CONNECTION AT TACOMA APPEARS TO BE IN DOUBT

ST. PAUL, June 3. (AP)—Volney Davis, 33, considered by police one of the most dangerous members of the Barker-Karpis gang, pleaded guilty here today to a part in the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker.

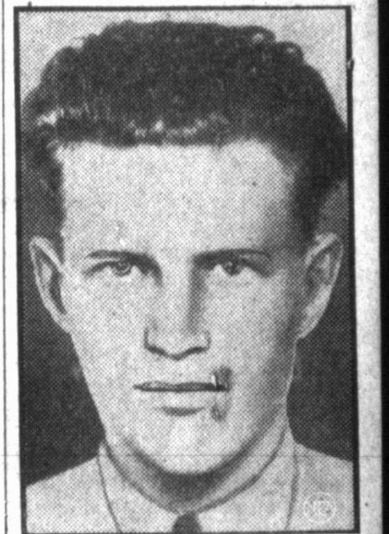

Davis formally admitted his guilt a few hours after he had been brought to the twin cities by plane, under a heavy guard of special agents of the U. S. Department of Justice.

His capture—he was seized Saturday in Chicago—had been announced only a few minutes before Davis came into court.

Davis was arraigned before Federal Judge M. M. Joyce, in the same federal courtroom where one of Davis' chiefs, Arthur (Doc) Baker, was convicted a few weeks ago of engineering the Bremer kidnaping. Baker received a life sentence.

When the judge read the Bremer case indictment, which charged Davis with writing the ransom notes while the banker was prisoner, Davis said quietly:

"Guilty." Davis' capture by federal agents in Chicago, where he walked into a carefully laid trap and found himself surrounded by seven special agents, leaves only one important member of the Barker-Karpis gang at large—Alvin "Bo" Karpis, proprietor of the band and unofficial "Public Enemy No. 1."

TACOMA, Wash., June 3. (AP)—Department of justice agents distributing circulars describing the 20,000 bank notes which bought freedom for nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser declined to comment today whether the Chicago arrest of the gangster Volney Davis was linked with the Tacoma kidnaping.

Davis, an Al Karpis gangster who was taken to St. Paul today where he is wanted for the $200,000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping, has been mentioned frequently in connection with the local snatch. He was identified tentatively last week as having been here the day George was kidnaped for $200,000 ransom.

Chained and heavily guarded, Davis was taken today by airplane and automobile from Chicago to St. Paul.

Federal agents here said Davis was not being brought here. This led to the theory he will be held in St. Paul and if he is connected with the Weyerhaeuser snatch, Tacoma witnesses will be taken east to face him.

Government agents disclaimed knowledge of the authenticity of a Seattle newspaper article today which said a mysterious automobile found in Seattle Saturday after George was freed, belonged to George's Uncle F. Rodman Titcomb. They also denied knowledge of the newspaper's report that Titcomb was the intermediary who delivered the ransom to the kidnapers; that the transaction was in the woods near Elme, about six miles west of here, and that the kidnapers set Titcomb afire by stealing his car.

The investigators refused to reveal who paid the Weyerhaeuser ransom and when or where it was paid. George was quoted Saturday as saying Titcomb paid it. It was not revealed how he knew.

On motion of George F. Sullivan, United States district attorney, sentencing of Davis was deferred, without a definite date being set for it. It was indicated that sentence might be passed Friday or Saturday.

Long Questioning
Federal agents in Chicago had questioned Davis since Saturday, presumably hoping he would reveal the hiding place of Karpis. His action in arraigning him on the Bremer charge was taken as indicating they did not believe he had any part in the kidnaping of little

R. B. HAYNES in Miami Chief—Hundreds of children who have been working hard in school for the past nine months are now turned loose on the streets, and the money we have spent teaching them to be more bigger and better men, will be lost if we let them loaf on the streets all summer. PRESIDENT IS WOUNDED
MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, June 3. (AP)—Wounded slightly in the leg by an assassin, President Gabriel Terra was little the worse for the experience today, and President Getulio Vargas of Brazil had the assassin's bullet as a souvenir. A man identified by authorities as Bernardo Garcia, a former nationalist deputy, fired upon the president today as he was entering the buffet yesterday at the Maropas race course.

PAGEANT FRIDAY TO BE HIGH POINT OF CELEBRATION

One of the historical floats in the Pre-Centennial parade will give spectators some idea of what the final scene in the pageant to be staged Friday night will be. The title of the float is, "Indian Attack on Government Wagon Train in Wheeler County in the '70s.'" The mural, painted by Tom Simms, will appear on the sides of a "covered wagon," except instead of a wagon sheet, the covering is red paper.

The final scene of the pageant will be an almost exact duplicate of the attack on the government wagons in Wheeler county, except occupants of the wagons will be white settlers, including men, women, and children, instead of soldiers.

Costumes for the 75 members of the cast were shipped today from Kansas City. The 26 Indians, accompanied by Col. Zack Miller of 101 ranch fame, will leave Ponca City Wednesday night; they will appear in the parades Thursday and Friday and in the pageant Friday night. Rehearsal will be held tonight of the seven scenes in the pageant at Harvesters park, if weather permits. Otherwise, the rehearsal will be held in the high school gym, beginning at 8 o'clock. Every member of the cast is urged to be present.

Thousands of rounds of ammunition will be fired from rifles, shotguns and pistols in the attack on an Indian wagon train. Many horses, wagons, and riders will be used. George Wilson, Sioux Indian baritone, will sing an Indian folk song. The Indians will perform numerous dances. There will be a battle between the Indians and soldiers after the former have devastated the members of the wagon train.

Proceeding the Indian attack will be five episodes in the history of Texas in 1835, centering around Stephen Austin, the first settler between Texas and Mexicans, and the sixth act will deal with a visit of Billy the Kid to Tascosa in which the Kid breaks up a dance in the saloon of Rowdy Kate in 1878.

Publisher Tells Of Kidnap Try

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 3. (AP)—Royal Daniel, editor and publisher of the Quitman (Ga.) Free Press, reported to police he was kidnaped last night but outwitted his abductors by turning in a false fire alarm.

The well-to-do publisher said he was held up by two men as he left his office in Quitman and started to ride in the back seat, he said, and covered him with a pistol while the other sat beside him and directed him to drive to Valdosta.

Just before they reached Valdosta, Daniel said, the kidnapers ordered him to write a postcard to the Quitman postmaster telling him to watch for a ransom note. No amount was mentioned but the publisher said the men threatened him with death if he failed to meet their demands.

Driving through Valdosta by a side street, Daniel saw a mail boy with a fire alarm beside it. He proposed that he be permitted to mail the card he had written. The kidnapers agreed but warned him he was covered by the pistol.

Instead of mailing the card, Daniel pulled the fire alarm and ran. His abductors escaped in the confusion which followed the arrival of the fire engines.

Holiness Preacher Defies Poison of Copperhead Snake

ST. CHARLES, Va., June 3. (AP)—Recovering from the poisonous bite of a copperhead snake, received in a "demonstration of faith," and unharmed by three large rattlers he handled before a highly emotional congregation, the Rev. George Hensley, Holiness preacher, today reiterated his claim of immunity to reptile venom through "faith in God."

A crowd estimated at 1,000 which swarmed in a grove of cedar trees at Ramsey last night watched the revivalist and five others handle rattlesnakes imported from the mountains of Kentucky.

The minister ascribed the failure of the snakes to bite to his prayers. Hensley's left hand was still somewhat swollen from the bite of the copperhead, which he permitted to bite him Thursday night in his improvised altar in a skating rink.

DUST MINGLES WITH FLOODS IN SOUTHWEST

VISIBILITY IS VERY LOW AT LUMAR AND GUYMOR

OXFORD, Neb., June 3. (AP)—Harassed by fear of new floods, western great plains area today counted its dead week at 120, fixed its property damage at six states at more than $12,000,000 and plunged into the work of reconstruction.

SPRINGFIELD, Colo., June 3. (AP)—The dust of another "black blizzard" settled down in southeastern Colorado, southwestern Kansas, and the Oklahoma Panhandle today while floods swept the lowlands less than 200 miles away.

Two dust storms struck here at the same time, one from the south and the other from the north last night. The southerly gale ceased and later the wind shifted to the northeast, from whence sand and silt blew early today.

At Guymon, Okla., one could scarcely see across the street at midnight, in spite of rain that fell Saturday. Water from that rainfall was standing in ditches as the duster howled past.

Crops in Danger.
Visibility was reduced to 100 yards at Lamar, Colo.
If the dust gales continue, feed and broom corn crops will be endangered because of lifted soil covering up the seed. The crops were planted after rains had broken the grip of dust storms a month ago.

