NRA EXTENSION BILL VOTED OUT OF COMMITTEE AND ALL AMENDMENTS ARE REJECTED

Twinkles Music hath charms. Summers in many Panhandle towns will be charming.

McLean's News says everyone should take care of himself, but not try to "do" the other fellow. Right, but if they did we newspaper men would have to try harder and longer, without new deals.

Now's the time to become a Young Democrat—while you can say that there is at least a little of democracy in the party of Jefferson and Jackson.

We make a claim for distinction, having attended a convention and been at every session. We didn't have to read the newspapers to learn what it was about.

For the crippled's sake, attend the Lions minstrel on May 10 and 11. And you might even enjoy the show.

Musing of the moment: If you wish courtesy, meet some of our neighbors below the Rio Grande. The bowing and scraping of the Old World has not been lost by the men who govern Mexico today. This gallantry also has been retained by many of the oldtimers. The younger generation has all too little pride, posture and consideration for strangers.

Brevitorials

THE NEW LeFors Kiwanis club is a welcome addition to the civic club work in this territory. Common understanding among public-spirited men is promoted by these organizations. For Pampa Kiwanians, the club will afford a convenient place to make up attendance when local meetings are unavoidably missed. And the local club will be of much benefit to the LeFors group. Ordinarily, civic clubs in small towns have an uncertain life. This is particularly true when there is just one club. The LeFors club is an exception. Its membership is drawn from a stable citizenship and we predict its success.

WHEAT FARMERS are giving thought to the national wheat control referendum which will be held May 25. Farmers in 37 states will vote yes or no on this question: "Are you in favor of a production adjustment program to follow the present one, which expires with the 1935 crop year?" Having had two years experience with cooperative crop adjustment, Gray county farmers are expected to vote almost unanimously in favor of the program. While some of the farm problems have been solved, the farmers regard their plan as necessary as long as industries have protective tariffs.

THE WHEAT control plan is founded on a large measure of local authority and administration. Old-fashioned rural forums have been held in an attempt to make the plan one of intelligence rather than dictatorship. It is true that the drought has cut the wheat surplus drastically. But the major factor in the price of 29 cents a bushel in 1933, farmers cannot be expected to view with complacency a recurrence of that condition. It is true that the government is trying to retire from cultivation much of the wheat lands ruined by drought. But a return of normal crops would still leave a serious problem. The national income from wheat in 1932 was $196,000,000, whereas in 1933 it had been $758,000,000. Of course, inability of foreign nations to pay for our wheat was the major factor. Domestic production has declined very little. The basic purpose of the federal policy is "to establish and maintain such balance between the production and consumption of agricultural commodities, and such marketing conditions therefor, as will reestablish prices to farmers at a level that will give agriculture a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy, equivalent to the purchasing power of agricultural commodities in the base period."

INCREASING the real income of agriculture and labor is the major problem. The amount of wages and the price of farm commodities mean nothing except by comparison with the prices of human necessities. Cash income of the farmer in Texas in 1932 was $6,928,000. In 1933 it was $13,037,000, and last year $20,752,000. Adjustment payments accounted for a big part of last year's income. Without this attempt at parity, farmers would have received 32 per cent of what they received last year.

NRA IS GIVEN ANOTHER YEAR OF LIFE IN EODY'S ACTION

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A powerful bi-partisan coalition in the senate finance committee today rejected all amendments to the resolution extending NRA until April 1 and voted 12 to 4 to report it favorably to the senate. Attempts to give the blue eagle another year of life, to extend its control further into intrastate commerce and to eliminate production control provisions were quickly rejected by the overwhelming majority determined to push the plan through in its agreed-upon form. Chairman Harrison planned to submit the report to the senate within the next day or two so the continuing resolution can be taken up by the senate after the pending bonus issue is out of the way. As finally approved by the committee, the resolution would extend the existing recovery law until April 1 with its control eliminated over intrastate business and price fixing except in mineral natural resource industries. Senator Couzens (R., Mich.), sought to amend the resolution to eliminate production control as well as price fixing but he was defeated without a record vote. Senator Black (D., Ala.) then tried to eliminate all price fixing, including the mineral natural resource industries, but was beaten 13 to 10. The Alabama senator promptly moved to limit profits and salaries where price fixing was permitted, but went down 14 to one. Friends of NRA then attempted to tack on a number of liberalizing amendments but they also were rejected under the prevailing agreement among the majority to pass the continuing resolution as it stands. The final vote on reporting the resolution, 13 to 4, follows: For—Harrison, George, Walsh, Bailey, Clark, Longeman, Gray and Guffy; democrats, Couzens, Keyes, Metcalf, Hastings and Capper; republicans. Against—Barkley, Costigan and Black, democrats, and LaFollette, republican. Senators King (D., Utah), Connally (D., Tex.), and Gore (D., Okla.) voted present. The committee's action also cleared the way for consideration of the social security program which has been jammed up behind NRA and the Bonus.

Senate Reenacts Bond Assumption Law in a Hurry

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Re-enactment of the road bond assumption law, one of the few items Governor James V. Allred today placed on a "must list," was voted unanimously by the senate a few minutes later. The bill would extend provisions of the act without change for two years. The present law would expire August 31. Under it, one cent of the legislature would pass a gasoline tax to be allocated to retirement of bond money spent by subdivisions for state highway construction. Senate action sent the bill to the house where speedy consideration will be sought. The governor expressed the hope that the legislature would submit constitutional amendments providing for an old age pension system and for a method whereby unemployment relief might be continued after the December 1, 1935, expiration of the present act. Constitutional amendments can be submitted only at regular sessions and the regular session for this biennium may end next week. Allred said he also was hopeful that the legislature would pass a bill intended to bring about construction of public natural gas pipe lines from the Texas Panhandle to St. Louis and Detroit. He called attention to a $60,000,000 to be used in building the line. The Texas share of the four billion dollar purchase program. "I am very much gratified that the legislature has submitted the liquor question," he said.

New Haven for Drought Victims

Haven for 200 midwest families making a new start in life, the Matanuska valley, shown on this map, is warmed by the Japanese current and has 20 hours' sunlight daily during the three-month growing season. New Deal plans provide 40 acres of good soil, comfortable house, livestock, tools, and seed for each family. The Alaska railway traverses the whole valley, and markets are available for grain and milk products in Anchorage, Seward, and Fairbanks, and no farm is more than seven miles from Palmer, center of the community.

GUYMON CELEBRATES PIONEER DAY DESPITE DEATH AND DUST

Pampa Delegation Journeys Through Storm to Great Annexation Celebration.

GUYMON, May 2. (AP)—Guymon gave Pampa's delegation a royal welcome here today and received citizens from the Panhandle city with open arms. The complete understanding that existed between residents of the two cities indicated that a recently threatened breach no longer existed. Approximately 20,000 persons witnessed the parade which was 3 1/2 miles long. Pampa's decorated car in the parade was cheered. The celebration was nearly as large as last year's despite a bad sand storm that was blowing. The Pampa delegation included George Briggs, Dr. C. H. Schukrey, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Maisei, Jim Collins, C. A. Clark, Dick Hughes, Harry E. Hoare, H. L. Polley, W. T. Fraser, and H. D. Keys.

DALHART, May 2. (AP)—Surrounded by his explosive equipment, Tex Thornton, the rain inducer, today pitched camp four miles north-west of here and dared a black cloud of dust to drift across the seared Panhandle pastures. The rainmaker, loser yesterday in the first round of what may be a month's bout with dust clouds, said his gas balloons, which will carry TNT into the heavens, would arrive late today. Thornton, irked at the turn of events yesterday, sent for special equipment to work in the dust and announced it would be a finish fight. He gave up his ground explosion attempts today when the barometer indicated wind and high clouds.

Allred Receives Panhandle Soil Erosion Money

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today received $250,000 for soil erosion work in the Panhandle. The money was received from the disbursing officer of the United States treasury department and turned over to the Texas relief commission for distribution. The governor also was advised that Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, had approved a supplementary grant of $300,000 to Texas to supply commodities for relief of destitution.

