Union Leader Clubbed, Kidnaped And Whipped In Workers' Strike

ODELL COMES BACK TO DEFEY HIS ENEMIES

PISTOL UNDER PILLOW; FRIENDS GUARD DOORWAY

M'GUFFEY, O., Aug. 25. (AP)—A day of violence including the bombing of the mayor's home and the clubbing and kidnaping of a union leader whipped the Scioto Marshland union strike toward a showdown tonight.

All eyes are on Okey Odell, 38-year-old strike leader, who was clubbed and spirited away early today by non-union workers or their sympathizers—but lived to return and defy his enemies.

The town's nervous grapevine late today carried the new ultimatum that Okey had better leave town tonight. To the scores of persons milling on the streets—or anybody who cared to listen the swashbuckling Odell replied:

"Tell 'em to go to hell." Late this afternoon he went to bed, haggard and worn. He went to sleep with a revolver under his pillow and a half dozen friends at his doorway.

"I'll kill any man who comes in and don't belong here," he said. Reports also were current that anti-strikers had ordered three other union leaders to "get out of town by tomorrow morning."

These men are Lawrence Gross, 30, and Ben Corbin, 50, each the father of two children and Floyd Collins, Elijah Odell, 28, brother of Okey and a trustee of the union, said "the only way we'll leave is to go as corpses."

200 Rampaging Convicts Cowed By 40 Officers

COLLEGEVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP)—Forty state policemen cowed 200 rampaging convicts and herded them into cells today at the Greater-Ford prison farm of the eastern state penitentiary after a riotous three hours.

Incendiary fires and other destructive tactics caused a loss of thousands of dollars, it was said officially, but not a shot was fired, there were no serious casualties, and no escapes.

NAZIS EXPEL WOMAN

HITLER KICKS OUT WIFE OF FAMED WRITER

DOROTHY THOMPSON IS TOLD TO LEAVE GERMANY

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (AP)—A "pleasant young man in civilian clothes" yesterday delivered to Dorothy Thompson—Mrs. Sinclair Lewis—an "invitation to leave" Nazi Germany.

"Tonight the wife of the Nobel prize winner, herself widely known for magazine and other writings, was ready to go to Paris.

The German government had expelled an American newspaper correspondent for "damaging Germany" in the world press for the first time since Adolf Hitler came to power, and tonight diplomatic and newspaper circles, a-buzz over the case, wondered whether it might be the prelude to wholesale expulsion of foreign correspondents.

"The free lance contributor to American newspapers and magazines paused long enough in packing her bags to lose several parting shots at nazism.

"Outsiders are warned," she said, "that Germans have the right to any form of government they choose. I agree to that and personally I have consistently opposed all organized attempts such as a boycott which aims to reform this government from without.

"But national socialism, on its own claims, is not only a system of German government but is a world outlook which is frankly directed against the liberal and democratic conception under which a great part of the world still lives and which some of us, curiously enough, still cherish.

"I cannot expect to set myself against the most prized institutions and credits of other countries without encountering robust and energetic opposition."

Miss Thompson's offense, apparently, was not any general unfavorable comment on Germany but unfavorable personal impressions of Hitler himself published in connection with an interview she had with him more than two years ago.

"She was ready with her protest. 'I should like to point out,' she said, 'that (the Hitler article) was written some time before Hitler became chancellor and when he did not enjoy the support of more than 35 per cent of the German people... it is difficult to see how an adverse impression at that time could be interpreted as an attack on Germany.'"

"The Jewish Daily Bulletin says Dorothy Thompson visited Germany in April, 1933, as a special representative of the Jewish Telegraphic agency to investigate reports of persecution employed by the nazis against the Jews and political opponents.

Hunger Strike Ends at Mexico Radio Station

MEXICO, D. F., Aug. 25 (AP)—Radio Station XEAL's unique hunger strike ended here this afternoon, as Pan American Radio company, owners of the station, paid 62 employes the full amount of back salaries they were demanding.

The 22 artists, announcers, electricians and mechanics who have gone more than 100 hours without food or sleep, broadcasting continually all the while, and forty other employes of the station were given pay checks totaling some 13,000 pesos (approximately $3,600).

Settlement of the strike was arranged by Juan Sojoquez, federal labor official, who received the company's check representing unpaid salaries for approximately three months.

The company, it was learned, has petitioned the courts for liquidation and receivers have been appointed who, under Mexican law, may turn the station over to the employes.

DALLAS, Aug. 25—With more than 800,000 votes tabulated, James V. Allred has an apparently decisive majority for the governorship in Saturday's democratic runoff primary.

It seems improbable that his lead of 39,000 can be overcome in the unreported vote, estimated not more than 200,000. His opponent, Tom Hunter, carried Wichita county, home of both candidates.

Other results indicated are: William McCraw, Dallas county, defeated Walter Woodward, Coleman, attorney general, by 70,000.

Walter Woodul, Houston, defeated Joe Moore, Greenville for lieutenant governor by more than 100,000.

