

Twinkles

Careless handling of firearms costs more every year in this country than did the average battle in several wars this country fought...

If you like to walk on country roads, remember that 10,000 persons were hit by cars last year, and 2,250 killed. It is safer to ride a bronco.

As to speeding, maybe you say: "Yes, I'm fast but I'm careful." But how about those days when you are still fast but forget to be careful?

Sometimes we despair of ever being able to teach traffic rules to Skippy, the family pup. He is almost as hard to teach as a human being.

Well, when we begin to treat communists in this country like Soviet Russia treats her critics we'll be getting down to fundamentals in this propaganda business.

Musing of the moment: We live in a marvelous age. Beginning January 1, the Associated Press will transmit news pictures between the larger cities by wire-pictures that, received, can only with difficulty be distinguished from the originals. It is a new process in which a photo-electric cell energized in New York can make a duplicate picture on a sensitized film in San Francisco in 20 minutes.

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar Basin Territory, Dec. 28 (AP)—The Saar's Nazis, led by Hermann Roehling, today counter-attacked the campaign against Hitler in a stormy session of the landersrat—the Saar's "house of representatives."

NO PERSON or agency can disclaim responsibility for traffic problems. Few, if any drivers, go about for a month without breaking some law or ordinance.

WHEN the subject is analyzed, the wonder of it is that there are not more deaths and injuries than there are. Motorists drive too fast in narrow streets, and with headlights either too dim or too bright.

CHILDREN PLAY football in the streets, even downtown. They ride bicycles at night in poorly lighted streets with no lights on the vehicles.

EVERY PERSON who drives a car is a potential killer. The power to kill is in his hands. Speed is not always the measure of danger.

Security Pact Embracing Europe To Be Proposed After Saar Vote

NAZI LEADER IN SAARLAND FLAYS LEAGUE

LEAVES WILD SESSION WHILE HE SHOUTS 'DEUTSCHLAND'

LONDON, Dec. 28 (AP)—An authoritative diplomatic source stated today that Great Britain, with the cooperation of France and Italy, will propose a general security pact embracing almost all the countries of Europe, immediately after the Saar plebiscite.

The suggested pact would be a point pledge and guarantee of the independence of Austria. It also would pledge the signatory nations not to make any moves against one another involving Austria or any other question in which two or more countries had an interest.

Two White Deer Men Injured in Highway Wreck

Bob McNeely and Philip Kotara, both of White Deer, were brought to Pampa hospital this morning following an automobile accident on the highway between Groom and Jericho.

Mr. McNeely received fractured ribs and probable internal injuries and is still in the hospital.

Houston Honors Jesse H. Jones

HOUSTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Jesse H. Jones—the philanthropist, civic leader, Christian gentleman, builder and patriot—today had won the plaudits of Houston's citizenry.

Leaders of all phases of the city's life gathered in the dimly lighted city auditorium last night to unveil his likeness in imperishable bronze. It will be placed in a public building to "inspire future generations."

"I almost feel as if I have been listening to a funeral oration. It seems impossible to believe that all these splendid words of praise could possibly apply to myself. I could not possibly have words to express appropriately the gratitude, the appreciation and feeling of humility that this attitude of my friends in my home town inspires."

FARM CENSUS TO BEGIN ON JAN. 2, 1935

All Farmers Are Urged to Secure Copy of Schedule From District Official.

Farm census takers in Gray county will be Wilbur W. Wilson of McLean and Mrs. F. T. Burchfield of LeFors, it was announced today.

Farm census headquarters for the first census district of Texas have been established at room 334, Federal building, Amarillo, according to an announcement by C. C. Gibson, district census supervisor.

The actual work of taking the census is scheduled to begin January 2, 1935. William L. Austin, director, Bureau of the Census, urges all farmers and ranchers who have not received a sample copy of the schedule to procure one at the earliest possible moment so that they may give careful study to the questions and be prepared to give full and accurate information when the enumerator calls.

The schedule is divided into eight basic sections comprised of one hundred questions covering practically every phase of the agricultural industry.

PAMPA TO BE IN CENTER OF 'TARZAN BELT'

EXTEND SHELTERBELT WESTWARD INTO PANHANDLE

Pampa will be near the center of that portion of the federal shelterbelt of trees which will be extended into the Panhandle.

The west boundary of the belt will enter Texas a few miles west of Hansford and extend south beyond Kress. Then it will turn east to near Quanah, thence north to Oklahoma just east of the Texas line.

The government seeks to lease or buy the land necessary for the experiment, according to S. W. Dillingham of Lincoln, Neb., assistant field agent who is in this section assembling data on land values. Ten or 15 years will be needed to plant all the trees contemplated.

ANNE WILL BE WITNESS FOR PROSECUTION

SHE IS 'IMPORTANT' AND 'WILLING' SAYS SOURCE

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, it was learned from an authoritative source today, will be called as a witness for the prosecution in the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann...

The authority from whom it was learned Mrs. Lindbergh will testify said she will be "an important state witness."

It was not revealed what the nature of her testimony would be. She is to be a "willing" witness, in the words of the source, and will not be subpoenaed.

Cusack Has No Luck in Cuero With Officials

CUERO, Dec. 28 (AP)—Futile efforts of a California officer to serve Mrs. Ann Hamilton Cusack with a writ charging contempt of court today marked the end of the Beverly Hills woman and her estranged husband over the custody of their three small boys.

The contempt writ was issued by a Los Angeles court, Calif., court and charged her with violating an order not to remove the children from Los Angeles county.

Richberg Warns Business U. S. Faces a Revolt

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28 (AP)—Donald Richberg said today that America faces "internal dissension" unless the unemployed millions are given work.

"Voicing a hope that business will do its part," the president's recovery chief said there are "a large number of business men" who "favor the dole because it will cost them less than to give men work."

MORE WEDDINGS OF CHRISTMAS WEEK ARE ANNOUNCED HERE

PAMPANS TAKE BRIDES FROM OTHER CITIES

COUPLES ARRIVE TO MAKE HOMES IN PAMPA

Announcement of several Christmas week weddings has been made as Pampans arrived with brides from other cities. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Kretzmeier, and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Baker are at home here after recent marriages.

Williams-Glasgow.
The marriage of Miss Gertrude Glasgow, daughter of Mrs. Emma Glasgow of Perryton, and W. C. Williams of Pampa was solemnized at the First Christian church parsonage in Perryton on the afternoon of Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are at home now at 401 E. Foster. He is territory salesman for the Gray County creamery, and has been a resident of Pampa since 1926. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Williams, reside at Lubbock.

The bride is a member of a pioneer north plains family, and she was born and reared in Perryton. She was graduated from high school there in 1931.

Kretzmeier-Johnson.
Mr. and Mrs. Waldo O. Kretzmeier arrived in Pampa Monday, after their marriage in Ottawa, Kans., Saturday evening. Mrs. Kretzmeier was Miss Esther Elizabeth Johnson, only daughter of Mrs. Emel Johnson of Ottawa.

The double ring ceremony was read in the bride's home by her uncle, the Rev. A. W. Johnson of Erie, Kans. Roy W. Gustafson of Kansas City, cousin of the bride, sang "When You Are Truly Mine," accompanied by Mrs. A. W. Johnson. The bride wore a dress of white tulle with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Vows were exchanged before a bank of ferns and flowers lighted by white tapers in cathedral standards. The couple stood under an arch of silver with white and silver wedding bells.

The bride wore a dress of white wedding ring satin, floor length and with a court train falling from the waist of a short fitted jacket. Her veil of tulle was held with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

After the ceremony the bride cut the three-tiered wedding cake baked by her cousin, Mrs. Anna Mahon of Yates Center, Kans. Ice cream in heart shape, mint sticks, and coffee in a pink and white color were served with the cake. White tapers tied with pink tulle, and pink and white roses in a crystal bowl decorated the table.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of Ottawa high school, attended Kansas State college at Manhattan for two and a half years, when she was a member of the Clovia sorority, and also attended the Platt school of secretarial training at Manhattan.

She has been employed as telegram typist and phone order clerk in the Kansas City office of Montgomery Ward and Company.

Mr. Kretzmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Kretzmeier of Manhattan, attended Pampa high school, graduated from Manhattan high school and later from the department of architecture of Kansas State college.

He is employed in the district office of the Phillips Petroleum company here. He is a brother of S. W. Kretzmeier and Roy Kretzmeier who live northwest of the city.

