Twinkles

Every morning it is very apparent that the election is over—dozens of political envelopes are missing.

Among the election incidents was that of the woman who would vote but for only one candidate, and another woman who was enormously bored by all but two races.

It will be safer soon to get sick during baseball games. A telephone is being installed at Road Runner park for the convenience of doctors in the grandstand.

There is no relief greater than that of the successful candidate. But the losers also have a measure of relief too. With business on the upturn, they may find good jobs and be satisfied and happy when, two years hence, their recent opponents lose at the polls.

The West Foster grinch has grown much about the election, but he admits that ballots are much sadder than Austrians' bullets.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: The grand jury report published yesterday should be read once by everyone and twice by every parent. Quisery, the illuminating report was printed on the same page with Jim Ferguson's statement that Texans do not wish the liquor laws enforced. We cannot believe that parents wish their children to drink whisky and take up gambling habits. We do not believe they can be satisfied with conditions described by the grand jury. Think it over more than once.

POLETICS is a grand old game, always furnishing the unexpected to most of the folks. There also are other adjectives, good and bad, which can be applied. Two things make politics take a position far below the ideal we would like to set up. One is that candidates are human. The other is that we, the voters, are human.

JIMMIE ALLRED, running chiefly on his reputation and the habit that Texans have of voting for him, wound up his campaign in a theatrical gesture by reading and signing the ticket with a huge margin to spare. In earlier years he carried cans and packages of food from north to south and east to west over this state. He won the support of many of the "plain people." His political sagacity in soft-pedaling one of his best assets on the theory that the people had not forgotten him was well-proved.

TOM HUNTER, the stocky Wichita Falls lawyer who had never ceased running for governor, drew votes heavily from all candidates in his appeal to the discontented people of Texas, of whom there are, evidently, a great many. Mr. Hunter is adept in expressing the highest aspirations of his listeners, especially in economics. He has a cutting wit that he uses in referring to the traditional enemies of the poor man. He can make most any crowd toss hats into the air—a feat, by the way, at which Jimmie Allred is no amateur.

TO SUCCEED in politics in the southwest, you must be a showman. Jim Ferguson, Bill Murray, Huey Long, Tom Blanton, and their like are hated much but they gather the votes. Not all of them are alike, of course, but they have the same ability to thrill their audiences. Appeals to the minorities win the applause of the thoughtful, but we Texas had rather "remember" than think. We'd rather hear Tom Hunter array the naughty rick into the garments of the damned than listen to a scholarly talk on state government by Edgar Witt. Those who tried to be logical, conservative, and within the scope of reasonable promises—like Small and Witt—failed to catch the attention of even thousands of their home voters.

SENATOR SMALL made a strenuous campaign but this wasn't his kind of a year. His friends here in Gray county had the satisfaction of seeing him lead the balloting by 600 votes. They lambasted Allred vigorously but, queerly enough, it was Hunter who got many of the votes pried away from the Allred band wagon. Jimmie had a tough time of it in Gray county, getting fewer votes than constituted the margin between Small and Hunter. . . . This writer had the satisfaction of seeing his readers back with their votes the state candidates he endorsed. We're not claiming credit, we're remarking on their good judgment.

THE NEXT job for Texans is to pick a governor. The job is not as easy as it would seem from the fact that only two men are in the race. Both men are lawyers. But we're not electing an attorney general. It is no secret in Austin that Mr. Allred has had more luck in politics than in the law. He is not at his best in matching technical points with veterans of civil law. . . . Mr. Hunter has no public record but evidently stands well with his home people. He is an opportunist, and opportunists often go far. He has not hesitated, in some instances, of resorting to class prejudice. His promises are often fantastic. But who takes promises seriously? It is charged that Mr. Allred makes promises and does not always try hard to keep some of them. It is charged that Tom

THREE TEXAS CONVICTS ARE TAKEN AGAIN

ONE 'LIFER' DROWNS WHILE CROSSING CREEK

HOUSTON, July 31 (AP)—Three of the nine Texas convicts who escaped from the Harlem state prison farm yesterday were recaptured today and the body of a fourth was recovered from a creek he had tried to swim.

The drowned man was Lewis Carter, sentenced to 99 years from Dallas county for robbery. He was the only lifer among the men who sawed their way from a building on the farm.

Those recaptured were Paul Jacob Deaton, serving 16 years from Harris county for burglary; J. L. Frame, 39, two years, burglary, Dickens county; and C. S. Huston, two years, burglary, El Paso.

The convicts separated after they left the farm. Carter, Frame, and Huston ran towards Oyster creek near Sugarland.

"When we got to this wide creek we jumped in to swim across," said Frame. "It was pitch dark."

"When we got about half way across, Carter called for help. But it was all Huston and I could do to keep going ourselves. He called again."

"When we got to the other bank, we waited about five or ten minutes for Carter show up. Then we left. We had to keep going."

Frame and Huston were arrested by Harris county deputies and Deaton was picked up by Fort Bend county officers.

Army Planes Speed to Alaska

To determine the ability of the U. S. air corps to protect Alaska as well as to show its mobility, 10 giant bombing planes took off from Washington, D. C., on a massed reconnaissance flight to Fairbanks, a distance of 3,667 miles. Here you see part of the squadron as it appeared in a "warming-up" flight over the capital.

TRIPPERS TO ADVERTISE OPENING OF POSTOFFICE AND TOURNAMENT IN 16 NEARBY TOWNS NEXT WEEK

'Human Invitation' To Take Along Local Band

AMARILLO, July 31 (AP)—Dr. W. A. Warner, 69, pioneer Claude physician and husband of Phebe K. Warner who was a candidate for congressman-as-large two years ago, died in an Amarillo hospital today.

Dr. Warner organized the first troop of Boy Scouts in the Panhandle.

Camp Warner, near Claude, is one of the Scout encampment sites in the Panhandle, a gift from the physician who had lived at Claude for 37 years.

Besides Mrs. Warner, he is survived by one son, Greeley, of Claude, and two daughters, Victoria and Kerriek, both of Los Angeles.

Pioneer Teacher Dies at Lubbock

LUBBOCK, July 31 (AP)—J. K. Westcr, 76, pioneer Texas educator and political leader, died suddenly after collapsing on a downtown street here early today.

A school teacher for 45 years, Mr. Westcr had taught at Jacksboro, Etoile, Panhandle, Lubbock and Ralls. He was head of the Baptist college at Jacksboro for fourteen years and at one time served as sheriff of that county during the hectic frontier days of the 90s.