OXFORD, Neb., June 3. (AP)—While the raging torrents of the Republican river swept onward into Kansas, leaving behind nearly 100 dead and thousands homeless, new flood worries assailed western Nebraska today as the North and South Platte rivers plunged toward a fearsome junction.

Huge Seaplane Is Kept Ready for Hop to Honolulu

ALAMEDA, Calif., June 3. (AP)—Awaiting instructions for a possible hop to Honolulu and Midway Island, Pan-American Airways' big clipper seaplane continued on "test" flight here today.

Allways' officials here said no instructions concerning the flight over the Pacific ocean had been received. Previous reports were that the seaplane might take off this week.
Midway Island is one of the several stations selected for Pan-Am's projected trans-Pacific service. The clipper seaplane recently flew to Hawaii and back.

MAN HANGS SELF
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 3. (AP)—The body of Charles S. Yarbough, 45, of Whitney, Tex., was found hanging from a tree in the soldiers' home picnic grounds here yesterday. A bed sheet had been used for a rope. Yarbough served in the 101st central Postal Directory in World War. He was blind, and had been despondent recently, associates said.

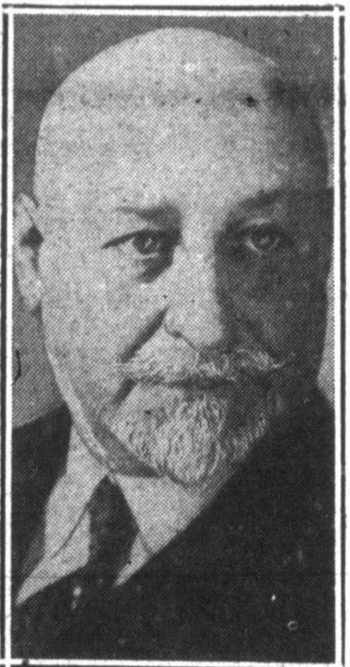

'MEANEST' HORSES BEING BROUGHT TO LOCAL RODEO

A dozen men somewhere in the "Indian Territory" today were bringing 14 "meanest" horses to Pampa for the C. N. Brewer rodeo which will be a 2-day attraction of the Pre-Centennial Pioneers Roundup and Panhandle Oil Show, Thursday and Friday.

A dozen men—but six of them were struggling with Nigger Boy whose wickedness is said to be blacker and more vindictive than the others. Nigger Boy has a reputation for Cheyenne to Pendleton. He has caused much embarrassment to "champion" broncbusters. He was so mean they threw him out of the Fort Worth Livestock show rodeo, and Madison Square Garden turned him down flat when his owner filed him for entrance in the world's premier rodeo. Yep, six men are bringing Nigger Boy to Pampa. He's as black as the ace of spades and just as wicked as he is black, says Brewer.

Here are excerpts from some of his press clippings:
"Nigger Boy, famous bucking horse, added another scalp to his belt yesterday morning when he dumped Leo Murray, champion bronc buster of the Fort Worth Fat

Employment of Walter J. Daugherty of Borger as manager of the new Pampa Credit association has been announced by the board of directors.

Mr. Daugherty will arrive June 15 to launch the newly formed credit body. He has been manager of the Borger association, but felt that opportunities were greater here. He also has a number of old friends in this city, who say that he is experienced and expert in credit work.

Travis Lively, president of the new association here, said today that the charter membership list was still open and was growing very satisfactorily.

NO BLACK WIDOW

WORCESTER, Mass., June 3. (AP)—A black widow spider was shot today of the weird role it played in what they described as a suicide attempt by a 26-year-old restaurateur. Physicians said an overdose of a narcotic unwittingly supplied by a student nurse—not the deadly sting of the spider—had brought Stephen Liarsky close to death.

EX-STUDENTS ELECT DENTON, June 3. (AP)—Mrs. Arch Dawson of Wichita Falls today had been re-elected first vice president of the Ex-Students association of Texas State College for Women (CIA). Mrs. Alice Ray Miller of Fort Worth was re-elected recording secretary. Teresa Abney Charlton of San Antonio is state president. A plan to finance a student union building was adopted.

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—With the Atlantic blue ribbon her prize on her maiden voyage, the giant new French liner, Normandie, steamed into the harbor today amid a wild acclaim by diving airplanes and the blasts of sirens of hundreds of welcoming craft.
Her voyage was the fastest ever made by a trans-Atlantic liner. Averaging, officially, 29.68 knots from Southampton to Ambrose Lightship, the Normandie surpassed the 28.92 knot record set by the Italian liner, Rex, on a run from Gibraltar.

The liner reached Ambrose Light in the outer harbor at 10.01 a. m. EST, but will have to remain for several hours for a flood tide before she can sail past Gotham's skyscrapers to her new Hudson dock.
Although the gleaming vessel anchored at quarantine at 11.03 p. m. (EST), she was not due to dock until between 2 and 2:30 p. m. (EST). Besides the mythical blue ribbon—won for the fastest time across the ocean—Normandie set these records:
Fastest northern lane crossing. Her time from Southampton of 107 hours, 33 minutes beat the best mark of the North German Lloyd Bremen, 110 hours, 27 minutes, by almost three hours.
Fastest day's run. During 25 hours from noon Saturday to noon yesterday the Normandie covered 748 miles at an average of 29.92, beating the Rex's high mark of 736 miles in a day.

CAR WRECKED WHEN HIT BY TRAIN SUNDAY

A. E. HICKMAN, DRIVER, BADLY HURT BUT WILL LIVE

Four persons miraculously escaped death yesterday morning when their car was struck by a Santa Fe freight train on the Cuyler street crossing. The car was dragged a considerable distance but did not overturn.

A. H. Hickman, driver of the car, was taken to Worley hospital, where it was learned he had received a fractured pelvis, dislocated hip, and cuts and bruises. His condition this morning was favorable. Mrs. Hickman, riding beside her husband, was not injured.

Also in the car were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner. Both received cuts and bruises but their injuries were not serious. Mr. Turner was thrown from the car, but his clothing caught on some part of the train or on the car and he was saved from being dashed under the wheels.

Mr. Hickman, in describing the accident, said that he was driving north on Cuyler street about 2 o'clock and that he saw some box cars west of the crossing, believing they were at a standstill, he drove on the track. Suddenly the coupling of a box car crashed through the window of his car, a Ford coach, which was picked up and carried nearly half way to the station before the train was brought to a stop.

The coupling held the car upright, keeping it from being ground beneath the wheels. The left side of the car was badly damaged.
Santa Fe officials said the engine had been taking water west of the crossing and was being back to the rest of the train which had been uncoupled so that the crossing would not be blocked.

Municipal Band To Practice at School Tonight

All members of bands who will play in the municipal band during the Pre-Centennial Pioneers Roundup and Panhandle Oil Show are requested by Winston Savage, director, to meet for practice tonight in the red building on the high school campus. All members of the high school band, the American Legion band and other musical organizations are invited to the rehearsal.
Pampa will be represented in the celebration with two bands, the municipal band directed by Mr. Savage, and the combined kid bands directed by Walter Hurst. The latter consists of about 75 musicians.

Bands from about a dozen Panhandle towns will play in the parades at the baseball games, rodeo, wrestling matches, pageant, pioneer roundups and at Governor Allred's address.

AUSTIN, June 3. (AP)—Virtually all state departments were closed today in commemoration of Jefferson Davis' birthday. Governor Allred was reported out of the city.

FAULKNER IS HEAD OF NEW GRAND JURY

Nine-Week Term of District Court Opens

Siler Faulkner was appointed foreman of the grand jury after Judge W. F. Ewing in opening a nine-week session of 31st district court, charged the 12 men to investigate all alleged violations of the law in Gray county and to return indictments when warranted by evidence.

The other 11 members of the jury are C. E. Lancaster, Joe Looper, L. L. Palmer, L. J. Ward, W. C. Carpenter, Roy Bourland, Howard Neath, Ollie Deak, W. I. Gilbert, and John Shannon.

Judge Ewing dealt with all law violations possible in the criminal code, but emphasized enforcement of gambling and liquor laws. "If I seem to be laying more stress on the liquor laws," he said, "it is because I hear so much about it."
He mentioned Pampa has a reputation in nearby counties for maintaining many open saloons. "I hear the law is flagrantly violated, and I have been hearing that for a long time." He urged the jurors to investigate all alleged violations of gambling laws, and especially slot machines.

The jury was instructed to deal with charges against prisoners in the county jail first.

NOTICE TO VETERANS

All members of Pampa post 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars, have been requested by Commander Hamp Waddell to attend funeral services for Comrade E. J. "Mickey" McGouldrick in the Holy Souls church at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mr. McGouldrick died this morning in a local hospital.