OIL PERCENTAGE SLASHED AGAIN AS PANHANDLE FIELD CONTINUES BRISK ACTIVITY

April was a month of much activity in the Panhandle oil field. Potential production increased more than 26,000 barrels with the bringing in of 30 new wells. The percentage of proratable oil was reduced from 6.62 per cent to 5.89 per cent because of the increased activity. The allowable remained at 58,800 barrels. Gray and Wheeler counties continued to lead the parade in both locations and completions. The field potential almost reached the 400,000 barrel mark, hitting a figure of 393,204 barrels. The summary by counties follows: Carson—269 wells, 16,730 barrels potential 4,000 barrels marginal oil, 76 barrels exempt oil, 12,654 barrels proratable oil, 4,827 barrels, allowable. RAIN FALLS FOR TWO HOURS IN 'CAPITAL OF DUST BOWL'

SPRINGFIELD, Colo., May 2. (AP)—The answer to the prayers of farmers in three states—splashed into the dust bowl of the southwest early today in a joyous symphony. Those who dashed from their beds into the streets, nightshirts and lace caps trailing, were more eager in this silt center to feel the hope of reviving moisture than to bother with precipitation gauges locked in the community weather station. After rain had fallen briskly for two hours, those familiar with farming appraised it as a "fair shower." They were ready to hail it as an omen of a broken drought but reluctant to call it a cure-all. This much was certain. It was the first rain in dirt-battered Baca county area since January and perhaps the heaviest since June, 1932. Telephone messages brought word that the rain had penetrated as far east as Syracuse, Kas. There were showers to the west at Lamar and La Junta, on the fringe of the "black roller" belt. There even was snow in the Capitan mountain area of northeastern New Mexico and traces of moisture toward Boise City, Okla. After rain had fallen for two hours, the same type of wind that has tortured the region with incessant clouds of dust for weeks on end threatened again. It appeared to be blowing away the rain storm. To each and every resident the rain came as an almost-forgotten novelty, but to many small children it was a source of wonder. Farché, pulverized soil greedily soaked up every drop, and after two hours of the drizzle, the surface was hardly wet.

RESOLUTION ASKING CLOSING OF ROAD GAPS IN PANHANDLE PASSED

George Briggs and Sherman White yesterday represented this county in a highway caucus in Amarillo, when a list of federal and state highways needing attention was compiled. Wade Bryner of Amarillo presided. A resolution containing the list and urging use of state and federal funds to close the gaps was voted. In a separate meeting of the Texas division of the Highway 60 association, County Judge C. W. Humble of Hereford was elected president, with Sam Allison of Canadian as vice-president and A. O. Gates, who was associated with an unsuccessful treasure hunt to the Cocos islands two years ago, was retired from the navy because of physical disability. Information received in Tokyo of the detention of Gates and his two companions said they had been charged with illegally surveying and photographing the coast. Photographic films of a coastal scene and a marine survey map were said to have been seized as evidence. TO PROBE ARREST WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Joseph C. RESOLUTIONS ATTACK EVERY NEW DEAL ACT

NEW PRESIDENT KNOWN TO BE CRITICAL OF PROGRAM

BY J. R. BRACKETT, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—After adopting a series of resolutions attacking virtually every phase of the new deal legislative program, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today selected as its new president, Harper Sibley, Rochester, N. Y., banker described by his associates as somewhat critical of the administration policies. The new official, a personal friend of President Roosevelt, succeeds Henry I. Harriman who headed the organization for the past three years. He advocated a middle-of-the-road.

CHAMBER VOTES TO OPPOSE FEDERAL AID TO OLD PEOPLE IN NEED

The chamber voted that the holding company legislation should "superimpose" no federal body over state commissions; that the proposed federal reserve legislation would give rise to political domination of the country's banking system; that NRA should be purely voluntary; that the Wagner labor bill should be drastically changed. For the first time in the recollection of old attendants at the conventions, speakers from the floor asked changes in resolutions, apparently in the direction of making them even stronger. Selection of Harper Sibley, a Rochester, N. Y., banker described by his associates as somewhat critical of new deal policies was scheduled for early afternoon. Amid signs of antagonism between the White House and the chamber, Mr. Roosevelt by request, arranged a conference for late today with the government's business advisory council. It is a group of business men organized by the administration to advise on business affairs. The convention adopted a resolution opposing federal aid to old people in need. It was a substitute for one offered by the resolutions committee which urged further study of unemployment insurance and old age annuities, but recommended joint federal and state aid for the present aged and indigent. A motion by Harold Knudson, St. Cloud, Minn., to table the foreign trade resolution which was comparatively favorable to the administration was voted down, and the resolution was adopted. For the first time in the history of the organization, a resolution of

SWINDLERS LIKE OIL TERRITORY

Check forgery "experts" become very adept in their fraudulent trade. They know human nature, they become familiar with business practices, and they know the laws of the states in which they operate.

Oil territories—and the merchants therein are especially hard-hit. Oil company checks are frequently duplicated so expertly, along with forgeries of signatures, that merchants are unable to detect the fraud. Citizens should be patient when merchants try to prevent such losses which, incidentally must eventually be paid by the public.

The June term of 31st district court here will bring to attention a series of sizeable losses suffered by Pampa merchants last fall and winter. Several of those held in jail are confederates of "big shots" in the forgery racket.

The NEWS also finds it advisable to state that several swindles are being attempted in Texas in the name of the Associated Press. One swindle consists in leaving a worthless watch as collateral for a loan at filling stations and other places. The swindler establishes confidence by telling the operator that he represents the Associated Press. He presents a neatly typed "credentialed card" bearing a fictitious name. He picks out local happenings from newspapers and mentions that he is covering them for the A. P.

It should be known that the Associated Press issues absolutely no credentials to its employees. No A. P. man carries a card. Anyone representing to be an Associated Press representative, and asking favors by reason thereof, should be reported to The NEWS immediately. The Associated Press men in this territory are two in number and are too well equipped to need assistance from strangers.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The private lives of government clerks have just become one of those teapot-tempest issues which politicians so frequently make into big headlines for the local newspapers.

There's a section of the badly riddled but still extant Economy Act which provides that married persons with husbands or wives in the federal civil service must be fired first wherever personnel reductions are necessary.

Witnesses protesting this clause testified before the House civil service committee that it had the effect of causing young folks on the federal payroll to live together without benefit of clergy. One of the witnesses was President E. Claude Babcock of the A. F. of L.'s American Federation of Government Employees.

Sexual morality of government clerks is by no means one of Mr. Babcock's major concerns. He just thought it was a point of argument against the "married persons clause" which would appeal to a southern congressman or two who might actually be worried about the morals of this town.

Later he insisted he knew of nine such cases of unmarried life, but he didn't suggest that he had ever qualified himself as a genuine viewer-with-alarm by suggesting to these young people that they mend the error of their ways.

Then, just as if he, too, lay awake nights thinking about such problems, Congressman Cochran of Missouri dashed into print with the assertion that Babcock had "insulted" every single man and woman in the government service" and urged that Babcock be fired or, possibly, tarred and feathered.

Cochran made a fiery defense of the morals of the boys and girls of the town, insisting Babcock had caused great "mental anguish" to the ladies of the government as well as to their folks back home.

Cochran doesn't care, either. Nor does he know as much about that situation as Babcock does. He merely happens to be the author of the "married persons clause" and is grimly determined to defend it.

Which explains how and why the morals of government employes happened to become a burning issue in this town and in Congress itself—as if Congress has nothing else to worry about. (Congressman Ramspeck of Georgia, chairman of the committee, demanded specific, definite proof. He didn't get it.)

Nothing has been done to solve the problem of the $900-a-year girl and the $1200 boy who would like to get married on the theory that "two can live as cheap as one," but don't dare.

Incidentally, most of them know plenty of $5000 or $10,000 people on the federal payroll who are able to have wives who also draw federal salaries and needn't worry, because they have "drag" or aren't on the civil service lists.

There's a girl in FERA named Marcia Hello and she is a stenographer and not a telephone operator. Last time Gertrude Stein came to town with her pal, Alice B. Toklas, she wrote a note to her friend, Ellen LaMotte, as follows: "It will be nice being with you. Emily, I think, is nicer. So are you. And so, perhaps, are we. Which is nice for all of us. (Gertrude.)"

Now that scientists have recommended grass as a human food, "Keep Off the Grass" signs will probably be changed to read "Do Not Graze Here."

The white race is regularly and progressively getting fewer, says Mussolini. But people have to have automobiles.

