As Texas Flood Waters Threatened Capital

While flood waters, aggravated by roaring winds, swept throughout Texas, bringing death to at least 18 persons and causing property and crop damages amounting to millions of dollars, swollen Colorado river waters threatened for a time to isolate the city of Austin.

This view, taken from the air over the Texas capital, reveals a large section of the city submerged in the high water which cut off Austin's supply of power and city water. Note the main thoroughfare in foreground completely inundated; and the state capitol building silhouetted against the sky in the distance. As the Rio Grande and Nueces rivers joined the Colorado in its rampage, train service was paralyzed, and houses and bridges were swept away, throughout the southern part of the state.

Mitchell Recites Charges Against Roper In Hearing

Says Ship Operators Got 5 Millions In One Deal

BY PRESTON L. GROVER, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—Ewing Y. Mitchell, ousted assistant secretary of commerce, testified before a senate committee today that the Roosevelt administration had "given" $1,720,000 to the United States Lines under a contract for permanent retirement of the Leviathan.

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—Asserting the government "must be protected from racketeering," Ewing Y. Mitchell, ousted assistant secretary of commerce, testified before a senate committee today that the Roosevelt administration had "given" $1,720,000 to the United States Lines under a contract for permanent retirement of the Leviathan.

Some of his attack drew sharp defense from Senators Fletcher (D-Fla.) and White (R-Me). These senators upheld Admiral H. I. Cone of the shipping board, a subject of Mitchell's criticism.

In a press conference, meanwhile, President Roosevelt said he had approved the arrangement for retirement of the Leviathan because it was silly to require the operating company to take a loss if it agreed to apply the amount of that loss to construction of new ships.

Committee members, trying to pin the witness down to specific instances of "favoritism" and "graft" in the commerce department, drew from him a statement he had only charged the "appearance of corruption."

FIRST DEATH UNDER LINDBY LAW DECREED

Arthur Gooch Sentenced To Die In Oklahoma For Kidnaping Texas Officers.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 19. (AP)—The first execution under the Lindbergh kidnaping law was decreed today by Federal Judge R. L. Williams, who sentenced Arthur Gooch, "small time" Texas and Oklahoma outlaw, to die Friday, Sept. 13, for kidnaping two Paris, Tex., officers last November.

The death penalty was recommended by a Durant jury at the close of Gooch's trial on the kidnaping charge.

Asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed by Judge Williams, stern jurist who criticized a jury two days after Gooch's conviction for not asking death for a bank robber, Gooch replied: "I think there have been worse crimes than mine and I don't see why I should hang."

Judge Williams replied: "That's your only argument, but other juries have been cowardly."

The amended "Lindbergh" law makes the death penalty possible if the kidnaped victim is harmed. When Gooch, and a companion, Ambrose Nix, since slain by officers, released R. N. Baker and H. R. Marks in the mountains of south-eastern Oklahoma, Baker's life had been seriously injured, allegedly in a fight with the abductors in a filling station.

Gooch was arrested near Okemah December 23, by department of

ARGUMENT FOR POWER BILL IS CITED BY FDR

Points Out Why He'd Abolish Holding Companies.

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today he was heartily in favor of the congressional section of the utilities holding company bill providing for eventual elimination of holding companies not in a continuous territory.

In response to inquiry at his regular press conference, the president emphasized that the legislation which had been locked in the house inter-state commerce committee did not affect intrastate companies such as the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and the Niagara Hudson company in New York.

He went on to explain what he termed evils which he hoped to eliminate by the legislation.

He referred to the Associated Gas & Electric company and a chart representing an organization of this type.

He said the chart would show perhaps 100 little circles at the bottom of the sheet—operating companies. Most of these companies, he said, were properly capitalized and making money, for instance $7 on a $100 investment.

This $7 return, he said, then goes up in a zigzag course on the chart through perhaps as many as 3,000 circles—representing the intermediate holding companies, the supply companies, the financing companies and the like.

Plan On Foot To Oust Young Official

Overton Would Remove Elliott Roosevelt From Vice-Presidency Of Clubs.

DALLAS, June 19. (AP)—Rumors of contention among Texas Democrats were heard today after it was revealed a plan was on foot to oust Elliott Roosevelt from the vice-presidency of the Young Democratic clubs of Texas. Phil Overton of Dallas, a member of the state democratic executive committee, said the movement to remove the president's son would be launched Friday at a meeting of the Dallas county Young Democrats.

Overton said he would introduce a resolution demanding Roosevelt's removal "because he had attempted to have the state convention at Amarillo go on record in favor of a proposed constitutional amendment over-riding the supreme court's outlawing the NRA."

He also said Roosevelt was elected to office at a special meeting of the executive committee for which notices were not sent and that Roosevelt had been in Texas only a short time and was not due the honor.

State Executive Committee Chairman Raymond Buck of Fort Worth answered that "whatever complaint any member of the organization has to make will be heard and passed upon at the meeting of the executive committee July 16."

Young Roosevelt, who lives at Fort Worth, said that in accepting the position he was trying to be helpful instead of seeking honors.

"If Overton or others feel that someone else can do the job better than I," he said, "I will be glad to let them have the place."

Last week reports were current that John L. McCarty of Dalhart planned to resign as president of the Texas club in order to elevate Roosevelt to that office. McCarty said the reports were unfounded.

Trotzky Seeks Rest In Norway

OSLO, Norway, June 19. (AP)—Leon Trotzky, the modern man without a country, disappeared today in the fastnesses of Norway, where he has been granted temporary asylum.

With his wife and two secretaries, Trotzky hastened from Oslo to Hoenfoss, a small nearby town, after his arrival yesterday by steamer from Antwerp. Then the entire party was lost to sight.

Although Trotzky's visit to Norway was ostensibly for his health, the chauffeur of the car in which the noted Russian and his party motored to Hoenfoss said all appeared to be in high spirits.

Minister of Justice Trygve Lie said documents submitted with Trotzky's application for a permit to stay in Norway asserted his life was at stake unless he was permitted to have a change of air.

CONCESSIONS TO 3 DEMANDS NOT GRANTED

300 RIOTING MINERS SMOKED OUT BY GUARDS

BY R. GORDON BROWN, Associated Press Staff Writer. (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) LANSING, Mich., June 19.—A score of officers and guards led by Warden Lacey Simpson subdued 300 rioting convicts early today in the inky darkness of the Kansas state prison coal mine and ended a destructive 21-hour mutiny.

Soon the first lift load of mutineers, sheepish, bedraggled, came to the surface and they marched past a line of heavily armed prison, county, and state highway officers to their cell block 60 feet away.

In 35 minutes the evacuation of the 730-foot mine level, where the riot occurred, was complete.

Only a half dozen guards remained below to check the damage wrought in the convicts' rage.

The day and night-long mutiny was accomplished without injury to either guards or convicts, and the 19 frightened mules kept below to haul coal cars were reported unhurt.

"We had a time breaking down a door barricade. That's what took us so long," said Simpson as he came up at 3:30 to announce the riot was ended.

Demands Ignored. Not only was the mutiny quelled without bloodshed to man or beast, but the prison officials announced they had made no concessions to the three demands of the rioters.

"We don't owe them a nickel," declared T. W. Woodward, member of the prison board of administration.

More than 300 prisoners had demanded better prepared food, the discharge of Dr. David P. Parker, prison physician, and immunity for their action.

The prison guards and other officers used smoke from a fire started by the convicts themselves as their chief weapon of attack.

Started in the mule barns, the fire was fed by hay and timbers in an effort of the rioters to drive armed guards away from the strategic gun cage near the base of the air shaft. This would have given them control of the entire subterranean mine.

By reversing the ventilator fans, officers turned the heavy clouds of smoke upon the rioters and sent

DELEA VICARS IS ELECTED TO BANKERS' POST

Named President Of Panhandle Association

Delea Vicars, president of the First National bank of Pampa, was elevated from vice-president to presidency of the Panhandle Bankers' association as the group held annual election of officers at Amarillo yesterday.

Other officials named toward close of the session are: Vice-President (re-elected), Thomas E. Noel, president of the First National bank, Memphis; vice-president, J. Ross Noland, vice-president of the First National bank, Tulsa; secretary, Arthur Ware, of the Amarillo National bank; and treasurer, H. R. Fritz, vice-president of the First State bank, Hereford.

