Four Persons Killed When Passenger Bus Plunges From Railroad Overpass

DIVES FIFTY FEET; THREE OTHERS HURT

RIPS THROUGH GUARD RAIL OF CEMENT POSTS

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—A blowout was blamed for a bus accident today in which two women, a baby, and a man were plunged to death from a railroad overpass and three other persons were injured.

The huge Greyhound bus went out of control just as it reached the top of the quarter-mile-long overpass by which motor traffic crosses the Texas and Pacific railroad three miles east of here. The bus driver, Roy Turnbow of Fort Worth, said the vehicle suddenly failed to respond to its steering apparatus and it veered sharply toward the left side of the overpass.

It tipped through a guard rail of cement posts along the side and dived, engine foremost, to the ground 50 feet below.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hilton of Abilene; Mrs. Ethel Boney, 19, wife of a farmer living ten miles north of Ranger; and Mrs. Boney's two-month-old baby were smashed to death in the wreckage. Mrs. Hilton had boarded the bus at Abilene just a few hours before to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Hoggman, at Eastland.

Ernest Golden, 27, sailor attached to the naval base at San Diego, California, died later in a hospital of internal injuries and a broken leg. He was en route to his home in Mans, Ark., for a visit. "The body will be sent to Mans for burial."

Whiskers, Signs Advertise Fete On South Plains

Three local men, Geo. W. Briggs, Dee C. Blythe and Morris Johnson, advertised Pampa's Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneer Roundup at the old settlers reunion at Plainview yesterday, in an impressive manner. They drove their car which was plastered with banners that stated the "eyes of Texas are upon" the Pre-Centennial and with Texas flags, in the parade. They plastered the convention hall with placards advertising the local celebration.

Then, George and Morris placed Dees whose sideburns are especially luxuriant and long in front of them, and they made the rounds, carrying advertising matter. They said Dees' whiskers attracted plenty of attention and was advertising enough, even before they read the placards.

A huge crowd thronged the streets, but the Pampanns couldn't decide whether it was just a good Saturday crowd. Two buggies, several wagons, and about 200 horses formed the parade.

Pageant Rehearsal Is Tomorrow Night

Rehearsal of "The Land of Friends," Pre-Centennial pageant will be held in the high school gym tomorrow night beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock, John Kelder, managing director announced. All members of the cast are slated to be present.

Mrs. Kelder and the other directors, Ed Damon, Dick Hughes, Reg Barless, Miss Beth Blythe and Mrs. Julian Barrett, said that rehearsal would be concluded by 8:30, and that high school boys in the cast would have plenty of time left to study. Much progress was made in the first rehearsal Friday night.

I HEARD

H. W. Jones remarking that a lot of "these youngsters about town" should continue to wear their whiskers even after the celebration because it makes them look more dignified.

The low-down on Bonnie Rose's cut and swollen hand—He got it caught in a wringer the other day. (That's the truth if I ever told it.)

Convicts Ired

Prisoners in Oklahoma state penitentiary, a typical group of whom are shown here, have leagued to battle the new sterilization law that will affect 1999 convicts and have posted the sign seen in the picture as a plea for funds to support the test case of George Winkler, one of their number.

Dictatorship IS ESTABLISHED BY BULGARIANS

Fighting King, Boris, Issues Decrees To Army

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 19 (AP)—Striking swiftly before the sun was up, the Bulgarian army today junked constitutional government and took control of the nation under a military dictatorship established by royal decrees.

Whether King Boris, the 40-year-old monarch who has the reputation of being a fighter, was the sponsor of the Coup d'Etat, or had it thrust upon him by the army, was not immediately apparent, even to the populace of Sofia.

Whatever his original position, the king acquiesced promptly to the new state of affairs, and signed decrees which dissolved parliament, and put the new government, with Kimon Guergoueff as premier, in power.

Members of the former cabinet were arrested and placed under guard as the soldiers seized the government. Reports that several hundred persons had been arrested were heard on the streets.

Soldiers were in absolute control of the situation, not only here but in other cities throughout the country.

Heavy guards were on duty at all public buildings and in the streets, and most of the populace remained indoors. No disturbances were reported.

At the same time, garrisons in provincial cities were executing similar movements.

ESTIMATE OF PANHANDLE WHEAT YIELD IS 14,500,000 BUSHELS

AMARILLO, May 19 (AP)—An estimate of 14,500,000 bushels was placed on the 1934 panhandle-plains wheat crop today by grain dealers of the area. The estimate was less than half a normal crop. Hale county topped the list with an estimate of 2,160,000 bushels. Swisher, Carson, and Ochiltree counties were allotted 1,500,000 bushels each, and Hansford, Castro and Floyd all were above the million mark in the estimates compiled by the dealers. Gray and Armstrong were placed slightly under a million.

HAMILTON EVADES DEATH PENALTY IN DENTON TRIAL

PLEADS GUILTY AND IS GIVEN 99-YEAR TERM

TOTAL OF 362 YEARS NOW ASSESSED DESPERADO

DENTON, May 19 (AP)—State prosecutors failed again today in their attempt to send Raymond Hamilton to the electric chair, but had the satisfaction of seeing another 99-year sentence added to the total of 263 years in sentences already hanging over the brigatist youth for armed robberies and a murder.

Hamilton pleaded guilty in district court here today to robbery of the First National bank of Lewisville, Denton county, after state's attorney devoted most of yesterday and today to a futile attempt to obtain a jury willing to assess the death penalty for robbery with firearms.

After questioning 109 veniremen and finding only one juror willing to impose such a heavy punishment, Courts Attorney Judge Gambel decided there was no chance of getting such a jury in Denton county.

Agreement Made

District Judge Ben Boyd recessed court today while lawyers discussed the possibility of work-out on the problems. A change of venue was considered but finally the state agreed if Hamilton would plead guilty to robbing the bank of $500 on April 25 and would accept a life term in prison, efforts to have him sentenced to death for the crime would be discontinued. This agreement was carried out.

Hamilton pleaded guilty and after testimony from a few Lewisville witnesses had been heard, the juror promptly handed out the prison term.

To Hamilton, the 99-year sentence means virtually nothing, for he already faced sentences aggregating 263 years.

The 263 years in sentences were imposed on Hamilton about a year ago when he was tried at various points in the state for robberies and a killing. Authorities at that time sought a death sentence. Hamilton was sent to Eastham state prison farm and served a few months. On Jan. 15 he escaped under cover of machine gun fire directed at guards, allegedly by Clyde Barrow, the killer with whom Hamilton formerly was a partner in crime. A guard was killed in the escape and Hamilton will be prosecuted on some charge growing out of his death.

The only juror found today who had no scruples against imposing a death sentence on a robber who used firearms in a hold-up was an elderly farmer, Floyd Byron. After the death sentence qualification was removed, attorneys quickly obtained eleven other farmers to fill out the panel.

Sweetheart At Trial

T. R. Brooks of Wichita Falls, caught with Hamilton when they tried to get away with the Lewisville bank loot, is still in jail here and authorities have not announced what they intend to do with him.

He is charged with the bank robbery, but has not been indicted. He also is charged with theft of the stolen car in which he and Hamilton were trying to carry out the robbery.

Hamilton said he was "well pleased with the outcome of the trial. He admitted that he was apprehensive of the possible consequences when he was brought here for trial.

Relatives Fear 'Pretty Boy' Is Dead, Says 'Law'

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19 (AP)—Relatives of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, phantom outlaw, fear he may be dead as they have received no word from him in the last year, John E. Johnson, assistant superintendent of the state bureau of identification said today after returning from Floyd's home county in eastern Oklahoma.

O. P. Ray, bureau superintendent, said Johnson reported that Floyd's family is "uneasy" about him as it was his custom to pay them occasional visits.

CLUBS TO TALK PRE-CENTENNIAL FLOATS MONDAY

Committees to Meet With Jaycees and Haynie

A MEETING of all float committees of clubs and organizations which are planning to enter floats in the Pre-Centennial parade on the afternoon of May 31, has been called for 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall. Bob Watson, chairman of the Junior chamber of commerce float committee, members of his group, and Jimmie Haynie, "flag man" and float builder, will be present.

Mr. Haynie, it was announced yesterday, will be able to furnish float paper at cost, advice and instructions on building the various floats. It is necessary that he receive orders for the paper Monday night. It was suggested that the clubs see Mr. Haynie who will decorate the town with flags, before making the final designs for the floats. He has headquarters at the Schneider hotel in the basement of the Brunow building. Regular float paper can be obtained here only by ordering it.

Definite plans for building the floats must be perfected by Monday night, it was stated. The following clubs and organizations which have voted to enter floats are asked to have representatives present: Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Catholic church, Methodist church, Twentieth Century club, Junior Twentieth Century club, Treble Clef club, Twentieth Century Culture club, E. Progresso club, Civic Culture club, Business and Professional Women's club, Child Study club. Other clubs which desire to enter floats are asked to send representatives.

The Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are considering entering floats.

Historic moments, incidents, shrines and various phases in the history of Texas from 1534 to 1834 will be depicted in the floats. Among the subjects to be illustrated in construction, tableaux, and person-allies are the following: three missions, the Alamo, Mission San Jose, Mission San Francisco de la Espada, Mission San Francisco de los Tejas, the first church in Texas; Coronado's dream of the Grand Quivira golden city of Cibola; Coronado's dream come true; the Mother of Texas, Mrs. James Long; Texas under six flags; LaFite on Galveston Island; the first marriage in Texas; surrender of Santa Anna at San Jacinto; origin of the name Texas; burial of La Salle in East Texas; the fate of Nolan's men.

Filling Station Is Burglarized

Cigars, cigarettes, and a small amount of money were taken from the Sinclair-Prarie Service station at the corner of Browning avenue and North Oyster street Friday night, W. A. Snell, owner, reported the burglary to city officers who are making an investigation.

Entry to the service station was made by smashing a window into a rest room and unlocking a door into the station proper. The man or men left through the rear door which was left unlocked.

TEXAS: Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday. Moderate to fresh easterly to southerly winds on coast.

FOX WILL BE IN CHARGE OF LEFORS ROAD

CONTRACT TO BE LET BY COURT ON JUNE 2

WARREN T. Fox, county surveyor, has been designated by the commissioners court as engineer in charge of work on the Pampa-Lefors road scheduled to be contracted June 2.

His remuneration will be on a day-to-day basis but in no case can it exceed 5 per cent of the amount of the contracts. Plans and specifications for laying of approximately 2 1/2 miles of caliche and limestone base on the Pampa-Lefors road, in three sections, will soon be available at Mr. Fox's office in the courthouse.

The surveyor also was appointed engineer on the bridge project, and plans and specifications for construction of the McClellan span can be seen at Mr. Fox's office.

The advertisements for bids specify that "the minimum wage schedule to be paid by the contractor for the above work shall be the same as is being paid for similar work in same locality by the state highway department."

The bids, to be opened at 10 a. m. June 2 at the courthouse, can be rejected if, in the opinion of the court, they are not satisfactory. The court will have on hand $65,000 when the bids are opened, with prospects for sale of additional bonds at par.

To construct the bridge, the court will transfer money from surpluses in county funds not to be needed this year. No increase in taxes will be necessary, neither will there be any warrants issued.

Judge Ritchey Is Entering Name in Attorney's Race

Judge E. F. Ritchey of Miami has authorized The NEWS to announce his candidacy for district attorney subject to the democratic primary.

Judge Ritchey is well known in the district as an attorney and judge. He served as judge of the 14th district court during the lengthy illness of the late Judge Clifford Braly. Judge Ritchey's announcement follows:

"In announcing as a candidate for district attorney of the 31st judicial district, composed of Gray, Wheeler, Roberts and Lipscomb counties, I am not unaware of the responsibilities of such office; neither am I unfamiliar with the duties of the same. During the years that I have been actively engaged in the general practice of law, my practice has been both civil and criminal law, and it has been my privilege to look after these cases in both the trial courts and our appellate courts. Likewise it has been my privilege to defend in criminal cases, and to preside as a trial judge in the same; hence this field of the practice is not a new field to me, and my election would not be placing a new man in this important position."

"I would like to see every voter in this district, but as it is not long

W. C. ISAACS OF CANADIAN DIES AT AGE OF 80

Came to Canadian in 1889; Established Ranch, Bank

CANADIAN, May 19 (AP)—William C. Isaacs, 80, pioneer cattleman and president of the Canadian State bank since its establishment in 1906, died at his home here last night after an illness of three months. Funeral services will be held from the Isaacs home Monday.

Mr. Isaacs had lived in Texas since he was four years old, moving here with his parents from Birmingham, Ala., and settling in Bosque county. He entered the cattle business at an early age at Buffalo Gap, Texas, and later was foreman of the Apple ranch near Cheyenne, Okla. He came to Canadian in 1889 and established the Isaacs ranch, west of here at the headwaters of Red Deer creek.

McDonald Will Speak in City

C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, candidate for governor, will open his Panhandle campaign in Pampa Monday night. Mr. McDonald will address voters of the Panhandle at the city auditorium at 8 o'clock. It will mark the first time in Pampa history that a candidate for governor has opened his Panhandle campaign in Pampa.

Mr. McDonald has received the endorsement of Jim Ferguson, husband of the present governor and a former governor. Mr. McDonald is recognized as a silver-tongued orator. He is one of three candidates for governor from Wichita Falls.

42 BLOCKS OF PACKINGTOWN BURNED AWAY

PROPERTY DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED AT TEN MILLION DOLLARS

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—Chicago's most disastrous fire since the city-destroying holocaust of 1871 tonight wiped out 42 square blocks of packing town property with an estimated loss of $10,000,000.

The conflagration, starting as did the historic fire of '71 in the stockyards area, raged uncontrolled for four hours and one half hours. Not until 7:30 p. m. (CST) did Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan directing efforts of 2,000 firemen, declare that the blaze was under control.

Every available piece of fire-fighting equipment in the city was thrown into the melee. Firemen off duty and on vacation were hurriedly summoned to the fight. Three hundred policemen commanded by 35 captains and under the supervision of Police Commissioner James A. Allan, marshaled the huge crowd of curious onlookers in the fire fighters' way and aided in the actual work of the fire fighters.

Despite its wide sweep, the blaze did not attack any of the major packing companies' plants. They were located in a westerly direction from the flames, although the huge crowd of curious onlookers in the fire fighters' way and aided in the actual work of the fire fighters.

No Deaths Reported
No deaths were reported but three persons were reported missing. Officers and physicians carried through the heavy pall of smoke and embers, 25 seriously injured firemen and spectators. They were taken to hospitals as were a score of others who had been stifled by the oppressive heat and fumes. Three of the casualties were in a critical condition.

At least 1,300 persons were rendered homeless. A score of famous landmarks in Packingtown—seat of the world's greatest meat packing industry—and dozens of cottages, shops, stores and office buildings were

NEW PARTY IS ORGANIZED BY LA FOLLETTE

"Progressive Party" Endorses Policy Of Roosevelt

FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 19 (AP)—In this commonwealth where the "Wisconsin Idea" of politics originated more than thirty years ago, Wisconsin progressives today created a new political party to be held in battle this year by Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., who is up for reelection.

The new organization will be known as "The Progressive Party," retaining the label which the late Senator Robert M. La Follette applied to that branch of the republican party which he headed many years.

With the creation of the progressive party the La Follette following in Wisconsin will officially abandon the republican column, where many primary elections for years past have found them contesting with regular republicans for state and national offices.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., will campaign under the new party label as a supporter of President Roosevelt. He so indicated in a speech which he made to the new party conference today after delegates had gone on record overwhelmingly in favor of breaking away from the republican party.

In the state campaign, however, the new political alignment which will select its candidates for state offices at a later date, will turn its guns on the democratic Schmiede administration and Senator La Follette gave his audience the cue when he said:

GUARD YOUR THOUGHTS: Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely...

THIS is Pampa high school's edition of the Pampa Daily NEWS. The Little Harvester staff has worked long and hard to summarize in story and picture the history of the closing term and the achievement of the class of '34.

You will find little of idle boasting. Trained in news writing, the school scribes have largely omitted editorializations. They have presented the facts, which speak much louder than self-praise.

Great Pampans—these graduates. Only thirteen of them were in school the whole way together. In the class are students from many states. Yet in a short span of years they have become loyal Texans and Pampans.

It might be debatable to say that the class of '34 is the greatest that ever went out of Pampa high, but we would rank it below none. Its achievements, with the cooperation of underclassmen, have set new records.

The NEWS shares with Pampans generally its pride in the Little Harvester. It has gladly shared its profits today in the tabloid edition. It has been a sincere pleasure to work with the staff and its capable adviser, Miss Fannie May.

No one having close contact with the high school students here could believe that the "younger generation" is headed in the wrong direction. To know the students is to know their wholesomeness, their ambitions, their courage in the face of the most perplexing economic and political conditions Americans have known.

The trouble with America does not originate in the school system. Although education can and will be improved, the vicious policies of business are not made by the younger men.

The class of '34 graduates with the blessings and congratulations of the staff of the Pampa Daily NEWS. We have been happy to have had the pleasure of printing so much good news about the brilliant seniors.

With every commencement this city becomes a better Pampa. Graduating to the life of the community and the larger sphere of activity to which the young people have moved, the students represent the march of humanity, the advancement of learning and civilization, the furtherance of the Maker's plans.

Hail the great GLASS OF '34—may the news we have of all members in the future be good news!

OUT OUR WAY By WILLIAMS

Congress Might Go Home First Week in June

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—While both houses recessed over the week-end, congressional chiefs today surveyed the work ahead of them and agreed there was a good chance for adjournment by the end of the first week in June.

With a senate vote on the tariff bill in prospect and evidence of an early settlement of the dispute over silver legislation, President Roosevelt's leaders in Capitol Hill forecast clear sailing ahead unless the administration housing bill stirs up a storm.

These were the three major legislative problems remaining, though a number of less important measures that have been placed on the program were still awaiting action.

The housing bill had met with easy going so far, and Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee hoped to complete hearings on it by the middle of next week. But leaders could see plenty of danger for so complicated a measure as that to cause trouble, and even delay adjournment.

Administration leaders in the senate predicted a vote would be reached on the reciprocal tariff bargaining bill by the end of next week. That would clear the way for consideration of the silver and housing measures as soon as they were ready.

Curly Lewis to Meet Reynolds

A Pampa boy has really made good in the wrestling game according to newspaper reports from Cheyenne, Wyo., received here yesterday. Curly Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lewis of this city, will wrestle Jack Reynolds, welter-weight champion of the world soon. Lewis won the right to meet Reynolds Wednesday night in Cheyenne, Wyo., when Young Billy Edwards "walked out on him." Lewis and Edwards were scheduled to wrestle for the right to meet Reynolds, but Edwards refused to meet the Pampans, who was declared winner by default. May 23 was the date set for the championship bout, with Salt Lake City as the location. Promoters from Denver and Cheyenne got busy when they learned that Reynolds would meet Lewis and demanded to bid for the match. Because of the interest in the forthcoming battle, the date has been withdrawn and a future date and the location will be announced soon.

Lewis started his wrestling career here as a preliminary boy. He took a lot of beatings but always came back for more and soon became popular with Pampa fans. He enlisted in the army and was sent to Fort Francis Warren near Cheyenne, Wyo. At camp, Lewis came under the eye of the wrestling coach who started developing him until now he is one of the best in the country.

Cal Farley met Reynolds in two championship bouts in Amarillo. SHAKESPEARE'S LUCEY Father Wonderly attended the installation services of Bishop Lucey in Amarillo the last week. The new bishop succeeds Archbishop R. A. Gerken of Santa Fe who was present at the ceremonies. Bishop Lucey, from Long Beach, Calif., a prominent churchman of California, was identified with many social reforms in California. He is a direct descendant of the Lucey in whose forest William Shakespeare used to poach deer.

DETERMINED TO PLAY NOW CHILDREN'S NEED

P.T.A. WRITER DECLARES TOTS CAN'T WAIT FOR BOOM

MRS. JOHN M. FOX Wichita Falls, Publicity Director, Young America needs a place to play—and play safely.

Adult America, under the ethics of The New Deal and the new leisure that shorter working hours are bringing into modern lives, needs to ponder on the best and most profitable way to spend that leisure time, and how to train their children to use this new found freedom to bring results in healthy bodies and sound minds.

One of the most important branches of the Public Welfare program of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers is the recreation phase of it which is under the leadership of Mrs. Lillian Porter Butler of 4612 Lakeside Drive, Dallas.

"The greatest ally of the N. R. A.," says Mrs. Butler, "is the recreational movement sponsored by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Character building agencies cannot take a recess until better times. We must reach the children through the schools. The common school owned and operated by the people themselves is the natural center of neighborhood life.

Its playgrounds, its swimming pools, its shops and laboratories, its greenhouses and gardens, its auditoriums, its professional staff lend themselves naturally to the enrichment of individual and community life. They belong to adults as well as children. Schools train for leisure."

"The Wise Use of Leisure Time is one of the objectives of the permanent platform upon which the Congress of Parents and Teachers has pledged itself to co-operate and which is one of the seven named as important by the Department of Education.

The great task of America is not to get a living. We may take that for granted. The great task is so to establish the values of life that an art of living shall emerge among the masses—and we shall have the extra hours not to make life busier and more hectic by entering into a thousand unimportant activities, but that we shall claim our leisure for personal cultivation, the enrichment of the family, and the improvement of the social order—looking forward, not so much to pleasure as to happiness; not to power, but to goodness; not to fame, but to excellence.

With vacation and the problems of idle children just ahead, Mrs. Butler invites your correspondence and can give you a list of leaflets on "The New Age published by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers."

Texas Products Can Be Used in Making of Candy

By MISS ALLIE GEORGE Instructor, Department of Home Economics Texas State College, Austin, Tex.

DENTON, May 19.—Texas produces large quantities of sugar and cane syrups. Pecans and peanuts are usually plentiful. Popcorn may be obtained. Honey is produced in large amounts. All of these together with oranges, lemons, and figs, by no means complete the list of materials available and suitable for making wholesome and appealing confections in the home. Sweets are valuable in the dietary as a source of energy, but they should be used with intelligence and moderation. Good habits in the eating of confections should be formed early. Fruit confections are less concentrated than candies; thus, they supply bulk and also appreciable amount of valuable minerals.

Honey pecan fudge: Melt one square of unsweetened chocolate over hot water in the pan in which candy is to be cooked. Add 2 cups and 1/2 t salt and mix well. Stir in one c milk. Place directly over heat, cook five minutes. Add 1/4 c strained honey. Stir gently to prevent burning. Cook to soft ball stage. Remove from fire. Add 2 T butter, but do not stir. Let cool to lukewarm. Add 2 T vanilla and beat until thick and creamy. Add one c pecan meats, coarsely chopped. Put in slightly greased pan, cut in squares or oblongs when thoroughly cooled.