He served as state representative from the Jacksboro district for two terms and also from the 119th district in 1927-28. He was an active campaigner for prohibition in former Texas political campaigns and was a speaker for the democratic party in nearly every campaign since 1890. He was always considered as an "old line democrat" and "scrapped" ticket. He had served as democratic chairman of Lubbock county for the past six years and was reelected to the post Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Garrison returned Sunday from Harrison, Ark., where they visited relatives for two weeks. They were accompanied home by Mrs. J. H. Garrison and son who will visit here for some time.

WHEELER COUNTY REPORTS TWO LOCATIONS AND ONE COMPLETION

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE, Correspondent, Combe-Warley Bldg.

Wheeler county showed two new locations yesterday and one completion. The Mid-Continent No. 6 Carville in section 51, block 24, averaged 804 barrels over the 5-day test.

The Humble Oil & Refining company's No. 4 Kroons was located 330 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of the northwest quarter of the northwest of the north half of section 43, block 24, H&GN.

The Piny Oil & Gas company's No. 1 Rippy is located in section 125, block 23, H&GN.

In Gray county the Denworth Oil company has moved in a machine 330 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of the northwest quarter of the northwest of the north half of section 43, block 24, H&GN.

Boyington To Build Cottages

Sam Houston Band Director Resigns—Night Football Under Consideration.

O. L. Boyington, low bidder, was awarded a contract by the school board last night to erect two-room cottages at the campuses of the Sam Houston and Woodrow Wilson schools to house the low sixth grades. His bid was $4,800.

The frame structures will be started at once. A tentative plan to erect two separate cottages at each campus was abandoned before the bids were opened. The buildings will relieve congestion at the central campus.

The school at Hoover was temporarily discontinued. High school and Junior high pupils of that community had their classes here. There are only eight other scholars—not enough to justify a grade school. Miss Lena Jane Butcher, teacher at Hoover, will be transferred to some ward school in Pampa.

The Lamar school (red) building on the Central campus will be remodeled on the first floor for use of physical education classes, and general repair work will be done.

Resignation of Estill Foster, teacher and band director at the Sam Houston school, was accepted. Mr. Foster has accepted a position downstate which will pay him $40 a month more than he was paid here. His successor has not been chosen.

Permission was given the Boy Scout council to use three school buses to transport Scouts to the camp at Weed, N. M.

A proposal to erect lights at Harvester park for night football will be considered soon by the athletic association. The plan was given a setback when fire destroyed a section of the field fence, which was not insured. The two main stands are insured. They were not damaged.

OLD GENERAL IS SERIOUSLY ILL AT HOME

GERMANS WORRY AND WAIT FOR NEWS OF SOLDIER

NEUDECK, July 31 (AP)—President Paul von Hindenburg's physicians issued the following bulletin at 5:15 p. m.:

"There is no change in the president's condition, at least no deterioration. He took a little nourishment at noon. No fever. Pulse satisfactory."

Should the president die, Dr. Erwin Bumpke, president of the German supreme court, would become interim president under the law.

A high foreign office official said, however:

"While this law still stands don't forget the Hitler government holds emergency powers enabling it to do almost anything. It all depends, therefore, upon Hitler's personal will whether the law concerning the supreme court justice shall be applied or whether some other disposition shall be made of the question of succession."

McDonald Asks Supporters to Stick Together

AUSTIN, July 31 (AP)—C. C. McDonald, third place candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, today called upon his supporters to decide whom they would favor in the runoff.

"I have a personal choice in the runoff," he stated, "but I will surrender it if necessary to vote with my supporters in order that we may all stand together, for we hold the balance of power, and can elect either one. I will not attempt to dictate to them how to vote, but I will let them dictate to me."

McDonald congratulated James V. Allred and Tom P. Hunter, first and second place candidates, respectively. "May the best man win," he stated. "I have never known for certain whether to send a governor a message of congratulation or condolence. I may be the luckiest man of the three."

He asserted his campaign, which "began clean and ended on the same high plane," would be left as a mark "until the day comes when a great people will demand that character of campaign for all offices, and this example is my contribution to the politics of the times."

New Type of Fan Is Installed Here

A new-type electric fan has been installed in the Courthouse cafe by J. C. Carroll, owner and manager.

The fan has been placed over the front door and has enough power to throw cool air to the rear of the building.

Water from the electric refrigeration system is piped back of the fans, where it is vaporized and thrown into the blades which in turn blow the moisture in fog thru the cafe. The air is not wet but cool and comfortable.

2 DOLFUSS SLAYERS CONVICTED OF HIGH TREASON, HANGED

Nazi Who Led Putsch and One Who Fired Shot Are Executed in Vienna.

VIENNA, July 31 (AP)—An official account of the execution of Franz Holzweber today said that as he stood on the gallows before he was hanged he shouted: "I die for Germany! Hell Hitler! Otto Planetta, said the account, shouted: 'Hell Hitler!'"

VIENNA, July 31 (AP)—Two nazis accused of high treason in the killing of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss were hanged this afternoon. They had been convicted by a court martial.

The two men—Otto Planetta, former soldier and Franz Holzweber—were hanged after a plea of their counsel for clemency was rejected.

Planetta was accused of firing the fatal shots and Holzweber of leading the nazis into the federal chancellery last Wednesday.

Frank Norris' Aide Shoots Radio Singer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 31 (AP)—Chester B. Collins, Fort Worth, Tex., attorney, today faced charges of assault to kill in connection with the shooting of Harry White, 25, radio and orchestra singer of Redfield, Ark.

White was expected to recover from a bullet wound near the heart received last night when he visited the hotel room of Collins. The attorney declined to make a signed statement to Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Lawrence C. Auten but expressed the hope White would recover.

Auten said marital difficulties were responsible for the shooting. Whereabouts of Mrs. Collins, 27, formerly Miss Nancy Yarbrough of Little Rock, whose departure from her Fort Worth home recently led to a pursuit by her husband, had not been determined.

White was said to have gone to Collins' room in an attempt to settle difficulties with the attorney while the latter was at dinner with two Little Rock relatives. A brother of White, Jack, also was in the room when the shooting occurred. Police were told that Collins and White entered an adjoining room in the suite for the interview. Shortly after a slight noise was heard and White was found suffering from a bullet wound.

Collins was placed under bond and said he would remain here until the matter was cleared up. For the past several years he has been attorney for the First Baptist church at Fort Worth—the Rev. J. Frank Norris' pastorate.