Lon Sharp, Ellis county, has a lead of 17,000 over H. S. Lattimore, Tarrant county, for associate justice supreme court, leaving this the only race in doubt.

Attorney General James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, relentless vote-getter in Texas politics, last night was hard-pressed to maintain a 35,000 lead which he built up by 11 p. m. in the returns compiled by the Texas Election Bureau. He led from the beginning of tabulations, pushed his lead up to 30,000, and there the race was almost even up toward midnight.

William McCraw, red-headed former prosecutor of Dallas county, was amassing a commanding lead over Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman.

GOOD DAIRY COWS ARE PLACED WITH NINE FAMILIES ON RELIEF

Nine good dairy cows sold to the government have escaped the tin-can route to oblivion and will remain in this community. They have been placed with families on the relief rolls.

The cows are lent and may be taken from the families at any time for cause. They will be shipped from Pampa, McLean, and possibly Laketon as the buying proceeds.

Although the expansive prison grounds confines more than 1600 convicts, only a small fraction of them participated, he said. The farm is in Montgomery county, which adjoins Philadelphia. The main unit of the penitentiary, Cherry Hill, is in the latter city and the Graterford prison was built a few years ago to relieve crowded condition.

After the recent announcement, many persons called at Dr. Purviance's office in the Rose building and were glad to receive the immunization. The state is furnishing the vaccine. Dr. Purviance is county health officer.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN (16th president): "The Bible is God's best gift to man."

YE WILL REAP WHAT YE SOW: Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.—Galatians 6:7-9.

THE ELECTION is over. At this writing we do not know the names of the winning candidates. We've almost forgotten the platforms originally brought out, but we do remember that Jimmie Allred is prettier than Tom Hunter and that red-headed Bill McCraw said that Walter Woodward was getting old. But we suppose we'll get along regardless of profile and the creaking of bones or flaming of hair, as the case may be.

If we voters remember much about this campaign, we will be suspicious of our public servants and we will wonder whether they are answerable to us or to special interests. We have seen each candidate for governor spend many times what he will receive in the next two years. Evidently either ambition or some powerful force drove the two men through their paces in the bitter campaign, even though we do not doubt that each is eager to serve his state.

Yet we can ask ourselves frankly if we, as citizens of Texas, are not chumps if we remain idle and complacent while special interests, big or little, pay the governor, directly or indirectly, more than we do. The same thing may be said for every other office that is elective. There are many ways to conceal what amounts to a bribe. Retainer's fees amount to bribes if a legislator represents any association or corporation when he ought to be representing his home people.

We believe that when a man is elected to a legislative office he should, during his tenure, refrain from being a legal advisor or any other servant of a private interest. We realize that under present conditions this is almost impossible. Texas does not pay her lawmakers enough. She has too many of them.

It is a fact not hard to prove that many legislators desire the offices partly because office-holding is an open-sesame to jobs with interests which pay well. It is also true that there are corporations honorably operated and others not honorably. It is a fact that many corporations, particularly railroads, have had to seek representatives in the legislature to protect themselves from radical and highly damaging legislation. It is also true that some legislators in this country have sought fees and have used threats to obtain them. Lobbying is not entirely the creation of corporations. Lobbying is not wrong unless the methods are wrong. Putting lawmakers on private payrolls for purposes of influencing legislation is wrong and should be forbidden by law. But it is not likely that the present low-paid legislators will rob themselves of this extra income.

The special session convening tomorrow will doubtless issue the remainder of the relief bonds authorized. It can do no more until the people decide to authorize more bonds. That will take nearly a year in elapsed time. In the meantime, the hundreds of thousands of persons on the relief rolls will be going through a cold winter. Uncle Sam threatens to make states contribute 2 to 1 toward relief needs. Texas will be legally unable to match funds, much less double them. Texas is receiving far less per capita than other states.

As long as Uncle Sam is giving out funds, we the people will fight over our share. An official organization to fight it out along this line is proposed by Amarilloans. Evidently it would be necessary to spend much of the time commuting between relief points, notably Washington and Austin.

It's a queer age. Yesterday's prides and egos won't fit now. We must revise our ideas and make the best of things.

LIVES GUIDED BY 75 YEARS OF OIL

Pampa ought to note that Aug. 27 marks the 75th birthday of the oil business in the United States. It was on that date in 1859 that Col. Edwin L. Drake of Titusville, Pa., drilled the nation's first commercial oil well.

John D. Rockefeller was a youthful and underpaid clerk in a Cleveland commission house at the time. The words "oil business" then meant killing whales and extracting oil from their blubber.

No one had ever heard of an internal combustion engine. The enormous pools of petroleum beneath the plains of Texas and Oklahoma were to wait half a century for their discovery.

But down in Pennsylvania, Colonel Drake's crude pump was drawing oil to the surface—and, if anybody had known it, was ushering in a whole new era for the United States and for the world.

It is perhaps fitting that Colonel Drake himself died in poverty, his fortune lost in stock market speculation. Oil has built some stupendous fortunes, but not all of them have stayed in the hands of the men who first got them.

