tween the ages of 16 and 21. The tendency to marry young began in the middle of the depression and has progressed until it has become some sort of a rout.

For the first time in ages, there is a set of quintuplets. To give birth to twins is practically no claim to distinction at all now, and the birth of one child is an ordinary event, compared with the triplets and twins that are being born. The quintuplet even seems to express in flesh and blood the instincts that are surging through the race—maybe the stars have something to do with it.

Probably the break-up of the depression, or the depression itself, was a psychological force that exaggerated the mating impulse in

A WIDE BELT OF TREES TO COMBAT DROUGHT

One of the brightest ideas brought forward in Washington in a long time seems to be that suggestion for a great "shelter belt" of trees to minimize drought in western farm lands and to prevent dust storms.

This scheme, now under consideration by the president, is a fine example of the sort of thing that human beings can do to improve the climatic conditions under which they live.

As tentatively outlined, it would call for the planting of a great belt of trees—a belt 100 miles wide, and reaching from the Canadian border to the Texas Panhandle, stretching 1300 miles through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

This belt would not be solidly wooded. First there would be a strip of trees, then a broader strip of farmland; then another strip of trees, another strip of farmland, and so on, throughout the 100 miles of its width.

According to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association, "such a program will go far toward preventing wind erosion of the soil, such as occurred during the recent drought, and would add vastly to the fertility of farm lands in the enormous section east of the Rocky mountains to the Mississippi river."

Certain it is that we have been wasting our soil resources in almost as spendthrift a manner as we once wasted our timber resources. Vast areas of good farm land in the west will eventually become useless, through drought and erosion, unless something is done.

Establishment of a shelter belt like this one would be a great step forward in conservation of an irreplaceable natural resource.

To be sure, it would cost money. Mr. Pack estimates the cost of this project at $75,000,000. The job would take from 10 to 12 years to finish, and would call for services of thousands of workers.

But money spent in such program would be money very well spent. We cannot afford to let the nation's granary turn into a semi-arid waste land. China affords a striking example of the way in which good land can become worthless when protective measures are not taken. No one wants to see the United States go the same way.

All in all, the scheme looks like the kind of thing that might very properly be added to the New Deal program.

States Resigned To Liquor Tide, Complains U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—A treasury official said today local police in many dry states were apathetic about helping Uncle Sam keep the wet tide out of their domain.

Dwight E. Davis, supervisor of investigation of the alcohol division, said these local officers had become so indifferent to the liquor business that it had become downright embarrassing for federal agents.

In one southern state, discouraged federal men finally released two carloads of seized, tax-paid liquor, after state officials were quoted as saying it meant nothing to them but another doorstep baby.

Avis illustrated conditions by citing Atlanta, where the city has passed an ordinance regulating the sale of beer although it is prohibited by Georgia law.

Avis said liquor seizures indicate the moonshine industry in "dry" states has emerged from the depression in a big way.

One federal agent told how a mountaineer summer up the situation. The agent, on vacation, noted a new highway leading across an area that had been almost inaccessible. He remarked that it must be a great help in getting necessities of life up into the hills.

"Waal," drawled the mountaineer, "it's always been easy to get 'em. The trouble is, they ain't hardly lit to drink."

Rains Bring Boon To German Nation

BERLIN, July 24. (AP)—Rain drops which beat down on most of Germany over the week-end washed away some of the nation's scumby economic clouds.

The severe drought, which has sharply reduced crops, was believed broken in many sections.

The storms, however, had their bad side. Six persons died when sudden squalls swamped boats, most of them on Lake Constance, near Lindau.

There were numerous landslides, causing "blocked" roads, and the vintage of many vineyard terraces was ruined.

RAINS FISH

BUDAPEST, July 24. (AP)—A freak storm traveled across Hungary today, routing up trees and unroofing houses. Near Targa it rained fish—apparently sucked up from the Danube by a whirlwind.

THREE CENTRAL GROUPS STUDY MISSION BOOKS

PICNIC WILL BE THE NEXT MEETING OCCASION

Study of mission books and plans for a joint picnic as their social meeting next week occupied circles of Central Baptist Missionary society yesterday afternoon.