Toronto professor says he can't tell women from men on a certain midwestern college campus. All he has to do is watch a couple of students talking; the one that blushes is the man.

Science reveals that a person's age can be determined by the hardness of his eyes. The theory, of course, does not apply to bankers.

In a Boston beauty shop, women watch movies while their hair dries. Wonder how they get their hats on after a thriller?

Until we collect that war debt, Gertrude Stein can keep on punishing the English.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

A motion was passed in the House of Representatives that "such labor on this House as disturbs the deliberation of congress during the hours of its session shall cease." The new capital building at Houston, unfinished when the session began, was still unfinished, and Congress had been transacting business in it for two weeks. In October, plaster was the hall of representatives was removed as being unsafe, and a stove was ordered. Efforts at improvement did not help matters much. There was much discontent among those assembled over the selection of Houston as the seat of government. Secretary of Treasury Henry Smith had only a temporary shed for his office. Nothing was suitable for occupation, and the streets were almost impassable.

An editorial in The Telegraph in October respectively called the attention of the mayor and aldermen "to the muddy condition of the streets about the capitol, and the president's house. The comfort and health of inhabitants and visitors demand that these streets be drained." It was signed "Many Voters."

At the special session held in September, T. J. Rusk suggested that a committee of three from the House and a committee from the Senate meet to select a site suitable for the government that would be permanent. Some site between the Trinity and Gaudalpe Rivers, no place over twenty miles above north of the upper San Antonio road, nor south of a direct line, running from the Trinity to the Gaudalpe, crossing the Brazos at Fort Bend, was to be selected.

Citizens of Houston objected to the inconsiderateness of the legislature. They believed the people of Texas "have too high a regard for justice to sanction such a measure" as moving the capitol.

The committee reported that Bastrop was their first choice, for it had good timber—pine and cedar—and it was located on a navigable stream. There was enough good drinking water, much tillable land, and only 110 miles from schooner navigation. Washington-on-the-Brazos was next choice, eight miles from schooner navigation, in a rich and fertile country. A third suitable site was on the east bank of the Colorado river thirty-five or forty miles below Bastrop, at the La Bahia crossing San Felipe and Gonzales were possibilities, but neither had good timber. Below "first class" were the towns of Nashville, Tonxtollian, the Falls of the Brazos, Henry Austin's site on the west bank of the Colorado, and a point near Sulphur Springs.

Texas is justly proud of the rich lands which still characterize the Colorado and Gaudalpe country. Those who visit Texas for the Centennial in 1936 will understand why the commissioners favored the sites mentioned.

It would be a mistake to suppose that any of the powows to be held at any time within the next few months will be at all conclusive. They are not so intended. It is too early for that.

Republican Problems Inevitably, at every such gathering, two principal issues arise.

The No. 1 bothersome question is, almost universally, just how conservative the G. O. P. can afford to be in next year's campaign.

Should the party continue to play the role of constitutional conservatism, attack all that Mr. Roosevelt has done as visionary, unsound and socialistic, and kiss the western republican radicals goodbye? Or should it rely on compromise measures, and try to be conservative enough to carry the east but liberal enough to have a chance also in the west?

The No. 2 question has to do with Mr. Hoover, who recently has undertaken to reassert his party leadership. Should he be encouraged, or would it be better if the party divorced itself very definitely from the memory of the Hoover regime and from any prospect of carrying a Hoover label in 1936?

It will surprise many republicans if either one of these questions is answered with any degree of finality for months to come.

Wait And See

The work being done on behalf of others is less noticeable, but that need not mean that they can be disregarded. Often the final weeks of the pre-convention campaign, or even the convention period itself, produces the winner.

In spite of all the talk, the whole party situation inevitably must remain very much matter of wait-and-see.

POLITICS at Random

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

Not even the most optimistic of the republican doctors expect their medicine to accomplish a party recovery overnight.

It is not that they believe anti-administration sentiment is lacking among the voters. Many of them, though not all—are convinced the country is turning definitely away from Mr. Roosevelt. The problem which worries them is how to capitalize that deflection.

The conferences now being held, and those soon to be held, are of two kinds—both looking to the long future.

Some of these meetings have behind them a well-concealed plan to promote the candidacy of one or another of the republican presidential aspirants.

Others represent a more disinterested effort to find out what is wrong with the party, and what can be done to accomplish something resembling unity in 1936.

Harvester Grid Prospects Look Huge But Unexciting In Final Game Of Training

Spring training was climaxed by a rather ragged performance of the Harvesters of 1935 before the onslaught of a group of ex-Harvesters, 7 to 6, yesterday afternoon at Harvester field. The Harvesters plainly showed lack of offensive training. Defensively, they showed promise.

It was not until the old masetro, Albert Lard, took the field that the former Harvesters started showing their stuff. Lloyd Hamilton, ace of last year's backfield, and Monroe Owens, shifted to fullback, played some pretty ball until Lard arrived to assist them.

Play was in midfield, with fumbles numerous, most of them in the first half. Each team had a 20-yard penetration but neither threatened to score. The third quarter was one of action but it was not until near the end of play that the Harvesters put across their touchdown.

The Harvesters pushed their teammates deep into their own territory before losing the ball on downs. With Lard standing on his 5-yard line to punt, Chubby Stewart broke through and blocked, recovering the ball on the 1-yard line. Two line plunges were necessary for Drake to score. He failed to put the ball over the goal posts on two tries.

There was a bit of humor in the touchdown. It came with Line Coach Harry Phillips in the lineup. The coach decided that his boys were not doing their best, so he went into the game.

Then Marbaugh stepped back to punt. Phillips rushed through to block the punt but the ball went to Hamilton, who waited until the coach had left a gaping hole. Then Hamilton proceeded to ramble 35 yards up the field before being downed by Stokes Green. Marbaugh then passed 20 yards to Lard, and on the next play Hamilton went across with a beautifully executed sprint. Hamilton also scored for the extra point, which was contested.

Much promise was shown by some of the boys, while others gave poor accounts of themselves. It is to be realized that the fault is their own and, after the game, Coach Owens Mitchell remarked that he also knew the cause and that the reckoning would come when suits were listed next fall.

By request the names of those boys will not be mentioned at the present time. Their play revealed them to the fans who sat through a dust storm to watch the game.

The showing of the boys made fans realize that a coach cannot handle football, basketball, and track and field, and still have a championship team in any one line of sports. Assistant Coach Harry Phillips has worked valiantly with the boys but it is more than a one-man job to teach 40 to 60 boys the rudiments of the game.

Ex-players were occupied with basketball early in the spring training period. Then came the track and field season. Only occasionally was Coach Mitchell able to go to the football field.

Coaches Blair Cherry and Howard Lynch of Amarillo witnessed the game. The two coaches handle football exclusively in the Amarillo high school.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Chin Straps and Track Shoes Are Lubbock's Need

LUBBOCK, May 2 (AP)—"Free chin straps and track shoes with every hat!" That was one of the slogans suggested for "official straw hat day" in Lubbock set for Friday by local merchants. The day is an annual event and everybody is supposed to discard his winter felt for a straw "kadie." Announcements of the event came in the face of one of the severest dust storms of the year and there was much "joking" over the occasion. But in spite of the joking, merchants were hoping for a beautiful spring day.

'Trial Horse' Has Growth; Jim Also Gets in Money In Amazing Comeback

BY JOHN STAHR, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Less than a year ago James Jay Braddock, onetime (1929) lightweight title challenger, was judging freight on the Jersey docks opposite Manhattan at $5 a day.

Nights and week-ends he was doing janitor work in the apartment building where he and his wife and three youngsters lived. Joe Gould, manager of his fist affairs, such as they were, at one time had to go out and borrow $30 to keep the dairy season making regular stops at the Braddock's.

Now James Jay Braddock is the current (1935) heavyweight title challenger, and for his muscle work he's gone to an upstate New York training camp.

The Braddock apartment, in the same building where he worked, has been handsomely redecorated and filled with new furniture. The Braddock youngsters have all the milk they can drink. And James and Joe, for nine years principals in one of boxing's most unselfish fighter-manager relationships, are looking forward to a 15 per cent cut of a gate that may run to $300,000 for the June 13 battle with Max Baer!

Had a Good Name. What produced such a complete change in the Braddock life history? Well, as you might suppose, look a number of things, but principally three winning fights of his own and elimination of unavailability of rival would-be contenders through a weird assortment of complications.