But it is not the wealth that oil has given to individuals that makes the anniversary worth noticing; it is the change it has wrought in human lives.

We are fond of saying that we live in the age of electricity. It would be nearer the point to say that we live in the gasoline age.

Out of that first well at Titusville came some of the most potent influences of modern life. The automobile

ABOUT NEW YORK

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I spent a couple of hours the other afternoon on the site of Rex Beach's old feudal estate which nestles on a rocky arm of wooded land that juts out into the waters of Lake Hopatcong.

Hopatcong is a favorite watering place of many whose homes are in the metropolitan area. You cross the Hudson, turn left, and head inland, continuing past that range of tiny hills known as the Alps, and on even beyond Mahawk, until presently you come to this 10-mile lake so scalloped with jagged arms and hidden coves that, from the air, it looks like a silver "Tusand-leg."

Beach used to have one of the most magnificent places on the lake there. Bull of natural stone picked up on the spot, it was a turret retreat where the author sought seclusion from the city's din and where he fashioned so many of his vigorous tales.

A Peanut's Flip
But it is gone now. It burned to the ground, and when the author sold the estate the new owners erected a summer cottage in its stead. "They have built a 'sea wall' along the water's edge, too, with small, brick-like stones, as have others with summer homes on this lake."

I was up for a wee bit of fishing as the guest of Thurston Cooper, of the lumber company Coopers, whose place is next to the old Beach estate. It is so near you could stand on the dock near Cooper's boathouse and flip a peanut to the spot where Beach's boathouse once stood. That has given way to a ferry slip now, inaugurated to take residents and their cars to and from Raccoon island, perhaps the largest island in the lake.

Like Beach's, Cooper's summer home is one of those rugged, two-fisted sanctuaries far off the beaten track, fashioned of stone and hardwoods. It has a long, paneled drawing room large enough for a tennis court, and its frontage faces that turn in the lake where hundreds of leaping, streaking motorboats dart backwards and forwards all day long.

Cook's Place
You can get in Cooper's canoe and make the turn and enjoy some of the finest sport on earth by riding the waves in your frail bark.

All former members, and other residents who are interested in acting, directing, or stage technique are invited to be present.

Members for the coming season will be recruited following this preliminary meeting. Dramatic-minded Pampans will be asked to join the group in its plans for an active year that will include several public performances.

Prospective members are reminded that a proposed constitutional change which would raise the initiation fee has not been approved, and the usual fees will be in effect for the present.

To start the new season, Little Theater members are now cooperating in plans for a Hollywood type of movie premier at La Nora theater here September 7 and 8.

They assisted in a similar spectacle last year, and in addition presented three public plays, "Gold in the Hills," a burlesque in the 1890 manner; "He, Who Gets Slapped," a first attempt at classic drama, and "The Ace and the Canary," popular mystery-comedy.

Thrift Program To Aid Child Is One P-T. A. Goal

BY MRS. JOHN M. FOX, State Publicity Director, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Most people do not realize the potential meaning of that word—thrift. Confusing it with economy, during these years of depression, they have looked upon it as a taskmaster, hard and stern, when in reality it is a helpmate that goes hand in hand with successful living.

It does not mean lack of spending, but spending wisely and well at the psychological moment.

The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers considers the teaching of thrift to children in the schools of this state one of its most important branches of activity. It believes that in building ideals of thrift into the character of the child in the schoolroom, it is being built into the future of a nation.

It believes that this instruction should be classified and graded just as any other phase of education. It believes too that this instruction in thrift should begin in the home almost at the child's birth. A thriftless, extravagant parent can establish standards and habits that the schoolroom discipline and the harder discipline of life will never eradicate.

Thrift and its teaching has become so imperative and so important that the observance of thrift week has become a thing of permanence.

A thrift program in every parent-teaching association is the goal of Mrs. Sidney T. Gilmore, state chairman, of Sonora, Texas.

Mrs. Gilmore reports that a most gratifying response has been noted in the number of home owners, and says that the ideal view of the home must be upheld by the business view that not only is it necessary to learn to save but to spend intelligently, wisely, which emphasizes the fact that a home budget should be put into practice by every well ordered and regulated family.

"Our forests, our wild game and wild flowers are being nurtured and protected," says Mrs. Gilmore, "and our young people are learning the joy of sharing with others and the necessity for saving for the rainy day that is sure to come."

Mrs. Gilmore recommends: Thrift education in public schools; cooperation in the establishment of school thrift banks; the development of home and school gardens as a thrift measure; the conservation of human life and property by teaching and practicing fire protection and fire prevention.

Leaflets, pamphlets, programs and suggestions are available through Mrs. Gilmore at Sonora, Texas.

Let's give the hat a little more of the "old time" spirit. The "little off the face" hats that proved so popular this summer seem to accentuate the girlishness and bursting enthusiasm of your individual personality. Variety is the spice of personalities and every hat you try on expresses a different one.

Students at Texas State College for Women (OIA) believe that the "truly smart" always start off with a new hat that reflects the fashion mode. It doesn't seem to matter if one has to build her wardrobe from last season's clothes, because the hat must be new and up-to-date.