Bethany and Anna Barby circles met together at the home of Mrs. G. C. Stark. Mrs. R. H. Brister gave the opening prayer and Mrs. F. L. Anderson conducted the devotional from Philipians.

A lesson from the third chapter of Personal Service Guide was led by Mrs. Anderson. Announcement was made that the next study hour will be at the home of Mrs. H. C. Chandler.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Owen Johnson, A. W. Smith, A. Moore, J. W. Smith, Wood Overhill, Chandler, Anderson, Brister, and Stark.

Mrs. H. B. Taylor was hostess to Lottie Moon circle at her home. The last chapter of the book, Christ in the World, was reviewed under leadership of Mrs. R. M. Mitchell, who also gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Taylor conducted a devotional period, and Mrs. W. L. Lane gave the benediction. The study was followed by an informal hour when refreshments were served to Mrs. D. M. Scafe, Earl Vernon, Cecil, Mitchell, Lane, and the hostess.

REWARD TO BE PAID TIPSTER SAYS ATTORNEY

Name Of Person Who Furnished Tip Is Kept Secret

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Gold lured John Dillinger on his career of crime and gold lured him to his death.

Officers found $7.70 in his pockets, after his body, punctured with bullets, had been picked up in an alley near a North Side theater Sunday night. Dillinger, private investigators concluded, was broke, or was unable to reach any hidden bank robbery loot, and could no longer pay to keep closed the lines of communication to the authorities.

Alive, Dillinger wasn't worth much in dollars. Dead, there was a price tag of $15,000 on his head. And that, the investigators concluded, is why someone put him on the spot.

Who it was is a secret. There were reports that a woman, dressed in red, was beside the desperado when the federal agents pumped their deadly bullets into his body and that it was she who lured him to his end. The same reports said the woman now is hidden away in a hotel, closely guarded by federal agents.

"I won't discuss it," said Melvin Purvis, chief of the federal agents, who laid in wait for Dillinger at the theater.

"Probably," said Purvis, "the person who gave the tip will never be known."

There was every indication, however, that federal officials knew who supplied the information that ended the Indiana outlaw. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who stopped in Chicago last night briefly while en route to Hawaii, said he knew who furnished the tip, but that he would not direct payment of the reward until after his return from the mid-Pacific.

Other reports mentioned names of two convicts who might have given the authorities the "tip of death." From them, the reports said, Sergeant Martin Zarkovich of the East Chicago, Ind., police might have received the information that Dillinger could be found at the theater.

Sergeant Zarkovich took a furlough, and it was no secret that he took it for the sole purpose of looking for Dillinger. He loafed around pool rooms and other places where information about Dillinger might be had. He got it, presumably, but so did the federal investigators.

Meanwhile, the morbidly curious had their chance to satisfy their longing for a look at Dillinger's body. From early Sunday night on they turned the Cook county morgue into a lively spot, jamming in to see the man who brought terror to the middle west.

What they saw was a body, tilted on an angle of 45 degrees in a glass cage. On each big toe was a tab, labeled "Dillinger."

Guy Pocock, author, once taught both the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York.

Liquor Tax Nets $258,911,332 In Past Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Taxes on alcoholic drinks poured $258,911,332 into the treasury's internal revenue pocket the past fiscal year.

This was disclosed by the treasury today in analyzing a total gain of $1,050,000,000 in internal revenue collecting during the 12 months ended June 30.

About $770,000,000 of this increase was accounted for by such new levies as alcohol, capital stock, dividend and processing taxes.

Guy T. Helvering, commissioner of internal revenue, sought to nail reports that the cotton processing tax had been largely evaded. He pointed to an actual tax return of $144,767,232 in place of the $128,000,000 estimated in advance.

Individual income taxes of $419,569,487 were $66,935,867 ahead of the preceding year, but corporation taxes of $397,515,881 topped the preceding figure by only $3,298,068.

The capital stock tax, imposed for the first time, brought in $80,168,344 and the dividends tax $50,229,122.

Eer taxes accounted for $163,270,698, with the tax on domestic spirits reaching $61,888,863. Taxes on imported liquors brought in $6,577,958. The tobacco tax totaled $425,182,000.

