President Cardenas Wins Out In Duel With Calles; Mexican Cabinet Quits LASKA CONVICTED OF KNOWINGLY ACCEPTING PART OF KIDNAPING RANSOM

STAR WITNESS FOR ATTORNEY IS ARRESTED

WOMAN CHARGED WITH PERJURY AFTER TRIAL

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 15 (AP)—Uncle Sam marked up another crushing victory in his drive against kidnapers today, continuing an unbroken record of successful prosecutions in the $200,000 Charles F. Urschel kidnaping with the conviction of Ben B. Laska, Denver defender of kidnapers.

Laska was convicted of knowingly accepting part of the ransom for defending Albert Bates, convicted kidnaper. His star witness, Mrs. Molly O. Edison, attractive Denver attorney, was arrested for perjury, and three government witnesses who admitted their guilt and aided the prosecution of Laska were given paroles from five-year prison sentences.

They were the woman Bates married three months before his arrest, Mrs. Clara Feldman, her son Edward, and her brother-in-law, Alvin Scott.

Mrs. Edison, fearful at Laska's conviction and shocked by her own arrest, was released under $5,000 bond pending preliminary hearing June 21.

Laska's motion for a new trial was set for hearing July 2, at which time Federal Judge S. Vaughn indicated he would pass sentence.

"The conviction of Laska is one of the biggest victories the government has won in its fight against kidnapers," W. C. Lewis, U. S. attorney declared.

"It will put the fear of the law into a lot of crooked lawyers."

Laska scored the government for "persecuting me," denounced Feldman and his mother for "not telling the truth," rapped the jury for "having its mind made up in the case before it heard the evidence" and declared the arrest of Mrs. Edison was a "damnable outrage."

Clipper Arrives At Midway Island

MIDWAY ISLAND—(Via Pan American Airways Radio)—June 15 (AP)—Successfully completing its pioneering 1,323-mile cruise westward from Hawaii, the big Pan American Airways clipper plane glided to a perfect landing at its mid-Pacific base here today at 1:40 p. m. (8:40 p. m. EST).

The flight, the first non-stop hop made over this lonely sector of the Pacific and the second ever accomplished west from Honolulu, was made in nine hours and 13 minutes.

"Beautiful dash without incident," Capt. E. C. Musick, the clipper's skipper, commented after his arrival.

Captain Musick announced the 19-ton seaplane would remain here over Sunday to permit the flight crew to make a study of approaches to the lagoon and coral reefs which surround this unique port.

The return flight to Honolulu, thence to California, is expected to be started Monday morning, he said.

Marines rifle team from the USS Utah, on which Weedman is stationed, defeated the crack Hilo Legion team that lost the first time in 70 consecutive matches. On the Marine team was Pampa's own Ray Weedman who scored 174 out of a possible 200 points. Weedman is the only private on the Utah's rifle team.

Officers Hunt Kidnap Suspect At Kirbyville

Deputy Declares Man Who Escaped After Gun Battle Was William Mahan.

KIRBYVILLE, June 15. (AP)—A man officers declared they had been tipped was William Mahan, sought in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, apparently had made good his escape tonight after a gun fight with officers near a CCC camp five miles east of here early today.

The officers would not reveal the source of their tip that the man was Mahan and department of Justice operatives at Dallas said they had not been notified. C. B. Hamer, Jasper county deputy sheriff and a nephew of Frank Hamer, former Texas Ranger, declared, however, that the tip came from a reliable source.

The tip, he said, was that Mahan was in the vicinity riding in a small sedan (Plymouth) bearing license plates with the last three numbers 153 Texas. He and three other officers located such a car early this morning parked in front of the CCC camp, where a dance was in progress.

In it, he said, were two men, one of whom was the man they were tipped was Mahan. N. B. Powell, Kirbyville night marshal, approached the machine and the other man, a 21-year-old Kirbyville youth, shouted:

"Wake up, here comes the law!" while the other man, firing an automatic pistol, sped away. Officers said they had seen a sub-machine gun in the car.

The youth who fled was later arrested, as was his brother-in-law, who had been reported riding with the suspect most of the day. Neither would talk.

Hamer said he and the other officers pursued the suspect several miles south on the highway before being outdistanced. Later, tire tracks convinced them, he said, that the man doubled back through here. No further trace of him was found.

Car Inspections Begin Wednesday

Heralded as one of the most important safety campaigns ever held here, free inspections of lights, brakes and other safety appliances will begin here Wednesday. City police will cooperate with six state highway patrolmen in conducting the drive to rid automobiles of this community of defects that cause automobile accidents.

The inspections will be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Thousands of stickers have been printed for use in the drive. Cars that are found okay will be plastered with a sticker. Similar campaigns in other towns have revealed that a great percent of the cars have either bad brakes or defective lights. Car-owners were urged to have safety appliances on their cars repaired before Wednesday in order to make Pampa's record satisfactory.

The inspections will be conducted in traffic lanes which will be closed while the cars are being checked. The Jaycees decided to sponsor the campaign after Don Conley, chairman of the city traffic safety, pointed out the benefits that would accrue.

Winnie Mae Sits Down At Wichita

WICHITA, Kas., June 15. (AP)—Wiley Post's, aging monoplane "Winnie Mae," which has carried him on two record-breaking flights around the world, felled him today in his fourth attempt to span the nation through the sub-stratosphere.

Pored down by a broken piston, Post announced immediately that he will try again—but not in the plane to which sentiment has long attached him.

Minus retractable landing gear, dropped at the takeoff from Burbank, Calif., the plane made a "belly-land" landing here at 3:30 p. m. central standard time (4:30 p. m. E. S. T.)

STUDENTS AND LABOR RALLY TO BACK HIM

PRESIDENT WILL FORM NEW GOVERNMENT ON MONDAY

MEXICO, D. F., June 15. (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas appeared tonight to be victorious in his political duel with former President Plutarco Elias Calles, "leader of the revolution."

The government, officials said, counts on the complete support of all social classes, legislative chambers and the army and will continue its program "without hindrance."

The ministry of foreign relations sent a reassuring telegram to diplomatic representatives who had been anxious over Calles' recent condemnation of the president's policies.

The message, sent after Cardenas had forced his cabinet and other high officials to resign so that he could form a new government, said: "The president of the republic invited his cabinet to resign. The government is solidly backed by all social classes. The legislative chambers have made declaration supporting solely the administration of President Cardenas. The government will continue without hindrance in carrying out constructive work on behalf of the nation. Complete tranquility exists throughout the entire country."

The president announced he would name a new cabinet Monday. It appeared Cardenas had won

On Hottest Day Frost-Bite Fatal

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—On one of the hottest days of the season, George Armstrong, 71, died today as a result of a frost-bite.

The large toe of his left foot was frostbitten last winter and complications, causing his death, developed when gangrene set in. He had been in a hospital since March.

Scholarly Solon Lashes Kingfish In Senate Speech

War on Senator Long Begun by Young And Old

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The threatened war on Senator Long's anti-administration forays broke in the senate today as veteran and "freshmen" democrats alike lashed at the Louisiana with such words as "offensive" and "crawfish, grunt, puffer and kingfish."

Long replied in kind but was apparently somewhat subdued after the scholarly Senator Ashurst of Arizona had given him one of the most extended, though semi-polite, tongue-whippings of his senate career.

After the democratic leader, Robinson of Arkansas, had heatedly resented an inference by Long that Postmaster General Parkey had "slovenly" souvenir postage stamps for his friends the oratorical Ashurst drew from his desk a prepared speech.

He compared Long to crustacea such as the "crawfish, grunt and puffer," that are washed up on the shores only in turbulent times but which seldom appear when the "sea is calm and tranquil."

Applying this analogy to present-day economics, the Arizona declared:

"The same physical principle operate on mankind, when the distress of depression, the fury of financial panic and storm, and the terror of economic uncertainty agitate the people. . . . To all types of men, when confronted with insecurity, there come dangerous thoughts, a feeling and fears, and thus some men usually called odd-fish, are forced to the surface from the swamps of anonymity."

Long smilingly "thanked" Ashurst for his "specially prepared speech." Apparently, he said, the Arizona had been waiting for just such an opportunity.

"I thank the senator," Long said, "but he has his facts a little wrong. . . . The senator has overlooked one thing. There is another species washed up in larger numbers. That is the tadpole."

Darwin Wrong?

If there's anything to the Darwinian theory that man is distantly related to the ape, you'll have to admit, after glancing at this picture, that the relationship must be very distant. FORUM DINNER WILL BE GIVEN BY DEMOCRATS

Young Democrats to Banquet Here on June 25

The Pampa Young Democratic club had a spirited meeting in the county court room, Friday night. President John Ketter, Clifford Braly and Willard Webb made reports on the West Texas regional and state conventions in Amarillo last week. About 50 attended. Interesting high-lights on the convention were discussed by the delegates, and it was regretted that Pampa did not have a larger representation at the convention. "It would have been enlightening and entertaining for all fortunate enough to be in attendance," Mr. Webb said. Considerable discussion took place pertaining to some of the main points which were brought forth in the resolutions presented at the state convention, dealing with the Federal oil control bill, or state's rights versus federal control, and the present administration's proposed amendments to the constitution. Extensive work programs will be drafted by the local organization to consider these and other measures which are of vital interest to the nation at this time in order to thoroughly acquaint all members with the importance of these measures to the people as a whole. It was announced. Considerable time will be spent on an educational program which will be outlined in the near future by a national director, it was said.

The club is now laying plans for launching a membership drive to swell the enrollment to a figure which will result in Pampa's becoming one of the predominating factors in the West Texas and state organization. The goal has been set at 300 or more members, and in connection with this program an open forum dinner is being planned for Tuesday night, June 25, at the Schneider hotel, for which tickets are being placed on sale this week. It is expected that several notables from the Panhandle will be on hand for this get-together dinner, with an outstanding speaker for the evening. All those who are interested in this movement are cordially invited to attend.

NEW OIL BILL BY THOMAS IS NOW FAVORED

CONTROL IN EFFECT BEFORE RULING IS IN PROSPECT

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Given new life by continuation of skeleton NRA, the petroleum administrative board started anew today the task of assisting the gigantic oil industry to keep its house in order.

While most of the boards present work will be confined to general surveys, a new bill introduced yesterday by Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) to regulate interstate oil commerce would raise its status close to the position it held before the supreme court invalidated the petroleum and other codes created under the protecting wings of the Blue Eagle.

Charles Fahy, chairman of the PAB, said his agency planned to continue general marketing surveys, a crude oil cost study, an examination of consumer and export demand and report on operations of the code and Pacific coast petroleum agreements, conditions arising from invalidation of the code and the best method of assuring orderly development of new oil fields.

If the recovery act has not been extended, the board could only have enforced the Connally "hot oil" law, which forbids interstate shipments of crude and its products in excess of state allowances, and its only activity would have been maintenance of the federal ten-cent board in the prolific East Texas field.

Thus, the most important work of the agency would come with enactment of the latest oil bill of Senator Thomas. Acting at the behest of the PAB and the independent Petroleum Association of America, through Russell B. Brown, its general counsel, the silver-haired Oklahoma has asked congress to seek to keep crude production in line with consumptive demand—imports being considered at the same time—and to set up necessary machinery.

Under provisions of what Thomas would call "the federal petroleum act," the PAB would determine the country's production requirements, as it did under the code, but would only make this finding available to the industry, instead of "allocating" production quotas. Where the code authorized gasoline production allotments, the new bill would leave this to the wishes of one or more petroleum advisory committees the president would appoint the petroleum industry to assist the PAB.

Proceeding on the theory that under the code producing states set crude allocations for their various fields to conform generally with quotas prescribed in Washington, the PAB hopes that the new suggestions to the states would be followed, too.

BANK TO CLOSE

The First National bank will be closed all day Tuesday so that employees and officials can attend the Panhandle Bankers association convention in Amarillo. Six hundred bankers of the Panhandle and Oklahoma are expected to attend the meetings.

Mrs. Mary Hoover of Hindsville, Ark., former Pampa resident, is here visiting friends and relatives.

USCC In Fresh Attack On FDR

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Relieved for the moment of major labor trouble, President Roosevelt today dug into the job of setting up the midget NRA to the accomplishment of a fresh blast of criticism from the chamber of commerce of the United States.

The threat of a recovery-disrupting soft coal strike, originally set for tomorrow night, was removed when Appalachian producers agreed with the United Mine Workers to continue present wages, hours and working conditions through June 30.

Executive orders to preserve the recovery administration's shell were issued for tomorrow, James L. Forester, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust company of New York, was reported to have been selected to head the new organization.