And although advance news on fashions, as on anything else is apt to be a little out of date, there are certain hat trends for which to watch.

Crowns of street an sport fashions, deeper in the back, but still shallow at the front seem to vie for first place with the wider brimmed hats turned up at the back and worn slanted over one eye. The classic small hat with a pointed or boxy crown is an addition to the fall mode. Then the beret! Whether stiff, formal or crushed like a pancake on the side of the head, these "little reflectors of personality," will captivate you as will the new clips, feathers, bands and bows used so discreetly as trimming.

FOOD PRICES RISE, BUT COOK'S OUTLOOK IS NOT ALL DARK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Food prices will continue their rise during the fall and winter, says the bureau of home economics, but the outlook is not necessarily a gloomy one for the housewife.

Two primary causes are driving prices up—the general trend toward higher prices for which the administration is working, and the drought.

But two conditions exist which will help the housewife keep her food bills comparatively stable. Nine of the important foods will be available in a normal or above normal supply, and the housewife, herself, can help keep her budget down by shifting the family's diet to those foods.

Supplies of several major foods which will be at normal or above include all the cereals such as wheat, corn, rye, oats, and rice, and sugar and vegetable shortening.

Leaflets, pamphlets, programs and suggestions are available through Mrs. Gilmore at Sonora, Texas.

OKLAHOMA CHAMPIONS TAKE IT ON CHIN FROM PAMPANS

By J. P. BROWN

A seven-run rally in the ninth inning after on and on fire for the Road Runners last night by the narrow margin of 12 to 11 from the Baker-Hanna-Blake commercial league champions of Oklahoma City. The same teams will meet again today at 3 p. m.

Boyles, a lanky right-hander, started for the visitors and it looked like he wouldn't last long, especially in the second inning, when the Road Runners collected five straight hits, two doubles, and three singles in the order mentioned, but they were able to get only two runs out of the five hits.

"Chief" Daney started on the mound for the Road Runners and limited the visitors to two runs in three innings. Bulla relieved him and got by the fourth with only one run being scored on him, but the B-H-B boys took a liking to his hooks in the fifth and made five hits, a sacrifice, and a walk good for five runs. Tate took over the hurling job at the start of the sixth and allowed only one hit until the ninth. He ran into some tough luck then that resulted in three runs, whereas he should have had a shut out inning. Collman was credited with a hit when his wicked grounder hit Tate on the jaw. Greg popped out to Benn and King hit a perfect double play ball to Ward, but it took a bad hop just as Aaron was fielding it and went for a single. M. Pickens and Lutz followed with legitimate hits, the latter with a double, that produced three runs.

It was Dean's first defeat of the season at the hands of the league champions, whom he has beaten five times.

After spotting the defeated Redbirds a 5-run lead, the Gants got their attack under way in the fifth and kept it going against Bill Walker and Dean, who entered the game in the seventh.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Schoolboy, Rowley, Detroit Giant pitcher, today, won his bid for his sixteenth consecutive victory, and baseball's hall of fame, by driving in the winning run for the Tigers' 4 to 2 victory over Washington in the ninth inning.

The victory for the 22-year-old right hander makes him the joint holder of the American league's record for consecutive games with Walter Johnson, Joe Wood and Lefty Grove.

Detroit also advanced further toward the flag today, extending its margin over New York to five full games.

Until the ninth it looked as if all the Schoolboy's pitching and hitting were futile. Washington, playing a sparkling defensive game behind Monte Weaver, led 2 to 1.

But Hank Greenberg, first up in the ninth inning, poked a towering homer over the right field wall. Owen singled, Weaver was replaced by Russell. Fox singled to center. The Washington infield drew and up walked Rowe. He blasted a single to left center. That was enough to win, but an error let another run in. Rowe has struck out only one until the ninth, but with a rain threatening to stop proceedings and cause a Washington victory, he bore down.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Stocks and other markets continued to reflect in quiet trading today a mild revival of improved sentiment.

The share market made some further progress on the rise which started early in the week. Bonds, including U. S. government issues, were mostly firm and grains scored a moderate advance.

Hopes of a seasonal upturn in business after Labor day brought additional buying of a cautious nature into stocks but the week-end news was devoid of any convincing evidence of expansion in industry.

Turnover amounted to 436,700 shares compared with only 164,000 last Saturday.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25 (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Livestock trade at mid-western markets this week was featured by substantial price upturns on most all classes with quotation on the highest since 1931. Killing classes of cattle are generally 25-50 higher than a week ago and some markets reported gains of 75-1.00 on strong weight native grain fed steers. Bullish factors in the cattle market were a reduced supply of grain-feds and a sharp advance in prices at eastern dressed beef centers. Choice fed steers with weights in Chicago sold up to 10.25 while at Kansas City good heavy Texas cake-feds fetched $7.75. Strong weight tipped horn grass steers sold up to 5.25. There was a fairly broad demand for stocker and feeder classes at generally 25 higher rates. Receipts of commercial cattle at 11 markets totaled 210,000 against 195,335 last week and 202,014 a year ago. Arrivals from drought areas on government account numbered 284,900 cattle and 119,700 calves.

