Words are things—BUT NOT

Twinkles
If it quits raining and we have no more duststorms, what will we talk about?
A four-legged chick was hatched at Wheeler the other day. Now it competes with fisherman for worms.
A paper also found at Wheeler, printed in 1881, told about a Texas governor pardoning 20 prisoners. And added: "Dallas has 1,358 children of schoolable age, of whom only 598 are of Texas birth."
Best idea in recreation for Pampa young folk: Give them tasks such as taking care of the younger children.
Male holders of aviation records will agree that Amelia Earhart's place is in her home.
Musing of the moment: We don't take the younger generation seriously any more. We remember the paning that our own "younger" generation received, and now we sense the inevitable urge to turn planner. . . . Being young is a sin which time inevitably cures—if you will just "be your age."

Brevitorials
"START CAMPING now in preparation for the National Jamboree" is the word which has come out of the national Boy Scout headquarters.
Scouts of the Adobe Walls council are doing just that, with many of them using the current camporee for the purpose. Do you know what the boys are doing? The chances are that you don't, but attendance at the Scout circus at Road Runner park will enlighten you. The boys are expecting your support tonight.

THE ANNUAL demand for lighting of the city park has arrived. The park must be lighted for a number of reasons. If it is necessary to patrol the grounds to prevent damage to lights and trees, this, too must be done. . . . The park is one of the prettiest in the city. . . . The city fathers are to be commended for their desire to see the park in the best of light. . . . Misuse of it could destroy the pleasure which citizens have in using it. . . . Malignant mischief around public property is destructive of obedience to all authority. Drastic action may be necessary to convince the thoughtless element of the public of this fact.

THIS IS AN OIL center. It should be of interest to note that aircraft of this country used 58,414,256 gallons of gasoline and 2,000,000 gallons of oil last year. . . . The total oil consumed in this country in 1934 was 25,136,274 gallons of gasoline. . . . Uses for petroleum and petroleum products are mounting while discoveries of new pools are in sharp decline. Oil conserved now is certain to be of increased value in the future. . . . A good substitute for oil is in sight. At least no cheap substitute.

WAR IS NECESSARY to far too many persons. That is why we have war. The fear of war is what makes most wars possible, the fear of a real or imagined enemy. . . . The United States in order that the army and navy may continue in power and obtain huge appropriations. Mussolini uses the military branch to assure his own safety and to keep the patriotism of the people at such a pitch that they will be able to endure high taxes. Hitler uses re-armament as a stimulant to the depressed spirit of the people. . . . Russia talks much of the intention of the capitalistic nations to smash communism. . . . America is not immune. Our army and navy, faced with Europe's armament race, naturally wish to keep pace. . . . Our munitions manufacturers constantly beat the war drums. That is a business proposition to them. . . . Once a big war begins, the bankers and munitions manufacturers seek the business man involved. They must pick a winner, lest their pay vanish. Once losses are made, they begin to bring pressure upon Uncle Sam to help their chosen side win. This face and Germany's bungling got us into the world war. We do far have done nothing to prevent a repetition.

NOTES ON parliamentary procedure: Once a member of a body has "obtained the floor," he ordinarily opens a business discussion by making a motion, or statement of a proposal. . . . He may propose amendment of a previous motion or seek to have it referred to a committee. . . . Motions should be in writing, or should be so reduced by the secretary at once. . . . Long motions usually take the form of resolutions. . . . Most motions require a second member. . . . Motions are always seconded when any opposition is in sight. . . . It is not necessary to rise or to obtain the floor in seconding motions, unless the assembly is large and the seconder is not known to the chair. . . . Seconds are not required to nominations, questions of privilege, questions of order, leave to withdraw a motion, and calls for adherence to constitution, parliamentary law, or the order of the day.

President To Speak On NRA As Soon As He Surveys Destruction

SOME BELIEVE PENDING ACTS ARE ILLEGAL
REPUBLICANS IN GLORY AS COURT VOIDS NEW DEAL

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Dismayed by the supreme court's destruction of NRA, President Roosevelt, the congressional democratic leadership, and some forces of business, industry, and labor dug in today for extended studies of how to straighten the situation. The president ordered a wide research by legal and government aides to determine the breadth of the court action and the means to rebuild from it.

It was said at the White House, Mr. Roosevelt probably will have nothing to say until the latter part of the week; but that when he has completed his survey, he will speak out.

New deal chieftains in senate and house already were going ahead with their own studies. Some expressed doubt that various pending new deal legislation, such as the AAA amendments, the utilities holding company and banking bills and the social security legislation, could withstand the force of the supreme court's unanimous ruling. Several members of the national industrial recovery board were considering recommending the creation of a government commission to study the problem with a view to legislation at the next session of congress.

Strikes Talked.
The national labor relations board virtually suspended operations "pending determination of some future policy" in the light of the invalidation of the NRA codes.

Representative Snell of New York, the republican leader, told newspaper men "the whole new deal is out the window."
"If President Roosevelt now would forget all this experimenting and go back to the beginning as he did when he sent up the economy act, and put things back on a business basis," he said, "the country would come back."

A complete rewriting of the AAA amendments to conform to the supreme court decision was decided upon today by senate and house leaders together with Secretary Wallace of agriculture.

PAGEANT CAST REHEARSES; 25 PEOPLE NEEDED
Rehearsal Scheduled For Tonight at Gym

Strong men will admit that the toughest job they ever faced in Pampa has been in obtaining casts for Pre-Centennial pageants—this year and last—but the job was almost done last night when a rehearsal was held at the high school gym.

Another rehearsal will be held at the same place, beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, and all those who have attended any of the rehearsals and who have consented to be in the pageant are urged to be present. In addition, about 15 more men and 10 women are needed to complete the cast.

MODEL WHO CLAIMED BARBOUR BEAT HER FOR FUN LOSES SUIT
NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice John L. Walsh today returned a verdict in favor of Robert Barbour, brother of U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour of New Jersey, against whom Rita Martini brought suit for $100,000, charging that he beat her into insensibility. Mrs. Martini, 23 year old artist's model and actress, charged that Barbour, who is president of the Linen Thread company, and Mrs. Elizabeth Southworth, had lashed her in the former's New York City apartment September 3, 1932. Justice Walsh, who heard the case without a jury, made his decision without hearing arguments at the conclusion of testimony in which the defense established an alibi that Barbour was not in New

'WE ARE READY,' SAYS AD PARENTS ASK KIDNAP GANG TO NEGOTIATE
SNATCHERS ADDRESSED IN COLUMNS OF NEWSPAPER

By E. Q. ANDERSON
(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)
TACOMA, Wash., May 28 (AP)—Ready to negotiate with the kidnapers who have demanded $200,000 ransom for the return of their 9-year-old son George, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., spoke to the abductors again today through the classified ad columns of the Seattle newspaper.

The message was the exact wording which the kidnapers specified in their ransom note delivered to the distracted parents by special delivery letter Friday night, six hours after George disappeared. Sunday, the Weyerhaeusers had advertised in the specified paper "ready to come Monday." Percy Minnie, a Seattle automobile appearing Sunday urged the kidnapers to hurry and relieve Mrs. Weyerhaeuser's anguish.