MRS. BAIRD OF CLARENDON DIES IN PAMPA HOME

Pioneer Woman Became Ill Last Friday Night

The Pioneers Roundup of the Pre-Centennial last week proved to be the last roundup for Mrs. Mittie Fleming Baird, 62, of Clarendon, who died a 5 o'clock yesterday morning in the home of Dr. W. Purgance where she was a guest last Thursday and Friday during the celebration.

Mrs. Baird, who came to the Panhandle in 1887, became ill Friday night. Pneumonia developed, and complications caused her death. She had been in good health, and had intensely enjoyed the celebration. Friends said she was known and loved by hundreds of people here and in surrounding counties. She also attended the celebration last year.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist church in Clarendon with the Rev. E. D. Landreth, pastor, in charge. He will be assisted by the Rev. T. S. Barcus, presiding elder. Burial will follow in the Citizens cemetery in Clarendon.

Mrs. Baird was born September 16, 1872, in Hamptonville, N. C. She came to the Panhandle to visit her sister, Mrs. Dickerson in Mobeetie in 1887. She returned to North Carolina in 1889. She was married to J. B. Baird in 1894 in Hamptonville, and came to Mobeetie. They moved to a ranch 9 miles east of Pampa in 1899, and to Clarendon in 1915 where she has lived since.

They had three daughters, Irene, Mrs. Allen Beville; Leah, Mrs. Dick Walker, who died in August, 1934; Beulah, Mrs. John T. Sims Jr. Mr. Baird passed away in August, 1924. Mrs. Baird joined the Methodist church when a child. She was an

12 DEAD AND SCORES LOST IN DISASTER

WORST FLOOD IN 66 YEARS MOVING ON CAPITAL CITY

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—Flood waters rumbled on to more destruction in Texas tonight as the death list grew and property mounting into many millions crumbled before rampant rains.

Twelve were dead and scores were missing. Thousands left flooded homes and sought what shelter they could find. Inundated highways and railroad tracks in central and Southwest Texas blocked immediate relief efforts as Texas faced a major disaster.

In the midst of the flood disaster came a twister at Kaufman. Elmer Burns, 48, who stayed in a farm house after other occupants fled to a storm cellar, was killed when the wind smashed into the house.

The family of A. G. Mitchell, 45 year old war veteran, was swept away at Italy. Mitchell and his 29 year old wife and two daughters, Offie, 10, and Genevieve, 4, trapped by the sudden rise of Hog creek, were drowned. Their bodies were found.

Five were dead at Del Rio and at least 18 were reported missing and feared victims of the flood. Two negro men drowned at Kennedy and another person drowned at Victoria.

Not since Thursday night have communications been established with three small towns in Real and Uvalde counties. Various unconfirmed reports have been received concerning the fate of Leaky, Camp Wood and Regan Wells but battered communication lines and impassable highways have made authentic reports impossible. The Uvalde chamber of commerce asked that army planes at San Antonio investigate them.

The greatest excitement since world war days prevailed at La-Grange after a coast guard plane flew over and dropped an arrow with a message attached on the court house square. The note warned residents to move to high-ground as the waters of the Colorado river bore down on the town.

Every available truck and auto was pressed into service moving persons from the LaGrange lowlands and merchandise from stores about the square. Relief work clients were put at the job.

The waters were expected to pass the 1913 high mark, when three feet of water stood on the square. Train service from the north was halted.

Crest Passes

The greatest flood in Austin since 1889, cut a wide path of property damage, inundating many blocks of the residential area and disrupting city electric and water service.

The crest apparently passed shortly before 6 p. m. without loss of life, although unverified reports of persons missing in Hornsby's Bend, seven and one-half miles below Austin, were current.

A peak of 41.7 feet, 20.7 feet above flood stage, was recorded shortly before 6 o'clock and half an hour later the level was four-tenths of a foot lower. Reports of torrential rains above Austin, however, supported predictions the high stage would continue for a day or two.

Charles McCullough, store operator, said 13 grown persons and several children were unaccounted for as swirling waters of the Colorado covered 6,000 acres of farming land in the horseshoe bend of the river to a depth of one to 15 feet. More

1936 OUTLOOK IS CLARIFIED AT CONVENTION

PARTIES TO DO BUSINESS UNDER OLD LABELS

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Quickening political activity tended this week to clarify the outlook for 1936 somewhat. Many more "ifs" need to be removed, however, before the battleground is plain.

Two certainties stood out tonight. The major party managers, despite current efforts to consolidate "liberals" and sporadic talk about break-up of the traditional lines, count on doing business under the old labels as usual. And they consider it yet far too early to commit themselves on strategy.

Earlier estimates of the power independent forces may wield have been revised. Spirits rallied by the republican mid-westerners conference showed where the main challenge to the "ins" lay.

Whatever national strength such units as the Wisconsin progressives or the American liberty league come to command, the capital in general now looks for it to be thrown principally against the major platforms. Fusion seems far away.

Had the "grass-footers" at Springfield, Ill., been less adamant against the new deal or the least receptive to suggestions for a coalition ticket against Roosevelt and Garner, realignment possibilities would have been real.

Instead, the first direct mass attack was loosed against Roosevelt. Votes of anti-new deal democrats would be welcomed, it was plain, but not at the sacrifice of republicanism.

Those there knew the depth of division in both parties over policies of the past two years. Three weeks ago many would have argued their only 1936 chance was through affiliation with either the right or left opposition.

The supreme court NRA decision changed all that. It burned across the right-left division. Little has been heard of these in the tumult since over the constitution.

Implications seen in the decision at the White house were seized upon at Springfield as posing as crucial issues.

Johnny Revolva Leads Western Golf Tourney

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 15. (AP)—As hot with his putter as the broiling sun that wilted the field with its relentless rays, Johnny Revolva, the young golfer who is making Milwaukee famous, shot today to the halfway mark in the western open championship struggle today with a 36-hole tally of 144 strokes, one under the score of his closest pursuer, Dick Metz of Chicago.

Five blows behind the leader yesterday with a 74, Johnny came marching home today, his putter affire, with a 70, the second par-smashing score of the tournament, to replace Metz as the leader. One shot behind Metz, came Ted Longworth, the belting blond from Portland, Ore., who took a 74 today for a collection of 146 shots. Only three shots away from Revolva, with 147s, were "Lighthouse" Harry Cooper of Chicago, defending titleholder, who couldn't putt worth a lick, and young Byron Nelson, former Texarkana, Ark. boy wonder, and now a professional at Ridgewood, N. J. Francis Schwartz, the St. Louis darkhorse who led the par-searching pack yesterday with a 69, took an 82 today to fall down the list alongside of Tommy Armour of Chicago with a 151.

Revolva, one of the heavy championship threats from the start, because of his winter scoring average of 72 strokes for 46 consecutive rounds, turned the trick today by shooting a 33 on the front nine.

President Ousts Ewing Mitchell

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Ousted as assistant secretary of commerce, Ewing Y. Mitchell today promised a political battle with "detailed charges" against Secretary Roper and other administration officials.

His service was "terminated" by President Roosevelt for the official given reason of "obtaining more effective supervision of certain bureaus in the department of commerce having to do with engineering and transportation problems."

Almost immediately the president named John Monroe Johnson of South Carolina to the post from which Mitchell had refused to resign for several months. Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.) sought Johnson's immediate confirmation by the senate but Senator Black (D. Ala.) objected.

The Missourian, one of the original Roosevelt men in that state, would not say whether he intends to vacate his office in the commerce building, or if he expected to contest the president's right to fire him.

Meanest Thief
 Another "meanest thief" has cropped up in Pampa. This one entered Fairview cemetery sometime Friday night and stole 25 feet of black garden hose and a rotator sprinkler. Police were notified yesterday morning by Sexton E4 Foran.

Injured in Fall
 H. A. Nelson was slightly injured when he fell from the rear of a truck, driven by his son Harry Nelson, Friday afternoon at the intersection of Foster and Frost streets. Mr. Nelson was riding on the rear of the truck and was thrown off when the truck turned the corner. He was stunned and bruised but was able to go to his home after receiving medical treatment.

Negro Arrested
 While looking for a negro prisoner who had walked out of the grand jury waiting room on Friday afternoon, Chief of Police Art Hurst encountered another negro who reported that a gun, watch, and clothing had been stolen within the hour from his house. Chief Hurst immediately started an investigation and in less than an hour the negro was in jail in Amarillo and everything but the watch recovered. It was found later in a pawn shop. Chief Hurst discovered that a negro had taken a bus to Amarillo. He called Chief McDowell to search the negro and it happened to be the right one. He was returned to Pampa Friday night.

Children Warned
 Children who play in Central park are being warned to keep away from the whirling sprays used for watering the grass. The sprays turn with considerable speed and force and can hurt small children. Only last week a small child tried to catch the arm of the spray as it whirled. The end of the arm struck the child on the head, cutting an artery. Only quick action saved the child from bleeding to death. City Manager C. L. Stine asked parents to warn their children to keep away from the sprays.

Board Meets

The Gray county relief board met yesterday morning and discussed projects in the county. Appropriations have been considerably reduced and the work program will have to be changed. No action was taken on the board waiting for further information on the size of the decrease of funds. Mrs. W. E. Davis, administrator, made a report of activities.

Leave For California

Mrs. Lillian Blythe and daughters, Misses Beth and Betty left yesterday for California where they will spend two months this summer. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Powell of Enid, Okla., sister of Mrs. Blythe. They will be joined for a day at Clovis by Dee C. Blythe, son of Mrs. Blythe, and will visit Carlsbad caverns today. Tomorrow, they will proceed to Long Beach by the southern route, through Phoenix and the son will return to Clovis. They will establish residence in California for the summer, but will return to Pampa next fall. They have numerous relatives in California.

Negros Arrested

Guns snapped, but bullets didn't fly, and there was no roar of exploding powder in the "flats" yesterday morning. Officers arrived on the scene a minute later but failed to find a single gun. They did find a couple of razors and knives and arrested two negroes. According to a disconnected story, a negro woman drew a gun on one of the negroes. Another negro pulled a gun on the woman. Both started pulling triggers but the guns wouldn't fire. No charges have been filed.

Little Shriley Ann Tracker

Left yesterday for Navasota where she will join her mother and other members of the family in a family reunion.

COURT HOUSE NOTES

New car registrations for part of last week follow:
 Floyd Adams, Mobeetle, Pontiac sedan; Mrs. Molly Fenberg, Oldsmobile sedan; Dixon Creek Oil & Refining company, Plymouth coupe; W. R. Harbin, Chevrolet sedan; James Morgan, Chevrolet coach; Cabot Co., Dodge truck; Travis L. Haynes, Ford tudor.

The first week of criminal business in this session of 31st district court will start tomorrow morning with the jury panel summoned to appear at 10 o'clock. District Attorney Lewis Goodrich will announce ready on more than a dozen important cases. The criminal dock at this session is large.

Marriage licenses issued Friday and yesterday were to:
 Earl McConnell and Opal Colgrove; F. E. Vaden and Melba Mae Hunter; W. H. Dempster and Lela L. Scafe.

TEXAS GOLF ASSOCIATION TO HOLD TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK

By BILL PARKER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, June 15. (AP)—Reynolds Smith of the Dallas Lakewood Country club will take his golf clubs to the battle front June 19-22, inclusive, to defend his Texas Golf association championship. The four-day tournament will be held over the par 35-35-70 Brook Hollow golf course where Smith won last year's title by defeating Leland Hamman of Paris in the 36-hole final, 4 and 2.

For the first time the tournament is scheduled for late June to allow university and interscholastic students the privilege of playing, and to assure the annual championship a larger and stronger entry field.

The 18-hole qualifying test is scheduled for Wednesday with match play following the next three days. Husky Louis Nowlin, Dallas bank clerk and Brook Hollow's most tremendous hitter, won the medal last year with a blistering round of 34-37-71, one over par. Nowlin has his game at the top and stands ready to prove himself a double threat—medalist and champion.

David (Spec) Goldman of the Dallas Country club, finalist in the 1934 National amateur, hopes for a chance at Champion Smith. Goldman lost to Smith last year in the semi-finals in one of the greatest subpar matches recorded in the Texas Golf association championship book. Goldman shot 35-32-67 to finish the 18-hole battle all-square against Smith's sizzling 32-37-69. On the extra hole, Smith carded a beautifully played par four to win from Goldman's bogey five. Revenge for this defeat is to be Goldman's goal in next week's championship.

Leland Hamman has returned from the national open and is working hard to put his game in shape for another championship challenge. Hamman likes the 6,655-yard Brook Hollow course, and if his tee shots are under control he promises to be difficult to eliminate.

try club, is another who likes the Brook Hollow course. Munger has just completed playing in the Dallas Country club, Corsicana and Port Worth Rivercrest invitation tournaments. He is playing marvelous golf and after reaching the quarter-final and semi-finals of the three mentioned tournaments, feels he is ready to crash through for a championship.

