Twinkles

The Christmas wishes of Skippy, the family pup, are few but continuous—just more to eat, every day despite the advice of his doctor.

Childless boasts that more than a third of downtown cars come from out of the city on Saturdays. You childless folk ought to come up to Pampa and see us some day—any day.

It sounds unreasonable, but we heard a prominent Amarillo man say he wished that Pampa had beaten the Sandles so that the football season would have ended for him on Thanksgiving.

Things are changing so rapidly in this country that we cannot remember the names of the current Public Enemies Nos. 1 to 3, inclusive.

Mrs. Gushaway says that at this time of year it is a fortunate person who lives far from his in-laws. Such a person can mail a Christmas card and let it go at that.

Musing of the moment: Oklahoma City and many other governmental units are using more and more legally trained college men as peace officers. Enforcing the law is more and more complex. Uncle Sam is demonstrating the effectiveness of hiring smart young "untouchables." But don't think these ex-teachers, ex-students, ex-clerks, etc., etc., cannot shoot. Ask the relatives of any of the public enemies.

It behooves local governments to train officers equally well.

Brevitorials

KNOWING that Pampa has no commercial engraving plant, a number of persons have asked how The NEWS managed to print pictures of the nitroglycerin blast scene within a few hours after the unhappy event. No out-of-town mail or bus connections permit such speedy service. Few papers even in the larger cities of Texas print such pictures before the following morning, and the smaller dailies cannot afford such photos even for publication two or three days after big news events.

THE FACT is that The NEWS is one of the two or three newspapers of any size in Texas which are equipped to make their illustrations in such "rush" occasions. The El Paso Times has a one-man engraving plant and the Houston Chronicle a large one, but nearly all the other papers, even the Dallas News, use commercial plants because of the exorbitant expense of making only a few cuts. For this newspaper, the expense is too great for rush work excepting on unusual stories, but readers will be glad to know that they will see many pictures in the future of such events as the nitro blast.

MOST READERS are unfamiliar with how pictures are produced. Some think that it's a simple matter and that all that is needed is the picture. The truth is that there is no branch of newspaper publishing more technical and more difficult than that of producing illustrations from pictures. The picture must be reduced to a zinc or copper facsimile through a series of more than three dozen operations, which demand use of more than thirty chemicals.

PICTURES to be made successfully into "cuts," or zinc facsimiles, must be "contrasty"; that is, with blacks and whites forming outlines which tell the story. The contrast must be technically difficult, from a photographic standpoint because the early morning sun was weak and the hole in the ground had little contrast. A very fast film and fast lens were used. Then it was necessary to develop the film in The NEWS' own laboratory. Films are placed in a developing solution for 5 minutes, "fixed" 15 minutes to prevent light from damaging the image, then ordinarily washed for an hour to make them stain-proof.

Chief of A. P. Praises NEWS For Make-up

The following letter to Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of The NEWS, has been received from Kent Cooper of New York City, general manager of the Associated Press:

"In looking over the exchange, I came across the November 27 issue of the Pampa Daily News. I was struck by the appreciative understanding of the Associated Press, as represented in your excellent display and make-up.

"The Daily NEWS is a fitting example of what you describe in the front page left 'ear' as 'The New Pampa.'"

BOMBS WRECK 4 THEATERS IN NEW ENGLAND

RIVAL UNIONS BLAMED FOR DESTROYING HOUSES

BOSTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—Explosions ripped out the interiors of four moving picture theaters early today and sent the bomb squads of three southern New England police departments into action.

The theaters, which police believed were wrecked by planted bombs, were the Majestic and Tremont, in downtown Boston, the Capitol, in Pawtucket, R. I., and the Capitol, in Lynn, Mass.

Shortly after four o'clock this morning an explosion at the Capitol theater, in Lynn, Mass., wrecked the concrete projection booth and tore great chunks from the walls and ceiling of the auditorium.

A half hour later the front of the Tremont theater, in the center of Boston's downtown shopping area, was blown out. Then, the lounge of the Majestic theater, almost diagonally across Tremont street, was wrecked.

Just before five a. m. a dull roar came from the interior of the Capitol theater, in Lynn, Mass., and investigating officers found the basement rest rooms torn apart.

Deputy Fire Chief William P. Connelly of Pawtucket said there was no doubt but what a bomb had caused the blast there. He found fragments of the missile, he said, and there was a strong odor of explosives in the theater.

Fire Chief Dennis Coughlin, who responded with fire apparatus to the Boston explosions, said those too were the result of carefully planted bombs.

Lynn police were just as certain the explosion there resulted from a time bomb.

The only one of the four theaters in which anyone was working was the Majestic, at Boston. A number of scrubwomen were cleaning the auditorium of the house. They were

JAPSIE LEAVES ON MYSTERIOUS TRIP TO SOUTH

State Is Surprised By New Claim of Defense

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 12. (AP)—The defense hoped today for a state investigation of its claim that the second Lindbergh ransom note was written not by Bruno Richard Hauptmann but by a New Jersey carpenter of known criminal connections.

Edward J. Reilly, chief defense counsel, flung a verbal bombshell into the state's legal camp yesterday by announcing that at least one of the notes received by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh after the kidnap-slaying of the flier's son was written by a member of a gang.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz, chief of the state staff which intends to show that Hauptmann not only kidnaped the child but wrote the notes when the case comes to trial Jan. 2, was noncommittal.

It would like an opportunity to study the newspaper accounts of Mr. Reilly's statement, he said. "Then the state will determine whether to investigate."

D. John F. Japsie, Condon, Lindbergh inquired, by, meanwhile was reported to be travelling south by automobile on a mysterious mission. At Columbia, S. C., he said he was going to conduct a "personal investigation of angles of the case which he declined to discuss further."

Two Jail Birds Furnish Action In Senior Play

Two young men just out of prison resolved to reform and settle down. Luck was with them. Two good jobs fell into their hands. The right girls came along. Everything seemed just right.

Then a diamond disappeared and things began to happen.

This is the situation in "Laugh, Clown," the mystery comedy which will be presented by the high school senior class in the auditorium of the high school next Monday and Tuesday nights under the direction of Ben Cull.

The cast includes 14 prominent seniors. Tickets are on sale by all seniors. Prices are 20 cents and 35 cents. No seats will be reserved.

Proceeds from the play will be used to help pay transportation expenses of the class to Carlsbad canyon next spring.

Coming Friday

LIONS' PREXY ON FIRST TRIP TO THIS CITY

Omaha Attorney Is Active in Many Projects

Decision to make Friday's banquet honoring International President and Mrs. Vincent C. Hassall at a dinner-dance was announced this afternoon, when it was learned that Mrs. Hassall is accompanying her husband to Pampa. Music for the dinner and dance will be furnished by Chick Talbot and his orchestra, who are here from the state of Washington, where they were popular supper club entertainers. Admission will be $1, instead of 75 cents as previously announced, and clubmen of this territory should make reservations by tomorrow night. The $1 will include admission to the dance. Locally, tickets may be purchased from Clarence Kennedy, W. H. Curry, H. Otto Studer, Bob Thompson, C. H. Walker, Ed Damon, or Gilmore N. Nunn. The club must inform Alex Schneider at 10 a. m. Friday as to how many plates must be provided.

Pampa Lions' banquet at the Schneider hotel at 8 o'clock Friday evening will be a ladies' night affair honoring Vincent C. Hassall, president of Lions International, and his party.

Clubmen and their ladies from clubs in many towns of this territory will be here to greet the first Lions chief executive who has been

Carl Baer will be recommended as district deputy grand master.

MIAMI BUSINESS MEN HOSTS TO 1934 FOOTBALL PLAYERS

MIAMI, Dec. 12.—Reminiscences of wartime football players of Miami featured a banquet held at the Servant hotel last night complimenting the Warriors. Business men were the hosts, with Joe J. Coffee as toastmaster. More than 75 persons were present.

Entertainment was furnished by Darryl Kelley of Pampa, former local resident, and Howard Zimmerman of Pampa, who sang popular songs. Boxing exhibitions also were enjoyed. Short talks were made by Gilmore N. Nunn, Olin E. Hinkle, and Philip R. Ford of the Pampa Daily NEWS staff; Jim Collins of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce; Principal M. F. Stephens of Miami high school; Coach Ellis Locke of the Warriors; and various business men.

Jim Saul and "Fatty" Locke were found to be the oldest ex-warriors from date of participation in Miami sports. It was revealed that Coach

Locke will have eleven gridders back next year from the 1934 squad. Of these three have two more years to play and the rest only one.

The team this year played Wheeler, McLean, Clanton, Memphis, LeFors, White Deer, Pampa Gortillas, and Price Memorial college of Amarillo, losing only to McLean, Memphis, and LeFors. With only a squad of 17 boys, Coach Locke and his team were considered to have made a fine record.

Jack Graham, who helped prepare the program, served a delicious steak dinner at the Servant hotel of which he is manager. Many stunts were used and a score of prizes awarded during the evening. During the meal, music was provided by Henry Johnson of Moberly and Dale German of Miami.

The visitors highly complimented the Warriors on their play and the citizens for their support of the team.

22 LISTED AS FIRE VICTIMS IN HOLOCAUST

BODIES BEING REMOVED FROM RUINS OF HOTEL

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 12. (AP)—Five bodies charred beyond recognition, had been taken this afternoon from the ruins of Hotel Kerns where at least 22 persons were killed yesterday in an early morning fire.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 12. (AP)—As fire blackened, ice-shrouded ruins of the Hotel Kerns began giving up their dead today, state police announced that 22 persons had been listed as victims of the flames that trapped the sleeping guests yesterday morning.

The roster of "known dead" in Michigan's most horrible fire tragedy included those whose bodies were taken from the icy waters of the Grand river, into which many terrified guests plunged; those who leaped to the street, dying of injuries, and those definitely reported by relatives to have spent the night in the hotel and to be missing now.

Searchers began digging into the still smoking debris this morning, and a temporary morgue set up near the scene contained the blackened bones of the first victim to be removed.

It could only be conjectured whether the first body taken from the debris was that of one of the victims, but it was found about the place where Monroe was seen by fleeing guests to collapse.

Twelve other bodies of terror-stricken guests, driven by flames to leap to their deaths into the Grand river, were taken today in undertaking establishments. To these known dead were added the names of State Senator John Leidlenn, Saginaw, whose friends were unable to arouse him from sleep when the fire broke out, and of David Monroe, assistant hotel man-

Three Die As FLAMES SWEEP CCC DAM CAMP

Boys Burn to Death Mile From New Norris Dam

NORRIS, Tenn., Dec. 12. (AP)—Three CCC boys were burned to death today when a fire, whipped by a stiff breeze, destroyed three pine-board barracks of their camp, a mile from the government's new Norris dam.