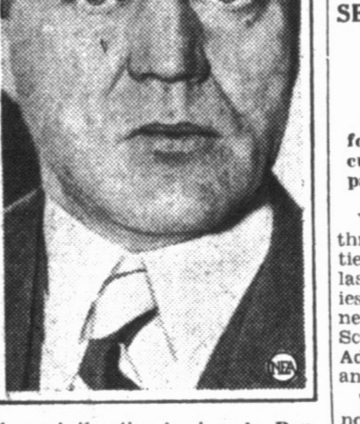

There was no sign of unusual activity at the Weyerhaeuser house today, although it was illuminated upstairs until after 1 o'clock this morning when a Seattle automobile was parked in front until that hour when a man entered and drove away.

Three Killed in Highway Wreck
DENTON, May 28 (AP)—Three persons were killed in an automobile collision on a highway north of here today. A man tentatively identified as Jim McCamey of St. Jo, Texas, was instantly killed. A woman, whose identity was not established immediately, died in an ambulance as she was rushed to a hospital here, and the third victim, E. G. Adams of Capps corner, a Montague county community near St. Jo, died in a hospital three hours later.

All three victims were riding in a sedan which collided with a produce truck from Oklahoma City. Carl France of Oklahoma City and Charley Malvoage of California, who were in the truck, were painfully but not seriously cut. Mrs. Adams, wife of one of the dead, was in Denton and identified her husband, Joe Bowers, a Denton man who had known Adams for a long time and McCamey to a certain extent, said he was certain of the identity of both men.

V. L. Dickinson has been confined to his home for a few days with a severe cold.

SCOUTS SHOW FINE SKILL IN CIRCUS EVENTS
SECOND PERFORMANCE TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

The second and closing performance of the Boy Scout circus will be given at Road Runner park tonight at 8 o'clock. What amounted to a brief, thrilling education in the activities of Scouting was presented last night in the first of the series of two circuses at Road Runner park. The actors were the Scouts of many counties of the Adobe Walls council here for their annual camporee.

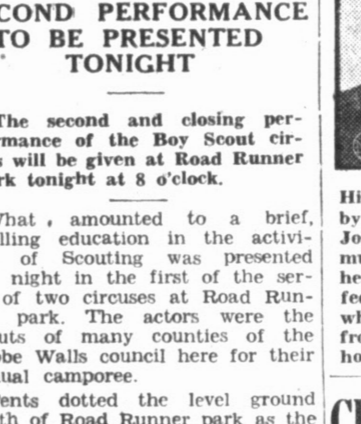

Tents dotted the level ground north of Road Runner park as the boys brought their food, tents, bedding, and necessities in order to obtain camping experience. Good weather heightened the enjoyment of their camping.

Scout Program Shown
The circus was preceded by music by a group selected from the summer band directed by Winston Savage. As the program opened, pageantry showed the path a boy travels upon entering Scouting as a cub at the age of 9 years, continuing through steady development through Boy Scouting then Scouting to citizenship and the status of Scout or adult leader.

An impressive grand entry was next, with hundreds of boys, mostly uniformed, marching with their leaders. Then appeared the pack of clowns headed by Scoutmaster J. H. Williams of troop 18. These gaudily dressed fellows made merry all evening, mimicking the exploits of the uniformed performers. Fire-building, cubbing, signaling, work in disaster relief, wall-scaling, games, fancy drill, archery, pioneering, real Indian dancing preceded the grand finale, with its benediction: "And now, may the Great Scoutmaster of all good Scouts be with us till we meet again."

Hobo Band Here
Entertainment was provided also by the Morse hobo band, a surprisingly efficient little group whose appearance was much welcomed. Precision in various types of signaling was particularly enjoyed by the crowds, as also was the archery and the fancy drill. The drilling was by J. G. Schultz, troop No. 59 of Pollett, one of the crack outfits of the council. L. O. Johnson and Harry Kelley have started archery with excellent results and much interest.

DEFENSE MOVE FOR VERDICT IS APPROVED
MOTIONS FOR OTHER 2 DEFENDANTS ARE OVERRULED

His son, George, 9, held prisoner by kidnapers for $200,000 ransom. John P. Weyerhaeuser Jr., above, multimillionaire lumberman, headed an intensive police and federal agent search for the lad, who vanished while on his way from school to his Tacoma, Wash., home.

In sustaining the Hartman motion, the court ruled that the evidence "does show to my mind conclusively that the Defendant Hartman put in motion the machine that wound up with the killing of the agent. That he brought it about is very probable, but if he is convicted by a jury I would feel "the necessity of setting aside the verdict" as not showing "beyond a reasonable doubt that he aided and abetted in the homicide."

"If the issue was whether Kitchen, Hartman, and Gato were in conspiracy to carry out illegal traffic in drugs, the case would be quite different," Judge Wilson said. He said the "traffic in narcotics is established beyond any kind of a doubt. It is without parallel, as far as I know."

The prosecution closed its direct testimony after calling its 44th witness, Frank W. Lahn of Dallas, special agent of the internal revenue department. Lahn testified concerning recent

CREDIT BODY TO BE LAUNCHED IN SHORT TIME
Travis Lively Elected President of New Association

Following election of officers last night, the charter membership list of the new Pampa Credit association was growing today. Travis Lively was elected president, with Earl O'Keefe as vice-president and Guy E. McTaggart as temporary secretary. The board of directors is composed of Lynn Boyd, H. L. Polley, T. F. Smalling, Earl O'Keefe, Bert Curry, Guy E. McTaggart, and Travis Lively.

It was stated that everyone present last night signed the membership roll. A number of persons who attended a previous meeting could not be present last night, but they were joining today. Members said a paid manager would be employed and the association placed in operation by June 1.

The board of directors will meet this evening. Mr. Lively, chairman of the organization committee presided last night and explained the proposed by-laws, the agreement for membership, and the state charter.

LATE NEWS
NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, world's welterweight champion, will have a 3½ pound edge on Barney Ross in their 15-round title battle in the Polo Grounds tonight. McLarnin scaled 144½ pounds at the official weigh-in in ceremonies which began in the surprisingly high figure of 141.

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the bill increasing the capitalization of the home owners' loan corporation by $1,750,000,000, thus putting into motion the machinery making it possible for the agency to resume receiving applications for loans from distressed home owners.

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The senate today passed the Black "hobbyist" bill requiring registration of all persons receiving pay for seeking to influence legislation or to influence business before the departments. The measure now goes to the house.

Stock Market in New York Suffers A Sharp Relapse
NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—The stock market suffered a relapse today as traders were in a mood for light on the adverse NRA decision and the French financial crisis.

Metals, and other issues which may be affected by invalidation of the codes, led the decline in which losses ranged from a third to 6 points. The close was weak. Transfers approximated 2,350,000 shares. Cross currents of excitement and confusion over the supreme court's NRA decision brought erratic and divergent price trends in speculative security and commodity markets today.

