WHITMAN BARS HITLER FROM FUTURE TALKS

Twinkles
Now we can understand, wisecracks Joe Burrow, why it used to be said that the "Indians bit the dust."

Strange days. We came to this country back in 1906 from Missouri. Now the country is blowing back to Missouri.

Pre-Centennial means a lot of things. The "pre" might be interpreted as meaning that a whole lot of work must be done BEFORE the big event this year.

Eastern theaters now have ear-phones for the hard-of-hearing. Civic clubs ought to have headsets so that members could tune out or tune down the orations with which they are afflicted.

Television may not be the good thing that we figured. For instance, so many blends might be used that gentlemen would prefer brunets.

Missing of the moment: What a town is Pampa. Where could you find another growing so fast and doing so well in the midst of sand storms and drought? And where is another where young men get along so well? And where the majority of the business men are under 35 years of age. Where the public buildings are a large, beautiful, and new. It's a privilege to live in Pampa at any time, and especially right now.

Brevitorials

THE PANHANDLE'S list of grievances grows with the passing years. When we first came to this section, there was no housing problem. If you wished a house, you merely spent a few hours digging a dugout. The wind blew in those days, as it does now, but it seldom brought in any soil from neighboring states. Anyhow, the floors of the dugouts were usually good clean earth and free of dust. Now, however, just things for mice and snakes to hide under. You can have worse homes than dugouts, especially in winter. Not without reason do many wild creatures burrow into the ground where the temperature changes little.

TODAY we have raised our sights and everyone tries to live above the ground. There is plenty of lumber for houses but a dearth of the medium of exchange which makes construction possible. Everyone, it seems, wishes to rent but few wish to build at the current costs. However, things have been this way for so long that we are due for a change. Moving in of houses meets a certain need for homes, but the practice is not the best and in the long run is apt to be unsatisfactory, although generally welcomed now because of the acute shortage of residences.

THE DUSTSTORMS are of course the greatest grievance. Altitudes toward them are legion. Housewives who yesterday morning found plush furniture and floors under a thick layer of fine dust had that sinking feeling which shakes faith in a territory. Farmers of some counties who saw the vital top soil swirling away to other states imagined they were being robbed. Hope was at low ebb. Some city dwellers, seeking to cheer the rural population and the housewives, have attempted to sugar-coat the storms with pretty adjectives. Lately we have moved into the "tall tales" phase of the subject.

GILMORE NUNN, returning from Washington, D. C. reports that news stories of the duststorms are getting a big play on the front pages of eastern newspapers. It is stated in some of the stories that residents of some sections are abandoning their farms, that the soil will require a hundred years for rebuilding even with government remedial steps, that the whole southwest is "blowing away." That's bad news to the east and its bad publicity for this section. The cost will be huge.

A FEW YEARS ago, newspapers were condemned for publishing news of rainfall. This news, portentous of big crops, caused price breaks. It was said. Today the nation's press is filled with news which means short crops. But you can sell crops you don't raise. You can't attract factories to a section which is to judge by the yarns being sent out—God is forgetting. You can't attract capital to a parched and denuded section. . . . The harm which comes to the Panhandle is that manufacturers and investors are being led to believe that the soil all over the plains is blowing away. Actually, this is far from true. Most of the dust we see comes from other sections. If we had a recurrence of rainy years, Gray county would bloom again. Our soil wealth is largely intact, even if endangered. It's time to put the soft pedal on stories being sent over the nation.

NAVAL FLIERS OF LEXINGTON DIE IN CRASH

TEXAN IS KILLED AT SEA OFF CALIFORNIA COAST

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The navy department was informed today that two aviators were killed last night in the crash of a plane from the airplane carrier Lexington off the California coast.

Captain A. B. Cook, commander of the Lexington, wireless that neither the bodies of Lieutenant (junior grade) G. E. Kelly and R. Carillo, aviation machinist's mate nor wreckage of the plane had been recovered.

Destroyers were searching for them, but officials said the depth of the water made it unlikely that salvage operations would be successful.

The accident occurred at about 11 o'clock last night, 16 miles at sea west of La Jolla, near San Diego.

Officials said no details were given, but that the plane crashed during regular night flying maneuvers.

Kelly, who was 27, was born in Longview, Texas. He was graduated from the naval academy in 1930, received aviation training at the Pensacola, Fla., station, and was assigned to the Lexington in July, 1934. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Virginia Kelly, of San Diego. His parents were listed in 1930 as residents of Texarkana, Texas. Carillo, who would have been 40 years old on Saturday, was born in San Diego.

Patrolman Will Enforce License Law After First

There are three more days in which to buy automobile license plates before the Monday midnight deadline.

There are three thousand sets of plates to be issued from the office of Tax Collector F. E. Leech. Obviously, many persons will fail to equip their cars with new plates before Tuesday. State Highway Patrolman R. H. Routh has orders to enforce the license law. Persons found driving without 1935 plates will be subject to a $14 fine and a 20 per cent penalty on the license. Those now driving motor vehicles, who fail to pay the license fee by Monday night, will have to pay the 20 per cent penalty even if they are not arrested.

The new deadline is regarded as a permanent state policy, hence highway patrolmen over the state will swing into action to enforce the law. Activities of Patrolman Routh last year brought into the Gray county and state treasuries needs which would have otherwise not been paid. The commissioners court recently commended Mr. Routh for his aggressive work in this area.

Girl Killed on Way to Funeral

FREDONIA, Kan., March 28. (AP)—Margaret Neal, 16, was killed and her mother, Mrs. Fred Neal of Kansas City received minor injuries as their automobile collided today with a Santa Fe passenger train a half mile north of here. The two were en route to Gladewater, Tex., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Neal's brother, Howard Collier, who was killed in an automobile accident there last night.

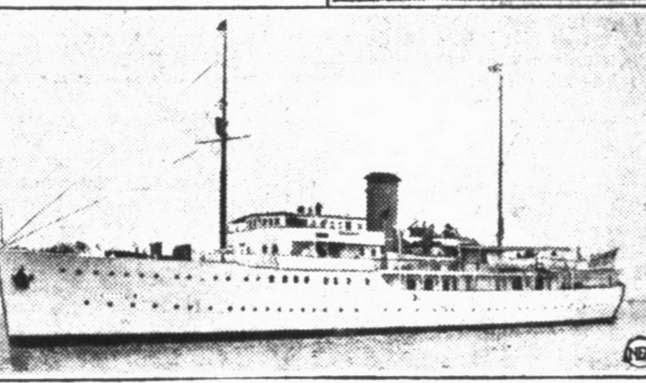

Box Rent Must Be Paid or Else, Says Postmaster Cecil

"No quarter" will be given post-office box holders who fail to pay their box rent by Saturday, Postmaster D. E. Cecil has decreed. The boxes will be closed Monday and will remain closed until re-rented or the required 75 cents paid. In the past, box holders have not been pressed to pay by the date set, but because of so many persons on the waiting list, it has been decided that payment must be made on time.

Those deciding to give up their boxes are asked to return the keys to the postoffice. They will receive 20 cents for each key.

MRS. ESTILL DIES
HUNTSVILLE, March 28. (AP)—Mrs. Louise Sexton Estill, wife of President H. F. Estill of the Sam Houston State Teachers college, died here today after an illness of several years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Back to Pet Bahama Fishing Spot

Maneuvers of game fish in Bahama waters displace maneuvers of politicians in the interest of President Roosevelt, taking his favorite cruise in the waters shown in the map at the upper left.

Vincent Aour again is host on his yacht Nourmahal, below, to the president and the same group who have fished with him on several previous voyages.

CHINESE STUDENT IS SHOT ON RUN BY IRATE SOONER CO-ED

TABLEQUAH, Okla., March 28. (AP)—Calm and unruffled by the shooting of a Chinese student, Lois Thompson, 19 year old Northeastern State Teachers college co-ed, remained silent in her cell in the county jail here today as officers sought to piece together a bizarre campus extortion plot.

The action placed as the basis of debate the plan drafted by Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth. Numerous amendments to earmark portions of $1,000,000 set aside for historical commemorations will be directed to it. The finance committee recommended $3,050,000, while the house voted for $3,000,000.

Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls warned the senate against accepting the substitute. Increasing the amount, asserting "we had a hard siege in getting the Centennial commission down to a reasonable figure."

The drive for earmarking of funds for specific allocations was laid aside to permit adoption of the Rawlings bill. Earlier debate was directed to an amendment by Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston to add $50,000 for purchase and preservation of historic places in Bazarria county, home of Stephen F. Austin and other pioneers.

Reviewing the historical significance of Brazoria county, Holbrook asserted "it would be a tragedy to attempt to hold a Centennial without commemorating the men who made it possible," without revering "those ancient places where men who fought the battle of San Jacinto lived."

TO CONTINUE PROBE
AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred today signed a bill by Representative A. H. Aiken, Jr. of Paris appropriating $8,500 for continuing an investigation of scholastic census rolls by the department of education.

WALLACE UNFIT TO BE IN CABINET, SAYS GEORGIA SENATOR IN NEW DEMO REVOLT

Reading a published report quoting Wallace as saying the proposal would permit farmers "to dip their hands into the United States treasury," George said:

"Any member of the cabinet who says that amendment is an invitation to the farmers to dip their hands into the treasury has demonstrated his unfitness for a place in the cabinet, when the whole bill is one of the most monumental blunders for every class to dip their hands into the treasury."

George said the purpose of his amendment was to permit the processing taxes on bread, meat and clothes to be lifted.

Date Of Bruno's Appeal Hearing Set

JUNE 20 FIXED DESPITE PLEA OF DEFENDANT

DELAY UNTIL OCTOBER IS OPOSED BY WILENTZ

TRENTON, N. J., March 28. (AP)—The court on errors and appeals today fixed the date of June 20 for the hearing of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's appeal from conviction in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

Chancellor Luther A. Campbell told Hauptmann's counsel, Frederick A. Pope, the defense would be allowed three hours to present its arguments and that the state would be granted one hour and one-half.

Pope had sought to have argument on the appeal delayed for several months. He told the court that there was a "terrible lot of work to do" on the preparation of the appeal and asked that some day early in October be assigned for the appeal hearing.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz, who directed Hauptmann's prosecution in the trial at Flemington, opposed an extended delay. "We have no objection to a reasonable delay, but to let it go until October would be entirely unreasonable," he said.

16 Denver Cars Burn at Lelia Lake in Crash

LELIA LAKE, Donley County, Tex., March 28. (AP)—Sixteen cars of a southbound Fort Worth and Denver freight train derailed and burned 300 feet north of the Lelia Lake station last night.

Damage to the cars was estimated at $15,000 by officials.

Authorities believed a column bolt broke in the eighth car from the engine, causing the wreck. Two gasoline cars were included in the pile-up.

Fire broke out in the wreckage early today and fire departments from Memphis and Clarendon were called to the scene. Communication lines were burned and railroad traffic was held up seven hours.

Bar Shipments of Arms During War, Baruch Advocates

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—A war-time policy of barring the shipment of munitions to belligerent nations and warning United States citizens that if they go into the trouble zone they do so at their own peril was advocated today by Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the world war industries board.

Shortly before, he asserted before the senate munitions committee that "civilization would crumble" and the world would go into "another middle ages" in the event of a world conflict.

FOOTE IMPROVING
Physicians at the Wichita Falls hospital where Gaston Foote, Pampa minister, is a patient announced yesterday that it was no longer necessary to have two nurses attend him, and Pampans interpreted that as a sign that the local pastor is improving rapidly. The injuries he suffered in an automobile wreck last week are rapidly healing, it was said. H. D. Tucker, educational director of the church here has also improved quickly and he is expected to return to Pampa today or tomorrow. Physicians now believe that Mr. Foote is not likely to contract pneumonia in the lung that was pierced in the crash.