Retiring officers of the association are: President, F. A. Paul, president of the First National bank, Panhandle; secretary, Mr. Noland; and treasurer, Alvin Hill, Amarillo.

Approve Farm Credit. A brief set of resolutions adopted by the bankers included one approving activities of the Farm Credit administration, "which has made possible and easier the carrying on of agricultural and livestock industries in Texas" and another commending Panhandle bankers for their hardihood in "facing conditions during the drought and depression."

JAPAN, CONTENT WITH CONQUEST, REMOVES ARMY

Satisfied For Time Being With China's Capitulation

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) TIENTSIN, China, June 19.—The Japanese military was reported today to have apparently renounced any plans for armed action in China as a result of the Chinese government's capitulation to far-reaching North China demands.

Japanese spokesmen inferred that China, by dismissing General Sung Cheli-Yuan as governor of Chahar province and ordering the 12nd Chinese division to evacuate the province, had brought issues there "to the stage of amicable settlement."

The correspondent of Reuters, British news agency, reported that even extremists among the Japanese war officers appeared satisfied for the time being, least by the settlement and apparently had foregone any idea of armed activities.

A high government spokesman expressed confidence at Tokyo that the crisis would pass "without the necessity of military operations by

Trio Sentenced To Total Of 46 Years In Court

District Judge W. R. Ewing and 31st district court juries this week are bearing down hard on defendants. Already this week, three men have been sentenced to serve a total of 46 years in the penitentiary.

This morning it took less than two hours to convict and sentence Jimmie Cantrell to 15 years in the penitentiary on a charge of robbery with firearms in connection with the hi-jacking of the Standard Food Store and the Salona garage in LeFors.

District Attorney Lewis Goodrich and County Attorney Sherman White conducted the case for the state. Cantrell was defended by Alonzo Turner of Borger.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Ewing accepted a plea of guilty by Elmer "Buck" Aaron, charged with robbery, and sentenced him to 10 years in the penitentiary. Aaron was charged with holding up Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Benefield of LeFors and taking a large sum of money. Aaron's confederate, Ralph "Tex" Wade, was sentenced to 18 years by a jury yesterday morning.

Two robbery and two burglary cases were on call for this afternoon.

The jury which sentenced Cantrell was composed of Clarence Kennedy, C. H. Cacey, Moore Davidson, C. C. Andis, Roy Ritter, T. E. Darby, E. W. Lane, E. D. Zimmerman, W. E. James, Leo Paris, J. B. Collier and W. J. Brown.

Drivers Can Be Fined If Brakes Aren't Repaired

Cars Being Tested At Rate Of 150 An Hour Here

Passing through brake testing lanes at the rate of more than 150 cars an hour, Pampa and Gray county automobile owners are learning whether their cars are safe to drive. Six state highway patrolmen, assisted by local officers and citizens, will check cars until Saturday noon.

Pampa again became the "first" city in West Texas in the checking of cars. The check is being sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce. The move is statewide with Pampa the first city north and west of Graham to welcome the testing crew of officers.

A checking lane has been laid out on the block on West Kingsmill avenue west of Somerville street. The officers will be on hand until late tonight. Tomorrow they will move to East Tying street on the first block east of Cuyler street.

The officers are testing brakes and checking lights, speedometers, and windshield wipers.

Cars with faulty brakes, unable to stop within 40 feet while driving at the rate of 20 miles an hour, are not being passed by the officers who give the owner a ticket to appear in justice court. If the owner has his brakes adjusted and passes successfully through the test within 24 hours after receiving the notice, his ticket is torn up. Should he fail

LAWYER HINTS YOUTH IS SPY FOR JAPANESE

PROSECUTOR DECLARES SISTER WROTE ALL KIDNAP NOTES

TAHLEQUAH, Okla., June 19. (AP)—Owen J. Watts, assistant attorney general, today branded as a "hoax" the alleged extortion plot, Lois Thompson, 19-year-old Northeastern State Teachers college co-ed, declared prompted her to shoot Daniel Shaw, Chinese student.

Watts' declaration came in his closing argument to the jury of farmers trying the girl for assault with intent to kill the Chinese.

The case is expected to reach the jury by noon.

Watts followed W. B. Wall, defense attorney, who assailed "spies" in his closing argument, touching but briefly on a statement that "Lois was acting in good faith when she shot Shaw in self-defense."

"Japan is not friendly to the United States but the Japanese do not send members of their own race here to spy but instead they send Chinese," Wall declared.

"I think less of a man who will sell out to another country than anybody."

Wall then declared he "knew nothing" about Shaw, quiet, unassuming student of American Indian lore.

"I know nothing about Shaw. I don't know why he came to this country and I don't want to say anything against him," the defense attorney said.

"All I know is that Lois was acting in good faith and that she shot Shaw in self-defense at a time when she feared for her life," all concluded.

"The whole affair was a hoax and a conspiracy from the beginning and Lois knew her sister, Lella, wrote those notes all the time," Watts opened his argument.

He referred to 14 extortion notes, demanding sums ranging up to $3,000 from Lois, whose widowed mother lives on a farm near here.

In his instructions to the jury, delivered before the closing arguments started, Judge P. Brewer told the panel "a threat does not justify shooting in self-defense. There must be a overt act. The jury must decide whether or not the girl still feared for her life when she kept shooting at Shaw while chasing him across the campus."

Court Reverses Cigarette Case

AUSTIN, June 19. (AP)—Conviction of D. H. Willard of Dallas on a charge involving counterfeit state cigarette tax stamps was reversed by the court of criminal appeals today and prosecution ordered dismissed.

Willard was convicted in Travis county and sentenced to 30 years, the maximum penalty for the offense.

The court held the indictment was defective for two reasons.

Selling of counterfeit stamps, the opinion stated, was not "a crime in violation of the law," while Willard was charged with advising, commanding and encouraging a third party in the issuance and circulation of 100,000 counterfeit stamps by sale. Selling was not synonymous with issuance and circulation, the court said.

While that invalidated the indictment, the court also considered more important another fault, in which the offense was alleged to have occurred in Travis county, where the statute provided venue.

Tickets On Sale For Demo Banquet

Tickets for the Young Democrats Open Forum banquet to be given at the Schneider hotel at 8:15 o'clock on the night of June 25 were placed on sale yesterday through members and at Harvester Drug and Fatherson Corner Drug.

The banquet will not be confined to members of the Young Democrats club but to anyone eligible to become a member. Advance sale of tickets has been favorable and it is predicted that between 150 and 200 will attend the banquet. Several prominent young Democrats and other well-known figures in West Texas will be present. There will be talks, but they will be short and of great interest.

Pampa has been selected as the 1938 convention city of the West Texas Young Democrats club and a large local membership is the aim of President John Ketter and other officers of the Pampa organization.

Miss Faye Compton and Charles Compton of Tuttle, Okla., formerly of Pampa, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mathews, Miss Georganne Gray, and other friends here.

California Crew Wins From Cornell By A Split Second

Judges Debate Many Minutes Before Deciding

By EDWARD J. NEIL
FOUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 19. (P)—Over the roistering Hudson today there came a calm, the led-down after as fierce a rowing duel as the river ever has seen—California's split second triumph over Cornell in the four-mile varsity climax of the 37th intercollegiate Foughkeepsie regatta.

The scant crowd that braved driving rains and chilling northeast winds was wakened by the start of the race, for neither the cold nor the wet.

It shivered again as it will shiver many another time in memory of those two great eights, battling down the river on the breast of a rolling tide, hammering across the finish line in the purple murk of the evening so close that only the officials far out in the river, after many minutes of debate, were able to give them their places.

As great as was the victory for California's Gold Bears, climaxing the first all-weather race finish in the history of the regatta, just so heavy was the disappointment and chagrin of the burly boys from far above Cayuga's waters.

While California, mighty machine stroked by young Gene Berkenkamp, had been the pre-race favorite, riding a steadily mounting tradition of conquering oarsmanship that goes back through victory in the last two Olympic games, Cornell was something of an under-dog.

The Huskies of Washington, for the second successive year, put on a show of the five crew freshman field, walloping California by a length and a half, with Navy third by another length. They distanced Columbia and Syracuse, fourth and fifth, respectively, winning in 10 minutes and 29 seconds.

