"Texlahoma" is the worst possible name for a proposed new state which would be born minus the glory that is Texas and the glory that is Oklahoma's.

When Fort Worth and Dallas beat their swords into shovels, as one wag puts it, to dig the Trinity canal, maybe there's some hope of making the North Fork navigable.

Wheat farming is a delightful occupation, whether you are renting your land to the government or waiting for a bumper crop to ripen. Or so it seems on paper.

Funny world. Two weeks ago eastern newspaper readers were convinced the southwest would become a desert. Lately they've been led to believe it will be an inland lake.

Fishing wars are already starting. The L. Ford Broad says that Charlie Campbell cast a fishing line into a flock of ducks and brought one down, the hook going through its lower bill.

Musing of the moment: Did you see the moon rainbow the other night? We didn't but we have it on good authority that there was one. Those who believe in signs could make a lot out of it. Did it signalize the end of the drought? Let the astrologers answer.

Brevitorials

THE OLD ORDER changeth. Eras end and new ones begin. Veterans, pioneers pass on to make way for the newer generations. It is nature's way. Maturity and old age are self-destructive and bring pride in the generations which they engender. Life in its fullness is a sacrifice, but death is a liberation of the spirit, an escape from a world turned over to younger hands, a reward for the fulfillment of life's plan.

TRAGIC AS was the passing of T. D. Hobart and J. T. Crawford. They were triumph in their going. Sad indeed though their relatives and friends are, this is not a pagan community and death is not defeat and oblivion. The white deer lingering pride in the achievements of these fine men, The Panhandle and the friends they had over the state have much regret and yet some satisfaction—satisfaction in knowing them and in the knowledge that their work will live after them.

MR. CRAWFORD outlived Mr. Hobart by a decade. The latter had lived a full life, but had certain unfinished business concerning the big JA ranch of which he was executive. Mr. Hobart noticeably began to break about two years ago following an attack of flu. His better judgment then dictated retirement, but duty to the JA and its heirs was to him a stronger demand. He continued in his work and at the time of his death was carrying on important negotiations. This stress undoubtedly shortened his life by a number of years. Yet he would not have had it otherwise. A man of many activities, he would not have been happy in leaving any duty untouched.

TO SAY THAT Pampa will miss Mr. Hobart would be to greatly underestimate the facts. He was, all things considered, our best known citizen. Through his lodge, his decades of dealings in land and cattle, his handling of White Deer lands and the JA ranch property, his church affiliation, his acquaintanceship with prominent men of the southwest, his was an influence incalculable in extent. His soft-spoken word was worth more than the bluster of a regiment of bayoneted rifles. There were thousands who thought of him when Pampa was mentioned.

THIS COLUMNIST feels most deeply the loss of two very good friends, members of his church. See COLUMN, Page 6.

Celebration Mass Meeting Is Tonight

BUSINESS MEN ARE ASKED TO ATTEND RALLY

MANY ARE NEEDED TO HELP PUT OVER CIVIC FETE

Like the proverbial rolling snowball, the program for the second Panhandle Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers' Roundup here June 6 and 7 has reached highly satisfactory proportions, but a size which calls for much manpower to manage the many events, handle the crowds, and generally show that this city is a competent host.

The demand for manpower far exceeds the membership of the Pre-Centennial committees. The addition of a rodeo and the initial program of the Panhandle Oil show likewise has entailed more work than at first anticipated. Those of the Pre-Centennial committees are highly optimistic, knowing that the greatest enterprise of the year will be provided in Pampa. But they likewise are aware that there are far too few persons now doing the work.

Smooth handling of the many details calls for more help. That assistance will be mustered to-night. All citizens are invited to be present promptly at 8 p. m. The meeting will be short but intense—nothing but business.

Thursday, June 6 9 a. m.—Registration of oldtimers at high school gymnasium. 1:30 p. m.—Pre-Centennial and Oil Show parade. 2:30 p. m.—Rodeo program. 8 p. m.—Baseball game at Road Runner park. 8 p. m.—Wrestling program at Road Runner park. 8 p. m.—Western dramas and square dance at gymnasium. 10 p. m.—Big street dance.

Friday, June 7 10 a. m.—Oldtimers' program at gymnasium. 10 a. m.—Oil field contests downtown. 11 a. m.—Address by Governor James V. Allred. 12 noon—Banquet for oldtimers only at gymnasium. 1:30 p. m.—Pre-Centennial and Oil Show parade. 2:30 p. m.—Second rodeo program. 3 p. m.—Baseball game at Road Runner park. 8 p. m.—Pre-Centennial pageant at Harvester park. 10 p. m.—Old fiddlers' contest at gymnasium. 10 p. m.—Pre-Centennial ball at Pla-Mor auditorium.

Hal Sevier Is Back From Chile

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—Hal Sevier, recently resigned as American ambassador to Chile, returned today on the Grace liner, Santa Lucia, to take up permanent residence at Corpus Christi, Texas. "I like Chile," the resigned ambassador said, "but my health has never been good since I went there and finally I decided that a sick man has no right to represent his country abroad. I came back about four months ago and returned with the hope that I could keep on, but I found it was impossible."

Mrs. Barnard Dies; Lived In City 27 Years

Another of Pampa's oldtime citizens was called by death last night when Mrs. Charles B. Barnard, 66, died at her home, 815 N. Somerville street, at 7 o'clock. She had been in failing health for some time, but it was not until Sunday afternoon that she became critically ill. Mrs. Barnard had been a resident of Pampa since 1908, and until a few years ago was Pampa's leading business woman. She and her husband operated one of Pampa's first mercantile stores and later owned a modern department store. Mrs. Barnard was a faithful church and lodge worker until failing health forced her to become inactive.

Surviving Mrs. Barnard are her husband, C. B. Barnard; two daughters, Mrs. M. A. Graham and Mrs. B. O. Lilly, both of Pampa; and one son, Harry Barnard of Lubbock. Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Lola Thompson, Lubbock, and Mrs. Lora Neal, Hillsboro, and two brothers, Rev. Cecil Fox, Idalou, and C. W. Fox, Hillsboro.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the First Methodist church with the Rev. Gaston Poote, pastor, and the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery in charge of the G. C. Malone Funeral home.

Pallbearers will be P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. M. A. Graham and Mrs. B. O. Lilly, both of Pampa; and one son, Harry Barnard of Lubbock. Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Lola Thompson, Lubbock, and Mrs. Lora Neal, Hillsboro, and two brothers, Rev. Cecil Fox, Idalou, and C. W. Fox, Hillsboro.

HOBART FRIENDS ARRIVE FOR FUNERAL OF BELOVED PIONEER

Teachers College and Historical Society Mourn Passing Of Pampa Man. Friends of T. D. Hobart today were arriving from near and far for his funeral at the First Baptist church at 3 p. m. Meanwhile, his body was to be opened at the church.

The funeral was to be in charge of the Rev. L. Burney Shiel, Mr. Hobart's pastor, with the oration by his longtime friend, the Rev. Dr. R. Thomsen, minister of the First Presbyterian church of Amarillo. Brief remarks were to be made by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church and another longtime friend of the deceased. Pallbearers were to be W. H. Patrick, Clarendon; M. K. Brown, San Antonio; C. A. Tignor and C. P. Buckner, Canyon; Dr. J. A. Hill and L. F. Sheffey, Pampa; Beale Queen, Palo Duro, and Henry C. Coke Jr., of Dallas. All the immediate survivors are here. They are Mrs. Hobart, Fred Hobart of Hemphill county, the only son, and two daughters, Mrs. Clyde F. Fatheree of Pampa and Mrs. Guy Hutchinson of Arkansas City, Kans.

J. T. CRAWFORD RITES WILL BE ON WEDNESDAY

Confederate Veteran Honored By Grand-Daughter. Long-time friends of J. T. Crawford who died suddenly Sunday, were glad today they had an opportunity to honor him in an unusual way recently. The occasion was a Centennial program given in his honor at the city hall by his grand-daughter, Mrs. Dudley Steele, formerly Miss Kathryn Vincent. Scores of old-timers and old friends of Mr. Crawford attended the program in which dance pupils of Mrs. Steele appeared. The grand-daughter lived in the house with her grandfather most of her life and the devotion between the two was marked.

ROW FOLLOWS RELIEF WAGE RATE FIXING

WILLIAM GREEN SIDES IN WITH SENATOR McCARRAN

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Asserting that he feared "great social unrest" would spring from the work relief wage rates President Roosevelt has fixed, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said he had called federal leaders to a session today to decide on a course of action.

"Inequitable" and "unsound" were some of the adjectives Green flung at the wages which will apply on much of the $4,000,000,000 works program. The wages will range from a low of $12 a month to a high of $84, depending on the type of labor and the locality.

"I am very much afraid," Green said, "that great social unrest will result from these widely varying rates. There is certain to be discontent and I would not be surprised if it led even to wide-spread strikes among relief workers."

Earlier Senator McCarran (D-Nev) had directed hotly-worded criticism at the schedule. McCarran, leader of the defeated drive to force the payment of wages prevailing in private industry, asserted that President Roosevelt's executive order would "completely wreck the country's wage scale." He indicated that he was preparing to attack the wages on the floor of the senate.

Administration officials denied the charge that the order would slash as compared with PWA scales, would "wreck" the pay structure. Although issuing no immediate formal statement over their signatures, they contended the schedule is higher than it may seem at first glance because those affected will work for 12 consecutive months. Because of long lay-offs in the private construction industry, they argued, the work relief wages will compare favorably with the private figures when yearly totals are considered.