Confessions Of George Hamlin's Are Attacked

Nelson Rules Testimony Concerning Contents of Purse Be Admitted.

AMARILLO, March 28. (AP)—State prosecutors in the murder trial of George S. Hamlin today attacked a portion of purported confessions which they had introduced in evidence.

The statements quoted Hamlin as saying that he returned to Amarillo by train on the afternoon of January 4 and that night killed his wife with a hammer in their unlighted kitchen.

Employees of three railroad companies, placed on the stand by the state, testified that Hamlin could not have arrived by train within two hours of the time fixed by the statements.

Judge E. C. Nelson ruled that testimony concerning the contents of Mrs. Hamlin's purse could be admitted. Admissibility of such testimony previously had precipitated two arguments between opposing counsel. Judge Nelson warned spectators that the testimony "may not be nice."

In an effort to throw out statements alleged to have been made by Hamlin upon his return to Amarillo January 8, the defense brought out from Justice of the Peace C. W. Carder that a complaint against the defendant was filed in the morning of the 8th.

District Attorney Grady Hazelwood took the stand to testify that the complaint was not drawn until just before midnight.

A reproduction of the Hamlin kitchen, which had been in the courtroom since Monday, was removed today.

The state, which has placed more than 40 witnesses on the stand in the last eight and a half days, still had not rested its case at noon.

League Literary Events for City To Be Tomorrow

Open to the public, city-wide elimination contests in interscholastic league literary events are to be held by ward schools tomorrow.

High school declamation and extemporaneous speech contests were scheduled at 4 p. m. today.

Winners will go directly to the district meet, as Pampa is the only Class A high school in this county.

Choral singing contests are scheduled at 9 a. m. at the Presbyterian church, music memory at 11 a. m. in room 309 of the high school, tomorrow morning.

Story telling and declamation for ward and junior high school pupils are on program at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the Presbyterian church. Directors invite all who are interested to be present for these contests.

WOULD PROHIBIT DESTRUCTION OF GAMBLING HOUSES

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—A bill to prohibit destruction of furnishings of gambling houses was introduced today in the house of representatives by Rep. R. Emmett Morse of Houston.

Construction by Rangers in recent raids or property not used in actual gambling.

The bill would require that property seized in gambling raids be held for disposition under court order.

A bill by Rep. H. K. Stanfield of Amarillo to permit appeals from district court orders to destroy gambling devices and to authorize sheriffs to employ counsel to defend suits seeking to recover gaming equipment also was introduced.

L. J. Cox of LeFors transacted business here yesterday.

GERMANY WILL BE ISOLATED BY 3 POWERS

SIMON WILL NOT DISCLOSE OFFICIAL SECRETS

LONDON, March 28. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon told the house of commons today that the German government would not be asked to participate in the three power talks at Sirren, Italy, called as a result of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's determination to have a German conscript army.

Simon, after talking earlier with King George at Buckingham palace, and United States Ambassador Robert W. Bingham, faced the commons.

He declined to reveal the official secrets of his conversations in Berlin with Hitler on matters concerning European peace.

He declared it was undesirable to make a full statement at present in view of the fact that a series of exploratory visits on the continent is continuing.

The visit of the foreign secretary declared, was one of several exploratory trips of British ministers to European capitals and "in view of these circumstances it will obviously be undesirable to make a full statement as to the position, which still is under investigation."

"Unauthorized speculations such as have appeared in some quarters," Simon said, "may be disregarded."

He did refer to "considerable divergencies of opinion" between the German and British governments, although he maintained the results of the talks at Berlin were valuable because both sides were clearly able to understand each other's points of view.

The cabinet is making an elaborate survey of the entire European situation and expects to receive constant reports from Capt. Anthony Eden, lord privy seal who now is in Moscow, on his swing around the eastern part of the continent.

While Simon was speaking in the house, Eden was engaged in negotiations at the soviet capital relative to soviet views on an eastern security pact.

No Opposition Found by Briton In Soviet Talks

MOSCOW, March 28. (AP)—Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinoff and Capt. Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, today discussed "the conclusions to which the Berlin negotiations are leading" during a two-hour conference on the peace of Europe.

The British envoy, received with honors, talked to Litvinoff in the latter's office in the foreign ministry, and the description of the subject of their talk was made later by well-informed quarters, but these sources were unable to say what nature of "conclusions" were meant.

It was stated, however, that during their first conversation, Litvinoff and Eden "have had no disagreement on the problems discussed."

Lord Chilton, the British ambassador to Russia, Ivan Maisky, the Russian ambassador to London, and William Strang of the British foreign office were present.

TEACHERS RE-EMPLOYED FOR 1935-36 TERM

Trustees of the Pampa independent district this week renewed contracts of nearly all school teachers. Executives in the system were previously re-employed.

Several resignations have been received and others are expected before the end of the term. These will be made public at the end of the present school year.

Clayton Heare, Shamrock attorney, was here on business today.

BALTIMORE ARCHBISHOP HITS AT FDR FOR MEXICAN CHURCH POLICY

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The controversy involving the church-state troubles in Mexico was brought to the attention of the capital again today by strong criticism aimed at the Roosevelt administration by the Right Rev. Michael J. Curley, archbishop of Baltimore.

"Let there be no doubt about it," the archbishop said at a meeting in Gonzaga hall, "the administration has given instructions to frustrate further efforts either on behalf of persecuted Christians in Mexico, or with regard to a fair, impartial investigation of alleged violation of American rights."

By a "positive, determined stand" against a so-called investigation, the archbishop said, "the present administration is ranged in definite opposition to the maintenance of one of the most prized principles of American life and international obligation."

Speaking of the "violation of fundamental human rights in Mexico," Archbishop Curley said: "It is estimated that one million letters and resolutions on this subject have been sent to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Is it possible that silence and opposition will be the only response to these petitions?"

Declaring there is "no excuse for the apathy and inactivity" of the state department, he said it had repeatedly in the past acted "to protect the religious rights of our own nationals resident in foreign countries; and also to intercede in behalf of persecuted citizens of other lands, whether these latter were protestant or Jewish, especially in those instances where the outrages, murders, confiscations or persecutions were of such a character as to excite the horror of the civilized world."

For his betrayal of the Barrow-Parker cause, Methvin was given a Texas pardon but immediately was taken into custody for bank robbery in Louisiana and charged with the Campbell slaying.

District Judge A. V. Coppedge delayed the trial first set for March 17 at the request of attorneys appointed to defend Methvin. Constable Campbell was killed April 6, 1934, a short time after Barrow had aided Methvin to escape the Eastham, Tex. prison farm, where he was serving ten years for theft and assault.

For his betrayal of the Barrow-Parker cause, Methvin was given a Texas pardon but immediately was taken into custody for bank robbery in Louisiana and charged with the Campbell slaying.

Foreign Vessels Are Back on Rum Row With Liquor

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Rum Row is back. A possibility of reaping profits up to 700 per cent, officials said today, has brought approximately a score of vessels back to the shores of the Atlantic ocean and Gulf of Mexico, laden with alcohol, chiefly from Holland and Belgium.

This explanation was given by Stephen B. Gibbons, assistant secretary of the treasury. "The alcohol tax unit has been raiding stills at the rate of about 1,200 a month. So the bootleggers saw that it would be cheaper if they could bring the alcohol in from abroad."

"There are usually around 16 or 18 boats off the coast of New England, New York and New Jersey and a lesser number in the Gulf of Mexico."

"Most of it is shipped from Holland and Belgium to St. Pierre, Miquelon or Belize in British Honduras. There it is transferred to other ships. They lie a few miles off the American coast where the stuff is put on contact boats and rushed to shore."

Subordinates said that the alcohol sells at around 50 cents a gallon in Europe and that the market value here is "from $3.50 to $4 a gallon." If it were imported legally the levy would be $2 tax and $3 tariff.

Max's Victory Pleases Hitler

That old German fighting spirit exhibited by Max Schmeing in the knockout victory of Steve Hamas, his American foe, won the approval of Chancellor Adolf Hitler, who is shown with the victorious fighter at Obersalzberg reading comments of sports writers on the battle. Right after that, Hitler told the world Germany was going to have a conscript army.

This explanation was given by Stephen B. Gibbons, assistant secretary of the treasury. "The alcohol tax unit has been raiding stills at the rate of about 1,200 a month. So the bootleggers saw that it would be cheaper if they could bring the alcohol in from abroad."

"There are usually around 16 or 18 boats off the coast of New England, New York and New Jersey and a lesser number in the Gulf of Mexico."

"Most of it is shipped from Holland and Belgium to St. Pierre, Miquelon or Belize in British Honduras. There it is transferred to other ships. They lie a few miles off the American coast where the stuff is put on contact boats and rushed to shore."

Subordinates said that the alcohol sells at around 50 cents a gallon in Europe and that the market value here is "from $3.50 to $4 a gallon." If it were imported legally the levy would be $2 tax and $3 tariff.

AIR, SUNSHINE WOULD SUPPLY A NEW TOPSOIL

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 28. (AP)—Air and sunshine will supply new topsoil for areas now eroding in the midwest, if the proper holding vegetation is planted.

This means literally that "just plain air and sunshine turn into dirt—converted by the action of plants."

The process is slow but can be seen and measured in a human lifetime. Some studies proving this have been made in the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse university.

Prof. S. O. Helberg has samples of soil showing the whole process, both destruction and re-creation, as it took place in New York state.

"The most dramatic exhibit shows the work of the 'bulldozer,' the contribution of air and sunshine. This is soil from the oldest plantation in New York state, the Woodgate place, at White Lake.

The soil from that place is laid out in a panel, cross-sectioned, to a depth of about two feet. Various layers show what happened to that soil for more than a century.

For the last 60 years it has been forest. In that period the topsoil has built up by depths of one to two inches. This buildup is plant decay.

The decay is not primarily the nutrients already in the soil which were drawn up through the plant roots. Ten per cent of the new soil is that kind.

Ninety per cent of the new topsoil is actually air and sunshine converted into loam. This 90 per cent is carbon, extracted from the air by plants in breathing carbon dioxide.

Professor Helberg's studies show that fishworms may be the most important factor in restoring fertility to a denuded soil, provided nature's other agencies are given an opportunity to replenish the lost organic and other soil materials.

Fishworms churn and mix the soil better than other animals. They may turn over annually something like 15 tons of soil an acre where conditions are right for their work.

Clyde Barrow's Betrayer Goes On Trial Today

MIAMI, Okla., March 28. (AP)—The trial of Henry Methvin, betrayer of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, slain desperadoes, for the murder of Constable Cal Campbell of Commerce got under way here today.

The Texas ex-convict was brought into court under heavy guard.

District Judge A. V. Coppedge delayed the trial first set for March 17 at the request of attorneys appointed to defend Methvin.

Constable Campbell was killed April 6, 1934, a short time after Barrow had aided Methvin to escape the Eastham, Tex. prison farm, where he was serving ten years for theft and assault.

For his betrayal of the Barrow-Parker cause, Methvin was given a Texas pardon but immediately was taken into custody for bank robbery in Louisiana and charged with the Campbell slaying.

CABINET RESIGNS

WARSAW, March 28. (AP)—The cabinet of Premier Leon Kozlowski resigned today after the recess of parliament and President Ignace Moscicki commissioned Col. Walerj Slawek, former premier, to form a new government. The new premier's mission is expected to be one of enforcement of the new Polish constitution.

H. W. Widener, employe of the Magnolia Petroleum company that was seriously injured in a plant accident Monday, is doing nicely at Worley hospital.

Stories in STAMPS

THE foresight and initiative of a young British army officer, Capt. John Macarthur, brought to Australia in 1803 what has turned out to be its greatest industry. It was Macarthur's importation of Merino sheep from Spain that has resulted today in making Australia the world's foremost wool-producing country.

More than 100,000,000 sheep there, about 16 to each human inhabitant, produce one-fourth of the world's wool supply.

