, Goldman has ranked as a top-notch southwest golfer. He has defeated Gus Moreland several times. Johnny Dawson, crack Chicago amateur, once said of Goldman: "He is an artist with approach and pitch shots, and a headache with that putter."

Goldman will be shooting for the state championship with a great collection of iron shots and an improved tee shot, and he is going to be an obstacle in the path of all who seek this year's championship. He is noted for his iron nerve, his fighting spirit and his changeless expression when playing a match.

Goldman holds one championship led the way to a 10-3 triumph over the Phillies. Pittsburgh dropped to second place when Earl Grace made a wild throw past first trying for a double play in the tenth inning of a hurling duel between Van Mungo and Bill Swift and the error gave Brooklyn a 2 to 1 decision.

St. Louis defeated Boston 5 to 3 as Virgil Davis and Manager Frank Frisch hit homers to back Paul Dean in his third pitching triumph. Big Fred Fitzsimmons pitched and batted the Giants to a 6 to 3 victory over Cincinnati, giving only four hits in the first seven innings and helping out with a homer.

The Dallas Country club invitation which he won in 1932 by defeating Johnny Falconer, 2 and 1, and which he retained last year by whipping Gus Moreland, 4 and 3. Goldman was also medalist last year with 37-35-72, even par. He made his greatest bid for a major championship at Oklahoma City in 1932 when he swept to the finals of the Trans-Mississippi where he lost to Moreland in finals. In a 1932 consensus of the 10 best Texas golfers, David placed second to Moreland.

In his first tournament this season, Goldman shot rounds of 75-87-77-74-313 in the $2,000 Galveston open, which Tom Greavy, professional, won with 294.

In a recent exhibition match over the San Antonio Willow Spring course, Goldman was three under par for his 18 holes. Admirers who saw him play at San Antonio claim he is at the peak of a great golf game and that he will win this year's championship.

Allison Recovers From His Injuries

PHILADELPHIA, May 18 (AP) — The rising hopes of the American Davis cup tennis team received another boost today—Wilmer Allison is due at the training scene after reporting his injury to be less serious than was at first believed.

Allison, last of the squad to arrive at the Merion Cricket club in Haverford, sprained an ankle in Washington two weeks ago. In sending word that he was going, the Texan revealed that he has been practicing easily for the past few days in Washington, but "can't do much running yet."

The five members of the squad besides Allison are Frank Shields, Lester Stiefen, George Lott, Sidney B. Wood, and John Van Ryn. Working with them are Vincent Richards and Hans Nusslein, the first professionals to aid in training a Davis cup team.

TULSANS DROP 4 TO 0 GAME TO BUFFALOES

SAN ANTONIO DEFEATS DALLAS STEERS 5 TO 1

By The Associated Press.

Jake Alz's Tulsa Oilers, league leaders, opened their southern invasion yesterday by dropping a 4 to 0 game to the hustling Houston Buffaloes. Mike Cyengros, veteran south-paw, lamed Tulsa with four hits. Catcher Harry McCurdy, Outfielder Jim Moore, and Third Baseman Don Gutteridge turned in sparkling play, to aid him. Moore batted in two of the four runs.

San Antonio picked up a few pennant notches on Tulsa by taking Dallas 5 to 1. Ralph Erickson, south-paw, allowed two walks, three hits and a stolen base in the first inning which accounted for four runs—enough to allow the Missions to coast home.

It was a slugfest at Galveston where the Buccaneers trimmed Fort Worth, 10 to 8. Galveston got 17 hits, including Catcher Linton's home run that came with the bases loaded.

Beaumont opened the home stay by trouncing Oklahoma City, 6 to 3. Joe Hare got away to a bad start when he allowed the Indians two runs in the first and one in the second but he settled down to hurl a shutout ball. He allowed five hits.

Tests at the United States Forest Products Laboratory have indicated that aluminum paints are less effective as priming coats for wood than white pigment paints but serve as better bases for second and third coats of any paint.

HARVESTER GRID TEAM WILL PLAY BOWIE HIGH IN EL PASO

Jack Van Bebber To Grapple Sheik Marallah Monday

A new grappler, and one with a long record, will appear on the mat at the Ft-Mor auditorium Monday night when Jack Van Bebber of Lubbock meets Sheik Marallah, Asiatic champion, in the main event.