The attorney recently has been active in a prohibition campaign waged by a group of Texas dries. He went to Fort Worth several years ago from Luftkin, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Childs and children of Mount Vernon, N. Y., spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hobart. They left yesterday for California where they will spend a month. Mr. Hobart and Mr. Childs are cousins.

Legionnaires Will Select Officers

Members of Kerley-Crossman Legion post will elect new officers at a regular meeting tomorrow night in the hut on West Foster avenue. Every member of the local post is urged to attend the meeting.

Floyd McConnell, retiring president, will preside at the meeting. The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting.

"Eats" will be served at the close of the meeting tonight.

DISTRICT COURT IN RECESS AFTER BUSY TERM IN PAMPA

With the Pampa court term ended and democratic nomination for reelection won, District Judge W. R. King of Pampa is taking a welcome rest.

He will open a two-week term of 31st district court in Roberts county August 27, followed by a similar term in Lipscomb county. Then he will return to Pampa September 24 for a 7-week term.

The local term just closed was in many respects a busy one. Featured by the murder trial of the Rev. L. H. Shockley of McLean, who was acquitted, it also included 29 court orders, 33 orders of dismissal, 33 divorces, 20 indictments, 27 judgments, 4 orders of continuance, 1 adoption, and one order concerning a dependent child.

These statistics were compiled by Frank Hill, district clerk, who was nominated for a second term Saturday.

Long Stations His Troops In Orleans Office

'Kingfish' Launches Pre-Election Attack on City Administration Forces.

NEW ORLEANS, July 31 (AP)—Leaders of the city administration today said they planned to protest to the war department and possibly the U. S. attorney general that Louisiana national guard had been misled by Gov. O. K. Allen and Senator Huey P. Long.

NEW ORLEANS, July 31 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long directed a pre-election attack on the city administration today, by national guardsmen holding the New Orleans registration office under partial martial law.

More than a score of guardsmen appeared at the city hall annex last night, battered in the door and took possession of the lists of names of qualified voters for the September primary.

Gov. O. K. Allen, a Long supporter, issued a proclamation establishing partial martial law and explained that the action was taken to protect the registrar's office from "insult and intimidation."

The martial law applied only to a restricted area in the vicinity of the city hall.

WIFE'S DISAPPEARANCE LEADS TO SHOOTING IN LITTLE ROCK

City Buys Own Bonds to Effect Interest Saving

Purchase by the city last night of $16,000 of municipal bonds of the first issue (1922) ever made by Pampa will result in an interest saving of $27,240, it was calculated. The bonds had 28 more years to run at 6 per cent.

The bonds were made available through the efforts of S. D. Stennis, local attorney, who located the holders. The price paid was $97.25 per bond. The original issue, for construction of the water plant, was $80,000. Money to buy back the bonds in advance of maturity had been accumulating in the interest and sinking fund.

City tax assessments will be completed soon and the board of equalization appointed. City Manager C. L. Stine is working on the city budget for next year.

Mayor Bratton, who had been away on vacation, was back for last night's session. Many bills were studied and approved. One traffic signal is in operation and the other three, on North Cuyler, should be working by tomorrow.

PULLETS DO NOT VOTE

However great the weakness of democracy may seem in a time of crisis, it is hard to escape the impression that the bloody troubles of Europe today arise in large part because of the denial of democracy.

Austria, swept by the repercussions of an assassination ominously similar to that of Franz Ferdinand 20 years ago, is simply the most recent example.

For the underlying cause of such disorders is the fact that ordinary democratic processes have been suspended. Racked and torn by cross-currents of passion, resentment, and despair that have been in the making ever since the war, the central European peoples have no way of expressing themselves but with guns.

Germany furnished an object lesson a few weeks ago.

Discontent with the way the Nazi policies were working out came to a head and demanded expression. No peaceful means of expression was possible.

Men could not argue their cause, they could not propagandize by means of newspapers and magazines, they could not look forward to a chance to use ballots. The machine gun and the revolver became their only recourse—and so, inevitably, the government had to use the same implements in replying to them.

Now it is Austria's turn, and the same kind of thing happens. Instead of a political campaign, with speeches, pamphlets, advertisements, and so on, there must be a "putsch", with bombs, gunfire, assassinations, and all the rest. There is no other possible outlet for discontent.

One does not need to look at these tragic happenings very long to get a new realization of the inestimable value of democracy.

Democracy has its weaknesses, to be sure—great and glaring, some of them, for which we often pay a heavy price.

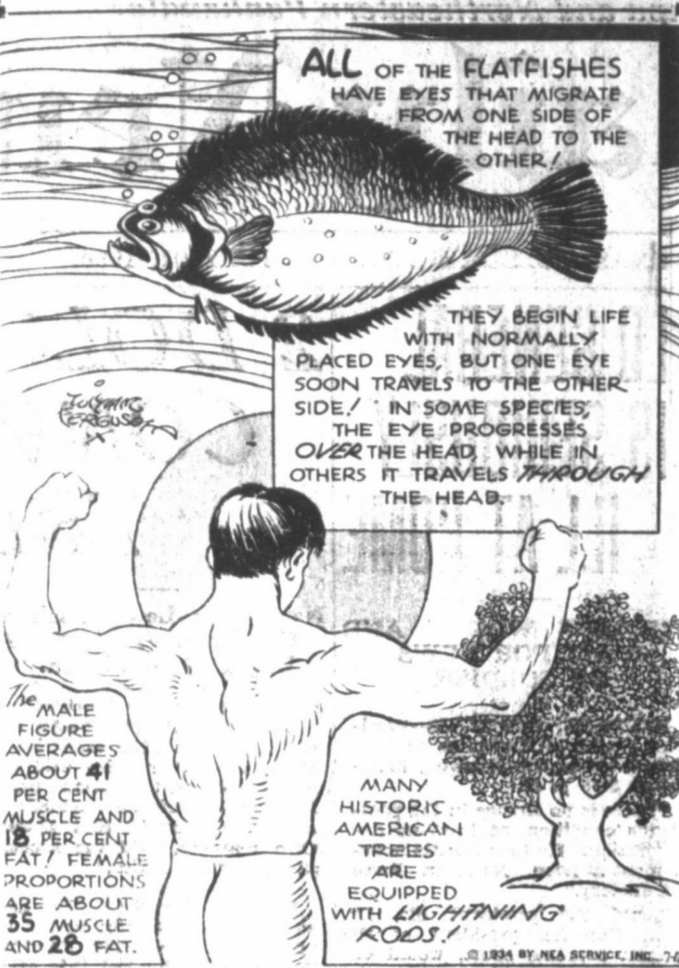

But it does provide a safety valve for public discontent. It does make it possible for people to get rid of a government, a party, or a policy which they do not like, in peaceful and orderly way. It lets every man have his say about the state of affairs about him; it makes the appeal to force unnecessary.