Corn Griffin, a dynamiting Georgia, was blasting away in Carner's camp as the Italian prepared to defend his championship last June. Griffin was a comer. He looked great. His management wanted a good "name" to add to his list of victims, on the Baer-Carnera fight, where a lot of people'd see him.

So they got Braddock, who hadn't fought since September, 1933, when he'd broken his right hand. Griffin could hit, all right. He put James down for a six count in the second round.

Right then Jim hit the comeback trail. His eight months of labor on the docks had done more for him than he'd realized. He got up and forthwith knocked Griffin down. He did it again in the third round, and Griffin was out. In the dressing room Jim exulted to Joe: "How'd you like that? And I did that eating hash! Can you imagine what I'd done to 'im if I'd had a couple of steaks in me?"

Back to Docks Again. But the $350 purse for that one was gone before Jim could even make the rounds of all his creditors. And his right thumb was broken, so he went back to work on the docks, left-hooking railroad ties with a balling hook.

Came November, and John Henry Lewis, a light-heavy from Princeton, came east looking for "somebody with a name" to be No. 29 on his list. Again, "they" got Braddock, who'd lost to Lewis in San Francisco in '32.

In a preliminary to the Bob Olin-Maxie Rosenbloom fight, Jim made his second giant comeback stride. He knocked Lewis down with a left hook—first time he'd ever done that to anybody—and went on to a decisive 10-round win. The "trial horse" had kicked over the traces again.

Last winter Madison Square Garden decided it'd better have a "tournament" to pick a June foe for Baer. Eligibles included Carnera, Steve Hamas, King Levinsky, Art Lasky, Ray Impellittere, Max Schmeling. But Levinsky got fresh with Baer in an exhibition bout and the champion kayaked the Kingfish—so he was out. Hamas went off to Europe to fight Schmeling.

Thus Jim got his chance. He filled the fourth spot in the tournament and handed Lasky an amazingly thorough trimming. But he was still a long way from the No. 1 centerpieces.

Joining the Road Runners near the close of last season, Lee Daney immediately became popular with Pampa fans. He is a right-handed pitcher with lots of experience and a good assortment of curves, including a screw ball. Daney first became interested in baseball while attending Haskell Indian college at Lawrence, Kan. He went from there to Concordia, one of the best semi-pro teams in the country at that time. In 1927, Daney became the property of the Philadelphia Athletics and stayed with that club during the season. He was sent to Bloomington, Ill. the following year. Daney joined the Indianapolis club the next year and declared there three seasons. He went from Indianapolis to Hazelton in the New York-Penn league. In 1934, Daney managed the Hugo, Okla., club. He joined Mount Pleasant, Texas, and went to the Denver Post tournament, where he was declared one of the outstanding hurlers of the event. He came from the Denver tournament to Pampa in time to help the Road Runners win the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce tournament.

Sure I Can Kick Baer.

Then Carnera, who'd whipped Impellittere, jumped the tournament because he couldn't get the Garden to guarantee that the tournament winner would NOT be sidetracked in favor of Schmeling, who in the meantime had whipped Hampden and looked very good in all these months of hard labor. It built me up all over, but especially my left side.

"You know, big Irish boys mature pretty late in life, too. Look at Tunney, and Fitzsimmons. I weigh around 189 now, which is plenty. I've got my growth, and I've got plenty of hard work under my belt. That's what makes me so sure—sure that I've ever felt about anything—that I can kick Baer."

ANOTHER 'CARR' IS DISCOVERED BY TEMPLETON

FAMOUS MENTOR SAYS YOUTH MAY EQUAL RECORDS

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Coach Robert L. "Dink" Templeton is fond of making assertions which challenge to argument, but only his most intrepid intimates dispute him when he talks about his own track and field athletes.

His latest pronouncement concerns an "unknown" transfer from San Mateo Junior college, Ray Dean by name, who "Dink" says is destined to be "the next Willie Carr." At the moment Templeton is having difficulty convincing Dean that he has potentialities as great as the famed little University of Pennsylvania flyer who raced to a world record 46.4 seconds victory over Ben Eastman in the 1932 Olympic 400-meter run.

Dean coached his running to the 10' and 220-yard dashes while at junior college, but started working on the quarter in January, after he had entered Stanford. In his fourth time trial he was clocked at 50.2 seconds.

Now came a long sleep of "unusual" weather. Stanford was rained out of three meets in four weeks and other bad breaks left the defending I. C. 4-A and N. C. A. A. champions without a capable sprinter.

Dean, who was credited with .98.8 and 21.5 in junior college, saw where he could make more points for the Indians, leaving the quarter-mile up to Capt. Al Blackman, defending I. C. 4-A 400-meter champion. That set all right with Templeton as far as point-making was concerned, but "Dink" still wants to see Dean develop into "the next Willie Carr."

Templeton predicts that, with good running conditions and hard work, Dean could run a 48-second quarter before the season ends. With another year to follow that up, the little fellow might shave off at least one more second.

Dean looks not unlike Carr when running. He stands about 5 feet 6, is of medium build and has somewhat the same point-making set. Carr over the nation's tracks, at such amazing speeds until an automobile accident spelled fins to one of Lawson Robertson's greatest products.

Coltoto to Play Road Runners on Sunday at LeFors

The Coltoto-Road Runner baseball game which was postponed last night on account of unfavorable weather conditions, was scheduled for next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Shaw park in LeFors.

Five hundred baseball fans waited until 6 o'clock at Road Runner park in the hope that Coltoto baseball players could be located and the scheduled game played. The game had been called off by the Road Runners about 7:30 o'clock when a dust pall started settling over the city.

The Coltoto management announced this morning that the LeFors team waited at the park from 6:30 until 7:30, and after the Road Runners called off the game, most of the Coltoto players returned home. It was emphasized that Coltoto had no authority to call off the game in Pampa.

The dust cleared somewhat about 8 o'clock and the lights were turned on. Fans started flocking to the park. Coltoto officials started rounding up their players, but they had scattered to their homes in LeFors or were somewhere in Pampa. At 9:30 o'clock, it was announced that the game would have to be postponed.

Freddie Brickell appeared in a Road Runner uniform again and was cheered lustily. Brickell has been sojourning in the "big time" but decided to return to Pampa to make his home.

Congressman Stephen M. Young of Ohio has a son, Stephen, Jr., 22, who is stationed at Norfolk, Va., as an enlisted man in the navy.

SHIPPERS WIN 7TH STRAIGHT OVER SOONERS

DALLAS LOSES 20TH IN TENTH INNING TO HOUSTON

The Beaumont Exporters, winners of seven games in a row, retained the Texas league pennant chase today, and the Dallas Steers, losers of 20 contests in 22 starts, remained out of sight in the cellar.

Beaumont shut out the Oklahoma City Indians, 13 to 0, in the first of a two-game series. Joe Hare scattered seven singles effectively while his mates capitalized on the loose hurling of Moncrief and Mills. Beaumont stole seven bases and the twelve-hit attack included a circuit cut by Ray York with one on.

The Steers fought 10 innings with the Houston Buffs before losing, 7 to 6. Lynn King's fourth hit of the game with the bases full in the tenth gave the Buffs the winning run.

San Antonio piled up the largest score of the day, whipping the Tulsa Oilers, 14 to 1. Earl Caldwell held Tulsa to four hits, while the Missions were collecting 16 off Posedel and Whitworth. Seven Tulsa errors aided the Missions.

Galveston gained a measure of revenge on Fred Johnson, veteran Fort Worth right hander, for the whitewashing he gave them in the Dixie series last fall while he was with New Orleans. The Buc drove out 14 hits to score an 8 to 1 victory over the Oats. Max Butcher won his fifth straight game. Although he was touched for nine hits, he was tough in the pinches and left a dozen runners stranded.

Britain 'Books' Arab War Debt LONDON (AP)— Ibn Saud, King of Saudi Arabia, owes the British empire $150,000 for war supplies furnished to him by India in 1929 when a rebellion broke out in the desert. The debt has been charged one-third to the Indian government and two-thirds to the British exchequer.

CLEVELAND IS LEADING SOX A FULL GAME

BROOKLYN IS FINALLY BEATEN BY GIANTS; CARDINALS WIN

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. Unless they crack up when the Eastern teams start their first inter-sectional invasion, the Cleveland Indians appear set to remain at the head of the American league for some time.