Van Bebber is wrestling coach at Texas Tech, Lubbock, and is one of the best known coaches and wrestlers in the country. Van Bebber was several times national amateur wrestling champion and last year was Olympic champion in the middleweight class. Not satisfied to remain in his own division after turning professional, the Dutchman stepped into the light heavyweight division to defeat Dan McQuirk before he wrestled the crown from Hugh Nichols.

Marallah is well enough known here and his prowess needs no boosting. Last week he defeated Charlie Heard, almost ruining the San Antonio speedster with a Japanese crab hold. Marallah showed that he can wrestle as well as get rough. The style of wrestling to be staged Monday night is unknown. The Dutchman, it is said, can get mean when the occasion arises.

A match between two little speedsters is something worth watching. Fans will have this opportunity when Charlie Heard, San Antonio, meets Dan Carver, El Paso, in the semi-final. The two maulers have demonstrated that they are lightning fast and know all about the wrestling game. Carver has been here only twice but has already become a favorite. Heard has long been popular with Pampa wrestling fans.

The card will open with Lobo Brown of Amarillo trying to subdue Wildcat Willie of LeFors who has Eleven Will Go to El Paso On Oct. 26; McLean Will Play Here on Oct. 20.

Coach Odus Mitchell yesterday announced the full Harvester schedule for 1934. He filled two vacant dates yesterday, one with McLean and the other with Bowie high school of El Paso. McLean will come to Pampa but the Harvesters will go to El Paso this year, with the return game here in 1935.

The official opening will be September 21 with the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City, played in Oklahoma City. The Indians will not be led by that great coach, Jim Lookabaugh, whose teams defeated the Harvesters the last two years. Lookabaugh next season will coach at Oklahoma A. & M.

The home season will be ushered in with the appearance of the Quanah Indians, which appears to be a bad omen—meeting two teams of scapling Indians in a row. Quanah will be here Sept. 29.

The complete schedule follows: (Clip it out and hang it somewhere):

- Sept. 21—Capitol Hill at Oklahoma City (night).
- Sept. 29—Quanah here.
- Oct. 6—North Side, Fort Worth, here.
- Oct. 13—Shawnee, Okla. here.
- Oct. 20—McLean here.
- Oct. 26—Bowie high, El Paso, at El Paso (night).
- Nov. 2—Plainview here.
- Nov. 12—Borger, at Borger.
- Nov. 23—Lubbock here.
- Nov. 29—Amarillo at Amarillo (Thanksgiving).

'POPEYE' MAY BOX KITCHENS ON BIG CARD

CHONG WILL FIGHT IN AMARILLO RING TUESDAY

An effort may be made to match "Popeye" Huber, Dallas clown, and J. D. "Kayo" Kitchens of Fort Worth for one of the supporting matches to the Duke Trammell-Ralph Chong championship fight to be staged here by the Pampa Daily News May 31, the opening night of the Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Roundup.

Kitchens, former Pampa boxer, has been "going like wildfire" since he left Pampa. Last month he won 10 out of 12 fights in some of the largest cities in the state. Kitchens, always a smart boxer with beautiful footwork, has developed a punch that has been carrying him to victories over some of the best boxers in the country.

The clown, is also a boxer and puncher of no mean ability. He has proved his ability by winning five fights in Amarillo, where he is a real favorite. He has beaten several well known fighters who were both boxers and punchers. Huber hits from all angles, similar to the style used by Wilson Dunn, great Indian fighter.

Chong, Chinese wonder, will arrive in Amarillo tomorrow or Sunday and will fight in that city Tuesday night. He will then come to Pampa to taper off training for his fight with Trammell. Chong is the sensation of the middleweight division. He has received many promising offers to fight in the north and east but he shows a preference to Texas as the present time.

The champion, Duke Trammell, will have two preliminary fights be-

Grid Grudge to Enter Into Two Baseball Games

To judge from the expressions of baseball fans and friends of the Indians, Pampa will move to Amarillo tomorrow afternoon to see the Indians play the Amarillo Governors in the opening game of the season in Amarillo. Both teams will, or are supposed to be, composed of players 23 years or under.

