

STOUT HOLDS SHORT LEAD OVER TALLEY FOR SHERIFF; HILL REELECTED

JOHN HESSEY DEFEATED IN SCHOOL RACE

CLINT SMALL CARRIES COUNTY BY OVER 500 VOTES

In a county election of several upsets, in which the sheriff's race seemed to command most attention, R. B. Stout of McLean had a short lead over Earl Talley of Pampa for first place. With all boxes heard from and all but four complete, it appeared these two would enter the second primary.

Those re-elected through democratic nomination were District Clerk Frank Hill, District Attorney Lewis Goodrich, District Judge W. R. Ewing, County Judge C. E. Cary, County Clerk Charlie Thut, Commissioner Precinct 2, John Haggard, Commissioner H. G. McCleskey of Precinct 3, Justice James Todd Jr. of Precinct 2, Place 1.

Newly nominated candidates are W. B. Weathered for county superintendent, M. M. Newman for commissioner of Precinct 4, E. F. Young for justice of the peace of Precinct 2, Place 2.

Run-offs besides the sheriff's race will be F. E. Leech and T. W. Barnes for tax assessor-collector, Frank Jordan and H. S. Shannon for constable of precinct 2, and apparently A. Carpenter and Floyd in the run-off for commissioner of Precinct 1.

Interesting incomplete totals in the Gray county vote are given below. Election judges had not completed their work at midnight at one box at McLean, one at LeFors and No. 2 of Pampa. Complete returns likely will not be available before mid-afternoon today, and state returns not before 4 p. m.

Stratosphere Balloon Crashes But Aviators Land In Parachutes

BAG SOARS TO A HEIGHT OF 60,000 FEET

METAL BALL IS RIPPED END TO END OVER NEBRASKA

HOLDREGE, Neb., July 28. (AP)—A trio of daring army aviators, their exploration of the stratosphere cut short at approximately 60,000 feet by a damaged balloon, ended a perilous descent successfully on a prairie near this town late today.

The three aviators saved themselves by leaping overboard as the mammoth craft, its three-acre bag ripped end to end and fluttering in the wind and its gondola swaying, plummeted toward the earth from one mile up.

The wreckage crashed the ground at 5 p. m. central standard time, 12 miles northwest of here.

Five thousand persons swarmed to the scene. Ropes were strung to hold them back while the three sky voyagers themselves seized axes and pried into the gondola to see if their precious scientific instruments had been damaged.

Reports were current that most of them, together with the thin alloy sphere, had been smashed. The body of the cubicle was noticeably bent.

For ten hours and 15 minutes the trio had been aloft, but since 2:25, when a sharp rip appeared on the upper side of the envelope, they had busied themselves with attempting to land their cargo of precious scientific instruments safely.

Major William E. Kepner, pilot on the adventure, telephoned his wife at Rapid City, S. D., where the flight began at 6:45 a. m., to inform her that neither he nor his colleagues, Captain Albert W. Stevens and Captain O. A. Anderson, were hurt.

Then he related the final episode of the epic journey into the heavens. The world, via short wave radio contacts, had been informed of the breathless sky drama until communication had been cut off at about 10,000 feet.

Bag Falls Rapidly He said the gondola tore loose from the flapping mass of fabric 8,000 feet. Then, he reported to the seventh army corps headquarters at Omaha, Neb., he and his two companions clambered out on top of the eight feet by four metal ball as it rushed toward the ground at sickening speed. They attempted to release the gigantic parachute with which the sphere was equipped but their efforts met with no success.

The three of them, he added, then bailed out, using their individual parachutes.

"At about 5,000 feet," he recounted, "the balloon split wide open and everything headed for the earth. Then we began to pile out."

"We had trouble getting free from the gondola," he said, "and there was just about time to leap safely as it hurtled downward. The fabric of the whole balloon gave way. We don't know why yet."

The major and his aides reached the ground about a mile from the spot where their cubicle plumped down. They quickly made their way to the farm home of Reuben Johnson four miles north of Holdrege.

Marie Dressler, Beloved Screen Favorite, Dies

Down And Out in '20's, She Staged Comeback To Have U. S. At Her Feet.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., July 28 (AP)—Marie Dressler, veteran actress of the stage and screen, died today. She was 62 years old. She succumbed to a long affliction with cancer, heart trouble and uremia.

Death came at 3:25 p. m. for the self-styled "ugly duckling" who became a swan of laughter during a career replete with both hardships and glory. Under care of two physicians and several nurses, she died at the C. K. Billings estate where she went from Hollywood three months ago because of a physical breakdown. Hope for her recovery was abandoned some three weeks ago, despite a story of vitality that surprised her physicians.

Miss Dressler learned two years ago she had an incurable ailment, but took a course of treatment that enabled her to make two more pictures at Metro Goldwyn Mayer studio, Culver City, by working only a few hours daily. Finally, however, she was forced to seek a long rest.

The following report was made by her physicians, Franklin R. Nuzum and H. S. Schwalenberg: "Miss Dressler passed away at 3:25 p. m. today. Immediate cause of death was uremia (failure of kidney function). This was complicated by congestive heart failure and by cancer."

Only a few were present when the end came. Besides the two doctors and the nurses were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Breed Walker, owners of the estate where the actress spent her last days and her faithful servants for twenty-five years, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cox.

Soon after Miss Dressler's life became so critical that Dr. Nuzum expressed belief she would not live through the night. She rallied, however, and though her death was expected momentarily for days thereafter, it finally became apparent she might live for several weeks. Most of the time she was in a state of coma, unable to converse with friends.

Movie success came late in life to Miss Dressler, who was one of the most popular players in Hollywood in such screen triumphs as "Anna Christie," "Min and Bill," "Reducing," "Tugboat Annie," and late "Christopher Bean."

After an up-and-down career on the stage, she first came to Hollywood in 1914 and played in a comedy with the then little known Charlie Chaplin and the late Mabel Normand. Her return to the stage soon afterward proved almost disastrous to her career.

The stage was not receptive to the movie world with her role of "Marthy" in "Anna Christie"—a role she was given through intercession of the scenarist, Frances Marion.

From then on, Miss Dressler had Hollywood almost at her feet.

GOVERNMENT IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF SITUATION

By The Associated Press

Developments in the Austrian situation: Prince von Starhemberg's government appeared to be slowly gaining control of the Nazi rebellion, although bitter fighting which has taken an estimated toll of 700 lives among Nazis and loyal troops continued.

Austria bureaucracy's stain Chancellor Dollfuss amid ceremonies of state in a temporary grave near the Schoenbrunn park and palace while grief-stricken thousands looked on. There were no disorders.

Italy, with fresh troops in striking distance of the border and 48,000 fighting men poised to enter Austria if necessary, was watchfully awaiting the outcome of events. No troops were known to have crossed the border.

The war scare visibly faded in London as government officials left Whitehall for the week-end expressing confidence in the government of Prince von Starhemberg.

The Hapsburg monarchist element was reported active in Vienna. They wish to place Archduke Otto on the throne. The notion met with insistent objections from all neighboring quarters. Italy's attitude is flatly against restoration.