The couple drove to Pampa Monday. The bride's traveling gown was a three-piece suit of scotch green diagonal tweed, with full length coat trimmed in raccoon.

Fuller-Parker.
A Christmas Eve wedding was that of Ernest Fuller and Miss Garnet Parker, both of Borger, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Brashears here. Mrs. Brashears is a sister of Mr. Fuller.

The ceremony was read by John S. Mullen, First Christian minister, with only members of the family present.

Mr. Fuller is the only son of Mrs. Bessie E. Stone of Pampa. He is employed as clerk by the Standish Pipe Line company at Whittenberg. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Parker of Woodward, Okla.

Baker-Rainbolt.
The marriage of Miss Nettie Rainbolt and B. L. Baker was solemnized early Sunday morning in the study of First Christian church by the pastor, John S. Mullen. Both have been residents of Pampa for some time, and they are at home here now.

Canadian News
CANADIAN, Dec. 28.—High school alumni enjoyed a banquet last evening, served by women of the Presbyterian church at the W. C. T. U. building.

J. T. Hoy has returned from a Christmas trip to Abilene.

Mrs. Myrtle Mitchell of Wichita, Kans., is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Meeks.

Miss Lorene Rowley, who is in training at St. Anthony's hospital, Amarillo, came in yesterday to attend the high school alumni banquet and dance.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ASKS FOR MORE FUNDS TO CARRY ON WORK

BY DR. JOHN V. BROWN, State Health Officer.

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—During the past two years the amount of work carried out would have been impossible on the appropriation received from the last legislature. The work in sanitation, nursing, and malaria control was made possible by help from GWA funds and the U. S. public health service. Most of this help has now been withdrawn and should be assumed by the state.

The hurricane disaster in the Rio Grande valley was one of the most spectacular health demonstrations that this department was called upon to meet. The work accomplished there in sanitation and disease prevention was highly commended by all who were familiar with it. Later a similar disaster caused the Mexican government to ask assistance of Texas.

The sanitary force is not large enough to inspect all the water and sewage plants in the state each year, about three hundred is all that can be inspected each year. An enormous amount of rural sanitation work was accomplished with GWA labor and supervision furnished by the U. S. public health service. A number of improvements and corrections have been secured and stream pollution reduced. More work is necessary in unincorporated towns and rural areas.

The laboratory of which the Pasteur institute is a part has continued to function and give the citizens of Texas a high class service in treatment of rabies and assistance in the diagnosis of disease. Vaccines are also manufactured and furnished to health officers for the use with indigent patients.

Some of the county health units were forced to stop their work when funds from the federal government were withdrawn. The state should have an appropriation to continue this work.

Five nurses have been employed and their time has been spent in demonstrational work; supervision of public health nursing work; and assistance in prenatal, natal, and postnatal care of mothers and babies. Much interest has been taken in the teaching of health habits to school children.

Eight inspectors have been employed to protect the food and drug supplies of the state. Over 610 tons of food have been destroyed as unfit for human use. These inspectors also help safeguard the purity of the milk produced in the towns which they visit.

A large number of threatened epidemics have been averted in practically every corner of the state. These consist of typhoid fever, typhus fever, smallpox, and scarlet fever. The average person thinks that leptosis has been eradicated but such is not the case.

GUESTS TO BE HONORED AT PARTY TONIGHT

FORMER PAMPANS ARE AMONG HOLIDAY VISITORS

Presence of holiday visitors, as always a reason for added gaiety, is the inspiration for a dance being arranged for this evening by a group of the "young marrieds."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hubbard, former Pampans whose home is now in Houston, are the visitors for whom this event is being given. They are visiting in the homes of friends here for several days.

Hosts for the dance are Messrs. and Mrs. Julian Barrett, Clyde Fatheree, Lynn Boyd, Arthur Swanson. The Pla-Mor floor has been secured for the evening, and the Ralph Emerson orchestra to furnish music.

Another dance, for the college and high school group, is scheduled to-night also. It will follow the De Molay homecoming banquet at the Schneider hotel, honoring members and friends at home from various colleges for the winter vacation.

Several cases of this disease have been located and sent to the national leprosum.

Malaria work was carried on in 186 counties. The labor for ditching, etc., was drawn from the CWA files and with this labor more than 12,000,000 feet of ditches were constructed. In addition much educational work was done for the purpose of teaching physicians malaria microscopy and the general public how to protect themselves against the disease.

Texas was admitted to the birth and death registration area of the United States, and now for the first time in her history accurate comparisons of her health conditions with those of other states is now possible.

We in the state department of health know that everything possible to protect the health of the citizens of Texas is not being done. This is not because of the inability of those responsible for the administration but because of the fact that sufficient money to give adequate service has never been granted this department. We have carried on to the best of our ability and have given large returns by every dollar that the legislature has invested in health appropriations. The present features of our work should be continued and expanded; there should also be provision made to carry on special hygiene, dental hygiene, and other as yet untouched health work.

Relatives From Several Cities Attend Reunion

A happy homecoming for members of two families was enjoyed at Wheeler Christmas day when relatives of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cole gathered in their home.

Forty-eight guests from four counties arrived early, and after exchange of greetings and renewal of acquaintances, were called to the dining room for an elaborate covered dish luncheon. The invocation was given by Allen Meador.

Reminiscences were exchanged in the hours of informal conversation following.

The guest register contained the following names: Mrs. Mamie O. Converse and family, Mrs. C. N. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Harmon, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Meador and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris and family, of Briscoe; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Turcotte and family, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Gillespie and family, Laketon; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burns and family, Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welch and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Welch, Miami; Misses Lorene Meador, Edna Turcotte, Susie Mae Cole; Messrs. Pete Cole, Ralph Converse.

Registering in the afternoon were L. E. Cole and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Cole and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, and Bill Cole, all of Wheeler.

Willis Delivers New Year's Talk At Kiwanis Club

"What of the New Year?" was a subject that was interestingly discussed by Judge Newton Willis before members of the Kiwanis club today. He said that it was no longer a matter of making Pampa one of the best cities in the country, but it was now our job to keep it one of the best.

Herbert Walker made a brief talk and pointed out that Pampa might obtain some government money for construction if a united effort was made by the various organizations of the city to have it spent in Pampa.

"The government will not send us the money without our asking, we will have to go after it with facts and figures," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith played several accordion selections. J. E. Stribling and W. H. Thomas became members of the club today. Visitors included Travis Lively, Earl O'Keefe, Herbert C. Walker, C. A. Clark, F. A. Zimfer, and Jack Conant.

Chas. Woolley was in charge of the program.

W. C. Davis, high school principal at Childress, is visiting in Pampa today.

SOCIAL THIS EVENING AND A PROGRAM SUNDAY WILL HONOR YOUTH OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Students on Holiday To Be Special Guests

Young people of First Baptist church will be entertained this evening at the church, in the first of two special programs honoring college and high school students.

Tonight has been designated as all-church youth social night, and Sunday as student night. Young people will have charge of the evening service Sunday, beginning at 7:30.

The program theme for this evening is, My Gifts, My Gift in Ministry is the topic to be discussed by Ella Faye O'Keefe, a quartet, Maurine Pearce, Erdine Benton, H. E. Pearce, and Tom Rose Jr. will sing. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster will speak on the subject, My Gift in Life.

Group singing and a refreshment hour will close the program, which is to start at 7:30. Every young person of high school and college age in the church is invited.

All members of the church are invited to the Sunday evening service, to hear the talks by young members and special music.

Supper Party Is Given No-Trump Club Christmas

A buffet supper featured the Christmas party given for No-Trump bridge club recently by Miss Bonnie Patton. All appointments were in holiday colors.

The tables were arranged with red and green covers, tallies, and score pads. Green dishes held Christmas candy. For the supper hour, red tapers in green holders lighted the tables.

Meat loaf, chicken salad, potato salad, hot rolls, pickles, olives, tomatoes, cranberry sauce, fruit cake, and punch were served, with poinsettias and holly as plate favors.

From a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, gifts were exchanged by the club "pals." The hostess gave each guest a box of candy.

Special guests were Miss Virginia Dyson and Mrs. Don Sausbury. Other players were Misses Mary Patton, Helen Sullins, Aline Chandler, Ouida and Claudia Brandon, Mildred Plumlee, Cleo Fendrick; Misses Juanita Heagles, J. C. Crawford, and C. H. Dunaway.