THREE MEN DIE IN VEHICLE CRASH

ROYSE CITY, Rockwall County, June 3. (AP)—Three men were killed in an automobile collision on the highway near here late last night. The dead were:
Roy Farrar, 35, electrician.
Bill Lindsay, 30, garageman.
Joe Adams, 24, garageman.

All three lived at Royse City. The three men killed and a fourth, Waylon Houser, 23, who escaped with minor cuts and bruises, were riding in a small sedan (Chevrolet) when it collided head-on with a meat company truck. Farrar was driving.

CARDINALS IN SECOND PLACE IN NATIONAL

GIANTS ARE DEFEATED AFTER WINNING 7 GAMES

By The Associated Press. The same sort of battle that marked the close of the 1934 National league season is on again with the Cardinals coming up with a tremendous rush to threaten the leadership of the New York Giants. Only so far the Giants haven't shown any signs of the "crack" that cost them the pennant last September.

Buried in fourth place almost from the start, the Cards tuned up at the end of their eastern tour then opened up the machine to top speed last week to pile up six straight victories and move into second place.

Today they had cut the Giants lead to 3 1/2 games as they won No. 6, 6 to 5, over the Clubs while the New Yorkers came to the end of their seven-game winning string with a 2-0 shutout at the hands of the Braves.

Trailing 5-1 going into the last inning, the Cards pounded their former teammate, Tex Carleton out to score one run and leave the corners clamored when Larry French took the hill. Jimmy Collins belted French's second pitch for a homer.

The Cubs, beaten in 13 of their last 21 games, sang into a virtual tie with Brooklyn, holding fourth by one percentage point and trailing Pittsburgh by two games after the Pirates whitewashed Cincinnati 8 to 0 on Jim Weaver's five-hit flinging.

The Giants' hitters couldn't fathom the offerings of Bob Smith while the Braves, aroused by Babe Ruth's announcement of his intended retirement, smacked out a run off Clyde Castaman in the sixth and another on Bill Urbanski's homer in the eighth. The Phillies kept Brooklyn from moving into the first division by beating the Dodgers 7 to 5 in a three-run ninth-inning rally.

In the American league Detroit bowled over the White Sox 10 to 5 with a 14-hit attack on four pitchers while the Yanks belted six home runs, two by Bill Dickey, and trimmed the Red Sox 7 to 2. The Yankees home run total is a team best one-game job of the season and fell just one homer short of tying the major league record.

As a result, the Tigers moved into fourth place ahead of Boston while the Yanks increased their lead over Chicago to two games. The Erie Hoosiers remained in a tie game ahead of the Indians, who downed the St. Louis Browns 6 to 2 with the aid of Earl Avritt's third homer in two days and on Hal Trosky.

The Athletics moved up within a game of the sixth-place Senators by beating them 8 to 7 with a ninth-inning run after Washington had tied the count with three runs in the same frame.

By HARRY GRAYSON. NEW YORK—There is more activity behind the heavyweight scenes than in any of the training camps. When Max Baer slides through the ropes to take his best Sunday sock at James J. Braddock on June 13, a world heavyweight champion will be free to do business with whom he pleases for the first time since the large bulk of Jess Willard led the procession.

What will be the result? Will the New Tex Rickard, whom the business has been seeking since the original passed away step into the picture? There is a good chance that he will, in the person of James Nugent Crofton, millionaire Agua Caliente racing and gambling figure, brewer, and oil magnate.

Will the once so influential Madison Square Garden Corporation somehow manage to retain the grip on the heavyweight situation that it has held since it was founded by Rickard?

Will the Free Milk Fund for Babies of New York, now promoting on its own, club Baer into line through its powerful connections? Developments are certain to be interesting.

Crofton Says He Has Baer. Crofton flew from San Diego to New York, and after a three-day conference with Ancil Hoffman, manager of Baer, announced that he would return on June 13 to sign Baer to fight Joe Louis.

Plainly, Crofton agrees with practically everybody else that Braddock has no more chance than the St. Louis Browns.

"I have reached an understanding with Hoffman," asserted Crofton. "There will be no hitch. I'll run up more money than anybody else."

Hoffman declared that Baer would go to the highest bidder, but admitted that he would like to play ball with Crofton.

Crofton Colorful Promoter. Crofton speaks of Baer tackling Louis in September, although the young negro's handlers still insist that he will not be sent against Baer until next summer. And first, Louis has a rather large assignment in the person of Primo Camera on June 25.

There's many a slip betwixt a ring announcement and bell, but Crofton's assertion that he definitely is in the best busting business is intriguing.

Crofton would give professional boxing the promotional color it has missed since Richard led the way. The story of Jim Crofton reads like a pulp thriller. A country boy from The Dalles, Ore., he left home to join a circus.

Drifting to old Tijuana, Crofton, now only 38, saw the possibilities in gambling there, although he didn't know one card from another. Crofton became a dealer and then went to Tonapah with the gold rush. He gained control of border gambling houses. He became a power at old Tijuana—both at its track and in its gaming rooms.

Behind Baron Long and Wirt G. Bowman, Crofton built the $3,000,000 Agua Caliente layout—the American "Deauville"—and rose to its presidency.

Crofton has the money and will take a chance. Professional boxing needs someone like that.

Given Unconditional Release by Tribe President

BOSTON, June 3. (AP)—Babe Ruth and the Boston Braves have parted. Baseball's mighty slugger was made a free agent yesterday, soon after he announced he was quitting the National league team because of a dispute with Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Braves.

"I can't get along with Fuchs," the home-run slugger, Babe explained as he sang the swan song for one of the most glamorous of baseball's careers.

"I will never play another game for the Boston Braves, although I have the highest regard for my Boston teammates and their manager, Bill McKeehan, one of the finest figures the game has ever produced. Fuchs double-crossed me and I will not play for the club as long as he remains in control."

Shortly after the Babe announced his voluntary retirement, Fuchs announced that he had given him his unconditional release.

The incident may hasten the passage of complete control of the Braves into the hands of Charles F. Adams, owner of two Boston professional hockey clubs, guiding units of the $1,500,000 Suffolk Downs horse racing track in East Boston, and controlling stockholder of the National league baseball club here.

The aging and ailing home-run monarch, who was expected to lift his boots, the Braves into the big-money class, told baseball writers yesterday that he intended to petition the baseball authorities for a place on the National league retired list.

Ever since the season started, reports have raced through the major league circles, that the once mighty Babe had guessed wrong when he signed the double contract that tied him up with the Braves as a player and as second vice-president of the club.

The two contracts guaranteed him $25,000 as a player, $5000 more as club official and a percentage of the gate receipts, both for the spring training season, which broke all the Braves' financial records, and the regular campaign, the most profitable in the club's history.

Some time ago, it became known in baseball circles, the Babe became irritated because he had been denied a share of the club's record spring training season profits. This disagreement, it is understood, caused the breach between him and Fuchs.

But Ruth cited a different reason for quitting baseball.

"I called Fuchs Saturday night," the Babe said, "and I told him I was going to New York to attend the ceremonies held in honor of the French liner Normandie's arrival. Fuchs demanded that I report in uniform for Tuesday's game."

"My knee, which I injured in Cincinnati, will not permit me to play until Thursday, at least. I see no reason why Fuchs would deny me permission to go to New York. I have all the money I need and I will not stand for such treatment."

Pacific Northwest hop growers use 20 pounds of twine, worth 35 cents a pound, for stringing each acre of vines.

Representatives of all ball clubs whether notified or not are urged to attend the meeting. The baseball situation in this section is in need of some kind of organization, it is felt. There are at least 18 ball clubs already organized and playing.

Several different plans will be presented and the managers and captains are expected to select some workable method of organization.

AN OUT FOR BROWNS

KEITH BROWN AND GRABER TO MEET AT PRINCETON JUNE 15

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—Two young men who have explored more athletic strophes than any others, Keith Brown of Yale and William Graber of Southern California, will attempt to settle their spectacular, long-standing rivalry in the all-star invitation track meet at Princeton June 15.

Both had already welcomed the bid for post-graduate competition in a meet headlined by the Cunningham-Lovelock-Bonhron-Venzke mile race, and Brown contributed a dramatic "built-up" for it Saturday at Harvard stadium by clearing the world pole vault record of 14 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

The Yale captain's farewell to the college athletic was not only a part of Graber's intercollegiate A. A. A. mark of 14 feet 11 1/2 inch, made in 1931 at Philadelphia, but also eclipsed by three quarters of an inch the world record of 14-4 1/2 set by Graber in the 1932 Olympic tryouts at Palo Alto.

Grabber was credited this spring with clearing 14-5 1/2 at Santa Barbara but it won't be submitted for world record consideration because the take-off, officials say, was found to be two inches higher than the point of measurement.