Many of the sensitive commodity markets dipped rather sharply for a time, and the stock market, in the most active trading in months, surged up for the first few minutes only to run into a wave of selling in a few groups such as metals, oils and alcohols which cancelled much of the early rise, and depressed some issues $1 to $3 under yesterday's close.

Four Fliers Die In Plane Crash
FRESNO, Cal., May 28 (AP)—Four army fliers were killed today when their big bombing plane from Mather Field, Sacramento, crashed in Sequoia park. The plane was one of 25 ships from Hamilton Field participating in maneuvers. Officials at the field said they had not yet received official notification of the accident.

THE CONSTITUTION IS REMEMBERED

Early Americans fought and many bled and died that the Union of states might be born and a constitution provided to limit the power of the central authority to specified powers.

The guardians of that constitution and of the states and people who under it confer various powers are the members of the United States Supreme Court. The constitution is intended to preserve to the several states the powers which, without authority, are usurped by the federal government.

Yesterday the Supreme Court delivered two decisions affecting the so-called new deal, one concerning farm moratoriums and the other the NRA codes. Under the bill creating the latter, the president was given powers sometimes described as dictatorial. Congress made the grants under the stress of an emergency. A court test was delayed as long as the emergency seemed acute.

Voiding of acts did not surprise students of constitutional government. States-rights democrats could not have been otherwise than aware of constitutional limitations upon the central government. The "due process" clause has been regarded as a cardinal point of doctrine in American Government.

It is possible that the American people have traveled so far and that their problems have become so complex that state government must be virtually destroyed and a national dictatorship made possible. It is possible that this will be necessary to obtain the drastic social legislation which some groups are demanding. But if so—and people of the west would probably object to the idea, as Texans did to the Federal oil control plan—the revision of the federal constitution will be necessary.

To destroy the constitution would be an unparalleled tragedy in self-government. To nullify it through manipulation of the number of justices would be anarchy.

It is possible that NRA can be restored at least in part through legislation of this session of the Congress. The trend of legislation will take a new direction, and one more in keeping with our system of government.

The Supreme Court has said little more than that this is still a union of states and that power not conferred through the constitution is still reserved by the states. It was inevitable that emergency legislation, however necessary would not entirely pass the test of constitutional law.

And, disturbing as is the double-barreled dose of logic at this time, we believe it will turn out all right in the end. The fact that the decisions were unanimous should be sobering and should prevent anyone from jumping to the conclusion that "something is wrong" with the court.

Real Souvenir

The official souvenir of the Pre-Centennial celebration here June 6-7 will be a medal designed especially for the occasion. At the top will be a bronze map of Texas, with Sam Houston in the center in relief. At the bottom, hanging from the nose of the head of a Longhorn steer, will be a medalion of the state. The ribbon will take the form of a Texas flag. The souvenirs will be sold beginning June 6, by the B&PW club at 50 cents each. Only 1,000 of the souvenirs will be available.

Fathers Succumb

News has been received here of the death in Leonard, Mo., of Robert R. Lockard, father of Jerry Lockard of Pampa. The Missouri man was 73 years of age.

Attending Funeral

Con Donovan was called to Herkington, Kan., yesterday by the death of his father, Con Donovan. Mrs. Donovan accompanied him. The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Mr. Donovan was 71 years old.

Asking for Rooms

Rooms for oldtimers and others attending the Pre-Centennial celebration will be in keen demand June 6 and 7. Persons having one or more rooms to let are requested to telephone the B. C. D. at once. Lists of available rooms will be compiled in advance to facilitate placements of persons unable to find lodging.

PARENTS ANGRY BUT QUINS ARE BLISSFUL TODAY

Dionne Sisters Are Exactly One Year Old Now

BY DALE HARRISON, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

GALLANDER, Ont., May 28 (AP)—One year ago today Mrs. Olive Dionne turned a wan, frightened face to the midwife who stood at her bedside, and asked: "Were they—triplets?" "Yes, Elzire—and two more."

Such was the drama of the ramshackle farm house on May 28, 1934, that was remembered today with ceremonies, gifts and best wishes—the first birthday anniversary of the Dionne quintuplets.

In their parents' farm house, however, there was bitterness and resentment, for the quintuplets—Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie, and Marie—have a new, spick and span home across the road, with the flag of England flying before it. They are wards of his majesty the king.

A solemn high mass at 8 a. m. (EST) at Sacred Heart church at Corbell—the church were Olive Dionne and Elzire Legros attended mass as youngsters—was the opening ceremony of the formal birthday observance. The 10 rents had been asked to attend, but late yesterday Dionne requested that the high mass be sung at Gallander instead.

He was told that the mass would be at Corbell as planned, and the invitation to attend was urged on him again.

The mass, which the Rev. E. T. McNally was chosen to sing, drew scores of persons here, including D. A. Croll, who, as minister of public welfare for Ontario, is the chief government officer in the area.

Corbell is a little place virtually unheard of before the birth of the babies. It is slightly more than two miles from the Dionne home.

Nothing further was planned for the day until early evening when ceremonies will take place at the little hospital by the side of the road, with Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, Minister Croll, and members of the hospital staff participating.

This will not be public, for the hospital provides no such facilities. The affair will be broadcast in a radio program between 6:45 and 7:15 p. m. EST. A record version of the broadcast will be put on the air over some stations at 9 p. m.

The babies themselves will make their radio debut, provided they feel up to it and Dr. Dafoe agrees, by appearing on a radio broadcast. They are inclined to make into a thoroughly sterilized microphone.

More than 1,400 babies have been brought into the world by Dr. Dafoe, the modest little country physician of Gallander, but the quintuplets' entry in his book is most fascinating of all. It reads simply: "May 28, 1934; Olive Dionne, 5 F."

The "5 F"—five female babies—was his way of recording a multiple birth that happens but once in 37 million times and which in every other case on record has resulted in death, within a few days or weeks at most, of the babies.

200 Guardsmen Watch Strikers

PICHER, Okla., May 28 (AP)—Two hundred members of the Oklahoma national guard were on duty here today to prevent violence among strike and anti-strike forces of lead and zinc miners as the time approached for a meeting of 2,000 supporters of W. "Mike" Evans, a leader of those favoring a return to work, to end the strike called by union miners May 9.

Six men were placed in jail following an attack yesterday on Sheriff Eli Dry, a deputy, and a Picher policeman, and Deputy Sheriff J. W. Elliott said he expected to have 15 more arrested by sundown today. The officers were beaten while they were guarding a group of non-union miners gathering to attend a meeting in Miami of the organization wishing to end the strike.

Black Bill Is Urged as a Way Out of Dilemma

More Witnesses Used To Build Government Case

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Senator Black (D., Ala.) held out his 30-hour week bill to administration leaders today as a way out of the dilemma created by the supreme court's invalidation of the national recovery act.

He contended that NRA had been destroyed beyond hope of resurrection by the decision, but that his proposal was not touched, and was now the only method for regulating hours of work.