Captain John W. O'Daniel, commander of 20 CCC camps in the Norris area, said the dead had been identified as:

Elwood Kramer, 20, Nutley, N. J.; Charles De Palma, 21, East Orange, N. J.; Jacob Klein, 20, Bronx, New York City.

Four CCC workers were slightly burned as they fled from their barracks. The camp, located on a hillside and a high wind carried the fire through it almost before the officers could give the alarm. The damage was estimated at about $12,000.

The lieutenant said the identification of the dead was not positive but that pending a check he believed the bodies recovered from the ruins were those of the three missing CCC boys.

Camp records were destroyed in the fire. Lieut. Finger said, however, that the unit, commanded by Captain Douglas S. Mapes, of Buffalo, N. Y., was made up of residents of New York and New Jersey.

Lieut. Finger said the fire started shortly after midnight in barracks number 1, which contains headquarters for officers. He said he did not know the cause, but that the first alarm was when some of the boys woke up and yelled "fire."

Immediately the officers aroused and hurried to spread the alarm. The boys rushed out into the night, not having time to put on clothes or rescue their personal effects. All their clothes except those they wore were burned.

J. P. Johnson of Borger was a visitor in Pampa Tuesday.

2 Alleged Death Guns Are Introduced In Huey Trial, Despite Defense Objection

Tiny But Mighty

EL PASO, Dec. 12. (AP)—With startling suddenness the defense rested today in the trial of Arthur C. Wilson, accused of the nude murder of Mrs. Irene DeBolt, without placing the former Ohio steel chemist on the witness stand.

Depositions of character witnesses for Wilson were introduced in his brief defense.

"I am not afraid to take the stand," Wilson had said just before court convened, but the decision to rest without any testimony from him was reached in a conference with his counsel.

The case is expected to be concluded today, although attorneys probably will not begin their closing arguments until the afternoon.

While the jury was absent, Dodson moved for a directed verdict of acquittal but Judge W. D. Howe overruled it.

The state, through testimony of its witnesses, sought to show that Wilson and Mrs. DeBolt left Cleveland around Labor day in 1933, bringing them to El Paso and vicinity, and then working in the discovery of Mrs. DeBolt's nude body near Van Horn, Tex.

Then it contended Wilson drove by automobile from Pecos, Texas, to Tulsa, Okla., where he sold the car and changed to an airplane.

The chain of evidence then picked him up in another link at Port of Spain, Trinidad, off the South American coast, as Robert Jones, seaman, and returned him to the El Paso jail in a motor car.

Another link was the registration at two camp grounds under the names of "S. Harrison and wife" and "David Manners and wife," and a note left at a third camp ground where Wilson allegedly gave the name of "George H. Harrison." Writing experts have declared the handwriting in the notes and the two registrations was the same.

The state did not press introduction of one bit of its testimony having to do with the discovery of an automatic pistol strapped to the steering post of the motor car.

It was a dispute over possession of the gun, according to Wilson's purported confession, that led him to defend his life at the expense of the woman's, who was strangled.

Scouts to Hold Giant Circus in City Next Spring

As Boy Scout goals for 1934 are being reached and new ones set up for 1935, officials of the Adobe Walls council are pointing with pride to achievements of this year.

In many organizations across Pampa's pre-Centennial, Borger's birthday, Guyton's Old Settlers' Reunion, Legion Convention, and many other assemblies, the boys have shown the value of their training.

Scouts are called upon to gather up articles in clothing drives, to direct traffic, and to perform similar tasks at many events.

At the same time, they have been busy in their own programs. There have been held 30 courts of honor. One hundred twenty-two boys were advanced to second class rank, 58 to first class, 33 to Star rank, 8 to Life rank, 5 to Eagle Scouts, and 4 to the status of holding Eagle palms. A total of 342 merit badges have been awarded to date on subjects ranging from agriculture to zoology.

Plans are being started by Bill Glazup of Pampa, court of honor chairman, for a great Scout circus, or fair, next spring here. One thousand Scouts will demonstrate their work, advance in rank, and entertain their parents and friends. This is expected to be the biggest event in the history of the council.

TESTIMONY IN NUDE SLAYING QUICKLY ENDS

DEFENSE RESTS WITH RATHER STARTLING SUDDENNESS

Jury Removed While Deputy Quotes Defendant

CANADIAN, Dec. 12. (AP)—The two guns which the state alleges were used to kill A. P. (Ace) Borger were offered in evidence today in the trial of Arthur Huey, who is charged with the slaying.

Dan Hardee, Hutchinson county sheriff, testified one gun contained four exploded and two unexploded shells and the other five exploded and one unexploded shells.

Huey's defense failed to prevent the introduction of five bullets from Borger postoffice, where the founder of that Panhandle oil city was killed last Aug. 31. Two bullets removed from Borger's body also were exhibited.

The defense did, however, succeed in having the jury removed when Deputy Sheriff G. L. Warren was testifying that Huey told a surety company representative, after the shooting, to notify the company "I have been checked short in my office."

Huey is and was at the time of the killing tax collector of Hutchinson county. Frequent defense objections interspersed Warren's testimony.

Dr. Larry Hansen of Borger declared he heard eight or nine shots while sitting in his office across the street from the postoffice. He said he saw flashes of the last three or four shots and that the flashes were in a perpendicular direction.

The witness said an examination of Borger's body revealed two wounds in front and five in the back, any one of which would have been fatal.

The state previously had built its case around the testimony of three "eye witnesses. Two of them said they saw Huey firing at Borger's house. The other testified he saw Huey enter the postoffice with his hand inside his coat, scuffle with Borger, and later fire four shots into Borger's back.

LATE NEWS

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12. (AP)—Bobby Cruikshank, Richmond, Va., posted a snappy 72, one over par, against a cold strong wind today for an early 54-hole lead of 226 in the $12,500 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament. He had a 73-71 for a 36-hole score of 154.

WACO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Gerald Johnson, parolee convict, was convicted of robbery with firearms and sentenced to death today by a jury which heard him tried for robbing J. B. Hurch, a salesman, of $30 and an automobile.

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Cadet Charles Fridge, 24, was killed and Cadet Anthony G. Eubanks, escaped injury by a parachute jump when a Kelly Field bomber crashed 18 miles northeast of Borger today. The cadets were on a cross-country flight from San Antonio to Dallas when one of the motors quit and the plane crashed on the Hogg ranch.

J. P. Dunigan was an Amarillo visitor yesterday.

Damage to string beans and squash was estimated at 75 per cent. Tomatoes, planted chiefly in high price land, fared better, and the new planting of potatoes escaped serious injury.

Growers said the extent of citrus injury could not be definitely determined until the sun warms the trees.

PLAN WILL BE SUBMITTED TO NEW CONGRESS

BONUS TROUBLES DUE TO UNEQUAL WAGES, FDR SAYS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—A committee headed by Bernard M. Baruch of New York, chairman of the war industries board during the world war, was named today by President Roosevelt to formulate a program "to take the profits out of war."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—Enactment of legislation intended to take the profit out of war is planned for this session of President Roosevelt.

He made known today at his semi-weekly press conference that he had called a meeting for this afternoon to discuss a program with Bernard Baruch, world war chairman of the war industries board; Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator and Baruch's war time assistant, and high government officials.

At the same time, the president directed that General Douglas MacArthur be reappointed temporarily as army chief of staff to aid in formulating the legislation.

President Roosevelt emphasized he hoped a war never would come again and that he was taking up the question now because he said there was no war cloud on the horizon.

In addition to the financial side, Mr. Roosevelt wants to give deeper consideration to the personnel phase and the economic angles.

He believes that as a result of the hurried organization of the government for the world war, maladjustments resulted which had a deep bearing on American life in the post-war period.

For instance, Mr. Roosevelt said there were overproduction, enormous personal profits, and a complete lack of coordination of the economic system.

Hey, California, Florida Freeze Closes Schools!

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12. (AP)—The Miami weather bureau reported an all-time December low here at 7:15 a. m. today with a reading of 30.6.

Richard W. Gray, federal meteorologist, said the lowest previously recorded temperature for December, since opening of the bureau in 1895, was 32. At the airport station, 14 miles from the city, the mercurials fell to 25.

Children enjoyed an unexpected, but shivering holiday, as Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles M. Fisher ordered closing of all buildings except two at Miami Beach equipped with steam heat installations.

Thin sheets of ice formed on exposed pans of water, in bird baths and gutter pools in metropolitan Miami, the weatherman said.

Unofficial reports from the Redland district, large farming and growing area south of Miami, gave varying losses from the freezing weather.

Damage to string beans and squash was estimated at 75 per cent. Tomatoes, planted chiefly in high price land, fared better, and the new planting of potatoes escaped serious injury.

Growers said the extent of citrus injury could not be definitely determined until the sun warms the trees.

10 SHOPPING DAYS 'TILL CHRISTMAS

"Smith, you're not getting results. I want a Santa Claus with some fight in him!"

EL PROGRESSO CLUB GIVES ANNUAL DINNER OF CHRISTMAS SEASON

MUSIC AND TABLEAU SCENES PRESENT REVERENT VERSION OF THE CHRISTMAS STORY

El Progresso club welcomed guests to a white and silver banquet table last evening at the annual Christmas program of this, Pampa's pioneer woman's club, at the Schneider hotel.

Christmas in Song and Story was the program theme, with Mrs. J. M. Dodson, as leader and Mrs. Charles Thut club president, as toastmistress. Presidents of other women's clubs here were guests of the club, and each member invited a guest also.

A nativity scene, with replica of manger and figures, centered the speakers' table. Other tables had figures of the Three Wise Men grouped in the centerpieces. Place favors were tiny cradles with figures of the Christ Child. White and silver folders held the hand-written programs.

Candles Light Tables.
Sparkling artificial snow was sprinkled on the white covered tables, lighted only by white tapers in silver holders as the guests entered the dining room. After they were seated, lights flashed on in gay lanterns hung overhead, and a silver star above the head table.

With Mrs. W. R. Ewing at the piano, the group sang Holy Night before the invocation by Mrs. W. M. Craven. Mrs. Thut stressed the reverent note of the program as she spoke the club's welcome and introduced guests.

