Twinkles We'll soon know whether the heat and the drought make life especially miserable for baseball umpires.

It's all right for Uncle Sam to buy up some unproductive cows, but the ultimate will arrive when he starts taking over all the white elephants.

Religious tolerance is one of our personal planks, but right now we'd like to see that Baptist encampment near Miami have to go to meeting in boats.

A lot of Clint Small supporters have one foot on the hub of the Tom Hunter bandwagon but one ear tuned in on Jimmie Allred's political callope.

The West Foster grouch will attend most of the baseball games just to confirm his belief that umpires are more often right than the partisan fans.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: The baseball tournament revives fond boyhood memories. Of the thrill of owning a catcher's mit for the first time, even if it did "come all to pieces" in a few weeks.

TODAY a city famed for its football enthusiasm goes in for baseball in a big way. It is a big step. It is one which appeals to sports lovers all over this section.

PAMPA'S fame as a baseball town exceeds the appearances if one should judge by attendance. Pampa teams have been frequent winners of Amarillo tournaments.

PAMPA has been given a fine baseball plant, much better than many had expected. The Road Runners and the other teams of Gray county have assembled winning aggregations.

IT SHOULD be easy to patronize Pampa's first baseball tournament. Big league talent and some of the most promising of the younger players have been assembled for a very creditable presentation of a national sport.

PAMPA is both entrant in and host to the tournament. The Road Runners will be in no wise favored. They may win and they may not.

THE DROUGHT continues. It is a terrible blow to President Roosevelt who hoped that by fall the national picture would be far more rosy. The government has done great work along some lines; in others it has bogged down in red tape.

THE COMING winter will be as peaceful or warlike as the people make it. Agitators are finding fertile fields for their ravings. They are, in some quarters, beginning to

HOW BIG IS THE MOON?

Some people were driving eastward one night as a gorgeous moon began its triumphal march across the deserted heavens. Pulling at a convenient adult sleeve, a baby girl exclaimed from the depths of the front seat...

A perplexed silence was his only answer until the gentle pressure of a baby head upon his arm assured him that the problem had been temporarily shelved for slumber.

Perhaps, in the long run, humanity would do well to stop insisting that all of its questions be answered. It so frequently forgets that any truth, no matter how positively stated, is relative in the last analysis.

In choosing between good and bad, for instance, who is going to set the standard for right and who, the standard for wrong? Surely one generation, or perhaps one civilization, cannot wisely nor reasonably pronounce the ultimatums for succeeding social orders.

Abuse of women was the accepted custom of the cavemen; suicide was a thoroughly honorable death in the eyes of the Romans; drunkenness made life liveable for the people of Henry VIII's regime; modern capitalists may gamble their fortunes and their lives away on Wall Street and still command the category of gentlemen...

We see encouraging signs about us at present to indicate that the advancing generation of 1934 is struggling to free itself from the age-old tendencies—refusing to label its activities and corral them into the supposedly proper places.

Granted that the break-away, even in its infancy, is having a chaotic and sometimes tragic effect, there are those of us who have the optimism, foolish though it may be, to believe that the idea is sane however painful the interim.

Then the person who has placed his faith in religion asks, "If there are no fundamental truths, what are we going to do with the Bible?" And if we wish to listen, we hear a simple, but incombustible answer rising from the ranks of youth itself:

"Need the Bible apply to the ever-changing phases of social life—the unimportant details that separate one generation from the next and antagonize creeds that are fighting side by side for the same end?"

"Must we offer ourselves tangible proof that the Bible's statements are true? If we take that attitude, there is no invincible position. But when we consider that the signposts provided by Christianity have successfully pointed the way for hundreds of years for a divergent human race—that they have succeeded in supplying the greatest happiness and satisfaction that has yet been found—that for these reasons they live today with immeasurably multiplied strength—where is there room for refutation?"

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating"—just so the proof of a principle is in the trying. In the thousands of years that humanity has been experimenting to find happiness, could it have overlooked any possible solution? Probably not. There is hardly possibility of error, then, in relying upon the few standards which rest upon "The Rock of Ages."