Don Schumacher of Dallas, Texas junior champion who spilled the dope by beating Reynolds Smith in the Dallas city and Corsicana invitation tournaments, has filed his entry. When Schumacher's game gets hot it is capable of brushing aside any of the country's leading amateurs.

Harry Todd of Dallas, western junior open champion who turned in a surprise by beating the indoubtable Gus Moreland 2 and 1 in the Dallas Country club invitation quarterfinals, has scored several low rounds over the Brook Hollow course and should be a foremost challenger for Smith's crown.

Houston will offer dangerous contenders in Willie Maguire, Jr., Harold Cohn and Dick Nauts. Cohn was a finalist in 1933, losing to Gus Moreland, 9 and 8. Maguire was medalist that year with a 75 after a play-off with Moreland. Nauts is a play-off with Moreland. Nauts is one of South Texas' best shot-makers and always a strong tournament star.

Paintings by Two Texas Artists To Be in White House

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—The works of 26 civilian conservation corps artists are to be hung in the White House at the request of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The paintings and drawings were selected from a group of CCC art exhibits at the national museum. Another group of selected works by CCC artists will be sent to the San Diego, Calif., Exposition.

The works selected for the White House, with the name and home address of the artists, and the camp in which he worked, included:
 Crayon, "portrait," Don Brown, Shreveport, La., private forest company 893, PineLand, Texas.
 Oil, "Camp Site," Max Bachofen, Chesterland, Ohio, Fort Davis, Tex.

Air Official of Dallas Inspects Planes in City

Pampa airport was a place of activity Thursday and Friday when Inspector George Meadows of Dallas, aeronautical inspector of the department of commerce, seventh division, visited here. The inspector flew here in a new Kenner hi-speed monoplane Thursday and left Friday afternoon.

While here, Mr. Meadows inspected a number of ships at the airport and also looked over the landing field. Inspector Meadows gave George Christopher his written examination for a limited commercial pilot license on Thursday night. Examination in flying had to be postponed when the ceiling Friday morning would not permit stunting.

A Stinson four-place monoplane belonging to F. W. Dye, president of the Western Supply company of Tulsa, with Mr. Dye as passenger and Clara Kingsbury at the controls, has been here since Tuesday. The visitors will leave today for Tulsa.

Harry Hammill, flying a new Beechcraft hi-speed cabin bi-plane, was a visitor at the airport Friday. He took Mel B. Davis to Amarillo on his return trip. The new Beechcraft has a cruising speed of 160 miles an hour and is considered one of the outstanding ships of the year.

G. J. Johnson, with Tommy Keenan at the controls, took off Friday afternoon in Mr. Johnson's Monocoque for Enid, Cleveland, and Tulsa. They are to return tomorrow.

Doc Graham of the Panhandle

Flying Service has installed a telephone at the airport. The number is 9396.

ARGUMENTS DATE SET

LUBBOCK, June 15. (AP)—Further arguments and citations of authorities by defendants in injunction action brought by the Texas Utilities Co., Lubbock, against the city of Plainview, will be heard in U. S. district court here at 10 a. m. June 22. Judge James C. Wilson ruled Saturday.

Lloyd Moore has been transferred from Borger to Pampa by the Hinderliter Tool company.

LOVELOCK BEATS BONTHRON AND CUNNINGHAM IN 'MILE OF THE CENTURY'

FINISHES TEN YARDS AHEAD OF BONTHRON

GLENN CUNNINGHAM IS THIRD IN RACE AT PRINCETON

PALMER STADIUM, PRINCETON, N. J., June 15. (AP)—The slim, curly-haired boy from far-off New Zealand, John Edward (Jack) Lovelock, handed everyone but old Pop Time a handsome beating today as the shadows crept over the sunbaked home stretch of the Tiger track and upward of 35,000 shirt-sleeved spectators roared tremendous acclaim.

Re-asserting his supremacy over the world's greatest steeplechasers in a two-year interval, Lovelock captured the widely-heralded "mile of the century" under wraps. He failed to come even close to record time, but he sprinted down the stretch to break the tape ten yards in front of Princeton's Bill Bonthron, two yards ahead of the great Glenn Cunningham, holder of all world records for the classic distance.

Lovelock's time was 4 minutes, 11.2 seconds, far short of the mark which it had expected would be produced by a gathering of the world's fastest steeplechasers. On the same track two years ago the New Zealand lander had scored an epic triumph over Bonthron in the record time of 4:7.6. Last year and in the same place Cunningham raced to a new mark of 4:06. This still stands.

Rifle Club Will Meet Here Today

Members and prospective members of the Pampa Rifle Club have been called to meet at the range, a mile east of the Danziger refinery, at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. The men will put the range in shape for the first match of the season on next Sunday afternoon.

The year's issue of ammunition has arrived and will be given upon payment of dues. The club officials anticipate a busy season.

The "Gofort" range has already been placed in operation. The game is the skeet shoot of 22 caliber rifle work. Birds and animals "pop up" in various positions at a distance of 50 yards and the marksmen must hit the target squarely before it will fall.

Pee-Wee Team Beats Canadian

A Pee-Wee baseball team, organized by Harry Kelley and W. E. "Red" Weathered, won a 15 to 6 game from the Canadian juniors Thursday afternoon in Canadian. The team was unaccompanied by its sponsors because they were unable to leave their work.

A return game will be played at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on the Magnolia diamond at the east end of Foster avenue. The youngsters play a surprising brand of baseball.

Amos Reed does most of the hurling with Doyle Ault behind the bat. Baseball fans are urged to see the youngsters in action.

LIVESTOCK IS ASSEMBLED FOR JULY 4 RODEO

Steers Are Brought From Mexico for Bulldogging

CANADIAN, June 15.—Considerable progress is being made each day for the 13th annual presentation of the Anvil Park rodeo to be held here July 3, 4, and 5. The livestock is being assembled and placed in pastures near the park and being fed, that they may be in condition for the arduous ordeal that they will be required to go thru for the three days.

Bucking horses are being ridden out, and only those that "can get the job done" so to speak, are being retained in the bucking string.

The association has gone into the interior of Old Mexico to secure steers for the bulldogging contest. They must be cattle of mature age, and with horns so that they may be thrown in the steer wrestling, as this is a twist down contest. Cattle of this type are practically extinct in the states.

The cattle that create the most excitement in the rodeo are the Brahma steers. The association owns its own string of riding steers, large ponderous fellows, from 4 to 5 years old, many of a white cream color, and with a little hump on the back. Originally these cattle were imported from India and placed in the South Texas coastal country because they are impervious to the tick. Today, these cattle are a common sight in South Texas. Brahma cattle are the meanest, wickedest and wildest bovine on four feet.

Marion McLain of Sun City, Kan., has been secured to direct the arena. He has acted in this capacity here before at Canadian, and has operated a rodeo at Sun City for a good many years. McLain brings to Canadian a good many years rodeo experience, which will insure the public a fast, speedy, program.

The program would not be complete without a good clown. Jasbo Fulkerson of Fort Worth and his mule Eke have been contracted and will give the kiddies as well as the grown-ups some interesting entertainment. Jasbo will play "tag" with the Brahma steers during the steer riding event, a very dangerous feat.

In addition to the bronc riding, steer wrestling, and wild cow milking, there will be special acts. Trick and fancy riding and roping mean as much to a well balanced program as the contest events. The very best of talent has been contracted.

The Indians are coming. A large group of Cheyenne Indians from Oklahoma have been secured to appear in the grand entry each day, and will be camped near the grounds.

Two Fort Worth Women in Finals Of Lubbock Meet

LUBBOCK, June 15. (AP)—Two Fort Worth women, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite and Mrs. R. E. Winger, will meet at the Lubbock country club here tomorrow in the finals of the first Texas women's golf association tournament.

One-sided victories today placed the fellow townsmen in the championship match. Mrs. Goldthwaite, formerly Miss Anielia Gorezica, defeated Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big Spring, 6 and 5, and Mrs. Winger eliminated Mrs. Rhea Vernon of Abilene, 7 and 5.

Trojans Defeat Ohio Track Crew

MEMORIAL COLISEUM, LOS ANGELES, June 15. (AP)—Six University of Southern California stars furnished the fireworks here today as the great Trojan track and field team defeated Ohio State's crew, led by Jesse Owens, 9 to 6 before 40,000 persons.

Two slender high hurdlers, Phil Cope and Roy Staley, running a dead heat, flashed over the tall timbers in 14.2 seconds to tie a four year old world mark, while the Trojan mile relay combination shaved two tenths a second off the accepted world's record in the baton passing event, rushing through their paces in 3 minutes, 12.4 seconds.

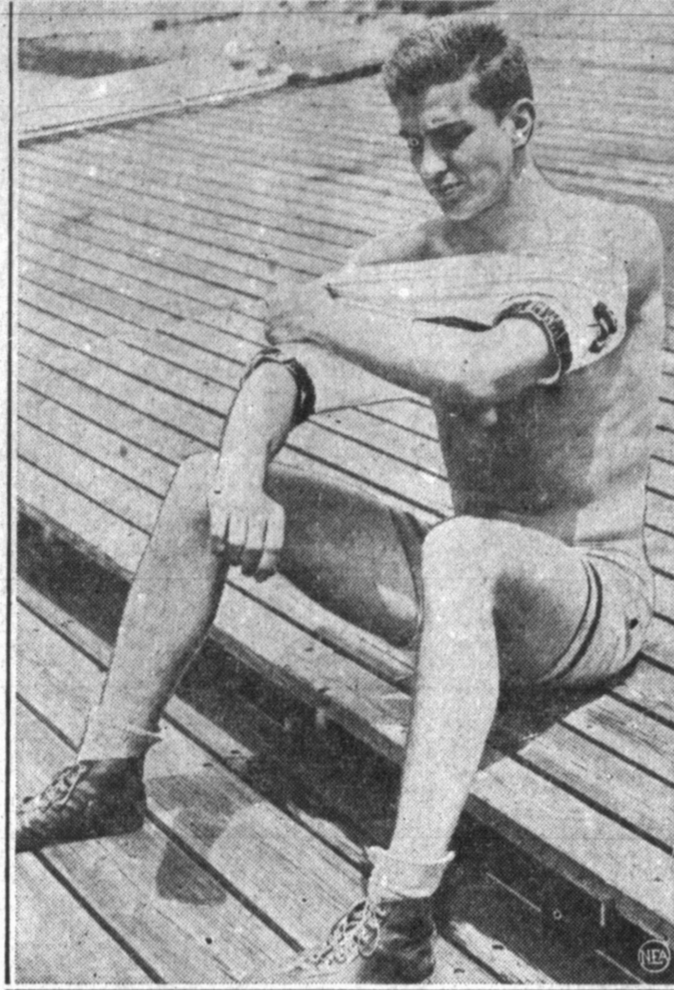

It was highly improbable, however, that this mark would receive sanction, since the Buckeye team failed to pass the baton and instead, paced Troy home in remarkably fast time.

These performances took the play away from Owens, the great Buckeye bullet, who failed, in the face of an advance buildup, to shatter any international figures, although he won four of Ohio state's six first places.

The census of Nacogdoches in 1833 was 1,272 as follows: bachelors, 319; spinsters, 291; married couples, 122; widowers, 9; widows, 34; and minors, 375.

Col. James W. Fannin, a Georgian, was a graduate of the United States military academy and resigned his commission in the United States army to lead a life of adventure.

The Rowing Roosevelt

Camera-shy? Not a bit of it! Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., one-time photographer-chaser and camera-smasher, doesn't seem in the least self-conscious as he peels off his shirt preparatory to rowing practice with Harvard's Jayvee crew on the Thames near New London, Conn. The sinewy young man hopes his father will see the Jayvees row against Yale in the annual regatta.

By HARRY GRAYSON

Babe Didrikson didn't turn to golf last fall just for the fun of it. I understand that the ubiquitous Ray L. Doan sold a 10-year contract on the services of the remarkable Texas midget to Cincinnati sporting goods house for $2,500.

Now the long driving Miss Didrikson, after winning the women's Texas amateur championship and being barred from the southern, is to tour the country as a professional, with the illustrious Gene Sarazen. That will be something new, anyway.

Doan, who registers from Muscatine, Iowa, has developed into quite a promoter, succeeding, in a way, Cash and Carry Fyle, who exploited Red Harold Grange, the Lenglen tour, and the Great American Bun-Don Derbies.

Doan made Dizzy and Daffy Dean more than $5,000 apiece in two weeks of exhibitions following the world series last autumn.