Brown helped the East carry off a bare majority of first places, eight out of 15 in the I. C. A. A. A. finals but nothing the "old guard" had to offer otherwise was sufficient to check its rout by Southern California's Trojans in the "bottle" for team honors. Dean Cromwell's boys, featuring a half-dozen sophomores, registered two of the four record performances, captured four first places and rolled up 51 points in 11 events.

The seventh Trojan victory marked the eleventh straight year that the team trophy has gone west. California was the runner-up, with 27 1/2 points, while little Bates college, of Maine, came through with 12 points, tallied by only two men, to finish third and top all the eastern teams.

SAN ANTONIO BEATS DALLAS 4 TO 3 IN 21-INNING GAME

Dallas and San Antonio staged a 21-inning battle in the Texas league cellar yesterday before the Missions eked out a 4 to 3 victory.

The game was the second longest ever played in the loop. George Murray started in the box for Dallas and was relieved in the fourteenth by Sal Glatto, who finished.

Hal Wilks opened for the Missions and twirled until removed for a pinch-hitter in the fifteenth. Earl Caldwell finished the game and got credit for the win.

A double-header was on the day's bill but the second game had to be called off because of darkness at the end of the first half of the second.

The Port Worth Cats slipped to seventh place by losing the second game of a double-header to Beaumont, 10 to 5. The Cats took the opener, 7 to 6. Vincent hit two homers for the Exporters and Robello and Grimes went the circuit for the Cats.

Position was almost jarred from top position in the loop when the flashy Bus lost a pair to the Oklahoma City Indians. Fred Stealy, veteran Indian southpaw, hurtled both games, winning the first 7 to 2 and the second, 4 to 0.

Houston and Tulsa split a double-header, the Buffs taking the opener, 8 to 3, and the Oilers winning the nightcap, 4 to 2. The second game, slated for seven innings, went nine.

Home runs—Johnson, Athletics, 12; Greenberg, Tigers, 11. Stolen bases: Almada, Red Sox, 10; Werber, Red Sox, 8. Pitching—Whitehead, White Sox, 8-0; Tamulis, Yankees, 5-0.

MANY GAMES WELL PLAYED IN THIS AREA

Coltoso, Sunoco, Shell, Sinclair-Prairie, and Hoover won ball games yesterday afternoon in this section. Three of the teams had fairly close battles but the other was a walk-away.

Sluggers Win. Behind excellent pitching, by Webber, the Sunoco Sluggers yesterday afternoon won an 8 to 3 game from the Kingsmill nine. Vermillion was behind the bat. Elmo went the route for Kingsmill with Marvin Vachler.

McAuley, Adair, and McArthur led the Sunoco attack with two runs each. Kingsmill scored one run in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Sunoco's Sluggers and the Pampa-Busby Indians will clash on the Sunoco diamond at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The two teams played a tie game last week.

Shell Wins in 10 Innings. The Shell club took to innings to win a 17 to 10 slugfest, from the Cargray team yesterday afternoon on Shell-diamond. Cargray collected 20 hits while Shell was gathering 16 safe hits.

Osman went the distance for Cargray with Heater behind the bat. Harris and Keeling divided pitching duty for Shell with Barrett catching.

Free gathered four hits and Austin and Wagner three each for Cargray. Keeling with three hits and Oltinger, Bond and Stokes with two each were in the van of the Shell attack.

Hess went five innings before being relieved by Clemmons for Coltoso. Jake Leggett was behind the bat. Harold Gregory went the route for the Indians with Moore receiving.

Coltoso got five hits and made four errors. The Indians managed for five hits and made three errors. Blanton and Bailey for the Indians hit triples and Leggett and Baldwin of Coltoso got doubles.

Sayre will invade the Coltoso fair next Sunday.

Hoover Swamps Texas Elf. Hoover won an 18 to 3 game from the Texas Elf Carbon company yesterday afternoon. Rollins was on the mound for Hoover with Dick Benton receiving. Troy hurried for the carbon black boys with James behind the bat.

Masngale homered in the first and Rollins in the eighth for Hoover. Hoover will meet Sinclair-Prairie next Sunday.

Sinclair-Prairie Wins. Scoring 10 runs in the fourth inning and the winning run in the eighth, the Sinclair-Prairie baseball team won an 11 to 10 game from Stanolind yesterday afternoon. Three costly errors by Chambers in the fourth started Sinclair-Prairie off on a rally. Pitcher West blew up and Catcher Bryant had to leave the game with a split finger, all in the fourth.

Terry finished the game and did his best to win by smashing out two home runs. Stanolind also made five double and two triples, out of their 21 base hits. Sinclair-Prairie got 12 hits, including three doubles and a triple.

Chisum went six innings for Sinclair-Prairie before being relieved by Nesselroad.

With a few breaks, the three "oldsters" and a pair of "scrubs" constituting the American Davis Cup team which sails from New York Wednesday for England and the International tennis wars, rate a 50-50 chance of wresting the trophy from Great Britain and returning it to the United States for the first time since 1927.

The five-man squad completed a two-weeks' training period at the Merion Cricket club today and broke up camp with many encouraging signs. They are in good physical condition and keen for action. On the bright side there are the fine practice performances turned in by Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, and Sidney B. Wood Jr., of New York, who are almost certain to draw the singles assignments.

Allison is slated to don double-harness for the cup series. Final decision on the lineup of the team, however, will be reserved until officials have had a chance to observe the players in the all-England and for the present tennis chiefs are planning to use him in the singles with John Van Ryn in the doubles. He's volleying with more deadly accuracy than before and has developed a thunder-bolt service.

Coltoso counted twice in the sixth on one hit. Shinski singled. Nell was safe on Bailey's error. Hale sacrificed the two players. The countess' smile seems a bit sad compared with her husband's obvious enjoyment of the pre-sailing activities.

Two Frenchmen Survive 5 Days In Desert Heat

ALGIERS, Algeria, June 3. (AP)—Two Frenchmen, rescued from a horrible death in the scorching Sahara, were recovering today in a Tamarassat hospital from the effects of an experience which cost the lives of two companions, an Englishman and an Englishwoman.

Tamarassat authorities telegraphed the governor general here that the Frenchmen, Kneebret and Chaveux, were out of danger, all suffering from the tortures of thirst and exposure to blistering heat for five days.

The survivors related that they set out on a desert expedition in a truck with Mrs. Knight, widow of an English aviator, who recently committed suicide at Agadez, French West Africa, and another British subject, a Mr. Peyton.

They left Agadez May 22 for Tamarassat.

The truck ran out of gasoline midway on the journey. The Frenchmen said they tried to persuade their British companions to remain with the vehicle until aid came, but that on the third day they started out across the desert to Ingeuzam.

Their bodies were found four miles from Ingeuzam on the fifth day, the day on which searchers rescued the Frenchmen.

Weatherboarding, old windows and frames were replaced. All outside doors were newly installed. Two rooms were torn down, a hall built, as were a front and back porch. Two pairs of steps, one blue, a corrugated-iron roof were added, and the chimney was repaired. The lower photograph shows the result.

Hat That Sun Will Beam Upon

The hat story is an exciting and colorful chapter in the summer book of fashion. Stuffed taffetas to go with suit of matching fabrics—the forward silhouette (it crowds off-the-face types out of the picture)—flower trimmings—shallow mushrooms—a profusion of sailors —uncrushables that you can tuck into the corner of a bag—these are a few of the most outstanding paragraphs in the chapter. Heavy white guipure fashions this charming semi-formal hat and collar ensemble by Lillian Callet of Paris.

Mason Endorsed By Legion Session

Plainview, June 3. (AP)—The nineteenth district American Legion and auxiliary closed the groups' first annual session here yesterday.

R. B. Nelson of Spur was named to the executive committee to succeed H. R. Mason of Lockney next October. C. B. Quante of Brownfield was named Nelson's assistant.

The convention endorsed Mason for commander in the fifth Texas division and went on record as favoring the building of a veterans hospital in the 19th congressional district.

MODERN CINDERELLA

CHICAGO—There's no golden coach or six white horses involved, but a modern Cinderella is sought. Shoe manufacturers from 34 states will combine to act as "prince charming" in the search next week when they will award a prize to the girl who qualifies by slipping her foot in a size one-half double A shoe at the manufacturers' annual style show.

MANY COLLEGE STUDENTS HERE FOR VACATIONS

SOME ARE STILL TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Joining the high school students whose vacation started last week-end, college students have been arriving during the past week for the summer holidays. This week-end saw the largest group return, and a few others are still to come.

Tom Braly, Allan Evans, and Frank Henry Cullum from Texas university, Austin, were among the week-end arrivals. Orville Heskell and Bob Woodward came in recently from Waco, where they attend Baylor university.