SECOND ANNUAL SCOUT CIRCUS IS ONLY WEEK AWAY IN PAMPA

Pampans, needing to be Janus-faced to focus attention on all current local events, were reminded today that the second annual Boy Scout circus and camporee would be held at Road Runner park next Monday and Tuesday.

Home of Homer Wallace Turned Into Playhouse By Small Boys; Walls Hurt.

viewed by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wallace when they returned yesterday from a 16-day stay downstate. They found the house in good order, with clean linens on the beds. They anticipated early retirement in a restful atmosphere, with a minimum of house-cleaning at their home at 418 South Faulkner. They found a shambles. One of Police Art. Hurst and County Attorney Sherman White immediately saw in the situation the work of youngsters. A quick roundup netted clues which shortly implicated three boys directly, their ages 10 to 12 years. They confessed to entering the house and making a playhouse of it over a period of several days. They held "banquets," had flour fights, swung on the light fixtures, ransacked all drawers, broke bottles, and dabbed paint here and there.

SCHOOLS HAVE LOST MILLIONS SOLONS CLAIM

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—A special committee of the house of representatives reported today that $1,318,171 in securities held by the permanent school fund were "absolutely worthless" and estimated the actual market value of all the bonds at 70 per cent of par.

CHANGES DEMANDED IN INVESTMENT POLICIES

The report stated that unless investment policies of the board of education are changed "it is reasonable to assume... it will not be very long before the permanent school fund will be completely invested in bonds which are either worthless or at least of questionable value."

Recommendation was made that the board of education be asked to cease immediately purchase of refunding bonds, that the board be provided with a bond expert, that a full time attorney be employed to collect moneys due the fund and that school lands unlawfully appropriated and that an accounting for minerals removed be required.

The departmental appropriation bill, pending before the governor, provides for a bond expert and attorney. The board was criticized for failure to carefully investigate the financial condition of school districts from which bonds were purchased.

MANY SECTIONS WOULD LIKE TO BE 49TH STATE

It's Not Likely That A New State Will Be Formed. BY PAUL WEIR, Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—Though citizens in half a dozen parts of the country like to dream that some day their sections will become separate states, federal officials see little prospect that a forty-ninth star will go into "Old Glory" in the near future.

Some people in "Texlahoma," "Ab-sarko," Eastern Maryland, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska, aspire to be represented by that star. Even folk in New York City and Chicago have talked of statehood for those metropolitan centers whose affairs to some extent are affected by "up-state" and "down-state" influence in their legislatures.

Among the "western forgotten people" living in 23 western Oklahoma and 46 Texas Panhandle counties, the latest move for carving out a new state is afoot. It would be called "Texlahoma." These people number 1,015,908 and the ones who desire statehood say their present status is unsatisfactory.

Romantic fans were dismayed when Maurice Chevalier turned his back forever upon American movies, but not for long. For now their hearts go pit-a-pat again over a new French idol, He's Charles Boyer, above, who is said to have oodles of attraction for the girls, even though he's married to Pat Patterson.

In Puerto Rico, which has 1,543,913 American citizens, there is a movement for statehood. The Puerto Rican delegate, Santiago Iglesias, has introduced a bill to that end. On the territory of Hawaii, at the Pacific cross-roads, there is a strongly-voiced cry for the status of a state and Delegate Samuel W. King has introduced a bill for the purpose.

The nation's second territory, Alaska, also wishes statehood. It has 59,278 inhabitants, not counting the agricultural population which migrated from the northwest.

In eastern Maryland there was talk of separation after troops were sent there following a lynching. People there are separated from the rest of Maryland by Chesapeake bay.

Call Made For 'Shooting Irons'

An SOS call for "shooting irons" of all kinds was addressed to citizens of this community by Dick Hughes and Scott Green of the Pre-Centennial pageant committee today. They went to borrow the guns for use in the pageant on the evening of June 7.

Persons who will lend their guns for us in the pageant are asked to leave them at the Thompson hardware store with a tag bearing the name of the owner attached.

All kinds of "thumb-busting" and lever action guns are needed, including those of 44-40, 38-40, 38 WCF, 32-20, 38 (pistol), 32 (pistol) and 45 (pistol) caliber. There will be much use of firearms in the pageant inasmuch as four battles will be "fought."

NAZIS ORDERED TO LISTEN TO REICH ADDRESS

SAYS GERMANY FAVORS PEACE AND IS NO COWARD

BY A. D. STEFFERUD, Associated Press Foreign Staff. (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) BERLIN, May 21.—Reichsbuchrer Hitler told the reichstag—and all the world—today that "the Germany of today favors peace... neither out of weakness nor cowardice... We decry every war for the subjugation of foreign people."

Der Fuehrer made his address, long awaited as a definite statement of Germany's relationship to the rest of the world, after receiving an ovation by hundreds of thousands of cheering citizens packing the streets outside the Reichstag assembly.

"I have the duty to speak perfectly openly," Hitler told his audience—an audience which was multiplied by millions through radio. "The German nation has the right to demand this from me and I am determined to obey this demand."

"If the Germany of today favors peace, it favors it neither out of weakness nor cowardice. National socialism (the Nazi party) dogmatically declines to entertain the idea of national assimilation. We give no instructions for the Germanization of non-German names. We decry war for the subjugation of foreign people."

Then he directed his attention bluntly toward other nations saying: "If the nations are so concerned about numerically increasing their population, they can accomplish this through an increasing readiness to bring forth offspring and can, in a very few years, present their nation with more children of their own people than they could foreign peoples vanquished by war."

Again voicing his oft-repeated contention that Germany desired peace, Hitler declared: "Nazi Germany wants peace from a primitive realization that no war"

Ickes Says He Will Maintain PWA Wage Rate

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—Declining to enter any controversy over reduction of payments to labor and other phases of the $4,000,000,000 work program, Secretary Ickes said today the PWA hourly wage rate would be maintained on PWA projects.

"Every man has a right to a personal opinion," was Ickes' only comment on attacks at the new wage schedule by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Senator McCarran (D., Nevada).

The wage scale for the $4,000,000,000 program, announced last night, ranges from $19 a month. Ickes indicated there might be a change in hours worked on PWA projects.

"I think the PWA wage scale certainly be maintained on permanent structures such as buildings and bridges," he said, "but hours will depend upon whether we have to work on double shifts."

He added the existing 30-hour week on PWA projects might be continued, or "we might have to go to 40 hours (the basic number of hours fixed in the schedule announced yesterday by President Roosevelt)."

Centennial Fund Given Approval

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—The senate library committee today approved a joint resolution authorizing a $2,000,000 appropriation for the Texas Centennial celebration in 1936.

The favorable report was voted after Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, both of Texas, and Cullen F. Thomas, of Dallas, president of the Texas Centennial commission, had outlined the program contemplated in Texas, and insisted $3,000,000 was not too much to ask.

COMPULSORY AUTOMOTIVE INSPECTION

There is a movement, now gaining much ground, to require compulsory, periodical testing of motor vehicles. The projects are furthered both by the appalling accident toll and the discovery that a majority of all motor vehicles are defective in factors related to safety.

We have game laws to protect desirable animals and bounties for the destruction of undesirable ones. Yet when people kill thousands of other persons every year, much is said but little is done about it. During 1934, automobiles killed about 36,000 persons and injured 954,000. A war would not be worse. During the last 100 years, just 76,000 deaths have been attributed to marine disasters of the world, yet there have been 96,300 motor vehicle fatalities in the last three years.

The first cause of fatal accidents is "man failure". We let drunks drive cars. We let other drivers be color blind, hard of hearing, or otherwise incapable of driving safely. We do little to discourage maniacal speeders.

The second cause is car failures. New cars are comparatively safe when driven expertly. But they do not stay that way long under steady use. Few cities have done much to correct such things as faulty brakes and lights and defective horns.

In Memphis, Tenn. recently, 45,571 cars were inspected under a mandatory ordinance. Of these, 19,794 were declared unfit for driving until defects were repaired. These deficiencies were distributed, in part, as follows: Brakes 14,349, headlights 10,391, wheel alignment 2,551, steering 2,951, windshield wiper 1,742, tail light 2,841, rear view mirror 349, horns 1,022, windshields 705.

These cars had been examined once previously in the same year, indicating the need for at least two inspections each year. Such inspections are being made mandatory in many cities. While individuals could voluntarily drive into some repair shop and have the work done, it is well known that the average person does not do so. Memphis, following installation of the testing system, showed an auto accident decrease of 14 per cent in the first year. The plan is for each motorist to have his car tested on precision instruments twice a year. The city would own the equipment. Motorists would pay a fee, usually one dollar for a year's inspection service, to pay for the city's testing equipment and personnel expense. Cars found defective would be repaired and re-tested within a stated period.

Gray county now has 6,241 registered automobiles, 210 farm trucks, and 860 other trucks.

Compulsory tests, it is claimed, would enable a city to set up a permanent educational campaign for traffic safety. It would give frequent contacts with motorists and their problems. It would make motorists more conscious of their responsibilities. The testing station would do no repair work. It would diagnose and recommend, and would withhold approval of vehicles not repaired.

Is all this worth a dollar a year to a motorist, The Kiwanis club through its endorsement of a testing program has said Yes. An educational campaign in behalf of compulsory testing will be conducted by the club and the local traffic safety committee.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The dirt farmers who pilgrimaged here to cheer the AAA were dyed-in-the-wool enthusiasts.

As a matter of journalistic fairness to the pretty gals who capered in "Dangerous Curves" at the local burlesque house, it should be recorded that while President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace drew applauding hosannas in the afternoon, the sons of the soil paid equally high tribute to the strip artists and songbirds of that show in the evening.