Manufacturers' excise taxes turned $390,044,714 into the till, a gain of $142,267,899. Processing taxes laid on the processing of farm products so the government can get money from the farmers for cutting production, totaled $371,422,885.

MARRYING

adolescence. One would think that the depression would curb marriages but it has had the opposite effect. Probably, the young people felt that if they waited until they were "able to marry" they never would, and they decided to take the job by the horns.

Adolescents of 20 and 10 and even five years ago, were almost unanimously agreed that they would not marry until they had at least obtained a college education, and most of them decided they would not marry until they had a good job or had made enough money to buy a home. Of course, there are exceptions and there are still many of that kind left among the youth of today, but they are out-numbered.

The present generation of adolescents, in general does not feel about college educations as previous ones did. They probably noted that during the depression the educated man or woman was just as poverty-stricken in many cases as the uneducated ones. Young people, many of them, look upon a high school education much as their counterparts of the 20s looked upon a college education. In the last two years, the number of high school girls who either married before they finished high school or soon after they were graduated has increased ten-fold.

The number of boys who marry before and immediately after they finish high school is also increasing. Five years ago, marriages were so infrequent that newspapers announced the nuptials in "streamers"; nowadays they are so frequent that they are given in most cases small headlines.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS BID HIGH FOR DILLINGER'S PERSONAL EFFECTS

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Patently better he was shot than arrested again. But he got a tough break as a boy when he was sentenced to from ten to 20 years for his first offense.

Bewildered by the ordeal, John, Sr., could only wait for the release of the body. He arrived on a hearse after the hot 200-mile drive from Mooreville with an undertaker and a son, Hubert, John's half-brother.

Thongs greeted him as he arrived at the undertaking parlors. The battered hearse was almost torn to pieces by memento seekers; it had to be locked away. Entrepreneurs bid high for any scrap of errant son's deeds; his end was probably better than capture, he said.

"John would have wanted it that way," the father said. "It was probably better he was shot than arrested again. But he got a tough break as a boy when he was sentenced to from ten to 20 years for his first offense."

LEADERS STUDY IN SCOUT CAMPS AND ON TRIPS

CAMP MARY WHITE IS OFFERING VARIED COURSES

Girl Scout leaders will have a radio station and learn to speak over the radio as part of their training at Camp Mary White, Cactus Region leaders training school, in the training methods course to be offered July 28-Aug. 12. Mrs. E. C. Will of Pampa is one of the leaders enrolled for training now.

It is planned to install a loud speaker in the training school building that will amplify in the camp headquarters a quarter-mile away.

Miss Dorothea F. Sullivan, director of the training school, who is a member of the personnel division of the national Girl Scout organization, says that the training offered at Camp Mary White this session will meet the needs of every person interested in Scouting. Five courses are offered for the summer.

General Course At present, the general course, covering the basic work in Scouting, is being offered. In its classes leaders learn simple games, songs, and outdoor activities. Stress is laid on troop management. In this course student leaders will have an opportunity to work with Girl Scouts, who have a camp in connection with the training school. Such work is of invaluable experience, according to Miss Sullivan.

Two courses are offered during the July 28-Aug. 12 period, Mary L. White, director of Girl Scouting in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona, will teach a course in trapping and trailing. It will cover all out of doors activities and will include a three-day trip on horseback. Miss Sullivan will teach the Training Methods course for professional Girl Scout workers who give leaders' training in their communities.

Cattle Trail Trip Aug. 12-26, a course in troop progress will be offered to leaders whose troops have completed one year. This group will specialize in advanced games, songs, activities, and will also make a three day pack trip.

The ten day pack trip, taken from Camp Mary White to the Carlsbad Cavern will be held August 26-Sept. 6.

The trip will cover 200 miles of cattle trails. Leaders from all over the country come to make the trip, where they learn to live the life of a cowboy, following a chuck wagon, participating in round-ups and barbecues, and caring for their horses.

Girl Scout leaders' training schools, of which Camp Mary White is one of the five in the country, are enjoying their biggest year with registrations full, Miss Sullivan says.

