PAMPA MAN DRIVES DEATH CAR AT BORGER

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Today's column will be changed a bit. This space is usually filled with material written on the previous day. Yesterday was a holiday. You can blame it on the COPPER code for poor, hard working newspaper men.

We must, however, recall a few things we said about Mister White of Lubbock. We said Mr. White would look very good chasing the Sandies who had the football. So he did. He played an exceptional defensive game. But 10 yards looked long to him yesterday when he had the ball.

Lubbock had had a rather easy schedule up to yesterday. White had made touchdowns against weaker teams almost at will, but he had not played enough to demonstrate whether it was with teamwork, an unusual break of luck, or his own invincible broken field running. Yesterday, Lubbock did not have enough teamwork to brag about. White's luck was no better than most of the lads on the field, and he went down under tackles just like 999 other high school half-backs.

It is not hard to watch one man; it is very difficult to watch three. Sidger, Harlow, and Bufkin, behind an inspired line, are certainly not to be taken lightly. But the people of Lubbock had feasted for weeks on over-confidence. "It is Lubbock's last chance," they said, as De Hiny would take care of the opposition. "We'll take Amarillo but it is Pampa we've got to get ready for," they told us three weeks ago.

They've still got to get ready for Pampa, but for the purpose of salvaging, if they can, their last chance at a tie in the district race. Lubbock will improve 100 per cent in mental attitude and 200 per cent in play by the time the Westerners come to Pampa. And, fellow Pampans, the sooner it is realized that Lubbock is going to be a difficult bunch of guests, the earlier will the Harvesters get into the frame of mind it is going to take to stay in this race and have a chance to eliminate Amarillo.

So, here is a one-man proclamation reminding that the Amarillo game be forgotten until after Mr. White is finally and positively retired for the season—he and those other Lubbock boys who, if they have an ounce of pride, will enter the game here determined to make the Harvesters look worse than the Westerners did yesterday.

Every high school team has the ability to look very good, inspired, or very terrible, if unstrung. Remember that Pampa, too, once went to Lubbock and whipped the Westerners. Then the Lubbock boys came to Pampa and swept us off Harves'er field. PAMPA HAS NEVER BEATEN LUBBOCK AT PAMPA, and one reason for it is that over-confidence of the fans affected the boys. It can be admitted without argument that Amarillo is going to be a tough one to beat. It should be assumed that Lubbock will be probably just as hard to beat here November 23. If the Westerners are inspired, and they will be, the game will be close. And when it is close, a field goal is a lucky spin by Mr. White will be dangerous. We do not believe that Mr. White has made his last run of the season.

As many as 500 Pampans, it was estimated, heard Gilmore N. Nunn describe the game from the telegraphic report sent over by Western Union by Harry E. Hoare of the NEWS staff from the Tech stadium to the local office of Barrett and company. The free report was sponsored by THE NEWS, Harves'er Drug, Dilley Bakeries—which furnished the loudspeakers—Fathere Dr. stores, Hamlett's, and interested fans. In addition, THE NEWS had hundreds of telephone calls during the afternoon.

It's funny about these Pampans. Many of the local fans had determined to be for Amarillo to beat Lubbock, the favorites. That's how it stood when the grid party began. When the Sandies made a few good runs, local sentiment began to waver. The few cheers began to weaken, when Amarillo scored rather quickly; there was hardly a murmur. And, as the game proceeded, the crowd was very clearly pro-Westerner. Toward the end of the game, a 2-yard gain by Lubbock drew a cheer and a 6-yard run was truly inspiring! Leopards and we Pampans do not change our spots—for long!

HUEY WARNS TENNESSEE BATOROUE La. Nov. 13 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long said today he had advised the University of Tennessee's athletic director he would not take Louisiana State University supporters to the Tennessee-S. U. football game unless the Tennessee institution conceded what he said was a statement published in a Knoxville newspaper that he was after "ballyhoo."

ROLL CALL IS LAUNCHED BY LARGE GROUP

FRANK FOSTER FIRST TO COVER HIS TERRITORY

Flags of the Red Cross floated from standards on the city hall square this morning as the annual roll call was launched by a large, enthusiastic group of canvassers directed by Jim Collins.

In sending the workers over the city, Roll Call Chairman Jim Collins pointed out that for every dollar contributed by local citizens last year, the Red Cross returned $10 in services and flour and clothing. The state as a whole had thirteen disaster calls, one—the hurricane on the coast—demanding more than a million dollars in cash. Locally, the chapter is spending hundreds of dollars to buy clothing and shoes for needy school children, help disabled veterans, and carry on a program which includes the Junior Red Cross first aid instruction, and similar projects.

One canvasser, Frank M. Foster, started his work Saturday when supplies were distributed by the Boy Scouts. In 35 minutes, he had finished his territory and turned in the amount assigned to be raised by him.

Farris Oden and F. M. Culberson are in charge of districts in residential district canvassing, where members of Parent-Teachers associations are doing the work. Fred Cullum has general direction of canvassing in the business district, excepting the Worley building, where John I. Bradley is in charge.

Mr. Collins stressed that he wished the drive completed as soon as possible. Daily reports are to be made to the headquarters office in the city hall.

For years, agricultural leaders have been drumming the need for agriculture to the farmers and business men of any community desiring such service. The manufacturers and wholesalers of Dallas are now offering a short course in business administration to the merchants and business men of the southwest through the Southwestern Merchants Institute, which will be presented in Pampa, Nov. 19-21.

"We can not hope to cover any subject in the short time allotted to us in Pampa, but we will have time to touch some of the high spots and the more important phases of modern merchandising," Henry W. Stanley, Institute Director, said in a communication just received. "Modern business is a battle. It's a battle of brains. Capital once had all the power of business, but that day is history. Brains are in the saddle now. The merchandise who exercises good common sense and excels his competitor in service, is the man who gets the business today."

Among the interesting subjects to be discussed during the forthcoming Merchants Institute will be retail salesmanship, advertising, display and merchandising problems.

The course will be presented to the business men and women of Pampa without cost. All expenses of the speaker will be borne by the Dallas chamber of commerce. Lectures will be given in the evenings at the city hall.

Huey's Grid Star Declines To Serve As State Senator

This Pair Held in Kidnaping

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY IN THE Charles F. Urschel kidnaping in Oklahoma City, for which Harvey Bailey, "Machine Guns" George Kelly, and Albert Bates drew life sentences, Alvin H. Scott, left, and Margaret H. Hurlienne, his housekeeper, are held by federal agents in Roseburg, Ore. Found in Scott's pockets after his skull was fractured in an auto crash was $1360 of the $200,000 ransom money, U. S. officials declare, with another $5,460 discovered at Medford, Ore., where Scott and Miss Hurlienne had been living for several months. Miss Hurlienne is a sister of a woman linked with Bates in the kidnap cleanup.