In honor of Macarthur, Australia recently issued a commemorative set of three stamps, each picturing the famous Merino ram against an Australian background.

SEXTETS FROM SOUTH REMAIN IN CAGE MEET

OKLAHOMA, ARKANSAS AND LOUISIANA REPRESENTED

WICHITA, Kas., March 28. (AP)—Top-seeded sextets from Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana, which finished one-two-three-four in the 1934 feminine Maple Court classic, today remained in the scramble for the women's national A. A. U. basketball championship defended by Tulsa Business college.

The only change from last year is in the name of one of the teams. Most of the 1932 and 1933 champions who wore the brand of Oklahoma Cardinals of Durant are playing now under the banner of Holdenville, Okla. Flyers, one of the survivors. The Cardinals lost to Tulsa in the 1934 finals while representing Oklahoma City.

The Flyers, with a defensive line featuring Frances Williams and Lera Dunford, won their way through the quarter-finals last night at the expense of the Chicago Baby Ruths, 15-13.

The Flyers are matched tonight in the lower bracket semi-finals with the Eldorado, Ark. Lions, third-placers last year. The Lions easily advanced with a 26-16 triumph over the Wichita Merchants.

The champion Tulsans, after beating American Institute of Business, Des Moines, last northern survivor, 44 to 25, tangled with Shreveport's Meadows - Draughton Collegians in the upper brackets semi-finals tonight.

Shreveport, nosed out of third place last year by Eldorado's desperately flung last-minute goal in the game between the defeated semi-finalists, used a 44-25 triumph over Houston, Tex., to step through the quarter-finals.

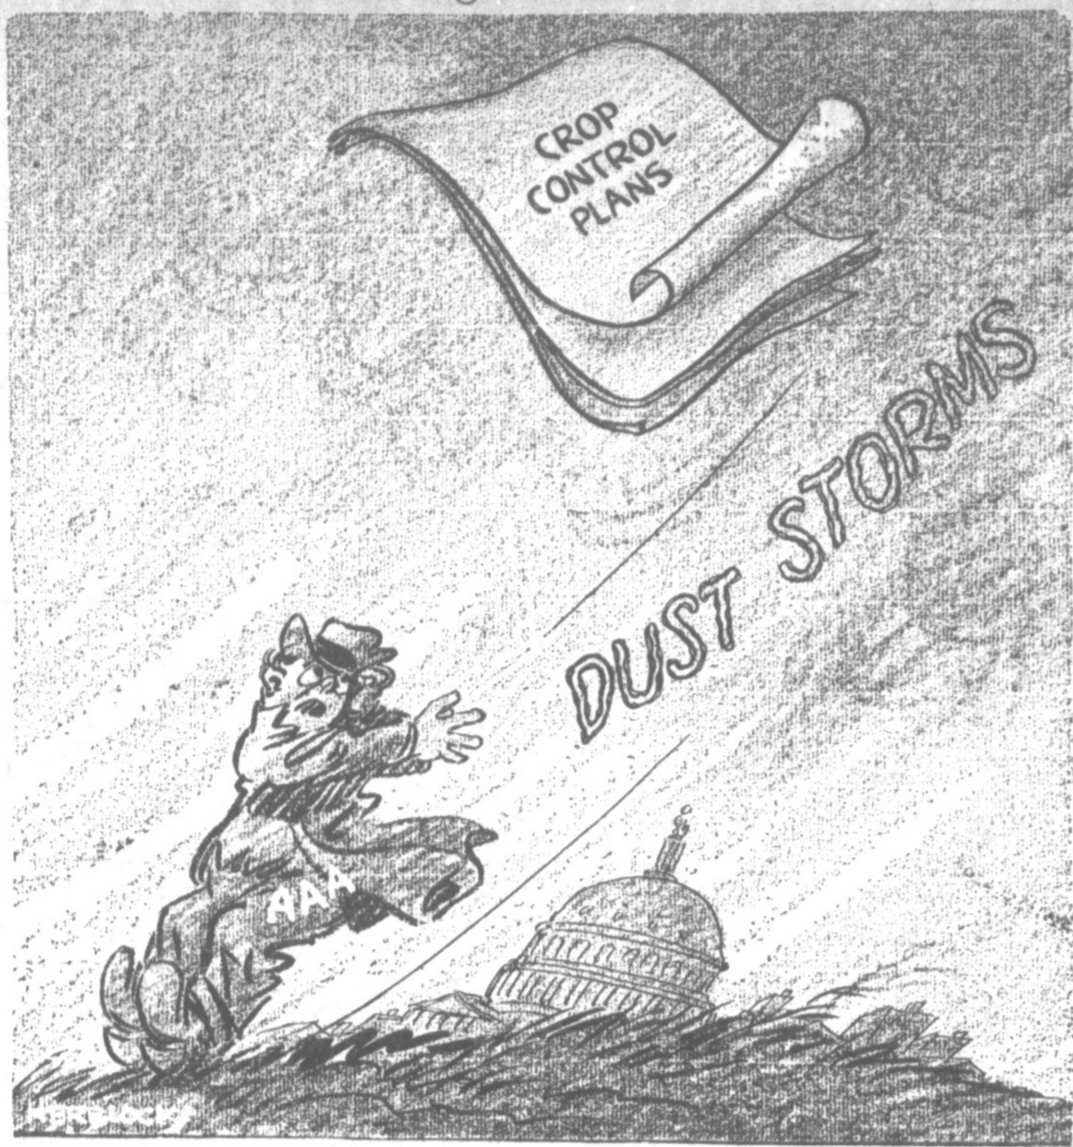

Semi-finals and two exhibition games to test latest suggested new rules are programmed as preliminaries to the top flight contests tonight.

Completion of the women's national free throw championships was scheduled for today. The first half of the field of two dozen was paced by diminutive H'Eloise Bunkley of Houston, Tex., who fired 44 out of 50 through the hoop yesterday.

The 1934 winner primed to defend her title is Opal Hill of Shreveport, who recently sank 98 out of 100.

GAS WASTAGE BILL PASSED UNANIMOUSLY

ANOTHER BILL WOULD REQUIRE DRIVERS' LICENSES

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—The senate today received from the house bills to stop the waste of more than a billion cubic feet of gas a day in the Panhandle and require the licensing of all automobile drivers.

The anti-waste bill, designed also to give every landowner in the field a share in the pipe line outlet, was passed by the house without a dissenting vote. The vote on the drivers license proposal, urged as an effective measure to reduce automobile fatalities, was 75 to 49.

Passage of the gas bill was another move in the vigorous campaign of the state's defense against federal control of oil and gas. Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, had directed considerable criticism at Texas for failure to halt stripping plant operations and the resultant wastage of an enormous amount of residue gas. Senate advocates of the bill planned to insist on early action.

The bill would prohibit the popping of any gas into the air. Ordinary gas could be used for light and fuel, sulfur or sulphur gas might be used for the manufacture of carbon black. A determined effort to permit carbon black manufacture from sweet gas was unavailing.

The railroad commission would be empowered to prorate gas production under whatever method it deemed equitable. This provision was designed to force pipe line purchasers to buy ratably from all producers. The commission also would be authorized to adjust withdrawals between the sour and sweet gas areas to prevent pollution of the latter.

Under the drivers license bill, cost of the license would be 15 cents a year. Persons convicted of driving while drunk, negligent homicide for other major traffic offenses would lose their licenses, at least for a time.

The way was cleared for conference committee work on the first of the four major money bills with passage by the senate of the judiciary appropriations measure. The senate proposed the judges' salaries be increased an average of about 12 1/2 per cent while the house bill provided for no salary raises.

NEGRO HUNTED

NACOGDOCHES, March 28. (AP)—An intense search last night in the Mahi community failed to track down a negro suspected of an attempted criminal attack on a white woman. Sheriff John B. Fitch said a posse of deputies and citizens searched the community after a farmer's wife reported that a negro tried to attack her as she walked from her garden. The negro fled when her screams attracted neighbors.

KIWANIS INTERNATIONAL WILL MEET IN SAN ANTONIO MAY 19

San Antonio has been selected by Kiwanis for its 1935 International convention which will be held May 19-23. This is the first time during their 20 conventions that they have selected a city in the southwest for their convention town.

A large attendance is expected in San Antonio from the 1890 clubs throughout the United States and Canada and whose entire membership is upwards of 100,000. Reservations are already fast coming in to the convention headquarters at the Gunter hotel in San Antonio.

Kiwanis International is composed of business and professional men of the United States and Canada. The movement began in 1914 in Detroit, Mich. Kiwanis is a coined name suggested by the Indian word, "Kee-wan-is" which implies self expression. In 1916 the organization became a national group and during the next year it extended into Canada justifying its present official name of Kiwanis International.

Princeton Grid Player Is Held For Many Thefts

PRINCETON, N. J., March 28. (AP)—Frank B. John, 23-year-old Princeton football player, was held by state police today in connection with a series of dormitory thefts which netted $2,000 in jewelry and cash.

Although no formal charges were lodged against the young athlete, State Patrolman Howard Lambertson said he would be arraigned tomorrow on charges of breaking and entering and receiving stolen goods.

John's detention followed the arrest in New York of Winthrop Partello, 21, of Mansfield, O. Authorities said that much of the loot from the campus burglaries was found in Partello's room in New York and that he had implicated John in the thefts.

Mrs. Joe Duby of LeFors spent Tuesday afternoon shopping in the city.

Rangers Seize Liquor in Raid At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 28. (AP)—Texas rangers were prepared today to continue their war against illegal whiskey in San Antonio after 47 cases of liquor were seized and destroyed at one wholesale place yesterday.

Ranger Sergeant Sid Kelso, accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs Tom Cook and Andy Barker, visited a drug company and seized the liquor which Kelso said was in excess of the amount allowed the company under a state permit.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkle of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—my first bottle of Kneecap salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."

To lose fat safely and quickly take one half teaspoon of Kneecap salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—a quarter pound jar lasts 4 weeks. Get it at Richards Drug Co., Inc. or any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. Adv. 3

FIRST FOOTBALL GAME OF SPRING TRAINING SEASON WILL BE TOMORROW

FANS MAY SEE MATERIAL FOR 1935 SEASON

WELL-MATCHED TEAMS WILL BATTLE IN AFTERNOON

The first football game of the spring training period will be played tomorrow between two teams of Harvesters. The game will be called about 4 o'clock at Harvester field, with no admission for fans.

After the game, uniforms will be tucked away until the close of the track and field season, when a couple of weeks more of training will be called by Coach Mitchell. Coaches Odus Mitchell and Harry Phillips should have a good idea as to the boys they will keep on the Harvester squad next fall. The final training session will be for polishing up the squad in preparation for the fall jump-off.

The squad was divided last week, each of the coaches taking a few veterans around which to build his team. Coach Mitchell will have the advantage of veterans with five in his lineup to three on the Phillips team. Phillips, however, will have a slight weight advantage, his team averaging 166 pounds to the Mitchellmen's 164 pounds.

Leon Nobilit will be the only letterman missing from the game. The big center is still unable to practice because of injuries received in an automobile accident a few weeks ago. Stewart may not start for the Phillips eleven, and in case of his absence, Kitchens will get the call.

Lettermen from the 1934 Harvester team will be George Nix, end; J. R. Green, tackle; Earl Rice, guard; Red Fanning, back; Bob Drake, back; Phil Nolan, guard; W. J. Brown, back; and Chubby Stewart, back. Other members of the starting lineups are up from last year's Gorillas.

Most of the boys have put on weight since last year. Although the boys have not been weighed officially, the weights given are their own figures.

Paul Runyan Is Leading Field In Golf Meet

PINEHURST, N. C., March 28. (AP)—Threats of rain held no terror for Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., as he set out today over moist fairways on the second round of the North and South open tournament three strokes ahead of his nearest challengers and six swings under par.