Miss Willie Reece Taylor and Roy Wallbratenstein played two violin duets, Christmas in Sicily, and an unusual arrangement of the beloved Holy Night, accompanied by Mrs. May Foreman Carr.

Christmas Pictures.
A series of tableaux told the Christmas story at the program climax, staged with colored lights and an accompaniment of familiar Christmas music. With Mrs. Carson Loftus as the reader, successive scenes depicted the prophecy, the announcement, the nativity, and finally a reproduction of the famous painting, Sistine Madonna.

Singers were Emmitt Smith, H. E. Pearce, Verlon Twaddell, and C. O. Huber, who each sang solos, and who joined in quartet numbers. Mrs. Carr was the accompanist. Eden Guill directed the tableaux, with Mrs. Bob McCoy, Mrs. Ethel Powell, Carson Loftus, Dick Hughes, John Ketter, Paul Schneider, Otto Rice, and Clinton Evans as participants. Mrs. Walter Coffey was in charge of make-up. The curtains were drawn by Misses Harriet Hunkpiller and Dorothy Brumley, in Oriental costume.

Misses C. T. Hunkpiller and Loftus assisted Mrs. Dodson in arranging and directing this annual program, and Mrs. J. M. McDonald was in charge of decorations.

Guests and Members.
Guests who represented other clubs of the city were Mrs. T. F. Morton, Council of Clubs; Mrs. C. A. Clark, A. A. U. W.; Mrs. Mack Graham, Arno Art; Mrs. Plin Jordan, Business and Professional Women; Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, Civic Culture; Miss Willie Isbell, Junior Civic Culture; Miss Fannie May, Delta Kappa Gamma; Mrs. J. P. Wehrung, Garden Club; Mrs. Roy Tinsley, Child Study Club; Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Treble Clef club; Miss Marie Tinsley, Junior Treble Clef; Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Twentieth Century; Mrs. Marvin Lewis, Twentieth Century Culture; Mrs. Roy Bourland, Twentieth Century Forum; Mrs. Carr, Philharmonic Choir.

Other guests were Misses W. R. Frazee, Lance Webb, Tom Rose, M. E. Hollen, Lewis Goodrich, Shamrock, Charles Thomas, L. L. McCole, Gaston Foote, J. B. Masasa, A. Cole, Jess Day, L. Burney Shell, Misses Taylor and Sue Vinson; Mr. Wallbratenstein. Club members present were Misses John Andrews, George Briggs, C. P. Buckley, Craven, Dodson, Ewing, T. D. Hobart, Hunkpiller, Lee Ledrick, P. C. Ledrick, Loftus, McDonald, Dave Pope, W. Purviance, S. G. Surratt, Thut, Charles Todd Jr., George Walstad.

LATE BOOK IS REVIEWED BY CULTURE CLUB

Mmes. F. E. Leech And T. F. Morton On Program

The stories in "They Had Their Hour," recent book by Marquis James, were told by Mrs. F. E. Leech and Mrs. T. F. Morton yesterday at a meeting of Twentieth Century Culture club.

Mrs. Joe Burrow was hostess at her home, and served a salad course to members after the interesting program and a business meeting. New books were named by members in answer to roll call, then the reviews of James' book were presented. Each speaker tells of some person famous for a single incident. The life of the author, and his works, notably his biography of Sam Houston, The Raven, were discussed.

YEARBOOKS OF BPW CLUB ARE GIVEN WOMEN

GUEST SPEAKER HEARD AND CHRISTMAS PLANS MADE

New green and gold yearbooks were distributed to Business and Professional Women's club members at the business meeting in city club rooms last evening. Miss Mildred Overall was in charge of the books this year.

Glady Robinson, emblem chairman, directed the program yesterday. She spoke briefly, explaining the need of a club emblem, and then introduced Bert Curry, former Lions club president. He discussed the meaning of an emblem to a club, and spoke of work that can be accomplished in Pampa by the united efforts of civic clubs, men's and women's. Expansion of housing facilities he named as an immediate problem that can be met through cooperation of the various organizations.

Plans were completed for the club's Christmas party, scheduled for next Tuesday. Each member is to bring a gift for her "pal," and also a 10-cent toy to be given the welfare association for distribution to unfortunate children on Christmas.

Mary Skaggs was a club guest, and members present were Louise Whitfield, Katie Beverly, Mabel Gee, Thelma Jackson, Marie Bastin, Dee Polson, LaVena Woolley, LaVerne Ballard, Mildred Overall, Clara Lee Shewmaker, Grace Pool, Christine Smith, Gladys Robinson, and Irene Irvine.

Dagmar's Adventures in Santa Claus Land

BY SIGRID ARNE

SYNOPSIS: Santa and his toyshop are all upset because the holly trees have lost their red berries, and there will be no Christmas wreaths. They all try to make other kinds of wreaths, including Dagmar, Santa's favorite doll. But they fail.

Chapter III DAGMAR FINDS A CELE

The night Santa sent the whole toyshop to bed after they failed to make pretty Christmas wreaths, there was just one toy that stayed awake. It was Dagmar, the little doll which the wise fairy made.

She lay in her bed with a pink blanket pulled to her nose, and looked out the window at the stars gleaming in the sky. The moon passed by and reached a moonbeam in and tickled her under the chin. She giggled and got up and ran to the window ledge to watch him traveling across the sky. His light made everything as white as day outside. Then Dagmar saw the queerest sight. Right under the nearest holly tree she saw two little fat moles with aprons on, laughing so hard they had to hold their stomachs with their paws. They kicked around among the holly berries lying on the ground, and then they stopped and laughed some more. Silently and quickly Dagmar tiptoed to the bed where the captain of the tin soldiers slept. His sword and high fur hat lay on the chair next to his bed. She squeezed his hand.

"Wake up," she whispered, "come and see something."

Sleepily he got out of bed, snapped on his sword and ran after her to the window. The two dolls looked so mournful. The moles were still laughing. "M-m—" said the soldier captain very wisely, "I began to understand."

"You mean the moles had something to do with ruining the holly trees?" asked Dagmar. Because that's what she had thought. "That's right," said the soldier

PROGRAMS AND GIFTS PLANNED TO GIVE CHEER

FORUM PLANS PROGRAM FOR WELFARE BOARD TREE

Christmas programs were presented in three clubs yesterday, as final meetings before the holidays were conducted. Second meetings in December are being omitted by most study clubs.

Gifts for a basket to be sent a needy family were collected by Child Study club; a program for the welfare board's annual Christmas tree was planned by Twentieth Century Forum, and plans for their Christmas carol singing were continued by Twentieth Century club, as each devoted a part of the meeting time to a discussion of holiday activities.

Christmas Poems Read. Mrs. Frank McAfee was hostess to Child Study club at the home of Mrs. A. B. McAfee in rooms beautifully decorated for the season. She was also program leader.

Two poems, Little Gray Cottage, Beaumont, and The Beautiful Gift, Crowell, were read by Mrs. A. N. Dilley Jr. Mrs. McAfee told of Christmas in other lands, and Miss Nell Bever told Van Dyke's famous Christmas story, The Other Wise Man. All members joined in singing.

About 300 persons were served at the chili supper sponsored by Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association at the school building last evening, and a good sum was added to the treasury from proceeds. It will be used to purchase records for music memory and choral contests in the school, and also to supply needs of the year. The school's Kid band played while the supper was being served. A regular meeting of the association is scheduled for 3 o'clock tomorrow. The main talk will be by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, First Baptist minister, on Spiritual Training in the Home. Band numbers will open the program, followed by a Christmas play by pupils of Miss Willie Jo Priest, and a vocal solo by Mrs. C. O. Huber.

Newlyweds Are Surprised With Shower Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kretzmeier, recently married, were entertained with a surprise shower Tuesday evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baer as joint hosts. Gifts were presented, and inspected, then games of bridge and a plate lunch were enjoyed. Present were the honorees and Messrs. and Mrs. Chris Baer, Fred Sloan, Bill Beard, Stanley Kretzmeier, Roy Woodfill, Harry Hoare, Mrs. Fred Herndon of Perryton, and the hosts. Gifts were sent by Messrs. and Mrs. Louie Behrends, Otto Behrends, and Harold Baer.

Board of Horace Mann P-TA Meets

Curtains for the auditorium at Horace Mann school will be purchased and made soon, members of a committee reported to the Parent-Teachers association's executive board in a meeting yesterday. Mrs. R. A. Meyers, E. D. Scott, and E. C. Surba are members of the committee which will purchase material and make the curtains. Other business was discussed with Mrs. A. L. Burge presiding. The board's decisions will be reported to the regular association meeting tomorrow.

Board members present were Mrs. Burge, Mrs. J. L. Lester, secretary; Mrs. A. C. Houchin, treasurer; Mrs. C. D. Hunter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. Pollock, historian; Miss Josephine Thomas, principal; Mrs. K. W. Bunch, chairman of publications; Mrs. A. E. Smith, chairman of hospitality; Mrs. J. M. Turner, chairman of publicity.

Bubble Contests, Games Entertain At Birthday Party

Blowing soap bubbles entertained little friends of Claude Eugene Robinson at McLean Friday, when he gave a party celebrating his birthday. Each child hunted the colorful apron to wear during the bubble blowing contest. The aprons and balloons were given as favors. Various games were enjoyed, and snapshots of the group were taken. The birthday cake, white decorated with a large pink figure five, and five pink candles, was served with ice cream. Billie Charles Easley found the wedding ring, signifying early marriage. Bonnie Mae Ruff the thimble for the spinster, and Cecil James Robinson the button for the bachelor. Other guests were Janice Stafford, Wayne Stafford, Jay Frank Ruff, Teddy Ruff, and the honoree, Mmes. A. E. Stafford, C. M. Eadey, and MacRuff assisted his mother, Mrs. Claude M. Robinson. Gifts were sent by Mmes. Luther McCormick, Gordon Stafford, and Lewis Robinson.

Miss Fox Gives Party for Club

A Christmas party for December 20 was planned by members of Eight Hearts bridge club yesterday afternoon. It will be at the home of Mrs. Ruy Morgan. Miss Vera Fox was hostess to the two tables of players yesterday, and stressed Christmas colors in the appointments. Mrs. O. M. Prignore received the high score award, Mrs. Frank Board second high, and Mrs. Morgan consolation. Other guests were Mmes. Dallas Culwell, Carlton Nance, Raburn Burke, and Fred Bozeman.

