YOUTH WEEPS WHEN VERDICT IS RETURNED

JURY OUT FOUR HOURS; AUDIENCE CHEERS JURY DECISION

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 8. (AP)—A jury of Oklahoma farmers late today acquitted Neal Myers, 21-year-old pharmacy student, of a charge of murder in the abortion death of Miss Marian Mills, his 19-year-old University of Oklahoma beauty queen sweetheart.

The jury, given the sensational case at 12:46 p. m., took only four ballots in four hours of deliberation.

"I feel the memory of Marian Mills as well as myself have been vindicated by the verdict," Myers said as he immediately left the courtroom.

"I am going for a short automobile ride, then to bed for some rest."

The tall, dark youth bowed his head and tears came to his eyes as the court clerk read the verdict. His father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Myers of El Reno, who had been constantly at his side since the trial began last Tuesday, threw their arms around their son and wept aloud.

Although District Judge Tom Pace had warned against any demonstration many cheered as they heard the decision.

Many students, friends of Myers and Miss Mills, were in the courtroom.

The verdict came a short time after the jury had requested read to them part of the testimony given by Mrs. Hazel Brown, a former fraternity house cook in whose home Miss Mills, comely daughter of M. Elbert Mills, university professor, died while alleged attempting to prevent motherhood.

Three verdicts were possible—death, life imprisonment and acquittal—but the state did not attempt to qualify the jurors for capital punishment.

Miss Mills, who had been queen of the engineers and "most popular" girl on the campus, was found dead in Mrs. Brown's home July 10 by a physician who was called by telephone. Myers, who had gone to the Brown home with Miss Mills the night before she died, had fled. He returned three weeks later after wandering aimlessly over Texas and Colorado. Meanwhile he was charged with the abortion murder of the girl.

Myers denied he had in any way attempted to aid the abortion. He declared he loved the girl and had attempted to persuade her to marry him when he learned she was enceinte. She refused, he testified yesterday, saying her parents would object.

AMARILLO WILL PRODUCE FETE IN PALO DURO

Celebration Is Not to Deal With Centennial Subject

Several weeks ago a small group of residents of a few Panhandle counties, most of whom were members of Centennial Advisory boards, met at Amarillo for the purpose of effecting an organization of boards located in the 31st senatorial district.

Reports of the meeting indicated that between seven and nine of the 26 counties in this senatorial district were represented. At least 15 counties of the district were not represented in Gray county among them. As a result of that meeting a committee was appointed to plan a so-called "all-Panhandle Pre-Centennial celebration."

Yesterday that committee met in the Herring hotel in Amarillo—Dr. J. A. Hill, president of W. T. S. C. and three other members, a bare quorum, convened. Also present were Clarence Kennedy, president of the Junior chamber of commerce, and Archer Pullinger, general chairman of the Pre-Centennial celebration held here last spring. They were invited to attend the meeting after numerous Panhandle had protested designation of the Amarillo celebration as an "all-Panhandle" fete.

The state board of control would be the relief agency under the house bill, replacing the Texas relief commission of nine members. The house voted to change the board stated the present group was hampered by political strife and could not cooperate.

The house bill would issue only $6,000,000 of $9,500,000 in bonds re-liquidation from an original authorization of $20,000,000. The senate bill would issue $9,500,000 but would require that it be budgeted so relief funds would not be exhausted before June 1. Budgeting was left out of the house bill. State relief would end May 31 if sentiment in the house prevailed.

Any father even threatened to kill Senator Long "personally" if his son should be injured in any way.

Two Dallas county deputy sheriffs were wounded, one critically and a man killed in a running gun fight on the northeast highway, near the Midway road, north of here early today.

GUNMEN TERRORIZE LEFORS

Between 130 And 220 Lost On Ship

SURVIVORS SAY LIGHTNING HIT MORRO CASTLE

LINER DESTROYED BY FIRE; 333 PEOPLE ARE RESCUED

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Ward liner Morro Castle, plowing back to port from a Havana cruise through thick fog and a heavy nor-easter, was raked from bow to stern by fire from the Jersey coast today with between 130 and 225 persons dead or missing. The liner carried 558 passengers and members of the crew.

Still afloat, her superstructure a mass of wreckage, her hull seared toward the shore tonight by the coast guard cutter Tampa and beached near Asbury Park, N. J. A list of the survivors compiled at the Ward line offices showed 333 rescued and 225 not accounted for, but it was pointed out that New Jersey private homes might hold many not reported.

It was a double tragedy. The ship was a funeral pyre as well as a holocaust of horror.

The master of the ship, Capt. Robert R. Willmott, died last night stricken on the bridge by acute indigestion. His body lay in the quarters at the control room when it broke out in the early morning hours.

The radio was disconnected with the onset of the inferno and nothing was learned of the disposition of the body.

Capt. W. F. Harms, chief officer, assumed command.

He was taken off the charred liner tonight by the coast guard cutter Tampa after the Tampa had attempted to tow the Morro Castle. Many others were taken off with Warm.

The Morro Castle was beached at Asbury Park, N. J., when the hawser with which she was being towed by the Tampa parted.

The Tampa's propeller then fouled and the cutter suffered slight damage. The Tampa proceeded slowly toward New York Harbor. But as the storm continued to rage, it was decided to beach her.

Immediately officials of the Federal government and the line opened investigations.

Fine's Origin Debated

Word line officials refused to speculate on events aboard the liner in view of the numerous conflicting stories of the fire's origin.

The liner carried the latest automatic fire equipment. But none of the 333 survivors said it was in operation. On this, the officials kept their silence, but said their investigation would be rushed.

In Washington, Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper ordered his own inquiry.

Many survivors were in agreement in declaring the fire originated in the ship's library. Some said lightning struck the liner. Reports from Havana that it might

Probe In Arms Is Protested By Two Countries

Acquitted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Diplomatic representations by two countries, one a protest, reverberated today from the senate probe into war making materials—an investigation which senators said had only scratched the surface.

The Argentine government formally protested in writing to the state department against a statement by Senator Bone (D. Wash.). The remark was declared to have reflected upon the "integrity" of an Argentine official.

The Chilean government also asked the state department for full facts concerning statements made at the hearings about its officials. The Chilean embassy said the men in question would be either punished or cleared of "reflection."

These representations and a protest against open hearings, made by the Du Pont interests, deterred the senate committee men not at all.

"The inquiry will go on," said Senator Nye (R. N. D.), chairman of the investigating committee.

"Revelations thus far merely scratch the surface," said Senator Pope (D. Idaho).

"They (the facts) reveal an ominous and menacing condition," added Senator Bone.