Hog prices are 65-95 higher than last Saturday with instances of 1.00 more advance on underweights. The week's top of 7.50 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis. Total offerings were around 244,000 a decrease of 46,000 from last week and 122,000 short of a year ago.

The week's supply of sheep totaled 331,000 against 279,644 last week and 334,200 a year ago. Fat lambs are 25-50 higher than a week ago while yearlings and aged stock are on a firm to 25 higher basis.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Cotton after a quiet opening became active and very erratic today under hedging. The close was barely steady and at the bottom, prices showing net declines of 12 to 15 points.

The opening was easier as Liverpool was active and steady.

pool cables came in lower than due. First trades showed losses of 4 to 6 points.

Late in the first hour the market started to improve on shorts covering for over the week end. In the late trading considerable hedge selling caused a reaction, October dropping to 13.20, December to 13.46 and March to 13.47, down to 10 to 11 points from the highs. The close was at the bottom with October and December showing net losses for the day of 12 points and March a net loss of 15 points.

supply of citrus fruits.

Beef, veal, lamb and mutton are expected, to show a higher than normal supply through the present calendar year but will drop below during the winter.

"The peak of the emergency won't be felt until winter," prophesied Secretary Wallace of agriculture, in discussing the drought. "But there will, no doubt, be a shift in the diet to offset the prices."

That shift will be more or less easy to accomplish, says Miss Ruth Van Deman of the bureau of home economics. The winter will offer women a chance to show "if they really cook," she says, provided they want to take the trouble to keep their food budgets down.

Cheese Good Food

In order to find substitutes for higher priced meat there are several alternatives the housewife can take, Miss Van Deman says.

She can use fish or cheese. Fish is expected to maintain a normal price. Cheese, although it may be among the foods that show a more than usual rise in price, is an economical food, Miss Van Deman points out, because so little is waste. Further, it is valuable to give flavor to the "bland" foods such as macaroni.

"Women can stop buying steak and rib roast," Miss Van Deman said, "and cook pot roast, Swiss steak, stuffed flank steak, hamburger steak and beef croquettes. They can stop using lamb roast and lamb chops and cook lamb stew, curried lamb, or stuffed shoulder or breast of lamb."

Canned Meat Recipes.

And finally, the United States consumes a higher quality of meat than most European countries. We could cut our use of that food some and still have a comfortable margin of safety, the bureau food experts say.

Canned meat recipes are available at the bureau offices here which were worked out last winter for families on federal relief. They make tasty dishes and could easily be used by the housewife on moderate income, the bureau says.

If milk prices sky-rocket, Miss Van Deman counsels "taking milk in other forms." The new dried milks which come in powder forms can be used in cocoa, the milk soups and creamed vegetables.

The young of tricolored redbird blackbirds all hatch at almost exactly the same time.

12 OIL WELLS COMPLETED IN GRAY AND WHEELER LAST WEEK

12 LOCATIONS FILED -- 5 IN GRAY COUNTY

NEW ACTIVITIES KEEP UP WITH NUMBER OF COMPLETIONS

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE,
Consulting Geologist, Combs-Worley Bldg.

A total of 16 wells were completed during the week 13 of which were oilers and the other three gasers. The completions raised the potential for the field 5,176 barrels of oil daily, and 162,310,000 cubic feet of gas.

The new locations filed numbered 12, and seem to be keeping right up with the number of completions on an average over a period of weeks. The number of drilling operations in the field has been around 180 to 200 since the drilling campaign started last winter.

Wheeler county added nearly half of the new production with the completion of five new wells, one of which averaged 1,672 barrels daily on test. Wheeler county had its share of the new locations, taking four. Gray county completed seven wells for the bulk of what was left, after taking Wheeler county out, and registered five new locations to Wheeler's four.

The bridge across McClellan creek is practically finished, and should be taking traffic soon. It will be a fine thing for Pampa, with the major oil companies located here it will give them easier access to the hot spot.

COMPLETIONS, Carson County.

Skelly Oil company's No. 31, W. Schaffer in section 87, block 4, averaged 60 barrels daily pumping.

Claude Drilling company's No. 2 Byron in section 58, block 3, had an initial production of 100 barrels after a shot of 300 quarts from 3120-3270. It was bottomed at 3282 and made a little water.

Gray County.

Dixon Creek Oil & Refining company's No. 5 Horner in section 139, block 3, I&GN, averaged 363 barrels daily.

Dixon Creek Oil & Refining company's No. 6 Horner in the same section averaged 394 barrels daily on test.

The Sun Oil company's No. 6 Parvance in section 61, block B-2, H&GN, averaged 161 barrels daily for the 5-day test.

Morydan Oil company's No. 4 Dave in section 8, block 1, made 1,233 barrels the first day on gas lift. The pay was from 2,670 to 2,710.

Vulcan Oil & Gas company's No. 1 Massey in section 41, block 25, H&GN, was completed for 16,810,000 cubic feet of gas.