The name of Rosa Belle Reed was omitted in the Little Harvester yesterday from a list of high school students whose grades the past six weeks were all above 90, Principal L. L. Sone said today. One group of students in high school was also mentioned for an unusual scholastic achievement—having no failure in any subject during the six weeks. This group is the first period bookkeeping class and home room pupils of Miss Zenobia McFarlin. Most of its members are juniors and seniors. I. Hall of Skellytown was a Pampa visitor Monday.

CORSICANA AND GREENVILLE HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN BATTLES THIS WEEK-END

LIONS' BACK WILL BE OUT WITH INJURY

ALL BUT FOUR LEAGUE TEAMS WILL BE ELIMINATED

By Bill Lparker, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Friday and Saturday and the going will clang for another round of eliminations in the Texas Intercollegiate league championship football race. Two games Friday and two Saturday will erase four of the remaining survivors.

Outstanding will be the Corsicana and Greenville game Friday at Greenville. Corsicana won the 1932 state championship and Greenville won last season's crown.

Here is the pre-game outlook: Greenville: Will miss services of Red Chavez, hard running fullback who sustained an arm injury in last week's Longview game. Chavez will be replaced by Bill Easter, 170-pounder and heaviest back on the squad whose hard driving and fine blocking made him stand out against Longview. With the exception of Chavez, the Lions are in good physical condition and anxious to meet the team that defeated them by a lone 20-yard penetration in a scoreless 1932 battle at Corsicana. Coach Henry Frnka has instructed his cohorts in passing, indicating an aerial offense against Corsicans.

Corsicana: The Bengals are in fair condition. Some of the boys are nursing slight injuries. Coach Johnny Pierce says he will have a full strength lineup available Friday. Corsicana plans a wide open running and aerial attack.

In the other Friday meet, Houston Jeff Davis will meet Corpus Christi as Corpus Christi. Here is the way they stack up:

Jeff Davis: With the exception of Clyde Sureau, tackle, the Panthers are in top condition. Clyde is suffering from a severe cold that made him miss Monday classes. The Panthers plan a clever ground attack, featuring Milton Chance and Johnny Nelson, both reliable ball carriers, and a strong passing attack, with Nelson throwing. Nelson also is being groomed to do all of Jeff Davis' punting. The Panthers will strive to get Chance loose on broken-field runs. He was the leading scorer among Houston players this season. He weighs 160 pounds, is speedy and a hard driver.

Corpus Christi: The Buccaneers have waded through several hard scrimmages this week and are set for Jeff Davis. They have stressed defense in hope of stopping Jeff Davis' running and passing attack. Due to a muddy field the Buccaneers played straight football last week against San Antonio Thomas Jefferson, but this week they plan to use their versatile attack. Dave Edwards, end, is the only team member injured but he probably will be ready to go against the Panthers. Saturday's schedule will feature the Amarillo and Big Spring game at Lubbock. Here is how they line up:

Big Spring: The Steers are spending most of their time perfecting a defense designed to stop Amarillo's mighty running attack. The Steers came out of last week's El Paso battle in good physical condition. Outstanding on the Big Spring team is Ollie Cordill, powerhouse line smasher and clever pass receiver. His wide end plays best at El Paso. Big Spring will have a weight advantage in the backfield. Coach Oble Bristow expects to have a substantial running and tricky passing attack polished and ready for Amarillo.

Amarillo: The Sandies are in excellent physical and mental condition. They appear to be eager for the game. Glenn Buffin, injured backfield rammer who did not play last week against Ranger, is improving fast and may play against Big Spring. Coach Blair Cherry plans to use the hard-running Harlow and the rugged, fast-charging line to wear down the opposition and then strike with surprise maneuvers.

At Fort Worth Saturday it will be Masonic Home and Dallas Highland Park, and here is the way they look on the pre-game slate:

Masonic Home: The Masons came out of last week's Dallas Tech game in good shape. Herbert Sebright, speedy back, is nursing a hip injury but will be ready. Coach Russell is working hard on a defense against Highland Park's Notre Dame shift. Russell, however, is not neglecting his tricky offense. Indications are the Masons will cut loose with everything in an effort to run up a safe score as quickly as possible. Russell is drilling several passers and claims his team will go to the air if its running game is stopped.

Highland Park: There is an air of optimism in the Highlanders' camp as they prepare for a running

AMARILLO TO HAVE ONLY TWO REGULARS BACK NEXT SEASON

Coaches Blair Cherry and Howard Lynch of the Amarillo high school football team will face another big task next season when they try to build a team around two returning first string players. They took the same number at the beginning of this season and are merrily on their way toward a state championship, with one of the best teams in the history of the school.

There will be, however, 13 squad-back next season to give the coaches more to work on than they had at the opening of the 1934 season. Of the 15 returning players, two will be backfield men and the rest linemen. It looks like another great Amarillo line in 1935. A number of backfield prospects are coming up from the Yarnigans—so watch Amarillo again next year.

The two returning veterans will be Cochrane, stellar end, and Ricketts, huge guard. Cochrane weighs 160 pounds this season and Ricketts tips the scales at better than 190 pounds.

Other returning squadmen will be Hargrove, back; Powell, center; Canon, end; Coffman, back; Rains, end; Wright, tackle; Storch, end; Godwin, center; Gambin, guard; Kilman, guard; Bailey, tackle; Crawford, tackle; Garre, guard.

Amarillo's 1934 line has been largely responsible for the team being undefeated and untied in 11 games played this season. The Sandies have some great backs, but even with lesser stars in the backfield, would have gone far this year. The Sandies have what it takes to win ball games—a great line, a well-balanced backfield, powerful line plays, and a dangerous passing attack.

Amarillo will meet Big Spring in a quarter-final game in Lubbock Saturday.

IT'S NONE OF YOUR DARNED BUSINESS, AVERS MORRISON

DALLAS, Dec. 12. (AP)—Coach Ray Morrison of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs says it's "none of your darned business" whether he will take over the coaching reins being relinquished by Don McGugin at Vanderbilt, his alma mater.

And that's all he says. He professes not to hear questions. Morrison committed himself that far last night at a football banquet for his team.

He was on the program for a speech about his 16 years as coach here and the audience expected to hear something about whether there would be more than 16 of the years. Morrison was just back from Nashville where he talked things over with Vanderbilt officials.

"Well, let's get one thing over with," he said.

The audience leaned forward eagerly as he went on: "A professor stopped me on the campus this afternoon and asked me if I was going to Vanderbilt. I told him it was none of his darned business."

The audience grinned. There wasn't anything else to do. Morrison's team was among the earliest to adopt the co-captain plan, but the 1934 squad went one better than that just before the banquet. They elected three captains.

So close was the balloting that Morrison would not order another vote. He settled it himself by declaring Harry Shuford, fullback, elected backfield captain; J. C. (Ironman) Wiesel, guard, line captain; and Maco Stewart end captain.

It will be up to the boys, Morrison said, to decide whether they will share responsibility or take it in rotation.

Dutra Favored In Miami Meet

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12. (AP)—Two strokes out in front, Olin Dutra, national open champion, led a reduced field of 137 golfers toward the 54th hole of the $12,500 Miami-Biltmore tournament today an odds-on favorite to collect the first prize of $1,200.

Foring ahead from the start with a sub-par 70 on the first round, the California professional conquered a strong cold wind to post a 74 for the second 18-hole round and to romp home ahead of the 40 pros in the first division and the 85 of the second division who reached the 36th hole in 158 or better to qualify. Twelve amateurs also remained in the running to compete for the Col. Henry L. Doherthy trophy.

The first division is composed of low scoring golfers in the last P. G. A. and national open tournaments, while those in the second group, which has a top prize of $1,000, are the pros who seldom compete in major tournaments.

Pressing Dutra at the half way mark for the title now held by Willie MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., was Abe Eplnosa of Chicago, 1934 Midwestern open champion, who had a 146.

and passing game they hope will elicit for enough touchdowns to beat Masonic Home. Coaches Charlie Trigg and Redman Hume are hopeful that Charlie Busacker, their star punter, will kick as well this week as last when his punting played a vital part in defeating Vernon. Ollie Crenshaw, fullback, is suffering from a cold and has a minor injury. Billy Bob Thomasson suffered a leg injury in the Vernon game but is rapidly recovering and will be ready for the game.

WARDEN FAVORS EMASCULATION OF CRIMINALS

Repeaters Should Be Unsexed, Avers Ohioan

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12. (AP)—Warden Preston E. Thomas of Ohio penitentiary to whom many a convict's parting has been an evocative not goodbye—declared himself today in favor of a law to provide emasculation for "repeaters."

"Make emasculation a law and you will reduce crime by half," he asserted.

Although not personally sponsoring such a law, the warden said he would be eager to give a legislative committee the benefit of his 20 years' experience as a prisonkeeper. He suggested, too, that the most convincing evidence to be arrayed for his proposal would come from Ohio's convicts themselves.

Although the warden said the emasculation law would be designed purely as a deterrent to crime, he added it would have merit as a eugenic measure as a method of sterilization. Sterilization proposals as a means of combatting crime have cropped up periodically and fruitlessly in the Ohio legislature. Never, however, has it considered emasculation of criminals. "If a committee wants to come over here it ought to interview the prisoners. They'll admit emasculation will stop them. I haven't talked to one yet who has not said he wouldn't be here if we had an emasculation law," said Warden Thomas.

"I would give every prisoner leaving the prison a copy of the law at the door. The law, to be effective, should have wide publicity.

"It would be the same as the electric chair which keeps many a robber from carrying a gun."

The warden said the ordinary sterilization would only turn out men dangerous to society. Emasculation would unsex criminals but still leave them able to earn their livings, he explained.

The veteran prisonkeeper declared that 75 per cent of all robberies are committed on account of women.

Fifty thousand persons turned out to see two university baseball teams play in Tokyo—Waseda university defeating Keio university, 1 to 0.

Bob Campbell transacted business in Miami Monday.

LOCAL GAGERS GO TO MIAMI NEXT FRIDAY

FIVE TEAMS TO ENTER BIG BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Harvester and Harvesterette basketball teams are working long and hard in preparation for the opening of the 1934 basketball season. Five Pampa teams will go Miami Friday and Saturday when a big basketball tournament will be held.

Because of the large number of entries, one game eliminations will be the rule. A consolation bracket will be played with the one game elimination rule also being in effect. Coach Mitchell of the Harvesters will not divide his squad until after the tournament. He had intended selecting his most promising material for a Harvester squad this week, but changed his mind when the invitation to participate in the tournament was received.

Coach Mitchell will have charge of the Harvester "A" team. Coach E. N. Demard will take the Harvester "B" team to the tournament. Coach Harry Kelley will be at the helm of the Harvester "C" team.