With a brilliant display of iron and woods through showers and wind gusts, the little P. G. A. champion yesterday raked Pinehurst's No. 2 course for 65 to head a band of 100 of the nation's best money winners.

"It was the best single round of my life, under the conditions," he commented.

Only two others could better 70. They were Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles and Felix Serratin of Scranton, Pa., who had 68.

Willie MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., and Byron Nelson of Texas, Tex., were able to better par, the trio turning up 70s.

A stroke back of them with par 71s were Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N. J., Harry Cooper, Chicago, and Joe Egar of Waco, Tex.

The field will be cut to the low 60 players after today's 18 holes, and the event will wind up tomorrow with a 36-hole finale.

Sooners Trying To Obtain Biff Jones as Coach

NORMAN, Okla., March 28. (AP)—Capt. Biff Jones, former West Point coach, will be head football coach at the University of Oklahoma next year if a group of university regents and alumni are successful in their renewed efforts to obtain transfer of the army officer to the R. O. T. C. unit here.

The effort to remove Lewie Hardage, head coach, and Bo Rowland, assistant, has been underway since the close of an unsuccessful football season.

Jones, one of the outstanding coaches of the nation, at present is stationed at Louisiana state university, Baton Rouge. After a tiff with Senator Huey Long last fall, he announced that he was quitting the coaching job there.

U. S. Entry at Aintree

Carrying the hope of John Hay Whitney in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, Eng., is Townsend II, above. The American-owned horse, rated second behind Golden Miller in the betting, finished third in the greatest test of horseflesh in 1934.

King Levinsky Whips Hunt In Vicious Fight

DALLAS, March 28. (AP)—King Levinsky, the 204-pound "prize" of Chicago, had another boxing victory chalked up to his credit.

He won it on a decision last night in a vicious 10-round fight with towering Babe Hunt of Ponca City, Okla., whose cleverness and 196 pounds made the Kingfish battle for every inch of ground he gained.

Sport authorities expressed belief that the fight did more than give Levinsky a victory over the hard mauling Babe.

They said the hard, clean bout established the boxing game on a firm basis in Dallas. Approximately 5,000 persons, the largest crowd to see a Texas fight since the sport was legalized, saw the contest.

Two knockdowns were scored. Levinsky's left uppercut floored Hunt in the ninth for a nine count when the bell sounded, and in the tenth he dropped the Babe for a count of four.

BRIEFS FROM TRAINING CAMPS

By The Associated Press.
ORLANDO, Fla., March 28.—Now that it's too late to do anything, the Dodgers have begun to wonder how Pat Malone got out of the National league. Manager Casey Stengel said he didn't agree to a waiver and Business Manager Bob Quinn, who revealed that Brooklyn had refused to waive on Malone last winter, said he didn't know how it happened. Both agreed the big hurler might have come in handy had he been claimed from St. Louis.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 28.—Even though the Browns are leading the "grapefruit league" with a percentage of 818—nine games won, two lost—Manager Rogers Hornsby is not satisfied.

He announced he will juggle his line-up in today's game with Buffalo in an effort to produce a better run scoring combination.

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Manager Charley Grimm's high hopes of playing 100 or more games at first base for the Chicago Cubs this year were at their lowest ebb today.

While playing at first yesterday against Portland, Grimm suffered a recurrence of the back injury which has crippled him the last two years.

In reaching for a throw from Jurgens, he pulled the muscles of his back.

Hoover Baseball Team Will Hold Practice Sunday

The Hoover baseball team will hold its first practice of the season at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Hoover diamond. At that time all players in the community interested in making the team should be present.

At a meeting of fans last night in the Hoover school, C. V. Fleming was elected business manager and Ed Barnes playing manager. Joe Massingale will be secretary-treasurer. Bus Benton will act as field captain. The mascot will be Bruce Daugherty.

A number of veterans from last year's crack team are expected to report for the opening practice. It is rumored that several new players will appear in uniform. Time of regular practice sessions will be set Sunday afternoon.

A junior team will be organized later when the youngsters can get a representative group together.

AINTREE RACE WILL BE RUN ON TOMORROW

FIVE OF 18 HORSES ARE OWNED BY AMERICANS

LIVERPOOL, Eng., March 28. (AP)—With distribution of more than eight million dollars hanging on the outcome, twenty-seven horses, five of them American-owned, went through their final workouts today in preparation for the grand national steeplechase at Aintree tomorrow.

Although one of the smallest fields in the 97 years since the race was first run in a reckless, rough and tumble fashion in 1839, the horses compose one of the most select groups ever brought together for the 4 1/2-mile course over 32 difficult obstacles.

The prize to the winner is not great, only about $20,000, but to the 14 holders of the tickets on the winner in the Irish hospital sweepstakes will go more than $150,000 each. Those holding tickets on the second and third horses will receive smaller fortunes.

Experts believe the race lies among Dorothy Page's Golden Miller, last year's winner, and Top-Weight of the field with the assignment of 175 pounds; John Hay Whitney's American-owned Thomson 2nd, third in the 1934 running, and F. E. Peck's Tapinose, a lightly weighted British-bred jumper.

American owners remained confident despite the fact that Miss Page's great jumper has trained impressively and recently trounced Thomson 2nd and other grand national entries in the Cheltenham gold cup.

"Remember," said Whitney, "that Golden Miller finished only a length in front of my horse in the Cheltenham at even weights and tomorrow we'll have an 8-pound pull."

Equally confident was George H. (Pet) Bostwick, who will ride his own horse, Castle Ireland.

CINCINNATI'S CLUB MADE UP OF FRESHMEN

REDS ARE TURNING OUT TO BE SCRAPPY TEAM

(Note: This is the sixteenth of a series of stories analyzing the prospects of major league baseball clubs.)

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.
TAMPA, Fla., March 28. (AP)—In sharp but interesting contrast to the Boston Braves' dramatic experiment with glorified age, just across the bay, the Cincinnati Reds are concentrating almost exclusively on the development of youthful baseball talent of the grade "A" or "AA" variety, with an ear to the ground and an eye for the future.

The Reds will find it extremely difficult to fight their way out of the National league cellar, where they have been kicking around for the past four years, despite the new spirit and enthusiasm generated under the leadership of Charlie Dressen. It would be expecting a "rent deal" of a club composed largely of two-thirds of major league freshmen to hurdle any of the opposition they will be up against, this season, but Redland fans at least will have the satisfaction of seeing an outfit that is definitely on the upgrade and building for the "long pull."

Win or lose, the Reds will put on a snappy and scrappy baseball show this year. They will also break up the monotony by inaugurating the novelty of night games, one with each rival club if possible. The success or failure of this experiment will be watched with close interest by all.

A solid month of spring training has caused close observers to acknowledge that Dressen has made real progress in developing his youthful squad. Its defense, featuring an all-freshman infield, is

Sikes Arrives With More Than 150 Names

Improved. There is power in the batting order. Finally, the showing of several pitching newcomers is sufficient to warrant more optimism than existed earlier in March.

The work of Al Hollingsworth and Gene Schott, both obtained from Toronto, and Leroy Herman, right-hander who won 27 games for San Francisco last season, has been sufficiently noteworthy to clinch regular jobs for them.

All of which means that the fingers who figure to have the preference on past performances, including Paul Derringer, St. Johnsen, Danny MacFayden, Tony Freitas, and Bennie Frey, will have to hustle to keep from being elbowed out of the list of starting pitchers.

The one problem still unsolved by Manager Dressen is whether Johnny Mize, the hard-hitting first sacker obtained from the Cardinals by way of Rochester, will be fit to handle the regular job and justify the price that must be paid if he sticks. Mize has been tried out under an optional agreement, depending upon recovery from an ailing hip. If Mize is turned back, the veteran Jim Bottomley will be restored to active duty.

The Reds are satisfied with the rest of their kid infield, including Alex Kampouris at second base, the sensational Billy Myers at short and Lew Riggs on third, with Tony Piet and Gordon Slade as utility men. The outfield will combine experience and the team's main hopes of batting punch with Chick Hafey in left, Sam Byrd in center and the Rochester rookie, Ival Goodman, in right. Harlin Pool and Adam Comorosky will be in reserve.

Bill Campbell, now recovered from influenza, looks fit and capable of sharing the backstop with Ernie Lombardi, a booming hitter.

Inability of Amarillo, Plainview, and Borger to send teams has caused postponement of the Class A track and field meet scheduled to have been run off in Lubbock Saturday, Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters learned yesterday afternoon.

Lubbock officials invited Pampa thinclders for a dual meet but it was decided not to accept the invitation. The Harvesters may go to some nearby city for a practice meet up to this morning. Coach Mitchell had not definitely accepted an invitation.

The Harvester thinclders will be put through a strenuous week of workouts starting Monday afternoon. The district track and field meet, with winning athletes from 11 counties competing, will be held here one week from tomorrow. The local thinclders generally have been showing little ability. One or two veterans have been picking up from where they left off last year but the newcomers are still slow.

Coach Mitchell will now spend his entire time with the team. He will work hard on the track events where the Harvesters have shown their greatest weaknesses in two competitive meets to date. There are boys of ability in uniform and it is believed that their only weakness is lack of instruction and training. The coach has had to divide his time between football and track and has not had enough time to devote to the thinclders.

With an excellent track laid out at Harvester field, one of the most successful meets of the year is expected in the district event. Pampa will be the defending champions, having nosed out Panhandle last year in a nip-and-tuck battle.

M. M. Newman of McLean transacted business here Tuesday.

Walter Sikes, professional at the River Drive golf course in Amarillo, arrived in Pampa this morning with the names and approximate scores of nearly 150 Amarillo golfers who will come to Pampa Sunday to play a similar number of local golfers in an inter-city meet, sponsored by the two clubs and the chambers of commerce of the two cities.

Players were entered by business houses of the two cities, each firm being allowed to enter two or more players. Hundreds of kibitzers will accompany the players from Amarillo and the country club course will have its largest play in years.

Winners will be decided on match play over 18 holes. Time of starting was to be decided when the two professionals, Walter Sikes of Amarillo and Del Love of Pampa, and Mack Graham, chairman of the country club tournament committee, and Harry E. Hoar of The NEWS, met this afternoon to match the contestants.

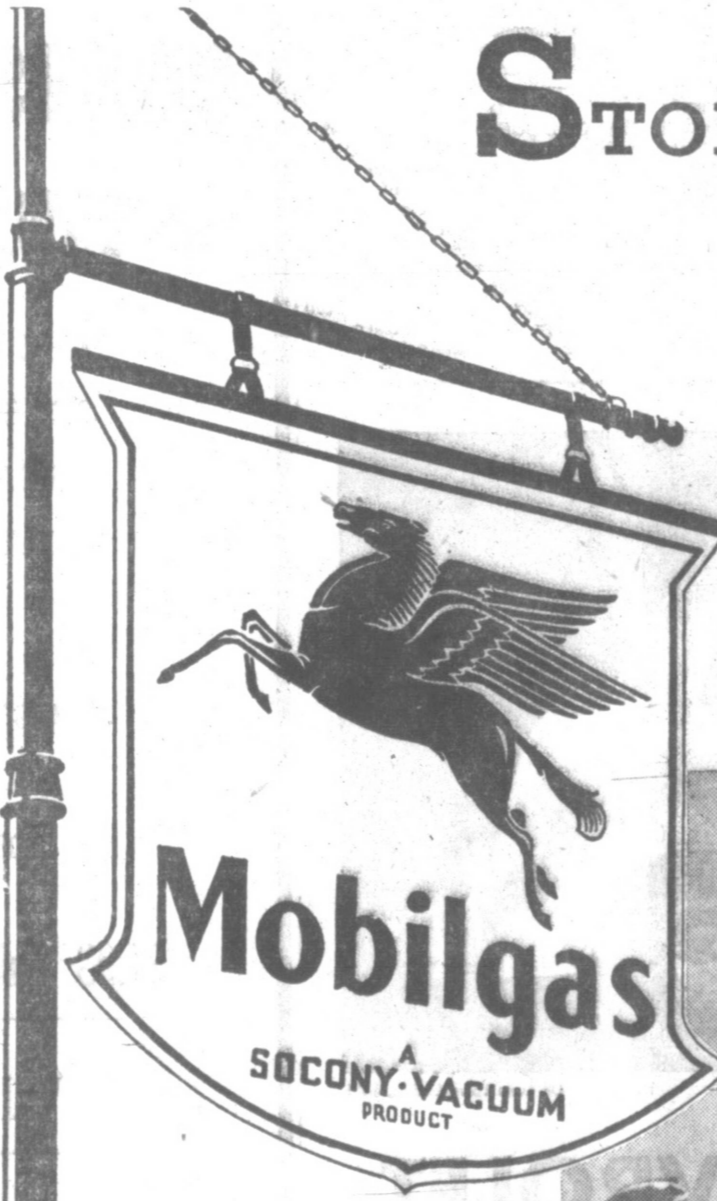

Pampa golfers, and players from the surrounding territory, have responded to an appeal to register for the tournament and it is believed enough have been signed to accommodate the visitors. Anyone not having turned his name and score in to Del Love should do so immediately in case there are additional players to make the trip.