FOOTBALLER IS GIVEN LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Five-Day Legislative Term Begins At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13. (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long today began shooting his 44 special legislative session bills through the ways and means committee as their second step toward enactment into a program by which the "kingfish" intended to increase his political power in Louisiana.

Long's program hits at the big cities, principally New Orleans, where he seeks to reorganize boards controlling the police and fire departments and other large employment departments so as to give the governor power to appoint the majority of the board members.

FATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13. (AP)—Kingfish Huey Long, minus one senator of his entourage, tightened his dictatorial reins today for speedy enactment of his "debt postponement" legislation.

Forgoing the hurly-burly of Louisiana's legislative halls, Abe Miskal, state university football star, tucked his books under his arm and went to classes, flaunting Senator Long's order that he go through a ceremonial seating as a state senator.

Mickel failed to appear for the mock seating last night. Long had a ready explanation—that Mickel had to study. But authorities word went around that the 22-year-old Syrian-born candidate for all-American football honors refused to have anything to do with the procedure.

The senate thereupon granted him a five-day "leave of absence"—The length of time that the legislature will sit.

TEXAS LEASES CLOSED DOWN BY COMPANY

PROPERTIES QUIET AS CONFERENCE HELD TODAY

No progress in negotiations between striking Texas company employees and officials of the company was made this morning in a conference between a small group of each.

A number of the employees of the company went on strike yesterday and also closed down work on leases where those at work had not made a move to quit. Although the company said the employees as a whole had made no demands, officials of the Oil Workers Union said the strikers asked recognition of their union, stopping of company coercion in behalf of the company union, and a federally supervised election at which employees could name the agency which would represent them in collective bargaining.

Texas company activities were resumed this morning but shut down under order of D. J. Gibson, superintendent pending the conference with striking employees and M. B. King, secretary of the local Oil Workers union.

It was understood this afternoon that the company might resume production of its properties immediately. J. L. McMahon of Wichita Falls, division manager of the Texas company, is here.

Spokesmen for the company said that 75 per cent of its employees wished to continue work and would be given the opportunity. It was added that these men had made no demands on the company and had designated no strike leaders to represent them.

"We have known for some months past that considerable agitation was going on among our men and through certain elements in this section," a Texas company official said in a statement. "Out of 150 men employed by the producing department in the Pampa area, some 15 or 20 per cent have been influenced by traveling and other labor salesmen. Other than this small minority, our men are well pleased with their wages, hours and general working conditions, since oil country wages and conditions are far superior to that of most any other industry. No demands have been made upon us, and our entire organization expresses no dissatisfaction, except the few who quit their work."

Although it was intimated that employees who walked out would not be re-employed, the company headquarters office here displayed a "We Are Hiring No New Employees" sign on the door. Many applicants for jobs were calling at the office in the Combs-Worley building, it was stated.

ALLIED TO TAKE TRIP AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—Governor-elect James V. Allred will leave here today on a week's vacation which will include a hunting trip to Mexico. En route he will stop at Cuero for the famous "turkey trot". A small party of friends will accompany Allred to Mexico. It will be the first vacation he has had since beginning his active campaign for Governor last June.

A B. Casey of Miami was here today on business.

Oklahoma Man Falls In Road After Blowout

Machine Is Driven By Jack Bellah Of Pampa; Youth Apparently Jumped Out.

BORGER, Nov. 13. (AP)—One man was fatally injured when a tire blow-out caused an automobile to swerve into a fence on the Panhandle highway 6 miles south of Borger last night.

Elmer Roy Price, 24 of Hollis, Okla., apparently jumped when the car, driven by Jack Bellah of Pampa, swerved. He died on the way to a hospital. Bellah said he did not know how Price left the car but when he stopped it Price was lying in the highway.

The dead man will be buried at Hollis where his parents and brothers live.

Consideration Of HOLC Loans To Be Suspended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Home Owners' Loan Corporation announced today consideration of additional applications for loans will be suspended until further notice because of the fear that funds might be exhausted.

The corporation has more than 400,000 applications pending. In the light of its experience in refinancing mortgages on 560,000 homes which required approximately $2,000,000,000, the corporation board decided today to cease accepting applications until it sees how far the remaining $1,200,000,000 of capital will go.

"In view of the fact that applications from loans now in hand are far in excess of the present resources of the corporation," said a board statement, "and the continued handling of new applications is interfering seriously with the prompt disposition of those entitled to prior consideration, the receipt of additional applications will be suspended until further notice."

The remaining $1,200,000 at the disposal of the corporation is expected to care for the some 400,000 applications now pending. A large part of them are well advanced in the process of examination and approval and probably will be completed and the loans closed by February or March next.

New applications now being filed could not be reached for many months in view of the accumulation of applications previously filed.

Senator Cutting Still Holds Lead

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 13. (AP)—Senator Bronson Cutting, republican, maintained his more than 1,000 lead over Congressman Dennis Chavez, democrat, for the 6-year senate seat in New Mexico as 20 counties reported complete. 17 of them officially today. The count in 760 of the 761 precincts was Cutting 75,662, Chavez 74,370, giving Cutting a 1,292 lead.

STERILIZATION IS DEMANDED BY PHYSICIAN

VIRGINIA PROFESSOR MAKES PLEA IN SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 13. (AP)—An appeal for sterilization of those endowed with inheritable mental and social deficiencies, tempered with a plea for moderation, was made here today by Dr. R. Finley Gayle Jr., associate professor of nervous and mental diseases, Medical College of Virginia.

Dr. Gayle spoke before the clinical session of general medicine of the Southern Medical association, which opened its 28th convention here.

"If a patient has inherited inadequacies likely to be transmitted to his progeny, he should be rendered sexually sterile," Dr. Gayle asserted. But at the same time, wholesale sterilization of criminals is wrong, he maintained.

Germany under the Nazi regime goes too far in sterilizing all of the socially unfit, Dr. Gayle believes.

"Criminality is not a disease but merely an expression of a mental disturbance," he explained.

He also asserted that there was more justification for sterilizing the feeble minded than the insane, explaining that the feeble minded are those whose brains have never developed, while insanity is the result of a mentally diseased mind that has been normal.

The physician pointed out that one of the main reasons for sterilization was so that those so treated might be released from institutions. Wholesale sterilization of all sorts of unfit, including the criminal, might possibly work to the betterment of future generations, but if the patient is released on the public he still is a menace, Dr. Gayle said.

Sterilization has not been practiced in any part of the world for a long enough time for concrete results to be evident, the doctor said. He estimated that there were little more than 10,000 or 15,000 sterilized persons in the whole of the United States, with California in the lead.