"No wonder peace walks on crutches," asserted Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.).

Additional statements today by the committee men showed the group generally agreed not only that similar foreign investigations should follow, but also that they should be kept out of its profits through government monopoly in munitions manufacture.

Reports from England, which committee has learned extensively in disclosures made here, indicate a movement already is under way there to launch an investigation into munitions making.

The committee held an executive session today and approved a new list of witnesses to be called when the hearings are resumed next week. Subjects for inquiry will be American-made poison gas, machine guns, airplanes and other war equipment.

BUS HELD UP-- STATION AND STORE LOOTED

OVER $500 OBTAINED FROM NUMEROUS VICTIMS

By OLIN E. HINKLE,
Managing Editor, THE NEWS

LEFORS, Sept. 8.—Three boastful young gunmen drove into this old field town about 9:30 o'clock tonight, held up and robbed Bill S. Lonki and his Highway Service station employes, robbed Standard Food Market No. 3 and its customers, and escaped with more than $500 after warning their victims to remain quiet for 30 minutes or threat of death.

The same trio is suspected of having held up a Greyhound bus on Highway 66 near Groom at 8 o'clock. The bandits had been seen in LeFors two days prior to the raids.

Heaviest losers, besides the store, were Mr. Saloni, who was forced to give up about $148; Chas. Paetzel, filling station operator who in the store, and who lost $55; and an elderly man and his son, who lost about $40.

Market had not checked the loss last night, but knew it would be several hundred dollars. Part of the day's receipts, however, was not in the cash register and was saved.

Chas. Bird is manager of the store, which is owned by F. S. Brown of Pampa.

The hijacker left the store, got into a car believed to have been a Plymouth sedan registered in Lubbock county—No. 700-719. If officers were rightly informed—and escaped in the darkness without their route being known.

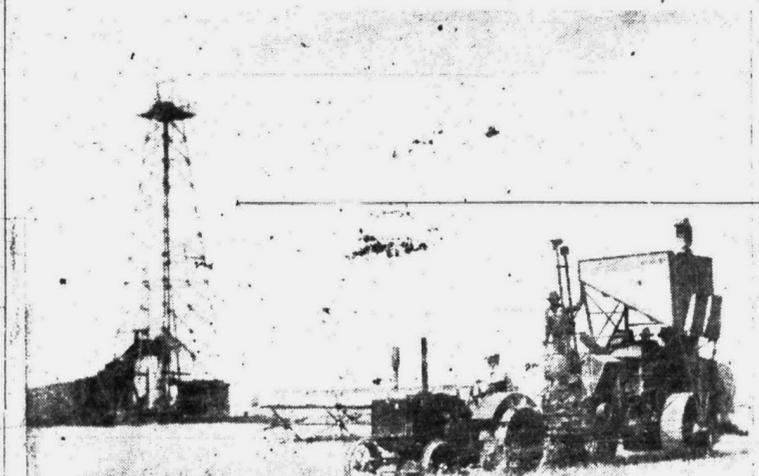

The first man who was met with drawn .45 was W. J. Davenport, employe at the Highway Service station and garage across the street north of the grocery store. He said the bandit car moved in from the east, dropping two men while it was driven on a block or so west by one or two men.

"We got inside; this is a sticking point," said the smaller of the pair, pulling Mr. Davenport through a door.

The employe was made to lie down after being relieved of small change. A small cash register near

Famished Cows Fill Out—Car Is Too Small

COLUMBIA S. C., Sept. 8. (AP)—In moving famished cattle from the drought-stricken west to the south a serious mathematical problem arises as the beasts take on weight and size with each feeding and watering.

Alfred G. Smith, FERA supervisor in charge of the movement, found difficulties popping up after the cattle trains got under way.

"We would start out with 45 to 50 cows in each car," he recalled. "But after we had stopped en route to unload, feed and water them, at least three would not be able to squeeze back into the car. They simply filled out."

And that's why trains arrived at their destinations with a car or two more than they had at the start.

LOCAL SCHOOLS BADLY CROWDED BY NEW PUPILS

Half-Day Attendance For Children Considered

A revision of attendance hours in the primary grades may be necessary to make room for the hundreds of pupils who have pushed enrollment in the Pampa Independent district to a new record. Half-day attendance for the primary pupils is being considered.

Total enrollment for the district Friday had reached 3,346, or nearly 600 above the figure for the same time last term. Enrollment by grades is as follows: First 441; second, 333; third, 384; fourth, 345; fifth, 362; sixth, 367; seventh, 266; eighth, 296; ninth, 198; tenth, 180; eleventh, 191; negro school, 23.

Enrollment by school is as follows: High school, 683; Junior high 591; B. M. Baker, 562; Horace Mann, 499; Sam Houston, 452; Woodrow Wilson, 449; Merten, 87; negro school, 23.

Enrollment by grades in the ward schools: First grade, B. M. Baker, 147; Horace Mann, 105; Sam Houston, 105.

HUGE CROWDS WATCH 'DRACULA' 'HYPNOTIZE' STARS AT THEATER

People enjoy seeing their neighbors impersonate the movie stars. On Friday and last night millions of huge crowds saw the La Nora theater's Hollywood premiere, and acclaimed it as one of the most successful ever produced here. On Friday night, Cuvier street in front of the theater was roped off and the street was literally packed with people. The theater was packed to capacity, and many who were turned away came back last night and filled the street and theater again.

The impersonators rode in shiny new cars from the Tom Rose Ford Motor company to the front of the theater where on Friday night, Gilmore Nutt was master of the introductory "batter."

A good humor before the stars arrived. Then he introduced the impersonators. Music was furnished outside the theater by the high school band, directed by Roy Wallrabenstein.

On the stage Charles Thomas, impersonating Dracula, in an amazing authentic costume and make-up, was master of ceremonies. He was assisted on the stage by Park Brumley who was made up by Mr. Thomas as Frankenstein's monster.

The plot of the stage show was as follows: Dracula, fictional hypnotist, had lured all the movie stars to his castle for the purpose of putting them in "coffins" if when they did their favorite movie act, he Dracula was never pleased—and of course he was never pleased. Frankenstein led each of the stars off the stage after Dracula had hypnotized them.

"The stars" came to the "castle" believing they were going on location to make a famous picture. A spider web was the background for the entrance in the middle of the stage. Black curtains formed the back drop.

Strikers Offer Peace Plan

Gorman Calls for Arbitration, Challenges Mill Owners to Accept It.

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Labor abruptly submitted the first peace proposal of the great textile strike tonight and "challenged" the mill owners to accept it.