Florence Sue Dodson has been here several days from Stephens college, Columbia, Mo. Frances Hodge came in Friday from Texas Woman's college, Port Worth. Ann Louise Clayton is one of the Pampa students at Texas Tech, Lubbock, who has returned. Some Tech students will be in later this week.

Frances Finley is here from Oklahoma university, Norman, as is Wayne Larsh. Warren Finley left with his mother as the term there closed, on an extended vacation trip.

The large Pampa group attending West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, came in over the week-end. Marjorie Tucker and Lucille Cole planned to return to Canyon for summer terms after short visits here.

Others here from Canyon include Reed Clark, Vendell Kees, Yvonne Thomas, Iris Gillis, Anna Mae Fleisher, Josephine Lane, Margaret Beck, Lewis Cole, Mary McKamey, Minnie Olive Montgomery, Jim and Joe Pool.

Wiley Reynolds is graduating from New Mexico Military Institute this week and is expected here after commencement. Samuel Stennis, student at Colorado School of Mines, will spend six weeks in field study before he comes home for vacation.

A University of Michigan survey indicates that good students use the dictionary sparingly, figuring out word meanings themselves whenever possible.

Allred at Tomato Show to Crown Festival Queen

JACKSONVILLE, June 3 (AP)—Coronation of Miss Violet Slaton as queen of the festival by Governor James V. Allred was the feature on today's opening program of the annual National Tomato show here.

The festival, second one held in this section of extensive tomato cultivation, was planned as a climax to activities of national tomato week.

Preliminaries opened yesterday with an address by Attorney General William McCraw before a city-wide civic mass meeting.

Growers said that this year's crop in this region was estimated at barely 50 per cent normal but that high prices, prevailing since harvesting opened 10 days ago, were bringing them more than usual profit.

DUST

property damage was estimated to exceed $12,000,000.

J. M. Power of St. Louis, directing Red Cross work, said, "It will be at least a week before the full number of dead and injured is known."

Power said an incomplete but official survey by Red Cross chapters showed at least 1,000 families homeless.

Reports of heavy livestock casualties were uniform throughout the valley.

Land Is Washed.
Receding waters of the mad Republican river disclosed an ugly landscape of ravines, slime, and debris. Reconstruction efforts included disease prevention, power and communications restoration and rebuilding of water supplies.

The South Platte river flooded nine city blocks at Ogallala and the North Platte washed out some squatters homes at Scottsbluff.

Minor streams in other parts of the state left their banks. The Nebraska river flooded several hundred acres of farmland near Falls City. Meanwhile the Republican river raged through Kansas. Three men were trapped and drowned in an automobile between Clyde and Ames and another man was swept to his death from an embankment near Scandia.

Between here and Benkelman, scores of families were reunited after members were taken off house tops, islands, and trees. Heavy boats, brought overland from the Missouri river, and airplanes located marooned parties.

Red Cross Active.
Limited telephone and highway communication was restored at McCook, critical point in the western flood area.

At Cambridge, the Red Cross was feeding 350 persons.

Army engineers feared flood damage at Junction City, Kas., when the flood wall of the Republican river reaches there. Major General Heintzelman, commander of the 7th corps army area, placed troops at the disposal of Kansas officials in anticipation of trouble.

Typhoid Feared.
D'HANIS, June 3 (AP)—Relief workers sought more aid today for this flood and wind-torn village as doctors expressed fear of an outbreak of typhoid or other diseases among the stricken families.

With five persons killed and more than 200 of the town's population of approximately 500 made homeless by a 10-inch cloudburst and a twisting wind last Friday, the Red Cross and other relief workers rushed emergency aid to the village.

Trucks from the eighth corps area headquarters at Fort Sam Houston took food and medical supplies, and arrangements were made to haul water into the town from Honda.

The bodies of four Mexican children and an aged unidentified man were recovered.

Residents said they had no time to escape the torrent which swept into the town from a junction of two creeks eight miles north of here.

SERIOUS BORDER CLASH
ROME, June 3 (AP)—The Italian ministry of foreign affairs was informed today of a new, serious frontier incident between Italy and Ethiopia on the Somali border.

The dispatch to the ministry gave no details but it was understood in official quarters that there were dead and wounded on both sides, although the incident was less grave than that in which 30 Italians and more than 100 Ethiopians were killed last December.

Color Inspires Soviet Savants.
MOSCOW (AP)—Bright colors have been selected for the decorative effects of the huge Institute of Experimental Medicine to be built here, on the water that they inspire optimism and courage. The institute buildings are to spread over 1,150 acres, will have living quarters for 12,000 people and space for hundreds of laboratories.

Scanning New Books

A book which, at last, makes the English horse mania creditable to Americans and others with only a normal amount of interest in the hooved mammals, has arrived from abroad. It is called "National Velvet" (Morrow) and it is by Enid Bagnold.

Enid Bagnold is, in her non-literary moments, the wife of Sir Rodrick Jones, chairman of the board and general manager of Reuters, the British news services. She is also considered one of the most independent of English women and a rewarding conversationalist.

Her book is the story of a little girl, daughter of a butcher (but on the sensitive side who loves horses to the verge of madness. Finally she wins a piebald pony in a raffle, and falls heir to a string of horses in addition. And in the end she breaks all the rules and wins the Grand National with her beloved piebald.

The novel itself is considerably more subtle than that, however. It is not all horses huffing and puffing over the countryside; it is, in fact, a beautifully wrought portrait of a charming child which has for background equally well drawn portraits of the child's family and their friends. And Lady Jones has a sense of humor.

AMONG AUTHORS AND BOOKS.
By Mac Stevens Isaacs, Canadian, Texas.

NEW MEXICO IN VERSE, compiled by John L. McCarty, editor of the Dalhart Texan and William Felner, advertising manager for the Tucumcari American, is just off the press. Both of these newspaper men are poets who are staunch defenders of the southwest and who sing of the beauty of the natural scenery to be found there.

The foreword was written by Mr. McCarty February, 1935. The majority of the poems used in this volume had previously been published in the magazine, "New Mexico." Book has board covers and sells for a dollar, with ten cents additional for postage on single copy sales.

A complete and pleasing picture of pueblo community life through generation after generation is given in McCarty's "The Taos Pueblo." All poems used in this volume treat of scenery, customs, history or legends of New Mexico, as "The Navajo Weaver," "Carlsbad Cavern," "Traveling," "The Shipwreck Legend," and "Wagon Mound" by William Felner.

That poem typical of all the southwest, "Trail Dust," by Omar Barker, is the first one in the book which closes with a "Dream Picture," the poetic treatment of a New Mexico mirage, by Sarah D. Ulmer.

Some few weeks ago, twenty-two unpublished letters by Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning were discovered in London. These have been purchased at a price said to be larger than that paid for any other series of magazine articles of this character for publication in The Woman's Home Companion.

Among letters included in this collection is the first written by Elizabeth Barrett Browning to her sisters after her marriage. It was written from the little town of Roanne between Moulins and Lyons, France, and dated October 2, 1846. In it she says, "He puts out all his great facilities to give me pleasure and comfort. . . . There is also the first letter written to the Barretts by Robert Browning. We learn of an incident in their private life in 1847 not heretofore recorded.

Among the letters of later years, is one by Robert Browning in which he describes the birth of their son, Robert Weidman Barrett Browning, in which he says, "Now God has rewarded our dearest, most precious of creatures for her perfect goodness, patience, self-denial, and general rationality. . . ."

Some of the letters describe life during the years the Brownings spent in Italy, the political occurrences of those times there, various places visited, and all the "little utilities which pass for events in our life," as we read in one of them.

Interest in these letters will be enhanced by the play "Barretts of Wimpole Street" which has been successful on Broadway the past several seasons.

THE FIRST CENTURY OF AMERICAN LITERATURE 1770-1780.
By Fred Lewis Pattee ($3.50).

This book completes the author's survey of American literature. Previous volumes have been "History of American Literature Since 1870" and "The New American Literature." In the new book, the author traces our National Literature from in pre-Revolutionary days down through the Reconstruction period following the Civil war, portraying writers and their work in the light of their own times and also in the perspective of the present.

THE OLD MALI, dramatized by Zoe Akins from the novel by Edith Wharton. Appleton-Century company. $2.00.
This drama which has recently been awarded the 1934 Pulitzer prize has been having a successful season on Broadway. It is the story of Charlotte Lovell who denied herself the rewards of motherhood by giving her child into the keeping of a cousin, Delia Ralston, while she lived the role of a spinster.

The five episodes of the play cover the years from 1830 to 1850 in New York society.

Irish potato growers in the fertile Pamlico river section of North Carolina regard the crop as poor if they harvest fewer than 100 barrels per acre.