Peanut butter fudge: Add 2 squares of unsweetened chocolate (cut into rather small pieces) to 2-3 c milk and place over a low flame. Stir constantly. Cook until mixture is smooth and well blended. Add 2 c sugar, 2 t white karo syrup, pinch salt. Stir until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils. Continue cooking to soft ball stage. While cooking, stir to prevent burning. Remove from fire. Add 2 T butter, do not stir. Let cool to lukewarm. Add 1/2 t vanilla and beat until mixture begins to thicken and loses its gloss. Work in 2 T of peanut butter. Put in slightly greased pan. Cool and cut into squares.

Divinity: Mix together 2 c sugar, 1/4 c corn syrup, 1/2 c water, pinch salt. Stir over low fire until sugar has dissolved and mixture boils. Continue cooking without stirring until syrup reaches firm ball. Cool slightly. Slowly pour over 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten. Beat until firm. Add 1/2 t vanilla and 1/2 c candied orange peel or lemon peel. Instead of candied peel, one c watermelon rind preserve may be used; the preserve should be strained out of juice and let dry in air before being chopped for using in divinity.

SENIOR BAND MEMBERS ARE GIVEN TREAT

Woodrow Wilson Kid Group Goes to LeFors

SENIOR members of the Woodrow Wilson Kid band were given a surprise breakfast at LeFors yesterday by Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal; Winston Savage, director; Miss Lois Stallings, accompanist; and Mrs. Bob Koiner, teacher.

High score for men went to Ab Midkiff, second high to Ralph Jones, and low to Farris Oden. Mrs. E. M. Wood was high for women. Mrs. Marvin Harris was second, and Mrs. Myrtle Simmons was low.

The guest list included Messrs. and Meses. G. R. Roberts, A. Midkiff, B. M. Woods, F. H. Sifton, L. N. Atchison, Ralph Jones, Marvin Harris, Carlton Nance, B. R. Woods, Farris Oden and Mrs. Myrtle Simmons and George Davenport.

Robles 'Snatch' Solution Near

TUCSON, Ariz., May 19. (AP)—Solution of the mystery underlying the kidnaping and rescue of June Robles was near, authorities here today said.

The statement was made after it became known articles found in the desert prison pit in which the 6-year-old girl was found last Monday, 20 days after her disappearance, had directed suspicion toward two unnamed persons.

Several articles found in the pit with June were understood to have been traced, and the identity of persons in whose possession they were believed to have been at the time of the kidnaping tentatively established.

The impending "break" in the case came after several days of questioning of possible suspects, and fruitless attempts to find the person June would recognize as the man who took her away from in front of Roskrue school last April 28, or as one of two men who she said she saw while she was in the prison hole 9 1/2 miles from Tucson. She has led authorities to believe she would know one of her abductors, although she said they generally made her turn her back to them.

DENIED NEW TRIAL

AMARILLO, May 19. (AP)—Joe V. Moore, Amarillo attorney, who recently was given a five-year penitentiary sentence for the death of a child beneath his car, was denied a new trial today and his appeal bond set at $5,000.

He had not made bond tonight.

Operated by an airplane propeller driven by an electric motor taking current from the monorail from which the vehicle is suspended, a car having a speed of 135 miles an hour has been invented by a Frenchman.

Fig-pecan loaf: Mix together 2 c sugar, one c brown sugar, 1/4 t salt, one T karo syrup, 1 1/2 c milk. Stir over heat until sugars are dissolved; stir often enough to prevent burning. Cook to firm soft ball. Add one lb. dried figs, cut into fourths. Cook again, stir constantly. Remove from fire, add 3 T butter, but do not stir. Let cool to lukewarm. Add 1/2 t vanilla, beat until thick. Add 1/2 c pecan meats, coarsely chopped. Pour on cloth wrung dry from hot water and shape into loaf. Cut into slices.

Honey popcorn balls: Cook together 3/4 c strained honey, 1 1/2 c candied orange peel or lemon peel. Instead of candied peel, one c watermelon rind preserve may be used; the preserve should be strained out of juice and let dry in air before being chopped for using in divinity.

MANY COUNTY WOMEN TAKE SHORT COURSE

MRS. O. G. SMITH HEADS DELEGATION TO CANYON

CANYON, May 19.—More than 600 women from twenty Panhandle counties assembled in Canyon today for the annual spring short course held on the campus of the West Texas State Teachers college under the joint sponsorship of the home economics department of the college and the extension service division of Texas A. & M.

A general spirit of optimism concerning the relation of the accomplishments of farm women and the recent government projects found expression in the theme of the short course, "The Farm Woman's Place in the New Deal."

Welcome by Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college; a talk by Miss Melba Hill, a member of the art department, on "Art in Relation to Dress," and a style show were features of the morning session.

Luncheon in the college cafeteria was followed by an inspection tour of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum.

The live-at-home program, canning, yard beautification, menu planning, wardrobe planning, and marketing were the subjects for discussion at the afternoon session. Reports were heard from various clubs.

Miss Marion Northington, head of the home economics department, Miss Ruby Mashburn, and Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agents, were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. O. G. Smith, vice-chairman of the county council, introduced Miss Ruby Adams, agent, and the following Gray county delegates at Canyon: Mrs. C. D. Hill, Bluebonnet club; Mrs. L. Darnell, Hopkins; Mrs. Darnell, Hopkins; Mr. and Mrs. G. Pinnell, Hopkins; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Walberg, Kingsmill; Mrs. Norman Walberg, Friscilla; Mrs. Taylor Friscilla; Mrs. Fred C. Fischer, Merten; Mrs. Alvin Phillips, Merten; Mrs. J. F. Meers, Merten; Mrs. Max Harmon, Merten; Mrs. J. H. Smith, Merten; Mrs. R. E. Dauer, Bell; Mrs. C. McKnight, Bell; Mrs. John Peacock, Kingsmill; Mrs. N. B. Cude, Kingsmill, Mrs. Roberts, Kingsmill.

MODE GIVEN EXOTIC NOTE BY FLOWERS

By ADELAIDE KEER PARIS, May 19 (AP)—Flowers from foreign lands give an exotic touch to this season's costumes.

Chinese peonies, Japanese wisteria and hollyhocks, and bright Dutch tulips appear on many new spring dance frocks instead of the gardenias and roses which long have been favorites.

Natural Blossoms One black chiffon gown has a waist-length cape, covered with big red poppies made of a sheer blistered crepe, while a water green crepe gown has a cluster of crimson poppies splashed from the décolleté to the waistline.

The flowers sound a vague for "crinkled" blossoms rather than the smooth petalled blooms. Lilies, wisteria and field flowers are typical of the times, which favor, for afternoon and evening clothes, blossoms which fall in soft lines and which are copied directly from nature rather than made in artificial patterns.

Flower Bracelets Flower bracelets and headresses are made of the same small blossoms to wear on the summer evening clothes. The bracelets—six inches deep—are a multicolored mass of tiny blossoms fashioned of organza and velvet, while the headresses are slender garlands worn just above the cluster of curls at the nape of the neck.

Flowers are here on spring hats, too. A little wreath of wild flowers circles under one side of the brim of a natural colored bengal straw, a big rosy pommy is perched on the back of a black straw beret, and two soft peach-hued poppies are clustered on the brim of an afternoon hat having a peach hued top and a black facing.

Picnic Will End Year for Group

Getting Fat Is Small Matter—A Little a Day!

By F. B. COLTON BOSTON, May 19. (AP)—If you want to stay slim, look out for that extra ounce of fat per day that you may be swallowing unawares.

One ounce of fat more than the body needs each day holds the key to both curves and slenderness, a scientist reported here.

Most people grow fat because they eat too much, says Dr. Francis G. Benedict, director of the Boston nutrition laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. The only remedy for most cases is what he calls "scientific stocking."

Fat Due To Eating "In the vast proportion of cases there is just one answer to the question, 'Why do people grow fat?'" says Dr. Benedict. "Each day you eat a little more than you require."

Problems of nutrition, which include the matter of gaining excess weight, have been studied for many years at the laboratory under his direction.

"If you eat the equivalent each day of an ounce of butter more than you need, what happens?" Dr. Benedict continues.

"You don't lose it; you don't burn it; it is digested, assimilated and, note this—it is deposited as fat."

Beware That Extra Fat! "One extra ounce of fat means a pound in about two weeks or 25 pounds a year. All this from but one ounce, say three parts of butter extra each day. Please note that I emphasize 'extra.' That's the extra part of butter above your daily needs."

"This goes on gradually, I might say insidiously, until the weight increases, the girls increase, the creases increase, and there you are."

And so what? the remedy? Says Dr. Benedict: "The best way of all to lose fat is not to get fat. If you are fat then it is nearly hopeless to attempt to 'work it off.'"

"There is only one way to lose it intelligently, and that is to limit your intake slightly and burn it up slowly."

Avoid The Visible Fat. "Fats are so-called 'extra' because concentrated as starches and sugars; hence it is helpful if one avoids all visible fats in the food."

"Cutting out visible fats is usually not a great hardship, but of itself is of no value if one overeats other equally fat-producing materials."

Using 'Leftovers'

MARKET BRIEFS

Table listing market prices for various commodities like wheat, corn, oil, etc.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK S. D. A.—Although supplies of medium weight and heavy hives were limited at mid-western markets this week, prices suffered a setback of 25 or more at most river markets. Chicago, however, recovered part of the sharp break of the previous week on this class. Light-weight steers and yearlings at all markets sold readily all with final prices strong to 50 higher was compared with last week's close. Heifers and mixed yearlings ruled 25-50 higher, good clearances being made all week on a fairly liberal supply. Cows sold unevenly steady to 50 higher at the various markets. Stockers and feeders went at week to 25 lower rates although receipts of fed cattle were comparatively light. Fleas feeders being in narrow demand show the most decline. Best weighty heaves offered scored 9.35 and choice yearlings made 8.35 at Chicago. Choice 1088-lb steers reached 8.40 and strictly choice 942 lb yearlings 8.25 at St. Louis. Choice heavy heifers sold up to 7.25 and light heifers, 7.10 at Chicago, but Texas yearling stockers scaling 567 lbs realized 5.55 at Kansas City. Approximate receipts this week of 180,000 compare with 197,556 actual arrivals the same period a year ago.

Mrs. G. S. Smith, 81, died last night at the home of her son, Sid Smith at 217 East Tuke street. She had made her home in the city for the last four years. Mr. Smith, who is 89 years old, is bedridden. Mrs. Smith is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Rawlings, Begram, and Mrs. Albert Winslow, Blackfoot, Idaho, and seven sons, Sid Smith, Pampa, J. G. Smith, Coke county, W. H. Smith, Idaho, R. Smith, Houston, Utah, Albert Smith, Utah, and Andy Smith, Plainview. The body is at rest at the Stephenson Mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not been made. Mrs. A. C. Hill of Canadian shipped in the city yesterday.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT WILL BEGIN MONDAY

DEFENDING CHAMPION, MISS GORCZYCA, TO COMPETE

Associated Press Staff Writer. DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—The Dallas Country club house was alive today with players here to compete in the eighth annual Women's Golf association championship starting Monday with an 18-hole qualifying round.

Pairings for the medal play event will be made at 6 p. m. tomorrow when the entry list will be officially closed. Mrs. Wilson Brown, association president, said today she was confident the entry list would include over 100 players.

Miss Anella Gorczyca, slender Fort Worth girl who will be defending champion, is again shooting her best game and looms as the consensus choice to retain her title. Miss Gorczyca won the title last year over the Galveston Country club course by defeating Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, 2 and 1.

Miss Betty Jameson, 15-year-old city champion of Dallas and recent winner of the southern crown, is a redoubtable challenger for the championship along with two former champions, Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. R. R. Plisk of Wichita Falls. Professional George Aulbach, who has the Dallas Country club course in marvelous condition for the week of play, said today he believed it would require a card of 95 to make the championship fight. "It looks like the fastest field in several years," he said. After the qualifying round, matches in all flights will be 18 holes except in the finals of the championship bracket which will be 36.

The out-of-town entry list today was impressive. It included Mrs. Grace Jennings of El Paso; Mrs. W. L. James of Galveston; Mrs. Ida Stephenson, Miss Anna Peterson, Mrs. J. S. Tate, and Mrs. R. N. Gresham, all of San Antonio; Mrs. Sam Hopkins of Texas; Mrs. Chas. Holloway and Mrs. W. C. Stroube of Corsicana; Miss Hilda Urbantke of Austin; Mrs. C. M. McCulloch of Amarillo; Mrs. F. Roshon of Wichita Falls; Mrs. W. T. Chapman of El Paso; Mrs. Fred Dodge of Port Arthur; Mrs. B. A. Krieson and Miss Virginia Williams of Houston, and Miss Nell Moody of Galveston.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray. TO THE SHERIFF, or any Constable of Gray County. GREETING: You are hereby commanded to summon Thos Whelan and Frank W. Warren, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Gray County, to be held at the Court-house thereof in Pampa on the first Monday in June 1934, the same being the 4th day of June 1934. A. D. then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 19th day of March, A. In Revival

The Rev. Jesse F. Wiseman, Church of Christ minister at Berger and former Pampa pastor, will open a revival at the LeFors church tomorrow. All plans for a big meeting are complete. Many out-of-town visitors are expected to attend.

Hopkins Assures Tom Connally of Relief Aid Again

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today after a conference with Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, he had been given assurance that drought-stricken counties in Texas would be included in the broad relief program being formulated by the administration. Representative Jones (D-Tex.) also participated in the conference. Connally said it was possible that not only would crops, but cattle as well be purchased for Texas drought victims. He was unable to give details of the program as affecting Texas, pointing out they were still to be worked out. Concerning the emergency road program for Texas drought and storm areas which has been so long in controversy, the senator said Hopkins advised him its continuance would depend on the willingness of the state relief administration to match relief funds. It was understood here there was some disinclination on the part of the state administration to fully meet the federal administration's allotments.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Buoyancy developed in wheat values today, largely as a result of an official forecast indicating no likelihood of a break-up of drought next week. Drought damage to wheat, especially in the spring crop region northwest, was reported as showing rapid enlargement owing to combined effects of high temperatures and winds. These factors were asserted to be furnishing the worst possible conditions over enormous areas already lacking both surface and subsoil moisture of any adequate extent. Wheat soared 2 1/2 cents a bushel, despite brisk profit-taking, with the close unsettled, 1 1/2-1 3/4 higher than yesterday's finish, corn 1 1/2-1 3/4 up, oats 1/2 to 1 cent advanced, and provisions exactly unchanged. Corn and oats followed the upswing of the wheat market.

Scout Camporal Dates Changed

Examinations in practically every high school within the Adobe Walls council would conflict with the original date set for the Adobe Walls camporal, necessitating a change of dates. C. A. Clark, executive, announced yesterday that the new dates would be May 28 and 29. The routine of events posted in the bulletin issued last week will be carried out without change. Motion pictures of the camporal will be taken. Memphis Friday became Troop 51 in the council which now has 1,136 boys registered. The Memphis troop is sponsored by the American Legion.

ROOMS NEEDED FOR PIONEERS ROUNDUP HERE

MRS. CLAUDE LEDRICK NAMED CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE

Old timers of Pampa as well as the Junior chamber of commerce are making preparations for the entertainment of visitors at the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneer Roundup May 31 and June 1.

Mrs. Claude Ledrick yesterday accepted the chairmanship of the rooms committee, it was announced. She will establish headquarters in the high school gym on the first day of the event, and will assign rooms to visiting pioneers.

However, first she must have rooms to assign, and residents with available beds are asked to telephone Mrs. Ledrick by calling her residence number, 65, as soon as possible. It is presumed that many old timers living here expect to have old friends as guests in their homes; several Pampans have already invited distant friends to be guests in their home at some time during the celebration.

Pampans who will have available beds and rooms and who do not expect visits from old friends, are asked to list their rooms with Mrs. Ledrick.

Other old timers who will have charge of activities include Mrs. DeLam, vicars; registration; Mrs. E. A. Shaeletor, information; J. A. Pool, fiddling contests and square dances; Mrs. W. R. Ewing, chairman of the hostess committee. Mrs. Vicars will be assisted in registration of visitors by Mrs. Charles Thomas. Mrs. Ewing will be assisted as hostess by a large group of women.

Three Roundup programs will be held: the first on the afternoon of May 31, the second on the morning of June 1 and the third on the afternoon of June 1. These programs will include old-time and authentic cowboy songs, music and talks and reminiscences by pioneers of the Panhandle. A presiding officer for the program has not yet been announced, but will be some long-time resident of the Panhandle who is known and liked by most of the old timers. He will select numerous speakers and call on several for reminiscences.

The gym will be furnished with lounges and easy chairs for the occasion.

ELIMINATE 'MOTH DANGER' IN SPRING HOUSECLEANING Spring cleaning calls for dusting, cleaning closets and bureau drawers and beating rugs, but it is even more important to make sure that moths do not get into your household.

Moths lay their eggs in the spring and are not difficult to keep out if proper care is taken then. But if allowed to thrive they cause infinite trouble. If clothes, blankets and similar article are wrapped carefully in newspapers without gaps or loop holes, moths will be kept out. Camphor flakes, balls or gum camphor may be inserted for good measure by the very careful housewife. Camphor substances may also be put behind and under cushions in furniture as an extra precaution.

Attend Pampa's Pre-Centennial.

SUMMER SCHOOL BAND WORK POPULAR, ENROLMENT SHOWS

Interest in summer bands is growing. Parents are showing a willingness to cooperate by filling out the questionnaires that have been sent out, and returning them promptly. Enrolment to date has been largely by beginners and younger musicians, but it is expected that enrolment will begin to swing in favor of the more mature musicians of junior and senior high, as interest seems to be growing in that section. A list of the enrolled pupils to date is given below. It is expected that this list should double within the next two or three days.

Lester Leroy Allen, cornet; Rush Barnett Jr., clarinet; May Kate Bourland, trumpet; Eugene Brackett, trumpet; Marquis Bratton, trombone; Edna Bee Campbell, clarinet; Pearl Chandler, clarinet; Harry Clay, trumpet; Jean Clay, trumpet; H. E. Comstock Jr., trombone; Roy T. Coney, clarinet; Mattie Sue Cook, clarinet; Billie Kay Coombs, clarinet; Ernell Coona, trombone; Jack Coona, trumpet; Lovene Cox, drum; Betty Ann Cuberson, clarinet; Jessie Elliott, clarinet; Walden Ellis, clarinet; Elizabeth Fleming, cornet; Annie Mae Graham, clarinet; Virginia Bell Harrison, clarinet.

Merrill H. Hazard, saxophone; Jack Hessey, trombone; J. B. Hicks, clarinet; Julian Hicks, mellophone; Leon Holloway, bass; Ernestine Holmes, clarinet; Charlyne Jaynes, clarinet; Arnold Johnston, cornet; Clarabel Jones, clarinet; Paul Jones, clarinet; Ethel Lane, trombone; Doran Lane, clarinet; Dorea Lane, trombone; Anna Belle Lard, mellophone; Gene Lunsford, cornet; Paul Luntrell, bass; Jack McCallister, bass.

Dorothy Mae Stiggs, alto; Pauline McKay, cornet; Billy M. Nutt, saxophone; Mary Lee Morris, clarinet; Louise Murphy, clarinet; Kathryn Oliver, trumpet; Charles Pearce, clarinet; Betty Marie Plank, clarinet; Raymond Roberts, cornet; Russell Roof, drum; George Saunders, drum; Lewis Sims, cornet; Tarzan Sims, cornet; Ann Louise Swabman, clarinet; Sarah Ellen Swatlow, clarinet; Margarette Sullins, saxophone; Dorthea Taylor, clarinet; Madge Tieman, clarinet; James Warner, baritone; Joyce Ann Warner, mellophone; J. D. Williams, cornet; Junior Zimmerman, cornet; Hugh Stennis, clarinet; Cecil Bransum, clarinet; Max Brewer, cornet; C. L. Simmons, baritone; W. R. Whitsell Jr., cornet; Jay Plank, cornet; J. I. Howard Jr., trumpet; Betty Jean Twentier, trumpet.

Inquiries have been made regarding violin and orchestra work. Unless a large enrolment justifies the organization of an orchestra, work this summer will be confined to bands and band instruments.

Lubbock Building Permits in Jump

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—A million-dollar addition to the Humble company's headquarters in Houston contributed largely to the port city's leadership in building last week. The headquarters addition will be a 17-story structure. In all, Houston had permits for $1,073,955 in new construction last week.

Lubbock was a strong second among cities of the state with a total for the week of $563,747. Of this amount, $546,910 will be expended for construction of two dormitories at Texas Technological college. # JUDGE HAMLIN, WTCC HEAD, TO SPEAK AT PIONEERS ROUNDUP

XIT ATTORNEY WILL DELIVER TALK JUNE 1

LONG-HAIRED PIONEER FROM NEW MEXICO WRITES LETTER

Judge James D. Hamilton of Farwell, who last week was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on June 1, the second day of the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup here.

Judge Hamlin, resident representative of the Capitol Reservation lands, will give some account of the old XIT ranch and his experiences in the early day.

The speaker on the first day of the celebration will be James V. Alfred, attorney general of Texas, who will open the Pre-Centennial celebration the morning of May 31.

Yesterday also brought letters from two old timers of the pampas: Cem Johnston of San Jon, N. Mex., who said "tell the boys I'll be there," and Mrs. F. H. Hill of Panhandle. Mr. Johnston will be remembered as the pioneer-looking man with long hair who attended the Pioneer Days celebration in 1932.

Mrs. Hill taught the first school in Panhandle over 45 years ago.

Almost 40 years ago, Judge Hamlin left his home in Kentucky to join the gold rush in the Yukon, diverted his route by Amarillo to visit a friend, and liked the place so well that he got no further north.

A brief preparation in law was expanded through association with Judge William Boyce, who, as counsel for the XIT's introduced the genial Kentuckian of towering physique to the owners of the Capitol lands.

The connection has so matured with the years that the judge is now almost as symbolical of these pioneers interests as the XIT brand itself.

