BODIES OF FOUR TOURISTS SOUGHT IN NEW MEXICO IN 'MASS SLAUGHTER'

YOUTH SOUGHT BY BIG POSSE IN SOUTHWEST

TRAVELERS' CHECKS OF FOUR PEOPLE ARE CIRCULATED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 8 (AP)—Buzards, sometimes a sign of death on the American desert, attracted a searching party today in the Rio Grande in a hunt for bodies, possibly those of four missing tourists from Illinois who authorities believe were robbed and killed.

An old time resident of New Mexico discovered the buzzards circling the Rio Grande 50 miles north of Hot Springs, N. M., on the El Paso to Albuquerque high way. Familiar with desert lore, he said such a large flock of these birds usually indicated the presence of dead bodies and he organized a search. Pending the outcome, he asked that his name be withheld.

The spot on the Rio Grande is along the route possibly traveled by Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus of East St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herberer of Duquoin, Ill., whose car was found abandoned in Dallas, Texas, May 28.

Federal officials at El Paso said they feared the Illinois tourists may have been the victims of "mass slaughter" as they were last heard from May 22 at Vaughn, N. M. R. H. Colvin, federal in charge of the El Paso office, said it appeared probable the couple were slain.

250 Bandsmen Given Lunches In 2-Day Fete

Two hundred and fifty band members were given their lunches during the Pre-Centennial. Excellent lunches were served at the red building on the school campus by Mrs. John B. Reed, Mrs. Reed during the regular terms in charge of the cafeteria at the George Mann school.

George Briggs and G. C. Stark welcomed the bands and assigned them places in the parades and at various events.

Mayor Proclaims RR Week

By proclamation of Mayor W. A. Bratton, Pampa will observe national "Railroad Week" on June 10-15.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, this city has been served for many years by the Panhandle and Santa Fe Ry. Co. and the Fort Worth & Denver City Ry. Co., and long played a vital part in the lives of our people, and "Whereas, these railroads have paid, and continue to pay, large amounts in taxes, and in air-conditioning all principal passenger trains, and "Whereas, this has meant lowered cost and improved travel service to the traveling public,

KIDNAPED CUBAN MULTI-MILLIONAIRE IS RELEASED; CLAIMS RANSOM WAS UNPAID

Found in Milk Truck With Four Servants 3 Miles From His Home.

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press) HAVANA, June 8.—Antonio San Miguel, 78-year-old multimillionaire, was set free today, the $285,000 ransom demanded for him assertedly unpaid, and tonight police and soldiers redoubled efforts to trap his eight kidnapers.

Seized Wednesday night as he lurked with four servants toward his luxurious villa, the former senator and rail magnate was found in a milk truck three blocks from his home, with two servants. They were found, their eyes and mouths taped.

San Miguel's valet, Vimor Arleta, and his bodyguard, Jose Modesto Iglesias, had been previously designated to take word of the ransom demands—demands that came to naught as police vigilance blocked efforts of friends and business associates to pay for San Miguel's release.

Ten suspects already held in custody, police arrested two more men they said had papers in their possession definitely linking them to the kidnap gang.

A report that San Miguel was set free on his personal promise to pay the sum demanded later was deemed a reliable quotation, saying the ransom was not and would not be paid.

Young Democrat Convention Will Be Big in 1936

One of Pampa's biggest conventions in 1936 will be that of West Texas Young Democrats, who Thursday awarded the Pampa club the next meeting.

Bill Futral of Amarillo was chosen. Gilmore N. Nunn, as floor leader of the Pampa delegation, and John Ketter led a successful series of caucuses.

Lubbock withdrew her bid for the 1936 convention and it was understood that in exchange she secured a first vice-president and guaranteed support for the 1937 convention from Pampa.

Major-Gen. Kenki Doihara, the "Lawrence of Manchuria," whose arrival at Mukden in September, 1931, immediately preceded Japanese seizure of that Chinese territory, was en route from Mukden to Peiping.

Chinese authorities here took elaborate precautions to forestall any incident that might ignite the powder barrel, even disarming police along streets where Japanese troops paraded.

Japanese officers left for Peiping to serve "final warning" that China must comply with sweeping demands of the Japanese army in North China. Otherwise "drastic action" will be taken, it has been stated.

Costumes Should Be Returned Today

YOUTH CLAIMS HE FLAUNTED LIQUOR LAWS

AS TEXAS RANGER HE DID NOT TRY TO ENFORCE LAWS

LUBBOCK, June 8. (AP)—Driscoll Irvin, in United States district court Saturday, pictured himself as a patron of bootleggers his sheriff-father sought to apprehend and as participant in a gambling game the elder Irvin had tried to break up.

Soon after the 24-year-old, 280 pound witness had testified, prosecution and defense closed their evidence in the Lamb county conspiracy trial, Driscoll Irvin, his father, Sheriff Len Irvin, and 20 other Lamb county residents or former residents are defendants, charged with conspiracy to violate federal liquor taxing acts.

Eight defendants, who had pleaded not guilty, again asked Judge James C. Wilson to instruct the jury to acquit them. Judge Wilson said he would rule on the motions when court is re-opened Monday morning.

Attorneys' summations and charge of Judge Wilson remain before the case goes to the jury.

Driscoll Irvin, former special Ranger under ex-governor Miriam A. Ferguson, was the last defendant to take the stand.

He emphasized that he had not taken protection money from any bootlegger, that he had not offered protection to any one engaged in liquor trafficking.

Driscoll Irvin, whose height is only 2 and 1/4 inches less than his 46-year-old father's 6 feet 5 inches, testified, on direct examination, that he had gambled at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Carr, a defendant, several times.

He said he had bought whiskey from Vernon Herman, Mrs. Bill Herman, and Guy Foster, defendants. Sheriff Irvin had testified he had raided residences of those three and of Mrs. Carr.

"Did you tell your father about buying whiskey and playing poker?" Charles C. Crenshaw, a defense attorney, asked.

"Nix!" That was Greta Garbo's classic farewell to America as she sailed from New York for a vacation in Sweden. Going to great lengths to avoid newspapermen and the public, she taxied to the ship from Newark, N. J. An alert cameraman caught her peering at New York out of a taxi window, however.

40,000 PEOPLE SEE PARADES; MANY WORKED TO STAGE FETE

Record Crowds Reported at All Places of Amusement And at Many Stores.

Wrapped in the purple mantle of glory, the Pre-Centennial, Pioneers Roundup and Panhandle Oil Show, was laid to rest among the golden memories of pleasant experiences, during the early morning hours after midnight Saturday.

Everybody from out of town said that the celebration, entertainment and hospitality of Pampa were unprecedented and unparalleled in the Panhandle. Most of the old timers who were here last year came back, and several hundred first-timers were here. Death had taken most of those who did not return.

Pampa had the greatest crowds in history Thursday and Friday. It is estimated that 25,000 people saw the parade Thursday and about 15,000 saw it Friday. Every place of amusement was filled Friday night. The pageant at Harvester park was witnessed by almost a record crowd for the field. The gym was packed to capacity and many could not get in. The Pre-Centennial ball at the Pla-Mor was attended by more than 800 men and women. The motion picture theaters were comfortably filled.

Ol Men Given Lunch Thronged pushed and crowded for favorite positions at the two rodeo performances each afternoon. It would be impossible to determine how many out-of-town visitors were here during the two days, but most observers agree that it was a record number. Numerous oil companies and supply houses provided barbecues and other entertainment for their employees. A dutch lunch trip to Washington with the farmers' special train.