RELIEF BUDGETS MUST BE CUT BY HALF DURING JUNE UNDER FEDERAL ALLOTMENT REDUCTION

MANY CLIENTS LIKELY TO SEEK OTHER WORK

Gray county's appropriation for June has been reduced 50 per cent it became known today. This is in line with the federal allotment. Grants to clients must be slashed accordingly.

AUSTIN, June 3.—Radically reduced allotments for the relief population of Texas are made for the month of June, it has been announced by Adam R. Johnson, state relief administrator.

Federal authorities notified Johnson that the state will receive $2,500,000 for general relief, although application was made for more than $4,000,000. Budgets, therefore, were made up on the basis of a state caseload of 210,000. Although the caseload has dropped steadily since January 1, Washington officials have repeatedly expressed dissatisfaction with the number of families on relief in Texas.

expect thousands of cases to quit the relief rolls in June for employment on farms where they can make more than the $10 we are able to give them. Farmers everywhere are calling for labor to help them cultivate their crops, and we feel that in the case of the employable families there should not be any suffering because of this reduced grant."

June funds will be spent in the counties for purposes described in the following budget: General relief, $2,125,342; hospitalization, $8,963; rural subsistence, $725,063; capital goods, $532,154. To meet this obligation, the Texas Relief commission will receive $2,500,000 from the federal government and $400,000 of state funds for general relief. Other grants for the special program of rural rehabilitation, student aid and emergency education are expected to be received from federal sources during the month.

WHEN LIVES ARE AT STAKE You Need the Same Tire Protection That Race Drivers Demand

KELLY PETILLO ON MAY 30TH WON THE Five Hundred Mile Indianapolis Race on Firestone Tires, breaking the track record and driving the entire distance at a rate of 106.240 miles per hour.

This record is an astounding demonstration of tire efficiency. To go 500 miles in less than five hours on this rough and bumpy 26-year-old brick track, without tire trouble of any kind, demonstrates the strength and blowout protection that Firestone builds into their Gum-Dipped Tires.

AB JENKINS ALSO RECENTLY demonstrated the stamina, efficiency, and blowout protection built into Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. He drove his 5000 pound car over the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, 3000 miles in 23½ hours. This was an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, and although temperatures were as high as 120°, he had no blowouts or tire trouble of any kind.

There are reasons why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires give such amazing blowout protection. Every cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

Take no chances—protect your life and the lives of others by letting us equip your car today with Firestone Tires and give you the Safety and Blowout Protection that race drivers demand.

BEFORE YOU BUY NEW TIRES ASK YOURSELF THESE THREE QUESTIONS

- 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
- 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"
- 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER No. 1—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

ANSWER No. 2—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

ANSWER No. 3—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Volume—Direct Purchasing—Straight Line Manufacturing and Efficient and Economical System of Distributing to our 500 Stores and to 30,000 Dealers, enables Firestone to give you greater values at lowest prices

1 Leading University tests show Firestone tires stop your car 15% to 25% quicker.

2 Gum-Dipped cords give greater blowout protection. Gum-Dipping is not used in any other make of tire.

3 More and tougher rubber with wider, flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear.

Sealtite LEAKPROOF TUBES

These new Sealtite Leak-Proof Tubes will give you greater mileage from your tires and are more economical. The initial cost is but little more than ordinary tubes.

Firestone chemists have developed a process of sealing the inner wall of the tube, which prevents air leakage. This, together with new cured-in rubber valve and an extra reinforced valve base vulcanized into the tube, makes this tube leak-proof and pinch-proof.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Applications Asked

Applications for cotton tax exemption certificates under the Bankhead law must be in by June 10, County Agent Ralph R. Thomas, advised farmers today. He also said that wheat compliance payments will not be made unless contracted acres are staked off. Wheat supervisors recently visited farms and reported the contracted acres were not staked off on many farms.

Seed Is Furnished

Fifty Gray county 4-H club boys were furnished with State Certified Milo, kafir or nehari seed this spring free of charge by the B. C. D. according to Ralph R. Thomas, county agricultural agent. The only requirements made by the organization were that the boys be enrolled in a 4-H club, that complete records be turned in to the county agent when the demonstration is completed, and that each boy enter an exhibit in the 4-H club show to be held in the fall. It is expected that each boy who plants a feed crop this year will use the seed in some kind of an animal demonstration when the crop is harvested. All boys carrying on poultry and beef calf demonstrations at the present time will plant feed crops this spring, Thomas said.

Pool Is Popular

One of the few warm days of spring ushered in the Rotary club's wading pool for children in the city park yesterday. Scores of children of varying ages enjoyed splashing in the water. Mothers took their youngsters and, in some instances, had difficulty in getting the latter into the water. Other children were more like ducks. The municipal pool also was an attraction to many.

HOOVER GIVES NEW WARNINGS BACK IN IOWA

'BUREAUCRACY' SEEMS TO WORRY FORMER PRESIDENT

DES MOINES, June 3 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover returned to his native state and sounded a warning today against what he termed a possible "political bureaucracy."

Here to address 178 Drake university graduates and to receive an honorary degree, Mr. Hoover said, "you should be suspicious of any proposal that asks you to forego the rightful exercise of your muscles and might, or of any governmental action which limits your opportunities to work and produce."

"Some people would like to mobilize you into a political bureaucracy to run this civilization. But some of us hold that the jobs should go to those who win them fairly by merit."

The only Iowa to attain the presidency of the United States denied in an interview that his return to his native state contained any political significance.

Mr. Hoover asked, "will government permit you to breathe the pure air of liberty in the spirit of the bill of rights? That is the thing that you have need to look out for. For in this matter you enter life at one of the most crucial periods of American history."

The former president confessed himself "troubled" about youth's future. What troubles him, he said, was "what the forces of government may impose on you that will limit or despoil your inspiration, your incentives and your opportunities."

"It is true old age and misfortune deserve protection and that the haunting fear of poverty should be driven from us. It may be that there are some who, fearing competition in life, wish for assurance from government of a routine job where they advance by political favor or seniority and get a pension at the end."

"There are some who really need that sheltered life and should have it. But that sort of people did not make Iowa or make America."

Earthquake Death Toll Now 40,000

QUETTA, India, June 3 (AP)—Authorities contemplated today finishing the destruction of this "Garden City of India" ruined in a series of earthquakes, by dynamiting the debris to prevent an outbreak of disease.

With the death toll in Friday's quakes estimated at 40,000, it was believed at least 20,000 bodies were still buried in the wreckage.

Survivors were being evacuated as quickly as possible. Trains leaving the stricken area were packed with grieving and dazed refugees, mostly native Indians.

Minor shocks were felt as relief activities were forward, but caused no further serious damage. One tremor started a tremendous landslide on a mountain outside the city.

The landslide severed telegraph and telephone communication once more and sent great clouds of dust rolling into the air.

Survivors awaiting evacuation spent the night in the open or wandered disconsolately among the ruins. So vast a task confronted the relief workers that many of the survivors had gone without food for 48 hours.

Martial law was declared, and natives caught while looting were promptly punished.

CHAPTER VIII

Zoe was in Gibbs' arms, half-laughing, half-crying, casting a fearful glance over her shoulder in the direction of the house. "Oh, Gibbs, darling!" she said. "When you didn't answer I waited and waited."

Katharine stood apart, faintly withdrawn.

"When I didn't answer what?"

"Why, my wire—this morning."

"Left White Bay yesterday," Gibbs said easily. "My boat is out there waiting." His forehead pierced the fog.

"Then you didn't get it at all?"

"I'll be going," Katharine interrupted.

"No, Kay, dear. Stay please! I told Gerda I was going down to see you."

"We can't talk here," interrupted the man. "Why not take a run out to the boat?"

"Oh, I wouldn't dare," Zoe breathed, with her eyes on the dim

"Oh, you just imagine that," Zoe said eagerly. "You must really dash now, Gibbs, dear. I think I see Father's cigar."

Zoe slipped down in the shadow of the boat's hull as a masculine figure stroiled toward them. Katharine, her draperies floating around her slender figure, whirled to face the newcomer. The blue-coated figure of Gibbs, his white trousers gleaming in the misty darkness, slipped quietly out of sight; there was the faint plash of oars. Then silence.

"Well?" Katharine said, on a note of inquiry.

Dr. Kaye answered quietly, "I was just taking a stroll."

"Hello, John!" Her laugh was nervous. Was Zoe out of sight? Not that John would tell—he could be trusted—but it was just as well not to confide this intrigue to anyone.

He stood, leaning on the wall, smoking. His silence made her deep voice heartened her. "I ain't proud to know I matter."

She drew a long sigh.

"Keep thinking I'm not so bad, won't you?"