An unusual situation developed in the civil war near Lavamund on the Yugoslavian border.

The Nazis fled into the wooded heights at the end of Lavani valley, almost face to face with the Yugoslavian border guards.

FDR TALKS OF U. S. DEFENSES IN 'JAP OCEAN'

Calls Armed Forces Instrument Of Peace

HONOLULU, July 28. (AP)—With a brief address in which he emphasized America's defense forces "must ever be considered an instrument of continuing peace," President Roosevelt said goodbye to Hawaii today and sailed aboard the cruiser Houston for Portland, Ore.

The president had spent nearly five days in the territory. He fished for swordfish, without catching any, visited Hawaii's famed volcano at Kilauea, Island of Hawaii; came to this island of Oahu and inspected the largest army post in the United States, Schofield barracks; inspected the Navy's mid-Pacific base at Pearl Harbor; and today said "aloha" in the island fashion and expressed the wish that he might come again to the islands.

TOM CONNALLY RENOMINATED U. S. SENATOR

M'DONALD AND HUNTER ARE BATTLING FOR SECOND PLACE

Senator Tom Connally apparently won renomination by a safe majority over both opponents Saturday in democratic primary when Texas election bureau suspended tabulation for the night early Sunday morning. He led every tabulation. Probably half of the vote had been reported.

James Allred was assured a place in the August runoff fight with either Tom Hunter or C. C. McDonald. Stint Small seemed to be slated to end fourth place. Walter Woodull led the field for Lieut. Governor, Joe Moore was second and John Hornsby third.

William McCraw and Walter Woodward seemed certain to go into the runoff for attorney general.

McDonald led the field for commissioner of agriculture. Fred Davis was in second place.

Lon Smith and Pundt were running close for first place for railroad commissioner with Hatcher third.

Judge Lattimore and Judge Sharpe for associate justice of the supreme court seemed slated for the run off.

Candidates with apparently safe majorities are George Sheppard for comptroller, Charley Lockhart for treasurer, and Walker for land commissioner.

HAMILTON CAR IS WRECKED IN HOUSTON AREA

Police Character of Dallas Relates Incident

HOUSTON, July 28. (AP)—In the belief that Raymond Hamilton, fugitive from the death house at the Texas penitentiary, might have fled to Houston after his automobile crashed last night on the Hempstead road, led police to keep a vigilant watch here for him.

So far, however, no trace of the desperado had been found either in Harris county or in Grimes, Waller and Montgomery counties where police officers were conducting a vigorous hunt.

A Dallas police character, captured after a car in which he and another man were riding crashed on the Hempstead road, told conflicting stories about his companion.

The other occupant, described by a truck driver as resembling Hamilton and as having escaped in a Houston bound car, was named at first as Hamilton by the captured man. Later the man denied that his companion was the notorious outlaw. He next said that he had obtained a ride with Hamilton in hopes of getting him drunk and effecting his capture. Later he declared that he had been picked up in Dallas by Hamilton, but did not know that the motorist was Hamilton until they were 75 miles out of the city.

The car was wrecked when it struck a mule. Two machine guns and ammunition were found inside. A couple called Sheriff Fred Blumberg of Waller county and reported that they had driven by the scene of the wreck and, as they halted to investigate, were fired upon five times.

A man resembling Hamilton caught a ride in a car which sped away towards Houston, Frank Brown, truck driver out of Gatesville, informed Sheriff Blumberg.

ALLRED INVITES McDONALD AND HUNTER TO WATERMELON FEAST

WICHITA FALLS, July 28 (AP)—James V. Allred today invited his two Wichita Falls rivals for the governor's office, C. C. McDonald and Tom F. Hunter, to join him in a watermelon feast in the offices of the Wichita Daily Times and Record-News tonight as they watched election returns.

J. R. Adcock of Alford, Wise county, sent two 90-pound melons to the Wichita Falls papers as gifts from the Alford Allred club. Ed Howard, publisher of the papers, immediately suggested a feast and Allred issued the invitations to his two opponents.

Hunter, however, who was at his home, said he was "too tired from the campaign to eat watermelon" and McDonald had not returned. Allred expressed the hope that they could "get together" tomorrow.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY (25th president): "The more profoundly we study the Bible, and the more closely we observe its divine precepts, the better citizens we will become and the higher will be our destiny as a nation."

SELF-PRaise: Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.—Proverbs 27:2

Running down the big-time crooks and putting them behind the bars or under the sod is an important job, and we seem to be doing well at it of late.

An equally important job—which, so far, we have hardly so much as thought about—is finding out how the big-time crooks get that way.

What happens, along the line between babyhood and adulthood, to turn a man into an enemy of society? Why does one man grow up into a useful citizen and another into a gangster? Is there any way in which we can develop more of the first kind and fewer of the second?

When you get to wondering along these lines, it's often useful to have a look at juvenile court records. These will show you some rather surprising things.

They show, for one thing, that the great cause of crime is poverty.

Not the poverty that makes a man steal to get bread for his family, but the poverty that condemns a child to be brought up in a congested slum, with the street for his playground and his whole environment a subtle but powerful force to teach him that organized society is his enemy.

Look at these figures from the juvenile court of a representative city such as Cleveland.

There are two comparable congested areas in that city, each inhabited by people of the same racial stock. In one area the people are fairly well off; in normal times, the average family income there ranges from $1500 to $2500 a year. In the other area the people are poor, with average family incomes running between $500 and $1400 a year.

The more prosperous area last year had one delinquent boy to every 910 inhabitants—29 delinquents, altogether, for the 26,000-odd people in the area.

The poorer area had one delinquent boy to every 183 inhabitants—a total of 154 delinquents for the 28,000 residents.

Furthermore, for the city as a whole, families which receive help from charitable agencies, or families whose incomes are just big enough to provide the bare necessities of life, contribute more than 70 per cent of all the city's delinquents.

These figures speak for themselves

Poverty means crime. Slums mean gangsters. No attack on the crime problem can lead to a permanent solution, unless it includes some program for meeting the difficulty right at the source—in the dreary streets where our "underprivileged" citizens live.

There is a certain large American city which possesses an enlightened and active juvenile court. Not long ago one of the city's newspapers set out to compare the way youthful offenders are handled by this court with the way similar offenders were handled before the court was established.

What was learned is worth repeating here as an object lesson.

Consider the case of Jimmie, for instance; Jimmie, the 11-year-old who kept running away from home and who said he was going to go on doing it.

The juvenile court authorities had a talk with Jimmie. They found out that he ran away from home, very simply, because he was unhappy there. He felt that he wasn't getting the breaks; his older brothers lay abed late and had nothing to do after they did get up, but Jimmie was routed out at 6 every morning and kept at a routine of household drudgery all day long. He had no time to play and he got precious little love or attention.

So the court's first step was to give Jimmie a room in the juvenile detention home—a clean, up-to-date building surrounded by playgrounds and equipped with books, toys, and so on, not in the least like a jail.