Happy, But—

Beautiful Irene Dunne and Ralph Bellamy in "This Man Is Mine," RKO-Radio comedy. Happy here, but there is fireworks when Irene deliberately sends Ralph, her husband, into the arms of a rival. The film is at the Rex theater.

in the University of Texas, recently wrote of Judge Hamlin in West Texas today: "It seems to me that Judge Hamlin is a gentleman of the old school, always with sufficient time to be civilized. When a Russian nobleman—dislodged from his property and forced to flee for his safety by the outbursts of equality that have shaken his country—visited him recently, Judge Hamlin drove him over to Albuquerque so that he might make convenient train connections west. But the foreigner found him such good company that he felt it shameful for the judge to make the long return alone and forthwith drove back to Farwell with him and entrained a day later from there."

The Capitol Lands Syndicate bought three million acres of land from the State of Texas to pay for construction of the State capitol at Austin. Judge Hamlin was associated with the syndicate during the disposition of the lands.

J. C. Little of LeFors was a Pampa visitor last night.

GAYNOR WITH FARRELL AND USUAL THEME

POPULAR FAIR ARE DOING NORRIS NOVEL

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell score personal triumphs in "Change of Heart," their first co-starring vehicle in 18 months, which opens today at the La Nora. It's a story big enough for their reunion—Kathleen Norris' romance of modern youth wrestling love and happiness out of a skyscraper world. The novel appeared under the title "Manhattan Love Song," and it is amid the topless towers of New York that the romance of America's sweethearts unfolds.

"Change of Heart," brings you a new, grown-up Janet Gaynor. She's a vivid, real-life heroine, grown to womanhood, and experiencing all the emotions of a woman. And Farrell is no longer the dreaming boy, but a man who challenges the world and faces its confusion and cross-currents of life. James Dunn and Ginger Rogers complete the quartette of youth around which the drama revolves.

The story is a drama of epic struggles and inspiring love. It portrays with astounding realism the hardships of four youngsters just out of college, two girls and two boys. Banded together by ties of loyalty, they enter the portals of a big city and begin their brave fight to realize their ambitions. Through all their adventures runs a complex love situation. The love of Janet Gaynor for Farrell, however, soon becomes the focal interest of the plot. Farrell finally realizes his love for Gaynor, and when Ginger Rogers returns from a trip, he faces a showdown as to whether he will remain faithful to Janet or be lured away by an old yearning for Ginger Rogers.

EQUIPOISE IS DISQUALIFIED

Wins Race by 3 Lengths as Jockey Claims Foul—Horse Breaks Leg, Dies.

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—For the second time in five years of training, C. V. Whitby's Equipoise, mightiest of America's thoroughbreds, lost a race by disqualification today when he was charged with driving Mrs. James M. Austin's Mr. Khayyam into the rail in the 41st running of the Metropolitan mile at Belmont park.

Equipoise, seeking his third straight triumph in the classic turf fixture, stepped home three lengths in front of Mr. Khayyam but his courageous effort went for naught as the decision of the judges went to Mrs. Austin's colt after the latter's jockey, Bobby Jones, had lodged a claim of foul.

With the downfall of Equipoise went the last race for Mrs. Elizabeth Bosley's Chase Mc, unbeaten in seven straight races since making his debut as a four-year old last fall and heralded as Equipoise's most formidable rival. It was the first time the pair had matched strides.

Ridden by a steeplechase jockey, Frankie Slate, Chase Mc broke his left front leg while running full stride at the stretch turn. After being helped off the track he was destroyed, ending the career of one of the turf's most sensational runners. Slate was uninjured.

The disqualification of Equipoise shoved Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Archer into second and moved W. R. Coe's Ladysman, champion juvenile of 1932, up from fourth to third.

New, Different Irene Dunne Is At Rex Theater

There are parlors, bedrooms and baths in RKO-Radio Pictures' comedy-drama, "This Man Is Mine," which runs today thru Tuesday at the Rex theater. But those who attend expecting to see one of those stereotyped p-h-and-b things will be pleasantly surprised.

The picture can be recommended as one of the best and most scintillating satirical comedies of the season, a lively, spicy and surprising story from beginning to end, and one that presents three great screen favorites in the best roles of their careers: Irene Dunne, the czar, who drops her cameo-like serene veneer and becomes a torrid, vivid woman; Ralph Bellamy, who enacts the role of what probably is the world's dumbest husband, and Constance Cummings, whose portrayal of an expert burglar-stealer makes one want to leap from his seat and yank her around by the hair.

"This Man Is Mine," adapted from the stage hit, "Love Files in The Window," opens on a tranquil scene of domestic bliss.

Carioca Is At State Theater In "Rio" Film

These who missed this glittering musical during its first showing in Pampa will have an opportunity to see it during its return engagement now thru Tuesday at the State theater. The picture since its first showing here in this city has gained rapidly in popularity, and since has been declared one of the best musicals ever produced.

Most of the popularity of the picture can be attributed to the new "tete-a-tete" tango called the "Carioca" which is demonstrated at great length in the musical extravaganza "Flying Down to Rio." The dance, while performed spectacularly in the film, is in reality well within the talents of the usual ball-room dancer.

The Carioca has the added feature of being adaptable to crowded floors. And it is called a "tete-a-tete tango" because the foreheads of the dancers are supposed to touch throughout the progress of the movements.

The Carioca is expected to become the rage with the dancing public.

FIGHT TICKETS SELLING WELL OVER SECTION

RESERVE SEATS TO GO ON SALE MONDAY MORNING

M. W. Jones called The NEWS yesterday morning to order six tickets for the Ralph-Chong-Like Trainor fight to be staged by The NEWS May 31 during the Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Roundup.

Mr. Jones was the first of a number of Pampans to call and reserve tickets even though they don't officially go on sale until tomorrow morning. More than 20 tickets had been sold last night and fans are urged to get their tickets early.

Cheng and his manager, Matty Mathews, will leave Houston at noon today. They will stop off in Amarillo where Chong will fight Art Wakefield Tuesday night in a 10 round bout.

Chong is the Chinese world's champion middleweight. He laid claim to the title in 1933 when he met and knocked out the purported title holder of China, Nu Sing Wu in two rounds in Chinatown, San Francisco.

Tramel will not be in Pampa until a few days before the fight. He has a fight this week. The Port Worth favorite will come to Pampa to finish his training in preparation for his title fight.

Tramel is recognized as the state middleweight title holder and he will risk that title in his battle with the Chinese sensation.

The supporting card is shaping up nicely. Some of the best fighters in the preliminary class and not a few top main-events will be seen in action. Jack Thompson, Vernon Kid Stamp, Poppey Hulcher, Kayo Kitchens, Pug Weaver and other well known boys are anxious to be on the card.

Reserve seat and box seat tickets will go on sale tomorrow morning at Pampa Drug No. 1, Corner Drug, Harvester Drug, City Drug, and Fatherese Drug No. 4. Reserve seats are $1.25, box seat $1.35 and general admission $1.10.

Speedway Record At Indianapolis Raised 2 Miles

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16. (AP)—Apparently unhampered by new rules restricting gasoline consumption and the use of special gears, drivers attained dazzling speeds today in qualifying trials held preliminary to the annual 500-mile race to be run May 30 at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Keely Peillo, a Californian, tore off the twenty-five mile qualifying run at the average speed of 119.329 miles per hour. The time was a new record for the twenty-five mile distance which has been in effect during the last two years. The qualifying spins previously were limited to ten miles.

The record which Peillo smashed was 118.381 per hour and was established a year ago by "Wild Bill" Cummings of Indianapolis when he qualified and won the pole position in the 1933 race.

Petillo's team-mate, Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, qualified later in the day with an average of 117.645. Their cars are owned by Joe Marks, a Gary, Ind., fruit dealer.

The time trials will be continued tomorrow and then will be recessed until next Thursday.

MURRAY IRKED

CLEVELAND, O., May 19. (AP)—About forty farmers gathered here today to hear Governor Murray speak in behalf of Tom Anglin, his choice for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, but heard only a preacher's introductory address.

Eyebing the scant audience, the governor strode off, remarking to the Rev. H. C. Williams, who had introduced him: "I don't waste time on such a small crowd."

Governors Scalp Busby's Indians In 22 to 8 Game

The war whoop was taken out of the Busby Indians yesterday afternoon when they ran into the Governors in Amarillo and were scalped to the tune of 22 to 8. Skeet Gibson threw a bunch of unknowns against the Indians and it was "curtain" from the first inning.

Marbough started the game for the Indians and rocked along in fair shape for the first seven innings, but his support was wabbling and the Governors ran in 12 runs in the last two innings. The Indians scored their eight runs in spasms until the seventh inning.

Rucker was on the mound for the Governors. He was hit freely and was wild in spots but he didn't have to exert himself to any great extent. The Indians defeated themselves with errors and erratic playing.

Devine and Sharpe were the only two starters who had previously been announced. The team played mid-season baseball although yesterday's encounter was their first in the season.

The same two teams will play again this afternoon at Metro park.

GOODMAN NOW 6-1 FAVORITE TO WIN TITLE

BRITISH AMATEUR GOLF TOURNAMENT WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Associated Press Sports Writer. PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 19. (AP)—Johnny Goodman, the United States Open golf champion, today was made a prohibitive 6 to 1 favorite to win the British amateur title starting over the Prestwick course Monday.

Although he took 74 wallops in his final practice round, Goodman made such an impression on Scotland's leading bookmaker he promptly reduced the previously quoted figures of 8 to 1 against the boy from Omaha.

Jack McLean the Scot, remained at 8 to 1 as second choice.

Goodman, in top form despite the score, told the Associated Press, "boy, I'm hitting them right for the first time since I reached England."

A gallery of more than 1,000 persons followed a foursome in which he played with Lawson Little, Tony

Glenn Cunningham Wins Three Events

LINCOLN, Neb., May 19. (AP)—Glenn Cunningham, ace of middle-west distance runners, trotted his way to easy victories in three events here today as his University of Kansas team mates clipped two conference records, took eight first places and tied for another, to win the annual Big Six track and field championship.

The Jayhawks rolled up a 68 1/2 point total with Nebraska, winner the last two years, finishing in second place with 54 1-3. The others finished as follows: Oklahoma 44 1/2, Kansas State 23 1-3, Missouri 25 5-6 and Iowa State 21 1/2.

Cunningham, who won the half mile, mile and two mile in a total of 25 seconds slower time than he needed in his iron man role here a year ago, shared individual honors with Ed Hall of Kansas. Hall repeated his last year's double victory in the sprints, and then won the broad jump and anchored the victorious Jayhawk mile relay team.

Torrance and James Alfred Skout, the Yorkshire star. With Little and Skout each scoring 71 the match ended all square.

Johnny Fischer, the former American intercollegiate champion from Cincinnati, posted a practice round of 72, followed by Chandler Egan and Francis Oulmet with 74's, Max Marston 75, Gus Moreland and Jack Westland each 77, and George T. Oulmet Jr., the American amateur champion, 78.

CIVIC CLUB GOLFERS AND 'OUTLAWS' SCHEDULED TO PLAY TOURNEY TODAY

COUNTRY CLUB FOURSOMES TO START AT ONE

PLAYERS NOT LISTED ARE ASKED TO BE AT COURSE

The race will be hurried—not very deep—this afternoon as golfers from three Pampa civic clubs unite to play golf against a team of "Outlaws" over the country club course. The first foursomes will tee off at 1 o'clock, one on hole No. 1 and a second on hole No. 10. Foursomes will continue to tee off on each nine every five minutes until the full 23 foursomes have "gone."

Two clubmen and two non-club members will make up each foursome. The clubmen in each foursome will not be from the same club. Pairings are as nearly equal as possible and a close match is anticipated.

Golfers, both clubmen and "outlaws" not listed are invited to be at the course at 1 o'clock. Some of the players listed will probably not be able to play and therefore there will be room for those who were over-looked in the pairings.

Match play will prevail and the distance will be 18 holes, or less. The course is in excellent condition although some of the greens are being improved. The fairways have been newly mowed. Other improvements have been started under personal supervision of Del Love, new professional.

A city-wide tournament is being planned and the dates will be announced soon. President H. H. Hicks reports. The tournament will be staged after improvements have been completed.

Pirates Downed

BROOKLYN, May 19. (AP)—Three Brooklyn pitchers combined today to give the Dodgers the decisive win in their series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Casey Stengel's boys nullified a four-run Pirate rally in the eighth with one of their own to capture the game, 5 to 3, and finish on top in the series, two victories to one.

Danny Taylor led the eleven hit Dodgers attack with three safe blows, including a home run in the fourth and a double.

Giants Whip Reds

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—The New York Giants closed their series with the Cincinnati Reds today with a 6-5 victory, giving the world champions two games to one.

The see-saw game was featured by five home runs, two by Chick Hafey of the Reds, and a protest that followed a circuit court off the bat of Joe Moore, Giant outfielder, in the sixth inning. The ball was deflected by a spectator as it was about to fall into the right field stands. Umpire Rigler ruled the hit was good for four bases, but the Reds claimed it was only good for two under ground rules.

CONQUEROR OF McSHAIN WILL GRAPPLE HERE

VAN BEBBER TO MEET SHEIK MARALLAH MONDAY NIGHT

The man who threw Danny McShain in Lubbock last week will appear on the Pampa mat tomorrow night. Throwing McShain, wild Irishman, is his accomplishment and only two men have succeeded. They are Jack Van Bebber of Lubbock and Don Hill of California.

Van Bebber will be the wrestler who will appear here tomorrow night. He will meet Sheik Ben Ali Marallah, champion of Asia and undefeated in Pampa since his arrival several weeks ago. The Dutchman in defeating McShain used some of the Irishman's rough tactics to win two out of three falls.

The Dutch sensation has not been a member of the professional ranks for a great length of time, but since leaving the amateur class he has met and defeated some of the masters of the game. Van Bebber was middleweight Olympic champion last year. The Dutchman seems to be able to suit himself to any type of wrestling. With Marallah the other man in the ring, the going is likely to be rough.

Don Carver's El Paso gift to the wrestling game, will meet Charlie Heard of San Antonio in the semifinal. The two little fellows should put up one of the greatest matches of the year—from the standpoint of speed and wrestling. Both are lightning fast and clever. Carver has been seen here in two preliminaries and he made a real hit with Pampa fans. Heard is an "old timer" here.

The preliminary will bring Wildcat Willie of LeFors against Lobo Brown of Amarillo. The LeFors wildcat has been going strong and is in great condition.

Gomez Wins Sixth

DETROIT, May 19. (AP)—Vernon (Left) Gomez registered his sixth consecutive victory of the season today by pitching the New York Yankees to an 8 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the final game of their series. It was the Yanks only triumph in the set of three games.

Grove Wins First

ST. LOUIS, May 19. (AP)—Although his fast ball seemed to lack some of its old-time zip, Robert Moses Grove, the $100,000 southpaw, held the Browns to six hits today and batted out a home run with two mates on bases as the Red Sox won the series final, 4-1. CANYON, May 19.—Bob Cox, nationally famous fullback of Duke University and former Amarillo college Badger, star, was announced today as assistant coach at West Texas State Teachers college to aid Coach Al Baggett.

Cox was captain of the first two teams that Amarillo college ever had in 1930 and 1931. He went to Duke in the spring of 1932 and immediately became fullback on the varsity football team. Cox proved a sensation his first year with his exceptional passing, and his powerful line plunges. At the close of the 1932 season he was characterized as "one of the best line-cracking fullbacks ever to perform in the Southern conference."

Last year "Our Bob" at Durham, N. Carolina, sports writers call him took up where he had left off the year before and as high scorer in the South led Coach Wallace Wade's Duke university Blue Devils to the Southern conference championship.

His 69 points gained by eleven touchdowns and three extra points also gave him fourth high scoring honors in the nation. Cox was named on the North Carolina all-state team, the all-South Atlantic team, was voted almost unanimously the fullback post on the All-Southern conference team, and was given honorable mention on the All-American team. His merit card certifying his all-American rating and signed by Christy Walsh of the All-American Board of Football is in the possession of Coach Baggett.

ROADRUNNERS BEAT MEMPHIS IN 6-1 GAME

OWLS SCORE THRICE IN FIRST INNING AND THEN FOLD UP

After a shaky first inning in which the Memphis Owls scored three runs, Lefty George Bulla settled down and held the Owls scoreless the rest of the game while the Roadrunners scored six runs in an exciting game at Owl park Friday afternoon.

The Owls failed to get more than a single in any one inning after collecting two doubles and two singles to score three runs in the opening innings. Bulla allowed the Owls 10 hits but struck out six batters and did not give a base on balls.

"Big" Stewart, Memphis ace, allowed only 9 hits and struck out 12 Roadrunners. Stewart was wild, allowing six bases on balls. He walked the bases full in the ninth but got by without being scored on. Seitz whiffed three times and Brickell, Cox and Bulla fanned twice each. Ater and Sain were the only Roadrunners not to fall before Stewart.

After Roadrunner shortstop, got his batting eye Friday to get three hits, including a home run which scored Brickell in the opening inning. Ward collected a triple and single for the only extra base blows made by the Roadrunners. Lindsey and Marcum doubled for Memphis in the first inning. Hale, Owl leftfielder, was the hitting ace of the game with four singles in four trips to bat.

Brickell walked as the first Roadrunner to bat. Ater scored him with a long home run into the wind. The Roadrunners scored another in the fourth when Ward, first man up, tripled. He scored on a fly to left. Another counter came in the seventh when McLary singled, was sacrificed to second and made third on Bulla's single. Bulla was caught between first and second as McLary scored. The Roadrunner's last two scores came in the eighth on a single by Ater, double by Vaughn and Sain's single with two out.

The Owls will be matched to play a return date here but the time has not been set. The Roadrunners will go to LeFors next Sunday to ### Roadrunners nosed out the bearded ball players in a great effort to close the season last fall.

The House of David pepper game, which astonished fans last year, will be staged again during the games next month. The participants will be Hanson, Hutson, Tucker and Wycoff, four veterans with the team. Other members of the starting lineup are Cliff, Atwell, Anderson and Flemming.

Tucker, Anderson and Talley are three originals from Mary's Colony. (Mary Furnell was one of the founders of the original House of David and still heads the New Colony). Most of the other members of the team are veterans who came into the colony since its re-organization.

The Roadrunners nosed out the bearded ball players in a great effort to close the season last fall. J. R. Tucker, manager and first baseman, writes that his nine hasn't forgotten the defeat of last year.

WINTER-DIRTY CURTAINS BRIGHTENED BY TURNING

The appearance of a pair of curtains which have become discolored during the winter heating of a house may be improved by turning the curtains upside down. Just a little hemming and pressing and new life appears in them.

And if, during the spring cleaning, it is difficult to keep the children out of your way and yet amused the same time, let them have little dustcloths and brooms and give them a corner in which to work. They may be of great help.

A meteorological station to study winter storms and winds has been established on the top of Mount Washington, N. H., said to be the windiest spot in the United States, by the New Hampshire Academy of Sciences.

Only car under $2500 with a V.8 Engine

NEW FORD V.8

Definite reasons for the superior performance and efficiency of the V-type engine

THERE'S no guessing about the superiority of V-type engines. They hold every major record on land, on water and in the air. For years they have been used for the finest motor cars in this country.

We designed a V-type engine for the Ford because it has certain basic, fundamental advantages that cannot be duplicated in any other type. It costs more to build a V-type engine—a great deal more. But we absorb that cost for the sake of getting better performance on the road. Here are just a few of the advantages of Ford V-8 design:

MORE EFFICIENT DESIGN—The Ford V-8 engine is more efficient because the eight cylinders are divided into two short banks of four each and placed opposite each other in a compact V-shape design—instead of being strung out in a long straight line.

ONE-PIECE CASTING of cylinder blocks, crankcase and exhaust passages. An exclusive Ford V-8 engine feature that means better performance and economy. Keeps operating parts in permanent alignment by providing exceptional rigidity for entire engine. Also increases smoothness, gives longer life to bearings and all moving parts.

SHORTER CRANKSHAFT—Compact V-type design of Ford engine permits use of shorter, more rigid crankshaft. This reduces vibration.

BETTER FUEL DISTRIBUTION—Shorter and more direct fuel passages to cylinders increase engine efficiency.

SIMPLER COOLING SYSTEM—Ford V-8 design brings all cylinders close together and results in simpler cooling system within the engine. The Ford V-8 has two water pumps.

MORE EFFICIENT LUBRICATION—Oil lines are shorter in the Ford because of V-8 design. Less distance for oil to travel. More efficient lubrication.

GREATER SMOOTHNESS because of inherently correct engine balance resulting from 90° V-8 design with 90° spacing of crankthrows on fully counterbalanced crankshaft. Precision weighing of pistons and connecting-rod assures accurate running balance.

INCREASED BODY ROOM—Ford V-8 engine takes up less space in hood because of shorter, more compact design. That permits more of car's length to be used for the passengers. It is one reason why the Ford V-8 has more interior room than any other low-price car.

PROVED PERFORMANCE—V-type engines hold every major record on land, on water and in the air. (Seaplane.) In every test, they show their superior efficiency and performance.

Those are the advantages of the V-type design. The foremost engineers in the country acknowledge the superiority of this type of engine and use it in the finest automobiles, speed boats and airplanes. Only the Ford gives you a V-8 cylinder engine for less than $2500.

The Ford V-8 is the most remarkable engine ever built because it combines V-8 performance with economy. It delivers more horsepower per gallon of fuel than any Ford engine ever built. Dynamometer tests prove it in the laboratory. Ford owners by the thousands have proved it on the road. They know, as you will know, that no car costs less to own and run than the New Ford V-8.

FIRE

(Continued from page 1.) attacked and demolished by the flames that swept with volcanic fury from the eastward into the heart of the yards and on across Halsted street into a residential and commercial neighborhood.

Many Animals Perish

Hundreds of cattle, sheep and hogs, trapped by the scorching wave, perished in their stalls but others were herded to havens. Pens, corrals, runways, plants, sheds and other wooden structures in the yards burned like paper boxes.

Smoke at the height of the fire could be seen as far away as South Bend, Ind., by aviators. The flames were clearly visible from the tops of taller loop buildings, five miles to the north.

A series of explosive blasts set off by firemen to stop the tide of flame, razed several structures in its path but was effectual in staying its course.

Mayor Edward Kelly termed the blaze the worst since most of the community was laid waste by the fire of 1871 and gray-haired Marzhal Corrigan described it as the most extensive he had ever seen. It among the major buildings damaged or completely ruined were the livestock exchange building, housing many administrative offices; the Hall of the Percheron society of America; the huge stock yards amphitheater and Dexter pavilion, scene of many blue-ribbon horse shows and livestock exhibitions; the Drovers National bank; the Stock Yards Inn; the Stock Yards National bank; the P. Brennan railroad offices; the Agar Packing company; an American Express branch; an elevated train station; the Omaha Packing company's wholesale market; the block square plant of the Equipment Corporation of America.