LIBERALISM IS CONDEMNED IN A RESOLUTION

CONVENTION ADOPTS ALLIED VIEWS ON GOVERNMENT

AMARILLO, June 8. (AP)—After hearing James and Elliott Roosevelt, sons of the President, plead for liberal interpretation of governmental principles, the Young Democratic clubs of Texas today went on record as opposed to any change which would destroy the constitution.

The resolution condemned "any constitutional amendment which in effect would destroy our present constitution and form of government."

Abilene was selected as the 1936 meeting place. Efforts to reduce the age limit of club officers from 40 to 35 years was rejected after a heated amid wild confusion on the convention floor.

Gathered in third annual convention, the Young Democrats passed resolutions endorsing a smaller, single house legislature ratification of the federal child labor amendment, passage of a state fair code of ethics setting minimum hours and wages, and state regulation of utilities.

The convention condemned public ownership of railroads. Expected controversial resolutions dealing with the Supreme Court's action in invalidating the NRA were not submitted.

The resolution opposing constitutional changes was bitterly fought by members of the progressive "university club" group on the grounds that it would block progressive legislation.

The state organization amended its constitution to allow annual meetings and election of officers on alternate years.

In addressing the strife-torn convention, James Roosevelt joined Elliott in defending new deal legislation against attacks by disciples of strict adherence to the constitution. He declared that "the NRA and other alphabetical agencies were passed at a time when the country was facing a crisis."

"Action was demanded by the people," he said. "Any man, regardless of who he was, had to act to the best of his ability. There was no time to go to the supreme court and ask if this measure or that measure was constitutional. The leaders alone had the responsibility of putting them into effect."

Turning to Gov. James V. Allred of Texas, who last night participated in a verbal exchange with Elliott Roosevelt over states rights and constitutional adherence, Roosevelt said: "Governor Allred, I always have admired the way you went about doing things. I would like to leave this hall knowing that you are willing to enter into a frank and open discussion of this great issue . . ."

Float Paintings Offered For Sale

The 16 mural paintings which were exhibited on the floats in the Pre-Centennial parades were offered for sale today by the committee. Each picture tells graphically a famous story of Texas history, and measures six feet high and eight feet wide.

The paintings would be suitable for schools, cafes, automobile display rooms and other large buildings which has a perspective of about 30 feet. Interested persons are asked to call or see Archer Pulling at the Daily NEWS.

Scout Board to Consider Finance

Financing of Pampa's part of the Boy Scout movement this year will be considered soon by the executive board.

A total of $584.75 has been raised without a campaign, but the major portion of the work is yet to be done.

Dr. C. H. Schulkey has been appointed chairman of Scouting in the Pampa district. He will assist the finance committee and the board in planning the campaign. Scouting is at its peak of efficiency and interest in Pampa and the Adobe Walls council.

RA BREAKDOWN CALLS FOR CHANGE IN PLANS

It is generally taken for granted that the administration and the business community must find a new method of bringing about business recovery, in view of the supreme court's NRA decision, and that this method must include some better system of applying those controls which fell to the ground in the sick chicken case.

Since most people agree that something in the nature of a constitutional amendment would be necessary to bring this about, it is apparent that any such program would take a very long time to put into operation.

It might be more stimulating to look in an entirely different direction. Reversal of NRA fortunes unquestionably brings the New Deal program to a halt; but the field of government control of business is not the only one in which a fresh course could well be charted.

For it is worth remembering that the NRA was not merely a scheme for integrating the business world thru government action. Its basic philosophy was the notion that recovery could not take place unless prices were kept up, and this, in the condition of the last few years, was possible only through restriction of supply.

As the NRA collapses, the chance of putting this policy into effect collapses also; and it is worth asking ourselves whether a change of course in this field might not be advisable.

When you try to bring about recovery by maintaining food prices you run the risk of mistaking the symptom of the disease. Falling prices, or a low price level generally, are not the cause of bad times; they are the result of bad times.

If you undertake to boost these prices by cutting down on the available supply of goods, you are not getting at the underlying trouble. The real trouble is the fact that production at a profit is not possible for the bulk of the producers.

In other words, it is the flow of goods itself, rather than the price level at which the flow is taking place, that is important. And the downfall of the NRA may give us an excellent chance to re-orient our policy so as to deal with the trouble itself instead of with its painful symptoms.

We have been trying, so far, to bring about prosperity through the control of an artificial scarcity. In some ways this has borne an unfortunate resemblance to the labors of a man who tries to lift himself by his own bootstraps. We may be better off if we get away from the notion that we can help ourselves by the use of scarcity, and turn to the idea of trying to work the trick by stimulating abundance.

Railroad Week By Gov. Allred

AUSTIN, June 8.—Railway activities will be widely publicized all through the state as a result of a proclamation issued by Governor James V. Allred designating June 10 to June 15 as Railroad week. From practically all of the principal cities of Texas and from numerous smaller places come reports of plans for a proper observance of the Governor's proclamation. The part the railroads have played in the development of Texas, their importance to the nation as a principal vital industry, and the need for a sympathetic understanding of their problems by the public will be stressed in hundreds of public addresses, radio talks and at specially arranged railroad programs.

All of the western carriers are cooperating in making Railroad week a success and it will be observed in all of the western states, the governors of a majority of them having followed Governor Allred in issuing proclamations.

"Open house will be observed at yards, stations and shops and the public at major railroad points will be invited to become more familiar with the intricate details of railway operation. Luncheon clubs, chambers of commerce and other civic bodies are planning special meetings at which the activities of the railroads will be explained.

As a result of a widespread observance of Railroad week, the carriers hope to focus public attention on the problems of the railways with the hope of creating increased interest in the carriers and thus stimulating railway traffic and increasing railway employment.

In his proclamation Governor Allred referred to the fact that the railways were making a notable contribution of economic recovery as a result of their improvement and betterment programs and said that as a result of large expenditures railway service in the state had been greatly improved.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There are miserable days here for prophets. But it seems no great risk to make at least one prediction:
We're going to find out whether NRA was a boom or curse.

In case it wasn't much of either, we'll find that out, too.
There hasn't been any real agreement about it. In fact, the administration—except for the loyal and zealous NRA-ers themselves—had been going cold on NRA or months, to the point of doubting whether it was more help or hindrance in the recovery effort.

Even Roosevelt, it may be told, at one point became distinctly luke about the experiment. That was why Senate leaders were able to put through the devitalizing Clark amendment extending NRA nine months and killing it as effectively as the supreme court could ever kill it.

Only when the political implications of allowing such an important New Deal segment to die ingloriously on the eve of a presidential campaign became plain to Roosevelt did he turn on the heat for extension until after the next election.

Now NRA, at least, as it was, is dead. Its enemies are happy, but already there's a wave of jitters over the possible effects of the obliteration of the codes.
What happens when industry is left to itself and "chiselers" are allowed at large?

Regardless of administration stopgaps and future plans, everyone will watch for proof or disproof of General Johnson's assertion that the end of NRA would mean loss of 3,000,000 jobs and $3,000,000,000 in wages.
Or were certain economists right when they insisted that recovery was being retarded, unemployment continued, and industrial activity hampered by code restrictions?

What will happen to the "little fellow" in business, for whom Senators Nye and Borah, Clarence Darrow, and others bellowed so loudly? According to one version, he is now released from oppression and bound to be happier and more prosperous.
But in NRA files is impressive evidence that "little fellows," prior to the code era, were being gobbled up at a terrific rate through bankruptcies and mergers.

