VOL: 13

GAIL, BORDEN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, May 28th, 1914.

No. 41

To the Voters of Borden County

In offering for the second term as County Judge I am doing so at the request of quite a number of the taxpayers of the county and will say it is my intention to see every voter between now and the July Primary, and will appreciate all that any one sees fit to do in my behalf. In case I should miss any one in my canvass of the county, will say, your support will be appreciated.

Very Respect.,

C. E. Reeder.

Mr. Reeder is an honorable and noteworthy man he has been a citizen of Borden County for a number of years and is liked as a man by all who know him. He is due fair consideration by the voters of Borden County.

To The Voters of Borden County

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of County and District Clerk, of Borden County, and if elected promise to fill the office to the best of my ability, and will ask that you give me due consideration before casting your vote on July 25th.

Coyote wolves do serious harm to melons during the summer months and are hard to poison.

The following method of killing them has been recommended as highly successful by a gentleman who has had much success in dealing with the coyote: Take fat bacon and cut it into cubes about one and one half inches thick, leaving the rind on the back of the meat. Cut the fat partially loose from the rind and place your bait of strychnine next to the rind, well buried in the fat. Place these pieces of meat upon the end of green switches and roast until crisp. Kill a rabbit or take a piece of fresh beef and drag it all around your garden. Then place your bait along the trail left by your drag, leaving them on the sticks on which they were roasted. Push the sticks into the ground so that they will stand up six inches or more above the grass. Be careful not to touch the baits with your hand after they are cooked, and it is best to wear gloves made of undressed sheepskin, or, if such gloves cannot be had conveniently, to tie a piece of sheepskin upon your hands when handling the sticks or bait. It is also well to tie pieces of sheepskin upon your shoes when making the drag, for the coyote is one of the most suspicious animals in the world, and its sense of smell is astonishingly acute. This method is said to be almost infallible and is almost the only way to get the melon eating wolf. —Department of Agriculture.

As a revenue producer, the Texas hog undoubtedly excels every other animal on the globe and enjoys the distinction of being the only animal that can swell a bank account by emptying a swill barrel. He is the favorite of the barnyard, a leader in packing house society and occupies first place in the larder of the consumer. In addition to consuming all the pork we produce, we ship in 100 carloads of pork per week and our annual consumption excels production $24,450,000.

Our Seaports And The Canal

When thinking of the Panama Canal and its attendant benefits, we are reminded that Texas possesses better opporunities for facilitating shipping than any other ports in the world. Probably none other in all the world possess in so phenomenal a degree the natural advantages and latent resources for the development of the great commercial mart as those of Texas.

By patronizing Texas ports, the distance from the center of the United States to the Panama Canal is lessened by more than 700 miles and this material difference is bound to operate to the advantage of the Texas ports.

O. K. Yantis, of the 49 ranch, was in town today.

TEXAS A DOUBLE TRACK STATE.

Commission Pleads for Better Railroad Service.
Some Radical Improvements in Texas Roads are Needed.

Houston, Texas.—The Texas Welfare Commission in its report on Railroads and Railroad Securities makes the following plea for higher standards of service. Those who have suffered inconveniences in travel or have endured delays in movement of freight will readily appreciate the statement of the Commission:

"We are pleased to declare that the time has come in Texas when some of our most important railroads should construct second tracks.

"The passing of Texas out of the list of states characterized as capable of sustaining only single track lines will mark an epoch in her history. That time has come.

"And further the time has come when our public is entitled to and should demand higher standards in railroad service. The day for passenger trains that jugged and bumped along over high and low joint at a leisurely gait of fifteen miles an hour has passed; the day for interminable and unexplained delays while weary people sit in dusty stations hour after hour waiting, wondering and swearing, has passed. The day of lethargic freight handling has passed—Texas dare not content herself with a transportation system characterized by such defects while beyond her boundaries in every direction modern methods of transportation conducted on standards of efficiency, safety and speed such as the untraveled Texan never dreamed of on rates equally favorable to our own are affording to our sister states advantages in life and business that nothing in our situation otherwise will enable us to compete with.

"It is the opinion of your commission that the hour has come when in the name and behalf of Texas and for her prosperity and further progress radical changes for the better must be brought about in our Texas railroad situation. New lines must be constructed; old lines must be improved; additional yards, terminals, sidings and depots must be constructed. Safety signal devices should be installed particularly on side track lines; second track should be built; grades should be revised; wooden bridges should be superseded by steel and masonry; heavier rails should be laid.

THE SPIRIT OF VACATION

Every person who plays a full part in the keen struggle of modern life, deserves a vacation, says Leslie's Weekly.

True. There is neither man nor woman who can keep the twentieth century pace full fifty-two weeks a year. Human endurance, like unto charity attains its limit. Overtaxing the energy of man is correspondingly similar to overloading a machine of delicate, intricate and irreplaceable parts.

Remember the man who sat down on the safety valve?
There was a blow-up. Man is no lesser than his creation, vacation therefore, is his safety valve.

Travel has become the accepted way of spending vacations.
Tourists flock east, west, north, south and Europeward. But to the attraction hunter, to the searcher after rest or pleasure, the hunter for mountain-top breezes or hot springs, the land of Texas holds out glittering, yet honest welcome.

The resources of the state are not alone industry, Texas has fifty-seven varieties of climate, a thousand parks as nature placed them lands abounding with game rivers choked with fish and the thunder of the tide on her boundaries.

Texas land is vacation land of Texas newspapers.

The slogan has been taken up everywhere; it has been boomed from the pulpit, intoned in the chambers of commerce, and constituted the sinew of home and business discussion.

The response has been truly astonishing

In many places the business men have closed their doors, leaving commercial walks wholly deserted to shoulder the hoe and press to the aid of the agriculturist

Bumper crops mean bumper work. The farmer's success means full times, his distress commercial loss and financial stringency. The fact is recognized throughout the state and many hands, unused to the implements of agriculture, are pressing forward to relieve the burden.

There is no space now in Texas for the great army of the unemployed.

GOOD ROADS

PRIMITIVE AND MODERN HIGHWAYS.

Improved public highways are the foremost agents of modern progress and prosperity and are as important to commerce as veins are to the body.

The first roads were those made by animals going to and from water and feed. Many of our present thoroughfares were beaten firm by the bare foot of man and have had little improvement since.

Good roads are just as important as good water and no one is any more opposed to good roads than to good water, but strange to say, good roads are the last thing we build. The farmer must dig his well at his own expense, while his neighbors help him build roads.