Virginia has the model sterilization law of the states and the only law that has stood the tests of the United States supreme court, Dr. Gayle said.

Nine Children Face Death In Candy Poisoning

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 13. (AP)—Slow death or serious weakening of vital organs, physicians said today, face eight of the nine children who ate poison-coated marshmallows they found in a junk yard.

Death already has taken one of the youngsters, and two of them are in a critical condition.

The others appeared to be recovering but physicians explained that the poison often continues to ravage organs even though temporary recovery may be made.

It was on an empty barrel in a junkyard that one of the youngsters found the marshmallows and divided them among his playmates. In a few hours the nine children lay writhing in pain in a hospital. The junk dealer, H. Finkelshtein, was said by Captain of Detectives Albert T. Clark to have told him the barrel was purchased from a wholesale drug house and had contained poison. Some of the powdered preparation sifted into the broken package of marshmallows.

A Washington Daybook

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The hottest tip in town, if you want to try to keep track of what's on Roosevelt's mind, is to follow the speeches of Donald R. Richberg.

Richberg, chief of the supreme National Emergency Council, is now closer to the chief than is anyone else. As executive assistant to the president, it has fallen to him to make the speeches Roosevelt can't make—for strategic or other reasons—and to stress the things F. D. wants to get over to the country. There isn't anyone else to do the job.

Some tipsters here advise you to keep reading Professor Moley. That isn't a bad tip either, but it isn't as good as the Richberg tip.

Also, quite a few people are likely to gag on Professor Moley as a steady diet—aside from the fact that there often seems to be many things in the Moley mind which aren't in the Roosevelt mind at all.

As an administration foghorn, Richberg is the more seductive. He loves words and even writes his own speeches. Read or listen to a Richberg speech and you'll set how ably he embellishes his ideas.

Lately Richberg—an accomplished musician and composer, by the way—has been plugging the White House theme song to business and finance. It goes something like, "Do your stuff, youse guys, or we'll do it for you!"

And it goes over rather well. The unpublishing group which heard him at the New York Bond club recently included, at the speaker's table, a couple of Morgan partners, Owen D. Young, and a few billion dollars' worth of other industrial and financial big shots.

They piled around Richberg afterward and said that, even if they weren't soothed, they'd been plenty impressed.

If Richberg makes any bad breaks, he can be slapped on the wrist or knocked on the head by the White House, according to the severity of the reaction against him. He is also exposed to cabinet and other jealousies here.

But one secret of Richberg's strength is the fact that Roosevelt knows his ambitions are subordinated to his unswerving loyalty to the president.

The chief thing Richberg must worry about is his health and nerves. Directing and co-ordinating the operations of a New Deal and trying to make its speeches as well probably is more than any man can stand.

It has been wearing Richberg down. If you notice a hiatus in his speech-making, it will be because worried friends have persuaded him to take it a bit easier.

But he will soon be heard again, probably next devoting his messages to NRA compliance and enforcement.

The NEC Consumers' Division is plowing along, strengthening the hands of its sponsored consumer councils over the country. Sometimes it has its troubles curbing a wild-eyed group or saving a well-meaning council from the designs of interests seeking entry to the consumer's pocketbook. But it is often encouraged by unmistakable evidence that the councils are on the job.

Spontaneous combustion is said to have caused the Morro Castle fire, but far from spontaneous protection caused the loss of 124 lives.

Poverty has been given a reprieve in California.

The cost of the New Deal the last 20 months has been put at $11,000,000,000. Now try to find your contribution in that haystack.

Men have begun to use perfume in New York, although the need for it should have subsided since Tammany lost to LaGuardia.

NATION IS DRINKING LESS LEGAL LIQUOR THAN IT DID BEFORE WAR

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three stories regarding the liquor business since repeal. The third will be transmitted tomorrow.

BY MAX BOYD.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The country is drinking far less legal liquor than it did in the pre-prohibition years.

Estimates of consumption since repeal range from one-third to one-half of the volume in the old days. Federal officials, disappointed in revenues from the revived industry, assign most of the blame to the bootlegger and his customers.

Beer has held its own fairly well. In one pre-prohibition year, 1,924,000,000 gallons of beer and ale coursed down American throats. In the first ten months after repeal, taxes were paid on 1,044,000,000 gallons.

With hard liquor the case is different. Experts figure that consumption of legally distilled spirits,

Bergin Band To Give Concert In City Auditorium

Panhandle dance lovers will be treated to three hours of dancing and 30 minutes of floor show by Freddy Bergin and his group of specialty entertainers next Monday night at the Pla-Mor.

An elaborate floor show, including novelty songs, dances, and musical renditions, will be given. Morey Baker, song and dance specialist, will give his interpretation of "Waiting at the Gate for Katie," according to Bergin. His number will be one of the features of the floor show. The dance will follow a concert at the city auditorium. Admission will be 45 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Mary Tudor and Skeeter Palmer will appear in several numbers. Skeeter with his accordion and Mary with her torch singing.

Genial Kenny Baldwin, 220-pound drummer, affectionately known as "Blimp," will give a rumba idea of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Leslie Zearott, tenor vocalist, is to sing with Mary Tudor in "Lonesome Road."

Bergin and his band are members of the Music Corporation of America.

For the past several weeks Bergin and his orchestra have been at Shadowland Night club in San Antonio.

In recent months his band has answered partially the questions as to what prohibition did to America's drinking habits.

Native rye and bourbon whiskeys withdrawn from warehouses for sale from December 1, last, year to August 31, this year, totaled 22,000,000 gallons. Gin amounted to 2,813,000 gallons and brandy to 973,000. Before repeal some officials contended gin had gained a lasting upper hand.

Stocks of distilled spirits aging in bonded warehouses have been built up in a year to more than 73,000,000 gallons. This is the basis for distiller's predictions that prices on better liquor will be lower in the near future.

Tax payments indicate that during the past year 20,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits have been "stretched" or "rectified" by the addition of water, flavoring and other ingredients, before being placed on the market.

Federal liquor tax collections for the first ten months since repeal amounted to $294,000,000 and import duties on liquor totaled $31,146,437.

Southern Medical Association Opens

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Three thousand physicians, doctors, and surgeons of the southern states, foreign countries and the District of Columbia, gathered here today for the formal opening of the Southern Medical Association by its president, Dr. Hugh Leslie Moore of Dallas.

Hotels were jammed to capacity as the various sections of the association started divisional meetings.

The ninth annual session of the Texas Ophthalmological and Otolaryngological society started in advance of the regular association convention with Dr. George M. Cates of Philadelphia, professor of otology at the University of Pennsylvania, the featured speaker with his discussion of the "Problem of Ethmoid."