'Enemy' Raiders 'Wreck' London In Mock Attack

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—"Enemy" air raiders who swooped over London last night claimed today to have broken through aerial defenses and won a smashing victory.

The attackers reported they successfully bombed seven parts of the city, wrecked the air ministry and wrought havoc at docks and other key points.

Defenders, on the other hand, claimed to have taken a big toll of the invaders but the full result of the night's combats will not be known until an official report is made.

The mock raids, opposition parties charged, served as good propaganda for the government's biggest air force plans.

Residents of London and the southeastern part of England were thrilled by the raids and carried back to the grim days of the world war.

They remembered the toll of 1,272 killed and 3,128 injured in raids by German planes and zeppelins during the war, many of the deaths occurring in the center of London.

MARKET BRIBES

NEW YORK, July 24.—Selling pressure in the stock market dried up somewhat today, although a late selling drive canceled most of the modest early rallies. The speculative forces were not noticeably enthusiastic for the recovery and prices slipped rather easily toward the finish. The close was heavy. Transfers approximated 1,475,000 shares.

new deal. They will have to fight in the open!"
Declaring that purchasing power must be restored to the great mass of people, the senator said one of the things "which stands most in the way of the restoration of purchasing power to the masses is monopoly, the power to fix unjust and exorbitant prices."

"After a heroic effort of months

upon the part of the government, the purchasing power of the farmers and the purchasing power of the laborer have been but little increased, if at all," he said.

"Figures show conclusively that while there has been some rise in prices of farm commodities, in every instance where that has taken place, the rise in the prices of things which the farmer has to buy has far exceeded the rise in the price of his commodities.

"The farmer can never win out on that basis."

"This rise is not due to economic forces but is due in a large measure, if not wholly, to the arbitrary, artificial power of monopoly to fix prices."

"What under heaven is to be gained by the farmer reducing his production if, after the reduction takes place, he is still the manipulated victim of combines and monopolies?"

"Some things have been done

designed to help the producer and I am in full sympathy with those things."
"But what I object to is leaving in our industrial setup this uncontrolled power which literally manipulates markets and fixes prices, practically making it impossible for the producer even to realize anything from his own efforts."

LETTER

I wish someone would help me... Will someone tell me what to do with my little children after I am gone... my husband is dead. Thus went the letter but more of it. When Mrs. Olive A. Davis, relief administrator for Gray county read the letter, she immediately wrote to "Mrs. Williams," but has received no reply. Suffering of the sort "Mrs. Williams" outlined immediately receives the full attention of Mrs. Davis.

However, criticism of the relief

agency began to pour in. Hard words were written and said. Mrs. Davis began an investigation when she received no answer to her letter.

Now the relief agency is convinced that "Mrs. B. B. Williams, general delivery," is a fictitious name, and that if there is a woman in town in the condition described, she does not want aid from the relief agency. Mrs. Davis would appreciate cooperation of persons who would like to be benefactors in such cases, believing that the relief agency can usually prevent misplaced charity.

It was learned from another source that numerous letters and packages addressed to Mrs. B. B. Williams were received and delivered at the post office.

Miss Dorris Kirk of Spearman

is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. W. Stowell, this week.

LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON SEES DALLAS DEFEAT CATS

Tulsa Smothers Beaumont 12 to 4; Galveston Wins From San Antonio 12-4.

BY BILL PARKER. Associated Press Sports Writer.

Turnstiles, even the rusty ones, clicked in a large way last night at Fort Worth where 6,500 spectators, the largest crowd of the season, saw Dallas trim the Cats, 4 to 1.

It was a long parade of runs for the Tulsa Oilers who smothered Beaumont, 12 to 4. Each club collected 73 hits but the Exporters could not get as good results with their bingles.

San Antonio and Galveston touched off a hitting bombardment that netted each 12 wallops but Galveston won, 4 to 2. Hal Witse and Jimmy Walkup went the route, with the slow curve ball pitching of Southpaw Warkup getting the decision.

Scoring seven runs in the fifth inning, Houston defeated Oklahoma City, 8 to 5. The Indians made three errors and got 12 hits.