Nearly 300 of the boys piled into the theater after an early supper and took it over. Delegations from various states rose to cheer one another and then proceeded to whoop for absentees.

The whoops grew louder after the curtain went up. Your correspondent is reliably informed that strip acts have nothing to do with strip farming and that dirt farmers are primarily concerned with the kind of dirt that blows around in dust storms, but if the girls of "Dangerous Curves" were oblivious to those facts they were at least aware of the liveliest audience this theater-going city has seen in a long time.

Miss Sunya ("Smiles") Slane would never remind one of a bean-pole. Nor did she wear a costume that would indicate any severe inroad into the cotton carryover.

But you'd have been surprised how often she had to sing "If I Had a Big Red Apple, Would You Keep Me After School?" And the especially prepared jokes about bulls and cows didn't seem to go over the farmers' heads.

Elsewhere, state delegations were in huddles with their congressmen. Some of the congressmen wished they were at the burlesque show.

Representative Andresen of Red Wing, Minn., was speaking to about 75 of his Minnesota constituents and bemoaning the increase in agricultural imports when a farmer arose and chided him:

"Andresen, you know darn well we could produce all the imports that came in last year in one Minnesota county!"

The speech which Roosevelt was to have made to the farmers from the White House portico had been carefully prepared by AAA ghost writers. It was a mild, safe and sane talk, reminiscent of the old guff about the dignity of toil, the delights of agriculture, and isn't the New Deal simply wonderful.

Roosevelt didn't make the speech. He revamped it until you wouldn't have recognized it and out came a fighting speech of the type for which his most devoted admirers had long been hoping.

Much mystery was made of the instigation of the "farmers' march." The farmers had to keep reiterating that "it was our own idea and we paid it all out of our own pockets."

Intimation by Senator Daniel O. Hastings to the contrary stirred a storm of denial.

The demonstration had been organized through the county allotment committees and county production control associations which administer the farm-to-farm adjustment program. Cliff E. Day of Plainview, Tex., had written all the county committees and drummed up an army of 4,500.

Oil Production Shows Increase

TULSA, Okla., May 21. (AP)—Oklahoma again led the way as daily average crude oil production in the United States increased 16,001 barrels last week over the previous week for a total of 2,660,603 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reports. Oklahoma's production was 543,500 as compared to 522,825 for the previous week. Kansas also showed a sizable increase, going from 145,850 to 152,475 barrels daily. All other principal areas showed declines. Texas production was down 9,781 barrels to 1,045,468. East Texas was off 2,781 barrels. The eastern fields, including Michigan, virtually were unchanged.

there being a decrease of less than 500 barrels. The Rocky mountain area produced 1,010 barrels daily. California also slumped, dropping from 516,150 barrels to 514,000 barrels. The life of a queen bee has been known to extend over seven years. Coffee, made from dehydrated bananas which are roasted, is coming into use in New South Wales.

Masked Marvel And Piluso To Wrestle Here Tonight

MICHAEL AND ARTHUR WILL GRAPPLE IN SEMI-FINALS

The season's first wrestling match will be staged tonight at Road Runner park with the preliminary set for 8:30 o'clock. General admission will be 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men. Reserved seats will be 60 cents.

Headlining the opening card will be a finish match, best two falls out of three or a two-hour time limit, between the Masked Marvel, undefeated mystery man of the wrestling world, and Tony Piluso, the Toledo flash.

The semi-final will bring a former Panaman to the mat when Red Michael, local flash, returns to meet Ernie Arthur, wild French-Canadian mauler. The match that will open the card will be between Curly Lewis, local boy, and Art Belcher of Amarillo.

The masked wonder of the ring will wear his specially constructed mask. The disguise never leaves his face in public. He is resolved to win his title from the world. To the present time he has succeeded. There are many stories about his identity but no one apparently knows definitely who he is. He is well educated, speaks several foreign languages, and is well versed in the art of wrestling and self-protection, whether scientific or otherwise.

Piluso is no newcomer to the wrestling world. He has been meeting and beating the best in the country. He came to this section a few weeks ago upon hearing that the Masked Marvel was in these parts. It seems that the Marvel won a match from Piluso a long time ago and revenge is in the dapper Italian's heart.

Red Michael returns to Pampa with 350 matches to his credit since he left here two years ago. The local red-head has been wrestling in Western Canada, Washington, Oregon, California, Wyoming, and other northwestern states. He has improved until he is a real headliner. His opponent, Arthur, needs no introduction to Pampa wrestling fans. He is a rough and tough mauler who isn't particular whether things go according to rules or otherwise. Arthur dumped the redhead before he left on his long tour and Michael is all set to get revenge.

Both preliminary boys have been on the road for some time. Lewis has been in the west for several months. Belcher has been meeting some of the best in the north and east.

2,000 WATCH RED GODDARD RIDE WINNERS

ONE HORSE PAYS HIS BACKERS $19.80 FOR TWO

PANHANDLE, May 21. — More than 2,000 fans braved a brisk north wind yesterday afternoon, the opening day of the Southwest Race meet here. Favorites romped home in the van most of the day, with the riding of L. "Red" Goddard being the feature attraction. The redhead rode three winners, one second, and one third.

Six races will be staged daily through Friday. Some of the best racing blood in the southwest is stabled here and will be seen in action before the close of the meet. The track was lightning fast going away, but slow on the home stretch.

Cabin Camp came back yesterday to win the opening event, L. Goddard doing the riding. The Death horse had been on the rearing list for two years. Monte, a newcomer to this section, took the second race.

Switchback came through with a burst of speed at the finish to cop the third event of the day. Tiger T. was the favorite in the fourth event and won by a head.

The long shot of the day was John, which paid his backers $19.80 for two in first place. Barney Keen was the favorite of the day and won going away in the last race.

Tomorrow will be Pampa day at the track. Hundreds of Pampa fans are expected to storm Panhandle.

The first race on Pampa day will be four furlongs with a purse of $75 open to three-year olds and upwards. It will be a claiming race.

The second event, for two-year olds, will be over four furlongs. The purse will be $75 with claiming price $400.

The fourth race, the Danciger Oil and Refineries special, will be open to three-year olds and upwards with the distance six furlongs. The purse has been hiked to $150. Claiming price will be $500.

The fifth race, the Pampa Merchant event, open for three-year olds and upwards will be over seven furlongs. The purse will be $100. Claiming price in this event will be $600.

The Pampa derby will be the closing race of the day. It will be for three-year olds and upward with the distance one mile and 70 yards.

The results yesterday:
FIRST RACE—$75, open, three-year-olds and up, four furlongs: Monte, 112, L. Goddard, 10:20 4-40 3.80
Comet, 109, L. Goddard, 4:10 4.80
Hill Wade, 116, Burk, 3:50
Time, 33.2. Also ran: Almadal Third, Monte H. Cutie, Skylark.

Mexican Star

SENOR M. CHAVEZ

Pictured above in his native attire is Senor M. Chavez, sensational third baseman of the Mexican Charros baseball team which will meet the Pampa Road Runners at Road Runner park tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. The same two teams will clash again on Friday night, at the same hour. Chavez is a former member of the Aztecas of Mexico City. Besides being a sensational hot corner artist and slugger, Chavez is recognized as an authority in the baseball world. Last season he batted .340 to lead his team. The Mexican ball club, playing out of Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, is recognized as one of the strongest traveling clubs in the country. Manager Freddy Brickell will send either Joe Berry or Bill Hardin to the mound. The Mexican hurler will be either Roberto Cabal or Ismael Montalvo.

PIRATES CHASE HUBBELL FROM MOUND IN 4TH

LOT OF FLOYDS PLAY WELL TO FIGURE IN VICTORY

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.
Despite patched up infield consisting principally of a lot of players named Floyd, the Pittsburgh Pirates have driven themselves above the 500 mark in the standings for the first time since the opening day of the National league season.

With Floyd Herman at first base in place of Gus Suhr, Floyd Young subbing at second for Harry Lavagetto and Floyd Vaughan at short as usual, the battling Corsairs rattled Forbes field fences with a home run, five triples, two doubles and 8 singles yesterday and whipped the league-leading New York Giants, 11-4.

Carl Hubbell, usually a Pittsburgh nemesis, started for the Giants but retired in considerable disorder after four innings during which the Pirates thumped him for five runs and six hits. Allyn Stout and Frank Cramer followed but they all looked alike to the Cubs.

Red Lucas, making his first start of the campaign, blanked the Giants with three hits for eight innings. Woody Jensen led the Pirate attack with a home run and two singles while Young kicked in with a pair of triples.

Suhr, suffering from a split finger, went to right field in the ninth and thus kept his string of consecutive games played intact. He has appeared in 506 in succession.

In the only other National league game, Bill Lee held the Boston Braves to six hits, and Chicago's third place Cubs won, 5-0.

The Chicago White Sox's 7-2 beating from the New York Yankees, coupled with Cleveland's 4-1 congozied of the Boston Red Sox, set the White Sox's lead over the Indians to a game and a half in the American league.

Carl Fischer, making his first start for Chicago was reached for ten hits by the Yankees, including a home run by Tony Lazzeri and a double and triple by Jesse Hill. Rick Perrell's home run was all that saved the Red Sox from a shut-out by Cleveland, as Oral Hildebrand kept eight other hits well spaced.

Detroit mowed down Philadelphia 8-6 in ten innings and now trails fourth place Boston by only one percentage point. Washington, another game to the rear, trounced the St. Louis Browns, 8-2 as Russ Van Atta, former Yankee, failed in his debut for the Browns.