Annually, Doan sponsors two House of David bearded baseball teams, an eastern and a western club, and on these arrays are no less personages than Grover Cleveland Alexander, Jack Quinn, and Earl Smith.

Doan paid Alexander more money than the once great righthander could collect in the minors, and old Pete didn't have to raise whiskers. Doan and the House of David tours have been a blessing to Aels, who has been helped by the promoter several times when he was down and out during the off-season.

Doan Baseball School Graduates Make Good.

Doan has Branch Riecky ideas in regard to the development of ball players, which is something that the heads of the organized game well could give more thought.

Doan conducts a school at Hot Springs each spring. His professors this year were Rogers Hornsby, the Deans, and Lon Warneke. The enrollment at the most recent Doan school totaled 262, and Doan believes that his classes will be attended by more than 500 in 1936.

No less than 125 graduates of this spring have made good in the minors, including "Burling" Grimes, youthful hurler of the St. Paul club.

Doan managed the Didrikson All-Americans, the basketball array with which the Olympic games star performed through the east and north with a fair amount of success thru-out the season of 1933 and '34.

Last season Miss Didrikson took her regular turn in the box for one of Doan's House of David baseball outfits, working one or two innings of each game.

Promoter Finances.

Babe's Golf Instruction.

The great girl Babe was considerable of an athlete when it came to chucking the ball over the corners of the plate. The pride of Babe's mound had the form of a man and surprising speed. She was nonchalant on the mound, taking a look over her infield and outfield before she got set for the pitch and jumping into a defensive position the instant the ball left her hand.

It was Doan who concluded that Miss Didrikson had no future in baseball or basketball and financed her instruction in golf under Bob McDonald, of Chicago. The Babe's rapid development further revealed her amazing versatility.

Miss Didrikson won't do badly financially in her new line, either. She is said to be guaranteed about $10,000 a year.

Just to prove he is a big time fight manager at last, Gould who swears he hasn't closed his eyes since Braddock won Max Baer's title, turned down a $200,000 offer to meet Max Schmeling in Germany as coolly as if he were picking up a 50 cent luncheon check.

Later he announced he is arranging to take Jimmy to England and Ireland in August for a series of exhibitions.

All day long the offers poured in. They want Braddock's endorsement for this and that. They want him on the stage, on the radio, for fights, exhibitions, for personal appearances and for a thousand one other things.

"I'm still in a daze," said Gould, "and Jimmy can't believe it yet. It looks like a $150,000 year for him even if he doesn't fight."

The Schmeling offer came from Fred Kirsch, who authorized Jimmy Bronson, his American representative to offer Braddock a fight with the German champion in the Olympic stadium in Berlin in September.

Enid Swamped 14 To 8 by Pampa Team on Friday

ENID, Okla., June 15.—Swamping the Eason Oilers under a barrage of base hits, the Pampa Road Runners Friday night took a 14 to 8 game from the team which took third money in the Denver Post tournament last season.

Led by Gordon Nell with two home runs, the Road Runners gathered 19 hits off the delivery of Andy Bednar, former Pittsburgh Pirate hurler and later of Fort Worth. Seitz also connected for four bases. Patton took one of Bednar's slants in the sixth with three men on base, and propelled it over the fence.

Tiger Joe Berry pitched effective ball for the Road Runners after the second inning when three runs crossed the plate. The little righthander held the Enid sluggers scoreless until the ninth inning, when, with a big lead and scheduled to pitch this afternoon, he let up and the Oilers scored four runs.

Invitations to Meet Received

Twenty-five invitations to the First Annual Tri-State Skeet shoot, to be held in Amarillo next Sunday, have been received here. The invitations will be distributed at the local range this afternoon.

Besides trophies to the winner and runner-up, cash prizes will be awarded at the Tri-State tournament. One hundred shots will be fired, 25 at a time. Shooting will begin at 10 o'clock.

Local "addicts" are urged to shoot tomorrow in preparation for the trip to Amarillo. The range will be open at 1:30 o'clock a quarter mile east of the city limits on Highway No. 60.

Huber To Play Coltexo Today At Shaw Park

Baseball of the week: SUNDAY

Huber Carbon Blackfaces of Borger vs Coltexo of LeFors at Shaw park, 3:30 o'clock.

MONDAY

Coltexo of LeFors vs Amarillo Shamrocks at Road Runner park, Pampa, 8:45 p. m.

TUESDAY

Watonga Owls of Watonga, Okla. vs Pampa Road Runners at Road Runner park, 8:45 p. m.

WEDNESDAY

Coltexo of LeFors vs Pampa Road Runners at Road Runner park, 8:45 p. m.

Mr. Chody and his support, the Huber Carbon Blackfaces of Borger, will be in LeFors this afternoon for a game with the Coltexo nine. Game time will be 3:30 o'clock at Shaw park.

Huber, with Chody on the mound, defeated Coltexo 6 to 2 in Borger Wednesday night. The same righthander is scheduled for mound duty again this afternoon. On the hill for Coltexo will be Mr. Brawley with his tricky curve ball. Brawley relieved Colburn against Huber Wednesday and held the carbon boys in check.

Tomorrow night at 8:45 o'clock, Coltexo will use Road Runner park for their home garden, meeting the Amarillo Shamrocks, strengthened considerably since their last appearance here.

Amarillo will present Sawyer, former Coltexo star, at first base. Holding down second base will be Don Bailey, formerly of the Road Runners. With Gaitner at shortstop and Evans at third base, Amarillo will present a strong infield.

The Watonga Owls of Watonga, Okla., will be here for a single game on Tuesday night when they will tangle with Freddy Brickell's Road Runners. The game will be called at 8:45 o'clock with no increase in admission.

On Wednesday night at the same hour a game will be played with Coltexo of LeFors providing the opposition. It will be a "get" game. The Road Runners will be out to "get" Coltexo for three consecutive defeats while Coltexo will be out to "get" the Road Runners for taking Gordon Nell back to their bosom.

With 14 runs and four defeats behind them, the Watonga Owls are doped to give the Road Runners plenty of opposition. The Oklahomans hold wins over the La Junta Mexican Charros ball club. They lost a close game to the House of David bearded team. The other Owls losses were to strong teams from Oklahoma City.

Manager Sammy Hale of Coltexo had no hesitancy in announcing that Lefty Ledford will be sent to the mound against the Road Runners on Wednesday night. The portside holds two wins over the Pampa nine. The Road Runners declare he can't make it three in a row, but Ledford is optimistic.

Who will face the Coltexos is unknown. Lee Daney, Indian mound artist, has been given a limited time to get in condition. It is possible that he will be ready to go against the LeFors sluggers.

Since their last loss to Coltexo, the Road Runners have not lost a game. They came out of a bad hitting slump and have been going strong since. The acquisition of Gordon Nell at first base and Vic George at shortstop seemed to add pep to the Road Runners.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Aldridge left Saturday morning for Kilgore after spending the past three weeks with Mrs. Aldridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore.

SKELLY HOLDS BAPTISTS TO NO RUNS, HITS, NO ERRORS

Playground ball as it is played in the "big leagues" was displayed at Skelly-Schaefer gasoline plant west of Pampa on Thursday night when the Skelly team held the First Baptist church of Pampa to no runs and no hits while winning a 4 to 0 game.

Skelly got only two hits off the pitching of Poe, who went the route for the churchmen. Culpepper was behind the bat. Skelly used three pitchers, Carlson, E. Hays, and F. Hays, with Byer behind the bat.

All of the Skelly runs came as a result of the two hits, which were home runs by Scott and Smith. Each hitter had a man on base, one through an error and the other by a walk.

Skelly plant has three teams, mostly composed of former college players now with the company. They are open for games and can be contacted by calling Skelly-Schaefer Gasoline plant No. 1.

A return game with the Baptist team will be played on the Fort Worth & Denver diamond at 6 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Aldridge left Saturday morning for Kilgore after spending the past three weeks with Mrs. Aldridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 15, (AP)—Aided by a spanking breeze of good sentiment, stocks blew along to many new highs for the year in active trading on the New York stock exchange today.

Brokers said the demand for shares chiefly reflected three factors: quieter nerves in the financial district, bright spots on the business horizon and the continued quest of idle money for profitable employment. The buying, however, was selective and much of the list was barely changed.

The moderately cheerful mood over the tone of business was strengthened to some extent by Cram's report which showed automobile production somewhat higher on the week in spite of earlier expectations that the rate would slacken seasonally. The total was 90,783 against 89,855 last week and 71,293 in the like week of 1934.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, June 15, (AP)—Wheat sold at the lowest price level today since May 1934.

Nearly ideal crop conditions that prevailed throughout the entire north American wheat belt, including beneficial rains in spring wheat areas, led the augmented selling of wheat and to simultaneous death of aggressive buying.

The close for wheat was nervous, 1 1/2-1 3/4 under yesterday's finish, finish, July 78 1/2-79, corn unchanged, 78 1/2-79, the same as July wheat, oats 1 1/2-1 3/4 off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal advance.

Almost from the outset, wheat values displayed a pronounced tendency to fall, and at one stage were off about 2 cents a bushel. Bears asserted that so long as weather and crop conditions kept favorable there was not much likelihood of the wheat market making any important headway.

There was some selling of corn against purchases of wheat early, but later on the spreading was reversed. Oats were responsive to generally good crop advice.

Provisions were firm, influenced by expected shrinkage of lard supplies.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, June 15, (AP)—Too much rain in Texas and other sections of the belt brought buying into the cotton market today and futures closed steady, 5 to 7 points higher.

As in earlier seasons this week the market guided its action by weather reports, only in today's dealings the reports proved beneficial to bullish interests.

Reporting stations in Texas showed that rain continued to fall in a widespread area during the past 24 hours, and at this time of year this is considered detrimental to the growing crop. July finished at 11.67, Oct. at 11.29 and Dec. at 11.33, while on sales of 40 bales in the spot market middling advanced 5 points.

The latest prediction by Senator Bankhead, one specifying that 13 cent cotton would arrive this fall, failed to influence prices toward higher ground.

Dealings proceeded at a slow pace today. The spot situation and the diminishing supply of free cotton tended to restrict activity on both sides of the market.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, June 15, (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—An unevenly lower price trend at eastern dressed beef centers week had a decidedly decided depressing influence to the live trade at midwestern markets.

In the cattle market, in the cattle market, killing classes at most centers slumped 25-50, a few points able to maintain steady rates on light heifer yearlings and cows. The outlet for the better grades of weighty fed steers was especially narrow. Vealers declined 1.00 or more and values on most steer and feeder classes ruled weak to unevenly lower. Prime matured steers at Chicago cleared at 13.50, but relatively few loads exceeded the 12.00 mark. Common to medium glass steers ranged from 6.00-8.50 with some cutter-ish Oklahomas down to 4.00. Aggregate receipts of cattle at eleven markets approximated 157,100 against 171,623 last week and 178,107 a year ago.

Against last week's close, hog prices were weak to 35 lower. Strong weight butchers were generally 20-35 off, Chicago on Friday has a top of 10.00. Total arrivals were around 175,000 as compared with 210,308 last week and 319,866 a year ago.

Spring lambs were tendered a price jolt of 1.00-75 while values on yearlings dropped 50-1.50. Slaughter ewes were 25-50 lower and feeder lambs were off as much as 1.00. Choice spring lambs on the close at Chicago were quotable up to 9.00. The supply totaling around 254,500 was 17,500 greater than last week and 78,500 heavier than a year ago.

face telephone conversation with Gov. R. L. Cochran, who is in Gulfport, Miss., Lieut. Gov. Walter H. Jurgensen, acting chief executive, at Lincoln issued the proclamation of martial law for Omaha and Adjutant Gen. H. J. Paul immediately directed mobilization of 1,800 troops in all parts of the state.

The Omaha units of the guards under command of Brig. Gen. Amos Thomas were first on the scene.

The state authorities intervened when officials of city and county requested aid to maintain peace following Friday night's battle between police and strike sympathizers in which one man was killed and more than 35 others were injured.

Officials announced their step was taken solely to protect lives of citizens and indicated they would not permit street cars to operate in the trouble zone—the South Omaha area, largely populated by stockyard workers.

That it was that riots of the last three nights occurred, each growing in violence.

The street car men, seeking higher wages and shorter hours, have been on strike since April 20. Until three nights ago the only encounter of the controversy has been some disorder in the uptown area about seven weeks ago.