Pampa Scouters Make Trips to Towns in Area

Scout Executive C. A. Clark returned late last night from a trip to Wheeler, Shamrock, and Wellington, where Scouting is growing in importance.

He was accompanied by A. L. Patrick, who explained the Cubbing plan. The two men were joined at Wellington last night by A. G. Post, president of the council, J. O. Gillham, Guy E. McTaggart, and Paul Hill.

At Wellington the following district set-up has been perfected with the help of Mr. Clark: District chairman, John Bonner; court of honor, Logan Cummings; finance, Clark Anderson; troop organization, John Forbis; camping, Polly O'Neil; training, Tom Johnston; civic service, Roy Horn; education and publicity, Harry Dudley; health and safety, Dr. Harper; reading, R. F. Newman; rural Scouting, Claude McKinney; Sea Scouting, Ernest Lewis; Cubbing, Ben Hurst.

A new troop was chartered at the Little school community near Wellington. Ten Scouts are registered, with Clyde S. Brown as scoutmaster and J. S. Horton as assistant scoutmaster. In a court of honor, six of these boys advanced to second class rank, as did eight Wellington Scouts. Three boys went to first class rank, one to Star, and one to Life rank.

Cub pack No. 2 was installed at Wellington with 13 boys registered. Ben Hurst is cubmaster. The ages of the boys are 9, 10, and 11.

JERRY PAULK TO PLAY HERE ON SATURDAY

Jerry Paulk and his orchestra will play for the regular Saturday night dance tomorrow night at the New Pla-Mor Dance Palace. The regular admission of 25 cents will be changed with a change of 5 cents this week and is drawing well.

The Paulk orchestra is proving its popularity and a good crowd is expected for the dance tomorrow night. This orchestra from the North has provided interesting and entertaining music for the dances this week and is drawing well.

The Pla-Mor management invites the public to attend this dance and hear the music furnished by these entertainers. Adv.

Related honors are being showered by France on its foremost woman spy of the World war—Martha Richer Compton, shown here addressing an American Legion meeting in Paris. Sacrificing herself as the mistress of a German spy chief, she won his secrets and foiled many foe plans, receiving the Legion of Honor 15 years after the war.

A Catholic as soon as possible in Quebec but was forced to change her plans when it was learned Mr. Georges Gauthier, archbishop co-adjutor of Montreal, is out of town. The archbishop would have to give a special dispensation to allow the marriage to be performed without publication of banns. She also would have to undergo a period of instruction before being admitted to the Catholic church.

The couple announced they hoped to spend the new year in the Catskills, where the bride intended she would begin her instruction before changing her religion.

They will live at Meador's ranch in Texas, also maintaining a home in New York City.

Henry Will Fullington and his sister, Miss Virginia, visited friends yesterday in Lipscomb county.

ANNE GOULD TO LIVE ON TEXAS RANCH AS WIFE

Forsakes Her Career And Weds Actor In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Anne Gould, whose grandfather was Jay Gould, the financier, has given up an art career for marriage and life on a Texas ranch.

In a surprise holiday elopement, she was married yesterday to Frank Spencer Meador, 24-year-old actor of San Saba, Texas, in the town hall at Harrison, N. Y.

Miss Gould's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould, knew nothing of the marriage in advance. Mrs. Gould said she and Mr. Gould were "very pleased."

The newlyweds, who have known each other about a year, decided to be married while they were at a midtown night club for the holiday festivities. They went to Greenwich, Conn., in a taxicab but learned they could not be married immediately because of the state's five-day license law.

Then they drove to Harrison and aroused Justice of the Peace Leo Mintzer who performed the ceremony, using a ring provided by Town Clerk William A. Wilding. The witnesses were in Wilding and Irving Sirkin, driver of their taxi.

The bride, who studied art in Paris, has been modeling for the last two years, but said she would give up her activities in the field of art. She is 21.

Meador has appeared in a number of plays under the name of Michael Spencer. He is a graduate of the University of Texas. His father is Thomas Van Meador, Fort Worth merchant.

After a wedding trip to Canada, on which the couple had last night, they will go to San Saba where the bridegroom has a ranch. They also will maintain a residence in New York.

In 1933, Soviet fliers made Arctic flights covering a distance of 186,000 kilometers. In 1934, this figure reached 450,000 kilometers.

JAPANESE PUT FORWARD LAST PARLEY RUSE

MOVE MADE TO MAKE AMERICANS APPEAR RESPONSIBLE

LONDON, Dec. 28 (AP)—The Japanese today made a surprise move to obtain one more discussion of the naval relationship of Japan, the United States and Great Britain before the United States delegation sails for home.

Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto of Japan requested Admiral William H. Standley to join him late tomorrow in a last talk. The Americans plan to leave tomorrow night.

This unexpected move some American quarters said, may be actuated by a Japanese wish to make it appear that the Washington delegates are leaving when the Japanese are willing to discuss further steps toward a compromise.

The possibility of a naval conference within another year seemed even more remote today than it did a week ago when conversations between the United States, Great Britain and Japan were officially terminated.

Japan's continued demands for equality caused naval and diplomatic quarters to believe no conference will be held in 1935 although one is scheduled.

As a sign of encouragement, however, the British point to the fact that the denunciation of the Washington treaty by Tokyo is not effective until December, 1936, giving two years for the arranging of a conference which might write a new limitation plan satisfactory to the three powers.

Both the British and Japanese delegates had hoped for a conference next spring, but the Americans have made it clear they are not returning to London until the Japanese change their attitude.

Naval observers seemed convinced that talks to be held between the English and Japanese after the Americans have gone were not likely to result in an effective compromise plan.

ALL LINDBERGH RANSOM MONEY ACCOUNTED FOR

Claim Hauptmann Had $49,600 In Two Years

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 28 (AP)—The state will declare at 11 o'clock today that it has accounted for the $49,600 ransom money paid for the Lindbergh kidnap-slaying suspect.

The money will be identified by the state, this official said, as the bulk of the $50,000 ransom which Dr. John F. Condon, Lindbergh intermediary, paid in a Bronx cemetery April 2, 1932.

Efforts to trace the ransom notes were redoubled after Hauptmann's arrest and the state now is reported to have obtained evidence linking all but a few hundred dollars to Hauptmann.

Scores of the auditors, accountants, federal investigators and detectives who ran down the money and checked it are reputedly on the state's witness list.

A single motive—extortion—led to the crime, state officials believe. The new evidence will be used by the state, a member of the prosecuting staff said, in its efforts to prove that Hauptmann alone abducted Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. and collected the ransom and disposed of it himself.

Defense attorneys hold that a "gang" committed the crime and Hauptmann told New York police that the ransom money, about $15,000, found in his garage, was given to him by Isador Fisch, a friend who has since died.

GOING TO IOWA
Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bever left yesterday for Sioux City, Iowa, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Bever has been dispatcher at the Pampa postoffice for the past four years. He will be in the same department at Sioux City. Mr. Bever's place will be taken by C. V. McGowan of McCool Junction, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. McGowan and two children will arrive in Pampa Tuesday.

The United States is improving its dominant position in the British tobacco market, British imports of unmanufactured tobacco from this country in the current year amounting to 74 per cent of total British receipts from all sources.

WORLD NAVAL FUTURE UNDER GLOOMY CLOUD

ENGLAND AND AMERICA STAND FIRM ON TREATY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—A future clouded by uncertainty faced the world's principal navies today as the imperial Japanese government prepared to sound the doom tomorrow of the Washington naval treaty.

Whether storms and rough waters lie ahead in the form of wide open competition in war vessel construction or whether some new move—perhaps an attempt at another accord—is possible were questions engaging the attention of more than one chancellor.

Unsuccessful in her demands for naval equality with the United States and Great Britain, Japan intends to give notice which will mark the end on December 31, 1936, of the naval limitations agreement she signed here with the other powers in 1922 amid wide acclaim.

The fact that after the formal denunciation, the treaty still will have two years to run gives hope to some that another accord may be undertaken before it expires.

If not, there will be no instrument limiting the building of fighting ships after that date. For, on December 31, 1936, there also expires the London naval treaty, a supplementary extension of the Washington agreement.

A formal explanation of Japan's action is expected from Ambassador Saito when he delivers the treaty to Hull tomorrow, his government's announcement of intention to terminate the treaty.

American delegates to the unsuccessful London naval talks will be boarding ship to return home at about the time Saito acts. The accord set up that ratio in terms of capital ships each nation was allowed to have.