It was even more pronounced in the four crew junior varsity dash through three miles, where the same Washington crew that won as freshmen in 1934 trounced Navy by three lengths, with Cornell and Syracuse in that order several more lengths behind. The Huskies' time was 14:58 4-5.

For three miles in the varsity race it was anybody's contest, with Syracuse battling with California and the great Washington eight, Cornell always was close. Navy wasn't to be shaken off.

The final burst to the finish line was as breathless a thing as the river ever has seen.

From the shore it looked as if the lion hearts in that Cornell shell had nipped California by a little less than the margin that separated Washington in third place and Navy in fourth.

But the crowd on the observation train thought California won, and the judges came out of a huddle to announce their decision. Once more California was lord of the river with Cornell officially second by part of a boat deck length, three-fifths of a second.

The other placings put Syracuse fifth, Pennsylvania sixth, and Columbia seventh. The times were California 18:52, Cornell 18:52 3-5, Washington 19:00 4-5, Navy 19:03 4-5, Syracuse 19:09 1-5, Pennsylvania 19:37 and Columbia 19:37 1-5.

BUGS SUBDUED TULSA OILERS IN 6-2 TILT

OKLAHOMA CITY WINS A MOUND BATTLE FROM HOUSTON

By The Associated Press.

The Texas league leading Galveston Bugs last night subdued the Tulsa Oilers for top position, the Tulsa Oilers, 6 to 2.

Backing up Joe Gibbs, who held the Oilers to five hits, the Bugs jumped on Art Jones for four straight safeties and three runs in the fourth inning. They made one more off Jones in the sixth and then, aided by two errors, counted twice against Ed Selway in the ninth after Jones withdrew for a pinch hitter. The Oilers made their two runs in the seventh.

Oklahoma City, held scoreless the first eight innings, put on a two-run rally in the ninth to beat Houston, 2 to 1 in a pitchers' battle between Moncrief and McGhee.

Keith Frazier hurled Fort Worth to a 3 to 2 victory over San Antonio. Earl Caldwell was Frazier's opponent, but he couldn't match the work of the cat pitcher in the pinches.

Beaumont and Dallas played about on even terms, knotting the score several times, until the ninth, when the Exporters put across two runs to down the Stars, 5 to 3. The defeat was the first since the Oilers had suffered while hurling for the Stars. He had won five games in a row. Joe Hare went the route for the Exporters and was given fine support in close spots.

THE BEST MAN WINS

—when a vagabond lady makes a bum out of the groom! A scream!

(This is the third of four stories on the career of James Braddock, new heavyweight champion.)

BY EDWARD J. NEIL.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, June 19 (P)—Within three years after the start of his professional career, when he knocked out Leo Dobson for a purse of $75, Jimmy Braddock fought Tommy Loughran for the light heavyweight championship of the world, collected $28,000—and a neat licking.

He came up the hill with tremendous speed, and he went down just as fast.

He knocked out 11 in a row, won a couple of decisions, then flattened five more, won ten more decisions before he started to hit the topnotchers early in 1928.

Tuffy Griffiths, with a great reputation, came into Madison Square Garden from Chicago and Braddock knocked him out in two rounds, first of the many short end victories he turned in before climaxing his career with victory over Heavyweight Champion Max Baer.

He broke Pete Latzo's jaw in four places. He knocked out Jimmy Slattery, once a great light heavyweight, in nine rounds. But along in 1928 and 1929 he lost decisions to Joe Sekeyra, Leo Lomski, Maxie Rosenbloom, and Loughran, who the 175-pound crown was at stake.

Then the crash of 1929 swept away the modest fortune he had piled up. He had to start all over again. He was showing signs of the rough, slugging warfare he had been through. The slump started then, and never lightened much until fortune provided the amazing series of happy coincidences that gave him a chance to win the heavyweight crown.

So bad was Jimmy's right hand that he fought only five times in 1930, losing to Leo Lomski, Billy Jonson, and Babe Hunt. He had been beaten 22 times when he faced Baer in the bowl. He hit less than .500 in 1931 and 1932.

He deliberately broke his right hand on Paul Swiderski's head so that doctors could reset it without operation. He fought Harry Hinkle with two broken ribs and Germany Heiler with a broken collar bone. He was getting licked so regularly that the experts shook their heads.

"Nice, game guy," they said, "but he's washed up."

It was worse in 1933, and the pressure was deep on the Braddock home, now tenanted by his wife, Mae Fox Braddock, whom he married in 1930. By 1934 there were three youngsters to add to the load; Harry now 4; Howard, 3; and Rose Marie, 3.

Jimmy went back to the docks as a stevedore, but there was only a day's work now and then. He was on relief for 13 months, getting $24 a month. He had no time to train, but to save carfare he walked three miles from the apartment in Wood-cliff to the Jersey docks each day.

He lived on hash, mostly, but he was outdoors, rebuilding his strength and muscles for fights he never expected to get. He was about as far down as a fellow can be, and still kept trying, when along came the turning point, Corn Griffin of Georgia, just one year ago.

LEAPSTALK ABOUT FRISCH AS RAIN FALLS

TONY LAZZERI BATTED IN 41 RUNS THIS SEASON

BY ANDY CLARKE.

Beside the name of Tony Lazzeri on the batting list is the unimpressive average of .268.

But those figures don't tell the story. Ask Tony's Yankee teammates what they think of him, and they will say he is a truly great second baseman; a baseball man who thinks more in terms of team success than of personal aggrandizement.

Lazzeri has the faculty of coming through in the pinches. When the hit-and-run is on, he is probably the most dangerous man in the American league at the plate.

Lazzeri has batted in 41 runs so far this season. He started to hit the home run in June 17 runs on 15 hits.

Tony's worth doesn't end on the attack. His defense record, with the exception of one bad splurge, has been well-nigh perfect.

The boys were of the opinion that these words, poured out after the Cards had taken a 14-3 defeat at the hands of the Terrymen, were the words of a man attempting to fight off an inevitable conviction.

Dizzy Dean, it would seem, is also trying to give the impression he is confident the Cards will come thru. Before the rout the other day he yelled to Alvin Stout who was hitting fungoes in front of the Cards dugout.

"Hey, Stout, pretty lucky gettin' traded from a last-place club to a second place one, huh?"

"Whadaya mean, second-place club?" retorted Stout. "Don't you read the papers?"

"Sure," said the irrepressible Dizzy, "but we're letting you guys get a little ahead so we can make it when we pass you."

Coltexpo To Be Birds' Foe In City This Eve

Watonga Loses 5 to 1 Thriller Last Night

The hundreds, yea thousands, of Pampa baseball fans who stayed at home last night, instead of being at Road Runner park, missed one of the best baseball games they will have an opportunity to see this year or any other year. Sensational plays by both teams marked the Road Runner win over the Watonga Owls 5 to 1.

Fans will have another opportunity to support the team and also see some nice baseball tonight when the Coltexos of LeFors come here for a game at 8:45 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoon the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., will be here for games.

The Road Runners played errorless ball behind George Bulla's 8-hit pitching. Boston, who led on Friday and Saturday nights, was wild, walking nine batters. He allowed the Road Runners only six singles, three of them going to Horton.

Big Gordon Nell got his first home run in the local park since re-joining the team. He poled on Friday the left field fence scoring Scalling, who had singled, ahead of him in the seventh inning.

There were plenty of fielding gems during the game. In the second, Summers made a one-handed stab of Dieder's hot grounder and got his man's first out. In the fifth, Horton shortstop, went deep in the fifth to make a pretty play on Nell at first. Brickell came through with one of his old familiar plays when he backed against the fence to take Hall's fly which was labeled for two bases. Nell added his bit to the outstanding plays when he took George's hurried throw on a bad hop to retire the side in the eighth.

The Road Runners scored two unearned runs in the fourth. Patton walked but was forced by George who was caught trying to steal. Horton singled and stole second. Summers walked. Bulla was safe when the pitcher failed to cover first base. After getting the ball, Boston threw against the grandstand to let Horton score. Catcher Newton recovered the ball and started to throw to second to get Bulla. He changed his mind but the ball slipped from his hand and rolled to the infield, Summers scoring.

Boston walked Horton across the plate after two were out in the sixth. The Road Runner scoring ended in the next inning when Nell hit his home run.

