BOUT FOLLOWS DISCUSSION OF AN INDICTMENT

DEPUTY CHARGED WITH NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE IN WRECK

BORGER, June 11 (AP)—Sheriff Dan Hardee of Hutchinson county yesterday paid a $10 fine for fighting after an altercation with J. C. Phillips, editor of the Borger Herald, over an article which appeared in the newspaper. A complaint charging the editor with assault and battery today was forwarded at the officer's request to Sheriff Hardee at Stinnett for signing, according to John Farmer, city police judge. Phillips struck the sheriff during discussion of the news item, which told of the indictment at Wichita Falls Thursday of Jimmy Cloud, one of Hardee's deputies, on charges of negligent homicide. Cloud today made bonds of $1,000 in each of three indictments charging negligent homicide in connection with the death of his three companions, J. P. Bridges, Jake Morrow, and W. M. Brashears, all of Borger, in an automobile accident near Electra May 3. The news item said "the commission of a deputy sheriff is automatically revoked when he is indicted for a felony." Sheriff Hardee said the indictment alleged only misdemeanor offenses, and that Cloud's status as an officer was not affected.

Charge Farley Drew Funds From Fortunes Of Wealthy

'Grass Rooters' Boon General As Astor Name Is Called

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11 (AP)—The oratorical guns of the midwest "grass roots" republican conference today were turned on James A. Farley, postmaster general and leader of the democratic party. Farley was charged with drawing his party funds from "the swollen fortunes" of the wealthy. Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, temporary chairman of the "grass roots" and republican national committee from Iowa, delivered the attack. Interrupting the formal program of the second day, Spangler told the 8,000-odd delegates that Farley is "the greatest political boss since the corrupt days of Boss Tweed." "My attention has been called to frequent statements by one Jim Farley to the effect that the common man and the republican party of swollen wealth," said Spangler. The delegates booted Farley's name. "I have before me a list of the political contributions received by Mr. Farley in the last three years, on behalf of the democratic national committee," the Iowan continued. "That list reads like an official roll call of the lobbyists for selfish interests. It is headed by Mr. Vincent Astor of the famous yacht, said to be interested in ship subsidies. His donation as recorded was $5,000. The list shows that the largest part of the sums received by Mr. Farley's committee comes from that part of New York City where the swollen fortunes are centered. "Practically every man interested in the monopolies of America is on the list," said Spangler. "That list tells the country in unmistakable language why they suspended the anti-trust law when they set up the NRA." The republican party, Spangler told the grass rooters is "without any funds" and must depend on "funds from the common man." A demand for payment of the bonus drew cheers and applause today from midwestern republican delegates as they opened the second session of their "grass roots" conference of 10 prairie states. It was the first mention of the bonus in a formal session of the rally, attended by 8,042 delegates and alternates. The speaker was Harry Glasser of Edin, Okla., introduced by the Oklahoma delegation. "If the budget is to be thrown to the winds, then the bonus should be paid," Glasser declared. Whoops and applause greeted his statement. He added: "It should be paid, of course, from the four billion dollar work-relief fund." "The first step taken by the grass rooters toward linking their ten states into a midwestern republican bloc was put through today when the conference voted to set up a permanent committee on future plans and policies" to function until the next republican convention. An alliance of the prairie states has been one of the chief goals of the republican chiefs who promoted the Springfield rally. Ward Senn of Minneapolis, reporting as chairman of the conference committee on future plans, said the new committee would "promote republican interests, enlist supporters and raise finances." A statement that young republicans "will not be satisfied with reactionary, wind-over leadership" was made to the conference by Geo. Olmstead of Des Moines, who represents the young republican on the republican national committee. He echoed the bid of the other conference speakers for the support of all anti-Roosevelt sentiment. "Let us welcome into our ranks"

FETE BODY TO MARK GRAVES OF PATRIOTS

BOARD WILL CONSIDER ALLOTMENTS FOR BUILDINGS

AUSTIN, June 11 (AP)—L. W. Kemp, of Houston, chairman of the advisory board of Texas historians for the Centennial, announced today an initial meeting would be held here June 18. Applications of historic places for allotments from approximately $500,000 available for that purpose would be considered then he said. Similar meetings would be held later. Kemp announced the board would recommend expenditures for permanent markers, monuments or buildings, but would not approve allotments for pageants. He said that while the board looked "with favor on pageants and similar celebrations, it thinks that such celebrations should be paid for by the citizens of the communities in which they are held." Kemp said the board would recommend erection of a monument costing $100 at each unmarked grave of Texas patriots. He asked the public to supply information concerning unmarked graves of soldiers who served in the army of the republic of Texas or before April 21, 1836; in the Santa Fe expedition of 1841; Wolf campaign and Mier expedition of 1842; officials of the republic; signers of the Texas declaration of independence; and other prominent pioneers in Texas' struggle for freedom. Applications for allotments, he said, should be filed with Henry Hutchins, secretary of the commission of control.

LASKA GAINS ONE POINT IN TRIAL RULING

Telegraph Employees Testify In Urachel Conspiracy Case In Oklahoma City.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 11 (AP)—An important ruling in the trial of Ben B. Laska, Denver attorney, on a charge of conspiracy in the $200,000 ransom of Chas. F. Urschel, was made today by Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn. "One may become a part of a conspiracy by a single act if it can be shown that person had knowledge of the conspiracy and had an ultimate part in its execution," Judge Vaughn ruled, in answer to a blanket objection made by Laska. Laska is accused of receiving a portion of the ransom fund after the arrest of his convicted kidnaper-client and had contended the conspiracy ended with the arrest. The Denver attorney gained one point in the ruling when Judge Vaughn held: "The court should state definitely in its ruling on introduction of evidence leading up to the time these defendants (Laska and James C. Mathers, Oklahoma City attorney) entered into the alleged conspiracy. "The theory of the government is that the conspiracy was formed prior to the date when these defendants had anything to do with it. "None of the evidence is binding on these defendants until it can be shown they had knowledge of the conspiracy and took part in its execution. However, it is necessary for the government to establish the conspiracy and then trace it to the time when they entered. The jury will be instructed to disregard all testimony up to that time." The first witness was E. B. Thompson, manager of the Denver office of the Western Union Telegraph company. He testified that he reported to the justice department investigators believe the abduction was a two-man job aided by a woman. The alleged confessions of Waley and his wife implicated Mahan as the third member of the gang. Removal of Mr. and Mrs. Waley to Tacoma to face mail fraud charges in connection with the kidnapping was awaited today, with further concentration here of department of justice agents. "Four more government men had come from Tacoma, and it was believed they brought warrants issued in the Willis case." Mrs. Laska was seated on a

MONEY TAKEN FROM CANYON AT SALT LAKE

WALEY AND WIFE TELL ALL; THIRD MAN STILL HUNTED

By JOHN L. WHEELER (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press) SALT LAKE CITY, June 11.—A cache of $90,700 of the $200,000 ransom paid for the release of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma was found today in historic Immigration Pass, near here, while many officers scoured the west to make the final round-up of suspects in the kidnaping of the lumber heir. The money—wrapped in black oil cloth and a gunny sack—had been buried in a canyon about five miles south of here. It brought the total of the "snatch" money accounted for by government men to more than $110,000. Department of justice agents here would not comment on details of the uncovering of the cache. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department bureau of investigation, announced in Washington it had been located as the result of constant questioning of Harmon M. Waley, 24-year-old ex-convict, and his 19-year-old wife, Margaret, held here as confessed members of the kidnap gang. Throughout the west a hunt was pressed for William Mahan, scarf-faced ex-convict, who abandoned a car containing $15,155 of the ransom money in escaping police at Butte, Mont., last Sunday. It was spurred by Hoover's expressed belief that Mahan had the balance of the ransom money with him or buried. Hoover said Mahan may have "short-changed" Waley, who, he said, apparently received only $95,000 of the $200,000. Waley was said by G-men to have spent only about $300 and to have burned $4,000 when things "became too hot." Federal agents here declined to confirm or deny reports three additional persons had been taken into custody in Salt Lake City for questioning in connection with the abduction. The boy was released near Tacoma June 1 after eight days in the hands of his abductors. At Washington indications were reported that the justice department investigators believe the abduction was a two-man job aided by a woman. The alleged confessions of Waley and his wife implicated Mahan as the third member of the gang. Removal of Mr. and Mrs. Waley to Tacoma to face mail fraud charges in connection with the kidnapping was awaited today, with further concentration here of department of justice agents. Proselyting Is Denied By Three Denton Athletes