Will the gobbling process be resumed? A wave of price-cutting seems to be inevitable. Will it be accompanied by deliberate price wars, designed to drive the "small business man" out?

What will be the other effects of the anticipated widespread price-cutting? One quite large school of thought insists that it will stimulate consumer demand by expending purchasing power and thus start more wheels turning and create more employment.
But one also seems to have heard much from high places to the effect that higher price levels were essential to prosperity and that prices still weren't high enough. And everybody knows that prices boosted and maintained under the codes were, in effect, permitted as a trade for minimum wage and hour standards in the benefited industries. What about wages?

If wages are cut, what happens to that purchasing power which everyone agrees is so necessary and which, according to the first version, will be increased by lower prices.
It certainly does tend to get a fellow all mixed up!

Under new law, Wisconsin diners-out will be served cheese at restaurants whether they want it or not. The slogan of defiant citizens might be "Are we men or are we mice?"

An almost nude actress, riding a white horse, attracted a lot of attention in New York City. Nowadays any horse, let alone a white one, is a novelty.

PAMPANS LOSE TO LE FORS 7 TO 10 FRIDAY

COLTEXO WINS 3RD IN ROW OVER ROAD RUNNERS

Coltexo of LeFors made it three in a row over the Road Runners on Friday afternoon when their heavy artillery got to Carl Stewart for 14 hits and a 10 to 7 victory. The Road Runners staged a ninth-inning rally by getting to Brawley, but Manager Sammy Hale called in Ledford, his portlander, and the rally fell short.

The Road Runners got to Brawley for 10 bingles and were nerrily on their way to tie the score when Mr. Ledford arrived on the scene. Then the left-handed jinx hit the home team. Ledford got Patton to hit to the infield, walked Brickell, and then fanned Berry for the last out. Coltexo started their activity in the first inning, sending three runs across the plate. One was scored in each of the second and third stanzas. Two more scores were made in the seventh. To clinch matters, Gordon Nell hit a home run with two on in the eighth.

The Road Runners failed to get a run across until the fourth, when three clean bingles netted two runs. Another was added in the sixth. The Pampa nine made a valiant effort to pull the game out of the fire in the ninth. Berry led off by going out, pitcher to first. Horton, McClary, and Bailey, hitting for Stewart, got singles. Summers walked, and Scating got his third single of the game. Seitz drew a walk to end the tenure of Mr. Brawley on the mound. Ledford took over the assignment. He allowed one man to score on an out, and then fanned the last man to face him.

Scaling, playing on the initial sack for the Road Runners, collected three hits. Patton followed with two. Nell, Coltexo left-fielder, did the distance hitting, getting a home run and a single. He scored three times. Shinski also scored three times and got two hits. Berry, Hale and Huffman connected for doubles. The Road Runners will be in Berger this afternoon for a game with the Phillips 66 Oilers. The Huber Carbon company Blackfaces will be here for a game tomorrow night.

Coltexo will entertain the Amarillo Shamrocks this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Shaw park.

BRADDOCK AND BAER BATTLE THURSDAY EVE

The Pampa Road Runners have only one game scheduled here for this week. It is against the Huber Carbon company Blackfaces of Berger. The Berger nine will be here tonight and unless bad weather interferes with the game.

The two teams were scheduled to play last week but through a misunderstanding, Huber failed to appear. There will be no error tomorrow night and the game will be called at 8:45 o'clock. Chody, who last year with 1 Reno held the Road Runners to three bingles, will probably be on the mound for the Blackfaces. Amarillo Shamrocks brought Chody to this country, but he jumped to Berger without playing a game for Amarillo.

It will be just about Joe Barry's time to take the mound with Lee Daney or George Bulla second choice. There may be one or two new faces in the Road Runner lineup, but the team is practically the same as the one which went to Denver. The teams will meet on Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoon.

Eason's Oilers will return the games the following week-end, playing at Road Runner park on Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoon, June 21, 22 and 23. The Eason Oilers have entered the Denver Post tournament again this year. The team was the first to register and mail a forfeit check. There is talk that the Road Runners will be entered in the Denver event.

A year ago this time, Braddock was working as a stevedore loading railroad ties on the Jersey City docks. In close to ten years of ring warfare he had been beaten 22 times in 79 fights. Worse still, his nose recent fights had been his worst. His future seemed definitely behind him.

Then the garden called him to fill in on the preliminary on the card that gave Max Baer his chance to crush Primo Camera for the heavyweight title. He almost decided to pass it up; stevedoring seemed safer financially. But he tossed up the job, trained one afternoon, and knocked out Corn Griffin, though he had to get up off the floor to do it.

His job was gone and he couldn't get it back or get another fight. From February of 1934 to March of this year, he was on the relief rolls, drawing $24 a month in New Jersey. He haunted the garden. He got a fight with John Henry Lewis and beat him, one with Art Lasky and whipped him. He paid back the money he'd gotten for relief, Max Schmeling knocked out Steve Hamas and then wouldn't come in to fight Baer. The first thing the astonished Braddock knew he was named heavyweight title challenger.

Samuel Parks Wins National Open Title in Oakmont Upset

CHAMP NEVER BEFORE WON MAJOR GOLF TOURNAMENT

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB, PITTSBURGH, June 8. (AP)—The home town boy made good today as Samuel Parks, Jr., youthful Pittsburgh professional, came from behind to conquer America's foremost shotmakers and capture the National open golf championship in a stumbling, rain-soaked finish to the celebrated "battle of Oakmont."

Never before a winner in any major tournament, only four years out of the University of Pittsburgh, where he captained the golf team and two weeks short of his 20th birthday, Parks pulled the biggest surprise victory since Johnny Goodman, the Omaha amateur, galloped off with the crown three years ago.

The only player in the all-star field to crack 900 on Oakmont's terrifying, storm-tossed rounds of 77, 73, 73, 76 for an aggregate of 299 for the 72-hole route. He won by two strokes from Jimmy Thomson, the California "sledge gun," who twice tossed away four-stroke leads over the home-town favorite in the stretch. Thomson finished second with the rounds of 73, 73, 77 and 78 for a total of 301 as he allowed one of the best championship chances in his career to slip away.

Such drama as there was, however, in an otherwise dismal finish was furnished by none other than the 42-year-old former champion, Walter Hagen. While the other favorites faltered and fumbled thru-out the final round, the old master gave a gallery of upwards of 7,500 spectators the day's biggest thrill as he gallantly tried to overhaul the new champion. The "Hag" staggered and lost control of himself finally but he rallied at the last to come with a 76 for an aggregate of 302 and third place.

Hagen started the final 36 holes three strokes behind Parks. He still trailed by three strokes as he matched the Pittsburgher's morning round 73. He made up this deficit with one to spare as he started with even fours for the first four holes of the final round but he skidded into a pair of fives on two comparatively easy holes and it was again an uphill struggle. Out in 37, even par. Hagen had sliced Parks' margin to two shots. Par over the last nine would have given triumph to the old master, but he wasn't equal to it in the rain and with the strain beginning to tell.

Quickly his chances faded as he lost four strokes to Park and Parks on as many holes of the incoming nine. As a parting gesture, he bagged a birdie on No. 17 to save third place and a "bigger cut" in prize money. He got the day's biggest ovation from the crowd when he

SECOND RODEO PERFORMANCE PRAISED FOR EXCELLENCE
Said to have been one of the best rodeo shows ever seen in this section was the second and closing performance Friday afternoon. The stock was tough but the rodeo hands, inspired by the large crowd, went to almost superhuman lengths to show their metal. But, as on the previous day, a number were knocked out, though not seriously.