Watonga scored their lone run in the fifth when they collected four of their hits off Bulla. Consecutive singles by Prior, Prulett, Newton and Boston accounted for the run. With three men on base, and only one out, Elliott filed out to Summers and Otis forced Boston. Bulla sent the Watonga batters to the bench by the strike-out route and Boston sent nine Road Runners to first base by the base on ball route. The Watonga hurler walked the first man up in

WILMER ALLISON Defeats Briton

LONDON, June 19. (P)—Playing spottily as a result of lack of practice and the handicap of a wet court, Wilmer Allison, American Davis cup veteran, had a brisk match on his hands in the London tennis championships today before he eliminated R. J. Ritchie, 6-2, 10-8, to reach the quarter-finals.

Allison finally was forced to storm the net in the latter stages on the long second set to win.

Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., eliminated C. M. Jones, promising young Englishman, 6-3, 6-4, after trailing 0-3 in the second set.

Playground Ball Teams Are Being Formed In Pampa

Slowly but surely, playground ball teams are being organized in Pampa as part of the summer activity program being conducted by Pampa clubs and organizations with Ben Guill in charge.

A church league, Boy Scout league, junior league from school age boys and girls, and a business men's league are now in formation. At least 10 playground ball diamonds are now available for practice. The diamonds are located as follows: Sam Houston school 3; Woodrow Wilson school 2; Horace Mann school 1; B. M. Baker school 1; Junior high 1; Fort Worth and Denver 1; and others.

Opening of basketball as part of the summer recreating program will begin at the high school gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock tonight night. Everyone interested in playing basketball during the summer is urged to be at the gymnasium in time. If enough interest is shown, leagues will be formed and play schedules set.

REYNOLDS SMITH Defends Title

DALLAS, June 19 (P)—Reynolds Smith of Dallas started in defense of his Texas Golf association championship today when the twenty-ninth annual tournament got under way at the Brook Hollow Golf club with an 18-hole qualifying round.

The tournament will continue through Saturday when the 36-hole final will be played. Smith won the title last year by beating Leland Hamman of Paris, 4 and 2.

Practically every outstanding Texas golfer was included in today's pairings. David Goldman of Dallas, finalist in the 1934 national and western amateur, Harry Todd of Dallas, western junior open champion; Lon Schumacher, Texas junior champion, and Jack Munger, national interscholastic champion, topped the entry list.

Players found the perfectly groomed Brook Hollow course with a par challenge of 35-35-70 that stretches over 6,655 yards of well-trapped and tree-lined territory.

He said he had been bitten by a 15-foot shark that leaped into his boat while he was fishing in an open dory, 50 miles off shore. The shark floundered over the side and seized his arm. He fainted. Members of his crew, he said, threw pieces of wood at the shark and it slipped back into the water.

Watonga Loses 5 to 1 Thriller Last Night

The hundreds, yea thousands, of Pampa baseball fans who stayed at home last night, instead of being at Road Runner park, missed one of the best baseball games they will have an opportunity to see this year or any other year. Sensational plays by both teams marked the Road Runner win over the Watonga Owls 5 to 1.

Fans will have another opportunity to support the team and also see some nice baseball tonight when the Coltexos of LeFors come here for a game at 8:45 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoon the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., will be here for games.

The Road Runners played errorless ball behind George Bulla's 8-hit pitching. Boston, who led on Friday and Saturday nights, was wild, walking nine batters. He allowed the Road Runners only six singles, three of them going to Horton.

Big Gordon Nell got his first home run in the local park since re-joining the team. He poled on Friday the left field fence scoring Scalling, who had singled, ahead of him in the seventh inning.

There were plenty of fielding gems during the game. In the second, Summers made a one-handed stab of Dieder's hot grounder and got his man's first out. In the fifth, Horton shortstop, went deep in the fifth to make a pretty play on Nell at first. Brickell came through with one of his old familiar plays when he backed against the fence to take Hall's fly which was labeled for two bases. Nell added his bit to the outstanding plays when he took George's hurried throw on a bad hop to retire the side in the eighth.

The Road Runners scored two unearned runs in the fourth. Patton walked but was forced by George who was caught trying to steal. Horton singled and stole second. Summers walked. Bulla was safe when the pitcher failed to cover first base. After getting the ball, Boston threw against the grandstand to let Horton score. Catcher Newton recovered the ball and started to throw to second to get Bulla. He changed his mind but the ball slipped from his hand and rolled to the infield, Summers scoring.

Boston walked Horton across the plate after two were out in the sixth. The Road Runner scoring ended in the next inning when Nell hit his home run.

Watonga scored their lone run in the fifth when they collected four of their hits off Bulla. Consecutive singles by Prior, Prulett, Newton and Boston accounted for the run. With three men on base, and only one out, Elliott filed out to Summers and Otis forced Boston. Bulla sent the Watonga batters to the bench by the strike-out route and Boston sent nine Road Runners to first base by the base on ball route. The Watonga hurler walked the first man up in

TONY LAZZERI BATTED IN 41 RUNS THIS SEASON

BY ANDY CLARKE.

Beside the name of Tony Lazzeri on the batting list is the unimpressive average of .268.

But those figures don't tell the story. Ask Tony's Yankee teammates what they think of him, and they will say he is a truly great second baseman; a baseball man who thinks more in terms of team success than of personal aggrandizement.

Lazzeri has the faculty of coming through in the pinches. When the hit-and-run is on, he is probably the most dangerous man in the American league at the plate.

Lazzeri has batted in 41 runs so far this season. He started to hit the home run in June 17 runs on 15 hits.

Tony's worth doesn't end on the attack. His defense record, with the exception of one bad splurge, has been well-nigh perfect.

The boys were of the opinion that these words, poured out after the Cards had taken a 14-3 defeat at the hands of the Terrymen, were the words of a man attempting to fight off an inevitable conviction.

Dizzy Dean, it would seem, is also trying to give the impression he is confident the Cards will come thru. Before the rout the other day he yelled to Alvin Stout who was hitting fungoes in front of the Cards dugout.

"Hey, Stout, pretty lucky gettin' traded from a last-place club to a second place one, huh?"

"Whadaya mean, second-place club?" retorted Stout. "Don't you read the papers?"

"Sure," said the irrepressible Dizzy, "but we're letting you guys get a little ahead so we can make it when we pass you."

WILMER ALLISON Defeats Briton

LONDON, June 19. (P)—Playing spottily as a result of lack of practice and the handicap of a wet court, Wilmer Allison, American Davis cup veteran, had a brisk match on his hands in the London tennis championships today before he eliminated R. J. Ritchie, 6-2, 10-8, to reach the quarter-finals.

Allison finally was forced to storm the net in the latter stages on the long second set to win.

Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., eliminated C. M. Jones, promising young Englishman, 6-3, 6-4, after trailing 0-3 in the second set.

ANNUAL OUTING OF CAMP FIRE GIRLS STARTED

DOZEN GIRLS ARE IN CAMP ON REYNOLDS RANCH

Camp Fire Girls of the Tatapochon group left yesterday for their third annual camp at Reynolds ranch, where they will stay until Friday. Six members and their leader were accompanied by five visitors for the three-day camp.

Summer honors and camp honors will be awarded the members who complete their camp duties. Menus were made and groceries bought for the trip by Anna Mae Jones and Herma Beckham. A camp schedule and list of duties were made by Katherine Ward and Jessie Marie Gilbert before the trip started.

Duties are taken in turn by pairs of girls. Katherine Ward and Elizabeth Purlough prepared the Tuesday lunch of steak, gravy, mashed potatoes, bread, fresh tomatoes, and cookies. Special guests were Mrs. L. P. Ward, Jack Arrington, and Richard Montgomery, who took the girls to camp in their cars.

After a rest period, camp was put in order by 4 o'clock, and supper preparations were started by Betty Horner and Edna Mills. Beans, spinach, carrots, apple salad, bread, and butter were on the menu.

Expenses for the three days of camp amount to a dollar for each girl.

Parents and other visitors are expected at the camp on remaining days of this week.

Members in camp are Herma Beckham, Katherine Ward, Betty Horner, Edith Beckham, Edna Mills, Jessie Marie Gilbert, and the leader, Mrs. B. Barrett. Visiting campers are Delene Fitzpatrick of Tulsa, Elizabeth Purlough, Edwina Gilbert, Dorothy Jo Moore, Hazel Jo Montgomery.