Pairings are scheduled to be released in the NEWS tomorrow afternoon.

MOBILE, Ala., March 28.—The New York Giants' crimples are having their troubles. Mel Ott, who had a sore right heel, hit himself on the toe with a batted ball; Joe Moore's charley horse was aggravated yesterday when he got in front of a pitched ball, and Allyn Stout, his ailment having been diagnosed as German measles, has been severed from the squad until he recovers.

FEDERATION PROGRAM INCLUDES PAMPANS TODAY, TOMORROW

KID BAND WILL BE FEATURED ENTERTAINERS

SECOND DAY PROGRAM UNDER WAY AT PLAINVIEW

PLAINVIEW, March 28 (P)—Members of the seventh district of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs prepared today for the second day of their convention.

Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa, district president, is in charge of the three-day session which opened yesterday.

Routine business and reports from officers and committees were cleared up yesterday.

Mrs. J. D. Cole of Amarillo, president of the Texas Federation of Music clubs, and Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville, president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, talked to the group of 236 delegates at last night's session.

Women Are Leaders.
Pampa women will have places as leaders of convention programs today and tomorrow. Mrs. C. T. Hunkapiller, chairman of the fine arts department, will give her report this afternoon, and preside for the annual fine arts program this evening.

Mrs. W. R. Ewing will conduct the memorial service tomorrow morning. A large number of club women from this city are attending the convention sessions, as delegates, committee members, or visitors.

The fine arts program is expected to attract a number of visitors, as this department has gained the reputation of presenting annually some of the best talent of the district.

Kid Band Leaves.
Woodrow Wilson's Kid band left early this morning for Plainview to appear as convention program guests. Winston Savage, director, and Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal, accompanied the children, as did a number of parents and friends.

Frankie Lou Kechn, dance soloist, also went with the band. She will present tap-top dances, a novelty number, and a fast buck and wing solo. A pupil of Kathryn Vincent Steele, she will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Frank Kechn. She has appeared on programs with the band on numerous occasions, including that before the state club federation in Austin last year.

CULLUM-PULLIAM
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Aldena Pulliam and Venus Cullum of LeFors, solemnized at Panhandle on March 1. Miss Ethel Mae Fitch and Wilson Meadows accompanied the couple and witnessed the wedding. The bride wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories.

CLASS PLANS QUILTING
Members of First Baptist Bethany class will meet at the home of Mrs. J. B. Pafford on North Hazel tomorrow afternoon for a quilting. All members are asked to come as early as possible in the afternoon.

City Kiwanians Attend Meeting Of LeFors Club

A group of Pampa Kiwanians attended the first official meeting of the newly organized LeFors Kiwanis club Tuesday night. Attending the meeting was M. King Gillette of Oklahoma City, field representative of Kiwanis International.

The LeFors club will meet every Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church basement. Ben Williams is president of the club.

Judge Newton P. Willis of Pampa spoke briefly and recited several poems. Earl Scruggs, vice-president of the Amarillo Kiwanis club, and three members were also present. Mr. Scruggs was one of the speakers on the program.

Attending from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McCarty, A. G. Post, R. A. Selby, Fred Thompson, John Roby, Newton P. Willis, H. T. Hampton, and Guy McTaggart.

Farewell Party Is Given Woman In Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN, March 28.—At the home of Mrs. Sherrie, who was assisted by Mrs. Parker and Hicks, a party was given honoring Mrs. Ed Canaday, who is leaving to make her home in Maramec, Okla.

An afternoon of bridge was enjoyed, with Mrs. Fisher winning high score. Delicious refreshments were served, and the honoree was presented handkerchiefs and other gifts.

Guests from Pampa were Mrs. C. Robinson, Wallace, and W. C. de Cordova; from Skellytown, Mmes. Croft, Ellisworth, Hutko, Church, Scorsson, Wilcox, Fisher, Haslam, Stephenson, and the honoree.

Brakeman Slays Police Chief in Railroad Yards

HARRISON, Ark., March 28 (P)—Burr Robertson, Harrison's chief of police, was dead today, the gun victim of a man he sought to arrest in connection with the mysterious slaying of a Pittsburg, Kas., railway agent in 1932.

The officer was shot last night in the yards of the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad in an exchange of shots with Roy Stewart, brakeman for the railroad as the latter came off a run.

Stewart, himself seriously wounded, was in a Springfield, Mo., hospital today where his condition was reported "fair."

Robertson and other officers accompanying him held a warrant for Stewart's arrest in the slaying of Earl V. Dixon, Santa Fe agent, in his office at Pittsburg the night of October 6, 1932.

Frio County Crops Damaged by Storm

SAN ANTONIO, March 28 (P)—Frio county's melon, truck and corn crops were damaged as a wind and rain storm swept that area last night. Some property damage was reported.

In parts of the county the storm was accompanied by hail which beat down growing crops. Hail was negligible in Pearsall, where the wind, reaching a velocity between 40 and 50 miles an hour, broke plate glass windows and blew roof coverings from homes and buildings.

The total rainfall amounted to 3.05 inches, the heaviest rain Pearsall has reported in almost 20 years. Streets and drainage ditches were flooded.

Mrs. Susan Stone, representative of the Gossard company, will be at Murfee's Friday to give fittings. She will work in connection with Mrs. Ruth Park, a graduate counselor of the Gossard school. Mrs. Stone has come here to give personal fitting service for the past several years. She will stay for one day only.

REAPERS CLASS SOCIAL
The Easter social of Reapers class will be held in the basement of First Baptist church Friday evening at 8. Husbands of members will be honor guests. All associate members and friends are invited.

CULBERTSONS HOLD EDGE IN BRIDGE BATTLE

SIMS REFUSES WAGER HE WILL BE FIRST TO QUARREL

BY TOM HAGENBUCH
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, March 28 (P)—Ely Culbertson retained the edge in his 150-rubber bridge argument with P. H. Sims today as they neared the end of the first week of play.

Culbertson and his wife, Josephine, saw their lead increased to 3,250 points at the end of 23 rubbers, although at one time during last night's play their advantage was only 600 points.

Sims, who is playing with his wife, Dorothy, in the test of the different systems of bidding, made a desperate attempt to take the lead in the final rubber last night. Trailing by 1,200 points as they went into the last rubber, Sims, with both sides vulnerable, bid a small slam in diamonds.

He went down two, doubled, and on the next hand the Culbertsons came through with a small slam laydown, carrying the rubber by 1,990 points.

The Culbertsons started yesterday's play with a lead of 1,750 points and made virtually their entire gain in the afternoon session, when in four rubbers they boosted their score to 3,230. In five rubbers last night they gained only 30 points.

The Simses rallied in the night session by taking the first three rubbers and reducing the Culbertson lead to 600. Then the tide turned and the Culbertsons won the last two rubbers, the 22nd and 23rd of the match.

Both sides were guilty of faulty bidding throughout yesterday's play and more than a few hands were not bid to their full strength. There were frequent sets also.

One observation within the enclosure at Crockett's club where the match is being played remarked that both Sims and Culbertson tossed away thousands of points by not getting the full value of their hands.

Extreme cordiality prevailed among all four players and if any of the ringside kibitzers came expecting to see fireworks they were disappointed.

During a recess, however, Culbertson offered to wager Sims $30 to $100 that the Simses would be the first to indulge in any martial explosives. Sims rejected the bet.

Chapel Program Is Attended by Several Visitors

Old-fashioned music and a short program by pupils of the school will furnish entertainment. An address, Mental Food, will be given by Supt. M. L. H. Baze of Hopkins schools.

All parents of pupils in B. M. Baker school are urged to be present. The program will close promptly at 8:55, directors announced.

Birth Rate Is Not Worrying the FERA

WASHINGTON, March 28 (P)—The relief administration issued a statement today asserting "we are not making any surveys of the birth rate among the unemployed and are not interested from a relief standpoint."

The statement was prompted by a declaration yesterday by the Rev. Ignatius W. Cox, of Fordham university, that "it happens to be news of great importance to millions at this moment that the FERA is not worried about the so-called high birth rate among families on relief."

The relief administration's statement said "no instructions have been given to the state relief administrators regarding dissemination of birth control information."

G. C. Malone and son Harold LeRoy were visitors in Amarillo yesterday.

Double Shower Is Given on Monday

A double shower was given for Mrs. E. A. Heard and Mrs. C. Scoggins Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Travis White. After several games, little Edna Rose White, dressed in pink and white and carrying a pink umbrella, appeared to announce a coming shower.

Following her, Charlene Vandenberg, Kathlene Heard, and Lela Colleen White presented the gifts. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Mary Scoggins, King, Willie Broxton, Attie Busby, Vandenberg, Harvey Heard, M. D. Wright, Bill Harrison, Loveless, J. M. Sowder, Roy Mitchell, F. Campbell, Moes; Miss Frances Scoggins, the honorees and hostess.

Gifts were sent by Mmes. Kemp, Kennemer, O. Mitchell, E. J. Miller, O. L. Bell, Patterson, Beasley, Miller, Doc Busby.

EARHART HOPS OFF
EL PASO, March 28 (P)—Amelia Earhart, trans-oceanic flier, took off for Los Angeles at 7 a. m. Mountain standard time today. Miss Earhart is on her way west to prepare for a non-stop flight from some Pacific coast point to Mexico, D. F. She flew here yesterday from Tulsa, Okla.

RENO IS AGOG OVER COMING OF PRINCESS

INHABITANTS WONDER WHETHER SHE'LL SPEND MUCH

RENO, Nevada, March 28 (P)—In contrast to its usual unconcern about the comings and goings of an ever-changing divorce population, Reno is awaiting the expected arrival of Princess Barbara Hutton Midvani with no little amount of curiosity.

Permanent residents did not lift an eye-brow when the former Josephine (Fifi) Widener of Philadelphia, later called "Reno's wealthiest divorcee," slipped quietly into a hotel here late one night in 1932 to establish residence for her divorce from Milton W. Holden.

Princess Nadaja Dorozanski daughter of the late Prince Miguel of Portugal, created no stir at all in Reno — for her secret divorce complaint had been filed and the case tried almost before anyone even knew she had been living quietly here for many weeks.

In 1933 Elliott Roosevelt, and in 1934 Anna Roosevelt Dall, second son and only daughter, respectively, of President Roosevelt, made their way about Reno streets recognized by only a few of the passers-by.

The divorce trials, conducted privately at Minden, Nevada, caused little excitement.

However, the short-lived romance of Princess Barbara, as one of the world's wealthiest young women, and her polo-playing husband, Prince Alexis, has stirred the imaginations of even calloused "old timers."