It has been hinted in Amarillo baseball circles that Pampa will be out to revenge football defeats since the entire Pampa team is composed of Harvesters or former Harvesters. The boys, however, have completely forgotten football and are thinking straight baseball.

Miles Marbaugh, the "Gomer" of the Indians, will get the call to start tomorrow. Manager C. O. Busby declared after a snappy workout yesterday afternoon, Alie Barnett will be behind the bat. Raymond Acklam, veteran right-hander, will do mound duty when the same teams meet Sunday afternoon. Return games will be played here at a later date, to be set sometime next week. The home games will be at Roadrunner park and the Indians will be in new uniforms.

fore coming to Pampa to finish training. He is in wonderful condition now and was afraid he would be over trained unless he had a night or two between his signing the Pampa contract and the fight.

Tickets will go on sale Monday morning at the City Drug Store, Corner Drug Store, Pampa Drug No. 1 and Harvester Drug Store. Persons holding box seat tickets at Roadrunner park, where the fight will be staged, may secure their same seats for the fight by telephoning their reservations to The NEWS before Monday morning. Box seats will be $1.10, tax paid. Rinside seats will be 75 cents and general admission will be 50 cents, tax paid.

FEDERAL AGENTS SEEK JOHN DILLINGER IN DESERTED MINE

'DOP KILLER' WENT TO MINE FROM RESORT

BELIEVE DESPERADO IS STILL HIDING NEAR CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 18.—The spectre of elusive John Dillinger crossed a path of the army of man hunters looking for him today.

Reports that federal agents had cornered at a deserted mine the fugitive Dillinger used after he and his pals had shot their way to freedom from a little Bohemia, Wis., resort, spurred the hunters.

The Milwaukee Sentinel said the spotted hideout was in the abandoned zinc mill of the Big Dick mine ten miles southeast of Platteville in the southwestern corner of Wisconsin. The newspaper said 40 federal agents have been combing the area since April 23 and 24 when Dillinger is believed to have hidden the mine.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Herald Telegraph, with a similar report of the ding of the hideout, said communication had come from Melvin H. Ryan, chief of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation.

The paper also reported that the agents had found the farm house near Edward G. Bremer, kidnaped Paul banker, had been held since. The house is situated not far from the abandoned mine. Previous reports had linked the Dillinger mob with the $200,000 "watch" of Bremer.

Meanwhile, federal agents in Chicago indicated they are satisfied Dillinger has not fled to South America or Mexico, as rumored, but still in hiding in or near Chicago.

Another report from Iowa City, Va., said that officers there were scuffling on whether Dillinger had passed through that city recently. An abandoned motor car carrying Indiana license plates was basis for the speculation.

Puzzle Is Unsolved by Suicide

A young wife is dead by her own hand in Chicago and three survivors of a "modern love" tangle grope for a way out of the tragic wreck of two marriages. Mrs. Allie Nelson, shown left with her husband, Julius, and Kenneth A. Hamm, right below, decided they were in love. They told Nelson and Mrs. Etna Hamm. Mrs. Hamm, upper right, crazed by the disclosure, shot herself. An inquest brought out details of the fatal romance, with husband and rival both declaring they still love Mrs. Nelson.

WICHITA TRIPPERS ARE TO BE MET BY WOODROW WILSON BAND

Wichita, Kans., boosters will hear the Woodrow Wilson Kid band when they arrive for a short visit May 22 at 9 a. m.

The school band will be in contrast to the Legion band of Wichita.

The visitors also will hear much about the Pre-Centennial and will be greeted by a be-whiskered delegation from the Junior chamber of commerce. Mayor W. A. Bratton will be the official greeter.

Mexicans Enjoy Visiting Texas' State Capitol

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, May 18 (AP)—Texas' stately capital annually attracts hundreds of Mexicans who come from afar to explore its expansive corridors and inspect its architectural grandeur.

Sundays and legal holidays they come to the huge granite building in scores. There are whole families and nearly all groups include a babe in the arms of the father or mother with the oldest of the children riding herd on the younger.