With both sides preparing for a grim and crucial test of strength Monday, Francis J. Gorman, national strike leader, called for arbitration, with all mills to be closed during the negotiations, and strikers and employers bound in advance to abide by the result.

His proposal was made in a radio speech.

George A. Sloan, president of the cotton textile institute, and other spokesmen for the industry could not be reached for their response to the Gorman proposal. Meanwhile, it was generally assumed labor's proposal would be unacceptable.

The mill owners, close observers were convinced, some already chary of arbitration, would at least insist upon resuming normal operations through the weeks that the board might find necessary to reach a decision.

Means and methods of arbitrating the dispute were discussed earlier with the board by William Garner.

ARMISTICE SIGNED IN BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS; ARMED FORCES TO STAY AWAY FROM VOTING PLACES

Anxious Parents Of Guardsmen Sound Warning Note

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8. (AP)—Under threats of bloodshed and complete martial law for New Orleans in Tuesday's democratic primary, an armistice to keep all armed forces away from the polls was agreed upon tonight by Mayor T. Semmes, Walmsley and his political adversary, Senator Huey P. Long.

Both Long and Walmsley factions accepted an agreement drawn up for a peaceful election by the executive committee of an organization of 100 citizens who issued a "call to duty" and enlisted recruits as a "non-partisan" group of intervenors in the Long-Walmsley dispute.

Under this agreement, Long's 2,000 state militiamen and Walmsley's 1,500 policemen with their arms will be barred from duty at the polls and the conduct of the election will be placed in the hands of an arbitration committee of five men who will settle all disputes and back up their decisions with a force of 300 armed special police.

The police, militia, deputy sheriffs and all other regular officers will be excluded from the polls election day.

Another section of the agreement provides that each group of opposing candidates must submit to the arbitration committee one qualified elector to serve as an official at each polling place and the committee reserves the right to accept, reject or substitute names submitted.

Both sides agreed to recognize the terms of the recently-granted federal court injunction which prevents the removing of any name from the present voters lists and forbids any person from voting whose name does not appear on the list.

Any person appearing at the polls with arms other than those commissioned by the arbitration committee is subject to arrest and liquor is to be sold within a mile of a polling booth.

Relief Bill Is Sent to Senate

AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Texas house of representatives today completed work on a bill to issue state relief bonds and dispatched it to the senate where final action before the end of next week appeared doubtful.

Both houses adjourned until Monday but it was improbable today would have a quorum until after the state democratic convention at Galveston Tuesday.

The house bill as finally passed bore little resemblance to the original proposal and differed widely from a bill pending in the senate. The final bill it was concluded, will be written by house and senate conference committees.

The state board of control would be the relief agency under the house bill, replacing the Texas relief commission of nine members. The house voted to change the board stated the present group was hampered by political strife and could not cooperate.

Right of Rooster to Crow Upheld

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Sept. 8. (AP)—The court has upheld a rooster's right to crow in this city, irrespective of its effect on a nervous neighbor.

The nervous one appealed to Magistrate S. H. Adams to do something about the cock's noise-making every morning between the hours of 4 and 6.

"My neighbor once had a ban-tan rooster with a crow like a tin whistle," he complained. "I gave him $2 for the rooster, just to get it out of the way. Then he bought a math-sized rooster with a voice like a fog horn. I can't understand it. I'm a nervous man."

Magistrate Adams searched the statute books but failed to find legal grounds for stopping the crowing.

Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. PAMPA'S new advisory housing committee is what the name implies—advisory. Its powers will be not nearly as great as many persons, including several members of the committee, had hoped. The committee will have no money to lend. It cannot make loans. It can recommend after investigating the reputation and financial status of applicants.

This status should be generally understood before any further action is contemplated. Another essential fact is that the federal government has no money to lend for repair and remodeling of houses. Who, then, is to finance the program about which we read so much?

The answer is that local and regional finance companies, mortgage companies, banks, and individuals must provide the money. The federal government will insure against losses up to 20 per cent of the aggregate lent, which should be more than ample protection. Prospective lenders must receive from the government a certificate of insurance before making loans. Full information along this line is being sought.

While the advisory housing committee will require that applicants have good credit records, have houses in their own names, and have the taxes paid up to date, the ultimate lender may require a lien if he deems it expedient. It is considered that an honest man will not object to a lien and that business is sought with no other kind.

The carrying charge on loans is $5 per hundred dollar loan per year. This seems, at first glance, to be a 5 per cent loan. But, since payments are made monthly, reducing the principal, the net interest is nearer 8 or 9 per cent annually, depending on the amount of monthly payments.

This interest, plus the federal insurance, should interest local residents who have money to lend. Formation of a company or corporation seems to be in line with the federal intention. Certainly it would be a patriotic and substantial contribution to Pampa's present and future.

Pampa's housing problem will not, of course, be solved until it is possible to borrow money for new houses. The government has a plan in process of formation which will provide 60 per cent of such loans, but it may not be working before spring. The repair-remodeling loans are needed to provide employment and to make local houses more attractive and inviting.

Pampa needs houses. Lack of them is a detriment which is retarding growth of the city. An Amarilloan who is a close observer of local development charges that Pampans who have money and faith in the community are unpatriotic if they do not build some houses. It is something to think about.

DIVORCED from the politics which clouded it with deceit during the recent campaign, what is the future of the sales tax?

Candidates shunned the subject in horror after James V. Allred called it a "tax on poverty." Actually, we already have many such taxes. It happens that a man with the cigaret habit must have the things even if he has to fast to do it. Yet we have a sales tax on cigarettes. We also have sales taxes on gasoline, yet it is a destitute family, indeed, which does not have some kind of a car. We have sales taxes on school books, electricity, pipelines, oil, natural gas, and telephone service in some service or other.

A uniform, general sales tax would, of course, fall more heavily on the destitute because it would affect food prices, clothing, and medicine. If substituted for the ad valorem tax it would tend to make land a speculative holding and make it more difficult for the poor man to obtain. Yet the fact that city, county, and school taxes are the major ones would tend to offset this tendency. A big argument against the sales tax is what it tends to drive trade to nearby states with no sales tax. Uniformity is needed if the plan is to be widely adopted.

The sales tax is popular with some people in all the states where it has been tried. In fact, its "painlessness," in the sense that you pay in pennies instead of dollars, tends toward extravagance. It is not a cure-all for present tax evils, but it provides much easy revenue in those states like Illinois, where ad valorem taxation had been choked by graft.

Illinois has a state director of finance. He recently wrote that "The state is on a cash basis, paying all bills and taking advantage of discount. Without the tax, a depleted treasury, unpaid bills, and mounting real estate taxes would have thrown the treasury into a mess."