"Henceforth we may admit to CCC camps only applicants who can make a proper allotment to dependents. It has been ordered that selectees for enrollment beginning June 15 must in every case represent families on the public relief rolls. This means that in the approaching enrollment period, the 12,000 young Texans taken into the camps should represent 12,000 families removed from the relief rolls."

Counties unable to supply their quotas for relief roll families will not be permitted to select non-relief applicants but will notify the state enrollment officers, who will fill the quota from a county which has more eligible candidates than its quota will allow it to choose.

First phase of the enrollment beginning about June 17 will affect only a very few counties, since only 926 boys will be accepted at that time. The second period, July 1 to August 31, will be governed by completion of new camps now under construction.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

On a roasting hot summer day can you imagine anything more delightful than to sit down to a meal of refreshingly cool dishes—accompanied by a chilled beverage or frozen dessert?

Desserts made with fruits appeal most, and of them all, strawberries have become the reliable standby since everbearing plants make them available until frost.

For luncheon the other day I served this frozen strawberry dessert with tiny cup cakes and coffee. The recipe served eight generously.

Frozen Strawberries Georgette

One quart strawberries, 1 1-2 cups sugar, 1-2 cup boiling water, 1 pint whipping cream, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin, 2 tablespoons cold water.

Wash and hull berries. Combine granulated sugar and water and bring to the boiling point. Add berries and remove at once from the fire. Let stand two hours. I tried sprinkling half the berries with sugar and letting them stand two hours but these berries were icy after freezing. Those in the syrup had just as fresh a flavor but had absorbed enough sugar to prevent hard freezing. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Whip cream until firm. Stir in powdered sugar, dissolved gelatin and vanilla and beat a few seconds. Put prepared berries in freezing trays and cover with whipped cream. This amount will fill two trays. Freeze two hours or longer until firm. Unmold and garnish with fine large berries to serve.

To unmold a frozen dessert of this type, run a spatula around the sides of the mold. Then put the platter or serving dish, which has been chilled, over the mold and invert. Put a hot towel over the bottom of the mold for a minute and the mold lifts off easily.

Peaches Instead of Berries

Later in the season try peaches in place of strawberries in this recipe. The only thing to remember about using fruits in frozen mixtures is the necessity of saturating them with sugar, otherwise they will be frozen hard.

This is a particularly good dessert to serve with veal because veal is very low in fat calories. For dinner it goes good with hot bouillon and tiny noodles, breaded veal cutlets, buttered rice, creamed new carrots and asparagus salad.

Boys Of Families On Relief Will Be Accepted For CCC

AUSTIN, June 19.—Selection of Texas boys for enrollment in CCC camps will be confined hereafter strictly to young men whose families are on the relief rolls, it has been announced by Neal E. Guy, enrollment supervisor for the state.

Guy said federal officials had rescinded all instructions which formerly provided for enrollment of worthy unemployed boys and so-called "border-line" cases.

"Henceforth we may admit to CCC camps only applicants who can make a proper allotment to dependents. It has been ordered that selectees for enrollment beginning June 15 must in every case represent families on the public relief rolls. This means that in the approaching enrollment period, the 12,000 young Texans taken into the camps should represent 12,000 families removed from the relief rolls."

MANY ATTEND MUSICAL BY CONSERVATORY PUPILS

Pupils of Pampa conservatory gave the program for a tea yesterday afternoon, when parents and friends filled the Presbyterian church annex. Bouquets of roses and fern brightened the room.

Very tiny pupils of conservatory teachers furnished the program features. A playlet was presented by Patsy Ruth Thomas, Minnie Belle Williams, Evelyn Morton, and Myra Aherson, expression pupils of Mrs. T. P. Morton.

Margie Ruth and Bonnie Belle Lewis sang a duet, and little Colleen Cokerill a solo. They are voice pupils of Mrs. Philip Wolfe. Alice Jean Robertson, small piano pupil of Madeline Tarpney Rowntree, played a piano solo.

A violin duet was played by Charles Shelton and Martin May, pupils of Roy Tinsley. Mrs. Walter F. G. Stein played piano duets with some of her pupils. Samuel Penleton, teacher of piano, also presented some of his pupils.

Included among the older pupils was Hester Lester, who sang a solo, John Edwin McConnell and Nova Hughes, who gave readings.

Others on program were Geneva Welton, June Hodge, Joan Minnick, Patsy Gaut, Bonnie Nell McBee, Jean Matthews, Mildred Austin, Jacqueline Hurst, Mary Lou Austin, Mary Lynn Schofield, Mildred Martin, Joella Shelton, Herbert Maynard, Jim Brown, Russell Roof, Julia Callison.

After the program, lead punch was served to the guests.

Meetings at M. E. Church Announced

Regular Wednesday evening meetings at First Methodist church today will include an important session of all officers and teachers of church school departments and adult classes.

It will begin at 8:45, following a 30-minute prayer meeting service when H. D. Tucker will continue his talks on Lives of the Disciples. Peter will be the disciple discussed.

EXPERT AVERS GIRL'S SISTER WROTE NOTES

TESTIMONY CONFLICTS IN CAMPUS TRIAL AT TALEQUAH

By JOHN JAMESON, Associated Press Staff Writer.

TALEQUAH, Okla., June 19 (AP)—The testimony of the sister of the dark-eyed defendant stood stacked up today against that of a government expert in the trial of Lois Thompson, charged with the campus shooting of Daniel Shaw, Chinese student at Northeastern Oklahoma Teachers college.

"I did not write extortion notes to my sister, Lois," testified Lelia Thompson.

"The handwriting in 14 extortion notes received by Lois Thompson is that of Lelia," testified G. A. Appel, U. S. Bureau of Investigation handwriting expert, buttressing his testimony with technical explanations.

Closing arguments in the case were completed by prosecution and defense at a night court session. The instructions of Judge O. H. P. Brewer remained today before the case would be ready for the jury.

Miss Thompson, attractive brunette, part Cherokee Indian, testified she shot Shaw and "intended to kill him," because she was in fear for her life when she chased him across the college campus, firing wildly, last March 27. Shaw was struck by two bullets and seriously wounded, but recovered.

In another angle of the case both Lois and Lelia are charged with the shooting of Jack Christie, a youth who was wounded when the sisters led officers to a spot where they said they had been directed to place a package of money. That was some time before the Shaw shooting. Christie was wounded by bullets from county officers' pistols. He was absolved of any connection with the case.

House Strives To Pass Wagner Labor Act Today

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The Wagner labor dispute bill was placed before the house today with leaders striving to pass it before nightfall.

Chairman Connery (D. Mass.) of the labor committee said, however, that a fight was developing around a proposal to write in language clarifying that labor unions shall not coerce workers to join unions or to strike.

He said he did not know from what quarter the proposed amendment would come but he was virtually certain it would be offered. A similar proposal by Senator Tydings (D. Md.) was turned aside before the senate passed the bill and sent it to the house.

The bill, which carries an administration "must" label, would establish a permanent national labor relations board, outlaw "company-dominated" unions and set up other legal provisions which the bill's sponsors say are necessary to safeguard the right of collective bargaining.

It has been newly-cloaked in armor which its supporters hope will protect it from assaults on grounds of unconstitutionality. The labor committee wrote in provisions intended to shelter the bill under the interstate commerce clause of the constitution.

PWA SCHOOL OPENS

FORT WORTH, June 19 (AP)—The legal, finance and engineering departments of the PWA in Texas were prepared today to tell public officials at a state-wide session here how to file applications for work projects under the revised set-up. Acting state director Julian Montgomery told architects, engineers and attorneys gathered here for a "school of instruction" yesterday that all labor for PWA projects in Texas should be taken as much as possible from relief rolls.

FIRST 1935 BALE

RAYMONDVILLE, June 19 (AP)—Texas' first bale of 1935 cotton was in the bagging today. The cotton, which was started to Houston by truck last night, was grown by Regoria Valdez on the Gus Nyquist farm near Sebastian and was ginned by the Joe Reynolds Gin company. The bale weighed 464 pounds.

CHAPTER 22

Katharine brought her car to a stop before the drug store, the windows of which were emblazoned and placarded with picturesque endorsements. A life-sized cardboard figure of a blond girl ornamented the left-hand corner. Issuing from her mouth was a balloon explaining that daily use of some sort of patented product gave her that rose and gold complexion.