They do not give the building casual examination. They start at the bottom and end at the dome for a bird's-eye view of the capital city lying cradled between purple hills in the valley of the Rio Colorado.

Other points of interest around Austin, the old land office building, the new highway building and the extensive parks are visited but "el capitolito" is the center of attraction.

The building, with its ornately carved wooden doorways, long and high-ceilinged halls and many paintings portraying incidents in Texas' history, also is visited by hundreds of persons from out of the state who annually pass through Austin. The capital dome can be seen for miles when other parts of the city still are obscured.

A counter-attraction will be set up with completion of the main unit of the library and administration building at the University of Texas. The unit will be built on higher ground than that on which the capital is situated and its tower will be higher by several feet than the capital dome.

Hopes that the capital can be redecorated and made spick and span for the Texas Centennial observance in 1936, still are being held by state officials. An appropriation will be sought at the next session of the legislature either to match a federal appropriation or to carry out the work as an independent state project.

Both houses of the legislature at the last special session approved appropriation to repaint and redecorate the building but it failed when the houses were unable to agree on a conference committee report.

Bank Loot Dug Up Near Ozona, Officers Claim

OZONA, May 18 (AP)—Sixteen thousand dollars taken in a New Mexico or Oklahoma bank robbery is believed to have been dug up from a cache near a peculiarly marked hackberry tree on Live Oak creek off highway 27 in Crockett county.

Two men, one tall and blond, the other short and dark, came to the Tom Brown home nearby and asked if they could camp. Given permission, they went to a concrete bridge over the creek where one stood while the other disappeared along the creek bank. Shortly after they reappeared at the Brown home got a drink and disappeared hurriedly.

A few days later two other men came to the Brown home and inquired if two men, answering the description of the first pair, had been there. When they learned the others had preceded them they apparently became angry.

"We are after those fellows," one said. "They dug up $16,000 down there on a creek bank from a New Mexico bank robbery. We are on their trail and we will get them."

Investigation showed a fresh hole dug near a forked hackberry. Two distinct marks had been cut in the bark of the tree, the carvings converging at the spike and angling off to form a triangle. The tree is located less than 50 yards from the Live Oak bridge on highway 27.

Crockett county officers believe the men were members of a bandit gang and that some double crossing had been done.

LARGE SUMS ARE SOUGHT FOR PLAINTIFFS IN DAMAGE SUITS

Substantial damages are asked in a number of suits recently filed in 21st district court.

A. B. Nave of Childress has filed suit against John Bowers, wealthy local ranchman and oil heir, for $25,000 actual and $15,000 exemplary damages growing out of an incident last October 26 in district court here.

Mr. Nave claims he was seriously and permanently injured when struck by the defendant during a civil suit then on trial, involving them. The suit was filed by the law firm of Simpson & Brewster of Fort Worth.

Mr. Bowers also is defendant in a suit for $75,000 brought by Lloyd Purvis. Mr. Purvis claims that the defendant twice assaulted and injured him, the first time November 1, 1932 and the second February 11, 1933. The suit was filed by Miller and Works & Bassett of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Denton Swindall is suing the Panhandle Fruit company for $35,000 damages as a result of an accident on West Foster avenue January 25 of this year. Mrs. Swindall allegedly was permanently injured when the car in which she was riding was struck by a fruit company truck driven by Foy Hunsacker. W. M. Lewright is attorney for the plaintiffs.

The Panhandle Power & Light company is defendant in a suit for $20,000 actual and $20,000 exemplary damages filed by R. W. Parker et al. Parker's son, James E. Parker, was electrocuted September 21, 1932 in an accident under a high-tension line. The suit was filed by the local firm of Willis, Studer & Studer.

Tumbleweed Is Preventive of Soil Erosion

DALHART, May 18 (AP)—Two great preventives of disastrous wind erosion of soil on the north plains are the lowly tumbleweed (Russian thistle) and the goat-head, sometimes called cow-head burr, a vine that closely covers the earth when unmolested.

Nearly everyone is familiar with the tumbleweed, which, when mature, is a great, round, prickly mass that tumbles before the wind. Tumbleweeds when cut at a stage before its stickers harden, make excellent hay.