We need to keep this constantly in mind. There are people in this country who profess an admiration for dictatorship—whether proletarian, Fascist, or whatnot—on the ground that democracy is inefficient and unwieldy.

One look at the woes of Germany and Austria is enough to show that democracy's benefits are almost infinitely greater than its drawbacks.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

AFTER the first few weeks of life, the flatfishes begin to lie on one side. Not only do the eyes change position, but the color of the bottom side of the fish fades to a pure white and the upper side resembles the tone of the sea-bottom.

IN CASE OF BAD MEMORY, BLUE EAGLE IS VOW OF BUSINESS TO GOVERNMENT—JUST A YEAR OLD

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The blue eagle, one year old tomorrow, is at a crossroads. NRA's future is still to be determined.

Changes are in the making. Suggestions have ranged from Hugh S. Johnson's idea that a board, instead of one man, should manage his job to a demand by Senator Nye (R., N. D.) that NRA be deprived of price fixing and other fair practice powers and be placed under the federal trade commission, with the anti-trust laws in full effect.

The next congress, which meets in January, will have the task of determining NRA's future.

The blue eagle is slightly younger than the NRA. It was born August 1, 1933, and quickly became the best-known emblem in America. It started life as a merit badge to employers who signed President Roosevelt's re-employment agreement (PRA) for shorter hours, higher pay and no child labor.

Today, as it turns one anniversary, it symbolizes the vow of countless industrial code signers to comply with NRA's rules of fair competition.

When the PRA was announced by Johnson to speed unemployed to payrolls pending more tedious code-drafting, he set up the blue eagle to guide the consumer in his buying.

An army of 1,500,000 volunteers—probably the largest volunteer host of history—joined in carrying PRA and blue eagle from door to door. NRA estimates that 2,800,000 employers signed.

The original PRA lasted from August 1 to December 31, but later was extended to allow more time for code-making. Today, all but about 100 pending agreements have been fitted into the code structure of nearly 500 industries.

Judge Chases Preacher With Pocket Knife

SAN ANTONIO, July 31 (AP)—District Judge W. W. McCrory revealed today that he had chased the Rev. William D. Welburn out of his office with a pocket knife yesterday when the former minister conferred with him on the divorce Mrs. Wineta Long Welburn obtained recently on grounds of mental cruelty.

Two unidentified friends followed Welburn as he left the judge's office. "I guess I got mad," Judge McCrory explained.

Judge McCrory presided at the trial of the divorce suit at which Mr. Welburn denied the paternity of Mrs. Welburn's infant son as well as marriage to the child's mother.

"If you don't get out of here, I'll cut your throat from ear to ear," Judge McCrory declared he told Rev. Welburn. "He must have thought he could intimidate this court."

GALE AND RAIN
ADA, Okla., July 31 (AP)—A high gale and a downpour of rain unroofed small buildings and broke the drought in eastern Pontotoc county last night. A lumberyard roof at Allen was blown into a cemetery, and hail added to the damage. The rain continued nearly all night.

Wallace Argues For Continuance Of AAA Program

FADUCAH, Ky., July 31 (AP)—Secretary Wallace said today that the drought showed the necessity for continuing agricultural adjustment rather than ending it.

Defending acreage control plans, he told an audience at a farm picnic that some critics are saying "that this drought proves the futility of attempting production control measures."

"If anything," Wallace said, "it proves that the contrary is true; for, as has been demonstrated by recent modifications in contractual agreements in our commodity programs, if forces over which men have no control intercept a plan of action and partially remove the cause, our program is sufficiently elastic to respond to that emergency by doing just what any practical, hard-working and level-headed farmer would do in such an emergency."

"It is possible to modify a flexible plan so that the net result of the program and the forces of nature will combine to achieve the result originally sought."

The AAA, he said, "cannot operate effectively in bringing a new deal to the farm people of this country unless they themselves throw their full weight into the scales. So far, farmers have responded magnificently. Their responsibility in the future is even more important."

Mrs. Pat Garrison and daughter, Ruth, returned yesterday from an extended visit with her parents in Aurora, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor Cole and son, Jerry, visited friends here yesterday.

Exhibit Is Lent By McLean Man

CANYON, July 31.—A collection of Indian artifacts which Z. L. Evans of McLean has spent a life time in securing are now on exhibit in the museum of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society.

Most of the material in the exhibit was found in western Arkansas. D. Angle Debo, curator of the museum says that they are better made than the implements which were made and used by the Indians of the Plains region. The collection includes hatchets, spear heads, knives, arrow heads, and scraps of polished stone. The Indians of the Panhandle Plains, according to Dr. Debo, did not make polished implements.

Mr. Evans' collection will be on exhibit for a short time only.

Mrs. Ray Couch of Shamrock shipped in the city yesterday afternoon.

GREAT BRITAIN AGAIN WINS DAVIS CUP IN DESPERATELY-FOUGHT MATCH

FRANK SHIELDS FINALLY DROPS SET TO PERRY

4TH IS LONGEST AND MOST BITTERLY FOUGHT

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 31. (AP)—Great Britain today retained the Davis cup, historic international tennis trophy, as Fred Perry, ace of the British forces, defeated Frank X. Shields, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 15-13, in a desperately fought fourth match to clinch the series with three victories.

One more match remained to be played between Sidney B. Wood, Jr. and Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin but the outcome could have no bearing on the five-match series. Perry won out in one of the longest and most bitterly fought sets of cup play, the long fourth, to register Great Britain's seventh victory in over a quarter of a century of Davis cup competition.

They won the cup from France last year, halting a tri-color reign that had extended since 1927 when the United States lost the cup to France. It was the fifth time the United States had been in the challenge round since the cup was lost.

Both players were near exhaustion at the end as they fought each other's service and then holding their own. Perry had started serving first. When he won his service at Love in the twenty-seventh game it gave him advantage and he broke through Shields in a long-deuced game for game, set, 15-13, match and cup.

ALL-NEGRO BOXING CARD TO BE STAGED AT PARK TONIGHT

Pampa's first all negro boxing card will be presented at Road Runner park at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Promoter B. W. Kelly has secured some of the best negro boxers in the southwest.