DENTON, June 11 (AP)—Three former Abilene Christian college track stars vigorously denied they had been proselyted to the North Texas Teachers college of Denton. In an open letter, signed by Elmer and Delmer Brown and Alvin Christianman, they replied to reputed charges by Coach Eddie Weems of Abilene Christian college that they were proselyted by the "track team manager" of North Texas and that he would protest their eligibility to run here. The trio of stars comprised three of the four that made up Abilene Christian's championship mile relay team last season. North Texas officials pointed out that a student, Pete Davis, termed "team manager" by Weems, had no official connection with the college except that of attending school as a student. The position of "team manager" had never existed at North Texas, officials claimed. In the letter, the three track stars wrote that: "All of us want to say that no official of the school or any student directed by a school official wrote, or said or encouraged us to come to North Texas. Here at North Texas we are treated not as athletes but as students. While we were at Abilene Christian we were only students, but when we thought of transferring we were athletes and a protest was made."

Mr. Daugherty will arrive here Saturday to take over his new duties. Offices of the association will be maintained in the CombsWorley building, for the time being at least. The Pampa Credit association has been organized by Pampa merchants for Pampa merchants. Local business men felt that the rapid growth of the city and the increase in business necessitated the organization of such a service. Memberships are being received daily and the organization is growing rapidly. The charter membership list will close soon.

Death Sentence Given Gooch For Paris Kidnaping

DURANT, Okla., June 11 (AP)—The first man ever condemned to death for kidnaping by a federal court jury, Arthur Gooch, Oklahoma bad man, will hear his doom pronounced Saturday by Federal Judge R. L. Williams. Gooch was tried under the Lindbergh kidnap law after Judge Williams refused to accept his plea of guilty to the abduction of two Paris, Texas, policemen H. R. Marks and R. N. Baker, and forcing them to take him from Paris into the hills of Pushmataha county, Oklahoma, where they were released. Judge Williams refused to accept the plea because the life sentence was the maximum he could assess, and passed the case on to a jury to determine the sentence. The trial of the little, neatly dressed ex-convict was quickly over. Evidence required only 45 minutes, arguments were brief, the judge's instructions terse. The jury deliberated an hour and a half, first voting eleven to one for death and unanimously for death on the second ballot. Gooch, former Okmulgee youth, escaped with five others from the Hughes county jail at Holdenville a few days before the Paris kidnaping. A companion, Abrose Nix, was killed by officers when Gooch was captured.

Action Blocked On NRA Measure

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Senate action extending NRA was temporarily blocked today when Senator Gore (D., Okla.) sought to amend the resolution continuing the recovery law to require confirmation of all government officials receiving more than $4,000 a year. Discussion of Gore's amendment used up the half hour allotted by the senate to discussion of the NRA resolution and the chamber, under a previous agreement, turned to debate on the public utilities holding company bill. Chairman Harrison, of the senate finance committee, served notice, however, that he would call up the NRA resolution again later in the day, after the vote on the utility bill. That was due at 4 p. m. eastern standard time.

Return Costumes To Either Hughes Or Dr. Schulky

Members of the Pre-Centennial pageant cast today were urged to leave their costumes at either the office of Dr. Carl H. Schulky or the office of Dick Hughes, on the third floor of the Rose building by tomorrow night. It is imperative that the costumes be returned by that time so they can be sent back to the Kansas City costume house from which they were rented. The deadline for returning the costumes is tomorrow night. Soldiers who carried guns were also urged to check their guns in to either Dr. Schulky or Mr. Hughes by tomorrow night. Most of the guns and costumes have been returned. It will be necessary for the pageant committee to "chase down" all costumes that are not returned by tomorrow, it was said.

No Clemency Is Advised For Two Condemned Men

AUSTIN, June 11 (AP)—The governor's office announced today the board of pardons and paroles had recommended adversely on clemency pleas of Eligha Stuart and John B. Willis, sentenced to electrocution early tomorrow. The office said Governor Allred was in Houston and prior to his departure had not announced his decision. He took with him the record in the Willis case. Stuart, an unemployed widower, was convicted in Harris county of the murder of his daughter, Dortha, last July 23 to obtain a small amount of insurance money. Willis was convicted of criminal assault on a young married woman last August in a Tyler park. Both cases were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals. Judge Stanhope Henry, chairman of the pardon board, said in the report on Stuart, which was approved by the other two members, that "no more inhuman murder case has been presented to this board for its consideration" since he became a member.

POOL GARDEN IS DELIGHT TO ALL FLOWER-LOVERS

Many Blooms, Trees Provide Beauty For Soul

BY ARCHER FULLINGIM. Only a superb optimist and a firm believer in the Panhandle have made it a point to plant something every day during March and April when every rising sun brought a blinding dust storm—yet, Mrs. Glen Pool of 810 North Gray did just that. The next day after the famous "black blizzard" late one Sunday afternoon, she planted in her garden. As a consequence of her consistent industry, regardless of weather conditions, Mrs. Pool has a garden that is a delight to all the senses—as well as to the soul. There is continuous bloom in her yard, and she has blooming flowers from early spring, when the tulips and other bulbs are blossoming until frost when she has loads of chrysanthemums. Recently dozens of baskets of roses were cut from her climbing rose vines in one day and the next morning the blooms were not even missed, so profuse were the pink and red blossoms. At the same time, there were also blooming pansies, pink, honeysuckle, larkspur, snapdragons, tea roses and other flowers. At the rear of her back yard is a rock garden which contains rocks from many states in the union. Mr. and Mrs. Pool are travelers—they go many places and make long trips, and wherever they go they pick up colored rocks and stones. There are rocks around the pool from Yellowstone, Missouri, New Mexico, California, and many other states. Delphiniums Blue. There are rare flowers and trees in the garden. The visitor may see and enjoy, if he will, delphiniums—or at least he could have seen them a week ago. Not many gardeners in this section will attempt to grow delphiniums, but Mrs. Pool did and the plants flowered luxuriantly and beautifully. The delphiniums grew to blossom under the shade of peach trees, and there is much shade in both the front and back yards, too—fir and pine trees, quaking aspen from New Mexico, lilacs, pussy willows, umbrella catalpa, peach, apricot, and cherry trees, weigela, red barberry, blue spruce, and other evergreens. Under the Mimosa. A courageous gardener like Mrs. Pool who would have delphiniums and "sweet alysum over the hedges crawling" would also attempt to

Minister Off To 'Convert' Gable

HOLLYWOOD, June 11 (AP)—The Rev. Samuel Williams of Hopedale, Ohio, prepared to sail 27 miles of ocean today on a mission to convert Clark Gable from the movies into evangelism. The ocean trip will carry him to Catalina Island, where the actor will be for the next three weeks. The Rev. Mr. Williams, who recently prayed publicly for Gable, said women of his congregation induced him to come here and seek the actor's redemption. "Of course," the minister said, "there is no hope for a lot of them, but we feel there is hope for Clark because of his Christian training." He told perturbed Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio officials he hoped to win Gable, a native of Gold, Ohio, over to an evangelistic career and end his "sinful influence" in the films. The pastor said a "vision" of Mrs. Bertha Harmon of his flock inspired the movement to win Gable to evangelism. CELEBRATION BILLS WANTED Merchants who have bills charged to the Pre-Centennial committee of the Junior chamber of commerce—bills that were incurred as a result of the recent celebration, are urged to file them immediately with Jim Collins at the Southwestern Public Service company. Tomorrow night Jaycee directors and Pre-Centennial chairman will meet to pay bills and to draft a financial statement of the celebration.