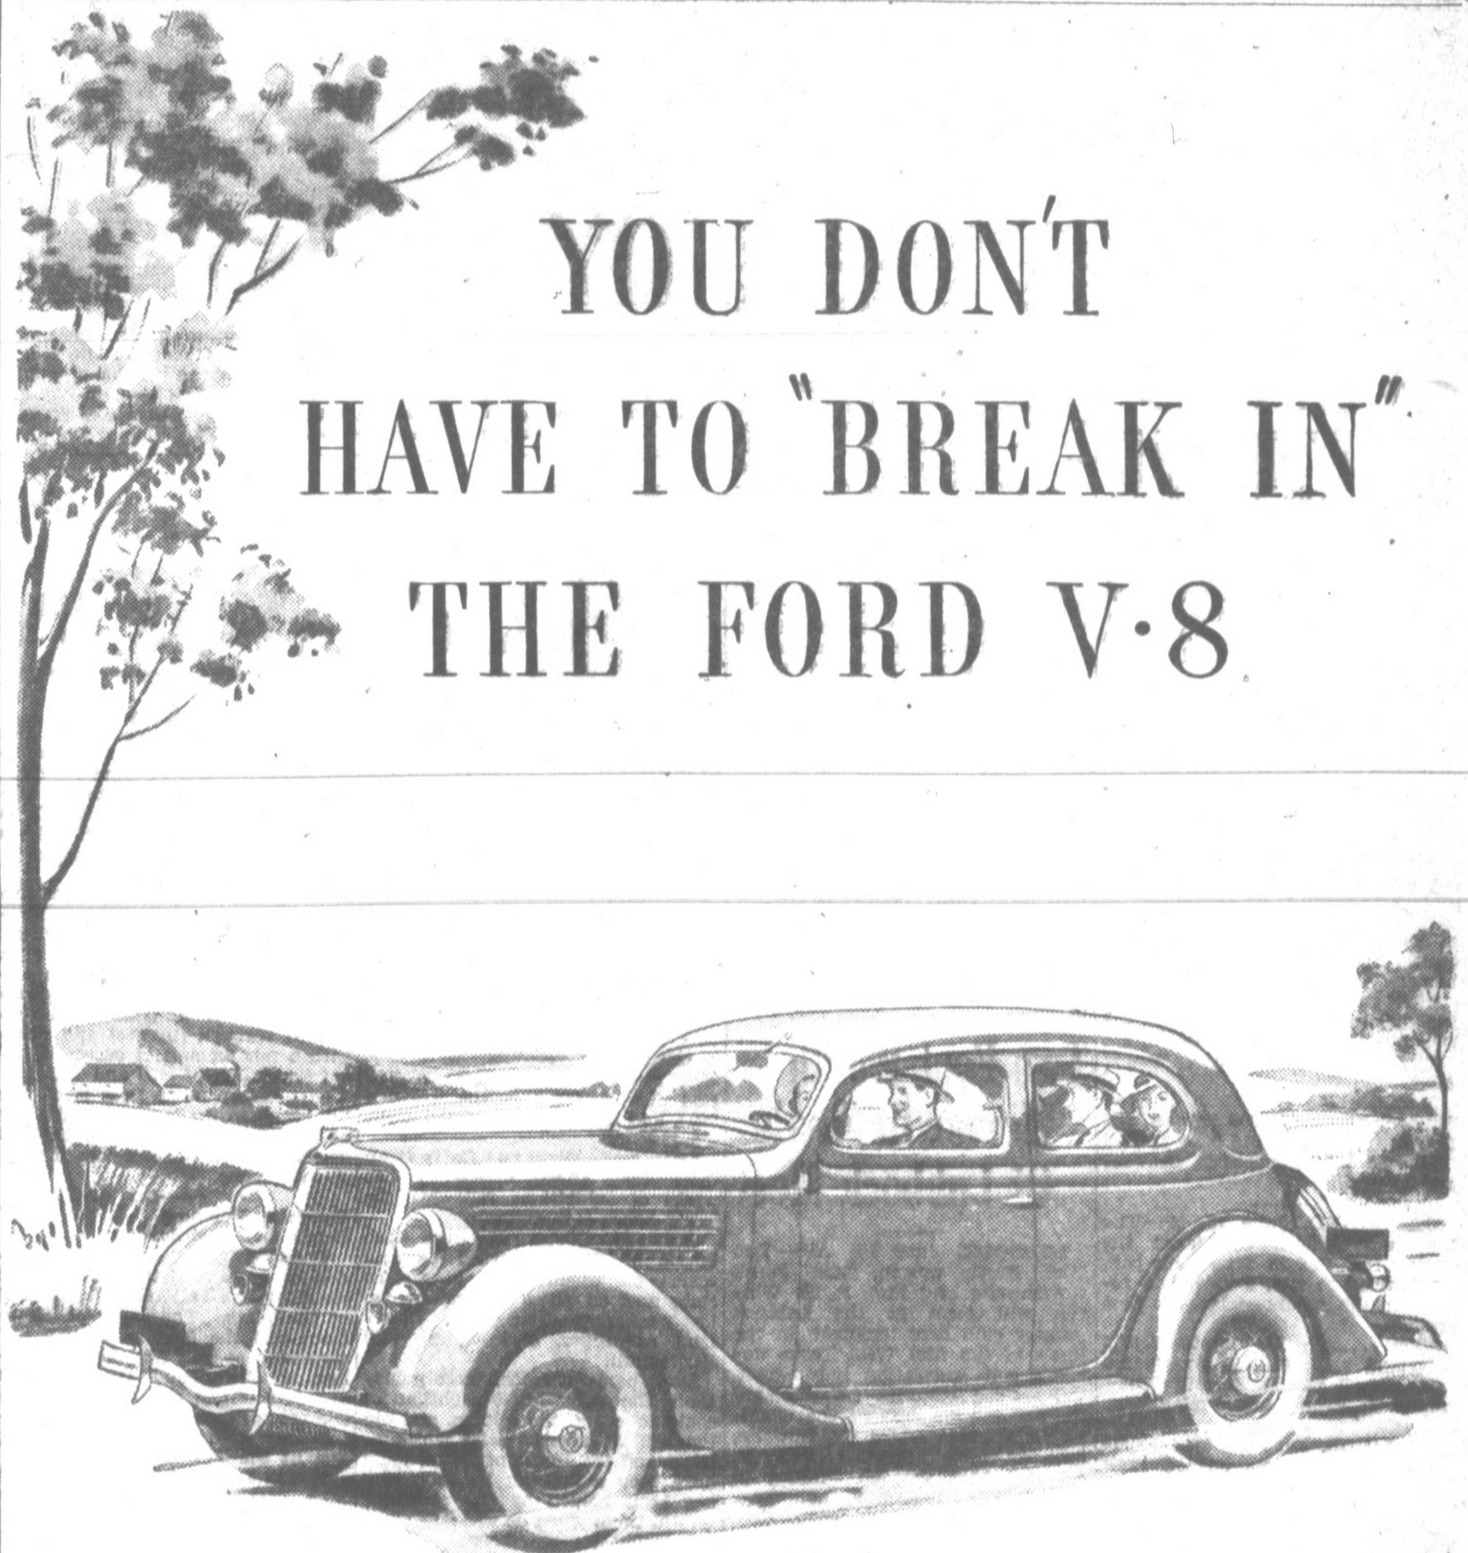

Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. O. G. Gaylor and daughter are visiting friends and relatives in Oklahoma.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip — to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. They are further proof of the care and quality that go into the Ford V-8.

Formerly only the most expensive cars could be driven at normal speeds from the beginning. That still holds true today — except in the case of the Ford V-8. It gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

Creiger Funeral Will Be Today at Methodist Church

The body of Herman Creiger, 53, will be interred in Fairview cemetery following services at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist church where the Rev. E. Gaston Poole, pastor, will officiate.

Mr. Creiger died Thursday morning in Tucson, Ariz., where he and Mrs. Creiger had been making their home for the past six months. Previous to that time they had resided in Pampa where Mr. Creiger was an orchestra leader and operated a furniture and music store.

Surviving are his wife and one son, Herman Creiger, Jr. Other survivors are one sister, Mrs. May Langford, San Pedro, three brothers, W. E. Creiger, San Pedro, Calif., Charles Creiger, Marlow, Okla., Fred R. Creiger, Dallas, and two half-brothers, George Butterbaugh, Texoma, Okla., and Ray Butterbaugh, Bois City, Okla.

Palbearers will be Jack Freeman, John Skaggs, H. P. Barnard, all of White Deer, Bob McCoy, Charles Thomas and John Sturgeon.

Flowers will be in charge of Mrs. Bob McCoy, Mrs. Tommy Chessler, and Mrs. Mel B. Davis.

Hardin-Simmons And Trinity Fuss Settled Today

BROWNWOOD, June 15. (AP)—Differences between Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene and Trinity university at Waxahachie and the Texas conference were settled today, officials announced after a session here.

It was decided for the two schools to continue with terms of their football contract and for them to meet this fall.

Subsidization and representative schedule charges against Hardin-Simmons were discussed at length, but no action was taken. A committee was named, however, to make a report on the representative schedule angle at the December meeting.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

AUSTIN, June 10.—Reports of the fall of the Texas Almanac have not been echoed around the world but they did reach throughout a great part of the United States of America, judging from various newspaper accounts of that year. One account of that tragic battle appeared in the Goshen Democrat of Goshen, New York, on April 16 1836, a copy of which has just come into the hands of the library of the University of Texas. It was the gift of William Kenneth Duryea, a student in the architecture department of the university, whose mother, Mrs. William H. Duryea, of Middletown, N. Y., sent it to him. It was through the efforts of Samuel E. Gideon, University professor of architecture, who is keenly interested in the preservation of any material relating to early Texas, that the gift was presented to the university library.

The report of the fall of the Almanac, published in the Goshen Democrat, is practically identical with one published on March 28, 1836, in the New Orleans Post and Union, and reproduced on April 12 in the Arkansas Gazette. The University library does not have a copy of the Post and Union but does possess the Arkansas Gazette which carries the account.

The New York paper, evidently received its report of the battle in a roundabout manner. The article follows:

From Texas
The following intelligence was received by the express of the Courier and Enquirer on Monday last.

THE FALL OF BEXAR—THE ENFIRE OF THE TROOPS IN THE GARRISON PUT TO DEATH—COL'S CROCKETT AND BOWIE KILLED!

We are indebted to a gentleman passenger on board the steamer Levant, from Natchitoches, for the annexed letter giving the particulars of the fall of Bexar—it is a copy of one addressed to the editor of the Red River Herald:

"Sir—Bexar has fallen! Its garrison was only 137 strong, commanded by Lieut. Col. W. Travis. After standing repeated attacks for two weeks and an almost constant cannonade and bombardment during that time, the last attack was made on the morning of the 6th inst. by upwards of 2,000 men under the command of Santa Anna in person; they carried the place about sunrise, with the loss of 520 men killed and about the same number wounded. After about an hour's fighting the whole garrison was put to death, (save the sick and wounded and seven men who asked for quarter)—All fought desperately, until entirely cut down; the rest were coolly murdered. The brave and gallant

Travers to prevent his falling in the hands of the enemy, shot himself—Not an individual escaped, and the news is only known to us by a citizen of Bexar who came to our army at Gonzales but from the cessation of Travis' signal guns there is no doubt of its truth. The declaration of Independence you no doubt received, and you will, in a few days receive the constitution proposed by the republic.

"Cols. James Bowie and David Crockett are among the slain—the first was murdered in his bed, to which he had been confined by illness—the latter fell fighting like a tiger. The Mexican army is estimated at 8,000 men; it may be more or less."

A. Briscoe.

"Further particulars" of the war in Texas are given in the remainder of the article, which is about a column in length.

AUSTIN, June 16. (AP)—The Centennial commission of control Saturday paved the way for expenditure of $1,200,000 state funds for a central exposition building and equipment at Dallas.

Plans of the central exposition corporation for a $1,000,000 building were approved, a contract made, and a certification to the comptroller effected to make the funds available immediately.

Walter D. Cline, general manager of the Dallas exposition, announced he would leave immediately to urge an appropriation of $3,000,000 by congress to supplement state, city and exposition funds.

The state appropriation was $3,000,000, of which $500,000 was set aside for publicity, $1,200,000 for Dallas and the remainder for commemorations of historical places, the exposition issued $2,000,000 in bonds, while the city of Dallas promised $3,500,000 for construction.

The commission selected L. W. Keeler of Houston, J. Frank Dobbie of the University of Texas and Dr. Paul J. Folk of St. Edward's university, Austin, to advise on historical matters. They would consider applications for allotments of historical funds. Henry Hutchings of Fort Worth, formerly adjutant general, was elected permanent secretary, while selection of an advisory advertising board was delayed.

No date was set for taking of bids on the Dallas structure, as specifications were incomplete. Contracts would be made under the supervision of the state board of control.

Dallas plans were approved after the exposition corporation representatives announced an agreement had been made between the city council and the Fair Park association for expenditure of $3,500,000 city bonds to be repaid from profits of future state fairs.