Prattling under what Japan called a label of inferiority, Tokyo demanded equality. The American delegate to London, Norman Davis, replied that the treaty provides "defensive equality," its objective.

Santa Fe to Take Special to Dallas Game

A football special train to Dallas, where the Amarillo Sandies and the Corpus Christi Buccaneers will play at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, will leave Amarillo over the Santa Fe at 9 o'clock tonight, arriving in Dallas at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, the local Santa Fe office was informed this morning.

The return will be made at 10 o'clock Saturday night with arrival in Amarillo at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Round trip fare in chair cars will be $5.55. Tourist pullman fare will be $8, with $1.50 extra each way for upper berth.

The train will be held at the Union depot in Dallas and at game time will take passengers to the depot after the game.

Lions, Rotarians To Convene Soon In Joint Session

Pampa Lions and Rotarians will meet in joint session soon. In suggesting the combined meeting, the Rotarians asked that the Lions furnish the program.

Rotarian Travis Lively extended the invitation to the Lions yesterday. Acceptance was immediate.

In a program directed by Dr. R. A. Webb, the Lions made their New Year's resolutions—some serious, some humorous.

Visitors included Walter Clasing of C. L. Pook of Enid, and Felix Corley of Overton.

GARDENS ARE PLANNED
AUSTIN, Dec. 28.—An extensive program of community and home gardens to reach all possible relief roll clients is being planned for 1935. It has been announced by A. C. Allen, director of production for the Texas relief commission.

County administrators have been instructed to submit estimates of seed requirements in order that the commission's purchasing department may ask for bids on grow seed for the entire state. Deliveries to the various counties will be made from this one purchase.

Allen said community gardens will be established as county work relief projects in every county where land is available that will grow vegetables. A large number of clients are expected to be given work on these projects. Produce, however, will become the property of the Texas Relief commission to be distributed either fresh or in canned form.

ALLRED BETTER
WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 28. (AP)—Governor-elect and Mrs. James V. Allred were recovering today from influenza and attending physicians said their illness was "under control." Both will remain in bed throughout the week, however, for needed rest and recuperation.

The public health service originally was financed by a tax of 20 cents a month on seamen employed on American vessels.

TASK OF DIRECT RELIEF WILL BECOME PROVINCE OF STATES

WORK AID TO REPLACE ALL CASH GRANTS

CHANGES TO BE MADE IN GOVERNMENT'S RELIEF POLICY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—The Roosevelt administration, mapping a new approach today to the government's paramount problem, planned three changes of major import in its unemployment relief policies.

1. By February 1, the federal emergency relief administration hopes to have returned all the "unemployables" on its rolls to the care of the states. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins said that, with their dependents, they number about 20 per cent of those on federal relief. The Washington Post estimated the number of "unemployables" and relatives involved at nearly 4,000,000.

2. Hoping that increased activity in private business would diminish the army of jobless, President Roosevelt sought to work out an elastic budget for relief, which would be curtailed with an increase in private employment.

3. There were new indications that President Roosevelt desires to eliminate direct cash grants, so far as that is considered possible, for the employable people on federal relief, and substitute work aid. With the completion of the campaign announced by Hopkins, the task of direct relief would become exclusively the province of the states and local communities. Hopkins, who outlined the plan after a conference at the White House, indicated a hope that the saving to the federal government would be considerable. It probably would not correspond, however, with the cut in the number on federal relief because state expenditures for the purpose would be considered in determining what state contributions to other phases of the relief problem are adequate.

Hopkins disclosed that "unemployables" have for some time been gradually transferred back to the care of the states. He said that before the depression, these people, who include the aged, infirm, and others unable to work, were cared for locally.

Following yesterday's White House conference, in which Secretaries Ickes and Morgenthau and Budget Director Daniel Bell also took part, the entire cabinet and other high officials were expected to gather with the president today to discuss the legislative program.

The extent of the public works appropriation to be sought has yet to be announced. Though Secretary Ickes emphasized that this was "something for the president to announce," he expressed favor again for low cost housing.

While these government discussions about the jobless were going on, the American Federation of Labor announced figures to show further increases in unemployment. Placing the number out of work in industry in November at 1,459,000, it said this was an increase of 420,000 over October and 400,000 over November last year. The rise was laid to "the normal increase in population, which yearly adds more than 400,000 to the army of jobseekers."

FARM CENSUS

Tenth Census Act, approved June 18, 1929, which make it unlawful for any person to refuse to answer questions on the census schedule.
"Sec. 9. That it shall be the duty of all persons over eighteen years of age when requested by the director of the census, or by any supervisor, enumerator, or special agent, or other employee of the census office, acting under the instructions of the said director, to answer correctly to the best of their knowledge, all questions on the census schedule applying to themselves and to the families of which they or their families are the occupants; and any person over eighteen years of age who, under the conditions hereinbefore stated, shall refuse or willfully neglect to answer any of these questions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $100 or be imprisoned not exceeding sixty days, or both, and any such person who shall willfully give answers that are false shall be fined not exceeding $500 or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both."

JOHN "BEAU BRUMMEL" LAW
ST. LOUIS—Police here consider themselves very well dressed gentlemen nowadays. A Hollywood studio has notified the department that its uniforms have been chosen as the snappiest for law and order and that all of the studio's screen policemen will be dressed like the St. Louis cops in the future.

REAL IDENTIFICATION
PITTSBURGH—Fingerprints to identify the maker of a will have made their first appearance in the Pittsburgh register's office. The will, bearing fingerprints as part of the signature, was executed by Rachel Delucia in 1928. It bequeathed to her husband and children real estate in Italy and personal property in Pittsburgh.

TROOPS CLASH AGAIN
ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 28 (AP)—An unconfirmed report received here today said Ethiopian and Italian forces had clashed again today at Quosqubi, 40 miles west of Uauat, with numerous casualties.

New Ford Models Received Here

Shown above is the new Ford V-8 de luxe 3-window coupe, which has just been announced. The new Ford V-8 car has new body lines with sloping rear quarter treatment. Chassis improvements, including moving the engine more than eight inches forward, plus relocation of passenger seats closer to center of the car, provide a more comfortable ride and give greatly increased ease of control. Crankcase ventilation has been added to the Ford V-8 engine. The new models will be shown in Pampa Saturday.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Although not especially active, the stock market pushed up 1 to 3 or more points today in the face of considerable cash selling for income tax records. The Industrials led the advance, but the rails also attracted favorable attention and the utilities held their own. The close was fairly strong. Transfers approximated 1,250,000 shares.

NEW INSTINCT

sources of consciousness. The experimenter was reported by Dr. Oscar Riddle, Dr. Robert W. Bates and Mr. Ernest L. Lahr, of the Carnegie Institution of Washington station for experimental evolution at Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y. Prolactin is a hormone produced by the pituitary gland in the head. It is made by females, including women and its first function is to induce the formation of breast milk. Prolactin and its milk-inducing were discovered by Dr. Riddle two years ago.

which has only advisory privileges. Today's session was the final one before the plebiscite Jan. 13 which will express the Saartites wishes as to whether their future citizenship shall be German, French, or League of Nations.

Nazi speakers in the body demanded to know why the people of Danzig, Memel, Eupen, and Malmedy were not also given the right to express their wishes, insinuating that all the people separated from Germany by the world war would vote for a return to Germany.

"the lack of energy" of the League of Nations governing commission which manages the Saar territory and the president of the governing commission, G. G. Knox, was taken to task for requisitioning buildings for the international troops who are policing the area in connection with the plebiscite.

"Common front" — anti-Nazi — members of the landerrat replied to the Nazi attack with the statement that Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany himself had agreed to the plebiscite and pointed out that the governing commission had erected thousands of buildings in the basin in the fifteen years of its supremacy. The landerrat had met to debate the housing problem, but the plebiscite campaign was the only subject discussed.

Rochling, often called "the brains" of the Nazi party in the Saar and the most prominent industrialist in the area, finally left the meeting. He stalked out holding one hand high in a Nazi salute and shouting "Deutschland! Deutschland! Deutschland!"

The Nazis issued a warning to all persons to hold tight to the voting cards now being issued by the plebiscite commission.

"Beware of attempts to buy or get them away from you," the warning says. "Don't let them out of your hands!"