Some sort of vegetation on the ground is necessary to stop wind erosion, farm leaders point out, and if crop stubble, wheat or the like cannot be left until after the high winds of the following spring.

The sandy B. M. Kendall farm near Dalhart is one example of wind erosion being prevented by goat-head burrs while tumbleweeds held the soil on the Sheppard farm at Conlen, east of Dalhart, which otherwise would have lost 60 per cent soil fertility, it is believed.

The sub-soil or "hard-pan" of this section is not soil, has little or no plant food, and will sustain virtually no vegetation some farmers say. It is merely a reservoir to hold moisture for the top soil.

Old-timers say the tumbleweed was introduced to this section about 1905, the burr slightly later, the seeds dropping along the Fort Worth & Denver tracks out of hay shipments from the north.

Mexican beetles are reported doing considerable damage in the bean-growing belt of North Carolina.

Believe New Era In Regulation of Utilities Is Near

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, May 18 (AP)—State officials believe a new era in regulation of public utilities is at hand in Texas.

Members of the Texas railroad commission, charging with an appeal from rate ordinances enacted by cities, were elated over the outcome of the Laredo gas case in which a Travis county district court jury sustained as reasonable a rate prescribed by the commission.

It marked the first time an appeal from a railroad commission rate decision had been made to a state district court. Previously utilities dissatisfied with the commission's decisions had taken their litigation to the federal court for adjudication.

Some interesting and intricate legal maneuverings were involved in the state's efforts to get the Laredo case tried in a state court.

The utility appealed to the federal district court for an injunction prohibiting the commission from enforcing the rate. A temporary injunction was issued which restrained the commission, the attorney general and Laredo officials from doing "anything" to make the rate effective. Violation of the injunction was punishable by contempt proceedings before the federal court.

The state was unwilling to place its officials in jeopardy of contempt but still was anxious to get into the state court for trial.

Accordingly the attorney general's department filed suit in Travis county district court to enforce the order but in order to avoid an interpretation of this action as an attempt to violate the federal court injunction the state had itself enjoined from prosecuting the litigation.

When hearing was called in federal court on the gas company's request for a permanent injunction the state urged dismissal on the ground that a suit involving the same subject matter and parties was pending in a state court. The federal court stayed proceedings before it until the suit is disposed of in the state court.

Under the procedure in the Laredo gas case, an appeal must be taken to the Austin court of civil appeals and then to the Texas supreme court. If either side is dissatisfied with the final decision in the state courts it may then appeal directly to the United States supreme court.

PROFESSOR HONORED
LUBBOCK, May 18 (AP)—One of the three scholarships to be awarded by the American Council of Learned Societies for research work in the United States has been received by Dr. K. L. Knickerbocker, professor of English at Texas Tech.

Dr. Knickerbocker will make additions to his collection of unpublished letters by Robert Browning. He will continue his work this summer through the Pierpont Morgan Library at New York and the Yale University library, New Haven. Dr. Knickerbocker wrote his thesis on Browning when he took his doctor's degree from Yale.

Its inventor claims that his oil burner for industrial purposes will use any kind of oil, including crude and sludge, which is atomized in a mixing chamber that does not get hot to collect carbon.

Republicans And Democrats Clash On Tariff Issue

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—Democrats and Republicans clashed yesterday in the senate over their old political favorite—the tariff—with majority leaders urging quick passage of the reciprocal tariff reduction bargaining bill and the opposition demanding amendments for new safeguards.

Senator Harrison (D. Miss.) started the debate with a plea that the bill—giving the president power to negotiate tariff agreements with foreign powers to stimulate international trade—be passed as soon as possible to provide the United States with a weapon to recapture nearly $6,000,000,000 in trade lost since 1929.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the minority leader, in his first formal speech of the session, replied with a declaration of the measure embraced "sufficiently drastic" departure from our tried and tested ways of government to justify stout opposition to this bill."