FRONT RIDING—First, Whitey Stewart; second, Bruce Ross; third, Huey Long.
BULL-DOGGING—First, Jack Hiltson; second, Bill Van Vactor; third, record lost by clerk.
STEER RIDING—Jack Obenbass first, Bill Van Vactor second, Jimmie Olsen third.
The rodeo was managed by C. N. Brewer of Pampa, assisted by a committee of ticket takers.

VACATIONS AND VISITS OF THE SUMMER SEASON BEGIN

Pre-Centennial Queen Is Crowned At Ball Ending Two-Day Celebration

DANGERS FILL BALLROOM ON FRIDAY NIGHT

DE AUN HEISKELL IS GIVEN CROWN BY JAYCEE

Coronation of Miss DeAun Heiskell as Queen of the Pre-Centennial ball Friday evening was the highlight of the celebration's social side. Dancers who crowded the Pla-Mor floor to capacity witnessed the crowning.

Alfred Gilliland, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, placed on the queen's head the white satin, rhinestone studded crown, to the accompaniment of an orchestra fanfare. Miss Heiskell wore a gown of pink satin.

She was accorded the honor after being named Miss Pampa of 1935 in a beauty contest at La Nora theater Wednesday evening. Joyce Smith, runner-up in the contest, sang a solo to complete the coronation ceremony.

The ball, tuned to the fast moving music of Johnny Floyd's orchestra, officially closed the Pre-Centennial. It was staged by a committee headed by Bob Knox.

Dancing of another type attracted another huge crowd to the high school gymnasium, where fiddled tunes of past days summoned square dancers until far past midnight. Old-time dancing was enjoyed there on both Thursday and Friday evenings as a feature of the pioneers roundup.

Despite weather unpleasantly cold and windy, the street dance of Thursday evening also attracted large numbers to dance or look on.

Little Symphony Orchestra Seeks More Members

The Little Symphony orchestra, new musical organization directed by Mrs. May Foreman Carr, will have its regular practice Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the red school building.

Thirty instruments are already enrolled in this orchestra. Much interest is being shown, and it is expected to become one of the outstanding summer musical groups. Sunday afternoon concerts are planned as soon as the repertoire is large enough.

Anyone who has an orchestral instrument not in use is urged to bring it and join the group. Mrs. Carr has searched neighboring cities, going as far as Amarillo and Canyon for French horns and tympani needed in the orchestra. She hopes that a tympani set will be purchased for use of the orchestra and band this summer.

Rehearsals for two other groups are announced for tomorrow evening. The junior ensemble will meet at 7, and the senior ensemble at 8, both in the red building.

Girl Helpers in Poppy Sale To Be Auxiliary Guests

Girls who assisted with poppy sales in the recent American Legion Auxiliary campaign will be guests when the Auxiliary entertains with a picnic at Central park Monday at 6:30 p. m.

The honorees will be Joyce Turner, Helen Gilliam, Jean Lively, Frances Helen Kooze, Vera Evelyn Sackett, Norma Dickinson, Frances Babione, June Beck, Alberta Latas, Bonnie Lea Rose, Meribelle Hazard, Jessie Gilbert, Herma Becham, Katherine Ward, Mary Pralley, Mary Lou Douglas, Esmarie Allen, and Clarice Doucova.

Vacation School To Give Program

Special music by the junior department of the daily vacation Bible school will feature the evening service Sunday at the First Baptist church.

This school will continue through next week to be closed with commencement exercises, at which time parents and friends will be privileged to see the work that has been done during the two weeks' session of the school. All handwork will be on display, and the program will consist of features selected from the daily routine of the school.

Piano Class Will Be Formed Soon

Organization of a new piano class, using a method that has proved successful this year, is announced by Mrs. May Foreman Carr, high school music instructor. It will be started Monday.

Those interested in class piano lessons may see Mrs. Carr at the red, school building. Five pianos are available for use of the class, and a practice room may be used by pupils without payment. The class will meet three times a week for an hour's lesson.

Garden Club Plans Its Tour

French First Lady Welcomed

"In France I am nozzing official—nozzing but the wife of the president," Madame Albert Lebrun (right), wife of France's chief executive, exclaimed in surprise when she became the center of attention at the White House, where she is pictured being greeted by America's First Lady, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mme. Lebrun was her guest at tea and a state dinner. Between them is Mme. Freysselner, Mme. Lebrun's daughter.

PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL TRIP TO BE ARRANGED EARLY NEXT WEEK.

Visiting lovely yards in Pampa, Garden club members will make their annual summer tour Friday. This will be the outstanding club event of the week, by one of the few clubs which will continue meetings through the summer.

While plans are not complete, a number of places have been selected as points on the tour. Mmes. Siler Faulkner, R. P. Dirksen, and Henry Thuy will arrange a definite itinerary early next week, and announce it immediately.

Members of the club regard the tour as one of their most important occasions of the year. Each summer they exchange ideas and learn of new plants and new methods of culture by seeing some of the most beautiful gardens in this section.

The tour will start an active summer, with plans for furthering county beautification as the main project. The Garden club is in charge of Pampa's part in the state beautification program looking forward to the Centennial. Various committees will be at work all summer, encouraging residents to plant trees, flowers, and shrubs; to clean up their homes, business houses, and vacant lots; to designate historic spots, and to set aside parks for the attraction of Centennial visitors.

Priscilla Club Is Entertained by Mrs. John Lawler

Priscilla Home Demonstration club was entertained in the home of Mrs. Joe Lewis Wednesday, with Mrs. John Lawler as hostess.

Mrs. C. A. Tignor presided over the business session, when plans were made for a demonstration of grocery products to be held in Pampa June 12. Mmes. E. A. Shackleton, Roy Tinsley, and Tignor were named on the program committee; Mrs. Joe Lewis, Mrs. Guy Farrington, and Miss Donnie Lee Stroop on the refreshments committee.

A salad plate was served to the following guests and members: Mmes. Maye Skags, W. L. Davis, Farrington, Tinsley, Tignor, Norman Walberg, Clyde L. Carruth, Albert Lockhart, J. M. Daugherty, Lewis, Misses Margaret Tignor, Johnnie Davis, and Stroop, and five small children.

OUT-OF-DOOR MEALS FOR THE WARM SUMMER DAYS ARE BOTH PRACTICAL AND APPETIZING

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women (CIA)

DENTON, June 8.—Although meals must needs continue to be prepared with the customary regularity, regardless of the soaring temperature, serving them in the open does much to stimulate the most jaded appetite.

Breakfast or lunch may be served on the porch or close to an open window with the blooms of the flowerbox for company. The table may be placed in a shady corner of the garden near the hollyhocks. The family supper may be arranged on trays for individual service in the garden, or elsewhere as fancy may dictate.

These meals may be very simple, hunger being the best sauce, or quite elaborate, dainty food gaining pliancy from unaccustomed surroundings. In any case they have a distinctive, wholesome charm.

Menus
 Chicken rouleaux, potato salad, spiced crabapple jelly, strawberries with heavy cream, iced beverage.

Peanut Butter and Devilled Ham Sandwiches
 Peanut butter and devilled ham sandwiches, marinated tomatoes and cucumbers, fresh peaches in cream, spice cake, beverage.

Crabmeat cocktail, cold lamb with mint jelly, asparagus, whole tomatoes with salt, apricot ice, Marguerites.

Black cherries on crushed ice, sliced salmon loaf, tartar sauce, candied carrots, crisp head lettuce or orange.

salad, ginger ale cooler, gum drop cookies.