Heroes Distinguished

Firemen were hindered in their efforts to curb the progress of the flames by the fact that many streets into the area are blocked off by railroad tracks. The only through street east of the point where the conflagration started was Halsted street, almost a mile away.

It was there that the fire fighters "dug in" and fought. Engines and pumps were hooked on every available water plug for blocks in that direction. The streets were rivers of water after an hour of fighting. It was there the fire was finally downed.

Chief among heroes and heroines were telephone company employees who stuck at their posts through the thick of the battle. During the worst of the blaze the wards exchange office caught fire giving rise to reports that the building was destroyed.

The crew of 100 operators at the exchange, lungs clogged with smoke and eyes smarting, carried on at one time with only two trunk lines working out of the exchange.

The middle-west's drought of more than a month which has been alleviated here by only occasional minor showers was blamed for the rapid spread of the flames. Every day, almost, has its fire in the yards area but the fire-fighting personnel there is so efficient that only a few ever reach the stage of newspaper notice.

Today the wooden buildings were fire tinder after two days of excessive heat. The circumstance which gave the famous fire of 1871 its great start—a long dry spell—offered another opportunity for even more widespread damage but modern fire fighting apparatus operation is necessary for an effective embargo.

A third group to which cables were sent, takes in countries bordering on the warring nations. It consists of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru. Their help is considered necessary to prevent the transit of arms.

Head of Tammany Lauds Roosevelt

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Seeking to unify the city democracy, William F. Kenneally, new temporary leader of Tammany Hall, tonight praised the administration of President Roosevelt and received the compliments of Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Asserting he would refuse to accept the permanent leadership of the Wigwam in the place of the deposed John F. Curry, Kenneally said:

1. That Governor Herbert H. Lehman should be re-elected and the hall would support him.

2. That Tammany would insist state and congressional candidates in November back the policies of the president and governor.

3. That former governor Alfred E. Smith and other party leaders "must" be brought back to the hall's "active councils."

4. That Farley had rendered distinguished service as chairman of the state and national committees. Kenneally's "olive branch" statement came less than 24 hours after the recovery party, which backed Joseph V. McKee for mayor last year, repudiated his leadership, obtained by a coup credited to James J. Hines, powerful district leader.

JUNGLE ARMS EMBARGO PLAN IS APPROVED

31 NATIONS ASKED TO COOPERATE IN ENDING WAR

GENEVA, May 19. (AP)—Spurred by President Roosevelt's initiative in asking the American senate to ratify the Geneva arms convention, the League of Nations today dispatched cables to 31 governments, asking if they are ready to clamp an arms embargo on warring Paraguay and Bolivia.

The cables were sent by the council's Chaco committee immediately after the council unanimously had adopted a resolution to take steps designed to put an embargo into effect at the earliest possible moment.

They suggest the countries to which they are addressed withhold materials of war of every kind from the two South American nations and thereby force them to stop their jungle conflict.

Cables were sent to all the countries that were members of the 1933 council, which first discussed the embargo.

These are Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Spain, China, Mexico, Panama, Guatemala and Ireland.

In addition, queries went forth to nations elected to the council of 1934 and countries mentioned by other states as nations whose cooperation is necessary for an effective embargo.

Heads Cracked, Teeth Missing, In Strike Riot

MINNEAPOLIS, May 19. (AP)—Cracked heads, missing teeth and bruises were evidence tonight of police victory in their first skirmish with striking truck drivers who, until today, had halted commercial truck transportation since Tuesday night.

Meantime, efforts of Governor Floyd B. Olson to obtain an agreement from employers and drivers to end the strike by arbitration of their differences failed when the employers' committee rejected his proposal.

A further attempt was to be made later, however, when Michael Johnson, chief of police, was to meet with strike leaders. They have protested police efforts to break the strike.

At least 19 men, including four policemen and two men who identified themselves as bystanders, required hospital attention after police with night sticks twice repulsed pickets who threw stones as they sought to halt produce trucks. Each truck was accompanied by a police convoy.

Ten Thousand in Anti-War Parade

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—Some 10,000 men, women and children marched up Fifth avenue today in a "no more war" parade.

At Madison square, where an eternal light burns in memory of the war dead, the parade halted while Dr. John Haynes Holmes, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and other speakers denounced war.

From sidewalks and office buildings large crowds witnessed the march. One automobile filled with young boys bore a sign reading: "Cannon fodder? It's up to you!"

A group of young men and women, labeled "The Green Internationale," carried a banner saying, "If war should come, I'd refuse"; another placard asserted: "The United States spends $2,000,000 a day for armaments."

KILLS SELF

Business is Terrible

There are several reasons—

1st—Most folks don't know where we are.

2nd—They don't know what beautiful things we have.

3rd—They haven't any idea what reasonable prices we have on this quality merchandise.

4th—They don't know how anxious we are to really please them.

5th—They are unaware that we expect to build up a trade on reliability, honesty and courtesy. That we expect to be here permanently, entering into every phase of work, whether civic, social or economic, for a bigger and better city.

VESPER SERVICE TO OPEN COMMENCEMENT

Senior Trip To Carlsbad Is High Point of Year

SNEAK DAY IS MADE NOTABLE THROUGH TREK

SPECIAL CLASS PLAY MADE JOURNEY POSSIBLE

THE dream of two years was realized when this year's senior class went on a three-day excursion to Carlsbad Caverns national park, May 3-5. The juniors of '33 had set their hearts on going.

The trip was quite the most ambitious Sneak day affair ever attempted by P. H. S. It was the result of months of work and planning on the part of the entire class, guided by Principal L. L. Sone and the class sponsors, Fannie May, Louise Durrenberger, B. G. Gordon, and J. L. Lester.

Early in the year, the class determined to give a play to help earn transportation expenses, and over $200 was netted from the two presentations of "Jobyna Steps Out." All spring, students individually and in groups worked to earn money for the trip. One group of enterprising girls gave a box supper. Others sold candy, pop, and ice cream at basketball tournaments, track meets, and district meet, and in the corridors at school. Some girls did house work and looked after children. Both boys and girls worked after school and Saturdays in stores and offices, typed copy, etc. Boys did paint jobs, worked in yards, jerked sodas, and what not. But all felt repaid for their hours of work after visiting the cavern.

Fees Are Reduced
Through the courtesy of the school board, the class was permitted to take the athletic bus on the trip, and many citizens offered the use of their cars. Cavern officials exempted the students from all fees but the 15-cent federal tax, and two large tourist camps gave reduced rates to the

Valedictorian Is Often a Winner

Josephine Lane, valedictorian of the class of '34, has made an average of 94 plus for all four years in high school. Besides that, she has taken part in many school activities. Perhaps no student has rendered finer service to the school. She was elected as a junior to membership in the National Honor society and was awarded the A. A. U. W. scholarship last Friday. Both of these honors are based on the four outstanding qualities of an all-round student—scholarship, character, leadership, and service to the school.

Her four years in P. H. S. have been filled with activities. In her freshman year she entered the Interscholastic League essay writing contest. As a sophomore she belonged to the Latin club and was accompanist for both boys' and girls' glee clubs. She worked in the registrar's office during all her junior year, accompanied the orchestra and the mixed quartet, and carried the leading feminine role in the junior play, "No Trespassing."

This year she has accompanied the orchestra and the boys' glee club, represented the school at the district meet in extemporaneous speaking, won the leisure time essay contest, worked in the office, and served as managing editor of the "Little Harvester." In addition, throughout her four years she has

A. A. U. W. HELPS GIRLS OF SENIOR CLASS ALL YEAR

Vocational Guidance Given—Scholarship To Miss Lane

THE Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women has taken a more active interest in the senior girls this year than ever before under the leadership of Mrs. J. B. Massa, president, and Miss Mary Idelle Cox, faculty advisor. The club has had three meetings with the senior girls.

Early in the fall, the A. A. U. W. secured Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women at West Texas State Teachers college, to speak to the girls on women and careers.

After the girls had filled out questionnaires as to what they intended to do next year, the A. A. U. W. gave them a tea in the city club rooms, at which the theme was further education for the place in the home, the professions, and the business world. Mrs. E. C. Will spoke on "Why Go to School and to What School." Mrs. C. C. Wilson talked on "College Life," including opportunities for working one's way thru school. Mrs. Roy Wallrabenstein talked on "Women in the Home" and Mrs. T. E. Simmons on "Women in the Business World;" and Mrs. A. N. Dilley explained the rules for awarding the scholarship.

Following these talks, the girls were divided into groups according to their plans for next year. In each group an A. A. U. W. mem-

P-TA'S RECORD IN LAST YEAR SPLENDID ONE

MRS. J. M. DODSON HAS HAD RECREATIONAL PROGRAM

The High School Parent-Teacher association under the leadership of Mrs. J. M. Dodson has completed a very successful and useful year to the students and faculty of the high school and to the parents of the students. The P.-T. A. this year has made a new contact with the students.

The first project of the P.-T. A. was to provide recreational outlets for high school students. The first open house party honoring the Harvesters and Redskins following the Oklahoma City-Pampa game was held on September 29. This meeting was under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Clark.

The next entertainment was a pep rally in the form of werner roast at Green's Pasture the evening before the Cisco game. The main feature of the evening besides the food was a girl's football game. The girls defeated the boys 13-0. This picnic was attended by around 650 people.

Supt. Fisher Stresses Value Of the Schools

DEMOCRACY is on trial in this country today, and unquestionably the public school is our main defense. Thomas Jefferson said, "Education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army." These statements may mean little to you now, but as the responsibilities of life grow upon you, such quotations will become more real.

To you seniors I hope the method of study and plans of how to think have meant more to you than the gathering of statistical information. No doubt you memorized enough isolated facts in high school to pass examinations and make what we call a passing grade, but may I warn you that pure memory alone will not solve your problems in life—much thinking and good common sense are a better test.

It is our hope too that your happiness may continue to grow as you find it in service to others. Remember a true Harvester never quits and is always loyal to Pampa high school.

And here's the salutatorian. She is Etoile Sirman, whose high average is matched by her quiet efficiency, and always, her good humor.

ONE-ACT PLAY CAST BRINGS STATE HONORS

Miss Hollenbeck and Vernell Stevens on Star Team

The outstanding dramatic production of the year was "Smoke-screen," the one-act play which won first place in the state contest and placed two students on the all-star cast. The winning play was coached by Ben Guill.

Vernell Stevens in the assumed role of a dope fiend and Imogene Hollenbeck as a gangster's moll were named on the all-state cast. The only other character in the play was Harold Bray, the hard-boiled officer.

This group won out over five other casts of P. H. S. students who originally tried out for the play. It then won the district and regional meets before going to Austin to compete with seven other plays representing their respective regions in the state meet.

The play was presented publicly twice in Pampa, once at the city hall for the P.-T. A. open-house program, and once at La Nora theater under the auspices of the Kiwanis club along with the Little Theater's production "The Cat and the Canary."

Originally six full casts of students tried out for parts under student directors. Sue Dodson was director of the winning cast and Leon Robinson was stage manager. Other students who took part in

FIRST BAPTIST AUDITORIUM TO BE NECESSARY

CANDLE LIGHTING HAS BIG PLACE ON PROGRAM

COMMENCEMENT week which begins today for 98 Pampa high school seniors with a vesper service at 5 o'clock this evening, will conclude with the graduation program next Thursday evening. Both programs will be held in the auditorium of the First Baptist church in order to seat the largest crowds possible.

The Rev. John Mullen of the First Christian church will give the sermon. The graduation program will center around the installation of the newly elected members of the National Honor society by those members of the graduating class who are already members. The entire program will be in the form of a candle lighting ceremony. Every graduate will light a candle in pledge of his loyalty to P. H. S.

The program for the vesper service this evening is as follows:

Processional.
Invocation—Rev. Gaston Foote.
"Sweet Is Thy Mercy"—Barnby.
By Treble Clef club, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, director, Mrs. Walter Stein, accompanist.
Scripture reading—Rev. E. C. McKenzie.

Violin duos, "Berceuse"—Gounod: "Cavatina"—Raff. By Miss Hermine Stover, Mr. Roy Wallrabenstein, Mrs. May Foreman Carr, accompanist.
Sermon—The Rev. John S. Mullen.
"Evening Hymn"—Ashford. By Treble Clef club.

Benediction—The Rev. Vernie Pipes.
Recessional.

The graduation program, which will be held next Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock, is as follows:

Processional.
Gems from "The Mikado" and "H. M. S. Pinafore"—Gilbert and Sullivan. By High School orchestra.

Invocation—The Rev. C. E. Lancaster.

Installation of National Honor Society.
(See COMMENCEMENT, Page 12)

Salutatorian Is Active Student

Etoile Sirman is salutatorian of the class of '34 with an average of 88-plus for her four years in high school. She will be initiated Thursday evening into the National Honor society and will be one of the speakers on the graduation program.

As her membership in the National Honor society implies, Etoile has proved herself not only an excellent scholar but also a willing and useful participant in school activities. Quiet and unassuming, she has not sought places of leadership, but has served willingly in many types of school work. She sang for two years in the glee club. She was a member of the Spanish club and the pep squad. She has taken an active part in commercial work and lettered as a member of the typing team. She has served as a student assistant in the library during her senior year.

Etoile entered the Pampa schools as a freshman in high school, coming here from Breckenridge. She is 16 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sirman. She hopes to be a teacher and will enter West Texas State Teachers college next fall.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF DISTRICT IS PROUD POSSESSION OF PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL

Large Silver Trophy Is Possessed — Bi-District Title Also Is Won.

"Pampa — Champion District 1, 1933" is engraved on the full-sized silver football trophy presented to the Harvesters and their coaches, Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox, in assembly last Wednesday.

The District 1 champions also won the bi-district honors by defeating Abilene, but were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the state race by San Angelo in a 7-6 game.

Monroe Owens, captain-elect, made all-state.

Amarillo's withdrawal from the league because of the ineligibility of Corbett practically gave Pampa a cinch on the District 1 title, though fans had several breathlessly exciting days when the eligibility of Mackie was unsuccessfully contested by Amarillo.

The Amarillo game, as usual, drew the largest crowd of the season and was the most tense of all the games. The score ended 9-6 in Amarillo's favor. The game with the Abilene Eagles for the bi-district championship was swift and interesting, and the game with the San Angelo Bobcats in the quarter-finals for state was one of the closest games.

A summary of the season follows, conference games being started: Sept. 22—McLean at Pampa, 6-6, tie. Sept. 29—Oklahoma City at Pampa, 7-6, loss. Oct. 7—Big Spring at Big Spring, 0-20, win. Oct. 13—Shawnee at Shawnee, 7-0, loss. Oct. 21—Cisco at Pampa, 27-0, win. Oct. 28—Plainview at Pampa, 6-0.

Friend to All

Dear Dorothy:

I know that it is not my turn to write, but the most fascinating thing happened to me last Monday, and I know you will be interested in hearing it. I hardly know how to go about it; so I will just begin at the beginning. It is a long story, but I hope it won't tire or bore you.

Last Monday it was raining, and I decided to clean out my attic and make room for some things I wanted to save and didn't have room for in the other part of the house. As you know, I am the greatest hand in the world for saving things. But the story,—well, I went upstairs and found an old lantern that has been in the family for years. I needed some light, so I lit it. And you know me; as old as I am, I still like to imagine things. So I played like that I was a princess. Of course I had to dream the part; so I dug out an old evening dress that I had worn when I was a senior in 1934 in dear old P. H. S. and put on a crown and a lot of jewelry, and I was in my treasure room counting my gold. (I mean old memories and my old relics.) I opened one old trunk and started taking things out, and debating whether to throw them away or not, and what do you think? I found my copy of the Senior Edition of the "Little Harvester." I read it from cover to cover, and then I tried to recognize the pictures of the students without looking at the names just to see how many of the seniors I could remember.

Then I thought I could see Warren Finley as a banker seated at a desk dictating a letter to Katherine Vaught, when Grace Kite came in to invest the money she had made on the oil found on her farm. Just then a man came in and robbed the bank. Grace fainted; so they took her to Dr. Kitty Perry, and her nurse, Lacy Decker, helped bring her to. After Grace regained consciousness, they sent her home with a special nurse, Dora Mae Swart-out.

Down the hill I saw a sign "R. W. Eldridge, dentist." The temptation was so great that I looked in to see if it could be Ray, and it was. Varie Frair was his nurse, and Willis Isbell and Bert Stevens were sitting in the office waiting for him. They told me that they had married and were living on a farm east of town; also, that Lloyd and H. B. Taylor were now handling the Taylor Farm dairy, Elbert Gillham and Lafon McKenzie managed the Furr Food stores, Anna Louise Clayton taught biology, Ruth Watson taught shorthand, Miles Marbaugh was Pampa coach now, while Jess Patton coached in Amarillo and that the hatred was still strong between Amarillo and Pampa in football. They said Marshall Kemp was principal in P. H. S., Max Akers owned a men's clothing store, Supt. H. B. Fisher—he succeeds only to lose. After the pupils progress through the grades and make names for themselves in high school, they must leave. But they will always remember the kindly superintendent who was always their friend and adviser.

Vivian Baker and Margaret Williams had a beauty shop in the Davis company building, where Davis was a big business man and his secretary was Rosalie O'Grady. Evelyn Graham and Lorraine Noel had married, as everybody expected.

The next people I remember seeing were Joe Gribbon and Jo Flanagan, who were having a heated debate in the courtroom and Reginald Mitchell was the dignified judge. In New York in the opera house Alice Reedy, a noted pianist, was giving a piano recital; Mary Cary, an opera star, was giving a concert. Sleator Frey was entertaining friends with her violin in Mrs. H. L. Ledrick's home. At Madison Square Garden Minnie Neal, a professional basket ball star, was playing in Babe Didrikson's place; Orville Heiskell and Elmer Irving, noted basketball stars, were playing there too. Walter Moss was an aviator. Josephine Lane was a professor of English in Texas university, and Waidean Dickinson and Francis Hodge were librarians. Mary Katherine and Ed Burch were having trouble with the plumbing in their home, and they called on Dick Eullins to fit it. Lawrence Staley was a newspaper man and was assigning Anna Mae Gotcher, the society editor, to get the story of Eva Mae Kinchloe's and Mildred Myatt's party. Lawrence was looking over the sport page, which told about the two great tennis stars, C. A. Clark and Wilton Frier; the

MUCH FAME IS WON IN YEAR BY PEP SQUAD

Good Leadership and Daily Practices Make Skill in Formations Possible.

The Harvester pep squad of 1933, 120 strong, was more successful as a group than any other pep squad of Pampa high school. The leaders elected this year were Pauline Noel, head yell leader; Lorraine Noel, field director; Oneita Frashier, Joe Poole, and Jack Poole, leaders. The sponsors were Mrs. E. L. Norman and Miss Angela Strnad.

With daily practices, under the deft leadership of the sponsors and leaders, the pep squad made rapid progress and in a few weeks was in full stride. The pep squad attended every game that was played at Harvester Park and made two trips to Lubbock. At the halves during all of the more important games the pep squad gave stunts, some of the best being the N. R. A., the forming of the letters for San Angelo, and the flying of pigeons for the Abilene game. During all of the games at various times green and gold handkerchiefs were used. The pep squad yelled and performed best when there was competition from other squads and when a large crowd attended the games.

Well Tailored Suits

The green uniforms of the squad are said to be the neatest and most tailored in this part of Texas. The squad is also one of the largest in the state.

This year the squad was taught calisthenics and different forms of marching as well as the usual routine of yelling and singing. More interest was created this year than before in the large pep rallies held before each game. These rallies were usually directed by Ben Guill, who was master of ceremonies. The band and pep squad performed during this time to create school and town spirit in the following day's game.

PROPHECY

Managing editor, Josephne Lane community.
I must have been dreaming because I was awakened suddenly by some loud noise. It was only the radio that I had left on and someone announced the music of Wayne Larsh starring Marjorie Enloe. Can you feature it? So I listened to it until the program was over, and who do you think the announcer was—none other than George Dick. Naturally a book salesman had to interrupt my good time, but here is another surprise: the book salesman was Glenn Earl Davis. Did I look a fright? But I explained the situation to him, and we both laughed about it. He was selling a book of poetry written by Fred Gordon. Then that very night my new play that I am in opened. It was written by Etoile Sirman.

Now wasn't that fantastic? I had been all over the United States and I had seen what had happened to all our classmates. I didn't believe it of course; nevertheless, I went to a fortune teller the next day and told her the story. I asked her if it were true, and she said of course it could be and was true, in fact very true. Afterwards I got to thinking about it, and I wondered if the lamp had anything to do with it.

Well, Miss Harris, what do you think about it? I think it was perfectly wonderful, and I'll tell you what let's do some time when I have a vacation and your contract with the Paramount studios is over; Let's go and see all of our old classmates. I must stop all of this and get ready to go to the theater. My play is still running and the critics here like it. I hope we play here at least another month. Write again soon.

Love,

SUE.

arillo game, Nov. 11, the P.-T. A. served coffee and cookies in the gymnasium in an informal reception honoring the Amarillo visitors.

One of the biggest events of the year was a banquet given for the pep squad and band in the cafeteria. The main color scheme was green and gold, but the tables were decorated to represent the different conference towns in the district. Sue Dodson, acting as toastmistress, was able to have as program guests Mae West (impersonated by Jerry Mitchell), Bing Crosby (Harry Barnett), Ruth Etting (Welda Richards), Ben Bernie and his band (Roy Wallrabenstein and his German band), and Guy Lombardo (Roy Wallrabenstein and his German band), who entertained the guests with their music, and then George Burns and Gracie Allen came on the air (Harold Bray and Dorothy Harris), Jimmy Durante (Paul Schneider), Walter Winchell (Roy Webb) and to climax the program President Roosevelt (Supt. Fisher) delivered an address.

The last thing for the P.-T. A. has planned for this year is a buffet supper in honor of the graduating seniors and the faculty in the City Club Rooms following the Vesper Service this evening. They will be assisted by the senior mothers.