Youth today is trying harder than ever before to reason its way out of its dilemma. Let us not reprove it for breaking away from old standards, but rather bolster it up with sufficient idealism to carry over the hard places. And as it rises to face the momentous task of living, let our cry that follows be—"Power to you!"—The Prairie.

JUST ANOTHER JAUNT OMAHA, Neb.—The rounchest gentleman from New York, walking his dog in the Union Station platform, was quite unmoved when the train pulled out without him. Despite the fact that he was garbed only in pajamas, with a pair of pants pulled over them, he hustled to a taxi-cab and thence to the airport. When he overtook the train by plane at Creston, Ia., his wife greeted him: "You would do something like that!"

Pneumatic Tires Said to Improve Farm Tractors

In a series of tests extending over a period of several months at the University of Nebraska it was demonstrated that tractors equipped with pneumatic tires were more efficient, more economical in operation, and generally outperformed tractors equipped with steel wheels having spade lugs.

and driver because of smoother riding and easier steering. They also operated in high or intermediate on work that steel wheeled tractors could perform only in low... this meant higher average speed and lower gasoline consumption.

According to Mr. Sanford, tire department manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, it is simple to put pneumatic tires on any tractor and they usually pay for themselves within a year by their economical operation.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come: Ninety-eight years ago on March 1 in the quiet of Washington-on-the-Brassos a little group of clear, calm men, sorely tried by a tyrannical government and weary from conflict, drew aside from the din of battle and solemnly deliberated...

Houston and his small band of Texans, devoted to the principals of newly created republic, won the victory of San Jacinto. Upon the civilization thus founded, always bearing in mind the heroic deaths of that small band at the Alamo, the massacre at Goliad, and the privations of the pioneer, we have builded. NINE BASEBALL CLUBS TO BEGIN WEEK-LONG BATTLE FOR BIG PRIZE TODAY

3,000 Fans See Road Runners Defeat LeFors Club 9 To 1 In Free Game

GOLTEXO'S BIG HURLER WALKS TOO MANY MEN

PAMPANS GET 9 RUNS OFF NINE HITS IN EVENING

More than 3,000 fans jammed the grandstand, bleachers and lines last night at Road Runner park to see the Road Runners defeat Coltexo of LeFors 9 to 1. Grandstand witnesses collected 3,000 fans. The big youngster walked 11 batters.

The big fellow with the funny delivery walked the first three Road Runners to face him in the opening but got by with only one run scored against him. Again in the third he walked three batters but again tightened and only two runs crossed the plate.

Both teams presented several new faces to local fans and if Coltexo can produce some pitching strength, these are the teams that should battle it out for first place in the tournament. Hack Wilson, former Road Runner, and Ace Elliott, big first basemen who had several trials with the Chicago Cubs, appeared on the local diamond in Coltexo uniforms for the first time. Elliott was the only visitor who gave Stewart any trouble. Of the five hits he allowed, Elliott produced three of them, the last being a single behind Gaither's double in the sixth to account for the visitors only score.

New Talent Is Good

Three new faces appeared in the Road Runner line-up, Gordon Nell at first base, Don Benn, catcher, and Homer Wells at short. The three of them just about stole the show, as between them they collected seven of the Road Runner's nine hits.

Some of the fans who went to Borger Monday night got an inkling of what Nell "do" at the plate. He continued his batting rampage last night with three hits, two of them long home runs over the left field fence, and two walks out of five trips to the plate for a 1.000 batting average. Incidentally, since joining the Road Runners, "Nell" has gone to bat nine times, got eight hits, four of them long home runs, scored six runs and batted in seven.

Wells Is Fast

Wells, the new shortstop, looked good both in the field and at bat. He handled four chances cleanly, one of which was an exceptionally fast play back of the pitcher's box to get his man at first. He gave the impression of not being an ordinary hard hitter, but takes a nice stance at the plate and may be more of a place hitter than slugger. At any rate after hitting into a double play on his first trip to the plate, he singled to right, left, and center, in the order mentioned on his next three trips up, and walked on the fifth time up.