Governor Orders Patrolmen To Find Missing Tourists

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 11 (AP)—Eight highway patrolmen were detailed today by New Mexico's governor to track down four missing Illinois tourists believed to have been slain by a robber. Gov. Clyde Tingley took personal interest in the search for Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus, East St. Louis, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hebercrer, Dequoin, Ill., in a conference with Albuquerque police and M. E. Hannon, Dallas, Texas, operative of a private detective agency. The agency was called into the case by relatives and Illinois fraternal organizations. Hannon arrived yesterday from El Paso, Texas, where he had checked reports that an unidentified young man had driven the Lorus motor car through the city after the Illinois persons disappeared May 22. Finding of the car abandoned in Dallas May 28 precipitated the search. He told authorities that his information indicated the solution to the mystery would be found in the mountainous area, between Albuquerque and Hot Springs, N. M. Waldo Harris, filling station operator at Cisco, Texas, said he could identify a young man who cashed a traveler's check signed "George Lorus" at his station two weeks ago. The appearance of numerous allegedly forged checks of the quartet in several cities led to a police theory that they were robbed and slain and their bodies hidden.

Members of the Pre-Centennial pageant cast today were urged to leave their costumes at either the office of Dr. Carl H. Schulky or the office of Dick Hughes, on the third floor of the Rose building by tomorrow night. It is imperative that the costumes be returned by that time so they can be sent back to the Kansas City costume house from which they were rented. EDITORIAL

PARTY REALIGNMENT MIGHT HELP VOTING

Ever since the 1932 election the political seers and soothsayers have been scanning the skies for portents of the long-awaited realignment of political parties. Just now the signs seem to be multiplying.

In New York, the Daily News reports that Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia will run for re-election in 1937 as a Democrat, with full New Deal support—and, apparently, with the result that Tammany Hall may find itself, to the vast surprise of the boys in the ward clubs, a Republican outfit.

While all of this goes on, there are repeated reports of an attempt to establish an understanding between Republicans and conservative Democrats. How much fire there may be back of all this smoke is far from clear, but the rumors have even gone to the length of saying that Al Smith and Herbert Hoover will find themselves under the same banner in another year.

All of these reports may be quite groundless. But the frequency with which they are made does indicate that politics is in ferment, with an ever-increasing number of political leaders finding themselves dissatisfied with the existing line-up.

And from whatever angle you view the scene, you must admit that our political life would be in a more healthy condition if the two great parties could manage to swap about half of their adherents with each other.

A political party ought to be as nearly a homogeneous group as possible. Its major policies should command almost complete support from its members; its name should stand for a definite program, so that when a man uses the label the public would be able to classify him.

That doesn't begin to be true today. Senator Glass and President Roosevelt are both Democrats, as are Al Smith and Huey Long. Can anyone, without stretching the facts beyond recognition, say that these four constitute a like-minded group? And are Senator Norris, Ogden Mills, Senator LeFollette and Herbert Hoover members of the same party in anything but name?

During the next few years the American people must make fundamental decisions about their government and their social organization. It will not be easy to make those decisions; it will be almost impossible if the two parties remain formless and disunited, as they are now.

A regrouping, which would make one party definitely representative of one school of thought and the other party definitely representative of the opposing school, would make our task of charting our course for the coming generation infinitely simpler.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Try to understand it if you can. At a time when the New Deal is popularly supposed to have received a crushing, decimating blow from the U. S. Supreme Court, it is actually bulging out of the District of Columbia into Maryland and Virginia.

Mr. Roosevelt's administration filled all the old office buildings, moved into thousands of new offices created by Mr. Hoover's big federal building program, and gradually came to occupy every spare inch of space in private office buildings through the city.

Now Dr. Tugwell is trying to move his cramped Rural Settlement Administration—which will have several hundred employees—across the Potomac to Arlington, Va., where the Agricultural Department has an experiment plant.

The Census Bureau will set up headquarters for its next big special census in Baltimore and other agencies are also investigating space in the Maryland city.

Dr. Morris Cooke and his Rural Electrification Administration are quartered at the old James G. Blaine mansion off Du Pont Circle. Sections of other agencies are in what used to be apartments.

The fellow who is charged with finding space for the New Deal—and is suffering from incipient claustrophobia—has been trying to get an option on the big Washington auditorium as well as other mansions.

Dismantling of NRA will help the problem a bit, but government officials are clawing for its space like a pack of hyenas and at last reports various agencies—especially those concerned with work relief—still needed 300,000 to 400,000 more square feet.

About 80 young people had a big party the other night for Congressman Kent Keller of Illinois, who had gotten them all jobs in Washington.

Keller had the boys and girls rise and tell how well they were getting along—thanks to Congressman Keller. Then he told them about other of his constituents who had good federal jobs outside Washington, naming them off and referring to their nice salaries.

"Keep your eyes open for other jobs we can get for southern Illinois," the congressman urged.

Then he noticed Joe Tumulty, once Woodrow Wilson's secretary, seated at a nearby table. He demanded a few words from Joe.

Joe spoke. His topic: Gratitude.

No end of congressmen have perpetrated poetry. But Representative Fritz Garland Lanham of Fort Worth, Tex., recently wrote the words to a song which he named "Blue Bonnet Sweetheart" for the Blue Bonnet Luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's Club in his home city.

The printer made a bad mistake in the picture of the girl on the title page—which will be corrected later. He put a red bonnet on her!

Parole Abuses Are Deplored By Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—The renewed weight of President Roosevelt's influence was behind efforts to prevent parole abuses today—an incidental result of the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case.

Praising the bureau of investigation's study of criminal records of two men accused in the abduction—one a paroled robber and the other an ex-convict—the president telegraphed Attorney General Cummings, in part: "Every decent citizen is interested in humane parole systems which seek rehabilitation of offenders but at the same time we should seek to prevent abuses of parole, especially in cases of habitual criminals; therefore I am glad that you are having a special study made of these two cases, investigating all facts relating to their previous records in every jurisdiction where they have been apprehended or paroled."

His calendar held no engagements today and he expected to spend the last day of a four-day homecoming disposing of mail and reports. Early tomorrow he will motor to West Point to deliver an address and award diplomas at the United States Military academy, continuing from there to Washington.

'Wonder Team' Of Amarillo To Be Here Tomorrow Night

Pampa Nine to Shoot Works Against Shamrocks

Determined to find out the real power of the Amarillo-Shamrock Oil company baseball team, the Pampa Road Runners will "shoot the works" tomorrow night when the Amarillo nine comes here for a game.

On paper, the Road Runners have a much stronger team than the one representing Amarillo, yet the Road Runners lost the opening game of the season and only nosed out the Amarilloans 2 to 0 here two weeks ago.

The Amarillo aggregation has been doing some unexpected winning or nearly winning games from teams doped to defeat them by large scores. They are being dubbed the "wonder team." The players have been showing remarkable fight, even when far behind they never let up.

On Sunday at LeFors, the Shamrocks were six runs behind on the seventh inning. With a never say die determination they pulled up to within one run of the Coteaux.

Either Lefty Pachak or Lefty Dorman will be on the mound for Amarillo. Pachak was on the mound when the Shamrocks downed the Road Runners in Amarillo. Dorman allowed the Road Runners only 3 hits in the game played here. Amarillo got the same number of bingles.

Manager Freddy Brickell will name his starting hurler before the game. He will have Stewart, Bron and Daney ready to work. Daney relieved Bulla in Amarillo when the birds lost and pitched nice ball.

The Road Runners go to Enid, Oklahoma, Friday for a three-game series with the Eason Oilers of that city. Games will be played Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoon. A return series will be played here on June 21, 22 and 23.