B. C. D. NEWS ABOUT YOUR TOWN AND MINE

(This is another of the series of occasional articles by chairman of B. C. D. committees.)

BY FRANK M. FOSTER,
Chairman Good Will Committee.

The Board of City Development realizes that the permanent development of the city depends to quite an extent upon the development of good will in the trade territory. Friends do business with friends, and every movement which brings about a better relation between the City of Pampa and surrounding territory is solidifying this friendship and making better business conditions.

Therefore, for several years, the good will committee, with the help of the similar committee of the Junior chamber, has devoted considerable time to visiting the out-lying communities, rural schools, and towns, building up a friendship which is resulting to the benefit of all concerned.

The question is sometimes asked: What of Pampa when the oil is gone? While it will be many years before this question can be settled, the Board of City Development, through its various committees, has devoted a great deal of its attention to the answer. In the opinion of these leaders the building up of trade territory and the development of highways to make easy intercommunication, will go a long way towards answering this large number of trips are made, and plans carried out to build up Pampa in the minds of the people of this territory. The first few months of this year, more than a dozen trips have been made into this territory by groups of business men resulting in much good will. For the reasons above stated, the B. C. D. and J. C. C. united in their program of goodwill not only in trips, but in assisting the different towns and communities in their desires, and making Pampa a center of attraction to this territory. Therefore, we have Santa Day, Pre-Centennial, laying of cornerstone of post office, dedication of post office and baseball tournament, and every other attraction that can be worked out. The two organizations go on the plan that friends visit friends. Therefore, we not only plan to visit our neighbors, but we want our neighbors to visit us as frequently as possible. Sometimes we find a business man who says these celebrations do nauff, but it is because they possibly do not get as much business on that day as normally, yet when people come to Pampa, enjoy themselves, see their friends, they are coming back on other occasions. Therefore, the Board of City Development believes that at every opportunity the business men and citizens of Pampa should visit their neighbors, and as many opportunities as possible should be created to invite our neighbors to visit us. Such relations should bring permanency to Pampa.

Strong Revival In Retail Trade Seem Imminent

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—There are definite signs of a "strong revival" of retail buying during the autumn months, said Dun & Bradstreet in their weekly trade review here, "and barring prolonged labor disturbances, the current rise is expected to be strengthened gradually until joined by the forceful momentum of the holiday shopping season."

The survey declared that the moderate expansion of commercial bank loans may be interpreted not only as indicative of plans for extending fall industrial activities beyond earlier estimates, but also as a basis for the better financial position which numerous firms have been able to achieve.

Regarding the week's developments in the retail merchandise fields, the review asserted that higher prices for the major products and the benefit payments under the corn, hog and cotton reduction program "were responsible for the enlarged distribution in the country districts, while the further widening of governmental projects and the termination of the summer vacation period in a number of industries lifted purchasing power in urban sections.

TRAIN COLLIDES WITH SANTA FE ENGINE; 2 DIE

Two Critically Hurt In Kansas Locomotive Runs Wild

WINDHAM, Sept. 8. (AP)—Two men were killed and several others were injured, two critically, in the collision of Santa Fe No. 13, a westbound passenger train, and a locomotive five miles west of Grand Summit, Kans., about 4 o'clock this morning. Sherman Deighty, Chanute, Kans., engineer on the passenger train and father of Mrs. Martin Johnson, wife of the noted explorer, died beneath the cab of his overturned locomotive. J. I. Hanson, Chanute, engineer on the pusher engine, died en route to a hospital here. Roy Diehl and E. A. Taylor, firemen on the locomotive, suffered severe scaldings and internal injuries and physicians at the hospital held little hope for their recovery. S. W. Griffin, Parsons, Kans., the only passenger on the train, suffered a broken arm. He, too, was in a hospital here. Hanson was knocked unconscious at the time of the impact and his locomotive ran wild seven miles down the hill from the point of the crash. Hanson fell from the cab of the engine a mile from the scene of the collision and his locomotive raced on for more miles before it came to a halt.

School Head

Mrs. May Foreman Carr, head of the music school which bears her name, has recently announced the opening of classes in all departments. Mrs. Carr, teacher of piano, is assisted by Mrs. Ethel Powell and Miss Eloise Lane. Mrs. Olive Vincent Powell is to teach speech arts, Emil F. Myers voice, and Miss Hermine Stover violin.

TIGER ISLAND

By GOUVERNEUR MORRIS

SYNOPSIS: Without knowing that Captain Wong Bo and the radio operator Flint plan to scuttle the "Boldero" for the insurance, Harvey Bowers has agreed to accompany a cargo of wild animals to Singapore in place of Angus McLeod, their owner, who has been put ashore at the Dutch port of Sinbao with acute appendicitis. Bowers is a big game hunter; he has engaged as helper Ivy Green, who is professionally an animal trainer, and personally a girl deeply sympathetic with all wild things.

Chapter 10 ANCHOR UP!

Mr. Flint, the "sparks," completely infatuated at first sight, showed Ivy Green the ropes, so far as he knew them. From the first it was obvious that to the birds of the air, the beasts of the field, and the monkeys that dwell in the tree-tops, she was an important personage; one in whom to have trust and confidence. It did seem in the least as if a stronger had come into their midst. Flint could not restrain his wonder. "Old McLeod," he said, "has been with some of them for months; but right off, they seem to know you better than they knew him."

PANHANDLE, Sept. 8.—Judge E. J. Pickens set the sheriff's contest hearing for 10 a. m. Monday, Sept. 10. Contest of the recent run-off primary for sheriff, tax assessor, and collector was filed by O. R. Beddingfield, defeated candidate, against E. B. Harris, present tax assessor, Thursday. Congressman Marvin Jones of the 18th congressional district has received 30,000 letters in regard to 240 postmastercies in his district, his secretaries estimate. A total of 493 students are enrolled in Panhandle schools. A. J. Dauer of White Deer was re-elected president of the Carson County Wheat Production Control association at the annual meeting, August 30. Miss Dalton Burleson, home demonstration agent of Jim Hogg county, has been transferred to Panhandle as Carson county agent to succeed Miss Bessie Lee Sikes who was transferred to Wichita county in an effort to get relief from hay fever.

Little Things in Dress Important

DENTON, Sept. 8.—Just as the "little things in life" mean more to a person, the little accessories we use with our clothes are foremost in importance and often radiate the individual personality. They can either be eye-making or breaking of your ensemble, and you can combine any color combination desired and present "that different" slant to the world in general. Your bag and gloves mean more in the way of accessories than anything else, girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) believe. They tend that smart touch to any costume and make you feel "dressed up." Fall bags in alligator and lizard to match the new shoes are the latest thing, but the conventional smooth grain kid will never cease to be popular. Stuffed shoes in blending tones of kid are shown in the new four-button length, and a new corded silk fabric is being used most effectively for gloves during this in-between season.