Toledo Golfer Is Eliminated From Tourney

ST. ONNES-ON-THE-SEA, Eng., May 21 (AP)—Robert A. Stranahan, of the Inverness Golf club, Toledo, O., was eliminated from the British amateur golf championship today by D. Conroy of Fall Haven, County Tipperary by the score of 2 up.

The defeat of Stranahan, who was hampered by an infected foot and played his first round a day later than most of the others in the original starting field of 224, reduced the surviving American contingent to nine players including William Lawson Little Jr. of San Francisco, the defending champion.

In contrast to yesterday's blustery cold, the weather today was warmer and there was only a zephyr like breeze over the seaside course.

Tommy Armour Is Set For Another Golf Championship

CHICAGO, May 21 (AP)—Tommy Armour is all set to make a try for another national open golf championship on the course where he won his first and only one.

Armour did not lead the Chicago district's belated qualifying round at his home course, the Medinah Country club, but he gained a place among the 14 who will go to Oakmont, Pa., June 6-8 for the big show.

BILLS SOLD
BILLINGS, Mont., May 21 (AP)—Thirty-three registered Hereford bulls sent here for auction by D. L. McDonald of Amarillo, Texas, brought $6,390, or an average of almost $200 per head. The selling of Texas stock featured a sale which saw a total of about 100 bulls sold, most of them from the estate of the late Ed Caldwell. The Cardinals bulls—about 50—brought about $4,000.

DALLAS LOSES INITIAL GAME UNDER GASTON

GALVESTON BUCS ARE BEATEN 11 TO 1 BY MISSIONS

By The Associated Press.
All of the eight teams in the Texas league saw action yesterday and last night for the first time in nearly a week of rainy weather.

The league-leading Galveston Bucs lost 11 to 1, to San Antonio. The Missions battered Davis and Garcia for 14 hits, while Ash Hill went the route for San Antonio. A home run by Perost was the only dent made in Hill's work.

Making an unsuspicious debut for their new manager, Alexander Gaston, the Dallas Steers lost another game. Tulsa opened the game with a scoring rally and was in a comfortable position throughout the contest which ended 7 to 2.

Held to seven hits by Harry Matuzak, Dallas never made a serious threat. Nelson was routed from the box in the third and Al Baker finished the game which was the twenty-seventh loss in 32 starts for Dallas.

Oklahoma City stepped up another notch to tie with Tulsa for second place in the league by defeating Fort Worth, 7 to 3. The Indians took a six-run lead in the first inning and added another in the second to dispose of the Cats without much trouble.

Evans went the route for Oklahoma City and had a shutout until the eighth, when Fort Worth made their three scores.

Bill McGee fired fast balls at Beaumont for a 9 to 2 victory for Houston. He had a shut-out until the eighth when York climbed one out of the park with Archie on.

The Burfs hit Cook and Bratton freely and get several runs for extra measure when Beaumont made five errors.

PAMPA NINE TO PLAY TEAM FROM MEXICO TOMORROW EV

The mercury dropped to 44 degrees above zero at 7 o'clock last night to cause postponement of the scheduled baseball game between the Pampa Road Runners and the Huber Blackfaxes of Berger. A few fans braved the cold and stood at the gates waiting for admittance.

Attired in their native costumes, the La Junta baseball team of Nuevo Laredo, Old Mexico, arrived in the city last night and caused no little excitement. The sensational Mexican team will play the Road Runners tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock and again Friday night at the same time. They are scheduled to be playing Colteco of LeFors this afternoon.

Riding in a large, 22-passenger Pickwick bus, the Mexican baseball team believes in comfort on the road. Manuel Chavez, one of the best third basemen in the country, 20.

Dan Emmett, composer of long popular southern song, "Dixie," teamed up with the old Al G. F. minstrel show which he was well known in the country, 20.

Manager Freddy Brickell will have his entire pitching staff ready to get a starting call soon. Hardin, Lewis, slow to round into form, is now working hard and needs a warm weather. Bull also needs a warm weather although he has been taking his turn on the mound lately.

A Buying Guide!

Before you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motorcar, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of everything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how any one could overlook them... fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent... always.

Avoid time-wasting, money-wasting detours on the road to merchandise value. Read the advertising "road maps."

P-T-A GIVES SCHOLASTIC AWARDS TO HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

PROGRAM ENDS YEAR FOR HIGH SCHOOL'S UNIT

PRINCIPAL, PRESIDENT OF P-T-A ARE HONORED

Awards in 19 divisions of student activity were presented to high school pupils yesterday morning when High School Parent-Teacher association was in charge of the assembly program.

It was conducted as the final association program of this year. Mrs. J. B. Townsend, president, introduced the teachers who sponsor various school activities, and they in turn presented the students who "lettered" this year in literary and musical events, and some athletic contests, representing the school in various scholastic contests.

Supt. R. B. Fisher, after student awards had been made, presented Principal L. L. Sone with a life membership in the state Parent-Teacher organization in appreciation for his work in the high school association, and then presented a past-president's pin to Mrs. Townsend.

Band music opened the program. Mr. Sone introduced the program, expressing the gratitude of the school for efforts of pupils who represented it in every capacity. Mrs. Townsend briefly summarized the year's work of the Parent-Teacher association.

Relief Produce Totals Swelled

AUSTIN, May 22.—Production projects created by the Texas Relief Commission during April filled 154,471 cans, produced 303,980 garments, 1,781 mattresses, and 16,568 pounds of vegetables, it was announced this week by A. C. Allen, director of production.

Expenditures on these projects totaled $378,362, of which $230,637.12 went to pay budgetary labor costs for 27,224 work relief cases employed in the projects.

Forty-eight active canning plants processed 5,175 cans of meat, 2,282 cans of fruit, and 82,130 cans of vegetables. This produce cost 17 cents per can including supervision, team and truck hire, cans and budgetary labor.

More than 15,000 budgetary employees worked in the sewing rooms, of which there were 220 being operated in 151 counties of the state. These workers produced 144,982 garments and 158,996 towels, sheets, pillow cases and comforters. These sewing rooms used 286,437 yards of cloth. Total cost of this project was $191,972.47, a per garment cost of 63 cents, including budgetary labor, materials, supervision, team and truck hire and contract cost.

Three mattress factories were reopened in April and they turned out 1,781 mattresses while providing work relief for 363,000 invested in seed and plants over the state. It is expected that several thousand more pounds will be harvested during the season.

Home gardens have an even more impressive record, 27,341 families having been supplied with 141,141 seed to plant 77,236 gardens covering more than 20,000 acres. Last month, more than 14,000 pounds of beans, greens, onions, radishes, turnips and peas had been harvested from these gardens.

MISSIONS FOR NEGRO STUDIED AT MEETINGS

METHODIST WOMEN IN CIRCLE PROGRAMS YESTERDAY

Inter-racial missions were studied by all four circles of First Methodist Missionary society yesterday afternoon, in separate meetings.

Mrs. H. A. Wright was study leader for circle one, which met at the church. Mrs. Joe Shelton, conducting the devotional, spoke of pioneer mission workers among the negroes, and concluded with a poem, Jesus Washed the Feet of Judas. She also discussed pioneers on the Woman's Missionary Council.

Mrs. John K. Sweet told of work done among negroes by William Capers. Mrs. Wright's topic was The Gospel of Today for Two Races, Mrs. M. E. DeTar's was Personal Obligations, and Mrs. R. A. Baker's was The Woman's Board, Home Mission Pioneers.

Mrs. Wright also read a paper giving the history of Christ's disciples, their work and deaths. Fifteen members were present.

Negro Poetry Read
Circle two met in the church parlors. Mrs. Carol Montgomery and Mrs. W. J. Foster discussed the topic, Gospel to the Slaves. Negro poetry was read by several members.

Mrs. H. B. Carson gave the benediction. Ten members attended.

Mrs. Saunders Hostess
The home of Mrs. J. M. Saunders was the meeting place for 17 members of circle three and Mrs. G. S. Boston, Houck, Potter, McConnell, and Daisy Alexander of Clarendon, guests.

Mrs. H. W. Waters, program leader, was assisted by Mmes. Husband, Sherman White, and Everett Westbrook. Mrs. H. F. Barnhart presented the devotional, assisted by Mmes. Roy Tinsley, Paul Jensen, C. S. Boston, Kiser, N. F. Maddux, and H. L. Wilder. After the closing prayer by Mrs. Lee Harrah, the hostess served daily refreshments.

New Member Greeted
Mrs. Carlton Nance was hostess to circle four at her home. Mrs. C. O. Smith was welcomed as a new member by the 17 women present. After a prayer by Mrs. Harry Nelson and devotional by Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. Travis Lively directed the session.

Mrs. Nance spoke of the life of William Capers; Mrs. J. G. Noel discussed The Gospel for Two Races; Mrs. Gasion Foote read a poem, The Ship; and Mrs. Montgomery read a prayer written by a negro. Negro spirituals were sung to close the program.

Gifts were presented to Charles LeRoy by the following guests: Dorothy Sarvis, Jean, Jeanine, and Eddie Bell May, Neva June Boyden, Clayton Noblet, Gwendolyn Boyd, Anna Besse Stephens.

Party Closes Miami Junior Club's Season

Class Returns From Week-end Trip to Carlsbad

MIAMI, May 21.—Mrs. Skin Counts was hostess to the Junior Home Progress club Thursday evening.

The Junior Culture club had their last meeting of the season Friday evening. It was to have been in the form of a picnic but on account of the rain the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Curtis Chesher. After a brief program games of bridge were enjoyed by the members and their guests. A delightful picnic supper was served at a late hour.