Letters Are Awarded

A second project of the P.-T. A. was to see that students received recognition for outstanding accomplishments. The last meeting for the year was held in the city auditorium on the afternoon of May 9, when letters were presented to 84 students who had won honors during the year in various school activities besides athletics. Each sponsor of an activity was presented with a small corsage. Mrs. Frances Alexander was in charge of the presentation of awards. The program was followed by a reception in the City Club rooms. Those receiving letters were: One-Act play, Vernell Stevens, Imogene Hollenbeck, Harold Bray; Declamation, Ella Faye O'Keefe, J. G. McConnell; extemporaneous speaking, Josephine Lane, Samuel Stennis; Little Harvester staff, Lorraine Noel, Sue Dodson, Reed Clarke, Samuel Stennis, Josephine Lane; typing, Kittle Perry, Etoile Sirman, Mary Elizabeth Nees, Gleen, Earle Davis, Mary Cary, Rosalie O'Grady, shorthand, Ruth Watson, Katherine Vaught; bookkeeping, Bessie Lee Tidwell; debate, Joe Gribbon, Norman Whisenand, Lorita Hogan, Helen Joe Daugherty; Latin, Helen Marie Jones, Flora Dean Finley, Tom Eamon, Gwendolyn Underwood, Harriet Ann Robb; National Honor society, Grace Kite, Etoile Sirman, Vernell Stevens, C. A. Clark, Wayne Larsh, Kitty Perry, Warren Finley, Rosalie O'Grady, Glenn Earl Davis, Albert Austin, Frank McLaughlin, Mary Elizabeth Nees, John Moyar, Otto Rice, Helen Marie Jones, Harriet Hunkapillar, Ella Faye O'Keefe, Buck

Projects Make Money

In order to finance the all-high school parties and the presentation of awards, two money-making projects were undertaken. On December 5 the P.-T. A. gave an old fashion style show, with an old fashion sing-song and a square dance by the old timers of Pampa. For additional entertainment Ben Guill and Neal Bean also put on some numbers between scenes.

The second money raising project was an animated checker game held in the gymnasium April 5. The different oil companies had girls as checkers to represent them, and the players were Marjorie Sommerville, Dorothy Joe Moore, Betty Jane Blythe, Betty Curtis, Patty Will, Elizabeth McAfee, Mildred Tolbert, Mary Price, Jean Mann, Burton Tolbert, Claudia Atterbery, Claudine Jefferies, Virginia Jefferies, Dorothy Brumley, Daisy Ann Shileds, Sue Dodson, Charlene Sidlow, Nellie Meers, Flora Deen Finley, Rose Mary Hampton, Janice Purviance, Ina Mae Dean, Lillian Rice. The checker players were furnished by the civic clubs in town. Jimmy Weir of the Rotary Club won the checker games after eliminating A. L. Patrick of the Kiwanis club and Fred Gordon of the Lions club. C. P. Buckler was referee. The companies participating were Bridgeport company, Texas Oil and gas company, Cabot company, Jones Everett Machine ship, Stanolind Oil company, Bell Oil and Gas company, Phillips Petroleum company, Gulf Refining company, Continental Oil company, Central States Power & Light company, Southwestern Public Service, B. & B. Oil company, Jeffries Trucking company, Hinderliter Tools, British-American Oil company, Lefors Petroleum company, Mordyan, Cities Service Oil company, Texaco, Dixon Creek Oil company, Sinclair Oil and Gas, Humble Oil, Sun Oil company, Guernsey Oil and Gas, Nehl, and Dille Bakeries.

Another service of the P.-T. A. was in helping finance various student undertakings. Box suppers were held in the rural schools and girls sold candy at the checker game to help earn their expenses for the Carlsbad trip. The P.-T. A. donated $10 to defray the expenses of the pupils who went to the state meet.

Two open-house programs were held in the evenings when the men also could come. The first was held in the gymnasium December 18, at which time a Christmas program was presented. On March 16 an open house program was held in the city hall presenting outside activities of P. H. S. Some of the outside activities represented on this program were the band, girls' quartet, boys' glee club and novelty trio, dramatic reading, commercial department skit, and the winning cast of the contest play.

For about three weeks in the month of March the P.-T. A. held a membership drive. A party was promised the home room which got the most membership on a percentage basis to join the P.-T. A.; also they promised the class in high school who had 50 per cent of their parents members a picnic. Miss May's home room won the contest by having 60 per cent of her home room for members of the P.-T. A. The room chose as their prize a theater party which was given May 7.

Those who were responsible for the year's many activities are Mrs. J. M. Dodson (president), Mrs. J. O. Marshall (vice-president) Miss Mary Idelle Cox (secretary), Mrs. Tom Sweatman (treasurer), Miss Alma Ruth Schulkey (program chairman), Mrs. C. A. Clarke (recreation chairman), Mrs. Frances Alexander (attainment awards chairman), Mrs. C. E. Lancaster (hospitality chairman) Miss Grace Fern Latimer (scrap book chairman), Mrs. George Walstad (student adviser), Mrs. W. D. Benton (membership chairman), Mrs. J. D. Lawson (finance and budget chairman), Mrs. T. H. McDonald (publicity chairman), and L. L. Sone (principal).

Mrs. Dodson issued this statement following the last meeting: "The P.-T. A. is a field for great work. There is so much to be done and so much left undone this year. I hope that in the years to come the High School Parent-Teachers association will grow and become greater every year."

group for the two nights spent in Carlsbad.

The trip was a lark from beginning to end. The driving was done in congenial groups with a responsible older person in each car. Carlsbad's municipal beach proved a great attraction, and the Cinco de Mayo celebrations added color and interest to the city. The Cavern proved to be a real wonder. Seniors will treasure the memory of this trip as the high light of their high school years.

In all, one hundred Pampans went on the excursion, including 80 seniors. Those who made the trip were Ura Mae Bentley, Jewell Christopher, George Dick, Glenn Davis, Lacy Decker, Weldon Davis, Waldean Dickinson, Virgil Frasher, Anna Mae Gotcher, Hallard Hinkle, Evelyn Mullennix, Reginal Mitchell, Doris Ballard, Theresa Troy, Beulah Mitchell, John Plank, Norma Kidd, Margaret Williams, David Hudge, Patricia McKee, Angus Oswald, Carl Poole, Juanita Higgins, Ben Slaughter, Carmine Howard, Joe Gribbon, C. ## Boys' Club of Songsters Popular — Quartet Good

The boy's glee club, under the direction of Bob Smellage, has become very popular among the townspeople as well as students.

Boys' glee club was offered as a regular course at the beginning of the second term. The club has sung many times together, and several smaller groups were also organized. Darwood Fanning, La Verne Courson, Fred Mason, and Eldred Caldwell formed a quartet. A trio composed of Darwood Fanning, La Verne Courson, and Fred Mason made many hits with novelty numbers. Darwood Fanning and La Verne Courson frequently sang duets. Other groups were also occasionally used. These boys have become quite popular, especially the trio, which has sung at the Rotary and Lions Clubs, assembly, and city entertainments. They have also made several trips out of town.

IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Among P. H. S. students who took part in the Panhandle Music festival at Amarillo were Dorothy Brumley, Willie Reece Taylor, Janice Purviance, Margaret Carr, Patty Will, Eleanor Frey, and Dorothy Harris.

"Brain Trust" of PHS Athletics

Coach Odus Mitchell, left, and Coach Argus M. Fox, right, are the power behind our athletic teams. They came here together in the fall of 1928 and during the past six years have turned out some powerful teams in all the major sports. They have studied under the foremost football mentors of the country — Knute Rockne, Pop Warner, Dick Hanley, Hunk Anderson, Howard Jones, and others. This summer they'll attend the coaching school at Lubbock, where the instructors will include Chrysler of Princeton, Kipke of Michigan, the former All-American quarterback, Newman, Rittmiller from the Navy, Kurth of Notre Dame, and Schulte, Nebraska's track coach. Prospects for next year, they report, look very good.

TUMBLING TEAM'S ANTICS WIN ACCLAIM THIS TERM

Our tumbling team has accomplished more in the last year than ever before. This phase of physical education includes two classes of boys who practice one hour daily with Harry Kelley as the instructor.

From the hundred or more boys in the two classes, ten advanced tumblers were selected to perform for various occasions. They were Vernell Stevens, Bill Seeds, E. B. Ragsdale, James Kidwell, James Herring, Glenn Davis, Leon Miller, Buster Hayes, Lawrence McBee, and Smith Wise. Bob Long was originally a member of this team but moved to Sweetwater during the first semester.

These ten boys gave nineteen major performances at various places including three football games, three basketball games, eight programs at ward schools, the Lions and Rotary clubs, the Country Council of P.-T. A. at Lefors, an A. P. I. meeting, and an open house in the gymnasium.

Perform at Games

This group was supplemented by Malcolm Albertson, Leon Harris, Lefty Hamilton, Browne Boyington, L. J. Combes, Jim Bob Johnson, Aaron Hunter, Jim Arndt, Fred Gordon, George Smith, and Walter Moss in an exhibition of individual and combination tricks at Lubbock between halves of the Pampa-San Angelo game. Martin Cobb, Wilbur Irving, Melvin Qualls and Winsor Baker took care of the mats, while James Foster was the capable manager. This trip was made in two school buses.

It may be interesting to know that over 272 individual and combination tricks can be done by the tumbling team besides 59 picture pyramids which take from two to twenty-five boys. There are only ten tricks in the advanced tumbling book that cannot be done—this is because of lack of facilities and equipment.

Corrective Exercise

Tumbling is a corrective health education program which develops the body as well as the mind. It teaches will power, concentration, accuracy, balance, poise, grace, quick thinking, and self control—essentials of everyday life. Five

Kelley while teaching tricks to students. This is important because a greater number can be reached by tumbling than any other form of physical education.

Besides other activities, 35 of the boys enjoyed a two days camp on a ranch seven miles north of Lake-ten. They swam and played all kinds of games. It was climaxed by a big campfire and liars contest. This was a "walk-away" for Jim Bob Johnson.

At the senior class day program Snooper heard a freshman girl heave a sigh and say: "That Jess Patton reminds me of a Greek god. If he only loved me!"

PAMPA FIGHT SONG

(Editor's note: This song was composed and first introduced by Mr. Walkenstein at the pep squad banquet February 13. It will doubtless be very popular at pep rallies and ball games next year.)

And then we'll cheer all our might for dear old Pampa high school.
And then we'll fight all our might for dear old Pampa too.
We'll take the ball right down the field, marching on to victory, and then we'll cheer mighty hard for dear old Pampa high school.
And then we'll fight mighty hard for dear old Pampa too.
for we will do our best,
And to you we'll leave the rest,
So fight, fight, fight, for Pampa

'34 Class Will

To the Junior class we senior leave

Our bright remarks and slang, With the hope that in 1935 They'll get over with a bang.

And to that class that follows us We do hereby bequeath Our carved initials on the desks; The gum beneath the seats. And to the teachers we leave with pleasure

Our ink spotted papers and tests, Which we know they will always keep and treasure In their own treasure chests.

And orchids to the teachers Who let us into class When we were late with an excuse You could see through just like glass.

And scallions to the teachers Who made you feel like a fool Inquiring all about That two-hour absence from school.

Being sound of mind (we hope), Hereby and hereto draw our will— Listen—this is the dope:

Mary Ellen Cary leaves her ability as a heart breaker to One-its Frasier.

Weldon Davis bequeaths his perfect gentlemanly manners to Allen Hudgel. (You'll have to adopt new standards, Allen.)

To Harry Barnett, Bill Kelley leaves his soda jerking ability.

Jack and Joe Poole leave their symmetry of line to anyone in the junior class who thinks she can fill that position.

Edna Zmotony gives Rowena Wasson her over-flowing energy. (Rowena do you know how she keeps going?)

"Clinging Vine" Ways To Mary Parker, Theresa Troy entrusts her "clinging vine" ways. Willie Isbell couldn't leave Bert behind, but she will leave her captivating glances to Jean Mann. (Jean, make the most of your opportunities).

Max Aker wills his name as a classy dresser to Glenn Eldridge.

Anna Mae Gotcher leaves her modesty and quiet wisdom to Jessie Marie Gilbert.

Florence Sue Dodson appeals to some junior to take her case of jitters and as a reward have her ability to serve old P. H. S.

Frances Talley gladly leaves Pauline Noel her avoirdupois, with hopes that she doesn't ruin it by dieting.

To Hester Lester, Ruth Watson wills her calm and serene nature.

Carmine Howard entrusts his small change to Hazel Mackie.

To Jerry Mitchell, Grace Kite leaves her back stage actions and a piece of her everlasting chewing gum.

Jess Patton bequeaths his egotism to Monroe Owens.

Lorraine Noel wills her long standing popularity to Mary Ann Myers.

Lloyd and H. B. Taylor leave their ability to be model dairymen to Earl Seitz and Robert Neal.

Mary Katherine Stokes Burch leaves her "happy though married" position to some bright junior who has "ideas."

Leaves "Manly Pipe" To Tom Rose, Billy Boyington leaves that manly pipe.

Varle Frair divides her dashing dimples between Dorothy Decker and Melba Williams.

A certain senior class president, namely Joe Stephens, leaves his powerful gestures and professional love making to Alvin Rothschild.

Katherin Vaught bequeaths her position as "teacher's pet" to Daisy Ann Shields.

LaVerne McClendon Farless leaves her dancing ability to Joyce Smith.

Josephine Lane gladly leaves her place as general accompanist to Helen Marie Jones and wishes her luck.

To Irene Brewer, Vivian Baker wills her womanly wiles.

Helen Joe Daugherty entrusts her debating ability to Lorita Hogan.

Bert Stevens wills his extreme modesty and his kindness to dumb animals to Philip Noland.

C. A. Clark, Jr., leaves his desire to please the women and his "pansy" popularity to Lloyd Hamilton.

"Eternal Persistence" L. J. Coombes is left an eternal persistence by Lafon McKenzie.

Minnie Neal leaves her basketball captainship to Ollie Feltner.

Etoile Sirman wills her cute ways to Burton Tolbert.

Jack Bailey leaves his shark pool playing to Lester Stephenson.

As an after thought Lacy Decker wills her saleslady ability to any junior who wants to go to Carlsbad next year.

Norman Whisenan wills her place as a Pampa high debater to LaVerne Courson.

Samuel Stennis entrusts his place as editor-in-chief of the Little Harvester to any junior who thinks he would make a good snooper.

Wayne Larsh leaves nis size to Dickie Myers. (Remember Shadow in Harold Teen).

To Smith Wise, Carl Pool wills his still small voice.

Lawrence Stalcup gives his freshman ways to Clyde Baird. (Clyde, please act your age).

Glenn Earl Davis bequeaths his baby face and lovely yellow curls to Bill Haner. (Now was that nice?)

Bequeaths His "Wind" Harold Bray gives his wind to keep dear old P. H. S. blowing to Roy Webb.

To Paloma Cox, Beulah Mitchell leaves her loud voice. (Please don't abuse it, Paloma).

John Plank leaves to Lawrence "Alley Oop" Johnson an inch off each his broad shoulders.

Alice Reedy wills her fascinating talk to Christina Hendrix.

Alton Cox leaves his feminine ways, girlish looks, and pink rompers to Bert Arney.

To John Wolfe, a great poetic ability is left by Fred Gordon. (He says to treat it with care, especially when you feel a verse coming on).

Ethel Noah leaves her ability to ask questions so that she can take up class time, to Ann Mae Jones.

To one Buck Talley, a few inches of his generous height are left by Elmer Irving.

Joe Flanagan wills her ability as a tennis star to Harriet Hunkapillar.

Dick Sullins leaves a certain bashful manner to Edward Scott.

Fay Compton bequeaths a few of those old-fashioned feminine ways to Mildred Covey.

Eleanor Frey leaves her violin solo ability to Willie Reece Taylor.

Some Sunny Smiles A great many of her sunny

Rosalie O'Grady wills the shadow of her movie actress legs to Irene Poolas with hopes that some day they will see the "footlights."

J. C. Collier may collect from Elbert Gillham an excess of small-town talk.

Mildred Haggard Myatt leaves her school girl complexion to Vivian Kidd.

To any deserving junior who has a perfect sense of humor, Warren Finley wills a very boisterous nature.

Ura Mae Bentley leaves her cheerful nature to Leah Lane.

Ethel Mae Blair Ledrick leaves her blooming youth and feminine aways to Virginia Jeffries.

Marjorie Baloe entrusts her place in the quartet to Maureen Pearce.

To Hattie Margaret Harwell, Dora Mae Swarouth wills a blond curl and a part of her sophistication.

Jewel Christopher bequeaths a wonderful remedy for reducing to Alice Butts.

"One-Man" Woman Evelyn Graham leaves her ability to be a "one-man" woman to be a "one-man" woman to Harriett Ann Robb.

Evelyn Mullenix wills a quiet dignity to Ina Mae Dean. (Quite fitting, isn't it?)

Burnett Lunsford and Hallard Hinkle leave their solemn looks and lazy ways to Don Foster and Paul Schneider.

Anna Lee Frather leaves her pleasing ways to Valerie Austin. Marshall Kemp bequeaths his usefulness to Jim Bob Johnson.

Dorothy Harris leaves her place as drum major (believe me she could strut) to Dorothy Brumley.

Eva Mae Moore Kincheloe and Patricia McKee leave their winning ways to Virginia Lee Bechtelheimer and Bessie Lee Tidwell.

Mary Elizabeth Nees leaves to any junior who can fill the position as well as she does the name of "Slitzzy".

A lot of sizzling comebacks can

The Setting of Work, Play, and Lots of Fun

—Fred's Studio.

This is the main double-wing building on the high school campus and houses most of the classes of both the junior and senior high schools. Other buildings on the two-block campus are the gymnasium, the agriculture building, and the old red brick building, which houses the cafeteria, musical organizations, and other activities.

CALL TO 'CHUCK' ANSWERED BY 300 AS JUNIORS, SENIORS HAVE THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET

"COME an' git it," the cowhands' call to chuck, summoned this year's seniors to an end o' the trail dinner Friday evening, May 11, at the gymnasium, when "the '35-ers of this here P. H. S. ranch" were hosts at the annual junior-senior banquet.

Western atmosphere in the form of a real chuck wagon on the stage, mounted deer and buffalo heads on the walls, and saddles, blankets, battle skulls, yucca and cactus about the gym emphasized the spirit of the occasion. Favors were tiny pots hung over red paper fires, and the place cards were boots and saddles. Programs in the school colors, green and gold, were embellished with western scenes and information couched in the cowhands' language.

Hester Lester, designated as Wild Nell, played the piano as the junior and senior diners searched for their place cards among the 300. Supt. R. B. Fisher "asked the blessin'" and Lawrence McBee, "chief o' the wranglers," presided.

Square dances were given by Virginia Jefferies, Harry Barnett, Jean Mann, Tom Rose, Harriet Hunkapillar, Billie Bratton, Dorothy Brumley, and Edward Scott in cowboy costume, with Bill Parks as caller, Otto Rice welcomed the seniors with a western "Howdy Neighbor," and Joe Stephens, senior president, responded with "Howdy Yerselves." Cowboy songs by Malcolm Albertson, Leon Miller, Kenneth Campbell, and James Herring, and yarns by the "Windy Rattlers," Tom Rose, Harry Barnett, Edward Scott, Jim Bob Johnson, Bill Parks, and Billie Bratton, concluded the program.

The menu consisted of "Lariat rope cocktail—fruit, ole timer, fruit, not what yuh thought it were; Lone star chicken raised from a baby for this here bangquit and kit with regret; frijoles whut won't roll off th' nife; new spuds, Harvester stile; son-uf-a-gun with 1000 ilund dressin'; stew; froze cow-extract an' cake; nuts; java."

After dinner, the members of the two classes enjoyed a class prom, sponsored by parents of juniors and seniors.

Nearly 300 of the "thoroughbreds" what feed in these P. H. S. pastures, includin' th'er top-han's an' ranch bosses" were present for the "special shindig."

GIRLS QUARTET POPULAR

A girls' quartet composed of Marjorie Enloe, Maureen Pearce, Hester Ella Lester, and Erdene Benton has proved very popular this year under the direction of Harry Kelley and has appeared on many programs. Hester Ella served as accompanist.

Harvesters

When the smiling sun sets in the West,
Let us say we've done our best,
Whether it be on the field of play
Or life's uncharted way.

Chorus—
'Tho' the years may come and go, or so swiftly, so swiftly;
Hearken Harvesters! Let us sing gaily.
Sing a song of gladness, of many happy days!
Oh, to be Harvesters always, Harvesters always.

Our colors bright of gold and green
Add delight to the scene;
Happy Harvesters, a moment stay,
Ere the hours fly away.

—R. W. Castleberry

CLASS WILL

be collected by Bill Mac Parks from Roscoe Pinnell.

Leaves Grown-up Ways
Kittie Perry leaves a few of her grown-up ways to Julia Baker with instructions to use extensively. To any junior who can use them to such a striking advantage as he, John Moyar leaves his cute eye-teeth.

Ruth Slaughter wills her occasional stammers to Mary Jane Kribbs.

Fred Mason leaves his bright red hair and a few of his curls to a boy that is in need of some, John Martin.

Herbert Reynolds entrusts his shy manners and teasing personality to R. B. Ragsdale.

There's always room for improvement, you know; so Ben Slaughter leaves his expansive vocabulary to Bill Bratton.

Reginald Mitchell wills his indifferent appetite to Gaston Harbour.

Those spontaneous decisions of Joe Gribbon's are left with regrets to Howard Zimmerman.

To Tom Sweatman, Bill Hawkins leaves an increasing radio ability.

George Dick and Jean Douglas leave their colorful blushes to Harold Beck and Howard Feltner. (Don't try to tone them down).

Vernell Stevens wills his ability as a whisker grower to Charles (Baby Face) Fagan.

Walter Mess leaves his blond handsomeness to Charles Frasse. (Better find out what kind of hair oil he uses, Charles).

To Bette Belle Stalcup, Beulah Stephenson leaves her late loves.

With heavy regrets Ann Clayton leaves her bug hunting expeditions to Ella Faye O'Keefe.

Waldemar Dickinson bequeaths a cute school-girl giggle and a dizzy blond curl to Kathleen Quinn.

Leaves His Neck
Orville Heiskell leaves his place before the radiator at the foot of the stairs to Bill Dunaway (and his girl).

Dee Love bequeaths his ability as a gentleman gossipper (believe it or not) to Malcolm Albertson.

Miles Marbaugh lightly leaves his name as football hero and "ladies' man" to Mayse Nash.

Doris Ballard and Francis Hodge leave their worthless chatter to

The Last Roundup

(After the Junior-Senior Banquet)
We've finished our last round-up,
The Seniors of '34,
And now we gaze with tear-filled eyes
As the range we'll see no more.

We look once again at the ranch house,
Our memories linger there;
We see long halls and sunny rooms,
And the books we used to share.

We see the other cowhands,
The rest of the round-up crew,
The ones who next year will ride
In their last round-up too.

Jean Camp and Minnie Dittmeyer.