Despite the absence of Billy Knickerbocker, flashy young short-stop, and weak hitting by some others, Walter Johnson's team all-around has repulsed two strong challenges, overcome an early lack of scoring, and gained strength as the pitchers continued to perform consistently.

Facing their closest rivals, the Chicago White Sox, yesterday in the only game left of the series, after rain and cold weather got through, the Redmen belted out an 11 to 5 decision to increase their lead to a full game.

They started scoring in the first inning, belted Sam Jones to cover in the fifth when the totals reached nine blows and eight runs, and kept right on against young Joe Vance. Willis Hudlin, sent the full route for Cleveland, granting eight hits, and having only one bad inning.

To make the prospect brighter, Earl Averill snatched out of his hitting slump with a home run, double, and single and Hal Trosky belted his fourth homer.

Cleveland's threat from the New York Yankees, a game and a half behind in third place, was lessened when the Yanks failed to survive Washington's ninth inning rally and went down, 7-5, to see their winning streak end at six straight.

The Red Sox won on a ninth-inning spurt, scoring twice off Charley Lierber to beat the Athletics, 8 to 6, after coming from behind with pairs of runs in the seventh and eighth.

Jimmie Foxx, smacked his fifth home for the A's but let in the last run with a wild throw.

The Giants finally broke the Brooklyn spell to increase their margin of leadership in the National league with an 8 to 3 triumph over the Dodgers. Featuring circuit swats by Dick Bartell and Mel Ott in the third, when they drove Johnny Babeich out with four runs, the Terry-men had an easy time behind Roy Parmelee's fine hurling.

Dizzy Dean lifted the Cardinals into fourth place in the other National league contest, by hurling a 6-hit, 5-2 triumph over the Reds. Diz gave only three hits in the first seven frames but eased up after the Cardinals' 4-ply wallop had started the Cards off well ahead.

Rain and cold weather kept the other four National league clubs and Detroit and St. Louis in the American idle.

Today Is Favored To Win Kentucky Race On Saturday

List of Starters Is Diminished to Sixteen

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP)—The probable starters in Saturday's $40,000 added Kentucky Derby diminished to sixteen today with C. V. Whitney's colt today looking like the post time favorite.

Odds on the Whitney entry seem apt to be 3 to 1 or shorter. He is scheduled, like all the other probable starters except Nellie Flag, to start 125 pounds in the mile and a quarter classic. Nellie Flag, a filly owned by Warren Wright's Calumet farm, is entitled to go with five pounds less. Jockey R. Workman is scheduled to ride today.

Col. E. R. Bradley is relying on a single colt to bring home the honors in the sixty-first derby. This is Boxthorn, which demonstrated yesterday that he will have to be reckoned with. Boxthorn flashed over the derby distance in 2:06 4-5.

No other derby candidate has approached this time, so far as been reported by clockers.

Today's latest work was a mile an eighth in 1:55 1-5. Trainer Jack Henley expressed himself as well pleased with Today's condition. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye made his last spin with Jockey Sylvio Coucci, who will ride in the derby, in the saddle. He was tabbed for the full derby route in 2:10.

Mrs. Charles Hainsworth's Blackbird covered the mile and a quarter in 2:08. He was ridden by Jockey Trainer Hainsworth, who hopes to present the derby gold cup to his recent bride.

Another leisurely derby route worked yesterday was that of William Woodward's Omaha, which was timed in 2:10.

A bit of sorrow came to owners of three derby eligibles in the Barmesdale purse event Wednesday. Charcoalview, owned by J. J. Flanagan, became an improbable derby starter after he trailed Col. Bradley's sleek three-year-old by several lengths in seven furlongs. Hank McTavish, owned by E. D. Axton, who inherited the stable of his brother Wood F. Axton, also ran out his derby prospects behind Bradley's colt.

The list of likely derby starters, with weight, probable jockey, owner and odds, as it appears today, follows:

- Today, 126, R. Workman, C. V. Whitney, 3-1. Nellie Flag, 121, E. Arcaro, Calumet Farm, 6-1. Plat Eye, 126, S. Coucci, Greentree Stable, 6-1. Omaha, 126, W. Saunders, Belair Stud, 10-1. Comenswealth, 126, G. Woolf, Mrs. W. M. Jeffords, 10-1. Psychic Bird, 126, R. Jones, Brookmeade Stable, 15-1. Sun Fairplay, 126, J. Renick, Fair Fields Stable, 15-1. Boxthorn, 126, D. Meade, E. R. Bradley, 8-1. Whopper, 126, G. Haines, H. P. Headley, 15-1. Roman Soldier, 126, L. Balaski, Sachsenmaier & Reuter, 15-1. Whiskalo, 126, W. Garner, Milky Way Stable, 15-1. Futuristic, 126, J. Lynch, Brandon Stable, 20-1. Morpluck, 126, M. Garner, J. H. Louchheim, 50-1. St. Bernard, 126, P. Keester, E. D. Shaffer, 50-1. Blackbird, 126, C. Hainsworth, Mrs. C. Hainsworth, 60-1. Prince Splendor, 126, J. Westrope, T. C. Worden, 100-1.

Texas Poloists Win Four Games From Mexicans

FORT WORTH, May 2 (AP)—The El Rancho polo players today held a victory over the republic of Mexico's army four in their international series.

The Texans out rode the Mexicans, 7 to 3, in the opener yesterday.

The second game was set for tomorrow, with Cecil Smith, nine-goal star, as an addition to the El Rancho team.

Clarence Stark and M. H. Stephens Jr., led the Texans' attack on the Mexican soldiers.

More than 27,000 Kentucky school children have been given free lunches daily since last fall by the Kentucky emergency relief administration.

Peace and Plenty Prevail in the Rich Matanuska Vale

Beautiful crops in shock and stack here attest fertility of the region in which 200 midwestern families hope to find peace and plenty as farmers in the rich Matanuska valley of Alaska. In the flatlands of this section, in soil of silt, loam, and sand, underlaid with gravel, grains, vegetables, and fruits thrive. Hills which roll up from the lower-lying farms are covered with birch and spruce timber, and rivers and lakes nearby provide excellent fishing. ALLISON TO LEAD DAVIS CUP TO ENGLAND DURING SUMMER

BY BOB CAVANARO, Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—As far as the United States Lawn Tennis Association is concerned, everything is "in the bag" except the international Davis cup and that may become part of Uncle Sam's baggage with a few timely breaks.

The entire personnel of the squad which will go to England in June in quest of the elusive trophy—contingent, of course, on America's conquest of two opponents in the zone matches in Mexico City this month—has been selected.

The team will be shepherded by Joseph W. Wear of Philadelphia, who guided the American net contingent in 1928 and has been named successor to R. Norris (Dick) Williams, non-playing 1934 captain. Five players were named as likely members of the squad. They are Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, and Sidney B. Wood Jr. of New York,

Silver Jubilee To Be Held Rain Or Shine Monday

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—Rain or shine, the big show of King George's silver jubilee—the procession to St. Paul's cathedral next Monday—will go forward.

An official announcement today that the weather would not be permitted to interfere with the great event stilled discussion of what would happen if May showers should make an unwelcome contribution to the occasion.

The only difference in the plans with the jubilee of 1838 was the favorable weather King George, Queen Mary and their retinue will ride in closed instead of open state landaus.

The picturesqueness and opulence of the East will be represented in the procession by four distinguished Indians—the Maharaja of Jaipur and Kashmir, the Maharaja of Bikaner, the Maharajah of Patiala and Nawab Malik Sir Umar Hayat Khan.

The day's events in Great Britain will include the lighting of a chain of 1,750 beacons illuminating the route from Land's end to John O'Grady.

King George himself at the end of the day of thanksgiving will ignite the first of the chain by pressing a button in Buckingham palace.

An electrical impulse thereupon will set ablaze a conical beacon 20 feet high in Hyde park.

Senators Ready To Investigate Hopkins Actions

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Senators preparing to conduct a sweeping investigation into the handling of relief watched today to see if Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, would make good his latest threat to withhold federal funds from states refusing to make requested contributions.

Numerous developments pointed to the possibility of an immediate showdown on FERA's efforts to force state officials into line.