While Jimmie stayed there, enjoying life for a change, court officers went to his home and began the job of straightening out things with his parents so that when he came back, he could have something like a normal boyhood and something like a fair break in the division of family duties.

The reporter who learned all of this, having seen how a lad like Jimmie fares when an enlightened and conscientious juvenile court looks after him, then tried to find out what used to happen to such boys a decade or more ago, before the court was functioning.

The contrast is enlightening.

Ten years ago the cop who picked Jimmie up would have lugged him off to jail, forthwith. The only questioning he got would have been from policemen; he would have spent some time in an unclean cell, in close proximity to drunks, aged vagabonds, pickpockets and all the other bits of human driftwood that land in the police lockup.

Eventually he would have gone back home—carrying a stigma. His parents would have paddled him, the neighborhood children would have teased him, nothing would have been done to alleviate his unpleasant home conditions—and, in all probability, by this time he would have developed into a full-fledged outlaw, an enemy of society made bitter by society's injustice.

An ounce of prevention, they say, is worth a pound of cure. A juvenile court which keeps unfortunately-placed youngsters from growing up into crooks is worth, to the city which supports it, infinitely more than it can possibly cost.

4 LOCATIONS MADE AND SEVEN WELLS COMPLETED LAST WEEK

MATERIAL FOR BRIDGE HASN'T ARRIVED YET

INTEREST IN WHEELER CENTERED UPON TWO WELLS

By GEORGE L. GUTHRIE
Consulting Geologist
Combs-Worley Bldg.

Although the production for the United States as a whole was decreased for the month of August 31,000 barrels daily, and the state of Texas stood the brunt of the cut by taking a decrease of 40,000 barrels daily, the Panhandle escaped without a cut. This is an indication of the stability of this part of the state in keeping a balance between the storage and the production. The allowable of the field remains at 56,800 barrels daily, but the pipe line runs for the past week were over this figure about 3,500 barrels, due to cleaning out and testing new wells as well as treating and testing some of the old wells.

The McClellan creek bridge project has no material on the ground yet, but is expected to start the ground work soon. The river crossing is almost an impossibility and the creek is nearly as bad but not so far across.

New locations in Wheeler county have been restricted to the proven areas. However, another spur may be expected if the Shilney well and the Underwood and Cook well come in for producers. The Panhandle fields drilling activity dropped off from last week, but the monthly total will be about an average showing. This field has a record for conservative steady drilling.

Rider No. 1 Cole in section 104 block 3 I&GN is cleaning out and swabbing 40 feet of bottom and has 500 feet of oil in the hole after attempted shot of 400 quarts yesterday.

It will certainly be a well and proves that the area west and south of town is much wider than heretofore thought. Activity during the week was exceedingly slow as compared to the record of last week, as shown by first reports and completions. This week there were only 4 new locations made in the field and 7 wells were completed.

The Texas company completed the week when its No. 7 M. B. Davis in section 9 block 1 made an average of 1,895 barrels daily. The other wells were small or average and several wells were given a temporary potential while getting ready to test.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1, E. Haggard in section 113 block 3 I&GN averaged 185 barrels, pumping from a total depth of 3,369.

The Texas company No. 9 Wright in section 18 block 3, I&GN pumped an average of 126 barrels daily. It was bottomed at 2870.

The Standolind Oil and Gas company No. 2 Cobb in section 165 block 3 I&GN averaged 218 barrels. The Standolind Oil and Gas No. 4 Cobb in section 165 block 3 I&GN averaged 292 barrels for the five day test.

The I. T. I. O. No. 4 Smith in section 139 block 3 I&GN made a daily average of 815 barrels on test. In Wheeler county the Champion Refining company No. 1 Williams was the best well making an average of 1,103 barrels on test from a total depth of 2525.

The Skelly Oil company No. 2 Derrick in section 53 block 24 averaged 643 barrels. It was bottomed at 2545.

NEW LOCATIONS Gray County

The Skelly Oil company No. 6 Derrick is 990 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of the south half of section 53, block 24 H&GN.

Convict Paroled By 'Alfalfa Bill' Stabbed Seriously

MALESTER, Okla., July 28. (AP)—Paul Evans, convicted robber paroled by Gov. William H. Murray yesterday for his part in thwarting a wholesale break, was stabbed and wounded seriously at state's prison today.

Authorities said Grady Mickle, a life term convict from Pontotoc county, stabbed him in the back as he was shaving in the sergeant's office preparatory to leaving the prison.

Evans, from Tulsa county, was given a 30-year parole yesterday on the condition that he stay away from Oklahoma for that length of time.

Mickle, formerly a cell-mate of Evans, used a hand-made dirk but the blade was diverted by a rib, probably saving the paroled man's life.

On May 26, Evans wrote the warden, Sam Brown, about an escape plot and a search of prisoners supported his claim. Pistols were taken from Claude Beaver, serving 25 years from Seminole county, and Jess Cunningham, serving a life term from Stephens county.

A number of dirks were understood also to have been found in the possession of certain prisoners who had been under observation. Prison authorities assumed that the attempt on Evans' life resulted from his giving the information.

Helen Jepson, the Metropolitan Opera's new soprano, will be that institution's "blondest" blonde.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, July 28. (AP)—Stocks made further moderate progress on rally today in quiet trading contrasting with wide movements and unsettled markets earlier in the week.

While traders scanned the news from Austria closely for signs of intensified war fever, latest developments in that quarter apparently were not considered unduly disturbing.

The foreign bond market was still inclined to be a little nervous but liquidation in domestic securities dwindled to a thin stream at the week-end.

Rains and relief from heat in the west cheered Wall street in view of fears that the drought would seriously curtail plans for autumn business expansion.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 28. (AP)—Feverish speculative buying of grains broke out late today, and whirled prices skyward, wheat and corn both up more than 3 cents a bushel. Corn excelled the season's previous top price record.

Apparently likelihood that a new wave of severe high temperatures would overstep the United States next week, threatening in particular disaster to corn, was chiefly responsible for the outburst of buying. In various quarters, Washington's official weekly weather forecast was taken as confirming at least in part the prospect of a torrid heat forthcoming.

A flurried close at virtually the day's peak quotations was witnessed in all the grain pits, with wheat 2 3/4 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 2 3/4 up, oats 1/2-1/4 advanced, and provisions showing 2

BENEFITS OF SELF-EARNED CAMPING TRIP ARE REPORTED BY CAMP FIRE GIRL GROUPS

EXPANSION PLANNED TO CARE FOR NEW MEMBERS

Reports from a recent four-day camping trip were made by girls of the Tatapochon and Iyega Camp Fire groups in a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. Bo Barrett Thursday afternoon.

Full activities were planned, and Camp Fire extension was discussed also. Membership applications have been received from a large number of girls; former members are renewing memberships, and new groups are being formed in nearby towns.

Mrs. Jack Horner, assistant guardian of the Tatapochon group, will meet with girls at Kingsmill Tuesday at the home of Edna Mills to organize there. More guardians are needed to carry on the work, present leaders say.