There were indications also that union labor would get behind the 20-hour week bill stronger than ever, but administration leaders were hesitant.

Some democratic leaders expressed the view off-hand that the "Black bill" came within the scope of the supreme court decision in the NRA case and its former decision in the child labor case.

Black disclosed, however, that he had been holding up action on his bill, confident that the NRA decision would be adverse and that it would be a "back to work" movement. In general, the Black bill would seek to bar from interstate commerce goods produced by firms working their employees more than 30 hours a week.

Leaders Forced To Re-Write All AAA Amendments

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Some leaders among the administration forces on Capitol Hill indicated today that the proposed AAA amendments conferring broad licensing powers on Secretary Wallace would be rewritten in an attempt to save them from the same supreme court scythe that mowed NRA down.

Though Senator Robinson, majority leader, said he couldn't see where the NRA decision affected

MONT BRIDGES WON'T TESTIFY IN CATO TRIAL

More Witnesses Used To Build Government Case

LUBBOCK, May 28 (AP)—Government attorneys indicated they probably would close their case today against Sheriff W. F. Cato and three officers of trial for the slaying of narcotic agent Spencer Stafford at Post Feb. 7.

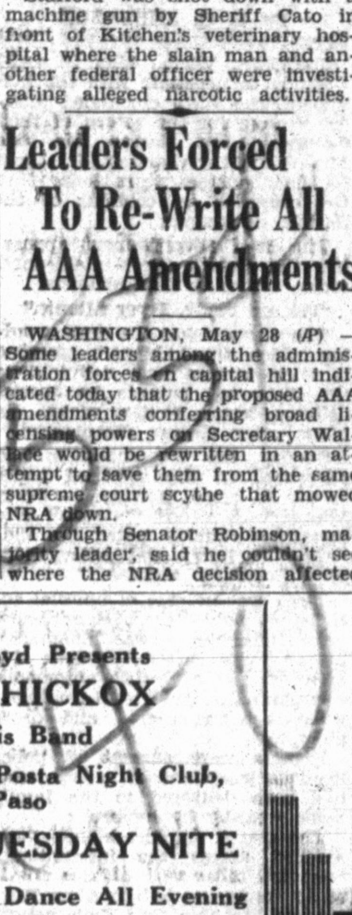

Cato, Dr. L. W. Kitchan and Dr. V. A. Hartman were accused, in testimony of carrying on a narcotic business with addicts who traded stolen goods for narcotics. Tom Morgan, deputized farmer, who is the fourth defendant, was not mentioned in that connection.

The government's attempt to prove that Kitchan and Hartman traded with drug addicts with Cato's protection was interrupted to a degree when Mont Bridges, under two indictments charging murder, refused to testify in the trial.

Bridges refused to take the stand on the grounds that he would incriminate himself and told the court he would "take the consequences" for not testifying.

The government has introduced more than a dozen admitted drug addicts and former addicts who testified that they had obtained narcotics from Hartman and Kitchan in exchange for money and stolen property.

Future Glows With Promise On First Birthday Of Quins

It's a red-letter day at the Dionnes, as the quins celebrate a truly happy birthday. Cecil, left and Yvonne, center, are evidently crying out the infantile equivalent of "whoopie." The general confusion makes Marie, second from left, register alarm with a big "A" and Emelle and Annette seem to be chewing this birthday thing over.

BROAD PLANS OF EDUCATION BEING MAPPED

HEALTH AND WEALTH ENOUGH ARE IN HANDS

By WILLIS THORNTON

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28.—The Dionne quintuplets, who entered the world a year ago under as dark auspices as can well be imagined, enter their second year with prospects as bright as the sun.

If all survive—and anyone who has reared children knows the perils that lie ahead of even healthy children like these at their first birthday—no children in the world, regardless of wealth or position, face a rosier future.

They are in glowing health today. Every aid science can devise is at their instant disposal. A steadily growing trust fund is being administered for their benefit by able guardians, who have a genuine and deep concern for the children's welfare.

When the government guardianship of the little girls as "king's children" is terminated, these accumulated trust funds will be able to give them a start in life.

Plans for their education include better and broader training than is available to the average child. They will be reared in the faith of their family, that of the Roman Catholic church.

BRIDE-ELECT IS COMPLIMENTED WITH SHOWER

Miss Lela Scaief Is Honored Monday Evening

Miss Lela Scaief, whose marriage to Walton Dempster is announced for June 14, was complimented with a shower last evening at the home of Mrs. B. W. Rose. Misses Geneva and Lona Groom, Louise Baker, and Jewel Binford were the hostesses.

Pink roses decorated the rooms where a program of music was presented. Miss Eloise Lane played piano solos as the guests arrived. George Wilson sang two numbers. At Dawning, Cadman; and One Alone. Mrs. R. E. Gattlin's solo was "The Roses."

Each guest wrote a telegram to the bride-elect, using the letters found in her fiancé's name. Presentation of the gifts climaxed this game. Punch and cake were served, with corsages of pansies as plate favors.

These present were Misses Lela and Ruby Scaief, Junita Higgins, Lane, and Bonnie Lea Rose; Misses D. M. Scaief, R. L. Edmondson, Gattlin, Hugh Ellis, Seyffert, Mary Binford, Rose, C. O. Huber, Howard Neath, Wiley Pearce, M. P. Downs, Joe Foster, R. W. Hallmark, Nolan Harris, Baker Henry, G. C. Durham, Ed Fitzgerald, and the hostesses.

PIANO RECITAL IS PRESENTED LAST EVENING

Given By Pupils of Mmes. Brummett And Dodge

A varied program of classical and popular music was presented by piano pupils of Mrs. W. L. Brummett, assisted by pupils of Mrs. Dave Dodge, last evening at First Methodist church. A number of parents and friends of the pupils heard the recital.

Several adult pupils who were studying the course of popular music appeared, and a chorus of tiny girls sang three numbers. Carolyn Sue Abbott, Merita Von Brummett, Carolyn Beth Montgomery, Marlene Watson, and Martha Lou McCullough formed the chorus.

Duet numbers were Marching On, McIntire, by Lillie Mae Redman and Madeline Morsman; Military March, Schubert, by Jack Hessey and James Evans; Joyous Peasant, Smith, by Melba Graham and Frances Thompson.

FRANCE TAKES DRASTIC STEPS TO KEEP GOLD

RAISES HER DISCOUNT RATES THIRD TIME WITHIN WEEK

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK.
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

PARIS, May 28.—The Bank of France launched a hot fight against "international speculators" in the franc today by raising its discount rate for the third time within one week as Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin prepared to go before parliament in quest of dictatorial powers by which he may keep France on the gold standard.

The bank increased its rediscount rate to 6 per cent from 4 per cent, after raising it to 3 per cent last Thursday from 2½ per cent and then increasing it to 4 per cent last Saturday.

Similarly, the loan rate on gold bars was increased today to 7 per cent from 5½ per cent, on securities to 6½ per cent from 4½ per cent, and on 30-day rate to 6 per cent from 4 per cent.