Chief among them was the fact that Hopkins was at work on grants to be made today or tomorrow from the $100,000,000 fund which he asked President Roosevelt to set aside yesterday for May relief needs.

He was aware that the Illinois house of representatives, faced by the threat that federal funds would be cut off at midnight last night unless the state agreed to raise $3,000,000 monthly for relief, had rebuffed a sales tax proposal to meet the ultimatum. In the Illinois statehouse it was rumored that Hopkins stood ready to take over the state's relief administration, assuming full responsibility for the care of its 1,165,897 on relief.

Pennsylvania, with 1,866,819 dependent on relief payments, likewise had failed to comply with a federal demand for larger contributions.

Auxiliary Plans For End of Year

Plans for their last meeting of this year, on May 15, were discussed by women of the Episcopal Auxiliary in an informal social meeting yesterday afternoon at the parish house.

Extortion Target

An extortion demand for $25,000 was revealed when a fire at the Easton, Md., estate of Mrs. Glenn Stewart, above, was investigated.

Mrs. Stewart, god-mother of 11-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt, was mentioned in the suit over the child's custody. She has received several threatening letters, it is reported.

The drama, "The Blurred Vision," will be presented Thursday night. In the cast are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lester, Roy McMillen, Philip Belew, John Martin, Chris Martin Jr., MRS. Virginia Roberts, and Mrs. R. M. Siskal. The service will start at 7:45.

Following the drama Evangelist Holmes will preach on "The Meanest Thing in Pampa."

Speaking on "The Change of Heart" Wednesday night Evangelist Holmes said, "The Bible very plainly shows the word 'heart' means the 'intellect,' the 'will,' and the 'feelings.' The intellect is changed by hearing the great facts of the gospel and the result is faith. The will is changed by the determination to turn away from evil and give heart to Christ and the result is repentance. The feelings are changed by actual obedience to the will of Christ through baptism."

"If a man believes in Christ then the intellect does not need changing. If he believes and has repented then all he needs to do is to make confession of his faith and be baptized."

"Lots of people try to make the gospel of Christ and the plan of salvation very mysterious. The prophet of old said that the way to salvation would be so plain that even an ignorant wayfarer could not miss it."

Sixth Graders "Do Something" About Dusters

Paraphrasing Mark Twain's famous remark, "Everybody talks about the dust storms but nobody does anything about them,"—except pupils of Miss Katherine Simmons' sixth grade room at Woodrow Wilson school.

They made a class project out of the prevailing weather, and as a result have an attractive poster with clippings from the Pampa NEWS on scientific aspects of dusts, pictures of the "black dust" of April 14, a map showing the "dust bowl," and a booklet in which each pupil wrote of his reaction to the worst sandstorm of the year.

No Clemency For Bergdoll, Says Cummings

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Attorney General Cummings today said Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, world war draft dodger, would receive "no clemency from the department of justice."

Told at a press conference that Mrs. Bergdoll had landed in New York with the intention of seeking a pardon for her husband, now in Germany, the attorney general said: "Bergdoll is a fugitive from justice. He was convicted at court martial and was serving time at the time of his escape. Two other indictments are facing him in the eastern district court of Pennsylvania."

Cummings said the question of clemency on behalf of Bergdoll would be a matter for the war department and the president. He said the pending indictments would be considered later.

GREAT RICHES

Chapter 32 RECONCILED

When they were alone, Jane came up to him and slipped an affectionate arm through his.

She looked so pretty in her gleaming satin and lace that James' irritation vanished and he could do nothing but agree that it had been a lovely dinner, and that he was glad they had given it.

Jane, when she chose, could still be very tender and alluring, and now, of course, she must be most carefully cherished and considered.

Perhaps after the baby came things would be different and Jane not so avid for excitement. James knew he must have more time for his work, more time for study. Jane wanted him to succeed, expected him to succeed, but some way she could not realize that she, as well as he, must pay a price for that success. It was natural enough that Jane should not understand.

He would have to teach her, lead her instead of taking always the easier course of letting her lead him. Very tenderly he drew her down on his lap beside an open window after switching off the lights; "Honey," he began, "I want to have a talk with you."

"I know that you are going to scold and I am so tired," she coaxed. "I'm not going to scold, dear."

"Then you're going to preach. I feel it in my bones. Can't we be happy like this on our anniversary without thinking of anything but pleasant things?"

Naturally, James did not preach on this night; and it was the same on other nights. As the months passed Jane was far from well and she grew more and more irritable and less easy to please. James felt guiltily conscious that it was all his fault.

Jane impressed it upon him that the lot of women was a hard one and scarcely to be endured. Mrs. Northrup looked at him accusingly every time her daughter sighed or refused pudding at dinner, and Anna sniffed scornfully whenever she passed him his food.

Their Sundays were more awful than James had conceived possible.

Among the larger appliances in relation to foods in which the housewife is so vitally interested are the refrigerator and ranges. In using the refrigerator many delicious and wholesome desserts may be served as well as furnishing a perfect storage place for left-over foods.

21 COUNTIES IN TEXAS INCLUDED IN SHELTERBELT Scurry, Fisher, Jones Mark Boundary On South

STYDER, MAY 2 (AP)—Twenty-one West Texas counties and possibly portions of adjoining counties have been definitely included in the shelterbelt of trees being planted under the federal conservation program. Edgar H. Kempf, Shelterbelt assistant to John D. Jones, state director, with headquarters at Wichita Falls, made this statement while here recently conferring with civic and agricultural leaders in regard to purchase of Scurry county land for shelterbelt planting. He indicated that the acreage would be purchased in this and other 21 counties in time for summer following, but that actual planting would be spread over a one-to-three-year period.

The Texas area for planting is bounded by Hemphill county at the north and Scurry, Fisher and Jones counties at the south. From the latter counties the belt will run north-eastward through portions of Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and North Dakota—approximately 1,000 miles.

The belt will be about 100 miles wide. Each strip of trees will be 10 rods, or 165 feet wide and planted crossways in the path of damaging winds, only good farming land will be planted with trees. Kempf told Scurry citizens. The strips will run approximately one mile apart in these cultivated areas. Ample room for passageways will be allowed on the ends and in the center of each strip.

"We have no visionary ideas of the trees that are adaptable to this section," Kempf pointed out. "Varieties proved over a period of years will be used. We are making every effort to secure data on tree varieties in every county of the shelterbelt."

The government plan calls for planting and cultivation of seedlings in nurseries to be established in the general territory where the trees will be planted.

Among trees suggested for this area by the United States forest service, under whose direction the belt will be completed, are: Green ash, American elm, Chinese elm, cottonwood, hackberry, chokeberry, plum, haw, buffalo berry, sumac, willows (moist sites), red cedar, ponderosa pine, liliac, honey locust, black walnut, pecan, Arizona cypress, Chinese arbor vitae, black locust, pistachia, apricot, chinaberry, orange, austrian pine and Russian mulberry.

Kempf said that no landowner would be forced to have a shelter belt strip on his place. He said the government would purchase outright or lease with the option of purchase. "If a landowner does not cooperate," he said, "he will be the loser—not his neighbors or his community."

After purchase, the land is to be summer fallowed. The government will pay for this cultivation and later for periodic working of the ground and for proper care of the trees when planted. Planting and fence building will be under supervision of government men but all labor and materials will be used and purchased locally.

Kempf is working in Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Kent, Haskell, Baylor, Stone, King, Dickens, Knox, Cottle, Motley and Ford counties and E. L. Meyers, also a shelterbelt assistant, covers Wilbarger, Harde-man, Childress, Hall, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Hemphill and Lipscomb.

Due to shortage of trees Kempf expects only a small part of the planting to be completed during the first season. The bulk of planting will be probably done the second and third years, he said.

Maybe Gassaway Will Toss This at Huey

A cowboy of renown, it appears as if Rep. Percy L. Gassaway of Oklahoma may be ruminating over taking up bullfighting as a serious occupation. But it's a capital joke that the southwesternerner keeps the bull on hand to weight down a copy of "Every Man a King," literary masterpiece of Huey Long, with whom Gassaway has a feud, ridiculing the Kingfish's share the wealth idea.

Hull Raps High Tariff Men As Chamber-FDR Rift Grows

Roosevelt Reported To Be Angry Over Criticism

BY J. R. BRACKETT, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Amid signs of hostility between President Roosevelt and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Secretary Hull went before the business men's convention today to attack what he called "unscrupulous resistance" to the Roosevelt program of lowering tariffs in negotiating reciprocal trade treaties.