SOONER CONGRESSMAN TO LEAD TRI-STATE DELEGATION SOON

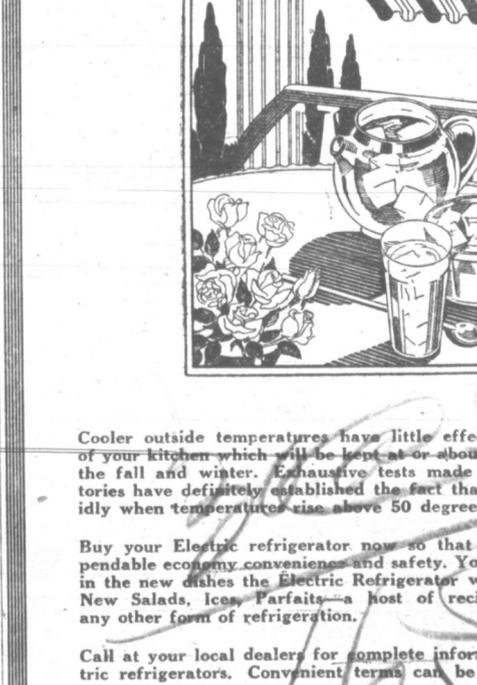

AMARILLO, Sept. 8.—Congressman E. W. Marshall, who is on the road to the governorship of Oklahoma, will be a guest of honor at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, Wednesday, September 19. That date has been designated "Oklahoma day" at the second largest exposition in Texas, which begins Saturday, September 22. Many "other" Oklahoma officials also will attend on that day. One of the features of Oklahoma day will be the A. & M. band from Stillwater, the first time that organization ever has visited the Tri-State fair. Several large delegations from towns surrounding Stillwater will accompany the band. Other cities will send bands and Hollis, Elk City, Sayre, Woodward, Boise City, Erick, Guymon, Shattuck, Goodwell, McAlester and other Oklahoma cities will be represented by delegations or exhibitors or both. Officials of the Western Oklahoma chamber of commerce here recently on business declared interest in the Tri-State fair never was more manifest in that section than this year. With an open-handed, whole-hearted hospitality characteristic of that section, Western Oklahoma has played a prominent part in developing the Tri-State fair from county caliber to one of the largest expositions, where prize products of the entire southwest go on parade. Several Oklahoma expositors on the fair association's board of directors, among them being H. G. Bennett of Stillwater and Frank Sewell of Texhoma. Each year Oklahomans take home their share of cash premiums. Among this year's exhibitors will be L. H. Duncan of Oklahoma City, who is entering competition in the Hereford department, a big feature of this year's fair. Mrs. C. L. McClure of McAlester and W. L. Blizard, A. & M. college, Stillwater, also will be exhibitors in the Hereford department. With the cooperation of the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' association of Kansas City, Mo., the fair this year is offering approximately $5,000 in cash premiums for this department alone. J. O. Davis of Guymon recently made a special trip to Amarillo to make one entry, a prize-winning Jersey bull. Bert Littrell of Elk City, who won the championship honors at the Panhandle Baby Beef Club show in Amarillo early this year, probably will be an exhibitor at the fair. His championship calf was auctioned in Amarillo for $223.25. The Guymon, Okla., team of stock and poultry judges last year won honors at the fair.

fully happy. I am on my way. I am going places. She is moving, isn't she? He referred of course to the progress of the Boldero. She was now going full speed ahead, and would perhaps cover four knots of seawater in the next hour. "Of course she's moving," said Flint with indignation. "But it is best not to speak of such things, because she has an engine whose feelings are easily hurt. When its feelings are hurt, it stops altogether. CHILD STAR IN NEW MOVIE BY PARAMOUNT CO.

COOPER AND LOMBARD STARS IN "NOW AND FOREVER"

A grand acting combination, a thrilling fast-paced and imaginative story, and a human and appealing theme are the elements that Paramount put into the making of "Now and Forever," now at the LaNora theater, and that makes that picture one of the most thoroughly delightful and entertaining hours of film fare that have been offered in a long time.

Romantic Gary Cooper, Carole Lombard and lovely Shirley Temple are the three who play out this tale of a reckless young international crook, his light of love, and the child who changes the whole course of their gay lives.

Shirley Temple Magnificent

It manages to make the bearded and bright-eyed Shirley even more irresistible than she was in "Little Miss Marker," the picture that made the greatest child sensation. One of the highlights of the new film is the scene where she sings "The Grasshopper and the Frog," hopping about to show how the big, bad froggie goes.

Mr. Guy Standing and Charlotte Granville, two of the most competent character players in Hollywood, have important supporting roles.

Cooper plays Shirley's father, reunited with her for the first time since her infancy. While the two are house guests with Carole Lombard at the Paris home of a wealthy English woman (Charlotte Granville) the hostess' jewels are stolen and a police investigation results. Shirley discovers her daddy is the thief and is heart-broken.

Gary Asks Goodnight Kiss

In a scene from Paramount "Now and Forever," now at La Nora theater, Gary Cooper is asking a goodnight kiss from the dimpled Shirley Temple.

Restores Child's Faith

Cooper has given the jewels into the keeping of a suave confidence man. Shamed by his daughter's tears, he regains and restores them and wins back the youngster's faith in a stirring climax.

The story, adapted by Vincent Lawrence and Sylvia Thalberg from an original by Jack Kirland and Melville Baker, is strong in intense human quality, which has been well brought out by the direction of Henry Hathaway.

CHARLIE CHAN IN THRILLER AT REX

Warner Oland, known to moviegoers the world over as the impersonator of that bland Chinese detective, Charlie Chan, once again assumes the role he so intelligently interprets in Fox Film's latest mystery release, "Charlie Chan's Courage," which opens at the Rex theater today. Preview reports from the coast indicate that the film, which was adapted to the screen from Earl Derr Biggers' novel, "The Chinese Parrot," abounds in thrills, blood-chilling mystery and drama. So thoroughly baffling is the film that it would be impossible to expound all of its thrilling details in so limited a space.

Charlie Chan (Warner Oland) is entrusted with a string of valuable pearls to be delivered to the buyer at his ranch at El Dorado. Oland is accompanied by the jeweler's son, Bob Crawford (Donald Woods). Unidentified persons have attempted to learn the identity of the man brought the pearls. When Oland and Woods arrive at the ranch their suspicions are aroused by a series of mysterious events. A Chinese talking parrot screams "Help! Murder!" then dies from poison in his food. That gives Chan an important clue to the mystery's solution. Bloodstains are found, indicating a murder, but Chan can't find the body.