CONOCO SCENIC MOVIES SEEN BY MANY OIL SALESMEN HERE

Adventures of a typical American family on a motor vacation trip under the guidance of the Conoco Travel Bureau and unusual views of some of the nation's topnotch scenic regions were highlights of a motion picture program Wednesday night which attracted approximately 43 members of Continental Oil company's local marketing group to a special meeting at the Schneider Hotel.

A number of the city's leading business men, not connected with this company's activities, were also on hand as a result of an invitation by Frank Keim, local representative for Conoco, and Chas. S. Ritchie, commander of the huge Travel Bureau bus which rolled in Wednesday afternoon carrying the new Conoco talking pictures and a number of officers of the marketing division covering this area.

Although the main purpose behind the arrival of the big red, green and white bus and the showing of the new films is to better acquaint the public with the free services offered the tourist by the Conoco Travel Bureau, considerable time is also being spent in explaining a number of new merchandising methods which Continental has recently adopted.

The Conoco Travel Bureau, Ritchie explained, has grown, in 4 years' time, from a small branch serving a few hundred people to the largest free travel service in America. It was founded by Continental in response to the demands of motor vacationists and everyday travelers who wish to be certain they are taking direct, trouble-free routes to their destinations and yet see the most interesting sights found in the country they journey through.

The Bureau's second major aim is to increase tourist travel to all of the nation's scenic regions. Through approximately 18,000 company and dealer service stations, and hundreds of newspapers, hotels and chambers of commerce, the Bureau is distributing attractive maps and literature featuring this city and its surroundings as well as numberless other interesting points in America.

This unusual service, to which every motorist is entitled without spending a cent—even for postage—goes farther than literature distribution. In the Bureau's central offices in Denver, more than a hundred, carefully trained employees consult daily road reports from every state in the Union; note even the shortest detours, and incorporate this information into the route they mark on all maps sent out.

Motorists who apply for free Travel Bureau service also receive a special "Passport" which helps them keep a careful expense record of their trips; identifies them wherever they may be and secures additional privileges for them at all Conoco stations. Each station acts as a field branch of the Bureau and is prepared to furnish valuable local information to all tourists. All cottage camps and hotels throughout the country have been catalogued and described in free literature now being sent out by the Bureau.

Some idea of the popularity the Bureau has attained may be secured from the number of motorists served during 1933. During this period 196,415 groups of Travel Bureau tourists drove more than 665 million miles. These groups represented every state, as well as Mexico and very Canadian province. Of the total 59,000 groups were routed into or through Texas, and in addition, 16,500 groups living within the state were given assistance. Included in the latter figure were 72 groups from this city.

Conoco division officers accompanying Ritchie were T. H. Adams, assistant division manager, B. Perry Mattson, merchandiser, and R. H. Robinson, operator.

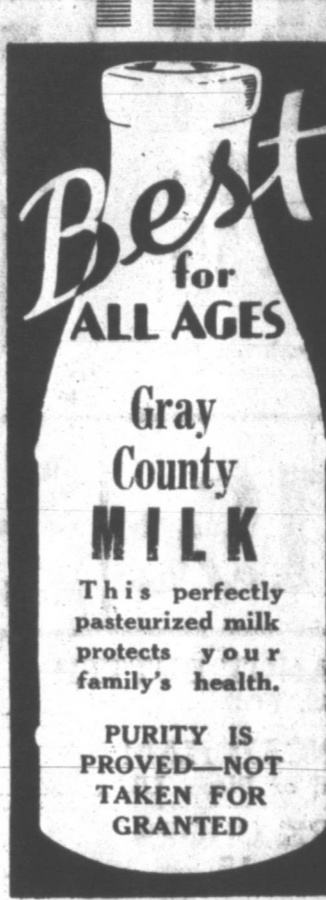

The Conoco bus is equipped with special loud speakers which make it possible to broadcast radio and phonograph music, as well as announcements made by the bus commander, for almost a mile in all directions.

Free Conoco Travel Bureau service is available to all readers of Pampa Daily News, and may be secured by writing direct to the Conoco Travel Bureau, Denver, Colorado, or filling out special application cards distributed by Conoco service stations and dealers.

Experiments by the University of California entomologist have shown that insects have marked preferences for certain colors, the preferences differing for various insects and for varieties of the same insect.