With the campaign getting hotter, Knox has converted Saarbruecken into a midnight town, ordering the cafes and restaurants to close on the stroke of twelve. Soldiers must be in their bunks by 10 p. m. Military police with white arm bands marked "M. P." are patrolling the principal streets.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1935

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It's a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

INTRODUCED TOMORROW

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People

But most important of all it is designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

- 1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.
- 2. New location of seats, with rear seat moved forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.
- 3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the spring-base to 123 inches.

New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal. A new easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle.

Other 1935 Ford features are Safety Glass throughout in all body types at no extra cost. New welded all-steel bodies. New wider rear doors. (Front doors hinged forward.) New lower double-channel X-type frame. (Makes it easier to get in and out of the car.)

Rich, modern body colors, including a new gun-metal finish of striking beauty on De Luxe body types. Luxurious new upholstery and appointments. New, wider pillowed seats and softer seat cushions. (Front seats are 4 to 5 1/2 inches wider.) Clear-Vision Ventilation, with adjustable cowl ventilator and a windshield that opens. Combination fuel and oil gage and heat indicator on new, modern instrument board of the De Luxe body types.

The spring leaves are tapered for quiet as well as flexibility. Larger tires have a new, wider tread, specially designed for safety and comfort. Bodies are insulated for quiet and temperature.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

POLL ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Not without ample reason, retail merchants of the country are making a study of proposals for unemployment insurance. The move is partly protective and partly academic.

There are strong factions in this country which wish to place the entire cost of such insurance upon employers. Every retail merchant knows that there are many instances in which costs cannot be passed on to the consumers. Prices control sales volume. Volume often determines whether a small merchant can stay in business, or a large one, for that matter.

A number of thoughtful merchants, in spite of the introduction and discussion of proposed laws and reports of state commissions, feel that the public is not yet adequately informed. They urge the appointment of a federal commission to hold open sessions in several cities in each state, believing through such hearings, supplemented by press reports to educate the public in the advantages and difficulties and possible practical accomplishments of unemployment legislation. Despite this opinion, the pressure for prompt action will probably result in early legislation, so we believe it necessary to obtain your conclusions through the medium of the ballots attached.

A nationwide poll of retail merchants will be made January 7 on four proposals. The poll will tend to show how the merchants feel about the soundness of the several plans which are being advanced. Like those for old-age pensions, many of the insurance proposals are uneconomic. The experience of other nations may well be studied. While social legislation is inevitable, headlong rushes into untried schemes could be disastrous, and could injure the persons intended to be helped.

A Washington Daybook

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Tales of woe are again the order of the day as your correspondent makes his rounds.

The recent national slump in employment is reflected here. Large numbers of government employes are contemplating the Christmas season as just a period when they may be out of jobs.

About 600 AAA workers, half of them in Washington, are quite sure about it. Many NRA people feel they're just living on the brink. And the Home Loan boys and girls had the willies ever since Chairman Farley announced no more applications for loans would be received.

AAA folks who are dropped keep telling me they're being let out so the AAA chiefs will have a nice little kettle of patronage to dish out to returning congressmen. This story appeals to my suspicious nature, sharpened by years of experience here. But there's no shred of proof, and those released are only temporary employes who were hired for 60 days. The burden of work at AAA fluctuates.

Far more bizarre is the case of nearly 1000 Alcohol Tax Unit agents, backbone of Secretary Morgenthau's effort to lick the bootlegger, who are working without pay, after failing in the new civil service "horse sense" tests to which they were subjected as a result of Senator McKellar's famous rider designed to chase Republicans out of the service. Morgenthau invited the agents to stay at work on a gamble that a repentant congress jam the old dunce cap down on McKellar's ears by restoring their jobs along with back pay.

Serving without pay, however, isn't anything new in the government service. When you're lucky enough to be hired here, you may go two, three and even four or five weeks without a salary check while your appointment is being made official. In most cases that doesn't happen, but one hears of enough such cases to indicate they're common. Red tape and bungling are chiefly responsible. Quite a few folks, arriving here for work in happy exuberance, have gone hungry before matters were straightened out.

Another hard luck story reaches me from the Federal Housing Administration, where the large mailing staff was moved across the street to the Department of Justice's old criminal identification bureau.

The distance being so short, movers weren't hired and the day shift was assigned to moving files, addressing machines, desks and so on—four men to a 1400-pound file, if we're to believe my informants. Guards in Jim Farley's gorgeous new Post Office Building, which quarters FHA, wouldn't allow files to be taken out on small trucks through the front door, the only one on street level, so the boys had to lift the files down from loading platforms, wheel them over cobblestones and otherwise have a horrible, grunting, groaning time.

Next morning the chief suddenly ordered all women to one end of the room and frantically set the men to work moving the equipment again. The floor of the old building couldn't stand the strain.

As conditions still are, perhaps it would be best to let Chicago's sleeping beauty continue to sleep for a while longer.

The assassination of a high Soviet official embarrasses those who have been blaming the Communists for all such murders.

Scientists have designated the 7-year-old boy prodigy they discovered in New York simply as "K". But if you insist on a first name initial, let it be "O".

The government has sanctioned a sale of minimum prices for bees, so you'll get stung only when a bad bee bites you.

A Cambridge professor says he caught an electric impulse from man's brain. But that's nothing new. How often have you been shocked by what came from other people's brains?

After giving the soldiers and sailors 16 years' time to cool off from the effects of the World War, officials find radical propaganda still being spread in the army and the navy.

TEXAS HISTORY

Brushing Up on Facts
You Ought to Recall

Father Manuel de Silva and Father Joseph Mariano Garza were making their plans for the building of a mission in the Gulf Coast region of Texas. It was the winter of 1790. In spite of the cold rains and quarrelsome tribes and unfavorable reports, the two men had set about to make an inspection tour of that region, in order to convert and civilize the tribes. Father Silva firmly believed that the Karankawas would accept them if they were treated in the right manner, and he was determined to make a success of his work.

Seventy-four years previous to that time, Father Margil de Jesus had come to Texas to spend his life. He was elected president of the first permanent mission of the Province, and his one aim in life was the conversion of the tribes. His final request before his death was that the conversion never be given up. Father Manuel de Silva was a young priest when he came to Texas to work with Father Margil, who was then an old man. Father Manuel caught the spirit of the kindly old Father, and resolved to fulfill his desires. When he was given exclusive control of the mission after 1797, Father Manuel turned his thoughts to a mission for the Gulf Coast tribes. Twenty-three years passed before he had the opportunity to even investigate the territory. Taking Father Garza with him in 1790, he visited the tribes, making friends with some, and gaining no headway with others.

The two fathers established themselves in a presidio near Rosario. Some of the converted Indians assured their friends at Rosario that the Spaniards would help them and be their friends, and soon the Indians were inviting the priests to their own homes, sharing their food and game, proudly displaying their blankets, rugs, and sharp tomahawks. Wherever the missionaries visited the Karankawa camps, they were treated as friends. All too soon the good work was interrupted by the recall of Father Silva to Zacatecas. Cautioning Father Garza time and again to keep on peaceful terms with military authorities, Father Silva regretfully left his 60-year-old charge on E. Ferguson.

The seed of Christianity and civilization had been planted on the Gulf Coast, and it was to grow and improve with the succeeding years. In the meantime, Father Garza kept before his mind constantly the desire to carry on. E. Ferguson, who had made to the dead Father Margil, and continued his work with the Indians.

CAPITAL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—James V. Allred will not relinquish his office of attorney general until a few days before his inauguration as governor.

Ordinarily the attorney general retires January 1, and his successor is sworn in immediately. Allred, however, prefers to maintain a grip on things in an official capacity during the first few days of the legislature in session and will not leave his present office until January 12, three days prior to his inauguration.

The arrangement was worked out with William McCraw, attorney general-elect, who said he wanted to hold on beyond the first of the year because he didn't want to be put to the immediate trouble of moving all papers and data accumulated in his four years at attorney general. He also indicated he wished to be in a position where he could be an official, keep his fingers on the pulse and his eye on legislative and political developments.

In other words he didn't want to be on the outside looking in, even for a few days. One of Allred's chief concerns is the race for the speakership. Allred is supporting R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro against Coke Stevenson of Junction, who is seeking to break a precedent by succeeding himself as speaker.

Allred has a vital interest in the outcome of this contest, believing that election of Calvert would speed to final passage the legislative program he will present. The speakership contest will afford another test, modified to a great extent, between Allred and former Governor James E. Ferguson. Ferguson recently announced he favored re-election of Stevenson as speaker. When Stevenson first sought the office two years ago he was aided by Ferguson and won a close decision over Rep. A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs.