Thus we seniors close our will;
We leave our beloved sponsors,
Miss May, Miss Durrenberger, Mr. Gordon, and Mr. Lester to the junior class with hopes that they appreciate them half as much as we do.

In witness hereof, we have subscribed our name and affixed our seal, this twentieth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four.

SENIOR CLASS of '34.

So long to all you cowhands,
We won't see you next fall.
No more will our footsteps echo
Own that long and happy hall.

No more will our voices and laughter
Blend in happiness and joys.
We've finished our last round-up
Good luck, cowgirls and cowboys.
—Katherine Vaught.

The Snoopless Snoopier heard Mary K. Stokes Burch remark that Wayne Larsh certainly was wrapped up in his work in band.

HISTORY OF CLASS OF '34 IS ONE OF MANY ACTIVITIES AND ACHIEVEMENTS ANNUALLY

In September of 1930, Pampa high school swung open its doors to 220 freshmen eager to begin work. Under the leadership of the president, Earl Bradford, who withdrew at mid-term, and Lorraine Noel, the vice-president who took his place, the class was ably guided through the year.

It was the secretary, Bill Hassell, who with notebook and pencil ever present, kept an authentic and unnecessary record of all important gatherings, such as class meetings. The class pep and enthusiasm, which amounted to a real talent, was encouraged and cultivated by the two yell leaders, Fay Compton and Thurman McCallister. Miss Durrenburger, Miss Latimer, Mr. Lester, and Mr. Moore were class sponsors. The only social affair of the year was a picnic in the spring.

Kelley Headed Sophs

As September, 1931, rolled around, this same group, with a few old familiar faces missing and many new ones appearing, hurried back to high school to enter as enlightened sophomores. The year's activities were successfully guided by Wayne Kelly, president; Jess Patton, vice-president; and Leslie Sarlain, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Alexander, Miss Schulkey, and Mr. Gordon were class sponsors. In the fall a party was given in the gymnasium, and the class went to Hoover on a picnic in the spring.

As juniors, the year was begun by electing Lorraine Noel for president, Harold Gregory for vice-president, and Eleanor Frey for secretary-treasurer. Miss Durrenburger, Coach Mitchell, and Mr. Gordon were named sponsors. On December 15, the class had a theater party, with refreshments at the cafeteria afterwards. Through concentrated class effort, the junior candidates, Miles Marbaugh and Lorraine Noel, won the heated popularity contest. This let the school know the juniors were on the map. By this time work had been begun on the junior play, "No Trespassing," which was presented at the city auditorium on April 18 before a large audience. The cast was as follows: Lisle Irving, Josephine Lane; Hergert Edmund Raynor, Richmond Eastup; Peggy Palmer, Sue Dodson; Cleveland Tower, Odell Walker; Mrs. Palmer, Helen Joe Daugherty; Mr. Palmer, Audrey Holmes; Barbara Palmer, Dorothy Harris; Almeda Meador, Lorene Turman; Bill Meador, John Moyar; Jim Meador, Burnett Lunsford; and Mr. Irving, Walter Moss. A successful picnic was held by the class at the Mel Davis ranch on May 1, when baseball and wading in the creek were the chief diversions. Everyone went to see "King Kong" after the picnic. The Junior-Senior Banquet Friday evening, May 12, climaxed the program of the year. A pirate scheme was followed, with Joe Stephens acting as toastmaster. Five of the class were elected to membership in the National Honor Society: Samuel Stennis, Josephine Lane, Sue Dodson, Lorraine Noel, and Dorothy Harris.

Grid Captain

Here is the captain of Pampa's first district championship football team. He's Jess Patton, big, handsome end and veteran of many Harvester victories.

Sophomores Have An Eventful Year

The sophomore class has completed an active year with Scott Mullins as president, Dewey Palmittier as vice-president, Cleo Benton as secretary-treasurer, and Robert McAuley as reporter. Mrs. Massa, Miss Cox, Miss Perry, Miss Brannon, and Mr. Castleberry were the class sponsors.

On October 31, the sophomores enjoyed a lively tacky party in the gymnasium. The assembly program of April 18 was presented by a group of sophomores and proved to be one of the most entertaining of the year. The class completed the year's activities with its annual spring picnic on May 9.

Kid Party Remembered

On September 4, 1933, this year's dignified seniors marched through the doors of P.H.S. to begin their last year's activities. The boys ruled the class with Joe Stephens as president, Samuel Stennis as vice-president, and Warren Finley, secretary-treasurer. Miss May, Miss Durrenburger, Mr. Lester, and Mr. Gordon were named class sponsors. Time was turned backward in its flight and all the seniors appeared at the gymnasium on October 26 as children dressed in rompers, short dresses, overalls, short pants, hair ribbons, and French ties. The children had a happy time playing drop the handkerchief and other kid games. Refreshments were suckers, ice cream cones, and cracker jacks. Work was then begun on the senior play, "Jobyna Steps Out," which was presented before a full house on December 15, and repeated on December 21. The cast was as follows: Jobyna Loomis, Fay Compton; Nick Cromwell, Joe Stephens; Gary Loomis, Harold Bray; Gin, Dorothy Harris; Lucy, Martha Jones; John Loomis, Odell Walker; Mr. Loomis, Audrey Holmes; Mrs. Loomis, Lorraine Noel; Della, Grace Kite; Tony Grandall, Walter Moss. On April 4 the class had a weiner roast at Hoover. The greatest Senior Sneak of all began May 4 when the seniors went to Carlsbad, New Mexico, to view the wonder cave, Carlsbad Cavern. The return trip was made on May 6. The Junior-Senior banquet was a real treat to the classmen after having worked on one last year, and a prom was held afterwards in the gymnasium. Every senior will always remember this gala time. A clever and colorful senior class day program was given May 16, when Alice in High School was presented in pantomime form with unique costumes. Some senior has been in every activity, and their accomplishments have been too numerous to name here. Suffice it to say that our class has won more honors this year than any other class in school—athletic, literary, commercial, dramatic, or any way to care to take it. Thirteen more seniors were elected to membership in the National Honor Society: Etelle Sirman, Kitty Perry, Rosalie O'Grady, Mary Elizabeth Nees, Grace Kite, Verne Stephens, G. A. Clark, Wayne Lash, Warren Finley, Frank McLaughlin, Glenn Earl Davis, Albert Austin, and John Moyar.

Though the class started out 220 strong, only 98 will receive diplomas with the class of '34, since the depression has made it necessary for many to withdraw from school or to continue only part time class work while holding down jobs.

Burnett Lunsford is sure of one thing—that he has won, vigor and witally.

CHAPEL PROGRAMS SET HIGH MARK OF EXCELLENCE WITH SCHOOL TALENT WELL USED

Many unique and clever assembly programs have been presented to Pampa high school this year under the able direction of Misses Ruth Siddons and John Kelley Houssels the first semester, and Ben Quill the second semester.

The talent of P. H. S. has shown itself in many and unexpected sources. The various ward schools, the negro school, civic clubs, ministers, and Boy Scouts also have presented some enjoyable programs.

Among the outstanding programs of the year were the Armistice day program; the typical Lions club luncheon; the Indian program depicting Indian life in dances, readings, and music; the talk of Col. E. R. Cappock, head of the C. C. O. camp at Palo Duro canyon; and the Harvester program.

The various departments which have presented programs are the history department, commercial department, languages department, and speech classes. The history department presented plantation scenes in the old south; commercial students gave a play entitled "Diogenes Looks for a Secretary", and a mock trial; the Latin classes presented two clever pageants and a Punch and Judy skit; the Spanish classes staged a bull fight, Spanish street scenes, and sang Spanish songs; and the public speaking and dramatics students have presented various skits, readings, entertaining talks, and declamations.

Considerable rivalry was aroused by the all-girl and all-boy programs. Sing-songs have had a large part in the assembly programs. The awarding of the letters to athletic teams has invariably proved interesting, also the awarding of other honors. The freshmen, sophomores, and juniors have each had charge of an assembly program this semester; the last assembly was in charge of the seniors, who presented a parody of "Alice in Wonderland" called Alice in High School.

Jean Douglas (arrested for speeding): "But officer, I'm a high school senior." Cop: "Ignorance is no excuse."

GRADUATION OF SENIORS WILL LEAVE SCHOOL IN SAD PLIGHT —OR THAT'S WHAT CLASS SAYS

Woe be unto this high school when we, the seniors of '34, graduate. The many organizations of the school will be left in a sad plight.

The one-act play that won state was given by seniors, and the student director was a senior. The outstanding actors and actresses of the school will be graduated, and that department will always want for people as good to take their places.

The band will almost be ruined by graduation. The ever faithful president and bass horn player, Wayne Larsh, will leave vacant an important place. The saxophone section will almost be no more since Dorothy Harris, also drum major, and Hallard Hinkle will walk out with their diplomas. The man in the second chair of the trumpet section, Burnett Lunsford, and two from the violin section, Eleanor Frey, the solo violinist, and Ruth Slaughter, will go the way of all good seniors.

Tumblers to Graduate
We shall never forget those excellent performances given by the boys' tumbling team, but will there be another tumbling team as good when Verhell Stevens, Glenn Earl Davis, and Fred Gordon go out into the great world?

Mr. Gordon will tear his hair when he sees Mr. Sone hand Harold Gregory, C. A. Clark, and Jo Panagan their diplomas.

The H-Y will regret to see their dear vice-president, Samuel Stennis, depart. Minnie Neal will shoot another goal for P. H. S. as she takes her final document. We cannot have a quartet when Marjorie Balce, the alto, leaves school.

Coach Mitchell will have the "dumps" sure enough as that Harvester basketball team, Miles Marbaugh, with that long left arm, Orville Heiskell, that wicked guard, and that lean, lanky Elmer Irving, walk out the high school doors forever. Those wonder track men, Miles, Orville, Bert Stevens, and Buck Mundy, will never again startle the crowds here.

Those sweet smiling faces of Lorraine Noel, Sue Dodson, Grace Kite, and Josephine Lane, will never open any more high school doors for those evil absentee slips and announcements, and Mrs. Roberts has already begun to weep.

What will become of our commercial department when Ruth Watson, Katherine Vaught, Glenn Davis, Rosalie O'Grady, Mary Elizabeth Nees, Mary Ellen Cary, Kitty Perry, and Etoile Sirman are gone?

What of Football?
When again will we win the bi-district title in football? There will never be Harvesters that astonish the cheering fans as did Jess Patson, Miles Marbaugh, Orville Heiskell, Roscoe Pinnell, Herbert Reynolds, Bert Stevens, Ray Eldridge, and C. A. Clark. Don't you just see Coach Mitchell with his hands in his pockets striding up and down the Harvester field in deep despair!

Last but not least what, oh what, will become of our "Little Harvester" paper? The entire staff, Samuel Stennis, Josephine Lane,

Cage Captain

Big Miles Marbaugh, above, was the talented basketball captain of the Harvesters this year. A good leader—and his left arm was accurate on many an occasion.

Lorraine Noel, Sue Dodson, and Reed Clark will go on into a larger newspaper world but never forget about their school paper.

Will there ever be a time in the school history when so much is accomplished as this year before the seniors of '34 graduated?

DID YOU KNOW?

The total enrollment of P. H. S. this year was 891?

The average age of the graduates is 16.83 years?

Josephine Lane is the "littlest" member of the graduating class?

Miles Marbaugh is the tallest senior—just 6 ft. 4 1/2 in.?

Rosalie O'Grady is the shortest senior girl and Wayne Larsh the shortest boy?

Lorraine Noel was voted the most popular girl in the senior class?

Joe Stephens, class president, received the most votes both for the most popular senior boy and the best looking?

Florence Sue Dodson seems to be considered the best all-round senior girl?

Samuel Stennis was voted the best all-round boy in the graduating class?

Eva Mae Moore Kincheol carried off the beauty contest among the seniors?

Mrs. Alexander and Miss May tied for the favorite teacher among the seniors?

JUNIOR CLASS VERY ACTIVE IN LAST YEAR

Monroe Owens Has Been Head of 209 Students

AS SCHOOL closes, the junior class ends a very profitable year. The juniors began the year with 209 members. Last fall they elected Monroe Owens for their president, Onetta Frasier for vice-president, and Helen Marie Jones for secretary-treasurer. With these officers and such a large class, there have been more activities and class loyalty than in the junior classes of previous years.

Miss Schulkey, Miss Latimer, Miss Siddons, and Mr. Guill were the class sponsors.

The first activity the class enjoyed was a theater party at the LaNora with a stunt program and refreshments in the cafeteria after the show. Next was a treasure hunt, which was a new idea of entertainment and a very successful one. This spring the class enjoyed a picnic at Hoover.

Then came the two biggest events of the year, the class play and the junior-senior banquet. The junior play, "The Attorney for the Defense", drew a full house and netted the class nearly $220 to be applied on the banquet. This year's junior-senior banquet was the largest in the history of the school and was given in the gymnasium. A cowboy scheme was followed in the decorations and program. After the banquet there was a prom sponsored by the parents of juniors and seniors.

Due to the high average of members of the junior class, they had a larger representation on the National Honor society than any junior class in previous years.

The junior class closes the year with 185 members, and since they have accomplished so much as juniors, it is predicted that there will be an excellent senior class next year.

VALEDICTORIAN

made numerous talks to civic clubs, played the piano for many programs, and taken an active part in the young people's work of her church.

Josephine entered the Pampa schools in the fifth grade, having come from Panhandle, where she started to school. Her grade school record was as outstanding as her record in high school. She won a medal every year she attended grade school, received a silver loving cup for winning in story telling her first three years in school, won three first places in county and three second places in district Interscholastic League declamation and essay contests, and in the seventh grade was presented the American Legion Award for the best all-round student.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lane, 709 N. Frost street, and is 17 years old. She plans to enter college next year to prepare to be a teacher.

Recently Mary Ellen Cary was visiting on a nearby farm when she saw a calf. After staring at it intently for a few minutes she asked her host, "Does it pay you to keep as little a cow as that?"

JUNIORS' PLAY NETS BIG SUM—WINS PRAISE

Auditorium Far Too Small for Ticket Holders

An event looked-forward to all the year, particularly by the juniors, is the junior play, which has long been a tradition of P. H. S. to provide funds for the junior-senior banquet.

Ten juniors won parts in this year's play, "Attorney for the Defense," which was presented in the city auditorium, April 27, and netted the class nearly $220. Alvin Rothschild as Freddie and Jerry Mitchell as Allie furnished the comedy for the play and won the audience's full approbation. Paul Schneider as the villainous Multon did well the most difficult piece of acting, while Buck Talley as Judge Carlyle was equally outstanding in a less prominent role. Roy Webb carried the lead as the young attorney for the defense. Burton Tolbert as Beth Winters and Ella Payne O'Keefe as Dorothy Hampden entered sympathetically into their parts as sweet and winsome young women in distressing situations. Charles Frazee portrayed well the unrelenting old Hampden. Minnie Dittmeyer was the mouse-like maid.

The play was coached by Ben Bull, class sponsor and instructor in dramatics. Roger Townsend was stage manager. Miss Alma Schulkey, one of the class sponsors handled the ticket sales, John Martin the publicity, and Harriet Hunkapillar the ushering. The auditorium was not large enough to seat all those who bought tickets to the play.

A. A. U. W.

One of the biggest events of the A. A. U. W. year was the reception in the city club rooms last Friday evening honoring the senior girls and their mothers. Each A. A. U. W. member took a girl and her mother as her guests. At this time, Josephine Lane was announced as winner of the scholarship. The program was as follows:

Welcome, Mrs. J. B. Massa.
Response, Lorraine Noel.
"When Evening Comes" and "Rain", Triple Trio—Mrs. Philip Wolfe, director; Mrs. Frank Perry, accompanist.
Reading, "The White Azaleas," Ben Gull.
Violin selections, Roy Tinsley.
Presentation of Scholarship Mrs. J. B. Massa.

Rosalie O'Grady saw some little calves by the road on her way to Carlsbad and exclaimed, "Oh, see the little cattle!"

COMEDY WINS APPLAUSE FOR SENIOR CLASS

"Jobyna Steps Out" Helped Finance Big Trip

For years the junior play has been a tradition of P. H. S. but seniors of '34 set a new precedent by giving a class play to help finance the major class project, the trip to Carlsbad.

"Jobyna Steps Out," a comedy of youth, was presented in the city auditorium before a capacity audience on the evening of December 14 and repeated December 21. The two presentations netted the class over $20. The cast included five girls and five boys.

The story centered around the Loomis household and their collegiate friends. Harold Bray as the happy-go-lucky younger brother, Gary Loomis, was a knock-out. Martha Jones as Lucy Stevens, the blonde in the case, shared honors with Harold in wrecking the crowd's composure.

Fay Compton as Jobyna, the kid sister growing up, was the essence of naivete upon her entrance into the social world. Dorothy Harris' facial expressions as the wholesome and straight-shooting Gin Bradley were interesting. Odell Walker portrayed the part of the superior older brother. Joe Stephens had the leading role as Nick Cromwell, the town's most eligible, while Walter Moss took the part of Tony Crandall, the professional sheik, who wanted to do wrong by our Jobyna.

Autry Holmes as the harried father and Grace Kite as the cook who knows she is good takes "nothing from nobody" provoked a great deal of laughter. Lorraine Noel had a difficult role to play as the understanding and somewhat dazed mother, pulled this way by her children and that by her husband.

The play was coached by class sponsors, Fannie May and Louise Durrenberger, assisted by Ben Gull, dramatics instructor. Samuel Stennis handled the ticket sales, Elbert Gillham was stage manager, and Richmond Eastup looked after the publicity.

STAFF TO CONVENTION

The "Little Harvester" staff and several reporters made a trip to Canyon on March 24 to attend the first convention of the Panhandle High School Press association. Thirteen high school papers were represented at the meeting.

Officers were elected and Pampa was chosen as the meeting place of the next convention. Miss May was elected faculty adviser to the P. H. S. P. A., and the secretary-treasurer of the association is to be selected from Pampa.

Honor Society Pin Is Coveted School Emblem

Almost as coveted as a football sweater is a National Honor Society pin. On next Tuesday evening 23 newly elected members including 13 seniors and 10 juniors will be presented the little gold keys bearing the lamp of knowledge, and will be initiated into the organization by the five seniors who were elected to membership last year as juniors.

The new senior members are Grace Kite, Etoile Sirman, Vernell Stevens, C. A. Clark, Wayne Larsh, Kittie Perry, Warren Finley, Rosalie O'Grady, Glenn Earl Davis, Albert Austin, Frank McLaughlin, Mary Elizabeth Nees, and John Mofar. Those juniors elected to membership are Otto Rice, Hlen Marie Jones, Harriett Hunkapillar, Ella Payne O'Keefe, Buck Talley, Willie Reece Taylor, Jim Bob Johnson, Elsie Johnson, Jessie Marie Gilbert, and Blanche McMillen.

Samuel Stennis, Josephine Lane, Sue Dodson, Dorothy Harris, and Lorraine Noel are members of the graduating class who were elected to junior membership last year. Two post graduates who have attended school this year are also members—Reed Clarke and Vondell Kees.

Membership in the National Honor society is based upon scholarship, character, leadership, and service to the school. Miss Alma Ruth Schulkey is sponsor of the organization, and the membership committee is composed of the heads of all the departments, in the high school. To be eligible for membership in the organization a student must have attended Pampa high school two years. The National Honor society is one of the chief interests of the P.-T. A., which purchases pins for all members. The newly elected members were honored, along with all other students who have achieved honors in all school events except athletics, at a reception given by the P.-T. A. last week.

COMMERCIAL STUDENTS HAVE BIG YEAR—HOSTS TO TOURNEY

Perhaps the outstanding accomplishment of the commercial department was the invitation tournament held April 13-14 under the direction of Zenobia McFarlin. Six schools were represented: Elk City, Berger, Shamrock, Groom, White Deer, and Pampa. Cups were given for winning teams in bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing, and prizes of one dollar and a half were given to individuals who placed first, one dollar for second place, and fifty cents for third place. Elk City won the tournament by coming out first in typing and shorthand.

Those from Pampa who competed were: Bookkeeping—Bessie Lee Tidwell and Ruth Watson. They placed third in team. Shorthand: Katherine Vaught and Ruth Watson, who won third place in the invitational meet while in the Interscholastic League Meet they won first and second individual and first as team in the district, and first and fourth individual at the regional meet, and first as a team. Ruth Watson went to Austin to compete in the state meet. Typing: Josephine Lane, Kittie Perry, Rosalie O'Grady, Mary Elizabeth Nees, Ruth Watson, and Etoile Sirman, who placed third individual. In the Interscholastic League meet, Kitty Perry, Mary Ellen Cary and Glenn Earl Davis placed first, fourth and fifth. Pins were given to first and second places in the Interscholastic League Meet.

A play, "Diogenes Looks for a Secretary," was presented twice by commercial students, once in assembly and once for an open house of the P. T. A. in the city auditorium. It was directed by Zenobia McFarlin. The cast included Glenn Earl Davis as Jimmy, the office boy; Walter Moss, the boss; George Lane, the bookkeeper; Josephine Lane, and Virginia Jefferies, stenographers; Vivian Baker, Mary Ellen Cary and Vondell Kees, applicants; and Fay Compton, the office girl.

PLAY

(Continued from Page 1) the preliminaries were Dorothy Harris, C. A. Clark, and Charles Frazee, who went into the finals; Virginia Jefferies, Dorothy Darling, Buck Mundy, Alvin Rothschild, Roy Webb, Charles Fagan, and Paul Schneider. Other students who assisted in directing casts were Fay Compton, Lorraine Noel, and Ella Payne O'Keefe.

Book salesman: "This book will do half your work."
Joe Grbbon: "Good, I'll take two."

P.-T. A. Honors Orchestra and Band Members

Twenty-five band members and three orchestra members were honored by the P.-T. A. last week along with many other students receiving awards.

After a year of hard work and steady practice the entire band, the P.-T. A. felt, had advanced enough to deserve letters. Sweaters were bought by the individuals desiring them. The band met regularly 3 afternoons a week during the first semester in addition to many night practices during football season, and the orchestra met twice weekly. The second semester, each organization has had five regular class periods per week. Most persons playing in both clubs chose to take their letter in band rather than orchestra.

Those band members who received letters are:

Trumpets—Roger Townsend, Burnett Lunsford, Tom Sweatman, Robert Surratt, Robert Lee Banks. Clarinets—Turney Mullinax, Virginia Roberts, Paul Schneider, Harriett Hunkapillar, Madge Tieman, Ann Sweatman.

Trombones—Charles Frazee, Ella Faye O'Keefe, Robert Mann, Jean Lawson.