Sinclair-Prairie Defeats Sunoco As Skelly Wins

Sinclair-Prairie won a 13 to 5 game from the Sunoco Sluggers in a Two I fixture Sunday afternoon. Neserod was on the mound for the winners with Vermillion behind the bat.

Webber started on the mound for the Sluggers but was relieved by A. McAtley. Spence caught the game.

Score by innings:
Sinclair 023 110 420-13
Sunoco 000 100 000-5

Bell And Grant To Play Today

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 11. (AP)—Initial appearances of the defending champion and favorite, Bryan McCarty, 24-year-old Atlantan, and Berkeley Bell, New York star, in second round matches quickened the pace of the Southern Amateur Tennis tournament today.

After drawing first round byes yesterday, Grant was matched with Pollard Parsons, Nashville veteran, while Bell, top-seeded over Grant, faced Carl Smalley of Austin, Tex.

Three other seeded performers idle yesterday—J. Gilbert Hall of New Jersey, No. 3, John McDiarmid of Chicago, No. 4, and Robert Bryan of Chattanooga, No. 5—also opposed second round rivals today.

Of the three-seeded entrants who saw action yesterday only Billy Reese, No. 8, a Georgia Tech stoker, was forced to a three set match. Reese eliminated Joe Folk, Nashville, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. Martin Buxby, University of Texas youth, won No. 6 and Hal Surface of Kansas City, No. 7, breezed through opposition "under wraps."

Buxby defeated Frank Pittman of Vanderbilt university, 6-3, 6-2, and Surface ousted Bob Alexander of Nashville to the semifinals, 6-2, 6-1.

HARRY GRAYSON

Those psalm singers who were chanting a dirge over the grand old game of baseball a couple of years back would better change their tune, for America's national pastime is staging a grand comeback.

As late as last year, the boys were painting a black picture, asserting that decreased crowds indicated decline of the game, and that it was only a matter of a few years when baseball would fold its tent and bow to another sport as the favorite of the nation.

Big league magnates bumped their noses together in numerous conferences. Various and sundry were the schemes concocted to lure John Pfan into the gate. Night baseball was suggested. It was adopted in the National League as an experiment, each team being allowed seven games during the season.

Each major league club endeavored to add colorful players to its roster in an effort to pull gates similar to those influenced by the mighty Bambino.

But outside of the Dean boys, none as colorful as Ruth appeared, and when it was announced he was through as a player and would be sent to the Boston Braves, an early demise of the American League was predicted.

But look, you gloomy Gussies!—The Giants and Cards play to a crowd of 41,000 on a week-day! Attendance of every major club, with the possible exception of the St. Louis Browns, is soaring above the 1934 mark! Nearly 50,000 seats have been sold for the All-Star game in Cleveland!

Minors Feel Revival, Too. Not only is this revived interest felt in the majors, but all over the bushes the fans are packing the stands.

As an example, in the American Association, St. Paul already has played to more than half the total attendance of 1934, and the season is less than a third over.

In the Southern Association, club owners are asserting definitely that prosperity is back. All around the lot attendance is increasing.

In the first eight days of the season, Atlanta drew 45,000, more than the amount of people drawn in during the same period last year.

There is no doubt that the game is gaining strength, and the reason can be tacked onto several factors.

In the majors, it's the surprising stardom of the new ball players. The transition of the White Sox and Red Sox in the American league, and the absolutely astounding fact that the Brooklyn Dodgers are playing baseball, and the Cincinnati Reds are showing their teeth in the National, have done much to renew interest.

Dean Bolstered National. Then, it cannot be questioned that the rise to stardom of Dizzy Dean has done wonders in the old circuit.

Dizzy's dizzy declarations regarding his prowess, and his backing up of his statements with convincing performances on the hill, were enough to rouse even the most skeptical fan into fanatical interest.

The host of young stars who jumped into sudden fame this season has drawn out the bugs, too. Pitchers like Cy Blanton of the Pirates, Clyde Claxton of the Giants; the White Sox's Johnny Whitehead; and the Tigers' Joe Sullivan have intrigued the populace with their pitching performances.

Added to the attraction of star performers is the fact that the boys are all showing the old fight. Feuds have sprouted up between Indians and Tigers; Giants and Brooklyn; Giants and Phillies; Yankees and Senators; and several other clubs. They're playing the old ball game with tooth and nail this year, and who wouldn't pay to see a good fight?

PIRATES DROP REDS 14 TO 1 IN LONE TILT

The Pittsburgh Pirates favored by some to wind up in second place, dragged out the big bertha against the Reds yesterday to demolish them, 14 to 1. It was the only game played in the major leagues.

Five round trip blows, three of them in succession in the eighth inning, made winning a hopeless proposition for Cincinnati. Paul Waner opened the bombardment in the eighth, smacking the ball into the top tier of the right field stands.

Then Arky Vaughan, not to be outdone in succession in the same spot, Pop Young completed the stunt, which lacked one homer of tying the major league record, by whaling one to the center-field fence.

Gus Suhr hit a homer in the fifth to start the Pirates' scoring and Vaughan got his first of the day in the seventh.

Tony Canzoneri Still Champion

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri was still lightweight champion in fact as well as in name today, but he had behind him an interesting 12-round tussle with Frankie Klick that stamped the little San Francisco Pole as a likely challenger for Canzoneri's crown.

Canzoneri staved off Klick's early round attack last night, then went on to win through heavier punching.

His crown was not at stake, but the fact that he was facing a top-notch fighter in Klick, holder of the synthetic junior lightweight title, gave the fight a championship aspect.

Ten thousand fans saw the bout in Griffith stadium. Jack Dempsey, the referee, decided the fight after the two ring-side judges split. The decision met with boos from the fans.

SIDEWALKS OF GOTHAM BACK JIM BRADDOCK

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Jim Braddock, the Cinderella Kid, will be heavily backed by sentiment, if nothing else, when he steps into the Long Island ring with Max Baer on Thursday night.

The hard-bitten boys came in from the sidewalks of New York yesterday to watch the Irish challenger wind up his training in two rounds of boxing with Jack McCarthy of Boston, the slugger who seemed to be going places until Charlie Retzlaf cut him down.

Recklessly, they shook their heads as McCarthy shot his right to the Braddock chin. If McCarthy could land his right, they mused, what would Baer do with his cruising right hand punch?

Those wise in the business of evaluating fighters gave Braddock a small chance to win. Some said the former longshoreman was a 100 to 1 shot.

Others, however, having in mind his durability through a career of twice as many fights as Baer, said they would not be surprised if he upset the doped Baer.

He kicked Art Lasky when Lasky was considered good, they argue. He's got a good left hand and fear is no part of his mental makeup.

Meanwhile, Baer, winding up his training at Asbury Park, N. J., took time out from his calisthenics to dookey some verbal shots at Arthur Donovan, the referee.

He said he would refuse to fight if Donovan, who handled his fight with Schmeling and Carnera, was chosen as referee.

Baer said he didn't question Donovan's honesty but that he thought he lost his head in the excitement.

Galveston Wins From Panthers

By The Associated Press. The Texas league-leading Galveston Buccaneers made a couple of runs in the ninth inning last night to defeat the Fort Worth Panthers in the third game of a series, 4 to 3.

The veteran Fred Johnson, ahead in the final inning, first allowed an earned run on a base on balls. Then a single, a long fly and an error let the Bucs put across the paying score. Jack Jakucki kept eight Fort Worth hits scattered.

Only one of the Cats' runs off him was earned.

Dallas trounced Houston, 7 to 2. The Steers won the game on a three-run rally in the fourth inning but were not satisfied and added three more in the final after they had counted one in the seventh.

The Buffs scored in the first and the Beaumont Exporters clouted Seitz in a 15-hit attack to defeat the Oklahoma City Indians, 10 to 1. Buddy Gates had a perfect day at the bat, getting four hits in four official trips and scoring four runs.

One of them a homer. Joe Hare was on the mound for the Exporters. Tulsa rested at Houston because of rain.