The cabinet official, in a speech prepared for delivery today, criticized those business interests which, he said, bring "pressure" to bear in "fear that they are to be deprived of even a small part of the artificial advantage given them by an over-indulgent government."

Signs widely interpreted as indicating a sharp break between the president and the organization of business men were seen by Washington observers as the convention went into its final day.

President Roosevelt, reported to be angry over sharp assaults which convention speakers have launched against new deal measures and plans, omitted to send a message to the chamber's annual dinner last night. For years, the chamber has been accustomed to hear a speech or a message from the chief executive.

There was no official pronouncement from the White House or the chamber as to this omission. Authoritative sources said the customary invitation to appear or send greetings had been extended to the president.

There was a tendency to regard the present situation as one of the most significant developments in government-business relations since the American Bankers association convention last year. The result of the bankers' convention was an apparent rapprochement widely heralded at the time as a "peace pact."

The chamber moved today to act on a series of resolutions prepared by a committee. Washington watched to assay the truth of advance reports that these resolutions would be adverse to pending NRA and AAA legislation and would take with criticism the banking and utility holding company legislation which the president has placed on his "must" calendar.

The utility plan would outlaw holding companies the government deems "unnecessary" and the omnibus banking bill would extend the government's control over the nation's credit system.

Allen Hite Obliquely. The latest convention speaker to hammer at the new deal was Henry J. Allen, former republican governor and senator from Kansas and friend of Herbert Hoover. Speaking last night Allen hit at the administration without naming it. His method was to point approvingly to the English government's program.

Secretary Hull said today that it is "the development of isolated economic factors that has let loose the fear which now grips every nation and which threatens the peace of the world."

He predicted that the policy of reciprocal treaty making would accelerate recovery, and asserted that after the war "we adopted an unduly high protectionist policy which played its part in the subsequent world-wide collapse."

Hitting "irritating" trade methods among nations, Hull said: "If nations are engaged in discrimination or retaliation or in the practice of rickety trade methods towards one another, the preservation of friendly relations and of that understanding necessary for peace and mutual prosperity is rendered difficult and precarious."

Turning to requests for tariff preferences: "The tendency to seek special preferences abroad is coupled with the stubborn and frequently unscrupulous resistance encountered by the government when even the most moderate reduction in a tariff rate is proposed regardless of how clearly this may be to the advantage of the country as a whole."

Treasury Deficit Totals 10 Millions AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—The state treasury department today reported a general revenue deficit of $5,598,818.38 and a deficit in the Confederate pension fund of $4,837,001.72. The announcement was in connection with a call of $1,700,528.51 in general revenue warrants. The call included warrants up to and including No. 78,392, or those issued to January 23, 1935.

The treasury also announced it was purchasing pension warrants up to and including the October, 1934 issue, provided they had not been discounted, and was paying up to and including the October, 1933 issue, regardless of discount.

Two Elections Are Ordered To Settle Liquor Question

One To Be Held This August; The Other In Nov. 1936

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—The important questions in the minds of the forty-third legislature today were: When will the regular session be adjourned, and will there be a special session immediately?

There was more freedom for speculation over and action on those questions because one of the most controversial matters, the form in which modification of the constitutional prohibition of liquor should be submitted to a vote of the people was settled.

Claxton discussion which has raked the session for months, both houses yesterday voted overwhelmingly to adopt a compromise method of submission, the essence of which called for two elections.

power to approve the final legislative action but not to veto it.

The controversy over sine die adjournment began some weeks ago when the house voted to adjourn the regular session May 7, and the senate declined to act on the house resolution immediately.

In the meantime, the house changed its mind and asked the senate to return its resolution. But the senate yesterday adopted the resolution, despite reverberations of indignation from the house.

A little later the house adopted another resolution calling for adjournment May 11, and there the matter rested for the time being, but with many believing the senate would convene in the later date.

Speculation immediately centered on whether Gov. Allred would call a special session immediately after the adjournment of the regular one, or would wait until next fall.

FLASHES OF LIFE

BRAWN PATROL

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-two strapping cyclists, strong enough to handle "bars" or punsters, soon will start nightfall-to-dawn patrols of eight of the city's parks to prevent vandalism, give first aid to the injured and assist generally in preserving the peace. They will be deputized as special officers.

GOOD ROAD MATERIAL

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The clanking of a road grader is real music to Mrs. William B. Graham. One of them has just turned up the wedding ring she lost 35 years ago. Although it had been part of a roadbed all that time it was not greatly damaged and the initials of Mrs. Graham and her husband were still legible.

EXTENDED VISIT

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Harry Younklin, 15, and his sister, 11, went a-visiting to the neighbors but wish they hadn't. While they were playing with the children a health officer came along and tacked up a measles quarantine sign. Mrs. Jennie Younklin is seeking a court order to get her children out.

RELIEF

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An increase in the laundry business is attributed by Ed Purkett, president of the Missouri Laundry Owners' association, to an increase in the number of families on relief.

When families go on relief, he said, the wife immediately stops "taking in washing" and her customers have to go back to the laundries for service.

THREE MAJOR TOPICS WILL BE DISCUSSED AT WTCC CONVENTION BY STATE AND U. S. OFFICIALS

Plainview Girl Named Miss West Texas For Event

PLAINVIEW, May 2—Three major topics of work will be discussed during the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, meeting in Plainview May 13-14-15. Taxation, Territorial Development, and Agriculture.

"Miss West Texas" Named

Miss Jean Shelly Jennings, Plainview, has been named "Miss West Texas" and will reign during the convention, May 13, 14, 15. Miss Jennings is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Jennings of Plainview. She received her degree from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, in 1933, where she majored in English. She was a member of Las Chaparritas and Forum.

Miss Eleanor Halbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Halbert of Plainview, will be "Miss Plainview" at La Fiesta celebration here during the convention. Miss Halbert is a junior at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and is a member of Saus Solci Society.

Tuesday Luncheon Program

On Tuesday, May 14, a luncheon will be given newspaper men, chamber of commerce secretaries and presidents, mayors, and other public officials. On that program, speakers will be H. C. Fender, professor of government, Texas Tech. Chas. A. Guy, editor Lubbock Avalanche, and W. T. Strange Jr., manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce.

Sponsors for La Fiesta are being named rapidly. The celebration, which promises to be the high-light of the entertainment for the convention, is a revue arranged by Miss Wilma Friedsam, head of the English department, Wayland College. Ten cities have already registered specialties for this revue, and seven cities have sent in the names of their sponsors.

Cities already naming a sponsor are: Quitaque, which will be represented by Miss Ila Steele Patterson; Slaton, Miss Katrina Brewer; Tulsa, Miss Erin Wilks; Baird, Mrs. Sidney Foy; Post, Miss Hilda Jones; Crowley, Miss Elizabeth Kincaid; Del Rio, Miss Alice Overstreet. Miss Overstreet's escort will be Mr. Robert Cawthon Jr.

BOMBS EXPLODE NEAR DALHART; NO RAIN FALLS

Last Man Club Has Many Joiners at Explosion

DALHART, May 2 (AP)—It didn't rain! Farmers in the wind-swept Texas Panhandle heard bomb after bomb rend the dust-laden air last night as Tex Thornton, explosive expert, sought to coax moisture from clouds with TNT.

It didn't rain, but the dust blew. It sifted across the plains country as the hopeful farmers, some of them with protective masks on, stood and watched.

As Thornton prepared to set off his bombs, purchased with funds raised by farmers and ranchmen who haven't had a decent rain in more than three years, another dust storm, like many that have swept this section, hit. And the dust raised by the explosions joined that which whirled through the air.

Workers Wait For Result Of Strike Parley

Dillon was due here today after several days spent conferring with federation of labor leaders in Washington.

DETROIT, May 2 (AP)—Twenty thousand workers in the automobile industry, forced into idleness through a series of strikes and shutdowns in General Motors subsidiary plants, waited for the outcome today of a scheduled peace conference between the government and the American Federation of Labor.

Edward F. McGrady, first assistant secretary of Labor, and one of the administration's chief "trouble shooters," admitting that the situation was "serious," expected to meet Francis J. Dillon, A. F. of L. organizer today to get the federation's proposals for peace with the General Motors management.