The Methodist revival began Sunday morning with Rev. Herman Cochran of Fort Worth doing the preaching, Larry C. Smith, also of Fort Worth, is in charge of the choir and young people's work.

Mrs. Thelma Berry left today to attend the tax-assessors and tax-collectors convention at Lubbock.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Pitts plan to move soon to St. Louis where he will be pastor of a suburban Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Breeding and family left Saturday for Hillsboro for a vacation. They were accompanied by Francis Dean, Jack and Marie Carmichael.

Mrs. S. J. Montgomery and young son have returned home from the Worley hospital.

Mrs. Maude McCasland was dismissed from the Worley hospital Thursday where she had been a patient for a week.

The Senior class returned home at one o'clock Sunday morning from Carlsbad caverns. On account of heavy rains in that section they were forced to return by the way of Plainview.

Home Decoration Is Club Subject

SKELLYTOWN, May 21.—Eleanor Roosevelt Study club met in the home of Mrs. Bratcher Thursday afternoon. A very interesting program on Home Decoration was given.

CRY BABY

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—"Scopy" motherless, bottle-fed monkey at the city zoo, is a baby in other respects besides eating a special formula prepared by a child specialist.

"He cries at three-hour intervals just like a real baby if his bottle is not given to him," says William Rhodhouse, keeper. "I even have to get up at midnight, 3 a. m., and 6 a. m."

"Scopy" is a rare East Indian species of the monkey family.

PAPTIST WMU MEETS FOR VARIETY OF PROGRAMS

MIAMI, May 21.—Mrs. Skin Counts was hostess to the Junior Home Progress club Thursday evening.

The Junior Culture club had their last meeting of the season Friday evening. It was to have been in the form of a picnic but on account of the rain the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Curtis Chesher. After a brief program games of bridge were enjoyed by the members and their guests. A delightful picnic supper was served at a late hour.

The Methodist revival began Sunday morning with Rev. Herman Cochran of Fort Worth doing the preaching, Larry C. Smith, also of Fort Worth, is in charge of the choir and young people's work.

Mrs. Thelma Berry left today to attend the tax-assessors and tax-collectors convention at Lubbock.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Pitts plan to move soon to St. Louis where he will be pastor of a suburban Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Breeding and family left Saturday for Hillsboro for a vacation. They were accompanied by Francis Dean, Jack and Marie Carmichael.

Mrs. S. J. Montgomery and young son have returned home from the Worley hospital.

Mrs. Maude McCasland was dismissed from the Worley hospital Thursday where she had been a patient for a week.

The Senior class returned home at one o'clock Sunday morning from Carlsbad caverns. On account of heavy rains in that section they were forced to return by the way of Plainview.

ROOSEVELT TO VETO ANY BILL TO PAY BONUS

ROBINSON WOULD LIKE TO SEE SORT OF LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—The word was passed in informed circles today that President Roosevelt had asserted that, after vetoing the inflationary Patman bonus bill, he also would reject any other proposal for full and immediate cash payment of the $2,200,000,000.

This disclosure started interest with a remark by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader holding out apparent hope to those who want to see some bonus legislation passed.

He said yesterday he would like to see some bonus legislation "worked out and passed" after the Patman bill had been killed and added that he would be glad to "contribute" toward that end.

"But I don't know whether it is possible or not," he said.

Whether Robinson, an administration leader, had in mind some compromise that would not call for payment of full immediately was not disclosed. But the White House was described in informed quarters as opposed to any plan for such full payment.

These informants gave this version of the visit the bonus "steering committee" of legislators yesterday to President Roosevelt in a vain attempt to get him to change his mind about vetoing the Patman bill tomorrow.

Mr. Roosevelt said he would be glad to receive, read and consider their statements, but he would not sign a bill, but that he could not sign it. Then somebody asked: "Will you sign any bill for full cash payment of the bonus?"

The answer was said to be an emphatic "no."

After this session, congressional leaders pushed ahead with their plans for a joint session of the two houses at 12:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time, tomorrow, at which Mr. Roosevelt will read his veto of the Patman bill.

Kiwanians Told Communists Are Back Of Strikes

SPAN ANTONIO, May 21 (AP) — Kiwanians in their international convention here were told that "the communistic movement is spreading."

Dr. Benjamin W. Black of Oakland, Calif., chairman of the United States committee of public affairs, said yesterday that "uprisings which today harass industrial communities in the nation are not, in a proper sense, strikes at all. They are planned communist revolutions, directed by radicals in the name of labor and working from within the unions," he said. "The communistic movement is spreading, continually gaining a stronger foothold."

"It is hoped that a program covering intelligent serviceable citizenship can be promoted."

Dr. Black said he would go so far as to encourage the retention of competent men in public office and give intelligent scrutiny to the methods of government with the view of looking toward greater efficiency.

The Canada public affairs group decided the aim of Kiwanians and all people should be to bring proof that "war is the world's greatest menace" and urge greater support of the League of Nations.

"In this day of armament for supremacy we cannot sit idly by and permit engines of destruction full play," said Gordon S. Bodington of Toronto, Ontario.

West Point For Law Officers' Is Cummings' Plan

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings is said to be preparing to announce shortly the first definite plans for setting up the national crime institute, termed a "West Point for Law Officers."

Informal sources said recommendations for this now are on his desk from the advisory committee of the national conference on crime. Justin Miller, special assistant to the attorney general, is chairman of the conference.

Miller declined to talk but it is known that the general plan involves training of selected representatives from metropolitan and state police units.

Use of the scientific laboratories dealing with fingerprints, guns, poisons, handwriting, and other evidence, and the class room facilities in the justice building here has been advocated by experts because of the justice agents' record in their drive against kidnapers and gangsters.

It was the first international venture of its kind.

GREAT RICHES by Mabel Howe Farnham

Chapter 17 NEW PLANS

James was a little alarmed but quite pleased to learn that Leslie still took it for granted that he meant to carry out his ambitious plans of which they had once talked so gaily and confidently.

"But you seem to forget that I am now a has-been," James protested.

"A has-been at forty-three! Why, Jimmie dear, you are barely more than grown up; have barely reached your full powers. A man isn't fully mature, is he, until around forty?"

"No, I suppose not. But I've grown used to thinking of myself as a failure."

"Jimmie, do you still want to go to Congress?"

"I don't know. I still think politics, public life, the finest career there is. Why, if I were a younger man..."

With Leslie prompting him now and then James explained to Leslie why the United States of America was headed for political and economic chaos; James was a great student of history. Leslie said, "But when the crash comes there has to be someone to clean up the mess. Perhaps that's your destiny Jimmie, to be that one."

"One? God knows it will be too big, a thousand times too big for me or any man. But I confess I like to try anyway."

"Then you must..."

They reined up at the top of the hill. James said solemnly, "Very well. So help me God I will. I'll stop being a do-nothing... I've been a do-nothing long enough."

Leslie said, "Bravo!"

James turned to smile at Leslie and saw that there were tears in her eyes. "I'm crying because I'm so excited and... and happy," Leslie explained, blushing a little.

"Does it mean so much to you... what I do?" James asked wonderingly.

"I'm afraid it does."

James said, "For fifteen years I've thought that Robert Browning was an optimist and a liar. Now I know that he was neither. If you will go on believing in me, will be gracious enough to wait until I can prove that I have it in me to be something more than what I am now... Will you wait, Leslie? Will you?"

Leslie's lips trembled. She shook her head and James went white under his tan. "Very well, my dear. I shouldn't have asked... I shouldn't have presumed on your dear friendship. But anyway I want you to know I mean to go on... doing what I can..."

"I am forty-one years old," Leslie said. "There isn't... isn't anything you could ask me that I wouldn't do... except to wait, I've already waited eighteen years and I couldn't bear... I couldn't bear..."

She touched her mare with her whip and was off on a gallop. James for a moment sat watching her and then with a great shout made after her.

They decided to be married in the spring immediately after Easter. Their engagement was announced in November. New Concord had been expecting the announcement for months and with two exceptions took it calmly.

One exception was Mrs. Northrup; Mr. Northrup had died of apoplexy a year or so before. The very next day Mrs. Northrup departed on a hurried visit to Jane. New Concord would have given a very great deal to have been on hand

Spanish Pilot Over Ocean On Brazil Flight

MADRID, May 21 (AP)—With a picture of his childhood sweetheart in a pocket near his heart, Juan Ignacio Pombó, youthful Spanish aviator, was soaring over the South Atlantic today in his powerful plane, the Sanfandro.

His immediate objective was Natal, Brazil; his ultimate destination, Mexico, D. F., where he hopes to persuade comely Eleanora Rivero, whom he knew as a child in Santander, to become his bride.

Pombó was reported in radio dispatches to have taken off from Estuero, Gambia, West Africa, at 1:18 a. m. G. M. T. (8:15 p. m. yesterday, EST). He was assured of favorable weather conditions.

The 21-year-old flier expected to negotiate the 1,900-mile hop in about 15 hours.

If forced down short of his goal, he believed he might land on the island of Fernando Noronha, 250 miles of Natal.

Shops Repairing Shoes for Needy

AUSTIN, May 22.—Shoe repair shops operated in several counties by the Texas Relief commission repaired 13,876 pairs of shoes last month, A. C. Allen, director of production, announced this week.

These shops provided work relief for 139 voluntary laborers during the month and cost of repairing a pair of shoes was 10 cents, including the money paid to relief workers and supervisors on these projects.