21-7 Victory Won By Pampan's Over Huber Blacktaces

The Pampa Road Runners won a wild 21-7 game from the Huber Carbon company Blacktaces of Borger last night at Road Runners Park. The battle was featured by base hits, wild pitches, seven of them, and errors.

All the wild pitches were credited to Berger pitchers, and there were four of them who saw mound duty, and six of the eight errors also went to the visitors.

In fact, the only favorable demonstration by Huber was two home runs by Chody, after he came in from left field to do mound duty. On his two trips to the plate while in the outfield, he fanned.

Simpson, Indian third baseman for Huber, showed his ignorance of the national pastime and questionable sportsmanship when he tried to pull a hidden ball trick after time had been called out.

When Umpire Jimmie Baldwin placed a new ball in play, the Indian threw the ball he had hidden at the umpire, striking him on the left leg.

The Huber player apparently failed to realize that after time has been called out, the ball must be in the hands of the pitcher again before it is in play.

Pampa Gets 14 Hits. The Road Runners collected only 14 base hits to account for their 21 runs. Ten bases on balls, the seven wild pitches, and a passed ball, along with the six errors, did the rest.

Horton got a triple and scored on a single play. He hit to center field and in attempting a shoe-string catch Lister missed the ball. It rolled to the fence and Horton reached third. Ister's throw to the hot corner was wide and Horton went on across the plate.

Brickell, Seitz, Scalling, Horton, and Berry, scored three times each. Berry failed to get a hit but two walks and an error enabled him to land on base and score.

One of Seitz' counters came as the result of a steal of home plate in the fourth. Seitz singled and went all the way to third on a wild pitch.

With Scalling at bat, the big lefty showed real burst of speed to slide across the plate under Brown.

The Road Runners scored 11 runs on six hits in the third inning. The following stanza saw the home team stalling seven more counters, this time on five hits.

Smith, brother of the "wild" Smith who was with Coteaux for a game and who is now with the Amarillo Shamrocks, started on the mound. He was wild, made two balks, and was hit freely. Blair relieved Smith in the third but he was won. Conner tried to halt the parade but went out in the fifth, Chody going to the mound. The former El Reno star allowed the Road Runners on one run and two hits.

Berry pitched effective ball for the Road Runners, allowing four runs and 11 hits. He fanned eight. Bulla relieved Berry and allowed Huber three runs and three hits.

George, new Pampa shortstop, showed fans that he had plenty of ability and speed. He handled five chances with only one bobble and started the only double play of the game.

Failure to call plays almost cost Huber two players. In the third Seitz hit back of first base. The second runner and right fielder collided with the outfielder being kayoed for a few minutes.

The Road Runners will meet the Amarillo Shamrocks here tomorrow night.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Staff Writer

Into the new kitchen with its shining equipment dances the new bride, eager for the glorious adventure of cooking the first breakfast for two! Dinner for two! Maybe luncheon for two, but more than likely for one since so few of our men find time to get home for lunch.

To make dreams come true, the cook must put common sense into her work. There's nothing mysterious about the art of cooking today, methods and recipes are definite and accurate, and good cooks can be made in no time.

The bride who is a born cook often has a tendency to plunge into everything at once. Displays on market stands are heard to resist and the temptation to buy more than two people can possibly eat is too strong.

Plan Days Ahead Every bride will learn early in her housekeeping experience that it is a big help to plan menus at least two or three days in advance. Planned meals will be more interesting and you can buy more economically if you look ahead. Frequently, too, you can cook more of a certain food than you need for one meal and serve it another way at a later meal.

Most recipes make too much for a family of two. My own are planned for four, the average recipe found in standard cook books is calculated to serve six. So, if you want just enough for two, you must use either half or one-third of the recipe. Only when you reduce a recipe be sure to decrease each ingredient in proportion.

One pound of an asparagus should serve four persons. If the stalks are tough and woody and must be culminated to serve six. So, if you want just enough for two, you must use either half or one-third of the recipe. Only when you reduce a recipe be sure to decrease each ingredient in proportion.

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Halves of grape fruit, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, crisp broiled bacon, oven toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Green peas with hard cooked eggs baked in cream sauce, salad of cream cheese and olive balls on bed of cress, strawberry turnovers, milk, tea. DINNER: Broiled cubed steaks, potatoes au gratin, buttered green beans, shredded cabbage and green pepper and carrot salad, deep dish cherry pie, milk, coffee.

Trimmed well up to the tip you may find that only three persons can be helped adequately.

Other Proportions One pound of peas in the pod (about one quart) yields about one cup of shelled peas and can be made to serve three persons. Allow two pounds for four. Three or four potatoes weigh one pound. A peck weighs fifteen pounds. One pound of fresh spinach will serve three. So if you cook a pound of spinach for dinner one night, the next night you ought to be able to have an egg and spinach salad.

One medium-sized, well trimmed head of cauliflower weighs about 1 1/2 pounds and serves four persons. A pound of beets also serves four.

Four rather small tomatoes weigh a pound; one pound of green beans (about one quart) will serve six; a pound of shelled lima beans (less a quart) or a pound of broccoli serves four; a pound of Brussels sprouts or mushrooms on toast takes care of six.

A matter that is vital to the entire Sunday school will be discussed, he said. Mr. Tucker will resume his message on the life of the disciples at 8:15 Wednesday evening and will speak on the life of James.

The choir will have rehearsal at 8 o'clock instead of 7 this week.

CLASS TO MEET Mrs. J. A. Meek's class of First Baptist church will meet at the church Wednesday at 3 p. m. All members are urged to be present.

FUND TO TAKE FOREIGN-BORN CENSUS URGED

WOULD PROVIDE MONEY TO HELP KEEP OUT ALIENS

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The labor department proposed today that President Roosevelt use $4,675,440 of the work-relief fund to make a complete census of foreign-born persons in the United States and help keep out aliens not entitled to enter.

The immigration and naturalization service said, that these activities offer jobs for "a class of unemployed which is admittedly difficult to place." The officials added that elderly men and women "of fair education, able to write legally or handle a typewriter, would be ideal workers in this capacity."

The agriculture department led other federal agencies yesterday in projects recommended to the president by the advisory committee on allotments. In addition to small sums for control of the Dutch elm disease and insect bites, the committee recommended $25,000,000 for the soil conservation service and $13,827,500 for the forestry service.

The committee also O. K.'d allotment of $6,610,800 to the navy department for yards and docks and $1,215,772 for army base construction.

The labor department estimated that $3,343,780 would be required to compile an index of immigrants and naturalized aliens. Copying court records would provide work throughout the country, it was said.

The application also included $1,224,500 to find out what has become of foreigners who entered the country without obtaining permission to take up permanent residence, and $1,107,180 as the first step in strengthening the border patrol against illegal entries. The patrol would be increased by 1,100 men, chosen either from former civilian conservation corps members or older men "of intelligence who are in good physical condition but somewhat advanced in years." The labor department said present forces were inadequate.

BYRD OPPOSES BROADENING OF FEDERAL POWER

Congress Act To Restore Anti-Trust Laws At Once

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Administration leaders called the senate into session a half hour earlier than usual today to try to rush through a compromise plan for extending a devaluated NRA until April 1 next year.

A virtual agreement had been reached with senate foes of the recovery law to a plan under which the anti-trust laws would be restored to full vigor but business men would be allowed to agree on collective bargaining, hours, wages, and certain fair trade practices.

Meantime, the discussion of federal vs. state powers that arose in the wake of the supreme court's decision scrapping NRA continued, Senator Byrd (D., Va.), expressing strong opposition to the idea of amending the constitution to broaden federal power.

If the democratic party became the instrument to attempt to destroy the rights of states by constitutional change, he said, "then our historic party will have betrayed every tradition of its past and violated the first principles of its existence."

He opposed Secretary Wallace's suggestion some months ago that a board be set up to hold nation-wide referenda, with the decisions becoming the law of the land, which the supreme court could not overturn.