Sinclair-Prairie's No. 6 Moody in section 36, block 3, I&GN, swabbed 1,004 barrels in 24 hours with the pays 2804-10, 2814-17.

Hutchinson County.

Badger Oil company's No. 7 Lewis in section 8, block 25, completed testing with an average of 393 barrels daily.

Wheeler County.

Mid-Continent Oil & Gas company's No. 8 Carville in section 51, block 24, H&GN, averaged 416 barrels on the 5-day test.

Ohio Fuel Oil company's No. 2 D'Spain in section 52, block 24, H&GN, completed testing with an average of 1,672 barrels daily.

Rawling et al No. 1 Plummer in section 45, block 24, tested an average of 70 barrels daily.

Shell Petroleum company's No. 1 D'Spain in section 52, block 24, H&GN completed testing and averaged an average of 314 barrels daily.

DRILLING IN.

The Empire Gas & Fuel company's No. 1 Selber in section 10, block 7, Carson county is bottomed at 3,289. The oil pay is from 3,220-22 and is flowing an estimated 10 barrels an hour.

BLOWOUTS AND WRONG ROADS DELAY ARRIVAL OF GRIDDERS

Harvesters Prepare to Kill Squirrel With Shooters; Camp in Beautiful Site.

BY BEN GULL.

WITH THE HARVESTERS, Weed, N. M., Aug. 25.—After two blowouts, two punctures, 17½ hours of driving, detours, and wrong roads, the Pampa Harvester football party finally arrived here and found the trip very much worthwhile. The boys were tired but very happy.

We were welcomed to camp by one of the finest darkies we ever saw—he fixed us two eggs each with hot biscuits and home-made preserves at 2:30 a. m. The boys named him "Happy." He said he had already been in camp four days and that bear and deer had been around the camp every morning.

After that ritual, the boys locked the doors. But they were so tired that probably Mr. Bear could have shared any bunk without causing trouble.

It is a beautiful camp, with cabins for every four boys. There are individual beds with mattresses, Tall pipes and a mountain stream form a pretty picture.

Squirrels which abounded when we arrived are leaving camp—the boys are whittling out "nigger shooters." (There are no windows to break.)

I must hurry this note to town by the only mail today—more later.

First Night

What a camp! What weather! Surely is hot this morning—the temperature reads 70 degrees. Boys sleep in their clothes, it is so cold at night. Most of them slept in their shoes last night, because we heard a panther scream at bedtime and it sounded worse than some of the women's screams we hear at a Pampa-Amarillo ball game.

Night life is great. To bed about 8 and rise at 7.

Monroe Owens and Bill Hamer may be pretty tough, but a swarm of yellow jackets really put the boys down the side of the mountain and the big chumps led all but one or two right to camp. Believe me, we all vacated. The one or two that did not follow caught up with the boys later and you should see the bumps.

Workouts are held each day from 9 to 11 and 2 to 5. The boys are fast and full of pep. It should be a great team. Calling signals from T formation will bring back memories of old times to some of the older fans. You should hear these mountains echo to the barked signals.

A girls' camp is located somewhere near and about 25 of the girls came by on horseback. They formed the procession—25 girls, 25 horses, and the Pampans stamping

GEORGE LOTT AND STOEFFEN RETAIN TITLE

TOWERING TEXAN AND VAN RYN ARE DEFEATED

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP)—George Lott and Lester Stoeffen, who lead the world in combination net play, gained sweet revenge today as they retained their national doubles tennis crown in four blistering sets at the Germantown Cricket club.

Smashing through to a 6-4, 9-7, 3-6, 6-4 triumph over Wilmer Allison, towering Texan, and Speddy Johnny Van Ryn of Philadelphia, in an hour and 50 minutes of terrific struggle, the Lott-Stoeffen duo, victor in Wimbledon play and three rounds of Davis cup competition this season, turned the tables of their veteran rivals, to whom they bowed a week ago in the Newport invitation finals.

To the wily Scot, strategist of the combination, went the honor of turning the tide in victory in the direction of his coast teammate and himself after the giant Californian's game cracked in the second and third set.

Had it not been for the Chicagoan's super coverage of the court, his splendid all-around play, and his directing genius at the helm of the team, another story might have been written.

Although Stoeffen's game was far better than the mediocre performance he turned in for yesterday's quarter-finals of national mixed double play, he was wild at times through the second and third set.

In holding to their championship for the second straight year, the crown-holders proved once again the time-honored sports slogan—"they never come back." For, since they held the title in 1931 and lost it the following year, Allison and Van Ryn have been seeking the successful end of the comeback trail, but each time their path was blocked.

No single factor of their own play could be said to have cost Allison and Van Ryn. They simply met with a fast-moving combination, headed in the right direction.

GOOD PRIZES TO ATTRACT BEST COW HANDS TO CITY FOR 3-DAY RODEO SOON

Facilities of Road Runner Park To Be Used Sept. 1, 2, and 3—Four Programs

Pampa will offer an entertainment feature of wide interest during the Labor day period when the Board of City Development sponsors a big rodeo September 1, 2, and 3. It will be managed by Siler Hopkins, well known Gray county ranchman.