Chicken Rouleaux
 Chicken rouleaux are a delicious substitute for the usual sandwich. Make a light rich biscuit dough such as would be used for biscuit shortcake, and roll it out about one-quarter inch thick in a sheet four inches wide and as long as convenient. Brush over with melted butter, spread with minced chicken which has been well seasoned and slightly moistened with cream. Roll up. Cut in finger lengths. Pinch the ends together. Lay on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven. Ham may be used instead of chicken if preferred.

Potato Salad
 Two large potatoes cubed and cooked with three large onions, by steaming. Place the cooked cubes on ice for one hour before proceeding with the salad. One large firm cucumber—using only the center-dice it. One stalk of celery—use only the heart. Four slices of bacon fried until crisp and chopped. Two chopped hard cooked eggs. One fourth of a green pepper, one small onion. Mix all well. Add mayonnaise.

Peanut Butter and Devilled Ham Sandwiches
 A quick-to-make sandwich. Use peanut butter and devilled ham in equal portions. Stir in a little prepared mustard and enough mayonnaise for consistency. Use on whole wheat bread.

Ginger Ale Cooler
 Fill tall glasses half full of mint or lime ice. Pour ginger ale over this just before serving. Garnish with mint leaves and sliced lemon or orange.

IS CO-STARRED HERE WITH POWELL IN NEW FILM

Ginger Rogers is readily rolling up the reputation of being not only Hollywood's busiest film star, but its most versatile. She is in a film at La Nora theater today.

As soon as she finishes one picture for RKO-Radio, she goes directly into another, and in an entirely different type of characterization.

A musical, in which she sings and dances, and then a straight-romantic drama seems to be the happy Ginger's formula. Immediately after completing "The Gay Divorcee," in which she and Fred Astaire scored one of the screen's greatest hits with their sensational dancing, she did "Romance in Manhattan" with Francis Lederer. In the latter picture, she didn't dance a step, or sing a note.

Then came "Roberta," the Jerome Kern musical hit in which she and Astaire share stellar honors with Irene Dunne, and do what is said to be the most spectacular dancing of their careers. With "Roberta" finished, the tireless Ginger stepped right into the cast of "Star of Midnight," as co-star to William Powell. "Star of Midnight," a modern mystery drama based on the story by the late Arthur Somers Roche, Miss Rogers essays a characterization entirely new to her. It is that of a beautiful society girl who turns amateur detective in helping the man she loves run down clues to a formidable mystery. The role is said to sparkle with gay, sophisticated comedy, and Ginger is very happy over it. Even though she doesn't dance a step.

In "Star of Midnight," a sophisticated, modern drama based on the story by the late Arthur Somers Roche, the two form a unique Sherlock Holmes and Watson combination to solve a puzzling mystery. Powell plays a brilliant attorney, and Miss Rogers is seen as a young society beauty who has made up her mind that she is going to marry him.

A daughter, Barbara Ann, was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Bentley of White Deer, at Worley hospital here. The new arrival is a granddaughter of W. W. Simmons, editor of the White Deer Review.

A between-drama-mystery scene in RKO-Radio's "Star of Midnight," as William Powell and Ginger Rogers take time out from tracing down a murderer and a missing stage star. The two appear on the screen at La Nora theater, together for the first time.

FILM AUTHOR OPERATIVE ON REAL CHASES

DASHIELL HAMMETT IS WRITER OF REX MOVIE

Long hours of waiting on a "stunt" where discoverers might mean being taken for a ride or a bullet in the back; crashing through locked doors in a blaze of gunfire to make a capture; mile-a-minute chases through deserted streets in the early morning hours on the trail of dangerous criminals.

These are the real-life experiences from which Dashiell Hammett, leading mystery novelist, draws the material for such of his books as "The Thin Man," "The Maltese Falcon," and "The Glass Key." The last, "The Glass Key," has been adapted to the screen by Paramount and comes to today at the Rex theater starring George Raft with Edward Arnold and Claire Dodd featured.

Hammett, after a jack-of-all-trades career, became an operative for the famous Pinkerton Detective Agency. In this work, he experienced nearly all the perils and hardships that are lived over again in his films and novels.

In the capacity of Pinkerton operative, he travelled from Canada to Mexico unweaving the tangled threads of every conceivable kind of mystery. He was frequently marked for death by underlings of leaders whom he had sent to "the Big House" for various crimes.

It was illness that led Hammett into the field of writing. While recuperating he decided to write a love story to pass the time away. Several more followed and Hammett sent them to a magazine. They were rejected but he decided to try again. This time, his efforts were rewarded by a substantial check and Hammett soon left the agency to devote his time to writing.

"The Glass Key" is the story of what happens to big-shot politicians when they try to mix love with the business of running a great city. A fascinating murder mystery, romance and glimpses of the underworld are the material of which this picture is fabricated.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, June 8. (AP)—Buying by far eastern interests uncovered a scarcity of contracts on the cotton market today and a rally set in that held until the close with active months from $1 to $1.25 a bale higher.

At the start of trading it appeared that the decline of Friday's session was to be reversed, as opening prices showed declines of a few points. But after overnight selling orders were well absorbed the market began to advance and held the gains until the final bell. July ended 22 points higher at 11.62, October was up 24 at 11.32, while March gained $1.25 a bale to 11.42. Spots worked up a dollar bale on sales of 411 bales.

NO JOKE DENVER. (AP)—Denver may have a mothers-in-law day, but it will be in court. Mrs. Kathryn V. Straub filed a suit in district court seeking $75,000 from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie May Straub, Denver school teacher, charging she alienated the affections of her husband. The husband, Walter J. Straub, a packing house employe, followed this with a $100,000 alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Catherine Hart, his mother-in-law, charging she alienated the affections of his wife by "subtle contrivances and coaxing."

Mrs. Ben Baird of Clarendon is quite ill of pneumonia at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Purviance. She became ill Thursday night, after attending the pioneer roundup that day.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Mining shares, which bounded ahead for gains of 1 to 3 points, led another firm market on the New York Stock exchange today.

Demand for the white metal stocks was stimulated, brokers said, by Washington reports that the silver bloc in congress would renew its efforts on Monday to prod the treasury toward the $1.29 an ounce mark for silver.

General buying of industrials was attributed by observers to investors who felt the house vote for a skeleton NRA would offer no particular hindrance to gradual trade and industrial progress during the balance of the year.

Railroad men were said to have been mildly encouraged by President Roosevelt's plea to congress for legislation for federal control of transportation on highways, in the air and on water.

Market analysts who scanned trade reports for a hint of trend were favorably impressed with Crum's estimate of automobile production for the week. It indicated $7,855 units compared with 65,675 in the preceding week which included the holiday, and 69,107 in the like week a year ago.

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—Stimulated by revival of inflation possibilities, the wheat market showed a strong upward trend most of the time today.

Brisk concentrated buying developed following reports that a fresh movement in congress would be started on Monday to force hoisting of silver to $1.29 an ounce. Simultaneous with the buying flurry, talk was current that a big eastern speculator had switched his market position, and was recovering a large short line of wheat.

After a maximum jump of 1 1/2 cents a bushel, wheat reacted somewhat, closing nervous 3/4 to 1 cent over yesterday's finish, July 83 1/2-%, corn 1/4 off to 1/2 up, July 81 1/2-%, oats unchanged to 1/2 higher, and provisions showing 2 cents to 10 cents gain.