Relief shoe repair shops do not compete with those in private business, but are operated exclusively for the benefit of relief families. Experienced supervisors are placed in charge of these projects and members from the relief rolls do the work. In some instances, plant owners act as supervisors and furnish machine equipment; however, most work is done by hand.

Shoes are repaired for individual relief cases and shoes donated to county relief administrations are mended for distribution to relief families in dire need.

Quail District Now Largest In State Of Texas

WELLINGTON, May 21 (AP)—By a vote of 98 for and 20 against, residents of the recently created Quail rural high school district of Collier county, May 16, favored an issue of $25,000 of bonds for additional buildings and equipment. Logan Cummings, county superintendent, announced.

With the creation of the new district goes the title of being the largest rural high school district in Texas, which has heretofore been held by the Sammerwood rural high school district, also in this county.

The new district was formed thru the consolidation of seven rural school districts in the Quail area and comprises 164 1/2 square miles compared with 155 1/2 square miles in the Sammerwood district. The Quail district during the past year had 3668 scholars while Sammerwood had 622.

The Sammerwood district, also composed from seven rural school districts, was created in 1934.

T. C. Crabtree, president of the school board in the Quail district, said it was expected that 28 teachers would be employed in the district; with seven in the high school, three in the Quail grade schools, and 13 in the grade schools of the remainder of the district.

Dr. Frederick Douglas Patterson, recently elected president of Tuskegee Institute for negroes at Tuskegee, Ala., is 34 years of age.

Quail brought improvement because she was subject to pains, nervousness, irregularity, and began to feel so weak, Mrs. Retta McDonald, of Stearns, Ky., began to take Cardui. She was "Cardui is fine. I could see a improvement right off. I took just eight bottles. I am lots better. I am over the weakness and my head and back do not bother me anymore."

Resistance to monthly pains is naturally increased, bringing relief, as strength of the whole system is built up. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

FLEES IN A CAR AT CEMETERY FROM OFFICERS

FORT WORTH, May 21 (AP)—Virgil Long, fugitive convict who stole an automobile at a cemetery and fled through gun-fire when officers captured his companion and released an abducted youth, remained at large today.

James Robert Romines, who escaped with Long from the Ardington prison farm at Sandy Point Sunday night, was captured late yesterday near Handley by Fort Worth officers, and George Saunders of San Antonio who was forced to drive the convicts about the country for nine hours was released.

Failure to pay for gasoline led to Romines' capture. Notified by a filling station attendant that three men in a car had failed to pay for gasoline, Patrolmen G. T. Barbee and B. F. Stevens were on the lookout for the machine. Later they saw it move out of a side road and pull across the highway.

When the officers approached, Romines and Long fled on foot. The officers opened fire and Romines gave up.

Long ran to a nearby cemetery and escaped in a car belonging to Mrs. Lon Standler of Handley, who was at the cemetery caring for her mother's grave.

Saunders shouted at the police that he had been kidnaped and was not fired upon.

Long was under a two-year sentence for burglary from Dallas county and Romines was sentenced to eight years for theft of over $50 from Lynn county.

The pair escaped by prying loose a board in the prison barracks and climbing through a flue.

Before abducting Saunders they had held up J. R. Kelley of Jacksonville as he slept beside his parked automobile near Huntsville. They left him after robbing him of some clothing, small change and his car, which later was abandoned when it ran out of gas.

Saunders said he was forced to remain silent while three hitch-hikers were picked up and later released as he drove the convicts across nearly half the state.

Shops Repairing Shoes for Needy

AUSTIN, May 22.—Shoe repair shops operated in several counties by the Texas Relief commission repaired 13,876 pairs of shoes last month, A. C. Allen, director of production, announced this week.

These shops provided work relief for 139 voluntary laborers during the month and cost of repairing a pair of shoes was 10 cents, including the money paid to relief workers and supervisors on these projects.

Relief shoe repair shops do not compete with those in private business, but are operated exclusively for the benefit of relief families. Experienced supervisors are placed in charge of these projects and members from the relief rolls do the work. In some instances, plant owners act as supervisors and furnish machine equipment; however, most work is done by hand.

Shoes are repaired for individual relief cases and shoes donated to county relief administrations are mended for distribution to relief families in dire need.

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND"

ATHLETES SAY

has played in more than 1500 consecutive big league games. Such an athletic achievement takes "wind"—healthy nerves—condition. Lou says: "For steady smoking I pick Camels. They're so mild they never get my 'wind' or my nerves."

TOMMY ARMOUR
Winner, the British Open, U. S. Open, and P. G. A.

GEORGE BARKER
Former Intercollegiate Cross-Country Champion

BETTY BAILEY
Fancy-Diving Champion

BOBBY WALTHOUR, JR.
Winner of 6 Six-Day Races

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind" healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness. Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'" George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for golf, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you... It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

Wagner Bill Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—The house labor committee today cleared the way for early house action by approving unanimously, with one amendment, the Wagner labor dispute bill that would set up a permanent tribunal to adjust controversies arising from labor elections.

The measure already has passed the senate by an overwhelming vote. The one change would place the national labor relations board in the labor department. The bill as it came from the senate called for making the agency independent of any government department.

The measure would give labor a permanent legal right to bargain collectively with employers through representatives of their own choice. It would outlaw company dominated unions and set up a series of unfair labor practices which employers would be compelled to observe.

House leaders plan to discuss the measure with the president before agreeing to give it a rule under which it may be brought to the house floor for a vote.

BEN WILLIAMS OPENS AGENCY FOR OLDSMOBILE CARS HERE

The Ben Williams Motor company, agent for Oldsmobile cars, has opened headquarters in the 100 block on North Somerville street, just back of the Pampa Daily News office. A complete line of Oldsmobile cars is already on the showroom floor.

Mr. Williams is well known in Pampa and the surrounding territory. He came to this section in 1926 as superintendent of the Phillips Big Gray Gasoline plant west of LeFlore. He has resigned his position with this company to take over the agency for Oldsmobile cars.

Sales manager of the agency will be Joe Paxton, veteran Pampa salesman. The repair department will be in charge of U. S. Boydston, one of Pampa's veteran mechanics.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and daughter Ann, will move to Pampa to make their home soon.

Wagner Bill Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—The house labor committee today cleared the way for early house action by approving unanimously, with one amendment, the Wagner labor dispute bill that would set up a permanent tribunal to adjust controversies arising from labor elections.

The measure already has passed the senate by an overwhelming vote. The one change would place the national labor relations board in the labor department. The bill as it came from the senate called for making the agency independent of any government department.

The measure would give labor a permanent legal right to bargain collectively with employers through representatives of their own choice. It would outlaw company dominated unions and set up a series of unfair labor practices which employers would be compelled to observe.

House leaders plan to discuss the measure with the president before agreeing to give it a rule under which it may be brought to the house floor for a vote.

Hugh Johnson Plunges Into Battle To Keep NRA Alive

Claims Senate's Bill Would Retard Business

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP)—Plunging into the bitter congressional fight over continuing NRA, Hugh S. Johnson is seeking to muster support for President Roosevelt's two-year extension plan among little business men, wage earners, and housewives.

The former recovery administrator appealed to them last night to tell their senators the blue eagle is not a "political hot poker." He suggested that they send petitions "giving facts."

Leaving aside for the moment his differences with Donald R. Richberg, NRA's present chief, Johnson turned his vocabulary on the organization's critics in a radio address last night.

"The charge of monopoly comes from monopolists, that of oppression from oppressors, that of retardation from industrial marjants," he said.

Siding with house democrats, Richberg, and the president against the senate-approved plan to extend the agency only nine and one-half months, the man who helped create NRA declared:

"The effect of the senate bill would plunge all business into blank uncertainty. It would be far better to kill NRA now. Yet to kill it outright might produce the worst business set-back since 1932."

Johnson spoke as preparations were made for a rally of NRA supporters in the capital tomorrow. The meeting already was under fire in the senate, where Senator Nye (D., N. D.) contended it was a "well-financed drive upon the part of NRA officials, code authority officials and code enforcement employees to impose their will upon the congress in the matter of the extension of NRA."

Democratic members of the house ways and means committee, meanwhile, were in tentative agreement on a bill substantially following the form desired by Mr. Roosevelt and his national industrial recovery board.

This bill, which the committee members expected to report to the house by Saturday at the latest, would:

1. Extend the life of NRA to June 16, 1937.
2. Authorize the president to approve or prescribe codes for any industry which is subject to the federal power over interstate commerce. Small local enterprises which do not "substantially affect" such commerce would be exempted.
3. Permit price-fixing, "when necessary and in the public interest," under governmental control.
4. Require that every code shall include provisions covering minimum wages, maximum hours of labor and a prohibition against child labor.
5. Give the federal trade commission the task of enforcement, with orders to issue cease and desist orders speedily against firms when claims against them are supported by presidential findings of facts.
6. Provide for a fine of $500 for each day of violation against wage, hour, child labor or other major provisions of the codes.
7. The 9 1/2-month extension bill which the senate already has approved would exempt from the codes all business which does not cross state lines.

Scanning New Books

The week's book shelf contains two excellent examples of puffing small material into large forms, the practitioners in question being persons of prominence in popular letters.

Louis Bromfield is one: Ursula Parrott is the other. Miss Parrott has expanded a short serial into a novel she calls "Next Time We Live" (Longmans), a very pretty story of a young couple whose jobs separate them and—so forth.

"Next Time We Live" is neatly written, although it shows where the padding was inserted rather clearly. Miss Parrott has a gift for light fiction, and she writes about young love as if she still believed in it. There always is a feeling of sprightly movement in her prose.