WHAT DO YOU SPEND FOR FOOD?

Figures compiled by the United States Department of Labor indicate that 38 3-10 per cent of the average American household budget is spent for food.

Studies made by other competent authorities tell us that 20 per cent of all food purchased for home consumption is wasted unless properly refrigerated. A trial will convince you that an Electric Refrigerator will indefinitely preserve all the food you buy. As food prices rise proper food preservation becomes more and more important.

Let your dealer show you how you can own an Electric Refrigerator through the food it will save.

Louis C. Elbert Elected Head of Texas Press Body

Galveston, June 15. (AP)—Louis C. Elbert, publisher of the Galveston News and Tribune, was chosen as president of the Texas Press association as its 56th annual convention came to an end today. He succeeds Sam Holloway of Deport. Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, Tyler and Dallas bid for the 1936 convention. The executive committee will choose the city later. H. M. Jackson of Coleman was elected vice president; Sam P. Harben of Richardson, secretary, and Ben F. Harigel, of LaGrange, treasurer. Added to the executive committee were Deskins Wells, Wellington; Ross Woodall, Huntsville, and Charles Devall, Mount Vernon. The association pledge support to the Texas Centennial but the resolution added that since adequate funds for it had been provided "newspapers of Texas should be expected to continue to give freely of their stock in trade while others are being paid for legitimate services in connection with the Centennial." Confidence was expressed in the "matchless leadership of President Roosevelt," support of his economic policies and will continue his own program. Students joined labor in condemnation of former President Calles today. As differences between the "leader of the revolution" and the leader of the government became pronounced, several hundred students demonstrating before the department of agriculture shouted "Death to Calles" and "Death to Garrido." (Thomas Garrido a Canabal, former governor of Tabasco. Cardenas' secretaries became more leader of the "red shirt" organization, accused by leftists of fascist tendencies.) Police dispersed the students without casualties, while Rotarians here for their international convention opening Monday snapped pictures from hotel balconies and windows. NOGALES, Ariz., June 15. (AP)—An appeal by President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico for the support of his people in the political crisis arising from his controversy with former President Plutarco Elias Calles received here today by the Nogales Herald. Obviously referring to the Calles faction, which has been accused by its opponents of fascist tendencies, the statement said "certain political elements" undoubtedly piqued because they did not obtain positions which they sought in my administration had sought to create all sorts of difficulties. "I believe it is the unavoidable duty at the present moment that all of us who in some way or other, feel linked with the social movement of Mexico must define the historical responsibility which we have contracted and realize that our actions must be inspired only by the most absolute good faith and patriotism. out against Calles and feels himself strong enough to ignore the former president's criticism of his economic policies and will continue his own program. Students joined labor in condemnation of former President Calles today. As differences between the "leader of the revolution" and the leader of the government became pronounced, several hundred students demonstrating before the department of agriculture shouted "Death to Calles" and "Death to Garrido." (Thomas Garrido a Canabal, former governor of Tabasco. Cardenas' secretaries became more leader of the "red shirt" organization, accused by leftists of fascist tendencies.) Police dispersed the students without casualties, while Rotarians here for their international convention opening Monday snapped pictures from hotel balconies and windows. NOGALES, Ariz., June 15. (AP)—An appeal by President Lazaro Cardenas of Mexico for the support of his people in the political crisis arising from his controversy with former President Plutarco Elias Calles received here today by the Nogales Herald. Obviously referring to the Calles faction, which has been accused by its opponents of fascist tendencies, the statement said "certain political elements" undoubtedly piqued because they did not obtain positions which they sought in my administration had sought to create all sorts of difficulties. "I believe it is the unavoidable duty at the present moment that all of us who in some way or other, feel linked with the social movement of Mexico must define the historical responsibility which we have contracted and realize that our actions must be inspired only by the most absolute good faith and patriotism. FLOODS (Continued from page 1)

than 100 other residents safely evacuated the area. Flee To Trees McCullough said there was some apprehension for the safety of two families living in a lower section of the bend, while others were believed to have sought refuge in large trees. National guardsmen and state highway patrol organized a rescue party, using a motorboat, to retrieve the marooned persons after deputy sheriffs abandoned an attempt because their craft was too small for the swift current. Muddy waters backed up toward Austin's business and residential districts, reaching sixth street in low areas. Fire truck sirens sounded monotonously through the day as rescue boats were dispatched to save marooned persons. None was reported lost, but hundreds were routed from homes. Relief kitchens and beds were set up. Currents roared over the approaches to the long concrete Congress avenue bridge and lapped at the bottom of the floor but did no apparent damage. Downstream a few miles, however, highway 71 bridge at Monopolis crossing, on the Bastrop road, was crushed. Sections of the superstructure of the Austin dam were washed away and, while water covered the top damage to some of the main structure was considered by engineers as likely. Several hundred yards of the south approach to the Congress avenue bridge, the outlet for southern traffic, were under as much as 10 feet of water. A large grocery store and numerous smaller buildings were swept away. Food supplies were sent to the south part of Austin by railroad. City water and light power plants were submerged. Power service, temporarily restored through aid of the University of Texas plant, was out most of the day. Officials said a reserve of 9,000,000 gallons of water would provide limited supply for several days. Five and one-half inches of rain falling in the past 18 hours at San Saba were reported to have washed out highway 81 bridge over Simpson creek and put the San Saba river at 34 feet. Its waters pour into the Colorado above Austin, causing predictions of a continued high stage here. At Del Rio the Rio Grande was flooding with damage estimated at $100,000 to bridges and streets. Two hundred Mexicans were homeless and awaited the arrival by plane of Red Cross officials. Huddled in a school house the homeless were fed by Del Rio citizens. Searchers feared more bodies would be found in battened adobe homes. Greenville fought turbulent waters of the Sabine river and its tributaries. The waters backed into the northeast section of the town as residents fled for their lives. The rain continued after a record smashing precipitation of 9 inches had been recorded at noon. All highways leading into the city were flooded and trains were stalled. Cattle and horses were washed away. Billie Graves, newspaper carrier, was rescued by two men after being swept from his bicycle. Cleburne Falls An 8 inch cloudburst swept the Hillsboro section and rain was falling steadily as hundreds were isolated by high water. 800 yards of the Fort Worth branch of the Katy railroad were washed out at Katy Lake 1 mile north of Hillsboro and a concrete highway bridge at the lake was also washed out. The downtown washed out 500 feet of Texas and Pacific railroad track near Lawrence, in the Terrell vicinity, and the dam at Lake Terrell, source of Terrell water supply was threatened as hundreds of citizens worked to save it. An estimated 12 inch rain washed away houses along the Mill and Richard creek valleys in Ellis county as waters reached their greatest depth in 50 years. Thirty families fled surging waters at Marble Falls, where Mayor C. M. Marrs estimated the damage at $100,000. Flood warnings went out to lowland dwellers near Dallas and Fort Worth as the Trinity river left its banks on a sudden rise which weather bureau officials estimated would send it up to 40 feet by Sunday. Traffic was disrupted in many sections of Dallas and a warning was issued for livestock to be moved from lowlands in the levee district near Fort Worth. The Guadalupe river left its banks near Gonzales and New Brantels and rolled over fields. McKinney and Sherman reported deluges which caused heavy damage to crops and much soil erosion. Rotarians Held Up Five special train loads of Rotarians en route to the Rotary International convention at Mexico City were marooned at Laredo when a cloudburst washed out a stretch of railroad track of the National Lines south of Laredo. Some of the trains were re-routed through Brownsville late today. The Rio Grande continued to rise at Laredo as Devils river and many creeks dumped floodwaters into the swollen river. The Don Martin Irrigation works, 80 miles southwest of Laredo in Mexico, was full but the dam was holding. The weather was still threatening at Karnes City, but the San Antonio river was gradually falling. Railroad tracks were open again and highways in some directions were passable. The water was reported receding at Kerrville, where Dr. G. H. Kincaid, a dentist, narrowly escaped drowning when he drove his car into a swollen stream and was rescued as the back end of his automobile hung from the bridge. The heaviest rain in years was reported at Emis and trains were re-routed. Bridges and highways were under water. The Rio Grande was slowly receding at Eagle Pass and the peak of the rise of the Upper Rio Grande was expected to strike Rio Grande City Monday night. Llano residents sought to place transportation and utilities back on normal planes after the city had been isolated since yesterday morning. The Llano river, normally a trickling rivulet, raged along at a 42-foot level after it had washed out an 800 foot bridge over the highways at Fredericksburg and Austin. Families and businesses evacuated homes and establishments in the low portion of the town along the river banks when the water rose to enter the places, damaging home furnishings and business stocks. A portion of the power plant was washed away, and further damage to the structure was feared. The river separates the north and south sides of the city, and inhabitants, anxious to know conditions across the river, resorted to Boy Scouts to message information with the Scout signal code. The Llano picked up several tourist cabins and shacks in its rush, and flooded all highways in the section. Late tonight one road was open, a roundabout route to Fredericksburg. Although the water was at spillway level from heavy rains over the watershed, the Brownwood dam was in no danger, Herman Bettis, water district official, said. The lake contained about 140,000 acre-feet of water, more than at any time since it was completed in 1933. At Leonard, the south wall of a two-story hotel collapsed after pounding of the rains had loosened mortar in the structure, made of native sand stone. Nine inches of rain fell at Leonard last night, sending the Leonard lake out of its banks and rolling across pasture lands. A few homes were flooded, but no heavy damage was reported. Creeks in the McKinney section reached the highest stages in 40 years, and forced a halt to traffic east of there. In other directions.

New Gas Hearing Is on Schedule

AMARILLO, June 15. (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today completed a two-day gas conservation hearing, the first held under the new law designed to halt gas wastage in the Panhandle field. Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the commission, who presided, announced that another hearing will be conducted next month before the commission decides on what basis to allocate production. Three major pipe line companies operating in Wheeler county offered testimony urging that that county be made into a separate field for proration purposes and that proration units be 320 acres. Small producers and land owners opposed the segregation proposal and asked that the units be 160 acres. Another segregated zone to include Moore and Potter counties was asked by Max Watson, witness for the Red River Gas company, on the contention that most of the development in those counties was for gas and that the wells were on large acreages. auto traffic was rerouted. In places, the water was almost a mile wide. The five-inch fall brought washouts of several railroad bridges between Denison and Waco, and anxiety was felt for another bridge two miles north of McKinney as a few inches of the tracks.

Houston Youth Improving After Try at Suicide

HOUSTON, June 15. (AP)—Robert Autrey, who attempted suicide near here Thursday night after his pretty girl companion, Mrs. Joan Maddox, was killed in an automobile crash, was reported slightly improved here tonight. Autrey shot himself under the chin, the bullet ranging upwards and penetrating the brain. The affair took place after a young man was reported to have robbed a filling station and fled in an automobile in company with a young woman. Autrey was later pointed out by willing station attendants as resembling the holdup man.

Big Bend National Park Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—The house completed congressional action today on a bill to create a national park in the Big Bend sector of southwest Texas and sent it to President Roosevelt for signature. The bill, by Representative Thompson, (D., Tex.), authorizes Secretary Ickes to acquire by public or private donation as much as 1,500,000 acres in Brewster and Presidio counties on the north bank of the Rio Grande and create a public park. Secretary Ickes, who has approved the proposal, has suggested that this "Big Bend national park" be expanded into an international park providing Mexico would agree to create a similar area on the south bank.

Train Wreck in London Is Fatal To at Least 17

LONDON, June 15. (AP)—At least 17 persons were killed tonight as a fast train laden with newspapers ploughed into a stationary section of the London-New Castle express at Welwyn station in the metropolitan area. The official report, telephoned from Welwyn said 17 were killed, but two London newspapers placed the death toll at "30 so far." This could not be confirmed but it was believed many victims still were in the wreckage. Two score persons, all aboard the express which had stopped at Welwyn, were seriously injured. Shortly after the crash, eight bodies were removed from the wreckage. The victims were aboard the express, the second section of the train running to Newcastle. It was crunched with weekend travelers leaving the city for a holiday. The noise of the collision was heard for miles around and brought to scene many persons in automobiles, on bicycles and afoot, some wearing evening clothes. All took part in the rescue efforts in the darkness. All traffic was stopped, as the debris of four shattered coaches was strewn over four tracks of the line. EX-GOVERNOR DIES FRANKFORT, Ky., June 15. (AP)—Edwin P. Morrow, former governor of Kentucky and nationally prominent in republican politics, died unexpectedly of a heart attack here today. EDITORIAL

DO YOUR PART NEXT WEEK

Motor vehicle accidents are bound to happen, no matter if every machine on the road is equipped with all kinds of the latest safety appliances, but they would not be so frequent if motorists made certain that their brakes and lights were in good condition before they ventured forth. This week, from Wednesday until Saturday noon, inclusive, six state highway patrolmen and the city police will join forces to inspect all motor vehicles in this community. They will be on the lookout for faulty brakes and lights. Machines that are found okay will be designated so with a sticker.