Adding to the upward impetus of wheat values was the fact that many traders were readjusting accounts so as to be prepared for any surprise in the United States government crop report Monday. A complicating factor, bullish as to wheat but bearish regarding corn, was news from the southwest and west pointing to increased use of wheat for feeding purposes because of relatively high prices for corn.

Designed to acquaint women with those appurtenances which make for easier and more beautiful living. "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin eater" is no longer eating pumpkins. And what's the reason for that? Simple enough! He just discovered his haremsteak, Pete's Coffee Shop, 109 W. Kingsmill, so of course he's eating that delicious fare. You ought to try it too, tender luscious pies; big woony sandwiches; and chill that's seasoned just so.

A Big Bertha isn't always a gun, but it's a big shot, just the same. In a recent Paris showing it accents the low décolletage.

He has lots to sell, has John Bradley. (And that's not a colloquialism for a "great deal", if you please!) He has 150 of them, out in Cook-Adams addition, that part of town perfect for home-building. Call Mr. Bradley at 672. He'll suggest locations and building terms. His office is in the Combs-Worley building.

Though you may often feel like telling your "dearly beloved" to "dry up," you won't want your furs to. That's why you should put them in EDMONDSON'S cold room. The flowing-cold, air-conditioning unit provides just the right amount of moisture for proper fur storage. Call 844, EDMONDSON DRY CLEANERS.

You'll be smart to get it down in black and white now. A jacket frock of black crepe spattered with white dots was lately seen.

That "cleanliness is next to Godliness" was never more truly spoken than of skin treatment. And with Modernistic preparations you can have the particular type of cleansing and conditioning that your skin needs. Go to Hodges Beauty Shop, on the balcony at the United Store. They will analyze your skin and advise treatment.

Talking through your hat should be easy this summer. Schlappe-rell is showing beach hats made of braided strips of paper.

The "current" affair of most interest right now is the new Frigid-aire. This electric refrigerator with the Super Freezer not only gives you extra fast freezing and extra cold storage, but also a guarantee to keep foods below the danger point, 50 degrees, regardless of room temperature. You can see it at the Bert Curry Refrigeration Co., 111 W. Kingsmill.

There are bound to be plenty of rubber necks at the pool this summer, what with the advent of rubber bathing suits. They're plenty snitzy, which means you'll find them at Murfee's, the big department store on Cuyler. And no more concern over girth control—they hold you in like your favorite 2-way stretch.

And they do say there's nothing to get one man out of your mind like having another one on your hands.

The magic carpet of fairy lore took you places. But the magic beauty of Fifth Hooked Floor-corrings brings these places to your own fireside. Communism can't be of such recent date. Away back they were talking about Eric the Red.

Glamour is going to the top again, ladies, and small wonder—when you realize it's with a Helena Curtis Flower Way. All the materials for this wave come to you in an individually sealed box. It is your guarantee that all materials used are new. It's at Jewell's Beauty Shop.

Beware of friends who try to show you off. They're probably just trying to show you up.

Keeping up with the papers is the best way to get the news. And keeping up with the wallpaper at the Pampa Glass and Paint Co., 115 Flower Way, is the best way to get the latest on what's new in interior decoration. A look at their samples and stock will convince you.

When you have your clothes cleaned you always want them to come out just right, don't you? Then send them to the Just-Rite Cleaners, 108 S. Cuyler. Their germless re-size cleaning restores the lustre and "body" to the material, and your garments, when cleaned comes out looking like new.

If words fall you, send flowers. That's one "flowery" speech that makes a good impression any time. For the best flowers, call Emily's Flower Shop, 422. And take a look at their garden plants at 107 Hobart, too, especially the petunias. That's the Gray County flower, you know.

Summer Sweethearts By Mabel McElliott

CHAPTER XIII "Wherever did you get such a notion?" "Skip it," cried Katharine gayly. "I was just talking."

"I'm all right," she said confidently. Their glances clung. "You were so quick. I think you probably saved my life." She was conscious that nothing she said made any particular sense, but it did not seem to matter.

Nothing mattered save the fact that it was morning in summer, that she was young and alive and that Michael Heathercoe was staring down at her as if he had never seen her before.

"You'll try the riding again?" he muttered vaguely. Katharine laughed and looked away, answering him. "Of course I will. I'll be riding a horse in a few days."

"I do?" said Michael Heathercoe, on a note of honest surprise. "Yes, you would," he said, laughing. "Feeding pigs and gathering eggs and picking windfall apples."

"I would. Honestly." He glanced significantly at her hands, those slender, rosy-tipped hands fresh from Isabel's ministering fingers. Katharine, accepting the unspoken comment, shrugged her shoulders.

"Can't help it that my life has been so easy?" "No you can't," said Katharine. His voice was grave and she stood as if wren, convicted. "You— you despise us all as wasters, don't you?"

"I do?" said Michael Heathercoe, on a note of honest surprise. "Yes, you would," he said, laughing. "Feeding pigs and gathering eggs and picking windfall apples."

"I do?" said Michael Heathercoe, on a note of honest surprise. "Yes, you would," he said, laughing. "Feeding pigs and gathering eggs and picking windfall apples."

"Wherever did you get such a notion?" "Skip it," cried Katharine gayly. "I was just talking."

"I think you're grand," said the man soberly. "Oh, Michael, how really?" "The moment hung, poised, precocious and fragile as a drop of summer dew. But what Michael would have said she was not to know.

There was the angry bray of a French horn behind. Katharine, obedient to his challenge, swerved her car to the right, in the narrow road, and a long, low chariot gleaming with cream colored paint and bright work swung past. Sally Moon was at the wheel.

"I won't," his voice was expressive. "I've a minute now I want to talk to you about those trotters," said Sally languidly. "Goodbye then," Katharine said coolly. She slid her car into gear and was off like a streak before he could detain her.

"I hate her— how I hate her." Katharine cried to herself, taking the curves at a dizzy rate of speed. "Don't forget about tonight. In-deed— Pretending she owns him. Nasty little thing. He's got to go, too. I've heard about Sally Moon. Probably tells everyone he thinks they're 'grand'."

Katharine drove her foot viciously down upon the gas-feed and the little car leaped madly ahead. What a fool she was, to be losing her head about a pleasant young man who had a way with horses! What, after all, did she know about him? Precisely nothing!

Bertine was very cool because Katharine was late for lunch. "Dr. John telephoned," Bertine said as they rose from the table. "He's coming for a swim."

"That's nice," Katharine was politely disinterested. As if it mattered whether John Kaye stayed or went. "I do think you might show a little interest in our guests," said Bertine bitterly. "Since you met that woman—that Mrs. Merse—you don't seem to have time for anyone."

"I do think you might show a little interest in our guests," said Bertine bitterly. "Since you met that woman—that Mrs. Merse—you don't seem to have time for anyone."

all I want to tell you something. It's the most cock-eyed thing that ever happened to me, but I've got to tell someone. Not half an hour ago I heard Zoe Parker planning to elope with Gibbs Larkin."

"Well, what's all the shouting for?" inquired the man, watching with lazy interest the play of emotion in her mobile face. "He's terrible, Johnny. We won't let her do it. The other night, you remember— when you came down on the beach and found me? You saw a man dash off, didn't you? I could tell by the way you looked."

He nodded. Something flashed across his quiet face. "Well, that was Gibbs. He'd been seeing Zoe. I didn't think it would ever be this serious. The Parkers would never forgive me if they knew I'd helped."