Thirty Go To Camp
Thirty girls made the camping trip, accompanied and visited by a number of adults. Reports show their pride in the outing which was made possible by their own efforts. Total expenses were earned, and all camp work was planned and carried out by the girls themselves.

They believe no other group of 30 has surpassed their enjoyment, good meals, and gleaming of new knowledge at a cost of only $21.72 for the four days.

Delicious balanced menus were planned before going to camp and supplies purchased. Meals were prepared over open fires and served by three different girls at each meal. Each girl washed her own dishes and three other girls washed the pots and tidied the kitchen.

Sports Vary Study
Recreational and craft periods were conducted each day. Swimming was a favorite sport. The first period directed by Mrs. Noel Reynolds was enjoyed. A 10 mile hike and a treasure hunt were entertainment highlights.

Basket material was gathered and basket making studied with Mrs. M. K. May. Jessie Marie Gilbert made the most perfect and attractive basket.

Mrs. Nolan Harris was camp inspector. Cooking and sleeping quarters were kept neat under her supervision, and later campers reported the site left in order. Cooking was supervised by Mrs. George Nix.

Each girl brought home pockets and boxes full of souvenirs, many collected on nature study trips. The seven kinds of birds found in camp were studied.

Honors To Be Given
All these phases of camp life added to honors worked out by the girls since the last council fire. Awards will be made at a grand council on Aug. 16.

Members in camp from the Tatapochon group were Mary Seeds, Anna Mae Jones, Herma and Edith Beckham, Katherine Ward, Kathleen and Robert O'Hara, Jessie Marie Gilbert, Edna Mills.

From the Iyega group were Mildred Pearce, Lyndall May, Lillian Nix Juanita Smith, Helen Harris, Jessie Muriel Farmer, Virginia Covington, Ellen Louise Cotton, Jo Anna Nix, Mary Frances Yeager, Winnie Pearson. From the Iyega group were Hazel Jo Elder and Rosa Lee Dudley.

Guardians and assistants were Mrs. Nolan Harris, Barrett, Nix, May, and Reynolds.
Visitors included Mr. May and children, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Seeds and children, Mr. Harris, Mrs. Barrett, Ike Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Rothwell Elder and baby, Miss Dorothy Elder and Mildred Miller.

Girls Serve Guests
At the meeting Thursday the girls added another honor head to their string by preparing and serving delicious nut sandwiches, potato chips, and lemonade. Each was responsible for some part of the lunch.

It was served on the lawn to Lillian Nix Juanita Smith, Lyndall May, Virginia Covington, Betty Plank Jo Anna Nix, Mary Frances Yeager, Herma and Edith Beckham, Mary Seeds, Edna Mills, Betty Horner, Hazel Jo and Dorothy Elder, little Rebekah Elder, Martha Jo Gilley of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Jack Horner, Mrs. May, and Mrs. Barrett.

Appreciation for camp donations was expressed to the Burrows bakery for bread, Standard Food Store for marshmallows, Barrett Bros packing company for steak and bacon, mothers of the campers for ice cream and cookies, Mr. Barrett for a transportation truck.

Ace of Clubs Has Party Last Week

Anniversary of the First Use of "Old Glory" Is August 3

When Washington led his men across the ice-choked Delaware to attack the Hessians at Trenton he did not carry the Stars and Stripes as the famous painting depicts. This flag had not been adopted as the national emblem of the new republic. There was an American flag, but rather a number of different flags under which Americans were fighting for freedom.

On June 14, 1777, the subject of a national flag came up in the Continental Congress. A committee, appointed the previous year to consider adoption of a flag for all the colonies, brought in its report. This committee was composed of Robert Morris, financier of the Revolution, and George Ross, signer of the Declaration of Independence. With George Washington, some historians state, the committee called on Betty Ross, who fashioned a flag from their design.

The first recorded display of the Stars and Stripes by revolutionary troops took place at Fort Stanwix, on Long Island Sound, August 3, 1777. Reinforcements from the Ninth Massachusetts regiment, coming to strengthen the fort against a threatened British attack, brought news of the flag. From a white shirt, a red petticoat and a blue overcoat a flag was made and raised over a bastion facing the enemy.

Through the remaining years of the long struggle for independence, the Stars and Stripes formed the emblem and rallying point of patriots. After the close of the war, the new flag took its place among the flags of the world.

The number of stars grew from 20 to 49 as state after state was won from the western wilderness. From the emblem of an infant republic, the Stars and Stripes grew to be the flag of a mighty nation.

To Give Recital

Winnie Jean McKenzie, 9-year-old piano pupil of Mrs. Nina McKimling, will be presented in recital by the Pampa Conservatory Monday evening, 8:15, at the Presbyterian church.

In her recital tomorrow she will play her contest number, and will feature numbers by Beethoven and other familiar composers.

Humane Branch of Texas P-T-A Recruits Many

Humane education is being taught and emphasized in the training of children in the public schools of 26 states out of the 48.

Nearly five million children have been organized into bands of mercy for the prevention of violence and war and for the purpose of planting in every child's heart the seeds of a common love for humanity and a fine consideration of his fellowman.

It is just as easy to teach a child to care for and love an animal for a pet as it is to teach him to neglect and abuse it.

There is a steadily growing interest in this branch of humane education in the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which is under the special charge of Mrs. J. B. Woolfolk of Pecos, Texas.

Teaches Fair Play
"Humane education begins," says Mrs. Woolfolk, "with the awakening in the heart of the child those principles of fair play, justice and compassion which will remain with him in his later life. It begins with the determination to teach the child the relation he should sustain toward those lowlier fellow creatures dependent upon man's protection and care."

"This reaction," continues Mrs. Woolfolk, "upon human character of the spirit of justice and sympathy expressing itself in conduct and life makes up essentially, the fundamentals of humane education."

Mrs. Woolfolk urges humane story telling contests, the making of posters and the writing of essays in order to stimulate and make the youth of Texas not only willing, but eager to learn more about this branch of education and assist in a spreading of knowledge of this program throughout every county and district. She points out that parent-teacher members will in this way be assisting in the carrying out of a great and widespread national program which is a challenge to the highest endeavor of every worker.

Children Enjoy Campfire Meals In Back Yards

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women (CIA).

DENTON, July 29—Summer vacation makes many demands on the mother to provide worth while activities for the children. Why not have them plan a picnic ground in the back yard? Let them plan the picnic menu and provide the necessary paraphernalia for cooking and serving supper outdoors.

A camp stove made of bricks or even the Boy Scout camp fire offers many possibilities. Baked potatoes or roasting ears can be prepared, or bacon and eggs, fried potatoes, or meat and potatoes, hash from the accumulated left-overs. Fresh fruits and raw vegetables give a chance for them to learn preparation. Cookies and drop cakes are best to serve picnic style and are easier to make than layer cake, also more wholesome. Let the boys and girls share the planning and work.

Also let them experiment in order to find out for themselves what the possibilities are.

MARRIAGES OF THREE COUPLES ARE REVEALED

NEXT WEEK TO BRING STEELE-VINCENT NUPTIALS

By SUE VINSON Woman's Page Editor

Weddings are in the spotlight as this month closes. The procession of July brides has rivaled that of June, and the series of announcement parties, showers, and marriages has continued unbroken through midsummer.