This, Byrd said, "would destroy one of the most important checks and balances devised by the wisdom of the founders."

Under the compromise before the senate today the administration would have no power to enforce agreements, or to offer inducements in the way of relaxed anti-trust laws to obtain them. It would merely permit business men to meet and work out agreements governing labor conditions and such fair trade practices already outlawed by statute without fear of violating the anti-trust laws.

Chairman Harrison, of the finance committee, assured NRA critics that the new plan would restore the anti-trust laws to full effect. His assurance apparently satisfied them.

tion by Secretary Morgenthau before the senate finance committee. Saying that if the bonus were paid, new taxes would be needed, he asserted that the application of present income tax rates to inheritances and gifts would bring in $300,000,000 to $600,000,000 annually.

That would mean taxes ranging from 4 per cent on inheritances and gifts of over $50,000 to nearly 63 per cent of those over $1,000,000. There are no direct inheritance levies now and gift taxes range from three-fourths of one per cent on gifts under $10,000 to 45 per cent of gifts over $10,000,000.

Rep. Sanders (D., Texas) and Dingell (D., Mich.) made no secret of their positions. The former said that "our estate taxes are nowhere as high as those in Great Britain."

HOUSE GROUP FAVORS INCREASED TAX ON INHERITANCES AND GIFTS

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—A poll of the house ways and means committee showed today that if President Roosevelt should suggest heavy inheritance and increased gift taxes as a means of redistributing wealth his proposal would fall into sympathetic hands.

The check disclosed that of the 25 committeemen, 14 would go along on an inheritance-gift tax program, most of them without qualification. Two others said they would not, while nine were doubtful. A democrat, who is one of the two opposing such an idea, said privately that the president had been told any change in basic tax structures a year before the next presidential election would be "very bad politics."

No one on capital hill had any positive ideas as to what inheritance and gift tax rates might be in mind. The survey of the house committee was made on the basis of an asser-

JAPANESE ADD HOPEI PROVINCE TO ACQUISITIONS IN CHINA

NORTH CHINA WEAKLY GIVES UP TO NIPPON

PUPPET GOVERNMENT AND BUFFER STATE IN PROSPECT

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
TOKYO, June 11.—Diplomatic and other non-Japanese quarters pictured the Japanese Manchuria from having completed another enormous stride—the adding of Hopei province, China, to the vast realm it dominates.

They see in north China a subjugation comparable to those which in 1931 Japan took from China and in 1933 added Jehol to Nippon's sphere of influence.

These sources view it as the action of the army, with lukewarm backing from the Tokyo government.

The official Japanese version credits the army merely with "purging of anti-Japanese elements" in north China.

Tokyo's official spokesmen insist the military authorities have carried out only local measures necessary to compel China to fulfill her obligations under the Tangku truce and the Boxer protocol. These measures, the government sources say, will insure peaceful relations among Japan, China and Manchoukuo in accordance with Japan's mission "to maintain peace and order in East Asia in cooperation with her Asiatic neighbors."

Hopei's precise destiny remains a matter of widespread speculation. The Tokyo foreign office, while attempting to present as reassuring a picture as possible for world inspection, concedes that China's submission to the Japanese army will create demands for an administrative and military vacuum in the province.

The situation results from the removal of the troops and organs of the Chinese nationalist government and elimination of other vestiges of the influence of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and the Nanking authorities.

Government spokesmen assert Tokyo is not concerned with the measures taken to fill the Hopei vacuum. Non-Japanese sources believe the Japanese army will dictate what regime shall govern the province and what Chinese troops, if any, shall be stationed there as well as in what areas.

Already the Japanese army has notified General Ssang Chen that he will not be permitted to lead Chinese forces within a zone seven miles on either side of the railways linking Peiping, Tientsin and Shan-haiwan.

The order, in strict accordance with the provisions of the Boxer protocol, automatically bars Chinese troops from Peiping, capital of the ancient Chinese empire, and Tientsin, China's northern commercial metropolis.

Newspapers forecast that Hopei will become a buffer state between China proper and Manchoukuo and pass under the domination of the Japanese military authorities.

Reports to the Rengo (Japanese News Agency) said the council of high Japanese military leaders decided at Hsinking yesterday meeting to demand China's concurrence in the creation of such a buffer state.

The slogan "Hopei for the Hopeless" revived memories of propaganda in the Japanese press in 1931 and 1932 picturing a demand by Manchuria's 30,000,000 inhabitants for separation from China.

Unofficial circles discussed the possibility of the eventual consolidation of Hopei and Emperor Kang Teh's Manchoukuo empire. Such discussion envisages a possible restoration of the dragon throne at Peiping.

Civilian officials and the more conservative military authorities in Tokyo denied that any move to combine the two territories is in prospect, although they conceded that a strong demand for consolidation had persisted for three years among the Chinese in Kang Teh's entourage, who have been encouraged by the more adventurous elements in the Japanese army in Manchoukuo.

The army is seen as having two other impelling motives for its course in Hopei. One is the bitter hatred the Japanese military officials stationed in China hold for the Chinese army leaders with whom they are in constant friction; the other, the fact that the Tokyo government will soon begin compilation of the 1936-37 budget with funds in which the army's desires and the military situation support demands for ever-increasing appropriations.

The foreign office is believed to have become reconciled to the north China developments partly as a consequence of what appears here to be the indifference of the rest of the world to the developments of the last few weeks.

RUSSIANS AND JAPANESE IN NEW DISPUTE

Soviet Sentry Slain; Each Nation Charges the Other With Armed Invasion.

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
TOKYO, June 11.—The slaying of a Soviet sentry on the disputed Manchoukuo-Siberian frontier was disclosed today as the cause of diplomatic controversy between Russia and Japan.

Moscow and Tokyo, exchanging notes over the incident, each charged the armed forces of the other with invasion of its territory.

The skirmish occurred June 3, southwest of Mishan. The Soviet charged two red army cavalrymen patrolling the frontier were fired on by Japanese troops. One of the sentries fell, according to the Russian version, and the other ran for help.

Moscow asserted that when reinforcements reached the spot, described as 1,700 meters on the Soviet side of the border, they found only bloodstains and empty cartridges.

Russia demanded punishment of the military authorities responsible for the slaying, guarantees against a recurrence of such incidents and return on the slain sentry's body, arms, equipment and two horses.

Japan placed the scene of the slaying in Manchoukuo, 200 meters from the border. It charged the Soviet cavalrymen with firing on a Japanese patrol, which was said to have returned the fire only after the Russians ignored a command to withdraw.

The fallen Russian was buried on Manchoukuo soil, Japanese officials reported, and his equipment and horses were confiscated by the Japanese patrol.

The boundary between Siberia and eastern Manchoukuo has been the scene of several disputes in the last year, partly because the Japanese and Russians disagree as to the exact location of the border.

The creation of such a buffer state, the slogan "Hopei for the Hopeless" revived memories of propaganda in the Japanese press in 1931 and 1932 picturing a demand by Manchuria's 30,000,000 inhabitants for separation from China.

Chapter 15.
Zoe, absorbed in the mirror of her compact, an expensive and lovely trifle, did not catch sight of Gibbs Larkin for another minute.

When she did, she took it "like a little soldier," John Kaye said later. Her color came up. The blush of a gasp rose to her lips and was instantaneously suppressed. Gibbs had followed the tall, snooty young woman in black to a table at the very edge of the pool. He was plainly absorbed in the conversation. The young woman had the candidly revealed figure of a show girl. Her black hair, growing in a bold widow's peak, was drawn demurely back from a white forehead. Jewels dangled from her ears and her bare arms were gleaming with narrow bracelets.

Zoe stared. Quite frankly and childishly she stared, as if in a horrid fascination. Gibbs' sleek head bent toward his companion's; he hung as if enraptured, on her every word.