Miss Kathleen Milam will take her two girls' teams to the event. The Harvesterette teams have each played a game this season, both winning from Berger teams by close scores.

If more entries are received in Miami before the deadline tonight, it may be that the tournament will have to open Thursday afternoon or night so that the big event will close Saturday night. Three loving cups will be awarded.

WOMAN APPOINTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today announced the appointment of Mrs. May Yelderman of Austin as assistant attorney general. Mrs. Yelderman is the second woman to serve as an assistant attorney general under Allred. Miss Pauline Frank has been an assistant for the past two years.

Jim Bausch, Kansas university's great athlete, is now employed in the internal revenue collection bureau in Washington.

Amarillo Man Dies Suddenly At San Saba

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 12. (AP)—The body of James M. Baldridge, Amarillo oil operator, early today was taken overland to Ennis, his former home, for burial. He died at a hotel here last night of a heart attack.

Baldridge and his partner, Hal C. Peck, had been here several days on business. He was the son of J. Baldridge, prominent banker and land owner of Ennis and had been in the oil business for a number of years. He was about 45 years old. The widow and a son, Freeman, are among the survivors.

Sloane Stables Beat Whitney's

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. (AP)—For the third time in eleven years, the famous Whitney Eton Blue and Brown capped silks fail to head the list of money-winning owners on the American turf. Supplanted in 1925 by Samuel Riddle, and in 1928 by E. B. McLean, the colors, carried by some of the country's greatest thoroughbreds, yielded to the powerful Brookmeade stable of Mrs. Dodge Sloane, headed by Cavalcade. With Cavalcade, the leading money-winning horse of the year, earning $11,235, the well-balanced stable, trained by "Whitney" Bob Smith, won a total of $251,138. C. V. Whitney, with Equipoise on the sidelines most of the season, had one of the leanest years in the 30-year history of his silks. He won only $168,580 and just managed to beat out J. E. Widener, who with Chance Sun, taking the $100,000 Belmont Purshy and Peace Chance the $50,000 Belmont stakes, pocketed $160,125.

STROKE TAKES FAMED CATTLE AND OIL MAN

W. T. WAGGONER DIES IN FORT WORTH TUESDAY

FORT WORTH, Dec. 12. (AP)—W. T. Waggoner, who built one of the biggest fortunes west of the Mississippi river on cattle and oil, is dead at the age of 52.

The capitalist and horse racing enthusiast died at his home here last night as the result of a stroke of paralysis suffered Sunday.

He had been in ill health since 1933 when he suffered a previous stroke. He had recovered sufficiently, however, to attend the races last month at Arlington Downs, the racing plant between here and Dallas which stands as a monument to his love of fine horses.

Waggoner was a cattleman and horseman first and above all. It was on cattle that his fortune was founded. In his later years oil was discovered under a huge slice of his wide land holdings and added more millions than the ranch business had produced, but he retained big livestock interests.

It was on the range, too, that his love of competing horseflesh began. There was keen competition between him and Burk Burnett, a ranching contemporary, in the matter of fast ponies.

Waggoner had lived in Fort Worth for nearly 30 years, but had retained active management of his holdings.

He was a leader in civic enterprises here. Honors bestowed upon him in that connection included designation by the Exchange club as Fort Worth's most distinguished citizen of 1933, and presentation by a citizens committee in 1929 of a $5,000 trophy in appreciation of his work in behalf of this city.

His illness prevented him from attending the banquet at which the "most distinguished citizen" award was celebrated in 1933, but speakers that occasion praised him for business acumen coupled with scrupulous fairness, his powers of leadership, and his willingness to lend himself to deserving causes.

In more than name he was the "father of horse racing in Texas." He first became interested in thoroughbred racing in 1897, and built up a creditable stable on his ranch near Electra.

His silks were retired from the nation's racing ovals from 1909, when the sport was banned in Texas, to 1924, but since that year he and his two sons had built up the Three D stable, which produced numerous winners.

Almost unaided at the start he carried on the fight to legalize racing again in Texas. Gradually his following grew until in 1933 the legislature passed and Governor Miriam A. Ferguson signed a bill permitting pari-mutuel betting at tracks.

It was on the day after the governor signed the measure that he was stricken the first time.

In the meantime, however, he had invested sums estimated as high as $30,000 in making Arlington Downs one of the country's fastest and most beautiful tracks. He had conducted brief meetings there without gambling even before the pari-mutuels were legalized.

It was one of the tragedies of his life that encroaching blindness made him unable to see only the dim outlines of the speeding thoroughbreds, competing legally on his own track, after the legislature passed the measure.

CLUBS
 Holy Night to end the program. Resignation of Mrs. Bever, who will soon move to Iowa, was accepted, and Mrs. W. H. Fitchins was elected to membership.

Mrs. Roy Tinsley, president, named Meses. T. C. Shaw, Sherman White, and J. M. Smoot as a committee to nominate officers for next year.

Fruit cake and coffee were served to members.

Gifts Exchanged.
 Meses. Clifford Braly and W. A. Bratton were hostesses to Twentieth Century club at the latter's home. A Christmas tree and gift exchange were enjoyed after an interesting program led by Mrs. Raymond Harrab.

A story, The Bird's Christmas Carol, was told by Mrs. Harrab. Mrs. John Sturgeon described Christmas customs in France and Sweden, and Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan in Mexico and Germany. Christmas carols were sung by the group.

Carols and Stories.
 A Biblical program was presented by the Forum at the home of Miss Margaret Buckler. Mrs. Dick Walker read a paper written by Mrs. Fred Carey, telling the history of the Bible's compilation and translations. Mrs. R. P. Dicksen sketched the life of Paul.

Mrs. Bob Chafin sang a solo, O Little Town of Bethlehem; Miss Buckler read "The Cratchits' Christmas Dinner" from Dickens' Christmas Carol, and the members joined in singing carols to lend a Christmas flavor to the afternoon.

FUNERAL HELD
 Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Chadwick of LeFors, who died in a local hospital Sunday night, were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at Fairview cemetery with the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in charge of the Pampa Mortuary. The parents survive.

Walter Woodward's Father Succumbs
 COLEMAN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Judge J. O. Woodward, 79, former chairman of the board of pardons and father of State Senator Walter Woodward, died here this morning following a long illness.

Funeral services will be conducted here at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Judge Woodward resigned from the pardon board last January. He served for many years as judge of the 35th district court. Judge Woodward was a native of Cass county and had been a resident of Coleman for more than a half century.

Boy Cellist to Make His Debut Saturday Night

A 12-year-old boy, the son of Paul Blitz, famous violinist, will play a cello concerto with the orchestra at the next concert of the Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra association to be given Saturday evening, Dec. 15, in the Amarillo city auditorium.

The performance will be the boy's debut concert. A reception will be held in the foyer directly after the concert, and a Christmas party for the children in an adjoining room, and another for adults on the other side. Mrs. B. V. Blackwell, executive committee director, and mother of Miss Esther Johnson, famed Mozart pianist, said that Pampans are cordially invited.

The orchestra concert will be a repetition of the one held several weeks ago with the exception of the Blitz cello concerto. The boy's father is head of the music department at Texas Tech, Lubbock. Mr. Blitz played several violin solos in the first concert and will play again Saturday night.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Advantages of Utilities Told At Rotary Club

That public utilities have not only added conveniences to the home and office but have lessened the working hours of housewives and business employees was brought out today by T. W. Gilstrap in a talk before the Rotary club.

He emphasized the fact that women spend ninety per cent of the family's income and that they need some time to give to consideration of the purchases. The coming of utility service has given them this time, from their household duties.

REDUCTION IS ONLY PARADOX FOR IS TOLD

FOREIGN MARKET LOSS IS DEPLORED BY SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Secretary Wallace defended the agricultural adjustment program today in his annual report to President Roosevelt as one of "economic democracy" aimed at "balanced abundance."

His report dealt principally with the work of the adjustment administration prior to June 30, scientific work of the department of agriculture, and emergency activities carried out during the year in co-operation with other government organizations. Emphasis was placed in it on the fundamental philosophy behind present activities, particularly those of adjusting farm supply to demand.

If restriction of farm production conflicts with democracy it should be abandoned, he admitted, "but man's right to live transcends all other considerations. In the present state of the nation, we must enlarge our idea of democracy, or risk losing what democracy we have."

"A purely political democracy would not survive a complete economic breakdown in the United States any more successfully than it has done elsewhere."

Farmers were united behind passage of the adjustment act, the secretary declared, and are still supporting and participating in its functions through county associations. "There is worse danger to democracy than the extension of democratic principles to farming."

Wallace reiterated his dislike for reducing farm output and said reductions to meet loss of foreign markets and surpluses of 1933 were "only a very partial and paradoxical answer in the long run to the crying need which is briefly expressed in the phrase, 'balanced abundance.'"

One path to this goal is the restoration of industrial purchasing power to the end that consumers may be able to pay higher prices for higher consumption of farm products.

The problem of the farmers now "is to retain fair and reasonable profits without falling into the pit of 'scarcity economics,'" he said in warning against such a course.

"Now that farmers enjoy powers which are fairly comparable with those of city industries with respect to production and price control, it becomes necessary for all of us to spend more time thinking about the road to 'balanced abundance' instead of 'competition for profits induced by scarcity.'"

"Production control, he added, cannot be judged solely by the amount by which the spread between actual and "parity" prices is narrowed, since there are many costs, "human as well as monetary, social as well as economic." Any future course looking toward relaxation of control through increasing domestic or foreign purchasing power must be considered in the light of such costs."

Among such costs he mentioned "social discipline," sometimes called "regimentation"; denial of future opportunities to farm to some individuals and the necessity for taking care of them in other occupations; competitive elimination of men and acres; displacement of crops when land is converted from one use to another; and adjustments in farm practices and capital structures. "Compared with such intangibles, the money costs of farm adjustment are secondary," he declared.

Turning to the consumer's interest in farm recovery and objections which have arisen over increased cost of food because of crop adjustment and drought, the secretary pointed out that restoring farm purchasing power increases farmers' ability to buy industrial goods.

The value of commercial products manufactured annually in Florida is estimated at $230,000,000.

PIRATES WILL BE SHAKEN UP SAYS TRAYNOR

'MYSTERY MAN' HOPES TO MAKE SOME DEALS

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Harold (Pie) Traynor, hustling manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is shaping up as the real "mystery man" of the major league conclave.