The bride-to-be who has been the inspiration for most recent entertainments is Miss Kathryn Vincent, who will wed Dudley Steele next week. No definite announcement has been made of the wedding plans but Miss Gwen Allison of Carlsbad, N. M., is the house guest of Miss Vincent this week-end and will be an attendant.

Double Ceremony
Announcement was made last week of several marriages. One was a double wedding solemnized at Erick, Okla., on the evening of July 8. Justice of the Peace Bates read the ceremony in his home.

Miss Thelma Scarborough of Clovis, N. M., and Ivan Yowell of Pampa and Gloria Herbst of Hamlin and Elden Brazell of Pampa were the couples married. They were accompanied by Mrs. R. D. Yowell and Jack Blair. Both couples are now at home here.

Miss Scarborough, daughter of Mrs. Verna Scarborough of Clovis, has been a teacher in the Scarborough School of Dance there. Miss Herbst is the daughter of Mrs. P. A. Herbst of Hamlin.

Mr. Brazell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Brazell, is an employe of the LaNora theater. Mr. Yowell, son of E. F. Yowell, is employed at Al's Confectionery.

West-Harrelson
A wedding of unusual interest to friends here was that of Miss Mary Harrelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harrelson of Borger, and Dean West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy West of McLean, announced recently.

The ceremony was read at the home of Mrs. Mary Arnold last Sunday at 5 p. m. by the Rev. James Todd. Fern and galliards decorated the room. The bride was charmingly gowned in white triple sheer and carried an arm bouquet of valley lilacs and Killarney roses.

Miss Peggy Arnold and John Ketter were the only attendants. Miss Arnold wore green lace and tulle with a corsage of roses.

A buffet supper was served afterward by Mrs. Arnold and her daughter. The table was beautifully laid with lace over green, with cut flowers and tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. West are at home to friends at 305 E. Browning.

Roundtrees Honored

The marriage of Miss Vela Chaffin and Doyle Roundtree was an event of Tuesday, and one of the loveliest parties of the season was given by Mrs. Guy C. Saunders and Mrs. J. E. Williams Friday evening at the Saunders home, honoring the couple.

Friends were received by the hostesses and honorees in the beautifully decorated rooms, then conducted to the lawn where games were in progress.

After an hour of entertainment, the newlyweds were seated at a large table covered with many lovely and practicable gifts for their new home. Delicious refreshments were served to about 40 guests.

Showers for Bride
Another shower was given Thursday afternoon, this honoring Mrs. Raymond W. Pollard, formerly Miss Violet Schaffer. Mrs. A. W. Pollard was hostess at her home.

Guests were Mrs. B. N. Bradley, L. L. Dyer, Bert Willhellen, J. L. Love, W. A. York, Gene York, George Appleby, Fred C. Fisher, Charles C. Clark, Steve Oates, Earl Plank, M. Conley, Bert Moore, Wilford Wilkes, F. W. Pollard, C. A. Schaffer, Carl Baer, Irvin Cole, R. D. Morris, W. J. Johnson, Eva Mae Kincheole, Ruth Kretzmeier, Audrey Noel, and Elizabeth Jamison of Amarillo.

Mrs. Carroll Is Hostess to Club

Mrs. J. C. Carroll entertained Le Bon Temps club at her home with a morning party Wednesday, followed with a luncheon at the Court-house cafe.

In games of contract Mrs. John Weeks made high score and Mrs. Archie Ralsky second high. Other players were Mrs. H. C. Berry, Harold Kelly, Earl Schell, Earl Statten, E. Hooks, and Carroll.

WORK FOR NEEDY
With one million glasses of jelly and jam as their goal, the women of the American Legion Auxiliary are working in a nation-wide "jelly-making drive" to preserve the nourishing goodness of the summer's fruits and berries for the country's needy during the coming winter.

Mrs. S. A. Burns, president of the local Auxiliary unit, has announced. Individually and in groups, the Auxiliary women are making jelly and jam for their local Auxiliary units wherever home-grown fruits and berries are plentiful and cheap. The products are being stored for distribution by the Auxiliary to needy families of the community next winter.

BALLOON

They had been calm while groups in contact with them by radio bailed their fists in anxiety as the airman announced thy were dropping "five hundred feet a minute."

Graphic Account Given
Kepner gave a graphic account of the first drama broadcast from the stratosphere and of the grim battle against death and disaster. He said he first sighted the rips in the enormous envelope at the peak of the ascent—60,000 feet. The cause he attributed to "either strain or inflation."

"We looked through a window and saw a hole 50 feet long," he related. "We sat and sort of waited to see if we were going to come down in the gondola at about a mile a minute and would have to get out."
"At that height a man can not live. At 20,000 feet we opened our gondola and got out on top and looked around and thought then we might be able to land it and save the instruments."
"Anyway we thought we would take a chance to save them and try to land, for some of those instruments were very valuable."
"But the speed we were coming down—600 feet a minute although sometimes it was not over 300—had a parachuting effect which was too much for the balloon. It tore out all the lower part and just left the upper part like a parachute with a little hydrogen floating in it."
Instruments' Fate Unknown
The fate of the ton of instruments that had been taken into the celestial reaches in an attempt to learn more of cosmic rays and make atmospheric and barometric tests was not learned. A cursory examination by the natives who rushed up to view the equipment led to reports that some of them seemed to have been undamaged.
Major Kepner did not check them immediately but first telephoned to his wife and to officials of the United States army corps and the National Geographic society, who sponsored the venture.
They vaulted into the sky at 6:45 a. m. from a natural amphitheater. The balloon—largest ever fashioned by man and, with its gondola equal in height to a 27-story office building—lifted gracefully. Major Kepner reported they were ready to seal themselves in their carrier at 9:40 a. m., but idled at about the 14,000 foot stage until about 11. When the sun had sufficiently expanded the hydrogen in the bag, the climb was resumed to the 60,000 foot level.
Meanwhile, they had drifted over Nebraska and were still over that state when the holes were noticed in the balloon. It was believed that winds ranging from 50 to 55 miles an hour in the upper atmospheric layers may have rent the fabric. Kepner placed their position at that juncture over-Gothenburg.

he asserted. "These forces must ever be considered an instrument of continuing peace; for our nation's policy seeks peace and does not look to imperialistic aims."
The president avoided in his four-minute speech all controversial matters, such as the question of granting aid to the territory, merely saying:
"The problems you are solving here are the problems of the whole nation, and your administration in Washington will not forget that you are, in very truth, an integral part of the nation."
Looking into the vast crowd of whites, Japanese, Chinese, Hawaiians and Filipinos, Mr. Roosevelt addressed the gathering as "my friends and fellow Americans" and commented:
"In a fine old prayer for our country I found these words: 'Fashioned into one happy people those brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues.' That prayer is being answered in Hawaii."