Pampans should cooperate with the officers to the fullest extent. The inspection is not a racket. It is a sincere and honest effort to try to eliminate the causes of many highway accidents. Texas probably leads the nation in the number of motor vehicles, largely because there are few laws on the statute books requiring safety in driving. Texas has no drivers' license law as have many other states. It is a felony in Texas to drive while intoxicated.

The records show that faulty brakes and lights cause more accidents than anything else. That is why the Junior Chamber of Commerce was glad to sponsor the inspections here this week, as suggested by Don Conley who works at his job and hobby as "safety man" and who is chairman of the city safety traffic committee.

Citizens can cooperate to the fullest extent only by having their brakes, lights and other safety devices repaired before the inspectors arrive or as soon as they are found faulty. Pampa needs a good reputation as far as safety is concerned—or it should be said that Pampa needs to maintain its good safety record. Only the citizens can do this. Do your part.

DEPENDENCE DECLARED UPON THE SOIL

By-product of the recent conference under Henry Ford's wing at Dearborn, Mich., between farming and industry, comes a "Declaration of Dependence on the Soil and of the Right of Self-Maintenance."

This is an illuminated scroll, elaborate in form, and paraphrased from the Declaration of Independence. It restates the principle that all man's basic sustenance comes from the soil, to which he must return again to regain self-maintenance, or, indeed, self-government. And it restates also the familiar Ford thesis that chemistry and industry must together discover ways of using more farm products (i. e., corn into motor fuel, and soy beans into steering wheels).

All agricultural experts agree that it will be a long time before industry will be able directly to absorb enough farm products to make a dent in the surpluses that have been an increasing menace since the foreign market began to disappear. The "declaration" itself implies this when it says "it is a plan which must develop in persistent and orderly fashion over a span of years. Therein lies its strength."

It may be five, ten, twenty years, before chemistry has taught industry how to use enough farm products to make up to the farmer his lost markets abroad.

Which is just why there is no real conflict between the Ford "Chemurgic" movement and the government's AAA program. The AAA recognizes that it is an emergency affair, reducing surpluses temporarily to protect the grower from a fall to starvation prices.

If and when Ford's "Chemurgists" devise means of using vast quantities of farm products in direct sale to industry, then AAA should, according to its theory, be the first to cheer and remove such acreage restrictions as still remain.

A beginning already has been made. The acreage of soy beans in Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana has grown amazingly during the past few years. And you can't get away from this: every acre devoted to soy beans in those states is just one less acre devoted to wheat, corn, and cotton, of which there is too much. Well, let's not argue about that; let's say, of which there is more than can be sold at a reasonable price.

These acreages, and the ones going into tung trees in Louisiana, are small as yet. They make no dent in agricultural surpluses. But they may, some day.

The Dearborn Declaration of Dependence probably never will rank with that other Declaration of Independence signed so long ago at Philadelphia. But it may be highly important as the years pass and the farmer, as well as other classes of people, faces the changes of the future.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON — NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The ompah-ompah of a dozen bands sounded in the ears of an expiring NRA.

Two years ago the I line Eagle was being hatched in the huge Commerce building. Corridors were teeming. Men and women fighting for jobs with the new agency rubbed shoulders with industrialists to find out what it was all about.

Newspapermen were getting acquainted with General Johnson and "Robbie" and digesting the principles of this "holy crusade."

Don Richberg was starting out toward the precipice of fame and power from which he is now being pushed. Recalling that wild period, a correspondent pushed his way across Pennsylvania avenue, with its gaudy bunting, grandstands, blaring loud speakers, hot dog pavilions, and crowds of befezzed gentlemen here for the convention of the Mystic Shrine.

Whole corridors were empty and most of the offices along them were also empty. Most employes were off frantically seeking jobs elsewhere in the New Deal. A few remained, bedeviled by fear that Congress might yet chop off the Blue Eagle's head abruptly June 16 and by the incessant ompah-ompah without.

Economist Leon Henderson was working on a plan through which observers could study effects of code abandonment throughout the country. Chief Counsel "Blackie" Smith was mapping a program requiring labor standards for government contracts.

Richberg had been called to Capitol Hill to help on the last draft for continuing the devitalized NRA. Dr. Bill Thorp was putting finishing touches on a possibly final report from his Advisory Council.

Emily Newell Blair of Consumers' Advisory Board was preparing a swan song statement to the effect that if more attention had been paid to consumers, NRA might still be a going concern.

All doors were wide open now. Nobody sat outside waiting for interviews. Through the windows came the ompah-ompah and through the doors came only this correspondent.

POLITICS at random

By RYRON PRICE

(Chief of the Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

From the political viewpoint, no recent event at Washington developed more interest angles than house consideration and passage of the social security bill.

"The most obvious thing for the first time this session, the big democratic majority marched forward with firm precision, providing overwhelming margins of safety for what Mr. Roosevelt had asked. The exact significance of this is disputed, for many factors were involved in the administration victory. But it at least raised a question whether the President was not regaining the leadership which had been so much discounted of late, and might not be expected hereafter to exercise a more direct control over his party in congress.

Of course only time can provide the answer. Many important administration tests still are to come. Until the moment arrives for action on such measures as the banking, NRA, and utilities bills, it probably will be impossible to tell whether the social securities victory really was significant, or only a flash in the pan.

House Radicalism Mild
Equally interesting and alive with possibilities is the fact that on this issue the extreme radicals were routed completely.

For a long time, democratic leaders had been suffering from an obvious case of jitters arising principally from the wide-spread agitation for the Townsend plan. Just what happened is not yet clearly apparent, but there is food for thought in the fact that the Townsanders polled something less than half the votes they had been claiming—just 56 out of a total house membership of 435.

Does this mean that the wave of radicalism which recently has engulfed so large a percentage of the public is receding? And if it does mean that, what are the inferences with respect to Senator Long, Father Coughlin, Upon Sinclair and the other left-wing leaders? Again, the circumstances pose the question but leave the answer to the future.

The hard fact is that a house widely advertised as containing more "wild men" than any other in history, heralded from the moment of its election as likely to shove the pendulum far over to the left, has given only a smattering of minority support to the leftist movement which many politicians had thought more dangerous. Finally, there is the republican angle; and behind that lies an interesting story of inside political maneuvering. The democratic house managers knew of the wide human appeal of unemployment and old age pension legislation. They knew how many republicans, on occasions when individual states were considering such legislation, had committed themselves to its support. They knew also that many employers belonging to the republican party would oppose it, and call the President's program socialistic.

SINGERS ARE IN CONVENTION AT PALO DURO

Annual Meeting Has Visitors From Two States

The annual meeting of the Plateau Singing convention is in session today at Palo Duro park near Amarillo. The program started yesterday with all-day singing led by singers from New Mexico and West Texas counties.

Largest attendance of the two-day session is expected this afternoon, when the program has been left open to feature visiting entertainers and song leaders. Presidents of the county organizations will be introduced.

The program this morning is scheduled to begin at 8:45, with J. S. Reynolds and Alton Lavelle of Las Cruces, N. M., as leaders. W. M. Cannon of Artesia, N. M., will follow them, then Wilson Blakeney of Alameda.

In the afternoon session, beginning at 1:30, Mrs. A. D. Hastin of Skellytown and Mrs. Grace Smith of Tucuman, N. M., will lead the opening songs.

Representatives of several music publishing companies are expected to be present for this fourteenth annual convention. John F. Taylor of Clovis is president of the organization.

It embraces 26 counties, and is a unique organization in that its leaders serve without pay, and about 100,000 persons attend its regional and county conventions each year. The Gray county division meets on the first Sundays in June and December.

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliott

Dr. Kaye spoke slowly, as one who is deadly weary. "We pulled thru," he said. "She's going to get well." Katharine crumpled against the window frame. Her creamy silk evening frock was wrinkled. Her eyes had great hollows under them. "Oh, John, thank God! You did it—we owe it all to you."

to get some sleep. Zoe is resting quietly. "Does her mother know?" "I sent the nurse to tell her five minutes ago." "Then I must have been asleep," marveled Katharine. "And I thought I'd never sleep again till I was sure. What weak creatures we humans are, John! You must have thought so when you came out of that room a moment ago and saw me dozing."

Designed to acquaint women with those appurtenances which make for easier and more beautiful living.

"Quick, Henry, the Flit," won't be such a popular indoor sport this summer, if you've windows and doors are properly screened. Now is the time to replace winter-rusted screens that keep out flies and mosquitoes. Call the Panhandle Lumber Co., 420 W. Foster, phone 1000. They'll send you the proper materials and recommend a workman.

Usually a man falls in love with a girl and then runs after her until she catches him.

The modern home is usually an apartment or a "cottage small" with not room enough for a large piano. Turpley's Music Store, 115 N. Cuyler, carries a piano especially designed for the smaller living room. The Haines Bros. Upright, 3'8", lends charm and prestige, yet fits cozily into the smallest space. They offer a convenient finance plan.

It's a wise policy always to tell the truth—unless a fib would serve the purpose better.

Most people get presents on their birthdays, but not the Pampa Furniture Co., 120 W. Foster. They're giving presents away—a cash present to every one who makes a purchase during their big birthday sale. Now is just the time to get that new rug or extra chair you've needed so long. The sale closes Saturday, June 22.

"Evening brings rest and you" and it also brings flowered crepe dinner frocks, worn by chic Parisians.

Here comes the bride—and right behind her comes the Pampa Hardware Co., 120 N. Cuyler, bearing to the altar of her happiness the most treasured possession of any homemaker, her silver. Her choice will probably be the newest in Community Plate, Berkeley Square, with a quantity discount in the English Silverdor or Crescent Chest.

With some girls, the light of day goes out when their sweetheart leaves; with others, it is just appearing.

Nobody would mind being put on the shelf if it were with a Croley Shelvador. This modern electric refrigerator keeps everything in its place, everything at your fingertips. The Shelvador and Shelvador pro- vide space for bulk items. The Shelvador allows room for rearranging. It's at the Pampa Glass & Paint Co., 115 W. Kingsmill.

Little cords on the ends of knitting needles will prevent pricked fingers as you dive into your bag.

Two beers or not two beers isn't the question if you're drinking them at the Eagle Buffet, 117 W. Foster. As the beer is being drawn it passes through a coil that puts it at the proper temperature for the proper flavor—and every glass is the same. They serve grand meals there, too.

SCRAMMEZ VOUS!

This is a Woman's Column!

"This is the way we wash our clothes." We call You Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co., 301-309 E. Francis, because we know they have such dependable service for laundry and dry cleaning. We're also sending our rugs, now. They have a new modern process that removes imbedded dirt, making them soft as new. It restores the color and luster, too. Phone 675 for an estimate. No obligation to you.

Be careful about the wisecracks you make; they may prove to be unwise cracks.

To market, to market, but this time they brought back something much better than a fat pig. The first of this week a whole carload of new furniture will be delivered to the Texas Furniture Co., 210 N. Cuyler. That includes living room suites in the newest fabrics, lots of maple in the Early American style bedroom and dining room suites, and a large assortment of porch and lawn furniture.

"Go into your dance" but go with delicate transparent hose. Bare feet in sandals are no longer considered smart.

"Shear" beauty will be yours with a haircut at the Orchid Beauty Salon. The operator is a specialist in coiffure styles. She molds and shapes the hair to your most becoming fashion. A finger wave completes the task, following the lines and contours indicated by the cutting. It's in the Combs-Worley building, telephone 654.

For best results, add your salad oil, a little at a time, to the greens before adding the vinegar.

Don't feel too badly if the state of the family exchequer precludes your yearly dose of fresh pure mountain air this summer. Beginning this week the air at the Rex and La Nora Theaters will be conditioned to the best possible quality. The air in the theaters will be changed completely every three minutes. Not only will it be cooled, it will be purified so that all odors and germs are removed. Just betake yourself to the picture show for your entertainment and see what really marvelous results can be obtained. It's another one of those reasons why home town business should be patronized.

The brownies that live in the wood are feeding, I'll agree. But they are not one half as good as those I make for tea.

Mmmmm—let's see, no, not there—maybe in this corner. Nope, it just doesn't seem to fit, does it? I'll tell you, let's call Mann's Furniture Co., 406 S. Cuyler. They've just moved and have lots of new stock. They'll trade it in on a new one, then we can get just what we want.

would be sure to interfere. How grand it would be, Katharine thought, if Michael Heatheroe were to come walking in that door this very instant. She would say, "Ten, Michael!" She would say, "I'm sorry, but do you take sugar and cream? I don't seem to remember..."