Listed among the visitors was Dr. Jacques Forestier, physician of the Hospital Reine Hortense in Aix Les Bains, France, and Dr. Bernard Myers of London, fellow of the Royal College of Physicians.

come one of the most popular to be heard over station WOAI.

There are 12 members of the band and all are talented musicians.

Charge for the dance and floor show will be $1.10 per person and $1.50 for stage. The dance will begin at 9:30 o'clock.

Hide Pugilist From Mob After He Slew Priest

IRON RIVER, Mich., Nov. 13 (AP)—Abused of slaying a priest, Magloire La Belle hid behind the law today when enraged men of the North Woods demanded to know where police had taken him.

La Belle, 43, a former pugilist, was arrested Saturday as he stood over the crumpled form of the Rev. James Lenhart, 63, retired pastor of St. Agnes' church. The priest was so badly beaten and kicked that he died.

La Belle, who had been charged with assaulting the priest in July, 1933, was spirited from the city jail when it was reported citizens were talking excitedly about the slaying. When first charged with assaulting the priest, La Belle asserted Father Lenhart had broken up his home. Mrs. La Belle, who subsequently obtained a divorce, was the pastor's housekeeper. The jury failed to reach a verdict.

TEXAS TURKEY CROP IS SHORT; PRICES ARE UP 25 PER C

FAMED CUERO 'TURKEY TROT' TO HAVE 8000

TURKEYS ALSO TO BE SMALLER THIS SEASON

DALLAS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Drum sticks will cost more this Thanksgiving and probably won't be quite as hefty as usual.

Opening of the wholesale turkey market in the southwest today showed that prices generally had been boosted around 25 per cent, due to a short crop, and that the quality of available birds was somewhat inferior to that of last year.

Price advances over last year ranged from three to as much as five cents a pound on the wholesale market.

In the Cuero region of South Texas, where the annual fall roundup of marketable turkeys is celebrated with a nationally-famous "turkey trot," it was estimated that only 165,000 turkeys would be sold this year, as compared with 180,000 last year.

The Cuero market started at 12 cents a pound, four cents up from the opening wholesale quotations of 1933, for first grade turkeys.

Thursday Cuero holds its seasonal "turkey trot," with 8,000 birds ready to parade en masse to the packing houses.

The supply of turkeys offered on the Fort Worth market indicated the crop would be approximately 85 per cent of normal, with prices 25 per cent higher. First grade turkeys were quoted there at 12 1/2 cents per pound.

A survey of the growing region showed that the prolonged drought had seriously affected the developments of maturing turkeys, inasmuch as it reduced natural feed and cut short grain crops, with an attendant increase in feed prices.

The four turkey dressing plants at Brady start buying tomorrow, with prices up between 25 and 30 per cent and the crop only 65 per cent of normal, as compared with last year. Usually Brady sends out 50 to 60 carloads of dressed turkeys for eastern and other markets.

Plainville faced a similar situation, with early quotations at 12 cents for No. 1 birds, 8 cents for old toms and 6 cents for No. 2 turkeys.

At San Antonio the market was steady at 4 to 5 cents above last year. Dealers expected the market to continue strong at San Antonio through Thanksgiving. Supplies were somewhat below those of last year and the market was 14 to 15 cents for first grade birds. Last year it was from 9 to 10 cents, holding those figures through Thanksgiving.

The market on No. 1 turkeys opened at 12 cents in Brownwood, 3 cents above last year. Dealers expected light marketing for Thanksgiving, as advices from Central Texas indicated many birds were wet too light for market. Heavier selling for the Christmas market, which opens December 1, was in sight. Brownwood dealers figured the turkey crop at only 50 per cent of normal.

In Chicago the price advance was as much as 6 or 7 cents, with an apparently reasonable supply but early quality not up to standard.

Turkeys in the Kansas City district generally will be slightly higher and the size smaller than last year due to the drought. Choice grades were expected to be marketed for Thanksgiving, with the remainder offered the Christmas trade. Increased production on the west coast was expected to alleviate the paucity in the Kansas City district.

COMMISSION TO MEET
The Pampa city commission will meet tonight. Last night's scheduled session was postponed because of the holiday.

The Miller

After much serious thought, this is our conclusion: Coach Kelley teaches his gridders (or tries to) how to play football, and then Coaches Mitchell and Fox teach them how to win games. That's the only solution we can give to the situation.

Paxton H. Dent of the El Paso Times opines that the Harvesters are not so good after all, and that Amarillo should beat them with ease. He says that Bowie high was defeated before the game started, because the Harvesters were reputed to be unbeatable, and that when the Bears finally woke up to the fact that they were playing "just another team" they started working and played a fine game. Mr. Dent says the Sandies are better than the Harvesters that played in El Paso recently.

Maybe so. But when Pampa and Amarillo grid teams meet on the field, the best is traditionally no better than the other.

It seems that Fate just tosses a coin, and "heads" it's Amarillo, "tails" it's Pampa. But it's usually a double-headed nickel.

The judges and sponsors of the Texas interscholastic league one-act play contest have made a plea for less tragic and sordid characters in next year's casts. Pampa's play, "Smokescreen," which won first place last year, was cited as an example of the type of play they don't want.

By the way, there is still a tumbling team in Pampa high. A group of veterans—Bill Seeds, James Herring, R. B. Ragdale, and James Kidwell—put on the first act of the season last Thursday at the Lions club; and pretty soon the entire physical education department, both boys and girls are going to stage a public performance. The boys are learning the fine tricks of the trade and are working hard, in spite of the fact that they feel they are the most over-looked boosters for the school.

Probably the best act the tumblers ever performed was at the Pampa-San Angelo game in Lubbock last year. Of course they received a tremendous "thank you." However, some of the tumblers are beginning to think that this "thank you" doesn't wear very well on the front of a gold sweater. But they are still plugging away.

Chem Students Elect Officers

Class officers were elected in Mrs. Alexander's home room Wednesday morning. They will hold office for six weeks.

The first fifteen minutes of every morning members of the class will present a program. "The Principal and His Job" was the subject of Supt. R. B. Fisher's talk to the group Thursday morning, and Friday Reginald Mitchell talked on the preparation and uses of carbon. Officers elected were as follows: Virgil Frasher, president; Maureen Pearce, secretary; Minnie Dittmeier, reporter; Brownie Boyington, Goldie Blodgett, and Homer Widener, members of program committee.

Drum Corps Tryouts Are Being Held

Five girls are trying out for positions in the new drum corps of the pep squad. They are Flora Dean Finley, Mildred Tolbert, Elizabeth McAfee, Pauline Gregory, and Rose La Nell Williams.

The drum corps will make its first appearance at the Lubbock game. The drums were bought with the proceeds from the sale of reflectors for cars.

45 Seek Office In Ballot; Dead Man Is Elected

DID YOU KNOW—Fats and Leans To Play Friday For Scholarship

We are to have "night school" in connection with the P. T. A.'s open house Nov. 27?