Dog Races Will Be Held In Elk City This Week

ELK CITY, Sept. 8.—Beautiful and dazzlingly different fall and winter fashions will be presented to the crowds at the two-day Fashion derby here Monday and Tuesday nights by models from half a dozen Elk City stores.

Graceful models will take part in the style revue which will be held before the fair grounds grandstand each night during the Fashion derby by which will re-establish dog racing as a popular sport in Elk City.

Eddie Winfield Drowns in Jump

Eddie B. Winfield, 20, said to be the premier junior parachute jumper of the United States, lost his life near Vancouver, Wash., July 22, friends here have been notified. The youthful jumper made his home in Pampa for some time two years ago when he connected with Art Pavay Aviation school.

The young champion fell into the Columbia river and it was several days before the body was recovered. The luckless jumper, leaping from a plane piloted by Jimmie Newgard of Portland, landed within 100 feet of shore. He made no effort to clear himself from his parachute, although he had plenty of time. Fear that Winfield had become ill as he left the plane or had been injured in his dive away from the ship was expressed by friends.

Winfield was a likeable youngster. He was of English birth but made his home at Columbia, Mo. He made a number of parachute jumps while in Pampa and his daring was well known. He was said to have made two leaps to save his life and to have "doubled" for Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in the motion picture entitled "Parachute Jumper."

GRID GALIBER IN SOUTHWEST TO BE BETTER

FOUR NEW COACHES TO MAKE BOW ON MONDAY

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

A distinct improvement in the caliber of Southwest conference football is the attainment coaches will start striving for Monday when 1934 practice begins at Southern Methodist, Arkansas, Texas, Rice, Baylor, Texas Christian and Texas A. & M.

Coaches and Critics frankly admit the quality of conference teams in last year's "no championship" race was undoubtedly lower than previous years. Prospects for developing more dominant backs and vigorous linemen has imbued mentars with determination to develop power 1934 aggregations.

Four new coaches make their bow Monday, L. R. "Dutch" Meyer at Texas Christian; Jimmy Kitts at Rice Institute; Homer Norton at Texas A. & M.; and Jack Chevigny at the University of Texas. Returning coaches include Ray Morrison at Southern Methodist; today's coachings at Baylor and Fred Thomsen at the University of Arkansas.

Last year the Arkansas Razorbacks won four and lost one to finish on top but were denied the championship because an ineligible player participated in a conference game.

An early season vote polled from Texas sports editors made Southern Methodist the consensus favorite. Coach Morrison will have twenty-five lettersmen including nine backs and sixteen linemen. Today he could not understand why his cohorts should be the championship favorites but that he would do his best to not let the sports writers down.

The Texas Christian Frogs, who last year boasted the best full season record with nine victories, two defeats and one tie, face the new campaign with ten lettersmen balanced by a crew of rugged young warriors who promise to accomplish much. Clint Small, big sophomore from Amarillo, however, appears to be the only tackle Chevigny can rely on. The elusive Bohn Hilliard, peerless touchdown king, is back.

The first game, a non-conference affair, will be played at Brownwood Sept. 21 between Texas Christian and Daniel Baker. The first conference tussle will be Oct. 6 at Fort Worth between Arkansas and Texas Christian.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK RECEIVES SIGNS SHOWING THAT DEPOSITS UP TO $5,000 ARE GUARANTEED

The Pampa First National bank received a few days ago from the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation at Washington the official signs which will hang at all receiving windows as visible evidence that the depositors of this institution are insured.

The First National is one of more than 14,000 licensed banks in the country which are receiving these signs. Insured banks are able to offer protection to their depositors up to $5,000. Statistical studies have shown that this maximum fully protects more than 97 per cent of all the depositors in insured banks.

A statement by the Federal Insurance corporation follows:

"The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are insured. Heretofore, although 90 per cent of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no easy means of identifying them.

"If, by any unforeseen circumstances, an insured bank should suspend the insurance corporation would begin paying off the depositors as soon as a receiver was appointed for the closed institution. The depositors would receive their money in a few days instead of waiting months or years as was the case in the former method of liquidation. This is not only a benefit to the depositors, but it saves the community from a terrific economic and social blow. When the depositors receive their insured accounts they assign their claims to the insurance corporation. Thereafter liquidation proceeds on a business-like basis with the maximum chance of the corporation and other creditors being paid in full."

An old mill race is the sole vestige of the once thriving town of Sodom Ky., which was abandoned about 1880.

SLOW BALL HURLERS WILL MEET IN BASEBALL GAME HERE TODAY

STEGMAN WILL BE CHOICE OF ROAD RUNNERS

EL-RENO ICERS HERE TO PLAY 2-GAME SERIES

A pair of slow ball pitchers are scheduled to battle each other at Road Runner park this afternoon when the Pampa Road Runners and the El Reno Icemen meet in the first of a two-game series at 3 o'clock. The second game will be called at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night.

Randy Pete Stegman is scheduled to get the call to go to the mound for the Road Runners this afternoon to oppose Charlie Wood, El Reno slow ball and curve ball artist, who will service with the Pittsburgh Pirates last season. Should Manager Lefty Thomas of the Icemen decide to save Wood, he will probably send the veteran Al Jennings to the mound with Chody, former Western league hurler, as next choice. Manager George Bulla will take the mound for the Road Runners Monday night.

The El Reno club is considered one of the strongest in the state and will be representing the Sooner in an inter-state play-off series. Ends won the state tournament but would not take a chance against the Road Runners.

The Reno club was scheduled to enter the Pampa baseball tournament, but a change in dates forced the club to withdraw. Manager Lefty Thomas is a former big league star and can still take his turn on the mound.

Fight, Baseball And Polo Games Are Rained Out

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—A tropical storm roaring up out of the southeast, today handed knockout blows to a world's title boxing bout, the east-west polo matches, the men's national tennis championships, major league baseball and a host of other small and large sports events scheduled for the eastern area.

The first of the east-west polo matches scheduled for the Meadow Brook club on Long Island, was set over until next Wednesday. The men's tennis championships at Forest hills, already three days behind schedule, were moved up another 28 hours.

The major league baseball games rained out were wiped permanently from the schedule unless it should happen that the National league pennant race narrows down to a point where they might decide the winner, in which case they would be played in this city.