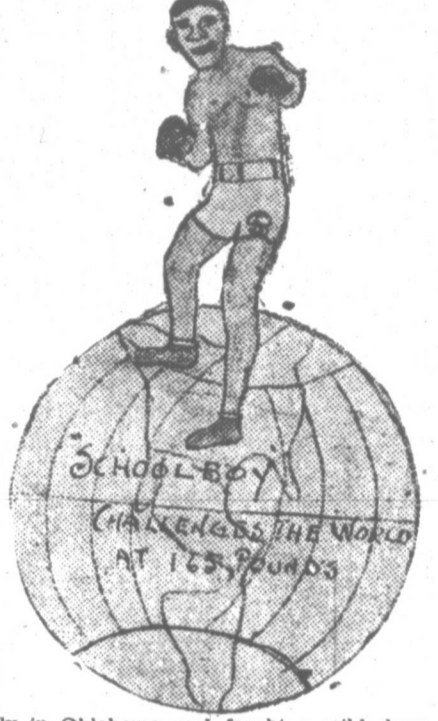

Schoolboy, El Paso champion, will meet K. O. Brown of Amarillo in the 10-round main event. Schoolboy will weigh 174 pounds or four pounds more than his opponent. The El Paso fighter is a veteran of the game. He is old, no one denies, but he has not lost a bit of his speed or cunning. His footwork is a treat to watch and his boxing is no less sensational. The veteran will need all his speed to cope with the punching ability of the challenger who has been defeating all comers the last few months.

The Amarillo battler is challenging Schoolboy's right to claim the light heavyweight championship of Texas in the negro division. He is confident of victory, believing that he can rush the veteran, get him tired and then land a haymaker to the jaw. Brown delights in rushing his opponent with fists flying.

A semi-final of eight rounds between Smiling Jack of Pampa and Kid Wallace of Tulsa should be a great fight. The two met recently in Oklahoma and fought a wild draw. They will settle the difference tonight.

The six-round special event will bring K. O. Mitchell from Hot Springs, Ark., to meet Billy McDonald of Amarillo. Mitchell will weigh 160 pounds and McDonald 156 pounds. Both are sluggers and real crowd pleasers.

Two little fighting cocks will open the card. They are One Round Jackson of Dallas and Charlie Dodson of Amarillo.

FERRELL PUTS BOSTON SAFE IN 4TH PLACE

WES WON NINE GAMES AND LOST ONE THIS YEAR

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. Judging by results so far, the purchase of Wesley Ferrell, who refused to play this season for the salary Cleveland offered him, was about the best stroke of business the Boston Red Sox have put over.

With Lefty Grove still disabled and other fingers going so well, Ferrell's arm has been an important factor in keeping the Sox in the American league's first division. Boston was safe in fourth place today and only 2½ half games behind the Indians despite Cleveland's recent spurt which has netted 14 victories in 18 games. Ferrell's record alone showed triumphs enough to keep the Sox away from the second division leaders.

Since joining the club at the end of May, Ferrell has appeared on the mound 15 times, starting 12 games, and yesterday's 9-0 triumph over Washington was his ninth of the season against one defeat.

It was a bit like picking on cripples when Wes blanked the Senators although he was touched for 10 hits. With a makeshift lineup, resulting from injuries, Washington failed to offer a real threat until the ninth inning, then Ferrell finished the game by whiffing Ossie Bluge with the bases loaded. Three Senator regulars, Heinie Manush, Joe Kuhel and Johnny Stone, were missing and as a result the utility infielder, Red Kress, was in right field. Rookie John Gill in left and a catcher, Luke Sewell, on first.

The defeat returned the Senators to sixth place after they had advanced to fifth Sunday. The St. Louis Browns, with one of the late rallies that have marked their progress under Rogers Hornsby's management, came from behind to whip the White Sox 4 to 3 and take fifth by a full game.

PICKED TEAM FROM BORGER TO PLAY HERE

GAME SCHEDULED WITH ROADRUNNERS ON WEDNESDAY

A picked team of Borger baseball players will come to Pampa Wednesday night to meet the Pampa Roadrunners under the lights of the Phillips "66" Phillips "77", Huber Refining company and other teams will comprise the visiting nine.

Three members of the Wichita Falls team, surprise nine of the Borger tournament, joined the Phillips "77" team in Borger and will probably be with the all-star aggregation which will come to Pampa. The players will be the cream of the Borger teams, hence the Roadrunners are in for the toughest game of the season.

The Borger lineup has not been sent to Pampa, but it is understood the team worked out last night in Borger. Such stars as Bass, Francis, Johnson, Christian, Jackson, Lowrance, Cobb, Mulrone, and a host of others will be here for the big game.

The entire Roadrunner pitching staff got a chance to work last week. Manager George Bulla has not decided who will go to the mound against Borger. Hardin and Siegan worked less than the other hurlers, but they divided pitching honors in the last game played.

Several new players will report "a" this week to bolster the Pampa team for the big tournament, which will begin August 9. It was rumored yesterday that two new infielders would be added to the club. Don Egan, last year with Wichita in the Western league, will arrive early next week to assist in the receiving duties.

Benn will assist Eddie Sain in catching through the tournament. Sain received a bad finger injury several weeks ago and it has impaired his work. He is unable to catch several games in a row because of the injury.

HILL USES A CHAIR TO WIN FROM MCSHAIN

NEWLY-WED GRAPPLER APPARENTLY CAN'T TAKE IT

The newly married Danny McShain fell before a new Don Hill last night in a wild, alleged wrestling match at Road Runner park. The Irishman won the first fall, forfeited the second, and lost the third and deciding fall.

McShain and Miss Irene Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adair of Pampa, were married in Sayre, Okla., Friday night. The marriage was supposed to have been kept secret, but McShain is so well known throughout the southwest that the marriage was revealed yesterday. The couple will make their home in Amarillo as long as McShain is wrestling in this section.

Cyclone Mackey of Amarillo won an unpopular decision from Doug Henderson of Dallas in the semi-final event, which lasted 22 minutes. Referee Pat Garrison patted Mackey on the back after he had broken a bad inside toe hold and slammed Henderson five times. There was some doubt as to whether Henderson's shoulders were in the mat.

The little Dallas grappler proved to be a crowd pleaser. He is fast, tricky, and a great wrestler. He worked on Mackey's legs and kept the Amarillo mauler in trouble all the time. Mackey appeared to like head and arm holds. Henderson got a rolling scissor that appeared unbreakable, but Mackey finally came loose with a hammerlock which he held for two minutes. Henderson worked an inside toe hold, got a straight toe hold and had Mackey in a bad way when he broke loose with his hard body slams.