Reports were circulated in Klagentfurt that the government at Vienna is considering asking Yugoslavia to withdraw the border guards so as to leave the nazis at the mercy of artillery fire.
Nazis fought on desperately in Carinthia. A leader of the rebels said that if they could hold out a little longer a new "putsch" would come in Styria.
There was fighting, too, in some sections of the Tyrol. Many persons were arrested.
The number of dead and wounded mounted nearer 4,000, according to such estimates as were available.

Relief Racket Of 'Peddlers' Stopped Here

Peddling on the streets of Pampa is against the city ordinance and Fampans are urged to see that persons calling at their homes or places of business have a city license.
Some instances the practice has become a racket of sympathy.
Friday the Gray county relief board furnished a family with groceries to last them four days while the board checked the case. The same afternoon members of the family started selling novelties, and if not purchased was forthcoming they asked for money to buy food.
The family was a transient one and the federal government makes provisions for such families without them having to beg or sell articles. When the family reports to the relief board, their place of residence is checked and the family is sent to that location at the government's expense.
If the business is legitimate, the person can purchase a city peddling license.

Oil Allowable For State Upped 9,000 Barrels

AUSTIN, July 28 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today corrected provisions of its state-wide oil proration order, issued yesterday, boosting the estimated state total by 9,000 barrels to 979,444 barrels daily.
An allowable of 51,827 barrels daily for the southwest Texas district was reduced to 36,899 barrels, exclusive of production from the north and south government wells pools.
Production from those fields was placed on bottom hole pressure, which permitted fluctuations in the daily allowables, and maximum limits were removed.
For the east Texas field the basis of proration was raised from four and one-half to five percent of the hourly potential flow. Taking decreased potentials into consideration, Gordon Griffin, commission chief petroleum engineer, estimated allowable production in east Texas would be reduced from 470,000 barrels daily to 400,000 barrels.

JAPANESE SEA LORDS WATCH NEW PREMIER

"BIG NAVY" MEN ARE DOUBTING SUPPORT OF OFFICIAL

By GLENN BABB

TOKYO, July 28 (AP)—Another retired admiral became premier of Japan when Ketsuke Okada, 66, succeeded his old leader, Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, 77, but the active sea lords are not happy about it.
With the 1935 naval conference of the great powers constituting the most vital problem of foreign policy now confronting the nation, the "big navy" men are not sure that the new head of the government will play their game.
They have grave doubts whether he will permit their extreme demands to become national policy. They want some form of naval equality with America and Britain and would abolish ratos.

Moderates Back Okada
But if Japan can not get what she wants, they would like over the entire scheme of naval limitation.
Nor does the nation know yet, but there is confidence in moderate and liberal quarters that Admiral Okada will not let the naval extremists dictate Japan's policy for next year.
Although he has devoted his life to the navy, retiring from active service 18 months ago after a career of 44 years, it was not the navy clique which chose him. Rather it was the group of senior civilian officials close to the throne.
That group speaks through the circular lips of the one surviving "elder statesman," Prince Kinmochi Satoriji, but its active head is the lord privy seal, Count Nobuaki Makino, probably the most influential of the empire's subjects today.

The 12 years since the Washington treaty inaugurated the system of limitation among the great sea powers, have produced sharp division among the admirals and people of Japan. The naval treaties have become the most vital issue in Japanese politics, the source of assassinations and vicious propaganda.
In the navy the admirals have divided into two groups, the uncompromising foes of the treaties—firebrands who say Japan needs no such compacts to hold her own against any foe—and the moderates who, although they seldom speak in open defense of the naval pacts, face the realities of Japan's comparative poverty and admit the benefits to their country of limitation.
Within the navy itself the first group today is all-powerful. Its chief is the old Admiral Kanji Kato, member of the supreme war council. Its members have been placed in all the key positions of a sea forces—Adm. Nobuama Suetsugu, commander of the combined fleet; Vice-Admiral Viscount Takayoshi Kato, vice-chief of the general staff; Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, vice - minister of the navy.

Was Records Ignored
But Admiral Okada has achieved something like neutrality between the two groups. During the conflict of 1930 over whether the emperor should ratify the London treaty, he was a mediator and finally brought about a truce. For this "strong man" of the navy has not forgiven him. He is dubbed "lukewarm."
There is, his inmates say, a shrewd, realistic wisdom behind Okada's gentle reserve. Although he has never been outside the empire except for his years at sea, he has a keen regard for his own potentialities as compared with the industrial and economic power of either the United States or the British empire.
He is on record as favoring agreement for limitation of warship tonnage. Being a loyal Japanese naval officer he wants, of course, as large relative power for Japan as possible, but he has not boasted that Japan can win naval building races.

ENGLAND CAPTURES FIRST TWO SINGLES MATCHES IN DAVIS CUP FINALS

Harvester Football Squad Will Start Training In Sacramento Mountains

UNITED STATES CAN STILL WIN TENNIS TROPHY

THREE MORE MATCHES TO BE PLAYED AT WIMBLEDON

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 28. (AP)—The will of the wisp of world tennis supremacy which America has been chasing for so long looked more elusive than ever tonight after Uncle Sam's forces dropped both singles matches at the outset of the Davis cup challenge round against England's spirited defenders.

Frank X. Shields, upon whom high hopes had been built after a seeming return to form earlier in the week against Australia, proved an easy victim of Henry W. (Bunny) Austin and gave one of the sloppiest exhibitions of his career in losing three straight sets by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

With the burden squarely shifted to his slim shoulders, Sidney B. Wood Jr., then waged a superb battle against England's Perry, the world's reigning amateur, but succumbed finally in a five-set thriller to the combination of Perry's marvelous game and the weakness of his own physical structure. The scores were 6-1, 4-6, 5-7, 6-0, 6-3.

With the match apparently well in hand as he led Perry by two sets to one at intermission, time the frail New Yorker wrenched his right side at the start of the fourth set and thereupon lost whatever chance he had to stave off the English ace. Perry raced through the last two sets but to his quick to pay tribute afterward to his opponent.

"It was just plain lucky," Perry remarked.

With Wood's defeat, however, went all but the most forlorn prospect of dislodging England from possession of the Davis cup this year. It was quickly pointed out, of course, that the Americans pulled out the inter-zone final from Australia, after similarly dropping the first two singles matches, but no one disputes that Austin and Perry, on today's brilliant form, are a much stronger combination than anything the Aussies could produce. Captain Dick Williams tonight retained no such air of optimism as he exhibited after the double setback on the first day against Australia.

The United States may virtually be conceded the doubles on Monday, the indications being that England, now two up and needing only one more victory to clinch the cup, would withhold Perry from the doubles and insert H. G. N. Lee as a partner for George Patrick Hughes against Lester Stofen and George Martin Lott, Jr. No word on this was forthcoming, however, from H. Roper Barrett, British captain, who was ill and unable even to watch today's play. The final two singles matches, with Wood playing Austin and Shields opposing Perry, are scheduled for Tuesday.

Yankees Win
PHILADELPHIA, July 28 (AP)—Jimmy Doherty, who once did his elbowing for the Athletics, pitched the Yankees into an even break with Philadelphia today with one of the season's finest mound performances, but he couldn't keep them on top of the American league standing.