Allred, who has been rushed since his nomination at the second democratic primary, plans to get a brief respite during the Christmas holidays. He will take a short vacation trip with Mrs. Allred and will attend a meeting of the state democratic executive committee in Houston December 22. He also will be a guest at the "Gridiron banquet" of the Houston Salesmanship club that same date.

The governor-elect and his family will spend the holidays at their home in Wichita Falls and plan to return to the capital after the first of the year.

Before he left the capital Allred said he would not announce any additional appointments until after his return to Austin.

Sleeping Malady Vaccine Is Being Made by Doctors

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28 (AP)—A promising start toward vaccination against sleeping sickness was announced at the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

The sleeping sickness vaccine is developing from the same studies in the New York City health department which produced the recently announced vaccine for immunizing children against infantile paralysis.

The new experiment was described briefly by Maurice Brodie, M. D., of the New York health department at a meeting of the medical section of the association. He is working under the direction of William H. Park, M. D.

They took sleeping sickness virus from human patients in the St. Louis outbreak and inoculated mice, thereby producing sleeping sickness in the animals.

As this disease attacks the nerves and the brain, they sought in the brains of the animals for the hoped for vaccine. They took a five per cent solution of the mouse brain and treated them with formalin which killed the sleeping sickness virus.

TEXAN URGES SILVER PLAN TO CONGRESS

Silver Dollar of 1793 Is Advocated by Rep. Dies of Texas at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—A plan to return to the silver dollar of 1793 as a medium of exchange took shape today in the mind of Rep. Dies (D., Texas), who said his silver bill in the last session of congress greatly increased trade with foreign countries in recent months.

"Dies took the position that since most nations had gone off the gold standard, gold could not longer be considered as having any use either as a means of exchange or outright value and would like to have the silver dollar replaced.

"Gold is only merchandise now," he said. "It has ceased to perform any function of money because of world conditions.

"The only time a metal can be made a medium of exchange is when it is in free use and the world's gold is now in the vaults of three nations, none of which are using it for any purpose for which it was created."

Dies expressed the opinion that the return of the silver dollar of 1793 would cause a rise in commodity prices and would afford a common means of international exchange.

"All the countries have plenty of silver and such a step as proposed would not cause an immediate drain on this country's accumulation as would be the case in reference to gold," he added. "The United States has 1-11 of the world's silver but more than half of the world's gold."

Dies cited current figures which showed that the United States foreign trade had increased an average of 60 per cent in recent months. He said trade with Chile had jumped 101 per cent, Mexico 50 per cent, Japan 50.4 per cent and China 68.3 per cent.

"This is because prior to silver's use in international settlements, those countries had nothing with which to pay us for our products," he said. "When we began to accept silver, then they began to do business with us."

DROUGHT HURT TEXAS FISHING FOR TWO YEARS

Supply of Game and Turkeys Seriously Limited

BY WM. J. TUCKER
Executive Secretary, Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—The past fiscal year has been notable in several respects with reference to fish and game. The outstanding fact has been the drought which has seriously limited the food of some of all kinds but quail and turkeys in particular. The drying up of creeks, ponds, and small streams will make fishing poor, except in the larger lakes and rivers, for a couple of years to come.

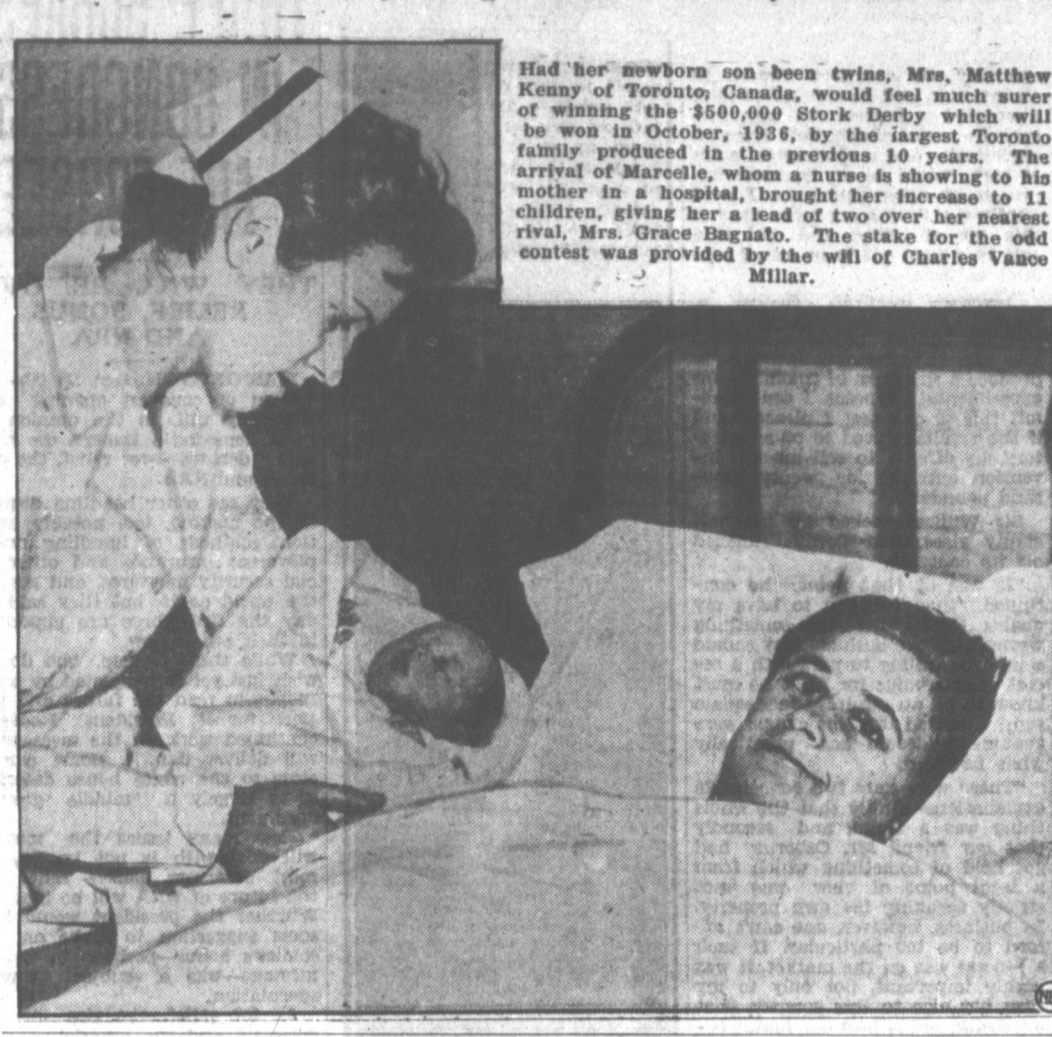

As an example of the irony of fate, right in the face of water scarcity there was a bumper production of fish at all the hatcheries. Fortunately there is never any difficulty about absorbing any quantity of fish production in the larger rivers and lakes, though this must be done at a sacrifice to more uniform distribution.

The department distributed 4,641 quails, 151 turkeys and 433 deer to various parts of the state. This game was sent out in small lots to be distributed by game wardens or by persons interested in stocking depleted places. Bobwhite quails were sent to all parts of the state, but the Gambel or blue quail, which is native only to the west, was sent out only for stocking West Texas areas.

Just at this time the department is making a study of quail foods by having quail crops sent in by game wardens to ascertain what the quail feeds on in its respective areas. Examination of the crops and identification of the seeds, which are the chief diet of the birds, is in the hands of Mr. Valgene Lehmann, instructor of the University of Texas. In this connection it may be said that Mr. Lehmann began such studies last summer while he was engaged in an investigation of the food habits of the armadillo and its alleged propensity of eating quail eggs. In a laboratory test and undoubtedly in dummy quail nests in the field but of the half dozen real quail nests known to have been raided by predators, none were destroyed by armadillos. It seems therefore to be a case of matching wits to see whether the quail is clever enough to so hide its nest that an armadillo will not find it.