Andy Gump gave a great exhibition of staying when he went a full 20 minutes with Wildcat Willie of LeFors. The wildcat outweighed the slim Pampa by about 20 pounds. Willie used his weight to advantage but Andy always managed to squeeze out of pinning holds. He was unable to keep holds on his heavy opponent, however.

The main event opened wildly with Hill forcing the fighting. He used a towel to choke McShain but the Irishman retaliated and used the ropes for choking purposes. Danny used a drop kick and Hill came back with Sonnenbergs. McShain choked Hill with the ropes, drop-kicked him, slammed him three times, and then pinned the Californian in 8 minutes. McShain strutted around the ring and then socked the helpless Hill in the eye, causing a bad swelling. McShain was warned by Commissioner J. C. Carroll.

Hill came back strong for the second fall despite his bad eye. He got a hammerlock in which he kept McShain three minutes before the wild man used an illegal method of breaking loose. He blinded Hill, choked him, and Referee Andy Gump had trouble breaking the grapplers. When he got them loose, he raised Hill's arm in victory, much to the Irishman's rage.

Hill opened the last fall with forearm blows to the jaw. He choked McShain with the ropes and both went to the ground. McShain grabbed a chair but Hill took it away from him and hit the Irishman over the head. As McShain

MISSIONS WIN FROM TULSANS MONDAY NIGHT

Associated Press Sports Writer. Just to be sure of the league pinnacle on the final day of July the San Antonio Missions trounced Tulsa Monday night, 7 to 4. The Missions increased their lead over the second place Galveston Buccaneers, who lost to Oklahoma City, and over the third place Oilers, Beaumont, fresh in the first division, was the only other upper section team to win.

Ash Hillin, the young pitching sensation who has even a complete mystery to Texas league batters this season, stopped Tulsa with eight hits and left the mound with his twentieth victory this season to be the league's leading hurler in games won. Hillin out-pitched Posedel to gain the verdict even though the Tulsa slabman allowed only eight hits. Both pitchers were wild. Posedel walked 11 and hit one. Hillin issued 7 walks. Both were effective in the pinches, leaving 25 runners stranded on bases.

HILLIN HURLS HIS 20TH VICTORY OF THE SEASON

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Just to be sure of the league pinnacle on the final day of July the San Antonio Missions trounced Tulsa Monday night, 7 to 4. Both were effective in the pinches, leaving 25 runners stranded on bases.

The Galveston Buccaneers looked over an assortment of pitching from Harry Matuzak they could not beat, allowing the Oklahoma City Indians a 3 to 1 victory. Matuzak, a right-hander, allowed three hits. The Buccaneers scored on Iggle Walters' error at first base. The Indian hurler whiffed six to win his mound duel from Southpaw Jimmy Walk-up.

Having jumped into the first division berth by virtue of their double victory Sunday over Oklahoma City, the young Beaumont Exporters entrenched themselves a bit firmer by taking Fort Worth, 6 to 5. Three times the upward going Exporters were forced to come from behind eventually to finish in front. Al Vincent, in the eleventh inning, drove a triple over third to drive Ross across the plate with the winning run. Jake Wade, pressed into service at the beginning of the tenth inning, received credit for the mound victory.

From indications the Dallas Steers are off on another long losing streak. They followed up their double defeat of Sunday by losing an 8 to 1 game to Houston.

DEMPSEY TAKES WORRIES OUT ON GALENTO'S WAISTLINE

He's Got Right To Be Kind Of Screwed What With Paer and Expected Baby

BY EDWARD J. NEILL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Now and then life gets bothersome for William Harrison Dempsey and then the old champion is liable to cause someone trouble.

He's bothered now, and the fellow who has all the proof of what he needs is Tony Galento, a monster of a heavyweight, much of it about his waistline.

Dempsey was saying yesterday that he hadn't had a real night's sleep in five nights what with keeping ready every moment to rush over to the Polyclinic hospital where Mrs. Dempsey is expecting a baby. Then too, at 41, with a waistline that beginning to swell and a head full of boxing problems and Max Baer, this heat wave hasn't helped any, either.

So Jack thought he'd take his mind off all his cares for a few moments and see how Galento, a pretty good heavyweight, was getting along in his workout at Stillman's gymnasium. Galento, in whom Dempsey is interested, was doing just fair.

"I feel a lot better," he said. "A fellow should do this more often. I guess I'll come back tomorrow and teach him some more." Galento looked like maybe if Dempsey did, he wouldn't.

Other subjects to be considered, he said, were "state dry legislation and the organization of young people against the use of and the traffic in beverage alcohol."

Crime Toll in Texas Reaches All-Time High

AUSTIN, July 31 (AP)—Texas' crime toll, including the number of homicides, reached an all-time high last year.

Those who died at the hands of others in 1933 totaled 982, the highest number ever recorded by the Texas bureau of vital statistics. Sixteen for each of 100 people in Texas died in that fashion last year.

Firearms were the chief lethal weapons. They were used to kill 668. Knives and other cutting implements were next with 135 deaths attributed to their cause. Legal executions numbered eight. Infants died, wounds of war two, and all other methods 165.

Homicides have gained in number during eight of the past 10 years. Five times as many people died in 1933 as in 1923.

In 1924 there were 235 homicides recorded. Two years later the number jumped to 439 but decreased to 401 the following year. They increased in 1928 and 1929 with 599 for the latter year but dropped in 1930 to 416. The number mounted to 841 in 1931 and 889 in 1932.

December was the worst month for Texas killings. During the past 10 years an average of more than 59 were killed in that month. Last December, however, the number was 103. September had the next highest average with 57, while 101 was the record for September, 1933. The homicidal averages for other months over a 10-year period was: August, 55.1; October, 51.9; May, 51.3; July, 50.4; April and November, 44.7; June, 44.1; March, 41.8; January, 31, and February, 37.

Dakota 'First Lady' Prefers Farm

First Lady ambitions are far from the thoughts of Mrs. Ole Olson, wife of North Dakota's lieutenant governor who is claiming the governor's chair since the state supreme court ruled for ouster of Gov. W. H. Langer. She intends to stay on the Olson 400-acre farm near New Rockford, N. D., and is shown here giving her undivided attention to Minna, 5 months old, youngest of the nine Olson children.

SPLIT SKIRTS, SLASHED TO KNEE, APPEAR IN PARIS WINTER SHOW

BY ADELAIDE KERR, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

PARIS, July 31 (AP)—Slit skirts, slashed to the knee, appeared today in the pagan of winter evening styles in the second day's showings of a big fashion week.