SPLIT WITH A'S

DETROIT, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Tigers rallied to gain an even break with the Athletics in a doubleheader today, winning the second game, 2 to 1, in a brilliantly played mound duel between Tommy Bridges and Meritt (Sugar) Cain after the A's had made it three in a row by winning the opener, 4-3.

As a result of the split, victorious New York cut a half game off Detroit, lead, reducing it to 4-1/2 games.

HARVESTERS HOLD EXES TO ZERO WHILE PUSHING OVER 3 TOUCHDOWNS--OUTLOOK FAIR

COACHES ARE SILENT WITH MINDS ON NEW MEN

After several days of strenuous practice, Coaches Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox sent their Harvesters prospects against a group of former stars on the beautiful new turf at Harvester field Friday afternoon: The 1934 wearers of the green and gold pushed the ball across the goal line three times while keeping the exes from scoring.

The Harvesters showed flashes of promise with the usual early season blunders. The coaches didn't have much to say and refused point blank to discuss their prospects this early in the season. Sideline coaches were also miraculously silent.

It was apparent from the scrimmage that coaches have not decided on a starting lineup. They used the same players in different positions and sent in many substitutes.

Need More Time If the veterans hold up, and the boys who showed such fight and ability during the spring training period come through, the Harvesters should be a fair club by mid-season. Only time will tell, and it is up to the boys themselves, although fans can help by refraining from giving advice, bothering the boys during practice sessions, and telling them how good they are.

Captain Monroe Owens appears to be his old self. He was an all-state end last year and is scheduled to have another great season despite the burden on his shoulders. Freddy Mumford has been on the other end of the line but will be tried out at a tackle position this week, coaches said. Mumford is having tough competition in Walker, Stevenson, Nix, Scott and Harbour.

Green-Sure Starter Big J. R. Green has the left tackle job in the bag but is still working like a Trojan. He is in wonderful condition and should have a big season. Over on the other side of the line, Noblett and Charlie Johnson are having a battle, which will be further complicated this week when Montgomery, center and end prospect, will be given a trial at the tackle assignment along with one or two other boys.

Carl Smith appears to be doing a good job at right guard but has some strong competition. The other guard assignment is wide open with Jack Powell, Parks, Welton, Nolan, and one or two other boys battling for first honors.

Harvey Fants Well Coaches appear to be depending a lot on Bill Hauer, guard last year, to produce at the center position. The big fellow is also doing a good job of punting and may be used in that capacity considerably. Skeet Wise, Montgomery, and Noblett are being groomed at the center position.

Backfield prospects are fair, but injuries have handicapped the work to date. Red Fanning and Chubby Stewart, both fullback candidates, are on the injured list. Fanning broke a rib last week but should be ready for work late this week.

Loy Hamilton, little bundle of T. N. T. who worked at quarterback last season, appears to have the right halfback job on his shoulders, teaming with Bill Dunaway at left. Dunaway is rangy, fairly fast, tricky, and can pass and punt well. All he needs is consistency in his work.

Nash Is Quarter Mayne Nash is being used steadily at quarterback. He has put on weight and is faster than last season. When Nash is on the sidelines, Hamilton takes over the signal calling. Roy Webb, last year with the Gorillas, is the other quarterback prospect.

Hazel Mackie, probably the fastest man on the team despite his size, has been showing up well at fullback since injuries removed Fanning and Stewart. He had previously been working at halfback. Mackie needs a lot of work at the position and will probably see it in the future. Tom Rose has been working at fullback and, although light, has shown plenty of promise.

East-But Light Fleet little backfield men who are doped to see a lot of play this fall include Drake, Ekins, and Brown. Ekins served as a Harvester substitute last season, while Drake and Brown came up from the Gorillas, where they were star performers.

Other squadmen are not far enough advanced in their training to know who is who. There are several of them, however, that need only to show more fight to gain recognition. They have the size and ability but are prone to loaf and take things easy while in the lineup.

The Harvesters will open the season September 21 in Oklahoma City where they meet Coach Jim Lookaby attracted their attention.

"Where is the key?" asked one of the bandits.

Kicks Victim
"And where in hell is the boss?" asked the gunman, kicking Mr. Davenport. He also seized the belt of the prostrate man, jerking it so hard that it parted.

When the coach reached an unpaved strip, one man walked to the front and ordered the driver to stop; then the pair forced the passengers to stand and hold up their hands.

Passengers were W. G. Smith, editor of the Elk City, Okla., Journal; G. W. Morris, Chickasha, Okla., G. W. Canada, of Amarillo; Lowell Windsor, Borger; Miss Lois Overton, Denver, only woman passenger; and Dick Meinershagen, Higginsville, Mo.

Following the robbery the two bandits joined a third companion who had trailed in a light sedan.
Impersonations and impersonations were as follows: Stepp Fetsch, Alvin Rothschild; Zasu Pitts, Faye Compton; Mae West, Greta Garbo; Zasu Pitts, Lorraine Murphy (special act); Ann Harding, Marjorie Buckler; Bing Crosby, Howard Zimmerman; Fay Wray, Christine Cook; Katharine Hepburn, Lorene McClintic; Buck Jones, Paul Minette; Tarzan, Ed Burch; Shirley Temple, Gypsy Ann Stell; her manager, Roy Cone; James Cagney, Dexter Wright; Lupe Velez, Jean Burson; Borger, Joe E. Brown, Lefty Deck; Lawrence Tibbett, Verlon Twaddell; Marlene Dietrich, Mosselle Stewart; Claudette Colbert as Cleopatra, Katherin Sullins; negro slave Alvin Rothschild; Egyptian dancer, Pauline McMahn; Caesar Reg Farless; Our Gang, Charles Duenkel Jr.; Betty Boop, Sue Price; Lois Shank, Billy Hunter, James D. Ceb Jr., Bobby Davis, Billy Water, manager, Roy Cone.

Caliche Haulers Robbed
Meanwhile, the group in the garage had been joined by an elderly man and his son, caliche haulers, who were robbed of their pay. They were herded and held by a tall, slim bandit with blue shirt, black tie and hat, gray trousers, but no coat. He had two pistols. After a few minutes he moved the group toward the front of the building so that he could see the progress of the store robbery.

After warning his victims that there was a machine gunner outside who would riddle them if one tried to make a break, this tall, thin bandit and his partner went out and across toward the store, leaving his companions. Mr. Salonki disregarded the warning. It was said, and ran to his house to telephone officers. At about this same time, the raiders were leaving the store and the town.

Girl Threatened
The Salonki's little girl went into the station during the hold-up, causing two guns to be trained on her, but Mrs. Salonki screamed that it was her daughter and the thug lowered his guns with a growl of relief. Mrs. Salonki's purse was returned to her. The group heard a car start but did not know whether it went east or circled about.