Doherty limited the A's to a single hit in the second half of the bill and the Yanks won 2 to 1 after the A's had pulled out a 4 to 3 decision in the ninth inning of the opener. The even break dropped the Yanks behind the victorious Detroit Tigers, leaving them with a .620 average to Detroit's .624.

It was Doherty's misfortune that the only blow he gave was Jimmie Fox's 34th home run of the season.

Fox also hit for the circuit in the first encounter.

GRIDIRON MEN AND COACH TO LEAVE AUG. 29

TRAINING TO START AT HARVESTER PARK AUGUST 20

The Harvester football squad will go to the Sacramento mountains in New Mexico for fall training. Coach Odus Mitchell announced yesterday before leaving for Lubbock to attend the second annual Texas Tech coaching school.

Coach Mitchell said he would begin training at Harvester field August 20 and leave with a selected group of boys August 22. Line Coach Argus Fox will be here by that time and will also accompany the team.

Only prospects who show fight and ability and who were faithful during spring training will be taken to camp, the coach declared. He does not plan to be bothered with boys who won't put everything they possess into their football.

Coaches have only a hazy idea of the lineup which will start as the first string. Several members of the squad have been taking their football seriously this summer, and have been keeping in condition and doing some practicing as well. Squads are urged to start getting in shape at once and not waiting until training starts to smoke their last cigarette.

The camp will be located in a picturesque valley at the base of a high mountain. Cabins will be available for the boys. Hot and cold showers will also be handy as well as an excellent swimming pool. The camp will cost only 10 cents a day per boy. Bed clothing and dishes will be provided. Only victuals and transportation will be provided by the athletic association. Mountain climbing will be one of the training requirements.

The squad will return to Pampa in time to play an exhibition game with Busby's "Exes" on September 1. The former Harvesters declare they will show the boys back from camp something about football.

Some of the greatest coaches in the country will be in charge of the coaching school in Lubbock. Assistant Coach Argus Fox was expected back in Pampa today and will also attend the coaching school, which will last two weeks.

The local school board is seriously considering installing lights at Harvester field. Such a decision would necessarily cause a slight change in the football schedule. The board will probably take definite action at a meeting tomorrow night.

CARL STEWARD BEATS CHILLI IN 15-3 GAME

VAUGHN CONNECTS FOR FOUR HITS OUT OF SIX TRIES

Carl Steward, was in rare form Friday night when he pitched the Road Runners to a 15 to 3 victory over Chillothe. The veteran right-hander allowed Chillothe only four scattered hits and fanned 12 batters. He walked only two men.

The Road Runner batting attack was also decidedly "on." Whitley Vaughn, whose hitting has been weakly this season, connected for four hits out of six trips to the plate. Two of his hits went for three bases. Eddie Sain also did some timely hitting, getting a home run and double on two official times at bat. He walked his c'th three times. Brickell got three doubles.

Extra base hits went to Sain with his home run and double, Vaughn with two triples, Cox with a triple, and Seltz and McLary with doubles. A youngster by the name of Barclay, who played second base for Put and Take grocery of Amarillo last year, was on shortstop for the Road Runners and his playing was sparkling. He handled three hard chances with ease and got two hits which scored four runs.

Whitley, Memphis ace, started on the mound but was sent to the showers in the seventh. Newman finished the game but was wild and generous with his hits. R. Ramsey got two singles after fanning twice to lead the Chillothe batting attack. B. Francis got the first hit for the victors when he connected for a triple in the fourth inning. Wigginton doubled in the next inning but failed to score when Stewart struck out the next two batters. Stewart fanned three in the third inning and two in each of the three succeeding innings.

The Road Runner lineup went to bat in the seventh inning when six runs crossed the plate. Barclay made the 10th batter. Three runs crossed the plate on a walk in the

RUNYAN WILL BATTLE WOOD IN PGA FINAL

CRAIG DEFEATS SHUTE IN SEMI-FINALS OF TOURNEY

PARK CLUB, BUFFALO, July 28. (AP)—Hard-hitting Craig Wood of Hollywood, N. J., and his former assistant, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., won their way today to the finals of the Professional Golfers tournament. They will meet tomorrow in a 36-hole duel for the title relinquished by Gene Sarazen.

Wood gained the final by defeating Denny Shute, British open title holder, 2 and 1, after his morning lead of six up had been whittled down to one hole. The slender Runyan staged a great recovery victory over 25-year-old Gene Kunes of Borrowton, Pa., winning 4 and 2.

The final between Wood and Runyan will be a duel between one of the game's longest hitters and one of the shrewdest and most deadly approach artists. It will be their first meeting in match play.

Euring his conquest of Shute, Wood reeled off one of the greatest competitive rounds in the history of the championship. They were all square through the eighth hole and Wood captured the ninth with a birdie four to make the turn one up, with both players carding out-going 34s. Wood's birdie at the ninth amid being a great eagle three by half an inch. That was the beginning of a sensational string of birdies.

The belting Hollywood blonde bagged birdies on the 10th, 11th and 12th holes to go three up. Shute snaring a birdie on the 11th. Wood's par-busting streak was interrupted by a pair of pars on the 13th and then Craig picked up the thread, canning a pair of six-factors for 3s on the next two holes for his sixth birdie in seven holes. The Jersey star ended the morning round six up.

Those five remarkable birdies on the incoming holes, good for an incoming 31—the lowest count recorded on the back nine for the week gave Wood a sizzling 65, while Shute was five strokes off the pace with 70.

They opened the afternoon round with 4s on the first three holes and then Shute made his first dent in Craig's lead.

NEGRO FIGHT SEATS GO ON SALE MONDAY

ALL-BLACK CARD WILL BE STAGED TUESDAY NIGHT AT PARK

Advance sale of reserved seat tickets for the all-negro boxing card to be staged at Road Runner park Tuesday night will go on sale at City Drug store tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Tickets will be 60 cents.

Promoter B. W. Kelly is bringing some of the top-notch boys of the southwest to Pampa. Some of the names on the card have been recognized in the big time. Schoolboy, a native of the state negro light heavyweight title, has fought in nearly every state in the country. He is getting old but is still a tough brawler.

Schoolboy's opponent in the 10 round main event will be K. O. Brown of Amarillo, one of the most promising battlers in the state. The Amarillo negro has been walking through all opposition by the knockout route the last few months and is the logical contender for a chance at Schoolboy's crown.

The semi-final will also present two battlers whose names are well known in boxing circles. Although he goes under the name of Smiling Jack, the now Pampa battler has met some real fighters the last few years. He will meet Kid Wallace of Tulsa in the eighth round event, a triple in the big time. Schoolboy, Wallace is Oklahoma.

Tiger Smith, Denver's pick of the welterweights, will meet Billy McDonald of Amarillo in a six round special event. They are both known to be leather-slingers who fight for the joy of hearing the leather thud.

The card will open with Charlie Dodson of Amarillo battling One Round Jackson of Dallas. The first match will be at 8:30 o'clock.