Black satins, changeable velvets, plum and gold lames were designed in slender silhouettes and low front décolletés. Their skirts were slit once and twice to the knee, revealing hem linings in contrasting colors.

There were numerous trains, despite prognostications they are on the wane.

Day frocks showed slits of all sizes and places. Since many were designed in slender, sheath-like skirts, they were often slit six inches or either side to give ease to walking. Others were slashed in front to the knee, under an overlap.

The day dress was generally built along a slim profile, with all accents above the hip line. Many were fashioned with bishop sleeves and big draped collars.

Two colors and two fabrics were often combined in one frock. A moss green wool had bishop sleeves and a back bodice of carnation and red wool.

Black wool frocks had white wool vests, banded in green, lower sleeves and vests of black satin or draped collars faced with silver lame.

Colors included black, brown, moss green and egyptian. Fabrics were in pebbled wools and crepes, many of them woven with metal threads. Satin was often used as an accent for dull fabrics.

Group three of First Christian Women's council will meet at the church at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. All members are asked to be present at that time. Group one will meet with Mrs. J. F. Meers, and all other groups at the church.

Clever Cut Makes This Slenderizing

"Wearable" seems to sum up this frock at first glance, but it doesn't tell half the story. It is cleverly designed to give the illusion of slenderness—and it does, even in size 50! Notice those raglan shoulders, the novel cut of the blouse fronts, and the slim panel lines of the skirt. Those diagonals take unwanted inches from the figure. And that rippling jabot is the last word in femininity.

Tailored cravat silk would be an excellent choice for street wear. You'll find this an Easy to Make model. Size 34 requires 3 1/2 yards 39-inch print, 1/2 yard 36-inch for boy. Width 1 1/2 yards.

Pattern No. 5530 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 bust.

Small To Take 'No Interest' in Runoff Primary

DALLAS, July 31 (AP)—Tabulation of votes cast in Saturday's first primary swung into its last stages today with James V. Alford, attorney general, steadily adding to a lead established over Tom F. Hunter, lieutenant governor, and his likely opponent in the August 29 runoff for the governorship. Alford's plurality increased with each compilation of votes by the Texas election bureau, defeated candidates hopelessly out of the running.

NO PRECEDENT ON BOOKS FOR RUNOFF VOTE

FAVORITES HAVE BEEN UPSET IN PREVIOUS ELECTIONS

DALLAS, July 31 (AP)—Politicians, aware of the fickleness of Texas voters, looked back over the years today and refused to hazard guesses on the outcome of the gubernatorial run-off August 25...

On the face of present incomplete returns, Allied is pacing the field with Hunter safely in the runner-up position.

Veteran observers recalled upsets of other days when "long shots" slipped in to take out a favorite. History reveals that the public favorite in the first primary has lost in almost as many instances as those in which he maintained his victorious stride to the finish line.

In the 1928 contest for United States senator, the incumbent, Earle B. Mayfield, polled 200,246 votes in the first primary in a field of six candidates. Tom Connally received 178,091 votes. The "long shot" Connally thundered in by several lengths in the run-off, receiving 320,071 to Mayfield's 257,747.

Gubernatorial contests in the past 14 years have seen favorites and outsiders dividing the winnings equally. The late Senator Joe Bailey paced the first primary in 1920, comfortably leading Pat M. Neff. But in the run-off, Neff was elected. Two years later Neff clinched the post again in the first primary.

A field of nine candidates in the first primary of 1924 failed to produce a winner. Justice Felix D. Robertson of Dallas led the field with 193,000 and Miriam A. Ferguson trailed in second place with 144,000. The wife of former Gov. James E. Ferguson won the run-off, however, with 413,000 votes to Robertson's 316,000.

Ross Sterling of Houston reversed the field in a notable triumph in 1930. Mrs. Ferguson was far ahead of the field of ten candidates in the first primary with her 242,000 votes. Sterling boasted only 170,000 in his second place position. But the oil man waged a strenuous campaign before the second primary and came back to beat Mrs. Ferguson in an overwhelming vote, 473,000 to 384,000.

The same reversal was noticeable in the lieutenant governor's race that year. Sterling F. Strong was out in front of the field in the first primary but saw Edgar E. Witt pass him in the run-off.

An exception was Dan Moody's race for the governorship in 1928. He was an odds favorite in the first primary and led Mrs. Ferguson by 110,000 votes. He boosted this total to almost 300,000 votes in the run-off.

Again in 1928 he displayed poise by defeating his single opponent, L. J. Wardlaw, by a two to one majority.

THE PRISONER'S SONG

SPIE THE MARRIAGE by Katherine Haxland Taylor

SYNOPSIS: Because the love she has found out that Marsha Tarleton with whom she had thought herself in love with introduced her to the new Mrs. Tarleton, the Powers honeymoon is shattered. Bob and Marsha are—and now Marsha realizes that she loves Bob far more than she has loved Tarleton.

Chapter 23 NEW TRAGEDY

BOB sat, long, lean, hunched over—he was too big to accommodate easily to the average small car—staring moodily ahead. The laxness of his arms, folded loosely across his chest, made Marsha close her eyes.

They had swung her so easily from the floor, those arms, and, although gentle, had been so firm, it seemed close to incredible that, only the day before, he had picked her up to settle her with him in a big chair before the fire so incredible that it was a thing to smile over wily, while the cold crept close and deep.

They had adjoining rooms, and after he had unlocked her bags he went into his room and closed the door after himself. Alone, she made her way toward a long mirror to study her reflection in it.

Before she knew Bob, she had been inflexibly certain that a clever woman who was beautiful could do as she liked with any male. This certainty had been dissipated by new wisdom; if she could reach Bob thus, which she doubted, she knew it would be to hold him for but a little time.

The time done, he would loathe himself for yielding, and loathe her for having made him yield; and in his mind she would be further invested with evilness. Her outer loveliness could not help her with him; if she attempted to make use of it, it would hinder her. She turned away from the mirror, for the first time in her conscious life hating beauty.

She heard a tap on the door that divided the room. "Come in, please," she ordered faintly. Bob opened the door to stand at the threshold. "About dinner," he said. "Are you going down, or will you have it here?"

She realized he was anxious to avoid the table-to-a-table with her and she answered, "I'll have something here."

"Shall I ring?" he asked. "No, thank you. I'm not hungry now."

She felt the worry in his eyes, and she drew a quick, sharp breath. She still mattered a little to him; her comfort; her health still mattered a little to him.