Within a few minutes after the garage-station was held up, a tall man and a short one, both young, walked into Standard Food Market, drew pistols in one instance and a sawed-off automatic shotgun in the other, and quietly but profanely herded the 6 employees and 7 customers toward the rear.

"Be quiet—we're going to hold you up," one of them said.

Holdup Described
All hands were first raised, then lowered. Then all were moved up toward the front while the cash register was looted. Next, the man with the shotgun stayed near the front while the other marched the group to the rear and lined them up against the southeast wall. Mr. Paetchek was robbed of about $55. It was stated, but the pair overlooked about $35 more. J. M. Culwell lost about $7. George Hawthorne, a barber, approached the store.

"I thought it was funny that the store didn't have any one in sight on Saturday night," said Mr. Hawthorne. "Then out of the corner of my eye I saw a fellow who said 'Come on in' and 'Stick 'em up' or something like that. I thought he was joking—I wasn't looking at him at the time. Then he punched me with that gun barrel, knocking me over. I saw what it was then and put up my hands."

He was robbed of about $7 and lined up with the rest. The bandits were calm and took their time, but uttered almost constant threats of death to anyone who disobeyed them. After satisfying themselves that they had gotten all the money obtainable, they warned their victims to stay quiet 30 minutes, then backed through the door and ran to their car.

One of the men in the store was short, weighing about 140 pounds, and blind. He had on a light suit and hat. The other was nearly 6 feet tall but slender. He wore a black sweater and brown trousers. Mr. Hawthorne evidently was recognized by one of the men, who cursed him and said:

"Oh, you're that smart blankety-blank."

"He was clean-shaven and had the actions of one of these college fellows," said Mr. Hawthorne. "He was a smart-alec."

Pampa officers who were quickly notified gave keen attention to descriptions. While the clues were meager, identification of at least two of the bandits will not be difficult, it was believed after a check. Officers throughout this section were alertly watching for the suspects last night.

The bus, an Oklahoma City-Amarillo Greyhound was held up near McLean about 8 o'clock and the driver and six passengers were robbed of all the cash they had. The bandits boarded the bus as passengers at McLean and took seats in the back.

When the coach reached an unpaved strip, one man walked to the front and ordered the driver to stop; then the pair forced the passengers to stand and hold up their hands.

Passengers were W. G. Smith, editor of the Elk City, Okla., Journal; G. W. Morris, Chickasha, Okla., G. W. Canada, of Amarillo; Lowell Windsor, Borger; Miss Lois Overton, Denver, only woman passenger; and Dick Meinershagen, Higginsville, Mo.

Directors were Charles Thomas, Irene Irvine, Beth Blythe, Dick Hughes, Mrs. Cone, Mr. Thomas "made up" Dietrich, Wray, Harding, the monster, Hepburn, Mrs. Reg Farless directed the Cleopatra and Caesar act which was one of the most amusing in the show.

Miss Burson as Lupe Velez sang and danced, "Oh, You Nasty Man!" Ed Burch as Tarzan wore a deer skin and swung across the stage on a rope, yelling like Tarzan. The climax of the show came at all Dracula had his victims at the stars. Then Mae West, bejeweled and slinking, came on the stage, wearing a tiara of sparklers which shed sparks in every direction. That was too much for Dracula and he sank to the floor completely "out."

First prize, a year's pass to the LaMore was won by Miss Faye Compton, Zasu Pitts, second prize, a six-months pass, by Alvin Rothschild as Stepp Fetsch, and third prize, a three-month pass, by Miss Mosselle Stewart as Marlene Dietrich.

The strike leader also said that textile dyers would be held to quit next week unless their employers met union terms.

Wireless Heard
At 3:23 a. m., the wireless crackled through the storm news of the latest tragedy of the seas: "S. O. S. I. S. O. S. I. Morro Castle—Afire 20 miles south of Scotland lighthouse."

Searchlight light is the welcoming beacon for ships plying north to New York on the coastal routes. But this morning, it searched only to mark the spot of death.

Wireless stations notified coast guards. At once the seaboard was awakened for the rescue.

A few seconds later came word of the seriousness of the fire—only a few words, but ominous: "Fire just outside radio room . . ."

The message ended, the radio was gone, the outside world was cut off. Confusing were the accounts on board the flaming ship. Some survivors said there was no disorder, others said the decks were filled with milling, screaming throngs of men, women and children.

Members of the crew in their quarters forward of the library—some of them saying the fire spread first to a fuel tank nearby—scrambled to the decks, smashed in windows of the cabins, hurried to the lifeboats.

The alarm spread. Fire! Fire! That dreaded foe of the seas, more feared than storms.

Passengers clung in nightclothes, some wearing bathrobes, opened their doors, seeking to gain the decks. Many were forced back by the flames that raged through hatchway and passageway. They used the windows.

Some survivors picked up from the dark and churning waters severely criticized the conduct of the crew.

Benjamin Hirsch, Philadelphia Hirschbasher, declared members of the crew "never turned a hand to help us."

Yesterday, the four committee members voted unanimously in all the matters that came before them. They voted to hold the celebration in Palo Duro canyon in the form of an open-air pageant in a natural amphitheater which is not yet built but which the committee will ask the state highway department and the CCC to construct. They authorized Dr. Hill and Sam Braswell, Clarendon editor, to appoint a committee to write a pageant.

It was suggested by Mr. Braswell that L. F. Sheffy of Canyon be named chairman of the pageant committee.

The pageant would deal with Panhandle history, discussions indicated. Mrs. J. W. Harper of Wellington, member of the committee, strongly urged that the battle of Adobe Walls be staged. The Dalhart member, A. C. Johnson, suggested that old Tascosa happenings be reenacted. Other suggestions pertained to the reproductions of purely regional history. July 4, 1935, was suggested as a production date.

The committee tended to emphasize that Texas history events up to 1836 would not be portrayed, and that subjects dealt with in the local Pre-Centennial celebration, which drew the praise and attention of the entire southwest, would not be featured, in the Palo Duro event. The Centennial as conceived by the legislative act, authorizing the celebration of Texas' hundredth birthday, and as interpreted by local producers of the Pre-Centennial, pertains chiefly to historical events in Texas through 1836.

Mr. Braswell lengthily praised Pampa's celebration. The two Panpans present answered questions regarding the 1934 celebration and plans for the events in 1935 and 1936, and assured the committee that Pampa would continue to carry out her responsibility as the Centennial city of the Panhandle by producing another Pre-Centennial next year, and a Centennial in 1936, according to a three-year program voted last spring.