Two or three shabbily-dressed men loafed in the shade of the bank building. A child, on roller skates came coasting dizzily down the incline and took the corner on high, both arms spreadeagled for balance. Katharine, nodding to Mrs. Eudance who ran the lending library, disappeared into the drug store. She had a great many small errands to do for Bertine; there was soap and witchhazel and mending tape and black ink in the list. The cut-rate drug store represented one of Bertine's pet economies. She could have telephoned to Caplan's just around the corner, and had all the purchases delivered, as most of the people down on the Point did. But, while she could be wildly extravagant in larger matters, she drew the line here.

Katharine gave her order abstractedly to the clerk behind the counter. She was not thinking of her errands. She was reflecting, with some surprise, that it was really easier than she had thought to forget the tall, slate-eyed young man who sat on his horse so easily and who had ridden quite suddenly and unexpectedly into her life last year, Michael Heathere.

She had learned to control leaping pulses when his name was spoken. She had learned to accept, without a sick plunging of the heart, the incredible news that he was going to marry the coquettish Sally Monn.

Well, and so what? she asked herself. He's nothing to you, never was and never will be. You have a life to live—20, 30, perhaps 40 years more. After all, she was not 21 yet, and she was strong, vigorous, full of an energy not to be denied.

The answer was this: You didn't sit around sighing for a man who cared nothing about you and never did. That was the lesson she had learned from your Victorian great-grandmother. You found something to do, and you did it as best you could.

Other girls did it. Every day in the week. The shops, the settlement houses, the Junior League classes were full of them. Eager faces, curved, rosy lips, bright eyes. Not all of them carried broken hearts about with them. Few—very few. A broken heart was hopelessly out of date. Like a hoop skirt.

Only she wished she might not ever catch a glimpse of either one of them—Michael or Sally—again. She hoped they might go out to California or Hawaii—anywhere that was definitely far and removed from Innicoek. Then she could take up her sketching, her delicate definite water colors that Evelyn Vincent said were actually salable; she could make something of her life.

Some day, perhaps years and years in the future, some shadowy, dark, tall man would come along. She would tell him it wasn't in her to care, really, any more; but he would persuade her, against her will and her better judgment, to marry him. "Black ink, did you say, miss?" The gangling clerk was staring at her frankly.

"Yes." She came out of her day dream to look at him abstractedly. She had her purchases now, in a neat package wrapped in white paper and tied around with green cord. The library next, to return the Angela Thirkell book, "Wild Strawberries." What a delightful book it had been! So light and gay and easy, and with the love affair resolving itself so simply into happiness. If only life were a little more like that!

She sighed, turning to go. Two rather bulky men, in stiff city clothes, stood aside to let her pass. They were frankly strangers in Innicoek, where you knew everyone, from the man who swept the streets and rejoiced in the simple name of "Christmas," to the boys who sold the daily paper.

Katharine was aware of them now only as figures blocking her path. But as one of them spoke to the boy behind the soda counter, a name broke into her consciousness, Michael's name.

Drawn by a curiosity she could not explain or deny, Katharine loitered at the weighing machine, apparently intent only on the black numerals which slid into sight as she stepped upon it and dropped a penny into the slot. But her eyes sought out the face of the elder man, a smooth-shaven, ruddy face under a stiff straw hat. "Feller who calls himself Michael Heathere," drawled this individual. "Where's the postoffice, buddy? Maybe we can get the information there." The soda boy was shaking his head in the negative. No, he hadn't heard of Michael Heathere.

Katharine, biting her lips, shifting her package from one hand to another, was conscious of a queer lightness in her head. The gray-haired man shoved his detective's badge out of sight again. Detectives—after Michael!

She was never certain afterward how she got there—she did not remember pushing open the swinging door and emerging from the coolness of the drug store's interior to the oven that was the pavement. But she was in her car, her foot on the starter before the lantern-jawed man, the younger of the pair, came out into the street, staring up and down, and finally gesturing to his companion toward the postoffice half a block away.

Then she was in traffic, her small brown shoe pressing down hard, hard on the accelerator. Out on the River Road, library and English novel and rolls for luncheon were completely forgotten. Bertine had said, rather querulously, to hurry back. But Katharine could not brother about Bertine now. If you had a friend and he was in trouble, you did something about it, didn't you?

She did not argue it out; she was not aware of any problem needing to be decided. It was as simple as this. If Michael were in danger, and she knew of it, why then she must warn him.

She had always known, in the back of her brain, that there was some mystery about Michael. But whatever he had been or done, he wasn't to be caught like a rat in a trap. Those hard-faced men with the badges should have nothing to do with him.

She raced past the Merzer house without turning her head. There were two white flashes on the lawn that she assumed to be Sybil and Diana, but Katharine dared not take her eyes off the road even to wave. Any moment the men would be turning out of Innicoek's main street to find the winding roads that ran back of the hills to the riding school. Any minute.

A low-slung, black car passed like a streak and for a moment Katharine's heart plunged again in fear. But the driver was only a slip of a girl in checked red gingham, with her wild curls flying in the breeze.

Katharine turned into the lane; there were already one or two cars parked there. Tips came out of the stable, with a look of surprise for her. "Mr Heathere about?"

"I think so. If you'll wait just a minute, miss."

Her relief was so great that her knees began to tremble. If he had been out on the bridge path how ever would she have got the news to him?

Tips disappeared. Katharine got out of the car, her ears straining nervously for the sound of a following motor on the lane. The postoffice might be busy—oh dear, God, make the clerks very busy.

"Hello, there." His gay voice, his easy voice. And the well remembered laughter lines about his eyes.

"Michael, can we talk some place? Away from here, I mean. Quickly." "The house?" His cool eyes would have abashed her if she had not been so terribly intent.

"No, not the house," she almost shrieked. "Clear away. Look, it's frightfully important. You're in danger?"

"? What's wrong?" He did not have the air of a guilty man—but then you never could tell.

"Get into my car." She threw a hurried look over her shoulder. "I can tell you there. They'll be coming any minute." He opened the door for her and she flung herself in. She had the engine running, triumphantly. "Come along," she cried. "Hurry." He was in the seat beside her. She was out of the lane and away, finding up the road away from the town.

Panhandle Oil Allowable For July Unchanged

AUSTIN, June 19 (AP)—A basic allowable production of 1,363,387 barrels daily from Texas oil fields during July was ordered by the railroad commission in a monthly readjustment of proration schedules. The June 1 basic allowable was 1,044,309 barrels.

New schedules were 1,013 barrels less than the bureau of mines estimate of the July market demand for Texas crude, and about 3,000 barrels under current production. Development of new fields and completion of new wells in flush fields, however, were calculated to push production by the end of next month to more than at present.

Permitted production in the East Texas field, the state's largest, was reduced from 3.4 to 3.3 per cent of the hourly potential. The new schedule was estimated to permit daily production of 462,580 barrels from about 18,000 wells.

The East Texas basic allowable June 1 of 462,094 barrels increased to 465,325 barrels with completion of new wells.

Gulf coast production was boosted 11,446 to 152,116 barrels, while that for the Southwest Texas district was increased from 88,697 to 93,640 barrels; West Texas from 131,862 to 132,628 barrels and east central, 49,952 to 50,887 barrels.

Allowables were unchanged in the Panhandle, 58,800 barrels; Moore county, 1,500 barrels; North Texas, 58,500 barrels; Foard county, 900 barrels, and West Central Texas, 51,936 barrels.

TOWN TURNED INTO ISLAND BY COLORADO

CREST OF FLOOD HITS RIVER TOWN AND ISOLATES IT

By The Associated Press.

Receding Texas rivers, at flood stages since last week, left wide paths of destruction today.

The Colorado, whose swirling waters exacted heavy damages at Austin and other towns, was receding at Columbus after smashing improvised levees near there and converting the town into an island.

The crest of the stream moved on toward Wharton, where residents of the lowlands evacuated and erected camps in which to live until the flood-waters passed.

About 800 persons moved from the lowlands. Truck loads of food were moved on toward Victoria, the refugees. The stream continued to inundate farm land as it moved into new territory.

After reaching a crest of 30 feet and four inches at Cuero, the highest since 1913, the Guadalupe river flood moved on toward Victoria, August. Boldt, engineer for the Texas Power & Light company, estimated that 35,000 acres in DeWitt county were under flood-waters of the Guadalupe.