People wonder whether the princess will spend a sizeable portion of her $40,000,000 fortune here, where she will make her home during her six-week stay, and speculate as to which of the city's 150 lawyers will get the case.

It is generally agreed that if the old rule — ability to pay — applies, Princess Barbara's attorney fee will be a high one.

A few fees in excess of $50,000 and several of $25,000 or more are reported to have been paid. That was in the days when competition was not so keen and Reno's divorce rush was less of a business-like stampede. Fees of $1,000 or more are rare enough in these days of ten-minute private trials. For the "average" case many lawyers regard from $150 to $250 as excellent remuneration.

18 AMERICAN WOMEN ARE TO BOW IN COURT

LONDON, March 28 (P)—Low necked gowns will be the almost uniform mode among the debutantes and matrons who enter Buckingham palace tonight for presentation to their majesties, King George and Queen Mary, at the first court of the season.

Only a few elderly women, fearful of catching cold, have been granted permission to wear gowns with high neck lines. The Lord Chamberlain insisted on strict observance of the costume regulations which many have ignored in the past.

Eighteen American women will be presented tonight and tomorrow night by Mrs. Robert W. Bingham.

Music Contests Of League To Be Open to Public

The public is invited to the choral singing and music memory contests which will be part of the inter-scholastic league meet for Pampa schools Friday. It was announced today by Miss Loma Groom, director.

Choral contests are scheduled at 9 a. m. at Pre-bbyterian church, and music memory at 11 a. m. in room 309 at the high school. Each ward school of the city will enter a team of 25 for each contest.

These contests are part of the city meet. Winners of the choral and music memory contests are county champions in their division, as they do not compete with class B and rural school winners in the county meet.

Baruch Advises Elimination of Tax-Free Bonds

WASHINGTON, March 28. (P)—Elimination of tax-exempt bonds to insure "fairer" taxing and peace-time manufacture of war-making implements under government license or by the government itself were advocated today before the senate munitions committee by Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the world war industries board.

"If we had no tax exempt bonds," he asserted, "taxing would be fairer." This statement was in response to a question by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) as to means of preventing evasion of taxes in war time or peace time.

ENGLAND SEEKS ALLIANCES TO MAKE SECURITY FROM ATTACKS MORE LIKELY DURING WARTIME

BY ALBERT W. WILSON. LONDON, March 28. (P)—For the first time since the pre-war era of military alliances, Britain is not only asking, but fervently desiring, a promise of military aid from her neighbors.

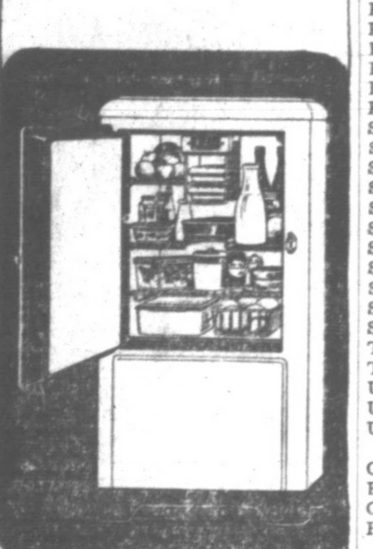

Increasing fears of a sudden and devastating attack in the air has driven England to this about-face in policy. To the man in the street in this country, which never has forgotten the terror of world war air raids on southern England, European diplomacy became vitally important when it evoked the idea of regional defensive air alliances.

Sections of British opinion which have loudly opposed "entanglements with the continent" are ready to make an exception of an air pact. Germany Faces Isolation. Whatever may happen to the other Franco-British peace proposals of February 3, now being debated in other European capitals, England and France are determined not to let the air pact die.

For more than nine centuries—since William the Conqueror landed at Hastings with his Norman army—England had been secure against foreign invasion. Then in less than four years there were 31 hostile air raids, and no effective way of combating them. Bombs killed 670 men, women and children, and injured 1,926.

Quick Help Wanted. Ten years ago England, asking nothing in return, made a qualified promise to defend the frontiers of France, Germany, and Belgium. Now England wants a promise, in case of an unprovoked air attack upon her, of instantaneous assistance.

POLITICS at random

BY BYRON PRICE. If official Washington were "making a book" on the German situation it would give long odds that the United States would stay out of any European war which might ensue.

Lesson of Experience. Some of the more important factors which would be expected to influence public and official opinion are these: 1. We have had one experience. The private and public sorrows and privations of it are well remembered. So are the results. Europe has reaped, repudiated its debts, and trampled under foot that "democracy" which was the avowed inspiration of American war-making.

Many other influences might be named. Some think the nation's increased war strength alone would discourage any European effort to involve it. Because of developments since the World War, what international concern there is centers more in the Pacific than the Atlantic. Pending proposals to conscript wealth are calculated to dampen war enthusiasm in important quarters.

School Boys Give Musical Program Before Civic Clubs

A program by talented high school boys was presented this noon at Pampa Kiwanians dined with members of the Lions club.

The musical program, arranged by Harry Kelley of the school faculty, featured a harmonica quartet composed of Arvo Goddard, Leon Miller, Malcolm Albertson, and Doyle Enloe. Goddard also gave comic readings. Gerald Brown demonstrated his proficiency on the piano and accordion.

On the contrary, there are many reasons for believing it would be much more difficult to involve this country than it was 20 years ago.

NRA SEEKS TO PREVENT CALL TO COAL MINERS TO WALK OUT

NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN BOTH SIDES STARTED

CONTRACTS MUST BE SIGNED BY MONDAY, SAYS LEWIS

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The NRA started today an effort to avert a threatened call to all the nation's soft coal miners to walk out next Monday.

Across a conference table, Donald Richberg, new blue eagle chief, and other members of the recovery administration's governing board, sought information from representatives of the United Mine Workers and Appalachian operators.

The calling of both sides in this controversy to the NRA board's meeting climaxed months of negotiations for new wage and hour contracts for bituminous coal miners. With the negotiations deadlocked, the present contracts are due to expire Sunday night. The operators have been told that John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers, will call for a walkout Monday if new contracts are not signed by that time.

The coal mining conference was one of many developments involving NRA.

An authoritative source said the codes of several industries producing materials and parts for automobile manufacturers — and possibly the controversial automobile code itself — might be modified after new NRA legislation is enacted.

NRA prepared to modify the lumber code to increase the government's authority over it. Prompt revision of the lumber agreement was promised by Richberg yesterday in response to a request by the code authority that the code be suspended.

NRA also faced a request today by the textile union leaders for reopening of the textile code because of dissatisfaction with decreased production which has been ordered.

The senate finance committee's investigation of the recovery administration went forward with an assertion by one of its members that not more than a third of the committee favors extending NRA.

Richberg again came to the defense of NRA in a speech last night in New Brunswick, N. J., in which he denied that the Roosevelt administration had either socialistic or communistic intentions. He pleaded for a "reconstructed" as contrasted to a "ruined" individualism, and pointed to NRA as a major device in protecting the weak from the mighty.

Modern Bathroom Luxury

The last word in modern bathroom planning and equipment is illustrated here. Utility gives no ground to luxury but both are found in the above arrangement in happy combination. Modern mirror and lighting installations suggest spaciousness. Simplicity is also the order of the day. Note the compact but roomy tub, the graceful, two-legged wash-basin. Built-in towel cabinets are answers to many housewives' prayers. The floor plan is an adaptation of economy of space.

Clever Attic Treatment

The above view of the charm and atmosphere possible in a renovated attic room gives a graphic idea of what is possible under provisions of the modernization credit plan of the Federal Housing Administration. In line with the "permanent improvement" clause in such insured loans, note the clever adaptation of decorative wallboard, built-in desk and bookcase, Venetian blinds. In the above treatment, an unused space in a home has been transformed economically into a room of beauty, comfort and repose.

TEXAS CORN-HOG APPLICATIONS HAVE EQUALLED 1934 CONTRACTS

COLLEGE STATION, March 28.

Texas is the first state in the United States to report as many corn-hog applications signed this year as contracts signed in 1934, according to E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman. Thirty-three thousand applications have been signed to date and more will be signed before the closing date of April 1. Of this number, 3,000 of the 1934 signers did not take part in the 1934 program, Regenbrecht said.

Young county has completed tabulating and adjusting final contracts. These contracts are now before the state review board for final checking and will then be sent to Washington. Young county is the first county in the state to reach the review board.

Disbursement of the third and final installment of benefit payments due under the 1934 corn-hog contract began last week, Claude R. Wickard, chief of the corn-hog section in Washington, has announced. A total of $905,810.22 was disbursed in the first set of checks sent out.

The balance of the final payment of approximately $80,000,000 representing the last two-fifths of the total hog adjustment payment will be distributed as rapidly as possible, Mr. Wickard said. He pointed out, however, that before final payment can be made to a producer, his pro rata share of the local administrative expenses pertaining to the hog part of the contract must be deducted.

"Therefore the speed with which checks can be sent to a county will depend upon the receipt of the certifications of total administrative expenses from the county control association. Benefit payment checks cannot be issued until these expense certifications are received and audited," he said.

HAZARDOUS

CHICAGO, (AP)—One way of removing a traffic hazard, Judge Porter of Evanston declares, is to send it to jail.

He did that after terming James Sayers, 47, a menace to the peace and safety of motorists.

Sayers, the judge was told, was found twice within a week crumpled under his bicycle, apparently the victim of a hit and run driver. But rescuers changed their minds and decided it was something else, the police testified.

NEUTRALITY IS ADVOCATED BY WAR OPERATOR

BARUCH IS OPPOSED TO CONSCRIPTING INDUSTRIALISTS

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, who says that in the "present disturbed condition of the world" the United States should "define clearly" its neutrality, was called back before the senate munitions committee today for more testimony on how he helped conduct the last war and what he would do against the coming of any future conflict.

With many demands being voiced on capitol hill that the United States keep clear of the European crisis, the subject of neutrality is being pondered by many legislators. The senate committee was expected to ask Baruch to elaborate on his brief comment yesterday.

First, however, the white-haired financier was to go to with his story of how the world war industries board, of which he was chairman, sought to curb the rising price of copper, vital military metal.

Meanwhile, the house has passed three measures to increase American naval strength. They authorize the navy to proceed with a $38,000,000 program to build up Pacific naval bases; provide 1,000 extra officers for fighting ships; assure the navy enough aviators for an expanding air force.

The bills, passed late yesterday, now go to the senate.

Baruch, testifying yesterday, agreed in general with the plan of the munitions committee to set up a taxing system to "pay as you fight." But he was not enthusiastic about the idea of conscripting industrialists as proposed by John T. Flynn, economist-adviser to the committee.

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

If kidneys don't pass 2 pints a day and get rid of more than 15 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous wastes and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger sign and may be the beginning of kidney backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and edema.

Most people ignore their bowels which contain only 10 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many days. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

U. S. LOSES NEIGHBORS' TRADE

While the United States has persisted in a high tariff, high price, production control policy, other nations—who are business competitors—have kept their prices low, their labor costs down in proportion, and have steadily taken over much of our foreign trade. Unless this country wishes to build a Chinese wall around it and adopt some sort of collectivism which will assure everyone a share of whatever there is produced, and unless the cotton-wheat south is ready to abandon its traditional economic position.

America has neighboring countries of vast productive possibilities. It follows that they should be increasingly good customers. But price talks. Japan has increased her exports to some South American countries as much as 600 per cent in the last few years. We awakened Japan and taught her an aggressiveness and a dependence upon machinery for manufacturing that now rebounds to our hurt.

The one-crop sections feel the result no less than the manufacturing east. Although we are attempting to lift ourselves by our boot-straps with internal and artificial restrictions, appropriations, and policies, the net result is that the national position remains depressed. We aid one group at the expense of another. We devise huge public works programs to be paid out of capital—the capital of the taxpayers.