Katharine, the cool, Katharine, the self-reliant, lifted her face to his. Quite simply, like a child forgiven, asking reassurance. And quite as simply Dr. Kaye kissed her. "Good night, Johnny, dear!"

The lights of the hall brought her to herself. Somehow the little scene on the terrace had in it a note of sanity. But Katharine's heart felt lighter than it had for days.

She found her bed turned down and waiting. Ellen had laid out gown and negligee and little silver mules. The curtains were looped back against the warm summer night.

One thing was certain—she would stop moaning about Zoe did. She would ride again, quite simply and naturally, with Michael Heatheroe on the morrow. Michael would take his rightful place in her life, in the scheme of things. She had simply built up a story about him in her own mind; now she had to prove to herself that he didn't really matter.

On this courageous note she fell asleep.

lights of the house some hundred yards distant.

"Why not? Kay here will come along as chaperon—won't you, Kay?"

His bold, dark eyes were exploring her face; she felt that she disliked him intensely. Yet she could not, somehow, fail Zoe, who pleaded with her: "Do Kay! Oh, I'll do something for you some day!"

Katharine's lips curved in an ironic smile. Nothing like this, she thought, with a sort of royal distaste for entanglements.

But in the end she went. Gibbs' broad back, in its blue, double-breasted coat, was before her solidly as she settled her ruffles in the stern of the rowboat in which he had come to the Parkers' pier. Zoe, a mere white glimmer, sat in the bow, her fingers trailing the water, her small face lighted by some inner flame.

Gibbs' cabin cruiser was brig as a chef's kitchen, gleaming with paint and polished brass. No one knew exactly how he managed this particular luxury. He was always complaining, audibly and with mock pathos, of his deadly poverty.

"Kay, I wish we had someone to amuse you. Will there you awfully if I talk privately to Zoe for a minute?"

She felt a surge of distaste for this glib man with the smooth manners. Why had she come? It was all wrong. And she wished he would not call her "Kay."

"I don't mind in the least but, Zoe, we mustn't stop longer than 15 minutes."

"Don't worry, darling. We'll make it snappy." That lilt in Zoe's voice, so woebegone half an hour before!

Katharine settled her ruffles in a deck chair, and Zoe and Gibbs retired to the stern from which vicinity a low murmur of voices ensued. The youthful chaperon amused herself for a few minutes with puzzling out the various lights she could see bobbing here and there. The dim green one was on the very tip end of the Strykhurst veranda, a silly lantern thing that Bertine had plucked up somewhere. The twin red lights were the Yacht Club.

"Zoe, honestly, we must get back. I tremble to think what your mother would say if she knew—"

But her words were spoken almost absentmindedly. She was thinking of Michael Heatheroe, the way his mouth curved when he laughed, the sweet, strong curve of his lean face. Katharine shook herself angrily.

"All right, all right."

Presently the little rowboat was skimming toward shore again.

"Look out, Gibbs. The buoy's right there."

"Right you are, darling."

Zoe looked in this. She was a different girl. You could tell just by the warmth, the lazy assurance of her voice.

"Thanks a million, Kay."

"Oh, you're welcome." For the life of her she could not keep an edge of irony out of her tone.

"Kay doesn't approve of me, sweetheart," Gibbs had Zoe's hands linked in his.

Zoe was in Gibbs' arms, half-laughing, half-crying. "Oh, Gibbs, darling!" she said.

nervous volubility increase. Surely he had seen Gibbs slip away—at least he had seen it was a man—but John was a grand sport; he wouldn't say a word.

"I loved your place today, Johnny!"

"I'm glad."

She had, quite suddenly, the conviction that he was, disappointed in her. John Kaye, who held old-fashioned views of womanly conduct, thought she had been slipping out clandestinely to meet some man. It must be clandestine or else the suitor, whoever he might be, would present himself openly at her father's house.

Oh, well, if he thought that of her!

She couldn't let Zoe down. That much was certain.

"Turning in now, John. Good night."

"I'll walk back with you," he said quietly. In silence they traversed the gravel path. Zoe could get safely back to the house now. It would be all right. And what did it matter if John Kaye thought she was the sort of girl who met mysterious strangers furtively, by night? She would survive this, as she had survived other disappointments. She had thought of John as her sturdy friend. She had felt that always John would take her on his faith. Perhaps she had been wrong.

An animated game of bridge progressed in the library. The long windows shed light as they passed, on the terrace. Bertine and Katharine's father, Gracia McIvaine and Mr. Cotaine, the Englishman, sat around the table.

"Oh, very good, partner," Katharine heard Gracia say brightly. But her eyes were roving. She knew Dr. Kaye was somewhere about.

"I think I'll go up," Katharine said. She looked, in the half-light shed from the inner room, like some dazed in flight. The delicate outline of her lovely figure was etched through the transparencies of her filmy frock. Her fair hair caught gleams of light and her eyes were dark, wistful, shadowed, in spite of the determined coldness of her voice.

"Well, I'm moving in tomorrow. Won't see you then for some time," Dr. Kaye said. He threw away his cigarette, the reddened lip describing a brief arc, then sputtering away to nothingness in a hydrangea bush.

"It's been nice to have you here," the girl said dutifully.

"Thanks. I—this place always seems like home to me."

He had her hand in his now for farewell. There was something almost electric in his clasp. Katharine felt the ice about her heart dissolve a little.

"You're so nice, Johnny."

His grip tightened. "Don't say pretty things to me. I'm not used to it."

She could smell the good scent of Russian leather, of tobacco, of crisply laundered linen, mingled with the faint but unmistakable odor of disinfectant that always clung to John Kaye's doctor's hands.

"Johnny, are you honestly for me?"

"What do you mean, child?"

"I mean are you on my side, Bertine?"

He laughed softly. "Don't be a sap. Bertine's bark is worse than her bite anyway. She doesn't understand many people. Why expect her to understand anyone so complex as yourself?"

"Am I complex?"

His patting her shoulder. "You are, my dear. I've known you since you were in middy blouses. A stormy little thing, worth winning. A chip on her shoulder always."

"Oh, John, that sounds terrible."

"I told you I didn't like milk-and-water people."

She clung to him, quite un-self-consciously. "Johnny, I need you to be my friend. Sometimes I get so lonely. Oh, I've got to stop this. Didn't mean to make it into a sob story."

His deep voice heartened her. "I ain't proud to know I matter."

She drew a long sigh.

"Keep thinking I'm not so bad, won't you?"

Katharine, the cool, Katharine, the self-reliant, lifted her face to his. Quite simply, like a child forgiven, asking reassurance. And quite as simply Dr. Kaye kissed her. "Good night, Johnny, dear!"

Love's Magic Makes Two One

Few of Howard Thurston's famous illusions have occasioned as much surprise as the famous 65-year-old magician's unexpected marriage to Mrs. Pauline Marks, 27, North Adams, Mass., divorcee. They are pictured aboard ship as they sailed on a southern honeymoon after being married at Harrison, N. Y.

LONG MONTHS OF WORK FACED BY CONGRESS—COURT CURB IS CONSIDERED IN MANY CIRCLES

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Congress started its sixth month today with plenty of rights ahead and legislators plagued by the thought that it may be months before they can go home.

Much depends, they believed, on what President Roosevelt intends to do about NRA. A long fight was predicted by many if the administration should press for submission of a constitutional amendment at this session. On the other hand, democratic leaders say little difficulty in passing legislation within the limits set by the supreme court.

From some senate republicans demands are coming that the administration submit legislation for voluntary regulation of trade practices and working conditions in industry.

The debate over the constitutional amendment idea goes on apace. Senator Borah (R., Ida.), in a radio speech, said the constitution now confers enough powers on the federal government to meet emergency, and he challenged those "who feel that the states should be shorn of their power" to submit the question to the people in the form of a constitutional amendment. Senator Norris (R., Neb.) favored an amendment abolishing courts' rights to declare acts of congress unconstitutional, though he saw little hope for one at this session of congress.

The American Federation of Labor leaders were summoned to a council of war Thursday by President William Green, who called the supreme court's NRA decision a "stunning blow" to "economic advancement and social progress."

Senator Norris plunged into the senate controversy over the utility holding company bill today. He had the floor to speak in favor of the measure to abolish "unnecessary" holding concerns. Senator Hastings (R., Del.) continued his fight in opposition.

KING CHEERED BY THOUSANDS ON BIRTHDAY

RIDES WITH FOUR SONS TO TROOPING OF COLORS

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—King George V, astride a gentle bay horse, rode with his four sons at the head of a column of crack cavalry and foot soldiers today in the ancient ceremony of trooping the colors as a mark of his completion of the Biblical span of three score years and ten.

All the British empire celebrated the king's seventieth birthday anniversary as a holiday, but the ceremonies centered here around the king himself.