NAVY PICTURE WITH CAGNEY IS NEWEST HIT

WHOLE PACIFIC FLEET SEEN, WITH BIG AIR LINER

"Here Comes the Navy," Warner Bros.' smashing drama of Uncle Sam's jock-tart afloat, ashore and in the air, opens at La Nora theater today with James Cagney and Pat O'Brien in co-starring roles.

Based on Ben Markson's exciting story which combines romance, rollicking comedy, rapid fire action and breath-taking thrills, the picture is said to be one of the most tremendous productions ever put out by Warner Bros.

Cagney and O'Brien, two seamen, are the bitterest of enemies, Jimmy having joined the navy just for a chance to get even with O'Brien, who has knocked him cold in a fistie encounter and stolen his girl, a part played by Dorothy Tree.

To add fuel to their hatred, Jimmy falls in love with a beautiful girl (Gloria Stuart) who turns out to be his hated enemy's sister.

For the first time in pictures, the whole gigantic Pacific fleet is seen, weighing anchor and steaming out of its harbor for the Atlantic Coast.

Many of the thrills take place aboard the Arizona, where the Warner Bros. company of players spent three weeks taking scenes. In one of these, Jimmy saves his gun crew, including his hated enemy, from sure death in a flaming gun turret by rolling his half naked body over a burning powder trail which has almost reached a bag of explosives.

Another hair raising incident occurs at the navy dirigible base at Sunnyvale, Calif., where the company's top tees with the U. S. S. Dirigible Macon. Here three men are carried aloft clinging to ground wires when the giant gas bag ascends after finding the wind too strong to effect a landing.

Two plunge to their death while the third, almost exhausted, holds on in desperation.

Jimmy, who has been transferred to the dirigible, again comes to the rescue, sliding down the ground wire with a parachute strapped to his back, only to find the man is his deadly enemy. Nevertheless he ropes the sailor to himself and plunges to the ground in the parachute.

Other stirring events take place with the company on location at the Naval Training station at San Diego, Calif., and at the navy yards at Bremerton, Wash.

Gloria Stuart holds up the romantic tie with Cagney, while other in the cast include Robert Barrat, Willard Robertson, Guinn Williams, Howard Hickman and George Irving. Lloyd Bason directed the picture from the screen play by Ben Markson and Earl Baldwin.

Unique Radio Shop Opens On Foster

A unique radio shop, the only one of its kind ever built, according to the owner and proprietor, Everett Westbrook, has been opened several blocks down on West Foster, east side of the street.

The building housing the shop is built of pressed wood in the form of a radio. The floor is 10 by 12 and the building is 11 feet high. It is painted antique brown. The structure is reinforced with steel and contains 500 bolts. The face of the "radio" has a huge dial, three knobs. The entrance to the building is at the rear where a gravel driveway will permit the parking of several cars.

Mr. Westbrook moved with his wife and two children to Pampa recently from Amarillo where he was with the C. S. Goobs Engineering company and the Tolzeln Music company. The equipment of his shop is the latest and is built in a wall. The shop is equipped to test automobile radios since cars can drive up to the entrance. Mr. Westbrook specializes in all kinds of radio repairing.

DOES McSHAIN REALLY HAVE ANY FRIENDS? ANYWAY, HE'LL MEET DON HILL MONDAY EVENING

Rascal tho he is, Danny McShain has many, many friends who are wrestling fans. The Irishman goes wild when he gets in the ring. He can deal out plenty of punishment, illegal of course, and he can also take lots of punishment. Tomorrow night at Road Runner park he will meet that likeable grappler Don Hill in the main event.

Hill has never had any love for McShain or his type of wrestling. The Californian believes that wrestling rules were made to be obeyed and not broken and scattered to the winds. He takes a lot of punishment to stay clean but most always changes tactics and gives the other fellow some of his own medicine.

Hill and McShain are both conquerors of the Canadian Wild man, Lightning Rod Fenton of Edmonton. McShain is tricky, dirty and malicious. He doesn't know when he is beaten and doesn't believe he can be defeated. If he is declared loser by the referee, he thinks there is trickery and takes revenge on any person within reach.

Scientific grappling is in store for fans in the semi-final when Doug Henderson, former lightweight champion, meets Cyclone Mackey of Amarillo. Ring magazine recently hailed Henderson one of the greatest wrestlers in his day. He held the title three years before getting over-weight.

Mackey is known to be among the best in the welterweight class. He is fast, heady, and can take plenty of punishment. He is somewhat a favorite with Pampa fans since his win over Sheik Marallah. The Amarillo grappler will outweigh Henderson and he will also be about 12 years older than the former champion.

Andy Gump, local Swede, and Wildcat Willie of LeFors will open the card at 8:30 o'clock. Reserve seat tickets are now available at Pampa Drug No. 1.

The outcome of the matches follows:

C. E. "Dan" McGrew lost to Burnett.

Fred Thompson lost to Griggs.

Bus Kaufman defeated Bush.

Jack Goldstein and Klein, tied.

Jimmie Weir lost to Vintro.

Bill Lang lost to Holman.

Bill Jarrett defeated Mace.

C. L. Stine lost to Clemons.

Ben Reno lost to Kelly.

Ernie Voss defeated Swan.

Lefty Stevens lost to Baker.

Edwin Vears and Antry, tied.

Gene Fathereus lost to Kinzie.

CAR STOLEN HERE

A 1933 Chevrolet black coach belonging to Ivan Brewer was stolen Friday afternoon. Mr. Brewer told officers of the sheriff's department that he parked the car in front of the postoffice and left the engine running while he went inside for the mail. When he returned, the car was gone. The motor number is A03-318. The theft took place about 5:30 p. m.

The Last Straw—Park Offenders To Be Arrested

Believe it or not, there are people in Pampa who had a picnic in Central park and then poured the salt water out of an ice cream freezer around a rose bush with the result that it died. Several spots of dead grass have also been discovered, probably from the same cause.

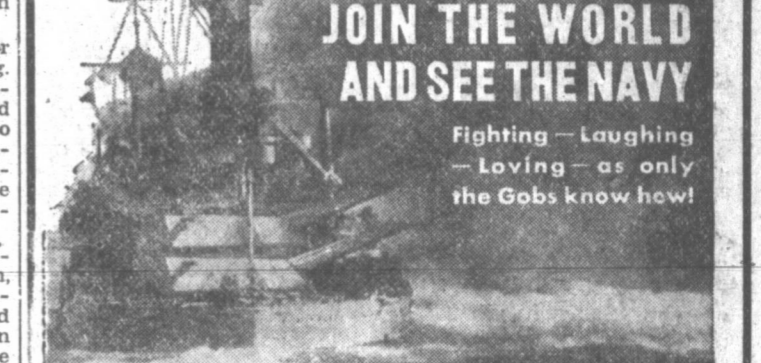

Riding of bicycles through the park has become a menace and will have to be stopped. Several babies and small children have barely escaped serious injury the last week.

City Manager C. L. Stine said yesterday that he has instructed the park keepers to hold persons destroying park property, riding bicycles recklessly, or acting in an unbecoming manner, for police officers.