However necessary are the emergency measures, it must be admitted that some of the emergencies are of our own making and that our national policies are not now tending toward a permanent solution. To change a direction in the midst of stress and strain is of course very difficult. To make a change in the fact of short-sighted, nationalistic public opinion is poor politics. So we continue to drift.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—When the war clouds scud around over Europe, everybody here begins to remember how we got into the last big war and to wonder whether we will have better luck next time.

The War and Navy Departments have some ambitious plans to turn this government into a military dictatorship in event of war. These plans are embodied in seven bills which the generals and admirals drew up and planned to rush through Congress when war actually came along. They mess up the Constitution more than any New Deal proposal to date.

Military and naval men are terribly sore at Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri because he found out about the bills and insisted on introducing them in peacetime, when Congress could get a good look at them, without being stampeded into a possibly Hitleresque program which would be comfortable only to certain brass hats. Clark happens to have been a wartime colonel who was attached to the army general staff. But they couldn't stop him and the bills are now being considered by the Senate munitions committee, which will report out some wartime legislation, but doesn't like the army-navy bills at all.

One objection is that the bills appear to contemplate either a mass military attack on the United States, which few senators believe possible—thanks to our geographic isolation—or a great war of aggression, such as most civilians here oppose.

Another is that at some future time they might suddenly be dragged in, for purposes of Fascist rule, in the case of a crip spot with some weak, minor country which would be no national emergency at all.

The bills, if they became law, would empower the president to confiscate private property and enable him to abolish freedom of the press; compel resignation for the draft of every citizen over 18, all of whom would then be at the president's command and subject to the court-martial for failure to appear upon call to duty; provided for licensing all forms of business in such way as to confer life-and-death powers and authorize the drafting of labor as well as soldiers.

Use of child labor even might be necessary, according to the "Industrial Mobilization Plan" of which the bills are a part.

The plan also speaks of diverting as many as possible of 10,000,000 employed women and girls over 16 to munitions and essential civilian industries.

The farm recovery act is working so well in certain instances that AAA leaders already are forced to fight efforts of farm organization lobbyists and politicians for further crop restrictions and price increases.

Take tobacco. The price for flue-cured is now about 60 per cent above parity. In the case of each farm commodity, parity is the goal of the AAA act and program.

But politicians and so-called farm leaders from tobacco states are demanding a higher processing tax, with further production cuts and benefit payments which will force prices still higher.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

Editor Francis Moore Jr., congratulated himself upon his well-written piece in his Texas Telegraph and Register. Already a dozen men had come in to shake his hand and smoke a cigar with him, and point with great glee to his story about Captain Cooke. Though the paper had not been off the press an hour. All of Texas and the United States would be laughing at Captain Cooke by the time they had their copies of the Telegraph.

"Captain Cooke wrote of a 'buffalo grass' discovered in North Texas. It is, he said, of a pale green; has a slight root on the joints of the stalk; these joints are eight or ten in number, and are four or five inches apart. . . . It is rich and ample food for countless buffaloes, and also for the diminutive but far more numerous prairie dogs. . . . This 'buffalo grass' the editors had explained, 'merely the mesquite grass, found in abundance on the prairies of Texas!'"

No wonder there was laughter at the ignorance of the noble Captain Cooke! Captain Cooke had gone farther, saying that the grass ought to be successfully introduced as a valuable pasture for sheep and cattle on the grounds in Eastern and Northern United States. That was the climax for the Texans. The editor made a splendid repartee, bitingly sarcastic:

"We hope the United States will grant Captain Cooke a patent for this discovery, and allow him the exclusive privilege of cultivating this grass. He should be permitted also to leave the service, and commence the business of herding cattle, as his late conduct shows that he is far better qualified for a herdsman than captain of dragoons."

No doubt Captain Cooke did make a mistake when he arrested Snively and his men as they attempted to get their share of the trade from Missouri to Santa Fe. The mistakes as well as the accomplishments made Texas history, however, and it is in honor of both that the Texas Centennial celebration will be held in Texas in 1936.

About New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK.—Promoted by a note from Mr. Stiles, of Bridgeport, this department herewith submits a few suggestions for those contemplating an early visit:

Avoid night clubs and cabarets not listed in the newspapers. . . . The more expensive ones are those with cover charges. . . . Before ordering always check individual items. . . . Simple refreshments when itemized on the bill have a way of growing into staggering sums.

Don't accept advice from taxi drivers as to which restaurant one should patronize. . . . The answer will always be one on the other side of town. . . . Almost all necessary information may be obtained gratis at the public information booth maintained by the police in Times Square. . . . Two officers are stationed there day and night for the express purpose of aiding strangers.

Time Square is the heart of the city, and squarely in midtown, hence it is within five minutes walk of 99 per cent of legitimate theaters. . . . Apply at the box-office for tickets or choose some reputable agency. . . . shy from strangers who attempt to hawk tickets on the street.

Pay no attention to corner salesmen who offer, "for advertising purposes," marvelous watches at a dime each, or (psst!) whole collections of zippy postcards at the same figure. . . . The watches are fake and the envelopes in which the postcards are presumably hidden contain nothing but blank pieces of paper.

Keep out of fake jewelry stores, too. . . . New York has more of these than Paris, and they daily auction cigarette cases, jewelry, clocks, scarf pins. . . . These "closing out" auctions are strictly theokra soup and aren't advertised in the daily papers.

Sight-seeing buses are okay if you want to spend $1 and waste several hours. . . . Better still, ask a policeman which subway to take.

By subway you are less than 10 minutes from any part of Manhattan—Chinatown, the Bowery, Hell's Kitchen, Greenwich Village, Little Italy, the Spanish quarter, the Asiatic quarter, the East and Hudson river waterfronts.

Chinatown really ought to be seen if for nothing more than the curious little knot into which Pell, Mott, and Doyer streets are tied. The sector comprises scarcely two acres, and yet it is genuinely oriental. . . . It is only the "tourist" points which are faked.

Rockefeller City should be seen, if only for its architectural magnificence. . . . The square, or sunken garden, directly to the rear of Music Hall is remarkable, too, because it contains what some consider the ugliest piece of statuary in the world.

Wend your way past the lions guarding the Public Library, on 5th avenue, at 42nd street, and browse among the 4,000,000 volumes. . . . Washington Square should be visited on a sunlit morning. . . . And Union Square may be diverting if you have never seen a Communist demonstration. Finally, get on a ferryboat and cross to the Palisades, on the Jersey side, and catch a glimpse of Manhattan through the dusk. . . . It is as though ten thousand fire-fires come out suddenly to wink for you.

MOB SHOUTS, SCREAMS IN BERLIN AFTER CONVICTIONS

BY MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

BERLIN, March 28 (AP)—Failure of European powers to intercede in behalf of the Nazis sentenced by a Lithuanian court was viewed in official circles today as a severe blow to prospect for bringing Germany into line with their peace program.

Protests throughout the Reich against the action of the military tribunal in condemning four Nazis to death and 87 to prison terms were said to have impressed Reichsfuehrer Hitler greatly.

As a result, German sources said, the assurances which Hitler gave Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, of the Reich's peaceful intentions toward Lithuania have been virtually nullified.

Anti-Lithuanian sentiment spearheaded throughout Prussia today in the wake of violent rallies protesting against the sentencing of the Nazis by the Lithuanian military court on charges of plotting to restore Memel to Germany.

The hostile manifestations reached their peak in Berlin last night as thousands of Germans milled about the chancellery reading the air with shouts of "Fuehrer Hittem" and "Memel is German and remains German."

The howling mob swept down the Kurfuerstendamm to the doors of the Lithuanian legation, where the demonstrators continued to give vent to their resentment while police struggled to turn them back.

While speakers at the rallies demanded revenge and accused Lithuania of menacing the peace of Europe, the government was said to be waiting action by the powers which guarantee the Memel statute before resorting to direct diplomatic intervention.

Hans Steinhilber, leader of the Association for German Nationality Abroad, delivered a bitter attack on Lithuania at a meeting in the Lustgarten attended by approximately 60,000.

BRITON ARRIVES IN MOSCOW ON PEACE MISSION

BERLIN TALKS ADDED TO UNCERTAINTY OF PEACE

BY JOHN LLOYD. (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, March 28.—Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, arrived today to continue his explorations in behalf of European peace.

The diplomat was welcomed at the railway station by Maxim Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs, and the British ambassador, Lord Chilston.

Eden came here directly from Berlin where he joined Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, in conversations with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, the results of which were regarded in at least some circles in the capitals of Europe as contributing only to the uncertainty of European peace.

Eden stepped at once into an atmosphere surcharged with the conviction that definite precautions must be undertaken if tranquility is to be preserved in eastern Europe in the face of rearmament.

The government mouthpiece, the newspaper Izvestia, vigorously urged conclusion of an eastern security pact in which Hitler repeatedly has evidenced a disinclination to participate.

Those who refuse to adhere to such an agreement, Izvestia said, "will reveal their true aims."

Eden was to confer with Joseph Stalin, soviet dictator, in the Kremlin tomorrow and meanwhile to meet with Litvinoff in a series of discussions beginning this afternoon.

He will begin his homeward trip Monday with visits en route at Warsaw and Praha.

Prettier pincushions wouldn't be hard to find, but here's a most novel one that's all the rage in Delhi, India. This fabric, on whom the natives look with awe, can pierce his skin without drawing blood or apparently feeling pain, as he demonstrates with his weird decorative scheme.

PRAIRIES PLAGUED BY INSECTS, FIRES, BLIZZARDS, IN LONG AGO

KANSAS CITY, March 28 (AP)—Dust-plagued residents of the south-west may well consider the plight of the pioneers of the plains.

No storms such as the section has seen recently, perhaps, but they faced blizzards "where hundreds lost their lives by suffocation." Indian raids, grasshopper invasions "where the insects were piled two to four inches deep everywhere," disastrous prairie fires and the dance of mad wolves.

R. M. Wright, Dodge City, Kas., has described the terror of those early day storms.

"I have witnessed a change in temperature from 74 degrees above zero to 20 degrees below in 24 hours, and during this time the wind was blowing a gale, apparently from the four points of the compass. The air was so full of the fine, blistering snow and sand that one could not see ten feet in advance. . . . Historical blizzards of 1863, 1866, 1873, and 1888 were general. Hundreds have lost their lives by suffocating in blizzards when the temperature was not zero."

After coming through the great drought of 1860 and two severe blizzards, the settlers found the Indians a menace until the peace treaty of Medicine Lodge in 1867. Before then, scores of settlers were killed by roving bands of Redskins.

But another plague soon appeared.

In the summer of 1874 great clouds of grasshoppers came flying out of the northwest mountain region. Historians record that the clouds of insects were "two to three miles in width and scores of miles long." Many drifted to earth. Many passed on. All growing crops disappeared. Lack of vegetables brought much illness to human beings, and food and financial aid was sent from many states.

Prairie fires, started by Indians or some wandering hunter, and whipped by winds, spread great black scars over the countryside.

Not a plague, but a problem, nevertheless, for the pioneers were the herds of buffaloes.

In 1858 a Fort Leavenworth, Kan., newspaper man commented on the proposal to establish a telegraph line from there to Salt Lake City.

"The thing is impracticable for four valid reasons: First the poles will be blown down by the heavy storms sweeping over the prairies; second, the prairie fires will burn them down; third, the Indians will

School Principal Is Shot to Death

WICHITA FALLS, March 28 (AP)—The shooting to death of Horton Browning, 28, principal of the Valley View school, was being investigated today.

Shortly after Browning was killed in his room near the school Nocona officers arrested a man suspected of the shooting. They were reported to have taken a gun from the suspect. The man was taken to Nocona late yesterday. The Valley View school is 12 miles from that Montague county town.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, March 28 (AP)—The speedy approval of the house committee on oil, gas and mining of a bill to extend effectiveness of the law authorizing proration of oil production to market demand has prompted the prediction that it will be enacted with little opposition.