Katharine wanted to turn her eyes away. The naked misery in Zoe's face was terrible. John must have heard something. He must have known, or at least believed, that Gibbs could be found here! How extraordinary was this quiet man with the easy voice and the suave surgeon's hands! She marveled at him.

A waiter came up and John said something to him in a low voice and he went away.

Zoe said, "I think I must be getting back."

That was all. There was dignity in her bearing, and pride, too.

"Just as you say," said John. "You see it once and you've seen it all."

Gibbs, with his back turned, was somehow made aware of the attention of the little group. Perhaps the young woman in the extravagantly cut black dress had told him that three people at a nearby table were gazing at him.

He whirled his rather heavy body pivoting at the waist. His eyes met Zoe's. There was a sickening moment in which Katharine felt the utter folly and uselessness of attempting further conversation. Zoe had risen to her feet and John with her. In mid-flight Gibbs met her.

"Hello, hello!" But you could see the discomfort behind that insouciant pose.

Zoe did not answer. She was, thought Katharine, a little like a doe caught in a thicket—they had seen one last fall in the mountains. Zoe's eyes had the same stricken look.

"Well, who would have thought of finding you here?" Gibbs breezed on, determined to brazen the thing out.

Hist! A G-Man in Disguise

thrust it aside and flung herself across the taffeta coverlet, sobbing. "I wish I were dead!"

"No, you don't. What a silly thing to say!" But Katharine felt the hopelessness, the utter futility of any argument.

Zoe sat up, rubbing her eyes with a childish gesture. "But I do!" Oh, you don't know—"

She burst into loud weeping again, face downward on the coverlet.

"I was going to marry him," she sobbed. "He said he hadn't seen her for months—"

"That girl in Swamscott?"

Zoe raised a streaked and distorted face. "No, no, of course not! She didn't really matter. She was just—nothing at all! But the girl we saw tonight—" Zoe clenched her hands into fists. "I hate her," she grated. "I'd like to tear her into bits!"

"Do you know who she is?"

"Of course I do. D'you mean to say you don't? What a little white lily you are!"

Katharine flushed.

"Oh, I'm sorry," Zoe said hurriedly. "I didn't mean to be so nasty. But, oh, if you knew what I've been through! I don't care what happens to me now—"

She ground her fists into her eyes.

"She's a singer," she went on after a moment. "Cussy Malotte. Surely you've heard of her—"

Katharine remembered now. The girl who was supposed to have had a gangster lover, the girl Gibbs had known last year.

"Yes, I remember now."

"Well, I knew about her," Zoe said between sobs. "I thought it was—just one of those things. I thought she was an older woman—never fading, all that. But now I've seen her! Why, she's young! She's beautiful in a horrible way. And did you see the way she looked at her? Ahhh—"

Zoe's sob rose almost to a shriek.

"Flush, flush! You don't want the maids to hear you," said Katharine, distracted at this exhibition of undisciplined suffering.

"I don't care who hears," Zoe cried fiercely. "It's all right for you. You're so calm and cool; you've never known what it is to feel this way—to hate someone. You've never even been in love."

"Ah, haven't I?" thought Kaye bitterly. Aloud she said nothing.

Zoe flung herself about wildly.

"I'll kill myself! That will make him sorry for the way he's treated me."

(To be continued.)

WAYS TO GET AROUND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH ORDER DRAFTED

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Out of discussion stirred by the communications commission's order against interlocking directorates in the telephone and telegraph business, these possibilities emerged today:

1. Some observers predicted that the commission's power to prevent an executive from serving more than one company would be challenged in the courts.

2. A remark some time ago by David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America Communications, was construed as an indication that some affected companies might change the status of their subsidiaries and operate them hereafter merely as departments of the parent organizations.

3. Election of new officers and directors to some of the posts now held by leaders in the industry was described in informal quarters as another possible result.

By a vote of 5 to 2, the commission yesterday ordered ten officers and directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the International Telephone and Telegraph company, the Western Union Telegraph company, the Radio Corporation of America Communications, and subsidiary organizations to divest themselves by August 9 of official connections with more than one of these companies.

Sarnoff, who now is president and a director of Radio Corporation of America Communications and the Radio-Marine Corporation of America, testified during commission hearings last February. Under questioning by Commissioner Stewart he contended the two companies actually were only departments of the Radio Corporation of America.

"I think the natural thing to do, if the commission finds against interlocking directorates or denical directorates, would be to go back to the same system we had before and have the two operations in one company," he said at the hearing.

UNDERSTUDY?
CHICAGO, (AP)—Dr. Harry L. Pevsner, as a dentist, thought it was his job to do the extracting. But Glen Lint, 17, decided it would be better to trade teeth for gold. When the amount of gold "extracted" from his supplies during the youth's visits totaled $150, Dr. Pevsner went to police. Glen yesterday was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

President Acts To Save Utility Bill In Senate

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—Amendments by Senator Dieterich (D-Ill) to "take the death sentence" out of the bill to abolish public utility holding companies were met in the senate today by a message from President Roosevelt declaring such a move was "contrary to my wishes."

The brief pencilled memorandum of the president was read into the record by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), in charge of the bill, in an effort to beat off the proposal of Dieterich to strike out entirely the sections providing for elimination in five to seven years of all public utility holding companies deemed "unessential" to the utility business.

"A vote for the Dieterich amendments in a vote to kill the bill," Senator Wheeler shouted to the senate, adding it is a "vote for the power lobbyists in the galleries."

From scowling Senator Dieterich, however, came the assertion that the bill was intended to nationalize the public utility industry.

GARDEN

cultivate the gorgeous mimosa—and she has. Mrs. Pool is the possessor of two youthful mimosa trees. The mimosa, though wonderfully adapted to the Texas climate and one of the most beautiful trees in the world is very rare in Texas. Mrs. Pool has raised two from the size of fountain pens to their present height of 15 feet. The blooms will be soft and pendant, so numerous as to almost hide the trunk of the tree; their color is light rose, with a shading of yellow. Mrs. Pool describes the tree as very hardy, able to stand extended periods of drought and yet capable of flourishing under watering. Temperatures as low as 22 degrees below zero are not sufficient to kill them. The mimosa stays in bloom between two and three months each year. They may be grown either from seed or half matured wood.

Mrs. Pool's garden is lovely even in a quiet evening. Then there is a woody smell reminiscent of swamps, and there are scores of humming birds sucking at the honeysuckle, the larkspur, the roses.

In her front yard, one may see some of the flowers and trees and shrubs already named and in addition, dwarf petunias, pinks, polyanthus roses, sweet alyssum, shasta daisies.

Other flowers in the back yard include peonies, chrysanthemums, lobelia, petunias, asters, poppies, blue morning glory vines, anemones, pansies (under a rose trellis), sweet peas (in their proper season), verbena, columbines, geraniums, coleus, dahlias, sweet williams, Dianthus, shasta daisies, summer chrysanthemums, pinks, calendulas, portulaca, gladiolas, iris.

The rock garden has been made lovely with sedums and numerous rock plants. Near it is a miniature lighthouse made of mauve stone, and in the pool the fishes seem to swim to the surface now and then and stick their noses out of the water to inhale the fragrance of beauty.

Aspens by Sharp.

There is a quaking aspen tree in the back yard, which some day may be like the ones Sharp of Taos has immortalized in oils on canvas. In her living room, occupying a prominent place on the wall is a canvas by Sharp, on which are painted the feathery, yellow aspens. This painting is valuable because it was painted by one of the leading landscape painters of America. There is another but smaller canvas by Sharp on Mrs. Pool's walls; it is a small Hawaiian landscape. Persons who possess paintings by Sharp and beautiful gardens are indeed lucky, or shall one say, "wise?"

Grass has not been mentioned yet. Grass which Walt Whitman said was a handkerchief dropped by God with His name embroidered somewhere in the corner. Yes, there is a smooth velvety, green grass between walks of colored stones, in both the front and back yards. One might think that the garden is crowded, but it is not; it actually seems spacious but that is because it is so well-arranged.