Don Benn, the new catcher, collected one hit, a double to center, in four trips to the plate, but look especially impressive in his receiving. He went into the dirt several times to stop some wild heaves by Stewart, made two nice catches of foul flys near the grand stand, something local fans are not accustomed to seeing, and with a snap throw to Nell in the fourth picked Weathered off first base. The last mentioned play possibly meant more than what it appeared to on the surface as the catcher hit two men on and only one out at the time it occurred.

Stewart and Tate, who pitched the last three innings, were "right." Stewart allowed but five hits in six innings and Tate one in three innings. Stewart whiffed four and Tate two.

Run for Each Hit The Road Runners made their hits count, as they got nine runs for nine hits. As a matter of fact, they got one run on no hits in the first, two runs on three hits in the third, and six runs on five hits in the sixth. Wells' single in the fifth was the only one wasted. However, 13 walks and two errors sandwiched in between their hits helped materially.

COLTEXO AND WILDCATS TO PLAY TONIGHT

AMARILLO CLUB WILL PLAY PAMPANS IN AFTERNOON

Nine baseball clubs, all strengthened by new talent, this afternoon were to launch the merry chase for the $1,000 first prize offered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its first annual invitation tournament.

The initial battle was set for 1:30 o'clock at the new Road Runner park. Failure of several interested clubs to arrive caused a revision of the proposed schedule, but a meeting of managers was entirely amiable and satisfactory to all.

Three games were scheduled for today, with two games set for each day through August 19, when the big event will end. Three losses will eliminate a club. The change in the number of losses to eliminate was decided at a meeting of managers last night.

Two Games Thereafter

After today, games will be called at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8:30 o'clock at night, excepting Sunday, when a doubleheader will be played in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. There will be no night game Sunday.

El Reno, Okla., one of the strongest clubs in the tournament, will not make its appearance until Tuesday night. The Oklahoma team must play for the right to enter the Oklahoma City Sandlot tournament during next week-end. It will play at a disadvantage by coming in so late, but the team manager, Lefty Thomas, former big league star, believes his team good enough to stand the grind and win the big money. El Reno's late entry was approved by team managers last night.

Rivals Meet Again

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the Pampa Indians, C. O. Busby's youthful aggregation, were to meet the Pampa Consumers. Immediately following that game, two old rivals, the Pampa Road Runners and the Amarillo West Texans, were to battle. Tonight at 9:15 o'clock, Coltexo of LeFors will meet the fast Canadian Wildcats. Night games in the future will be at 8:30 o'clock, but because of a conflicting occasion, the game will be late tonight.

Other teams entered are the Huber Carbon nine of Borger, Phillips "66" Oilers of Borger, and El Reno, Huber and Phillips "66" will clash tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. The game tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock will be between the loser of the Coltexo-Canadian game and the loser of the Amarillo-Pampa contest.

Favorites Uncertain

Speculation about tournament winners has been plentiful but it

WILBERT ROBINSON, FAMOUS OLD ORIOLE, DIES AT ATLANTA

He Won Two Pennants For Brooklyn; Was Catcher And Captain of Oriole.

ATLANTA, Aug. 9. (AP)—That famous old Oriole, Wilbert Robinson, is dead.

Death came just as Uncle Robby, one of baseball's greatest figures, wished it—quickly and with little pain. He succumbed to a hemorrhage of the brain last night at 10:30 o'clock and his last words were about the Atlanta baseball club of which he was president.

Robinson was 70 years old.

His span of life saw him as catcher and captain of the Baltimore Orioles; saw him win two pennants at Brooklyn in the National League club; and as a former major league player whose name has not been divulged this morning.

Amarillo's West Texans are early favorites. A number of old timers have been sprinkled among some mighty promising youngsters and if Amarillo's pitching stands up, it will be a case of "watch the West Texans" before the tournament is over. Canadian's team is practically unknown here. But any team that can hold House of David to a 3 to 2 score must be good without the strength being added for the tournament. Canadian cannot be taken lightly.