Prospects for an annual look good?

Coaches Mitchell and Fox convinced us in assembly last week that it takes more than brawn to play football?

Even though yesterday was a holiday, your Little Harvester staff had to work just the same?

"Antidemominationalistically," a word of 32 letters, is the longest genuine word in the English language?

Admission to the game will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults. The game will be played at Harvester park at 8 o'clock. This is the Harvesters' "open" date, and a large crowd is expected.

Harvesters See Game At Lubbock

The Pampa Harvesters, after an overwhelming 53-7 conference victory over the Borger Bulldogs, have no game scheduled for this week but are pointing everything toward the game with Lubbock, Nov. 23.

Although thoroughly outplaying their opponents, the Harvesters looked below par last Friday.

Returning after an absence of several weeks, "Chubby" Stewart played a nice game at full and should be at top form by the Lubbock and the Amarillo games.

The Harvesters journeyed to Lubbock yesterday to see the Sandies beat the Westerners.

Junior Class Sees 'Happiness Ahead'

A theater party at the La Nora last Tuesday evening opened the junior class activities for the year.

About 75 juniors saw the clever romance "Happiness Ahead" starring Dick Powell and Josephine Hutchinson.

Refreshments of cracker-jacks, suckers, and dixie-cups were served.

RECIPES FOR SUCCESS

Hard work. It is the best investment one can make.

Study. Knowledge enables anyone to work more intelligently and effectively.

Have initiative. Ruts often deepen into graves.

Love your work. Then you will find pleasure in mastering it.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Lou Casad, Marian's husband, will not believe his wife when she tells him that his employer, McSwain the contractor, is a crook. He doubts her when she tells him she had proof, and that the proof was stolen through Lon's own stupidity. Lon also will not see that Silver Hodson, McSwain's daughter, is in league with her father. And now Lon tells Marian that the McSwains and Silver want them to spend Sunday at the McSwain house.

Chapter 32. LILITH AGAIN.

Marian was making a salad when Lon spoke. With careful hands she arranged the curled leaves of a lettuce heart on the rim of the dish, placed wheels of tomatoes in a circle, centered them with the heart of an artichoke and topped it with anchovies.

"McSwain," she repeated, "I'd rather not go, Lon," she answered as though it were of no great concern. "Doctor Al and Anne are coming out to dinner, you know."

"That's right," he answered and watched her ladle dressing over the salad. "Al says he wants to buy a place here as soon as I get started. You'd like having Anne for a neighbor, wouldn't you?"

"A neighbor?" she looked up. "What a blessing a neighbor like Anne would be at a time like this. Yes, I'd love to have Anne near, she's so... so practical," she said.

"Practical women are nice, but I'd rather have you for a wife," was Lon's astonishing answer. "Then, 'Jan,' he began in a troubled voice, 'would you mind if I left you alone in the morning and played a round of golf? Blaine, Wylie, McSwain and myself?'"

"Of course not," she answered, and hoped he hadn't noticed her hesitation. "I think it would be fine."

"You're a good sport, Jan," he commented, relief in his voice. "So are you, Lon," she answered, "I appreciate your not insisting that I go."

During dinner they discussed the prune crop, and Lon agreed to let Waki take charge, and when they had finished he spoke of the next day, Saturday. "My first pay check, Jan," he said, "the first one I ever received from anyone excepting Caroth. I think we should celebrate, what would you like to do?"

"A dinner and dance some place... I know, the Alameda, it has a nice cosmopolitan air; always a lot of foreign aviators around, and a good orchestra."

"And you'll wear that gold dress?" "Yes, and have my hair done in the afternoon, and my nails and..."

"I can cash my pay check with Murphy at the gas station before we leave; too bad this is Doc's Saturday night on duty, or we'd call them to join us. How about Jackson and his girl?"

Jackson and his girl were delighted, and Marian, who had thought her honeymoon was definitely over, found Lon his old lovable self as they dined and danced the evening away.

It was long after midnight when they reached home, and Marian slid into bed, happy that it was Lon and not herself facing a golf date in the morning. Several times when the sun had found its way into the bedroom she felt she should awaken and hasten him on his way but she was too blissfully sleepy. And when she did awaken she found he had gone.

At first she was alarmed, then chanced to look at the clock on the dresser. It was 10 o'clock. The foursome was supposed to tee off at ten. She counted the hours which lay ahead, a crowded Sunday course would mean that Lon couldn't reach home before two-thirty. The Steeles would arrive for dinner at three, giving Lon time to shower and change.

Afternoon Marian dressed, went into the patio, and curled up on the swing seat, a new novel in her hand. She sat a moment enjoying the quiet. In the kitchen fricassee chickens were bubbling gently in a Dutch oven, salad and dessert were in the refrigerator, vegetables ready to be cooked, reposed in cold water. In one end of the studio room the table was ready for guests.

She thumbed the pages idly, thought of the piles of books she had read prior to meeting Lon, she had scarcely glanced at one since then. The clock inside chimed one, one-thirty, two, two-thirty. She came back with a start to the world about her, left the book on the seat and hurried into the kitchen. Lon should be coming; he had the key to the store-house on his key ring, and she wanted some pecans for the nut bowls.

There, the sound of a motor. She looked at Hero. He was standing listening but with no sign of recognizing the motor. A moment later the Steele's black coupe came into view.

"Obviously," I'm hungry." The three of table Marian care. Anne and her with relish, Marian food. Then the telephone came as a shock ben listening so it sound of a motor.

"This is Silver the voice across t here with us."

"Yes?" Marian s "He said you we for him, so I said you to go on, as t here to dine with "Bit Silver," Ms "we have guests."

"The usual outrag mented Silver laugh it's just too bad for t clicked the receiv hook.

TWO CIRCLES OF W.M.U. MEET ON HOLIDAY

VISITOR IS PRESENT WITH ONE OF THE GROUPS

Two circles of First Baptist Missionary Union met for study yesterday, while others dismissed for the Armistice Day holiday. Both the groups studied Bible lessons from II Corinthians.

Mrs. W. B. Henry was hostess to Elvira Lockett, circle at her home. Mrs. H. C. Covington conducted the devotional and Mrs. Henry the study hour, after a prayer by Mrs. L. H. Green.

Mrs. H. C. Covington was a guest. Members present were Meses John McKamey, H. T. Cox, L. V. Holler, J. R. Reeves, J. A. Baxter, E. A. Jones, John Williams, A. C. Crawford, Eddie Gray, A. A. Steele, J. F. Reynolds, John Peacock, R. C. Woodward, G. D. Stockton, F. A. Sildham, and those on program.