"What," asked Dr. Kaye equably, "do you want me to do?" "To Be Continued"

NEW BOOM CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo.—This historic mining town talked of a new "boom" today—an unbroken chain letter which purportedly netted its sender $15,625. Reports, later verified, circulated quickly through this gold mining village that E. J. Duffy had received the last dollar from a chain letter which made the fantastic circle without a break in the span of 12 days. Citizens said Duffy received his first dollar May 17 from Dr. C. L. Vitek, St. Johnson, Conn., and that the 15-

625th dollar came in today, from L. A. Pollis, North Adams, Mass.

Mrs. Mart Murphy of Roxana, injured when a tornado struck that community more than a week ago, was able to leave Pampa-arratt hospital yesterday afternoon.

COMMISSION TO START FIELD WIDE TEST OF ALL GAS WELLS

JOHNSON WELL COMES IN FOR 2358 BARRELS

WILL DETERMINE OPEN FLOW CAPACITY OF WELLS

By GEORGE L. GUTHRIE
Consulting Geologist, Combs-Worley Bldg.

The Railroad commission will commence a field wide test of all gas wells in the Plains District (numbering 1197) in all and stretching over seven counties, Wheeler, Gray, Carson, Hutchinson, Moore, Potter, and Hartley.

The test will determine the open flow capacity and rock pressure of each well. The wells will be shut in for a period of at least 72 hours prior to the tests which will begin on Monday, June 10. All of the wells lying east of Pampa will be the first group.

V. E. Cottingham, chief petroleum engineer for the Railroad commission is here at present and in all there will be eight engineers making the tests. It is estimated that a period of fifty days will be required to complete the actual taking of the tests. The resultant figures will be used in connection with the recent gas legislation covering the Panhandle district.

Recent heavy rains have washed several pipe lines throughout the field and has slowed down the movement of oil already produced. This condition should have been remedied by this time, caused some confusion at the time.

Gray county again led the field in activity with five of the eight completions and seven of the 10 new starts for the plains district.

The largest well of the week was the Danube Oil company's No. 2 Johnson which averaged 2358 barrels daily flowing. It was Hutchinson county's only completion for the week. In Gray county the Mazda Oil company's No. 6 Combs-Worley was the largest well with a five day average of 1119 barrels. This lease has proven one of the best on the Combs-Worley ranch which has been a prolific producer since the first well was drilled by the Wilcox Company and opened up that area of Gray county.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ANNOUNCES PERSONNEL OF LEGAL STAFF THAT WILL ENFORCE OIL, GAS LAWS

AUSTIN, June 8.—Attorney General William McCraw Saturday announced complete personnel of his oil and gas law enforcement staff, five of whom have headquarters in Austin and four in the East Texas fields. Recently enacted measures affecting the oil and gas industries prompted the 44th legislature to authorize appointment of six additional aides. Funds were provided by an increase in the gross production tax.

The Senator Small gas conservation law designed to stop the enormous wastage of natural gas in the Panhandle field.

The last named statute has the possibilities, some say, of rivaling in importance the enforcement of oil conservation laws in East Texas. Successful upholding of this law, under which Railroad Commission orders soon will be effective, will be counter action of proponents of federal control, McCraw said. Its legal defense has been assigned to Gray. First hearing under the new law will be conducted by the railroad commission at Amarillo, June 14.

Holt, among other things, has been put in charge of the hot oil confiscation law constitutionality of which already has been attacked in two Federal courts, at Austin and Tyler.

At the capital, in new quarters in the Austin Labor Temple, are stationed W. J. (Dick) Holt, Waco; Archie D. Gray, Waxahachie; William C. Davis, San Antonio; Harry S. Pollard, Dallas, and Joe Sharp, Plainview. Located in Longview are Merton L. Harris, Smithville; Tom D. Rowell, Jr., Jefferson; T. F. Morrow, Fort Worth, and L. H. Engelking, Bellville.

Attorney General McCraw, described this force as "energetic, capable and cool—by cool I mean eager to give the hot oil boys a cold reception."

The last legislature passed, and Governor James V. Alfred approved, three pieces of legislation vitally affecting oil and gas conservation. They are:

The general act which recodifies, clarifies, with more specific definitions of waste, the oil and gas conservation laws enacted in the past. The law authorizing the state to confiscate and sell hot oils and require trucks carrying oils and prodknown throughout the Panhandle, received the money with gratitude and asked THE NEWS to express his thanks to every person who helped make up the purse. Charlie was to be taken to his home near Wheeler today.

Others injured during the two-day battle of man against beast were able to go to their homes after the last performance.

Alfalfa Bill Has Notion to Bolt Demo Party

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 8. (AP)—Oklahoma's picturesque ex-governor, "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination in 1932, threatened tonight to bolt the "Roosevelt party" and join the republicans or any other group "don't care" but "is necessary to save the constitution."

PAGEANT

It would have cost at least $5,000. Scores of people gave most of their time in the last two weeks to whipping the show into shape for presentation.

The melodramatic production opened with a scene entitled, "The Origin of the Lone Star Flag. The New Orleans Grays company stood at attention as the first Texas flag was raised. It was white with a blue star in a corner. On the field of the flag were written the words, "Liberty or Death." The flag was used as the Alamo. As the Lone Star flag waved in the breeze there was big applause from the audience.

Probably the most spectacular scene in the pageant was the Indian attack on a wagon train. The Indians first appeared on the huge "stage" where the fight took place, and did war dances. The white they beat a tom-tom and emitted loud, curdling yells. They wore colorful costumes and the bells on their jingled menacingly.

After Indian scouts had ridden back and forth several times the wagon train, comprising four wagons drawn by horses and mules, and one drawn by Dick Cann's oxen, following the parade.

At the end of the attack, a wagon was set on fire and burned up. Then the soldiers came riding horses and firing with deadly effect. The Indians were routed. The scene closed with the whites and Indians pledging lasting friendship.

SIDELIGHTS Of Pre-Centennial

E. E. Carhart of Panhandle brought with him to the celebration a picture of the old rock courthouse at old Clarendon in the '70s. The picture was viewed by many.

Judge Asbury A. Callaghan of Panhandle visited the celebration both days. He said that school board of which he is chairman purchased $500 worth of horns for the celebrated Panhandle band, Gov. Allred's official musicians, a few days before the band came to Pampa. The Panhandle band was the only one that attended the fete both days.

T. B. James of Fort Worth was renewing acquaintances here after 43 years. Mr. James was lavish in praise of the celebration. He said that the hospitality of the old west still exists here. He met many friends he hadn't seen in 43 years. His son accompanied him.

Now it is Chief Jimmie Allred. At the close of the parade Friday, the governor was made an honorary chief of the Ponca tribe of Ponca City, Okla. Chief Peter Mitchell placed on the governor's head the feathered head-dress of a sub-chief. Incidentally, Chief Mitchell's real name is "Roses the Dust." But there was no dust here Friday; the day was largely overcast and there was a bit of mist in the morning.

Bands, placed at intervals in the big parades, contributed much to the celebration. Here Friday were bands from Panhandle, Amarillo, White Deer, Shamrock, Memphis, Borger, and two from Pampa. Gov. Allred, viewing the parade from the balcony in front of La Nora theater, was highly pleased with the parade, breaking into applause frequently.

Movie newsreel shots of the celebration were made by Carl Benefiel, local theater manager, by arrangement with several big newsreel companies. One of them showed the governor applauding the parade, another of him astride Zack Miller's fine horse and saddle, another receiving the title of chief. And there were dozens of other interesting shots. The amateurs, too, had a field day. Cameras were clicking in every direction.