The bank's challenge was issued immediately after the full cabinet appealed unanimously to the country to stand by the franc and after Premier Flandin had taken a strong stand against devaluation.

A heavy outflow of gold is known to have drained more than three billion francs from the bank's 80 billion stock in recent weeks and bankers estimated that on Thursday the Bank of France statement would reveal that more than 500,000,000 francs in gold had been lost daily during this last week. (The French franc today is worth about 6.583 cents.)

Flandin issued a statement while the cabinet was in session, shortly before noon, asserting that there was no peril in the "technical" situation of the franc, but nevertheless, the Bank of France took drastic technical measures to discourage speculators. All banks again were advised by the government to cease making loans that might be used for speculation in the franc.

United States imports of Swiss watches, which fell off severely during the depression, increased more than 70 per cent in the last year.

MISS JONES IS COMPLIMENTED AT BREAKFAST

Misses McClintock And Daly Are Hostesses

Continuing the party series honoring Miss Jackie Jones, who is to be married Thursday morning to Johnny Corrigan, a breakfast was given Sunday morning at Schneider hotel with Misses Lorene McClintock and Jean Daly as hostesses.

White peonies and pink roses brought the bride-elect's colors to the breakfast table. Paged by a bell-boy, the honoree was presented with a chest of silver at the close of the meal.

Places were laid for Misses Jones, Melba Graham, Lonna Willis, Florence Jackson, Daly, and McClintock; Mmes. Jack Jones, Frank Carter, Daly, R. E. McKernan, H. H. Hicks, Willard Webb, Roy Bourland, Tom Herod, Walter Biery, Mel Davis, Hans Davis, Lynn Boyd.

000,000 francs in gold had been lost daily during this last week. (The French franc today is worth about 6.583 cents.)

Law Establishes Faith

This point, Judge J. A. Vallin, head of the board of guardians, points out, is not only specifically covered by the act providing for the guardianship, but is well established in Canadian law. It becomes possible, impossible at present. James E. T. McNally, parish priest of the family at Corbeil, smilingly comments: "The children's spiritual welfare and guidance will be my concern. It becomes possible to minister to it; until then I am sure their material welfare is in good hands."

When teaching becomes possible, it will probably begin, at least, with careful tutoring in their present home in the D'Arce hospital.

This model institution may gradually take on the aspects of a school as the children's physical needs become less paramount.

Will Speak Two Tongues
Present intention is that they shall learn both French and English. "Knowledge of both languages is of great value to anyone who hopes to have a life in French Canada of the greatest usefulness and enjoyment," says Judge Vallin.

"English is increasingly the business language here in Ontario, but people of French extraction do well for cultural and personal reasons to keep also the language of their family and friends."

The trust fund for the "quins," which now has a potential value of nearly $175,000 and which will be far greater by the time they are grown girls, is being administered with scrupulous care.

The secretary-treasurer of the fund, solicitor H. R. Vallin, is bonded and his accounts are carefully audited.

Nurs to Be Teachers
It is the intention of the guardians to allow the little girls just

Couple Starts Colorado Trip After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Irwin are spending this week in Colorado, following their marriage Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irwin here. The beautiful ceremony was read by the Rev. Gaston Poote, Methodist minister, in the presence of relatives and a number of friends.

An informal reception followed. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin are to be at home in LePort, where he is employed by the Phillips company.

Honoring the bride, who was Miss Nan Crouch, teacher in the Hopkins school, a bridge shower was given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. H. Cruncheon. Appointments were in pink and white, and the ice course served after the games and presentation of gifts, was in the same colors.

Guests were Mrs. L. C. Crouch and Mrs. E. C. Cronin of Wortham; Mrs. Margaret Renfro and Miss Marjorie Renfro of Dallas; Mmes. Roy Sewell, O. K. Gaylor, Madge Murphy, Tillie Montgomery, Homer Gibson, R. L. Jones, B. W. Rose, Florence Neely, L. C. Gomillion; Miss Ruby Gibson and the honoree.

Bishop to Speak At all Three of M. E. Churches

Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth will arrive in Pampa tomorrow morning and will speak at McCullough Methodist church at 3 p. m. tomorrow and dedicate the church and at 3:45 he will speak at Harrah Chapel and dedicate that building.

The pastor, Rev. Lance Webb, is urging not only his members but friends and members of other churches to be present.

It was originally planned to dedicate all three churches at First church tomorrow night but it was decided that these brief dedication services would be held Wednesday night at 8:18 the three Methodist congregations would worship together at First church. Bishop Boaz will preach and at the close will dedicate the First church building.

At 7 p. m. Bishop Boaz will be honored by the laymen with a dinner in the basement of First church and speak to that group. Wives of stewards of the Methodist churches are hostesses on this occasion.

An invitation is extended by the Methodist people to everybody to hear Bishop Boaz at these services.

Dan Moody Heads Defense at Llano

LLANO, May 28. (AP)—The defense, headed by former Governor Dan Moody, was prepared to push its case in the trial of L. E. Trimble, charged with slaying W. R. Tomlinson.

The state rested yesterday after attempting to prove that Trimble fired before Tomlinson did and that Tomlinson was fatally wounded by a bullet fired at a distance of 57 feet.

Opening its case with the testimony of Hewitt Alexander, an eyewitness, the defense sought to prove that Tomlinson fired first.

Alexander said that he, Trimble, E. B. Opp, also charged with the slaying, and others went to Opp's land near Menard the night before the shooting and removed Tomlinson's sheep from Opp's pasture.

He said that the next morning Tomlinson and his son, Louis, drove into the pasture that an argument between Tomlinson and Trimble followed and that Tomlinson grabbed his gun and shot at Trimble.

Frazier Urges Farmers To Resist Home Foreclosures

Declares It's 'Duty' Of Farmers to Organize

Star of the Links

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP)—Senator Frazier (R-ND), co-author of the farm mortgage moratorium law wiped out by the supreme court yesterday, expressed little hope today that new legislation meeting the court's objections could be passed.

Gloomily he predicted that mortgage-holders who had been influenced by the law to reduce their claims would now "go back to foreclosing."

He said it is the "duty" of debt-burdened farmers to organize to resist their homes.

"Why shouldn't they protect their homes?" he demanded. "It isn't their fault that the prices they receive for their products are not sufficient to pay their debts. I put home rights and family life above property rights every time. I can't get the viewpoint of the court deciding that property rights come first."

The man who helped push the Frazier-Lemke mortgage moratorium bill through the last congress, expressed fear also that, if farmers have a good crop this year, the "emergency" under which they have obtained relief under state moratorium laws might be declared at an end and more foreclosures ordered.

"Actually, one crop won't be nearly enough to enable them to pay out," he explained. "I'm afraid it's going to be a pretty serious situation."

The Frazier-Lemke act, which the supreme court ruled out unanimously, allowed farmers to retain their lands for five years at a rental despite efforts of mortgage-holders to foreclose. At the end of five years it gave the farmer an opportunity to satisfy the mortgage by paying the newly-appraised value of his property.