A difference of opinion exists in the oil industry as to whether the oil states compact, now before the Texas legislature, calls for limitation of production to market demand. Sponsors of the market demand law were prepared for a fight against the bill but none developed and it was reported unanimously.

The attitude of Governor James V. Allred toward re-enactment of the market demand law is a source for speculation. Allred is known to be vigorously opposed to any conservation policy that has proce-fixing as its primary purpose and does not guarantee protection to consumers against exorbitant prices.

Limiting output from Texas' great fields to the market demand is regarded by some as an attempt to keep up the price of oil. It is known that Allred will scrutinize any market demand law closely because he considers it borders on the verge of fixing prices.

The feeling generally among members of the legislature is that the oil industry has reached its most stable point in years. To this condition is attributed the sharp decrease in controversial legislation seeking to further regulate the turbulent business. It was recalled that in past years virtually every session witnessed a major fight over a proposal of some kind that had to do with oil regulation.

Several special sessions of the legislature were called to deal specifically with the oil situation. In the

Scout Jamboree For Nation Will Begin August 21

Boy Scouts of the nation will assemble in Washington, D. C., August 21-30 for a national jamboree.

The national committee of the Adobe Walls council is sending letters to all scoutmasters concerning plans for the event. Boy delegates will be selected on the basis of merit. The trip will cost approximately $100, including the jamboree fee, railroad fare both ways, meals en route, insignia, and $10 for incidentals. The jamboree fee will include most expenses while in Washington.

Various troops are planning ways to send their representative. Any troop expecting to send a delegate must deposit the $25 jamboree fee with local headquarters by April 15 and the name of the delegate must be certified by June. Delegate must have had one year of registered service by July 1, must be a first class scout by that date, and must have had a minimum of 10 days camping under the direction of official officials.

The delegates will be organized into a troop and given three days of training before the trip is started. Each boy must have his own uniform, mess kit, bedding, and incidentals. It is planned to leave Pampa about August 18 under adult supervision.

Application blanks have been sent to all troops by Executive C. A. Clark, accompanied by a letter from President A. G. Post.

Mandate Isles Held By Japan Are Issue Again

GENEVA, March 28. (AP)—Japan's resignation from the League of Nations, which will take effect at midnight, raised doubts today as to who ultimately controls the Pacific islands seized from Germany and turned over to Japan under a league mandate.

The Tokyo government was generally expected to retain control of the islands under supervision of the league's mandate commission. The delicate question of sovereignty over the mandated territories, however, raised an issue on which Geneva experts disagree.

Some say that the allied and associated powers, of which the United States was one, are vested with sovereignty over the islands and have entrusted their administration to Japan under league supervision. Hence, it is argued, only the allied powers can deprive Japan of her mandate.

Others contend that the allied and associated powers yielded sovereignty over the islands and that, therefore, the league is entitled to determine what nation shall control them.

15,000 Wheeler Crows Killed in Thicket at Once

SHAMROCK, March 28. (AP)—Wheeler county has declared war on crows which annually cause heavy damage to crops in this area.

An estimated 15,000 of the destructive birds were killed recently when 40 charges of dynamite were exploded in a thicket near here. The bombing was the first of a series planned in the county in an effort to reduce the number of crows before spring planting. Funds are provided by the county commissioners' court and volunteers do the work.

GREAT RICHES

by Mabel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James Stimson, III, is a perfectly good little boy who has the misfortune to be brought up among dotting grandparents and aunts and family friends in New Concord, Kan. None is more dotting than black Aunt Lou, who just has explained that James' father went to join the boy's mother in a very handsomely furnished heaven because the mother "carried on" so that those in charge had to send for the father to quiet her!

Chapter Three
JUDGE HOLCOMB

"I should think mother'd carry on a little longer until He sent for me, too," said James practically.

"I told you it wouldn't be manners," Aunt Lou replied. "And enny ways how could I and your grandma and your Aunt Sarey git along without no little boy in the house?"

"But I'd come back and visit you, often and often. Honest, I would."

Aunt Lou explained that anyone allowed the great privilege of entering Heaven was never permitted to depart. "Ceppling a corse the Devil, and you know what happened to him."

Sitting at the kitchen table with his feet cupped in his small hands, James decided after mature deliberation that it would be impossible to go and live with his father and mother. Grandmother could not get along without him and he could not get along without Grandmother.

But being a little boy and an imaginative little boy with few playmates he naturally had to have a hero to look up to and worship. Up to now it had been Lancelot. Suddenly his dead father sprang to life and pushed Lancelot off the pedestal.

James decided that he too would be a doctor. He told Aunt Lou so and she admitted that doctoring, next to preaching, was the highest calling on earth.

With Aunt Lou's assistance James worked out the belief that his father held the position of court physician extraordinary to the Lord God High. They agreed, however, that his father's doctor also took care of the sick angels in his spare moments and especially of the little boy angels who had eaten too much "embrosial" ice cream.

James, however, found it wiser to discuss the dignified state in which his father dwelt with his grandmother and grandfather or even with Aunt Sarah. Aunt Sarah was somewhat shocked, feeling vaguely that it was irreligious, and his grandmother cried a little when she mentioned it to her.

Even his grandfather, though he listened politely, changed the subject as soon as he decently could. Grandfather always changed the subject when Father was mentioned by anyone except Grandmother.

James was an engagingly homely little boy with bright, carrotty red hair, wide apart gray eyes with gold lashes, and a wide band of brown freckles straight across his rather nice little nose.

But in spite of all that was afterwards claimed for him he was in no way an unusual child except that he had a rather remarkable memory. He remembered people by name even if he had met them most casually and could repeat quite long poems word for word after they had been read to him once or twice.

However, he was only seven or eight and his gift of memory hardly remarked upon when Judge Holcomb made the flat statement that little James Stimson was not only uncommonly and mightily gifted, but beyond the shadow of a doubt one of those rare darlings of the gods, predestined by the Powers on High to great riches and sure and easy fame and success.

Although the Judge joked irreverently about the sainted dead he was as one with the women in their interest in Dr. Jim's orphaned son. Indeed the Judge became so besotted that the story, probably entirely apocryphal, spread through New Concord that he had been in love with Molly Ewing Stimson.

A more likely explanation is that the Judge was meant to have at least a dozen children. As the ex-governor's law partner he was often at the Stimsons and saw much of the little boy; the prodigal affection that should have been scattered among a dozen centered on James.

Most of the women accepted the Judge's pronouncements concerning the hope of the Stimsons without cavil or question. Not so Miss Julia Pratt, his great friend and near neighbor. Miss Julia gave it as her belief that the poor child was pursued by a Jinx, losing his father and mother so early and all. The Judge pooh-pooed this as the reasoning of a nitwit and entirely unworthy of Miss Julia's not inconsiderable brain.

"Well, killing off Molly and Jim may be your idea of luck or the dispensation of a kindly and beneficent Providence, but I can't say it's mine," sniffed Miss Julia tartly.

"That was pretty tough," the Judge conceded grudgingly, "but if you'd ever taken the trouble to glance inside a book of history you'd know that those the gods love they first lick to a standstill. James got

Corpus Christi Pre-Centennial Begins March 29

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 28. (SP)—Plans for the historical pageant, which will tend to convert into a pre-Centennial event the South Texas Agricultural and Industrial exposition to be held here March 29 to April 6, are meeting with widespread interest. This pageant is proposed as a preliminary to a great Southwestern historical celebration here to be co-ordinated with other Texas Centennial celebrations in 1936.

It is being sponsored by the Corpus Christi Business and Professional Women's club and will be under the direction of Mrs. Nell Tribble Bartlett and Miss Margaret Grant. A number of towns in this section have been asked to present separate historical episodes on separate nights, among those expected to participate being Refugio, San Patricio county, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Kingsville and other cities.

Interest already manifest in the exposition assures that it will be section-wide in presentation of exhibits and attendance.

Game Warden Has Slain 69 Mexican Lions Since 1930

LAREDO, March 28. (AP)—John E. Hearn, state game warden in Webb county, has killed 69 Mexican mountain "lions" since he was appointed to the service in 1930. Although he has killed several hundred coyotes and other predatory animals native to South Texas in the same period he has preferred trawling and killing the "lions."

Hearn said this animal caused more damage to wild life and domestic creatures than other predatory species in this area. They attack calves, colts, sheep and deer, preferably the latter. Their forays are held responsible for the reduction of the number of deer on ranches in South Texas in recent years.

Hearn's latest capture of a "lion" was made March 14, the animal measuring 7½ feet and weighing 140 pounds. It was held in a trap most of the day because Hearn wanted to get a picture of the beast alive. Upon discovering his capture he anchored the trap to trees while he returned to Laredo for his camera. After photographing the struggling animal the hunter shot it between the eyes.

"I couldn't see a thing," she said. "I don't have the faintest idea what Texas looked like. I was on the radio beam almost all the way."

"I turned back once because I was afraid the dust would damage my motor. Then I changed my mind and headed toward El Paso again."

Ed Carrigan's condition was much improved at Worley hospital this morning, attendants reported.

Victims of Marine Corps Ruling

Because he had served less than two years as a U. S. Marine Corps officer, Second Lieutenant Douglas McDougal, Jr., was dismissed from the service when his marriage was discovered by Maj.-Gen. Smedley Butler, who charged that Maj.-Gen. John H. Russell shielded the young man because he is the son of Brigadier General McDougal. Now the former marine is hard up for a job to support his attractive young wife and infant son, who are shown above in their Philadelphia apartment.

SINCE 1900 TEXAS HAS PAID 47 MILLIONS TO OLD CONFEDERATES

AUSTIN, March 28. (AP)—A check of old records by the comptroller disclosed that since 1900 Texas has paid approximately $47,000,000 to confederate veterans and their widows.

The latest report of the treasury department shows the deficit in the pension fund to be approximately $4,500,000, and no legislation to reduce it has been introduced in the regular session of the forty-fourth legislature.

Pension funds are derived from the seven cents per $100 valuation levy authorized by the constitution. Commentators agree that the whole story of the deficit simply is that the revenue from the levy has been insufficient to balance the outlay.

On March 1 there were 1,148 veterans and 6,526 widows of veterans on the pension rolls. Of the veterans, 806 were single and 342 married. Ninety-four single men were living in the state home and five married. It was believed the number of veterans on the rolls represented closely the number living.

The pension fund was established in 1900 and the first recorded annual amount of pensions was $145,683.60 in 1901. Various liberalizations of the eligibility provisions of the law caused increases until the peak of $3,600,828.75 was reached in 1931.

Until 1914 the pensions were paid out of the general revenue and in 1914 a five cent levy was authorized by constitutional amendment. The seven cent tax was authorized in 1926.

Since 1931 the pension payments have declined because of deaths of veterans and widows. In 1933 the total was $3,563,641.57; in 1934, $3,242,564.15; in 1934, $2,860,752.45. Payments to date indicate a proportional decrease for 1935.

Records further show that more than 1,000 veterans and widows deaths have been reported annually for the past several years but have been somewhat offset, as far as pension payments were concerned, by additions to the rolls.

A table showing the number of pension applications approved, the number rejected and the number of deaths reported in recent years follows:

Year	Approved	Rejected	Reported Deaths
1934	207	124	1,314
1933	371	150	1,388
1932	767	285	1,361
1931	1,716	288	1,350
1930	1,477	255	1,350
1929	1,109	255	1,530

The big increase in applications approved for the years 1929, 1930 and 1931 was due to changes in the status making more widows and veterans, particularly the former, eligible for pensions.

The pension bureau of the comptroller's department estimated unofficially that 30 years from now, because many widows receiving pensions at present are little more than 50 years of age, there would still be a considerable number on the rolls.

With reference to the deficit, some sentiment in the legislature appears to be that time will bring a solution as the decreasing number of pensioners lowers the amount of payments within the revenue from the constitutional levy.