No one knew that this section produced so many autograph fans until Governor Allred and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt came to town. Young Roosevelt seemed pleased by the demand, while the governor was so swamped that he finally told a group of children to write to him. One boy wished his cap autographed, but Governor Allred remarked that it was too good to soil with ink. "Just write me a letter," he said.

The Roosevelts made a tremendous impression as a good-natured and unusually genial and attractive couple. Elliott is a strikingly handsome and towering young man, whose main ambition, it seems, is to become a substantial Texas citizen. Men and women alike were heard praising him on every hand.

Run with better order and precision, and blessed with a far bigger crowd, Friday's parade was up to all expectations and beyond the hope of many. One float, which had not been in the first day's parade, was that of Shell Petroleum company. A miniature tank farm was located on a truck, with a pumping well in motion.

Col. Otto H. Studer, nattily attired in the military uniform of his appointive rank, served the governor well throughout the latter's stay in this territory. He was one of the trimmest figures on the streets, rivaled only by the uniformed Texas and Mexican soldiers of the pageant and the Texas highway patrolmen. The latter rode their motorcycles everywhere, often accompanied by Pampa municipal motorcycle policemen, and escorted the cars of the distinguished guests. One state officer burned up a motor while in this area.

There are baseball fans and rodeo fans. The ball fans are probably the more enthusiastic, but night baseball is getting to be more popular than any other kind. It appears the rodeo crowds were by far the largest in the afternoons, and would have been greater had facilities been available.

It is impossible to mention all the Pampans who did good work in the Pre-Centennial. They came from all groups and organizations. Probably the favorite aggregation of the audience was the boys of the New Orleans Grays, 12 Pampa youths who in a week learned to march as well as most soldiers.

The "reader" of the pageant was Ben Gull, head of the dramatics department of Pampa high school. Mr. Gull's reading was "Half" of this show. He read with understanding, feeling, emotion—in fact all the emotions required. Mr. Gull also announced the floats at the reviewing stand at the intersection of Cuyler and Foster streets. Mr. Gull explained the stories connected with the Pre-Centennial floats, announced the bands and gave information about the celebration, parade and oil floats. Ray Whitlock announced the floats the first day.

Neither Thefts Nor Accidents Occur in Fete

Chief of Police Art Hurst and his officers, regulars and special men, took time out yesterday morning to check up the result of the Pre-Centennial and Pioneer Round-up celebration from a traffic standpoint, and they were flabbergasted.

There hadn't been an accident reported during the two days of celebrating and there hadn't been a theft reported during the same period. Rowdiness was at a minimum, and the officers had very little difficulty handling the huge crowds which thronged the streets.

"Pampans and visitors are to be commended on their conduct during the celebration," Chief Hurst declared. "Motorists observed the temporary traffic rules admirably, complying with the requests of officers without question."

and finally reach a proper solution. In discussing the recently supreme court decision which scrapped the NRA, Roosevelt said the president had answered a cry of "do not give up the gains that have already taken place" by putting the issue entirely up to the people "to examine from top to bottom and advise him what to do."

The speaker was introduced by Elliott Roosevelt as a man to whom the president turned "in time of need" in both personal and public matters, for his advice, help and support.

"As long as Governor Allred wants to be governor of this state," the Younger Roosevelt remarked, "I am for him. There is no difference between us."

James Roosevelt cited the eight-hour law and the federal reserve system as proof of his contention that:

"All through history we have seen men advocate movements relative to human progress which the powers that be were unprepared to accept. And yet we have seen with the passing of years these improvements attract greater strength until one by one they have been adopted. No fees or dues have ceased to be radical, ceased to be even progressive until finally they are the established order."

"This is the old story of the man who was ahead of his time. A progressive is one who had been willing to look ahead and lead the way for the adoption of those improvements and alterations to best fit the growing and changing needs."

He quoted Thomas Jefferson as saying that a people should not pass legislation binding for more than one generation.

"It is fortunate for us," he went on, "that our constitution is so drawn that it is subject to interpretation and change along the very lines of Thomas Jefferson's conception."

"There is an extreme lag between the proposal and the adoption of many necessary forward movements... which necessarily retards the general progress of our civilization."

"We have every reason to believe political parties, unable to bridge this lag, have suffered from defeat for their lack of foresight, and because the country is governed by political parties, necessarily our country will benefit if a political party is shrewd enough to overcome this failure of the past."

Roosevelt urged the Young Democrats to maintain the tradition and ideals of liberal government, "and more important, transplant them continuously into action according to the demands of our national life."

hardest know that the celebration could not have been a success without the cooperation of hundreds—business men, members of the pageant cast, owners of the teams of horses which drew the floats in the parade, the drivers of those floats, owners of the horses, and wagons used in the parade and pageant. Al Lawson, who donated the banners for the floats, the directors of the pageant scenes, the high school which furnished the gym, Don MacCartie who cooked the "best barbecue ever eaten," as many old timers expressed it, the furniture company which donated the gym, the women who registered the old timers, the men who volunteered to take tickets at the various places of amusements.

Many Pampans Worked Thus the celebration was a great donation by the people of Pampa, and it could not be said that one man was more responsible for its success than any other; although some worked harder than others and spent more time. One of these, Dick Hughes, chairman of the pageant committee, virtually abandoned his insurance business and devoted himself to making arrangements for the production of the difficult Indian attack on the wagon train. It was necessary for him to go to Wheeler county for horses, wagons, shafts, after he had virtually combed Gray county for horses. He and Carl Benefiel made a trip to Ponca City to hire the Indians and Col. Zack Miller for the pageant and parade.

Preparations for producing the Indian attack required the time of Mr. Hughes' time during the 10 days before the celebration. Mr. Benefiel also virtually abandoned his business to personally supervise building of the floats.

Teams Appreciated J. W. Wynne, one of the most beloved pioneers of the pampans, responsible for the horses and wagons in the parade. Men who donated teams and drivers included Forrest Keene, two teams; John Kiser, four teams; W. I. Spangler, two teams; Mr. Hogan, one team; Mr. Huff, two teams; and Pampa Ice company on Wagon master, one team. The owners and drivers cooperated to the fullest extent with Mr. Wynne and the Pre-Centennial committees. The horses were greatly admired, and they looked so fine that the boys committees decided not to use circus blankets on the horses as had been planned.

The committees also felt the value of the Boy Scouts. These khaki-clad youngsters assisted in the parade and in controlling the traffic situation. Scouts carried the banners and the floats. Local women cooperated with Mrs. Claude Ledrick in acting as hostesses for the Pioneers Roundup. Mrs. Dick Walker's committee brought 24 cakes, and Mrs. E. A. Shickler's group brought 24 gallons of slaw for the old timers barbecue. The visitors also were served apricots, buns, coffee, pickles, beans, Mr. Johnson of the Folger Coffee company furnished the coffee—33 pounds.

Frank Hill, chairman of the barbecue committee, had all arrangements perfected several days before the barbecue. A total of 966 persons was served. Some food was left over and it was sent to the welfare board for distribution among the poor.

Old timers were unusually vociferous in their praise of the barbecue, and the pioneer program in general. Raymond Harrah, chairman of the Pioneer Roundup, was in charge of registration, gym tickets, old fiddlers, dances. Mr. Harrah was the only one on his committee who labored from dawn to dusk all this week. More than 1,000 old timers registered.

As in all celebrations many of the people who donated their time, money and energy worked where they were not in the public eye and served without fanfare whatsoever. That Pampa made more friends among residents of the Panhandle than she has ever before is a self-evident fact.

The visiting old timers were loath to leave the gym. Friday night they were dancing old-fashioned dances with verve and gusto at 2 o'clock.