Anna Salice circle met with Mrs. Floyd Young. The opening prayer was by Mrs. Dee Campbell, and the devotional and lesson by Mrs. J. A. Arwood.

Others present were Meses Ollie White, W. F. Yeager, Edwin Pearce, Calvin Whatley, and B. Hoover.

Circus Party Is Birthday Event

A circus party was given for little Anne Sidwell on her second birthday yesterday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sidwell.

Balloons were suspended from the chandelier and were given as favors. After several games, refreshments of birthday cake and ice cream were served. The cake was made to resemble a merry-go-round.

Guests were Dorothy Dixon, Marilyn Mitchell, Mardella Roberts, Jerry Eaton, John Friauf, Bobby and Anne Damon, Raymond Mark Jones, Beverly Dull, Belva Dull, Elise Hobbs, Gene and Anne Sidwell.

Mrs. Sidwell was assisted in serving by Marjorie McCole and the little honoree's grandmother, Mrs. R. J. Reid of Shawnee.

Nazarene Church Is Represented at District Assembly

Delegates and other members from the Church of the Nazarene here attended an annual assembly at Wellington last week, and report an interesting session.

The Rev. Earl Bond of Hoover has been called as pastor of the local church, and will conduct regular services. Everyone is invited by the new pastor and the congregation to attend the church and assist with its work.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET

A regular session of the Pampa school board will be held this evening.

HAPPY KITCHEN CHATS BY Beulah Mackey Yates

"THE MAGIC OF WELL-PREPARED FOOD"

There is a magic something about food—a quality that, conceived in the imagination of the cook, is in subtle and devious ways expressed until food itself catches the power to awaken delight in those who look and partake. To sit down to a dinner bereft of it is indeed a sad proceeding. Unnecessary, too, for cultivating the thousand and one tricks that make food tempting in the smart housewife's delight, her play to the gallery, so to speak.

Making some meat and fish—everyday ordinary varieties—appealing and appetizing is what I call "putting on the parsley." For parsley is the most widely used garnish there is. However, a sprig of parsley for every drab dish is not the whole story. Food must be brought to its delicious point of discrimination and ingenuity. Nor will parsley, curly, fresh and green though it may be, ever make up for an ill-cooked roast, or still be a festive touch if used too often.

Just consider two effects a dinner of this fare can give—pot roast, potatoes, carrots, and bread and butter. Picture it first with no interest taken in it except as sustenance and you will find it rather dreary.

But if you sear the pot roast to a dark brown with slices of onion, and a fraction of a clove of garlic in the pan, then boil it slowly for hours in a small amount of water to which the juice of canned tomato is added to flavor, it will take on an entirely different aspect. Just try it sometime. Then serve it on your best platter, (if it is silver, all the better) and pour part of this rich gravy around it. Top the meat with parsley and serve the extra sauce separately.

There is nothing quite so good with a pot roast as a baked potato, done to a turn, popped open and sprinkled with paprika and a bit of butter. The carrots, if cut in lattice shape with the wiggly cutter that does it so quickly, or in slender strips, are pleasantly dressy. A compe of watermelon, a dish of celery curls and ripe olives, and bread sticks and butter balls bring to the dinner table an air of festivity.

No good cook will allow expensive cuts of meat to come to the table in mediocre fashion. A crackling brown is the fundamental decoration for roasts, steaks and chops. This crispy brown may be enhanced but not made up for by parsley. For the sake of variety on different occasions use water cress, mushrooms, triangles of toast or strips of pepper.

As important as making the most of the meat dishes are the touches the clever chef has for the fish. Wedged-shaped pieces of lemon and parsley are the necessities if you wish to astonish and please your guests with a bit of broiled fish. Hard-boiled eggs and paprika give a fraction of a cream sauce served with the kinds of fish that are broiled, such as cod, salmon, haddock and sole snapper.

A creamed fish becomes more unusual when served in French scallop shells topped with buttered bread crumbs.

FRIENDS HONOR FORMER McLEAN WOMAN ON RETURN FROM ENGLAND

McLEAN, Nov. 13.—Honoring Mrs. Jeannie Chapman, who formerly lived in and near McLean but who for the last few years has been living in England and has now made her home in Alameda, Mrs. John B. Vannoy and Mrs. Edward Gething entertained with a "pot luck" dinner at the Vannoy home Tuesday at noon.

Old time friends of both Mrs. Vannoy and Mrs. Chapman began to arrive at 11 and many happy hours of pleasant reminiscing were enjoyed before and after luncheon was served. Just before noon Mrs. Jim Back read "Cuddle Doorn" in Scotch dialect.

Those attending were the honoree, Meses Allen Wilson, Roy McCracken, Chas. E. Cooke, John Harris, Jim Back, Ella Cubine, D. M. Graham, T. W. Henry, C. C. Cook, Sam Sharp, J. M. Noel, R. L. Harlan, S. W. Rice, J. A. Sparks, W. C. Cheney, J. S. Howarth, Chas. Watkins, W. B. Upham, Era Kibler, Geo. Sullivan, W. T. Wilson, Donald Beall, J. S. Story, Scott Johnston; Mrs. J. W. Chapman, who is daughter-in-law to the hostess; Meses Gordon, Thomas and Marvin Hall of Alameda, and the two hostesses, Mrs. Vannoy and Mrs. Gething.

Personal.
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Glass announce the arrival of a baby boy born Thursday morning at 5 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Riddle are parents of a little girl, born at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Riddle will be remembered as Miss Talca, Holloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holloway.

Among those "home" for the Armistice holiday were Miss Joellene Vannoy, who is teaching foods in the home ec. department of Plainview high school; Charles Ashby, freshman enrolled in Texas Tech; Maxine Fowler, who is doing sophomore work in W. T. S. T. C., and Dorothy Jean St. Clair, who is attending Amarillo Junior college.

Joint Hostesses.
Members of the Embroidery club and their husbands were entertained at a well-appointed party Thursday evening by Mrs. H. E. Franks and Mrs. J. B. Hembree.

Mrs. J. B. Hembree proved a charming hostess to the 1934 Junior Culture when it met in regular meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Bob Thomas had charge of the program on "Classical Music." Roll call was answered by naming a composer and his composition.

In discussing "Development of Musical Instruments" Mrs. Robert C. Davidson gave the origin of the musical instruments of ancient times and described the instruments of the modern symphony orchestra.

Mrs. Harris King pleased with a reading, "In the Usual Way." Mrs. Bob Back made an interesting talk on Beethoven, describing his childhood ambitions and his works. In her talk on the types of music, Mrs. Red Glass enumerated the different types, gave examples of each, and named the composers.