Associate Justice Brandeis, who wrote the opinion, emphasized that the fifth amendment commands that "however great the nation's need, private property shall not be taken even for a wholly public use without just compensation."

Some observers saw in one portion of the decision a possible opening for new legislation to accomplish the purpose of the act by another route. This read:

"If the public interest requires and permits the taking of property of individual mortgages in order to relieve the necessities of individual mortgagors, resort must be had to proceedings by eminent domain; so that through taxation the burden of relief afforded in the public interest may be borne by the public."

Senator Frazier said it might be possible, under this opinion, to draft a valid bill authorizing the government to take over deeply-mortgaged

MCLARNIN AND ROSS TO FIGHT THIS EVENING

ALL ODDS ARE AGAINST ONE TIME KILLER OF RING

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, the one-time "killer" among the ring's little fellows, not only faces a whirlwind blast of leather tonight as he meets the challenge of Chicago's Barney Ross at the Polo Grounds but the first time that for years has pursued welter-weight boxing champions.

Jimmy may produce sufficient punch to offset the danger of both factors over the 15-round route but the pre-battle odds seem stacked against him.

No 147-pound king has survived his first defense in years. The jinx which has been particularly potent in the Madison Square Garden bowl spilled McLarnin a year ago in his first defense of the championship he won by a knockout from Young Corbett III.

Ross, the successor, dropped a close decision to McLarnin three months later in the same arena, where it looked as though he had whipped the hoodoo as well as the Irishman.

They're right back where they started, but not even last minute reports of McLarnin's weight, well inside the class limit, sufficed to

Carl Stewart Gives Six Scattered Bingles

A combination of some effective pitching by Carl Stewart, a seven-teen-hit attack, a little luck, and a lot of dust enabled the Road Runners to defeat Phillips "66" at Borger last night, 10 to 0.

Carl Stewart pitched his second consecutive shut-out. He allowed but six scattered hits, the second inning being the only one in which he allowed more than one hit, and in that frame his mates came to his assistance with their only double play of the game. Carl's control was nearly perfect also, as he walked but one man, the second batter in the game.

A fog of dust hung over the field, making it practically impossible for the spectators to see the outfielders. In fact, it was so thick two umpires had to be stationed in the outfield to see the balls hit there were legal or handled. It lifted somewhat after the third inning, but at no time was the visibility good.

Bill Ellis started for Phillips and ran into tough luck in the first inning. Summers lifted a high fly to center that Joe Surface didn't even see in the dust, with the result it fell safely for a triple. Seitz got an infield hit and Sealing scored Summers on a play that forced Seitz at second. Lowrance to Holland. Patton singled to center on another fly that Surface couldn't see. Brickell followed suit with another fly to Surface, which went for a triple. Brickell scored and Holland's error and that ended the scoring for that inning. None of the hits were legitimate in nature, but went as such due to the dust.

A fielder's choice, Brickell's infield out, and Bailey's single to left scored another tally in the third. Some wire base running prevented further scoring in the fifth. Seitz and Sealing singled in succession and Brickell and Bailey walked, but no runs scored. The reason was a double play eliminated Seitz and Sealing. Jackson to Farquhar to get Jackson at second base in the third inning. Gib singled to left along the foul line and tried to stretch it into a double, but a fast recovery and a perfect throw by Brickell got him by feet at second.

One amusing incident was a play to get the first base between Patton and Lefty Hart. Dallas hit a smash to Hart's right that he fielded and then beat Patton to the bag. Both went into the bag standing up and both seemed afraid to touch the bag.

Lysle hit the left field fence for one of the longest singles seen in some time. Bailey was on first and it looked like Jackson might catch the ball, consequently Don could only make second on the play, thus holding the drive to a single.

Ellis gave way to Savage, a new-comer and youngster, at the start of the seventh inning. He got by fairly well until the ninth when his delivery was nixed for four runs.

BILL HARDIN

Starting his third year with the Road Runners, Bill Hardin is expected to see a lot of mound duty. Hardin was one of the most effective pitchers on the staff since his arrival here from the House of David team. Hardin started his baseball in 1926, playing in a strong independent league in Alabama. He went to Pensacola, Fla., the following year and then was purchased by the Detroit Tigers. He was sent to San Francisco and then to Seattle in 1928. Bill "went north" late in 1929, joining the Swift Current team in Western Canada. He stayed with the Canadian team in 1929 and the following year joined the House of David. In his three years with the Detroit team, Hardin played in 120 games.

JOHN THOMAS ALLEN HOLDS DETROIT 3-1

BY ANDY CLARKE, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The New York Yankees, dogging the Chicago White Sox in the American league race, have a lot to be thankful for in John Thomas Allen.

The husky right-hander has a record of five victories and no defeats, and when he throws his fire ball in the late innings his arm does not shoot with pain as it did last year.

He has pitched a total of 49 innings, struck out 38 and allowed 40 hits. He has gone the route in four of the five games. One of the Yankees "dollar-a-year" men he has pitched his price tag.

Yesterday he left the mound with a 3-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers. He held Mickey Cochrane's boys to three hits, made four of them whiff and, in defeating Schoolboy Rowe, shook off the hoodoo that chucker has held over the Yanks for the past two years.

The Philadelphia Athletics drubbed the leading White Sox, 6-1. Vernon Wilshire, rookie pitcher, kept the bingles of the Dykes boys well scattered while his own mace-men went to work on the opposing twirlers for 11 safe blows.

The St. Louis Browns defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-3, with "Moose" Solters, playing his first game with the Browns, leading the attack on his former teammates. He banged out a triple to contribute to the victory.

In Washington, the Cleveland Indians turned on a rally that produced three runs in the ninth inning but failed to overhaul the Senators who garnered six. With the bases loaded, Trosky filed out to end the game, 6 to 5.

In abbreviated National league schedule, Cincinnati gathered in its fifth straight victory, defeating the Boston Braves, 9-5. It was the fifth straight setback for the Braves. Smith, Benton, and Bell yielded 14 hits as the Reds rode on to victory.

Missions Take Galveston Game

By The Associated Press.

Rain interfered with Texas league play again yesterday, keeping half the teams idle. Dallas rested at Oklahoma City and Fort Worth took a day off at Tulsa because of the weather.

Jack Jakucki lost his control in the ninth inning at Galveston last night and walked three in a row to start San Antonio on a five-run rally that netted the Missions a 7 to 5 victory.

The Buc right-hander was on easy street with a 5 to 2 lead as the final started. Then he gave passes to the first three batsmen to face him. He was replaced by Garcia who finished walking, Bettencourt. A bunch of singles changed the score in a hurry.

Bill Beckman did a good job of relief pitching to give Houston a 5 to 3 win over Beaumont. Nelson Pittner, who started for the Buifs, had a bad evening and the Exporters hit him with painful regularity. Beckman went in to the fifth, pulled the Buifs out of a deep hole by fanning a couple of men and then managed the situation the remainder of the game.