But she could never ask Michael Heatheroe to her home. Her stepmother would never allow it. Bertine, for all her smiles and apparent amiability, ruled the Stryk-hurst ménage with a rod of iron. Her partly husband did exactly as she wished; in fact, he often thought, said Katharine rather contemptuously to herself, exactly what his wife told him to think.

Michael Heatheroe did not "belong." "Who is he?" Bertine would say, with a lift of the eyebrow. "Where did he come from and who are his people?"

Well, some day Katharine would have a place of her own. She could ask her own friends there, as often as she liked. No one would dare criticize them; or, if they did, she would not listen.

"Wool-gathering, Princess Kitty?" She smiled at the lean, ascetic-looking man across the hearth. "I guess so. You used to call me that when you first came here, John, Princess Kitty." You were a very grand young man and I was in pigtail.

"A funny child you were, too," said John Kaye. "Just like a prickly pear. I tried so hard to make you smile."

"Was I that bad?" cried the girl. "Well, you were afraid of people. Shy—no, it wasn't exactly shyness. Distrust. I'm afraid. Poor little girl!" Her throat tightened, her voice thickened as she said, "Don't, Doctor John. You'll have me bursting into tears."

"Well, you've changed a lot, anyhow," said the man. "You're not afraid of anyone any more. That's the stuff, Katharine. Look like in the face and tell 'em all to go to hell!"

"Good advice," said Katharine, smiling. Lights flashed up in the overhead fixture and Bertine Stryk-hurst bustled in.

"What are you two doing, mooning here in the dark? You ought to get into your things and take a brisk walk," cried Bertine. "Katharine doesn't take enough exercise. That's why she droops around so, half-alive."

Angry words sprang to the girl's lips and were suppressed. Dr. Kaye looked at her warningly. "I played three sets of tennis in the broiling sun yesterday," Katharine said, keeping her tone good-humored with an effort. "And I rode horseback in the morning. Doesn't that count?"

Bertine gave her own superior little laugh. "Oh, I guess we know why all the young ladies in town have taken to riding of late. I guess we could tell a thing or two about that."

Katharine clenched her hands. With an effort she controlled her voice. "Really?"

Bertine turned to Dr. Kaye as if for understanding and sympathy. "You wouldn't believe how silly the girls are nowadays about the first decent-looking male creature in breeches. Why, I heard today that Sally Moon is going to marry the fellow."

"Marry whom?" the doctor asked. "Why, that young man who runs

CLARENDON TO HAVE FETE ON 4TH OF JULY

TO PREPARE COUNTY FOR CENTENNIAL OF 1936

CLARENDON, June 15.—People from all over the county and the Panhandle are showing great enthusiasm over Clarendon's "Re-enactment of a Fourth of July Fifty Years Ago." Persons from surrounding communities and towns will be asked to cooperate in the collecting of pioneer relics.

Jerome Stooking, chairman of the local collection committee, reports that he has already received a number of interesting relics and photographs which will be exhibited on this occasion, which promises to be a high spot in the history of the county.

Mr. Stooking is interested in old the riding place," cried Bertine, in triumph. "That chap who calls himself Heatheroe."

John Kaye, glancing at Katharine, was shocked by the drawn look on her face. "Why, there's something here," he said to himself, in surprise. "This means something to her." (To Be Continued) guns, spurs, belts, and old Indian relics, old pieces of furniture, old photographs, and particularly anything that dates back to the old Clarendon settlement.

Mr. Stooking has selected Will Chamberlain, J. C. Estack, and Misses Lorraine Patrick and Jo Ella Stewart to serve on the collection committee with him.

A special collection of old dresses, bridal costumes or any dress worn before 1910, will be made by the girls of this committee.

Whether display windows in the business district will be utilized for the exhibits or whether the collection will be located in a central house has not as yet been decided by the committee.

Homer Mulkey, chairman of the parade, has chosen Jimmy Moores, Ed Fox, and Winks Adams to assist him. Mr. Mulkey reports that he, together with his committeemen, will secure 150 horses and riders for this gala event.

The JA ranch will either allow the ranch chuck wagon to be used in the parade or rig up a semblance of the wagon, report officials.

It is the purpose of these in charge of the parade to have all old cow punchers to don their regalia and to lead the pompous exhibition.

J. M. Hill, chairman of the floats committee, has received the promise of a beautiful float from the local Lions club; other business and civic clubs will doubtlessly respond.

The worthy purpose of this celebration, aside from a pioneer and old settlers' get-together, is to develop the necessary spirit which will prepare the county for the 1936 Centennial in making it the greatest historical re-enactment ever undertaken by a people.

CIMARRON TO OPEN AT REX HOUSE TODAY

FAMOUS STORY OF OLD OKLAHOMA TO BE SHOWN AGAIN

Sprawled like an army in bivouac—alertly ready for any emergency!

That's how the "Cimarron" film group lived for twelve weeks during the making of the famous American screen epic opening today at the Rex Theater, in a notable return to a motion picture public which has been vastly augmented since the picture's first release four years ago.

A 1000-foot street in a reproduction of the town of Osage, Okla., with thousands of extra players, technicians and live stock milling about, was like the interior of an army camp in a fever of battle preparation.

The buildings on each side of the street reared like hasty barricades! Behind them, forests of canvas tents—pyramids, conical, square, circus and "pup", equipped with campaign coats, gave the illusion of an army maintenance department.

A mammoth mess hall with a seating capacity of 1000 appetites, ruled by a platoon of white-capped cooks and "K.P.'s" was erected within sprinting distance of the RKO-Radio cameras; for "an army moves on its stomach."

In another large tent near the camera lines was a 30-bed hospital with a uniformed nurse dishing out pills and iodine to the "sick, lame and lazy." Even the doctor's daily visit to the camp assumed the dignified aspect of a head surgeon's visit to a soldiers' ward.

Acres and acres of rope corrals, water troughs and feed mangers, where thousands of animals spent contented weeks, represented the all-important transportation department.

The spasmodic shrieks of a police siren used to direct the mob of extras, brought reminders of gas alarms and air attacks in war time.

Pistol shots, vigorous language and "Sweet Adeline" quartets were easily associated with soldiers' relaxation.

Signs of camp sanitation, men on sentry duty, wardrobe and property store rooms—and last, but not least, the precision, system and conscientious sense of duty among the army of film workers during the entire production schedule, completed the simile.

Richard Dix and Irene Dunne, and the other principals, extras and technical crew were taken to and from their homes each day, however. The others, hundreds of teamsters, guards, cooks and stable men, boarded and slept at the ranch.

FAUNTLEROY CURLS FAIL TO DECEIVE DETECTIVE

DENVER (AP)—The desk sergeant entered "Mary Doe, 3, residence unknown," on the police blotter, and took note of the long golden curls.

"Isn't she a beauty?" he said.

Detective Sam Finnie leaned down to pick up the lost child. He was met with truculence and doubled fists.

"That's no girl. A girl may hit, but she always forgets to close her fists," reasoned the detective.

Father arrived in a few minutes and identified "Mary Doe" as Bobby Lonteen.

49-FOOT TOWER TELESCOPES

NEW YORK (AP)—Engineering's latest "jack-in-the-box" is a telescope tower which shoots to a height of 49 feet at the pressure of a button. This aluminum tower was devised to clean high walls and ceilings at Rockefeller Center.

Al Jolson and Wife at the La Nora

About New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—When Madame Olga Petrova came in on the Conte di Savoia the other day, a New York surgeon was at the dock to meet her. But he wasn't there to perform any emergency operation. The man was her husband, Dr. John D. Stewart, and he was on hand to welcome home his actress-playwright-wife.

Madame Petrova has just returned from Valence, France, a lovely section of the interior where her swank new estate is located. She was compelled to sell her villa at Cape Ferrat, where until recently she always has lived, because the locale was becoming too popular.

The new estate, a small one, has 47 acres, but the earth is of such richness that shortly she will be economically independent of the green grocer. You can grow everything in that soil, she insists, even to alligator pears, which aren't usually grown in France.

What particularly pleases Madame Petrova, however, is the well in the cellar.

"In France, fresh water is a source of constant worry," she declared, "because in wartime everybody is afraid the Germans would poison the water."

That's why the lady dramatist (she hasn't written anything in two years now) is most pleased with her subterranean well; blow hot, blow cold, she'll always have an abundance of cool, sweet water which nobody could poison even if they desired to.

Too, she is vastly pleased with the huge centrally located fireplace which answers the needs of the whole house, even in the severest weather. The house was literally built around the fireplace, and it gives off enough heat to insure comfort.

In the life of this interesting creature there is neither time nor room for acquaintances—"because one never has enough time for one's friends." But she likes to talk and declares she would just as soon chat with a cab driver as a duke. "I have talked with a lot of dukes," she grins, "and some of them have been inordinately dull." It is her contention that, expecting nothing, cab drivers may surprise you, while members of the nobility, from whom one expects much, are often very stupid people indeed.

Madame Petrova is one of the really few "best dressed" women who enjoy old clothes and working in the garden. This spring she amused herself by pruning the fruit trees on her estate. She has no feeling about caste, is a good sailor, and can sit with her husband at the opera or stand at his elbow in the operating room with equal interest. Right now she's at the Plaza, and will remain in her own apartment there as long as she is in New York.

Back into the sport pages pops the magic initial J. It's been the starting letter of the names of more prizefighters than any letter in the alphabet—James J. Jeffries, John Sullivan, Jack Johnson, Jack Sharkey, Jim Corbett, Jack Dempsey, James Tunney, James Braddock—you count 'em, and now comes Joe Louis, the sensational negro heavy out of Detroit who is to fight the Man Mountain, Primo Camera, this month. But there's something more than a single J to Joe's renown. Joe has two managers, and both their names begin with J. Add to this the fact that his trainer's name starts with J too and you've got about all of that letter any one fighter needs.

As a Broadway entertainer, in the picture, he is barred from the New York stage because of his fondness for the "ponies" and also wine and women. After sharing honors with a little dancing girl in a mid-West town he stages a comeback that sets the theatrical world aflame.

Miss Keeler is as sweet and winsome as ever—ever a dancing partner, who is unable to hide her love for the great entertainer although he continually snubs her, having fallen for the wiles of a blues singer, the wife of the king of the underworld.

Helen Morgan, torch singer and piano sifter, is given a bigger part than usual. Her singing is excellent, but she also has an important role as the other woman and rival of Miss Keeler for the love of Jolson, the entertainer. She handles a difficult part with rare artistry.

Glenda Farrell is the same wise-cracking, hard-boiled character she usually portrays, although in this picture she is not the gold digging type, her entire interest lying in keeping her brother, Al Jolson, from ruination thru his own folly. Her work is fast and snappy and adds no end to the rollicking humor of the production.

Others who do exceptionally fine work include Barton MacLane, Sharon Lynne, Patsy Kelly and Phil Regan.

Bobby Connolly, famous director of stage and screen musicals, has outdone all his previous work with the spectacular dance ensembles he created and staged for this picture.

The story by Bradford Ropes, author of "2nd Street," is not only hilariously funny, but is interspersed with intense dramatic moments and carries a most fascinating romance.

The catchy tunes were written by the famous team of Harry Warren and Al Dubin.

"Your name and fame will be enrolled among the greatest chieftains," Andrew Jackson wrote his former lieutenant, Sam Houston, and three are unknown.

MUSICAL WILL FEATURE RUBY KEELER TODAY

AL JOLSON AND WIFE STAR IN 'GO INTO YOUR DANCE'

Whistling and humming the new song hits introduced in First National's latest musical spectacle, "Go Into Your Dance," the great throngs that attended the local premiere of the show at the La Nora theater today, left in a happy frame of mind. For they had seen one of the greatest shows of the year.

First National has given the public not only a musical comedy, but a picture that is replete with dramatic situations as well as hilarious laughs, romance and gigantic, spectacular dance numbers.

The cast is headed by a most remarkable team, Al Jolson, stage and screen star who introduced the talking picture, and his wife, Ruby Keeler, one time musical comedy star who rose to fame on the screen in the last two years.

Never before have the two played together, each fearing to take the spotlight from the other. But in this picture they work together as a perfect romantic team.

Jolson shows more of his old time nerve, both in his singing and his acting, than he has displayed in any other picture. His work with Miss Keeler seems to have given him an unusual stimulus.

As a Broadway entertainer, in the picture, he is barred from the New York stage because of his fondness for the "ponies" and also wine and women. After sharing honors with a little dancing girl in a mid-West town he stages a comeback that sets the theatrical world aflame.