MARKET BRIEFS

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Share prices scaled many new 1935 peaks in a broad advance in the stock exchange today.

After a midday advance centering in industrial specialties, rails took the lead in the last hour. Gains of fractions to more than 2 points were numerous at the finish, and the closing was strong. Sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Bearishness ruled the grain pits today and prices moved fractionally lower in a dull market.

Many traders refused to believe the domestic winter wheat crop would turn out as small as the 441,000,000 bushels production forecast in the official government report released yesterday. As a result, the official estimate, considered bullish because it was well below trade expectations, fell flat as a market influence although there was an opening price bulge.

Wheat closed unchanged to 7/8 cents below the previous finish, July 83 1/2-3/4, and corn was unchanged to 1/8 off, July 81 1/2-3/4. Oats lost 1/8, rye 1/8 and barley was unchanged. Provisions were steady to firm.

all Americans," he said, "regardless of party affiliations."

Among the republican dignitaries in the crowd were Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war, who sat with the delegation from Oklahoma, his native state.

George F. Getz, of Chicago, treasurer of the republican national committee, was on the speakers' platform, as were R. B. Greager, national republican committeeman from Texas; Sam R. McKelvie of Nebraska, a member of the Hoover farm board, and Herbert K. Hyde, former U. S. district attorney at Oklahoma City.

Henry F. Fletcher, chairman of the republican national committee, today sent a telegram of greetings to the grass roots conference declaring that their meeting marks the beginning of "an aggressive fight" that will "culminate in a republican victory in 1936."

PICTURES RECORD TRAGEDY AS TORRENT DOOMS COUPLE

(Copyright by the Pathe Newsreel.)

FACING APPROACHING DEATH calmly this man and woman stood atop their stalled auto in flood-swollen Fountain creek at Colorado Springs, as hundreds grouped at points of safety back from the torrent watched in horror, praying for a miraculous rescue. Poised on the barn roof across from the couple a swimmer weighed his chance of leaping into the roaring stream to attempt a rescue.

(Copyright by the Pathe Newsreel.)

THE FLOOD CREEPT HIGHER, but no plea came from Helen Carver and Orville Neil. They dropped to their knees for steadier positions as the auto was turned end for end by the swift, mounting current. The swimmer on the barn had seen the futility of a rescue plunge. Debris and rising water forced spectators from the foreground. A few moments later the two victims were swept to their death.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

To Light Park.
City commissioners, in regular session last night, authorized City Manager C. L. Stine to ask for bids for the lighting of Central park. Four 1,000-watt floodlights will be installed at the present time. More lights may be added later, it was decided. Numerous bills were passed and other matters discussed.

Supt. Fisher Operated On.
R. B. Fisher, superintendent of Pampa schools, underwent a tonsillectomy at Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

Water Line Blown.
City water works employees will blow out the water line leading to the wading pool in Central park tomorrow. City Manager C. L. Stine announced this morning. Water entering the pool has been a rust color, due to the pipes being the lowest in the city. The pipes will be blown out until the water becomes clear.

Announce New Daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. P. T. McNamara announce the arrival of a daughter, born Friday at Worley hospital. She has been named Norma Jean. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Relief Clients Must Register.
Registration of relief clients is progressing slowly at the National Re-Employment Service office in the basement of the city hall. Persons on relief rolls apparently fail to realize that unless they register, they will not be eligible for public works jobs in the future. There is only a limited time in which to register. The office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Gloria Jeanne Webb.
Rev. and Mrs. Lance Webb have named their new daughter, born Sunday at Pampa-Jarratt hospital, Gloria Jeanne Webb.

Mrs. J. E. Patterson underwent an operation at Worley hospital yesterday. Her condition today was satisfactory.

Virginia Nelson was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

Mrs. Arvis Talley left Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning after undergoing a minor operation.

A. E. Shaw was dismissed from Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

L. S. Burnett was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

bench across from Urschel and E. E. Kirkpatrick, who paid the Urschel ransom.

Both Urschel and Kirkpatrick leaned forward in their seats and followed closely all the proceedings.

The government is expected to call a number of witnesses to lay the foundation of the alleged conspiracy before summoning Urschel to tell of his abduction.

He will testify today, however, said W. C. Lewis, district attorney. Kirkpatrick also is expected to testify he paid the $300,000 ransom to members of the kidnap gang in Kansas City.

In quick succession the government called six other Western Union employees to prove its contention the alleged abductors of Urschel conveyed a plot to kidnap him several weeks prior to the day he was taken from his palatial Oklahoma City home.

One from Stratford

All of the witnesses made routine identifications of telegrams. The government did not disclose to the jury the wording of the telegrams.

The six Western Union employees were J. H. Wallace, Paradise, Texas; R. T. Honeycutt, Stratford, Texas; E. F. Grubb, Decatur, Texas; W. L. Tommsley, Dallas; Ben Reed, Bridgeport, Texas; F. C. Hartman, Minneapolis.

COURT RECORD

Non-jury matters were being cared for by Judge W. R. Ewing in 31st district court. Suits set for today were either settled out of court or postponed by agreement. A suit started yesterday was set back by agreement.

The jury panel was excused yesterday afternoon until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock when several civil suits will be on call.

The grand jury is in session. No indictments have been returned since deliberation was resumed yesterday morning.

Bond was set at $750 for George Bishop after he had been arraigned in justice court and bound over for investigation by the grand jury on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

Bishop had previously been fined $75 and costs, a total of $92.50, on an intoxication charge in Justice E. F. Young's court. An appeal was filed by Mr. Bishop.

"Camels don't get your Wind!"

FAMOUS ATHLETES SAY

A few of the famous athletes who approve of Camel's mildness

BASEBALL: Dizzy Dean; Lou Gehrig; Melvin Ott; Harold Schumacher; Guy Bush.

TENNIS: Ellsworth Vines, Jr.; George M. Lott, Jr.; William T. Tilden, II; Lester R. Stofen; Bruce Barnes.

GOLF: Gene Sarazen; Craig Wood; Tommy Armour; Willie Macfarlane; Helen Hicks; Denny Shute.

TRACK AND FIELD: Jim Bausch; George Barker; Leo Sexton.

SWIMMING: Helene Madison; Stubby Kruger; Josephine McKim; Susan Vilas.

DIVING: Harold ("Dutch") Smith; Georgia Coleman; Pete Desjardins; Sam Howard.

WINTER SPORTS: Raymond Stevens; Jack Shea; Irving Jaffee; Bill Cook; Paul Thompson.

● "Let's have a Camel," says Mel Ott, heavy-hitting Giant outfielder, to Harold Schumacher, ace pitcher. They agree that Camels have real mildness. Mel says: "I smoke all I want, yet keep in good condition. Camels are so mild, they never get my wind or bother my nerves." And Hal adds: "To my mind that settles it! Camel is the cigarette with real mildness. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!" ● In baseball, and in all the strenuous sports, leading athletes cite the fact that Camels are mild. And to this impressive evidence of Camel's mildness is added the experience of people in every walk of life who wish to smoke freely and keep fit.

KEEPING FIT IS JUST AS IMPORTANT TO ME AS TO STAR ATHLETES. CAMELS ARE MILD—NEVER JANGLE MY NERVES!

I LIKE TO KEEP IN TOP CONDITION, SO I SMOKE CAMELS, TOO. I SMOKE A LOT. CAMELS DON'T GET MY WIND OR RUFFLE MY NERVES.

BUSINESS EXECUTIVE—E. W. Watson

BUSINESS GIRL—Florence Young

So Mild! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

I PICKED CAMELS LONG AGO. THEY ARE MILD, WITH A FLAVOR THAT SETS THEM APART. NO MATTER HOW MANY I SMOKE, THEY NEVER IRRITATE MY THROAT.

I NEED TO KEEP IN 'CONDITION', AND I SMOKE CAMELS, TOO. THEY TASTE BETTER—AND WHEN I AM TIRED I GET A 'LIFT' WITH A CAMEL!