WHY THE EXCITEMENT

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Four carloads of policemen, armed with machine guns, dashed into a Lincoln banking establishment. They found J. Zier placidly welding his broom. He accidentally had touched off a burglar alarm.

Zier looked up with mild interest. "Somebody must be going duck hunting," was his only comment.

The Goal of Many Boy Scouts Camped Here

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council today are camped with...

Amarillo And Road Runners Play Here Wednesday Night

Pampans Will Seek Revenge at City Baseball Park

Amarillo will be here tomorrow night.

It will be baseball, however, instead of football which will be played. The Amarillo Shamrocks will meet the Road Runners at 8:30 o'clock at Road Runner park. Admission will be 25 and 40 cents.

The Amarillo aggregation swamped the Road Runners Sunday afternoon in Amarillo and the loss didn't make the Pampa nine feel any too good. They will be out for revenge tomorrow night, probably sending Joe Berry to the mound in an effort to win. Berry has pitched about two-thirds of the games played by the Road Runners this season. He was the first hurler to get in condition.

Amarillo will probably have a surprise for the Road Runners. It was rumored in Amarillo yesterday that a new pitcher and also a new outfielder will be in uniform against the Pampa nine.

Lefty Pachak, the be-spectacled pitcher who defeated the Pampa nine last Sunday, will also be ready if needed.

The Road Runners toow the field in Borger last night with a slightly changed lineup and it worked nicely. Summers, shortstop, was shifted to second base. Bailey going to shortstop. Lefty Cox was back on first base. Bailey had only one chance last night, but he handled it nicely. Summers on second handled 14 chances with only one bobble.

HORNSBY TO TRADE OFF WEST FOR PITCHERS AND SOME CASH

ST. LOUIS, May 28 (AP)—Manager Rogers Hornsby is by no means through with his process of rebuilding, or wrecking (depending on your point of view) his eighth-place St. Louis Browns.

St. Louis fans are already steered to what they believe will be the next deal "trader" Hornsby will swing—outfielder Sam West, the best fly-catcher in the business and one of the league's leading hitters, for a pitcher or two and, possibly, some cash.

The addition of outfielder Julius Solters in a trade with the Boston Red Sox for second-baseman Oscar Charleston is the latest move with the following roster:

Six outfielders, six infielders, including Hornsby himself, eight pitchers and two catchers, or 22 men, one under the major league limit.

It takes no baseball expert to see that the team is shy a pitcher or two and long an outfielder, especially since under the present arrangement Roy "Beau" Bell, $15,000 rookie hitting better than .300, is sitting on the bench.

West is one of two potential trading Hornsby might make, first baseman Jack Burns the other. The rest of the team probably wouldn't entice the league's David Harms.

Mellilo was the fifth member of the team to be traded or released in the last ten days and the ninth to go since the end of the 1934 season.

As the team shapes up today, it appears to have a stronger outfield, as long as West stays, a better hitting infield that is weaker on the defensive side, practically the same catching staff and a minor league assortment of pitchers.

Off the field—in the cash box—there is, however, a marked difference. Hornsby has managed to collect about $100,000 for the Phil Ball estate through his various trades.

SOMETHING IN A NAME

CHICAGO (AP)—There may be something in a name for Harry Gerber.

Arrested as the keeper of a gambling house he allegedly gave the name of his landlord, J. O. Ginsberg. Ginsberg gave Gerber's name to Judge Padgen and the latter gave contempt of court proceedings yesterday to punish Gerber.

Stanolind Nine Will Play Two Games in Week

The Stanolind Oil company's baseball team has two games scheduled on the home diamond this week. The Oilers will meet the Pampa-Bunby Indians at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the Western Carbon company blackfaces at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Hitting their stride Sunday afternoon, Stanolind won a 6 to 5 game from Skellytown to serve notice on all teams that they are ready for the season. The Stanolind team is composed of players working for the company.

The Indians, composed of high school and former high school students, has been playing some good ball this season. They nosed out Stanolind by one run a few weeks ago.

Western Carbon company is just organizing and has the prospects of a strong club.

A Lady Makes a Wise Decision in Buying a New Refrigerator

She decides to ask a USER which features mean the most.

"What is the most important feature to look for in buying a refrigerator?"

"Well, after all, PERFORMANCE is what counts. Without that, all features are useless."

TOOK to the mechanism first—it determines how long and how well a refrigerator will serve you. The performance of the refrigerator you buy outweighs in value all other refrigerator features combined.

A Buyer's Guide Always ask "How long will it last?" For lowest cost and greatest satisfaction year after year, rate the values of a refrigerator on this basis: 10% for styling; 10% for features; 5% for special gadgets; 10% for quietness; 65% for dependable performance and long life.

5 Years Performance Protection In addition to the standard 1 year warranty every G-E sealed-in-steel mechanism carries 4 more years protection for only $5—5 years for only $1 a year!

AVERAGE GRADE OF 75 IN 16 COURSES NECESSARY

Beginning next fall, requirements for graduation from Pampa high school will be raised with the introduction of the grade point system, according to Principal L. L. Bone.

A total of 96 grade points and 4 points in extracurricular activities will be required hereafter for graduation. A minimum of 16 solid units will still be necessary.

Grade points are determined as follows: Grades from 70 to 74 inclusive count five grade points.

Grades from 75 through 79 count six, from 80 through 84 count seven, from 85 through 89 count eight, from 90 through 94 count nine, and from 95 to 100 count ten.

Extra curricular activities count one point each. In other words, an average grade of at least 75 in 16 courses will be required for graduation hereafter.

Hereafter a student has been permitted to graduate if he had as high as a grade of 70 in 16 units, though nothing below 75 was recommended for college.

Four units in English must be included among the 16 credits. Mr. Bone emphasized the fact that this requirement will be rigidly enforced and that only in very exceptional cases will a student be permitted hereafter to take two courses in English at the same time.

Half a unit in either commercial or advanced arithmetic will be required of all students graduating after next year, in addition to the unit in algebra and the one in plane geometry already required.

For graduation a major is required in one of the branch sciences—English, three units in one branch constitute a major.

Foreign languages—Latin and Spanish. Social sciences—History, civics, economics, and occupations.

Science—General science, biology, chemistry, physics, physiology. Mathematics—Algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry, commercial and advanced arithmetic.

Vocational agriculture. Home economics. Commercial work—Typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial law, commercial arithmetic, commercial geography.

Regardless of the major chosen, the following units of credit must be secured by all students who will receive a diploma: four units in English, two and one-half units in mathematics (not required of the class of '36), one unit of science with a foreign language or two units without a language, two units in a foreign language if one is elected.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Katharine Strykhurst, beautiful, 20, is discontented and restless because her wealthy father, Victor Strykhurst, and her aristocratic stepmother, Bertine, refuse to let Katharine undertake any sort of work.

Katharine rides daily with Michael Heathorn, young westerner who runs a riding club. She assures herself she is not interested in Michael but feels a pang of jealousy when Sally Moon, local coquette, enrolls at the club for lessons.