For a year or two the department has been trapping bobwhite quails on the King ranch and on Saint Jo Island for restocking purposes. Recently the department leased the game rights of that island, thus the island constituting a kind of game farm. Under such ideal conditions where predators can be controlled it is believed that a maximum production can be had at a minimum cost. The island is a mile or two wide and about 30

Eleventh Baby Step Nearer $500,000 Goal

Had her newborn son been twins, Mrs. Matthew Kenny of Toronto, Canada, would feel much surer of winning the $500,000 Stork Derby which will be won in October, 1935, by the largest Toronto family produced in the previous 10 years. The arrival of Mareille, whom a nurse is showing to his mother in a hospital, brought her increase to 11 children, giving her a lead of two over her nearest rival, Mrs. Grace Bagnato. The stake for the odd contest was provided by the will of Charles Vance Millar.

LEGISLATION TO CURB INFLUX OF LAWYERS INTO STATE, IS URGED

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—Need for strengthening licensing requirements as a result of a "great influx" of lawyers from other states has been suggested by the Texas civil judicial council.

Ascribing the discovery of oil fields as the primary cause of the migration to Texas, the council, in a recent report to the governor and the legislature, recommended that out-of-state lawyers be required, with certain exceptions, to pass the regular Texas bar examination. "Discovery of new oil fields in Texas has brought many lawyers from other states," he report said. "Often they know little or nothing about Texas laws and procedure. Much useless litigation results. This to our minds creates an absolute necessity to have all such lawyers demonstrate their knowledge of Texas procedure, practice, and substantive law for the protection of the public.

"We therefore recommend the repeal of the immigrant attorney privilege. Exception is made, it will be observed, for protection of out-of-state attorneys merely trying cases in Texas with local counsel." The exception in the proposed new law would provide that "A reputable, actually non-resident, and regularly practicing attorney may participate in the trial or hearing of any particular cause in the state wherein a resident practicing attorney of this state is actually employed, associated and personally participating with said non-resident attorney."

The report declared the impression was growing that Texas was "becoming the victim of a great influx of attorneys who, though having practiced in other states, were not of sufficient ability to meet competition there, and have imposed themselves upon the people of this state.

"Some of them may come and doubtless are coming from states that require virtually no prerequisites or examination before admission to the bar," the report said.

21 WOMEN ON HAUPTMANN'S JURY PANEL

Trial To Begin Wednesday; 14 Housewives to Report For Jury Service Then.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 28 (AP)—Twenty-one women must report for the jury that will pass judgment on the results of nearly three years' efforts to solve the Lindbergh kidnap case.

These 21-14 of them housewives will appear with 28 men next Wednesday at the start of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann on a charge of slaying the abducted Lindbergh infant. From them, a dozen jurors will be chosen.

It will be for the dozen to decide whether, as the state charges, it was Hauptmann who carried the baby from his crib, the blustery night of March 1, 1932, to his death.

The baby was never seen alive by any member of the Lindbergh household after he was placed in his crib about 8:30 the night of the kidnaping by Betty Gow, the child's nurse who returned from Scotland Christmas day to testify for the state at Hauptmann's trial.

His little body, with a fractured skull, was found in a shallow grave not far from the Lindbergh Sourdland mountain home May 12, 1932, less than a month after his father

Newspapers to Consider Fight On Labor Issue

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Plans went forward today for a convention of 1,200 of the nation's newspapers to consider the dispute between the San Francisco Call-Bulletin and the National Labor Relations board "as it affects their continuance under the daily newspaper code."

The call for the convention, announced last night by Howard Davis, chairman of the Publishers' Newspaper Guild.

He said a convention of the 1,200 daily newspapers under the code will be called "immediately" to consider the action "as it affects their continuance under the code." He did not announce the time or place of the meeting.

The Call-Bulletin, a Hearst newspaper, was ordered by the Labor Relations board to reemploy Jennings after he charged he was forced to resign because of his activity with the American Newspaper Guild.

It was the possession of some of this ransom money that led to Hauptmann's arrest. He gave one of the ransom bills in payment for gasoline at a New York filling station, and an alert attendant, on the lookout for counterfeit money, made a note of his license number.

After his arrest, police and federal authorities found nearly $15,000 in ransom bills in Hauptmann's Bronx garage, and dismantled the structure in their search for evidence.

They also found on a removable panel in a closet of Hauptmann's home a penciled notation of the 1932 telephone number and street address of Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsis" who negotiated the ransom payment for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

tional Code committee, is the result of action of the Labor Relations board in recommending to NLR that the Call-Bulletin be deprived of its blue eagle for not reinstating Dean S. Jennings, a rewrite man, after the board had ordered it to do so.

Davis, in a statement, expressed the opinion that this action constitutes "an attempt to usurp power over the code for the daily newspaper publishing business."

TEXAN LOOKS CRITICALLY AT VAST PROGRAM

BOTH GOOD AND BAD ARE SAID ABOUT RIVER PLANS

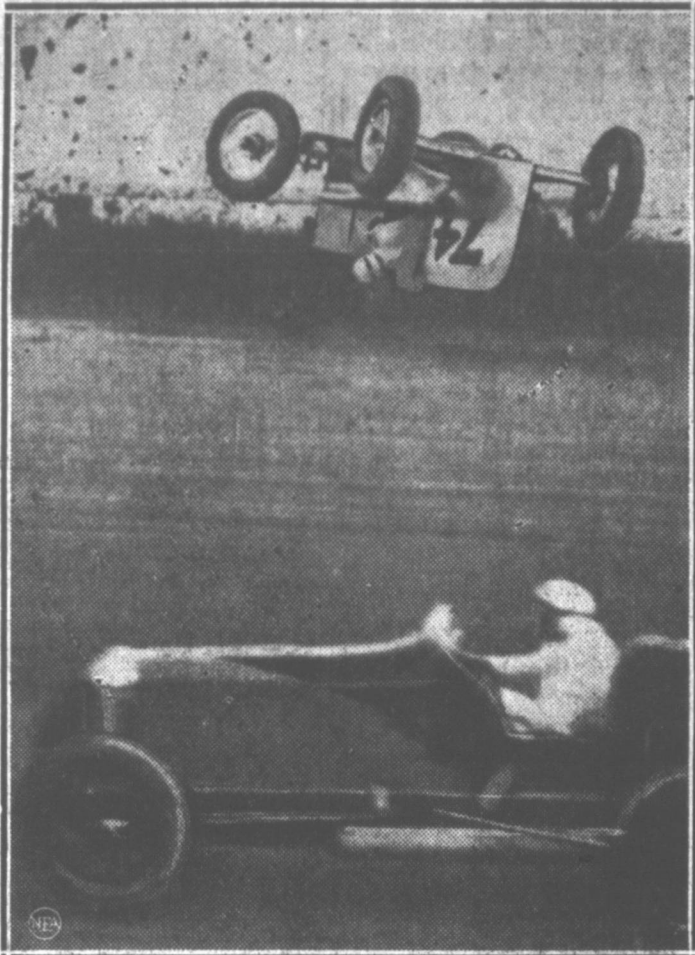

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—Praise, warning and criticism mixed in Capitol Hill's reaction today to a vast program suggested to President Roosevelt as a means of developing Mississippi valley resources.

"Fundamentally sound and essential," was the blessing given by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) to the report of the Mississippi valley committee.

"Interesting and encouraging," said Chairman Wilson (D-La.) of the house flood control committee.

The warning came from Representative Dier (D-Texas) member of the rivers and harbors committee. Commenting on a suggestion that $1,000,000,000 be spent over 20 years on river work, the Texan said he believed in "economically justified river projects," but that the government was "fast

THREE SCRAPS IN CONGRESS ARE FORSEEN

THEY WILL BE OVER RELIEF, BONUS AND NRA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—The session of congress opening next Thursday will, in the opinion of some democratic leaders, see three major debates—over relief, the cash bonus and NRA.

They see other headline disputes in the making, too, notably inflation methods of handling unemployment insurance and other social security measures, and possibly the world court, but they said today the first three are uppermost in their minds now.

While these leaders, who do not wish just yet to be quoted by name, sought to read the future and prepare for it, President Roosevelt continued work on the message he will deliver Jan. 4. Some persons close to the white house described it as largely a "middle ground" document.

How many issues the message will deal with is not known, but most observers believe relief and the future of NRA will be included. Whether the president would have some suggestion to make on the soldier's bonus—perhaps in a later message—was a subject causing speculation.

As for relief, the size of the spending and the question of doing vs. made-work are considered leading problems. In recent months, administration leaders have shown signs of favoring a swing to work relief.

Unofficial talk of possible public works appropriations has ranged as high as $6,000,000,000 but some men prominent in congress say privately they look for a request for not more than $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000—perhaps much less. This, they say, would be a move based on an expectation of better business which would lighten the government's relief load.