Tom Riley of Canadian and Koenig of LeFors are likely to tangle in a pitcher's battle tonight. Riley is a Canadian boy with a wonderful chance of going places in baseball. Koenig is unknown here. He came to LeFors from St. Louis.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Cincinnati: Moon Mullins, 125, Vincennes, Ind., outpointed Johnny Aiba, 128, Cincinnati, (10). Carl Knowles, 168 1/2, Savannah, Ga. knocked out Smokey Maggard, 173, Dayton, Ky., (7).

COCHRANE AND DETROIT BEAT ST. LOUIS 7-6

STRIKES BLOW THAT WINS 10-INNING STRUGGLE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.
Mickey Cochrane not only has turned out to be a fine inspirational leader who has piloted the Detroit Tigers into the American league lead, but if the occasion demands it "Mike" can do a lot of the actual work of winning ball games.

Cochrane demonstrated that yesterday when he struck the blow that defeated the Browns 7 to 6 in a 10-inning struggle and gave the Tigers one of the longest leads they have enjoyed this season, 2 1/2 games over the second place Yankees.

Going into the tenth at 6-6, Bill Rogell started things with a single, Hank Greenberg sacrificed and Marvin Owen walked. That brought Cochrane up and he smacked a base hit that brought in Rogell with the winning run.

The Yankees suffered their second straight setback at the hands of Joe Cronin and his Washington club, 9 to 2. A six-run spurt against Charley Ruffing in the first settled the dispute in short order although Russ Van Atta did some fine relief pitching for New York.

Jimmie Foxx smashed his 35th four-bagger for the Athletics in the course of their 11-9 defeat at the hands of the Red Sox. The blow, which came with the bases full, left Foxx only one behind Gehrig. The Indians completed a day of hefty hitting in the American league by downing Chicago 11 to 4 with the aid of four homers, two of them by Hal Trosky.

While the gap in the American league widened to 2 1/2 games, it narrowed to the same margin in the National when the league leading Giants took a 2 to 0 shellacking from Brooklyn and the second place Cubs swept a doubleheader with Pittsburgh. Van Lingle Mungo, who has been gunning for his fourteenth victory for some time, earned it by limiting the world champions to three hits and driving in

COTTON FARMERS MAY COLLECT THRICE ON CROP; PRICE SOARS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—Soaring cotton prices found the government sticking today to its drastic control plan and moving to assist planters whose crops have been seriously injured by drought.

A forecast of a 9,195,000-bale yield this year—the lowest with one exception since 1896—sent prices up nearly $2.50 a bale yesterday. The estimate was 1,265,251 bales under the tax-exempt production permitted under the Bankhead control act, causing a question as to whether the act—the most far-reaching experiment in compulsory curtailment ever tried in this country—might not be abandoned.

But Secretary Wallace said: "No. We are going ahead full steam with the Bankhead act."

As for the farm situation in general, Wallace said that because of "the most widespread drought by far we have ever had," it seems likely that for major agricultural products the government will seek "very much less" crop reduction next year.

There are three possible ways whereby cotton farmers may collect on the 1934 crop.

1. They seemed likely to get a higher price than for many years. Prices rose to 14 cents a pound for the first time since 1930. This was expected to cause particular rejoicing in the old south, east of the Mississippi, where drought damage has been lightest, and where the yield apparently is going to be better than average.

2. They will receive about $130,000,000 in rental, benefit and "parity" payments from the government. Of this $34,691,228 already has gone out to 936,138 farmers.
3. Farmers who harvest less than their quota will be allowed to sell tax-exemption certificates which do not need to go to growers whose production is above allotments. This is expected to help out the southwest, where the blight of aridity is worst.

Secretary Wallace ventured a "rough guess" that the value of the certificates would be between $15 and $20 per bale. There was a slight possibility, he indicated, that the government itself might buy certificates, but he emphasized that such plan was under discussion yet.

REVIVAL WILL START SUNDAY AT SKELLYTOWN

CONTINUES RELIGIOUS PROGRAM BEGUN RECENTLY

SKELLYTOWN, Aug. 9.—The Skellytown Community church is beginning a revival Sunday, August 12, to be carried on for 10 days or two weeks. Rev. Lance Webb of Pampa will do the preaching. The pastor will have charge of the young people's meetings and Mrs. K. A. Sorenson and Mrs. Haslam will conduct the evening meetings for the intermediates and juniors. A junior choir and a young people's choir are to help with the singing. The meetings have been planned on a community scale and everyone is invited to take part.