"You ate no luncheon," he reminded. "True," she said, "perhaps you'd best ring." She wanted him at ease about her and she craved ardently to have within him as much peace as possibly could be. "You'll dine downstairs?" she questioned.

"I suppose so," he hesitated. She waited. It was obvious that he wanted to say something more. "I wish—" he faltered.

"Oh, nothing. Anything I can do for you before I go down, or while I am down?"

"No, thank you so much. I was used to taking care of myself; I suppose I may as well grow used to it again." She managed to smile at him after her words but he could not answer her smile.

TARLETON, Bob supposed, would one day take care of her and the idea of Tarleton's caring for any woman was, Bob thought, a somewhat Rabelaisian jest. But she would understand Tarleton's manner of caring. It was, patiently, all that she wished; some one who would look well with her in public, some one who would cheat her, and some one whom she could cheat. But now Bob was touched by her loneliness.

"Is there anyone," he asked, "you would like to see?"

"Oh, heaven forbid!" she responded quickly and almost harshly. She laughed mirthlessly. "Fancy Aunt Gertrude at this moment!" she said. His face stiffened. He didn't want that for Marsha; the enforced companionship that had drained her, weakened her, irritated her.

"You won't have to consider your aunt," he promised; "I don't want you to go back to her."

He left her then and without switching on the lights she went

TREE BELT TO HAVE SIXTEEN TREE VARIETIES

11 Native and Five Exotic Types To Be Planted

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Eleven varieties of native trees and five exotic types have been recommended by the forest service for planting in the 100-mile wide shelter belt proposed across the mid-western drought area.

All varieties are available in limited quantities in the area and further trees will be planted in the nurseries there as the present supply is transplanted to spots along the shelter belt.

First planting will start this fall, according to forest service officials, and the work will proceed during the fall and spring planting periods each year. C. E. Randall of the forest service said the work will be in full swing within two years and that the planting will continue probably over a 10-year period.

Fast growing varieties will be interspersed with slower-growing hard wood trees in the first planting; as the program progresses, the fast-growing trees will be replaced by more permanent species.

The native trees recommended for planting are the burr oak, hackberry, American elm, poplar, green ash, white pine, red cedar, ponderosa pine, pine, box elder, and silver maple. Exotic species to be used in the huge "grove" are Russian elm, Chinese elm, Russian mulberry, Russian olive, and the golden rain tree.

Acquisition of the land for planting of the trees will be by outright purchase, long-time lease, or by agreement with the land owners.

Besides the actual work of planting and taking care of the trees during their growing period, the program calls for grass seeding on the plots to prevent erosion, and for fencing to keep out livestock which might endanger the trees. The forest service estimates the project will require 200,000 miles of hog-tight fence and from 30 to 50 million fence posts.

Planting will start in each of the states affected, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and the Texas Panhandle, this being the start of the program in each state will be increased as more young trees become available.

Baby Chick Meet To Be Held Aug. 14 at Lubbock

LUBBOCK, July 31.—The 11th annual convention of the Texas Baby Chick Association, to be held at Lubbock, August 14, 15 and 16, has been termed the "Second International" by President A. H. "Frank" Demke of Stephenville, because some 500 hatcherymen are expected from Texas and 10 adjoining states and the convention program is an almost duplication of the one as the International convention in Cleveland this week.

Headliners on the program will be J. A. Hannah, managing agent of Kansas City, and D. D. Slade, chairman of Lexington, Ky., of the National Commercial and Breeder Hatchery Coordinating Committee; Dr. M. A. Jull, Senior Poultry Husbandman, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The code will be discussed by Hannah and Slade. Shrader will conduct a government sexing demonstration. Jull will discuss egg improvement and production by feeding and breeding. Entertainment features include a banquet, barbecue, old time dance, refreshments each afternoon, and awarding of $500.00 worth of prizes during the three days.

A two day state hatchery school follows the convention.

Virtually one-third of the state's entire population is on federal relief rolls. Farms are producing only "miniature" crops. Two hundred persons in one section are to be moved by federal authority from unutilized farms.

Drifting top-soil has damaged the highway system by more than $500,000. Additional thousands of persons are expected to seek relief when winter comes.

Once renowned as an important part of the world's bread basket, North Dakota faces a split agriculturally, with the west reverting to an area of grazing lands and the east becoming the main farming country.

The movement is definite, forced by continued drought. Helpless, farmers have watched their rich top-soil carried away on the wings of prairie wind, to fall into and choke miles of highway drainage ditches.

A steady increase in the number of persons on relief rolls is noted by E. A. Willson, state administrator of federal relief. "Fifty thousand families—approximately 200,000 persons are on relief rolls, a situation directly traceable to the drought," Willson said. "Some are on part-relief, some total relief, some on only stock relief."

Six thousand cattle are being moved out of North Dakota daily. More than 300,000 head of cattle have been shipped in the past two months. Approximately 600,000 head have been purchased in the government's plan to reduce the cattle population to 1,000,000 head. The lack of water has brought rush orders to move cattle out of many counties. The animals are shipped to southern and eastern parts of the country.

Judge Scanning Expense Account Of Lucy Thomas

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—To the millions of Americans who may have wondered what they'd do if they had to struggle through life on $5,000 a month, the expense account of little Miss Lucy Cotton Thomas may afford an answer.

Miss Lucy is only nine years old, but so far—as shown by the accounting filed by her guardian and mother, Mrs. Lucy Cotton Thomas Magraw—has averaged more than $5,000 month in expenditures. Rent takes a chunk of the $5,000, running $1,500 (a month, not a year). Then there's the chauffeur, for one just must have a chauffeur; and a maid, and messages, and toys (67), and not even Christmas yet, and telephone 837, but little girls like to telephone, too, and the

HER PRAYERS ANSWERED

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Lillian C. Kroul's prayers that she should not survive her husband were answered. The husband William W. Kroul, 82, died last night. As the undertaker arrived, Mrs. Kroul, 76, slumped to the floor without a word. She was dead.

drugstore ($55, which might be for ice cream). Groceries run about $200 a month, so Miss Lucy can get her vitamins and artichokes instead of spinach. Then there's the Lido Country club at $250, which is much less proletarian thanONEY Island (but may be not so much fun).

Between January 1929, and December, 1933, Miss Lucy required $272,734, and there is still something in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 left to keep the wolf from the crum's door. The child's father was Edward Russell Thomas, prominent sportsman. The account of the child's expenditures is being scanned by Surgeonate Foley.

There was an increase from 1,103,836 barrels to 1,121,818 barrels in Texas. East Texas production gained also, from 530,950 to 547,150 barrels.