Far from satisfied with the way his Buccaneers performed last season, Traynor blew into town with the announced intention of giving the Corsairs the most thorough shaking up a Pittsburgh entry has undergone in years and right now he is in the midst of negotiations with three or four rival clubs, including the Phillies and the Boston Braves.

Before the meetings began it was generally conceded that the money spending firm of Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins, anxious as they are to acquire Oscar Melillo, Brown second sacker, as well as a first baseman and a few spares, would keep the Boston Red Sox in the van of the buying and trading brigade.

To date, however, the easterners have not succeeded in parting with as much as a dime and if Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis Americans, and "Old Fox" Clark Griffith from Washington continue to be obstinate when the Sox mention Melillo and Buddy Myer, the festivities may end with a one-sided score in favor of the Pirates.

Traynor is out to strengthen the Pirates and frankly says he means to make three or four deals before he leaves for home on Friday. To this end he is willing to consider parting with almost every performer on the Pirate roster except Paul Waner.

Pirate officials have definitely spiked reports that the elder of the famous brother team is on the market.

Yesterday Traynor offered Earl Grace, a catcher and a wad of cash to the Phillies for their likely cash-stop, Al Todd, but the trade is hanging fire while Traynor ponders a Philly demand that the slugging Babe Herman also be tossed in.

Later in the day the Pittsburgh leader went into a long huddle with Judge Emil Fuchs and Bill McKechnie, president and manager of the Boston Braves, and reports flew around that Wallie Berger, the outfielder, and Fred Frankhouse, pitcher, were the men sought.

Having failed to dispose of Boston's dog racing question or the perplexing problem of Babe Ruth's future, the merry magnates went back behind closed doors today to again tackle strictly routine matters.

Yesterday the National League formally installed Ford C. Frick as its new president; elected Bill Brandt, former Philadelphia newspaperman to succeed Frick as head of the service bureau, and increased the staff of umpires from 10 to 12, while the American leaguers awarded the annual all-star game to Cleveland, failed to go on record as opposed to post-season barnstorming tours by players and tossed the Ruth question back into the lap of Col. Jake Ruppert, Yankee owner.

Wallace Demands A Reduction of Import Duties

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 12 (AP)—America's agricultural industry "should and will" remain Kirkpatrick in form, says Donald Kirkpatrick, general counsel of the American farm bureau federation.

The good of such a system should be retained, he told the organization's convention in an address prepared for delivery today—and the evils discarded.

"The American farmer," he said, "should and will continue to own and control his instrumentalities of production and directly so, as the personal proprietor and master of his unit, obtaining a fair return on his investment and adequate compensation for his management and labor, and a reasonable profit for his enterprise."

Kirkpatrick described cooperative services to be rendered by farm organizations as including marketing, mutual insurance, pooled purchases and other major business operations in which he believed farmers could effect savings thru collective action.

"I might remind you," he said, "that it is the job of the farm organization and its service organizations to solve the farmer's problem before starting in on the thankless task of revolutionizing the world. We do not need to enter entangling alliances at this time with other movements."

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in an address last night, called for a reduction in import duties, especially on products he classified as non-agricultural.

Civic leaders in Owensboro, Ky., are seeking to have that city revive its ancient curfew law.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa, I am a little girl 5 years old and would like a doll buggy, telephone, some dishes, and candy and nuts. Please, Santa, don't forget my little playmate Polly; she hasn't any mama. Bye-bye, Santa. With love, Betty Jean Haener.

Dear Santa Claus, I am trying to be a good boy. I did not make any D on my report card this time. I want you to remember me and bring me a big airplane. I also want a tractor. I want a cap to wear to Sunday school and a Mickey Mouse color book. Santa, I would like to have some candy, nuts and fruits. Be sure and don't forget my twin sisters, Thelma Mae and Velma Mae. Your little friend, Kenneth Osborn.

Dear Santa, We are two little brothers writing together for we are almost the same age and want you to bring us a football together, and a pop gun, little train, and cowboy suit. We have a little sister named Janice. She wants a doll and rocking chair. We are being good boys and go to bed early. Your friends, Laddie and Carl Mayes.

Dear Santa, I am a little girl 4 years. I am a good girl sometimes. Please bring me a little car I can drive, a big rubber baby doll, an electric stove, a kitchen cabinet, a dresser, dishes, and washing machine. Your little friend, Patsy Jo Alexander.

Dear Santa Claus, I want a washing machine, a pretty baby doll with brown eyes like my daddy and I don't want it to be rubber, a wardrobe trunk, a little table with two chairs, and be sure to remember my pal, Peggy Lois Shank, and my little cousins, Glenda and Pattie Stevens. Love, Vala Lee Alden.

Dear Santa Claus, I am a little girl 6 years old. Please bring me a big doll with curls and I'd like to have a fountain pen set and dishes. Bring my little brother a kiddy car, a little toy car, and a little watch and chain. Santa, don't forget other little children.—Louise Clark.

Dear Santa Claus: Please bring me a big doll and a little broom and mop. Bring me a washing machine and a red car to ride in. Remember all the little children Christmas morning. Don't forget my little cousins, Betty and George. Your little friend, Belva Dull.

Dear Santa, I am a little girl 7 years old. I wish you would bring me a doll, set of little dishes, table and chairs, and silverware. I will thank you so much if you can bring me these things. If you can't bring all these things, bring me what you can. Rosemary Hamilton.

Dear Santa Claus: I would like to have a new front wheel and tires for my bicycle. Yours truly, Ted Duckworth.

Dear Santa Claus: I want a Mickey Mouse wrist watch, a pair of skates, a pair of leather gloves, pair house shoes, a doll bed, a buggy, set of dishes, and a rubber doll. I want you to go to other children's house first and then come to mine. I have been a good girl this year. I help sister and daddy. Love, Mary Fern Lewis.

Dear Santa: We are little tots only 3 and 5. J. W. is 3 years old. I want a pedal car, a truck and ambulance and lots of nuts and fruit. Ima Jeanne, a cowboy suit and hat, a big doll, electric stove, doll trunk, doll bed, lots of fruit and candy. Santa, could you bring our gifts before we leave for granddad's at Shreveport? Love, J. W. and Ima Jeanne Thibodeaux.

Dear Santa: Here it is almost Christmas again, so I must write and let you know what I would like to have. I want a big doll that goes to school and has real hair, and a pair of gloves. I have two brothers, one 4—he wants a tricycle, and one 8—he wants a cowboy suit and hat. Don't forget the poor boys and girls. I couldn't be happy with my things if I knew some little boy or girl did not get anything. Be sure and don't miss a one. Your very best friend, Christine Guinn.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy 5 years old. I try to be a nice boy. I wish you would bring me a streamline tricycle, black boots, blue boot pants, and big dump truck. I will put some fudge candy by my tree for you Christmas eve. Your friend, Raymond DeOrleans.

Dear Santa: I'm a little boy 7 years old and in the second grade. Please bring me an electric train, a sand digger, Mickey Mouse wrist watch, a football and baseball. Santa don't forget my teacher, Mrs. Cox. Love, Arthur Thibodeaux Jr.

Dear Santa Claus: I want a Mickey Mouse wrist watch, pair of leather gloves, pair of house shoes, and a rubber doll if you have them after you get around to everyone, for I want you to go to the very poor children first. I am 9 years old, in the high second grade. I have been good to my mother. From one who loves you, Eugenia Faye Bond.

Dear Santa Claus: I am 9 years old. I am not asking for much this year but will ask for a doll, a green purse, pair of gloves, and candy, nuts, and fruit. My little brothers want a car and a gun, and please do not forget my mother, father, sisters, and brother. I have a twin baby brother and sister. They want a rattler. Don't forget the poor and other little children. With love, LeVerne Covington.

Dear Santa Claus: I got a nice enough doll last Christmas. It cost a dollar and I've kept it nice, so I won't need a doll. I'd like to have a trunk to put my clothes in, and a ready-made dress and cap for it, and if it isn't too much a small set of dishes and play telephone. I feel selfish when I'm sure there are so many girls and boys that would only ask for one present. I hope you will go to see every one. With love, Joyce Lorene Smith.

would bring me for Christmas a doll with long curly hair. I wish you would bring my sisters one too. Bring my brother a truck. Do not forget the poor children that cannot buy Christmas toys. Do not forget mother and father. I did not ask for much as I know times are hard. We will appreciate what you bring us. With love, Dorothy Fay White.

Dear Santa Claus: For Christmas I want a pair of boots and a horn and that's all. My little brother wants a tricycle and a pair of gloves. My little sister wants a doll and cradle. And we all want some candy and fruit. With love, Dorothy Kime.

Dear Santa Claus: I want a BB gun and a light horn and battery, and a few story books, some nuts and candy. And don't you forget the poor people. With love, Billy Harness.

Dear Santa Claus: I have been pretty good and would like a gun for Christmas. Daddy would like a coat and gloves, mother would like a coat and dress to match. Ted, my brother, wants a bicycle. That is all we want for Christmas. But don't forget the poor kids that won't have any Christmas. Goodbye, with love, Bob Stewart.

Dear Santa Claus: I would like to have a Shirley Temple doll, doll clothes, gloves, bicycle, and a few little books. That is all I am going to ask for. Don't forget the poor. I want them to have a Merry Christmas, and a Merry Christmas to all. Vondell Regier.

Dear Santa Claus, I would like to have a new coat, dishes, and a fountain pen and eversharp. Please do not forget mother and daddy and the poor children. Your friend, Betty Lee Thomason.

Dear Santa Claus: I want you to send me a pair of cowboy boots and chaps, and I want you to send my mother a dress or two and my father and brother some clothes. If you don't mind you send my grandmother some clothes too, and a pair of shoes and we will appreciate what you are sending us. Yours truly, Irvie Smith.

Dear Santa Claus: I hope you get to use your sleigh this year. I would like to have a bicycle, light, horn, and three reflectors, and some candy and nuts. Do not forget the poor. If you have anything left over you can bring it to me. I am 10 years old. Your friend, Aubrey Pollock.

AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

The year 1935 ushers in an important anniversary in the life of the American people. Three hundred years ago the first American high school—the Boston Latin school—was founded.

It was established in 1635 only fifteen short years after the landing of the Pilgrims. From a small beginning with one instructor and a handful of students has grown the splendid service now provided for more than 6,000,000 young Americans by 26,000 public and private high schools. These schools are developing the most precious resource of our nation, the latent intelligence of our young people. It is worth noting that social progress in the United States is following swiftly on the heels of the remarkable expansion of educational opportunity at the high school level.