REDUCTION OF ALLOWABLE IN FIELD URGED

WOULD REDUCE FLOW IN EAST TEXAS TO 400,000

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—Reduction of the allowable production in the East Texas oil field to 400,000 barrels daily was recommended today by Gordon Griffin, petroleum engineer for the Texas railroad commission, at a statewide oil hearing.

Griffin said the current legal production was 470,000 barrels daily. Potential production tests of 50 key wells in the field, made from July 5 to 20, revealed a decline of 10 per cent as to wells, he said. He estimated the potential decline of the entire field at between 20 and 25 per cent.

Griffin estimated an allowable of between four and one-half and five per cent of the hourly potential would bring the field's legal daily output to within the 400,000-barrel maximum. The present allowable permits production of four and one-half per cent of the hourly potential.

Reduction of the East Texas field allowable by the amount recommended by Griffin would trim the state's daily flow to within the maximum of 1,001,300 barrels recommended by Secretary Ickes, federal oil administrator.

Griffin said his recommendation was made solely from an engineering standpoint, "not taking into consideration legal difficulties which may be encountered."

Operators in the Yates and McCamey fields in West Texas asked for a production increase. R. C. Quilliam of the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas company testified his company had contracts outstanding for 2,500 barrels daily but was permitted to produce only 19,900 barrels. He also testified the company had an offer for an additional 10,000 barrels daily.

WASHINGTON—Anyone who wants to know what becomes of famous men should come here and take a look.

Most of them seem to be working in the government now. Two or three already are more celebrated than their dads. Just as far from complete list—

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace has the job his father once had in a republican administration.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau's father was Wilson's ambassador to Turkey.

Big, youthful Charles Eliot, secretary of the national planning board, and Thomas Eliot, a lawyer in one of the emergency agencies, are sons of Harvard's great former president. Charles' father, enthusiastic new dealer who works with the national emergency council and helped develop the housing program, is the son of the inventor.

Young Franklin K. Lane Jr. whose dad was secretary of the interior, has been named to the new air policy board. Dr. Worth B. Daniels, son of Ambassador-to-Mexico Josephus, is on the local board of public welfare. The father of Director Joseph H. Choate Jr. of the federal alcohol control administration was ambassador to Britain for McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

In NRA you find young, blond an additional 1,050 barrels daily. Representatives of the Humble Oil & Refining company testified they were receiving 4,000 barrels more than they wanted in the Panhandle field and requested a reduction in the allowable. Texas company officials asserted they were satisfied with the current allowable for the field. Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, however, said 330,000 barrels of oil was withdrawn from storage in the last 30 days in the Panhandle area.

An increase of 2,400 barrels daily in the Tom Ball field, Gulf coast district, was asked.

Griffin recommended that the allowable of 7521 barrels daily for the new Hull field in the Gulf coast be reduced 42 per cent, which he said would be in proportion to a decrease in the field's potential. He also recommended material reductions in the north and south government wells fields in southwest Texas because of pressure declines. He said pressure was dropping 80 pounds for each 1,000,000 barrels produced, which he termed "largest in the state." He suggested the maximum allowable be cut from 60 barrels a well to 35 barrels, which would place the daily output at 11,788 barrels. The current allowable is 18,622 barrels.

Prison System To Manufacture License Plates

AUSTIN, July 23 (AP)—The Texas state prison system is well advanced toward becoming a self-supported institution. Its present status is in sharp contrast to conditions a few years ago when the problem of prison reorganization was a burning issue.

A half dozen years ago a special committee of the legislature made a detailed inspection of the system and visited several states of the north and east to get first hand information on what those commonwealths were doing about their prison problems.

Several sessions of the legislature were called to deal primarily with a plan for establishment of the prison system on an industrial basis with the main units to be located near Austin. The question was bitterly fought through both houses and the plan was defeated.

But the investigations and debate had a salutary effect. Attention of state officials and citizens was focused on the deplorable conditions and a reorganization was ordered after the legislature made a suitable appropriation for repair of old and construction of new buildings.

Where four years ago the food bill of the prison system was $450,000 a year it now is less than $200,000. All vegetables consumed in the system are produced on the prison farms and only foodstuffs that cannot be processed at the prison are purchased.