The event will be held at Road Runner baseball park, where ideal facilities are available for both day and night programs. Admission will be 40 and 20 cents.

To test the skill and stamina of the entrants, more than 60 head of well-conditioned animals will be used. Manager Hopkins, a keen judge of stock, says they are as mean as any he has ever seen. He thinks the events will be a treat to the cash customers but not to the cowboys.

It will be the best rodeo in this community since the Frontier Days celebration, in the opinion of cow hands. Prizes of $15, $10, and $5 will be paid in bronc riding, bulldogging, and steer riding events, and $25, $15, and $10 for calf roping. Half of the entry fees will be used in the finals in calf-roping for the best average on all calves. The entry fees will be given the winners in wild cow milking. The entry fees will be as follows: Calf roping $10; bronc riding $4; bulldogging $4, steer riding $4, wild cow milking $4 a team, for each day's program.

Programs will be given on the night of September 1, afternoon of September 2, and afternoon and night of Labor day, September 3.

Contest judges will be W. W. Maddox, Pampa; Buddy Ellison, Oklahoma City; and Eddie Smith, Wellington.

GORILLAS, DELAYED BY RAIN, WILL WORK DAILY DURING WEEK

Pampa Gorillas, who were rained out of most of their practices last week, will swing into daily workouts this week under the direction of Coach Harry Kelley.

Every day at 4 o'clock the future Harvesters will don football togs and endeavor to learn the fundamentals of the game. The boys will have a hard schedule to test their metal.

All boys who have two more years in high school are eligible to train with the Gorillas.

McLean Football Squad Is Working Out Twice Daily

McLEAN, Aug. 25.—Beginning tomorrow morning, the McLean high school football squad will practice twice daily. Twenty-five men are out, working hard and showing much interest.

McCarty, tackle; Eugene Greer, end; Averil (Little Metzger) Christian, perhaps the youngest quarterback in the state at 14; Cleve Hancock, shortstop on the team; June Woods, guard; "Hookie" Stratton, who is making good in an effort to take the halfback position vacated by Crockett of last year's team.

Other players, some of whom show great possibilities, are M. Andrews, Fred Cable, Horace Johnson, Bill Roth, Vernon King, Klive Ayer, Larry Cunningham, Roy McMullen, Nell Jackson, Harry Barnes, Albert Overton, James Emmett Cooke, D. V. Nicholson, Donald Butler, Arthur Ray Ledbetter, "Cat" Pugh, Roy Laswell, and Hershel Cupelle.

COUNTRY CLUB URGES ALL GOLFERS TO START THEIR QUALIFYING ROUND TODAY

Handicaps for Tourney To Be Revised Frequently to Make Event Equitable.

A number of golfers yesterday began their qualifying rounds in the Country club handicap match tournament.

It was hoped that today there would be an outpouring of other contestants. Entrants have until Thursday night to qualify.

With no other golf programs in sight, it is believed that the local golfers can easily qualify by the deadline and be ready for match play.

Handicaps will be revised after each round to give greater accuracy in pairings. A handsome cup awaits the winner, whose prowess under the handicap system will be just as good as that of the best players.

HUNDREDS OF EXTRAS, THREE BAGGAGE CARS, DOZEN SHIPS GO INTO MAKING OF PICTURE

"TREASURE ISLAND" OPENS TODAY AT LA NORA

The breathless search for gold that carried an expedition to the West Indies in "Treasure Island," famous Robert Louis Stevenson classic, brought even more adventure to a company of Hollywood players and technicians who filmed location scenes for the pirate story near Oakland, Calif. The feature opens today at LaNora theater.

An exact duplication of the famous Bristol, England, waterfront was found in an Estuary near the wharf of the Alaska Packers company, historic fishing center. With a few minor additions by construction experts the locale was prepared for the cinema invasion.

Old-Time Square Riggers. Into the colorful setting filled with old-time square riggers from the Alaska fleet, waterfront markets, eighteenth century hulls and aged timber docks, came sound cameras, brilliant arc lights, hoarse-voiced assistant directors, sound recording equipment and other studio paraphernalia.

From Los Angeles harbor, the Nauak, former Arctic exploring ship used in the filming of Mc-G-M's "Esquimo," sailed to the Estuary with a full upper rigging built on her decks to represent the Hispaniola, ship that carried the expedition in search of pirate gold.

The assembled company climbed on board the craft while cables were stretched from the shore to supply power for cameras and recorders. Ship's cabins were turned into dressing rooms for Wallace Beery, Jackie Cooper, Otto Kruger, Lewis Stone, Nigel Bruce and dozens of other players in the cast.

Almost at once a swarm of airplanes appeared overhead and the first difficulties were encountered. Just as lines of dialogue were spoken a motor noise crashed through until special arrangements had to be made with local airports for an "air detour" around the location.