His majesty participated in the trooping wearing the scarlet and gold uniform of colonel-in-chief of the Irish Guards. He saluted right and left with a white-gloved hand as he rode from Buckingham palace to the horseguards parade and back again.

From all sides came from the crowds cries of "God bless you, sir!" "Many happy returns!" "Long may you live!"

The Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester, and the Duke of Kent, like their father, wore military uniforms and the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter. It was the first time all four sons had participated with their father in such a ceremony.

Also accompanying the monarch were two Indian princes, honorary aides-de-camp, dressed in luxurious silk robes, the king's four Indian orderlies, and the military attaches of foreign countries. The United States was represented by Lieutenant-Col. Raymond E. Lee, military attaché to the Court of St. James, Major Hayes A. Kroger, assistant military attaché, and Capt. John W. Menahan, assistant military attaché for air.

Queen Mary, who previously had driven to the horse guards parade in an open carriage, accompanied by the Duchesses of York and Kent and the former's daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, watched the

Census to Provide White Collar Jobs

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—A census of business was proposed by the commerce department today in an application for $9,370,000 of work relief money.

The department suggested that jobless "white collar" workers be put to work January 1 collecting information regarding payrolls, receipts and other data which "would be of value in developing plans for business recovery and expansion."

Agriculture and manufacturing would not be included in the survey, officials said, but the results would be dovetailed with findings of the 1935 census of agriculture and the biennial census of manufacturers.

British Fight Cattle Disease.

LONDON (AP)—With more than 8,000 animals already killed as a protective measure, England is threatened with the worst epidemic of foot-and-mouth disease in many years. So far this year there have been 26 separate outbreaks in five Midland counties and thousands of cattle in Dorset still are under suspicion.

Supreme Court Soon to Occupy Fine New Home

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—The supreme court said farewell today to the time-worn chambers where NRA was killed a week ago and many another major question was settled in years gone by.

Gathering for the last time in the room that has been its home since 1858, the court convened to hand down five decisions of no great national significance and then adjourn for the summer.

When the nine justices gather again October 7 to open a term which may see further tests of the new deal it will be in a classic new $10,000,000 building facing the capitol.

Five Prisoners In Jail Escape

SAN AUGUSTINE, June 3 (AP)—Five prisoners, two of them charged with murder, escaped from the county jail here last night.

Sheriff V. B. Wosham said a welded bar of the run-around was pried loose and, apparently, a prisoner crawled through this hole and obtained the key to the main door. The key was kept hanging in the vestibule of the jail.

From the vestibule the prisoners made their way through a hole in the vestibule wall to a storage room, which led to the outside.

The sheriff expressed the opinion the prisoners had some outside help. Those who fled were:

Jeff Duffield, negro, charged with murder.

Melvin Walls, negro, held as a witness in several cases.

Henry Washington, negro, charged with murder.

Robert Lee, charged with highway robbery.

Wylie Green, charged with highway robbery.

"Somebody to see you!"

If everybody with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell—they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your convenience. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them all without noise or confusion in a very few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest—you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

MARKET BRIEFS

STOCKS BRIGHTER

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—The stock market presented a brighter picture today as NRA clouds appeared to be drifting away from Wall street. While many issues were virtually unchanged, a number of others advanced substantially on selective demand. The close was little better than steady. Transfers approximated 650,000 shares.

—ABOUT SEPARATION

Here they are—that gorgeous pair whose occupations in the picture on the front page, aroused your curiosity so much. They are, no less, the Prince of Asturias, heir to the throne of Spain, and his commoner bride, the Countess of Covadonga, born Edelmirra Sampedro. Both pictures were taken at their joyous reunion when the prince arrived in New York, as they sought to prove rumors of imminence of divorce to be false.

Roosevelt Will Issue Statement On NRA Substitute

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—President Roosevelt today prepared further steps to bring government activity in conformity with the supreme court decision ending NRA, but reserved a declaration of general policy to meet the setback until later in the week.

The next White House announcement on secondary details is expected within 24 hours.

Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Speaker Byrns. No message to congress was in prospect, however. A delegation that will confer with Secretary Perkins tomorrow was brought here by State Senator Henry Parkman Jr., of Boston, chairman of "the joint conference on interstate labor compact," and Robert F. Bingham, chairman of the New Hampshire section of the conference.

Parkman said he was particularly hopeful that abolition of child labor and establishment of uniform maximum work weeks might be achieved through state compact, and had some hope that a similar agreement might be reached on minimum wages.

After his conference with the president, Speaker Byrns expressed it as his "personal opinion" that nothing should be done about a constitutional amendment until the final effect of the supreme court's NRA decision had been determined. Meanwhile, he asserted, the house will go ahead with other legislation. His "own idea," he added, "is to stay here and get it over with"—meaning that he opposed the plan suggested by some of letting congress adjourn and meet in special session next fall.

STRIKE IN DOUBT

SEATTLE, June 3. (AP)—The general Pacific northwest lumber strike seemed to be approaching a fork in the road today—one trail leading back to the mills and the other to a strikers' conference and election at Aberdeen.

While the swing to work was increasing in the Longview and Portland districts, the decision of the northwest single workers union council at Port Angeles to continue the strike and a threat of increased picket line at Aberdeen dulled somewhat the outlook for an early termination of the industry's troubles.

FACES NEW TRIAL

LUBBOCK, June 3. (AP)—Government attorneys indicated that Sheriff W. F. Cato, Tom Morgan, deputized farmer; Dr. L. W. Kitchen, Post veterinarian, and Dr. V. A. Hartman, Post physician, were freed by a federal court jury Saturday of charges of slaying Agent Spencer Stafford at Post Feb. 7.

TEXAS DELINQUENT TAXES NOW REACH TOTAL OF $141,783,000

COLLEGE STATION, June 3. (AP)—Delinquent taxes accruing in Texas since 1885 now total $141,783,000, a report from the Texas agricultural experiment station upon "tax delinquency of farm real estate in Texas," discloses.

The report, prepared by L. P. Gabbard, chief of the division of farm and ranch economies, states that "the most alarming aspect of the problem is that more than half this sum has accumulated during the past two years."

"Classified according to solvent and insolvent about 75 per cent of delinquent taxes are of the solvent class and 25 per cent of the insolvent. During the past half century we have collected about 45 per cent of the solvent class and only 8 per cent of the insolvent class—the first instance a very poor record and the latter a deplorable failure."

From a complete survey of tax delinquency on farms, Mr. Gabbard states, in 120 selected counties for the period 1928 to 1932 inclusive, it was found that the number of farms permitted to become delinquent annually increased from 33,267 in 1928 to 124,192 in 1932. In all there were 364,236 cases of delinquencies represented in the 5-year period.

Of this number subject to sale for taxes only 932 tax sales were recorded. The risk of losing the farm from a failure to pay the taxes being no greater than this is undoubtedly a cause of the failure to pay, he says.

Ninety counties out of 119 showed "unknown" delinquent acreage ranging from one to 40 per cent of the total delinquent acreage in the country. In 12 counties "unknown" delinquent farm properties comprised more than 40 per cent of all farm delinquencies.

Mr. Gabbard lists the following "as the more important causes of the tax delinquent situation in Texas": Declining agricultural as well as other commodity prices and rising taxes; faulty assessment and collection practices; periodic remission of penalties and interest; the uncertainty of tax titles; the indifference, procrastination or misfortune of the taxpayer and finally the failure of our tax system to include and properly harmonize the two fundamental bases of taxation—benefit and ability.

Mr. Gabbard, who conducted the study "to make available statistical data relative to the scope, nature and trend" of tax delinquency in the state, has some recommendations to relieve the situation. "This study," he explains, "suggests the need for certain changes not only in the administrative and legal aspects of taxation but in the fundamental bases of taxation with a view of a greater equalization of taxes."

Among the more important changes recommended are: An active and responsible participation by the state in the assessment and collection of taxes; the keeping of a complete and continuous inventory of taxable property by counties; the collection procedure be made simple, certain and convenient; the court procedure relative to tax sales be simplified and harmonized with the enforcement of tax laws; that penalties be reasonable and certain and their remission be avoided; that collectors be appointed on a competitive basis.

Federal Agents in Chicago charted an airplane last night, chained Davis to a seat, and set out for St. Paul. At Madison, Wis., they were forced down by weather, but took off later. The identity of their prisoner was not officially announced until after he was safely in St. Paul.

Captured in Kansas City last February, Davis escaped when the federal agents' plane was forced down at Yorkville, Ill., near Chicago.

Confirming reports that the arrest of Davis followed a shooting affray, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, said:

"We had a slight unpleasantness while taking Volney into custody." He declined to reveal more details.