Saxophones—Dorothy Harris, Virginia Jeffries, Hallard Hinkle, Smith Wise, Martha Jones.

Drums—Junior McElrath, Jack Allison, Billie Bratton.

Bass—Wayne Larsh.

Horns—William Gilstrap, Charles Fager, Gerald Maxie.

Three violinists, Willie Reece Taylor, Mattie Lee Clay, and Lawrence McBee, were presented letters with the arts group.

ALL WAY TOGETHER

Thirteen members of the graduating class have gone all the way through the Pampa schools together: Warren Finley, Willie Isbell, Grace Kite, Frances Talley, Orville Helmsell, Minnie Neal, Evelyn Graham, Lorraine Noel, Anna Louise Clayton, Mildred Haggard Myatt, H. B. Taylor, Loyd Taylor, and Ray Eldridge.

Fred Masch: "Do you know the soup song?"

Ura Mae Bently: "No, how does it go?"

Fred: "The coat and pants do all the work, but the vest gets all the gravy."

SCHOOL BAND IMPROVES AT RAPID STRIDE

With Orchestra Has Big Place of Service in This Territory.

No organizations in school have made greater progress this year than have the band and orchestra under the direction of a new bandmaster, Roy Wallrabenstein. Elevating the music work to credit courses, outfitting the entire band in new uniforms, and presenting public concerts have been the outstanding accomplishments for the year.

Heretofore band and orchestra have been considered merely as outside activities, but under Mr. Wallrabenstein's direction, they have been raised to a credit status. The band and orchestra now each

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB ENDS YEAR WITH MUSIC WEEK OPERETTA

Climaxing the year's work, the Girls' Glee club, under the direction of Miss Josephine Cariker, presented an operetta, "The Windmills of Holland," on the evening of May 12 in connection with the observance of National Music week. Four boys, La Verne Courson, Mickey Ledrick, Fred Mason and John Martin, assisted in its production, Helen Marie Jones was accompanist.

The complete cast, numbering 40, was as follows: Mynheer Hertogenbosch, a rich Hollander farmer, Mickey Ledrick; Vrow Hertogenbosch, his wife, Lillian Rice; Wilhelmina, one of his daughters, Mary Cary; Milda, another daughter, Eloise Mitchell; Bob Yankee, an American salesman, Fred Mason; and a student of music, John Martin; Franz, a rich farmer's son, La Verne Courson; Katrina, a rich farmer's daughter, Janice Purviance.

Chorus of farmer's daughters: Lucille Belle, Margaret Carr, Dorothy Davis, Jesse Marie Gilbert, Doris Hall, Lorita Hogan, Marilyn McClements, Rosa Belle Reed, Etoile Sirman, Minnie Dittmeyer, Ruby Scaief.

Chorus of workhands: Alice Bowers, Irene Brewer, Ruth Clay, Beulah Lard, Loise Johnson, Anita King, Blanche McMillan, Norma Kidd, Anna Lee Prather, Mazie Perkins, Ruth Slaughter, Pauline Stewart, Edna Turcotte, Peggy Chesere, Gerlieve Smith, Alburline Schulkey, Dorothy Templeton, Pauline Fox, Charlene Sidlaw, Fernie Brumley.

Representatives of the girls' glee club have sung on many programs during the year. The club has practiced three days each week.

Weldon Davis: "Ninety-nine per cent of college students are journalists."

Alton Cox: "Explain yourself." Weldon: "Well, that is, they write for money."

Miss May: "What is a metaphor?" Lacy Decker: "It keeps cows in."

Conference games. Twenty-eight men were lettered in football: Capt. Jess Patton, C. A. Clark, Bill Dunaway, Ray Eldridge, Raymond Elkins, Virgil Frashier, J. R. Green, Harold Gregory, Lloyd Hamilton, Bill Haner, Orville Heiskell, Hazel Mackie, Miles Marbaugh, Gerald Maxey, Robert McAuley, Richard Montgomery, Frederick Munford, Buck Mundy, Mayse Nash, Leon Noblitt, Monroe Owens, Bill Parks, Roscoe Pinnell, Herbert Reynolds, Carl Smith, Bert Stevens, Odell Walker, and Charlie Welton.

CAGE TEAM STRONG

Capt. Miles Marbaugh led his cagers through many brilliant victories this season, though the team lost to Hedley in the finals to determine who should represent this district.

The team was one of team-work and contained no individual stars, though one of the greatest losses occurred when Roscoe Pinnell became ineligible at mid-term.

Fifteen Harvesters were lettered in basketball this year, though only four of them were given sweaters, the others having already received football sweaters. Those receiving sweaters were Elmer Irving, Tom Rose, Edward Scott, and Everett Woodward. Others who lettered were Miles Marbaugh, Bill Dunaway, J. R. Green, Orville Heiskell, Roscoe Pinnell, Lloyd Hamilton, Buck Mundy, Robert McAuley, Hazel Mackie, Mayse Nash, and Monroe Owens.

GREGORY TO STATE TENNIS

The tennis teams sent their first representative to state this year when Harold Gregory won the boy's singles in the regional meet. Gregory lost to Everett Holder of Houston after playing a good match.

Though the teams practiced some throughout the winter, Coach Gordon was unable to schedule any matches before the first of April. In the district meet here April 13-14, the boys came out first in singles and second in doubles, while the girls won second in singles but did not place in doubles.

Harold Gregory and Daisyame Shields were the singles players this year. The doubles teams representing Pampa in the district meet were C. A. Clark and Frank McLaughlin, Jo Planagan and Harriett Hunkapillar. Roy Webb, Fred McLaughlin, Wilton Frier, Bob Gribbon, Jack Price, and Tom Rose also represented the school in several matches.

GIRL CAGERS IMPROVE

The Harvesterettes, under a new coach, T. H. McDonald, completed a very successful season, though they lost to Panhandle in the finals to determine the representative from this section at the district. Minnie Neal, the only member of the team who will be lost by graduation, was captain.

During the season the girls played 2 games, of which they won 2 and tied one. They scored 415 points as against 496 points for their opponents. They made 93 free shots and allowed their opponents only 82 points from this method.

Individual scoring among the girls was as follows: Neal, 161; Kentling, 114; Williams, 65; Shields, 49; Campbell, 2; Heiskell, 4; Traywick, 7; and Feltner, 13.

Ten girls were lettered and presented sweaters: Minnie Neal, Claudine Jefferies, Georgiana Grey, Ella Faye O'Keefe, Harriet Hunkapillar, Daisyanne Shields, De Ann Heiskell, Ollie Feltner (captain elect), Melba Williams, and Evelyn Kentling.

WIN MEET IN DISTRICT

Very little time was given to track and field events this year because of the greater interest in football. However, the Harvester thin-clads succeeded in winning the district meet by a few points. Eight boys placed in district and won the right to go to regional.

Discus—3rd, Alton Cox; 4th, Miles Marbaugh.

120-yard high hurdles—4th, Buck Mundy.

880-yard run—2nd, Bill Seeds.

Javelin—1st, Bill Dunaway; 2nd, Miles Marbaugh.

Shot-put—3rd, Alton Cox, 4th, Miles Marbaugh.

220-yard low hurdles—2nd, Orville Heiskell.

Pole vault—4th, Bill Dunaway.

Mile relay—1st, Munroe Owens, Bill Seeds, Bert Stevens, Orville Heiskell.

All eight boys who placed in the district were lettered, but only two, Bill Seeds and Alton Cox, were given sweaters, the others having already received football sweaters.

MANY GORILLAS LETTERED

Seventeen Gorilla football boys were lettered at the end of the following schedule of games under the direction of Harry Kelley and E. N. Dennard:

TALLEY BEST GOLFER

P. H. S. golf teams, under the direction of T. H. McDonald, have been quite active this spring. Letters were given to four regulars, Capt. Buck Talley, John Austin, Elmer Watkins, and Wilbur Irving.

The teams participated in the district and regional meets and an invitation tournament at Amarillo, in addition to several other matches with towns of this section. Buck Talley won first in the district meet with a score of 144, and John Austin placed second. At the regional meet Talley was tied for first at the end of 36 holes but finally lost.

WIN VOLLEY BALL TITLE

The volley ball girls, under the coaching of R. W. Castleberry, won the district championship, and another loving cup was added to Pampa High's trophy collection. Pictures of the winning team have been placed in the entrance hall.

Opal Enloe was elected captain of the team at the beginning of the season and filled her position with great skill. The entire squad is composed of Opal Enloe, Vivian Baker, Aldena Pulliam, La Rue Little, Jack Poole, Joe Poole, Elva Smith, Evelyn Nash, Flora Deen Finley, Thelma Faye Seeds, Pauline Stapp, and Cleo Stewart. The athletic association for the first time presented the team with sweaters.

THREE DECLAIMERS WIN

Three P. H. S. students represented our school in declamation in the district Interscholastic League meet. Ella Faye O'Keefe in the senior girls' division won first place and went on to regional, where she ranked second. J. G. McConnell won second place in the senior boys' division in the district. Carl Camp represented P. H. S. in the junior boys' division but did not place. These students were coached by Mr. Guill.

The graduation program this year is somewhat different from those of other years, the attempt being to honor those students who have shown themselves outstanding not only as scholars but as all-round students. Membership in the National Honor society is based upon four things—scholarship, service to the school, leadership, and character. Fifteen per cent of the senior class may be elected from the upper ranking third in scholarship, and five per cent of the junior class from among the highest third in scholarship may be elected.

meet five times a week at regular class hours, and one-half credit is offered in each for a year's work. With additional hours for practice, both organizations have been enabled to play much more difficult and advanced music than ever before.

Fully Uniformed

This year, for the first time, the band was completely uniformed in tailored green trousers and short jackets trimmed with gold braid and buttons, and caps to match.

Regular public concerts were also a new thing introduced this year by Mr. Wallrabenstein. In all, the band played seven concerts in Pampa, three in the city park, three in the city auditorium, and one in the gymnasium, in addition to playing for ball games, pep rallies, assembly, parades, and entertainments of all sorts. The band also made three trips to play for special programs—Pampa day at the Tri-State fair, the ex-student reunion at West Texas State Teachers college, and Pampa day at Palo Duro canyon. The orchestra presented a concert in connection with music week and also played for many assembly programs. The violin choir appeared on several programs. In addition, Mr. Wallrabenstein worked up a little German band which proved extremely popular.

Room Re-Finished

Another important improvement was the redecorating of the music room in the old red building. Band boys assisted in the painting and caliciming the walls, and Mrs. Wallrabenstein added an artistic band border in gay colors. New green curtains were also put up.

Those who played in the band are: Clarinets—Turney Mullinax, Walter Hurst, Harriet Hunkapillar, Claudine Jefferies, Rosemary Hinkle, Paul Schneider, Madge Tieman, Virginia Roberts, Ann Sweatman; Trumpets—Roger Townsend, Clinton Clay, Burnett Lunsford, Tom Sweatman, Robert Surratt, Robert Lee Banks; Trombones—Charles Frazee, Ella Faye O'Keefe, Robert Mann, John Lawson; Saxophones—Dorothy Harris, Martha Jones, Virginia Jefferies, Hallard Hinkle, Smith Wise; Drums—Junior McIlrath, Jack Allison, Billie Bratton; Bass—Wayne Larsh, Mr. Smith, Winston Savage; Horns—William Gilstrap, Charles Payer, Gerald Maxie, Ben Slaughter.

Those who played in the orchestra are: First Violins—Willie Reece Taylor, Mattie Lee Clay, Valeen Phillips, Lawrence McBee, Velda Richards, Elizabeth McAfee; Second Violins—Leroy Johnson, Burl Kidd-up, Dorothy Darling, Vivian Kidd, Ruth Slaughter, Verda Brethauer; Saxophones—Hallard Hinkle, Mary Parker, Homer Widner, Eileen Brethauer; Trombones—Charles Frazee, Robert Mann, John Lawson; Trumpets—Roger Townsend, Burnett Lunsford, Robert Lee Banks; Clarinet—Paul Schneider; Horn—William Gilstrap; Bass—Wayne Larsh, Bud Fleming; Drums—Jack Allison, Junior McIlrath; Piano—Ann Louise Sweatman.

FLEMMING HEADS FRESHMEN

The freshmen this year were ably led by Bud Flemming, president; Frederick Mumford, vice-president; and Chris Martin, secretary-treasurer. They were more active than most previous freshman classes have been. Activities for the year included a party in the fall, a picnic this spring, and a freshman assembly program. Sponsors were Mr. Dennard, Mr. Smellage, Mrs. Norman, and Miss Strnad.

MORE COMFORT, LESS DESIRE FOR LUXURY SEEN IN NATION

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

I have been analyzing the various impulses which make men and women work, and undoubtedly the greatest incentive is the necessity to earn a living. There are many, however, who, while they recognize this force, are content to gain a modest livelihood if they may work at something in which they are really interested. This explains why many college professors remain with our universities at modest salaries when they might be earning far more in business or even in the commercial application of the work they are doing. I have known them to leave their five or six thousand dollar a year jobs and go to work temporarily for twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars a year and then, in a few years and of their own volition, return to their chosen profession.

It seems to me this attitude of mind is a growing one in our country. We must make a living, we must have security and we want certain simple pleasures but, as a whole, we are becoming more and more contented with simplicity and less and less interested in pretentiousness. We want comfort, but we care less about luxury. We are willing to work, and in return we want the security of a decent living with the chance for occasional adventure into wider fields which afford opportunities for pure pleasure.

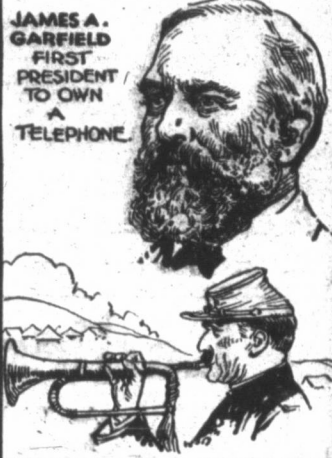

One thing which has been most discouraging in the era just past is the fact that many people have accepted without question an estimate of human nature which I think is not only wrong, but harmful to a man or woman who may GARFIELD was a member of Congress when, in 1878, he had a telephone installed. Gen. Daniel Butterfield whistled taps to his bugler, Oliver W. believe in it. It may be true that some people work only because they have to; it may be true that some people have only one objective in their work; namely, the acquiring of as much profit for themselves as is possible, but those who believe this of everyone must have a bad time in their contacts with other human beings. They must be looking constantly for selfishness and ruthlessness, and therefore they must lose the pleasure of working with others in attempt to benefit everyone concerned.

In the past there have been great benefits conferred on the people of the United States by some individuals who have acquired vast wealth. The Carnegie libraries, the Rockefeller Foundation and many other institutions stand as enduring monuments to the generosity of men who have amassed great fortunes, but many of us believe it would be better if these objectives were reached because a great many people saw the necessity for them and, out of their more modest fortunes, were willing to give something toward such developments.

It may be that the period which we have come through was necessary in order to awaken the great mass of the people to the necessity for certain things. We may hope that in the future there will be no less liberality for the benefit of the people as a whole, that such generosity will be shared by large groups of people who will realize that no individual can do it all, and that there is much that can be done by combining for the good of science and art in general.

I believe that many people are acquiring the idea that there is great satisfaction in doing work well and that there are spiritual as well as material returns which may be counted as success in one's life job.

This new conception of the reasons for which we work and the results we desire to accomplish are being understood and held by constantly growing numbers of people. In view of what I have seen in the past, I grant you it requires faith in the possibilities of human nature, not only to change, but to become intelligent enough to realize that it, too, must change. Self preservation is a powerful force, and if we can rise only through sharing with others, then we undoubtedly will share with them. The sooner we study ourselves as individuals and recognize our governing motives, both of work and of play, the sooner our government and economic questions will unravel themselves. For, in the final analysis, the individual is the unit from whom all future development must spring.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: The evidence points to the fact that the two men found shot dead in Pierre Dufresne's breakfast room killed each other. Sergeant Harper does not believe that, however, although the only fact that supports his theory so far seems to implicate Mrs. Dufresne herself. The Sergeant begins a reconstruction of the crime.

Chapter 20

RECONSTRUCTION

"All right, let's try to reconstruct the whole thing," said Harper. "We've got certain basic facts to serve as foundations and we'll fit them in as we go along. We'll take eight o'clock last night as our starting point. Hamill had just made his report from the call-box. It was snowing heavily, there was a cold, high wind.

"Hamill walked along on his beat for three blocks. That would bring it to say, ten minutes past eight. He crossed the street above there but halfway over he changed his mind and came down Powhatan Terrace instead. What made him do that? Obviously, something he saw or something he heard.

"From the spot where Hamill turned off it is doubtful that he could have heard any sound from inside this house, even a shot or a scream. If there had been a noise loud enough for him to hear, certainly some of the neighbors would have been up and investigating. We'll have to make inquiries about that." Harper jotted down a memorandum, adding other pertinent questions from time to time as he pursued the course of the mystery.

"It is much more likely," he continued, "that Hamill saw something. What could it have been? A light in the house? The electric switch had been turned off at the source. The curtains of this one lighted room were drawn close. That fireplace—here's an idea, Jack. Suppose that man stirred up the fire, poked the logs. You know hearth fires don't burn so well on a rainy or snowy night, for a damp chimney chokes off the normal draught.

"A shower of sparks would shoot out of the top of the chimney. I've often seen it on winter nights. There would be something to draw Hamill's attention. This is assuming that Hamill knew the house was unoccupied. The whole idea hinges on that. We've got to find out whether he knew the Dufresnes were staying elsewhere."

"That's a neat piece of deduction," Lafferty advised, "but you've overlooked an important point. What Hamill heard was the front door banging about in the wind. That was the sound that led Connally and Hilleary here so quickly."

"I doubt that," was Harper's rejoinder. "I've not overlooked that banging door. The idea that a heavy door like this one could go in booming from a quarter past eight to nearly ten o'clock without rousing the other residents of Powhatan Terrace is nearly impossible. But there again is something we can inquire about.

"However, be that as it may, we have Officer Hamill coming up the walk. We're safe in assuming that his suspicions were aroused. Now, did he find the door shut and locked or open and banging? It should have been shut and locked. If Hamill found it that way, he knocked or rang the bell."

"Wrong again, Steve," Lafferty objected. "If he were suspicious he'd go first and have a quiet look round the outside of the house. But the footprints in the snow prove that he didn't, he walked straight up to the front door without any detours."

Harper thought that over. "You're right about that, Jack. We're not clear about that door. Assuming that it was locked, from the mere fact that Hamill entered some one must necessarily have opened to him. Here, then, we have our unknown man facing the policeman. That would have been the logical place for any shooting if the fellow had been a homicidal maniac, for instance.

"Instead, they go into the breakfast-room, thru an unlighted hall. Why, in Heaven's name? Surely Hamill would have been suspicious and kept his gun in his hand. Our mystery man then sits down in that chair, lights a cigarette, whips out his gun and shoots Hamill in cold blood!

"On the other hand, assuming that the door was unlocked, and possibly banging, as Hamill's direct approach might indicate, then he'd probably step inside and try to turn on the lights. That resulting in nothing, he'd probably call or whistle to attract attention. Perhaps he noticed the light shining under the breakfast-room door. He would open it and look inside.

"Our stranger is sitting very comfortably at the table, drinking and smoking, very much at home and at ease. Everything is in normal order. The man is in formal dress and bears a startling resemblance to Mr. Dufresne. So, if Hamill recognized him at all, he would mistake him for the master of the house. Certainly there is no reason why Hamill should want to shoot Dufresne, but nevertheless they killed each other with a remarkable unity of purpose. That's a pretty stiff dose of theory to swallow!"

"It sounds crazy to me," Lafferty agreed. "As you say, a door could hardly be banging away for nearly two hours without some of the neighbors doing something about it. On the other hand, doors don't open of themselves and set their locks so that they can't shut again. If Hamill had left the door unlatched behind him, it would have banged shut just once and locked itself."

"Well, like it or not, all our evidence states that the door could not have been touched after the shooting, since both men were dead. We have only to examine the snow to see that Connally and Hilleary were the next to enter the house. Considering the shooting as a separate action, we get into another maze.

"Our mystery man must have shot Hamill twice before Hamill fired at him, for Doc Miller assured me that death must have been instantaneous and his position in that chair confirms it. But there we have the dilemma—either our intruder shot Hamill after he himself was shot through the brain, which is surely impossible, or else Hamill fired with extraordinary accuracy after being shot in the breast twice, once through the heart.

"Now in a single exchange of shots there exists a bare mathematical chance for two men to plug each other so neatly, but that third bullet throws it into confusion. It has me guessing and it has Carlin guessing, too."

They sat silent for a few moments and both pairs of eyes were thoughtfully focused on the little row of twisted bullets. The thin wires that held their tags glistened brightly in this pleasant morning sun.

Harper straightened up with determination. "Let's pass on to the unknown man's movements," he suggested. "So far as we know, he was not hiding here in the house all the time. Assuming that he was the writer of the threatening letters to Dufresne, it works out something like this:

"He somehow managed to trail Dufresne when the latter left the city. On the return trip, he must have followed his intended victim until he learned which route he was taking, then passed him and hurried ahead to pick out a good spot for the ambush, where he waited."

FREAK FACTS... ABOUT FILM FAVORITES

"That means he had a car at his disposal," Lofferty interjected.

"Yes. After he had fired at Dufresne and the latter made good his escape, he returned to his car and came back to the city by some other road. That would be easy.

"The autopsy has shown that he ate about five o'clock. As this was a cooked meal, he could not have come directly here and foraged for food. By the time he got to this house, say between five-thirty and six, the snow was coming down in earnest, but the fall was still so thin that his tracks were completely covered over later."

"We don't know how he got in," Harper resumed, "but there are no marks of forcible entry anywhere and there were neither keys nor burglar tools found in his possession. In fact, so little was found on this person that I've come to the conclusion his pockets were looted or else he is wearing some one else's clothing."

"That's an idea! If he put on a facial disguise to look like Dufresne perhaps he put on one of Dufresne's suits."

"Exactly. There must be more traces of him in this house than we have found. For instance, it is almost certain that he shaved himself after he got here."

Lafferty whistled. "One up on me there, Steve. That one got past me."

"If you had looked closely at his face, you'd have seen that he was very freshly shaven. Here and there he missed a hair, which no self-respecting barber would have done."

NOTABLE NOTHINGS OF PHS

By the Nit-Wits.

Chris Martin: "If you're so smart quote me a verse of scripture."
Theresa Troy: "And Judas went and hanged himself."
Chris: "Another one."
Theresa: "Go thou and do likewise."