Lee Simmons, general manager of the prison system, said the prisoners this year had grown and canned 400,000 No. 10 cans of vegetables, enough to meet the requirements of the prison and to materially reduce purchases for other state institutions.

Prison plants also manufacture all the shoes needed at eleemosynary institutions.

A plan for the manufacture of motor vehicle license plates has been installed and will start operation soon. The plant will make approximately 1,500,000 plates, the estimated requirement for 1935. It will mark the first time in state has failed to purchase its plates from out-of-state manufacturers. The prison will be compensated on a cost plus basis.

Prison officials also made determined efforts to lighten the burden of the system on the taxpayers by doing most of the state's voluminous printing but in this they were denied.

SOVIETS DOOM EIGHT IN PRO-JAP SPY PLOT

CONSPIRATORS ACCUSED OF NUMEROUS TRAIN WRECKS

MOSCOW, July 24 (AP)—The soviet government has smashed what it calls a pro-Japanese spy ring by meting out death sentences to eight and long prison terms to 15.

A series of train wrecks and sabotage in a locomotive shop were laid to the alleged conspirators.

The military tribunal of the supreme court delivered the sentences. It was testified Kim Zayen, a Korean, led the well-organized band which sought information about the movement of troops and supplies to the far east.

Zayen was among those condemned to death. Efforts to paralyze soviet railways, involving wrecks at stations at Chernay, Panki and Budelnaya, and sabotage at Mornusk were blamed on the defendants.

Quick Changes In Air Program Foreseen Today

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Quick changes in the army's air program were foreseen today as a result of the Newton D. Baker committee's report.

The administration is known to favor development of the nation's air arm along modern lines.

The army chief of staff, General Douglas MacArthur, was at work today whipping together suggestions to hand to President Roosevelt and Secretary Dern when they return in mid-August. They are expected to form the nucleus of a redrafted air corps program.

Outstanding recommendations of the Baker board which attracted interest include:

All pilots should average 300 hours flying time a year instead of between 150 and 200 hours.

Frequent concentration of air units should be held for training maneuvers at different seasons of the year, including cold weather training flight in Alaska.

Appropriations should be made for definite and continued research and development programs.

The purchase of small standard commercial airplanes for cross-country and night flying training.

House Seeks To Obtain A Quorum In North Dakota

BISMARCK, N. D., July 24 (AP)—North Dakota's legislators today sought a sufficient majority to function as an impeaching body.

All hopes of a quorum in the senate apparently have been abandoned, although the solons voted to meet once more today.

Strengthened by an opinion by Attorney General P. O. Sathre that the house could convene as an impeaching body only, the determined representatives left the statehouse intent upon bringing back enough members to establish a quorum and the right to vote on resolutions today.

Pending concentration of that strength, a resolution appointing a committee to investigate the indictment and conviction of William Langer, ousted governor, rested inactive in the files of the speaker of the house. No action could be taken on it because of lack of voting strength, only 53 representatives answered the roll call while 57 were needed for a quorum.

The impeachment proceedings would serve as the basis for a complete legislative investigation of the administration of Governor Langer, his conviction in the federal court on charge of soliciting funds for relief workers and the method and manner of political contributions for campaign purposes in the state.

The senators confined themselves for the most part to oratorical attacks on newspapers and to vocal support of a motion to bar the press from the legislative activity.

One car ran 1,000 miles in low gear at a speed equivalent to 52 miles per hour in high... the other ran 1,000 miles in second gear.

With the thermometer sizzling around 130 degrees, motor temperatures leaped higher than anything you'll ever encounter.

Protected by Mobiloil both cars performed beyond the expectations of the engineers who built them. Checked constantly, the motors showed no loss of power—no bearing failure—no scored cylinder—no motor trouble!

If you want all the power, smoothness and fine performance that was built into your automobile, use Mobiloil, the World's Largest Selling Motor Oil!

NO RADIATOR! NO WATER!

After its sensational 1,000-mile run in second gear, one of the test cars was STRIPPED OF RADIATOR AND COOLING SYSTEM. Under blazing desert heat it ran for 10 consecutive hours, without radiator or water. Even this terrific punishment failed to break the lubricity and safety of Mobiloil!