These two streams and the Llano, Rio Grande, San Antonio, and Nueces, which went on one of Texas' costliest river rampages, took at

KIDNAP LAW

Justice agents investigating the double bank robbery staged there the day before, Gooch and Nix, whom investigators named as his companion in the kidnaping, chose to fight. Nix was slain. The next day, when Gooch was taken from the Okemah jail, a filling station operator tried to shoot him with an old-fashioned double barreled pistol, crying the prisoner had robbed him five times.

He was first arrested at Okmulgee in 1930 and charged with forgery. That charge was dropped. A year later he drew 18 months for auto theft. Next he got a year for grand larceny. Twice he jumped bond on larceny charges.

The Holdenville jail held him no closer than his larceny bonds, for on October 25, last year, he, Nix, another man and two women escaped after the 67-year-old jailer had been slugged with an iron pipe.

In that flight, investigators said, Gooch and Nix forced two persons to accompany them in a kidnaping, the sequel of which had Gooch up for sentencing today. The pair was accused of kidnaping T. C. Puckett, a Holdenville grocer, and his son, Jerold, who were released several hours later—still in Oklahoma.

The shadow of a gallows sprang today from a legal technicality, which Gooch might have avoided. The death penalty was not possible under the indictment on which his first trial was scheduled, but he evaded that trial successfully. At the next trial, which brought conviction, the indictment had been amended. Its wording opened the way to the extreme penalty.

The concerned man's mother, wife, and three-year-old son have lived quietly at Okmulgee while he brushed with the law.

Defends Wife in Plot on His Life

Accompanied by her husband, Francis Lyddane (left), who refuses to believe charges that she hired three men to murder him, pretty Mrs. Anne Lyddane is shown arriving at court in Rockwell, Md., to testify as a defense witness for John Bland, one of the alleged plotters. She also faces trial on charges of conspiracy to murder her husband and Mrs. Arthur Beal.

son, national legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and by Arthur J. Lovell, vice president and national legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

It was declared by the representatives of railroad labor that it is reasonable to anticipate that passage of the Pettengill bill will re-establish employment for not less than ten per cent of the railroad men now out of work, or 100,000 men who are now without other prospect of railroad employment. It was further stated that the ultimate result of its passage would be to put 160,000 men back to work on railroads, a number stated by Mr. See to be practically equivalent to the total number of men now employed by all the intercoastal steamship lines.

See, who spoke specially for railroad employes in the western section of the country, declared that their contacts with representative business men have convinced them that the passage of the bill is the principal cause of such opposition as there is to passage of the Pettengill bill in the west.

"The alarmists have been at work to stir up panicky sentiment. The logic of those who contend that inter-coastal trade will suffer by the advantages of lower rates to the coast is to our minds without foundation, because it overlooks the fact that the coast already is enjoying lower rates by intercoastal water carriers than the railroads ever hope to establish. In fact, the no intention of the part of the railroads to compete with the steamship lines on a basis of rate equality. In other words, the intercoastal traffic is already moving by boat to the virtual exclusion of the trans-continental railroads, whose very operation is part and parcel of the western country. To deprive the railroads of a fair opportunity to share in this traffic is to penalize the states and communities through which the railroads operate."

In the eleven western states alone, it was stated to the committee, operating a single additional freight train across the state daily would add $3,488,000 to the railroad payroll.

The matter of policy involved in passage of the Pettengill bill was declared by Mr. See in concluding his statement, to be "more far-reaching than that of railroad employment or of the relation between freight rates between the inter-mountain territory and the Pacific coast, or than that when the present long-and-short-haul provision was adopted. Because of the great increase in competition from other carriers for both through and local railroad business, it is much more important now than it was then to the industries and the people of the Middle Western states. The present method of rate making places our industries at a serious disadvantage in competing with industries on the Atlantic seaboard for business on the Pacific Coast. It diverts to the steamship lines traffic which the railroads of the United States sorely need to maintain their service and employment."

Harrison was followed by Harry See, of San Francisco, chairman of the western conference committee of the Standard Railway Labor organizations, through which the fight for repeal of the long-and-short-haul clause was instituted late in 1933 in the western and inter-mountain states; J. A. Farquhar-ive program of railway labor at the present session of congress through action taken by the Labor Executives' association several months ago. He urged its passage as an effective means to remove the competitive handicaps under which the railroads now work in effort to protect themselves against other forms of transportation, and to which unfair discrimination he ascribed a very large proportion of the unemployment in the railroad industry.

Scheduled air lines in the United States establish a record by flying 24,134,055 passenger-miles in March.

Reels In Record On Rod

Francis H. Low's fish stories are about the big ones he catches. The 23-year-old New York sportsman (right) and Captain Fred Wicht stand beside the 238-pound Mako shark low caught off the New Jersey coast. Adding 150 pounds cut away to release the hook, the shark is the largest fish ever caught on rod and reel.

NAVAL LIMITATIONS FOR ALL IS AIM OF BRITISH ANGLING

BY ALBERT H. WILSON. (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

LONDON, June 19.—Great Britain welded its new naval agreement with Germany as a bargaining weapon today, confident it can persuade other European powers to accept naval limitations.

Conclusion of a naval treaty for all principal powers of Europe by 1937—granting that Japan would remain adamant against restrictions on warships—became the objective of the British government.

Scarcely had the ink dried on the signatures to the Anglo-German agreement, permanently restricting their navies to a 100-35 ratio, when it was announced officially that Captain Anthony Eden will resume his naval negotiations with the French government Friday at Paris.

(Paris advices said French officials, seeing only danger in England's recognition of a new navy for Germany, were reluctant to negotiate a new pact apart from a general arms limitation system.)

Great Britain implied in its treaty with the reich that it was ready to approve building up of the British and German navies if other powers should "violently upset" the equilibrium under the Washington treaty. This will expire in 1936.

Government authorities said talks will be resumed with Italy which, like France, was bound by the Washington treaty.

It was understood a Russian delegation may be formally invited to London soon.

Official circles insisted Great Britain had not abandoned hope for a world-wide naval conference before the end of 1935, as required by both the Washington and London five-power treaties.

The Anglo-German pact disclosed, however, that both nations are convinced naval ratios, applying to all categories, must be the backbone for any limitation treaty.

WACO MAN APPOINTED AUSTIN, June 19. (AP)—R. E. Stanford, Waco today was appointed attorney for the securities division by Secretary of State Gerald Mann. Stanford formerly was McLennan county judge. He is the son of J. A. Stanford, justice in the tenth court civil appeals.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't talk for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

CARS TESTED

to respond, he will be taken before a justice of the peace and fined, said Sgt. R. H. Routh.

Cars not going through the test now will be checked later by R. H. Routh, state officer stationed here. He will keep a testing machine in Pampa for that purpose, and he will not give owners of cars with faulty brakes 24 hours in which to have them repaired.

Pampa merchants and business men, oil companies, trucking companies, and others are having their own cars and trucks checked and seeing that their employes are following suit.

Texas traffic laws are lax in many respects and the test now being conducted is for the benefit of everyone. It is predicted that accidents will be reduced and Texas highways made safer for everyone.

Cars passing brake inspection are being given an O. K. slip which is posted on the windshield. Cars not bearing such a slip can be stopped at any point in the city and taken to a traffic lane. It is hoped that trips will be made voluntarily since the test is for the benefit of the car owner. O.K.'s are being given only on brakes.

State highway patrolmen here assisting R. H. Routh are O. K. Hudleston from Childress, Boyce Long and E. C. White from Amarillo, and W. E. Renfro and Jack Reeves from Lubbock. City Traffic Officers A. B. Johnson and J. R. McKinley are assisting the state men with Don Conley, L. P. Duvall, and A. D. Monteith.

Samples Of Post Toasties Left At Homes In Pampa

This afternoon and tomorrow a crew of local men are calling on housewives in Pampa and this vicinity and leaving at each home a sample package of Post Toasties. These samples are designed to further acquaint the people of Pampa and this vicinity with the product.

Post Toasties, a product which has been known for years by young and old, is said to be Texas's favorite cereal. Pampa housewives are expected to look forward to the sample which will be distributed to each home.