I hope that the young people of every high school in the United States will celebrate this three hundredth anniversary. I hope they will celebrate it in a manner which will bring vividly before parents and fellow townsmen the significance, the contribution and the goals of their schools.

—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

MY TRIBUTE TO TEACHERS OF TODAY

By J. W. Crabtree

In the crisis of the seventies, I was amazed, as a boy, at the sacrifices made by the pioneer teacher of that day. Since then, I have observed that whether in time of famine, or in time of plenty, the teacher has lived not for self but for the children and the community. I have noticed that the selfish man or woman seldom remains long in the profession.

When the terrible days of the World War came upon us, who led in food conservation? Who led in the sale of Liberty Bonds? Who led in collecting food, clothing and funds for the Red Cross? Who kept the schools going, whether funds were available or not? And what of the teachers of today? They are serving in a worse crisis than ever before. Their responsibility is greater. Environment is more destructive in its effect on children. The teacher load is almost doubled. In spite of all this the teacher is again leading in welfare activities. There may be a delay in pay—a month or six months—or the pay may be cut off for the year, yet the work of the school goes on!

Who is it that removes gloom from the lives of children who come from homes filled with sorrow and suffering because of the depression? Who is it that inspires children with courage and ambition? Who teaches them to look forward to better days? Who is it that is saving civilization in these dark hours?

All honor, therefore, to the teacher of today! Your courage and your devotion stand out as safeguards of our democracy and as the hope of the nation!

A Washington Daybook

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The New Deal's legal stars are more confident now about New Deal test cases before the supreme court.

That's because they've achieved at least a partial new deal at the Department of Justice.

For weeks, the D. J. took one of the worst backstage pinnings ever handed a government department. Most of the emergency agency lawyers served as infantry men in the screened attack, but the hidden Big Berthas were certain supreme court justices who made their views known to the White House.

The targets included Attorney General Homer Cummings, Solicitor General J. Crawford Biggs, much of their staff, and the group of politicians and lobbyists commonly believed to be closely associated with the D. J. How, the New Deal attorneys demanded, could the government hope to win with old Mr. Biggs presenting its cases and the D. J. generally maintaining what seemed to them an attitude of non-co-operation?

So a compromise has been affected in the best Roosevelt manner. Demands of the more bitter critics that Cummings and Biggs be replaced are being ignored—for the present.

But Biggs won't be presenting any important New Deal test cases to the supreme bench. And Assistant Attorney General Angus McLean, nicknamed "Anguish" by others than his friends, won't be handling any supreme court cases at all.

The whole D. J. is working more closely with NRA, AAA, PWA, and other agencies and appointment of special Atty. Gen. Stanleigh Arnold to handle NRA cases is accompanied by assurance that he will be primarily responsible to NRA.

First important supreme court test will be the gold cases, to be argued early in January. It was arranged so that the able General Counsel Stanley Reed of RFC can appear for the government and recently Attorney General Cummings let it be known that he, rather than Biggs, would also appear.

Some of Reed's friends have been pushing him for the solicitor generalship, but it is now more likely that he will be made a federal judge in Kentucky. Biggs, known here irreverently as "Jiggs" despite his descent from a famous North Carolina family, still has the support of the politically powerful former governor, O. Max Gardner.

He probably will depart eventually, as the supreme court often insists on having a topnotch solicitor general.

Here's a new story going the rounds which doesn't come from the Republican National Committee:

Four G. O. P. senators, about to become ex-senators, were sitting in a Union League club.

No. 1 sighed.
No. 2 sighed deeply.
No. 3 emitted a groan.
"You fellows make me sick," growled No. 4. "Always talking politics!"

The electric utilities are getting ready to short circuit the government's power project, although they should know that such operation usually gives the meddlers an awful shock.

Russia is fast discarding the rationing system for the open sale of goods. Capitalists have one or two good ideas, at that.

A French scientist has found that wine is better for horses than bran. That doesn't mean wine is better for men, too, because men don't eat bran as horses do.

A still was rented from family to family for making liquor at home in Staten Island, a part of New York that hides behind the skirts of the Statue of Liberty.

Admiral Byrd has added a vast area to United States territory, and it's in the Antarctic where some of our politicians can't get at it so quickly.

The fight over reorganization of the Republican party should have been more than two years ago.

And when a South American president quits, he, contrary to the famous Coolidge saying, chooses to run—or else.

That 13-year-old mother of Ezra, III., ought to make plans for claiming the annual youngest grandmother award about 14 years from now.

Nine Burned as Ferris Wheel's Engine Explodes

HARLINGEN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Five persons were under treatment for serious burns in Weslaco and McAllen today, and four others were less seriously burned, as the result of the explosion of a gasoline engine which turned a ferris wheel at Weslaco's 18th birthday celebration yesterday.

The most serious injuries were suffered by Jimm Bennett, 38, of Texarkana, who removed his coat and sought to protect his girl companions with it when their seat was suspended in the midst of roaring flames as the wheel stopped. His clothing was burned from his body and he suffered extensive secondary burns.

Others still in hospitals were Josephine Durham, 15, of Weslaco; Jewell Davis, 14, Josephine Pierce, 14, and Joanna Beaumont, 11, all of Weslaco.

A number of passengers on the device were endangered while flames rose about them, and could be released only when the fire had been put out and the wheel had been turned by hand.

Relief Checks Are Mailed Out

AUSTIN, Dec. 12.—Checks totaling $1,346,000 of federal funds were being mailed this week from the Texas Relief Commission to county relief headquarters to cover costs of drought relief, and general relief in the state for the first half of the month of December. On or about December 15 a similar amount of federal funds will be sent to cover costs for the remainder of the month.

month. Relief Commission officials have requested the state comptroller to furnish $935,000 from the state bond fund to supplement the federal grant. This is in accordance with the matching agreement between the state and federal governments whereby the federal government would furnish $1,000,000 for general relief to be matched by the state. The $935,000 is that part of the matching fund to be handled by the Texas Relief commission. The total federal grant also included an unmatched sum of $1,500,000 for drought relief. With the requested state funds, the total for general and drought relief costs in December will be $3,627,082.

Other relief programs in Texas to be paid for by federal funds in December are: cattle program, $750,000; transient relief, $186,000; emergency education, $127,000; student aid, $69,185; and rural rehabilitation, $178,000. Relief Director Adam R. Johnson last week received notice from Washington that these funds had been allocated to Texas, bringing the total federal allocation to Texas for the month of December to $4,304,395.

Perjury Trial of Minister Starts

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 12. (AP)—Additional testimony was marshaled by the state today in the effort to prove the Rev. W. D. Welburn, Jr., perjured himself at his divorce trial in denying he had married Miss Wineta Long or was the father of her baby. Testimony yesterday was limited to court officers' testimony quoting the evidence Welburn gave in the divorce case. The divorce was granted last June despite the minister's claim that he never had married the choir singer. At that time Welburn denied he

Huey's Opinion Of Berger Told In Murder Trial

CANADIAN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Testimony that Arthur Huey stood beside the body of A. P. (Ace) Berger and told bystanders "he made a criminal out of me," stood out as the highlight of the record as the state offered more evidence today in an effort to convict him of murder.

The killing occurred August 31 in the postoffice at Berger, the town the slain man founded. R. B. Cowan, Berger utilities official, said Huey entered the postoffice with his right hand inside his coat, but he saw no guns during a scuffle between Huey and Berger until Huey took one from Berger. When Huey rose to his feet, Cowan said, he held a pistol in each hand and fired four shots into Berger's back.

"Send for the sheriff, boys," the witness quoted Huey as saying. "He made a criminal out of me and I killed him."

The other eye-witnesses to the shooting told their stories. went to Boerne with Miss Long and members of her family and married her, although a marriage license and a notice of intention to wed were introduced in evidence.

E. W. Richey of Amarillo was a Pampa visitor Monday and Tuesday.

MOST PUZZLING ISSUE THAT WILL FACE NEW LEGISLATURE IS THAT OF RAISING FUNDS

GOVERNOR-ELECT HAS MANY PROMISES TO FULFILL

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of three stories on the problems that will confront the Texas legislature in January. The next will follow tomorrow.)

By CHARLES E. SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 12. (AP)—Vexatious problems on numerous subjects of wide public interest, the foremost including taxation, prohibition repeal, public utilities regulation, lobbying, government reorganization and relief, will confront the 44th Texas Legislature when it convenes in regular session January 8.

The most puzzling question on the agenda of major topics is that of finding additional sources of revenue to wipe out the heavy deficit in the general revenue and confederate pension funds, meet the extraordinary burden imposed on state finances by relief requirements and provide for ordinary expenses.

Legislators and state fiscal officers are approaching the question with caution and industry and the tax bearing public generally are keeping a watchful eye on the plans being formulated to liquidate the deficit and raise funds for usual annual governmental activities. Present indications are that the lobby that will attend the session will be one of the largest in recent years.

Deficit Is Great
The deficit now totals $16,000,000. It is increasing at the rate of approximately $4,000,000 per year, although it will show a sharp decline during the next few weeks owing to current tax collections. Delinquent taxes are mounting rapidly, it being estimated that approximately $70,000,000 in back taxes is owing to the state with an additional $50,000,000 owing to county governments and other political subdivisions. Much of the total is regarded as impossible of collection.

Industry is crying for relief from present burdens and contends any increase in overhead costs through additional taxation will prove ruinous. Real estate, it is generally asserted, already is bearing more than its just share of the cost of supporting the government.

Omnibus of the condition the senate established a tax investigation committee of three to recommend a plan of taxation. Several house members voluntarily joined the discussions since revenue measures must originate in the lower branch.

Sales Tax Blocked
The way for raising revenue in substantial amounts by imposition of a general sales tax appears to have been effectively blocked by the campaign promise of Governor-elect James V. Allred that he would veto a measure of this nature if passed by the legislature. The democratic platform also contains a pledge to oppose the sales tax and it is doubtful if a two-thirds vote could be mustered in the legislature to override a veto by the governor.

Whether Allred's antagonism to this type of tax extends to all its forms, including a sales tax on luxuries and semi-luxuries, has not been determined. An income tax likely will find favor in the house, a majority of which has expressed strong opposition to the general sales tax. An income tax bill was passed at the last regular session in the house, 70 to 55, as a substitute for the sales tax but the proposal died in the senate.

Oil Tax Issue
There is strong sentiment in certain legislative quarters for an increase in the oil production tax from the present two cents a barrel to five cents and for a material raise in the natural gas production tax. Governors of all producing states have been requested to consider the matter of a uniform tax on crude petroleum and it will be discussed at a conference called for early in January.