The young people's and children's services will be held at 7:45 each evening. The song service will begin at 8:15 preceding the regular preaching service.

The religious program recently inaugurated at Skellytown is gradually gaining support. Sunday school attendance has increased about 30 per cent during the last month in spite of the hot weather and vacations.

The morning and evening preaching services have been well attended and the young people's work has been organized. More than two hundred people attended the Fellowship night service last week and enjoyed the devotional period, moving pictures and short plays put on by Claudene Black, Mozelle Hill, Doc Howard, Monroe Sorenson, and Mrs. Dorothy Hutio.

A new feature of the program is a weekly news bulletin made possible by the business men of Skellytown and Pampa. The first issue of the bulletin—The Community Church Herald—will be off the press of the Pampa News for distribution Friday.

HUNTER CALLS ALLRED 'LIAR' IN CAUSTIC LUBBOCK SPEECH

HECKLERS NAG CANDIDATE IN TWO SPEECHES

ALLRED SAYS BLENDED TAX MEANS SALES TAX

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT Associated Press Staff Writer

Hot sparks flew from the stump, hecklers had their day and platform planks were again reiterated as James V. Allred and Tom F. Hunter, the Wichita Falls neighbors and gubernatorial opponents, continued their caustic battle of words in run-off campaign speeches last night.

From Lubbock, Hunter shouted across the West Texas prairies that Allred's opponent had misrepresented his (Hunter's) stand on the general sales tax.

"Many, when they are being whipped, resort to their only defense and lie about it," Hunter charged. "And that is what Allred did when he said he had a letter from Tom Hunter committing for the general sales tax.

"I was among the first in the state to oppose the general sales tax. Jimmie never did oppose it when it was up for passage. He wanted to see what the general trend of opinion was and then followed it, as he always does. I never committed for a general sales tax by word or mouth. Jimmie has by his silence acquiesced in its support in its rank form."

Even as Hunter spoke, Allred told a crowd at Eastland, on the fringe of West Texas, that "Tom Hunter favors a general sales tax, which amounts to a tax on poverty." He added that he was "unalterably opposed" to the sales tax.

The vigorous young attorney general clutched a document in his hand and said "in his platform Hunter talks about what he calls 'a blended tax.' What does he mean by a blended tax? He means a sales tax, and I can prove it."

"A blended tax," he said, "is one that opposes the sales tax before legislative committees. I charge that he not only did not oppose it, but that he favored it at the last regular session of the legislature. I have proof with me."

"He saved the document, which he said was a copy of a mimeographed statement Hunter distributed last year, listing his arguments before the house committee on revenue and taxation when the sales tax came up.

"Previously at Comanche and DeLeon, Allred's speeches were interrupted by hecklers. The attorney general invited them to interrogate him on any matter they desired.

State Senator Walter Woodward invaded Woodville, the home of Clyde Smith, in his campaign for U. S. congress. He complimented Smith for the clean race he ran for attorney general and told his fellow townsmen that "you have in Clyde Smith a man of whom Texas is going to hear in a big way some of these days."

Previously at Comanche and DeLeon, Woodward's opponent, told his audience that "Woodward is resorting to the same old bag of political tricks." He charged that Woodward "has begun his personal attacks anew because he knows he will never overcome my first primary lead. He is showing all the signs of a desperate and losing politician."

Lon Smith Says Opponent Is "Hot Oil" Advocate

DeLEON, Aug. 9. (Special)—Texas must choose between a man who would destroy control of the oil industry and a man with a sound record of public service when they vote upon the office of railroad commissioner August, Chairman Lon A. Smith asserted here this afternoon.

Denouncing his opponent's campaign of "slinging mud so rotten that vultures would shudder to alight within smelling distance," Smith asserted that the fight against him was a fight against the commission and a fight to take control of the oil industry away from Texas.