A necessary part of the atmosphere were the sea gulls hovering over the water, but when they were needed the birds flew in the opposite direction. A production assistant was delegated as "sea gull lure," and with chunks of bread kept them hovering near the ship.

Heavy Wallace Beery, a 200-pounder, was required to wear one leg in a sling to be in character for his part of Long John Silver, and could not work in scenes for more than three minutes. While trying to climb a ship's ladder using only one leg, his kneecap was severely injured, which required quick first-aid before action could continue.

As the Hispaniola sailed up and down the Estuary under her own power a new problem was presented. Boats from miles around surrounded the ship and were only driven away by the arrival of a coast guard. Even through the guard came three racing hulls from the University of California, with their crews grunting so loud that it was picked up by the microphone!

Ton of Food Required. While on the location more than 400 local Alameda and Oakland citizens were used for "atmosphere." Three baggage cars full of studio properties, costumes and other essentials were necessary for the set. Nearly a dozen square rigged ships were fitted with sails and ropes; 100 what workers and sailors were given work on boats in the picture; a ton of food, including meats and fresh vegetables, was used on board the Hispaniola.

Victor Fleming directed the pirate film with a screen adaptation by John Lee Mahlin. Hunt Stromberg is the producer.

SPITE MARRIAGE

PAINFUL HOUR

"YOU don't hate me," Marsha dropped her arm, looked at him, "do you?"

"God knows I don't, Marsha!" he answered heavily, and he saw tears brim in her eyes. He pushed his heavy hair away from her forehead, running his hand over her forehead and across her hair.

"We're not going to worry about anything, Marsha, except the fact that I was brutal last night. I want you to know that it will never happen again. Can you believe me?"

"Yes, I've never once really doubted you. I—"

"Quiet, dear."

He made no fight against the welling of tenderness that pitted him. She was frightened, pitiable and lovely, with her hair lying disheveled on the linen of her pillow.

— And ill, she was as he had dreamed she would be; his to care for. And he would care for her, so long as she needed him.

After a moment she relaxed and her sobs lessened.

"No one is going to bother you," he said slowly, close to sternly. "Do you understand? I won't let them! Do you hear me, Marsha?"

"No one is going to bother you, Marsha."

"Yes—"

"My darling!" he thought; his own eyes wet. "I'll fill anyone who bothers you full of buckshot!" he promised.

She laughed unsteadily.

"We're only going to have that worthy M.D. come in here to give you a pill and feel your pulse and tell you that a few days in bed will adjust the matter— see?"

"Y—yes—" she whispered.

His touch had helped her; soothed her; he was elated by the fact.

"Breakfast next," he said and against her hair, "understand? A real one, coal miner's size! Tea or coffee?"

She laughed a little unsteadily. She said, "Tea, I think, this morning."

Bob's mind whirled. He was brought back to present and reality by Hannah's tap upon the door.

"WHO is it?" Bob called.

"It's L. M. Robert, Hannah. I wondered whether I might, please, bring Mrs. Powers' breakfast up now?"

"Yes. And make it a good one, Hannah."

"I will, sir, thank you, sir."

Marsha drew away. Bob rose. "Now suppose," he suggested, "we prop you up with pillows and drape one of these things around you," (he picked up a negligee of coral hue from the foot of the bed) "and become attuned to soft-billed eggs!"

"I understand," he said heartily and he drew a deep sigh; oppressed again by all he had done to her; the traces of which were tragically clear!

He saw her stiffen; he heard "She didn't hate me!"

"My child!" he muttered, leaning toward her, but she drew away.

"She put a note I wrote her in that box. I wrote her notes some days when the postman brought her nothing much. They amused her and she liked one so much that she put it in the box. She was trying to be nice. She knew."

Her eyes were wells of resentment; he felt the tool in them to be hate for him; he moved uneasily touched, hard, feeling he deserved the hurt.

Bob and Marsha come to an agreement, tomorrow.

WESLEY HARRAH CHAPEL TO BE FINISHED SOON

Church Is Being Built Near Baker School

The second church built in the city in the last six months by the First Methodist church will be completed within the next week.

Gaston Foote, pastor, announced that first services would be held in the Wesley Harrah chapel, a few yards south of Baker school in the section of the city popularly known as "the south side" on September 9. The new church was named for Wesley Harrah, long a prominent member of the First Methodist church, and a frequent and heavy contributor to Christian causes.

The first mission church to be built by the Methodist church this year is the McCullough Memorial church, located in the Talley addition. The Rev. Lance Webb, assistant pastor of the First Church, will conduct services at the Harrah chapel as well as the McCullough church. He will preach on Sunday morning at the chapel and in the evening at the McCullough and vice versa. Sunday school will be held at the Wesley Harrah chapel every Sunday.

The Wednesday evening recreation program held each week at McCullough church will likely become a feature of the Wesley chapel, but will probably be held on some other night. Large crowds have attended all services at the McCullough church. Dedication services at the Harrah chapel will be announced later, but the public will be cordially invited to attend them.

Rev. Foote announced that the McCullough church has been paid for, and that church leaders plan to have the Harrah chapel paid for when it is occupied.