State Comptroller George H. Sheppard is working on amendments to bolster collection features of existing tax laws, believing that thousands of dollars annually are lost to the state through "leaks." In line with Sheppard's idea the legislature will be asked to establish a separate department to supervise the collection of taxes, now scattered through several branches with no central agency. Authors assert it will assure the state of a maximum return from its levies. A stamp tax on notes and mortgages, which would be made uncollectable unless stamped, increases in the inheritance, gross receipts and intangible assets and enforcement of the ad valorem tax on motor vehicles are included in other suggestions that will be offered.

Chain Store Levy?
A tax certain to find support in the house would impose a graduated levy on chain stores, low on small chains with stiff levies on the larger groups. Such a tax would accomplish a dual purpose from the point of view of its sponsors by bringing in badly needed revenue and reduce the competition given by chains to independent merchants.

In view of the strained condition of the treasury it is improbable any serious effort will be made to reduce the state ad valorem tax on real estate. The administration, in all probability, will seek resubmission of a constitutional amendment, overwhelmingly defeated at the November election, to permit the legislature to classify property for tax purposes. Allred halted the amendment as the most practical method by which really taxes could be reduced and championed it strongly.

An attempt to reduce governmental expenditures even farther than cuts made by the last regular session by combining departments and eliminating duplicative services is forecast. Representative Harry N. Graves of Georgetown will seek enactment of the major provisions of an exhaustive report presented by his committee to the last legislature designed to reduce the number of boards and departments from 180 to about 25. The report was disregarded by the 43rd legislature.

The fact that the state is on a deficit, with little prospect of getting out of the red in the immediate future, makes it extremely unlikely any building program of major proportions at either educational or eleemosynary institutions will be authorized. At a recent session the legislature authorized construction of buildings at several eleemosynary institutions to care for emergency requirements and it is probable this program will have to suffice for the plenum unless revenue from an unanticipated source is available.

Proposed restoration of the heavy salary cuts of state employees ordered by the last legislature likewise will be adversely affected by the treasury's condition. A portion of the cuts, which ranged from 15 to 40 per cent, might be reinstated.

Utility Rate Question
The new administration is pledged to support enactment of a law to establish a state commission to regulate rates of all public utilities. The state board would be given concurrent jurisdiction with cities in rate matters but also would have the authority to institute rate cases if it deemed it necessary. At present the state has jurisdiction only over gas utilities.

The democratic party, as Allred, have been committed to submission of repeal of state prohibition. The form of the submissions resolution might set off oratorical fireworks, the dry bloc having indicated it would press for stringent regulations in the submission resolution.

The tax questions will bring scores of lobbyists to Austin who would be placed under strict rules if Allred's desire for a strong anti-lobbying law is given recognition. Allred, in his campaign, severely condemned lobbying tactics and would subject lobbyists to rigid supervision.

Relief financing will cause the new administration and legislature much worry. The state has in reserve $3,500,000 in state relief bonds to match federal grants. Officials hope local initiative will relieve.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Although Nicholas Trench has been acquitted of the charge that he murdered his former schoolfellow, Osborne, he is beginning to find that the general public does not agree with the verdict. His cousin, Sir Seymour, tells him his club plans to expel him, and then insults Nicholas by suggesting that the latter leave England and offering to pay his expenses. Nicholas calls Seymour a pompous ass.

Chapter Seven
INSULT
Seymour jumped up from his chair, pale and furious. "How dare you!" he spluttered. "How dare I take a step toward him? 'Shut up!' I said savagely. 'Shut up and listen to me. I've nothing to be ashamed of, and I don't care a hang what anyone says or thinks. I shall live my life exactly as I choose. You can keep your money in your own dirty pocket, and as for changing my name or leaving the country, I shall certainly not do anything of the kind.'"

And with this exceedingly ungracious remark I turned round and walked out of the room. Dusk had already fallen as I crossed the iron bridge spanning the railway and struck off along the deserted road which would bring me out at Chalk Farm.

It was a few minutes past nine o'clock, and the three hours that had elapsed since my leaving St. James' Street had at least afforded me plenty of time in which to recover my temper.

I had dined at a small Italian restaurant in the Euston Road. My only reason for turning in there had been the extreme unlikelihood that its clientele would include anyone with whom I was acquainted, and if there had not been much else to be said in its favor, in that particular respect it had justified my choice.

After my dinner I had sat on for some while smoking cigarettes, meditating upon my troubles and finishing the bottle of indifferent Chianti which the proprietor had succeeded in foisting on me.

Then, moved by a sudden impulse, I had decided that, tired as I was, I would stroll home to the studio through Regent's Park, and across Primrose Hill. It was a walk I had always been fond of, and a little fresh air and mild exercise would, I had felt, assist me in getting on to sleep.

I was almost sorry now that I had been so unpleasant to Seymour. Heave some of the burden so that extensive financing by the state will not be necessary.

Judicial and legislative redistricting; enactment of a universal drivers license law; ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution; twice blocked in the senate after house approval; an appropriation for the Texas Centennial and a constitutional convention to revamp the fundamental law are among other subjects that will command wide attention.

As far as he was capable of any personal emotion I had an idea that he rather liked me. He had certainly been pleased with my success, and on one or two occasions, notably in the case of the Royal United Arts, he had endeavored, in his own rather patronizing fashion, to do me what he doubtless considered to be a valuable service.

I had been stupid to fly out at him in that ferocious fashion. It was absurd to expect people to behave differently from the way in which they had been created, and in endeavoring to rid himself of an embarrassing connection, my cousin had merely acted as any intelligent person who knew him would naturally have predicted.

What my mind was chiefly concerned with at the moment, however, were the two significant pieces of news which I had brought away from our interview. If Seymour's statements were correct, and there seemed to be no reason for doubting it, my future outlook could hardly be described as encouraging.

Considering that I had been found not guilty, it was incredible that the sub-committee should ask for my resignation unless a large proportion of the members disagreed with the verdict. The same argument would apply to the select tribunal which had turned down my plea for a national memorial, and in that event it could be safely assumed that the prevalent feeling towards me amongst the general public must be one of skeptical hostility.

For all Mr. Crosswell's assurances to the contrary there was evidently a widespread suspicion that in escaping the gallows I had cheated justice.

As I trudged along in the gathering darkness I began to wonder how many, even amongst my more intimate friends, would be prepared to stick up boldly for my innocence.

The only one in whom I felt an entire and unhesitating confidence was Jerry Mordant. It was just my luck that he should be out of England at the time when I most needed him. A few days before my arrest he had gone off with a couple of pals on a yachting and shooting trip to the Adriatic coast, and being more or less out of touch with civilization he was still probably in complete ignorance as to what had been taking place at home.

Had it been otherwise I should have heard from him long before this. He must remember Osborne quite well—they had actually been at the same college—and no matter how much he might have been enjoying himself, I felt sure that the instant he had heard of the tragedy he would have come posting back to London as fast as the train could bring him.

In some subtle way the thought of Jerry had a cheering and stimulating effect. After all, things were never so bad that they mightn't be worse. The world was not coming to an end merely because a certain number of people chose to make themselves offensive.

I should at least enjoy the privilege of learning exactly what any-

Mere's Johnson Flinging Dead Cats at N. R. A.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. (AP)—A couple of the brickbats General Hugh S. Johnson used to duck as administrator of the NRA went the NRA's way today—From General Johnson.

He looked up from his scholarly labors in a department store, autographing copies of two books for boys he wrote as a young lieutenant of cavalry, to make the remarks: "The NRA is dead as the dodo, which is not only dead but extinct. It's deader than any 'doodall'."

Nor need the NRA expect any help from the General, for he will not return to the fold. "No, absolutely not!" he exclaimed, when the subject was broached. "I am greatly relieved to be away from it."

It's not that the General is not still on good terms with President. He said he had a three-hour chat with the president Saturday and will have another tomorrow. "The specific trouble would seem to be that the NRA—what there is left of it—is not giving proper aid in the needed sources."

General Johnson agreed that business is improving, but that is a seasonal increase, he said, and not due to NRA. Does he attribute the decline to Donald R. Richberg, the president's recovery coordinator? "Richberg?" asked the General. "Who is he?"

Well, would the General give any advice? "No. That was the trouble I had. Everybody was trying to tell me how to run it."

one's friendship was worth, and if Society, with a big S, chose to slam its doors in my face, I could derive such consolation as I needed by throwing myself all the more wholeheartedly into my work.

Who could tell? Perhaps one day I might even come to look back on my present troubles as a blessing in disguise. Fortified by this sudden and optimistic reflection, I emerged into the light and bustle of the main road. My studio was at the end of a narrow cut-de-sac, turning off to the left about two hundred yards up Haverstock Hill.

It was one of a pair, shut in behind a high wooden fence, and as the other had been empty ever since I had taken possession, the quietness and privacy of the situation could scarcely have been improved upon.

I had covered about half the distance and was just passing under a street lamp, when a hoarse voice from the roadway brought me to a standstill.

BYRNS IS FAR AHEAD IN RACE FOR SPEAKER

MOST OBSERVERS SAY HE'LL GET POST IN JANUARY

By CECIL B. DICKSON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. (AP)—A tall, soft spoken Tennesseean—Representative Joseph W. Byrns—was considered far ahead today in the race for the speakership of the second Roosevelt congress.

Most observers believe he will be selected for the high post unless some unexpected change in trend occurs before the democratic caucus January 2.

The powerful Pennsylvania delegation of 23 has thrown its full support to Byrns, who has been majority leader since President Roosevelt took office.

The Tennessee delegation and blocs in other southern, northern, and western states also back Byrns. His friends predicted the action of the Pennsylvania delegation, first break in the hot contest, will start a bandwagon rolling.

"I don't think this leaves any room for doubt over the outcome of the race," Byrns said with a smile.

The Pennsylvania group swung to Byrns in secret caucus yesterday after their leader, Senator-elect F. Guffey, had canvassed the situation over the week-end. Guffey was one of the first to congratulate Byrns.

Many members considered the delegation to key the contest. Its decision was generally considered a blow to the candidacies of Representatives Cam Rayburn of Texas and William B. Bankhead of Alabama, the other leading contestants. Neither made any comment.

Meanwhile, the contest for the floor leadership grew warm. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts arrived to open his campaign. Others in the race are James M. Mead and John J. O'Connor, both of New York; Arthur H. Greenwood of Indiana, and William W. Arnold of Illinois.