CHEAPER BREAD IS FIRST GOAL OF FRENCHMAN

But Big Question Is: 'Will 1935 Bring War?'

BY ALEXANDER H. UHL, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

PARIS, Dec. 28. (AP)—Cheaper bread is the first goal of Premier Pierre Flaudin as restless France looks to the new year with hope of wiping out the memory of a bitter 1934.

Instructions to cut bakers' prices on workmen's grayish bread have been sent prefects throughout the country. The price is now six cents a pound and is expected to be reduced by 3-5 of a cent.

In the hope of preventing war in Europe during 1935 Pierre Laval, foreign minister, is preparing for a trip to Rome, convinced that an agreement with Premier Mussolini is "closely linked to the interests of European peace."

The 1934 surge of confidence in Great Britain and wave of hope in America have still to find their counterparts in France.

The question that obscures everything else in the Frenchman's mind is: "Will 1935 bring war?"

For years in the background of his thoughts has been an ever present fear of a Germany eager for revenge. In 1934, more than ever, war scares were dimmed in his ears. Justified or not, the average Frenchman lives in fear that some day without a word of warning, giant German planes will swoop across the Rhine and bring death and horror to Paris in a sudden devastating raid that will paralyze the brain of France.

What that said, he fears, will strike a mobile shock army of perhaps 300,000 Germans smashing came to a last ditch fight on the bonus still arouses conflicting expressions of opinion. While advocates of immediate payment of the $2,200,000,000 claim enough support to pass it even over a presidential veto, opponents are saying it can be stopped in the senate. Whether a compromise, such as payments to distressed ex-soldiers, may be agreed upon only the future can determine.

their way across the border by way of Belgium or Switzerland, to "disorganize and terrorize the country, wrecking mobilization plans and forcing peace before France can even draw the sword."

A few weeks, that is all Germany counts on to force us to our knees," said Col. Fabry, a former minister of war and World War veteran.

Two great factors combine to make 1935 hold fateful possibilities in Frenchman's minds:

1. The Saar plebiscite, January 13, with its potential political dynamite.
2. Full belief that German rearmament will be completed and that Hitler will be ready to strike.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench, Molly O'Brien, and Jerry Mor-daunt are trying to recover a formula worth millions which has been stolen from Molly by John Osborne, after the death of her father. Osborne has been murdered and Nick just has been acquitted of that deed. But various sinister interests believe Nick has the formula, nevertheless, and these threaten the lives of the three allies. Nick has gone to have lunch with Sir William Avon, the famous chemical engineer.

Chapter 20
SIR WILLIAM'S STORY

"I think we may as well have lunch straight away," Sir William continued. "Personally I prefer a glass of sherry, but perhaps I am a trifle old-fashioned."

"As far as sherry's concerned," I replied, "I suffer from the same misfortune."

"Come along then." He shepherded me through a second door into the adjoining room, where a small round table was already laid for two. In the centre was a silver bowl filled with fragrant red roses, while on a handsome Jacobean side-board stood an encouraging array of bottles and decanters.

I began to feel that notwithstanding his somewhat masterful appearance Sir William and I would get along together excellently.

He talked away pleasantly enough while we were being helped to grouse and French salad, but it was not until the manservant had left us that he made any approach to the subject of his letter. Then, putting down the glass of claret which approaching the limit of expenditures it can properly make."

"Some democrats and republicans, who preferred not to be quoted until they had time for more study, called the proposal "too far-reaching" and "experimental."

Among the report's suggestions were: Unification of the national electricity supply; government supervision over power distribution lines; $100,000,000 for rural electrification; flood control financed in part by local communities where they received the main benefits; construction of perhaps 500 dams; and unification of transportation.

Meanwhile legislators heard with interest that the president was looking into the possibilities of expanding the sales of electrical appliances to consumers by federal assistance in financing.

Word from the white house was that a plan to help private interests in working out a program along lines of the electric home and farm authority of the Tennessee valley authority was under consideration.

this room is to be repeated outside." I contented myself with a nod.

"It was early in June," he began, "that I first got in touch with Osborne. He came to my offices in the City. He described himself as an inventor, and he claimed to have discovered a process for manufacturing a metal which, both from an engineering and a commercial point of view, would be an immense improvement upon aluminum. I need hardly say that I am quite used to this type of visitor, and that as a rule they turn out to be either lunatics or frauds.

"Osborne, however, seemed to come into a different category. He pledged himself, provided I would give him the necessary facilities, to produce a specimen of the metal for experimental purposes. I could submit this to any test I pleased, and if the results proved to be satisfactory, he offered to sell me the invention outright for twenty thousand pounds."

Sir William picked up his half empty glass, and slowly finished off its contents.

"It was at that point," he continued, "that I began to have my doubts. Unless there was something wrong with the business why should a man be willing to part with a secret of this value for what he must know to be an absurdly inadequate sum? Granted that his claims were genuine he could ask practically what he liked.

"There were only two conceivable explanations—firstly that the whole thing was a fraud, and secondly that our friend Mr. Osborne had got hold of something which from a legal point of view was not strictly speaking his own property. In business, however, one can't afford to be too particular. If such a process was on the market, it was highly important, not only to my firm but also to this country, that we should get it into our hands before it was offered to anyone else.

"The matter was far too urgent to hesitate about. I told Osborne that he should have the facilities he wanted, and that if he could substantiate his claim I would not only pay him the twenty thousand pounds he asked, but that as long as we were the sole manufacturers he should be entitled to a fair percentage of the profits.

"Without some such arrangements there was obviously nothing to stop him from going abroad and selling his secret in half a dozen different countries.

"The first step was to find a suitable place in which he could work. As it happens we have an old factory down on the Essex marshes which we used during the war for manufacturing a certain type of high explosive bomb.

"It's a desolate sort of place—just a large empty building on the bank of a creek up behind the Maplin Sands, and three or four miles away from the nearest village.

"Osborne's demands were not very elaborate, however, and since absolute secrecy was the important consideration, decided that the best plan would be to send him down there and fit him up with what he wanted. I made arrangements for him to board with a man and his wife, who have a farm close by.

"He went away the first week in July, and before the end of the month he wrote and informed us that the stuff was ready for inspection."

Mason County Is Alive With Deer

AUSTIN, Dec. 28. (AP)—Texas hunters should experience little difficulty in bagging a deer—provided they go to the right place.

The deer population in certain sections of the state is near the saturation point and a more extensive drive to re-population areas where the animals have been killed out is being planned by the Texas game, fish, and oyster commission.

Record of shooting preserves disclose a total of 4,533 bucks killed last season. "This represents only a small fraction of the total killed in the state," the annual report of the commission stated.

The hunter who tries his luck in Mason county is more likely to meet with success than in any other county. "Mason county is "super-saturated" with the elusive deer. The kill in Mason county averaged a buck for each 150 acres of preserves.

On an average of 500 hunting preserves one buck was killed for each 269 acres.

Not all those who took to the deer country came back with a buck, however. The department sold 83,043 licenses last hunting season, a slight increase over the previous year.

Last year the department transferred 439 deer from the state game preserves to sections where the crop needed replenishing.

Although elated at the increase in hunting licenses the commission referred to the total as a "pitiful" showing when compared with other states. The commission urged enactment of a universal hunting license to increase funds for animal protection and propagation.

Thomas Would Shave 30 Cents Off The Dollar

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—Shaving 30 cents more off the value of the dollar is the goal set by Senator Thomas (D., Okla.) as he prepares for the January 16 conference designed to align various inflationist groups behind a common program.

The aim of the meeting, he said, will be agreement on a proposal to congress "to finish what the president started to do." It was "generally understood," he said, that the president intended to bring the dollar down to the 1926 level. Then he quoted labor department statistics to show the present value, figuring the 1926 dollar at 100 cents, is 130 cents.

He expressed the belief the dollar must be divorced from gold to bring about the desired parity.

"There are several means of getting the necessary currency into circulation to bring about inflation," he said, mentioning the re-financing of farm mortgages and payment of the bonus as possibilities.

He said there were no "sound arguments" against his contention that inflation would spell an immediate rise in commodity prices. The currency, he argued, had been expanded from about $3,500,000,000 in 1912 to more than $6,000,000,000 in 1920 at the end of the administration of President Wilson, a period during which wheat and cotton reached record high levels.