Mrs. J. W. Butler was special guest for the afternoon. The hostess served a lovely salad course to Mrs. Butler, Meses E. R. Adams, Thurman Adkins, Bob Black, Robert C. Davidson, Harris King, J. S. McLaughlin, H. C. Rippey Earl Stubblefield, Dwight Upham, Ted Glass, Bob Thomas, and Miss Margaret Glass.

Sigma Gamma Meeting.
Meses Aimee McCarty and Vera Cummings were joint hostesses to the Sigma Gamma club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Bob Thomas. The following program was rendered:

Australia—The Unique Continent—Miss Pearl Simmons.
For a Long Trip—Australia—Miss Jewell Cousins.
Australia's New Seat of Government—Miss Lillian Abbott.
In the Heart of the Never-Never Land—Miss Clara Anderson.
Water Sports in Australia—Miss Winifred Howard.

Modern Schoolgirls Are Insistent

About Clothes With Sophistication as Today's Jaunt Model
By ELLEN WORTH

A little dress like this for classroom will find much appreciation with girls of eight to fourteen years. It is so delightfully smart and different, besides being quite simple to make it.

In a grey and red checked woolen was the original with plaid woolen trim. Red buttons trip down the back of the "butcher boy" blouse.

Daughter will love this too in navy blue wool crepe with bright red trim. Plain woolen skirt with plaid blouse with the plain woolen used for trim is still another suggestion.

Twenty cottons, linen, cotton challis prints, etc., are nice tubbale fabrics for this cute dress.

Style No. 592 is designed in sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1/2 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

BOOK WEEK IS OBSERVED AT SAM HOUSTON

LIBRARY GETS GIFTS; CHAPEL STRESSES BOOKS

Gifts of several books for room libraries have been received at Sam Houston school with the start of national book week observance, Principal A. L. Patrick announced this morning.

Mrs. V. E. Fatherson, who has in past years been a supporter of the school library, gave $4 for books to Mrs. L. C. Peddicord's second grade room, where her grandson, Warren Fatherson, is a pupil. That room also received the $1 attendance award from the Parent-Teacher association last week, and will use it for books.

Mrs. Chris Baer presented 11 books for boys and girls to the library last week. Two students, James Waggoner and Annalynne Duval, have also given books to their rooms.

A display of children's books has been arranged in a room in the school, and parents are invited to examine them and buy them for their own children or for the school. Copies of four children's magazines, Junior Home, Child Life, Playmate, and Wee Wisdom, are also on display and the school would welcome gift subscriptions to them as well as gift books, Mr. Patrick said.

At its last meeting the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association set aside $25 for school library books.

Better Home Is Within Reach of Average Family

Beulah Mackey Yates, nationally known expert on foods and home economics who is being brought to Pampa by this newspaper to conduct its Happy Kitchen cooking school on November 19, 20, and 21, has very definite opinions about the proper conduct of a home, learned from years of experience in all parts of the country.

"Now and again we hear the expression 'better homes and apartments,'" says Mrs. Yates. "What reason is there why your own home cannot deserve that somewhat snobbish appellation 'better'? It needs only a twist here, a turn there, and your household has the air of being progressive and modern. And it makes life so much more interesting."

"And it's a simple matter—just getting your everyday living quarters into line with common-sense methods, doing away with the foolish and tiresome waste of motion and mind that brought many of our immediate ancestors to their graves before their time."

"There is a good deal of unnecessary bother and pain in this world because some enlightened mind has as yet failed to give a certain problem intelligent attention. Engineering brains applied to the hundred and one humdrum chores of house-keeping have succeeded in revolutionizing the housewife's daily grind. And nowhere perhaps is this change so noticeable as in the kitchen."

During her arduous appearances here Mrs. Yates will tell you just what she means. She will tell you how to avoid the drudgery that makes cooking anything but a delight. She will tell you how to cook your foods; how to equip your kitchen so as to get the very most out of it with a minimum of effort; the best and numerous other things. Admission to the Happy Kitchen cooking school is absolutely free—and no obligation.

Youngsters Enjoy A Birthday Party

A "lucky" party was enjoyed by a group of small guests who celebrated the fourth birthday of Mickey Jean Casada Saturday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Oscar Casada, 2306 Albeck.

Oscar Leon West, dressed as "Ho-to-Bill," received the costume prize. Games were played, and refreshments in a pink and white color scheme were served.

The little guests were Yvonne Stewart, Kathleen Frederick, and Hettie Ann Palmer. Oscar Leon West, Frances Hoggatt Jr. and Frank Casada.

Woodrow Wilson P-TA Program Is To Be Postponed

Postponement of the open house educational program at Woodrow Wilson school this evening was announced today by Mrs. W. B. Murphy, president of the sponsoring Parent-Teacher unit, because of the illness of Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal.

A new date for the program has not yet been fixed, but will be announced later. This special program was planned in observance of national education week, and to replace the usual afternoon meeting of Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association.

Mrs. Daniels has been quite ill since Friday, an illness caused by a food poisoning. She is expected to be able to resume her work in a few days. Mrs. J. B. Smith is serving in her place during her absence.

HELPS WHOLE FAMILIES

Attention, MOTHERS, to what every doctor knows to be a fact, and what they say to avoid

If you have children who are occasionally constipated, you should know this.

If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition, or your age, but first try this treatment that safely relieves sluggishness in children or adults.

The Proper Treatment
You can't safely relieve the bowels with any medicine if you can't regulate the dose. To regulate dosage, you should have a liquid laxative. When necessary to repeat, you can gradually reduce the dose. And that is the secret of safe relief from a sluggish, constipated condition at any age.

A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of such natural laxative elements as senna and cascara, it forms no habit—even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and cascara, and is the one widely used. You can always obtain it at any drug store. Why not make the "liquid test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps nearly everyone who tries it. It may make you feel better overnight. The children will like it, too; Syrup Pepsin has a delightful taste.

If you will risk sixty cents to discover the safe, pleasant action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

HISTORIC POWER FIGHT IS SEEN AS U. S. MARSHALS FORCES

COAL COMPANY BEGINS DRIVE AGAINST TVA

PROJECT CALLED 'THE VISION ASININE' BY OPPONENTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Roosevelt administration is seeking to mass the resources of government behind a power offensive that may lead to an historic fight before congress.

On the one side are those who demand cheaper electric power and more drastic regulation; on the other are those who warn against government in business and declare that attacks on power companies are a danger to private industry and investors high and low.

While the White House made public a survey contending electric users in northeastern states could save $194,000,000 in their power bill, one phase of the opposition to the administration's Hydro-electric program cropped out in Cincinnati.

Calling the Tennessee valley authority "the vision asinine," Appalachian Coals, Inc., began what it described as a nationwide campaign of opposition to the hydro program.

The organization, a marketing agency for nearly 80 per cent of the southern bituminous mine field, said coal furnishes cheaper electric power than water. It hit what it termed "TVA's excursion into the power business."