RAILROAD MEN MAKE UP TEN PER CENT OF COUNTRY'S UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Ten per cent of the country's unemployed are railroad men, George M. Harrison, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' association, declared here today. Mr. Harrison, who spoke on behalf of the twenty-one standard railroad labor organizations in support of the Pettengill bill, appeared before the House sub-committee hearings on the measure proposing repeal of the long-and-short-haul clause of the interstate commerce act.

Harrison, who was the first representative of labor to appear before the Committee in connection with the measure under consideration, stated that the Pettengill bill, which he described as a measure to relieve railroad unemployment, had been made part of the legisla-

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS ARE NOW LOW PRICED

Public acceptance of electric refrigeration is such that for several years a million new units have been necessary to satisfy the annual demand. As production increased prices were reduced.

Now for the first time your dealer is able to install a complete quick freezing electric refrigerator in your kitchen for considerably less than one hundred dollars.

Quality has not been sacrificed in the new low priced refrigerator. Beauty, convenience, quietness and simplicity of ice cubes frozen between meals; certain dessert making schedules; and positive below 50 degrees temperature control—all of the features necessary to please the most exacting housewife may now be had at your electric dealer for only $83.00.

Orange Preacher Kicks Camera At Venue Hearing

ORANGE, June 19. (AP)—A large number of witnesses came to a packed Orange county courtroom today to testify they did not believe the Rev. Edgar Eckridge, former pastor of the First Baptist church, would get a fair trial in district court here.

Mr. Eckridge, who is a crack shot with a pistol, is accused of slaying Ed J. O'Reilly, popular Orange police chief, on a downtown street exactly three weeks ago.

J. J. Collins of Lufkin, chief of the defense counsel, prepared a brief motion asking that the trial be transferred. He expressed the opinion that the hearing on the motion would last through tomorrow. State's attorneys had called many witnesses in opposition to the proposed venue change.

When a photographer took a closeup of the preacher as he entered the courtroom, he tore loose from officers and kicked the camera. The officers grabbed him, and he went on to the front of the room.

As the crowd which filled the courtroom aisles gave way to let him pass, he glanced from side to side and nodded to those he recognized. Once seated he took a cigar from his pocket and smoked it rapidly as District Judge Pat Adams swore in approximately 100 witnesses.

PAMPA KING OF FOUR CITY

Rotarians Picnic.

More than 125 Rotarians, their wives and families, and a few invited guests, enjoyed a picnic east of Hoover last night. Following games of playground ball, horse-shoe pitching, bow arrow marksmanship, and other forms of entertainment, a picnic luncheon of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, salad, ice cream, coffee and cold drinks, prepared by the Canary Sandwich shop, was served. Hollis Keys was in charge of arrangements and a "big time" was had by all.

Child Improving.

Wynell Waters, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. H. W. Waters, is resting as well as could be expected at Worley hospital where she was taken Friday for treatment of burns received when her dress caught fire while she was playing. Attending physicians said this morning that her condition shows improvement and hope is held for her recovery.

Weed Cutting Time.

Now is the time to cut weeds around the house and in vacant lots, warns Dr. T. J. Worrell, city health inspector. Weeds are not only an eye-sore but they breed mosquitoes and other insects. The city will start immediately cutting weeds on its property. Later the city will cut weeds on vacant lots and charge the owner for the cutting.

Skelly Wins Game.

The Skelly-Schaefer gasoline plant playground ball team took a 14 to 5 game from the Pampa Baptist church team yesterday afternoon. The game was a pitchers' battle between Poe of the churchmen and Hays of the Oilers until the fourth inning when the oil men gathered four runs to jump into the lead. The churchmen came back in the sixth inning with a four-run barrage but the boys from Capson county added more runs to come out on top. Both teams played good ball with the oilmen showing the advantage of long practice.

Treating Water Holes.

Dr. T. J. Worrell, city health inspector, started treating water holes throughout the city to kill mosquitoes and other insects which breed and live around stagnant water. There are several places in the city where water stands for long periods after rains.

Mrs. R. R. Bynum and son left Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

John Kirby was taken to his home in Kingsmill following a major operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

Mike Salonka of LeFors was a visitor in the city this morning.

J. F. Kelley of Miami was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

Mrs. D. E. Roundtree was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning. She will undergo a minor operation.

Mrs. Tom Potts of Olathe, Kas., a niece of Mrs. J. B. Rice, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rice at their home northwest of Pampa.

Mrs. Gordon Nall of LeFors was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

JAPAN

the Japanese army in Chinese territory.)

Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria," Maj. Gen. Kenji Dohara, announced these major terms of the settlement and said a final agreement would be reached at Kalgan, near the scene of the Changpei incident, one of North China's so-called spots, arising from the arrest of several Japanese.

Only 800 new arrivals manned the Japanese garrison here as a like number of veteran soldiers headed back for Japan, their year-long tour of duty accomplished.

Despite these harbingers of peace, the chatter of machine guns broke out today in the Japanese concession, about which barbed wire barriers have been thrown up by naval forces.

Authorities announced, however, that the shooting was only part of "maneuvers" being held by Japanese bluejackets from visiting destroyers, and that the exercises would continue for several days.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 19. (AP)—The stock market divided itself into sharply contrasting groups today with utilities and a few miscellaneous shares pointing upward while metals and sugars were conspicuous on the offside. Standard Industrials and rails held a middle of the road course until the final hour when they yielded to pressure. The close tone was heavy. Sales aggregated 1,600,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 19. (AP)—Prices worked up from 6 to 10 points during the morning on light purchases by the trade and professional. July sold at 11.54, October at 11.20, and December at 11.23.

The action by President Dorr of the Cotton Textile Institute in advocating that the president make an immediate announcement on the 1935 loans caused considerable comment among traders. Dorr was quoted as saying the industry favored a 12-cent loan.

them scurrying in disordered groups to the far corners of the four miles of pitch black corridors.

Door Blocks Way.

Protected by gas masks and bearing flares and electric torches fastened to their clothing, members of the attacking party descended without incident, but found their path blocked by a heavy double door which separated the air shaft from the mine shaft.

It had been bolstered by iron rails from the car tracks and heavy timbers. This was the door Simpson referred to as delaying the surrender.

As it was battered down the officers saw a group of convicts walking toward them, their hands in the air. Others followed, and the mutiny was over.

"It is pretty late to be working and I'm ready to come up," said Tommy McMahan, one of the riot spokesmen, with dry humor.

Thoroughly subdued, the convicts gave no more trouble.

The guards and officers preceded them up the small lift of the air shaft. The main shaft elevator was incapacitated.

A half dozen of the mine guards who had been held hostage again were in charge as the evacuation began. They herded their former captors in groups of 10 to the lift and sent them up to face a day in their cells and an inquiry by Warden Simpson.

The members of the administrative board, who had been at the scene since early yesterday, planned to leave the inquiry entirely in Simpson's hands.

Woodward said: "We are delighted with the efficiency and enterprise of Warden Simpson in handling a situation that might well have resulted tragically."

To Punish Leaders.

Simpson said he would investigate to determine the ringleaders and punish them.

Nathan (Cowboy) Van Meter, pit boss in the mine, estimated at least two weeks will be required to repair the damage and resume operations.

Van Meter, who as a wall guard shot and wounded the Urshed kidnaper, Harvey Bailey, as he escaped in the Memorial day break of 1933, was one of the hostages of the riot.

WOOL MARKET

SAN ANGELO, June 19. (AP)—An additional one million pounds of wool were sold in Texas yesterday with prices ranging up to 26 cents per pound for fleeces of 12-months growth. Two million pounds more were under option at prices ranging up to 27 cents.

The heaviest purchases yesterday were by C. D. Stokes of Lampasas for Winslow & Co., totaling about 600,000 pounds at Fredericksburg, Blanco, Johnson City and Stone-wall.

About 22 million pounds of wool have been sold or shipped on consignment from Texas out of the total spring crop estimated at 47 to 49 million pounds.

Slender Women should value it for HEALTH and BEAUTY

Beauty and slenderness owe much to proper food and drink. BUDWEISER belongs in the diet of the woman who chooses wisely. BUDWEISER in itself is not fattening. Its calorie count is lower than that of milk and compares favorably with that of orange juice or soda water.

BUDWEISER is invigorating and strengthening. It stimulates with a pleasant, friendly glow, but it does not dissipate. It has a vivid, spirited taste that is found only in BUDWEISER. It makes good food taste better.