"Since the days when the immortal John H. Reagan became first chairman of the railroad commission it has been the target for the attacks of those whom the commission sought to curb. Now the hot oil runners are attacking us, and John Pundt is leading the fight."

In the first speech of the run-off campaign, Chairman Smith said in all his political life he had never engaged in a "dirty mud-slinging campaign" but he believed it his duty and privilege to defend efficient employees of the commission, who although not candidates for office or taking part in the campaign, had been personally vilified by John Pundt in radio addresses during the first primary.

"I would not call the names of these employees in the same breath with the name of John Pundt," he declared.

Smith called attention to the "absurdity" of Pundt asking for votes because he is an oil man and in the same speech advocating that the railroad commission's control of the oil industry be abolished.

"He favors turning the oil business over to the federal government yet if this happened he would be useless to the commission, since he knows nothing about railroads, rates, motor buses, motor trucks or gas utilities."

"He would be dangerous to the oil industry as a state official because he knows too much about hot oil."

PRESIDENT IS ASKED TO END TRUCK STRIKE

FEDERAL INJUNCTION AGAINST MARTIAL LAW SUGHT

By The Associated Press

President Roosevelt has been asked to intervene in one of the nation's major strikes. Efforts to settle another have been abandoned.

A citizen's organization in Minneapolis asked the chief executive yesterday to seek settlement of the truck drivers' strike in that city. Mateo Alred's speech was interrupted by hecklers. The attorney general invited them to interrogate him on any matter they desired.

State Senator Walter Woodward invaded Woodville, the home of Clyde Smith, in his campaign for U. S. congress. Kennedy Is Only County That Has Received No Aid

FHA WILL CONFORM STRICTLY TO GOOD BANKING LAWS IN LENDING GOVERNMENT MONEY FOR REPAIRS

(Editor's note: The home repair phase of the federal recovery program is about to be thrown into operation. The why and the how of it has been written for THE NEWS by the man in charge. His second article is given below. Two others will follow.)

BY JAMES A. MOFFETT, Federal Housing Administrator. (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—We of the Federal Housing Administration have been convinced since the first day we undertook this task that if we are to achieve results of real value to the nation in developing the property modernization plan there must first of all be strict conformance to the principles of sound banking. For, essentially, this is a program which has for its real foundation a multiplicity of banking transactions.

Let us consider a typical American community. On the law of averages, there will be in this community many buildings that are run down or are in need of more modern conveniences.

Manifestly it is sound practice to keep buildings in good repair or improve their efficiency. Therefore, loans of this type may be considered within the scope of good banking if the repairs are needed. If the sums borrowed are applied only for the purpose intended, if the value and desirability of the property is enhanced and if the borrower is in a position to pay the amount borrowed.

While the regulations of the Federal Housing Administration do not require specifically that the lending institutions must determine whether or not the property owners have spent or intended to spend the proceeds of the loan wisely, it will be apparent, of course, that soundness of the project will have a strong bearing on the property owners' willingness to meet the payments on the note. Therefore, from the standpoint of their own, self interest bankers will exercise care in making sure that the property owner in securing a modernization loan is furthering his own interests.

And beyond these transactions between lender and borrower, there is envisaged an endless chain of other interests. I am told, for example, that in these projects 76 cents of every dollar will go to labor—44 cents at the site, 21 cents at the factory, mill or dealer, 7 cents at the source of material, and 4 cents in transportation; the balance will go to the building supply dealers, manufacturers, and for raw materials and transportation.

It requires no stretch of the imagination, therefore, to see how the money that is to be drawn from the banks in the modernization program will move from person to person

CATTLE BUYING PROGRAM WILL START HERE

County Agent Is Ready to Take Names of Stockmen Who Will Cull Herds.

Gray county has been placed on the emergency drought list, according to letter received by County Agent, Ralph R. Thomas, from Geo. W. Barnes, assistant state drought director, and will start the cattle buying program as soon as the necessary machinery can be set up.

The county agent will be known as the county drought director under this program, and all applications will be made through his office for the sale of cattle. A veterinarian and an appraiser will work out of the county agent's office to inspect cattle which are offered for sale. According to Mr. Barnes, it will be possibly a week or ten days before the necessary machinery can be set up, but it is suggested that stockmen who have cattle for sale turn in their names and number of cattle they wish to offer for sale at the county agent's office, at the earliest convenience.