It was the second time in 14 months that the federal government intervened to head off the threat of a strike that might paralyze the giant motorcar industry, a pace setter in the recovery of heavy industry. President Roosevelt intervened in March of 1934 and succeeded in halting a strike there.

Meanwhile, strikes and threats of strikes were spreading through the Chevrolet and Fisher body subsidiaries of General Motors, reaching out in some instances into the plants of independent automobile parts makers, and affecting indirectly many workers in companies supplying materials to the motor car industry.

The key to the situation was the strike of workers in the Chevrolet plant at Toledo where transmission units are manufactured for Chevrolet cars.

The closing of the Toledo plant halted production lines in the Fisher Body company plant at Cleveland where 9,000 are idle and the Fisher and Chevrolet plants in Atlanta and Janesville, Wis., where a total of 4,600 are idle.

UNCLE SAM paid France about $15,000,000 for nearly a million square miles of land, when he acquired the Louisiana territory, and was severely criticized for it. The Virgin Islands, purchased in 1916, cost him $25,000,000, and the fifty islands total only 133 square miles.

COURT HEARS NRA POULTRY CASE ARGUED

LIVE POULTRY ISSUE 'NOT FAIR TEST,' SAYS SENATOR

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—While powerful senate forces lined up today to push through a plan to extend NRA only until next April—instead of the two years President Roosevelt had asked—the blue eagle came to a test in the supreme court.

Senator McCarran (D., Nev.), critic of NRA, said the case would not be a "fair test." He accused Roosevelt of "hand-picking" cases to bring before the court.

Senator Black (D., Ala.) had planned to offer an amendment to the NRA legislation to cut all hours provisions in codes to 30 a week. But party chieftains were aligning their forces to put the NRA resolution through quickly without change.

Under the plan, as approved by the senate finance committee yesterday on a 16 to 3 vote, a host of small industries would be removed from the blue eagle's domain.

Promptly, he said, came a reply from Hollywood. The letter contained not only a dime but a written invitation to "come up and see-me-sometime."

Bruno's Counsel Claims Jury Was Not Sequestered

TRENTON, N. J., May 2 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's counsel charged today the jury which convicted him of the Lindbergh baby murder was not properly sequestered, resulting in "undue and improper influence" upon it by persons outside the court's jurisdiction.

Counsel appealed to the court for permission to take testimony in support of his allegations. A motion for oral argument was denied, and the court announced it would decide the case later today on briefs.

THE NEW plan would be based upon voluntary contracts with farmers and would be for the four years 1936, 1937, 1938, and 1939, with optional provision for a referendum on the question of continuing it from year to year during this period.

Benefit payments would be determined at the beginning of each marketing year as has been done in the present program. The local administration of the proposed program would again be in the hands of the local county wheat production control associations.

Senate Considers Cash Bonus Issue WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The cash bonus issue was placed squarely before the senate today, as debate opened on the Harrison compromise bill, when Senator Clark (D., Mo.) offered the "winnow" full payment measure as a substitute.

The Missouri senator, himself a veteran, offered the Vinson bill without a word of comment, but he told newspaper men he believed it would get enough votes to take the place of the Harrison substitute.

Under the Vinson bill, which was defeated in the house by a narrow margin by the inflationary Patman bill, veterans could immediately cash their bonus certificates for the full face value. Its cost has been estimated at more than either of the two other leading proposals.

Harrison's compromise, which was defeated in the senate by Chairman Harrison of the finance committee in an effort to obtain legislation satisfactory to the administration, would move the issuance date of the certificates back to the end of the war and cash their current redemption value. In the current case that would be $770 instead of $1,000.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The stock market pulled itself together and scored irregular recovery in the late trading today, after regaining a jolt from the crack in silver prices in the morning.

Gains of fractions to more than 2 points were numerous in rails, utilities and industrial specialties at the finish, and much of the forenoon loss had been recovered, even in the non-ferrous metal issues which were depressed by the action of silver. The market closed with a firm undertone. Spikes approximated 390,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—Rain and snow beneficial particularly in spring wheat territory brightened crop prospects today and resulted in lower wheat prices.

Independent strength of rye buoyed the wheat and corn markets to some extent, helping wheat to rally from the day's maximum loss of nearly two cents. Foreign markets weakness had a bearish influence.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, July 97-97 1/2, and corn was 1/2 cent off, July 83 1/2-84. Oats lost 1/4 to 1 cent.

TEXAS IN WASHINGTON

BY DONALD YOUNG WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally again has championed the cause of states' rights.

One week after he opposed the Thomas oil bill on the ground that it would give to the federal government regulation of an industry which should be controlled by a state, the junior senator from Texas attacked the Costigan-Wagner

"anti-lynch" bill on the ground that, if passed, "it will amount eventually to turning over to the federal government the prosecution of all crime within the states."

Asserting that "lynching is murder," Connally asserted the bill constituted a new departure from existing conceptions of the responsibility of the states within their own proper sphere and of the federal government.

"The bill does not content itself with making it a crime for individuals who may come within its terms but it brings within the condemnation of the court the county in which the offense may be committed," he said.

The committee recommended studies toward a unification of rail and bus operations. The substitute, offered by Fitzgerald Hall, Nashville, Tenn., railroad official, proposed that the matter be left entirely to the state. It passed by a tremendous vote.

The convention unanimously approved a resolution condemning those advocating overthrow of the government.

1918 'SLACKER' SEEKS PARDON THROUGH WIFE

Mrs. Bergdoll in New York; To Visit President NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Mrs. Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, post-war wife of the fugitive accused as America's arch slacker, arrived on the liner Washington today to plead for his pardon.

"He has suffered so much—in fact, too much," she said in difficult English before resorting to an interpreter who served for the remainder of the interview.

Bergdoll fled the United States 15 years ago to escape a jail sentence as a draft evader. His pretty young wife declared he would not return to face military court martial or go to prison, but would come back without pardon if offered a civil trial.

Mrs. Bergdoll brought her four children with her and planned to take the first available train to Philadelphia where she will live with her husband's aged mother. The children, Alfred, 7 1/2 years old, Emma 6 1/2, Minna 5 1/2, and Irwin, 13 months, are all blond, typically German. The girls wore their hair in long braids. Baby Irwin howled as his mother talked, Mrs. Bergdoll said.

She said she met the American fugitive in her native city, Hedbrunn, Germany, in 1925. "At a social function," she was asked. "No, on the street," she said. "He greeted me and I greeted him."

They were married a year later in 1926 in Leningrad "because no papers were necessary there." She was acquainted with his war record. "Of course, he told me everything."

The couple have been living at Weinsberg, Wurtemberg, where the townsfolk know Bergdoll's history and are friendly, but where, she said, "we live alone and have little to do with them (the townsfolk)."

There's a 5-room house rented on money sent by the fugitive mother. The pretty young wife hopes to appeal directly to President Roosevelt. She said it was her understanding the president now has a pardon drawn up which needs only his signature. No arrangement has been made for an interview, however.

Mrs. Bergdoll's maiden name was Bertha Franke. Her father, chief inspector of gardens at an insane asylum in Weinsberg.

Comstock Lode Comes to Life VIRGINIA CITY, Nevada, May 2 (AP)—The once slumbering Comstock Lode, from whose depths the bonanza kings took an estimated $500,000,000, is coming to life again to the tune of 77-cent silver.

From the northern end of the historic district to the satebrish flats south of Silver City, the one-time domain of Mackay, Fair, Flood and O'Brien, is humming with a new activity born of recent increases in the price paid for the newly mined white metal.

Hailed by the more enthusiastic as "the most marvelous thing that could have happened to Virginia City," the new price of silver has convinced even the conservatives that the most famous of Nevada's big bonanzas faces a new era of prosperity.

Eight mills already are working at capacity and within the next few months at least four more are expected to be under construction. Discovered in 1859, the Comstock in its hey-day was one of the greatest producers of precious metals the world had ever known.

Many of America's greatest fortunes had their beginning in the gold and silver ore extracted here during the days Mark Twain roamed the region's barren hillsides, as a reporter for "The Territorial Enterprise."

Huey Long Blamed For Tenant Misery WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Labor conditions in the Arkansas cotton country were condemned to President Roosevelt today by Norman Thomas, former socialist candidate for president, and blamed by him principally upon Senator Long of Louisiana.