Mr. Bromfield's contribution is called "The Man Who Had Everything" (Harpers), and is (many will feel) rather a pot-boiler. It concerns a successful fabricator of plays who is bored by his wife and his mistress, tries to recapture the freshness of a long-gone love affair, and finds the latter difficult but educational. Many readers will compare M. Bromfield's successful playwright with a certain successful novelist named Bromfield.

Robert Rylee's novel, DEEP DARK RIVERS, which "Paras & Rinehart" had scheduled originally for publication on May 16 has been chosen by the Book of the Month Club for autumn publication. The book was sold to William Heinemann, Ltd., for a London edition before it was known that it was a Book of the Month Club selection. This is Mr. Rylee's first novel.

As an American contribution to the celebration in England last week, E. P. Dutton company published KINGS AND QUEENS by Eleanor and Herbert Parjeon. This historical work, beautifully illustrated by Ronald Thornycroft's caricatures, in closing, two poems. One to Edward VII who "was a peacemaker when he had a chance" and the following lines to the present king who is referred to as the King of Peacemakers:

"So the times come, and so the kings go,
And what they were like we shall never quite know.
Till history's mystery comes to a close,
And here is the King that everyone knows."

AMONG BOOKS AND AUTHORS

By Mae Stevens Isaacs, Canadian, Texas.

The new novel by Gladys Hasty Carroll, A FEW POLISHED ONES, like her previous success "As the Earth Turns" is a story of rural life in Maine. The books opens with a heated session at the Meeting House in Hubble Point in 1870. Church regulations were unbelievably strict and one error sufficed cause for lasting social ostracism for a girl. Jeddy Lenniscott was refused burial place for his young daughter in the church cemetery. Gus Bragdon offered space on his land for the grave and for this offense his name was scratched from the church roll. Sarey, the attractive daughter of the minister, upholds Gus and, in defiance of her father, marries him. By so doing, she was obliged to renounce her affiliation with the church and forgo her father's home.

Gus and Sarey worked hard, skimped and planned and saved. When there was sufficient cash, they bought a few-acre tract of timber land and then, as opportunity offered, another small tract. Their four children were grown when a fire caused by careless campers swept through a section of timber they owned and Gus was forced to sell at a lower figure than he had priced it for. He felt that Bedford Gibbons, the buyer for the lumber company, took advantage of his need, but the timber was worth. At this time, Sarey demonstrated the strong will she evidenced in defying her father years before by demanding that two separate checks be made for the land, one to her for one thousand dollars. She refused to sign the deed until she was given the check. With it, she purchased a parlor organ and a complete set of parlor furniture, luxuries which she had long desired. She lived less than two years to enjoy them.

Kate Bragdon, eldest child of Gus and Sarey, taught the rural school for years until the buses came along and carried the children all to town. She was her father's homemaker through the years. Stephen Blaine was a rover, working for awhile on a tugboat, then trying to settle down to be a farmer, for he "thought on sight" of the finding of gold in the Klondike took him away again; he served in the World War. At the close of the book, we find Kate and Stephen living on neighboring farms, each alone, the "best of friends but, as Kate put it, "not the carrying kind."

Lovice, the third child, was more like her mother. She married Harvey whose mother had died at his birth and whose grave was on land owned by Lovice's father. Their youngest and seventh child gave promise of a musical future. They sold the farm, moved to the city where James might receive music lessons. He applied himself, justifying their hopes.

Gus lived to be past eighty, active and keen mind until a few months before his death. He felt that he got even with Gibbons for the timber deal years before when he sold him other acreage shortly before his passing. He was a wealthy man, shrewd and far-seeing in his past will made at the time of that last sale.

The story carries us through the years from 1870 up to the 1930's.

SEE THE BIRDIE?
ELIZABETH N. J. (AP)—A bird carried a lighted cigarette to its nest under the eaves of George Roach's home.

The nest burned and set fire to the house.

Roach tried to check the flames by throwing water from a pail. The chair he stood on toppled, and he was taken to a hospital with a broken knee cap.

Firemen saved the house but had to tear away part of the wall to reach the flames.

Grab 14 Records in Air

Forced by storms when the flight was four-fifths over, to abandon the New York-Washington-Norfolk course (shown on map) over which he was flying to set new plane records, D. W. (Tommy) Tomlinson, ace air transport pilot, switched to a safer improvised course and achieved his goal after eighteen hours in the air. Accompanied by Joseph Batrice (Right), with whom he's shown after the flight, he set fourteen records for 1000, 2000 and 5000 kilometers carrying heavy loads. The plane carried a gross load of more than twelve tons on the 3,105-mile non-stop flight.

LAWRENCE KILLED ACCIDENTALLY, CORONER'S JURY OF SEVEN FIND

WOOL, Dorsetshire, Eng., May 21 (AP)—A coroner's jury of seven men decided today that "Lawrence of Arabia" met death accidentally.

The verdict was returned after the jurors heard testimony that the victim, Col. T. E. Lawrence, was dashed along a Dorsetshire country road on his motorcycle at a speed of from 50 to 60 miles an hour before he collided with a butcher boy on a bicycle.

Conflicting testimony concerning a mysterious black automobile which he witnessed said Lawrence swerved to avoid before the collision, enlivened the hearing.

Corporal Ernest Cathpole, who testified as to the speed at which Lawrence's motorcycle was traveling, said that after the war-time hero left the Bovington military camp en route to his cottage nearby, he passed an automobile and then swerved in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid two youths on bicycles.

Asked by the coroner whether there was sufficient room for Lawrence to pass between the automobile and the cyclist, the corporal said: "There never has been if the motorcycle had not been going at such speed."

Frank Fletcher, 14, companion of Albert Hargreaves, 15-year-old butcher boy who was injured in the accident, testified that he did not see the automobile to which the coroner referred.

The most poignant moment in the hearing came with the testimony of Capt. P. C. Allen, the medical corps officer who performed the post-mortem on Lawrence's body.

A. W. Lawrence, brother of the dead man, asked the doctor: "had his recovery somehow taken place, what would have been his condition mentally?"

"Had he lived?" Capt. Allen replied, "he would have been unable to speak. He would have lost his memory and been paralyzed."

The brother later made known that Lawrence's will bequeathed him an estate consisting of about $200 (approximately $1,000), some investments, his little cottage at Moreton, the motorcycle on which he was riding at the time he was fatally injured, and some books and private papers.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, The NEWS:

Plainview, Texas.

The Agricultural Adjustment Act, more frequently designated as the A. A. A., was initiated into service along with a druth of world proportions, or lean years of agricultural production, and so its enemies point with great satisfaction to "Old Mother Nature" as the dependable, equalizer and leveler of supply and demand. They even contend that nature has slumped back at man's effort to help adjust production by creating a druth of such magnitude and endurance as to convince anybody that the interference is unscrupulous and crazy. But how long does it take nature to make adjustments—that it, how long does it take production from fat years to be absorbed by lean years?

Nobody contends that crops are the same every year. Now, what happens to the farmer when the yield are high? It falls in order to tempt people to consume more. The farmer has more bushels but not more money. In lean years, he has fewer bushels with a higher market but more money. So, he never has money to pay off his capital debts. He is a good farmer if he can keep up with operating costs, interest and taxes; try as he will, he cannot reduce the principal. About every ten years the government comes along to refinance him and, since the principal is increased, the interest rate must be lowered or else the refinancing periods will have to be shortened.

There was once a time when nature combined with man for seven years to build up surplus; she then turned around and combined against man for seven years. At the end of the fourteen years, adjustment was made. During the fat years when the people had food to sell, prices were low. But during the lean years, when they were forced to buy prices worked higher and higher. The people were not only broke, but they had pledged themselves and their children for food. That's the way nature always has and always will work.

The group that dumps its affairs into the lap of nature is more foolish than the principal who hid his light under a bushel. Cooperation with nature is an act of wisdom.

The policy of the A. A. A. is to keep adjustment all the time rather than for a brief period every ten or fifteen years. If a corrected adjustment control had been in operation in 1931, the wheat farmers of the Texas Panhandle would have stored away the surplus of that crop, would have decreased acreage to where normal yields would meet normal requirements, and would have intelligently completed the absorption of that surplus during 1935.

This would have been unthinkably at a price of not less than a dollar all the way through. Instead of selling that big crop (only) at a price then shipping in wheat for food and seed four years later at $1.30. Of course we pay no debts and so the back load becomes heavier and more burdensome.

The Department of agriculture has designated May 25 as a day when wheat farmers to vote their expressions on continuing or not the adjustment program for wheat over a period of four years with a provision that if any farmer can draw out if he so desires after two years; so can the rest. If any farmer wishes to terminate the contract he desires after two years, all wheat farmers are eligible to vote, and you should not only vote, but should accept the responsibility of knowing that your neighbor votes.

If you do not favor income insurance—through benefit payments, if you do not think fair prices should obtain when you have a crop to sell, and if you do not think that God intended for farmers to voluntarily co-operate with nature, vote "no." On the other hand, you think farmers have a right to be group conscious, if you think they are responsible for the care and education of their children, if you think they should have a fair chance to pay off debts instead of eternally refinancing them, and if you think the thing they should own is the land on which they live, thereby answering to God for their stewardship, vote "Yes."

But, regardless of how you vote, VOTE.

L. T. MAYHUGH.
(Editor's note: By consent, Gray County's vote was moved up to May 21.)

Amateur Night to Show Winners in Previous Trials

Wednesday will bring all-star amateur night at the Rex theater, when fifteen prize-winning acts will be seen and heard.