Under this program, the government will pay $12 to $20 for mature cattle, with a correspondingly lower price for young stock. The better animals will be shipped to some packing center for slaughter while the diseased animals will be destroyed on the stockmen's premises. Cows which show promise of being good milk cows will be allotted to persons on relief rolls for maintenance purposes.

(In tomorrow's article in THE NEWS, from the Associated Press, the housing administrator will explain the value and desirability of group projects.)

Agent Describes Killing of Lion In South Texas

DeLEON, Aug. 9. (Special)—Thrills that come to the men engaged in exterminating predatory animals in Texas is illustrated by the following report of C. R. Landon, district agent for the Texas predatory animal control association:

"Dan Pluenke is trapping for us on the Chupadero ranch in Dimmit county formerly owned by Governor Sterling and now owned by J. M. West of Houston. On Saturday afternoon of June 16 after having made his line of traps, he took his 22 rifle and went out to kill some rabbits for his dogs. On his walk he crossed a brushy creek where he saw fresh tracks of a mountain lion or panther. He followed them down the sandy creek for quite a distance until he saw where they left the creek and went into the brush. About that time he heard a sound like that made by a dog when snapping at flies. Dan stood perfectly still for what seemed to him like fifteen minutes or more before he heard the sound again. This time he saw the slight movement in the brush and made out the dim outline of the animal's head.

"Dan's rifle was a single shot Stevens somewhat worse for wear. He had with him three long rifle shells and a number of shorts. Loading his rifle with one of the long rifle cartridges and holding the other two in his hand he took aim about four inches below the ears and fired. The animal jumped high in the air and came down in the opening fighting itself. Dan fired again and was lucky enough to make another head hit. The lion started to run but after going fifty or sixty yards coasted.

"It proved to be a small adult male lion and Dan, after preparing the skin and skull as required for use as a scientific specimen, expressed them to Washington to be added to the bureau collection there."

"The extermination work is carried on under the direction of the bureau of biological survey, United States department of agriculture, cooperating with the livestock sanitary commission of Texas and the Texas predatory animal control association."

Phone Company In Cuba Seized

HAVANA, Aug. 9. (AP)—The strike-ridden Cuban Telephone company, a $28,000,000 American investment, was in the hands of the Cuban government today.

Seeking to end long-ranging labor quarrels, the government took over the properties through a form of "intervention."

The company refused to grant government demands that it re-employ some 256 former strike leaders, charging some of them were guilty of sabotage.

A government official was placed in charge of operations of the company as "intervenor."

The loan is being transferred as to jurisdiction from the PWA to the federal bureau of roads. Within a short time, a letter of instructions for Gray county's procedure will be received.

The county hopes to hard-surface the Pampa-LeFors road before cold weather. The caliche cannot be topped with asphalt in freezing temperatures.

Two men share her fate. They have taken no action," he said. Did he mean "I will take no action?" Anna Antonio, watching in her tortured mind, the hands of a clock ticking away—wondered what he hoped. There is no human agony so great as suspense.

They will die just as certainly, but they will be incidents. It is Anna Antonio who dies tonight—a woman, a mother, a husband killer.

Judge Unmoved by Story
Saetta, glum, uncommunicative, lethargic saved her one. At the very last minute, as the witnesses gathered, the executioner ready, the condemned woman reconciled, he told a new story. It absolved her from all blame. He killed Salvatore, he said, over a $75 debt. Faracci was there. Saetta didn't know whether Faracci struck a blow or not. It was dark. But Saetta knew that he himself struck blows and that he killed Salvatore. Mrs. Antonio? She no have nothing to do with it. No. No.