"When TVA," it said, "finds itself with a huge investment in power, it must for its own salvation develop and organize a power market not now existent."

"That means the promotion of government-subsidized industries in direct competition with existing private industries. This program has already started."

A summary of a bulky report made after a three-year survey by the New York State power authority was issued by the White House last night. The survey was made at the order of President Roosevelt when he was governor of the empire state. The White house said the findings would "vitality affect 7,000,000 customers for electricity."

The action of the administration in issuing the document was considered as another sign that it will fight for ratification of the St. Lawrence treaty in the next congress. Under the plan, the St. Lawrence power would be distributed by private utilities, provided suitable contracts could be agreed upon.

The White House summary said the report, made under the chairmanship of Frank P. Walsh, established a yardstick whereby consumers in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New England would be saved $194,000,000 a year or 27 per cent.

"For New York state proper, the summary said, the cost of distributing electricity to homes and farms warrants a rate schedule which would charge not more than 3 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour for a use of .50 kilowatt hours a month instead of the average of 6 cents which these customers are now paying."

"The monthly savings would be even greater for the increased use of electricity which will follow such reductions."

PENSION LAWS ADOPTED BY 10 STATES IN '33

Twenty-Eight States Now Provide For Old People

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Widespread curtailment of private unemployment insurance plans during the depression is noted by the labor department as the result of a recent survey.

Ninety-seven such plans have been tried but only 62 weathered the lean years after 1929, the department found and many of those still existing have been forced to cut their benefit payments sharply.

The department classified the plans under three types: Joint agreements between employers and trade unions, trade union plans and company plans.

Of 26 joint agreements only five remain. All are in the clothing industry. Sixteen company plans are in operation out of a total of 23 that have been launched. Forty-one of the 48 trade unions plans have been continued but "with the greatest difficulty."

On the other hand old age pension plans set up by states have increased rapidly in the past few years. The adoption of pension laws by 10 states last year brought the total to 28, not including two territories.

The states and territories which now have these laws, with the maximum payments, are: California $35 a month for males and $45 a month for females; Arizona $30 a month; California $1 a day; Colorado $1 a day; Delaware $25 a month; Hawaii $15 a month; Idaho $25 a month; Indiana $180 a year; Iowa $25 a month; Kentucky $250 a year; Maine $1 a day; Maryland $1 a day; Massachusetts no limit; Michigan $30 a month; Minnesota $1 a day; Montana $25 a month; Nebraska $20 a month; Nevada $1 a day; New Hampshire $7.50 a week; New Jersey $1 a day; New York no limit; North Dakota $150 a year; Ohio $25 a month; Oregon $30 a month; Pennsylvania $30 a month; Utah $25 a month; Washington $30 a month; West Virginia $1 a day; Wisconsin $1 a day, and Wyoming $30 a month.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Strength in corn induced buying in wheat futures in the final minutes of the market session today that transformed early losses into net fractional gains.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/2 cent higher compared with Saturday's finish, May at 99 1/2 cents. Corn was 1/4 to 2/5 cents higher at the close, May reaching 83 1/4, the result to some extent of a lack of pressure in the market. Oats and rye gained fractions and provisions were firm.

SIDELIGHTS ON API MEETING

DALLAS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Just when out-of-staters attending the American Petroleum Institute began to think that the East Texas oil "debacle" was about under control, word spread about hotel lobbies that the highly-regarded "purchase" plan for "distress" gasoline from that field was in jeopardy.

Reports came from the field that the plan had been discarded; informed oil men at the institute believed that new problems had arisen which would be worked out; at any rate, the program committee of the petroleum administrative board went into session last night in a sort of council of war.

Those familiar with the annual meetings of the American Petroleum Institute commented on the lack of politics at this convention. They even went so far as to predict that Axtell J. Byles, president, and the other officers might be continued in office with only the formality of approving their names.

After pacifying the legislature and filled galleries with his explanation of Mickal's absence, Long set both houses to work last night, the house proceeding at a dizzy pace.

The lower chamber received 44 bills, covering 43 subjects listed in Governor O. K. Allen's call for the special session. The bills were referred to the ways and means committee and the house adjourned until 8 p. m. tonight. The senate, which must wait to receive the measures from the house, adjourned until tomorrow.

The proposed legislation calls for a two-year moratorium on personal debts, and a number of other subjects, including establishment of state civil service for municipal police and fire departments, regulation of court injunctions, creation of a "state bar of Louisiana" and a state narcotic law.

Mickal persisted in his silence, unbroken since the burlesque started last Saturday when Long directed a campus mass meeting at which 3,000 students "elected" the football player to the seat held formerly by J. Y. Sanders Jr., of East Baton Rouge parish.

A short time before the hour for the "seating" last night, Captain "Biff" Jones, Louisiana state university football coach, conferred with Long, but all either would say was that Mickal "had to study."

An official explanation of Mickal's absence came from Senator Harvey Peltier, an administration leader, who proposed the five-

Escapes Death Three Times In Three Minutes

BROOKLYN, Nov. 13 (AP)—Peter Kalsick escaped death three times in as many minutes yesterday.

He lies in a hospital today his 10-year-old body swathed in bandages, and grins. He murmurs, "I'm O. K. I feel fine."

Peter and two of his playmates were scrambling along a catwalk bridge over the Long Island railroad tracks when the rumble of an approaching train distracted his attention.

He slipped and fell 15 feet to the tracks. Peter eased his fall, though, by clutching at the high voltage overhead cables, dropping in the path of the oncoming train.

The motorman threw off the current, and the train slid to a stop without grazing the boy.

Hospital doctors found the surging electric current had left second and third degree burns, burns not necessarily fatal.

It all depends, they say, on the fall the electric wires broke. There may be internal injuries. Peter was too badly burned for a complete examination immediately.

The thymus gland lies near the breastbone. Only in recent years has progress been made toward solving the mystery of its function, said Dr. Rowntree, whose experiments have lasted only 20 months.

The speeding up of growth and precocity over generations of rodents treated with the extract led to a prediction the substance would be beneficial in studying diseases afflicting certain races and localities for generations.

In spite of the phenomenal growth of the young rats, their tissues were not injured and the animals became normal adults, Dr. Rowntree said.

"Most conditions producing over-growth usually slow down sexual development, but in our work we have not found this so, which is contrary to the usual law of genetics," he said.

MAY BAN GAMBLING

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sale of sweepstakes tickets of the Irish Free State hospitals would be banned in England under a betting and lotteries bill now before the House of Commons. Football pools also would be prohibited. One speaker estimated 5,000,000 people contribute $1,250,000 weekly to football pools, or $45,000,000 during the season. Of this, he said, the promoters pocket nearly $15,000,000 in expenses and profits.