Zoe Parker, Katharine's friend, returns from Europe where she has been taken to forget a love affair with Gibbs Larkin, of whom her parents disapprove.

Zoe accuses Katharine of being in love with Michael. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER III Long ago Katharine Strykhurst had decided to shut love out of her life as much as was humanly possible.

Her mother had died when she was nine. People say, "Children don't understand." But some children do. Katharine still remembers that day with a shudder when she was hurrying to and fro in the old stone house; her father's racked shoulders; her mother's raked too well. The lovely, fair-haired, gracious mother had gone.

There was no one in her place, Katharine was by nature a lonely child. A succession of governesses only intensified this loneliness. Many nights her pillow was wet with childish tears. Later her father had brought her a pet, a little Cairn terrier she dearly loved. When he was run over by a tradesman's car Katharine had dried her tears and had said angrily and stoically to herself: "All right, I won't love anybody or anything again."

She had tried to keep that promise. The entrance of her stepmother into her life, when Katharine was 13, had not really meant much to her. Katharine had been polite to the well-dressed, pleasant-looking Bertine she had never called her mother.

The second Mrs. Strykhurst, who had a good figure and a sense of humor, hadn't tried to "win Katharine over" by fair means or foul. Now after more than seven years, they were friends, if not completely allies.

So, this fine summer morning, when Zoe Parker, wrapped in thoughts of the man she loved, accused Katharine of being a victim of the grand passion, it is small wonder that the tall, fair girl in riding clothes turned on her companion almost angrily, denying it.

"I never heard anything so ridiculous as that," she said. "All right, all right," Zoe soothed her, smiling. "I only thought you looked at him so."

Katharine flushed to the roots of her hair, in which gold shimmered and deep waves were brushed back at the entrance to the stables Michael had deep in the dapple gray's.

"You can't see a man and a woman together," Katharine began hotly, "without imagining..." "Well, honestly, Kay," cried Zoe, nettled in her turn, "anybody'd think falling in love was a disgrace."

"Well, leave me out of it, won't you?" Katharine said with cool dignity. "I can't. You're one of the blooming human race," Zoe cried, with a deal of laughter. All at once both girls were restored to good humor.

Michael, hearing the sound of laughter, glanced up and smiled. Something caught at Katharine's heart. There was something so so darned attractive about that tall, rangy, lean young westerner who smiled those little laugh wrinkles about his eyes.

"There, that's better!" cried Zoe. "Now, can you ride over to the Ridge and back? It'll only take 15 minutes. I want to talk to you."

"All right," Katharine agreed, ashamed of her earlier flare of temper. There was just no use flashing out at Zoe. She was the most amiable person in the world, if a trifle silly.

"But my car's here," she protested, after deliberation. "I'll have to stop by again and pick it up." Would Michael think she was making excuses to see him? Men were so terribly conceited.

After the other day when he had so rudely seized her wrist and spoken so sharply, when they were talking shelter from the storm in that way-side cabin, she scarcely knew what to think of Michael. He had apologized, had muttered something incoherent; but they had both been self-conscious, sliding home later.

Katharine assured herself that if things were going on this way she would have to give up her morning rides, much as she adored them. But this morning the tall westerner had been casual and unself-conscious as usual. It was going to be all right, Katharine had thought with satisfaction. They could just be comrades. People who said that friendship and merely that — was impossible between a man and girl were just crazy.

conversation with Kitcher, a veterinarian in front of whose office the slaying occurred. He quoted the veterinarian as saying he was the first to reach Stafford's body, that he saw a badge near the slain man's right hand, but saw "no gun anywhere around."

The testimony was offered in an effort to combat the defense contention that Stafford was armed at the time he was shot down by Sheriff Cato.

"The witness said Kitcher had told him of taking evidence of narcotic law violations against him from a government car two days prior to the homicide.

Lahn said a slip of paper with an automobile license number written on it was found in a bullet-proof vest identified as the one worn by Sheriff Cato at the time of the killing.

In arguing for the acquittal of Kitcher and Hartman, C. C. Crenshaw said that the government had produced "insufficient evidence to connect either defendant with homicide."

"There is no evidence," the attorney continued, "to show that either aided or abetted, or counseled or procured the commission of the offense. No evidence has been introduced to show that either knew federal agents were in town, or that either communicated with Sheriff Cato."

Crenshaw said the fact that Kitcher winked at Cato immediately after the shooting, as testified to by a government witness, showed sympathy, not encouragement.

Federal District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus reviewed the government theory of the case in answer to Crenshaw. He alleged that a "dope ring, headed by Kitcher and Hartman, had operated at Post for the past six or seven years, and that they were being protected in their activities by Cato."

"We contend the killing here hadn't been for his (Cato's) protection of these men—it was a case of too much narcotics," Eastus said, "to conclude from the circumstances that one of these men—dope peddlers, if you please—had warned Cato."

air of a holiday as street decorations, said to be the best seen in several years, were placed. Tom Chesser, chairman of the decorations committee, reported 100 per cent support from merchants.

With the parades taking form rapidly, the pageant going into production, exhibits being assembled for windows, oil show attracting the attention of the industry throughout the state, oldtime resolutions of citizens in city-wide assembly before the visitors' come to the city was requested by women's clubs and the city administration.

Katharine melted. "I didn't mean to be, honestly. What can I do to help?" Their conferences usually ended this way. Katharine was the stronger of the two, yet the soft, yielding Zoe could usually bend her to her way of thinking.

"I thought we might get our parents to let us take a trip together," she began. "But you've only just got back," Katharine said.

"I know, but we could say we wanted to do New England—the antique shops and so on." "And slip up to Maine and see Gibbs. Is that it?" Zoe nodded.

Katharine frowned. "It's much too transparent. Bertine would be sure to see through it. She's much quicker than your mother about things like that."

"She'd never suspect you," said Zoe slyly, "of deceit." Katharine flushed. "It was true, Bertine would think that she would look after Zoe properly. Well, and she would too."

"No, I can't possibly do it!" "Oh, Kay, darling, think about it, won't you?" Zoe looked at it she might burst into tears again.

"I don't really like Gibbs," Katharine began, doubtfully. "Why should I foster this affair? I think it would be the worst thing you could do, to marry him..." "Oh, marry!" Zoe opened her eyes.

"Well, isn't that what you're after?" "He hasn't asked me, but he will," said the younger girl with a note of soft triumph.

"I've simply got to get back," Katharine said suddenly. Of course she loved Zoe as a sister, but this morning there was something particularly irritating in Zoe's assumption that she could bend a full-grown man to her will.

Maybe Gibbs wanted to marry her and maybe he didn't. Katharine didn't know. But Zoe was sure of her power. Katharine, from her chilly heights of superiority to feminine wiles, felt annoyed. She was remembering, with lightning clearness, the way Michael had stared at her the other day, so angrily, almost as though he had, for an instant, hated her. Zoe would have known what to do in such a situation.

The little car whistled about, began the down grade. At the lane leading into the riding club she obediently stopped.