The performers will be the winners in previous contests. The theater will give a $25 prize for first place, a 90-day pass for second place, and a 60-day pass for third place.

The show will include such performers as the three Bardoux brothers, Clarence Lee Hawkins and his ukulele, Gerald Brown and his accordion, and the male trio composed of Harry Kelley, Emmitt Smith, and Howard Zimmerman.

CRAWFORD

Three daughters, 17 grandchildren, and hundreds of friends mourned his passing today, arrangements were being perfected for his funeral tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church where his pastor, the Rev. I. Burney Shell, assisted by the Rev. Gaston Foote, First Methodist church minister, will be in charge. Mr. Crawford was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Members of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will attend the services in a body. All Harvesters and ex-Harvesters have also been invited to sit in a body at the church.

The local Masonic lodge will be in charge of services at the grave in Pampa cemetery. Masons will be pallbearers and long-time friends of Mr. Crawford, honorary pallbearers. A Confederate flag, the stars and bars under which Mr. Crawford fought for four years in the War Between the States will be draped over his casket.

Mr. Crawford died at the age of 90 after living in Pampa 33 years.

Masons are asked to meet at the Masonic hall at 2 o'clock and Legionnaires at 2:45 at the church.

49TH STATE

Crow Indian nation—would be composed of the Black Hills territory of South Dakota, a portion of Montana and a section of northern Wyoming.

Western North Carolina frontiersmen formed the state of "Franklin" back in 1785, elected John Sevier as governor, and carried on its government until 1787 when the territory was recognized as part of North Carolina by the continental congress.

Citizens of western Virginia succeeded in breaking away from Virginia in 1861 and were formally admitted to the union two years later. Carolina was separated into North and South Carolina in early Colonial days. Dakota territory was divided into North Dakota and South Dakota and those states admitted to the union in 1889.

All aspirants to statehood first must gain the consent of the people of their sections, of the legislatures of states affected and then of congress.

HOBART

made the time of arrival of many persons uncertain.

Burial was to be in Fairview cemetery, with the Malone Funeral home staff in charge.

CANYON, May 21.—T. D. Hobart, whose death occurred at Pampa Sunday was for 7 years president of the Panhandle Plains Historical society and directed its affairs during the years when funds were being secured to erect the beautiful museum of the society.

When on April 14, 1933, the doors of the museum were first opened, it was T. D. Hobart who welcomed the first thousands of visitors who came to view Pioneer Hall, the Mary E. Hudspeth Art Gallery, and the library, every foot of which was dear to the man whose untiring cooperation and energy has made its building possible.

T. D. Hobart's connection with Canyon and the West Texas Teachers college reached beyond the historical society. He was always ready to assist Dr. J. A. Hill and his faculty in anything which to do with the welfare of the college. He was a loved and familiar figure to hundreds of students, who knew him as a frequent visitor on the campus.

At the time of his death he was an honorary life member of the board of directors of the Panhandle Plains Historical society, being the first person ever chosen for that position. It was the opinion of the officers of the society that Mr. Hobart could not be spared from a part in the direction of the affairs of the organization, though he indicated upon retiring two years ago from the presidency.

HITLER

would be calculated to alleviate the essentially general European distress but would tend, on the contrary, to increase it.

"Germany of today is immersed in the tremendous work of repairing its domestic damages. None of our subjects of a factual nature will be completed before ten or 20 years. None of our task of an ideal nature can find its fulfillment before 50 or even 100 years.

"What else could I desire but quiet and peace?"

Speaking of world affairs in general, the German leader said:

"For some time the world has been living in a veritable mania of collective and cooperative effort—collective curity, collective organization etc.—But what is the meaning of collective cooperation?"

"The present day idea of the collective cooperation of nations is the spiritual property of the American President Wilson.

"But when in 1919 the peace of Versailles was dictated to the German people a death sentence was pronounced thereby on the collective cooperative efforts of nations, for, in place of equality of all, there was put a classic occasion according to victors and vanquished, in place of equal rights, there was differentiation between those entitled to rights and those without rights."

Hitler then made a long denunciation of the Versailles treaty, stating:

"Not only did other nations not disarm but, on the contrary, they completed and improved and thereby raised their armaments extraordinarily."

The speaker followed with a long, detailed analysis of the armaments of other European nations, saying:

"In other words, what was done not only ran counter to the intentions of President Wilson but also, according to the opinion of the most prominent representatives of the other side, violated the obligations of the Versailles treaty to which they had affixed their signatures."

"For this there was no excuse."

Here, as the president shakes hands with Francis Craft, Lahoma, Ga., veteran, the First Lady is ready with extended hand in her turn, after a comely nurse has wheeled Craft forward.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—Wheat closed higher and corn lower, after a ragged, slow day's trading today.

Wheat, after sagging half a cent or more through the morning, gained strength near the close on short covering, following steady small lot purchases by commission houses. Corn went lower after the opening and lost more, largely on scattered selling. News of any moment was lacking in both grains.

Wheat closed firm, 1/4-3/4 higher than yesterday's finish, July 90 1/4-3/4, Corn closed 1/4-1/2 cents lower, July 81-3/4, Oats were 1/4-1/2 off, rye 1/2 cent up, and provisions 3 to 10 cents higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 21. (AP)—Prices recovered a point or two during the morning trading, but with the exception of July they were still holding under the previous close.

July was one point higher at 11.99, while May sold at 11.98, Oct. at 11.78 and Dec. at 11.80 as the morning progressed.

Further rains were reported at many sections of the belt but the bullish implications of the showers were passed by as traders concentrated their attention on the action of the cotton pool and the pending bonus action.

Governor Signs Erosion Bill

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—Governor Allred today signed a bill (HB 978) authorizing creation of county-wide wind erosion conservation districts to combat dust storms.

State taxes in 10 Panhandle counties were appropriated for two years to support of the districts, which also could assess property owners.

While it was rushed through the legislature during the worst of spring dust storms, long-range planning to prevent a recurrence was intended.

Attempted burglary of a railroad car or boat was made a felony with the governor's approval of a house bill (SB 74).

Other bills signed by the governor included:

(HB 178) Further regulating impounding of surface waters.

(SB 388) Requiring boards of trustees to guard against exchange of school district territory.

MRS. BARNARD

R. B. Thompson, D. W. Osborne, J. S. Wynne, C. L. Thomas and W. W. Harrah.

Mrs. Barnard, before her marriage, was Miss Elton Virginia Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Fox. She was born in West Virginia, and at an early age moved to Missouri and then to Texas, taking up her residence in Hill county with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard moved to Pampa from Henrietta in 1908. They purchased the Skaggs and Whitley department store located at the corner of Cuyler street and Atchison avenue. For many years they operated the only general store in Pampa. Mrs. Barnard took an active part in the operation of the store and also reared her family of two daughters and one son.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Barnard opened a department store in the Pampa National bank building and operated it until 1928. Mrs. Barnard continued through all those years to be active in the store work, and her judgment was sought by many.

Mrs. Barnard, until a few years ago, was an active worker in the Methodist church. She was a member and active member of the Eastern Star. A lover of flowers, she always had beautiful lawns and flower gardens. After a hard day's work among her flowers, many of Pampa's flower gardens today were started from bulbs and seeds thoughtfully given by Mrs. Barnard.

Mrs. Barnard's oldest brother, Hugo Fox, died at his home in Pampa, Calif., last week.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—The stock market kept its feet on solid ground today and lifted a number of specialties substantially higher. Profit taking among some of the recent climbers did not affect the list materially. The closing tone was firm. Transfers approximated 1,100,000 shares.

Farmers Voting On Wheat Plan

Gray county wheat farmers went to the polls today for the purpose, it was conceded, of voicing their approval of the AAA wheat control plan.

About 200 votes were expected to be cast at the polls in the district court room here and others at Grandview, Schaffer, and Laketon to raise the county total to 600 or more.

Irvin Cole, Chris Baer, and Roland Bauer, the latter of the Bell community, were election judges here. The votes will not be counted until Saturday, the final day for absentee voting.

The polls will close at 6 p. m. Nearly 100 votes had been cast in the Pampa box by noon.

ELEPHANT KILLS TRAINER

LOS ANGELES, May 21. (AP)—Attacked and gored by an enraged elephant during rehearsal of an act for a motion picture, Joe Reed, veteran circus trainer, died in a hospital today. Reed was putting a herd of eight elephants and 12 tigers thru the act at the Al G. Barnes winter quarters when the elephants stampeded and "Prince," leader of the herd, charged the trainer.

ST. ANNES-ON-THE-SEA, Eng., May 21. (AP)—In a sharp form reversal, contrasting yesterday's floundering exhibition, William Lawson Little Jr. of San Francisco, the defending champion, gave a spectacular performance today in eliminating Eric Martin Smith, a former titleholder, in the second round of the British amateur golf championship. Little won 5 and 3.

The Californian was one of four Americans who survived the second day of play. Four other invaders from the United States were sent to the sidelines.

Besides Little the other winners were T. Sufferin (Tommy) Tuller Jr. of Piping Rock, L. I., who shot the last six holes in two under par to eliminate Andrew Jamieson Jr., former Scottish champion; Captain

THIS KELVINATOR FOR ONLY $157.50

You'll wonder how it can be priced so low. Enormous demand, enormous volume, a great, modern manufacturing plant—these explain the price. Twenty-one years of experience explain the quality. Greater capacity—a cabinet that is beautifully designed, strong and rugged, built to last for years—the same precision-made Kelvinator mechanism that is used in higher priced models—are some of the reasons why this low priced Kelvinator is regarded as the outstanding bargain in electric refrigeration today. See it before you buy.