Mrs. Alexander: "John Moyer, what harmful weeds have you come in contact with lately?"
John: "The loco weed."

Mr. Sone: "I see you like to ride on your father's knee, don't you, Brent?"
Brent Fisher: "Not so bad, but I had a ride on a real donkey yesterday."

Edna Zmotony (on the Carlsbad trip): "Oh, we don't mind expenses. We have plenty of them."

Dora Mae Swarhout ought to have a clean mind. She changes it so often.

(In Mexico the Mexicans paint the windows and doors blue to keep the devil out.) Helen Riffin: "I believe I will go home and paint my doors and windows blue."
Edna Zmotony: "Too late, you might as well paint them red."

Mr. Castleberry: "What did Caesar exclaim when Brutus stabbed him?"
Joe Flanagan: "Ouch!"

After the third flat Miss Durrenberger exclaimed, "Alas, I, too, am dead."

Mrs. Alexander: "I told you to write eight or ten pages on the subject of milk, and you write only four lines."

Frank McLaughlin: "Teacher, I have merely condensed the milk."

Vandell Kees ordered a Dutch lunch without the beer or cheese sandwich. (And they laugh at freshmen for being dumb.)

Dee-Love: "This tire is down."

Anna Lee Prather: "Let's go. It's only flat on one side."

Joe Stevens: "There are certainly a lot of girls in this town who don't want to get married."
Jewel Christopher: "How do you know?"
Joe: "I've asked them."

Sue Dodson: "How long does it take you to dress in the morning?"
Lorraine Noel: "Bout half an hour."
Sue (bragging): "Only takes me ten minutes."
Lorraine: "I wash."

Reginald Mitchell: "Do you know the difference between Roger Townsend and an umbrella?"
Harold Bray: "Sure, you can lose an umbrella."

Mr. Gordon: "You have a good head for geometry."
Bert Stevens: "Why?"
Mr. Gordon: "Both plane and solid."

Miss Carlier (having a written sentence on blackboard): "It's a month since I have been to the movies. What must I do to correct that?"

Carmen Howard: "Tell your young man."

Katherine Vaught: "Hurrah! Five dollars for my last poems."
Grace Kite: "Who from?"
Katherine: "The express company—they lost them."

Mr. Smellage: "Your son has very fine manners. He opened the gate for me."

Marshall Kemp's father: "Oh, that's nothing. He does that for the cows every evening."

Elbert Gillham: "Hasn't Joe Stevens got the trickiest car you ever saw?"

Mary Ann Myers: "He sure has. You ought to see it lay down and play dead on some lonely road."

A Senior's Diary

Aug. 28—"Mitch" and Fox and the football boys left for camp. Boy, oh boy, I can hardly wait for the first game!

Sept. 4—Some dump this—starting you to school on Labor day. Guess we seniors 'll liven-things up a bit. Some of these new men teachers aren't bad to look it.

Sept. 11—Lessons. They would bring that up!

Sept. 15—Have we got a pep squad! Miss Strnad and Mrs. Norman are brimfull of new ideas. Lorraine Noel is going to be field general this year—a new thing. Her kid sis, Pauline, is head yelf leader; the others are the Poole twins and Oneita Frasher.

Sept. 19—The first "Little Harvester" came out today.

Sept. 20—We had a keen pep rally in assembly today. That new band director knows his onions.

Sept. 22—Football at last! But that little old McLean tied us, 6-6.

Sept. 24—The band gave its first public concert in the park under that new Mr.—whatever you call 'im.

Sept. 25—The band took in the Tri-State fair in Amarillo.

Sept. 27—Assembly's going to be great this year. We had a singing today. They even let us sing "Just an Echo." Can Mr. Sone bear down on "Liza Jane"! That good-looking Bob Smellage from junior high sings divinely.

Sept. 28—Samuel Stennis was elected editor-in-chief of the "Little Harvester." Miss May is sponsoring it again. Lots of cute boys from Oklahoma City in the halls today.

Sept. 29—Darn it! Just when it looked as if we had the game cinched 6-0, those Redskins made a touchdown and kicked the goal! It was killing! The Harvesters certainly have some classy looking new uniforms. The P.-T. A. gave an all-school party in the gym tonight honoring the Oklahoma City boys and the Harvesters. Mrs. Norman starred as Wild Nell, Pet of the Plains.

Sept. 30—The Gorillas beat Miami 12-6 today.

Oct. 5—We had our first class meetings today. Miss May is head senior sponsor; the others are Miss Durrenberger, Mr. Gordon, and Mr. Lester.

Oct. 6—The Harvesters left for Big Spring this morning. Wish I could go!

Oct. 7—I knew it, I knew it! We beat Big Spring 20-0. Who says we haven't got a winning team?

Oct. 12—Joe Stephens is the new senior president. He can look and act the part. The A. A. U. W. had a meeting for the senior girls today. Mr. Gull made quite a hit in the Hollywood premiere tonight.

Oct. 13—Lots of kids went to Shawnee today to see the Harvesters play under the lights. They beat us by one touchdown.

Oct. 16—Dorothy Harris was selected as drum major today. And can she strut her stuff!

Oct. 18—The negro assembly program today was just too amusing. Everyone in school is imitating the little boy who scratched so.

Oct. 20—The P.-T. A. gave an all-school "weenie roast" and pep rally out at Green's pasture. Some of the pep squad girls played the boys a football game. Sue Dodson made a touchdown. Doc Hicks was a scream!

Oct. 21—We certainly poured it on Cisco today, 27-0.

Oct. 24—The seniors are going to have a play. And we're going to Carlsbad Cavern next spring!

Oct. 26—The Journalism club had the first Hallowe'en party tonight.

Oct. 26—The seniors had a swell kid party. What an assortment of kids—with lollypops, crackerjacks, ice cream ones, 'n everything!

Oct. 28—We won our first conference game today—beat Plainview 6-0.

Oct. 31—The sophomores had a party tonight—tacky, of course.

Nov. 1—"HARVEST THE SANDIES" is our slogan now. We had about the best assembly we've ever had—a Harvester program.

Nov. 2—Class spirit is picking up. The juniors had a theater party tonight.

Nov. 3—The tumblers, band, pep squad, etc. put on a program for P.-T. A. Back-to-School night.

Nov. 4—The W. T. freshmen beat us, 7-6. It's tough playing against old Harvesters.

Nov. 8—Mr. Wallrabenstein's Armistice day assembly program was plenty good. And did pep run high! "HARVEST THE SANDIES."

Nov. 9—"HARVEST THE SANDIES."

Nov. 10—Fay Compton got the leading role in the senior play, "Jobyna Steps Out." The exes had a banquet, and afterwards we had the biggest pep rally Pampa has ever staged. Tomorrow is the day! "HARVEST THE SANDIES."

Nov. 11—Life really isn't worth living any more. Amarillo beat us 9-6. But the Harvesters were swell.

Nov. 13—Mr. McDonald is going to coach girls' basketball. Wonder what that will be like?

Nov. 16—We selected our rings and invitations today. It's great to be seniors.

Nov. 18—Half of Pampa went to Lubbock today, including the pep squad and band. We really beat those Westerners, 26-0.

Nov. 22—Miss McFarlin's commercial students put on another clever assembly program today.

Nov. 24—The freshmen had a party at the gym tonight. Poor little fish!

Nov. 26—J. R. Corbitt of Amarillo was declared ineligible last night, and Amarillo high has withdrawn from the league! We'll win the district championship yet!

Nov. 27—Amarillo is contesting Mackie's eligibility. Everybody's holding his breath. I never saw a town so excited in all my life!

Nov. 29—Mackie is eligible! This will be a good Thanksgiving—that pesky term them. In English, four whole holidays, and a district championship!

Nov. 30—Turkey day. We beat Borgef, and we're the district champions. Hurrah, hurrah!

Dec. 2—Atta boy! Mr. Fox won the flip bringing the bi-district game with Abilene here.

Dec. 5—The P.-T. A. had a period style show. What costumes!

Dec. 6—We got out of school for the Santa Claus parade.

Dec. 7—"Clip the Eagles' Wings" is our new slogan.

Dec. 9—We clipped their wings all right, 27-7. It's tame those San Angelo Bobcats now. We've got to go on to state honors!

Dec. 12—We had visitors in class today. The teachers warned us ahead of time to act intelligent.

Dec. 13—Margaret Carl and Jessie Marie Gilbert did the cutest Punch and Judy stunt in assembly today.

Dec. 14—Jobyna stepped out tonight. Our play was a "knock-out." Martha Jones and Harold Bray couldn't be beat. We ought to get to Carlsbad on those ticket sales.

Dec. 16—The war's over now! San Angelo beat us one point in Lubbock today in the quarter-finals. We should have had that game. Oh, well, it's no use crying over spilt milk!

Dec. 19—The Spanish classes had a party tonight.

Dec. 21—Jobyna stepped out again tonight. We're out for the holidays!

Dec. 25—Shucks! Santa Claus got here, but the senior rings didn't.

Dec. 30—Basketball is getting pretty exciting.

Jan. 1—Everyone was shocked to hear of Mrs. Marbsugh's death.

Jan. 2—Back to school, resolved to study hard.

Jan. 5—How can one be expected to remember lessons and New Year's resolutions when there's a basketball game most every night? Why can't Mom understand that some things are important?

Jan. 10—Everybody's got the measles.

Jan. 15—No dates tonight. Exams tomorrow.

Jan. 16—The ordeal has begun. Midnight oil again.

Jan. 17—They're over at last.

Jan. 18—Twenty-eight football sweaters were presented today. Are those Harvesters proud!

Jan. 20—Both boys and girls won their first conference games at Lefors tonight.

Jan. 22—There ain't no justice—classes the first day of the new semester. These teachers are getting just too smart.

Jan. 24—First call for one-act play try-outs.

Jan. 25—Whotta game, whotta game! The Harvesters finally beat McLean one point.

Jan. 31—Miss Schulkey put on a clever Spanish program in assembly today with a bull fight and all the trimmings.

Feb. 1—We cinched the county championship in both girls' and boys' basketball tonight.

Feb. 5—Senior rings are here at last!

Feb. 7—Sam Houston's three little pigs and big bad wolfe performed in assembly this morning. Cute!

Feb. 12—Harry Kelley's jokes and the good-looking girls of P. H. S. put the Lions minstrel over in a big way tonight.

Feb. 13—The P.-T. A. gave the band and pep squad a banquet tonight. Fun—we had it.

Feb. 16—The Gamma Sigma dance was swell.

Feb. 17—We lost our chance for the district championship to Hedley tonight—the day after the night before, coach says.

Feb. 19—Out for spring football already. Mitchell and Fox intend to have a championship team next year.

Feb. 22—The juniors had a "treasure hunt" party tonight. Why don't the seniors ever do anything?

Feb. 26—We had an all-girl assembly program today, and it was broadcast.

Mar. 2—Another Gamma Sigma dance.

Mar. 7—The boys put on the assembly program today. Some of those glee club numbers were plenty good.

Mar. 9—The exes beat the Harvester prospects this afternoon. Miss Perry gave the basketball girls a chill supper tonight, and Olle Feltner was elected captain for next year.

Mar. 10—Imogene Hollenbeck, Harold Bray, and Vernell Stevens won out in the one-act play finals today. It was Sue Dodson's cast.

Mar. 14—The Gorillas went through the Harvester belt line today after receiving their sweaters—just an old P. H. S. custom.

Mar. 16—The high school put on a show program for the P.-T. A. tonight, including the one-act play "Smokescreen."

Mar. 19—The faculty had a steak fry tonight. Wonder who was with who?

Mar. 20—Josephine Lane and Pearl Bibens were announced as winners of the essay contest on "The Worthy Use of Leisure Time." Cash prizes!

Mar. 21—The assembly program on etiquette was amusing.

Mar. 23—We got a holiday so the teachers could go to Canyon. Hurrah!

Mar. 24—The journalism folks attended a high school press conference today at Canyon and entered the "Little Harvester" in the Panhandle High School Press association.

Mar. 26—Try-outs for the junior play began today. It'll have to be some play to beat ours.

Mar. 27—The A. A. U. W. had a tea for the senior girls today and had some of the most interesting talks about college and jobs.

Mar. 28—The freshmen put on a good assembly program.

Mar. 29—We're to have four whole days off for Easter. What's come over this school?

Mar. 31—The exes beat the Harvester prospects 6-0.

April 1—This ain't no April Fool—the coaching staff has a new member. If he's as fast as Mr. Mitchell and as good looking as Mr. Fox, our teams should be better than ever.

April 4—The girls got their basketball sweaters today. The seniors had a weiner roast out near Hoover tonight. I never want to see any more pop!

April 5—Stiff joints and sore muscles—the result of playing crack the whip, board behind, flying dutchman, etc. in boots.

April 7—"Smokescreen" won the district tonight!

April 13—Hundreds of folks are here for our first district Inter-scholastic League meet.

April 14—P. H. S. won the all-round school championship.

April 19—The sophs had a slick assembly program today.

April 21—Five seniors won first places in the regional meet today—the one-act play cast, Harold Gregory in tennis, and Ruth Watson in shorthand.

April 27—The junior play, "Attorney for the Defense," drew a full house. The more for us to eat!

April 30—Some of the faculty women can play basketball as well as the men.

May 2—Off to State. Good luck!

May 4—At last! We're off to Carlsbad. The water's fine!

May 5—Wonder cave is right! The one-act play won the State title. That's the stuff!

May 6—Stiff and sore is no name for it. And they really expect us to climb those stairs at school tomorrow!

May 7—Seniors rather scarce around the halls; others limping.

DIARY

Wonder why?
 May 8—Home Room 205 took in two shows tonight.
 May 9—National Honor society members were announced today and the P.-T. A. gave a reception honoring all students who have won honors in activities besides athletics. They're to get letters when they come.
 May 11—What a banquet—all cowboy style. And a junior-senior prom afterwards in the gym. Oh, it's all so grand!
 May 12—Miss Cariker's glee club put on a clever operetta tonight, "Windmills of Holland."
 May 13—Mrs. Wallrabenstein gave the band a party following their last concert.
 May 16—Class Day—a wild parody of "Alice in Wonderland" called "Alice in High School." It's hard to believe it's all over—but exams.

May 17—It may not be all over for a long time yet, if tomorrow's exams are as stiff as today's.
 May 18—The A. A. U. W. reception honoring the senior girls and their mothers was tonight. Josephine Lane won the scholarship. If anybody ever deserved it, she did.
 May 19—We really got our caps and gowns this afternoon! A wedding should be simple enough after all the marching we've done up and down church aisles trying to keep our caps balanced.
 May 20—Senior Vesper Service at the First Baptist Church, with soft lights, beautiful music, and an inspiring talk. The P.-T. A. gave a delightful buffet supper honoring the seniors and faculty afterwards.
 May 24—Graduation with an impressive candle lighting ceremony.

U. S. DOLLAR IS WORTH 3 PESOS IN MEXICO; TOURISTS INCREASE

BY C. G. LEE,
 Associated Press Foreign Service Writer.

MEXICO, D. F., (AP)—The American dollar may be worth only the equivalent of .59 cents in Paris, London, or Rome, but it can be exchanged in Mexico for 3.00 pesos. As a result a considerable part of the huge stream of money formerly poured into European capitals by tourists from the United States is being diverted into this country.

After a seasonal let-down during the past month the influx of visitors by train, boat, airplane, and automobile is beginning to increase daily. Travel authorities expect that with the growing interest of Americans in Mexico and after the Laredo-Mexico City highway is completed, the tourist industry will become one of the most profitable sources of revenue in the country.

Advertising by transportation companies which have united to establish low travel rates and the popularization of Mexican books and styles plus the favorable exchange rate, combined to attract more than 3,000 visitors, mostly from the middle west and California, to this city during January, February, and March, and a record number is expected during the remainder of the year.

Although slightly less than 11,000 persons came to the capital last year there were barely enough first class accommodations available at the height of the midsummer and midwinter seasons and two new hotels are being built. These will be completed late this year and others are to be started within a few months. Notwithstanding, if the increase in tourists continues, it will be several years before any very large number can be taken care of in hotels. A Pullman city is being built to house 6,000 Rotarians who will attend the international convention of that organization in 1935.

The chief interests for visitors so far, directors of tours have found, have been in inspecting such ar-

Bonnie Parker Has Game Knee And Also Limp

PALESTINE, May 19 (P)—Bonnie Parker has a limp resulting from a bullet in her knee, as an unpleasant souvenir of her long association with Clyde Barrow.

That information was obtained in the written statement made to District Attorney Ben Crawford of Palestine, by James Mullen, former convict, who said that Barrow and the Parker woman helped him in the delivery of Raymond Hamilton, recently recaptured, from the Eastham prison farm.

Greenwood quoted Mullen as saying that Barrow had been shot thru both legs but had recovered. The former convict expressed the opinion that the wounds of both Barrow and his "moll" were received in a skirmish with officers under Sheriff Smoot Schmidt of Dallas when the sheriff set a trap for them.

Mullen told Greenwood that Barrow had never slept with his clothes off since his brother, Buck, was killed by officers near Dexter, Ia., more than a year ago. Never do both Barrow and his woman companion sleep at the same time, and they always are within reach of high-powered guns, Mullen said. He added that they live in an automobile, one keeping guard while the other sleeps.

With a desire to develop better automobile motors the committees in charge of the Indianapolis speedway race for this year will require contestants to drive the 500 miles on a medium fuel consumption of 45 gallons.

Mystery Light To Be Initial Study on Locke

FORT DAVIS, May 19 (P)—The mysterious light that makes the heavens glow at night is to be the first study by the astronomer at Mount Locke, according to Dr. Otto Struve, McDonald observatory director, who, with Mrs. Struve, spent several days here recently.

"The night sky is not dark," said the noted astronomer. "It has a glow, if one will notice, and astronomy does not know what causes that."

A tremendous enthusiasm is astir among astronomers about the forthcoming institution, Dr. Struve said. He believes there is no place where the lighted sky observations could be made as well as in the Davis mountains.

Dr. Struve said the great mirror cast at Corning, N. Y., several weeks ago for the world's greatest telescope in California did not come out successfully. It was ruined, he said. Another may be cast within a year.

These and similar spots of interests are expected to provide continued attractions for tourists, but under the supervision of government officials, more modern and varied attractions are to be made available. Just outside the Mexico City a huge new gambling casino called the Foreign club and said to be the largest in the world, has been nearly completed and will be opened in a few weeks.

At Cuernavaca, semi-tropical city only an hour's journey south of Mexico which is celebrated as the home of Cortes and more recently made popular by the late Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, a 9-hole golf course and modern club house have been built and a new hotel is going up nearby. The golf club, which is open to visitors, has a unique board of directors. Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, is the president, President Abelardo Rodriguez, vice president, and cabinet members compose the board of directors. Charter members include 60 generals.

President Rodriguez also is interested in popularizing the town of Tehuacan in the southern part of the state of Puebla, as a tourist resort similar to Vichy or Carlsbad in Europe, but with attractions for non-invalids as well. He is the head of a company which recently built a large hotel at the site of Mineral Springs whose waters is said to have curative properties. A swimming pool, golf course, tennis courts and a landing field for airplanes adjoin the hotel.

So far there have been very few complaints about over-charging, such as were frequently heard from visitors to Europe. Authorities are planning to eliminate all possible causes for dissatisfaction by establishing fixed rates for hotels and meals and for articles which tourists are likely to purchase.

"ROMAN REPUBLIC" FORMED AS LATIN CLUB'S PROJECT

The two Latin classes under the direction of Miss Mary Idelle Cox organized a club last fall called the S. P. Q. R., or the Roman Republic. This club was organized under the Roman style of ruling and conducting cities. First year students were called the Plebians and the second year the Patricians. In each class the students were divided and named according to the grades made. Those of the second year students, or the Patricians, were: The Latins, composed of A students; the Sabines, composed of B students; the Etruscans, those of C rating; and the Barbarians, who were all students failing their Latin work. The divisions of the first year group were the Capitoline, A students; the Palatine, B students; the Aventine, C students; and the Barbarians, who were failing their work. The Barbarians were not allowed to hold any offices, vote, or in any way take part in any program or business. Meetings of the S. P. Q. R. were held once a month in the cafeteria during class period. The club presented an assembly program on the "Advantages of Latin." Helen Marie Jones was the Pontifex Maximus, who ruled over both the Patricians and the Plebians. Each class, however, had the following officers: Consul: Flora Dean Finley, second year student, and Tom Eaman, first year. Praetor: Jessie Marie Gilbert, second year, and Howard Zimmerman, first year. Tribune: Marie Tinsley, second year, and Clovis Kemp, first year. Quaestor: Ann Sweetman, second year, and Margaret Carr, first year. Aedile: Patty Will, second year, and Lauene Conklin, first year. Members of this organization were as follows: The Patricians—Julia Baker, Helen Marie Jones, Patty Will, Holt Hamlet, Paloma Cox, Flora Dean Finley, Dorothy Brumley, Elsa Brazell, Bill Brasell, John Martin, Elsie Johnson, Virginia Roberts, Joy Griffin, Monette Rat-

do" is Eva Mae Moore—to Robert Kincheloe. But several other senior maidens are looking wistfully at the aisle and look as if they might be easily persuaded to follow when graduation is over. Shomehow or other, the senior boys seems to have escaped cupid's fatal bow and arrow. We hear all the love birds are getting along fine. Lola Brown, Dorothy Followell, and Inez Sumner quit school to keep house for their husbands. Mildred Myatt finished at mid-term and is also keeping house. "Pirtle," we mean Mrs. Halle, is living in Clarendon in what she calls her dream house. "Sis" is going to school in Canyon with her collegiate husband and keeping house too. La Verne, Mary Katherine, and Eva Mae are also doing double duty, keeping house and still going to school with their class. Mildred, "Sis", LaVerne, Mary Katherine, and Eva Mae will all receive diplomas with the class of '34.

"HERE COMES THE BRIDE - - " My, My! Whom do I see coming down the aisle to the altar? The procession looks endless. First there's Inez Keyes with C. A. Sumner. Why the next is Lola Hill with Delbert Brown! And who should be coming behind her but her school mate, Mildred Haggard, with Dump Myatt? There are Ethel Mae Blair and E. L. Ledrick. I declare, there comes Martha Jean Pirtle with her Clarendon beau, Byrum Halle. That next blond is Mary Katherine Stokes with her Harvester hero, Ed Burch. And here comes La Verne McClendon with Reginald Farless, closely followed by Dorothy Jane Adams and Dale Followell. The last to whisper "I