She was too unmoved to say a word when, late yesterday, a guard told her that Supreme Court Justice O. Byron Brewer at Elizabethtown, had refused her plea for a new trial. She had asked for a new hearing on the strength of new evidence—the testimony of a priest which confirmed her own story. The justice said the new evidence was not such as would have altered the jury's decision.

congressional seats. Fletcher accused the administration of fruitless spending and charged it had launched "dangerous experiments," but he centered his attack on the farm relief efforts. While building his party's case against the administration, he put a new bird into the national political picture. It was the "black crow." He said: "Suppose, in order to compel all farmers to come in under the AAA, it decides to . . . decree that all those who do not paint a black crow on their barnyard gate will get no government money."

"This may sound like a lot of political hooey, but it is no more fanciful than what has been done with the blue eagle—the badge of industrial servitude."

He told the convention crowd that the farmer has suffered, rather than benefited, from the recovery activities.

"The 'new deal's NRA," he declared, "has strangled its AAA."

In keeping with his announced subject, "the new deal and American ideals," Chairman Fletcher had done psychological damage to the country.

He declared it had undermined "the morale of our people." Saying that "millions" are being "lured and seduced" into depending upon the government for their livelihood, he added: "American liberty ought not to be sold, even to one's government."

PRESIDENT

marked significantly: "Your two senators, both old friends of mine, and many others have worked with me in maintaining excellent cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of the government."

Senator Robert M. LaFollette, republican independent and sponsor of the new state political party, is up for re-election. F. Ryan Duffy, democrat, is the other senator from Wisconsin, elected in 1932.

"Before I left on my trip," the president said, "I received two letters from important men, both of them pleading that I say something to restore confidence. To both of them I wrote identical answers: 'What would you like to have me say?' From one of them I have received no reply at all six weeks later. I take it that he is still wondering how to answer. The other man wrote me frankly that in his judgment the way to restore confidence was for me to declare that all supervision by all forms of government, federal and state, over all forms of human activity called business should be forthwith abolished."

"In other words, he was frank enough to imply that he would repeal all laws, state or national, which regulate business—that a utility could henceforth charge any rate, reasonable or otherwise; that the railroads could go back to rebates and other secret agreements; that producers of food stuffs could disregard all rules of health and of good faith; that the unregulated wild-cat banking of a century ago could be restored; that fraudulent securities and watered stock could be palmed off on the public; that stock manipulation which caused panics and enriched insiders could go unchecked. In fact, if we were to listen to him, the old law of the tooth and claw would reign once more.

"My friends, the people of the United States will not restore that ancient order. There is no lack of confidence on the part of those who clearly read the signs of the times. Sound economic improvement comes from the improved conditions of the whole population and not a small fraction thereof."

"Those who would measure confidence in this country in the future must look first to the average citizen."

Pastors to Take Oath to Hitler

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—Germany's protestant pastors and church officials will be required to take an oath of fealty to Chancellor Hitler, just as Nazi storm troops and members of the regular army did last week.

This important step to secure Hitler uniform support following his assumption of the powers of president, was announced by Dr. August Jaeger, Nazi commissioner for protestant churches.

SILVER

dimes—the government doesn't want them. And don't expect your quarters and half dollars to turn into any different kind of money tomorrow from what they are today.

These things were not changed by the presidential order today nationalizing silver stocks.

What Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau are doing is calling into the treasury stocks of bullion silver which are traded in on the commercial markets. These stocks may range anywhere from 45,000,000 to 250,000,000 ounces.

Buying in this silver at the rate of 50.01 cents an ounce is what is meant by "nationalizing" silver. It is taking government ownership of floating commercial stocks not being used in industry and commerce.

When gold was nationalized the government simultaneously adopted a policy of taking that metal out of circulation as money and storing it in huge treasury and mint vaults as a permanently-guarded support for United States money.

But silver is not being taken out of circulation. You will still jingle dimes and quarters—if you have them—in your pocket.

The president's order is part of the administrative work in carrying out the act of congress directing the treasury to build up a stock of silver which in relation to the gold stock will be one to three. The exact amount will depend on the variations in the gold stock which now exceeds 47,000,000,000.

In giving this order, congress gave the president authority to take over domestic silver stocks at a price of 50 cents an ounce. That is what the president did today. The coinage value of silver is $1.3529 an ounce. That means one ounce of silver will be coined into $1.3529 in silver dollars.
